

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

VOLUME FORTY-EIGHT

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS.—FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1942.

NUMBER FIFTY-TWO

OIL DEVELOPMENT IN MILLS COUNTY

Emil Ott, geologist and oil operator of San Angelo, Texas, is trying to lease a block of acreage adjoining the City of Goldthwaite on the West side. Albert P. Groebel, owner of Westex Oil Company, together with his brother, Ted O. Goebel, with offices in Big Springs, Texas, have assumed the obligation to drill a 3,000 foot test well on the block Ott is trying to assemble.

Ott has geologized this country for the last two years, has drilled one well on the Ballard place in San Saba county who years ago and a second well—drilled to a total depth of 3266 feet—on the Burdett place at Trigger Mountain, in Mills county, and still thinks enough of the possibilities to find a commercially producing field in this county to continue his work, and has been able to interest his friend, Albert P. Groebel, to drill at least one more well.

Now, Ott states, that some of the land owners in the block he is trying to lease have assumed a most unreasonable attitude. Ott is not interested in leasing just any kind of a block; if he does not get what he wants, and he selects his block according to his geological findings, he does not want anything at all. He has stated to us that he will leave all leases with the Trent State Bank here, where the respective landowners will kindly sign them, if they are satisfied, that they want to see another test well drilled in this county. One thing is certain, the major oil companies are not interested in Mills county. There are no commercial leases held by any oil company in this county at this time and aside from Ott and Groebel, no one has shown the inclination, substantiated by actual work, and has given sufficient proof of financial responsibility to convince the most skeptic landowner that this well will be drilled in an efficient and workmanlike manner.

Mr. Ott has to leave Saturday and will be gone for about two weeks. If the block is not assembled by that time he will not be interested any further developments in Mills county, on account of apparent lack of cooperation among the landowners in this area.

MRS. LUCILE FAIRMAN RECEIVES PROMOTION

Friends of Mrs. Lucile Fairman will be glad to learn that she has received a fine promotion at the Goldthwaite post office, going from a substitute clerk to Senior Regular Clerk with a 40 hour week. Mrs. Fairman has long been a faithful and loyal worker in the post office and deserves this nice promotion.

Kitchen Awarded Over $1,000,000 Bowie Contract

The Rex B. Kitchens construction company has been awarded the contract for construction work at Camp Bowie necessary to convert the camp into an Armored Force training center. It was announced Saturday by the Area Engineer's office.

The contract, for over $1,000,000 involves the construction of around 100 buildings and for other facilities. Some asphalt roads will be replaced with concrete roads.

In line with the conversion of the camp into an Armored Force center, the Southwest Division army engineer office in Dallas has announced that the 120,000 acres of land connected with the camp will be purchased by the government.

The Kitchens company is one of the two companies engaged in converting the tent frames of Camp Bowie into the more substantial hument buildings. — Brownwood Bulletin.

COUNTY BUDGET ADOPTED

The Commissioners Court held its annual Budget hearing on Tuesday, August 18, for the purpose of adopting the budget for Mills County for the year 1943.

In view of the current situation in general caused by the war, proposed expenditures were shortened for the coming year. A cut of ten cents was made in the county-wide tax. The Jury fund and Court House funds, each having considerable surplus at the present time, were cut five cents each, making the total county-wide tax rate sixty cents, the lowest since 1932. These reductions do not affect either the General Fund or the Road and Bridge Fund, as each will be the same as in years past.

The Road District One Sinking Fund tax was cut from five to three cents. This tax has been as high as twenty-three cents in past years.

SUGAR STAMP NO. 8 VALID

War Ration Stamp No. 8 will be valid for the purchase of five pounds of sugar during the ten-week period beginning August 23 and ending October 31, A. T. Pribble, Chairman of the Mills County War Price and Rationing Board, announced today.

"This is a larger amount of sugar and the ration period is longer than has been assigned for any previous stamp," Mr. Pribble explained, "but each person will have to continue using sugar at the original rate of no more than half a pound a week to make the five-pound ration last ten weeks."

Mr. Pribble said the allotment of five pounds on Stamp No. 8 will permit household users to buy sugar in larger packages, and also will help dispose of five, ten and 25-pound packages. "Packages of these sizes were put up last fall and winter before it was known that rationing would be necessary," he said "and the stores have had difficulty in disposing of these larger packages, because the ration stamps heretofore have been valid for only one or two-pound packages. Unless the sugar in the larger packages is sold, it would have to be repacked, and that would cause an undesirable waste of labor and materials."

Stamps Numbers 6 and 7 carry validity for the purchase of two pounds of sugar each until midnight of August 22.

RED CROSS RELIEF

Chairman Norman H. Davis of the American Red Cross has issued the following statement relative to relief of American prisoners of war in Japan and Japanese-occupied territory:

"The American Red Cross has been ever conscious of the grief and anxiety of parents, wives, and relatives of the men taken prisoner by the Japanese, but the American Red Cross would not be justified in holding out hope of a successful relief mission to these prisoners unless the means of sending relief supplies were available. The United States is at war with Japan, and relief can be extended to prisoners held by the Japanese only with approval by the Japanese Government of, first, safe conduct of ships to carry relief supplies to the Far East, and second, the establishment of a Red Cross committee for effective distribution to the prisoners of such supplies.

"Negotiations looking toward sending a shipload of food, clothing, and medical supplies and other needed articles, were begun by the American Red Cross and agencies of the United States Government on the day it was reported that the Japanese had taken American prisoners at Wake and Guam Islands. These negotiations and the effort to secure the essential agreement which would permit relief to American prisoners in the Far East have been continued by every means available since that time.

The United States government has approved the appointment of delegates of the International Red Cross committee in Japan, Shanghai, and Hong Kong. The Japanese Government has not yet approved the appointment of an International Red Cross committee delegate in the Philippine Islands.

Approval has been given by the Japanese for the transport of substantial quantities of relief supplies in the form of food, clothing, medicines and tobacco, on the exchange ship Gripsholm and these supplies are now en route. Urgent requests have been transmitted through Red Cross and diplomatic channels to the Japanese authorities for safe conduct for a ship to carry an entire cargo of relief supplies from the United States for prisoners in Japan and Japanese-occupied territory. A cargo of carefully selected relief supplies has been assembled and the Red Cross is prepared to dispatch such a ship as soon as safe conduct can be obtained.

"I believe the American people should be informed of the difficulties and complications that ranging the dispatch of relief to American prisoners of war. They should be informed also, that every channel open to our Government and to the Red Cross has been employed in its effort to secure the agreement which would make such a relief operation possible.

"I wish to emphasize the fact that while every effort is being made to arrange the dispatch of a relief ship, substantial relief for American prisoners is now en route to Japan. Relief supplies already dispatched on the exchange ship, Gripsholm, included 20,000 prisoners-of-war food parcels, clothing, large quantities of medical supplies, tobacco and other comforts.

