

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

SEVEN

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1941

NUMBER TWENTY-EIGHT

Arrangements Are Ready For FFA Livestock Show

Annual 4-H and FFA livestock show will be held at Goldthwaite, February 25. Arrangements are being prepared and all exhibits in the show will be ready for the show at Star on Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday evening.

Lions Club Has Distinguished Visitors

At the regular meeting of the Goldthwaite Lions Club Tuesday evening, a large attendance was present and much enthusiasm was seen. A number of guests were present and several interesting talks were made. The highlight of the evening was the talk made by Ray D. Morgan, area engineer of the Federal Works Progress Act from the main office at Waco. His talk was explanatory as to how different public improvement projects may be arranged that cities and counties like Goldthwaite and Mills county could receive a vast amount of improvement at little or hardly any cash outlay to the local governments.

In his talk he mentioned a number of projects now under construction over Central Texas that was financed to the extent of 60 to 80 percent by WPA funds. Among those he mentioned the school building at Star, sewerage system at Gatesville, sewerage and water works at Dawson, new court house at Comanche, sewerage and water works improvement at Corsicana, school building at Marlin, school building and athletic field at Wortham, and many other public improvements that are necessities to all progressive and growing communities and at the same time affording employment to a vast number of unemployed. Mr. Morgan's talk was followed by a short address by John C. Stille, director of operations of WPA work with headquarters at Waco. Among other visitors present were Sterling Edwards, a new member of the mechanical department of the Goldthwaite Eagle and Rev. E. E. Dawson, pastor of the First Baptist church, the latter making a short but interesting talk, and Prof. Masterson, superintendent of public schools at Wortham, a special guest of Lion President, A. H. Smith, superintendent of the local schools.

Work On To School

The sidewalks from the school building to the next fall, said the superintendent Tillman of the Works Progress Administration. The work is nothing to get started when labor is plentiful. We are in detail work and the sidewalks have been started. The actual construction will start this early part of summer.

Fairman Resident of Bank

Mr. Fairman, president of the Board of the Trent State Bank, was elected to fill the term of her late husband. The changes were made by the personnel of the bank.

City Council Considering Better Water System

The city of Goldthwaite is now confronted with a question that gives promise of the greatest problem in recent years and that is how to have a more abundant water supply during the summer months. The wide-awake members of the city council realizing this and started some time ago making plans to increase the water supply by the time it may be needed.

In addition to finding some reasonable solution for getting water, was another problem confronting the commission and that was the matter of raising sufficient funds to care for the cost of securing the water supply. We have been informed that the matter of raising funds will be easily cared for through a possible WPA project covering extending some needed sewer lines, making additions to the water lines, constructing a new and larger water reservoir and possibly sinking some new wells, without the necessity of a bond issue or an increase in the present tax rate.

During the recent visit here of Mr. Ray D. Morgan, area engineer of the Waco office of the WPA, it was his opinion that such a program could be worked out and he promised us further information on the matter soon.

Thousands March In Crusade Against Whiskey At Austin

Youth crusading against liquor brought an estimated 3,000 young people to Austin Monday by bus, private automobile and train.

The young folks mostly students from various Texas colleges visited the state capitol, displayed their banners in House and Senate galleries and applauded selected speakers who addressed the legislators.

Leaving the state capitol they paraded four abreast on Congress avenue headed by the Cow-boy band of Hardin-Simmons University. Countermarching to Sixth street they held a singing service there.

Banners borne by the boys and girls included a large white sign reading: "Less beer—more biscuits."

Other signs read: "Take alcohol out of eating places." "Whiskey blights youth." "Liquor has no defense."

Mills County Teachers Association To Meet, March 3rd

The Mills County Teachers Association will hold its second meeting of the year Monday evening, March 3rd, at seven-thirty in the basement of the First Methodist church in Goldthwaite.

There will be a banquet in connection with the meeting. Dr. George C. Hester of Southwestern University, who is an eminent authority on taxation and governmental economies, has been secured as principal speaker. He will speak upon the subject, "The Path Ahead For Democratic Government."

It is hoped that all the teachers of the county will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend this meeting. Any citizen who is interested in the subject to be discussed is cordially invited.

Supt. George W. White of Friddy is president of the organization and Supt. A. H. Smith of the local schools is in charge of local arrangements.

Immediately following the banquet and program a short business session will be held involving all teachers in the county who are members of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Symbols of American Defense

Tractors and tanks symbolize modern American defense. Farmers operating the machinery at top are carving out terraces which defend their soil from erosion. Soldiers operating the U. S. army tank in lower picture are practicing maneuvers which strengthen the nation's armed defense. American farmers, carrying on soil protection work under the AAA Farm Program, last year built more than 67,000 miles of terraces, enough to reach more than two and a half times around the world.

Rig Is Being Moved To The Three Widows Oil Co. Location

Artillery Brigade Units Move To Firing Range

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 20.—Advance units of the 61st Artillery Brigade of the 36th Division are on the artillery firing range in Mills County, preparing for the movement of the main body of the brigade later in the week. Firing of 75 mm. guns and 155 mm. howitzers probably will begin Wednesday.

Maj. Gen. Claude V. Birkhead, commander of the 36th Division, Monday announced the promotion of Second Lieut. Thomas E. Wood, Bonham, 132nd Field Artillery, to first lieutenant.

A section of two 37 mm. anti-tank guns from the Second Division, Fort Sam Houston, has been set up at Camp Bowie for a four-day demonstration. Classes for members of the various anti-tank units of the 36th Division will be conducted by the Second Division soldiers.

Texas Truckers Pay Mills Co. $15,717.80 In Taxes

AUSTIN.—The Texas trucking industry last year paid taxes to Mills county amounting to $15,717.80, Lynn B. Shaw, general manager of the Texas Motor Transportation Association, reported today.

Shaw said the amount represented $10,299.80 for highway construction and maintenance, and $5,418.00 for the public schools of Mills county. For each school in the state, the truckers paid $2.80, an increase of 31 cents over the previous years. An amount equal to the school fund was distributed to counties to absorb bonds for road building purposes.

For highway and school purposes alone, the Texas trucking industry last year paid taxes in excess of fourteen million dollars.

BUSINESS IMPROVING

Rising payrolls and an increasing farm cash income will soon drive Texas business to an all-time peak, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Mills County Livestock Association Will Hold Annual Show Saturday

Melba Theatre To Have New Home

The Melba theatre building will be practically rebuilt into a modern theatre, several thousand dollars to be spent in giving Goldthwaite the finest moving picture to be found anywhere in this part of West Texas, according to Miss Annie Coleman, manager of the local theatre in a statement to the Eagle Wednesday.

The interior of the building will be completely rebuilt with all needed material to improve the sound effect and the entrance and front to be remodelled to meet the requirements of a modern show of today. The contract has been let to the Barnes & McCullough Lumber Company and work is expected to start within a week.

Municipal Light Co. Signs Up 338 New Customers for Service

City Secretary F. P. Bowman reports that the committee in charge of soliciting signers on application blanks for service from the Municipal Light and Power Company have already reached a total 338.

The work of the engineers staking out the city for erection of poles and other equipment is about finished. Just when actual work will start has not been announced, but it is thought that work will start sometime during the month of March, providing nothing unforeseen happens to interfere.

Women's Missionary Society to Meet in Mullin, Feb. 24

Morning Program
9:30 Song
Devotional—Mrs. Dorband
Special Music—Mrs. R. V. Littlepage.
10:00 Class—"The Stranger Within Our Gates", teacher, Mrs. W. D. Howell. State W. M. U. Recording Secretary.
11:00 Methods Hour—Mrs. Chas. Sivells, district W. M. U. president.

12:00 Noon—Lunch served by hostess W. M. S.
Afternoon Program
12:45 Miscellaneous business, Mrs. Robert Littlepage.
1:00 Class—"The Stranger Within Our Gates", Mrs. W. D. Howell.
2:00 Mission Study Conference Leader, Mrs. W. G. Denman, district Mission Study Chairman.
2:30 Teaching Missions to primaries and juniors, a demonstration—Mrs. W. D. Howell.
3:15 Dismissal.
Place: Mullin Baptist Church, February 24th.

Wool Prices Boosted

Indications are that the wool carry over will be very small for the new season beginning April 1. Comparing prices with 1940, the new year 1941 is leading in price by several cents per pound. The Agriculture Department predicts better prices and greater demands, yet a great amount of wool is imported each year. Speaking of wool statistics, state the average man buys but one wool suit in three years, in this nation the most progressive of all nations more suits could be used.

NEW TEACHER

Miss Martha Jean Masterson, of Wortham, Texas, has been elected to fill the vacancy in high school. Prof. Ward Lowe has been made director of the band to succeed Prof. Don Terry, resigned and Miss Masterson takes the place of Mr. Lowe.

Pens and other arrangements are being completed on the vacant lot behind Steen's Hardware Store for Livestock Raisers Show to be held there Saturday, February 22, says County Agent Sam Rosenberg. M. L. Jernigan, general superintendent of the show, reports a great interest from many livestock raisers who plan to exhibit animals. All exhibitors are requested to have animals on the grounds by 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning. All animals, whether graded or registered, and in ordinary range condition, are eligible for entry in the show. Judges have been secured and judging will begin promptly at 10:00 o'clock. The general public is invited to attend the show. This show is sponsored by the Mills County Livestock Association and the Mills County Livestock Improvement Committee of the County Land Use Planning Committee for its value to the improvement of Mills County livestock.

Boy Scouts To Gather Magazines For Soldiers

In a letter to L. B. Porter as chairman of the home service work of the Mills County Chapter of the American Red Cross, from Field Director G. W. McCoy, a plea has been made for material to be used for entertainment purposes of the soldiers now located in the various camps. The letter is as follows: "We have received a number of requests from Commanding Officers of various organizations at Camp Bowie for games and magazines to be distributed in the Station Hospital, recreation buildings, and also in the Post Prison."

"Possibly your Chapter or your Junior Red Cross would like to supply some of these items for the use of the soldiers at Camp Bowie. Games such as dominoes, checkers, Chinese checkers, book and magazines and the like, will be much appreciated. If you have any old playing cards, we know they will be highly acceptable. "May we suggest that if your Chapter should like to send us articles of this nature, that some way be devised to collect old magazines, games and cards from the people of your Chapter, pack them in one container, if possible, and ship to Field Director, American Red Cross, Camp Bowie, Texas.

"This service will be appreciated not only by the officers and men at Camp Bowie, but by this office as well. Will you please notify us if you can supply us with any of the above-named articles? Thank you."

We have been advised that anyone having such material may call Telephone number 280 and someone will gladly call for anything that may be donated to this worthy cause.

Basketball Tournament

The Texas Amateur Athletic Federation will hold a district basketball tournament in Waco Friday, February 28 and Saturday, March 1. The Tournament will be to determine the T.A.A.F. District 10 representative to the State Meet to be held in Port Arthur, Texas, March 14 and 15. District 10 is composed of the following fourteen counties; Bell, Coryell, Falls, McLennan, Limestone, Freestone, Navarro, Hill, Bosque, Hamilton, Lampasas, Mills, Robertson, and Leon. All independent teams within these counties are invited to compete in the district tournament.

SPECIAL OFFER

The special benefit of newcomers to Goldthwaite who are not subscribing to the GOLD-EAGLE, we will send

By Mail for 15c per Month

PHONE, MAIL OR BRING US YOUR ORDER

Limited to Residents of Mills County

Regency—

Two years have passed since I sent in the news from Regency, yet I still enjoy the write-ups from more faithful correspondents.

There has been many changes in general since I last wrote. Better homes have been built, more improved airplanes flying thru the air, new and better automobiles have taken the place of the old model "T" and the majority of the mules and horses exchanged for tractors.

Wars and rumors of war too, have changed our peaceful minds to some extent, though we cannot enjoy the material things of life as in days gone by. At present prosperity seemingly is in our midst and we hope to stay. All kinds of livestock at high peak prices, promising crop year ahead and unemployed of the past.

Mother earth filled with sufficient moisture to burst forth the approaching spring-time arrayed with all its beauty and the writer into rhyme.

What makes a more lovelier scene than fat Hereford cattle grazing on the meadows green. Wild flowers peeping here and there and our pretty birds singing everywhere at last the cloud capped skies have vanished and farming well underway.

Early grain looks good and some still sowing Lem Egger who sowed for the public thru the fall and winter, has sown for Mrs. Effie Egger of late.

The National Defense that brought on a rush at Camp Bowie, with encouraging prices has taken from our community all classes of man labor, from the farmers to teachers and preachers.

A few Sundays past with our pulpits vacant and congregations growing smaller reminded me of prophecy being told. When the time may come when birds of the air may build nests and bring forth their young in our church houses without being molested. Happy now to state that since the rush is over we are having regular services again.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Egger have moved into their pretty new home, a six room native stone construction with conveniences built throughout.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Holland and baby visited relatives in this locality recently.

Charles and Wayne Roberts sold and delivered a load of calves in Brownwood last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Steel of Brownwood called to see Mrs. N. H. Rowlett and Mrs. Merie Danner last week end. Mrs. Rowlett and daughter accompanied them home for a few days visit and also to consult a doctor for Mrs. Danner who is not doing so well.

Butch Rowlett, one of Regency most successful farmer and stockmen is erecting a goat and sheep proof fence around his river valley farm.

Charles and Wayne Roberts had business at Goldthwaite and San Saba, Tuesday and Wednesday attended the Hereford Sale at Brownwood.

Earl Egger and family of Stanton have moved back to Mills county, near Caradan. Their many friends and relatives here gladly welcome them home again.

Glad to report Damon Windell and the young son of Ernest Wood improving at Medical Arts Hospital, but sorry Mr. Woods' father, Wilbur Woods who is at Tyler with his daughter is still very low of pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyt Roberts and family were to see Mrs. Roberts mother, Mrs. Mae Mack of Brownwood last Sunday. Monday Mr. Roberts attended a cattle sale in Brownwood.

Wood Roberts and Andy Rowlett spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts last Friday.

Erma Egger visited home folks last week-end.

Floyd Lee spent Wednesday night with Preston Calder.

Mrs. Earl Gilbert is under treatment of Dr. Scott of Brownwood and is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Todd of Lockney were Wednesday guests in the Edgar Jones home.

Those who had to vacate near Ridge have been seeking other places of abode the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Flat Hollis moved to Albert Reids rent house, the Rasco family to Henry Egger's ranch and abiding places of others unknown.

How easily could these conflicts that have caused preparedness to go up almost over night be ended if every human of the universe loved, obeyed God instead of man.

Seen from Regency on the streets of Goldthwaite Monday were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lee; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reid; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Edgington; Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Jones; L. D. Egger and J. D. Egger.

R. D. Egger of San Antonio spent the past week visiting relatives at Regency. R. D. is another home boy making good. He joined the Army less than six months ago and has earned the title of Corporal.

Mrs. Walter Fry of Elkins visited Friday with her father, Ben Egger. They called on Mrs. S. M. Jones in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Edgington had as week end guests their son, and wife of Santa Anna.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Egger visited last Sunday with their son, Earl and family near Caradan.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Jones were: Mr. and Mrs. George Whitley and Alfred Estep of Neal.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jones and son visited with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Shaw Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Ben Egger was shopping in Brownwood Friday.

