NUMBER 1.

BREVITIES.

NANCY HAWOOD had murdered a woman at Manitowoc, Wis., and was in jail on suspicion; but her denial of guilt had been persistent, and there was hardly any evidence against her. Her mother visited her in prison, held a crucifix up before her, and called on her in the name of the Virgin Mary to tell the truth. The girl thereupon confessed the crime.

PARIS, too, is sniffing and complaining of bad smells. Some of these undoubtedly proceed from the factories in the northeastern quarter; but the 80,000 cesspools of the city are not unreasonably suspected of counting for something in the affair, and the Municipal Council is going to try to so improve the sewerage as to make it possible to do away with them altogether.

FRANCESCO RIZZOLI, Professor of Surgery at the University of Bologna, who died recently, has bequeathed his vast wealth, estimated at nearly 9,000,000, to the municipality of Bologna, with the stipulation that it should be devoted to the completion and maintenance of the Model Orthopedic Hospital on his estate at San Michele, in Bosco, an institution on which he had during his life time expended a sum of 2,000,000.

The little town of Corrago has at last awakened to the honor conferred upon it by the painter Antonio Allegri having been born and having lived and died within its walls, and a statue is to be erected in his honor, which will be inaugurated on Oct. 17th. The statue, unfortunately, can only be the work of imagination, for no authentic portrait of Allegri is known to exist, though one given in many biographies has long passed for his.

A very peculiar case is under investigation by the committee of the Cork Fever Hospital. A gentleman has charged one of the surgeons of the institution with having experimented on his child who was suffering from suppressed scarlatina, inserting a peculiar poison called pyocarpine, into the veins. The father states that the experiment was never before tried in the United Kingdom, and that the physician should have consulted his colleagues before using it.

KLINE and his wife slept on the porch of their residence, at Gainesville, Texas, one warm night last summer. In the morning it was found that the man had been murdered where he lay. Noftinger, who had been Kline's suitor before her marriage, was convicted of the crime and hanged. Lately Mrs. Kline was supposed to be dying, and she then confessed (what had never been suspected) that she was Noftinger's accomplice in the murder. She has recovered, and will be tried.

The elephant Chief, who killed his keeper, John King, in North Carolina a few days ago, is an old and vicious brute. Tamers of elephants generally act on the belief that they can only be controlled through fear; that, though they make pets of dogs and other beasts, they can never be made to love their masters. King held a contrary theory, and boasted that he never punished Chief. His life was lost, it is said, because he did not promptly resort to torture when his charge became unruly.

ALTHOUGH the Empress of Germany is not a popular lady, she is an extremely charitable one. Her first visit on arriving in Berlin are to the schools and hospital she had founded, and which are named after her. Not only are these supported mainly out of her private purse, but they receive from her a large share of time and attention. It seems almost as if the precise military habits of her male relatives had influenced her character, for during her stay in Berlin she may be seen at a certain hour on a certain day of every week driving in a small brougham to the hospital to read the reports of the head physician, to visit the patients, and to inquire minutely into the treatment they receive.

An extra solidity is given by French builders to factory and other floors requiring great strength by embedding the boarding in asphalt. Pieces of oak, usually about two and a half to four inches thick are pressed down into a layer of solid asphalt, not quite half an inch thick, in the familiar herring-bone pattern. To insure a complete adhesion of the wood to the asphalt, and obtain the smallest possible joint, the edges of the pieces of wood are planed down, beveling toward the bottom, so that their cross sections become wedge-like. It is stated that the floors constructed according to this plan are used mainly for ground stories in barracks and hospitals, and that they have also been resorted to in the numerous newly constructed forts at Metz.

NEWSN. A NUT SHELL.

EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD.

The Great Ice Two Hemispheres Carefully Couched and Classified—An Interesting Budget of Personal and Miscellaneous Information.

Washington.
—The petition for the payment of the Utahs was signed Monday.

—The edge of silver the United States mint during the last fiscal year footed about $28,000,000. Adding the re-exports of silver bullion and probable exemption in art, etc., the production of silver for the year will be about $38,000,000, 000,000 less than the previous fiscal year.