"These goods were transferred at Laurence Marques, Portuguese East Africa, to a Japanese exchange ship under supervision of a delegate of the International Red Cross committee. When delivered in Japan, they will be distributed to American military and civilian prisoners under the direction of Dr. Fritz Paravicini, the International Red Cross committee delegate.

"The American Red Cross has requested that this cargo be distributed to Americans held in Japan, Hong Kong, Shanghai and Manila.

"I wish to emphasize one other point in this connection and

LOCAL BOY IN TO THE SHORES OF TRIPOLI

Charles Hugh Botts, 18 year old son of Mrs. Natt McGirk of Goldthwaite, was a member of the 185 Platoon of the U. S. Marine Corps that trained at San Diego, Cal. This training center was the setting for a part of the picture "To the Shores of Tripoli". With permission of the United States Government, 20th Century Fox Film Corporation was allowed to use these Marines in the picture. Young Botts has written his mother, telling her about the shooting of the scenes for the show. You will be able to see the brave boys who helped defend Midway Island against the Japs, during their training period at San Diego. "To the Shores of Tripoli" will be shown at the Melba Theatre on Monday afternoon and night, Tuesday night and Wednesday night, August 24, 25, 26. Look carefully when the Marines are marching and you will be able to identify the young man who grew up here and is now serving his country in Midway Island.

A FINE VACATION

Aubrey Smith, son of Supt. and Mrs. A. H. Smith, returned Monday night from a most enjoyable two weeks stay in Mount Sequoia, where he not only enjoyed the wonderful mountain breezes, but attended a Youth's Fellowship Study Course.

that is that the American Red Cross has ample resources at its disposal to finance this relief operation, and is not, at this time, seeking contributions for this work. The War and Navy Departments are seeking contributions for military prisoners, and have authorized the American Red Cross to act on their behalf in the assembly of food parcels for army and navy personnel. The Red Cross is providing medical supplies, tobacco, and other supplies for the relief of American Prisoners with its own funds which are now entirely adequate for that purpose.

"Since the cargo of the first relief ship has long been assembled, it is not possible for the Red Cross to accept the many generous offers of supplies in kind which has been received. It is understandable that relatives of our men held prisoner desire to contribute money or other supplies, but they should wait to do so until they are authoritatively informed how best this may be done. They should be assured that such information will be given to them by the American Red Cross or our government at the earliest possible time."

Paint Supplies Deminished

Before long paints of many makes are going to become very scarce.

Shortages will be felt especially in paints, varnishes, and enamels for interiors. The reason is, these require natural or synthetic resins. For some time synthetic resins have been earmarked for exclusive war use, and lately the War Production board has ordered a 50 percent cut in the amount of natural resins manufactured for civilian purposes.

Here are some suggestions for using interior paints to the best advantage.

Semi-gloss paint, which washes well and is not too harsh in appearance, is suitable for kitchens and bathrooms. Flat paint gives a "soft" appearance and is best for large areas such as walls and ceilings. It soils less quickly than gloss paint, but it will not stand up as well under washing.

Calcimine is the cheapest wall paint available. Though it cannot be cleaned, it can be washed off entirely and a new coat applied. Don't use calcimine on smooth woodwork or on walls which have been covered with oil paint. The coating eventually will chip off and make later re-painting far harder.

Enamel should be used only on very smooth surfaces, for it makes holes, chips, and scars more noticeable. Homemakers who want to avoid the trouble of sandpapering and planing uneven surfaces, should use a gloss or semi-gloss paint instead of enamel.

Peaches

The best peaches are those which ripen on the tree.

Those seeking the best canning peaches should choose J. H. Hale or Elberta or a similar yellow freestone texture, and a positive peachy flavor. Their skins are easily removed, and there is more flesh and less seed than with many other sorts.

An easy way to remove the skin of peaches preparatory to canning is to place them in a cloth sack and hold them in boiling water for a few minutes, or until the skin slips easily. Then dip them into cold water before peeling.

Frank is another variety of peach which will ripen soon. It is yellow clingstone which is excellent for desserts because of its sweetness. The Indian, a clingstone species with a red and white mottled flesh, is suggested for peach pickles. Because of its firm texture it retains shape after pickling. Firmness is essential in any type of peach used in the canning method. For preserving, however, choose those which are soft when pressed with the thumb. They are a little sweeter and this flavor is imparted to the preserves. For ice cream choose those bordering on softness.

Looking to next year's crop, remove all weeds and vegetation, now, and leave the soil plowed and in the pink condition for the remainder of the summer.

Brining Vegetables

Brining vegetables is preferable to allowing them to spoil, when no other means of preservation is available.

If necessary, string beans, cauliflower, corn, green peppers, green tomatoes, cabbage, cucumbers and turnips may be preserved by brining. Beans, corn and cauliflower may be cooked after soaking out the salt and prepared for serving as fresh vegetables.

Green peppers may be used for stuffing and green tomatoes in pies.

Vegetables which may be preserved in a 10 per cent brine are string beans, cucumbers, green tomatoes, beta, turnips and corn on the cob. The amount of brine necessary to cover the vegetables is equal to about one half the volume of the material to be fermented. To make the 10 per cent brine use three and one-fourth cups of dairy salt to one and one-half gallons of soft water. Pour over the vegetables and the next day add one pound of salt (two and three-eighths cups) for each 10 pounds of vegetables. Place the salt on the cover to prevent sinking and skim the scum.

Before using, brined vegetables should be placed in a suitable vessel, covered with fresh water and slowly heated to lukewarm temperature. Hold at that point, stirring frequently. Then pour off the water and repeat the process if necessary until the vegetables have only a very slight salty taste.

Boll Weevil

1. Begin inspection for boll weevils after the plants are squaring freely or have produced as many as three squares at least 1-3 grown, per plant. Weevils begin to deposit eggs in squares which are one week old or nearly 1-3 grown.

2. Locate points in each field as for flea hopper infestation.

3. Use either of the following methods for taking boll weevil infestation:
a. Examine 100 squares on consecutive plants at each point. When a punctured square is found, it should be removed and held in the hand until the 100 squares have been examined. The number of punctured squares is the percentage of infestation.

b. Pick 100 squares from consecutive plants at each point. Carefully examine these squares for punctures.

4. If as many as 10 per cent of the squares or 10 out of 100 examined are found punctured by either method of inspection, the infestation is sufficiently high to warrant making the first application of calcium arsenate.

5. Examinations and dust applications should be made at an interval of 5 days using from 4 to 6 pounds of calcium arsenate until the weevils are under control. Usually three applications of poison are necessary. After examinations should be made for punctured squares and if 15 per cent are found punctured, calcium arsenate dust should be applied as needed.

