

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

VOLUME FORTY-SIX

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 2, 1940.

NUMBER FIFTY-ONE

DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON, D. C. STIMSON GIVEN FULL AUTHORITY

Henry L. Stimson, Republican secretary of war, and the only man in three cabinets (Taft's, Hoover's and Roosevelt's) is proceeding cautiously. But he has been given complete authority by Roosevelt to reorganize the entire war department, even including the ousting of Democratic appointees.

The inside story of Stimson's appointment can now be told.

It so happened that he had just delivered a strong pro-allied address at the Yale university commencement exercises, when he got home and received the long distance call from Roosevelt inviting him to become secretary of war.

"Mr. President," replied Stimson, "I have just delivered an address which no man in high official position should make."

"I know all about your speech," Roosevelt replied in effect, "and I still want you to be secretary of war."

Stimson then replied that the decision was so momentous that he wanted two or three hours to talk it over with his wife and close friends.

"Take all the time you want, Henry," said the President.

Note—To get the full significance of this exchange, it is necessary to remember that Stimson and Roosevelt had fought each other in New York state politics ever since 1910, when Stimson ran for governor and Roosevelt, just out of Harvard, ran for the state senate.

After two or three hours Stimson telephoned the President and accepted the appointment. However, he added one condition.

"I'm not as young as I used to be," he said, "and I can't work 18 and 20 hours a day any more. Therefore I've got to have men around me whom I know intimately and can absolutely trust. A tremendous responsibility will be on my shoulders," Stimson added, "and I should not afford to fail."

To this Roosevelt replied in bantering tone: "Appoint anyone you want, Henry. The only thing I ask is not to appoint too many Republicans at the very first."

Stimson apparently did not catch the joking note in the President's voice, for he replied: "You can rest assured, Mr. President, that whether Democrats or Republicans, they will be good men."

REGENCY H. D. CLUB

Due to absence of the club reporter, the following report failed to be sent in.

July 12th, the club members met in the home of Mrs. Butch Rowlett, with the president in charge of the program. Roll call was answered by giving "a constructive criticism on children's clothing." Members who have parts on the program were Mmes. Chas. Roberts, Bruce Moore and Andy Rowlett.

A beautiful solo was sung by Mrs. Chas. Roberts.

Refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.

On Friday, July 26, Mrs. Alva Brown was hostess to club members, with Miss Scott as leader. A wonderful lecture and demonstration was given by Miss Scott. Her subject was on tomatoes, their value and many uses. The demonstration was on canning tomato juice and salsa pack tomatoes. She also served each a glass of her canned juice which was delicious and enjoyed by all.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and Senator Tom Connally were both nominated over the field of opposition by Texas Democrats in the July primary election last Saturday, while Congressman C. L. South of Coleman was again designated to represent the 21st Texas district without opposition.

Local Cemetery in Fine Condition

The cemetery grounds are now in splendid shape, except where Bermuda grass grows so luxuriantly, as it is hard to keep trimmed over rugged, rocky ground.

The names below are the persons and firms which have made possible the cleaning of the ground, but funds are running so short that the ladies who have charge of this work, are asking all who have not contributed, and who are vitally interested or should be, to donate something to help keep the good work going for at least another month.

The following have paid: Trent State Bank $3, Little's Store $3, Mrs. W. C. Dew $3, Weatherly Garage $3, Hammond Bodkin $3, S. P. Urgent Request

To the People of Goldthwaite: Use of unusual amounts of water during the current hot, dry weather is lowering the level in the city's reservoir.

It has become necessary for the city to appeal to individual subscribers to refrain from excessive use of water so that our wells may again produce as much as is needed. It is very important that everybody co-operate in this request to prevent a threat of actual shortage.

Sincerely yours,
H. G. BODKIN, Mayor.

BUILDING NOTES

Several new paint jobs have been in evidence in Goldthwaite and vicinity the past few days. The Trent State Bank has been newly painted, and the home of Miss Bessie Lewis of the Pleasant Grove community is being repainted.

Work is continued on the Smith residence on Parker street, and the Burkett service station on the Brownwood highway and the Karnes station at Star are nearing completion.

BIG VOTE SATURDAY SETS RECORD FOR MILLS COUNTY

Mills county Democrats set an all-time record in the July primary election Saturday, when 2631 ballots were cast for state, district, county and precinct nominees to public office for the next two years. The previous high was 2420 votes cast in the July, 1926, election.

An inspection of the vote here shows more of an endorsement of present officials than a protest against them or willingness to "change horses" at this time. Among the state officials who were favored for re-election in Mills county were Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, Lieutenant Governor Stevenson, Treasurer Lockhart, Superintendent of Instruction L. A. Woods, State Comptroller Sheppard, and Agriculture Commissioner McDonald.

Reading down the ballot further, the incumbent was favored by local voters in each of the following races: Mills county judge, county clerk, and sheriff and tax assessor-collector.

Closest race developed in the contest for commissioner of precinct 1, where the unofficial returns showed Jess Tullos winner over Omar Shaw by a four-vote lead, 500 to 496.

Races which remain to be voted on again in the August 24 election are: County Commissioner, precinct 4, between Bedford Renfro and J. G. Egger; County Clerk, between L. B. Porter and Earl Summy; Representative from 104th district, between Frank Howington and Seth Moore; and in state races, between Olin Culberson and Pierce

Brooks for railroad commissioner and Lattimore and Alexander for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

This issue of The Eagle carries the Mills county vote for district and county offices in tabular form, excepting unopposed candidates, and there follows the total county vote in state races: U. S. Senator.

Oklahoma Pastor Accepts Presidency

Abilene—Dr. W. R. White, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Oklahoma City, Monday accepted the presidency of Hardin-Simmons University.

Two months ago Doctor White rejected a first offer to be president to succeed the late Dr. J. D. Sanderfer, pioneer West Texas educator, who died after serving the West Texas Baptist school for 31 years.

Doctor White arrived here Monday to confer with the trustees.—Houston Chronicle.

H. D. Council To Meet August 3

The Mills County Home Demonstration Council will meet Saturday, August 3, at 2:00 o'clock in the home demonstration agent's office.

Principal business will consist of year book plans for 1941, with a probable change in one or both demonstrations if council desires a change.

Members are urged to be present. Visitors are welcome.
EMMA SCOTT, H. D. Agent.

First Baptist Church

E. E. DAWSON, Pastor

All regular services next Sunday. Everybody is cordially invited. There will be a baptismal service at the close of the evening service, and all who are approved for the ordinance are requested to be present, if possible.

Kelly School House Revival

A revival meeting will begin at Kelly school house Sunday night at 8:00 o'clock. The Rev. Otis Holladay of Hico will do the preaching. The services at night will be held on the school yard and there will be comfortable seating. All the people of the community and adjoining communities are invited to attend the meetings.

Nabors Creek Revival

A revival meeting of a week's duration will begin at Nabors Creek school house Sunday morning. There will be services every day and night during the next week. The evening services will be at 8:00 or as soon thereafter as the people can get there. Everybody is cordially invited. The evening services will be on the school yard.

Nazarene Church

We are to have the Bethany Peniel Quartett with us next Saturday night, Dr. Lewis Corlett will be with them. It is needless to tell you that we will have a lot of good singing, since so many of you heard them last year when they came. However, Dr. Corlett was not here the last time and his coming will add new interest to all who hear him.

Our annual revival will begin August 11. Rev. W. L. French, District Superintendent of the San Antonio District will be the evangelist and Rev. French needs no introduction as he has been here before, but he is getting better all the time and we are believing for a great time. Make your plans now to attend every service.

Services as usual next Sunday. Be sure to go to Sunday school some where and you are always welcome at the Church of The Nazarene.
MRS. PEARL KEETON, Pastor.

By Mrs. Dora Goode

Hello, everybody! Nice morning here, too. Just imagine, all of you, how some 15 or 20 Eagle reporters look this morning—all scribbling away about the doings of each individual hamlet. Later the dishes, beds, flower watering, and son on, will come for attention.

After awhile we'll hunt up the shoes we kicked off last night. Oh, I guess that won't even be necessary now. The candidates by this time know what's what. And the garden stuff that isn't in the can is too sunburnt for critical canners to use.

Thanks, Rock Springs, I read most all of them too, unless I'm too awful busy. We'd feel terribly bad if nobody were interested but just us.

