

ROCK SPRINGS

By Mrs. Eula Nickols
There was Sunday School here Sunday morning. I have been away from home two weeks. I've been in Winters with my daughter, Mrs. Earline Roberts, and children.

Several from here are attending the meeting in town conducted by Rev. B. F. Renfro. I hope some one will continue to write from Big Valley after Mrs. Long leaves. We will miss Mrs. Long's letters. I wish for her and husband good luck in their new location.

I read the Eagle while in Winters. I hated to learn about so many here at home being so sick. I hope all are better and can soon be well again.

Beryl Roberts, who is in school in Abilene, visited relatives here and in town and Big Valley. George Austin Mason Cooke was a dinner guest with J. T. Stark Sunday.

We extend sympathy to Allen Weathers and wife and other relatives in the passing away of Eugene. Also to Mrs. Stark in the going away of her brother-in-law in Fort Worth, Will Northington. She and her daughter Florence attended the funeral.

James Nickols and family sat until bedtime in the Robertson and Dunkle homes Monday night. I went to the Lake Monday night with my brother, Earl Clements, and wife to a Sunday School picnic. The place was in Mrs. Carter's home. Everyone seemed to have a good time.

Horace Cooke and Philip Nickols finished measuring land Tuesday. Horace will be going to his school soon at Melvin, Texas. It is trying to rain. We will be glad if it would because we need it badly. These hot days and nights are terrible.

I had friends who used to live here visit me while in Winters, George Sherfield and wife who live close to Winters, Ray Stark, who teaches at Robert Lee, and Earl Davis and family from Big Spring. I enjoyed seeing all of them. Mrs. J. F. Davis is able to continue her house work since her sick spell.

John Roberts and wife are enjoying a nice Cold Spot refrigerator. E. L. Pass from town worked down on his farm on the river this week.

Mrs. James Nickols and Wesley spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tyson, at Center Point. James worked for Claud Smith.

John W. Roberts sold his small farm to Mrs. Claude Gray from Carlisbad, N. M., this week. We welcome Mrs. Gray and Joe in our community.

Jobs For University Of Texas Students Plentiful This Year

Jobs for University of Texas students are more plentiful this year than ever before, according to announcement of Dean Arno Nowotny, director of the Student Employment Bureau of the university. "Defense work and the draft have taken many Austin workers," Nowotny said. "Consequently we expect the largest number of part-time job openings for students in history."

Approximately 60 per cent of the school's 11,000 students earn all or part of their expenses. Sources of income fall roughly into four categories: (a) NYA jobs on the campus; (b) jobs secured through the Student Employment Bureau; (c) jobs the individual students themselves find; and (d) summer work which enables them to save up money for college.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for August 24

The infinite superiority of the Lord Jesus Christ, in both person and work, is a theme which the writer of Hebrews presented to encourage Hebrew Christians who were suffering much for their faith.

THE WRITER OF HEBREWS EXPLAINS THE NEW COVENANT

LESSON TEXT--Hebrews 9:11-22. GOLDEN TEXT--Being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him.--Hebrews 9:9.

The portion of the chapter before us deals with the heart of the matter in presenting the sacrifice of Christ as being superior to all the sacrifices of the Old Testament.

1. The Ministry of Christ--a Better Ministry (vv. 11-14).

Every act of worship calls for a sanctuary and a worshiper. Under the old covenant the Jews were familiar with the tabernacle into which their priests went daily, and the holy of holies into which the high priest went once a year with the blood of goats and bulls; but now under the new covenant they had

2. A Better Priest and Sanctuary (v. 11).

No longer do we need the mediating priesthood of a fellow man set apart for that office, for Christ Himself has become a High Priest and is the "one mediator between God and men" (1 Tim. 2:5).

The blood of Christ, the perfect and final sacrifice for sin, resulted in a once-for-all solution of the sin problem and provided the blessing of eternal redemption.

3. A Better Result (vv. 13, 14).

The sacrifices of the Mosaic ritual had an outward result. They removed ceremonial disabilities, they restored the unclean to fellowship, they kept the chosen people in covenant relation with God.

II. The Ministry of Christ--an Efficacious Ministry (vv. 15-22).

This ministry of our High Priest, Christ, is well characterized by the word "efficacious," which means "having the effective energy to produce an effect."

1. The Power of the New Ministry (v. 15).

The surrender of Christ even unto death gives validity and efficacy to the new covenant. "All the transgressions of the old covenant had been treasured up; the death of Christ gave satisfaction to all that that covenant could claim, and brought release. So the Mediator of the new covenant begins an entirely new economy, with sin put away by the sacrifice of Himself, and an open path to the beginning of a new life in the favor and power of God" (Andrew Murray).