6. If weevils are found in injurious numbers late in the season after the crop is set, an application of calcium arsenate should be made to protect the bolls.

7. If infestation shows that the flea hopper and boll weevil are present in the field in damaging numbers, a mixture of one part calcium arsenate and two parts sulphur should be applied at the rate of 12 to 15 pounds per acre application.

Bollworm

1. When the majority of corn silks begin to dry, start examinations for bollworm eggs on cotton.

2. Locate points as directed for flea hopper and boll weevils.

3. Examine 100 consecutive plant terminals or tops.
4. If from 35 to 40 bollworm eggs are found per 100 terminals examined or if young worms are found in small squares or on tender leaves, the infestation is considered high enough to necessitate dusting. Bollworm eggs, when they are first deposited on the plants, are white and about the size of mustard seed and as the hatching time approaches they change to a dirty white in color. These eggs will be found scattered promiscuously about on the terminal portion of the plant.

5. To obtain adequate control no time should be lost in applying dust after the above number of eggs or young worms have been found.
6. Apply 8 to 10 pounds of calcium arsenate or lead arsenate dust per acre using a row machine with a nozzle to each row. Repeat applications every five days as long as eggs and young worms are prevalent.

Leafworm

There is little need for determining the degree of leafworm infestation in cotton fields but farmers should watch their crops carefully and at the first sign of ragging in spots throughout the field, dusting should be begun in these spots. By doing this one or more general applications of poison may be saved. Dust with calcium arsenate at the rate of 5 to 7 pounds per acre at an interval of seven days or as needed.

Dusting Procedure

1. Dust applications for all insect control should be applied when the air is calm or nearly so.

2. A dusting machine should be used which will give a good distribution of poison and also large enough to permit the coverage of the cotton every five days.

3. Use row-type equipment with a nozzle to each row. Do not skip a row.

4. Set nozzle 5 to 7 inches above top and directed downward over the plants.

5. If rain occurs within 24 hours after application is made, it should be repeated.

A LETTER FROM W. J. MORRIS

The Goldthwaite Eagle, and my Friends in the surrounding country:

I take this method of letting you know where I am, and how I am—fine for a kid, having gained eight pounds since I left home June 26. We visited our friends and relatives in West Texas for some time and enjoyed it very much. We came out across the plains from Post to Roswell, New Mexico. Then we crossed three mountains to Silver City, where we are now located, three miles north of my nephew, Henry Curtis, and wife. We were with them for twelve days; had a real nice time. We topped the Black Range mountains at a height of more than eight thousand feet, plenty of winding roads to beautiful scenery. Then we camped for six days under a cottonwood tree, where it was neither hot nor cold, but just right.

We were very lonely after my nephew and his wife left; made us wish for our friends at home.

We went over to Henley and found Earl Hale, Ernest Hagan and families. Had a very welcome reception; also found some friends from our old home—Richland Springs.

Last week our old time friends from Dunkin, Arizona, came to see us. They were Tom Rouse and wife, a Mills county boy I had not seen in more than 30 years. It certainly was a treat to all of us. He has a boy about thirty years old whom he named Joe, after me. I gave him his first suit of clothes. Joe Rouse planned to come to see us this week-end. He lives at Lordsburg, Arizona.

I don't see why some of you friends down there can't come out and see us. This is a wonderful climate.

We are in a two room cottage, has all modern conveniences, gas and stoves all for ten dollars per month. Most everybody think else is high.

These prices make me wish for some of our good Goldthwaite Food Stores. I have been thinking of having my good friend, Curtis Long, send me a truck load. Melons are 3 cents per pound. Meats about the same they are there. Most of the other things a lot higher.

If this does not go to the waste basket, I will try again. Would be glad to hear from anyone.

A Friend,
W. J. Morris,
Silver City, New Mexico.

LETTER FROM PRIVATE LEWIS EUBANKS

Received the Eagle today. I surely was glad to get it. It is just like getting a letter from home. Sure appreciate being able to read the home town paper, and finding out what is happening in the county.

I wish to take this method of saying hello to my friends in Mills County.

CHEESE

Current Victory Food Special
By Louise McAlister

There is plenty of cheese—good cheese—in every part of the United States right now. There's enough at this time to supply our fighting men, to ship to our allies, to serve often here at home. From August 17 to August 29, food stores the country over are featuring the cheese as a Victory Food Special.

This is good news to homemakers—especially those in the parts of the country feeling a temporary shortage of certain types of meat. For cheese contains the same high protein type that is in meat. Many cheese dishes, like meat dishes, are the substantial kind around which you build a meal.

Home-makers also welcome cheese plenty now in view of the fact that less than a year ago the supply picture was not so rosy. At that time United States was making only enough cheese to meet normal peacetime needs. Suddenly there came a big wartime demand from countries depending on our lend lease food.

So our cheese industry had to turn and meet new high goals in cheese production. In less than a year it has surpassed the goal of one-third more production called for in the big Food for Freedom program.

Partly because of big production, partly because demand from abroad has had a seasonal slacking, the amount of cheese now available for our own use is exceptionally large. By helping make full use of these heavy supplies, homemakers can help keep up high grade of cheese production—relieve taxed storage facilities. We'll be needing more and more cheese in the months to come for Lend-Lease and military use.

Cheese Stands On Its Own Merits
It's easy to see why there is so much to do nationally and internationally about cheese as soon as you see what it has to offer in the way of food value. Take American cheddar cheese—which makes up about four-fifths of our total production here—and is the kind we send under Lend-Lease.

This cheese contains the efficient kind of protein that provides the building stuff of the body—repairs worn out tissues. By far the greatest share of cheddar cheese is made from whole milk, and therefore has enough fat in it to make a good fuel food and one that stays by the eater—keeps him from feeling hungry right after a meal.

Cheese rates high also as an excellent source of calcium, the mineral that give shape and performance to body framework. If it is made of whole milk, the cheese supplies Vitamin A. Also it has in it considerable riboflavin—another Vitamin needed for health and growth.

In fact, cheese made from whole milk contains almost all the food value of milk itself—done in a compact package with the liquid squeezed out. Although a bit of the milk's food value goes off in the whey, for all practical purposes if you wish you can count one-third of a pound of cheese equal to one quart of fluid milk when you figure your family's daily milk quota.

Cheese Cooking Briefs
Build cheese right into your meals. It is a concentrated food that contributes a lot of food values.

Cheese and eggs make up many substantial main dishes—souffles, baked eggs and cheese, etc. As far as temperatures are concerned, the same cooking rules hold for both these good protein foods. Both become hard and tough if cooked at too high temperatures.

Keep heat low in cooking cheese dishes atop the stove, by setting them in a pan of water. Most cheese dishes cooked in the oven need temperatures from slow to moderate.

