

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS.—FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1941

NUMBER FOUR

IVE AIRCRAFT WARNING STATIONS DESIGNATED HERE

TEENAGERS SELECTED FOR SERVICE HERE

Department Inter-command, working under the supervision of Major Stevenson, has located 15 warning stations in Mills County. The immediate perfect organization of these stations and their maintenance is the first step in the program. Each station has a post organizer and three assistants. The post organizers will be appointed within the next few days, after which chief observers and assistants will be selected from volunteers. All personnel will be selected from those not subject to military duty. Women volunteers can be used for inside duty but not for outdoor observation work. Practice observation and reporting of aircraft will probably be instituted within the near future. It is requested that volunteers for this service report their willingness to help immediately by post card to County Judge R. J. Gerald, or to W. E. Summy, County Clerk and Secretary of Civil Defense, so that interviewers may know where to find them when the time comes to interview them for the purpose of determining their suitability for the work. This interview work will be done by the Texas Re-employment Service and the Texas Department of Public Welfare. More information may be published from time to time as plans are formulated by the War Department and the Civilian Defense Organization. It is likely that civilian ambulance service and fire fighting organizations will be set up in the near future. The war may seem too remote for us to give it serious consideration but nobody knows what a day may bring in this age of mechanized warfare. Let's organize our resources for anything which might seem within the range of possibilities.

FIRST GRID GAME OF YEAR TO BE PLAYED HERE SAT. NIGHT

TEST OF CITY'S TEAM IN NIGHT GAME HERE SAT.

The 1941 football season will be officially opened Saturday night, September 13, on the Goldthwaite High School athletic field when the Goldthwaite Eagles will meet the Dragon eleven from Bangs High School. The season-opener, which was originally slated for Friday night, will be called at 8:00 p. m. This game will not only open the season's gridiron activities, but will be the first appearance of Coach Lloyd Johns' first team of Eagles. Although the training season started with a comparatively few boys out, there are now enough Eagles for the team to take the field with a good number of substitutes still on the bench. Rosters for the two teams follow:

The average weights for the two teams are: The Eagles average 138.3 pounds per man; the Bangs team averages 148.5 pounds per man. This difference in the average weights will give Bangs a 10.2 pound advantage per man; but the Goldthwaite backfield has a 22-pound total advantage over the Bangs backs, and only at one tackle will the Eagles be badly outweighed.

We are badly in need of workers at the Red Cross room, so do your bit by coming and helping with the work.—Mrs. Whitaker.

NATIONAL RESOURCE PLANNING BOARD MAN VISITS THIS CITY

MUCH PUBLIC WORK NEEDED IN NEXT 6 YEARS

E. G. Wallace, representative of the National Resource Planning Board, met with heads of the county government, city government, school leaders, and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and Lions Club in the Commissioners' Courtroom at the court house in Goldthwaite last Friday morning for the purpose of ascertaining and listing the county's and city's needs in the way of public works improvements during the next six years.

Mr. Wallace explained to the meeting that National Resource Planning Board representatives were visiting cities and county seat towns all over the country to find out the exact condition of the various parts of the nation and the present needs and contemplated future needs to cover a period of the next six years.

Although he explained that no money had as yet been appropriated by the Congress, and that plans were as yet tentative, it is to be expected that when the present war is over and the 300,000 workers in national defense industries, as well as millions of discharged soldiers go back into civilian life, a gigantic public works program would be undertaken by the United States government to place these men in jobs and try to stave off a depression, as followed the first World War.

Mr. Wallace stated that one objective of the public works program was to hard-surface every mile of public roads in the country and replace all wooden bridges with concrete structures of a required width. It was estimated by county commissioners present that there are 742 miles of public roads in Mills County not at present hard-surfaced, and probably 1,000 small bridges that would have to be replaced under the program, with a number of larger ones. MILLS COUNTY IN 1948 Should all this program of public work be undertaken and finished during the next six years, the following picture would fit Mills County:

No. 1 must on the list of needed improvements was put a lake to furnish adequate water supply for the City of Goldthwaite, together with extension of the present distribution system.

New City Hall for Goldthwaite. City Park and playground to be built on the city's land south of Goldthwaite.

Five miles of paved streets for the town.

Twelve-room high school building for the Goldthwaite schools, to be combined with a gymnasium and auditorium.

Recreational and playground centers for Mullin, Pridy and Star, in connection with their schools.