2. The Guarantee of the New Ministry (vv. 16, 17).

Speaking of our redemption as an eternal inheritance (v. 15) naturally leads to the thought that a testament or will does not become effective until the death of the testator. God has "blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ; according as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world" (Eph. 1:3, 4).

3. The Confirmation of the New Ministry (vv. 18-22).

The shedding of blood on Calvary's tree for the remission of sin was not a new or strange thing. The proof for that is given by referring to all of the old covenant procedure for the cleansing of the sinner. How was it brought about? Through blood. In that Old Testament covenant it was the blood of goats and bulls, not sufficient to perfectly cleanse the spirit of man nor give him once-for-all remission, but nonetheless a type of the better sacrifice of the Lamb of God.

Then "let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering (for he is faithful that promised)." (Heb. 10:23).

The SNAPSHOT GUILD VACATION PICTURES

Vacation snapshots provide endless enjoyment. Take general and scenic views, but be sure to get "fun" pictures and close-ups too.

WHY are vacation snapshots so important? The answer is really quite obvious. You want to show Dad and Mother back home, or Jane and Bill next door, where you went, what you did, and the different things you saw. You also want the pictures to refresh your memory later on. So if you want a really good rule for successful vacation snapshots, here it is. Keep the folks back home in mind—those who will want to know all about your trip—and shoot your pictures for them. For picture ideas, consult travel folders and brochures. You can probably obtain several, descriptive of the place you are going to visit, and you'll find a wealth of material, not only in the illustrations but in the text. Just what pictures you should take depends upon your particular vacation. Wherever you go there will undoubtedly be scenic opportunities, and as a rule, such pictures will be better if you include an object or a person in the foreground. This will add depth to the view. And, don't forget "activity" shots. You'll want lots of these. They will show what you did and the various things you enjoyed. These shots will be more interesting if you catch your subjects when they are busy doing something, and not looking straight at the camera. Look for scenes that are characteristic of the part of the country you visit. Such snapshots add interest to your album, and appeal to friends who may not have visited that particular spot. Here's a little note of caution. If you are going to some out-of-the-way place, or if your camera is one of unusual size, be sure to take an adequate supply of film. Shoot as many pictures as necessary to make your vacation record a true "picture diary," and you'll have a complete story for endless pleasure in the future.

Stress Good Nutrition As Defense Need

Today nutrition authorities are stressing the need for guarding the national health in carrying on an effective program of defense. In calling attention to the importance of proper food, it is pointed out that a survey has revealed that approximately 45 million of our population are living below the "safety line" of what is considered an adequate diet.

What factors are essential in our foods to assure that the diet fully meets body needs? Protein is necessary to build and repair body tissue. There must be vitamins to promote growth and protect health, and calories to supply heat and energy. Minerals, such as iron, copper, phosphorus and calcium, are needed to build blood, bones and teeth.

Importance of Iron In considering the minerals needed, medical authorities point to the special importance of iron as a blood builder. It ranks first among the nutritive elements in this respect.

The iron in the body of an average adult is only about the weight of a penny, but this element is vital to health. Iron enters into the structure of every active body cell. Iron is a constituent of the hemoglobin or red pigment of the 25 trillion or more red blood corpuscles, and thus helps to carry oxygen to every part of the body.

Foods rich in iron must be added to the diet at six months or earlier and continued throughout life, according to nutrition authorities. The adult requires at least 12 milligrams of iron daily.

Iron Prevents Anemia The penalty for an insufficient iron supply is a condition known as nutritional anemia, characterized by fatigue, digestive disorders and other symptoms.

As early as 400 to 500 B.C., a condition corresponding to anemia was described by Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine. Menghini an Italian, is given credit as the first to discover iron in the blood—in 1747. The present view that an iron deficiency is the principal cause of anemia, was first advanced in 1889. In 1849, a serious form of anemia, known as pernicious anemia, was described. In the year 1934, Drs. Minot, Murphy and Whipple were awarded the Nobel prize in medicine for their discovery that liver was effective in the treatment of pernicious anemia which was previously regarded as a fatal disease. By Jewel Jones

Hot and dry is the cry. We are really having summer weather now.