Warns Against Food Poisoning

AUSTIN — "Sporadic outbreaks of food poisoning over the state in the past few weeks demonstrate the need for special care in handling and refrigerating any food that must be prepared some time in advance of serving," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"Prevention of food poisoning requires clean food handled as little as possible and consumed while it is fresh. Food prepared hours before it is served, and allowed to stand at warm temperatures becomes good culture media for bacteria. Cooked products of a perishable nature are readily subject to decomposition, and must be kept well refrigerated.

"Most food poisoning is caused by infection by certain groups of bacteria which grow rapidly under favorable conditions, such as high temperature and high humidity. The infection may come from dirty hands, utensils, flies, rodents, contaminated water, infected food materials, and in a few cases from certain types of bacteria which spread rapidly and are not necessarily associated with filthy conditions.

"Picnic food is especially susceptible to transmitting food poisoning to the members of the picnic party. Be sure you have fresh, clean food free from stagnant odors, etc. Require all who prepare the food for use to wash their hands thoroughly before handling it. Avoid excessive hand contacts with the food. See that clean containers are used and that special care is taken in the wrapping of foods.

"If food is prepared far in advance of its use, cook it thoroughly, and keep it refrigerated or otherwise protected at a temperature under 50 degrees F. until you are ready to use it. Avoid serving foods that are readily infected, such as the more perishable salads and cream-filled pastries. Any foods that are not to be served immediately should be kept on ice. Milk, ice cream, and dairy products in general should be from approved sources. "Digestive upsets cannot always be blamed on the food served at an outing. Sometimes excessive heat and humidity combined with over-exertion and over-heating, as well as over-eating, help to bring them about. Remember this and don't indulge in too strenuous exercise when the days are hot and muggy. Don't indulge, either in unwise combinations of foods," Dr. Cox further warned.

Injury Insurance for Football Players

Austin.—Injury insurance for Texas' 20,000 schoolboy football players will be made available September 1, by terms of a plan approved by the University of Texas' Interscholastic League State office.

The plan was drawn up by C. H. Kenley, San Angelo high school principal and League athletic insurance committee chairman, and calls for a per-player annual premium of $1.75, providing for the payment of up to $100 in medical care for the more serious fractures of lacerations.

Kenley pointed out that the league simply contracts with a national insurance company to offer the Texas schools player policies at a rock-bottom price. Then, if a boy is injured during a game or practice either, he added, the plan insures finances available for proper medical care.

He cited a survey of the Texas high school conference taken by his committee of coaches and principals showing that 495 Texas schools last year paid out $26,657, or $53.86 per school, for injury treatment or for individual school insurance.

When league officials voted last May to investigate injury insurance, Kenley reported that Texas schoolboy squads suffered two deaths and 1,399 injuries during the regular 12-week schedule in 1939.

Forty-three per cent of the injuries were sprains, the next largest group being fractures, 20 per cent.

Texas becomes the 18th state to adopt the blanket insurance plan since Wisconsin pioneered it in 1930. Wisconsin injuries have dropped, Kenley pointed

Advertising is ROMANCE

YOU READ THE ADS. As you read, visions come, and a desire for better things.

Do you see dresses? You picture yourself of a summer evening in this drifting white chiffon, softly printed with delicate blossoms.

Hats? Your mind's eye frames your face with a pastel shaded halo.

Foods? A cool, jolly dinner, with exciting news of the family's day.

Sporting goods? A slashing tennis game. A well-hit drive from the tee. A hard-hooked fish and a screaming reel.

Some people say that all enthusiasm should be taken out of advertising. In books and speeches they crusade for bleak little ads that give nothing but thread counts, strength and chemical tests, dimensions and prices. What a pity if they had their way!

Advertising is one of the welcome voices that directs our eyes upward. It has worked wonders in raising our standard of living. Let's encourage it to continue on its inspiring way.

Conservation Emphasized

College Sta.—Next year's AAA program will continue emphasis on soil conservation, give increased opportunity for adapting the program to fit individual farm requirements and provide features that strengthen the Ever-Normal Granary program of balanced abundance and production.

Those were the recommendations of the National AAA Conference, held in Washington, D. C., according to George Slaughter, chairman of the state AAA committee, who attended the conference as one of the Texas representatives.

It was pointed out at the conference that farmer recommendations for strengthening the Ever-Normal Granary and for more conservation are an impor-

Methods of Collecting Indemnity Payments

College Sta.—Wheat growers who have suffered a loss on a 1940 crop covered by all-risk crop insurance may select one of two methods to collect their indemnity payments.

First, the producer may request immediate settlement upon adjustment of his claim as was the case under the 1939 program, or, second, he may request that his payment be withheld until a later time under a "deferred settlement" plan, first introduced in the handling of 1940 crop losses. The grower's claim is adjusted as usual, but instead of an immediate cash settlement, computed on a basis of the current market price, the grower may request that settlement be postponed, up to 90 days, until he sends in a notice that payment is desired. The cash value of his indemnity is then computed on the basis of the market price at the date the notice is received by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, the committee stated.

Wheat purchased with the proceeds of a crop insurance indemnity, under either the immediate settlement or deferred settlement plan, is eligible for a Commodity Credit Corporation wheat loan, Watson added. If the grower requests that his indemnity payment be postponed, he may make arrangements to purchase wheat with the indemnity proceeds at any time after the indemnity is approved by the corporation but before December 31, 1940, the final date for obtaining 1940 wheat loans. In this way he may protect himself against declines in the price of wheat below the loan value and be in a position to profit from any increases in the market value of the wheat.

Several new soil-building practices have been recommended, he continued, and expansion of the grant-of-aid plan, under which farmers receive advances of lime, superphosphate and other materials necessary for conservation against payments earned under the program, was endorsed. Recommendations also were made to extend special wind erosion control programs to a larger area in the Southern Great Plains.

Memory Hall

We sit alone in the gloaming, The fire is burning low, While the darkness slowly gathers The shadows come and go. Then the long lost forms and faces

Come trooping at our call, At this hour of contemplation We spend in "Mem'ry Hall."

They are here in countless thousands, Here as our honored guests; Some from the active marts of life,

Some from Eternal Rest. Here we sit in sweet communion, While dark'ning shadows fall. Sacred and holy is the hour We spend in "Mem'ry Hall."

We talk of friends we long have known, Gone to their dreamless sleep, Far from the haunts of mortal man, Where angels virgils keep.

When the ev'ning shadows deepen And night comes like a pall, Our guests steal silently away. Lonely is Mem'ry Hall!"

A Nation-Wide Trend

Long Island, N. Y.

Johnston, R. I.

Nashville, Tenn.

The trend toward construction of low-cost homes has become the outstanding influence in the residential building field. The trend gathers momentum as more and more people become aware of the fact that homes can be built to suit practically every pocket-book on FHA terms, which represent the most favorable financing ever made generally available.

Three examples are shown here of the types of homes that are going up in all sections of the country to provide comfortable low-cost quarters for families not adequately cared for in the past. All of the homes are valued at approximately $2,500, including lot. They were financed with Federal Housing Administration insured mortgages.

The amounts of the mortgages on these properties vary slightly, but monthly payments range between $14 and $15, excluding taxes and hazard insurance.

1 Out of 3 Motorists In U. S. Have Subnormal Vision

One out of every three motorists in the United States has subnormal vision which, if not corrected, tends to make him a traffic menace, asserts the Better Vision Institute. Approximately one-third of the nation's motorists have average vision and one-third can see better than average. Five per cent of the 40,000,000 automobile drivers in the United States have such poor vision that they should not drive extensively in congested traffic and should not drive at speeds exceeding 30 or 35 miles per hour, says the Institute.

"Despite the wide prevalence of visual defects among automobile drivers, few states pay much attention to the visual qualifications of motorists," says the Institute. "Many states now test the eyes of applicants for driver licenses, but ordinarily they make no provision for checking up the eyes of such drivers 10 or 20 years later. It is well known that eyes deteriorate with age and that nearly one out of every two persons passing the age of 40 has defective vision. In 18 states no tests of drivers' eyes are made at any time, notwithstanding the fact that most of those states have stringent laws requiring that the brakes and other parts of cars be in a safe condition when on the highways.