New jail and renovation of the Mills County court house.

New bridges at the Jackson Crossing and Slack Bridge on the Bayou, and new bridge over Blanket Creek.

Precinct No. 1—220 miles of public roads to be hard-surfaced, three 50-foot bridges to be replaced, and from 250 to 300 small wooden bridges to be replaced with concrete structures.

Precinct No. 2—180 miles of public roads, and an estimated 250 small bridges.

Precinct No. 3—230 miles of public roads, one 500-foot bridge, two other large bridges and probably 250 small structures.

Precinct No. 4—112 miles of public roads, and a number of small bridges.

Mills County citizens who met with Mr. Wallace included: County Judge R. J. Gerald, County Commissioner J. Y. Tullos, County Commissioner W. L. Barker, County Clerk W. E. Summy, Mayor H. G. Bookin, City Manager W. C. Barnett, S. P. Sullivan, T. F. Toland, O. H. Yarborough, School Superintendent A. H. Smith.

An Eagle representative.

'SHOOTING WAR' DECLARED ON DEFENSE SEAS

President of the United States Franklin D. Roosevelt delivered his much-advertised radio speech last night from 8 to 8:30, with the whole world his audience.

The speech had been well publicized as being of much importance, was postponed from Monday night to last night, and was heard over the greatest radio hook-up ever used in this country, besides being re-broadcast by short-wave in thirteen other languages to all the world.

Before delivery of the speech, the President had conferred with his secretaries of state, war and navy, and with congressional leaders. He probably had the greatest listening audience of any speaker of all time for his speech last night, it coming on the heels of three sea-shooting incidents involving American ships, and with United States relations strained to the breaking point with both Germany and Japan.

The President opened his address by citing the recent battle between the U. S. destroyer Greer and a Nazi submarine southeast of Greenland, which he said was in American defense waters. He stated that two attacks were deliberately made upon the destroyer and that the submarine fired first, without warning. He mentioned other acts of piracy against American shipping, including the Robin Moor, which he said was sunk in the Atlantic, with passengers and crew forced to take to boats hundreds of miles from land. He declared this was in violation of international agreement signed by all nations, including Germany.

President Roosevelt declared a "shooting war" on the seas in "our defense waters" from NOW ON.

HIGHLIGHTS OF SPEECH

The President cited four instances of vessels attacked and some sunk which were flying the American flag, and one vessel which bore the Panama flag.

"Whew, I really had a wonderful time at Mrs. Weaver's, didn't you?"

"When? Tell me where and what happened to make you feel so good."

"I thought you knew. There were so many there and we had such a grand time eating cream and cake that I thought everyone was there."

"I heard something about it,
but I did not think it would be interesting."

"Oh, yes. You would have enjoyed it a lot! The Home Dem-their families of Big Valley brought ice cream and cake to the grove of trees near the unique log cabin of Mr. and Mrs.

had eaten we played games.
Young and old joined in the

THE ETERNAL GOD, THE SOURCE OF HELP

LESSON TEXT—Revelation 7:9-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—Holy, holy, holy,
Lord God Almighty, which was, and is,
and is to come.—Revelation 4:8.

A look into the future is something that would interest most of us, and we have it in this lesson. We agree with Dr. Wilbur Smith that "this is an excellent opportunity to bring to the hearts of our pupils
some of these divinely revealed truths which the world, in its mad rush today, so easily and tragically puts aside."

The portion of Revelation, chapter seven, which is before us comes immediately after a section dealing with Israel. The Church is not mentioned. The ones spoken of have come out of "the great tribulation" (as the Revised Version rightly translates it) and are evidently Gentiles who have come to believe in Christ during that time of unparalleled tribulation described in later chapters of this book.

Our lesson therefore deals with a specific time and a certain people in connection with an event yet to take place. But we find in this passage the description of the experiences of those who, like Christians of our day, triumphed through their saving faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. We may therefore here learn something of the future blessedness of the redeemed.

I. Saved Forever and Ever (vv.
9-12).

Salvation is a reality, and we are never going to be more certain of it than when we, like this multitude,
stand in God's presence to praise Him for what He has done in our lives. It is real. Praise God!

Notice that there was an unnum-bered multitude from all nations.
The good tidings at the time of Christ's birth were for all people (Luke 2:10), and some from all nations respond. Note too that the hosts of the Lord are greater than we might at first suppose.