Clarence Carroll has just finished watering his cotton here. He reports good cotton but a lot of boll worm damage at present.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Egger have their nephews with them for a visit this week-end, Glen Griffin and wife of Baltimore, Md. Glen left here about 16 years ago when he was about 14 years old. He has traveled a lot since then. Been in the navy two terms. At present is welding in the ship yards. We hate to see him have to return home so soon, but it has to be done to get his job.

Melvin Griffin and wife of Houston spent the week-end with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Egger, and met his brother Glen here. We hope it won't be so long between visits next time.

R. D. Egger of Fort San Houston visited his dad, Ben Egger, Sunday. R. D. will go to some far-off service this month. He thinks it will be Iceland. We hate to see him go, but there are many more going, so we hope them health and best of luck, and a speedy return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fry of Elkins visited her father, Ben Egger Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Martin of Brownwood visited Ben Egger and fished on the Colorado River Saturday night.

LESSER PRAIRIE CHICKENS GAIN

While practically the entire 1941 Attwater prairie chicken crop on the coastal prairies of Texas was lost, the Lesser prairie chickens of the Panhandle are prospering this year, according to word received by Will J. Tueker, executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, from biologists and game wardens.

Floods wiped out the nests and the young Attwater prairie chickens and the loss of an entire crop of birds will be sorely felt. The Attwaters face a precarious future due to the fact more and more of their range is being placed in cultivation by rice growers.

The Lesser chickens of the north Texas plains not only produced a big crop of young birds, but increased rainfall has resulted in much more food and cover for them. There will be no open season in Texas on prairie chickens for at least five years, a law having been enacted by the last Legislature closing the season until 1946.

BLIND QUAIL FINALLY LOSES

How a quail survived as long as it did while blind is puzzling a North Texas state game warden. The bird, although it has been blind for a long time, as evidenced by the fact that it had two dry holes in its head where its eyes had been, was fat. It must have been weeks since the bird lost its eyesight. The question is how the bird fed extensively enough to keep fat and how it has avoided flying into something and killing itself. It finally met its end by colliding with the parked car of the game warden.

U.S. ARMY HELPS DOVES

Thanks to the co-operation of Colonel McKay of the United States Army, about 2,000 white-wing doves which were in nests in mesquite at Fort Ringgold in Southwest Texas have been saved. The state game warden observed the clearing of brush at the Fort as a part of a mosquito control campaign. Knowing this was the best area in his region for nesting white-wings, the warden called upon Colonel McKay and the officer readily agreed to suspend brush-clearing operations until September, when the birds will have completed their nesting period. The warden has high hopes of working out a plan which will enable the Army to keep this valuable white-wing nesting area intact.

FEWER WOODCOCK, SNIPE

Woodcocks and Wilson's snipes are causing federal conservation authorities the same kind of concern that diminishing waterfowl did a few years ago. Investigations by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Society reported to the Texas Game Department show that the numbers of both species are unsatisfactory. Neither species has the recuperating powers of ducks and geese. Each generally lays only four eggs to the nest and nest only once each year. The season on the birds was shortened last year and it is possible that further restrictions on hunting woodcocks and snipes will be necessary this season.

WARDEN SAVES FISH

A fairly big bass may still be alive today and growing to a size where it will give some fisherman a lot of sport because a game warden came along just after a huge water moccasin caught the fish and started swallowing it. Working a stream near Temple, the warden came upon a huge snake well up on a bank. The snake had evidently worked itself up on the bank after catching the fish. The warden, unable to reach the snake because of overhanging branches, shot the reptile twice before it released the fish. The finny one worked its way back to the water and swam off.

"That was the only time I ever needed my gun in all the years I have been with the Game Department," the warden said in reporting the affair.

Miss Georgia Frizzelle spent a few days the first of the week with friends at Weatherford.

J. D. Lowe from Jacksonville left Monday after spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lowe.

Mrs. Chas. Smith, who spent several days here last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gartman, left Wednesday for her home at Tyler. Mrs. Gartman accompanied her as far as Austin, where they visited with friends. Mrs. Gartman also visited in Seguin with her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Saegart, and Mr. Saegart. They accompanied her back to Goldthwaite for a few days' visit, and left for Seguin last Sunday morning.

Quality LUMBER Is The ONE Unfailing GUIDE TO REAL BUILDING VALUE

The wise buyer is never fooled—The market today is flooded with countless lumber "bargains." To get business the appeal of tempting prices has been substituted for quality. You can see and feel a cut in lumber quality. The one way to be sure that you have invested your dollars wisely is to buy seasoned, dry and lumber cut from big timber—the lumber that you know has never tampered with quality.