Star—

By Mrs. Dora Goode

This is another Sunday night—it has been a fair day—and no rain has fallen during the past week. Fields and gardens are drying out and ploughing and planting will soon be the order of the day, though we have not heard any wild geese going north yet. Some bluebirds are still here—don't think they ever got off down south.

Some six or seven rooms are now occupied in the new school building—and the youngsters are quite proud of the new warmth, beauty and comfort of the new rooms. The building is looking real classy—I mean by that, that it is something the community is real proud of. The four extra rooms are going up quite rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Teague spent the week-end with their children, James Teague and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Cook of Coahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shelton returned to their home in Daisetta, Sunday after a short visit here with relatives. They came to bring home Mrs. Ed Hamilton who has been visiting in Daisetta for several weeks. Bro. J. "Bunny" Cook was in Star Sunday afternoon but returned to Pleasant Grove for night services.

Mrs. Florence Teague is spending a few days with her children in Brownwood and Bangs.

The Fred Langford family were week-end visitors in the Locker community. They were accompanied by Mrs. Myrtle Roe and daughter, Miss E. A. Belle, who returned home after a fortnight's visit here to Star.

I notice that the Sam Anderson family has moved to the Ebony community. Goodness, I didn't know anything about it until it was too late to mention it. We're sorry to lose them, and wish for them: all the good luck in the world.

Al Soules, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Soules, was home over the week-end from camp Bowie at Brownwood, for a visit with home folks.

Dudley Henry was a visitor in the Locker community Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. John Waddell who have been quite ill are reported to be improving at this writing. They were among the first couples to be married at Star in the early days, and we hope they will soon be well and be with us many days yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Boots Boykin are now entertaining a brand new young lady who arrived the early part of last week.

The ground hog saw his shadow on the recent shadow day. But hu u-h, that's nothing. We have had nice weather ever since. That's not saying he does not know what he's about—but so far, he just as well stayed out and "et" green grass a while.

Charles Baker has returned home from a visit with his sister, Mrs. Mae Fuller, in Brownwood.

Mrs. Paul Horton and Mr. Horton, were able to be at Sunday school Sunday after several Sunday's absence, battling the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wall are the latest customers to be added to the R.E.A. lines.

I just heard the other side of the house say "It's nearly eleven o'clock"—and you know what that means. Good-bye.

Chevrolet Sales Far Ahead Of Last Year

Detroit. — During the second 10-day period in January, Chevrolet dealers bolstered the record sales report submitted in the previous 10-day period by establishing new sales marks in company history, both for the period and for the first 20 days of the month. It was announced here by W. E. Holler, general sales manager.

In the period, dealers sold at retail a total of 30,479 new passenger and commercial cars, a gain of 20.3 per cent over the comparable period last year and an increase of 6.7 per cent over the preceding 10 days this year. Combined sales during the 20 days totalled 58,978, a 24.4 per cent advance over the same period in 1940.

Used car sales in the 10-day period were 47,493 an increase of 22.7 per cent over the same period last year and a gain of 16.9 per cent over the preceding 10 days this year. The 20-day report shows used car sales 23 per cent in advance of the same period in 1940.

Retail truck sales also held to the upward course established since the new models were introduced last fall, advancing 36 per cent over Jan. 1-20 last year, with total sales being 12,336 for the 20-day period.

Mission Cleaners
Opposite Keese Feed Store
TRADE AT HOME
Give us a trial
SUITS 50c
PLAIN DRESSES 45c

Lemon Juice Recipe Checks Rheumatic Pain Quickly
If you suffer from rheumatic, neuritic or neuritis pain, try this simple inexpensive home recipe that thousands are using. Get a package of Ro-Es Compound today. Mix it with a quart of water, add the juice of 4 lemons. It's easy. No trouble at all and pleasant. You need only 2 tablespoonsfuls two times a day. Often within 48 hours—sometimes overnight—splendid results are obtained. If the pains do not quickly leave and if you do not feel better, Ro-Es will cost you nothing to try as it is sold by your druggist under an absolute money-back guarantee. Ro-Es Compound is for sale and recommended by HUDSON PROS. Druggists

Scallorn

By Mrs. Ora Black.

Our Sunday school agreed to meet next Sunday with the Kelly people, as its their regular church day and hear Brother Lambert preach at the eleven o'clock service.

The H. D. Club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Johnnie D. Ford in the home of Mrs. Marvin Laughlin. Refreshments were served to nineteen members and four guests.

Mrs. Earl Blake joined her husband Saturday in Brownwood and went from there to Ballinger to spend the week-end.

Mrs. Homer Eckert was on over night guest of Mrs. Dutch Smith one night last week.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. Ora Black Sunday were Mrs. C. H. Black and family of Goldthwaite. Alva Ford, Jim Hunt and Rayford Davis of Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Forehand of the Chadwick community visited Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Henry.

Mrs. Cora Ford accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ford Sunday to Woodland Heights for a visit with her son, J. D. Ford and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kyle and son, Eddie of Mullin visited over the week end with Mrs. Kyle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuykendall.

Other visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall were Mr. and Mrs. John S. Kuykendall of Lometa and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sims of Brownwood.

Mrs. Ora Black and son, Billy visited Mr. and Mrs. Eliza Laughlin in Blanket Monday.

Mrs. R. D. Evans was made happy Sunday when all of her children came in for a family reunion. Those present were Joe Evans and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Swinney and son and Mrs. Tommy Tarrelton and children all of Lometa, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hereford and daughter, Dorris of Dublin, Mrs. Lila Crawford and son, Garland of Goldthwaite and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Evans and children. At the noon hour a bountiful meal was served consisting of turkey and all the trimmings.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie D. Ford called on Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ford Sunday evening.

Clarence Horton of Dublin visited Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Horton.

New Schedule CREAMER
STAGE LINES
SAN ANTONIO TO EASTLAND via
Boerne, Fredericksburg, Llano, San Saba, Goldthwaite, Comanche, Gorman, and De Leon.
Lv. South Bound 11:35 a. m.
Lv. North Bound, 11:20 a. m.
Call Saylor Hotel for other information!

Center Point—

By Mrs. J. N. Smith

There were only a few out at Sunday school Sunday. Maybe if this pretty weather continues we will have more from now on.

These warm days make everyone think of gardening. The farmers are busy preparing the land for another crop.

We wish to extend our sympathy to Mrs. Crier in the loss of her husband. May the Lord be with her in our prayer.

Mrs. Taylor and daughters, Mrs. Clyde Taylor and baby, and Alvin Gandy were in the Hutchings home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Smith and son visited in the Amos Shelton home Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Wesson and Wanda Lou spent one day last week with her parents, at Mullin.

Bro. L. L. Hays, John Calaway, Client Petty, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Randles and children, Mrs. Jennie Harmon, Mr. Jim Randles, Mrs. Myrtle Garner, Mrs. Truman Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harmon. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hammonds have all visited W. J. Conner recently.

Mrs. Alice Utzman and daughter spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Walter Conner.

Joe Anderson and wife spent Sunday with her parents.

Miss Bess Hutchings visited in the Smith home Friday.

Mrs. Joe Spinks visited with Mrs. Florence Conner one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hammonds and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Shelton and Lowell dined Sunday in the Amos Shelton home.

Garland Ethridge and Dorothy Davis were in the C. C. Shelton home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Jack Sanders of Mullin visited her mother Sunday and attended Sunday school.

The school children enjoyed a Valentine box Friday. There were several visitors present.

SAFE SURE SPEED
You are invited to inspect our new, luxurious and incomparable Motor Coaches serving the all route between Brownwood and Goldthwaite and Brownwood and Waco via Goldthwaite.
ARROW COACH LINES
Passenger and Express Station
Saylor Hotel
Low Rates Everywhere

YOU Can Own A Home Like This . . .
And Pay For It Like Rent

MAKE that dream of a newer, more modern home . . . or a new home of your own . . . come true this spring. You may have the idea that it is rather difficult and quite expensive to have a modern home, but when you investigate you will find that building materials are easily available. See us at once and let us show you how easy it is to own a beautiful, comfortable and modern home of your own.

Remodel Your Home
36 Months To Pay—Low Interest

We have arrangements whereby your home may be remodeled, which may include an extra room, new porches, new roofs, complete new paper and painting, new garage, etc., with a very nominal down-payment and thirty-six months to pay the balance without security.

Come In and Let's Talk Over Your Building Problems

Barnes & McCullough Lbr. Co.

All Cars Seek Buyer Preference—But "THE U.S.A. PICKS CHEVROLET"

for Styling—for Road Action with Economy—for Low Price

It's the only low-priced car with a 90-h.p. Valve-in-Head "Victory" Engine . . . the only low-priced car with exclusive Body by Fisher and all the other features listed here. . . It out-styles, out-accelerates and OUT-VALUES all other biggest-selling low-priced cars!

QUALITY QUIZ

90 H.P. ENGINE	YES	NO	NO
CONCEALED SAFETY STEPS	YES	NO	NO
VACUUM-POWER SHIRT AT 90 SETTING	YES	NO	NO
BODY BY FISHER BODY DIRECTLY FROM TOP	YES	NO	NO
UNITIZED KNEE-ACTION	YES	NO	NO
DOWN-GRIP FRAME	YES	NO	NO
ORIGINAL DESIGN NO DRAFT VENTILATION	YES	NO	NO
TIP-UP MATIC CLUTCH	YES	NO	NO

ONLY CHEVROLET HAS ALL THESE QUALITY FEATURES

The U.S.A. has given its verdict on motor cars . . . given it unmistakably by awarding Chevrolet sales leadership over all other makes of cars for nine of the last ten years . . . and now the U.S.A. is giving this same verdict again by showing clear-cut preference for the new Chevrolet for '41!

"The U.S.A. picks Chevrolet!" And, if you'll make your own eye it—try it—buy it test of the new Chevrolet for '41, we're convinced that you'll pick Chevrolet, too. And get the nation's No. 1 car-value as a result! Please see your nearest Chevrolet dealer—today!

Again CHEVROLET'S THE LEADER! TRY IT BUY IT!

Saylor Chevrolet Co.
Sales and Service — Goldthwaite, Texas

GOLDTHWAITE HIGH SCHOOL HERALD

Editor Virginia Oglesby
Editor Catherine Epperson
Editor Joe Boland
Editor Agnes Forehand
Editor Sammie Smith
Editor Buddy Stokes
Editor Mary Ann Miller

REPORT
 The members of the senior class are very hard on the scholastic leaders. Fred Perry is the most popular of the seniors. We are sure that he will be a great success in the future.

THE MASK
 Attention!! A program of one act plays will be presented tonight at the grammar school auditorium. Come—Come all! It will be an evening of fun and gala entertainment.

Two plays will be presented, "Enter the Hero" and "Red Carnations." After each play there will be entertainment.

The play production is being directed by Miss Margaret Freedland and is presented by the members of the public speaking class and students interested in dramatics.

This is going to be one evening of entertainment that you can't afford to miss!

VOLLEY BALL CLUB
 We organized a Volley Ball Club in which the following officers were elected:
 President, Wilda Geeslin.
 Vice-president, Nella Beth McCasland.
 Secretary, Eunice Wrinkle.
 Treasurer, Annette Renfro.
 Reporter, Amber Graves.
 We have been practicing and hope to win at County Meet.

GLEE CLUB
 The glee club sang at P.-T. A. last Wednesday, February 12. The trio also sang a number.

The glee club will sing tonight (Friday) at the one-act play program. We also plan to sing at the Methodist church next Sunday morning. We will sing "The Prayer Perfect."

We are also working on "Open the Gates of the Temple" which we will sing at the Baptist church Easter Sunday.

SOPHOMORE REPORT
 This week there have been quite a few of the Sophomores returning to school. Adelaide Holland returned to classes last Monday morning. She had been absent several days, due to an appendicitis operation. Lafon Horton returned to school Monday after a few days absence, during which she had her tonsils removed. Cash Curtis, who attended school as a sophomore here the first term, registered Monday. Cash registered late for the second term due to a very severe case of pneumonia. This late start will place Cash under a handicap, but we can see from the good grades he made the first term that he can soon catch up and be a high ranking sophomore again.

Adelaide and Lafon are catching up on their "Back Work" very rapidly and will soon have it completed.

SPANISH CLUB
 The members of the Spanish Club enjoyed a Valentine's day meeting done up in Spanish style. Clever and amusing Valentines with Spanish designs and verses were presented to each member.

There was a brief discussion of our Spanish banquet, which has been planned for March, and the meeting was topped off with delicious Mexican candy.

THE LITTLE MAN WHO WASN'T THERE
 From all appearances, Nella Beth and Earnest certainly had a swell time Saturday night—at the expense of several couples. They had a flash-camera.

What is this I hear about Pat B. and Sam S. becoming old men?

Who is this Shirley, Clauden, and Francis that Joe, James, and L. B. say are very good looking and seem to be rather interested in? We do know these girls live out of town. But where?

Where was Gordon Henry on Sunday night? Could he have been at the school ground?

We still wonder what Lyman was doing when he had car trouble. But then, boys often have car trouble when there is quite a bit of "attraction" to their right.

We've known for a long time that there were some Greta Garbo's in school. But it's getting worse. Monday, four people came around and said they wanted no publicity.

Mary Alice, Earline, and Neta Faye couldn't decide which one was to go with HIM (so they all three went).

Poor Alta Mae. It seems that she went to see "My Love Came Back," but it did no good, so now it is "Gone With The Wind."

Billye Ruth!!! My, My, My, you shouldn't do such things. (Secretly, keep the good work going).

Roberta was singing "It All Comes Back to Me Now," Monday morning. The reason could not have had something to do with Saturday night—or could it.

Coy T. and Katherine W. were seen together Saturday night. Could it have been at the school house.

The freshman English class has been studying gender. One bright freshman, when asked what the feminine of heir, answered "fuzzy."

Is Oma happy! Joe T. came to see her Saturday.

Say wonder what Pat and three strange people were doing on the road going up the hill by the Methodist church stopping all pedestrians asking "Say where—? Friday night about ten o'clock."

Why was Wanda Burkett so angry because she had to go to church Sunday night?

Sports-minded University of Texas co-eds are disproving the old axiom that "girls are sissies." Entries in women's intramurals at the State school this winter—competitive sports between student clubs—have totaled 4,134 to date.

"The Earth Shall Endure"

These are the days when the earth calls to us all, as she shows forth her never-failing richness in flowers and developing fruits under the blue June skies.

We want to shut the door on routine household chores and go out to work in the ground; to dig and hoe and weed so that we feel we have a part in this miracle of growth which appears every spring. Some urge, deep within each one of us, is satisfied only as we work with Nature, tending the plants through which the earth "shall yield her increase."

But this year the earth means more to us than ever before. It means not only the plenty promised by the swelling pods—developing wheat heads and the beauty of bushes in riotous bloom. It means assurance, and confidence, especially to those of us fortunate enough to live in the United States. For our earth is calm these days, undisturbed by the events that are shaking the world of men—responsive only to the age-old stimulus of sun and rain. And as each day brings more luxuriant growth to fields and gardens, we can find comfort.

