Lily Pons To Give Concerts For Army Camps This Winter

The first of the country's entertainers to offer her services to the American government in its national defense program, Lily Pons has announced she will give to the selectees in army camps 40 or more concerts during the coming year. This will mean approximately $250,000 worth of her talent donated without charge.

The French-born coloratura, who will sing in Dallas with the Metropolitan Opera Saturday afternoon, is cancelling important engagements in South America so that she may remain in this country next winter to sing in the army camps.

"One's own career can no longer be used for personal benefits," Miss Pons stated. "I feel that the young men of our nation are giving up so much for our national defense that the least we artists can do is to go to the camps and entertain them. They deserve not indifferent or inferior entertainment but the best."

"I know that hundreds of stars will give their finest performance next year in the army camps of the nation. I am glad to be the first to volunteer as an expression of gratitude to my new country which has bestowed on me the privilege of American citizenship."

Miss Pons received her final papers January 3, on the tenth anniversary of her operatic debut in the U. S. She celebrated the day by opening the Metropolitan New York season in the same opera, Lucia di Lammermoor, in which she made her debut January 3, 1931.

The soprano recently had a long conference with Mrs. Roosevelt in Florida, and her decision to give her talents to the camps next winter is thought to have grown out of this meeting. They both agreed on the importance of good entertainment for the newly-inducted soldiers.

Week end visitors in the Walter Fairman home were her sisters and her nephew, Mrs. J. A. Youngblood and husband of Dallas, Mrs. Sam Allen and husband of Brady and Sam H. Allen and wife of Houston.

WAR DEPARTMENT NEEDS AUTOMOTIVE SPARE PARTS EXPERTS

An examination for positions as automotive spare parts expert, paying $3,200 a year, has been announced by the United States Civil Service Commission. Employment will be in the War Department under the Office of the Quartermaster General. Qualified persons are urged to file their applications at once, although applications will be rated as received at the Commission's Washington office until further notice.

Seven years of responsible experience in the automotive industry are required. Not more than 3 years of this experience may have been in the capacity of mechanic; and at least 3 years of the experience must have been in both the control and the management of spare parts for a major manufacturer of automotive equipment. Under certain conditions, college study in engineering may be substituted for part of the general experience. The maximum age limit for applicants is 55 years.

Appointees will requisition stocks of spare parts for corps areas and depots and will instruct regarding the reclamation or repair of parts, units, and accessories. They will also review complaints and make remedial recommendations, as well as performing other duties relating to stocks, inventories, and mortality tables.

Full information as to the requirements for this examination, and application forms may be obtained from Ben Davis at the local post office.

Citizens Still Cooperating In Leasing Land

The landowners and tenants of Mills county are still cooperating with the government in leasing their land for army maneuvers. At this time an estimated 120,000 acres have been leased.

A map is now being drawn from an original survey of Mills county. As each tract of land is leased its location is taken from the county records, and shadowed in on this map. When the leases are completed one can readily see where all are located by looking at this map. The unleased land will be left blank. This map will also provide an excellent means of determining land ownership in the county.

In a conversation with Major Barragan he made the following statement: "The citizens of Goldthwaite and Mills county are to be highly commended on the splendid patriotism and cooperation they have accorded the government in so readily assisting in this leasing project."

Santa Fe Again Offers Cash Awards To FFA Teams

Championship FFA judging teams of Texas will again be offered cash awards this year by the Santa Fe Railway enabling them to compete in the national contests at Kansas City, Oct. 18-25, Edward J. Engel, president of the railroad, announced today.

Besides the FFA teams from Texas, the Santa Fe will also sponsor judging teams from Oklahoma, California, Kansas, Missouri, New Mexico, Illinois, Colorado and Arizona, President Engel said.

Bluebonnet Days Are Here Again

Back in 1902 the esteemed late Representative P. H. Clements of this city, who was then serving his second term as representative at Austin, wrote a lovely poem to the bluebonnet.

The bluebonnet was adopted as State Flower and the fame and beauty of the little flower grew. Years have passed and the appreciation of the State flower still grows. Only this week Marlin had a wonderful pilgrimage to display the profusion of bluebonnets.

Other States are eager to have the bluebonnet grow in their home land, and artists vie with each other in making beautiful pictures of the Lord's handiwork in all its glory.

The poem given below is the one written by Mr. Clements in 1902:

Oh, list to my sonnet,
Of the bonnie bluebonnet
That grows to perfection in Mills
With red, white and blue
All mingled in hue,
It beautifies valley and hill.

When first song of bird
In springtime is heard
We hail the sweet breath of the flower;
Sweeter far than the rose,
Where ever it grows,
On hilltop, in valley or bower.

Sweet flower, now legal,
Though cotton's more regal
I bow to the will of the many;
When lady and lover
Resolve for the clover
I'll amend it again—not any.

Notice Rural Route Patrons

It is the desire of the Post Office Department to encourage patrons of the rural delivery service to provide entirely suitable mail receptacles and to erect them in such a manner that they will be accessible to the carrier and present a neat appearance. It is especially desirable that the boxes be maintained in such condition that they will properly protect mail placed therein, that the names of box owners be inscribed on the side of boxes visible to the carrier as he approaches them, and that the boxes and their supports be kept painted. Patrons who have non-approved boxes of top-opening, revolving door, or other type are not required to discard them, provided they have been in use by the present owners for several years and are maintained in good serviceable condition. However, any boxes not of the present standard type which are of such design that they cannot be properly served by the carrier from his vehicle or which are not in such condition that they will protect mail from damage by the elements should be replaced with boxes of approved type.

In order to accomplish these desirable objectives, you are earnestly requested to cooperate with us in complying with the above instructions, and in addition we request the cooperation of you with a view to effecting the grouping of boxes wherever possible, especially at or near crossroads or at other places on the route where a considerable number of individual boxes are located.