"The importance of good vision is readily appreciated when one considers how much longer it takes a person with defective vision to stop when approaching a traffic hazard. At 60 miles an hour a car moves forward at 88 feet per second. On dry pavement the average stopping distance for a car with four-wheel brakes is about 200 feet. The average traffic sign can be read at about 225 by persons with normal vision.

TO THE VOTERS OF MILLS COUNTY:

I wish to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to you who cast your vote and influence for me, and to assure you that I have no ill feeling for you who did not, for although I was not elected, I am profoundly grateful for the confidence manifested by your action.

I also wish to say that I enjoyed every moment of the time which I spent with you, meeting new friends, and cultivating the friendship of those whose acquaintances I had already made.

I certainly do not feel that the time I spent was wasted; only that the contest was lost, for, as a matter of fact, I feel that my efforts were doubly repaid, for I have gained a new and higher concept of the people of Mills County.

I am truly happy, even in defeat, that I was privileged to run against two such splendid opponents as was my lot, and I sincerely thank them for the fairness in which they dealt with me, and even as I pledged to fulfill the duty required of an officer of the law, also do I now pledge my untiring support to the nominee which you have elected to that office.

Respectfully yours,
 W. L. MAHAN.

TO MY FRIENDS AND SUPPORTERS:

I want to thank you for your loyal support in the July primary and to ask for your continued influence and vote in the coming August election. And to you who did not vote for me during the last election, I take this opportunity to solicit your vote and influence. To my opponents, I want to thank you for the clean manner in which you conducted your campaign.

Sincerely,
 J. O. EGGER,
 Candidate for re-election,
 Commissioner Precinct 4.

TO THE CITIZENS AND VOTERS OF MILLS COUNTY

I wish to take this means of thanking you for the support which you gave me in the recent democratic primary and to state that I will continue to discharge the duties of the office of Sheriff and Tax Assessor and Collector of Mills County in the future as I have in the past.

J. H. HARRIS,
 Sheriff and Tax Assessor-Collector, Mills County, Tex.

TO THE VOTERS OF MILLS COUNTY:

I wish to take this method of thanking you for your vote cast for me in the July 27th Primary. I feel that the people of Mills County still have confidence in me by the vote they gave me in said Primary for County Clerk.

We have only 24 working days until the 24th day of August, date of Run-off Primary. I will endeavor to see each voter of the county personally, however, if the time does not permit me to do so, I am asking that you take this as a personal solicitation for your vote and influence.

Thanking the Voters for all past favors and assuring you that if re-elected, I will work hard to make you the County Officer that you are entitled to have.

Respectfully,
 L. B. PORTER.

TO THE PEOPLE OF MILLS COUNTY

I desire to express to the people of Mills County my sincere gratitude for the support given me in my recent race for nomination to the office of County Judge and Ex-officio County Superintendent. Such loyalty of friends gives one new courage to carry on.

It shall be my policy to take counsel with every citizen, high or low, and to strive to render more and better service to all the people of Mills County.

Gratefully yours,
 R. J. GERALD.

TO THE PEOPLE OF MILLS COUNTY:

Belton, Texas, July 30. To everyone who voted for me for district judge I want you to know I am grateful. To those who did not vote for me, because you did not know me, or for any other reason, I harbor not the slightest ill will. We are all doing the best we can. I made a hard but clean fight. You are a great people. I'd like to know you better. I will wish for you prosperity and life's best blessings always.

Sincerely,
 J. W. THOMAS.

NOTICE

I am taking this method to thank the people of Mills County for the past favors they have shown me and for the liberal support they gave me in the recent election. I would like to thank each of you personally, but will be unable to do that. So please accept this as my personal and sincere thanks.

Respectfully yours,
 O. H. SHAW.

TO MY FRIENDS IN PRECINCT NO. 4:

I am deeply grateful for the support you gave me in Saturday's election, and as it won't be possible to see each one personally, I hope you will accept this as an expression of my thanks and appreciation.

I sincerely hope you will give me careful consideration and your support for Commissioner of Precinct 4 in the August 24th election.

Sincerely yours,
 BEDFORD F. RENFRO.
 —Paid Pol. Adv.

THANKS

I want to thank all those who voted for me. I appreciate their friendship and take this method of thanking each and everyone who tried to help me.

W. A. HEATH

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT NO. 2:

I take this means of expressing my thanks and appreciation for the vote and support given me in Saturday's primary election.

World Art Comes To America

This year the main cultural exhibit at the New York World's Fair, as it was last year, will be the art exhibition. The current collection covers four centuries, and consists of 400 European and American paintings valued at $30,000,000. Practically every great name in art, from Titian and Rembrandt to Degas and Renoir, is presented.

Millions of Americans will experience the deepest of aesthetic pleasure when attending this magnificent exhibit. And, more than that, it is a fitting thing that so many of the shining masterpieces of world art should be gathered in this country at this time. Bombers are not attacking our cities. It may be, tragic as the thought is, that concentrating art masterpieces in our land may save them from destruction.

The American Shorthorn Breeders Association has offered special premiums for this breed of beef cattle, which will give greater impetus in making the 1940 Livestock Show at the State Fair of Texas one of the outstanding shows of its kind ever held. More than $85,000.00 is offered as prizes for livestock at the State Fair.

MAKE A PICTURE SERIES

This young gossip is an ideal subject for a picture series. Try your hand at story-telling "sequence pictures"—they provide lots of snapshot fun.

FOR real camera fun, try your hand at taking a picture series—a group of pictures that fit together and tell a connected story. It's easy to do—easier than taking the same number of individual, unconnected pictures. And because the shots work together, each helping the others, the results tend to be more interesting. The trick is to pick a starting point—and the rest of the series just seems to follow naturally. Pictures already in your album will give you ideas for "series stories." Just look through the album—choose a picture—and ask yourself, "What story could I develop from this?" For example, consider the picture of the little girl at the telephone, as the starting point for a story series. She's a perfect gossip. Then one might make a sequence of shots—each one with a slightly different expression—as if she were holding a long, gossipy conversation. Arrange these pictures in the album.

Gardens Multiply

College Sta.—Judging from preliminary reports of AAA supervisors who have checked compliance in 49 Texas counties, there are more gardens on Texas farms and ranches this year than ever before.

Figures compiled as of June 25 by county AAA offices and county home demonstration agents for Jennie Camp, specialist in home production planning for the A&M College Extension Service, reveal that 80,616 home gardens in these 49 counties will qualify for soil building payments under the 1940 agricultural conservation program. The number varies from 100 in Lynn County on the South Plains to 4,757 in Navarro County in the Central Texas Blacklands, with an average of 1,641 gardens for these 49 counties.

"If each of these gardens is the minimum size of one-half acre and the vegetables are planted in rows three feet apart, then the total number of feet in these 80,616 gardens would be 585,272,160. This would measure 110,847 miles or four and one-half times around the earth at the equator.

Over most of the state the season has been unusually good, and vegetable production abundant. An increase in the number of varieties planted was also reported by the compliance supervisors. Estimating the monetary value of each garden at $50, the aggregate worth to Texas farm families would be $4,030,800. Miss Camp adds that the value to farm families "in improved diets and improved health cannot be estimated in dollars and cents."

"America's ideal and objective is still peace — peace at home and peace abroad. Our security is not a matter of weapons alone. The arm that wields them must be strong, the eye that guides them clear, the will that directs them indomitable.

"These are the characteristics of a free people, a people devoted to the institutions they themselves have built, a people willing to defend a way of life that is precious to them all, a people who put their faith in God."

—PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

In his defense speech to Congress May 16, 1940.

LATER THAN WE THINK

Americans are beginning to understand more fully just what is at stake in the "battle of Britain," and to realize some of the truth in the old English sun-dial legend which reads simply, "It Is Later Than You Think."

It was later than Chamberlain thought two years ago; it was later than all the world thought last spring when the aggressor poured his troops across the Netherlands into northern France.

Intelligent followers of European events were alarmed to a certain extent, it is true, by the warnings of Anthony Eden, the late General Pilsudski of Poland, and even of Colonel Lindbergh, Dorothy Thompson and other American observers who traveled in Europe before the Nazi machine began rolling. But for the most part the world believed with Chamberlain that "peace in our time" was possible and that war was "improbable."

Taking stock of the situation after almost a year of war, both phoney and genuine, we find England preparing energetically to hold out against German forces which have at their command practically all the sinews of the European continent except Russia.