These redeemed ones had immediate access to God's throne, offering their praise direct. They were clad in the white robes of God's own purity and bore in their hands the palms of victory. They, with the angels, the elders (possibly representing the Church already caught up into heaven), and the living creatures (not "beasts" as in A. V. They are divine beings of highest character), ascribed a seven-fold praise to God "forever and ever. Amen." It is a glorious picture of completed redemption.

II. Serving Day and Night (vv.
13-15).

It should be observed that even those who came through the great tribulation did not look to their own needs or faithfulness to save them.
Their white robes of righteousness were washed in "the blood of the Lamb" (v. 14).

Now that they had reached eternity through peril, toll and pain, they would (according to many folks' idea of heaven) sit down for an eternal rest and retirement. Not at all—they found their joy in serving their blessed Lord "night and day";
that is, without any weakness or exhaustion, without any failures or defeat.

III. Satisfied Throughout Eternity
(vv. 15b-17).

To be covered by the "tabernacle"
of God (whatever it may mean) surely betokens the perfect and constant protection of His own presence. Everything destructive and disturbing will be gone. There will be no lack of any good thing needed to satisfy every desire. There will be no thirst unquenched and no hunger unsatisfied (see similar descriptive passage in Rev. 21:3, 4).

The redeemed are said to be under the tender care of the God Shepherd Himself; the Lamb (our Redeemer) who is in the midst of God's throne shall lead them, not beside "the still waters" of the Twenty-third Psalm, but "unto living fountains of water." Thus in the beauty of figurative speech, we are assured that God's provision for His children, the redeemed in Christ Jesus, will perfectly satisfy every need of soul and spirit. There is no such satisfaction this side of eternity, but we shall find it there.

Then too, there is to be no sorrow. God Himself is the guarantee that there shall be nothing in that blessed land to cause anyone to shed
a tear. Think what that means!
Think of the weeping of boys and girls, men and women, who in this world of hatred, sin and suffering, shed bitter tears of pain or sorrow.
Well, it we're almost enough to know that heaven is a place where there shall be no tears.

Remember that the promises of joyous completed redemption for these, the Gentile believers of the great tribulation, will be for all God's children, for us who believe in Christ. Reader, will you not join us today if you are still an unbeliever? Take Christ now as your Saviour.

GOLDTHWAITE MAN
AT YOUTH MEETING

BALDWIN, Kan.—Aubrey Harris Smith, of Goldthwaite, was one of the more than 100 Methodist young people who were attending the first national Conference of the Methodist Youth Fellowship on Baker University campus here, at which the objectives and program for this new organization of Methodist young people were formulated.

Representing nearly 2,000,000 Methodist youth in all parts of the country who will be members of this new organization which will be emphasized in the 43,000 local churches at a special Watchnight service Dec. 31,
the 66 annual youth conference presidents and the 23 presidents of student movement organizations are meeting with 25 other youth representative and 25 other adult leaders for a four-day session which began Friday night, Aug. 30.

As president of the Youth Study Commission, which was appointed by the General Conference of the Methodist Church at its meeting in Atlantic City in May, 1940, the call for this national council meeting was issued by Herman Hill, Jr., of Chicago.

At the opening session, the Rev. Harold Ehrensperger, Nashville, Tenn., editor of "Motive," new Methodist student publication, called upon the youth to lead the way in bringing the world into a Christian fellowship. Purpose of the new Methodist Youth Fellowship was announced by Herman Hill as:

"Seeking through fellowship to discover the will of God for themselves and for our world,
the national organization should be the voice of Methodist youth, speaking with clarity of conscience on contemporary issues, matters of church policy, and the great concerns of the Christian faith."

Mr. Smith represented the Methodist youth of the Southwest Texas Annual Conference at the meeting.

Miss Auline Glen, Cara Nome
beauty specialist, will be at Clements' Drug Store one week beginning Sept. 22. Arrange for your appointment.—Adv.