Get cheese into small pieces before you combine it with other ingredients in most cooked dishes. Grate the cheese, slice it, cube it, or run it through a sieve. That way the cheese cooks more quickly, can be distributed evenly throughout. Cheese heated in one big chunk stays in that chunk after the fat melts out of it. Then it is impossible to divide this mess into smaller pieces and mix them evenly throughout the dish.

A good way to combine cheese with potatoes and left over vegetables—with cereals such as spaghetti and macaroni—is to make a sauce of flour, fat, milk and salt. Stir the sauce until the cheese melts.

Add food value and variety to biscuits and muffins by putting grated cheese in with the dry ingredients first, then add the liquids. In a muffin recipe that uses 2 to 4 tablespoons melted fat, one half cup of cheese may replace the fat. In a biscuit recipe calling for about one and one-half cups sifted flour, one-half cup grated cheese may be added to the other ingredients.

JACK LONG SERVICE STATION

SCALLORN—

By MRS. ORA BLACK

Prospects for rain have been very favorable the past few days, however, up to this time we have had only a light shower.

Earl Blake left last week for Ardmore, Oklahoma, where he has work for the next few months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson received a cablegram Friday from their son, Floyd, who is stationed in Australia, stating he was well and enjoying the fellowship of those people.

Visitors Sunday in the home of the writer were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright and daughter, Marjorie, of Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Black and children and Mrs. Earl Blake.

Mrs. Della Tyson of Goldthwaite visited last week with her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Black, and family.

Owing to bad telephone system it is impossible to contact our neighbors for news items.

Mrs. Marvin Laughlin left last week for Gladewater, California, where she and Marvin will make their home for the present.

Since we started our communication we've had something like three-fourths of an inch of rain and this Tuesday a. m., it looks as though it has set in for the day with a slow rain falling at present.

Some how our last two news items failed to be printed.

We are still having hot, dry weather, but hoping to have rain soon.

Delma Ford and wife spent Sunday week with his mother and Aunt Ann Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Marvin Laughlin left last week to go back to California, after disposing of her stock and leasing the place for 8 years. She said she liked California fine.

Mrs. Dollie Alexander and sister, Kate Taylor, of Junction, came after their mother, Mrs. Ann Kirkpatrick, Saturday. She had been with her sister, Mrs. Cora Ford, for two weeks. They went back by Bowser to visit a sister-in-law, Mrs. Belle Martin.

Mrs. Gladys Whittenburg and son, Morgan, are visiting in the Rann, Gunn, and Fred Whittenburg homes this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Ball spent the week-end in Mrs. Ball's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Smith, home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson and Grannie Laughlin attended church at Lometa Sunday.

Webb Laughlin and wife spent Saturday in Lampasas on business.

Brown Stockton and wife and daughter, Sherlie, spent one day last week in Webb Laughlin's home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kuykendall spent Sunday in Brownwood with their daughter and son-in-law, Bob Sims.

Mrs. R. D. Evans has been on the sick list the last week, but is some better.

Bill John Eckert is spending the week with his aunt, Cecil Jo Sims, in Brownwood.

(Intended for last week)

Even with the hot dry weather there's very little let down out our way, with the food conservation problem. Everything is ripening and drying faster than we can take care of it. Still plenty of peaches, tomatoes, and butter beans to be canned. Then there's the dry beans to be gathered and threshed, but we hope the last of the month to have a breathing spell and concentrate on the things we have done as well as the things we haven't done.

We enjoyed Sunday, another fine sermon from Bro. Lancaster and he promised to be back the second Sunday in September. Walter Henry and son, Gordon were home over the week-end. This week, Mrs. Marvin Laughlin dressed her house up with a new roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hines, Greta Sue, and Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Todd and little son, of Santa Anna, are spending a few days on the river.

Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Smith and sons are entertaining a host of relatives this week with a river party. Those included are Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Smith and children of May, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Crawford, of Rising Star, and Mr. and Mrs. Owen Smith and son, of May.

Refreshers—to Help You Forget The Heat and Temper of the Day

Tomato Juice Stands High As Reviver of Wilting Mortals

By Dorothy Greig

Chilled tomato juice drinks are cooling on a hot day.

"THIS will cool your blood," mother would say of a frosty drink on a withering day.

I don't know whether, strictly speaking, she was scientifically accurate—but it doesn't matter. What does matter is that long, chilled drinks are so deliciously refreshing on the tongue they cool us mentally, if not in actual fact.

And some cooling drinks bestow real benefits.

Tomato Juice, for one.

A breezy drink, tomato juice is not only cooling but rich in vitamins A, B, and especially C.

To pass to savor to the full, its sunny, fresh tomato flavor? Then simply serve it plain, well chilled. Or perhaps you enjoy it best with a dash of lemon juice, or in combination with other juices and seasonings. Many do.

To pass to friends in the garden or on the porch—or to that tired man arriving home from work—here are two particularly thirst-quenching and refreshing versions.

Tomato Lemon Sherbet Float

Fill a tall glass 3/4 full with tomato juice. To it add 1 dipper or ball of this lemon sherbet.

Lemon Sherbet:

- 1 cup syrup (white corn syrup)
2 cups water
1/2 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
1 tablespoon sugar

Combine lemon juice with grated lemon rind. Mix together thoroughly the syrup, water and salt and then add to lemon juice and lemon rind. Strain and put in refrigerator tray and freeze to a mush—then beat with rotary egg beater. Stir the sugar into the beaten egg white, fold this into sherbet mixture. Freeze—stirring once or twice, while freezing so that large crystals will not form. Makes one quart.

Tomato-Vegetable Cocktail

- 1 can (14 oz.) tomato juice
1 tablespoon watercress, finely chopped
1 teaspoon chives, finely chopped
1 tablespoon lime juice
1 teaspoon sugar
1 pinch of salt

Remove watercress leaves from stems and chop leaves very fine. Combine tomato juice, chopped watercress, chopped chives, lime juice, sugar and salt. Mix thoroughly and chill. Makes 2 classfulls.

W. A. HARRIS

Called to his eternal reward, W. A. Harris, age 46, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Harris of Caradan, pioneer citizens, died August 13, at the Naval Hospital in Corpus Christi.

He was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the Goldthwaite lodge.

He spent most of his life here. He was a member of the American Legion and saw service across the sea for 18 months during the first world war.

Mr. Harris was buried at Indian Gap, Sunday, August 16th with a military funeral service held by the Legions from Comanche and Hamilton.