Here is all that we really need. This is the basis of all that we call civilization. The earth with its gifts of food, minerals and forests was all this continent had to offer the settlers who began coming here less than 400 years ago and look what has been achieved! Although we have sometimes wasted her bounty the earth continues to furnish us with almost unlimited supplies, so that we need not fear for this America of ours, as long as we keep our belief in Liberty which John Stuart Mill defines as "the essential condition for the growth of individuality in the richest diversity" and our faith in government "of the people, for the people and by the people." For these are the things which have made it possible for us to create the great nation we have from nothing but the raw materials furnished by the earth.

It is not the fault of the "good earth" that people have gone hungry, homeless or ragged in any land but the fault of men who have mis-used her largess and only in the United States have we even begun to realize the plenty that is possible for every human being in this country were we to couple our genius for production and distribution under our free enterprise system with the bounty which the millions of acres of the United States pours forth. As long as we develop in "the American way" with our characteristic regard for the rights and the welfare of the individual, we shall progress. For the earth—the mother of us all—will continue to endure and to produce according to our will—Susan Thayer.

Send Us Your Printing

South Bennett

By Mrs. M. L. Casbeer

Leon Johnson and family spent Sunday in San Saba with Mrs. Johnson's mother, who is very ill. Mr. Johnson and children returned home Sunday evening but Mrs. Johnson remained at San Saba with her mother. We surely hope she will soon be better.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and Marcus and J. M. and Blondie Stacy spent Sunday night and Monday in Fort Worth with Mrs. Casbeer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. English. Mr. English, who is in a hospital at Fort Worth, was better.

Monk Welch and family spent Saturday night with Burthel Roberts and family.

Willis Hill is able to be up and out again after having pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Laughlin, M. L. Casbeer and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Muriel Alexander, Monk Welch and family and Valeria Stacy visited in the Burthel Roberts home a while Saturday night.

Mrs. Morgan Stacy visited with Mrs. Otto Kelly a while Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Burthel Roberts and Blondie and J. M. Stacy visited until bedtime with Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Casbeer, Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Covington and Blondie Stacy have been making frequent visits with Mrs. Covington's sister, Mrs. Biddle at Center City who has been quite sick. We certainly hope she can soon be well.

Valeria Stacy visited in the M. L. Casbeer home Saturday evening.

SPECIAL SALE!

Buy Nationally Advertised, Known Brands, Known Value Goods at REDUCED PRICES!

Regular 25c Size Cashmere
Bouquet Cleansing Cream
 2 Jars For 25c

Regular 40c Can
COLGATE'S TOOTH POWDER
 2 Cans for 41c

$1.00 Size Bottle
Dorothy Perkins Weather Lotion
 Special Price, bottle 50c

Rogers & Gallet
TALCUM AND SACHET
 $1.75 Value for $1.00

EXTRA SPECIAL
 New 50c tube Pepsodent Exton Bristle Tooth Brush with 25c size Powder or Pepsodent Paste.
 All for Only 50c

50c Size Bottle Hinds Cream,
 2 Bottles for Only 51c

Hurry -- Quantities Are Limited

HUDSON BROS.
 DRUGGISTS

THE LONG

Long is one of our seniors. He is 5 feet, 11 inches tall, has dark hair and gray eyes. He is a student and made average of all his classes. He is the son of Mrs. J. C. Long. He attended school here for all of his eleven years.

Star football player and has lettered for two years. He is going to Tarleton to become an engineer to A. & M. the next year.

MCCASLAND
 Is the only daughter of Mrs. Ercher McCasland. She is 5 feet, 11 inches tall. She has light brown eyes. She is a member of the Economics Club and is the vice-president of the latter. Nella is going to Tarleton to major in home economics. She is undecided as to whether she will go from there.

GET IN..STRETCH OUT.. and enjoy a great new ride!

NEW COMFORT was the keynote as we made plans for this year's Ford. Get in, through the new wide doors! Stretch out, in room to spare! Seating width has been increased as much as 7 inches. Knee-room and inside length are greatest in the low-price field. Then take the road and try its ride!

A soft, steady, gliding new Ford ride that takes good road or bad in a satisfying new kind of stride. And notice the quietness of this big Ford!

There's news at your Ford Dealer's that's too good to miss! News in comfort. News in value. And news in a "deal" that you'll find easy to take!

GET THE FACTS AND YOU'LL GET A FORD!

Curtis Long Food Store

Fresh Blackeyed
PEAS 3 cans 27c

GLADYOLA FLVWR
 48 lb. sack . . $1.49
 24 lb. sack . . 78c

The Finest Toiletry
Camay, 3 bars . . . 18c
CRISCO
 4 lb. carton . . . 49c
P. & G. Soap
 5 Bars . . . 16c

Not the Cheapest but the Best
Sliced Bacon 1b 19c

Regular Size Bottles
CATSUP
 2 Bottles . . . 18c

CHEESE
 Pound . . . 19c

Family Style
STEAK
 2 Pounds . . . 35c

Nice Firm Krisp
Lettuce
 2 Heads . . . 7c

Nice Size California
Lemons
 Dozen . . . 10c

All Bunch Vegetables—Any Kind
Vegetables 3 bunches 5c

Maine Grown SEED POTATOES

Pecan Wells
By Sarah Yeager

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Harris and Mr. Alonzo Harris visited with Mr. and Mrs. Toby Redden and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harris and son all of Evans Sunday.

Milton and Spurgeon Webb of near Goldthwaite visited with friends here Sunday.

Ina Leach and Norma Lee Homan visited with Ouida Smith Sunday.

The club women met with Mrs. Alvin Talley Wednesday afternoon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Will Horman 2 weeks from last Wednesday.

Tommy Yeager visited with John and Oscar Havens Saturday and Sunday.

Billy Kelley of Bennett Creek spent the week end with A. B. Yeager.

Mrs. Inez Summerford and 3 Bynum boys of Indian Gap. Henry Yeager, Sarah Garlan, and Gertrude Yeager, Mrs. C. J. Crawford, Bob Leach, Melton and Spurgeon Webb and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Yeager and Ella Mae all visited in the Alonzo Harris home Sunday.

Mrs. Paul Landue visited with Mrs. Arch Smith and family some last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith and son, and Mrs. Cordie Jones and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Jones and family of near Goldthwaite Sunday.

Margaret Yeager spent Thursday night with Ruth Brown.

Two Cook Brothers of Lometa and Garlan Yeager visited with Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Crawford Sunday.

The school children put on a Valentine program last Friday night. After the program a number of Valentines were given away. Then the big surprise came for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Savers. A big box filled with gifts were given to them, wishing them a long and happy married life.

Grandpa Roberts is recovering from his sickness from last Thursday night very slowly.

Sarah Yeager and Nella Beth Green visited school down here at Pecan Wells Friday.

A. C. McPherson from McGirk spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Hiller Newton.

Mrs. Henry Yeager and Gertrude, Tolle and Marie, Mrs. Raymond Fincher of Pottsville, Mrs. Herman Lee of Star and Mrs. G. C. Ball of McGirk visited with Mrs. Jim Green and Billy Friday.

Maynard Roberts and Donald spent Friday night and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hiller and family attended the funeral of Cecil Gerald at Stanton Monday. They came back by Santa Anna and visited with Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Eppler and family Monday night and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Yeager are giving a shower and party for Mr. and Mrs. Hershell Williams next Saturday night, February 22nd.

Wild Griffin of Dallas and Mr. Ballard of Hamilton visited the Haven's boys Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fincher of Pottsville visited with Mr. and Mrs. Gim Green and family Sunday evening.

Miller Mountain
By Mrs. Helen Irving

Mrs. Wardell Thompson has returned home from Whitney after a very pleasant week spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Z. B. Edwin.

Mrs. Lee, wife of Sgt. Robert E. Lee of Camp Bowie, and small daughter are back from Houston where they visited with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Elbert and with Sgt.'s mother, Mrs. Lee, also of Houston.

Shorty Horton is building a nice little home and expects to move into it next month. It has four rooms and bath and is built on a solid foundation. Mrs. Horton has planted roses and crepe myrtle already and they have a beautiful view from the front of the house. Mr. Hines, Mr. Cline and Mr. Ike Welch gave assistance when it was needed in the building line.

We were just thinking how fortunate we were in having a man like "Uncle" Pete Burks to get milk from. He is as fine and good as the milk and that is saying something. We hope he may long serve this community.

Ebony—
By Clementine Wilmeth Briley

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCaleb of Anson and Miss Earlene Day of A.C.C. spent the week end at the Day Ranch and were present at church Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Holcomb of Brownwood attended church here Sunday. They are staying a while at the home of Mrs. Holcomb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Egger of Comanche are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Orvel Egger.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cawyer and Edinabeth of San Angelo spent the week end at the Dwyer home and attended church here Sunday morning.

After a long absence, we were glad to have back at church Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crowder and F. L. and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Crowder and Iris Jo.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie McNurien and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Loyt Roberts.

Tom Riggs, who has been staying with Wood Roberts, went back to Brownwood Sunday. On account of falling health, he thinks he will be compelled to stay where he can be near the doctor.

Clayton Egger of Dools spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Effie Egger.

Mr. and Mrs. Daz Oliver of Brownwood and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams of Oakland visited Mr. and Mrs. Edward Egger and Mrs. Hattie Whittenburg Sunday.

Nelda Joy, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Holder, who has been very sick recently, was able to be brought to church Sunday.

Mrs. P. R. Reid had to go to the doctor Sunday to be treated for a continued sore throat.

Mrs. Cloud Masburn is doing fine.

Jim Wilmeth and Stanley Reeves attended the Hereford auction sale at Brownwood February 12.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilmeth spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilmeth at Dublin and attended church at Brownwood Sunday morning. Lillard Wilmeth, who is at Camp Bowie, visited with them while there.

The Home Demonstration club will meet with Mrs. J. R. Wilmeth Friday, February 23, Miss Scott will meet with us.

7-D Ranch
By Mrs. Jernigan

Everyone seems to be busy breaking land, planting some early garden and making ready to plant corn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jernigan served turkey dinner Wednesday to their children: Signor Jernigan and wife of Lometa, Malcolm and family of Goldthwaite, and Mrs. Q. H. Renfro of Big Valley, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Grubbs of Abilene and Louise, Janett and Hawley. All seemed to have enjoyed themselves. Signor happened to a pretty bad accident last week he was cutting limbs from a tree and the ax hung on another limb above his head, hitting him in the top of the head leaving a gash of 2 1/2 inches.

M. L. Jernigan sold his daughter, Thelma a new Studebaker sedan. Thelma went to Dallas with Mr. Jernigan to select her car.

Arthur Wilcox sold Mr. Jernigan a load of cattle and sheep Monday.

U. F. Steven had a little accident Sunday some way a limb struck him in the eye causing him a lot of pain, but it isn't serious.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Renfro visited in the Jernigan home Sunday. Morris Sellers and Albert Tully had business on the 7-D Ranch Sunday.

ON DISTINCTION LIST

GEORGETOWN, Tex. — Lawrence Stokes, son of M. Y. Stokes, Jr., has been included on the Distinction List for the Fall Semester, having made a general average of 91.80 over 18 hours of work. Lawrence is a Sophomore at Southwestern University majoring in Theology.

REXALL'S BIRTHDAY SALE—Clements Drug and Jewelry Store.

Center City
By Mrs. J. M. Oglesby

Spring like weather prevails in our part of the county and we have a feeling that it is planting time again.

Sunday was a fine day Bro. Sims preached at his regular hours at the Baptist church.

Supt. J. T. Owens announced services for allday next Sunday at the Methodist church with the second quarterly conference Bro. Cooke's father, Dr. Cooke of Llano will be present and many visitors from the other churches are expected to meet with them. The ladies are bringing covered dishes to serve at the noon hour. Everyone is invited to come and worship together and enjoy the noon hour social.

Mrs. Biddle is still confined to her bed. Reports are that she is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lester and sons, J. L., Jr. and Lewis Arnold, visited her sister, Mrs. Luther Arnold and family last week end.

Al Truman Langford, Vernon McCasland, Edwin Arnold, Glen Geeslin, Duard and R. L. Atchison of Brownwood visited home folks last week end.

A shadow of gloom came over our community Sunday night when news reached here that death had taken the life of Mr. Clint A. Head in Goldthwaite. He lived in this community many years and was loved by his host of friends. Our deepest sympathy to his loved ones.

Francis Eden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eden of Cottonwood, Arizona came from San Antonio, where he is in training and visited relatives here.

We are glad to report the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Owens is recovering from pneumonia.

Forest Venable is in a Galveston hospital. His wife and infant son are being cared for in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Piper near Adamsville. Their other two sons are with their grandmother, Mrs. Venable.

Mr. and Mrs. Cary Newton and children of Plainview are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Newton.

Mrs. Nickols of Rock Springs attended the funeral of Mrs. Head Monday afternoon, with Mmes. W. B. Summy and Glen Nickols of Goldthwaite.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Oglesby and son and Wm. Richard Hendry viewed the construction work at Williams Ranch and visited in the L. W. French home Sunday afternoon. The French family lived between Center City and Pleasant Grove a good many years ago and is kindly remembered by many of the older people. He is aged and blind and enjoys hearing from his old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simpson and Robbie Jean called in the Oglesby home late Sunday afternoon after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Palmer near Star.

Jimmie Wright and family, Mrs. Hardy Collier and girls visited Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Collier and Anna Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Horton moved from their barn into their beautiful new home last week. Many friends and relatives visited them Sunday to admire the modern structure.

Granddad Carter is able to be up and about the house after a severe illness.

Much comment is heard in town concerning the new Brahmer recently purchased by Prof. Kirby. Probably it will be a great attraction at the stock show at Star.

Many friends from Goldthwaite attended the funeral of Mr. Head Monday afternoon.

Aubrey Head and family have moved to the rock house near the bridge.

Mrs. Wilbur Waggoner and sons of Evans visited friends Monday while her husband attended a lodge meeting.

Mills County Men In 144th Regiment

CAMP BOWIE, TEXAS. — M. Long and H. D. Massey of Goldthwaite have been assigned as privates to the 144th Infantry Regiment of the 34th Division here.

"If More Old People would use ADLERIKA they would feel better. I'm 70 and have had it on hand for 14 years." (L. M.—So. Dak.) For QUICK bowel action and relief from bloating gas, try ADLERIKA today. Hudson Bros., Drugists.

Rexall's Birthday Sale—Clements Drug and Jewelry Store.

Clyde Eastep made a business trip to San Antonio Monday.

First Baptist Church

After next Sunday we will have passed one-sixth of the opportunities of this year. The other five-sixths will go gliding by and the good intentions of the new year will have escaped forever before we are aware, if we are not diligent. So come to Sunday school and church next Sunday and find re-inforcement for all the better impulses that bestir your soul on occasion. There is a class for you, and all the services are planned to minister to your spiritual needs and for your enjoyment.

Sunday school at 10:00. The worship services are at 10:50 and 7:30. The Training Union meets at 6:30 in the evening.

There is a sincere welcome and a democratic atmosphere.

First Methodist Church
Serving the Community
W. H. Marshall, Minister.