—The frame court convened here Monday, October 11th. All the justices were present, but Hunt, Clifford and Field, expected that Field will take his place October 18th. The Kentucky and Louisiana cases were disposed of, the former being dismissed and the latter indefinitely postponed.

—Secret Schurz has the following letter from Spott Tail, chief of the Brule Sioux: "Dear Sir: I want to talk with you about six young men belonging to my people who were sent on to Omaha to be dealt with under the laws. Great Father, these young men I have taken up to be paid, but if they are guilty according to the laws laid down for punishment of men who have committed crimes against the laws of the Great Father, now what I want to say to you is that the young men are guilty. I want them punished. If they are not guilty I will send them back to me and their families. Now they should have trial for the alleged crimes with the same chances that white men has; they should have as good lawyers as we give them, and we will defend them the same as you would be allowed to defend our children if they were in prison and were to be tried for crimes they had been charged with. I am now writing to you I do not do for myself alone. They have men council and talked long, but always spoke good and kind words for the Great Father to listen to, and we want him to open his ears and hear the words we want to say. If people are good people and want to do what the Great Father tells them. They have their children and it makes them mourn when their children do wrong. Every man we want to help our children, for my people put together from their earnings a little money to be used in being our children in this trouble. All who are able to give have given to help them and the money we have raised we are going to send to you that you may help us. If good lawyers to defend our children, we want them to have a fair trial, and we want you to spend the money that they have saved as good a chance to go free as the white men could have. So I send you $280.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.
—The doctor has told Blaine that he must give up snuff-spitting.

—Miss Anna Larcombe, daughter of the publisher of the government printing office, has been with Garnett Hill, a youth from Pennsylvania.

—Jacob Tall, the geologist and naturalist, died recently in his tent in Willeberger county, Texas, where he had gone on a scientific expedition.

—Ex-4y. Seymour made a speech at Chickadee, New York. The place was packed like a hen house, and thousands went away with a high opinion of him.

—The funeral of Jacques Offenbach, the composer was celebrated at the Madeleine, in Paris, in great pomp. All the artistic celebrities of the French capital were present.

—Col. Ben Brownfield of Uniontown, Pa., 101 years of age, who recently made a Democratic speech stating that he had voted for Jefferson in 1800, and hoped to live to vote for Hancock, has just died.

—Four hundred young men of Cleveland, O. who all cast their first votes for Garfield, visited that gentleman at Mentor. He welcomed them cordially, and made them a neat little speech.

—Dr. H. Williams attempted suicide at Milwaukee with morphine. He was deposited by the Episcopal ministry in Pennsylvania 1871 for visiting a house of ill fame, whence time has not been able to make comfortable living.

GENERAL FOREIGN NOTES.
—In fit of jealousy at Williamsburg, Wm Fox killed Adam Krebs.

—Consulman Chas. H. Voorhies has been indicted for embezzlement at Trenton, N. J.

—An old process-server has been murdered in England. The people are arming, and weapons of all descriptions find ready sale.

—Gov. Armenter of Hertfordshire, N. J., died of a stroke of cholera given him by a domestic who misunderstood the directions.

—The fire man who recently ran away with 3000 francs belonging to a Paris actress, has been heard from in Montana where he is "backing the tiger."

—Prussia settled down to the belief that M. Herold mother-in-law set fire to the Tuileries the other night. It is not supposed that she did it on purpose, but there is no longer a doubt that the flames first appeared in her bed-room.

—The heli at Hudson, a village on the Ottawa, fifty miles from Montreal, must be a cheery place to stop at. About two weeks ago a colony of ghosts took up their abode in the place, and since their advent the inmates have had a very lively time of it. Beds, chairs, beds, tables and leaves of board dance around in broad daylight, the fires are kindled and rekindled, but these hands in rapid succession. Several priests have tried to exorcise the spirits without effect.

—An apothecary newspaper at Ottawa, Ont., announces that the bargain made by the Canadian ministers with the London syndicate for the completion of the Pacific railroad has fallen through. The ministerial organs deny this, and state that the Cabinet will meet to-day to decide whether it will call early session of Parliament or instruct the syndicate to proceed with work immediately, the government assuming the responsibility. It is thought probable that the latter course will be adopted.