Please be informed that the week beginning May 5, 1941, has been designated by the Post Office Department, as Rural Mail Box Improvement Week, and we feel sure that each of you as patrons of the rural mail service will cooperate in giving this measure your support in order that you may obtain a better and more efficient service. We thank you.

L. B. PORTER,
Acting Postmaster.

The May term of District Court convenes Monday, May 5th, and the following have been summoned for Grand Jury service: Orbie Duncan, C. S. Dellis, Elton Horton, J. R. Cobb, Walton Daniels, Chas. Berry, T. I. Griffin, Jack Reid, G. L. Walton, J. H. Kuykendall, E. P. Hodges, Albert Hopper, Walter Dennis, A. D. Kirk, Bruce Moore and Melvin Pafford.

Family-Size Farm Ownership Is Aim Of FSA Program

Tenant purchase loans, for which applications are now being taken at the Farm Security Administration office, are intended to help worthy tenant farmers to buy family-size farms according to Jesse H. Priddy, farmer and chairman of FSA's tenant purchase committee.

Farmers who practice "live-at-home" farming will be first choice for these long-term, low-interest loans. This means that the family that raises most of its food and the livestock and poultry feed on the farm will have the best chance.

The Mills County tenant purchase committee, of which Mr. Priddy is chairman, helps to choose families to whom these loans are made. It also helps to value the farms which they buy. Families to whom these loans are made pick out the farm they hope to buy and they are not restricted to fully-improved farms. The loan may include funds to build or repair the home, barn, and for other improvements.

Other members of the tenant purchase committee are Albert A. Downey, Route 1, Mullin, Texas; and Willis A. Hill, Route 2, Goldthwaite, Texas. Applications for these loans may be made any Thursday at the Farm Security office located in the courthouse in Goldthwaite.

Prairie School Now Serving WPA Lunch

Every child in the Prairie school is eating in the WPA school lunch room which has recently opened employing two WPA workers. Plans are being made for several schools in Mills county including Priddy, Star and others to open WPA school lunch projects next year. WPA furnishes labor and supervision and in co-operation with the Federal Marketing Administration furnishes a certain amount of Surplus Commodities for each undernourished child. It is the responsibility of the participating schools to furnish a location for the preparation and serving of lunches, the equipment including pots, pans, stoves, cutlery, dishes, etc., and the additional foodstuff needed to serve a well balanced, nutritious meal.

During the summer several counties are establishing canning and gardening units for the canning and preservation of foodstuffs to be used next year in the WPA school lunch project. Several schools in Mills county are planning to join schools in Comanche county in this program. WPA furnishes labor, and supervision and a part of the cans needed for the foodstuff. Through a co-operative effort the participating schools furnish the participating schools furnish equipment, the location for the canning unit, the land for the garden unit, and the necessary seeds for the planting of the garden which will be done with WPA labor. It is felt that the establishment of gardening and canning centers will reduce the amount of funds required from the sponsors for next year's WPA lunch room operations.

In opening of the WPA lunch room at Prairie, the initial step has been made in Mills county for this project and interested people are invited to visit this school to see the WPA project actually in operation.

My Week
by Eleanor Roosevelt

Out-of-Doors Days

Our two days in the country were, on the whole, very peaceful and I think we accomplished a good deal. I was outdoors all one morning looking at trees and planning where to put in shrubs and plants, both at the President's cottage and my own. By noon it began to rain really hard and so, at two-thirty, I did not regret delivering a speech indoors at Vassar college to a group of girls.

I saw a good many of my neighbors and read a good many things which I have been carrying around in my brief case for some time. I was back in New York city by five o'clock the next day and went to the meeting of the Men's Faculty club at Columbia university.

It seemed rather presumptuous to address people on a subject as large as: "What is Really Happening in the United States Today," many of whom knew much more about this subject than I possibly could. I realized, however, that what I had to say was merely a preface to an open discussion.

It proved to be a very interesting evening, more profitable to me probably than to those who listened to me start it off! President and Mrs. Nicholas Murray Butler were kind enough to come to supper and I enjoyed seeing them very much.

GRADUATES

One afternoon, I received a group of winners in an essay contest from Lancaster County, Pa. They were such bright looking young people and evidently were enjoying their trip to Washington. Then we gave the annual tea for the graduating classes of the various schools. I think the group should be congratulated, for they came past me more rapidly than any other group that has ever been here.

UNION NOW

At dinner that night, Mr. Clarence Streit talked to us a little about his lectures on his plan "Union Now." After dinner, Mr. Theodore Dreier showed us some of his slides of Black Mountain college, near Asheville, N. C. This is a most unique educational experiment, where the students and faculty are not only building their own buildings, but really are attempting to demonstrate democratic procedure in an educational institution.

Then the movie, "Men of Boys Town," was shown and made a tremendous impression on everybody. I had to leave for a time to broadcast for the Federal Employees' council, but could tell on my return what a moving story it is.

COMMON SENSE

There is an editorial in Common Sense for this month, which I think will do a valuable service in stimulating thought and argument. It is entitled "Whose Sacrifice?" I am going to quote one thought here: "Sacrifice is indeed called for. But it is the sacrifice of the old methods of unplanned, competitive, monopoly profit-seeking business, and not the sacrifice of the bread and butter of the poor."

That is a large statement with which many people will agree wholeheartedly. The difference always arises as to how we shall achieve the ends which almost anyone will concede are desirable. The editorial makes some valuable suggestions. Some of the statements are open to argument. But, after all, the value of anything which is written lies largely in its challenge to further thought and study. I hope a great many people after reading this month's Common Sense, will do some constructive thinking.

CONGRESSIONAL WIVES

I had a very pleasant luncheon one day during the week with the wives of the members of the Seventy-third congress, who came to Washington in 1933 when we did. Then I received some 200 members of the Daughters of Patriots and Founders at the White House. After that I took the plane to New York city.

