JAP ORDERS DELAY U. S.
One of the things which is holding up the manufacture of more military equipment for the army and navy is the fact that so many U. S. factories are sending machine tools to Japan.

The war department has just finished a confidential survey of the machine tool industry and finds that most American plants are working on orders for the Japanese. Machine tools are all-important in the munitions business, because they are used to equip new factories expanding to meet new national defense orders.

As far as the war department is able to ascertain, Japan has plenty of machine tools, and is storing many of the new shipments now received from the United States—for emergencies. Japan also continues to be a big importer of U. S. scrap iron, and also is storing it for the future.

These are two reasons why President Roosevelt has asked special powers of congress to embargo shipments of materials which are considered vital to the defense of the United States. He expects, as soon as authorized by congress, to slap an embargo on scrap iron and machine tools to Japan.

G. O. P. BLASTS
The barrage of Republican blasts against a coalition cabinet which has straddled the country recently was no spontaneous meeting of minds. Neither was it aimed entirely at the President. It was aimed much more against the Republican party itself.

Sadler Offers To Quit Race

Austin.—Jerry Sadler, member of the Texas Railroad Commission will withdraw from the governor's race if W. Lee O'Daniel will call a special session of the Legislature and pass a bill taxing natural resources of the State to the extent of adequately paying old age pensions and other social security obligations, voted by the people of Texas. This proposal was made by Sadler at a meeting of Hood county supporters at Granbury, Saturday.

Sadler seeks the governor's office as an avowed foe of a sales tax in any form. "Tax the mouths of the wells and not the mouths of the people," is his platform slogan. He proposes an increase of 2½¢ per barrel on oil, one cent per 1,000 cubic feet on gas, and 22 cents additional tax per ton on sulphur. These taxes would give schools over $5,000,000 in new money and if matched with federal funds provide the state with over $53,000,000 for its social security obligations.

Sadler went a step further in his challenge to the governor and said that he would remain in Austin to help O'Daniel pass a bill on natural resources. "But that is not what your governor wants," Sadler said, "He wants a sales tax—his transaction tax bill was written by a lobbyist for the utilities, and that is what he is asking your co-operation for—to help him pass a sales tax which would not affect the oil companies, the gas companies and the sulphur companies."

Three New TVA Demonstrations Here

Three new TVA phosphate demonstrations have been added to the group already using TVA phosphate under the demonstration program in Mills county.

These demonstrators are Ashley Weathers, living in the Jones Valley community; C. C. Collier, who lives in the Center Point community and Floyd Fox, who lives one mile east of Goldthwaite. These three new demonstrators are very interested in trying out the TVA phosphate and believe it will be a great benefit to them in helping them carry out a more effective soil-building program on their farms, says County Agent Sam von Rosenberg.

This brings the total number of TVA demonstrations in the county to 15. von Rosenberg says they are expecting some good results.

The Lions Club is indebted to County Agent Rosenberg and Paul McCullough for the interesting program presented before that organization Tuesday night of this week. Mr. Regan of Austin demonstrated a sound projector, the purchase of which is under consideration by the county. Four reels were enjoyed by the organization, dealing with educational advantages of such a projector for the schools, especially. The first reel dealing with agriculture, demonstrated the educational value of the machine in this phase of industry. The second dealt with the government, patronizing the "American Way," while the third was a part of a vocation-finding series, showing the opportunities of journalism to the high school or college graduate. The fourth reel was a travelogue picturing Carlsbad Cavern, the Grand Canyon, and our other national parks.

The Lions Club sponsored this program in an effort to aid the county in purchasing this type of machine, which it is believed will prove a benefit to the community and county as a whole.

In the near future the Lions Club plans to secure an outstanding co-ordinator from A&M College to talk before the farmers and merchants of the county.

Jack White Leaves Plaza Hotel

San Antonio.—Jack White, who supervised the building of the Plaza Hotel fourteen years ago and who has been operator since its opening, has announced that after September 1 he would no longer be in charge of operations of the hotel.