Services each Sunday. Morning worship 10:50 a. m. Evening worship, 7:15 p. m.

Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. League at 6 p. m.

The Goldthwaite high school glee club will sing a special number at the morning service Sunday.

Newcomers and visitors to Goldthwaite are cordially invited to attend Sunday School and church where a sincere welcome awaits them. A talk illustrated by pictures, will be given at the opening of Sunday school this Sunday.

Church Calendar:
Monday evening, February 24, 7:30 p. m. Monthly meeting of Official Board, church basement.
Monday, February 24, District Missionary Institute at Llano.
Wednesday evening, February 26, 7:15 p. m.—Covered dish supper and Second Quarterly Conference. An interesting program will be given, and a large attendance is expected.
Sunday, March 2, Compassion Sunday.

Epworth League
Friday, February 14, the League with the Sunday school classes of the Intermediate department were entertained by their sponsors with a Valentine party in the basement of the Methodist church.

There was fun for everyone.

SPECIAL PRICES
At
The Economy Store
Friday-Saturday-Monday
Men's Dress Hats, each
All Brand New Spring Shades
Men's Work Shirts, full cut
Men's 8 oz. Sanforized Overall
Men's Dress Pants, Selected Styles
Men's Socks, pair
See Our New Arrivals In Spring
Goods Coming In Daily

Many and varied games were played in keeping with Valentine. No one spent a moment waiting for something to do, since there was fun and frivolity for each one present. Some of our more outstanding young ladies and gentlemen had their fortunes told, you who are members missed a great deal by not being present to hear the future outcome of their careers and lives.

We were indeed happy to have the many visitors with us and we invite them to join our League and Sunday School meetings whenever it is possible for them to do so.

Refreshments were served to twenty-three young people present.

We say that we have about the best sponsors possible for a group of young people and we say "thanks" to them for a splendid time.

We invite you to the League meetings at six o'clock each Sunday afternoon. Come, and bring some one with you.—Reporter.

North Bennett
By Mrs. Edker Mikeal

We surely have been having some windy weather. It reminds us that March is just around the corner.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan spent Monday and Tuesday of last week in Brownwood.

Mrs. Roy Hill and her son, Mikeal, a week morning.

Mr. Ollie McNeil Sullivan home Tuesday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Comanche and Mrs. A. Obenhaus of Goldthwaite were visitors in the Bennett home Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edker Mikeal and Edward Mikeal Hamilton Saturday.

Those who visited Mikeal home Sunday were Haskell Tubbs and Star and Ernest family and Edker family.

Lots of Juice
Texas Oranges, dozen . 6c
Red Ball LEMONS, dozen . 10c
Grapefruit, half bushel . 28c
SPUDS, Colorado, 10 lbs. . 12c
LETTUCE Firm Heads 3 for . . . 10c
HOMINY, No. 2 can . . . 5c
Canned Milk, 6 Small Cans . . . 19c
For Baby Chicks
BULK OATMEAL, lb. . . 4c
MORTONS STOCK SALT
98 PERCENT PURE
IN USEFUL BAGS
MAINE SEED POTATOES
Onion Plants—Cabbage Plants
Onion Sets—English Pea Seed
FLOWER AND VEGETABLE SEED

Load Up With Health At CARLOAD PRICES!
Piggly Wiggly

Sugar
PURE CANE
25 lbs. . $1.19

Coffee
FRESH PLYMOUTH
3 lb. bag . 43c
DRIED
Pears or Apples
2 pounds . 25c

Save at PIGGLY WIGGLY
Highest Quality
MEATS

COUNTRY SAUSAGE, lb.

Sugarcured Tenderloins
COTTAGE ROLLS, pound

Longhorn CHEESE, pound

Beef Ribs, heavy, pound . 12c

OYSTERS, Baltimore, pt. . 25c

DRESSED HENS

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Water is a victim of flu this week.

Clara Carroll is sick this week.

Mrs. J. T. Morris left to visit relatives in Arkansas.

Willie Johnson of Weatherford spent the week end with Mrs. G. H. Frizzelle.

Mrs. Z. D. Kemp of Mrs. J. M. Bateman time friends Monday.

Smith and daughter of Cat Claw county visited Saturday.

Johnson and Miss made a business wood Tuesday.

Mrs. Browning Robb, Bobby Joe, and Mrs. visited Mr. and Mrs. son and children.

Janice Morris and ne Bledsoe of Tarleton spent the week end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bledsoe of spent Saturday at, Mrs. Curtis Long.

Mrs. J. H. Ervin and Misses Jean and Leta spent Sunday with Misses Abbie and.

ance Care and children and Carol Ann of the week end at their parents.

Martin, her son, J. C. er, Mrs. Lofton and spent Sunday with other and other rela-

Payne students who with home folks for and were: Misses Vir- Rudd, Aileen Ross, Bowman.

Patterson, daughter Mrs. C. L. Patterson from school with the

Mrs. C. N. Berry and Moreland of Pleasant guests in the W. C. Saturday.

Mr. Patterson who has for several weeks with Mrs. Tom Collier has so much from her re- that she returned in the Caradan.

Mrs. Harmon Frazier, C. Mullan spent last Dallas with Mr. and Kemp, Jr. and little am Slaton and other Mrs. Al Dickerson ac- them as far as Fort ere she visited Mr. and Hicks.

gh Dennard and child- Valley visited Satur- her mother, Mrs. Hen- who is quite ill at her s. Dennard also visited ter, Mrs. David Straley

Mrs. J. E. Greathouse Burnett last Friday to son. Euris Greathouse hilly, Euris Greathouse to San Antonio to vis- n, Bill Todd and family re J. E. Greathouse de- neumonia and has been but was improving report.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Brooking are moving to Slaton by the first of March.

Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Harvey spent Sunday with their son, Omer Harvey and wife at San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Brown of Richland Springs were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Coffey.

Rezell's Birthday Sale—Clem- ents Drug and Jewelry Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Dickerson were guests at a party given in honor of her niece, Miss John- nie Frances Baldan at Cross Plains Monday night.

Mrs. J. D. Brim who under- went an operation last Friday at the Temple hospital was doing as well as could be expected at last report. Mrs. Robert Steen is with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Holladay and children of Hico spent Sun- day with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Dawson.

Mrs. Kilpatrick who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. G. H. Frizzelle returned to her home at San Angelo after spending several weeks here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Linken- hager had as guests their chil- dren this week. W. W. Linken- hager and family of Dublin spent the week end while Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Linkenhager from Durant, Okla. remained for the week.

Students of Tarleton spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents here were: Misses Nina Summy, Dorothy Eunice Morris, and Laura Helen Saylor.

Mrs. W. De Benedetti of Brownwood was a Sunday visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Dow Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McCullough Paul McCullough and son, Mich- ael spent Saturday and Sunday with the O. O. Smith family at Marlin.

Miss Bertha Puckett of Brown- wood, was a guest in the Lewis Hudson home Sunday.

Travis Allen Meeks of Camp Bowie has been transferred to Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Mrs. W. E. Fairman and her father, Mr. McKnight who has been here for several weeks left for Marlin Sunday. Mrs. Fairman plans to return the last of the week.

Luther Quinn who has been very sick at San Angelo was re- ported to be a little better.

Dr. and Mrs. Joe Townsen, O. B. Townsen and son, Billy Jo, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Rodgers at Burnett.

Mrs. Wilbur Fairman had as week end guests her daughters, Misses Sarah and Catherine Fairman of S. M. U. at Dallas, Jack Hall and Barney McQuar- th of Dallas.

John Schooler made a busi- ness trip to Sna Antonio last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Saegert of Seguin spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gartman.

Paul Wynn, associated with the Garret Engineering Company of Houston, now engaged in the laying out of the Municipal Light and Power Company's lines here in Goldthwaite, spent the week end in Denton with his wife and other relatives.

Mrs. Allen Dabney of Eastland spent Wednesday with her sis- ter, Mrs. Marvin Rudd.

Miss Catherine Fairman play- ed the celebrated Rhapsody No. 2 in G Minor by Brahms at a student recital at S.M.U. in Dal- las last Tuesday evening. Miss Fairman, the daughter of Mrs. W. E. Fairman of Goldthwaite, is a piano pupil of Mrs. Viola Beck van Katwijk.

Travis Meeks left this week for Albuquerque, New Mexico where he has a government job at the new Army camp under construc- tion there.

On Wednesday afternoon the San Saba Garden Club enter- tained with a style show and flower arrangement through the courtesy of the Coca-Cola Bot- tling Company. Goldthwaite lad- ies enjoying this hospitality were Mmes. L. E. Miller, H. B. John- son, Joe Palmer, Neal Dickerson, Jim Weatherby, John Berry, L. B. Ashley, John Keese, Mayme Winsor, and Miss Lillie Martin.

Mrs. R. L. Steen, Jr. came home Tuesday from Temple where she has been staying with her moth- er, Mrs. J. D. Brim, but return- ed Wednesday. Mrs. Brim is re- covering from a major opera- tion.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Marshall received the interesting news Sunday midnight that they had become the grandparents of a fine boy. They left Monday to see the young man and his par- ents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Shoup of Pharr. They will return the last of the week, and he will preach at both hours Sunday.

Mayor and Mrs. H. D. Bodkin and Mr. and Mrs. Barton Smith were business visitors to the city of Waco, Wednesday.

N. E. Stockton, vice-president of the Trent State Bank, spent Wednesday February 12th after an interesting program the fol- lowing officers were elected for the coming year.

President, Mrs. Delton Barnett 1st vice-president, Mrs. Bill Stephens 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Jack Long 3rd vice-president, Mrs. Early Secretary, Mrs. Farris Jones Treasurer, Mrs. Lee Dyas Reporter, Mrs. J. H. Saylor

P-T. A. Met Wednesday

The Goldthwaite P. T. A. met Wednesday February 12th after an interesting program the fol- lowing officers were elected for the coming year.

President, Mrs. Delton Barnett 1st vice-president, Mrs. Bill Stephens 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Jack Long 3rd vice-president, Mrs. Early Secretary, Mrs. Farris Jones Treasurer, Mrs. Lee Dyas Reporter, Mrs. J. H. Saylor

Scallorn Demonstration Club

The Scallorn H. D. club met in the home of Mrs. Johnnie D. Ford, February 13. Our coun- cil delegate informed us that the 4-H and H. D. fair would be held at Star, February 25. It was also agreed that each club donate eighty cents for their own cash prizes.

Mrs. Dutch Smith of our Club, was appointed on the fourth committee of the land area workers.

Our club agreed to carry on our gift giving to the hostess, for another year.

The club discussed what ex- hibit they would have at the fair. Votes carried on the poultry exhibit.

The club decided to have a pie supper in the near future.

Refreshments were served to twenty club members and four visitors.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Ira Black March 6. —Reporter.

Pleasant Grove Demonstration Club

Our club met at the home of Mrs. C. N. Berry on Tuesday, February 11th.

Our profession as a home- maker was discussed. Club mem- bers gave interesting talks on the homemaker's responsibility to her family, to herself, and her responsibility as a housekeeper. afterwards there was a round table discussion on how women might become better homemak- ers.

The council delegate, Mrs. R. C. Berry, gave us a report on the last council meeting, and plans for our club exhibit at Star the twenty-fifth of this month were made.

Eighteen of the twenty club members were at the meeting. Our guests were Mrs. Ches Fraz- ler of Goldthwaite, Mrs. Jewel O'Neal of Nicks, and Mrs. Ver- non Kelly of Pleasant Grove.

Our next meeting will be at the home of our bedroom de- monstrator, Mrs. A. D. Robbin- son on the fourth of March.

Washington's Birthday

Saturday, February 22 is Geo. Washington's birthday and a legal holiday. The Goldthwaite post office will be closed all day and no mail will be carried on the rural and star routes. Mail received at the post office will be placed in post office boxes and outgoing mail will be dis- patched as usual, but there will be no window service.

Mrs. Weatherby Entertains Self Culture Club

Mrs. Jim Weatherby and Mrs. Harmon Frazier were hostesses to the Self-Culture Club at the Weatherby home on Thursday afternoon, February 13. Attractive arrangements of violets and carnations created a festive atmosphere for the occasion.

After a short business session conducted by the president, Mrs. J. J. Stephen, Mrs. R. E. Clem- ets led an entertaining program on customs and superstitions. Papers were read by Mrs. J. A. Hester, Mrs. McDuffy Kessler, and Miss Dera Humphries. A brief round table discussion con- cluded the program.

Salad plates featuring the Valentine motif were served to members and the following guests: Mms. McBride, A. L. Whittaker, Maston Pribble, V. C. Bradford, Al Dickerson and Dave Clements.—Reporter.

W. M. S.

Circle number two met with Mrs. R. V. Littlepage, February 17. There were ten present, with three new members, Mesdames Phillips, Crawford and Laughlin. Mrs. Littlepage gave a very interesting lesson, completing the book of Exodus.

The circle will meet with circle number one at the church next meeting for a mission pro- gram.—Reporter.

Goldthwaite H. D.

The Home Demonstration club meets with Mrs. John Edlin on February 25th at 2 p. m. Miss Scott meets with us and she is going to teach us how to make spring and mattress protectors.

All members are urged to be present.

Tuesday Study Club

The Tuesday Study Club met with Mrs. Bill Stephens Febru- ary 18th. Mrs. Joe Palmer re- viewed "The Foundation Stone" in such an interesting manner that the seven hundred pages seemed like a short story.

Mrs. T. C. Graves, president of the club, presented Mrs. Del- ton Barnett with a tray of lovely gifts from the club members.

Mrs. Stephens, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Mary Cross Ehinger, served a delicious salad course to fourteen members and Mrs. L. E. Miller, Misses Alene, and Katherine Sumner.

Texas Oil Industry Pays High Taxes

DALLAS, Texas.—More than half of all the oil produced in Texas already pays a tax of over 10 cents a barrel, a survey just completed by Texas Mid-Con- tinent Oil and Gas Association statisticians shows. Twenty-two separate taxes are now levied against Texas oil producers.

The survey, based on tabula- tion of tax records of all 254 counties and of independent tax- ing subdivisions, shows that more than half of the State's oil bears taxes of 10.26 cents a bar- rel. All of the oil produced in Texas pays an average tax of 9.23 cents a barrel, while in some counties the taxes amount to 15 and 20 cents per barrel.

"Texas oil producers now pay 22 separate taxes, or 21 in addi- tion to the State gross produc- tion tax," a statement today from the association points out. "In fact, analysis of the vari- ous tax levies borne by oil pro- duced in 33 leading Texas oil counties (which produce over half of the State's total crude output) shows that the State gross production tax of 2.3-4 per cent makes up less than 29 cents of each dollar collected in State and local taxes on oil production and producing properties. The fact that so much of this oil already pays over 10 cents a barrel is noteworthy in view of statements sometimes heard that Texas oil should pay 10 cents a barrel tax."

These 22 taxes do NOT in- clude any paid on refining, pipe lines or any branch of the in- dustry except production. Nor do they include the gasoline taxes paid by the individual motorist. "The oil tax situation is different from that of any other State," the association state- ment explains. "There are more than 9,000 separate local taxing subdivisions in our State, each of which is empowered under the Texas constitution to levy and collect taxes. Many of these are independent taxing agencies such as cities, independent school districts, water districts, road districts, etc. Every oil field within the jurisdiction of any of these agencies is subject to property assessments and tax levies deemed necessary by the respec- tive taxing officials. And all of these taxes must be paid by the Texas oil producer for the money he receives for his petro- leum, his sole source of income."