The Methodist meeting closed Sunday night. Sunday was the big Singing Convention of Mills County, held here under the tabernacle. We had enormous crowds of people, dinner on the ground (there was more than enough for all). The singing was grand, especially "Pappy" Jim Gaither and his children. Spindle Top STARTED IT! Forty years ago an oil gusher roared in on a low hill south of Beaumont to open a new industrial era for Texas. That discovery at Spindletop started our modern Texas petroleum industry and made Texas the nation's leading oil state. In the forty years since Spindletop blew in, nearly 200,000 wells have been drilled throughout Texas. Over 500 separate fields are now producing in all parts of the State. Today Texas supplies over one-third of the Nation's oil and has over half of its petroleum reserves. Our industry, by refining almost all of this oil in Texas, has created our largest manufacturing enterprise. By furnishing cheap fuel it has laid the foundation for many other Texas industries. From a handful of Texans forty years ago, this industry has grown until now, directly or indirectly, it supports almost one million of our people. Its expenditures reach into every section of the State and benefit every Texan. The discovery of America's first gusher oil field at Spindletop has turned out to be one of the most important events in the history of our state. Today all of Texas salutes Spindletop! On October 9, 10 and 11, during its annual convention at Beaumont, the Texas-Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association will dedicate a monument to Spindletop. Inscribed in ageless Texas granite will be the story of oil. This is more than a monument to petroleum. It is a tribute to Texas enterprise and initiative which in forty years have built a great industry in our State—an industry in which you and every other Texan share. This advertisement paid for by various units of the industry and sponsored by TEXAS MID-CONTINENT OIL & GAS ASSOCIATION

Fort Worth Doctor Turns Author To Tell Life's History

DR. CHARLES H. MCCOLLUM (Written by C. L. Douglas) Dr. Charles H. McCollum, prominent Fort Worth surgeon and one of the best known men of medicine in the Southwest, has turned author.

He has written a book titled "Pills and Proverbs" (announced by the Meador Publishing Co. of Boston), and it is filled with humorous, tragic and unusual anecdotes gleaned from half a century's rich experience as a farmer boy, drug store clerk, country practitioner, army medic, surgeon, professor and world traveler.

"Pills and Proverbs," as the title might imply is not just a story of what a doctor sees, and hears, and does, it is also a story of self-reliance and courage—the account of how a lad of few ordinary privileges, son of a poor farmer, overcame all handicaps to become a noted surgeon. One of Alger's own heroes couldn't have done a better job.

It is the doctor's first adventure in writing, but there's nothing dull about his product.

He shows from the very first pages that he is expert at turning clever phrases, and even in some of the more serious discourses he seems unable to prevent a sense of puckish humor from slipping in here and there.

Especially humorous and filled with human interest are accounts of his experiences in the army during the Spanish-American War and anecdotes concerning some of the patients he encountered as a country doctor. Don't imagine that his book's appeal is directed solely toward the medical profession. There's nothing scientific or technical about it in the least. It's just the story of a man's life written in a language that the layman can understand and thoroughly enjoy.

But, although Dr. McCollum has from time to time practiced in various branches of the specialties, he leaves no doubt that he has clung faithfully to the medicine kit of the general practitioner and that he still believes that the good diagnostician is the most important of doctors.

The book, which already has won enthusiastic approval from various teachers, lawyers, surgeons and theologians, runs to 225 pages and includes 11 illustrations. It sells for $2.00.

ON POST-WAR PREDICTIONS

By GEORGE C. HESTER

Last week, in an address before a group of bankers in Austin, an eminent economist made some significant predictions about the post-war conditions in America. The speaker was Dr. Paul F. Cadman, economist for the American Bankers' Association. In the course of his remarks he said:

"Individual insecurity will be a thing of the past after the war. . . . The day of the multimillionaire is gone, and the day of the slum dweller, the share-cropper and the underprivileged hordes is going."

Dr. Cadman's view comes as one of the most optimistic prophecies concerning the post war future of this country. Others foresee an entirely different situation confronting us. They predict a disrupted and depressed business world trying to adjust itself to peace time conditions after the vast dislocations of war. This, they say, must inevitably mean unemployment and discontent, followed by a train of social disturbances. If war continues very long, it must also mean strained government credit, depressing taxation, and a debt burden that will weigh like a millstone on the burdened shoulders of a struggling business economy.

All this they see and even more.

The vast populations of Europe and Asia will be so bankrupt and poverty stricken, they can afford no potential market for our surplus products except as we donate such commodities, which can be done only under an extended government subsidy system maintained through high government financing—a system that some day must reach the end of its rope.

Such are the contrasting viewpoints. Amid the stress of war the peoples of the world today are thinking about the future as never before. The peoples of the democracies especially are thinking in terms of freedom and the ways and means of accomplishing and maintaining it for individuals everywhere. Their leaders in declaring the war aims of the democracies have set forth the great personal freedoms that will be maintained in a post-war world through the co-operative efforts of all nations to the end of securing domestic and international stability.

