Big Demand For Birth Certificates

Since the requirement of all male persons to register for military service there has been a scramble for proof of dates of births. According to the birth registration law, after a birth has been reported to local authorities it is then forwarded to Austin for permanent record. In many instances the reporting of births was considered a minor and useless matter and as a result there are a vast number of men now nearing the military age whose birth has never been recorded.

The following will show how the demand for birth certificates has increased, according to in-

TEXT FOR TEXAS

By George C. Hester

What Governor Sam Jones Told the Texas Legislature

Last week, Governor Sam Jones, in a brief address before the Texas Legislature, told about the reforms recently accomplished in Louisiana. The thought was a most timely one for Texas because our state has done little or nothing to modernize its gov-

Here is what Jones said has been accomplished in Louisiana. When he entered office, there were 174 boards, commissions and department. After reorganization there were 20 departments. Before reorganization, twelve departments had 12,000 employees, after reorganization the same twelve departments had only 5,500 employees. In the revenue department alone, for example, the number of employees was reduced from 750 to 450, and at the same time the tax collections from the same sources increased by $3,000,000 annually. Just snother example of efficiency in Government that comes as a result of eliminating useless dead-heads put there by political spoilsmen upon the apparent theory that the primary purpose of government is to provide plenty of soft

But Sam Jones' reforms went much further than that of merely reorganizing the administrative agencies. He instituted a central fiscal system, just as we are advocating in Texas, under which there is some responsible supervision of state spending. He H. V. These reforms are giving Louisiana an entirely new state government. The squeals and complaints from the victims, and especially at the Fort Worth Livestock Lampasasfrom the old political enemies of Jones, are, of course, now being heard. They will continue to wail long and loud with every sort of charge and accusation.-That is to be expected.

Incidentally, let us remind ourselves that the kind of reorganization enacted in Louisiana is the same kind by which Governor Chandler balanced the budget of Kentucky by wiping nett was the place for a lovely week. out a $21,000,000 deficit in four years. It is similar to the program social event, when she was hostenacted two years ago in Minnesota, under Governor Stassen, ess at a Pink and Blue Shower Edinburg was killed instantly hich is now saving that state some $11,000,000 annually, on a in complement of her friend, Wednesday night, February 26, udget that is only three-fourths that of Texas.

It is only in such terms, and by such concrete comparisons, that we can really comprehend the meaning of this problem Saba River Saturday night on pounds of 12-month fleece were of modernizing our state government, and especially its bearing the Jess Smith place west of contracted at 40 cents a pound upon the interests of the hard-pressed taxpayer. Measured by town every standard of efficient and economical government, our system in Texas today is one of the most inefficient irresponsible, and wasteful in the entire union. It reaks with spoils from top to bottom. Its accounting and reporting systems are 50 years out of date. Its system of fiscal control is a joke. The needless and multiplied agencies only further confuse and intensify the defects. The entire situation presents the most pressing problem in state politics today, and its solution affords the best, and only sound and permanent solution of the State's fiscal crisis.

CHALLENGE

Let us be challenged by the heights to which men like Correlves can rise. Let us be proud of the fact that we are human cotton program for 1941 by rebeings and, because we are human beings, we contain within courselves resources of strength and power great enough to enable tus to climb far and high. I know that there is much disillusionment, much discouragement, much temptation to take the easy cording to requirements recomway, the short cut, to do the expedient rather than the right. But twe are men-and because we are men we can rise above the dull Level of yielding. It is not what destiny does with us, but what we proval of Washington, will endo with destiny that determines what we shall become. When a man is determined, what can stop him?

CHRIST REJECTED

LESSON TEXT—Luke 20:9-20. GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.—Matthew 5:11.

Rejection of Christ by Israel as a nation is pictured in our lesson. We know how the judgment of God has come upon that nation because of its failure to receive Him and be-lieve on Him. God had to take the vineyard from them and give it to others (v. 16).

Men today reject Christ, and we find that the sin which causes them to do so and the judgment which follows are essentially the same as in the case of Israel. There is a reason for Christ rejection, and there is a certain time of answering to God for

I. Why Men Reject Christ (vv.

Self-will, the very heart of all sin, underlies every refusal to let Christ have His rightful control over our lives. There are two forces which may dominate and direct my life-God's will or self-will. Just as love of God is the essence of all virtue (Matt. 22:37-38), so love of self is the essence of all sin.