ONE OF THE 11,209
One of the 11,209 cotton mattresses made in District 7 of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service under the 1940 cotton mattress demonstration program is shown in an Erath home. Nearly 8,000 mem- bers and women in the 19 counties of the district worked without pay in community centers where the mattresses were made.

Harley Sadler Features Special Show For 4 Nights

Billy Mack, clever steel guitar player and eccentric dancer who will appear with Harley Sadler's new stage show in Brownwood for four nights beginning Thurs- day night, February 20. This special added feature will be given in addition to the usual vaudeville offered between the acts of the play. The play for these four nights will be a New York success entitled, "Booze-Buds and Bankers." Harley will play the part of the "Old Soak." Billy Mack was practically raised in the Sadler show, joining Mr. and Mrs. Sadler when he was only 8 years old. He was known as the greatest child dancer in America. Mr. and Mrs. Sadler hired a special tutor which they carried along with the show so that he might not be denied his school- ing. He joined the army last fall for his year's training in Brown- wood. Before joining the army he was a featured number of Bob and Joe Shelton's "Sunshine Boys," a feature of radio station KGGK, Fort Worth, Texas. You have heard him on the air so be sure and see him in person sometime during his four weeks engagement with Harley Sadler's tent theatre, located just outside the city limits of Brownwood on the Brady highway. Numbered seats are available which may be secured by telephoning 273. (Adv.)

BILLY MACK

Rezell's Birthday Sale—Clem- ents Drug and Jewelry Store.

Hill Top Grocery-Market
And Texaco Service Station

EXTRA FED BEEF THIS WEEK

Choice Loin Steak, lb.	22c
Prime Nice Rump Roast, lb.	20c
Choice Seven or Chuck Steak, 2 lbs.	35c
Roast, lb.	17c
Pork Sausage, lb.	15c
Chops, nice fat, lb.	15c
Beans, nice size, Penny Each
Bar Soap, 4 bars	21c
Evaporated Milk, 2 large cans	15c
Our favorite flavor My-T-Fine Dessert, box	5c

W. W. (Bill) FOX
688 FISHER STREET FROM COLD STORAGE CO.

Portrait of a Lady

She likes... hosiery that fits sleekly, heels that are straight, seams that are tiny and unwaveringly trim, and a texture that is hard to see but surpasses expectations in durability.

She dislikes... hosiery that bags and wrinkles, heels that look like steps, seams that are "fuzzy" and loosely stitched, and a texture that is faulty and blotched.

That's why she chooses HUMMING BIRDS

79c to $1

A complete range in our Hosiery Department

LITTLE'S

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Published Every Friday by The EAGLE PUBLISHING CO.

MRS. R. M. THOMPSON
Editor and Publisher

Single Copies .05
Subscription 3 months 50c — 6 months $1.00
Subscription, per year, (in advance) $1.50
Outside Texas, per year $1.75

Entered in the Post Office at Goldthwaite as second-class mail

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper, will be gladly corrected upon due notice of same being given the editor personally at this office.

SCRIPTURE VERSE FOR THE WEEK

"But the wicked are like the troubled sea; for it can not rest, and its waters cast up mire and dirt."—Isa. 57:20

WAKE-UP-CHEER-UP

Babson Says, "Forget 1929 and Make Hay"

Babson Park, Florida, February 21. I wish that readers of my column—and this includes some of my Republican friends—would quit writing me about "Good Old 1929." Ninety per cent of our businessmen, bankers, and investors can make a better record in 1941 if they first will take a damp cloth and wipe 1929 from the blackboard of memory. Ninety per cent of our employes, too, can add to their welfare this year if they will quit hankering for the "Grand Old Times." Let us debunk the myth that the 1929 era was an economic heaven on earth, instead of just the opposite. That bedtime story is dangerous fiction because the fake glamour of 1929 still tempts some of us to underrate the expanding possibilities of 1941 and to overdiscount its potential opportunities. It is well to be realists, and today that means to be optimists.

RIP VAN WINKLE IN REVERSE

Suppose that some of these people who are neglecting 1941 in futile yearning for the "Good Old Days" could get their wish and wake up back in 1929. Their first feeling would be that the country had been blasted by a bombing raid. Hundreds of miles of today's sleek highways would be reduced to their original rocks or rutted mud. Every 1929 automobile—to anybody accustomed to the appearance and performance of today's models—would be a bunch of junk. Nobody of today could tolerate the ancient radios and phonographs.

In the agricultural regions, a Rip Van Winkle who fell asleep in 1941 and awoke in 1929 would be aghast at the loss of lightweight combines and tractors for the smaller farms. He would see farm equipment stripped of its rubber tires. Stores everywhere would be bare of today's beautiful new fabrics. Manufacturers in dozens of lines would be handicapped by lack of modern plastics and plywoods. Engineers' talents would be blighted without today's alloys.

TODAY'S UNSURPASSED RICHES

The trouble is that when we think of the "Good Old Days," we see them through a rosy mist that blurs reality. We assume that we could go back to the free-and-easy way and the get-rich-quickness of the 20's, and still have the new inventions, the modern comforts and the other novel riches which we now enjoy. It is human nature to glamorize the past and grumble at the present. Everybody, therefore, who is falling short of his best efforts today because of a vague, nostalgic longing to be back in 1929, may well take stock of current progress.

What glory of 1929, for instance, would compensate us for losing the network of air transport routes, grounding our planes, and thereby slowing up traffic in passengers, mails, and express? The modern, compact, mechanized and insulated home makes the stately cumbersome residence seem like a barn. Where is the woman today who willingly would surrender 1941 heating equipment, washing machines, and refrigerators? Who wants to give up air conditioning and streamline trains? Be sensible about present conditions.

REASONS FOR GROUCHES

Any man or woman in business today who is gloomy and discontented because of illusions about former years is failing to see the facts. It is all too true that here-and-there somebody personally may not be so well off—but that is life. The country as a whole has achieved a progress that cannot be matched in history. Population growth alone has given business concerns a million new customers since 1929. Electric power production has risen to all-time highs. Taller charts are now needed to plot the fresh peaks being reared in output of petroleum, steel, and machine tools. Technology was never so triumphant and we see 1929 completely dwarfed by today's advances in invention and discovery. Hence, I say that the forgetting of 1929 is the first step in the go-getting of 1941. Now is the time to "make hay."

When we become realists and admit these truths, how many people—including Republicans—would really want to go back to the conditions of a decade ago? Even statistics show that the nation has got some worth-while things from the increased national debt. May not our point of view be wrong and unnecessarily selfish and local, when we withhold wholehearted energy and enthusiasm today because of homesickness for a period that actually was one of the most cockeyed on record? Remember that for every adventurer who rode high and handsome in 1929, hundreds of preachers, teachers, and parents were heartbroken at the epidemic of irreligion and the collapse of character.

NOVEL PRODUCTS, NEW JOBS

New industries, unknown in 1900, have made jobs for 12,000,000 people, and the future outlook is even brighter. In showing my copy for this column to a famous engineer, he said: "You have omitted many new things such as textiles made of glass, clothing made of skimmed milk, foods derived from grasses, not to mention heatless stoves and household appliances operated by radio. Cotton and other products of the farm will be used to produce paving blocks, building materials, and furniture of all kinds. Messages and music will be carried by simple light waves, while luxuries now purchasable by only the rich will be enjoyed by all."

If we must look back to 1929, at least we can heed its lesson. It taught us that the need of 1941 is a modernized viewpoint that is unselfish instead of personal, and national instead of local. This applies alike to defense efforts and to normal production. Consider the huge amount of funds available for investment when businessmen suddenly get this new viewpoint! The more thoroughly this situation is analyzed, the more tremendous loom the possibilities. The peaks of a dozen years ago may come to look like foothills. Those who fail to develop this new viewpoint in time will surely someday regret this attitude. (Copyright 1941-Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

EDITORS NOTE—The article above is a sample of Roger W. Babson's weekly column. If the readers of the EAGLE would like to have it appear regularly in this paper, please let the Editor know.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for February 23

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

JESUS CALLS TO PRAYER

LESSON TEXT—Luke 18:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—Lord, teach us to pray.—Luke 11:1.

Imitations which may be so clever as to cause us to marvel, but to the one who knows the real thing, they are "just imitations." Particularly is that true in the realm of the spiritual. Make-believe faith in God fools only the hypocrite and those who know as little as he does of real Christianity.

Prayer is undoubtedly the greatest privilege of the Christian, putting him and his life in touch with the omnipotence of God. But it must be real prayer, not just some formal exercise which masquerades under the name of prayer. We combine the two parables of our lesson to contrast prevailing prayer and powerless prayer.

I. Prevailing Prayer.

The prayer which really lays hold upon God and brings results must be the expression of a life of prayer. It is no occasional effort brought about by a great need or a deep sorrow. We must pray

1. Without Ceasing (v. 1). Jesus had just been talking of the trying days which were to come (Luke 17:26-30). To stand fast for Christ in a day when almost all the influences are against such faith, a man needs real prayer or he will surely faint.

To pray constantly is not necessarily to be saying the words of prayer, but is the outreach of our life toward God, the setting of our minds on things above. That we can and may do at all times and in all places.

2. With Assurance (vv. 2-9). If an unjust judge will respond just to escape the constant plea of a widow, we may rest assured that God, who is just and looks upon His people in loving-kindness, will not fail to respond to their plea. He says, "Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not" (Jer. 33:3).

3. In Humility (vv. 13, 14). We come to God, not to demand, but to humbly plead the blood of Jesus Christ. That was what the publican did. When he said, "Lord, be merciful," he used the word "propitiated," which refers to the mercy seat on which the blood was sprinkled as a propitiation for sin (see Exod. 25:17, 18, 21; Heb. 9:5; Lev. 16:5). Such a plea brought salvation to the repentant sinner.

II. Powerless Prayer.

We use the word prayer here in the broad sense, for strictly speaking there is no such thing as prayer without power. Men call it prayer, but it accomplishes nothing because it is offered

1. In Self-sufficiency (vv. 9, 11). Those who trust "in themselves" will naturally do what the Pharisee did; he "prayed with himself." "He had an intellectual conviction, but that does not make a contact with God. Hell is full of intellectual conviction. God? Oh, yes. But he was so occupied with himself he could not get away from himself" (Morgan).

2. With Boastful Pride (vv. 9, 11, 12). Despising others, the Pharisee boasted of his own fine character and good works. "God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble" (James 4:6). It is proper that a man should live uprightly, but if it only makes him self-righteous it becomes a barrier between him and God (Luke 18:14).

3. For the Sake of Publicity (v. 11, cf. v. 13). While the publican hung his head and stood afar off to offer his prayer, the Pharisee apparently took a prominent place and spoke with a loud voice. Jesus described that kind of prayers in Matthew 6:5 as just putting on a publicity "stunt." When men had seen them pray, the transaction was finished. They had not been in touch with God at all.

The result of the two prayers is so well described by Dr. J. Campbell Morgan that we quote his words: "Two men at prayer. One, eloquently, in phrases circling round his own personality with which he was pre-eminently pleased. The other, hating his sin, and grasping out after the infinite and tender compassion of God to operate for him. . . . The man who justified himself remained unjustified. The man who sought the compassion of God went back to his house justified."

There Is Another Life
I cannot believe, and cannot be brought to believe, that the purpose of our creation is fulfilled by our short existence here. To me the existence of another world is a necessary supplement of this, to adjust its inequalities, and imbue it with moral significance.—Thurlof Weed.

The Road to Power
Self-Respect,
Self-Knowledge,
Self-Control—
These three alone lead life to sovereign power.—Tennyson.

NEIGHBORING NEWS

ITEMS FROM LOCAL PAPERS OF TOWNS MENTIONED

Lampasas—

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCann, Jr., visited relatives and friends in Lometa Saturday.

Mrs. D. T. Briggs, Sr., underwent a major operation in Kings Daughters hospital in Temple Wednesday morning and was reported doing all right this morning. Mr. Briggs was with her.

J. E. Conrad of Lometa underwent an appendectomy in the hospital here Thursday afternoon of last week.

A banquet was held in the high school gymnasium in Evant Friday night, last, for the purpose of perfecting a Farmers-Business Men's organization. There were sixty-two persons present for the banquet, according to James L. Power, editor of the Four-County Press, and a very enthusiastic meeting was enjoyed.—Record.

San Saba—

The Lower Colorado River Authority plan an extensive program of modernizing and rehabilitation of the entire electric distribution system in San Saba and four construction crews of electricians and workers are expected to be here to begin work on this project about March 10.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Dickerson of the Dickerson Variety were at market in Dallas, last week.

The Sorrell Ranch was NOT sold to Jake Hammond as was stated, recently, in a news item in this paper. The reporter was misinformed and is glad to make this correction.

The Otis M. Harkeys have moved back to Harkeyville from near Goldthwaite this week.

To overcome the feeling in the Texas Legislature that "only old women and worn-out preachers are interested in liquor laws," the organizations named above propose to march on the Capitol at Austin with 5,000 young people.

A.&M. Cadets Help Their Neighbors

COLLEGE STATION.—A cadet sponsored student aid fund, unique in American colleges and universities, based on the American tradition of "help your neighbor," became a reality this week when the Texas A. & M. cadet corps organized such a fund.

Essentially, the purpose of the A. & M. student aid fund is to create a unit of student government within the cadet corps entirely financed by the corps which will serve as an emergency relief source for cases of merited need among the students.

As finally set up, the student aid fund will accomplish the following things:

- 1. It will pay for emergency operations on cadets who are unable to obtain the money through other channels.
- 2. It will send a floral wreath to each family of an Aggie whose mother or father may die during the long session.
- 3. It will take care of any other cases of merited need which may come to the committee's attention. For example, a student needing glasses but unable to pay for them would secure them through the student aid fund.

Elected chairman of the organization was George Fuermann, Houston, associate editor of the student newspaper, The Battalion. Dan Russell, head of the rural sociology department, was elected executive secretary. Other members of the committee, appointed by President T. O. Walton, are cadets J. H. Focke, Jr., Mexia; Tom S. Gillis, Fort Worth; and Skeen S. Staley, Wichita Falls; and faculty members E. L. Angell and George B. Wilcox, both of College Station.

Already the fund has an initial capital of $1200 which came from the cadet corps, and will be financed by the corps in years to come.

See Sparkman's Shoe Shop

When you need shoe repairing. Our prices are the same as others. Our business will be open early and late.

JOE & BOB SPARKMAN Shoe Shop

ple who are vitally interested in correcting the present evils in our state liquor laws, on Tuesday, February 18.

Word reached the News this week of the passing of the mother of Mrs. A. J. Traut at a Houston hospital.

While attempting to start a fire in a stove at the old place on River Bend Farm, Bend, Monday, C. W. Scott, 80 years old, was critically burned when what he thought was kerosene turned out to be gasoline, causing an explosion, and setting fire to his clothing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Linken-hoger of Dublin and children spent a day last week with the W. R. Baters and Miss Grace.