THE EAST.
—Hutch, Mass., had a $20,000 fire.

—A wer lamine is feared in Newark, N. J.

—Four more bodies have been recovered from the Hudson tunnel.

—The United States Supreme Court convened Monday, October 11th.

—The Chase and Faulkner mills, at Lowell, Mass., burned Oct. 6. Loss $300,000.

—Charles Wilthen of Pottsville, Penn., in a jealous mood, shot his wife and subsequently himself, Oct. 6.

—Over 12,000,000 bushels of grain were shipped to Europe from New York during the month of September.

—David Donaglass & Co., importers of linens at New York, who, ten years ago, were worth $250,000, have suspended.

—The Tunnel express on the Fitchburg railroad left the track near Littleton. Two passengers were killed and several injured.

—At Pittsburgh, October 10th, a locomotive ran into the rear car of a crowded excursion train. Twenty-four people were killed and many wounded.

—Rev. Dr. Krohn, the Methodist preacher of West Troy, N. Y., charged with Beecherism, has been "vindicated" by a committee appointed by the presiding elder.

—Stosson defeated Schaefer at billiards in New York City, the score standing 600 to 438. Schaefer made 312 in one run early in the game, and seemed likely to win, but he scored small figures after that, while Stosson crept up on him a hundred at a time.

THE WEST.
—Mrs. A. G. Byler of California, Mo., was ravished by a negro, Oct. 5th.

—There was political rioting at Shelbyville, Ind., October 9th. Sheriff McCorkle was shot and killed.

—Mrs. Frank Crocker tried to shoot her stepmother in Milwaukee Oct. 6, but instead shot off her own finger.

—Patrick O'Brien, engineer in the Jefferson avenue oil works at St. Louis, was caught in the machinery and killed Oct. 5th.

—Indianapolis amusement managers have inaugurated a war over the price of seats, which the theatre going public enjoys hugely.

—A train on the Indianapolis and St. Louis railway ran through an open scald at Nokoma, Ill., October 10th, caught fire and burned up. No lives lost, loss $70,000.

—Joseph Mehrens and wife were riding home from La Crosse, Wis., when a spark from the former's pipe set fire to the straw in the wagon-box, and both were fatally burned.

—The registration books at Milwaukee have been closed with a total of 18,814 names on the list—a gain of 6,688 over previous figures. Democrats claim that their opponents were not registered.

—At Marietta, O., Wilson Congdon struck William Bush on the head with a heavy cane. Bush went before a justice of the peace to swear out a warrant for Congdon's arrest, and fell dead when he had finished telling his story.

—A six horse coach containing Chief Justice Donohue, of New York, and several other tourists, capsized at Milton, Cal., while returning from the Yosemite. Father Trayner was fatally injured, but the other members of the party escaped with slight bruises.

—Wade and Mrs. Brown, the Indianapolis murderers recently sentenced to death, have reached that point where the clergy begin to take an interest in the salvation of their souls. The woman's case is before the Supreme Court, but Wade has no money to carry his up. The execution is fixed for the 27th inst.

—Winona, Minn., is in good humor over the decision of the Supreme court, affirming the judgment of the lower court in the case of the city against the Minnesota Construction company, by which the municipality recovers bonds to the amount of $100,000, issued in 1870 on certain conditions which were never fulfilled.

THE SOUTH.
—The Baltimore celebration was formally opened October 10th.

—The cotton crop was in a favorable condition last month in Virginia.

—John Dwyer killed H. Disbrow at Baltimore, Oct. 4. No cause is assigned.

—Robert McGill of Charleston, W. Va., has been arrested for attempting to poison his wife, three children and step-father.

—Gus Wilkins, of Washington, N. C., accused by his son, ten years old, of stealing cattle, got even with the lad by killing him.

—The pork-packing establishments of Foss & Homer and Paul Gable, at Canton, in the suburbs of Baltimore, were destroyed by fire yesterday.

BLAINE'S SPEECH IN NEW JERSEY.

