Second War Loan Drive Starts Monday

County War Bond Chairman Says Mills County People To Be Put to Acid Test in Second War Loan

The people of Mills County will be put to the acid test during the Second War Loan, beginning April 12, it was announced this morning by Grover Dalton, County Chairman.

The United States Treasury must raise $13 billion during the Second War Loan, and a substantial part of this money must be raised by our Government by people in ordinary walks of life—men and the fellow next door," Mr. Dalton declared. It is the duty of every thinking man and woman that as the United Nations take the offensive against the Axis dictators, the cost of war increases in proportion.

The staggering sums of money necessary for the victory drive—the American and other Allies' armies and navies... the task of the cost of providing food, transportation and munitions... millions of men, over and over the cost of equipment in tanks, guns, tanks, ships and other material... must be borne by the American people left here at home."

This is not only necessary and that we should assume the additional participation in the effort—it is an honor to do it. We who are left here on the home front can do no less than to approach the sacrifice those brave men out on the fighting fronts to whom the last measure of sacrifice is but daily offering. They give their lives. We lend our money.

While it is true—and this is the everlasting credit of the American people—that there are people today who own Government securities than at any time in the history of the nation—or the history of the world—the simple facts of the matter are not enough.

Every man, woman and child in Mills County should not only work for the success of the Second War Loan starting April 12, but should make a personal sacrifice to purchase one or more of the securities offered, because there is one to fit every pocket-book, according to Dow Hudson.

DOW HUDSON MAKES STATEMENT ON 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE

Every man, woman and child in Mills County should not only work for the success of the Second War Loan starting April 12, but should make a personal sacrifice to purchase one or more of the securities offered, because there is one to fit every pocket-book, according to Dow Hudson.

This is a season of sacrifice. Millions of our men in the armed forces are offering the supreme sacrifice, if necessary, to win this war. Several hundred men from this county are among the fighters. It is the least we can do, to make some personal sacrifice now by buying bonds offered in the Second War Loan, to support their efforts, especially since we will be building up a reserve purchasing power for tomorrow and get our money back with interest.

But there is another vital reason—vital to every family in Mills County, why we should not only buy bonds during this drive ourselves but do everything possible toward seeing that everyone else buys them. That reason is to ward off inflation.

Money that is hoarded away—whether it be in a bank account, in a safety deposit vault, in a teapot in the pantry or in your pocket—is loose money, slacker money, that is not doing you any good now, but which, added to all the other demand money in the country, can and assuredly will contribute to inflation unless it is invested in Government bonds or some other form of saving, such as insurance.

Inflation is a vicious circle. Prices soar. The money you are making today wouldn't meet the cost of living and, as prices mounted, the cost of living would mount until money, actually, would be worth nothing. It happened in Germany. It has happened, to a lesser, but no less uncomfortable, degree at times in this country. It would mean not only national bankruptcy but ruin for every individual family.

There is, quite evidently, a lot of money here and elsewhere that should be invested in this Second War Loan. People are simply not buying enough bonds. That is evidenced by figures released by the Securities and Exchange Commission on the individual cash holdings and deposits in the front lines need to win the good fight, and (3) it will be earning interest that, together with your original loan, will come back to you later to help you buy the things you can not buy today—to insure your peace of the future.

"So let's not quibble about it. Let's not shilly-shally and debate. Let's dig down into our pockets; let's root those dollars out of the dark today and invest them in this Second War Loan. Remember those boys out there. They give their lives—you lend your money."

Plant A Victory Garden! Farm Families To Receive Award

Certificates of enlistment for all-out food production will be awarded Texas farm families who have enlisted in this year's Food for Freedom program.

The 11 x 14 inch certificate, which has been signed by Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard, will be presented to farm families by local county USDA war boards after the completion of the 1943 farm sign-up campaign.

The 1943 farm plan, which Texas farmers and ranchers now are filling out in all sections of the state, will be the basis for making the award. This drive, aimed at obtaining maximum production of food and feed from each farm and ranch is to be completed this month.

"It is a simple word of appreciation and encouragement to the fighting units of the food front, the nation's farm families," B. F. Vance, chairman, Texas USDA War Board, said in explaining the purpose of the certificate. He pointed out that for three years in a row farm operators and their families have broken all production records with emphasis on the war-needed crops and meats.

Although working under handicaps, such as shortages of labor, machinery and transportation, goals of many commodities have been set still higher for 1943 than they were during 1942.

"In spite of these handicaps, if the weather is generously favorable, I believe Texas farmers and ranchers will reach new goals and break production records once more," the chairman said.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Worley and Rellis Earl attended the 92nd birthday of her grand father, H. M. Hill, at Evant last Sunday.

Mrs. R. E. Worley and son, Rellis Earl, visited relatives at Whitney and Hamilton last week.

Victory Garden planters and those who are contemplating them were made very happy over Mills and surrounding counties Wednesday night and Thursday morning of this week when 1.63 inches of rain were recorded here by Weather Observer Harry Allen.

This moisture, added to the 1.12 inches received here on Wednesday and Thursday two weeks ago, came just right for many Victory Garden planters, and it is thought will stimulate many others to yet plant a garden to help their bit in the very serious world-wide food shortage.

It had been mighty dry with very discouraging prospects for producers this year up until March 24 and 25. Less than four-tenths of an inch of rain had been recorded here this year before that time. On January 5, .08 was received, and Jan. 6, .26; Jan. 7, .001, and Feb. 2, .002 inches.

The rain Wednesday night and Thursday morning of this week brought the year's total rainfall to 3.09 inches.

For the past two years April has been one of the heaviest rain months here of the year. The total for last year in April was 7.86 inches, and for 1941 3.77.

Thirteen Billion Dollars Will Have To Be Loaned; Earl T. Fairman Urges Mills County To Do Its Part

CLEMENTS' DRUG STORE ENDS 60 YEARS OF SERVICE IN COUNTY

R. E. Clements, for many years a drug store owner and operator in Goldthwaite, has sold his drug store to his pharmacist, Willie P. Woody, and his son Dave O. Clements, effective on April 1.

Mr. Clements has written the following history of the drug store, which dates back to 1883:

In 1883, my father, Phil H. Clements, established Clements' Drug Store at Williams Ranch, later taking a partner, Mr. Bud James, the new firm operating under the name of Clements & James Drug Store. They moved the store to Goldthwaite in 1885, occupying a frame building on lot now occupied by the Western Auto Store. A Mr. Busby bought my father's interest, continuing the business in name of Busby & James, who sold to Dr. A. W. Barton. The store was destroyed by fire when the west half of this block on the east side of Fisher Street burned. The salvage of the store was moved to a building on west side of square, now the City Fire Station. Then it was moved to a new store building now occupied by Western Auto Store. Dr. Barton sold to B. F. Geeslin, who sold to Barton & Lowe, a firm composed of Dr. Barton, former owner, and the late Jesse Lowe. Barton & Lowe sold to Mr. R. E. Ross.

I purchased half interest with Mr. Ross in 1902—the new firm being Ross & Clements. In 1903 I bought Mr. Ross' interest and continued as owner in name of Clements' Drug Store until April 1, 1943. On that date I sold to Messrs. Will P. Woody and my son, Dave O. Clements, who desire to continue the business in the name of Clements' Drug Store.

I want to take this opportunity to thank our many friends and customers for their kindness and patronage through the years gone by, and solicit a continuance of same for the new firm.

R. E. CLEMENTS.

"Our Government is again appealing to its citizens for more billions of dollars to help finance the terrific cost of the present war and now during the Second War Loan drive is offering Federal securities of every type to fit every type of citizen," commented E. T. Fairman, President of the Trent State Bank in discussing the present Treasury campaign which begins on the 12th of April.

"It is a privilege which I trust every citizen of Mills County will accept to the limit of his financial abilities. Out on the battle front our boys are offering their lives; here on the home front we can do a great share by lending our money.