The demand on his time made by properties which he personally owns and operates and acquisition of another hotel property was given by White as the reason for his move. He is now president and operator of the Corpus Christi Plaza Hotel Co., and the White-Plaza Hotel Co., of Dallas, and operator of the Security Laundry in Corpus Christi and the Campbell Laundry in Dallas.

White, who has served as chairman of the San Antonio River Beautification committee for the past two and a half years, was publicly recognized for his leadership in the river beautification work in February when the city commission, gathered at a civic club meeting, passed an ordinance thanking him for "the outstanding civic achievement in several years." The beautification project, rapidly nearing completion, is converting San Antonio into "The Venice of Texas."

"I hope to be able to continue to make San Antonio my headquarters," White said. "At least, I plan to spend enough time here to get two civic projects, on which I have done some preliminary work, well under way. These projects are equal in importance, if not more important, than the river beautification project."

The Plaza Hotel has been accepted by national authorities as one of the most successful hotels of its size in this section of the country.

H. D. Council Met Saturday

"Our center made 11 mattresses in three and one-half days," "Our center made 11 mattresses in three days," and so the friendly rivalry ran in reports on the mattress-making project at the June Council meeting of Home Demonstration Clubs, Saturday, June 1, in Miss Emma Scott's office.

Mattress-making was the chief interest but plans were completed for the Style Revue to be held at the Grammar School, June 28. This is to be an all-day affair with each club planning and bringing their own lunch.

The Mills county quota of delegates to the Short Course at A&M College, July 10-11, is nine. The winner of first place at the Style Revue will be given the trip to A&M and Mrs. Oran Carothers, chairman of the Council, was elected a delegate. This leaves seven delegates to be sent from individual clubs.

Since Miss Scott is giving all her time to the mattress project, she will not be able to meet the H. D. Clubs this month, so Mr. Rosenberg has kindly consented to give a poultry demonstration to the clubs desiring such a demonstration on those days.

At the council meeting, were: Mmes. W. E. Garner, W. G. Mason, C. S. Townsend, L. G. Sutherland, Jim Smith, Charley Bramblett, Verdie Price, L. P. Geeslin, Jake Brown and J. W. Dellis of Lake Merritt; Tom McArthur, and W. O. Kemp of Mt. Olive; Tom Hale and Ora Black of Scallorn; Viola Chappell, and Ira Aldredge of Center City; Dewey Gerald and Lester Kerby of Midway; Miss Bess Hutchings of Center Point; Mrs. Clyde Featherston of South Bennett; Lora Ashton Lindsay and Dilla Kelson of Ridge; G. R. Calder of Regency; John Schooler, Oscar Burns, and Fred Reynolds of Goldthwaite; Eric D. Roberson, Harvey Hale, Marion Robertson and Homer Weaver of Big Valley; Geo. Fletcher, Lee R. Tesson, Ethel Hilliard and J. F. Williams of Mullin; Oran Carothers of Pleasant Grove and Miss Emma Scott of Goldthwaite.

Beginning with a dinner at the Methodist church honoring Gold Star Mothers and visiting Legionnaires, the Goldthwaite Post of the American Legion held a great patriotic demonstration here yesterday afternoon.

A parade led by the United States flag and color guards proceeded down Fisher street to the Court House square where a program of speaking and band music was presented. In the parade were the white uniformed bandmen of the State Juvenile Training School from Gatesville, Gold Star mothers of Mills county riding in automobiles, Spanish-American war veterans marching on foot, the American Legion colors with color guards from the Hamilton Sons of American Legion and marching veterans of the World War, Goldthwaite Boy Scouts and the Goldthwaite High School Band.

Judge C. L. McCartney of Brownwood gave a scholarly patriotic address in which he urged preparedness of the American people to guard against aggression from totalitarian governments abroad.

A beautiful American flag will be awarded to Lake Merritt community for having the largest number of persons to register.

A benefit picture show at the Melba Theatre drew attentive audiences all afternoon and evening.

FREAKS OF NATURE

Some days ago Mrs. E. L. Pass brought to the Eagle office, two very peculiar hen eggs. One was as large as a turkey egg with a roll around the center, and the other was smaller but crumpled looking and bent over at the small end.