Kansas City Times.

This professional political gambler is about played out. The last hand he played was in his speech at Patterson, where he ignored personal politics and professed that he was too magnanimous to attack Gen. Hancock personally; that he wished the people to take it for granted that both the candidates were "honorable men." We like to be charitable, but it is asking too much to throw the veil of charity over such demagogues and prostitutes as he and Garfield and place them and their party on the same patriotic and manly platform as Gen. Hancock. If Blaine does not wish his own and his candidate's hypocrisy, corruption and total depravity unveiled and exposed in all its moral deformity, he should remain in the shade and not attempt to put his leprosy garment on healthy, decent people.

In his speech Blaine stated that if Gen. Hancock was elected he would appoint such State rights Democrats as Judge Thurman of Ohio, as judges of the Supreme court, who would by their decisions nullify the Constitution and destroy the Union. For this corruptionist who has been convicted of using his official position in Congress to plunder the people in his railroad land operations, to compare him and Garfield's character with Judge Thurman and Gen. Hancock, is the disgusting impudence of the hardened demagogue. The hypocrisy of this demagogue about the danger of State rights is shown by his own party platform. Mr. Lincoln was nominated and elected on the most ultra State's right doctrine that was ever announced by any party in the United States. They declared that it was the right of the States to manage exclusively their local and domestic institutions and that upon the preservation of this right depended the preservation of the Union. A Republican Supreme court held that the right to vote was derived exclusively from the States. Now, if a State government exists it must from necessity have the power to say who shall vote to elect the officers who shall administer the public business of the people. Every President from WASHINGTON to GRANT, in their messages, show that they thought that there was greater danger from centralization and unrestrained power in the Federal government than there was from any State or number of States destroying the powers of the United States. Experience has proven what the danger is. The people of the States, when they framed the Federal government, never intended to delegate to it any other powers than those that were necessary to regulate the intercourse between the States and with foreign nations. This was all that the people of the States wanted a Federal government for, because it was all that was necessary for it to do, and the Republican platform on which Mr. Lincoln was elected was right when it said that the perpetuity of the Union depended on the rights of the States to control exclusively their domestic institutions.

Now what has been the consequences to popular liberty by the Radical party centralizing unlimited power in the Federal government? The cost of the Federal government before it assumed to do everything was not one quarter, according to population, of what it is now. The people of Missouri spend for their State government about $1 00 per head; the Federal government now charges them about $5 50 for what it does for governing them when, if the Federal government was confined to the power given to it by the constitution, it would not have one-fourth to do in governing the people of the States that the State governments have, and should not cost a quarter as much, but the Radicals made it cost about four times as much as the cost of the State governments. Consolidation has created 105,000 Federal offices, created vast corporations, privileged classes, public debts and monopolies that are dangerous to popular liberty. Senator Hoar, a Republican from Massachusetts, draws this picture of these demagogues who have unscrupulously plundered the people in the name of the Union, and under the cover of the negroes. He says: "My own public life has been a very brief and insignificant one, extending little beyond the duration of a single term of Senatorial office. But in that brief period I have seen five judges of a high court of the United States driven from office by threats of impeachment for corruption or maladministration. I have heard the taunt from friendless lips, that when the United States presented herself to the East to take part with the civilized world in generous competition in the arts of life the only products of her institutions in which she surpassed all others beyond question was her corruption."

I have seen the chairman of the committee on military affairs in the House, now a distinguished member of this court, rise in his place and demand the expulsion of four of his associates for making sale of their official privileges of selecting the youths to be educated at our great military school.

"When the greatest railroad of the world, binding together the continent and uniting the two great seas which wash our shores, was finished, I have seen our national triumph and exultation turned to bitterness and shame by the unanimous reports of three committees of Congress, two of the House and one here, that every step of that enterprise had been taken in fraud. I have heard in highest places the shameless doctrine avowed by men grown old in public office that the true way by which power should be gained in the republic is to bribe the people with the offices created for their service, and the true end for which it should be used, when gained, is the promotion and gratification of personal revenge.

"I have heard that suspicion haunts the footsteps of trusted companions of the President."