Comanche—

A total of 2551 poll tax receipts had been issued by the County Tax Assessor-Collector up to February 1.

Virgil Chaffin, principal of Comanche High School for the last two years, was reelected Tuesday night by the Comanche School Board.

Durham Brothers, owners of the Durham Pecan and Peanut Company here, last week closed a deal for the Comanche Milling Company.—Chief.

Lometa—

Mr and Mrs. Paul Gray of San Angelo, visited his aunt and cousin, Mrs. L. R. Gray and Edgar Ross here Sunday. Mr. Gray is a county commissioner of Tom Green county.

W. J. Landry spent several days the first of the week in Goldthwaite with Sam Murphy.

Sonny Madison and Ferris Gadbury made a business trip to Goldthwaite Monday.

Mrs. Jack Straley of Adamsville, spent Monday here with Mrs. J. H. Lockhart.

Money Makes the Wheels Go 'Round

The wheels of commerce spin sweetly, lubricated by the easing power of smooth financing. Your business—your business—needs the stimulating effect of intelligent application of funds. You're invited to discuss the subject with our staff.

Trent State Bank
GOLDTHWAITE, TEXAS
Member
Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

When you need money . . . you go to a Bank
When you are sick . . . you call a Doctor
so when you have FREIGHT TO SHIP Call your Santa Fe Agent
Y. E. HOOVER
Phone 266—Santa Fe Sta.
Your Santa Fe Agent . . . as fundamentally a part of your community as your banker and your doctor . . . is thoroughly familiar with the transportation problems peculiar to your locality, and is eager to serve you.

PROFESSIONAL CA

F. P. BOWMAN
Lawyer and Abstractor
LAND LOANS—INSURANCE
Represent the Federal Land Bank at Houston, Loaning on land at 5% Interest
Office in Courthouse
Goldthwaite, Texas

J. C. DARROCH
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Fourth Floor First National Bank Building
Room 411-412
Brownwood, Texas
Office Phone, 803R1
Residence Phone, 803R2

ANDERSON & GILLIAM
Lawyers, Land Agents and Abstractors
Will Practice in all Courts
Special attention given to land and commercial litigation. Notary Public in office.
Office in Courthouse.
Goldthwaite, Texas

DR. CATHEY
The Eye Sight Specialist
Will be in Goldthwaite at the Goldthwaite Inn
Every Friday
Eyes Tested—Glasses Fitted
See Dr. Cathey and See Better

J. N. KEE
Marble and Granite
Best Materials
My 47 years experience at your service.
See me before you order.
Fisher St., Goldthwaite

BURC
TAILOR
WE CALL FOR AN Phone 12

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE EAGLE

Money Makes the Wheels Go 'Round

Trent State Bank
GOLDTHWAITE, TEXAS
Member
Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

When you need money . . . you go to a Bank

When you are sick . . . you call a Doctor

so when you have FREIGHT TO SHIP

Call your Santa Fe Agent

Y. E. HOOVER
Phone 266—Santa Fe Sta.

Your Santa Fe Agent . . . as fundamentally a part of your community as your banker and your doctor . . . is thoroughly familiar with the transportation problems peculiar to your locality, and is eager to serve you.

ATTACK ON AMERICA

GENERAL HAROLD WHITE

INSTALLMENT SIX

SO FAR: In an effort to gain the confidence of two other officers, Fincke and Bravot. He was joined in Mexico City by Lucette Ducos, a French spy who posed as his sweetheart. When he discovered that the foreign troops were ready for an invasion of the U. S., Benning returned to Washington to report to Colonel Flagwill, chief of military intelligence. Flagwill stated that forces were reported massing in the Mediterranean and the Far East. That night Fort Houston, Texas, was heavily bombed. Now continue with the story.

day's alarming rumors along the Rio Grande. Benning leaned tensely forward as if to add his tension to the speed of the cab. The radio screeched on. From time to time the announcer asked that no more telephone calls be attempted. Information would be given to all over the air as fast as received.

Then— "An enemy air force of undetermined strength is reported flying north, its objective may be Washington or New York. All persons are cautioned not to gather in crowds. Please remain calm and stay where you are. It may be that nothing will happen—"

His cab swung to the curb at the Munitions Building, Benning hurried inside. The corridors rang with the chatter of typewriters. Army officers of various rank were glued over desks or assembled in section conference groups as they slaved over the staggering details of the job ahead of them.

Colonel Flagwill was in his office alone. Benning found his chief lolled back in a chair with heels laid absurdly on top of his desk. He was puffing comely at a cigarette, his face relaxed.

"Hello, Benning," Flagwill said laconically. "How you feeling?" Benning said, "Well, sir, I heard the news and thought I ought to report in case you need me for anything."

The colonel stretched himself. "You know, Benning, I saw it had to come, and I feel better now we've got it on our hands. All we need is the President's word to start general mobilization of the Army and National Guard. As soon as the Chief gets back from the White House we'll be in motion." Flagwill indulged a sardonic smile. "Not that our mobilization will do any immediate good to save the country a lot of headaches. But it'll be a start."

"What's the news about bombers headed this direction?" "Our air staff is divided on whether Van Hasek has any bombers that can make Washington and back to Mexico without refueling. But—my own idea—they could have an emergency landing-place somewhere along the way, couldn't they? It'd work this once, anyhow."

"Then there may be a real air threat, sir?" "I urged General Hague to get the President to leave the White House and go over to Chevy Chase for the night," Flagwill averred. "At least to set up in less vulnerable quarters in Washington. There's no use pretending a fool's paradise in this country any longer, Benning. Anything can happen now."

A major from the chief of air service banged into the room, his face ashen, though he spoke collectedly.

"We've picked up what appears to be confirmation, Colonel," the major reported. "As near as can be made out a squadron of seven bombers, with an undetermined force of smaller ships, passed over North Carolina a short time ago. Speed estimated at two hundred miles per hour. Our best time calculations suggest that they could cross the Potomac in approximately two hours, if this is their objective."

"Very good, Major, keep me informed," Flagwill answered, without change of posture or position. He stretched himself again and casually lighted another cigarette. Then he swung his feet to the floor and pulled himself up to his desk.

"I've found a couple of good spy leads, sir," Benning interposed. "Would you care to hear my report?"

"Not right now," Flagwill said decisively. "I've just had a few minutes' relaxation—now for the toughest decision I ever tackled. I've got to have my estimate of this whole tangled situation ready for General Hague by midnight."

"Now you get out among your spies—or you might take a look-see at what our anti-aircraft does for itself. But report to me here at midnight. I may want you to sit in at the chief's conference."

Benning took a taxicab and drove to a point near the Washington Monument where .50 caliber Brownings were setting up to look after attack on smaller ships that might venture within machine-gun range if the assault on Washington materialized.

The gun batteries and searchlights had been thrust across the Potomac into Virginia to catch raiding bombers before they reached the bomb-release line from which they would lay their eggs of destruction as they approached Washington. The searchlights were echeloned, a full complement of fifteen lights, five thousand yards beyond the city. The technical sections with their sound locators, effective up to eleven thousand yards, and their intricate systems and instruments for raking the skies, were perfecting their plans of such defense as a single regiment, at peace strength and short two gun batteries, would be able to give the nation's capital.

Benning said in a firm, calm voice, "Please drive me quickly to the Munitions Building. That means we're at war."

Until those first bombs crashed on Fort Sam Houston there had been no reports given to the public of the foreign forces, and gained the confidence of two other officers, Fincke and Bravot. He was joined in Mexico City by Lucette Ducos, a French spy who posed as his sweetheart. When he discovered that the foreign troops were ready for an invasion of the U. S., Ben-

"You knew, of course," Benning said casually to Fincke, "that the old hawk, Colonel Boggio, is here in Washington?"

Fincke shook a waggish finger and accused, "I thought you warned me we mustn't be so free in mentioning names."

"Correct, but please note that I lowered my voice. Of course, if we're going to be so technical as all that, Fincke, perhaps we'd better identify ourselves to each other officially. Go ahead."

"It's the best cover-up I've ever heard," Fincke replied with enthusiasm. "You can say anything you want so long as you mention just those two things. That's vastly better than having a regular formula for identification which the enemy might pick up on you."

"Fine enough, but let's hear you identify yourself, Fincke."

"Once I knew a man named Palacio Quatres who owned a fine pair of silver sabers," the Austrian confided.

Benning quickly searched through Fincke's remark and decided that the key words, by which Van Hasek agents identified themselves to one another must be "palacio quatres" and "silver sabers."

He said: "How do you like this one, Fincke? There's an old shop known as the Palacio Quatres that has for sale some interesting antiques in the form of silver sabers."

"Just as good as mine, maybe better," Fincke approved.

Boggio had finished his dance. Benning observed that the Italian was getting ready to leave the Shoreham. He made a hurried estimate. The instant arrest of these two men would only net the secret service two more spies who would spill nothing. Only by holding them under close observation could the ramifications of their mischief in Washington be traced down. He decided that Boggio was bigger game and got to his feet.

"Where'll I find you later, Fincke?" he demanded.

Fincke stared at his watch and its dial seemed to bring a nervous quiver to his fingers. His eyes lighted up again in that strange excitement of his.

"I'll be about for only a week or so, Bromlitz," he answered. "If this place closes, we can find each other at meal-times at one of the good places on Connecticut Avenue. But after tonight—we must be very careful."

Benning's cab swung sharply and without warning to the curb as it turned into Pennsylvania Avenue. Vaguely Benning had noted that the driver had his radio tuned in on a dance program. As the car jolted to a stop, the cabman put his radio on full blast and turned to Benning with gaping eyes.

"Did you hear that, mister?" he gasped.

An excited broadcaster, striving for control of his voice, was talking loudly.

"The report is just confirmed—San Antonio attacked from the air—hundreds reported killed by explosive bombs—New Orleans is being bombed at this minute—Galveston is being bombed—air attack on United States without warning—"

Again the driver turned a face distorted by a frenzy of excitement.

"My God, mister!" he shouted. "Is that the real thing?"

Benning said in a firm, calm voice, "Please drive me quickly to the Munitions Building. That means we're at war."

Until those first bombs crashed on Fort Sam Houston there had been no reports given to the public of the foreign forces, and gained the confidence of two other officers, Fincke and Bravot. He was joined in Mexico City by Lucette Ducos, a French spy who posed as his sweetheart. When he discovered that the foreign troops were ready for an invasion of the U. S., Benning returned to Washington to report to Colonel Flagwill, chief of military intelligence. Flagwill stated that forces were reported massing in the Mediterranean and the Far East. That night Fort Houston, Texas, was heavily bombed. Now continue with the story.

day's alarming rumors along the Rio Grande. Benning leaned tensely forward as if to add his tension to the speed of the cab. The radio screeched on. From time to time the announcer asked that no more telephone calls be attempted. Information would be given to all over the air as fast as received.

Then— "An enemy air force of undetermined strength is reported flying north, its objective may be Washington or New York. All persons are cautioned not to gather in crowds. Please remain calm and stay where you are. It may be that nothing will happen—"

His cab swung to the curb at the Munitions Building, Benning hurried inside. The corridors rang with the chatter of typewriters. Army officers of various rank were glued over desks or assembled in section conference groups as they slaved over the staggering details of the job ahead of them.

Colonel Flagwill was in his office alone. Benning found his chief lolled back in a chair with heels laid absurdly on top of his desk. He was puffing comely at a cigarette, his face relaxed.

"Hello, Benning," Flagwill said laconically. "How you feeling?" Benning said, "Well, sir, I heard the news and thought I ought to report in case you need me for anything."

The colonel stretched himself. "You know, Benning, I saw it had to come, and I feel better now we've got it on our hands. All we need is the President's word to start general mobilization of the Army and National Guard. As soon as the Chief gets back from the White House we'll be in motion." Flagwill indulged a sardonic smile. "Not that our mobilization will do any immediate good to save the country a lot of headaches. But it'll be a start."

"What's the news about bombers headed this direction?" "Our air staff is divided on whether Van Hasek has any bombers that can make Washington and back to Mexico without refueling. But—my own idea—they could have an emergency landing-place somewhere along the way, couldn't they? It'd work this once, anyhow."

"Then there may be a real air threat, sir?" "I urged General Hague to get the President to leave the White House and go over to Chevy Chase for the night," Flagwill averred. "At least to set up in less vulnerable quarters in Washington. There's no use pretending a fool's paradise in this country any longer, Benning. Anything can happen now."

A major from the chief of air service banged into the room, his face ashen, though he spoke collectedly.

"We've picked up what appears to be confirmation, Colonel," the major reported. "As near as can be made out a squadron of seven bombers, with an undetermined force of smaller ships, passed over North Carolina a short time ago. Speed estimated at two hundred miles per hour. Our best time calculations suggest that they could cross the Potomac in approximately two hours, if this is their objective."

"Very good, Major, keep me informed," Flagwill answered, without change of posture or position. He stretched himself again and casually lighted another cigarette. Then he swung his feet to the floor and pulled himself up to his desk.

"I've found a couple of good spy leads, sir," Benning interposed. "Would you care to hear my report?"

"Not right now," Flagwill said decisively. "I've just had a few minutes' relaxation—now for the toughest decision I ever tackled. I've got to have my estimate of this whole tangled situation ready for General Hague by midnight."

"Now you get out among your spies—or you might take a look-see at what our anti-aircraft does for itself. But report to me here at midnight. I may want you to sit in at the chief's conference."

Benning took a taxicab and drove to a point near the Washington Monument where .50 caliber Brownings were setting up to look after attack on smaller ships that might venture within machine-gun range if the assault on Washington materialized.

The gun batteries and searchlights had been thrust across the Potomac into Virginia to catch raiding bombers before they reached the bomb-release line from which they would lay their eggs of destruction as they approached Washington. The searchlights were echeloned, a full complement of fifteen lights, five thousand yards beyond the city. The technical sections with their sound locators, effective up to eleven thousand yards, and their intricate systems and instruments for raking the skies, were perfecting their plans of such defense as a single regiment, at peace strength and short two gun batteries, would be able to give the nation's capital.

Benning said in a firm, calm voice, "Please drive me quickly to the Munitions Building. That means we're at war."

Until those first bombs crashed on Fort Sam Houston there had been no reports given to the public of the foreign forces, and gained the confidence of two other officers, Fincke and Bravot. He was joined in Mexico City by Lucette Ducos, a French spy who posed as his sweetheart. When he discovered that the foreign troops were ready for an invasion of the U. S., Benning returned to Washington to report to Colonel Flagwill, chief of military intelligence. Flagwill stated that forces were reported massing in the Mediterranean and the Far East. That night Fort Houston, Texas, was heavily bombed. Now continue with the story.

day's alarming rumors along the Rio Grande. Benning leaned tensely forward as if to add his tension to the speed of the cab. The radio screeched on. From time to time the announcer asked that no more telephone calls be attempted. Information would be given to all over the air as fast as received.