Judging from this, it would seem that even the barn-yard fowls have taken note of the precarious international situation and are trying to camouflage their products.

Paint Authority Gives Pointers

For homemakers who are moving into new living quarters or planning to redecorate their present homes there is good advice on color selection in a talk on interior finishes recently given before the New England Production Club by R. E. Troutman of the Krebs Pigment and Color Corporation, a division of the du Pont Company.

Stressing the importance of an aesthetic viewpoint in the painting of room background, the speaker called attention to the cheerful atmosphere which can be produced with the modern light-tinted paints as compared with gloomy effects of dark, drab colors which once prevailed. "Scientific research during the past decade," he said, "has led to the discovery of many new materials which have made possible new decorating schemes of greater aesthetic value. New and more delicate shades are available today, offering a wide range of colors that are pleasing to the eye. Cream, pale sea green, light blue, light pink, orchid and similar tints were mentioned as conducive to cheerful surroundings.

Just what wall color will be most suitable for your room, depends not only on harmony with the furniture but on your own temperament, according to this paint authority. "Psychologists tell us," Mr. Troutman pointed out, "that color affects emotions and temperaments of human beings by virtue of conscious sensations which result in our minds from impressions of color on the eye. As individuals, we react differently to various colors and other vibrations. When we speak of the psychological effect of colors, individual reactions should be taken into consideration. Some people will experience a pleasant active stimulation when surrounded by certain colors, whereas the same colors may have an adverse effect on others.

"Most of us," he continued, "use a certain amount of instinctive color psychology almost every day. For example, we choose different colors for our clothes, depending upon the occasion. For formal affairs we choose colors which have the effect of formality; for the office, we dress in colors which harmonize with practical or business activities. This same psychology should be employed in selecting color schemes for the interior of homes. Each room may be decorated with a combination of colors whose harmony will lend distinction and beauty to the room as well as react favorably to individual emotions."

Another helpful point emphasized in this talk was that many paints possess a remarkable ability to reflect light. This is especially true, it was said, for the whites and light colored tints. White paints have the highest reflectance factors, reflecting 88 per cent of the light that falls upon them. As the depth of color increases, the light reflectance value correspondingly decreases to a point where the dark shades absorb the light to a high degree.

The lighting conditions of a room may therefore be greatly improved by painting the interior with a white or light-colored tint. For maximum reflectance or brightness, a paint of low gloss character is preferable. If you bear these paint properties in mind when selecting the finish for your walls, you can reduce eyestrain and consequent fatigue, and also cut down your electric light bills.

TEXAS OUT-O'-DOORS

AUSTIN—With huge new lakes being built in Texas constantly, the demand for fish raised by the State Game Department in its ten hatcheries increases by the month. The latest lake to be stocked is Possum Kingdom. Bass numbering 71,000 were put in it recently, it was announced here by the office of the executive secretary of the department. That was the first of many shipments which will go into the new body of water, the announcement said.

All new lakes being stocked by the Game Department are being studied by aquatic biologists to determine the amount of fish food the various bodies of water will produce. Too, they are determining the species of fish most suitable for each lake.

The state hatcheries produced more than 5 million fish last year, but by using improved methods of fertilization, some of them developed by game department biologists, and by making use of other recently discovered methods of propagation, it is hoped to double the hatcheries' production this season. To date it appears the hatcheries will reach the 10 million mark set for them, despite the fact that late freezes killed more than one million fish in the hatcheries.

Three at Once

L. D. Flowers of Uvalde was plenty satisfied recently when he caught a sixteen-inch bass, but he wasn't amazed until he cut into the fish and found a four-inch bass in its stomach. Investigating further, Flowers opened the smaller bass and found a two-inch perch. Both the four and two-inch fish were whole. Maybe catching two bass and a perch on a single hook is a record.

Study Laws, Conservation

Dallas County rural students in intermediate grades will study state game and fish laws and the conservation of wild life under 250 teachers, according to word from Miss Leland Watkins, intermediate supervisor.

Realization of the need of conservation is spreading, and more colleges and other schools are teaching the subject each year.