"During April the Government is faced with the necessity of raising thirteen billion dollars. "The Government must have this money to pay for food, supplies and equipment that is being sent to our boys. Regular investors, I know, will take advantage of this opportunity, but there are scores of our citizens who are either not buying War Bonds or who are not investing to the limit of their financial ability.

"Commodities are disappearing from the stores. Manufacturers are engaged in supplying our armed forces. The home front must wait and learn to live with bare necessities. Unless we do we will drive prices still higher.

"The sure way to guard against higher prices and inflation is to place our money away from temptation. Invest it in Government securities."

MELBA THEATRE AIDS RED CROSS FUND

The Motion Picture Industry of the nation sponsored raising funds for the Red Cross, from April 1, through April 7.

The quota for the Nation's shows was Five Million Dollars. The Melba Theatre is glad to report that the amount for Goldthwaite contributed to this worthy cause was $137.66.

ATTENTION! PARENTS OF BOYS IN ARMED FORCES

The Mills County Service League is very anxious to have a mailing list of the boys of Mills County who are in the armed services of America. Be sure and give the complete address of your boy or boys, and bring to Little's Store, Yarborough's Store, or turn in at the Service room on Saturday afternoon.

All rural chairman are requested to look after this in their respective communities. Please bring the address in at once in order that we may send each boy an Easter Greeting.

ored the faculty, trustees and the eighth grade, who are graduating from the Prairie School. Prairie is one of the two accredited rural schools in the county. Judge and Mrs. J. L. Patterson were out of town guests and he addressed the audience. A delicious banquet was served, plate favors being Easter baskets with candy, and plum blossoms and rebuds were lovely decorations.

Our Job Is to...

Every

What kind of a house would you put here?

AFTER THE WAR, somebody's going to put up a new house on that pretty rise of ground that overlooks the river bend just outside of the town line. Nothing elaborate. Just a pretty little house snuggled into the trees as though it belonged there.

Somebody else may buy the old Ward farm. There should be many a good day's hunting in those rolling fields and back through the woods over to the State road. Fished up a little bit—and it shouldn't take much money—it would be a livable place for a man and his family.

Yes, somebody's going to buy it. Somebody's always coming along, with a dream and a little money, and doing the things we'd promised ourselves we'd do someday.

But this time, why can't that "somebody" be you? Look... Suppose you put 10% of your pay into War Bonds. At least 10%—more if you possibly can. And keep putting it away—putting it away—putting it away.

Week after week—payday after payday. Here's what happens:

Before you know it, you get so you hardly miss that money. And if you do miss it, you've got something better to replace it—the knowledge that you, personally, are helping to insure a steady flow of planes and tanks and guns to the men who fight. The knowledge that you, personally, have toed the mark and are helping to win the war.

Then, one of these days, when peace has come again, the money you've put away starts coming back to you. And bringing more money with it—you get four dollars for every three that you put in!

When that day comes, you can get out your pencil and start figuring just what kind of a house you'll put on the river bend.

But to be sure that day does come, you'd better do this: You'd better get out your pencil right now and start figuring how you can save at least 10% of every single pay check with U. S. War Bonds!

It came from the pay check and pay envelopes of people like you. It was bought with the money you lent your Government in regular installments from your pay.

But hold on now—Maybe it's not your gun! Maybe you aren't setting aside at least 10 percent of your salary for War Bonds!

There are still some people who aren't; not many, but maybe you're one of them. If you are one, we're sure it's not for want of patriotism, but because you haven't gotten around to it.

Tell your boss today you want to win the war by joining the Pay-Savings Plan. Tell him you want to save at least 10 percent of every pay check by putting it into War Bonds.

You can't make a better investment. You'll be buying the weapons that insure a future of freedom, peace, and plenty... and you'll be getting back $4 for every $3 you save.

A CHALLENGE TO FARM YOUTH By SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE

By CLAUDE R. WICKARD Secretary of Agriculture

I want to congratulate every one of the million and a half 4-H Club members on your fine work last year. I am proud of you. All of you have done a grand job of helping raise Food for Freedom.

Bigger Job Ahead

This year an even bigger job is ahead of you. American farmers are facing heavier responsibilities than they ever have faced before. This Nation and the other United Nations need tremendous amounts of American food and other farm products to fight and win the war. The amounts we turn out in 1943 may have a lot to do with how soon we win final victory over Germany and Japan. Every farm boy and girl has a part to play this year in helping to win the battle of farm production. You 4-H members have the training and the organization to play an especially large part. The country needs all the help you can give, and I know that you are going to do your very best.

A Man's Part to Play

When you study the goals and the program for reaching them, you can see clearly that every farm boy and girl in the United States has a man's part or a woman's part to play. Every one of you is called to be a loyal, effective, and courageous soldier on the home front. And I want you to know that you are truly in the fight when you help produce food, fibers, and oil. You will be holding the line, too, when each of you does his part to keep well and keep up good cheer among our home folks—when you can write to brothers, cousins, and fathers at the battle front that all is well at home. And you farm boys and girls also will be serving your Nation when you work diligently to fit yourselves for future service in our Army and Navy, or in supporting activities at home.

Young people on farms can help a whole lot in solving our farm labor problem. Boys-and girls, too, for that matter—are eager to roll up their sleeves and help the cause by driving tractors, planting, plowing gardening, milking cows, raising pigs, and feeding chickens, while their older brothers are driving tanks, flying bombers, or operating machine guns overseas. You know that you are no less a part of the total war program because you toil at home.

"Best News I Have Heard"

4-H boys and girls the country over are laboring long and hard on home farms and neighboring farms. Not long ago, two club members—a boy and a girl from Virginia—came to my office in Washington and presented me with a book containing stories of your 4-H achievements from every part of the United States. That visit, and the interesting stories in the book, impressed me deeply. The record made me very proud of you 4-H Club members. Those 4-H representatives had brought me some of the best news I had heard for some time.

I was especially interested in the accounts of how 4-H members solved their farm labor problems by pooling their efforts. In one instance, I remember, 3,000 trees on a Virginia farm were loaded with more peaches than they had borne in years, but there was no labor to pick them. Twenty girls in the local 4-H Club came to the rescue and gathered all the fruit. If they had not, most of it would have spoiled. I want to mention some of the other examples of outstanding work that particularly impressed me.

In Texas more than 24,000 girls worked in the fields driving tractors, plowing, planting, and hauling cotton.

CENTER POINT—

By MRS. JEWEL SPINKS

It is getting to be spring out here. The leaves are all putting out and the grass is growing. Our Victory Gardens have a little prospect now—since the nice rain—to make something. Nearly everyone has finished planting corn. A lot of people out here have begun to get their little chicks that they have had ordered. Everywhere you look you see people helping to win the war, maybe not with guns, but with hoes, plows, chickens and poultry.

We had a letter from Corporal O. D. Conner last week and he is back in Australia, after several months in New Guinea. He writes that the hardships endured by our soldiers in New Guinea were unbelievable to us.

Doyle Wright is now in North Africa, after being stationed in England so long.

Mr. Tyson has sold most of his cows and purchased sheep. Miss Maudie Collier and Mrs. French were in Goldthwaite on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey French and Wyno Lee were in Mullin Saturday. Mr. French has a good position with the Santa Fe.

J. C. Wesson writes from S. C. that he is well pleased with the Marines. So far he is still in U. S. A.

I had a letter from my brother Pfc. Grady Hancock, A. S. N. 381318, Co. B, 330th Engrs, Apo 689, C-o Postmaster, New York, and he writes that he has landed safely over seas in India. He sailed sometime in February and has been on water up until March 16. This was the first he had heard that he had landed. He says: "Tell his friends hello, and to keep on writing to him because he is a long ways from home."

He has a new Apo Number and he will probably receive all his letters.

We were sorry to lose Mrs. Thompson as our Editor, but feel sure that our new Editor will be equally competent.

Alfred Anderson and wife, Mrs. R. V. Leverett and children were Wednesday guests in the IWIL Spinks home.