Then— "An enemy air force of undetermined strength is reported flying north, its objective may be Washington or New York. All persons are cautioned not to gather in crowds. Please remain calm and stay where you are. It may be that nothing will happen—"

His cab swung to the curb at the Munitions Building, Benning hurried inside. The corridors rang with the chatter of typewriters. Army officers of various rank were glued over desks or assembled in section conference groups as they slaved over the staggering details of the job ahead of them.

Colonel Flagwill was in his office alone. Benning found his chief lolled back in a chair with heels laid absurdly on top of his desk. He was puffing comely at a cigarette, his face relaxed.

"Hello, Benning," Flagwill said laconically. "How you feeling?" Benning said, "Well, sir, I heard the news and thought I ought to report in case you need me for anything."

The colonel stretched himself. "You know, Benning, I saw it had to come, and I feel better now we've got it on our hands. All we need is the President's word to start general mobilization of the Army and National Guard. As soon as the Chief gets back from the White House we'll be in motion." Flagwill indulged a sardonic smile. "Not that our mobilization will do any immediate good to save the country a lot of headaches. But it'll be a start."

"What's the news about bombers headed this direction?" "Our air staff is divided on whether Van Hasek has any bombers that can make Washington and back to Mexico without refueling. But—my own idea—they could have an emergency landing-place somewhere along the way, couldn't they? It'd work this once, anyhow."

"Then there may be a real air threat, sir?" "I urged General Hague to get the President to leave the White House and go over to Chevy Chase for the night," Flagwill averred. "At least to set up in less vulnerable quarters in Washington. There's no use pretending a fool's paradise in this country any longer, Benning. Anything can happen now."

A major from the chief of air service banged into the room, his face ashen, though he spoke collectedly.

"We've picked up what appears to be confirmation, Colonel," the major reported. "As near as can be made out a squadron of seven bombers, with an undetermined force of smaller ships, passed over North Carolina a short time ago. Speed estimated at two hundred miles per hour. Our best time calculations suggest that they could cross the Potomac in approximately two hours, if this is their objective."

"Very good, Major, keep me informed," Flagwill answered, without change of posture or position. He stretched himself again and casually lighted another cigarette. Then he swung his feet to the floor and pulled himself up to his desk.

"I've found a couple of good spy leads, sir," Benning interposed. "Would you care to hear my report?"

"Not right now," Flagwill said decisively. "I've just had a few minutes' relaxation—now for the toughest decision I ever tackled. I've got to have my estimate of this whole tangled situation ready for General Hague by midnight."

"Now you get out among your spies—or you might take a look-see at what our anti-aircraft does for itself. But report to me here at midnight. I may want you to sit in at the chief's conference."

Benning took a taxicab and drove to a point near the Washington Monument where .50 caliber Brownings were setting up to look after attack on smaller ships that might venture within machine-gun range if the assault on Washington materialized.

The gun batteries and searchlights had been thrust across the Potomac into Virginia to catch raiding bombers before they reached the bomb-release line from which they would lay their eggs of destruction as they approached Washington. The searchlights were echeloned, a full complement of fifteen lights, five thousand yards beyond the city. The technical sections with their sound locators, effective up to eleven thousand yards, and their intricate systems and instruments for raking the skies, were perfecting their plans of such defense as a single regiment, at peace strength and short two gun batteries, would be able to give the nation's capital.

Benning said in a firm, calm voice, "Please drive me quickly to the Munitions Building. That means we're at war."

Until those first bombs crashed on Fort Sam Houston there had been no reports given to the public of the foreign forces, and gained the confidence of two other officers, Fincke and Bravot. He was joined in Mexico City by Lucette Ducos, a French spy who posed as his sweetheart. When he discovered that the foreign troops were ready for an invasion of the U. S., Benning returned to Washington to report to Colonel Flagwill, chief of military intelligence. Flagwill stated that forces were reported massing in the Mediterranean and the Far East. That night Fort Houston, Texas, was heavily bombed. Now continue with the story.

day's alarming rumors along the Rio Grande. Benning leaned tensely forward as if to add his tension to the speed of the cab. The radio screeched on. From time to time the announcer asked that no more telephone calls be attempted. Information would be given to all over the air as fast as received.

Then— "An enemy air force of undetermined strength is reported flying north, its objective may be Washington or New York. All persons are cautioned not to gather in crowds. Please remain calm and stay where you are. It may be that nothing will happen—"

His cab swung to the curb at the Munitions Building, Benning hurried inside. The corridors rang with the chatter of typewriters. Army officers of various rank were glued over desks or assembled in section conference groups as they slaved over the staggering details of the job ahead of them.

Colonel Flagwill was in his office alone. Benning found his chief lolled back in a chair with heels laid absurdly on top of his desk. He was puffing comely at a cigarette, his face relaxed.

"Hello, Benning," Flagwill said laconically. "How you feeling?" Benning said, "Well, sir, I heard the news and thought I ought to report in case you need me for anything."

The colonel stretched himself. "You know, Benning, I saw it had to come, and I feel better now we've got it on our hands. All we need is the President's word to start general mobilization of the Army and National Guard. As soon as the Chief gets back from the White House we'll be in motion." Flagwill indulged a sardonic smile. "Not that our mobilization will do any immediate good to save the country a lot of headaches. But it'll be a start."

"What's the news about bombers headed this direction?" "Our air staff is divided on whether Van Hasek has any bombers that can make Washington and back to Mexico without refueling. But—my own idea—they could have an emergency landing-place somewhere along the way, couldn't they? It'd work this once, anyhow."

"Then there may be a real air threat, sir?" "I urged General Hague to get the President to leave the White House and go over to Chevy Chase for the night," Flagwill averred. "At least to set up in less vulnerable quarters in Washington. There's no use pretending a fool's paradise in this country any longer, Benning. Anything can happen now."

A major from the chief of air service banged into the room, his face ashen, though he spoke collectedly.

"We've picked up what appears to be confirmation, Colonel," the major reported. "As near as can be made out a squadron of seven bombers, with an undetermined force of smaller ships, passed over North Carolina a short time ago. Speed estimated at two hundred miles per hour. Our best time calculations suggest that they could cross the Potomac in approximately two hours, if this is their objective."

"Very good, Major, keep me informed," Flagwill answered, without change of posture or position. He stretched himself again and casually lighted another cigarette. Then he swung his feet to the floor and pulled himself up to his desk.

"I've found a couple of good spy leads, sir," Benning interposed. "Would you care to hear my report?"

"Not right now," Flagwill said decisively. "I've just had a few minutes' relaxation—now for the toughest decision I ever tackled. I've got to have my estimate of this whole tangled situation ready for General Hague by midnight."

"Now you get out among your spies—or you might take a look-see at what our anti-aircraft does for itself. But report to me here at midnight. I may want you to sit in at the chief's conference."

Benning took a taxicab and drove to a point near the Washington Monument where .50 caliber Brownings were setting up to look after attack on smaller ships that might venture within machine-gun range if the assault on Washington materialized.

The gun batteries and searchlights had been thrust across the Potomac into Virginia to catch raiding bombers before they reached the bomb-release line from which they would lay their eggs of destruction as they approached Washington. The searchlights were echeloned, a full complement of fifteen lights, five thousand yards beyond the city. The technical sections with their sound locators, effective up to eleven thousand yards, and their intricate systems and instruments for raking the skies, were perfecting their plans of such defense as a single regiment, at peace strength and short two gun batteries, would be able to give the nation's capital.

Benning said in a firm, calm voice, "Please drive me quickly to the Munitions Building. That means we're at war."

Until those first bombs crashed on Fort Sam Houston there had been no reports given to the public of the foreign forces, and gained the confidence of two other officers, Fincke and Bravot. He was joined in Mexico City by Lucette Ducos, a French spy who posed as his sweetheart. When he discovered that the foreign troops were ready for an invasion of the U. S., Benning returned to Washington to report to Colonel Flagwill, chief of military intelligence. Flagwill stated that forces were reported massing in the Mediterranean and the Far East. That night Fort Houston, Texas, was heavily bombed. Now continue with the story.

day's alarming rumors along the Rio Grande. Benning leaned tensely forward as if to add his tension to the speed of the cab. The radio screeched on. From time to time the announcer asked that no more telephone calls be attempted. Information would be given to all over the air as fast as received.

Then— "An enemy air force of undetermined strength is reported flying north, its objective may be Washington or New York. All persons are cautioned not to gather in crowds. Please remain calm and stay where you are. It may be that nothing will happen—"

His cab swung to the curb at the Munitions Building, Benning hurried inside. The corridors rang with the chatter of typewriters. Army officers of various rank were glued over desks or assembled in section conference groups as they slaved over the staggering details of the job ahead of them.

Colonel Flagwill was in his office alone. Benning found his chief lolled back in a chair with heels laid absurdly on top of his desk. He was puffing comely at a cigarette, his face relaxed.

"Hello, Benning," Flagwill said laconically. "How you feeling?" Benning said, "Well, sir, I heard the news and thought I ought to report in case you need me for anything."

The colonel stretched himself. "You know, Benning, I saw it had to come, and I feel better now we've got it on our hands. All we need is the President's word to start general mobilization of the Army and National Guard. As soon as the Chief gets back from the White House we'll be in motion." Flagwill indulged a sardonic smile. "Not that our mobilization will do any immediate good to save the country a lot of headaches. But it'll be a start."

"What's the news about bombers headed this direction?" "Our air staff is divided on whether Van Hasek has any bombers that can make Washington and back to Mexico without refueling. But—my own idea—they could have an emergency landing-place somewhere along the way, couldn't they? It'd work this once, anyhow."

"Then there may be a real air threat, sir?" "I urged General Hague to get the President to leave the White House and go over to Chevy Chase for the night," Flagwill averred. "At least to set up in less vulnerable quarters in Washington. There's no use pretending a fool's paradise in this country any longer, Benning. Anything can happen now."

A major from the chief of air service banged into the room, his face ashen, though he spoke collectedly.

"We've picked up what appears to be confirmation, Colonel," the major reported. "As near as can be made out a squadron of seven bombers, with an undetermined force of smaller ships, passed over North Carolina a short time ago. Speed estimated at two hundred miles per hour. Our best time calculations suggest that they could cross the Potomac in approximately two hours, if this is their objective."

"Very good, Major, keep me informed," Flagwill answered, without change of posture or position. He stretched himself again and casually lighted another cigarette. Then he swung his feet to the floor and pulled himself up to his desk.

"I've found a couple of good spy leads, sir," Benning interposed. "Would you care to hear my report?"

"Not right now," Flagwill said decisively. "I've just had a few minutes' relaxation—now for the toughest decision I ever tackled. I've got to have my estimate of this whole tangled situation ready for General Hague by midnight."

"Now you get out among your spies—or you might take a look-see at what our anti-aircraft does for itself. But report to me here at midnight. I may want you to sit in at the chief's conference."

Benning took a taxicab and drove to a point near the Washington Monument where .50 caliber Brownings were setting up to look after attack on smaller ships that might venture within machine-gun range if the assault on Washington materialized.

The gun batteries and searchlights had been thrust across the Potomac into Virginia to catch raiding bombers before they reached the bomb-release line from which they would lay their eggs of destruction as they approached Washington. The searchlights were echeloned, a full complement of fifteen lights, five thousand yards beyond the city. The technical sections with their sound locators, effective up to eleven thousand yards, and their intricate systems and instruments for raking the skies, were perfecting their plans of such defense as a single regiment, at peace strength and short two gun batteries, would be able to give the nation's capital.

Benning said in a firm, calm voice, "Please drive me quickly to the Munitions Building. That means we're at war."

Until those first bombs crashed on Fort Sam Houston there had been no reports given to the public of the foreign forces, and gained the confidence of two other officers, Fincke and Bravot. He was joined in Mexico City by Lucette Ducos, a French spy who posed as his sweetheart. When he discovered that the foreign troops were ready for an invasion of the U. S., Benning returned to Washington to report to Colonel Flagwill, chief of military intelligence. Flagwill stated that forces were reported massing in the Mediterranean and the Far East. That night Fort Houston, Texas, was heavily bombed. Now continue with the story.

day's alarming rumors along the Rio Grande. Benning leaned tensely forward as if to add his tension to the speed of the cab. The radio screeched on. From time to time the announcer asked that no more telephone calls be attempted. Information would be given to all over the air as fast as received.

Then— "An enemy air force of undetermined strength is reported flying north, its objective may be Washington or New York. All persons are cautioned not to gather in crowds. Please remain calm and stay where you are. It may be that nothing will happen—"

His cab swung to the curb at the Munitions Building, Benning hurried inside. The corridors rang with the chatter of typewriters. Army officers of various rank were glued over desks or assembled in section conference groups as they slaved over the staggering details of the job ahead of them.

Colonel Flagwill was in his office alone. Benning found his chief lolled back in a chair with heels laid absurdly on top of his desk. He was puffing comely at a cigarette, his face relaxed.

"Hello, Benning," Flagwill said laconically. "How you feeling?" Benning said, "Well, sir, I heard the news and thought I ought to report in case you need me for anything."

The colonel stretched himself. "You know, Benning, I saw it had to come, and I feel better now we've got it on our hands. All we need is the President's word to start general mobilization of the Army and National Guard. As soon as the Chief gets back from the White House we'll be in motion." Flagwill indulged a sardonic smile. "Not that our mobilization will do any immediate good to save the country a lot of headaches. But it'll be a start."

"What's the news about bombers headed this direction?" "Our air staff is divided on whether Van Hasek has any bombers that can make Washington and back to Mexico without refueling. But—my own idea—they could have an emergency landing-place somewhere along the way, couldn't they? It'd work this once, anyhow."

"Then there may be a real air threat, sir?" "I urged General Hague to get the President to leave the White House and go over to Chevy Chase for the night," Flagwill averred. "At least to set up in less vulnerable quarters in Washington. There's no use pretending a fool's paradise in this country any longer, Benning. Anything can happen now."

A major from the chief of air service banged into the room, his face ashen, though he spoke collectedly.

"We've picked up what appears to be confirmation, Colonel," the major reported. "As near as can be made out a squadron of seven bombers, with an undetermined force of smaller ships, passed over North Carolina a short time ago. Speed estimated at two hundred miles per hour. Our best time calculations suggest that they could cross the Potomac in approximately two hours, if this is their objective."

"Very good, Major, keep me informed," Flagwill answered, without change of posture or position. He stretched himself again and casually lighted another cigarette. Then he swung his feet to the floor and pulled himself up to his desk.

"I've found a couple of good spy leads, sir," Benning interposed. "Would you care to hear my report?"

"Not right now," Flagwill said decisively. "I've

CLASSIFIED

CLASSIFIED AD RATES
 First insertion—1½¢ per word.
 Each later insertion—1¢ per word.
MINIMUM CHARGE 25¢ PER WEEK.
LEGAL NOTICES—Same as above.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING—1½¢ per word per week.
DISPLAY ADVERTISING—Rates furnished on application.
 All Advertising is CASH WITH ORDER unless advertiser is in business and desires to open a regular advertising account. No account opened for less than $1.

FOR SALE—Used cars for sale or trade and automobile loans. Easy payments. Jim W. Garde, San Saba, Texas. 2-14-41p.

SORE THROAT - TONSILLITIS! Nothing equals a good mop for sore throat or tonsillitis and our ANAESTHESIA-MOP is guaranteed to give prompt relief or your money refunded. Hudson Bros. Druggists. 11-22-11c.