Haul In 1,100-Pound Turtle

The waters off the Texas Gulf coast often give up monsters. The most recent reported to the Game Department was a 1,100-pound turtle which was lassoed and finally hauled in by four men. The turtle had been hit by a tanker a few minutes earlier in the Sabine channel. The marine Garzantua broke the first rope and probably would have escaped had he not been already injured.

Another Invasion of Texas

Shovel nose sturgeon are not natives of Texas fresh waters, but one was recently caught in a net by Rex Ferrell of Dallas while he was seining for minnows at Eagle Mountain Lake. The sturgeon was 24 inches long and weighed one and a half pounds.

The chief aquatic biologist of the game department was at a loss to explain the presence of the sturgeon in the lake, but said the egg from which it came could have been dropped by a bird which had picked up fertilized spawn in some water possibly hundreds of miles away. (Editors note: Or maybe it was in Coronado's party and just simply got tired and stopped at Eagle Mountain Lake.)

Deer Toll Continues Heavy

The death rate for game killed on Texas highways continues heavy. The latest report received by the game department shows 23 deer were known to have been killed on the roads in Gillespie County during the first four months of this year.

Travel By Rail—
On Installment Plan

Into the news this week comes an announcement that may cheer the legions of Americans who want to travel but can't get the money together for fare at the right time. 1940 has been called 'Travel America Year,' and the railroads announce that a person can travel now and pay later.
A Travel credit plan, sponsored by 66 roads, makes possible the purchase of railway trips and tours in the same manner that a car or radio is bought—on convenient monthly payments.
The plan, which went into use last month, is simple: The prospective traveler merely goes to the ticket office of the cooperating railway over whose lines he wishes to travel, or to a travel agent, and makes application for credit in the amount of the cost of the proposed trip. If the routine credit inquiry indicates an ability to meet monthly payments, he is notified that his ticket is ready for him. The only contact in connection with the application is with the ticket or travel agent. The application is passed on within twenty-four hours.

Typhoid Warning
Austin.—Now that spring is here, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises out-of-door enthusiasts to include protection against typhoid fever among their preparations for spring outings unless they have been immunized against typhoid within the last two to three years.
The advice applies particularly to fishermen, hikers, boy and girl scouts, campfire girls, and any others who are looking forward to out-of-door activities.
"The danger from typhoid has been greatly reduced," Dr. Cox said, "through the protection of public water supplies from pollution; careful medical supervision of each case of the disease and painstaking investigation of the sources of infection; improved sanitation of milk production; the sanitary supervision of other food supplies; and through individual and community cooperation in the disposal of sewage. But there are still sources of infection to which individuals are exposed, for which vaccination affords the only protection."
"Some of the danger that persists after the means of public protection have been carefully observed is literally 'handed out' by people who are 'carriers' of the disease. A 'carrier' is a person who has had typhoid and who continues to pass germs that cause the disease, in bodily discharges, long after he or she has recovered.
"Typhoid is contracted by way of the mouth, through water, milk, or other foods contaminated by typhoid germs. Some of the most serious outbreaks have been traced to 'carriers' who were careless in their personal habits.
"Typhoid control demands constant fight against the disease through both public protection and individual precautions. Young people are particularly susceptible to typhoid. Vaccination against the disease gives individual protection against typhoid. Three injections of the typhoid vaccine—a week apart—will put you in the protected class. It takes several weeks for the protective treatment to establish itself in the system. Therefore the State Health Department urges you to be immunized against typhoid now."

FERGUSONS WON'T DENY MILK TO INSANE PATIENTS

Bread and milk have always been regarded as the basic food that sustains human life. With a loaf of bread and a bottle of milk, no one need starve to death.
Our present governor apparently agrees that bread is the staff of life, because he never overlooks a chance to advertise flour. He seems to regard milk, however, as a minor and unnecessary commodity.
When the last legislature appropriated $12,000 to build and equip barns and purchase dairy cattle for the San Antonio State Hospital in order that insane patients might have nourishing milk to drink, the governor promptly vetoed the item. When the legislature appropriated $16,000 for the same purpose to be used at the Terrell State Hospital for the insane, his veto axe fell again.
This is the same governor who is broadcasting over the radio and through his private newspaper that the legislature prevented him from keeping his promise to the poor unfortunates of the State.
The Fergusons promise not to veto any appropriation which the legislature, in its wisdom, may see fit to pass for the alleviation of suffering among our insane.