Such are the high ideals that reflect the hopes of people who are sick and tired of a world of suffering, uncertainty and general chaos.

They think little and know less about the tremendous difficulties that lie in the way of attaining such ideals. It was these insurmountable obstacles that shattered the dream of Woodrow Wilson for an orderly and peaceful world.

The thundering commandments of rulers and leaders, for example, can never bring a reign of world peace. It can come only through international machinery provided for this purpose. It was these very principles that the American people repudiated twenty years ago.

Our domestic economy can only be prosperous through international economic stability where goods can flow to their natural markets. This can only come by lowering the tariff barriers and preventing the entire policy of letting each economic system stagnate behind the narrow trade walls of each country.

It is also probable that no world economic stability, upon which our own economic progress must largely depend, can never be built except through a sound and stable international money system operated by an international banking system.

Similar complex local problems confront us in this country. The day of the share-cropper may be passing, as Dr. Cadman predicted. What will take his place is another question. Evicting the sharecropper and the tenant farmer, and entangling the land into even larger holdings, as is now taking place, is hardly the answer.

These are just inklings of the problems ahead. Meeting them realistically will go far toward determining the shape of things to come in this country. Otherwise prophecies mean nothing.

Love And Football

NEWSPAPER CLIPPING which is over ten years old bobbed up the other day. It's about an interview with Fielding H. Yost, grand old man of football. In talking of the qualities that make a great team Yost said: "And the greatest of these is love."

When asked if he could build a winning team on this Biblical principle, Yost replied that a great team cannot be built without the so-called heart qualities: "Love of pals," he said, "love of the game, love of the school the boys play for. Hate is a negative force while love is positive and makes for strength for the best fighting type of man, especially when it comes to fighting for the things in which he is interested. With it go courage, truth and faith, all positive forces."

Doesn't it seem to you that what Yost said about love and football also applies to business? It is only when a man loves his work that he can reach peak efficiency. To win success and happiness, this is the secret: Fall in love with your job, with your organization, and with those who play with you on your business team.

BUSY DAY

Here's what happened one busy day in Washington. A press conference at 11, to which Dr. Louise Stanley of the bureau of home economics, in the department of agriculture, brought the various samples they have developed in cotton stockings.

She then showed us some very charming models of work clothes developed for housewives and women workers on the farm and in the factory. The designs were not only practical but very attractive. Since the department offers its designs to the trade, I hope some of these garments will be on the market shortly at attractive prices.

At noon, Mrs. Dana Backus brought Mr. William A. Dillon of Ithaca, N. Y., winner of the first prize in the national competition for a "song of the hour," sponsored by the Women's Division of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies. He wrote a song many years ago which you will remember entitled: "I Want a Girl." That song has been sung from coast to coast in many gatherings in this country.

Mr. Dillon entered this competition because he and Mrs. Dillon apparently make it a hobby to bring up young people. They have brought up eight youngsters besides their own, so the young girl who is at present growing up in their home, begged him to win this competition so she might put aside $300 toward her college fund.

Mrs. Hobbe, from Texas, Mr. and Mrs. John Herrick and one or two other friends lunched with me yesterday. The afternoon was taken up with appointments. At about 7:00 the duke of Kent, and his aide, Sir Louis Greig, returned from their day's trip. Our dinner and the evening were pleasant and I said good-bye with regret to our guests.

NYA WORKSHOPS

I went one morning to Astoria, L. I., to go through the National Youth administration workshops. It was over a year since I had seen them. They have expanded greatly, and the equipment is far better than it was a year ago. Now they are on a really excellent production basis. At the present time, when the shortage of skilled labor is what we are trying to meet, it is most important to give every young person who is learning a trade the number of hours of work required by employers on the particular machine he intends to use. The worker may, of course, acquire a number of hours on a number of machines, but whatever the employer's requirements are, they should be met in training these boys and girls.

Of course, they must also have some related training, given by the departments of education to supplement their skills. In many cases this related training has to be condensed, and the number of hours required by the departments of education should be lowered in order to make it possible to meet the requirements for actual work. This is not purely an educational job. It is designed to give us skilled workers.

I think we should realize also that there are comparatively few trades and technical schools throughout the nation with modern enough equipment to do the job required by employers. This is something which, of course, should be remedied in the future, but it is impossible to do so at present because the emergency makes it impossible to buy this equipment now.