Survivors are the wife, at Corpus Christi, one brother, Jim Harris of Caradan and seven sisters, Mrs. J. B. Howerton, Center City, Mrs. Andy Minor, Los Angeles, Mrs. Calvin Dalton, Coolidge, Arizona, Mrs. Chas. Griffin, Sherwood, Texas, Mrs. Aaron George, Alpine, Texas, Mrs. Monty Mahan and Mrs. Arty Mahan, both of Houston.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

(From the "Supper Table" in Brownwood Banner.)

A fifty-years-ago item from The Galveston News which Swig Ragsdale has sent to this emporium of virtue and Jeffersonian democracy is of interest: "Goldthwaite—Quite a number of the Masonic fraternity left here on the northbound local this morning for Brownwood to assist in laying the cornerstone of St. John's Episcopal Church."

So that dates another important event in the history of this city of churches, schools and sugar ration cards. We are wondering whether any of the brethren who attended the cornerstone laying are still members of St. John's Church. Some probably are, because Episcopalians, like Presbyterians, are not notably hot-blooded, and usually live a long time.

There was a Masonic Lodge here fifty years ago which probably took part in the ceremonies. Goldthwaite was the western terminus of the Santa Fe Railroad for some time before the line was extended to Brownwood. But we have never understood why the trains were listed as northbound and southbound while they ran east and west and vice-versa. Maybe it was because they started at Galveston, and everywhere is north from that magnificent island metropolis.

JUNK needed for War

"What's it good for?" "Guns, tanks, and maybe part of a plane"

In the barnyards and gullies of farms and in the basements and attics of homes is a lot of Junk which is doing no good where it is, but which is needed at once to help smash the Japs and Nazis.

Scrap iron and steel, for example.

Even in peacetime, scrap provided about 50% of the raw material for steel. It may be rusty, old "scrap" to you, but it is actually refined steel—with most impurities removed, and can be quickly melted with new metal in the form of pig iron to produce highest quality steel for our war machines.

The production of steel has gone up, up, UP, until today America is turning out as much steel as all the rest of the world combined. But unless at least 6,000,000 additional tons of scrap steel is uncovered promptly, the full rate of production cannot be attained or increased; the necessary tanks, guns and ships cannot be produced.

The rubber situation is also critical. In spite of the recent rubber drive, there is a continuing need for large quantities of scrap rubber. Also for other waste materials and metals like brass, copper, zinc, lead and tin.

The junk which you collect is bought by industry from scrap dealers at established, government-controlled prices.

Will you help? First—collect all of your waste material and pile it up.

Then—sell it to a Junk dealer, give it to a charity, take it yourself to the nearest collection point, or get in touch with your Local Salvage Committee.

If you live on a farm, consult your County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas for August

Washington, D. C., August 5.—While maintaining a tentative annual level of twelve billion dollars as its goal, the Treasury Department today fixed the August quota for the sale of War Bonds at $815,000,000 as shown by the accompanying map by states.

In lowering the quota from a billion dollars in July to $815,000,000 in August, the Treasury has given recognition to certain factors which may be expected to result in variations in sales over the 12-month period, such as the seasonal character of farm income.

These factors have been taken into account in determining each state's share for the national quota for August and will be given consideration in fixing quotas for subsequent months.

In addition to the state quotas as set out in the map there is a federal payroll allotment quota of $9,750,000 and territorial quotas as follows: Alaska, $760,000; Canal Zone, $213,000; Hawaii, $4,300,000; Puerto Rico, $440,000, and the Virgin Islands, $17,000.

WHEN CHRIST IS LORD

Some time ago I conversed with a professor from the city of Houston who was mistakenly accepting Jesus as a unique young Jewish enthusiast about whom His followers wove a story garment of many wonders. The professor possessed a keen and brilliant mind and though, I grant, he knew much of science and history; he knew little of Jesus. I've known others who accept Jesus as but a character of legend and reject altogether the historic personage. Some say He was but a philosopher and class Him along with Zoroaster, Duddha, Confucius and Socrates. Some go farther still and grant Him more than human wisdom and say that He is the "Way Out" from human distress, darkness and failure. But I am glad that I can tell you of a certainty that Jesus is more than all this. For I know Him personally as the Christ. To me He is Savior from sin, its nature and effect. To all who know Him thus He is God manifested in terms of humanity — Diety incarnated. But in I Peter 3: 15 we find that there is another step to be made by those who accept His deity and experience His Saviorhood. That other step is that in the temple of a holy heart He be crowned Lord. "But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts." Here is where Satan makes his most desperate stand for it is here that the final issue is joined. Here is where Satan has mustered a host of those who bear the name of Christ, but because they have accepted from Satan the dogma of defeat, which is "Sin every day in the thought, word and deed," they have neglected and failed to take a second step, which is to sanctify in their hearts Christ as Lord. A Christian that is a follower of Jesus, a Christed one has the will to do the perfect will of Christ because his love for Christ has been made perfect. His heart is knit with the heart of Jesus and his delight is to know and serve no other lord. But the un sanctified, the carnally minded, are not so. For even after one has accepted the Christ as Savior from the penalty of sin, he soon becomes conscious that when he would do good—obey the voice of God, evil is present with him, and Christ and Satan contend for his will. Here is the double minded man. No man can please two masters. This carnal nature is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be. It is not in the plan of God that His redeemed should be bound with a double allegiance. Whom the Son makes free indeed. Listen, friend, only in the heart made holy through the fiery cleansing of the pentecostal baptism does Jesus truly reign supreme. And here is where Christ is truly Lord.

METHODIST NOTES

The last three Sunday evenings we have had no services at the Methodist church. A number of people thought it would be well to dismiss the evening service through August. This is the first time in your pastor's long ministry he has done that, and frankly we feel that we have lost nothing by the experiment. However, as some feel that they would like to have evening services at their own church, we will hold services hereafter in the evening, beginning Sunday. We find that a great many churches are holding their services at 8 o'clock in the evening and some seem to think that that time would be better than 8:30. If the congregation so feels, we will have the services at 8 p. m. Be ready to vote on the time Sunday.

Now may we urge you to attend the evening service. It is mighty hard on a pastor to prepare a sermon and then find only a few out to hear it. It should not be thought that we have no responsibility for the evening service. Your pastor feels that you are just as much obligated to attend the evening service as the morning service. Let us have a good crowd out next Sunday evening on time.

B. A. MYERS, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST ANNOUNCEMENTS

The church in Big Valley is engaged in a gospel meeting. Brother Hatton B. Gist of San Antonio is doing the preaching and Damon Smith of San Saba is directing the song service. The meeting closes Sunday night. The services for Sunday here in Goldthwaite will be as follows: Sunday morning we will begin at 9:45 and finish in time to go and be with the church at Big Valley for morning services. There will be a basket lunch after services there. Sunday night we will have our usual evening services here at 8:30. Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. we will have our mid-week prayer meeting service. Because our tires are rationed let's not ration our religion. It goes without saying that thin tires will not keep you from attending the services of the church if you are interested. The church doesn't need you, but you need the church.