"America's ideal and objective is still peace — peace at home and peace abroad. Our security is not a matter of weapons alone. The arm that yields them must be strong, the eye that guides them clear, the will that directs them indomitable.

"These are the characteristics of a free people, a people devoted to the institutions they themselves have built, a people willing to defend a way of life that is precious to them all, a people who put their faith in God."

—PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT In his defense speech to Congress May 16, 1940.

THE MILLS COUNTY WAY

Distressing stories of spy hunts and fifth column scares continue to pour in from all over the country. As near as Brownwood adherents of a religious sect have been chased off the streets by angry citizens in the name of patriotism.

In Goldthwaite a different, more positive patriotism has asserted itself. By arranging for a great patriotic parade and assembly here on Thursday, the local American Legion Post provided a safe outlet for the pent-up patriotic feelings of the people of this section.

In times like these it is natural to think more seriously of the privileges and responsibilities of American citizenship, and the Legion showed the way in which loyal citizens here might take a stand.

Such demonstrations also serve as a pointed reminder to any who may be disloyal to the government under which they live that the vast majority of Americans and, in this case, of Mills county folks, are willing to fight for the protection of the American government and the American way of life.

Instead of jumping on a few religious fanatics in order to show their own loyalty, Mills county people turn out in force to cheer the flag and the veterans whose lives were once offered in its defense.

This is the better way.

Texas NYA Youth Receive Training In First Aid

Austin.—First aid instruction has been given to approximately 5300 boys and girls on National Youth Administration projects throughout the State during the past 12 months, according to J. C. Kellam, State NYA Administrator.

First aid instruction given these youth includes artificial respiration, the use of a tourniquet, removing splinters, treating sun stroke, heat exhaustion, fainting, burns, treatment of minor cuts and abrasions, health habits, shock, slight wounds, and first aid for broken bones.

Besides intermingling first aid courses with the work experience given these NYA boys and girls on each project, Kellam said specific classes in first aid are taught by representatives from the State Department of Public Safety, registered nurses, personnel working for the State Highway Department, and Red Cross representatives.

"In emphasizing first aid instruction, it is our purpose," the State Youth Administrator said, "to make these boys and girls health and safety conscious. We supply them with competent teachers to inform them of the newest methods of first aid treatment, and, after a sufficient length of study, give them first aid examinations. Many of the youth have passed these examinations and have received their first aid certificates."

University Professor Views on Marriage

Austin.—Choose a wife or husband who has ideals and interests similar to your own if you want your marriage to stick, advises Dr. C. W. Hall, Bible instructor at the University of Texas.

He urges sound standards of courtship, for "too much premarital petting tends to cause married couples to lose respect for each other later, and creates a liking for variety which may be disastrous for married life."

The economic factor cannot be ignored, he points out to his 304 students, but may be minimized if the marriage is on a sound basis otherwise.

Don't marry until you have reached a degree of mental, physical and emotional maturity, he suggests.

On the other hand, don't wait too long, for personality adjustments are easier for persons in their twenties than for those in the thirties, and fairly young marriages give couples a chance to be young with their children.

Fifteen years' experience teaching college students facts of "marriage and home-making"—first at SMU, then at the University of Texas—together with predoctoral study of 300 happily married couples and 300 divorced couples qualifies Dr. Hall to speak authoritatively on such problems.

Marines to Enlist 9,000 Recruits

An authorized increase of 9,000 men for the U. S. Marine Corps has been approved by Congress, bringing the strength of the Corps up to 34,000. These 9,000 men will be used, in addition to bringing present regiments up to peace time allowance, for the following: one Infantry Regiment, two Defense Battalions, and 1,500 men to increase the guards at Navy Yards.