Good used cars to trade for all kinds of livestock. You can see them at Fox Service Station, east side of square.—Key Johnson. 40c.

BABY CHECKS—Burdick's baby chick track will be in Goldthwaite every Tuesday at 11:20 a. m. and at Mullin at 10:20 with a load of chicks throughout the season. Stop at Chapman's Feed Mill. Prices from $3.50 to $5.90. All popular breeds. 2-14-3p.

DON'T SCRATCH! Every jar of Parafix Ointment is guaranteed to relieve itching of eczema, itch, ringworm, athlete's foot and other minor skin irritations. Large jar 50¢ at Clements Drug Store. 11-22-11c.

FOR SALE—1 milk cow, 1 dry cow, 1 calf. C. J. Crawford. 11p.

LOST—One red pig with a white stripe across shoulders. J. M. Kemp, Caradan, Tex. 2-21-11p.

AVAILABLE AT ONCE—Rawleigh Route of 800 families. Only reliable men need apply. Good profits to willing workers. No experience required to start. Write today. Rawleigh's Dept. TXB-267-2, Memphis, Tenn. pd.

FOR RENT—A nice two room furnished apartment, very convenient to business part of town. Call 21W. 2-21-11c.

FOR SALE—A nice residence lot, very cheap, apply at Eagle Office. 2-21-11c.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—1 good 2-year-old horse; 600 bundles of bagart; 300 bundles of millet. Charles Hays, 8 miles west of Friddy, or Route 1, Mullin. 2-21-11p.

STRAYED OR STOLEN—8 mutton sheep branded D on right hip. Ear mark crop to right swallow fork left ear. Will pay $3.00 reward for information leading to recovery of sheep. If stolen will pay $100.00 reward for conviction and sentence and delivery to penitentiary of thief. C. J. Crawford. 2-21-11p.

C. A. (Clint) Head Buried at Center City Monday

Clinton Alexander Head, son of Judge J. B. and Asenetha Head, was born in Alabama, Sept. 14, 1856. He came to Texas with his parents when he was a small boy and settled in Johnson county. Later the family moved to the Center City community. April 6, 1876, Mills county was later organized and his father J. B. Head became the first County Judge.

C. A. Head became a successful farmer in the community operating a threshing and grist mill, in combination with farming and stock raising.

He was married to Missouri Welch, November 18, 1881. To this holy compact, nine children were born. The first three died in infancy and the following were at the funeral: Jimmie, of Lometa, Viola, (Mrs. Chappell) of Goldthwaite, Wesley, of Center City, Ellis of Eastland, Nora, (Mrs. Mitchell) of Smiley, and Barton, of Brownwood.

C. A. Head was active in civic life in the county, serving as school trustee, chairman of precinct election board, and county commissioner for some years. He joined the Methodist church early in life and was a great help in the religious life of the community, serving as steward forty eight years, Sunday school superintendent for a some thirty years. He gave leadership and guidance for his family in Christian living.

He never did retire completely, but on account of his health he slowed down in his work. He moved to Goldthwaite in the fall of 1940 and lived here until his death which came February 16, 1941.

Much can be said to the credit of C. A. Head. He was truly Christian in all his relationships and stood by his convictions. His work is a better place by his having lived, and in the Great Beyond, many will rise up and call him blessed.

"More home like seems the vast unknown,
 Since he has entered there,
 To follow him were not so hard
 What ever he may fare.
 He cannot be where God is not
 On any sea or shore
 What ever betides Thy love abides
 Our God for evermore."

The funeral was held in the afternoon the following day after his death. A brief service was held at the home. Mrs. Nora Berry played a piano solo Handel's Largo, and Rev. Henry Marshall, pastor of Goldthwaite Methodist Church spoke some words of comfort and offered prayer. The body was taken to the Methodist church of Center City where a most beautiful and comforting service was conducted by Dr. Harold G. Cook, District Superintendent, and his son "Bunny" pastor of Mr. Head. Brother Kelly an old time friend offered a gracious prayer. Brother Bunny sang the beautiful hymn of hope, "The City Four Square". The body was laid to rest in the presence of many friends, and the grave was covered with lovely flower sprays presented by kind friends.

He is survived by his wife, six children, 23 grand children, 3 great grandchildren, five brothers, three sisters. There were many visitors from out of the community.
 —His son-in-law, T. M. Mitchell

Mullin News—
 (From the Enterprise)
 Mrs. Eula Harkey spent the week-end with her daughter, Miss Doris Harkey in Fort Worth. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Patterson and daughter, Dorothy of Goldthwaite were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Patterson Sunday.
 John C. Wright sold his fine registered herd of Herefords, consisting of 45 cows and one bull to George M. Fletcher the first of the week.
 Mr. Wright is one of the many in Chesser Valley who leased his land to the Government.
 Mr. and Mrs. Z. D. Kemp of Post were week end guests of his brother J. S. Kemp and family and her brother, Mr. McNutt of Lake Merritt. Z. D. Kemp informed the Enterprise editor that he owned the Mullin Messenger in 1902 and changed the name to Enterprise and in those days used an old time Army press, later a Washington press.

In Memoriam

W. H. THOMPSON

WHEREAS, on January 23, 1941, death ended the earthly career of W. H. Thompson, former mayor of the City of Brownwood, and now, on this the 10th day of February, 1941 it is fitting that the City Council of the City of Brownwood pay to his memory a final tribute; and

WHEREAS, W. H. Thompson was a colorful figure in the early history of Brownwood, and was for many years identified with the business life of this community. He first came to Brownwood in 1897, and served as cashier of the Old First National Bank. After several years of banking, he entered the wholesale grocery business here. Later he spent several years in business in other Cities of Texas. After his return to Brownwood, he spent the remainder of his life here. He was elected mayor of the City of Brownwood in 1930. He served two terms as mayor. The period of Mr. Thompson's service as mayor was during the worst part of the Great Depression, and municipal affairs needed a strong heart to resolve, a head to contrive, and a hand to execute. Mr. Thompson was the heart, the hand and the head, and it may be said that he filled three positions for a time, mayor, city manager and city judge, and filled them well. He was also president of Greenleaf Cemetery Association and Democratic chairman for Ward Two for a number of years. He was the father of our Municipal Gas System, which was regarded by him as the outstanding achievement of the administration.

Mr. Thompson, as his friends knew him, was loyal. He was possessed of indomitable courage; he was outspoken in his opinions, and untiring in his advocacy of what he believed was right. He never allowed his personal feeling to enter into his feelings for those who vigorously opposed his policies in city government, but many of those who opposed him were and continued to be his warmest friends. He had seen many changes in the process of the development of our community from a frontier to its present level of civilization. He was loyal with all his heart to his country. He had aided in establishing the Brownwood, which he later served as mayor.

We know that we shall see his familiar figure no more among the living, but his memory will live on among us. We mourn his passing. We deeply appreciate the many things he did to make our community a better place in which to live. His death was a loss to our community. He will be missed at City Hall, where he was frequently a visitor, and he will be missed by his many friends with whom we join to mourn his loss.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Brownwood in regular session assembled, That in the passing of former Mayor W. H. Thompson, we express our sorrow, and to his relatives we express our deepest sympathy in the severance of these earthly ties; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the City Council of the City of Brownwood, and that a copy be given to the press, and to his relatives who survive him.
 WENDELL MAYES, Mayor.
 E. B. HENLEY, JR., DAVID CAMP, JR., O. C. PARKER, Aldermen.

CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to thank everyone for the help and words of comfort shown us during the illness and death of our beloved father and husband, C. A. Head. We are especially grateful to Dr. Campbell and the nurse Miss Kauhns for their faithful service. The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Goldthwaite and the Women of Center City community who provided a lovely dinner for the family and visitors.
 Gratefully yours,
 Mrs. C. A. Head and children.

REXALL'S BIRTHDAY SALE—Clements Drug and Jewelry Store.

NOTICE
 A number of communications and wedding anniversaries arrived at the Eagle office too late for this week's paper and will be published next week.

Star School News

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Soules and little son, Horace Dale, Mr. John Hamilton spent ten days in Forsan, Texas this last week. Mrs. Austin Jones has been very ill at her home, but is improving the last few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Boots Boykin are proud of their daughter, little Patsy Ann, who arrived in their home Thursday, February 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Teague, Mrs. Callie Cole, and Ima Pearl Hurst visited their mother, Mrs. S. T. Hurst Sunday.

The grammar grades were all very happy Valentine Day—since it was a day for us all to express our friendship and love to our friends with paper and candy hearts. Mrs. Guice surprised the third and fourth grades groups with a "broom sucker" at our Valentine party. We thank Mrs. Guice for her token of love for us.

The P.T.A. met Thursday, Feb. 13, with the vice-president, Mrs. Jack Kirby in the chair and Mrs. O. Z. Cox as acting secretary. A very interesting program was rendered. Mr. Smith, Mr. Hodge, and Mrs. Cline gave interesting talks, expressing their appreciations for their new surroundings in the new building.

The senior class of Star High School will begin work on their play Wednesday night. The date for presentation will be announced later. Watch for this announcement as you will not want to miss this mystery farce, a famous Samuel French production, that is sure to make you forget all your troubles for a good two hours, while "Aunt Susie Shoots the Works." You will say that it is the funniest bit of fast moving comedy that you have seen for a long time. The two modern, colored smart alecks, Gilvert Jeske and Ione Waddell, are smart but no amount of wise-cracking could ever beat a love bug, especially a colored love bug.

The English Department will have their room ready for inspection by February 25, the date of our Fair and Calf Show. We invite all patrons and others interested in academic work to visit our room. We shall have some exhibits of an interesting nature, we hope.

The senior class, seventh grade and freshmen have been busy on this project.

The Sophomore Class Report
 This our first time to report is rather a difficult task. Our class is planning a winter roast for next Friday night. We elected Mrs. Tremble, our primary teacher for our class sponsor. Our sophomores were glad to welcome our new typing teacher, Miss Rape, and we believe she will be a success. We were proud to move into our new building as it seems to be a nice one. We really do appreciate it. We wonder why Miss Bobbie Jean Moore was seen parked under the big live oak tree at Evans Saturday night.

I heard that Bruce and Evelyn and Norris and Leonard just had three flats Saturday night. Miss Virgie May Soules is a new office girl here. I'm sure she'll make a success of her new job. Who was that light brunette Virgie May with Saturday night.

The freshmen are happy because they received so many Valentines this last week. Who was that Miss Jonell Wigley was with Saturday night. Miss Norma Jean Ball seems to have a new boy friend. We will soon be having our six weeks exams. Everyone is preparing or will be this time next week. Our class has no lessons under Miss Rape but we all enjoy her being in the school. Miss Vondean Lucas did not seem to have a date Saturday night because they were both at church Sunday. We have said anything that has very little interest, but since this is my first report in the paper it is very difficult to think of anything, however, we will enjoy and are happy to be able to seeing our name in the paper, have our school represented in the news items.

REXALL'S BIRTHDAY SALE—Clements Drug and Jewelry Store.

NOTICE
 A number of communications and wedding anniversaries arrived at the Eagle office too late for this week's paper and will be published next week.

Rock Springs

By Mrs. Eula Nickols

I didn't get home from my visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis last Tuesday to get my letter ready to print. I had an awfully nice visit.

I also visited in the Manning and Bro. I. R. Davis homes. There was Sunday school Sunday morning at eleven.

If it isn't raining or too cold there is to be one of those snappy musicals in my home Friday night (tonight). So be sure and come and bring your instrument. There has been more boys joined the J. D. Berry hill billy band so come here them. Mrs. Harry Oglesby will be the pianist.

Star, I really enjoyed your interesting letter last week.

Those who killed hogs that last real cold spell were lucky. But those who killed last week are not so lucky. Maybe we will have a norther soon.

Don't forget February 7th the workers meeting will be with the Big Valley Church. If it is a cold day don't stay home for they will have a good fire. They use gas. Don't forget the date like some did last month.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Head and children in the going of their husband and father. May our heavenly father be your guide on through your life.

J. T. Stark sowed oats for Mrs. McClary last Saturday. Mrs. Sam Self spent Monday in the Roberts home.

All of my boys and their wives visited me Sunday except Dwight and wife. I also enjoyed Berwyn Fulton and family from town Sunday afternoon. Duke Clements and wife made a short call, too—also Dorothy Tyson from Center Point.

Several of the ladies and their children went to the Valentine program at the school house Friday afternoon. George Austin Cooke, three years old and James Wesley Nickols, two years old gave a reading. Seems they are exceedingly smart for their ages.

Mmes. Self, Bohannon and Nickols visited with Mrs. W. A. Daniel Saturday night. Mr. Bohannon went to the city after Billie Ruth Daniel and some of her girl friends came home with her for the night.

Mmes. Gatlin and Woody from town visited with Mrs. Self Saturday.

Rudolph Cooke and family visited in the Nixon home Saturday night.

V. D. Tyson, Jr. and family visited Saturday night with James Nickols and family.

Landy Ellis and wife from Stephenville spent a few hours with their daughter, Mrs. Richard Sowders and children last Tuesday.

Otis and Bess Hutchings from Center Point and wife from the Nickols night and the night Nickols at the same home. Mrs. Sam Self, the Bohannon, Jack Sanders, Mullin visited home Monday.

36 Months For Home

Thirty-six months ago home owners had pairs and minor any work desired at a low rate of interest to Paul McCullough, Lumber Company, ment is made to cover the cost of the bor and may also ing, painting and floors.

Anyone interested in the method of long time do well to read the Cullough Lumber Co. vertisement in this Eagle.

One Out of Seven Have Electricity On Farms Today

AUSTIN, February 20—A progress report on the electrification Administration program in Texas was today by B. Frank W. State Director for the Government Report.

In 1935, Mr. White were only 11,466 farms enjoying the benefits service, but today 70,668 farmhomes and additional rural establishments, schools, dairies and shops are dairies—an increase of 500 per cent.

Today, one farm White said, can flip and call electricity to light the night and the red tasks better and by.

REA-financed cooperatives today stretch 136 miles through 136 Texas. New lines for construction is already soon put service at doors of many thousands farm families along 500 miles of highline revealed.

The progress report made up this week's of the U. S. Government series over the Texas work.

Anklets

GO ON A COLOR SPREE!
 Everything from bold splashy colors to soft pastels. Perk up daytime and play-time outfits with anklets... anklets... anklets!

There are Styles for Everyone

- | | |
|--|--|
| Misses' and Women's 10c Smart berry anklets, in white, pastels, dark shades. 15c White with bright striped cuffs or solid pastels and dark colors. 25c White, pastels or dark colors with smart ribbed elastic cuffs. | CREW SOCKS Children's and Misses' Sizes 10c White, pastels or dark colors. The deep elastic cuffs will stay very neatly in place. 15c Combed cotton in 4-color-striped patterns. As gay to look at as they are practical to wear. |
|--|--|

Extra Special This Week

Regular 59c and 69c, printed and plain colors in Spun Rayons and Crown Tested Crepes.

Special 49c

All on Big Table, New Colors, New Designs. See Them and Buy Them. They are Good.

YARBOROUGH'S