Mrs. Walter Weatherby and Mrs. Omar Weatherby were in Brownwood one day the first of this week.

George Simpson of Jackson, Ohio, who has been visiting his cousins, the Simpson boys, and other relatives, left Wednesday for Little Rock, where he will make his home.

Turn your VICTORY GARDEN products into food for the coming months!

The Government has been encouraging home canning as a means to increase America's arsenal of food. It's patriotic to can foods and you'll want to do your part. Start now to preserve food for freedom!

"Food will Win the War and Write the Peace," says Secretary of Agriculture Wickard. We must increase our food production in 1943 . . . to feed our armed forces . . . our war workers . . . our Allies . . . and ourselves. It's a big job, farmers . . . but we know we always count on Mills County Farmers as well as farmers throughout the Nation!

DRINKING WATER IS SCARCE in North Africa. And what there is, is likely to be bad.

So before our soldiers landed there, they were weaned away from water. A dash of iodine in their drinking water served the double purpose of disinfecting it, and making it taste awful.

By the time the boys landed in Africa, they'd lost all taste for water except in safe, prepared drinks.

The favorite prepared drink is lemonade: Field Ration K provides it—along with veal, pork, sausage, coffee, bouillon, malted milk tablets, biscuits, chocolate, and chewing gum—all in a 33-ounce pack.

Sounds like somebody was taking pretty good care of our boys, doesn't it? And that's right. American soldiers are the best-fed, best-equipped, best-cared-for in the world!

But keeping them that way takes money: So much money, that, to help pay for it, every one of us must loan at least 10% of his income to Uncle Sam through War Bonds.

War Bonds are a swell investment. They pay you back $4 for every $3. Save at least 10% of every paycheck with U. S. War Bonds!

"ALL OUT" ON THE FARM FRONT

NEWS FROM YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By JOE M. GLOVER, Jr.
Mills County Farm Agent.

April, the month Texas gardeners plant tomatoes, is here. Plants set out in this month will put tomatoes on the table by mid-June.

Home gardeners want the best returns from their plantings, and they will get it if they prepare the ground and cultivate the plants in the right way.

If it is possible, apply a shovelful of rotted manure where each tomato plant is to grow. This material will loosen the soil and help the plants to make maximum growth. In sandy soils commercial fertilizers can be used. A teaspoonful of 4-10-7, or 3-8-7 (the Victory Garden fertilizer), may be chopped into the earth where each plant will be placed. In setting the plants be sure to pack the soil firmly around the roots, and water each to settle the earth. After the water has soaked in pull more soil up around the stem of the little plants in a cone shape to support them.

Where there is danger of cut worms the County Agent suggests wrapping the plant stems with paper to at least one inch above the surface and one or two inches below. Tin cans with both ends cut out and pushed about two inches into the soil also will give satisfactory protection against the worms.

Finally, in order to give the young plants a good start, water them each evening for the first week.

CONTROLLING VEGETABLE INSECTS

Control of vegetable insects is not as difficult as many persons seem to think, says Dr. H. G. Johnston, entomologist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

The ideal strategy is to wage an offensive battle, beginning as soon as the first invaders appear in the garden and never giving them a chance to become established. This battle should continue at intervals of four or five days until the enemy is mopped up.

Insecticides necessary for the job include cryolite and calcium arsenate to control flea beetles, cucumber beetles, cabbage worms and other insects which feed upon the fruit and foliage of the plants; nicotine sulfate or pyrethroid for plant lice, stink bugs, squash bugs and others which suck the juices from leaves and stems; and paris green to make baits for cutworms, sow bugs and mole crickets.

Generally, it is easier to control garden insects with a duster, but good results can also be obtained with a sprayer if done thoroughly. Information on constructing a simple home made duster from a tin can, broomhandle and cheesecloth may be obtained from the county extension agents.

Plant lice, Dr. Johnston says, are probably the most common and destructive vegetable pests. They attack almost all crops, especially turnips, radishes, mustard, cabbage and other similar plants. They may be controlled by using a five per cent rotenone sulphur mixture, or nicotine sulfate, as a spray or dust. Begin as soon as the pests appear and thoroughly cover the lower surface of the leaves. These insects are killed only when actually hit by the insecticides. In addition, destroys stalks as soon as the crop is harvested in order to eliminate breeding places for lice and bugs.

FENCING STOCK PONDS MAKES FOR MORE FOOD FOR FREEDOM

At the request of the Soil Conservation Service, Dr. K. S. Harmon, doctor of veterinary medicine and assistant professor of veterinary medicine at Oklahoma A. and M. College at Stillwater, has prepared a statement showing the relationship between the spread of livestock diseases and the unfenced stock ponds.

"The unfenced stock pond has about the same hygienic disadvantages as the common drinking cup long ago discarded by humans," in the opinion of Dr. Harmon.

Many livestock diseases and parasites may be spread by permitting animals to drink from and wade or wallow in stock ponds, the veterinarian said.

"It seems impossible to clean up pastures contaminated with contagious abortion, or Brucellosis, when infected ponds are not fenced and drained," Dr. Harmon continued. "Edges of ponds become concentration areas for the eggs of stomach worms which may affect cattle, sheep, and horses. Hog cholera, a disease in which the virus is eliminated in the body discharges, would be spread to other hogs if the virus got into their drinking water. Necrotic enteritis in pigs, which is a filth borne disease, could easily be favored by pigs being confined on the edges of a pond.

Dr. Harmon recommended that, where water is piped into a trough below the dam, the standing area around the trough be kept as dry as possible by careful drainage and by covering it with gravel so that this area may not become a concentration spot to harbor disease.

"It is very desirable to water livestock in tanks as it is often necessary to give herd medication by means of the water supply," the veterinarian said. "In cleaning up after an outbreak of disease the tank can be quickly drained and disinfected."

Mrs. Alford Johnson had as guests Sunday Private James Whorton, Private Dan Hoover, Miss Ruby Horn and Miss Agnes Johnson, all of Brownwood, also Carlton Renfro of Goldthwaite. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Summy were in Brownwood Monday on business.

He Fights On the Farm Front

Like thousands of other Texas farmers, J. Y. Martin, Tarrant county farmer living near Arlington, keeps his farm in the fight by working out a plan to produce more food this year than he grew last year. Here he's shown reporting how he expects to market nearly twice as much pork from his farm in '43 as he sold in 1942, and at least 25 percent more beef. He is feeding out 30 steers that soon will be ready for market, and he has 25 cows each with a calf by her side. Using soil and water conservation practices and operating under a planned production program, Martin produces all the corn, oats and grain sorghums his livestock need.

This week, more than 418,000 farmers and ranchers of Texas were busy mapping out Food for Freedom plans with their local USDA War Boards. On each individual plan sheet, they were itemizing specific amounts of food, feed and fiber they could be depended on to produce this year.

Heaviest increases in Texas have been called for in pork, beef, milk, eggs, poultry, soybeans and peanuts.

LITTLE'S is proud of its service window—proud of the nearly 300 that are represented there, and of course proud of all who are not represented there by a picture.

We are proud with each and every family that is represented by a boy in our fighting forces and a look at the group is enough to justify the pride of all Americans.

We are also proud that it has been our good fortune to serve the good people of Goldthwaite and Mills county all these many years. It is our hope that we have deserved the patronage extended us in the past, and we look forward to serving you for many years after "Johnny Comes Marching Home."

American People Face Acid Test in Treasury's 2nd War Loan To Raise 13 Billion Dollars in Three Weeks

The Nation Dare Not Fail in This Greatest Financing Task in History—"They Give Their Lives—You Lend Your Money."

Washington, D. C.—Coming as it does upon the heels of income tax payments, the people of America will face an acid test this month when the Treasury's Second War Loan drive opens April 12 with an objective of thirteen billion dollars to be raised through sale of Government securities.

A substantial part of this huge financing, the most stupendous ever undertaken by any government in the world's history, must be loaned by people in ordinary walks of life.