PENSACOLA IMPRESSIONS
I have been able to say so little in my column lately about what I have actually seen, that I want to add a bit to my impressions of Pensacola, Fla. While there, we lunched at the San Carlos hotel with the mayor. I think one gets the feeling in that attractive hotel of the change and growth of the whole city.

Life is really humming in Pensacola. Captain Read drove me around in the morning to see as much as possible of the naval training station. I saw the various air squadrons, where the boys learn the different phases of flying which are necessary in the navy. I saw their auditorium, where movies are given free for their entertainment, and where many classes also are held. I saw the section which is given over to the training of British pilots and met their commanding officers, and spoke with appreciation of the training their boys are receiving. I do not think I have seen in any station, a more complete setup for physical exercise and recreation. Every available space is used for courts and playgrounds, so that the boys may have different kinds of exercise according to their tastes.

Great attention is paid to their physical development through participation in the athletic program. Mr. Gene Tunney and his superior must be very happy over their accomplishments along these lines. There is, as yet, no U.S.O. building or program being carried on in the city, though the money raising campaign went over the top. It seems to me important that these buildings be erected as quickly as possible and the programs begin to function, for they are much needed in the towns near our various training stations and camps.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

(From the Files of Goldthwaite Eagle of Sept. 9, 1916).

Henry Martin and family, Harry Martin and wife, Fred Martin and wife, F. P. Bowman and wife, George Templin and wife and others have been fishing at Willis Mill a part of this week.

An accident at the deep well which was recently sunk for the water works system made it necessary to draw the casing and it is thought the well cannot be tested before the first of next week. This well is more than 300 feet deep and it is hoped the flow will prove to be at least ten gallons per minute.

Lost Dog—He is very black with the tip of his forepaw white; about a year old. Has medium or slender body, long hair and has the appearance of a Shepherd. I will pay a liberal reward for his return or information leading to his recovery. —L. E. Booker.

Judge E. B. Anderson and wife are visiting in Galveston where he is looking after legal matters.

Up to the time the Eagle was put to press, 527 bales of cotton had been received at the cotton yard here. It was impossible to get a comparative statement of last year's receipts because of the fact that all of last year's books were not in the custody of the weigher.

Mrs. E. P. Thompson and children, and Mrs. J. C. Darroch visited in Brownwood Wednesday.

Mrs. J. A. Gillespie and children returned Tuesday evening from a visit to relatives at Ladonia. Mr. Gillespie's parents returned with them for a visit. Newton Walton has been here from Lometa this week visiting his cousin, Raymond Little. B. P. Hurdle made a business trip to Coryell and Lampasas Counties this week.

State Department Health Notes

The daily inspection of school children and the removal and isolation of those found with scabies (itch) or head lice is the most important factor in the control of these conditions, said Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. Reports received by the State Department of Health indicate that the opening of school will witness an increase in their occurrence.

The state law provides for the exclusion of children from school if found to be infected. To prevent loss of school time parents should see that their children do not have scabies or head lice.

All children who are scratching or have an irritation on the skin should be examined for the itchmite. These parasites are usually contracted by direct personal contact, although they are sometimes conveyed by animals. It is important that all members of a family be treated until cured, otherwise the disease is passed back and forth from one to another. It is also important that all clothing, bedding and towels be boiled each time they are washed.

No person should be blamed for having lice, only for keeping them. They are very common among children and are communicated directly and also from using each others caps, combs or hair brushes. The condition may be suspected by the teacher in children who show irritation of the scalp and the cause is easily detected by looking for the eggs which are small white objects adhering to the hair. Head lice are best treated by killing the living parasites. The eggs or nits must then be gotten rid of. With boys this is easy as a close hair cut is all that is needed. With girls, who do not want such a hair cut, a fine tooth comb wet in vinegar or alcohol, which dissolves the attachment of the eggs to the hair can be used. All combs, brushes, and caps or hats should be carefully washed and disinfected.

Highlights Of Texas History

by CHARLES O. HUCKER
University of Texas Library
ONE INSTALLMENT
PAID FOR FREEDOM

History proves, as patriots put it so often these days, that one can never feel complacent about one's freedom, which has to be guarded and fought for always. And the history of Texas might well be produced as evidence; for, contrary to a widespread impression, the defeat and capture of Santa Anna at San Jacinto did not settle things once and for all as regards the independence of Texas. The Battle of San Jacinto was a tremendous down payment to have to make, of course; but Texas bought its freedom on the installment plan—and the terms weren't easy.