We find, in addition to those facts, certain significant attitudes and opinions which we cannot ignore: for instance, editors of English publications (such as the London Economist) have plainly stated the conviction that England can now only hope to hold out defensively against Germany until "help from other continents" arrives. Victory for England depends solely on such help and the speed and quantities in which it is delivered, according to best informed English opinion.

That we are directly affected by German domination of Europe was further demonstrated at the Pan American conference in Havana, when the assembling delegates heard the Nazi warning to the United States that America would have to conduct international trade "on Germany's terms" following ultimate victory in her conquest of Europe.

Americans may well indulge in a prayer of thanksgiving in the knowledge that the Havana conference proceeded to a highly satisfactory conclusion with an unexpected minimum of discord and misunderstanding among representatives of the American Democracies.

Events in Europe, events in South America, and even events at home prove week by week that it really is later than we think. But once that situation is faced squarely and honestly by us in America it will not be TOO late as it has already proved for much of unfortunate Europe.

THE MOST IMPORTANT THING IN LIFE IS LIVING. THAT IS NOT AN ATTEMPT TO MAKE A STRIKING STATEMENT, BUT A SINCERE EFFORT TO PRESENT A FACT WHICH TOO OFTEN ESCAPES OUR ATTENTION. WE ARE SO CONCENTRATED UPON MAKING A LIVING, OR MAKING MONEY, OR MAKING A NAME FOR OURSELVES, THAT WE OFTEN FAIL TO MAKE A LIFE. GOD IS MORE CONCERNED ABOUT WHAT WE ARE THAN WHAT WE DO.

THESE ARE ONLY TWO WAYS—THE RIGHT WAY AND THE WRONG WAY. WE BUILD OUR LIFE EITHER ON THE TRUE FOUNDATION OR THE FALSE. THERE IS NO MIDDLE WAY, NO HALF-GOOD FOUNDATION. WE MUST CHOOSE, AND IT IS EITHER ONE OR THE OTHER.

1. Two Roads (Ps. 1).
Scripture is not at all concerned about mixing figures of speech, so long as the truth is graphically expressed and fully understood. Here it speaks of a man walking in the way, a tree planted by a river, the chaff of the threshing floor; and then returns to the figure of walking in the way. All of these present the same truth, for essentially the idea is that of the two ways in which men walk.

1. Choosing the Way (vv. 1, 4, 6).
Even the choice of his way of life marks a man as either blessed or wicked. Some seem to think that they can choose or just drift into the wrong way and still have hope that all will be well. Their choice, or their failure to choose, has put them in the one class or the other.

Making a choice is a vital and serious matter. Let us do it carefully. Walking in the counsel or philosophy of the wicked soon results in a man lingering in the way of sinners, and before he is aware of it he will find himself so at home, that he will sit among them and scoff.

2. Continuing in the Way (vv. 2-4).
The man who will permit the law of God to control every detail of life night and day will never go astray, but will prosper in everything he does. Observe that to prosper does not necessarily mean to have money, position or recognition in this world. It means to be a success in the thing which God has given one to do.

Much that this world calls prosperity is nothing but an empty show, while at the same time some lives which the world says have been wasted are prosperous in the sight of God because His will has been done.

3. At the End of the Way (vv. 5, 6).
Every road of life comes to an end. "It is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment" (Heb. 9:27). Ah yes—the judgment—what will it be in your life and in mine?

The wicked cannot stand in the presence of the divine Judge. All the bold front and boastful talk which went over so well before men, loses its flavor and the wicked man can only expect judgment. It is a dark and dreadful scene, but man need not go in the way which ends there, but may turn to God in faith and repentance.

II. Two Houses (Matt. 7:24-27).
Two men build houses evidently much alike, but we find that there is a great difference between them.

1. The Builders (vv. 24, 26).
"Wise" and "foolish" are the builders, and what made them so was their choice of a foundation. No matter how brilliant a man may seem to be in the learning of this world, if he rejects God's Word he is foolish and bound to suffer the loss of everything.

2. The Foundations (vv. 24, 26).
The foundation of life is really everything. Built on the sands of human philosophy or personal desire and in the rejection of God's will, man prepares only for disaster. But—and here is a glorious thought—the Son of God says that if a man will hear His sayings and build on them, no storm can destroy his building. Blessed assurance!

3. The Testing (vv. 25, 27).
The time of testing always comes. It may come early in life, or it may be delayed, but be certain that it will come. To the believer in Christ it is only that—a testing, to prove that his house will stand. But to the one who has rejected Christ the testing time brings dreadful destruction.

Shining in the Heart
God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.—II Corinthians 4:6.

There's the Danger
If men make their plan of service and then ask God to help them, they may, by that very assertion of self, quench the Holy Spirit.

Do You Know Texas?

MEMORABLE PASSAGE: "The Supreme Court is a sanctuary of the rights and liberties of the people."—Justice John H. Sharp.

Q. Was O'Henry discharged from his job in the General office by Gov. James S. Hogg?
A. No. O'Henry's service in the Land Office ended with a change of administrations of Land Commissioners of which the Governor had no part nor authority. Governor Hogg, by coincidence, was inducted into office the same day that O'Henry went out.

HISTORICAL: Bob Miller of the Hamilton County News contributes the following: "Hamilton county was organized in 1858. The name was bestowed upon the new county by the legislature for a man who had recently died after rendering patriotic services to the Republic of Texas without receiving political reward. During his lifetime of 71 years, James Hamilton, for that was his name, was a soldier, financier, statesman, and patriot, having served three terms as Governor of South Carolina. During the administration of President Mirabeau B. Lamar, he sold Republic of Texas bonds in France, Belgium, and the Netherlands. He was also instrumental in forming treaties with the British Empire. Hamilton drowned at sea when a ship in which he was returning to Texas collided with another on the foggy midnight of Nov. 15, 1857, off the coast of Galveston. It is said that he gave his life preserver to a woman for her child, clung to the wreckage until exhausted, and then sank into the water. Immediately after the county was organized in 1858, the eighty or eighty-five voters in the county elected officers as follows: Jim Rice, county Judge; Zeke Manning, sheriff; I. S. Standeferm, county clerk; and John A. Baugh, county surveyor.

ODDITY: Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, reports that there are two sales of School Lands on record to persons whose names are spelled with one letter of the alphabet. Both of them are "Mr. O." Sales were made in Brewster county of 681 acres to Miguel de la O, and 636 acres in the same county to Ramon de la O.

Q. What is the largest fish on exhibit in Texas?
A. A fossil fish, approximately 13 feet long, on exhibit in the Geology Division of the Texas Memorial Museum at Austin. Curator Carl Chelf states that this fossil fish is of the cretaceous period and was excavated near Celina in Collin county.

Q. Are there any fish hatcheries on the Colorado River?
A. Fish hatcheries have been constructed at Inks Dam in cooperation with the National Youth Administration. Fish found in the lakes formed by the four dams above Austin on the Colorado built by the Lower Colorado River Authority consist of perch, trout, bass, gaspergou, crappie, Rio Grande Beauty, and others. The State Game Fish and Oyster Commission and the United State Bureau of Fisheries are aiding in stocking these lakes plentifully.

THE ROAD TO SAFETY
Addressing recently the Graduate School of Banking conducted by the American Bankers Association at Rutgers University, Dr. Douglas Southall Freeman, distinguished American historian and editor, predicted an economic conflict between the United States and the totalitarian powers, rather than an actual conflict of arms.

"Millions of our Americans have been absurdly frightened over what they regard as imminent war and certain invasion," said Dr. Freeman. "It is futile perhaps to tell them that invasion continues highly improbable; but it is in order to tell them that the economic war of continents will begin as soon as the Germans can integrate their conquests."

"Ahead of us lies, perhaps, a period during which our public men will be tempted to be Gamelin's of our industrial war—to persist in optimism regardless of reality. We must be prepared to challenge them with facts and to call on them to present facts. If we have a heart to demand the truth of armament—in clear words for any man's understanding, then we may be sure that the mighty machine of our industry will be geared to full production.

"This is as true of finance as of armament. If American financiers who speak for the taxpayer, not for the tax spender, will develop a technique to show the average newspaper reader what armament and government are costing him, we shall escape much of the waste that usually inheres in war when the 'lid is off.'"

"America will survive—if her sons will cease to think of her as a Lady Bountiful and regard her as a mother for whom, from the love they bear her, they are willing to sacrifice. The road of individual self-discipline and denial is the road to America's safety, to her happiness, and to her world service."