Blaine says that if the people regret GARFIELD, whose record is made up of the infamies that Senator Hoar pictures, and elect Gen. Hancock, that they will put the government in "dangerous and incompetent hands." In one sense this is true. His administration will be dangerous to such demagogues and political convicts as BLAINE, GARFIELD, SHERMAN, GRANT, HAYS, WELLS, ANDERSON & CO., but to the people it will be a blessing, and form a more perfect union, established justice and insure domestic tranquility.

MORE MATERIAL.

Hancock's Straight-forward Letter to Blanton Duncan.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Col. Blanton Duncan furnishes the Herald two letters from Gen. Hancock, which he says never before were shown to any body or published. The first letter is dated Oct. 29th, 1879, and is as follows: "My Dear Colonel—I received to-day your favor of the 25th, and was much interested in your resume of the working of the political cauldron. I have always been of the opinion, and am so still, that until the Democratic party has disposed of the question as to whether they would nominate Tilden as a sequence of past evidence, it were folly inside that organization to advance other candidates if their availability for the future was a question of importance or interest. I have no part in any programme looking to the future. My name comes up through friends, and foes possibly, yet I know of no machinery in the country for my nomination. I seem, in public opinion, to be put forth as the exponent of a certain political excitement. I do not wish to be considered a chronic candidate, for I know what that means when the end comes. So my true friends had better let the matter rest, or if not, let it drift. The next election is to be momentous. What may come out of it, good or bad, I don't know; but I am certain that I cannot assist in leading to a good result, more certainly than by following the quiet course I have always endeavored to pursue. If I come in question in politics it will have to be from the States and people and not from me. I am very truly yours,"

(Signed) WINFIELD S. HANCOCK.

ANOTHER LETTER.

Very singularly, writes Col. Duncan, there came to me about the same day a letter from one of the most prominent Green-backs, whose name and that of others concerned, I will not mention. They are at the present time the most active supporters of Weaver in a plan to aid in the election of Garfield. The letter was marked "Confidential."

OCTOBER 28, 1879.

Col. Blanton Duncan, N. Y.: "Dear Sir: For some time past — and myself have been talking over a plan to elect Mr. Hancock President of the United States. Our plan is that you write to Gen. Hancock, and if he responds with the right views on the financial and labor questions, that we then decide to call a national convention, first nominating Hancock for President, and some ex-confederate for Vice-President, and it will force the Democrats to meet and nominate the same ticket. Your plan of calling both the Democratic and National conventions the same day will not work, and will give a large amount of our party an excuse to say it was a political trade, while my plan is one that a large majority of our party will endorse. I hope you will agree on the plan and have a conference."

That letter, continues Col. Duncan, "was forwarded by me with a recommendation to Gen. Hancock not to make any reply to it. He however wrote to me as follows: [Confidential]

My Dear Colonel:—Your note has been received. I do not occupy the position of political candidate to express any opinion. I am a soldier in the federal service and my usefulness as such, and as a commander, would be impaired if I should take open grounds in favor of the political views of any party. If I am ever a candidate of a party for civil office it will be on the record I have made. I should never make any bid for such an office. If I were nominated by a party I should be governed by its platform or I would not accept the nomination. Therefore, I shall pursue the even tenor of my way, undisturbed by ambitions which pursue some persons. I am, very truly yours,"

A Trap's Bones.

Detroit News.

About two and a half years ago a tramp, named Kellogg, who was wanted by the police at Windsor, on some criminal charge, was pursued by the constabulary, and took refuge, in a cedar swamp near Goble's Corners, a short distance from Weststock, Ont. The swamp was watched, but Kellogg did not emerge from his hiding place, and no traces of him were ever discovered, and the secret of his disappearance remained untold until to-day, when a party of hunters, consisting of D. D. Young, a conductor on the Great Western Railroad, and Dr. T. S. Barclay and Harry Hawk of this city, came across the skeleton of a man in the cedar swamp. Dr. Barclay examined the remains, and concluded that they had belonged to a man about fifty years of age, and that he must have come to the spot in a nearly nude condition, as only a small piece of dark tweed cloth was found near the skeleton. The bones of the unfortunate man had probably lain there for a year or two, and after being picked clean by the birds of the air and wild animals had been thoroughly bleached out by the elements. The officers who chased Kellogg are firm in the belief that the remains are those of the fugitive tramp.