The leaders of Israel, both political and religious, had one great fear which dominated all of their thinking concerning Jesus; namely, that they would lose all their authority if He were recognized by the people for what the leaders must have known Him to be—the Son of God, and their rightful King. God had entrusted to them as underservants the care of His vineyard, and in their wicked greed they had determined to have it all for themselves, even though it meant destroying the Son and rightful Heir.

We need only a moment's reflection to realize that this is exactly what occurs every time someone now rejects Christ. It is because in self-will that person decides that the one who has a right to his life is not to have it. There are many sins, but this is the root sin of them

II. What Happens When Men Reject Christ (vv. 16-18).

Judgment. It came to Israel, as all history even to this dark day so strikingly testifies. Just so, it will come to every one who rejects

It is not a slight matter of comparative unimportance whether a man accepts or rejects Christ. He local church that he does not like, or the preacher does not exactly suit him; or perchance he hides behind self the worst of hypocrites.

All of these excuses do not hide the fact that in self-will he is rejecting God's will for his life Christ. At the end of that road he will have to meet the judgment of God upon sin. God reads the heart, knows the falsity of every excuse and the real rebellion against Christ, which may be hidden from fellow men by smooth words and polite manners. Tear off that mask, unbelieving friend who may read these words. Face the truth that you are refusing Christ's authority because you are self-willed, and look squarely at the fact that "it is appointed unto shels of Irish potatoes, sweet men once to die, and after this com eth the judgment" (Heb. 9:27, R. V.)

kind marked the rejection of Christ by Israel's leaders. They feared the people, and lacking the authority to condemn Him themselves they had to obtain some evidence under which the Roman law would have to sentence Him. It is significant that they could not find one bit of real evidence against Him and had to proceed by trickery and treachery. Christ rejection in our day is just as deceitful and treacherous, although it does not often appear outwardly. As a matter of fact, the leaders of Israel were outwardly polite and careful. They sent sp who could "feign themselves to be just men." They "feared the people" and did not dare to speak openly against Him.

Men cover up their motives today. Some would wish to excuse them selves on the ground of lack of knowledge, but in our land at least that is largely their own choice. Others might say they have only been careless, but on what ground can one justify neglect of a life and death matter? Some blame the sins of professing Christians, but this is an individual matter-you must answer for your own soul.

turn in seeking for an excuse for his rejection of Christ, if he is honest he will have to admit that he has dealt deceitfully with God. When he does that, he is ready in repentance and faith to take Christ ur and Lord.

From time to time Brill and his staff were interrupted by reports of air disasters over New Orleans, Galveston, and Houston. Total losses there aggregated twelve hundred.

General Brill directed his senior aide to get General Hague at Washington on the long-distance. The hour was nearing three o'clock when the Chief of Staff of the Army reported ready to talk.

"My best judgment is to pull out of here," Brill said, after he had reported latest developments in Tex-"We're too thin to make a fight for San Antonio, but we can do some good delaying back of the Colorado and Brazos while you get troops enough into the Fort Worth country to make a stand.'

The Hague voice responded with quiet firmness, "You'll proceed at once against the enemy, Brill, and make a stand in front of San Antonio with your Second Division."

Brill groaned. "But Hague, are you sure you understand the whole situation down here? It's simply inviting a lot of nasty losses to no purpose. I haven't force enough

"Let's not debate the matter." General Hague interrupted stoutly. "Is that clear, Brill?"

"Perfectly, sir." There was neither remonstrance nor equivocation in the area commander's voice now. In a calm voice Brill repeated the Hague decision to his staff. He offered no comment. Without speaking, the staff went to work on its new plan.

Circling to the south, Brill found the due-south road to Kirk, which was under military traffic control, and sped to the village, where he found General Mole, division commander. Mole was a thin bit of military hickory now nearing retirement age.

General Mole received his superior's battle orders with a monosyllable of acquiescence, as if to hoard his jaded energies, and promptly set to work with his staff. The division staff was familiar with the country and made prompt plans for organization of a defensive position. Or-ders were ready within half an hour, since there was no enemy immediately in prospect, the regiments proceeded to their positions in their

TREAK POTATOES

Miss Lula Davis was a pleasant Two Toothed or Ewe Lamb: paller at the Eagle office this week, exhibiting a package containing some freak Irish potatoes. The potatoes were left in a cellar since last fall and had sprouted and grown long stems, many of them to a length of three feet. On these stems, which were different from a profusion of natural roots, and which were wery soft and tender, were many DELAINE-MERINO SHEEP senall potatoes. The plants were DIVISION: growing without any soil.