Those eloquent words frame a philosophy perfectly fitted to the time we live in. Eliminate waste, minimize politics, stop wishful thinking—this is as necessary to defense as airplanes and cannon. Financially, no less than industrially, America is basically the most powerful of states, but it has been weakened by waste. And all our resources must be put to full service if we are to survive the revolution that today shakes the world.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Dean of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for August 4

THE TWO WAYS

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 1; Matthew 7:24-27.
GOLDEN TEXT—For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous; but the way of the ungodly shall perish.—Psalm 1:6.

The most important thing in life is living. That is not an attempt to make a striking statement, but a sincere effort to present a fact which too often escapes our attention. We are so concentrated upon making a living, or making money, or making a name for ourselves, that we often fail to make a life. God is more concerned about what we are than what we do.

There are only two ways—the right way and the wrong way. We build our life either on the true foundation or the false. There is no middle way, no half-good foundation. We must choose, and it is either one or the other.

1. Two Roads (Ps. 1).

Scripture is not at all concerned about mixing figures of speech, so long as the truth is graphically expressed and fully understood. Here it speaks of a man walking in the way, a tree planted by a river, the chaff of the threshing floor; and then returns to the figure of walking in the way. All of these present the same truth, for essentially the idea is that of the two ways in which men walk.

1. Choosing the Way (vv. 1, 4, 6).
Even the choice of his way of life marks a man as either blessed or wicked. Some seem to think that they can choose or just drift into the wrong way and still have hope that all will be well. Their choice, or their failure to choose, has put them in the one class or the other.

Making a choice is a vital and serious matter. Let us do it carefully. Walking in the counsel or philosophy of the wicked soon results in a man lingering in the way of sinners, and before he is aware of it he will find himself so at home, that he will sit among them and scoff.

2. Continuing in the Way (vv. 2-4).
The man who will permit the law of God to control every detail of life night and day will never go astray, but will prosper in everything he does. Observe that to prosper does not necessarily mean to have money, position or recognition in this world. It means to be a success in the thing which God has given one to do.

Much that this world calls prosperity is nothing but an empty show, while at the same time some lives which the world says have been wasted are prosperous in the sight of God because His will has been done.

3. At the End of the Way (vv. 5, 6).
Every road of life comes to an end. "It is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment" (Heb. 9:27). Ah yes—the judgment—what will it be in your life and in mine?

The wicked cannot stand in the presence of the divine Judge. All the bold front and boastful talk which went over so well before men, loses its flavor and the wicked man can only expect judgment. It is a dark and dreadful scene, but man need not go in the way which ends there, but may turn to God in faith and repentance.

II. Two Houses (Matt. 7:24-27).

Two men build houses evidently much alike, but we find that there is a great difference between them.

"Wise" and "foolish" are the builders, and what made them so was their choice of a foundation. No matter how brilliant a man may seem to be in the learning of this world, if he rejects God's Word he is foolish and bound to suffer the loss of everything.

San Saba

Lewis Colbaugh, of Menard, charged with forging and passing five $10.00 checks among San Saba business men on Monday, July 15, was arrested last Friday in Menard by Sheriff W. H. Doran and Deputy Huts Owen, who trailed him from here to Richland Springs, Brady, Eden, and on to his home in Menard.

Marion Crawford was killed Sunday afternoon when the car in which he was riding with his two small daughters, driven by his brother-in-law, crashed into a tree near Elm Grove in the northwest part of the county. He was able to get back into the car after the crash and while sitting in the back seat between his two small daughters, who were badly cut, he toppled over dead from a broken neck.

Breaking all established records, trucks and pick-ups from all sections of the state were in Richland Springs last week, hauling out an estimated 125,000 bushels of peach crop from Precinct No. 2. Out-of-state truckers are in the city daily from Colorado and New Mexico with long trucks and refrigerator cars.

A delightful surprise was in store for Mrs. W. Loflin Linn of San Saba, nee Arlena Eckert of Richland Springs, Wednesday afternoon of last week, when her sister-in-law, Mrs. Irene Gibson, invited her to accompany her on a business trip to Richland Springs, which was a ruse to carry her instead to a party in Mrs. Linn's honor, at the M. E. Church there. Mrs. Linn was a May bride.

Eighty-three ex-students attended the second annual homecoming of the West Texas Normal and Business College last Friday, July 19, at Gray Pond only three miles west of Cherokee where the old college building still stands.

Women of the Methodist Church are looking forward with happy anticipation to the meeting here of Zone 3, of the Llano District Missionary organization, Tuesday.

A carload of asphalt has been ordered for the repair and improvement of the city's paved street, according to word received Tuesday from Ralph Whittington, City Secretary.

An order was placed this week with a representative of a Kansas City firm for uniforms for members of the San Saba High School Band, according to word yesterday from Supt. W. M. Campbell. Fifty regular uniforms were ordered, plus a snappy drum major's outfit.—Star.

VARNISH FOR POISON IVY
Mrs. Estelle Martin got tangled up with poison ivy on her vacation, found a remedy she wishes to share with other vacationists. Just paint the irritated skin with collodion or varnish. She guarantees the infection will not spread, but will clear up immediately.—Dallas News.

Of the University of Texas more than 500 faculty members, 90 per cent are church members, a survey shows.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Lift Up Your Hearts

(Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

Imagine the odds against the ragged, unarmed, untrained armies of Washington, whose men enlisted only for a term of weeks, all know how strangely that war ended, with victory for the side against which the odds seemed incredibly heavy.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

IT IS a great consolation, in these trying times, to realize that according to all historical precedents, two and two do not make four.

For no matter what mathematicians can do with chalk and a blackboard, the events that touch our human lives, and are controlled by our faulty and irrational human actions, almost always seem to come out in an unexpected way. The student of every great crisis in world affairs is completely puzzled by the apparent independence of results from their causes.

Take our beginnings, in 1775. Imagine the odds against the ragged, unarmed, untrained armies of Washington, whose men enlisted only for a term of weeks, and when that term was up walked quietly off to their farms against Washington's congress was against him, the persons of the army was constantly changing, and, with Canada as a base, the great armies of England, supplemented by Prussian mercenaries, French settlers, and thousands of Indians, were prepared for a long attack.

Victorious Against Great Odds. We all know how strangely that war ended, with victory for the side against which the odds seemed incredibly heavy.

Agincourt, Waterloo, Sedan, the British conquest of India are all similar. In the last mentioned war, less than a hundred years ago, the case was that the Sepoy troops rebelled, in numbers something better than a thousand to one. There were few British troops in India, most of that army was composed of East Indians, offered by British. So the simple job of the rebels was merely to shoot the officers, wipe out the few missionaries and women and children, and possess their own land once more.

We all know how that came out, too. The passionate courage of a Roberts, a Campbell, a Havelock, overcame infinite superiority in numbers, and the rebellion was suppressed.

Lincoln's Predicament.

Then take Lincoln's situation, in 1864, actually within the memory of living men, for a child whose wondering eyes looked on at the Civil war would only be something more than 80 now.

The South was fighting the North, and with gallant success, at the moment. In Mexico, Austria and France had set up an emperor whose plan was to befriend the South, take all Central America under his protection, for Austria, and maintain a strong European hold upon the Americas.

Just at this moment, when our President was cruelly pressed for men and munitions, an unfortunate episode occurred which angered England, and threatened for awhile to involve the North in a war with the British. British troops were even dispatched to Canada before the affair was settled.

How many women, worrying themselves half-insane this hot summer morning over unexpressed and undefined terrors, remember that that was our situation 75 years ago? Suppose that were the case now; suppose hostile foreign troops were actually on American soil bombing our cities—then we MIGHT have something over which to lose sleep!

We Prefer Peace.

As it is, remember that no nation has a grievance against us, and that we are not going out of our way to injure any nation, or to impose unfair terms upon any nation, or to make an enemy of any nation. We are by national temper peaceable, absorbed in our own problems, and incapable of really understanding the nature of matters abroad. We don't maintain blockades against neighboring countries, nor oppress them, nor hold to mandatory powers that crushingly handicap them. All the nations of Europe HAVE been doing these things, snatching the spoils of war, profiting by the sufferings of sister nations, for more than 20 long years; or rather for more than 10 long centuries.