I spoke at the dinner given by the New Yrk city board of education to hear the conclusions of months of hard work and innumerable reports, made by groups of doctors and educators on the care and education of handicapped children. It is a study made in New York city, but of value to the whole country.

Changes have come about in medical care, more knowledge is now at hand and certain new techniques must be developed in order to give handicapped children the best possible opportunity for education and future usefulness in life. I hope many people will read this report, since we have, I believe, some 8,000,000 handicapped children in the country.

FRIENDS OF CHILDREN

The next noon I spoke on a broadcast which is being inaugurated by the Friends of Children Incorporated. Once a week they will broadcast an American play for children. It will go by shortwave not only to British children, but to other children throughout the world. Up to this time, the Friends of Children, Inc., have been sending boxes of clothes to children in England, but they felt that there was need for a message which would interest the children themselves and tie them closer to children in this country.

Report cards came out Monday. Most of the grades were good and the others fair. We are working hard so that none of us will be left behind.

We left on our senior trip this morning. We will tell you more about it next week.

FRESHMAN REPORT

The six weeks tests are now over, much to the relief of the Freshman class.

The dreaded report cards were issued Monday and some of the Freshmen weren't so relieved when they got home.

Quite a few Freshmen were absent last week as they were attending the rodeo at Llano.

Lessons are getting harder as the days go by. We are taking it for granted that it is because of spring fever. We are certainly looking forward for school to be out, because then we no longer will be the muchly-teased Freshmen.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NEWS

well, you find her one of those girls with a reserved but still attractive personality.

Anna Bell is known well in this school for her brilliance in the field of art. She has attained many honors and achievements in this field. It seems to be that Anna Bell, with the ability to get ahead in the field of art, is destined to be a great artist some day.

Anna Bell spent her first four years in school at Center Point, and her remaining years in Goldthwaite where she has been a loyal member in the pep squad for four years in high school and now she is a loyal supporter in the H. E. Club.

Anna Bell is five feet eight inches tall, has gray-brown eyes, dark brown hair, and weighs 138 pounds. Her plan for the future is to attend school in Dallas and take a commercial art course.

Hope Tullos

Hope is one of our charming and attractive girls of the senior class. She is well known for her smiling and friendly disposition. To know Hope is to like her better as the days pass by.

Hope is a splendid worker in both her school and church activities. She is a member of the H. E. club, pep squad, glee club, and secretary of the Baptist Elementary Division in Sunday School.

Hope was born in Sherman, where she lived until she was in the seventh grade. She has been in Goldthwaite ever since. Hope is five feet five inches tall, has dark hair, hazel eyes, and is one of our loveliest brunettes in the senior class.

She plans to attend Kings Daughter school of nursing in Temple.

Why wouldn't Velma even speak to Bill Saturday night? He said he was through for good.

Why did Georgia want to ride with Norma A. from the party Tuesday night? We'll give you a hint—Norma's cousin, Curley, was in the car.

Where did Pat and Barbara Carter and Bobbie and Lewis go after the party Tuesday night?

Mary stepped out on Walter Friday night, but, as usual, he was back Saturday night.

Lewis and Larry seemed awfully eager for a certain girl to come to Madeline's party Saturday night.

Why does Bobbie always have so much business to talk over with Jimmy Caraway just before Junior Business?

Was Aggie's face red last week when she got her English notebook back and found that she had also handed in three letters.

It seems that Geraldine was found quite a distance from home Saturday night. Is that the reason her feet are so sore.

When "Time Changes Everything" is being played, why does Ouida say, "Ain't It The Truth." Lounette was at home Saturday night. It couldn't be because she was stood up, could it?

We hear Bobby Chapman's books got rather hot Friday night, but it wasn't because he used them so much.

Ebony—

By Clementine Wilmeth Briley

Bro. Boyd Denman of Goldthwaite expects to preach for us next Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Everybody cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. Bennie Huron of San Antonio, who spent several days visiting relatives here, returned home Friday.

Granny Hobbs spent last week with Miss Dolly Reynolds.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cutbirth and children of Houston visited her mother, Mrs. Lydia Tippen, here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ketchum and Alva June spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mashburn.

Noel Haynes of Brownwood spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Haynes. Mrs. Haynes seems to be improving a little.

Mrs. S. H. Reeves went to San Antonio the last of the week to attend the Battle of Flowers and visit her daughter, Mrs. Fred Crawford.

Friends here will be interested to hear of the marriage of Miss Annie Ketchum of Brownwood to H. L. Hightower which took place last week at Brownwood. Miss Annie is well known here, having lived here for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Orvel Egger and baby spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Beeman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Egger had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Egger Sunday. Ira is still night watching at the oil well. It is reported drilling will start up again early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horton and daughter, Barbara of Bangs visited Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilmeth Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reid spent Sunday with Wood Roberts.

The soldiers left us Saturday. Nothing remains at the camp this time. The dogs, which left home to take up at the camp, were back on their own's front porches Sunday morning.

The Ebony store changed hands last week when Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reid moved to their farm home and left the store and post office in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Reid. For eighteen years, Mr. and Mrs. Reid have kept our store and post office. Efficient, genial, and accommodating, we wonder if any other community ever had a better qualified pair for this service.

Besides the store, P. R. ran a blacksmith shop, and, before cotton went to the bad, operated the gin. He could do most anything, and we called on him for most everything. Besides all her home duties, Mrs. Reid kept the store most of the time, tended to the post office, and acted as roustabout for the community. It was she we phoned to see if that important letter had come.

Or if various members of the family delayed coming till uneasiness would not let us rest, what relief to phone Vada and have her say, "They have already passed the store." We feel that she and P. R. well deserve their second honeymoon on the farm.

We have no uneasiness about the new management. Dale grew up in the store, and we expect from him and Evalyn the same service to which we have so long been accustomed.