The Defense Battalions are a new type of unit intended for the temporary defense of a small base, an island base for example. They provide an antiaircraft defense, having 12 3-inch guns; 48 50-caliber antiaircraft machine guns; 48 30-caliber machine guns; and 6 5-inch guns for use against surface vessels. Only 750 men are used in such a battalion. It is a most powerful unit.

Young men between 18 and 30 years of age, white, single and without dependents, not less than 64 nor more than 74 inches tall, who have had one year high school, and are of good moral character are eligible for enlistment.

Application blanks and illustrated pamphlets may be obtained from all postmasters, or from the Marine Corps Recruiting Office, 822 Allen Building, Dallas, Texas.

EZEKIEL TEACHES PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

LESSON TEXT—Ezekiel 33:7-16. GOLDEN TEXT—So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God. —Romans 14:12.

Personal responsibility is a subject well worthy of careful and repeated consideration. We talk so much about social, national or racial responsibility that we are prone to forget that the social order, nations and races, are made up of individuals. The Bible, while recognizing the relationship and responsibilities of nations and social groups to God, rightly stresses individual responsibility. It is man who is made in the likeness and image of God. He is the one who has fallen into sin, and he needs the regenerating grace of God in the Lord Jesus Christ. It is man who stands responsible to God, both as an individual and as God's representative in carrying His message to others.

I. Man's Responsibility for the Lives of Others (vv. 7-11).

Ezekiel had the official responsibility of a watchman sent by God to his own people in their captivity in Babylon. His was a special calling, and yet it is not true that, according to the teaching of the New Testament, every Christian is called to be a witness, a winner of souls, and a watchman?

1. The Watchman's Commission (v. 7). His appointment is by God, and the warning words he is to speak are given to him by God. Every true preacher and teacher of the gospel should be a God-called man, presenting the Word of God. Otherwise, his ministry will have little meaning and no real power. The same is true of every Christian; a personal touch with God must precede his efforts to win others to God.

2. The Watchman's Responsibility (vv. 8, 9). Being a watchman is not a duty that one bears lightly, for it has grave responsibilities. Lives are dependent on the vigilance and faithfulness of the watchman. Even those who watch over worldly goods or who guard the safety and comfort of others are held by us to a high measure of responsibility and are liable for misfeasance or carelessness in office. What about those of us to whom the destiny of eternal souls has been committed? Read the solemn words of verses 8 and 9.

3. The Watchman's Message (vv. 10, 11). The Jews who were in captivity because of their sin and failure were despondent. They saw no ray of hope; they were under the overwhelming burden of their sin. The message of God's watchman was one of hope to the repentant people. God is gracious toward the sinner and has no pleasure in punishing him. "Why will ye die?" places the responsibility squarely where it belongs—on the sinner himself.

II. Man's Responsibility for His Own Life (vv. 12-16).

Whatever may be our responsibility for the lives of others, certain it is that we must each one answer to God for our own lives. Ours is the glorious opportunity of living our life—and ours is the responsibility for it.

1. Consistent Living Required (v. 12). This verse evidently does not mean that a righteous man overtaken in a moment of defeat is lost. It rather refers to the one who has made an outward show of being righteous. A confident of himself, he has then fallen into careless living, and all at once his true character is revealed in outright wickedness. That man cannot then draw on his past record as though it were a bank account to be used to justify him in his hour of failure. Righteousness is a matter of the heart. It is a spiritual rebirth, expressing itself in changed conduct and consistent living, not only yesterday and today, but also tomorrow.

2. Real Repentance Accepted (vv. 13-16). God was ready in Ezekiel's day to accept the genuinely repentant man and woman. Infinitely more precious and warm is the welcome that Christ now gives to sinners who turn to Him, for He, our blessed Lord, has now worked out the way of salvation on Calvary's tree.

'In' Not 'For' Am I to thank God for everything? Am I to thank Him for bereavement, for pain, for poverty, for toil? . . . Be still my soul; thou hast misread the message. It is not to give thanks for everything, but to give thanks in everything.—Dr. G. Matheson.

They Shall Return to the Lord And the Lord shall smite Egypt; he shall smite and heal it; and they shall return even to the Lord, and he shall be entreated of them, and shall heal them.—Isaiah 19:22.