The nine-year history of the Independent Republic of Texas, to be specific, is far from eventful. As records in the University of Texas Library's Texas Collection will attest, it is the history of extremely perilous and extremely tragic times.

In early September of 1842, for example, General Adrian Woll led a Mexican army of 1,400 men across the Rio Grande and on the 11th took San Antonio with a surprise attack. Word of the invasion spread quickly, and in the scattered communities of the surrounding country volunteers began to gather for an attempt to drive Gen. Woll out of the Republic. Among these was a company of 53 ill-fated men from Fayette County, led by Captain Nicholas Dawson.

THE SIEGE BEGINS

Dawson's men reached the close vicinity of San Antonio in the mid-morning of the 18th, when a scout brought them word that 220 other Texans under Captain Jack C. Hays and Matthew "Old Paint" Caldwell were already engaged with the Mexicans on Salado Creek just outside the city. Without knowing exactly what the situation on the Salado was, they rushed forward in hopes of reinforcing the Texans while they could still be of service.

The Mexicans, however, were themselves on the lookout for stray companies of the enemy and, having located Dawson's force out on the prairie, met it with 150 dragoons. Thus cut off from the main body, Dawson withdrew to a mesquite grove for shelter and definitely refused a request for surrender which was immediately put to him. One quick volley brought down a few of the Mexicans, who then settled down safely beyond the range of the Texans' rifles.

After the first brief skirmish, and while the Fayette County company was wondering what it might do under the circumstances, an additional force of 300 Mexicans appeared on the scene, and the Texans quickly found themselves entirely surrounded by an enemy line they couldn't reach with their fire.

THE CANNONADE

The decisive factor, however, was that the Mexican reinforcements brought with them a cannon which they set up at a distance and which soon began to shower grape shot on the force in the grove. Half an hour of this bombardment reduced Dawson's company by half, and at last he raised a white flag, seeing that there was no hope.

Many of his men, when the firing thus ceased, expected only to be slaughtered and so dashed madly off toward safety, inevitably bringing on the slaughter they expected. Two got away, but all except about a dozen of the other survivors of the bombardment were ridden down and killed, some even after they had surrendered their arms. The dead were stripped and left on the field.

Meanwhile, the main battle on the Salado was still raging—and going badly for Gen. Woll. When evening came he drew off to cover and early the next morning retreated hastily to the southwest. And only then did Hays and Caldwell discover that Dawson's reinforcements had almost reached them and now lay dead in the shadows of the little grove they had hoped would be their sanctuary.

FRAUD!—We have just learned from Galveston and Houston that some of the friends of General Houston were busy in circulating a report that Judge Burnet intended to withdraw from the Presidential contest; and that a report to this effect was published in the Galvestonian. We are not surprised that such a base falsehood should be put forth just before the election. It is what we expected; and it is of a piece with the lying reports put in circulation against the Father of Texas, Col. Austin, immediately preceding the first election for President.

"We have heard it intimated, within a few days (since Gen. Houston's friends begin to find that Judge Burnet's election is certain) that they intended to report Judge Burnet's death, just before the election, so that it could not be contradicted in time.

"We warn the people of Texas against such tricks. Do not believe reports!"—The Texas Centinel, Austin, Aug. 12, 1842.

GUIDE TO REAL BUILDING VALUE
The wise buyer is never fooled—The market today is flooded with countless lumber "bargains." To get business the appeal of tempting prices has been substituted for quality. You can see and feel a cut in lumber quality. The one way to be sure that you have invested your dollars wisely is to buy seasoned, dry and lumber cut from big timber—the lumber that you know has never tampered with quality.

TEXAS BUREAU OF VITAL STATISTICS IS DOING BIG BUSINESS

The volume of work thrown on the Texas Bureau of Vital Statistics by the National Defense Program makes the usual attention to the correspondence impossible.

During August, 1941, there was received on an average each day, 643 pieces of first-class mail, 614 old date and 482 current birth certificates, and 416 requests for certified copies.

A comparison of 1939 with 1941, shows an increase of 14 per cent in current and 448 per cent increase in the old date birth records filed.

In searching the files of the past years, it was found that a great majority of the old records were so incomplete as to be of little value, except in establishing the fact of a birth.

Complete certificates were demanded by the National Defense Program. During 1941, more than 11,000 corrections have been attached to these old records. This is an increase of 531 per cent over the number of corrections filed during the first 8 months of 1939.