R. ERVIN DRISKILL, Minister.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The membership of the Baptist church will call a pastor on Sunday, August 23. Rev. Sam Taylor of San Saba, Rev. Melton Leach of Big Wells, Texas, Rev. R. C. McGinnis of Gustine, Rev. J. T. King of Austin, and Rev. J. H. McLain of Brownwood have appeared before the church upon the invitation of the committee. The church membership will call one of the above as pastor for the remainder of this year and all of 1943. Present plans are for the church to call a pastor at the 11 o'clock service. The entire membership of the church is urged to be present at this hour and assist in the calling of the pastor.

Come to Sunday school at 10 a. m.

TEXT FOR TEXAS

by George C. Hester

SAVE THE SMALL BUSINESS MAN

Last week there came the news of two separate and distinct movements that may be of profound consequences to the small business men of America. One of these was in the form of an announcement from Washington that the government is considering the possibility of freeing out a large portion of the small business concerns of this country. These would include both small production industries as well as retail establishments. The idea behind the suggestion seems to rest upon the theory that war production must be concentrated in the hands of strictly war industries.

In the case of retailing, the severe priority and rationing program will mean a poverty of civilian goods within the next few months. This in turn will tend to eliminate many of the retail stores, since the amounts of goods to be sold will not be sufficient to justify the operation of all of them. It appears that some plan is now under consideration whereby the government, itself, may direct the policy of concentrating retailing into fewer units of distribution. The unneeded stores would be closed for the duration.

The other movement comes from independent business men who seek to create an organization of over a million members, composed chiefly of small business concerns, whose aim would be to combat all plans aimed at eliminating the small business man from the nation's economy.

There is much to be said in favor of the latter movement. Few things could have a more far reaching effect upon the American economy, both in war and peace, than the short sighted policy of destroying small enterprise. Nothing could do more to bring about an industrial collapse in a post-war period. Such a program now could now result in increasing unemployment, while at the same time, enhance the strangle hold of big business on American life and industry.

When this war ends, the millions of people now concentrated in war industries will be compelled to migrate from these centers. Back to the smaller towns they will come; to be confronted with "closed out" signs across the doors of half the small business concerns will be a dismal prospect indeed. The assumption that such concerns can, or will, automatically re-open their doors the moment armistice is declared, is just another example of erroneous thinking. The fact is, as proved repeatedly by past experience, that once a business concern is closed and its assets liquidated, only in rare cases are its doors ever reopened.

But there are other factors in the problem that go to the very roots of American life. This war, let us remind ourselves, is being fought to restore the value and importance of the common man. This value and worth of the common man, in all of its bold reality, came out of his economic opportunities to engage in business and to choose his vocation or profession. Call our system of government what you will—a democracy, a way of life, a capitalistic system or whatnot. The fact remains that its progress has been reflected in the prosperity and economic well-being of the small business man. The totalitarian state deprives men of these opportunities by directing and regimenting their lives and efforts.

Moreover, the real strength of a nation lies in its economy and the morale of its citizens. To deliberately destroy a large sector of that economy, and thus disarrange the lives of millions of our most stable population, would be destructive both as to morale as well as economic endeavor.

The recent report of the Truman Committee stated the facts when it said:

"The civilian economy cannot be treated as a separate problem, for a sound, healthy civilian economy is an absolute essential for the successful prosecution of a modern war, especially if it is a protracted war. There are certain minimum and basic needs of the civilian population which must be met in order to keep up morale and the ability to continue producing war materials in the quantities needed. In a very real sense, war materials are nothing more than the surplus which can be spared from civilian production without impairing the ability of the economy to continue producing. To use a homely example, you cannot get milk from a cow or eggs from a fowl unless you provide sufficient food to keep the animal sound and healthy.

"Moreover, government cannot neglect the fact that fundamentally the whole defense and war program was embarked upon for the purpose of preserving from Fascist aggressors the American way of living and that little will be gained if in winning the war we destroy the ability of the country to readjust itself and resume the American way of living.

"To do this we must preserve to as great an extent as possible a sound civilian economy."

One People, One Tongue, One Loyalty

(Brownwood Bulletin)

When the Swedish ship Drottningham prepared to sail for Lisbon with a load of Axis nationals exchanged for American diplomats and nationals in Axis countries, the passengers had no sooner boarded ship than the children who had been reared in free America began their schooling in Nazi "kultur."

And when three American kids who had been sent abroad to visit relatives in Germany return home, their naturalized and Americanized parents are shocked and grieved to find the older boy of the group has become a dirty little Nazi hating American ways in the brief time he spent under Hitler Youth influences.

We must learn from our enemies and our failures as well as from more gentle and friendly influences.

The present German military might is directly due to the careful training of the youth of Germany in the years between 1918 and 1939—training with the one purpose of making Nazis out of boys and girls.

Here in America we send our boys and girls to public or private schools where they learn to sing a few patriotic songs, to play athletic games and to read the story of Washington and the Cherry Tree. It is a free-and-easy-going sort of schooling. The child can believe whatever he wishes and refuse to believe whatever he wishes.

We even have higher court rulings that a child does not have to salute the American flag.

In America the child is darling in his own home, but his future is so little thought of en masse that he has a tremendous amount of time left to his own devices—he may even be found roaming the streets in the middle of the night, learning to steal and cheat with questionable companions.

Children in America are not made to prepare themselves to fight for their country. They are not told that upon their shoulders, and on no others, depends the future life of the nation in a world in which peace and justice have been challenged at intervals down through the ages.

In America the child is apt to hear his elders talking about heads of government and chosen representatives of the people in most disparaging terms; and he might even hear some such talk in some school rooms. There is nothing to prevent such things from taking place in times of peace.

In America we expect children, brought up under haphazard circumstances, to make good citizens without surrounding them with even the simplest laws to require that they shall all know and appreciate the privilege of being citizens of this Republic.

Because it is a free country we have permitted Japanese children to study the Japanese language and learn to worship the Japanese emperor. We have permitted German children to study the German language and to become members of Hitler Youth organizations right here in America.

And we have blindly supposed that children who enjoy American freedom will grow up to be good Americans without positively requiring that they do so.

Thus in our great love for freedom, we have sinned terribly against the God-given liberties entrusted to our keeping.

There should be iron-clad laws on the statute-books of every state requiring a course in citizenship for every boy and girl. If a constitutional amendment is required to make it mandatory for every child to accept the minimum responsibilities of citizenship—including the responsibility of saluting and defending the flag—then such an amendment should be written without delay into the fundamental laws of these states and of the United States.

If this is to be one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all, then it must be a nation of one people, of one language, of one heritage, of one outlook and of one loyalty.