High Government officials have pointed out that the nation must not fail in this duty to our men on the battle fronts who are now carrying the offensive to the enemy at every stage. It is obvious to every thinking man and woman that as the United Nations take this offensive against the dictators, the cost of war operations increases in proportion.

The American people must no longer think of war costs in terms of equipping a soldier, building a tank or plane or a ship. We must now think in terms of the cost of battles, invasions and new offensives. Attacking armies cost more money than equipping that army and we must meet that increased cost by buying more War Bonds and Second War Loan Securities.

They Give Their Lives. It is not only necessary that the American people left here at home assume this additional participation in the war effort—it is an honor to do so. . . . for we here at home can do no less than attempt to approach the sacrifices of our brave men out on the fighting fronts to whom the last great measure of sacrifice is but a daily offering. They give their lives . . . we are asked only to lend our money.

And that is the theme of the Second War Loan, "They Give Their Lives—You Lend Your Money."

Financial experts who know monetary conditions in the nation point out that at the present time there is in liquid funds, cash and commercial bank deposits over and above taxes and present investment in Government Bonds, and over and

How well do you know your War Bonds?

Q. Why does Uncle Sam want you to put money into War Bonds— ... to pay for equipping our fighting forces? ... to help keep prices down? ... to give you extra money after the war?
A. Check all three! The money you lend in War Bonds works hard—for the government and you! It helps pay for victory, helps keep prices down. And it comes back with interest!

Q. How much money should you put into War Bonds— ... 10 percent of your pay? ... 12 percent? ... 15 percent?
A. Every loyal American ought to be putting at least 10 percent of his pay into War Bonds. And more if he can possibly do it. War Bonds make good sense—for selfish reasons as well as patriotic ones! For every cent you can into War Bonds—and both you and your country will benefit!

Q. If you put $3 into War Bonds, how much do you get back— ... $3.00? ... $3.50? ... $4.00?
A. For every $3 you put into War Bonds you get $4 back when the bonds mature! And those extra dollars mount up! Look at this: You buy a War Bond today at $18.75. In 10 years you get $25.00. You buy a War Bond today at $37.50. In 10 years you get $75.00. You buy a War Bond today at $75.00. In 10 years you get $100.00.

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD DO If you are— Already setting aside 10 percent of your pay for War Bonds through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan—boost that 10 percent you can. Working in a plant where the plan is installed but haven't signed up yet—sign up tomorrow. Working in a plant where the Pay-Roll Savings Plan hasn't been installed, talk to your foreman, head, foreman, or plant manager—and see if it can't be installed right away. The local bank will be glad to help. Unable to get in on the Pay-Roll Savings Plan for any reason, get to your local bank. It will be glad to help you start a plan of your own.

PLAY

(Dorothy Nell Rudd)

1943 Senior Play was presented Friday night, April 2. The cast to be praised for their character portrayal of the Obenhouse as an old man, Mammie Caraway as a hen-husband, Mary Nell Epperson as his wife, Lynn Martin as the colored bell-hop, and John Soules as a dirt-farmer.

The cast wishes to express appreciation to Joe Taylor, stage manager, for his tireless work; to Mrs. Campbell for her help in directing and making up the various players; to Gene Trotter, our advertising manager, who so thoroughly advertised our play; to Miss Welch who directed the play when Mrs. Barnett was unable to be there; to the mothers who so graciously loaned properties; to every teacher and excused members of the cast from their classes; and to Miss Barnett who worked so hard with the cast and who had unlimited patience with their mistakes.

Special gratitude goes to Miss Campbell for allowing members of the cast to advertise in her paper. The seniors and their parents consider this responsible to a great extent, for the large amount that was present. The success of the play should be no doubt, for everyone who attended enjoyed the play and many said it was the best they had ever seen. There were approximately 675 people present and the money taken at the door amounted to $98.70. This was not all clear money, but for royalty and tax was paid on the play along with advertising and miscellaneous expenses. Due to world conditions the seniors will not have this year but plan to spend on the money on a Day picnic.

EXCHANGE

Science classes have just had a flower exchange. There were several varieties of spot plants, bulbs, shrubs, and ferns. A great interest was shown in making "our yard beautiful." It was sponsored by Theresa Venable and Sadler.

TO EAGLE OFFICE

Business English Class on a trip to the Eagle office during Business period. Just how news is collected, edited, and put into print, observed most of the machinery in operation because the Eagle was being printed this morning.

We were welcomed hospitably by the Eagle staff; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Wilson explained all the operations of the machines. First the news is gathered and corrected in hand writing. Then it is taken to the printing room where the printing is done on a linotype machine which has similar to a typewriter, except that all the capitals, figures, small letters are in a section themselves. The machine is of the type-metal hot, ready used. When a line had been set, a mold forms that line in to a single metal piece, ready to be used to print. Each line of print in a column is raised on the edge of this piece of metal about 1" x 2". Therefore, in order to make the column, these pieces are merely placed against each other in a row. When a column or article is finished, it is printed on a strip of paper, just wide enough for one column. It is then proof-read; that is, it is read and all the mistakes and errors are marked. When the mistakes are marked, the copy is returned to the linotype machine where the operator removes each line of type that has an error and makes a new one, correcting the mistake.

When the columns of type have been proof-read and corrected, they are ready to "set-up"; that is, they are assembled into the correct order so as to form pages. Vertical strips are placed between the columns; this causes a line there. The entire page is locked into a frame by "keys," which are in pairs on all four sides. The page is now ready to be placed into the press.

The press is a huge machine, with a "barrel" roller about 4' in diameter, which carries the paper around to the type. The page of type is flat, and slides back and forth on a sort of tray. The paper, already cut to size, is fed into the machine from the top. The roller carries it around to the type. Since both the roller and type are synchronized, the paper is printed as it moves. As the paper moves on around, it is "peeled" off from the roller and deposited on a platform. The same operation is repeated for each copy.

When the newspaper is printed, it is inserted in a folding machine, which delivers the paper ready to mail, except for addressing. The papers are addressed on a table called the "galley." The names and addresses of all the subscribers are set in type in long lists. Each paper is placed in a machine and a name printed on it. The machine automatically moves up to the next name after the preceding one had been used.

In order to produce pictures and other things that can't be set in type by the linotype, cardboard impression plates called "mats" are made. These mats are placed at the bottom of a mold, and hot lead is poured over them. This leaves the impression on material that is strong enough to print. The cardboard will not burn if the metal is not too hot.

We saw a large quantity of paper on which the paper is printed; this paper is bought in reams of 5500 sheets. We also saw two other machines, the power paper cutter, which cuts paper any size you wish, and the job press, which prints circulars and business reply envelopes. We also observed the methods used in the book binding department.

The trip was enjoyed immensely by every Business English student and was well-worth our class time. We all learned something new in these few minutes and would have learned more if we had had time. We are indeed grateful to Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Wilson for so graciously explaining everything to us and for extending to us the cordial invitation to visit the Eagle office again.

RED CROSS NUTRITION COURSE

(Mary Alice Arrowood)

The Homemaking III-A class is taking a Red Cross Nutrition Course. Everyone is enjoying it very much, and after we finish the course we take a standardized test; those who pass the test get a Red Cross Nutrition Certificate. With these certificates we are entitled to work for the Red Cross at any time. Anyone with this certificate is entitled to assist in family and group feeding under emergency conditions, to assist in the national nutrition program through community activities in nutrition, to investigate community nutrition needs, and available resources for meeting the needs, to encourage good individual and family food and health habits and to present the facts about food needs, food value, and the newer principles of food preparation and service. A certificate holder can impart information on the relation of food to physical and mental efficiency, stamina, strength, nervous condition, courage, and morale. One reason we decided to take this course was that about one third of the young men called up for military service were rejected for physical defects due either directly or indirectly to nutritional deficiencies; but today America has the national will and the national means-- that is the nutrition knowledge, the educational machinery, the production, capacity, and the manufacturing and distributing facilities ---to build a strong people.