In 1939, during the same months, 19,364 requests for certified copies were received, as compared with 69,310 this year - an increase of 258 per cent.

In the following table will be found the work done by the Bureau during the first eight months of 1939, and the same period of 1941:

	1st 8 Mos. 1939	1st 8 Mos. 1941	Per Cent Increase
Current Births Filed	79,929	90,809	14%
Old Date Births Filed	15,207	83,381	448%
Requests for Copies	19,364	69,310	258%
Copies Issued	7,906	22,612	186%
Correcting Certificates Filed	1,787	11,273	531%
Incoming Mail	52,511	113,029	115%

SPECIAL MEETING OF MILLS CO. WOMEN'S DEFENSE LEAGUE

Due to the urgency of the National Defense Program, the women of Mills County are needed in a regular meeting of special importance to the Women's Defense Organization on Friday, Sept. 12, at 2:30 p. m. in the Melba Theatre.

A review of the work of the organization, a summary of the conditions of the nation, a discussion of the war situation together with a discussion of plans for future activity are the topics of the program. So vital is the need for county-wide representation, the Chairman has assigned a local committee to see that each community is properly represented. Listed are the Community Chairmen together with the number of representatives each community is to send. Let's go over the top with attendance at this meeting.

PRESIDENT F. D. R TELLS THE WORLD

Said he was taking a long range point of view of a series of incidents on land and sea.

Cited a Nazi design to abolish freedom of the seas to get control of them for themselves, which would lead to violation of the United States and the entire Western Hemisphere.

Told of Nazi plots now being carried on throughout the Western Hemisphere, seeking to make ready for Hitler as soon as he gains control of the Atlantic Ocean. Mentioned several instances of attempted uprisings in South American countries.

Said Hitler must get control of the seas for world mastery; British Navy must survive or Hitler will win.

Americas cannot go on living happily and peaceably in a German-dominated world, and that Hitler's intention has been made clear to get control of the oceans.

Because of these things and others, Americans are now face to face with cruel, relentless fact.

Real Nazi danger to Western World is here NOW!

Stressed no matter what it costs the U. S. will keep open the lanes of commerce and protect ALL ships in our defense waters. German and Italian submarines and raiders enter our defense waters at their own peril. From now on American ships will shoot first the "rattlesnakes of the seas."

It is no act of war to protect the seas of our defense waters. British navy must not be destroyed, or Hitler could outbuild us.

The President said he knew this was a grave step and that a great crisis existed. He did not mention Japan.

CHURCHES

MILLS CO. BAPTIST ASSOCIATION IS IN SESSION BIG VALLEY

The Mills County Baptist Association is in session as the paper goes to press, the Big Valley Baptist Church being host to this body that includes the regular Baptist churches of Mills County.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
E. E. DAWSON, Pastor

"We thank thee, Lord, for a place in thy kingdom where we may serve," prayed an aged soul one day. It was a proper prayer for a true Christian, for all true Christians want to serve, and can find no joy in any other realm. In our church is a place where all who have a co-operative spirit may serve. We co-operate with the great family of American Baptists in all phases of the Lord's work, and find much joy in such fellowship. Baptists of co-operative mind will find a true church home here. Such are cordially invited to share in the work with us.

Sunday School next Sunday at 10. Then follows the worship hour, and we always close before the noon hour. The evening service is at 7:30 now. Join us in the work and worship next Sunday.

FUNDAMENTALIST BAPTIST CHURCH
BEDFORD F. RENFRO, Pastor

Prayer meeting will be held in the newly organized Fundamentalist Baptist Church every Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. Preaching service will start at 8:00 o'clock Saturday night, Sunday School at 10:00 and the sermon will be brought at 11 o'clock each Sunday. All are invited to come.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Summy and family spent Sunday at Dallas.

Visit the Church of Christ, and learn what people must do to be saved.

NABORS CREEK SERVICES SUNDAY

Our regular monthly service will be held at Nabors Creek school house next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. All the people of the community are cordially invited to attend.

FROM THE STREET CORNER

These are days that give us the opportunity to show that we are Americans.

Any old fool can hate people. Cowards usually do.

You can judge a good American by the way he spends Sunday.

An old sinner wants to know how it is one can be a Christian and have to be begged to support the Church of God? You can put a question mark after that one all right.

The Germans are fighting for Hitler - what are you fighting for?