Selfishness What makes selfishness such a deadly sin is that it is such a self-deceiving one.

Illustrating the point that the finest results are achieved by the Lord when he has the co-operation of human beings, Dr. John W. Holland in the Progressive Farmer tells this apt story:

"An old Negro bought a weedy lot on the edge of town. He worked hard in spading it up, planted it as a garden and soon had the finest vegetables in the neighborhood. His pastor coming out to see him remarked, 'Brother Brown, the Lawd and you certainly have made a fine garden out of this sorry-looking lot.'"

"Whereupon the philosophic old gardener replied: 'Yas, sah, an' you recollect when de Lawd was runnin' dis lot all by hisself, it was in de devil of a fix.'"

Kathleen Norris Says:

How Many Women Are Making This Woman's Mistake?

(Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

"The unfortunate result of our change has slowly affected Louise. She has grown silent and depressed."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

WE HAVE been able to keep our heads above water, but just above water," writes a Pennsylvania woman. "For the past ten years money matters have been a constant anxiety to my husband and myself. Not for ourselves, but for our daughter, who is now 21. Ten years ago Louise had everything, she attended a smart private school, went about with a very nice crowd of girls, and naturally supposed that her life was to fall into pleasant lines.

"Then came the crash, which affected my husband seriously. We were buying our home; that had to be sacrificed. We moved to a small out nice hotel apartment, promising Louise that it was out temporary, but we have found it a great struggle to maintain even this much of an appearance. Much service is included in the rent, but tips to elevator boys, porters, chambermaids, window washers, waiters, amount to more than the price of one good servant in a private home. Janitors and delivery boys must be remembered regularly, and as no laundry work is permitted in the house that is an additional expense. Indeed, everything we do costs money and with a $55 rent taken from a salary of about $225 a month even my most careful management leaves little for pleasures for Louise. She cannot entertain very much; we no longer have a car, and of course her clothes are simple and few. My husband was quite ill last March, and although he is now well again, he dreads another breakdown and has taken out more insurance than it is comfortable for our family to properly handle under the circumstances in which we now find ourselves.

Daughter Depressed.
"The unfortunate result of our change in position has slowly affected Louise. At first she attempted to keep up with her old friends, and as most of their families had suffered too, this was not hard. But now she has drifted away, or have rejected their old prosperity, and she feels keenly that she cannot keep pace with them. She cannot invite about, buy clothes, join country clubs, and although she did take a position for a short while in a fashionable frock shop, she was unable to stand the physical strain and had to give it up. Many of the nicest girls, and indeed, some of the wealthiest in town, have done this, so that she felt no embarrassment in trying it, but it was too hard.

"She is extremely pretty and unusually bright and attractive, or was so. For she has grown silent and depressed now, and I have consulted a doctor and a psychopath about her. There is nothing organically wrong, but she does not sleep, takes small interest in anything, and has long fits of the blues. If I could I would send her on a long trip about the world, hoping the change of scene and contact with new friends would shake her out of her depression, but that is impossible now for many reasons.

Change in Living, Thinking Needed.
Louise's mother probably doesn't know it, but once she was removed from the misery and humiliation of constant contrast with women luckier than herself, she would find life extremely pleasant. Among humbler neighbors she might find herself content to copy and admire. Social standards are poor things, if they inspire us to extravagance and idleness and envy. Far better to get into the open air of honest work after so many years shut into the unhealthy hothouse of having to do what the Joneses do.

Does Loan Offer Solution?
"I have seriously considered going to wealthy friends and borrowing sufficient money to re-establish ourselves in a handsome home again, give her the sort of life to which she would probably marry. But my husband, although devoted to her, refuses to consider this. What do you think of this plan? It would be only for a few years. Later we could move into much less expensive quarters and, by economizing, repay the entire sum by degrees. My husband sympathizes with her and with me, but he is not at home all day, to struggle with her apathy and unhappiness, and consequently I feel that he does not fully understand. Please advise and help if you can, Louise's Mother."