SENIOR CLASS REPORT

The Senior Class began this year with 44 members enrolled, but because of various reasons, there are only 36 of them left. Some of the missing students have moved to different places; others have gotten jobs or enlisted in the army.

At the first of school the Seniors collected enough scrap iron to make about $40.00. With the money we had a senior banquet and a party afterwards at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barnett. The remaining money was spent to purchase play books for the Senior play.

The Seniors are looking forward to the promised Junior-Senior banquet in April.

TYPING CLASS REPORT

(Billy Dennard)

The typing class, which consists mostly of seniors, supervised by Mr. W. M. Johnston, has progressed nicely so far.

Most of last semester was spent in typing for skill and accuracy. The first six weeks of this semester was spent in typing and organizing business letters. We learned to type and organize eight different forms of business letters. We have spent this six weeks in typing manuscripts, radiograms, telegrams.

All the typing students are enjoying the work, and there are indications that several excellent typists will be produced by the time school is out.

DRAMATIZE SKETCH

(Dorothy Nell Rudd)

Recently the eighth grade from Grammer School visited the English 4 class. The following eighth graders dramatized a sketch in which they personified different parts of speech: Elizabeth Stockton, Reba Ford, Carol Ward, Dorothy Geeslin, Allen Moreland, Jim Bob Steen, Billy Mace Collier, Charles Bird, and Lawrence Weathers. In this play many simple rules, which should not be forgotten by anyone, were illustrated. Following the play a number of members from each class diagrammed a few simple sentences on the board. The seniors were abashed to find that the eighth graders were equally skillful in doing this. However, the seniors latter gave the eighth graders a preview of High School English when they illustrated on the board a few of the many ways to diagram participles, gerunds, and infinitives. Members of both classes enjoyed the occasion extremely and hope to repeat this performance soon. Our teachers, Miss Welch and Miss Blackwell, were justly pleased with our work, we hope!!!

WATER FACILITIES CAN BE EXTENDED ON MILLS COUNTY FARMS

Opportunities to repair, enlarge or extend water facilities on many farms in Mills County for the better use of water for food production were pointed out this week by Ray F. Christian, Farm Security Administration supervisor.

Each county in Texas is under the FSA's farmstead water facilities program and loans for this type of improvement may be made to farmers who meet the other requirements, and on whose farms it is clearly evident that such improvement will materially help increase the production of food and feed.

The War Production Board is allotting materials for the manufacture of certain specific water equipment, based on percentage of the equipment for farmstead purposes will be available to farmers who qualify for FSA water facilities loans, Mr. Christian said.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has stated that an adequate supply of water means that the household, livestock and poultry should have fresh, clean water at all times and that the garden should be plentifully supplied to keep in continuous maximum production.

Any farmer who does not have an adequate supply of water properly distributed, and cannot finance it any other way, is eligible for an FSA water facilities loan, Mr. Christian explained.

PRESSURE COOKERS TO BE RATIONED

Because the supply of pressure cookers is so far short of meeting the demand, all pressure cookers produced in 1943 will be rationed. The U. S. Department of Agriculture will allocate pressures to the states, but no other details of this phase of the rationing program have been announced, according to Winfred Jones, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service. She says during 1943 material for only 150,000 pressure canners has been released by the War Production Board to three manufacturers, through the efforts of the USDA. Because of the rationing plan, the manufacturers will fill no orders from individual users. Miss Jones says the war-time cookers will be made of steel rather than aluminum, and will be equipped with a flat rack but no basket or pans. The cover will have a protective tin coating, while the body will be enamelled. Capacity of the cookers will be seven quart jars. The specialist emphasizes that these tin and enamel coatings scratch more easily than aluminum, so they must be given special care. Scratches cause the steel base to rust, and rust weakens the walls of the cooker.

"Avoid sharp blows, over-heating, boiling dry, or cleaning your cooker with hard, abrasive powders," Miss Jones warns. Heating grease or fat at high temperatures in a tin plated cooker may cause the tin to melt so the cooker should not be used for rendering lard or searing meat.

No shortage in glass jars or jar seals is foreseen unless the greatly expanded food preservation program causes a "run" on canning supplies. There is no restriction on the number of tin cans that may be sold to home canners.

Every Man, Woman And Child Can
Forge Weapons of War—Produce Food

Forging the mightiest weapon in the history of the world is the special task, and the special privilege, of every man, woman, and child in America. Food is that weapon and the military annals of all time testify to its effectiveness. In a very real sense our American Armies, our Navy, our Marines, and all our armed forces literally "travel on their stomachs."

When the farmers of this country in 1942, rallying to a cry of "More Food for Freedom," exceeded all previous records by 12 percent, they demonstrated agriculture's unbeatable ability to adapt a great industry to war-time purposes. Perhaps you have n't thought about farming as one of America's greatest industries, but it is. In fact, it is the biggest war plant in this country. You don't see much of it at any one time, but if the farms were put side-by-side they would make a huge "war plant" of more than a billion acres, manned by more than 30 million workers. From that billion acres in 1943 must come more food than we have ever produced before—more food than any nation ever produced before—in spite of serious shortages of farm labor and farm machinery and equipment.

Everybody's Job
The farmers will do their job—past records prove it. But regardless of the amount of food raised by the agricultural industry, it will be impossible to meet both military and civilian needs without the efficient cooperation of all the people. That means that there is a job for everybody in producing, and conserving, the foodstuffs we must have to "win the war and write the peace," as Secretary of Agriculture Claude A. Wickard has said. If you have never thought of yourself as a producer of food, this is the time to do it. In 1943 we shall need more than 18 million "Victory Gardens," plots of ground varying from a few square feet to several acres, which must be depended upon to supply vegetables for many American homes. It sounds amazing, but it's true that more than $200,000,000 worth of vegetables, not counting potatoes and sweet potatoes, were grown in farm home gardens in 1939. These 4,800,000 home gardens produced vegetable worth a little more than those grown for sale on 3,000,000 acres. These figures are vigorous evidence that home-grown vegetables do furnish a substantial part of civilian food requirements and with proper planning can be made to do even more.

Residences of towns and cities, regardless of what you may have heard, can often produce better vegetables than commercial truck gardeners. It is not at all unusual to find a man or woman who has never tried gardening before raising prize-winning vegetables of many kinds — and glorying in the work. For gardening is an avocation that grows on the novice as his first unskilled efforts are transplanted into the green and red and gold of living plants. With some persons it becomes such a satisfying pastime that they spend all their spare moments digging in the earth—and bragging unashamedly of their new accomplishments.

Watch Your Diet
Raising a Victory Garden is only one way in which the resident of town or city can supplement the magnificent efforts of America's farmers in meeting our 1943 food goals. The second way is by keeping an eagle eye on your diet and the foods your family eats. Just vegetables will not win the war. Men cannot fight on foods that are lacking in minerals and vitamins, in fats and oils. Strong bodies demand the very best kind of foods. At home and abroad the vital need is for nourishing foods—fighting foods.

Watching the family's diet is going to become one of Mother's chief occupations because about 25 percent of our food production in 1943 must be used to supply our armed forces and our fighting allies. Mother will have less of many kinds of foods than she has had before, but there will still be a great plenty to keep her family healthy and strong.

That's her big job—watching the family buying more closely than ever to see that she gets the most food for her money. Mother was to keep herself, her husband and her children in tip-top condition. It has been proved that lack of energy, loss of time from illness, and a high accident rate are the results of poor food and unbalanced diets among war workers. Mother's job, therefore, is second in importance to none.