The organ rolled its notes from the growling diapason to the gentle flute; and the congregation accompanied by deep sepulchral coughs to coughs scarcely audible, because they had not yet heard of the wonderful efficiency of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Vegetine.

MORE TO ME THAN GOLD.

WALPOLE, MASS., March 7, 1880.

Mr. H. R. STEVENS: I wish to inform you what VEGETINE has done for me. I have been troubled with Erysipelas Humor for more than 3 years in my limbs and other parts of my body, and have been a great sufferer. I commenced taking VEGETINE one year ago last August, and can truly say it has done more for me than any other medicine. I seem to be perfectly free from my humor, and can recommend it to every one. Would not be without this medicine if it were more to me than gold—and I feel it will prove a blessing to others as it has to me.

Yours most respectfully, NEB. DAVID CLARK

J. B. BENTLY, M. D., SAYS: It has done more good than all medicine treatment.

NEWARK, O., Feb. 9, 1879

Mr. H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON, MASS.: Sir—I have said during the past year a considerable quantity of your VEGETINE, and I believe, in all cases it has given satisfaction. In one case, a delicate young lady of about 17 years, was much benefited by its use. Her humor informed me that it had done her more good than all the medical treatment to which she had previously been subjected.

Yours respectfully, J. BENTLY, M. D.

LOUDLY IN ITS PRAISE.

TORONTO, O., March 8, 1880.

Dear Sir—Considering the short time that VEGETINE has been before the public here, it sells well as a blood purifier, and for troubles arising from a sluggish or torpid liver, it is a first-class medicine. Our customers speak loudly in its praise.

Dr. John Bull's SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP,

FOR THE CURE OF FEVER AND AGUE

OR Chills and Fever.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for its superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN AND PAINLESS CURE OF AGUE and Fever, of Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is however prudent and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order, should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

The genuine Smith's Tonic Syrup must have Dr. John Bull's private stamp on each bottle. Dr. John Bull only has the right to manufacture and sell the original JOHN J. SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP, of Louisville, Ky. Examine well the label on each bottle. If my private stamp is not on each bottle do not purchase, or you will be deceived.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democrats of Chase county will meet in convention, on Friday, October 15, 1880, at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Representative, District Court Clerk, County Attorney, Probate Judge and County Superintendent, and to elect a County Central Committee for the ensuing year, and to transact such other business as may come before the convention.

It is desired and expected that every Democrat in the county will be in attendance at the convention, but each precinct will be entitled to cast one vote in said convention for every five votes cast for Dr. W. P. Pugh, in 1878, at such precinct, for Representative, to wit: Matfield, 5; Bazaar, 5; Toledo, 6; Cedar Creek, 3; Silver Creek, 14; Middle Creek, 9; Diamond Creek, 10; Falls township, 26. In other words, the convention will be a restricted mass convention.

By order of the Democratic County Central Committee. W. P. PUGH, Chmn. Com. E. Timmons, Secretary.

VOL. VII, NO. 1.

This month six years ago the COURANT was started; and at that time it was said by its enemies that it was only a campaign sheet, and would die out as soon as the election was over. It has seen five annual elections since then, and is now in the sixth campaign since that one; still it shows no signs of death yet, although some of our Republican fellow-citizens, especially the business portion of them, have been trying to starve us out. They will find out some of these days that money from Democrats will buy as much for their wives and children as will the same amount of money received from Republicans; and then will they be willing to let Democrats and Democratic institutions flourish in their midst. With this number, the COURANT enters the seventh year of its existence; and, while we thank our many friends of all political parties for their kind support in the past, we hope to continue deserving of their support in the future.

"United we stand; divided we fall." Let this be the motto of the Chase county Democracy, this fall.

The Arkansas Valley Editorial Association will meet at Peabody, on Saturday, October 16, 1880, at 10 o'clock, a. m.