HAVE HOPE
"Don't let the foreign situation worry you," Kathleen Norris advises. She peers through the black clouds of war which hang over the world and finds that things are not as bad as they seem. Wars of conquest have been fought and nations conquered many times in the past. The world has always recovered before, and there is no reason to believe that it won't do so now.

To live in continual war with your neighbors is possible to any government. To live in continual peace is also possible. The Americas, by some fortunate combination of circumstances, prefer the latter course. It is nonsense to say that you have to fight if other persons fight, and they have some reason for fighting, and it is your job, in peace times, to discover that reason, and to find other ways of curing the situation than the wholesale slaughter of innocent boys. When a nation meets war with war it is tacitly admitting that might is right; a theory that we should have left behind us 2,000 years ago. A theory, in short, that we DID leave behind us, when a certain voice spoke on a certain mountain 2,000 years ago.

War Breeds on War.

Twenty years ago Germany was crushed to the complete satisfaction of all the war makers. She was split in two, her wealth, her colonies were shorn away, she never could rise again or fight again.

But somehow two and two didn't make four. War, instead of breeding peace, bred more war. The victorious nations, supposedly strong in policing and blockading and mandating and defense couldn't somehow watch that one central European state closely enough to see what she was doing, or police her sternly enough to stop her from what she actually did.

That was Germany's hour of darkness. She emerged still Germany and more nationalistic than ever. This hour is dark for France. But she has been conquered before; despite all that any enemy can do in her heart she will still be untouched, and within another turn of the tide she will be France again.

England Still England.

The Danes, the Saxons, the Romans, the Normans all conquered old England in turn. The Hanoverians and the Dutch came over to rule, with the Georges and William of Orange. But England isn't Danish nor Saxon nor Roman nor Norman nor Dutch; she's herself. England overpowered the Transvaal only 40 years ago, but anyone who visits it visits a strong Boer nation, still itself.

All the blackboards of the world, and all the chalk, and all the statisticians couldn't work out for us today what the world is going to be 20 years from today. Dictators fall, peoples rebel against despotism, the great flood of human reason, the human need of love and home and children and gardens will go on. That need exists in the hearts of gallant bewildered German boys fighting like tigers because they are told to fight; bewildered French lads who know neither why they fought nor why they stopped; English boys who only ask for home and a job and an occasional movie. They're all exactly alike, and when the war-makers are sated, and the dictators' hands lose their power, things will begin to slip back into their old places.

Mrs. J. J. Geeslin and son Wilbur returned home last week after several days vacation on the plains visiting relatives. Mrs. Geeslin had the misfortune of falling and getting crippled pretty bad while away visiting.

W. A. Knight and Andrew Anderson left last week for Arkansas on business.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Booker and Vance have been on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. Will Heath and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Heath and children attended church here last week.

K. L. Kendale and Edward Mikeal have been working on a tank for Martin McCasland.

Mr. and Mrs. John Welch attended church services Saturday night.

Morgan McNeil and family visited Mrs. Marion Hazeltine at Priddy Sunday.

Sunday was a very pleasant day for Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lawrence. All of their children, four daughters, were with them. They were Mrs. J. A. Rhoades of Cleburne, Mrs. W. W. Payne of Gatesville, Mrs. J. B. Vannatta of Temple, and Mrs. G. A. Boggett of Cisco. There were 20 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren, besides other relatives here. There were about 65 present. Everyone brought well-filled baskets and had a regular picnic dinner. Fried chicken, salads, pickles, cakes, pies, ice tea and everything to make a good dinner. They went to the creek to spend the day, and had a table built and nothing to worry about and everyone seemed to be having a good time. Those out-of-county people who attended were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cash and baby of Ranger, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lawson and children of Carlton, Mr. Goff of Gatesville, and Mr. and Mrs. Schofield and children of Coleman. Those of the community who visited with them awhile during the day were J. M. Petsick and family, Misses Kate and Laurie Petsick, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mikeal, Mrs. Starr, Cecil Whitson, and family, and Edker Mikeal and family. In the afternoon they passed the water melons around while some of the men played forty-two.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fickle and children of Gustine were Sunday visitors in the Raymond Booker home. Mr. Fickle and son attended church Sunday morning.

Little Rita Belle Henry of Goldthwaite spent Saturday night with Dorothy Gene Cline.

Our meeting closed Sunday morning. Bro. Hines was to begin a meeting in Comanche county Sunday night. Bro. Hines will preach here the fourth Saturday night and Sunday. Everyone remember the date and come.

Mrs. J. B. Howerton and children, Mrs. Henry Huckaby and Miss Myrtle and Eric Geeslin of Center City attended church here Friday night.

Edward Mikeal spent Saturday night with Edker Mikeal.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our thanks to each and everyone who helped in any way during the illness and passing of our mother. Also for the beautiful floral offerings. Mr. and Mrs. V. C. JACKSON FLOYD JACKSON.

Jellies To Make In July

By Katharine Fisher

Director, Good Housekeeping Institute

Here are recipes for some out-of-the-ordinary jellies and jams which we've tested thoroughly in our Institute kitchens and can promise you'll find them delicious. What's more, if you follow directions carefully, we can guarantee success, because in working with these recipes we've eliminated all guesswork.

Mint and Strawberry Jelly

(Tested by Good Housekeeping Institute)

Use Institute-approved measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.

2 qts. ripe strawberries 1 bottle liquid pectin
7 1/2 c. granulated sugar 1/2-1 1/2 tsp. mint extract

KATHARINE FISHER
Director of Good Housekeeping Institute

Wash and stem berries. Crush thoroughly or put through food chopper using medium blade. Place in jelly cloth or bag, and squeeze out juice—(there should be 4 c. of juice). Mix sugar and juice together in large saucepan. Bring to a boil over high heat, and at once add pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1/2 min. Remove from heat and strain. Add extract according to desired flavor. Pour quickly into clean, freshly scalded jelly glasses up to within 1/2" of top. Cover at once with 1/2" of hot paraffin. Makes about 11 6-oz. glasses.

Pear and Plum Jam

(Tested by Good Housekeeping Institute)

Use Institute-approved measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.

2 lbs. ripe pears 1/2 c. cold water
1 1/2 lbs. ripe plums 7 1/2 c. granulated sugar
1 bottle liquid pectin

Peel and core washed pears. Put through food chopper, using medium blade. Fit washed plums, cut in small pieces and crush thoroughly with spoon or potato masher. Add water to plums and simmer, covered, 5 min. Combine fruits (there should be 4 1/2 c.) and sugar in large kettle, mix well. Bring to a full rolling boil over high heat. Boil hard 1 min. Remove from heat and stir in pectin. Skim, and pour quickly into clean, freshly scalded jelly glasses up to within 1/2" of top. Cover at once with 1/2" of hot paraffin. Makes about 12 6-oz. glasses.

Quince Jelly

(Tested by Good Housekeeping Institute)

Use Institute-approved measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.

3 lbs. quinces 1 3/4-c. pkg. powdered pectin
3 1/2 c. hot water 5 c. granulated sugar

Wash, slice, core and put quinces through food chopper using fine blade. Combine hot water and ground quinces and simmer, covered, 15 min. Squeeze out juice through jelly cloth or bag, (there should be 3 1/2 c. juice). Place in large kettle, stir in pectin and bring to a full rolling boil, uncovered, stirring constantly. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Boil 5 min. Remove from heat, skim and pour into clean, freshly scalded jelly glasses up to within 1/2" of top. Cover at once with 1/2" of hot paraffin. Makes 8 6-oz. glasses.

Grape and Peach Jam

(Tested by Good Housekeeping Institute)

Use Institute-approved measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.

1 1/2 lbs. seedless grapes 1/2 c. lemon juice
1 1/2 lbs. ripe peaches 7 1/2 c. granulated sugar
1 bottle liquid pectin

Remove stems from washed grapes. Peel and pit peaches and put both through food chopper, using medium blade. Combine fruits, (there should be 4 1/2 c.), lemon juice and sugar, and mix well. Bring to a full rolling boil over high heat, uncovered. Boil hard for 1 min., while stirring constantly. Remove from heat, stir in pectin. Skim and pour quickly into clean, freshly scalded jelly glasses up to within 1/2" of top. Cover at once with 1/2" of hot paraffin. Makes about 12 6-oz. glasses.

Pineapple and Tomato Jam

(Tested by Good Housekeeping Institute)

Use Institute-approved measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.