IT'S LIKE THIS
Figure it this way: Every pound of food that a resident of town or city is able to raise in a Victory Garden, or save by economical buying or efficient management in the kitchen, or by utilizing foods for greatest nutritional values, is a pound of food that goes to war. It is one less pound that the agricultural industry must raise—one less pound to be grown on a farm. The land on which that pound of food would have to be grown on a farm can then be devoted to producing some of the other seriously needed products that go directly into war purposes. Here are some of these products that are not used for food: Wool for soldier's uniforms, wool for gun mounts, web belting, and packing in axle wheels. Cotton for balloons, parachute cloth, life rafts, air-craft pontoons, explosives. Flax for parachute harnesses and rigging, for packing marine engines, and for signal halyards. Hemp for cables and hawsers.

When you come to think of it that way—how could you make a more important contribution to the war effort while you fill the family cupboard?

RATIONING TOO
Meeting 1943 food goals, as we have seen, is everybody's job—the farmer's, the war worker's, the resident of town and city. Furthermore, conserving available foodstuffs is also everybody's job. You can't fill up a leaky boot. Neither can you fill an empty cupboard or the hold of a ship if good food is allowed to go to waste in the field, in the ware house, in the store, or in the home. Once produced, food must be handled in the most efficient manner possible. It must be processed; that is to say, treated in some manner that will preserve it until it can be used. The best methods of processing foods include canning, dehydrating, and freezing because foods so treated will stay in edible condition for the maximum length of time. Because canned, dried, and frozen foods have so little waste, pack so tightly, are so convenient to store and to use, and retain their body-building qualities longer than fresh foods it is inevitable that the armed forces will need tons of them. That, in turn, means less of these processed foods for civilian consumption and more equitable distribution of the available supply. All of which are reasons for Point Rationing.

By now it is safe to assume that everybody knows that canned and processed fruits and vegetables are being rationed on a "Point System." Believed to be the most equitable, most workable, most understandable system of rationing foods, the Many leaders contend that the present war will win on the industrial front—and America is conceded the lead of the world.

EYE EXPERTS CLAIM that if workers were deprived of Eye Glasses the resulting confusion would be worse than Pearl Harbor. They also stress the crucial need of eyesight to speed war production and advise eye examination to the general public. SOLDIER LETTERS

The following letters were received by Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Shaw from their sons who are overseas:

Dear Mother:
Sorry I haven't written you sooner but I couldn't. I hope you haven't been worrying any. I am ok and have been all along. I am in North Africa. It isn't such a bad place, the people are friendly enough, but filthy.

It is really something to see these people and their towns and the way they live. Not hardly any of them can speak or understand English so I can't talk to them except with my hands.

Maybe I'll see Louie over here somewhere, I don't imagine I will though. I bumped into Henry Benningfield on the way over here. He is over here somewhere too. It was good to see someone I knew for a change.

I am going to write Sadie tonight too but when you get this letter be sure and let her know where I am just in case her letter gets lost.

How are all of you? Ok I hope. Well, tell everyone hello for me and don't worry about me I'll be ok. Write me every time you can.

Lots of love,
Hubert.

Dear Folks:
I received your last letter a couple of days ago. It had been on the road for a little over a month. Was certainly glad to hear that you got your bag of deer this year, Dad. I could enjoy a good deer hunt right now myself. There are a few of them here but they are mighty small, about the size of a German Police dog.

I got the package request yesterday and am waiting for it to go through headquarters now. When I asked for the camera I hadn't heard about the new ruling. I would like to have my little camera, you know the one I sent home just before I left Washington. The one that takes two pictures on one film. Take it down to the drug store and get some film for it, then take the size of the film because I'll be sending home for more film before long.

I'm sorry I didn't get to see the President while he was over here, but I was a long way East of where he was and always was as far as that is concerned. I think he and Mr. Churchill made quite a few plans concerning us as well as a few others in other countries.

By the way, you said that Hubert was going overseas soon. I would like to have his A. P. O. No. and his Squad No. so that I can write to him. Got a letter from John Boland the other day, will give you his address if you care to write to him.

I know he will be glad to hear from you because I'm surely glad to hear from anyone back there.

I told you in my last letter about getting your telegram didn't? I'm not only getting a little old but I'm beginning to feel a little old too. Sleeping on the wet ground in cold weather and eating hard tack three times a day has a habit of making you feel that way. Most of the boys down here are getting to gripe and moan a little but they would n't take a thousand dollars for the experiences they have had here and in England, however I don't think they would give two cents for any more of them. I don't think it will be too long before we will all be back in the states again though.

I was certainly glad to hear about your raise. I got one, too, but I am still a couple of grades behind that little brother of mine, but I guess he needs it more than I do now.

Well I've got to close and go to work, sorry I can't tell you more about where I am and such stuff as that.

Love,
Peter.

POST OFFICE EXAMINATION FOR CLERK IS POSTPONED

The Goldthwaite Postmaster has received the following letter from A. C. Dorks, acting regional director of the U. S. Civil Service Commission:

Mrs. Eula Nickols has received a letter from her soldier son, Glenn, stationed in California, in which he said tell the Eagle: "I think that any one that poisons a dog should have to take enough strychnine to make him good and sick and not enough to kill him—to see what a dog has to go through with."

WE SHOULD KNOW KIND OF COUNTRY CHINA IS TO WIN

COLLEGE STATION—If the next peace is to be just and lasting, the American public at large should know what China is doing to help win the war and the kind of country China is becoming; an American woman who worked in rural China for 12 years told staff members of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service during a recent conference.

The speaker was Miss Josephine A. Brown of New York, farm-reared native of Nebraska, who in recent years has done educational and social welfare work in China.

Eighty-five per cent of China is agricultural, Miss Brown said, and prior to the "China Incident" which began in 1937, China's industrial wealth was concentrated around Shanghai along the coast. When factories were bombed out of existence, the nation's economic life became disorganized. Despite the mass evacuation of 50 million people and the penetration of one-fifth the country by the Japanese, China is carrying on nobly in the sixth year of war, she said.

One movement which has made this possible has been the organization of small rural industrial cooperatives in the interior which provide employment for evacuees, dispose of huge quantities of raw materials formally exported, manufacture goods needed by military forces and civilians, and help ward off inflation. Keeping the cooperatives small has cut down cost of transportation of the processed products and has prevented these minute factories from becoming targets for bombs.

Miss Brown's story of China at war will be told in a broadcast on the Texas Farm and Home Program Tuesday, April 20, at 8 a. m. She will be assisted by C. E. Bowles and Miss Myrtle Murray of the Extension staff.

VICTORY GARDENERS SHOULD READ HOW TO CONTROL INSECTS

Control of vegetable insects is not as difficult as many persons seem to think, says Dr. H. G. Johnston, of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

The ideal strategy is to wage an offensive battle, beginning as soon as the first invaders appear in the garden and never giving them a chance to become established. This battle should continue at intervals of four or five days until the enemy is mopped up.

Insecticides necessary for the job include cryolite and calcium arsenate to control flea beetles, cucumber beetles, cabbage worm and other insects which feed upon the fruit and foliage of the plants; nicotine sulphate or pyrethrin for plant lice, stink bugs, squash bugs and others which suck the juices from leaves and stems; and paris green to make baits for cutworms, sow bugs and mole crickets.

Generally, it is easier to control garden insects with a duster, but good results also can be obtained with a sprayer if done thoroughly. Information on constructing a simple home made duster from a tin can, broom-handle and cheesecloth may be obtained from the county extension agents.

Plant lice, Dr. Johnston says, are probably the most common and destructive vegetable pests. They attack almost all crops, especially turnips, radishes, mustard, cabbage and other similar plants. They may be controlled by using a five per cent rotenone-sulphur mixture, or nicotine sulphate, as a spray or dust. Begin as soon as the pests appear and thoroughly cover the lower surface of the leaves. These insects are killed only when actually hit by the insecticide. In addition, destroy stalks as soon as the crop is harvested in order to eliminate breeding places for lice and bugs.

Mrs. Tom Dyess left for her home at Killen last Friday, after spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ford.