A strong pull and a pull altogether, Chase county Democrats, and we can elect our county ticket from top to bottom.

Indiana has probably gone Republican by a small majority. The Republican claim the Legislature, also. Ohio has gone Republican.

State Auditor P. I. Bonebrake has our thanks for a copy of his second biennial report for the years ending June 30, 1879, and June 30, 1880.

The Democratic vote of Chase county is nearly 400 strong; and why should it be thrown away to elect our political enemies when it can be utilized to elect our own candidates?

Mr. Jewell, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, says of his candidate: "If we had known about Garfield's full record, he could not have got twenty votes in the National Convention."

According to Geo. P. Rowell & Co.'s excellent newspaper directory, there are 9,723 papers published in the United States. Of this number 1,835 are Democratic, 1,747 Republican, and 122 Greenback.

Garfield was caught with a Credit Mobilier dividend in his pocket, and Arthur was turned out of office for incompetency and dishonesty. Garfield and Arthur are the candidates of the great, God-and-morality party for President and Vice President.

An ingenious arithmetician has announced that 329 added together make 14, the exact number of letters in the names James A. Garfield and Chester A. Arthur, and in Credit Mobilier; Back Salary Grab; DeGolyer fraud; "Irish, don't apply;" "Chinamen, come on;" Republican ring; Returning Board; Louisiana fraud; "Will stay at home;" "It can't be helped;" "No use of talking;" "We have the cards;" and "We will play them."

The Republicans in this county are getting terribly frightened at the prospect that the Democrats are not likely to come to their aid at the approaching election, and they are starting all kinds of reports in regard to the nominees of the Greenback party, hoping thereby to get the Democrats to assist them in the election of their candidates. Democrats, stick to your ticket, and let the Republicans take care of theirs; that is the way to win.

James A. Garfield, of Ohio, had ten shares of Credit Mobilier stock; never paid a dollar for them, and received $329, which, after the investigation began, was anxious to have considered as a loan from Mr. Oakes Ames to himself. The wickedness of all of it is, that these men betrayed the trust of the people, deceived their constituents, and, by evasions and falsehoods, confessed the transactions to be disgraceful. New York Tribune, February 19, 1873.

"Such and such a man is a Democrat at heart; and as soon as it is popular to be a Democrat, he will be in our party." Such expressions as this are of every day occurrence herabouts. Democrats, give this subject your serious thought, and determine whether or not you can make Democracy popular by voting the Republican ticket. If you really desire these men to come into our ranks, show them that you will stick to them when they have joined us, by supporting those who are already of us, and that when we do stick together we can elect our men.

"That the maintenance of the principles promulgated in the Declaration of Independence and embodied in the Federal Constitution * * * is essential to the preservation of our Republican institutions; and that the Federal Constitution, THE RIGHTS OF THE STATES, and the Union of the States, must and shall be preserved."

"That the maintenance inviolate of the rights of the States, and especially of each State to order and control its own domestic institutions according to its own judgment exclusively, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depends; and we denounce the lawless invasion by armed force of the soil of any State or Territory, no matter under what pretext, as among the gravest of crimes."—Republican Wagon Platform of 1860.

The Republican papers in Marion county are terribly exercised over the resolutions passed by the Democratic Senatorial Convention which recently met in this city and recommended that the Democrats of this district support the Hon. R. C. Bates for State Senator. While none of them deny that Mr. Crans used the language attributed to him, one of them says that he used it against an individual and not against the entire Democratic party. Be that as it may, we say that any man who will so far forget the truth and good breeding as to call even one of his fellow men a "son of a b—h," in a public speech, is unworthy of the support of men who have the good of society at heart.

Two years ago the Democrats of Chase county met in convention and put a full county ticket in the field. In opposition to their ticket there were two other sets of candidates; and for fear some one on one of the other tickets would be elected some few Democrats deserted their posts and joined hands with the other of our political enemies, coming very near to defeating our entire ticket. After the election was over these same Democrats went to those with whom they should have worked on election day, and said: "If we get forgiveness for this, we shall never do so again." Last year, our county ticket was defeated in nearly the same way; and this year, the very same outside influence is brought to bear in the same direction to influence Democrats to leave their own camp and go into that of the enemy. Fellow Democrats, let both of our political enemies know that you are going to stand firm, this fall, no matter what the consequence may be, and victory will be sure to perch upon our banner.