1 small ripe pineapple 1/2 c. lemon juice
1 1/2 lbs. ripe tomatoes 7 1/2 c. granulated sugar
1 bottle liquid pectin

Pare and remove core from pineapple and put through food chopper using medium blade. Scald, peel and crush tomatoes well with a spoon or potato masher. Bring tomatoes to a boil and simmer, uncovered, 15 min. Combine fruits (there should be 3 c. fruit mixture), lemon juice and sugar, and mix well. Bring to a full rolling boil over high heat, uncovered. Boil hard 3 min., stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in pectin. Skim and pour quickly into clean, freshly scalded jelly glasses up to within 1/2" of top. Cover at once with 1/2" of hot paraffin. Makes about 8 6-oz. glasses.

SAN SABA COUNTY SURVEYOR EXPIRES

San Saba, July 27.—S. J. Bross, for 25 years San Saba County Surveyor, died of a heart attack at his home here Friday night.

Funeral services were held at his home Saturday. Burial was in the cemetery here. He was a native of Alabama, and is survived by his wife.—Houston Chronicle.

Texas led all States in mineral wealth last year with production worth $740,000,000. Texas oil, gas and natural gasoline represented over $540,000,000 of this.

Former Wacoan, Now Living in Egypt, Reports Britishers Gay, Sure of Winning War

Social life in Egypt, before Italy entered the present European conflict, reportedly was gay and filled with daily rounds of courtesies. The war which was being fought on territory across the Mediterranean did not cause a decline in the brilliant balls and receptions sponsored by British and American people in northern Africa.

In a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCall, two months ago from their daughter, Mrs. William Coleman, the former Miss Gary McCall, the writer described a ball which he had attended recently in Minia, Egypt, where she is making her home, honoring the British governor.

Cosmopolitan Affair.

"It was rather a cosmopolitan affair," she wrote, "as 15 nationalities were represented. No one spoke the same language, so we just laughed and smiled and danced with our partners as though we understood everything everyone else was saying."

Mrs. Coleman warned her parents not to worry concerning her safety if Alexandria is bombed. "We are quite safe in the interior," she wrote "as our home in Minia on the Nile is 250 miles below the coast."

As the war gets grimmer and grimmer, the former Wacoan said, the British people in their province still claim they will win. They are not at all surprised at the conflict, as they have expected it for over three years, she reported.

Mail Heavily Censored.

Mail coming from the war zone is so heavily censored that some times private letters are cast aside. Mrs. McCall explains this may be the reason she has not heard from her daughter in two months. "Gary mentioned that she might come home if things got too bad," Mrs. McCall told a reporter, "but I have not received any word from her. I heard over the radio that a ship had stopped in Naples enroute to the United States from the far east with 300 Americans on board. If Gary is coming home, I am sure she will be on that ship. It is due to dock in New York, I believe, some time next week." Mr. Coleman, who is employed with an English firm in Egypt, expressed the belief in a letter to Mrs. McCall that the Britishers were so positive of winning the war that they would not deem it necessary for Americans in Egypt to return to the United States.—Waco Tribune-Herald.

Mrs. Coleman is a niece of Miss Dera Humphries of Goldthwaite.

Ball Players Prolong Diamond Life With Spectacles

Many big league ball-players are prolonging their life on the diamond by resorting to glasses to improve their vision. The latest famous player to resort to spectacles is Mel Ott, Giant outfielder and third baseman. Early this spring he found that he was having a hard time to "keep his eye on the ball" and was advised to wear glasses, which he is now doing. He's been batting .333 behind his glasses.

Many other prominent ball-players wear spectacles. Dominic Di Maggio has needed glasses since early age. Chick Hafey, one of the great outfielders of all time, wore glasses during the last few seasons with the majors. Early this year Paul Warner, veteran outfielder of the Pirates, started to use spectacles.

Many pitchers, who certainly need a clear eye, use spectacles. Among the current pitchers wearing eye-glasses are Danny McFayden of Pittsburgh; Walter Beck of the Phillies, Bill Dietrich of the White Sox and Paul (Dizzy) Trout of the Tigers.

One of the best-known leaguers to wear spectacles is George (Specs) Torporcer, who helped the Cardinals to the 1926 pennant. He is now manager of the Albany team in the Eastern league.

One of the features electric range owners prize most highly is cleanliness—the utter absence of soot, smoke, fumes and flame. Utensils stay bright and shiny after months of cooking. Walls and curtains remain clean and fresh. The range itself stays sparkling white. And that's only one of the many advantages that electric cooking has over old-fashioned, flame-type cooking. It's faster, cooler, safer, more convenient, more healthful, more accurate and a greater time-saver. Come in today, see the 1940 electric ranges and get the facts about the low cost of electric cooking.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

© DREW PEARSON & ROBERT ALLEN

The first man Stimson asked to help him in Washington was a Democrat, Benedict Crowell, now president of the Central National bank of Cleveland and formerly assistant secretary of war under Woodrow Wilson. He is also a close friend of Roosevelt's, who was then assistant secretary of the navy. Crowell got to know Stimson when the war department was under bitter Republican attack in 1920, and Stimson, a Republican and an ex-secretary of war, defended him.

So this time Stimson asked Crowell to help him, by going to Washington and making a quiet survey of the situation inside the war department. Stimson had not yet been confirmed by the senate and could not make the survey himself. But he wanted to know all the facts in advance in order to waste no time once he took the oath of office. Crowell made the survey and reported that the production of new war weapons and material was progressing most satisfactorily. However, he found the war department rent with feuds and the personnel situation badly in need of reorganization.

This is one of the first jobs Stimson is tackling. There will be an important shakeup in high rank army officers.

NEW NAVAL BOSS

Col. Frank Knox, new Republican secretary of the navy, already has been sized up by the admirals. They describe their new boss this way: "Hard-boiled and seems to know his stuff."

Naval officers frankly admit, however, that they don't like Knox—which is a good omen. For the admirals never like a secretary of the navy who really runs the show. And in the navy today they certainly need a two-fisted secretary.

Note—It is significant that Knox is clearing all naval changes through Roosevelt. The President still keeps the navy as his governmental pet.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Ex-Senator George McGill of Kansas, lame-ducked in the 1938 G. O. P. cleanup, is hot after the Land Bank commission which will become vacant August 1, when incumbent Roy Green leaves to become president of the University of Colorado. McGill has the backing of American Farm bureau moguls who have bucked the administration on land bank policies—which won't help McGill's chances.

Professor Praises Conservation Law

Denton. — Praising the Soil Conservation District law as one of the outstanding pieces of conservation legislation enacted so far by Congress, Dr. Jack Johnson, head of the Teachers College economics staff, told members of the class in conservation at the Teachers College that every American school teacher should be familiar with the law so that he might explain it to his home community.

Asserting that there is no argument about the general principles of conservation and its application to such things as the nation's topsoil, water and wildlife, the speaker said that in these applications the primary thing needed is education.

However, where the element to be conserved is already in the control of vested interests which are as complicated as oil, gas, sulphur, and even public health, the conservationist runs into difficulties, Johnson declared. In the case of oil, gas, and sulphur, about the only remedy at this late day, he continued, is a heavy severance tax as they are taken out of the ground.

Such a tax could be used in part to set up an endowment fund that would carry on education and other public services in the future after these natural resources have been depleted, Johnson stated.

In regard to public health, the speaker warned that unless those in charge of that field provide a means so that low-income classes can secure public health services, the socially minded public "is not going to stand by and see 30 to 40 per cent of the people deteriorate because they are unable to pay for adequate medical attention."

The speaker declared that education was "socialized" 50 years ago when for all practical purposes it was turned over to the state and that he could see little difference between the "socialization of education and the socialization of medicine."

COLLEGIATE SCULPTOR'S "STUDENT"

The figure, which is approximately eight feet tall with its base, is one of five statues representing phases of student life which will be made by student sculptors under the supervision of Louis J. Hoover of the NTSTC art department and will be placed in the circular court of Chilton Hall, men's dormitory on the campus.

The NTSTC sculpture project is unique on southwestern college campuses and is believed to be the first of its kind ever undertaken by college students in the state, according to Dr. Cora Starford, head of the NTSTC art department.