Holloway, and the unknown heirs, legal representatives and devisees of each and all of the above named persons, all alleged to be deceased, Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

This suit is brought as well to try title as for damages, plaintiff alleging that heretofore, to-wit: on the 1st day of March, A. D. 1943, he was lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land and premises, lying and being situated in Mills County, Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple, to-wit:—
Five Hundred and seven (507) acres of land, more or less out of the Fayette Copeland Survey Abstract No. 122 and being a part of Block Number Seven (7) thereof, sometimes referred to and called Block Number Eight (8), all of which land is more fully described in Plaintiff's original petition, on file in this cause, and to which reference is here made for more particular description of the said land.

That on the day and year last aforesaid, the defendants entered upon the said premises and ejected the Plaintiff therefrom, and unlawfully withheld from him the possession thereof to his damage in the sum of $8000.00.

Plaintiff further alleges title to the said land under and by virtue of the statute of five and ten years limitation, as is more fully set out in Plaintiff's Petition on file herein, and the nature of the defendants' title or claim to the said land is unknown to him.

Plaintiff prays Judgment for the title and possession of the said land, and that he be quieted in his title thereto, and that the Cloud cast upon the title of the Plaintiff to the said land by the claim of the defendants be removed and held for naught, and for such other and further relief to which he may be entitled in law or equity.

PRESSURE COOKERS TO BE RATIONED

Because the supply of pressure cookers is so far short of meeting the demand, all pressure cookers produced in 1943 will be rationed.

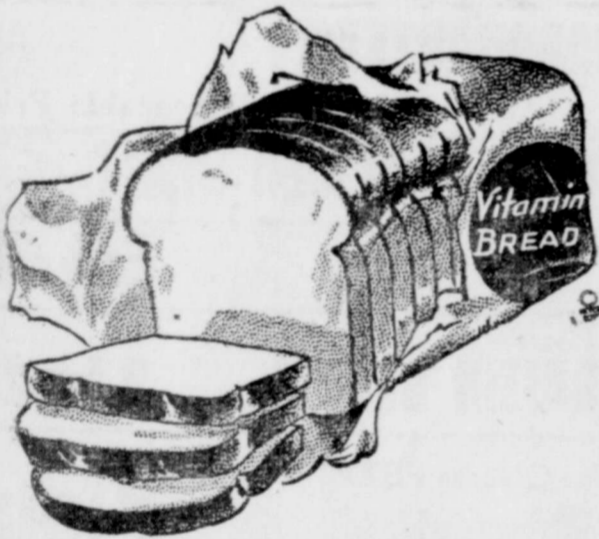

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will allocate pressures to the states, but no other details of this phase of the rationing program have been announced, according to Winfred Jones, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service. She says during 1943 material for only 150,000 pressure canners has been released by the War Production Board to three manufacturers, through the efforts of the USDA. Because of the rationing plan, the manufacturers will fill no orders from individual users.

Miss Jones says the war-time cookers will be made of steel rather than aluminum, and will be equipped with a flat rack but no basket or pans. The cover will have a protective tin coating, while the body will be enameled. Capacity of the cookers will be seven quart jars. The specialist emphasizes that these tin and enamel coatings scratch more easily than aluminum, so they must be given special care. Scratches cause the steel base to rust, and rust weakens the walls of the cooker.

"Avoid sharp blows, over-heating, boiling dry, or cleaning your cooker with hard, abrasive powders," Miss Jones warns. Heating grease or fat at high temperatures in a tin plated cooker may cause the tin to melt so the cooker should not be used for rendering lard or searing meat.

No shortage in glass jars or jars seals is foreseen unless the greatly expanded food preservation program causes a "run" on canning supplies. There is no restriction on the number of tin cans that may be sold to home canners.

Every Man, Woman And Child Can
Forge Weapons of War—Produce Food

Forging the mightiest weapon in the history of the world is the special task, and the special privilege, of every man, woman, and child in America. Food is that weapon and the military annals of all time testify to its effectiveness. In a very real sense our American Armies, our Navy, our Marines, and all our armed forces literally "travel on their stomachs."

When the farmers of this country in 1942, rallying to a cry of "More Food for Freedom," exceeded all previous records by 12 percent, they demonstrated agriculture's unbeatable ability to adapt a great industry to war-time purposes. Perhaps you have n't thought about farming as one of America's greatest industries, but it is. In fact, it is the biggest war plant in this country. You don't see much of it at any one time, but if the farms were put side-by-side they would make a huge "war plant" of more than a billion acres, manned by more than 30 million workers. From that billion acres in 1943 must come more food than we have ever produced before—more food than any nation ever produced before—in spite of serious shortages of farm labor and farm machinery and equipment.

Everybody's Job

The farmers will do their job—past records prove it. But regardless of the amount of food raised by the agricultural industry, it will be impossible to meet both military and civilian needs without the efficient cooperation of all the people. That means that there is a job for everybody in producing, and conserving, the foodstuffs we must have to "win the war and write the peace," as Secretary of Agriculture Claude A. Wickard has said. If you have never thought of yourself as a producer of food, this is the time to do it. In 1943 we shall need more than 18 million "Victory Gardens," plots of ground varying from a few square feet to several acres, which must be depended upon to supply vegetables for many American homes. It sounds amazing, but it's true that more than $200,000,000 worth of vegetables, not counting potatoes and sweet potatoes, were grown in farm home gardens in 1939. These 4,800,000 home gardens produced vegetable worth a little more than those grown for sale on 3,000,000 acres. These figures are vigorous evidence that home-grown vegetables do furnish a substantial part of civilian food requirements and with proper planning can be made to do even more.

Residences of towns and cities, regardless of what you may have heard, can often produce better vegetables than commercial truck gardeners. It is not at all unusual to find a man or woman who has never tried gardening before raising prize-winning vegetables of many kinds — and glorying in the work. For gardening is an avocation that grows on the novice as his first unskilled efforts are transplanted into the green and red and gold of living plants. With some persons it becomes such a satisfying pastime that they spend all their spare moments digging in the earth—and bragging unashamedly of their new accomplishments.

Watch Your Diet

Raising a Victory Garden is only one way in which the resident of town or city can supplement the magnificent efforts of America's farmers in meeting our 1943 food goals. The second way is by keeping an eagle eye on your diet and the foods your family eats. Just vegetables will not win the war. Men cannot fight on foods that are lacking in minerals and vitamins, in fats and oils. Strong bodies demand the very best kind of foods. At home and abroad the vital need is for nourishing foods—fighting foods.

Watching the family's diet is going to become one of Mother's chief occupations because about 25 percent of our food production in 1943 must be used to supply our armed forces and our fighting allies. Mother will have less of many kinds of foods than she has had before, but there will still be a great plenty to keep her family healthy and strong.

That's her big job—watching the family buying more closely than ever to see that she gets the most food for her money. Mother was to keep herself, her husband and her children in tip-top condition. It has been proved that lack of energy, loss of time from illness, and a high accident rate are the results of poor food and unbalanced diets among war workers. Mother's job, therefore, is second in importance to none.

IT'S LIKE THIS

Figure it this way: Every pound of food that a resident of town or city is able to raise in a Victory Garden, or save by economical buying or efficient management in the kitchen, or by utilizing foods for greatest nutritional values, is a pound of food that goes to war. It is one less pound that the agricultural industry must raise—one less pound to be grown on a farm. The land on which that pound of food would have to be grown on a farm can then be devoted to producing some of the other seriously needed products that go directly into war purposes. Here are some of these products that are not used for food: Wool for soldier's uniforms, wool for gun mounts, web belting, and packing in axle wheels. Cotton for balloons, parachute cloth, life rafts, air-craft pontoons, explosives. Flax for parachute harnesses and rigging, for packing marine engines, and for signal hal- hawsers.

When you come to think of it that way—how could you make a more important contribution to the war effort while you fill the family cupboard?