Poor Louise's Mother, and Louise's Father, and Louise! One hardly knows which to pity most; the father, gallantly struggling not only to support them now, but trying also to lay aside enough insurance to care for them should he drop in his tracks; or the pretentious, superficial mother who never has learned anything of the true values of living; or Louise, spoiled and idle and discontented, destroying by her own young ignorance and selfishness the years that might be the happiest of her life.

An Unhappy Household.
What a wretched failure that boxed-up little apartment in the hotel must be! Dad tired and discouraged; one of the million men who were deceived by false prosperity before the crash, who never really deserved the high positions and high salaries to which national prosperity swept them, and who will never get back again. Mother straining every nerve, physical, mental, social, to keep up appearances; to maintain her diminished household upon the scale that luckier women can attain with no worry at all; to secure for Louise friends, amusements, clothes all just a little too expensive. And Louise, hating the small rooms, hating the small salary, hating her clothes and her parents and above all herself. There the three are, tied together, falling each other on every count, destroying each other and themselves like three unhappy animals in a cage. Here is a family where a definite readjustment is absolutely necessary.

Louise's mother ought to lift that load from the man of the house by moving immediately to smaller, cheaper quarters, to an unfashionable neighborhood and a $25 rent, and Louise ought to lift herself and her problems from the shoulders of both parents by getting a job, any job. There would be a real adventure for all three, a stimulating change, a re-birth of affection and confidence between them all. His wife ought to convince this worried, struggling man that two healthy women can get along in this world without draining the life-blood from a fellow-creature to do it, and the daughter ought to begin to bring into the group not only financial assistance, but cheerful daily reports, healthy contributions to the conversation at the dinner table, bracing reactions to her first contact with realities.

MIRACLE OF COTTON FILMED IN COLOR

"THREADS OF A NATION" FOLLOWS COTTON FROM FIELDS TO FASHIONS

THE miracle of cotton from the fleecy white bolls on the Southern plantation to millady's latest fashions, has just been filmed in natural color and is being released to motion picture theatres throughout the country. It is called "The Threads of a Nation."

The ten minute reel depicts not only the magic transformation of cotton from raw material to queenly raiment, but also shows the historical growth of the immense cotton empire of the South upon which millions of persons depend for livelihood.

Featured are the intricate machines—ginning, weaving, dyeing and printing—whose almost human ingenuity and artist's genius clothe the nation. The picture is the life story of personal garments and useful fabrics, first blooming in colorful fields, then spun into endless threads, woven into fetching patterns, dyed with beautiful colors and printed in gay designs. So far flung are the processes of cotton manufacture that it took nearly six months to make this ten minute "short." Popular in treatment throughout, "The Threads of a Nation" is the first of a series of screen entertainments recording the cultural and economic attainments of the cotton textile industry during the past few decades. The film gives a background for a clear understanding of cotton's essential usefulness to the consumer and the economic significance of one of America's basic commodities.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

ROBERT ALLEN

Inner G. O. P. master minds admit that their political chances have been almost as hard hit as the shattered allied lines in Europe. Prior to this catastrophic development G. O. P. election prospects appeared very bright indeed.

It looked as if the campaign would be fought chiefly on Republican ground; that is, on domestic issues. Also, it was doubtful whether Roosevelt would run. But the Hitler blitzkrieg changed this situation overnight.

Roosevelt's move to bring one or more Republicans into the cabinet made things worse.

Something had to be done fast to block this.

The barrage on Roosevelt was opened by Colonel Lindbergh's speech poo-pooing any invasion danger. In inner G. O. P. circles this is credited to Hoover via his close friend William Castle, former undersecretary of state.

This was followed up with the carefully spaced statements by Landon, Hoover, Representative Wadsworth, House Floor Leader Martin and others demanding that the President renounce a third term as the price for G. O. P. participation in the cabinet.

ICELAND AND U. S.

There is a lot more behind the rushing of American consuls to Greenland and Iceland than appears on the surface.

Boiled down to cold facts, the Roosevelt administration is afraid of a Nazi air base only 1,500 miles from Maine. Bombing planes already have been developed which can fly this far—loaded.