Our most interesting social event this past week was the marriage of Miss Martha Pennington of Brownwood to Perry Day which took place at 6:30 Saturday evening in the yard of the Day home. Mrs. Harold Steele of Brownwood played the pre-nuptial music and the wedding march. Vows were exchanged before an improvised altar consisting of a vine-covered arch with tall baskets of gladioli at each side. Herbert L. Newman of the Austin Ave. Church of Christ, Brownwood officiated.

The bride wore a pale blue dinner dress with white organdie ruffle about the shoulders. Her bouquet was of swansonia and pink rosebuds. Her only attendant was Mrs. Earl McCaleb of Anson, sister of the groom. Mrs.

McCaleb wore a dusty rose crepe with wide shearing at the waist. Her bouquet was of tallismen roses and ferns. Mr. McCaleb was attendant to the groom.

During the informal reception, Miss Earlene Day, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Jim Garnett presided over the three tiered pick wedding cake which was placed on a lace laid table centered with pink and rosebuds and lighted with pink tapers in crystal holders. Immediately after the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Day left for a short wedding trip to Fort Worth.

Mrs. Day, the daughter of Mrs. Emma Pennington, was reared at San Antonio. She graduated from Main high school there and also attended Our Lady of the Lake College. Perry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Day, graduated at Brownwood high school and is engaged in the ranching business here.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Emma Pennington of San Antonio, Gene Day, Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCaleb, Anson, and Misses Earlene Day and Mildred Wilson of A. C. C.

Peanut Quota Vote April 26th

Texas Peanut Farmers are to vote on April 26th on whether marketing quotas shall be placed in effect for the next three years on their crop of peanuts.

Under the law, if sixty-six and two-thirds percent of peanut farmers growing peanuts shall vote for the quota, all producers who plant within their acreage allotment may sell all they produce without penalty. Peanuts marketed in the open market in excess of the farm marketing quota are subject to a penalty of three cents per pound. Payment of penalty for selling above the farm marketing quota is not required if the excess peanuts are delivered to an agency designated for handling excess peanuts. In this case the farmer receives for his excess peanuts the price for oil, which is usually considerably lower than the market price for edible peanuts.

Peanut farmers having cotton allotments may plant their cotton allotment in peanuts and sell the peanuts grown on the cotton allotment through a designated oil agency. For example: A farmer having a ten acre peanut allotment and a twenty acre cotton allotment may plant thirty acres in peanuts without any loss from his agricultural conservation payment. If the quotas are in effect he will receive a guaranteed price of not less than fifty percent of parity on the peanuts grown on the ten acre allotment and he will receive for the twenty acres of peanuts the market price for oil peanuts provided he sells the twenty acres to a designated oil agency.

The law requires that if marketing quotas are not approved in the Referendum on April 26, no peanut loan or diversion program can be offered on the 1941 peanut crop. This means that all peanuts produced in the U. S. will be sold at the market price and the peanut farmer has no guaranteed price on any of his peanuts.

Producers of cotton and tobacco already market their crop under the quota system and have received loans which have helped to stabilize prices. Now peanut growers will decide for themselves through the Democratic procedure of the Referendum whether they want marketing quotas for handling their crops. The marketing quota is simply a part of the regular AAA Farm Program which is ready to be put into use where the situation calls for it.

A preliminary report gives the 1940 peanut acreage of commercial peanuts to be 1,907,000 acres from which the production was 1,611,634,000 pounds. In 1935 this acreage was 1,473,000 acres and the production was 1,147,225,000 pounds.

Woman's Society of Christian Service Has Regular Meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service held its regular meeting Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in the basement of the Methodist Church with only seven members present.

The subject of the program was China. For the next few weeks the society will have as its study "China and Its Work" which will be interesting to all who attend.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet again Monday afternoon in the Methodist Church at 3:00 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Pleasant Grove Home Demonstration Club

The Pleasant Grove home demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Kelly on April 15.

Mrs. Minnie Crawford, recreation leader, sponsored two games that produced a lot of laughs. Miss Scott remarked that she had not had so much fun for a month. Mrs. Crawford has been loyal to her task and club members have responded, thus making the club more interesting.

Mrs. O. Z. Berry was elected as secretary in order to fill the vacancy left by De Alva Virden.

We got down to work, or Miss Scott did, in making yeast bread. However it was not all work, since we got to eat some very good rolls. Miss Scott made plain rolls and fancy rolls, including, orange, swedish, cheese, and clover-leaf. We all went home with sheets of recipes and directions for making yeast breads and a better knowledge of how to bake good breads for our families.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. W. A. Bayley, Mrs. J. D. Benningfield, Mrs. C. N. Berry, Mrs. L. B. Covington, Mrs. Minnie Crawford, Mrs. O. Z. Berry, Mrs. R. C. Berry, Mrs. C. H. Hall, Mrs. W. T. Moreland, Mrs. W. W. Berry, Mrs. A. D. Robbins, Mrs. George Shady, Mrs. Walker Wiggley, Mrs. J. E. Benningfield, and Mrs. David Waters.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. O. Z. Berry on May 6.—Reporter.

Garden Club Met Wednesday, April 16

Mrs. J. M. Campbell, Mrs. Joe Palmer, Mrs. Mayme Winsor, and Mrs. R. C. Epperson were hostesses to the Garden Club Wednesday, April 16, in the home of Mrs. Raymond Little.

During the business meeting Mrs. L. E. Miller reported that about seventy dollars were made during the spring festival.

Mrs. R. E. Clements was leader for the following program: Roll Call—Flowers I have successfully grown in my garden.

Relation of Containers to Flowers—Mrs. E. T. Fairman. Flower Arrangement for the Sick Room—Mrs. John Berry.

Flower Arrangement for the Dining Room—Mrs. Mayme Winsor.