Cook did all the work on the big clay model from which the 33-piece plaster mold for the final figure was made and spent two and one-half weeks polishing the completed figure of cream colored cast marble. Twelve formulas were tried before the final mixture of white cement and Texas marble chips was chosen for the sculpture piece.

The young artist, recognized for his painting throughout the Southwest, produced his first piece of sculpture in the designing and execution of his "Student."

Historians Recall Runaway Scrape

Austin.—In the University of Texas library are graphic accounts of a little-known chapter in Texas history—the State's own small scale version of the refugee horror now sweeping Europe.

Historians refer to it as the "Runaway Scrape," a pell-mell flight of Texas settlers that began in early March, 1836, with the Alamo's fall, and didn't stop until Houston's retreating army—barely a day's march behind the refugees—turned and defeated Santa Anna at San Jacinto in late April.

Most graphic account, Texas Collection librarians agree, is in the memoirs of Mrs. Dilue Harris, member of a pioneering Texas family. Then 11 years old, she recalled that her family hid their furniture in a hollow near their home, got their movable things into a cart and then set out for the San Jacinto river, driving oxen with them.

"On the west bank of the flooding river, there were five thousand refugees gathered—all trying to cross first," she wrote. It was three days before her party got to the far shore and buried on.

"Our hardships began at the Trinity," she continued, for there it was a four-day struggle against the river and the others trying to get across it, and in addition measles, sore eyes, whooping cough and every disease that man, woman or child is heir to, broke out among us."

Mrs. Harris's little sister fell ill, and her mother was weak. The wagons had to be taken apart and floated across the river, "ten miles wide at the mouth."

Out of the flooded swamplands, the family stopped at the town of Liberty to rest. There the sister died. The mother got no better.

Again the family fled eastward. A few miles out of Liberty, however, a courier overtook them with the news of the Texan victory at San Jacinto, which made it possible for them to return to their homes.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Snake Brought Angler Fish.

A sportsman whose veracity is above reproach, but who is publicly shy, recently related an odd experience to the Game Department. While fishing in the Colorado River he saw a water snake swimming toward a sandbar upon which the angler was standing. The snake had a 12-inch catfish in its mouth. Upon reaching the sandbar, the snake when only three feet away from the fisherman, apparently became alarmed, dropped the fish at the sportsman's feet and darted back into the water. The angler dropped the catfish into his creel.

How Many Texans Fish? The question of how many people fish in Texas lakes and streams has never been known due to the unusual fishing license law in effect. Only persons using artificial lures are required to have a license. However, the Game Department is now taking a census which probably will determine the approximate number of anglers in the Lone Star State.

In addition to that information, the Department hopes to determine the kind of fish favored by Texans. At this time, bass, crappie and catfish, in the order named, are well out in front.

Fox, Quail Hunters Merge. Texas fox and quail hunters have almost always been at odds so that the announcement to the State Game Department that an organization has been formed in Henderson county which includes sportsmen from both groups is really headline news. The new group, the Henderson County Hunters Association, with Bryan Wofford of Athens its president, has as its aim the uniting of the interest of quail and fox hunters in that county.

Reasons Are Lacking. Pop Boone in Fort Worth Press: "Agitation for a longer and complete closed season on fish in Texas seems to be growing constantly. I have been campaigning for that three years. I can put up a zillion arguments for a closed season on fishing and as yet no opponent has arisen to offer me one argument against a longer closed season on all fishing.

Farm Problem

One of the big reasons for America's farm problem is the decline in the foreign market for agricultural products.

Prior to the World War, the United States was a debtor nation, and paid her debts by selling her agricultural products to her creditors.

After the war, America changed to a creditor nation. Up to 1929 at least part of the foreign market was held by making loans to other nations. When the loans were stopped, the farm export market fell off sharply.

War measures, the tendency of other nations to become more self-sufficient, and trade barriers in retaliation to America's tariff system aggravated the system.

France guaranteed her farmers a dollar a bushel for wheat; Italy raised the ante to $1.50 a bushel; other nations followed suit.

Fair Queen Will Have Hollywood Picture Tryout

Dallas, July 25.—The Queen of Queens who will be selected at the Coronation Ceremony and Pageant which will be held on opening day of the 1940 State Fair of Texas, Saturday, October 5, will be given a trip to Hollywood and a screen test, it was announced here by the Pageant Committee, of which R. J. O'Donnell is chairman and Alphonso Ragland, Jr., is vice-chairman.

Every queen selected in Texas during the year will be invited to participate in the Queen's Pageant. A competent jury of artists will select one of the visiting queens as the Queen of Queens. More than fifty visiting queens were present at the coronation ceremonies in 1939.

Miss Ruth Evelyn Foote of Abilene was crowned Queen of Queens at the 1939 celebration and was given a M-G-M screen test. While in Hollywood, Miss Foote was entertained by Hollywood royalty, among them being Clark Gable, Edward Arnold, Miss June Pringle and countless others.

The theme of the Queens' Pageant at the State Fair will be patriotic. It will also be allegorical, according to Hal C. Worth, widely known pageant director and designer. More than 2,500 school children, dancing pupils, R. O. T. C. students and others will take part in the Queens' Pageant.

No Excuse for Failure

In times such as these, fire waste is a national calamity.

Every fire, great or small, represents economic loss. It has no mitigating circumstances. Materials are destroyed. Wealth is destroyed. Production is stopped. Energy and time are consumed.

Today we are embarking on the greatest military expansion program in our peace-time history. The successful and swift fulfillment of that program means that all our resources, all our energies, must be given to it without stint. We lack essential materials, and in many industries we lack skilled labor. The drain that fire makes upon the nation is certainly inimical to the defense program.

Fortunately, fire is not a thing we must take for granted, on the theory that little or nothing can be done about it. Fire is a luxury. There are unpreventable fires—but they constitute an extremely small part of the total. The great majority of fires are the consequence of carelessness, ignorance, slothfulness. The human elements is to blame. Some one takes a chance, someone does not think, someone is lazy—and fire strikes. If we are lucky, damage is slight. If we are unlucky, a ghastly toll of death and property destruction follows.

At this time we should regard fire prevention as a factor of national defense—a factor that can make the completion of the arms program more sure and swift. And the cause of fire prevention needs all of us as volunteers in a great anti-fire army. It is an easy matter to learn the principal causes of fire, and how they may be eliminated. And there can be no excuse for any man's failure to do that—INR.

Ridge

By Mrs. Herman Boyd

There was a large crowd out at church Sunday night. Bro. Renfro did the preaching.

Our singing school has been well attended and will close Friday night. There is to be a big singing that night and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Atkinson of Neal spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Freeman.

There were quite a few from here who went to Goldthwaite Saturday night to hear the election returns.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Calder of Comanche visited Sunday afternoon with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Myles Calder and also attended church Sunday night.

The Shelton family had their reunion Sunday at Regency. They reported a wonderful time. They were glad to have with them Granny Smith of San Saba, who is 91 years of age. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lon Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shelton and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Shaw and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snyder and boys of Richland Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Smith and Mrs. Allie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Smith, all of San Saba, and Russell Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Boyd and girls, Mrs. J. E. Cummings and Sy, D. L. and Liva Mae Cummings, Mrs. G. W. Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Boatwright and Chas. all of Ridge, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cummings of Zephyr.

The Kelso family enjoyed their family reunion Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey visited relatives at Lockett Sunday and attended church.

Immigration in Texas from foreign countries has contributed more to Texas population than to that of any other Southern state. With the exception of Mexico, Germany and Austria have more immigrants to Texas than any other nation.

Turn Sweet Potatoes Into Explosives

Denton.—The humble Texas sweet potato could become a vital source of cellulose for manufacture of bombs, hand grenades, and other high explosives in case of American participation in war, Gilbert Wilson, instructor in chemistry at the North Texas State Teachers College, said in a conversation lecture delivered recently at the college.

Wilson, who has pioneered in chemurgic research on dehydration of the sweet potato for starch manufacture, said that yams were already being used in both Germany and Japan for the manufacture of nitro-starch or shattering explosive such as hand grenades.

Samples of both types of explosives manufactured by Wilson from sweet potato starch in the chemurgic laboratories of the college were demonstrated during the lecture.

The importance of the starch industry in war-time production of explosives is shown by the fact that Germany expanded her starch manufacture and was shipping millions of pounds of starch to the United States annually at the outbreak of the present world war in order that she might use the starch industry in munitions manufacture when war came, Wilson said.