If the Democrats wish to succeed in county politics, they must take an interest in their county conventions, and assist in placing good men before the people for their suffrage; and if you should not be at the convention, don't growl at the action thereof, because you have as much right to be there as has any other Democrat. Then, after the nominations have been made, make up your minds that you are going to stick to the ticket and elect it; and let every man of us so work until the close of the polls. Hereby tell the Democrats have been afraid somebody else would be elected, and they have deserted their own standard bearers, and fought for one political opponent and against the other. Stand firm to the candidates of your party, it matters not if they receive only the parry's strength, which is upwards of 300 votes, and mark our words for it, they will get a much larger vote than that; because if the other parties see that we do not swerve in our support of our candidates, they will be the ones to get frightened, and come to the support of our men, for fear somebody else will be elected. It is high time this

Democrats had waked up to a full realization of this "scare" business, and should let others come to our aid once in a while, instead of our becoming weak kneed and rushing to their support. Let every Democrat in the county, who can possibly do so, be at the county convention this (Friday) morning, or at least be there in the afternoon. We repeat it, we can win at the coming election, if we make up our minds to follow the course herein laid down.

GREENBACK NOTICE. COTTONWOOD FALLS, KANSAS, Oct. 9th, 1880.

At a meeting of the Greenback Central Committee, held at Cottonwood Falls, Chase county, Kansas, to-day, a communication was received from Benoni Jeffrey, resigning the nomination for Superintendent of Schools, and expressing the hope that some good man would be selected, and the whole ticket elected. After some discussion, the committee proceeded to ballot for a candidate to fill the vacancy, and C. C. Myser, of Toledo township, was unanimously nominated to fill said vacancy; after which the committee adjourned, to meet subject to the call of the Chairman and Secretary. JONATHAN WOOD, W. J. O'BRYNE, Chairman. Secretary.

BEST IN THE WORLD.

CHURCH & GOS. SODA WATER. PURELY AND ABSOLUTELY AND WHOLLY NATURAL.

Impure Soda Water is of a slightly dirty white color. It may appear white, examined by itself, but a COMPARISON WITH CHURCH & GOS. "A" BRAND AND "B" BRAND will show the difference. See that your Baking Soda is white and PURE as should be ALL SIMILAR SUBSTANCES used for food. Housekeepers who prefer bread made with yeast, will improve its quality, make it rise better, and prevent it from molding, by adding one-half teaspoonful of Church & Gos. Soda or Salferatus. Be sure and not use too much. The use of this with sour milk in preference to Baking Powder, saves twenty times its cost. See one pound package for valuable information, and read carefully. SHOW THIS TO YOUR GROCER.

A MODEL FARM.

A Lordly Country Place in Lancaster County, Penn. Philadelph. via Press. LANCASTER, Sept. 27.—Thinking that a change from the whirl of politics to a description of how a Lancaster-county farmer lives on the suburbs of Lancaster City, the representative of The Press recently accepted an invitation to visit the palatial home of B. J. McGrann, Esq., the millionaire farmer and railroad contractor, who lives on the New Holland Turnpike just outside the city of Lancaster, the boundary line of which rests on this model farm.

A LIVING DEATH.

Extraordinary Afflictions Endured by a Young Lady of Pittsburgh. One of the saddest and most extraordinary cases of disease ever chronicled, which for four years has baffled the best medical skill of Western Pennsylvania, has just come to light, the victim being a young lady named Lizzie Duff, of Glenfield, Pa., near this city, who is placed in the position of a living corpse.

New Style Harbor Boats.

New and commodious steamboats made of iron and steel and provided with every available expedient for safety and comfort are to be built, it seems, to ply in and about the harbor of New York. The plan is to construct a large number of these vessels, all to be precisely alike, to be built in compartments and to be provided with engines of great power.