Mrs. Winsor had a beautiful arrangement on the dining table of red verbenas and an arrangement of red poppies on the buffet. A Texas table was also displayed and an arrangement of blue bonnets in the shape of Texas.

After delicious refreshments were served, a plant exchange was made.

The Art and Civic Club Met Thursday

The Art and Civic Club met Thursday, April 17 at the home of Mrs. Jacob Saylor. Mrs. A. L. Whittaker, in the absence of the president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Floyd Blair led an interesting program on Modern Southern literature, to which Mrs. von Rosenberg contributed an interesting paper on "Contemporary Southern Prose Writers."

Mrs. A. L. Whittaker presented to club members and guests the idea for organizing in Mills county for the purpose of helping in the entertainment of soldiers in Camp Bowie. This is a movement being organized in many parts of the country, and is part of the defense project, and a way in which many people can help. There was a general discussion of plans for helping in this project.

Mrs. Saylor served a refreshing salad plate and tea. Besides the club members were Mrs. L. R. Conro, an honorary member and Mmes. J. A. Palmer, L. E. Miller, O. H. Yarborough, Charles Frizelle, W. C. Dew, J. C. Evans, R. E. Clements, E. B. Gilliam, Raymond Little, and J. M. Campbell.

R. E. Worley attended to business in Dallas Tuesday.

Center City Home Demonstration Club

Our club met April 14 with our bread demonstrator, Mrs. Harry Welch.

Roll call was answered by recalling some baking problem or incident from memory.

Mrs. Welch had prepared several loaves from the recipe for plain bread which were ready to be cooked. Miss Scott was present and demonstrated different ways of preparing the sweet dough recipe into delicious rolls.

With fresh butter, slices from the loaves, orange, cinnamon, clover leaf, cheese and butter rolls were served to the following ladies: Mmes. Jno. Blackwell, Ira Aldridge, Ercher McCasland, Tom House, Hollis Hendry, J. M. Oglesby and the demonstrators, Miss Scott and Mrs. Welch.

EMMETT CARTWRIGHT OGLESBY

Our hearts were sorely grieved Wednesday when word came that Cartwright Oglesby, known as Carty to his many friends, had passed away.

Cartwright was born at Breckenridge, Texas on October 2, 1922 and moved to the Big Valley community with his parents when he was very small. When a lad of nine years of age, he accepted Christ as his Savior and united with the Big Valley Baptist church of which he was a consecrated member until last autumn when he united with the Baptist church at Stephenville. His spirit left him and winged its way to heaven at four o'clock Wednesday morning, April 16, 1941. Funeral services were held at the Big Valley Baptist church at 5 p. m. April 16. He leaves to mourn his passing his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Oglesby, one sister, Beryl Marie, his grandmother Hartman, and a host of relatives and friends.

Nowhere could one find a truer Christian or a more loyal young man than Cartwright. His life spoke for him, as he was a living example of Christianity and pure boyhood. Carty always loved to do good to others and to work for his God. He has led his pals to Christ and gloried in doing any work he could for his Sunday School and church. He faced the world with courage and determination to win a great, high and noble goal when he heard the Master say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Cartwright was an honor student, graduating from grammar school and high school with high honors. When he entered John Tarleton College in the fall of 1940, he began making high honors and not only made the honor roll each semester, but had many other honors bestowed upon him. He led an active life even though he knew it would shorten his life many years, but he wanted to be up and doing and living each day so as to make the world better by doing his part. Words could never portray Cartwright's life and character, but the many lovely flowers and the beautiful services showed that he was held with great esteem by all who knew him. We can truly say that our lives were much richer and fuller by having our pathways cross his.

Rev. Jim Hayes of Seminary Hill, Fort Worth, preached the funeral services, assisted by Rev. C. K. Roberts, pastor, Rev. J. P. Cundiff, and Rev. Bedford Renfro, former pastor and friend. The pallbearers were the R.O.T.C. Officers in the company of which Cartwright was a member. The flower girls, his former classmates were Wilda and Wanda Bledsoe of Howard Payne, Agnes Forehand, Ellabeth Early, and Janet Jernigan of Goldthwaite, Ina Bea Hale of Naruna, Mary Beth Miller, Roberta Robertson, Mary Lou Brown, Billie Ruth Daniel, and Alberta Windham of Big Valley. Military services were held at the cemetery by his company.

When our hearts ache and the clouds are so very black because we have lost our beloved friend, we must think that Cartwright would say to us as Tennyson said.

"Sunset and evening Star,
And one clear call for me,
And may there be no moaning
at the bar,
When I put out to sea," because he is now face to face with his Pilot and safe in the arms of Jesus.—A Friend.

W. E. PARDUE

Time as it speeds onward toward eternity is gathering the pioneers of this section home. It was more than fifty years ago that W. E. Pardue came to Goldthwaite as this city's second railway agent. In his desk was found a recommendation with regrets for his departure from railway circles. This paper, yellowed with age, bore the date 1884, and stated him as being honest, upright, and industrious. This can be said about the remainder of his life. He loved life in its simplicity and during his short illness made plans for the future. Born in the year 1857 near Selma, Alabama, Mr. Pardue came to Texas when twenty-one years of age. He was engaged in various businesses, his last years being spent on his ranch two miles east of Goldthwaite.

Seeing that he enjoyed life makes us thankful that several years were allowed him beyond man's allotted time. Heartfelt sympathy is extended to his loved ones in their bereavement. Soon we too shall be gathering to our home over yonder where partings will not come.—A Friend.

Star Home Demonstration Club

The Star home demonstration club met with Mrs. Allen Shotwell on April 17. The house was called to order by the president. After the reading of the minutes and business meeting each member exchanged cookie recipes as well as a sample of the goodies.