To that end, we should be fair to any who might dissent, and should deport them to the land of their choice.

EDUCATING THE GERMANS

EMIL LUDWIG offers a worthwhile idea about something we can do, when we have won this war, to help prevent another in two or three decades. He suggests that, for a certain period, the United Nations must assume control over the Reich's arms, education and government.

Ludwig's contribution is the suggestion concerning education. It is his idea that only by inoculating a whole generation of Teutons with Christian principles of religion, philosophy, and history, can we hope to eradicate the Hun-like characteristics which long have made Germany the scourge of the western world.

James V. Allred

For
UNITED STATES SENATOR

There is a written record made of every speech during the first primary. It shows that James V. Allred engaged in no personalities, and that he did not reflect on the honor or integrity of any candidate but dealt simply and strictly with the records.

A part of his platform is as follows:

- (1)—To win the people's war as quickly as possible;
- (2)—To provide for our boys in uniform while they are in and after they come out of the service;
- (3)—To set up the machinery for readjustment at the present time and rehabilitation after the war is over;
- (4)—To write and enforce an enduring peace that shall insure our children against another war.

James V. Allred, in his speech at Abilene Tuesday night, said the first day he sat in the Senate Chamber at Washington he would introduce a bill to guarantee cotton growers of the United States a minimum price of 25 cents per pound for their cotton. That he would sponsor a bill giving the government authority to buy and store for future use the wool and mohair surplus of our country—instead of buying South American coffee to relieve the coffee surplus there.

JACOB'S VISION OF GOD

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 28:10-22. GOLDEN TEXT—1 am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whithersoever thou goest.—Genesis 28:15.

Deception, trickery, falsehood, jealousy were all present in the family of Isaac at the time of our lesson. A hopeless situation, one would say; and so it was, apart from one thing—the grace of God. We speak that phrase so easily, but in reality it has an infinite depth of meaning. Jacob shared the deception planned by his mother, and thereby he received the blessing of Esau. Not willing to wait God's time for the carrying out of His purpose, they sinned to gain an advantage. Then to escape the wrath of Esau, he had to flee. The journey was ostensibly to find a wife, but in fact a flight from an enraged brother. Could such a journey bring a man to a place of blessing? It did, as there was—

I. A Revelation of God's Grace (vv. 10-15).

The fugitive was overtaken by darkness on the second night of his journey, and made his bed in the open. Then came the magnificent vision of the ladder to heaven.

Heaven and earth are not separated. There is a way to reach the throne of God, and there is a way for God to reach and bless His people. The vision of the ladder thus reassured Jacob. We need only remember the God-Man Christ Jesus, who came from glory and has returned there to now appear as our Advocate, to be assured of this fact.

God renewed to Jacob the covenant with Abraham and with Isaac. He does not forget. Men make treaties only to break them. God says, "I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of" (v. 15).

In His matchless grace God relieved Jacob's fear by assuring him of His protection; his loneliness by His divine presence; and his uncertainty regarding the future by the promise of blessing.

The response of Jacob was— II. A Realization of God's Greatness (vv. 16-19).

Full of holy fear and of awe, Jacob realized the presence of the infinite God. It is a proper and a wholesome reaction when a man, realizing himself to be in God's presence, is overcome by the awe-inspiring experience.

Possibly the reason for our lack of reverence for holy things, for the Lord's day—yes, for God Himself, is because He has become a little God, weak and uninspiring in our thinking. Theologians, preachers, and teachers have dared to speak swelling words of disrespect concerning His miraculous power, have denied the deity of His Son, have questioned the authority of His Word. Having sown the wind of unbelief, they have reaped from the people the whirlwind of irreverence, a belittling of God, and a rejection of His authority (Hos. 8:7).

Jacob was reminded of God's immediate presence—"the Lord is in this place." The place of his vision of heavenly things had special meaning to Jacob.

But the underlying truth is that God is everywhere. He is not only in the church, or in the place of vision or of soul-struggle; He is also in the place of trial, of suffering, of sorrow, of loneliness—yes, even of sin. The thing that Jacob "found out that night was not that God visits man, but that God is with man wherever he is. We expect to meet Him in the sanctuary; but He is near us in the market place . . . Not alone in the sanctuary, but where the multitude gather in defiance of His law, He is there" (G. Campbell Morgan).

This rich experience led Jacob to— III. A Recognition of God's Goodness (vv. 20-22).

The God who would supply his every need, who would watch over him and keep him, was recognized by Jacob as being worthy of his devotion, and he made a vow that He should be his God (v. 21).

The grace and goodness of God are intended to bring men to faith in Him and devotion to His service. Yet men can go on year after year, the beneficiaries of all His bounty, and never so much as say "Thank you," let alone recognize Him as Lord.

Jacob made a very practical and workable decision to demonstrate the reality of his vow. He promised that one tenth of all God gave him should be given back.

We agree with Dr. W. H. Griffith Thomas that "if only some of those who are inclined to criticize Jacob would do what he promised and give a tenth of their income to God, a different state of affairs would obtain in connection with God's work at home and abroad."

Trickery and deception were changed to truthfulness and devotion when Jacob met God face to face. The same blessed transformation awaits those who meet our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ in faith. Have you met Him?

This Bank and The War

This Bank believes that there are many ways in which all of us can get behind the boys who are giving their lives to protect ours, and urges your consideration of the following suggested ways:

1. Realize, first, that we are fighting, not for conquest, but for our very existence as a people.
2. Never put personal profit above national interest.
3. Use your spare time in cooperation with civilian defense work.
4. Economize in your use of essential materials, and save waste materials.
5. Never grumble about the job that's being done when you are not sure of the facts, and don't repeat groundless rumors that might obstruct the work or help the enemy.
6. Buy War Bonds and contribute to the Red Cross and other organizations which need funds now more than ever before.

And finally, responding to the glorious example of Houston and his heroes, who remembered the Alamo at Goliad and San Jacinto, let us never forget Pearl Harbor and pledge to pay back this treacherous assault a thousand times.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49a, requiring all bills passed by the Legislature on and after January 1, 1945, appropriating money for any purpose, to be sent to the Comptroller of Public Accounts for his approval, and fixing the duties of the Comptroller with reference thereto; authorizing the Legislature to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by the General Revenue Fund on September 1, 1943; providing for the submission of this amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and providing for the necessary appropriation to defray necessary expenses for the submission of this amendment.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto, immediately after Section 49a section to be known as Section 49a, to read as follows:

"Section 49a. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts in advance of each Regular Session of the Legislature to prepare and submit to the Governor and to the Legislature upon its convening a statement under oath showing fully the financial condition of the State Treasury at the close of the last fiscal period and an estimate of the probable receipts and disbursements for the then current fiscal year. There shall also be contained in said statement an itemized estimate of the anticipated revenue based on the laws then in effect that will be received by and for the State from all sources showing the fund accounts to be credited during the succeeding biennium and said statement shall contain such other information as may be required by law. Supplemental statements shall be submitted at any Special Session of the Legislature and at such other times as may be necessary to show probable changes.

"From and after January 1, 1945, save and in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each House, no appropriation in excess of the cash and anticipated revenue of the funds from which such appropriation is to be made shall be valid. From and after January 1, 1945, no bill containing an appropriation shall be considered as passed or be sent to the Governor for consideration until and unless the Comptroller of Public Accounts endorses his certificate thereon showing that the amount appropriated is within the amount estimated to be available in the affected funds. When the Comptroller finds an appropriation bill exceeds the estimated revenue he shall endorse such finding thereon and shall return to the House in which same originated. Such information shall be immediately made known to both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the necessary steps shall be taken to bring such appropriation to within the revenue, either by providing additional revenue or reducing the appropriation.

"For the purpose of financing the outstanding obligations of the General Revenue Fund of the State and placing its current accounts on a cash basis the Legislature of the State of Texas is hereby authorized to provide for the issuance, sale and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by said fund on September 1, 1943, provided such bonds shall not draw interest in excess of two (2) per cent per annum and shall mature within twenty (20) years from date."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas, at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1942, being November 3, 1942, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words:

"For the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for the issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words:

"Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election. 8-21

Millican of Bend, past president of the State Pecan Growers' Association, and R. B. Bagley, one of the state's largest buyers of pecans. State Department Health Notes

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has released some interesting information concerning Vincent's angina which was commonly called "trench mouth" during World War I.

Dr. Cox states that Vincent's angina is a specific infection producing inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes, more commonly those of the mouth, and the disease is spread by indirect as well as direct contact.

"Because of the readiness with which this disease is transmitted, it has been occasionally found in epidemic form among the school children and other groups," Dr. Cox states. "Vincent's angina assumed epidemic proportions in the front line trenches in 1914-1918 and it was during this period that the disease became generally known as trench mouth."

Although trench mouth is now worldwide in distribution, reasonable application of preventive measures which are merely those in line with approved personal health practices will be found sufficient defense against this infection.

According to the State Health Officer the most common causes of Vincent's angina are neglected mouths, broken teeth fillings, and other types of oral irritation. Daily hygiene, plus the periodic visit to the dentist can be relied upon as reasonable buffers against this infection. However, persons who are very careful regarding oral hygiene can acquire this disease by using infected drinking cups and eating utensils and other personal articles; also by kissing, though healthy gums and mucous membranes have a much superior resistance to the infection than does an unclean mouth.

Dr. Ruel Slaughter and daughter, Eloise, spent the week-end with Mrs. Slaughter, who is recovering from a major operation at a Marlin hospital.

"Yank on the Burma Road" Highlighting China's lifeline,
 the Burma Road, this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture capitalizes on the heroic efforts of the Chinese to keep the Burma Road open to traffic so that her armies may get needed supplies.
 Dramatically presented, the picture opens in New York, where Nelson, a cocksure taxi driver, agrees to lead a fleet of trucks over the Burma Road for a Chinese society. At Rangoon he meets Miss Day, who tricks him into smuggling her into China, where she expects to meet her husband, a soldier of fortune.

The caravan gets under way,
 only to run into adventure, comedy, and a pathetic picture of the hardships the Chinese undergo with stoic patience. Overcoming all the difficulties the road can offer, including a battle in which Miss Day's husband is killed, Nelson leads his de-

SECOND PRIMARY SATURDAY

Saturday, August 22 will decide who the Democratic Nominees will be in Texas. It is not generally believed that the vote will be hardly as large as was polled in the first primary, as many of the local races over the state were decided at that time
 —so local interest will not be so great.

We believe each citizen should vote and express his preference in each election. Go to the polls and vote.

NAVY CHAPLAINS NEEDED

New Orleans, August 13—Qualified candidates for the Chaplain Corps of the United States Naval Reserve are being accepted with volunteers for service needed from several faiths, the Eighth Naval District Public Relations Office has announced.

Although certain denominations have adequate representation, commissions are available for Navy Chaplains from Catholic, Baptist, Methodist, Episcopalian, Congregational Christian, Disciples of Christ, Lutheran, Reformed, United Brethren, Unitarians and Presbyterian churches if applicants are qualified.

The candidate for the Chaplain Corps of the Navy must be a U. S. citizen, fully ordained and in the active ministry, not less than 24 years of age or more than 43, endorsed by official authorities of his denomination, have completed four years of college and three of theological work, and be competent for mental and spiritual leadership. He must also pass a physical examination.

Duties of a Navy Chaplain are primarily religious, but there are additional duties which fall to the lot of the Navy Chaplain that are not the privileged responsibility of the average civilian Pastor or Priest. These additional duties are in connection with activities promoted in the Navy for the advancement of the mental, moral and physical as well as spiritual welfare of the personnel.

The Navy Chaplains must be men of exceptional ability, good preachers, possess tact, patience and understanding, and have the characteristics of diplomats.
 Their education must be sound and the must exemplify in the broadest aspects the spirit of tolerance and Christian Charity. In addition, they must possess a keen interest in youth and his religious welfare.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Allison of Stephenville moved into the Ray Ford house on the hill east of town one day last week. Mr.
 and Mrs. Allison have accepted positions in the Goldthwaite school. Mr. Allison will be principal in the grammar school.

Miss Mary Louise Fairman writes that she is well pleased with her attending Draughon's business College in Dallas.

PIERCE BROOKS LEADS RACE FOR RAIL COM. POST

Pierce Brooks, run-off candidate for the unexpired term of Railroad Commissioner, has as his campaign pledge; "Win the war first."

"I will insist that everything possible be done to co-operate with our state and national governments in giving all-out support in the transportation of troops, materials and supplies during the present emergency.
 I am familiar with the problems of the railroads, freight and bus lines, truckers, oil men, and the farmers and ranchers. They will receive friendly, efficient service and through co-operation in settling their problems
 when I am elected to the Railroad Commission."

In his speeches and radio addresses, Brooks pledges the preservation of our natural and physical resources. He insists that the suggested rationing of gasoline in Texas is unnecessary, pointing out that on the eastern seaboard, where rationing is now being experienced, they do not have available transportation facilities as we have, nor the proximity of our vast oil fields and refineries.

To oil men of Texas Brooks has promised his complete support in their war effort. "The oil men of Texas are doing what all of us should do. They are helping Uncle Sam. They are getting victory out of our good earth in the form of vital petroleum, needed by our United Nations in this terrible crisis."

Throughout the state business men, professional men, families in every walk of life are wholeheartedly endorsing Mr. Brooks