Members present were Mmes. Charlie Stephen and daughter, Vela, Charles Rickel, Fred Shave, J. Perkins, Simms, J. C. Cox, Buddy Cox, A. Shotwell, W. L. McCamy and Miss Artie Rickel. Lovely ice cream and cookies were served to all. The club will meet with Mrs. McCamy on May 8.—Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Collier and son Billy spent Sunday with their son, Glenn, who is at Tarleton.

CARD OF THANKS

Words could never express our gratitude to our many friends and neighbors and to the many loving kindness shown us during our illness and death of son, brother, and grandson, May God bless you all.

"Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace." Acts 18:9. (Read Acts 18:7-11.)

FOR THE GOOD OF THE NATION

George C. Hester

This column has previously pointed out the facts about the Government's spending program for defense industries, insofar as they concerned the Southern States. According to the figures cited, of the $12,000,000 allocated for defense contracts, 80 per cent has gone to only ten states.

With the exception of the State of Virginia, which has received large ship building contracts, the allotments to the entire South, including Texas, are less than those given to a single Northern state. The contracts to Texas, for example, totaled $197,000,000, compared to $1,276,089,000 for New Jersey, $1,087,671,000 for Pennsylvania, $1,292,561,000 for New York, or $1,298,865,000 for California on the West.

Since the industrial development of this county is being largely influenced by war industries, financed as they are by debts which we all must help repay, this is a matter of tremendous concern to the future of the South which is already the poor man's section.

In an attempt to secure a better share of the defense industries, the Governors of several Southern States recently held a conference in New Orleans. The report of this conference is a statement of facts and reveals a condition that the Southern people should know about. The report is as follows: We, The Governors "Of the Southern States call to the attention of the President and others in authority the dangerous and unwarranted centralization of National Defense production in the older and more congested industrial areas.

"Up to January 21st, 7 1/2 billions of National Defense contracts (excluding ship building) had been let, of which only 7 per cent were placed in 11 Southern States. Of a total of 302 new plants, only 24 were located in the South.

"Of the 11 1/2 billions of prime contracts awarded up to February 15th, a total of 80 per cent has gone to 62 companies or financially inter-related groups of companies. This short-sighted policy of centralizing National Defense contracts is dangerous to the welfare of the Nation because it will inevitably result in

1. A shortage of labor and therefore the movement of large labor reserves out of the South into highly industrialized areas making for more congestion and creating vast economic problems when the emergency is over.

2. Create intolerable bottle necks in transportation of both raw materials into the congested industrial areas and in the shipment of finished products.

3. Create vast plant and production facilities in areas already overbuilt industrially, which will become idle and useless when the need of Defense production is at an end.

"We believe that it is to the best interest of the Nation to decentralize production for National Defense . . . to establish plants where raw materials supply and loyal labor are readily available . . . where power and transportation facilities are ample . . . where climatic conditions are most favorable for year round production and where such plants will be needed for other production uses when the needs of National Defense have been fulfilled.

"The South offers these and many other industrial advantages and is ready and willing to use its full resources for National Defense.

"The best interests of the Nation can be served only if full use is made of the South's resources by industrial plants established in this area. And the same holds for other sections of the country where resources and labor are plentiful and where industrial congestion is not a liability. We further believe immediate steps in this direction are necessary."—Southern Governors Conference.

Listen Your Way to the Sale

The next time you go to the movies notice how the actors listen to the talk of the other characters. To be a great actor it is as necessary to be a masterful listener as to be an effective talker. The words of the talker are reflected in the face of the listener as in a mirror. He may steal a scene from the talker by the quality of his listening. In his face he reflects interest, joy, enthusiasm, disappointment, and all the other emotions.

A famous movie director has said that many splendid talkers fail to become stars because they haven't learned the art of creative listening.

In selling, the emphasis is on talking, yet many times it is more important to be a good listener than to be a good talker. You often can listen your way to a sale when you can't talk your way to one!

Listen to inflate the prospect's ego. Listen to learn the prospect's problems. Listen to find clues to what the prospect needs. Listen and learn what to say to sell. Little talk and much listening often is the key to the sale.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

S. S. Lesson for April 27

THE EARLY CHURCH MEETING HUMAN NEEDS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 4:32-35; 6:1-7. GOLDEN TEXT—And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul.—Acts 4:32.

Machinery without power is useless—that is why in the lesson of last Sunday the power of the Holy Spirit was recognized as being indispensable in the church. One sometimes wonders whether we do not now have more machinery than power, and thus fall in our high calling.

Power, on the other hand, reaches its greatest usefulness through the organization of well-planned machinery. The church soon found that its activities, simple at the beginning, had become more complex, calling for suitable organization, if it was to best serve the needs of its own people and of those round about it. In so organizing they did not forget this fundamental purpose of the church, nor did they forsake the true source of power.

I. Sharing With the Brethren (4:32-35).

Love for one another prompted the Christian brethren to meet each other's need by sharing, by holding all they owned for the common good. This was not (as some would have us believe) a type of communism. It was purely voluntary (see Acts 3:4), temporary, and local. It was practiced only in Jerusalem and only for a short time. It was an expression of Christian brotherhood and liberality which is worthy of our consideration.

The duty and privilege of sharing material as well as spiritual blessings is a part of Christian fellowship. Those in the church who have should willingly share with those who have not. Some churches have so effectively carried out this plan today that none of their members is on relief. Not every church can do that, but much more could be done if we had the considerate spirit of the early Christian church, which was indeed the spirit of Christ.

II. Caring for the Unfortunate (6:1, 3, 5, 6).

The church had come through its first real persecution (Acts 5:12-42) with real victory and assurance (5:42), only to face an internal difficulty. Wherever the Lord blesses, the enemy comes to destroy. Whenever a door of service opens, there are many adversaries (1 Cor. 16:9).

There were two groups in the church—the Hebrew Christians, and those with a Greek background. Among the poor to whom daily distribution of help must be made were many widows. Suddenly the Grecian group began to note (or think they noted, which was just as disturbing) that their widows were being neglected.

Notice that men of good character and spirituality were chosen to serve, and that all of them bore Greek names. The Greeks, who were doubtless in the minority in the Jerusalem church, had a complaint, so those who were appointed to serve were their own people. We might have been tempted to appoint a committee made up of half from each side (and thus to continue the dissension), but not so here where grace and wisdom from above controlled.

Do not fail to observe that there was here a well-ordered plan to care for the weak and unfortunate. No Christian church should fail in that important ministry.

III. Preaching the Word (vv. 2, 4, 7).

Social service is necessary—the church should make intelligent provision for its poor and its widows—but it makes a fatal mistake when such service becomes more important than the preaching and teaching of God's Word. Let those appointed to that blessed ministry find joy in sanctified social service, but never let it pre-empt the place of evangelism.

Certainly such service must not become the all-absorbing task of the one who has been set by God as the messenger to the church—the spiritual shepherd of the flock. Many a preacher has lost himself in such work, and failed to study and pray so that he might be prepared to preach the Word in power and with conviction. Too many preachers are attempting to shake a sermon out of their coat sleeves on Saturday night (as Joseph Parker put it) only to find that their ministry grows leaner and leaner until, reaching the years when there should be a matured richness and sweetness in their ministry of the Word, they find their message dead, dull and dry.

Such folly ill befits the Christian church of its ministers. Perhaps some minister who reads these lines should change his ways, and perchance many a church officer who reads them should realize that he has been driving his preacher into work which, while important, should be (for him, at least) secondary. First things first, in God's own order—that is the road of power and blessing.

Hamilton—

The most notable event in the history of family gatherings in Hamilton was the reunion here on Monday of the eight Dalton brothers, entertained in the home of Eld. Len Dalton with his charming wife and lovely daughters as hostesses. This occasion was the first get-together in twenty-eight years of the group of brothers, in many ways the most distinctive family in Texas.

The story of gas discovery in the Pottsville area of Hamilton County reads like a Fairy Tale. Drillers were going down on the Edmund Riewe farm and ranch, near the residence, seeking a new supply of water. The drill struck a flow of gas so strong that the project was abandoned as a source of water. Mr. Riewe piped the well and distributed the gas for farm use, lighting the house, barns, and supplying heat for his chicken brooder houses. People came from other states to view the wonder flames licking up almost sky high when a match was struck near the unplugged pipe and the Riewe gas well became the talk of the country.

On Saturday, April 26, the Hamilton Garden Club will be host to the Heart O' Texas District Garden Club meeting in this city. The program of lectures, the flower arrangement demonstrations, and the luncheon will take place at First Methodist Church. Miss Anne B. Wertsner, Consultant Horticulturist and Field Secretary of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society will be presented in flower arrangements in the morning meeting at the church, beginning at ten o'clock. The public is cordially invited.—County News.

...of men, Flagwill, a lot of men! But I want you to go out and see the situation for yourself — and tell Hague why I'm forced into these desperate delaying actions out in front!"

An hour of patient driving put Flagwill down the Army's projected front. Whole regiments stood about in the dawn, still waiting for orders and supplies. The men were tired and hungry. Shortage of ammunition was general, even in the infantry. Ammunition was reported available at the railhead, but the railhead was swamped with demands and there were insufficient truck trains at present for all purposes.

As the sun shot over the horizon, Flagwill turned back to the Lannes command post. Squadrons of American combat planes had combed the air of Van Hassek's night hawks and the day had quieted down to a rumble of artillery columns and hum of friendly planes.

Given a day or two, Flagwill concluded, the hastily assembled Third Army would shake itself down. American ingenuity somehow would overcome the shortages of supplies, motor vehicles, the obsolete or unorganized tables, the unco-ordinated staffs, outmoded weapons, the lack of training in team-play of higher units. At least the officers had sound academic training in the science of war.

General Lannes, his face flushed and harried, his eyes distended, sat feverishly at the end of a field telephone as Flagwill re-entered the command post. After a staccato, fretted exchange he hung up the receiver and got to his feet.

"Van Hassek is driving at Mole with everything he's got this morning!" Lannes roared. "Only the regiments I sent up to him last night kept Mole from being cracked up early this morning. Says he'll be lucky to hold on till nine. My God, Flagwill, this mess is going to cost us five thousand men, maybe ten!"

By eight o'clock, Mole saw he could hold no longer. Ghostly losses were multiplying, his flanks were threatened. Now the American air service held the supremacy of the air immediately over the heads of Mole's troops, which made possible the dangerous operation of daylight withdrawal.

"I'm pulling out of here now, Lannes!" he shouted fiercely over unearthed a vast spy ring. Benning continued to pose as a friend when he unexpectedly met Fincke in Washington, and accompanied him on a mysterious mission which took them aboard a small boat in the New York harbor.

NEXT WEEK

Another Absorbing Installment

Now continue with the story.

The field telephone. "I can't hold another minute! I hope you have strong reinforcements for me at the Brazos."

"All right, Mole, use your own judgment," Lannes retorted. "But no matter what it costs, we've got to delay Van Hassek until I can get my Third Army ready to stop him!"

CHAPTER XVII

Benning woke from a brief fretful sleep and went to a porthole. There was a bright sun rising across a smooth sea. He calculated from the speed of the freighter that the craft must be well down the coast of Virginia, perhaps off North Carolina and not far from Cape Hatteras. For a time last night he had flirted with the desperation of jumping overboard on the chance of making shore. Now he had given up hopes of being rescued by the Navy.

He was mulling at the porthole when a figure passed along the boat deck close to his eyes. The fellow wore a black mustache, dark horn-rimmed glasses; his clothes were seedy and his shoulders sagged. But the profile was not to be mistaken.

"You knew Bravot was aboard?" Benning said to Fincke.

The Austrian hotly admonished, "Don't talk so much, Bromlitz! How many times have I got to tell you not to mention names?"

"I thought we were clear of all that trouble," Benning retorted.

"Not with a brand-new crew on the boat. We still got to watch our tongues."

"You think these sailors aren't Bravot's men?"

"Just use your bean, Bromlitz. Sailors wouldn't hardly sign up to get blown to hell, if they knew the score."

"I presume," Benning sneered, "the captain and crew don't even know what their cargo is?"

"The skipper knows, and a few of his good men. For two years Schmolz has been laying his plans for just this cruise."

The door of their cabin banged suddenly open. A chunky man with a squarish, rough-hewn, leering face swaggered in. The fellow wore a dirty cotton suit and an officer's cap, and bristled with authority and short temper.

"Who are you two?" he demanded, searching first Fincke's face, then Benning's.

The Van Hassek spy leaped to his feet and gave the identification formula. Benning was more leisurely in rising to identify himself. He guessed that the intruder was Schmolz, skipper of the ship.

"I don't like your looks!" the fellow blurted, fixing Benning with glinting green eyes.

"Don't worry about him, Captain," Fincke promptly intervened. "He's a major—the two of us been working together in the United States."

Schmolz rubbed a cauliflowered ear ruminatively and gave Benning a parting glare in which there was mingled distrust and dislike.

"Major or no major, there's something about your looks I don't like," he grumbled.

Their noon meal was brought in by an American deckhand, Grimes. After luncheon, Fincke went out on deck for exercise. With the complication of Bravot's presence on the ship, Benning knew he must keep to cover during daylight. Also that he must strike against the Van Hassek spy-master without delay if he expected to survive this cruise for many days.

Benning sweltered in the torrid little cabin through an insufferable day. With full darkness he examined the mechanism of his automatic pistol and went out on deck. As he suspected, Bravot was living in the captain's quarters. Looking in the porthole he saw Bravot sitting alone on his berth, his face cold and imperturbable as he listened to the news from the Texas front.

Blare of the radio blotted out other sounds on the deck and Benning was not conscious of the figure driving down on him along the dimly lighted deck until stout fingers closed on the lapel of his coat.

He turned to see Schmolz glaring at him out of eyes that seethed with rage.

"See here, Schmolz!" Benning shot back hotly. "I'm not one of your deckhands. Take your hands off my coat! If you object to my listening to the war news over your radio, why don't you post an order to that effect?"

"Listen all you want to," Schmolz mumbled, cooling perceptibly at the rebuff and releasing Benning's collar. "But keep away from in front of my stateroom after this. I don't allow nobody to do that."

As Schmolz swaggered into his room with a muttered imprecation, Benning returned to his cabin.

For some time Benning waited in tense readiness for eventually. He knew that if Schmolz communicated his suspicions to Bravot, prompt and disastrous investigation was sure to follow.

(Too late for last week)

We extend our sympathy to Mesdames Geeslin, Fallon, Cook and Mason in the going away of their mother. May you look to the Saviour for comfort.

The pastor Rev. McCarty has the measles, so he was not able to come Sunday. Rev. James Stanley filled the pulpit; he preached two good sermons one Sunday morning and the other Sunday afternoon.

Sunday wasn't a very pretty day, but a nice crowd attended the Sunday services. At noon dinner was served and singing, church, and Easter egg hunt was held in the afternoon. The children enjoyed the hunt, and everyone enjoyed the dinner.

The school program was real interesting Friday night. The seven pupils had their parts up good.

Mrs. Glen Johnson and son of Hobbs, New Mexico are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robertson.

(Too late for last week)

A crowded house was present for church Sunday. Bro. E. L. Green from Brownwood preached for us both morning and afternoon. Dinner was served on the grounds. Several soldiers as well as other out-of-community people were present.

The Easter Egg Hunt in the afternoon was well attended. Some of the soldier boys gave a helping hand, hiding the eggs and helping the tiniest children to find some.

During the hard rain and severe electrical storm which occurred here Monday morning early, one of the soldiers in the Camp Bowie Maneuver Area Camp situated in the Whittenburg pasture was killed by lightning. He was from Pennsylvania.

Mrs. R. M. Haynes, who has been in Brownwood for treatment, is now at home, but is still not at all well. Her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Chesnut of Brownwood, has been staying with her some.

J. R. Reeves had the hard luck to have his car stolen a few days ago.

Mrs. Bennie Huron of San Antonio came in Friday to spend a few days with relatives here. She is dividing time with her grandfather, Wood Roberts, and her mother, Mrs. Billie McNurlen.

NEW HOUSE PAINT MADE BY DU PONT stays whiter!

- STARTS whiter—because it's made with titanium oxide, whitest paint pigment
- STAYS whiter because it's "self-cleaning" (see below)
- Easy and fast to apply... has excellent hiding
- Saves money because it looks better longer
- New "self-cleaning" light colors, too.

BRILLIANTLY white at the start, Du Pont House Paint keeps houses whiter because it stays cleaner! Here's why:—

Du Pont Prepared Paint forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder is washed away by heavy rains, carrying the dirt with it, and exposing a fresh white surface. This "self-cleaning" process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions. Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Its economy lies in the fact that it stretches the time between paintings. Remember: Du Pont House Paint costs no more than other good paints. Ask your painting contractor to use it!

My High Resolve
 It occurs that the times in which we live are strange and startling indeed. Many of our best and deepest laid foundations are being undermined and much of our finest superstructural work is being wrecked. Civilization stands in jeopardy.
 Whether we like to admit it or not the truth remains. That the rise and fall of civilization always coincides with the rise and fall of morality, and the rise and fall of morality invariably coincides with the rise and fall of spirituality; therefore I make it MY HIGH RESOLVE to give first thought and effort to spiritual matters; Taking as a foundation for my position the words of our Lord, when He said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you."
 R. C. Lewis, pastor,
 Church of the Nazarene