RATIONING TOO

Meeting 1943 food goals, as we have seen, is everybody's job—the farmer's, the war worker's, the resident of town and city. Furthermore, conserving available foodstuffs is also everybody's job. You can't fill up a leaky boot. Neither can you fill an empty cupboard or the hold of a ship if good food is allowed to go to waste in the field, in the ware house, in the store, or in the home. Once produced, food must be handled in the most efficient manner possible. It must be processed; that is to say, treated in some manner that will preserve it until it can be used. The best methods of processing foods include canning, dehydrating, and freezing because foods so treated will stay in edible condition for the maximum length of time. Because canned, dried, and frozen foods have so little waste, pack so tightly, are so convenient to store and to use, and retain their body-building qualities longer than fresh foods it is inevitable that the armed forces will need tons of them. That, in turn, means less of these processed foods for civilian consumption and more equitable distribution of the available supply. All of which are reasons for Point Rationing.

By now it is safe to assume that everybody knows that canned and processed fruits and vegetables are being rationed on a "Point System". Believed to be the most equitable, most workable, most understandable system of rationing foods, the

SOLDIER LETTERS

The following letters were received by Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Shaw from their sons who are overseas:

Dear Mother:

Sorry I haven't written you sooner but I couldn't. I hope you haven't been worrying any. I am ok and have been all along. I am in North Africa. It isn't such a bad place, the people are friendly enough, but filthy.

It is really something to see these people and their towns and the way they live. Not hardly any of them can speak or understand English so I can't talk to them except with my hands.

Maybe I'll see Louie over here somewhere. I don't imagine I will though. I bumped into Henry Benningfield on the way over here. He is over here somewhere too. It was good to see someone I knew for a change.

I am going to write Sadie tonight too but when you get this letter be sure and let her know where I am just in case her letter gets lost.

How are all of you? Ok I hope.

Well, tell everyone hello for me and don't worry about me I'll be ok. Write me every time you can.

Lots of love,
Hubert.

Dear Folks:

I received your last letter a couple of days ago. It had been on the road for a little over a month. Was certainly glad to hear that you got your bag of deer this year. Dad. I could enjoy a good deer hunt right now myself. There are a few of them here but they are mighty small, about the size of a German Police dog.

I got the package request yesterday and am waiting for it to go through headquarters now. When I asked for the camera I hadn't heard about the new ruling. I would like to have my little camera, you know the one I sent home just before I left Washington. The one that takes two pictures on one film. Take it down to the drug store and get some films for it, then take the size of the film because I'll be sending home for more film before long.

I'm sorry I didn't get to see the President while he was over here, but I was a long way East of where he was and always was as far as that is concerned. I think he and Mr. Churchill made quite a few plans concerning us as well as a few others in other countries.

By the way, you said that Hubert was going overseas soon. I would like to have his A. P. O. No. and his Squadron No. so that I can write to him. Got a letter from John Boland the other day, will give you his address if you care to write to him.

I know he will be glad to hear from you because I'm surely glad to hear from anyone back there.

I told you in my last letter about getting your telegram didn't I? I'm not only getting a little old but I'm beginning to feel a little old too. Sleeping on the wet ground in cold weather and eating hard tack three times a day has a habit of making you feel that way.

Most of the boys down here are getting to gripe and moan a little but they would n't take a thousand dollars for the experiences they have had here and in England, however I don't think they would give two cents for any more of them. I don't think it will be too long before we will all be back in the states again though.

I was certainly glad to hear about your raise. I got one, too, but I am still a couple of grades behind that little brother of mine, but I guess he needs it more than I do now.

Well I've got to close and go to work, sorry I can't tell you more about where I am and such stuff as that.

Love,
Peter.

WE SHOULD KNOW KIND OF COUNTRY CHINA IS TO WIN

COLLEGE STATION—If the next peace is to be just and lasting, the American public at large should know what China is doing to help win the war and the kind of country China is becoming. An American woman who worked in rural China for 12 years told staff members of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service during a recent conference.

The speaker was Miss Josephine A. Brown of New York, farm-reared native of Nebraska, who in recent years has done educational and social welfare work in China.

Eighty-five per cent of China is agricultural, Miss Brown said, and prior to the "China Incident" which began in 1937, China's industrial wealth was concentrated around Shanghai along the coast. When factories were bombed out of existence, the nation's economic life became disorganized. Despite the mass evacuation of 50 million people and the penetration of one-fifth the country by the Japanese, China is carrying on nobly in the sixth year of war, she said.

One movement which has made this possible has been the organization of small rural industrial cooperatives in the interior which provide employment for evacuees, dispose of huge quantities of raw materials formally exported, manufacture goods needed by military forces and civilians, and help ward off inflation. Keeping the cooperatives small has cut down cost of transportation of the processed products and has prevented these minute factories from becoming targets for bombs.

Miss Brown's story of China at war will be told in a broadcast on the Texas Farm and Home Program Tuesday, April 20, at 6 a. m. She will be assisted by C. E. Bowles and Miss Myrtle Murray of the Extension staff.

VICTORY GARDENERS SHOULD READ HOW TO CONTROL INSECTS

Control off vegetable insects is not as difficult as many persons seem to think, says Dr. H. G. Johnston, of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

The ideal strategy is to wage an offensive battle, beginning as soon as the first invaders appear in the garden and never giving them a chance to become established. This battle should continue at intervals of four or five days until the enemy is mopped up.

Insecticides necessary for the job include cryolite and calcium arsenate to control flea beetles, cucumber beetles, cabbage worm and other insects which feed upon the fruit and foliage of the plants; nicotine sulphate or pyrethroid for plant lice, stink bugs, squash bugs and others which suck the juices from leaves and stems; and paris green to make baits for cutworms, sow bugs and mole crickets.

Generally, it is easier to control garden insects with a duster, but good results also can be obtained with a sprayer if done thoroughly. Information on constructing a simple home made duster from a tin can, broom-handle and cheesecloth may be obtained from the county extension agents.

Plant lice, Dr. Johnston says, are probably the most common and destructive vegetable pests. They attack almost all crops, especially turnips, radishes, mustard, cabbage and other similar plants. They may be controlled by using a five per cent rotenone-sulphur mixture, or nicotine sulphate, as a spray or dust. Begin as soon as the pests appear and thoroughly cover the lower surface of the leaves. These insects are killed only when actually hit by the insecticide. In addition, destroy stalks as soon as the crop is harvested in order to eliminate breeding places for lice and bugs.

Mrs. Tom Dyess left for her home at Killeen last Friday, after spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ford.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

This suit is brought as well to try title as for damages, plaintiff alleging that heretofore, to-wit: on the 1st day of March, A. D. 1943, he was lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land and premises, lying and being situated in Mills County, Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple, to-wit:—

Five Hundred and seven (507) acres of land, more or less out of the Fayette Copeland Survey Abstract No. 122 and being a part of Block Number Seven (7) thereof, sometimes referred to and called Block Number Eight (8), all of which land is more fully described in Plaintiff's original petition, on file in this cause, and to which reference is here made for more particular description of the said land.

FAIRMAN OIL TEST ENCOUNTERS WATER

The wildcat well drilled on the E. T. Fairman land west of Goldthwaite encountered water in the Ellenburger lime at 2525 feet, 30 feet in the lime and the water rose approximately 700 feet in 15 hours after it was struck, on April 6, at 6:30 p. m.

An analysis of the water is being made now. Its outcome will determine further action at the well.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Graham of San Angelo spent a few hours Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. W. B. Potter, and other relatives.

DOW HUDSON-

During 1942 these cash holdings and deposits in checking accounts—the "loose money"—increased ten billions six hundred millions dollars, while purchases of U. S. Government securities were slightly less. In other words, double the amount actually invested in Government securities could have and should have been so invested to help curb the rise in prices we have already felt. The total which should be invested is increasing every month.

Sit down and figure it out in your own case. Even if you are not making any more money than you were before the war, think of the things you spent money for then that you can't spend it for today. Figure out how much you were spending for installment buying, for example, that you are not spending now. Add to those sums the money that you would ordinarily spend for vacations and trips (including Memorial Day and Labor Day) as well as money that you might be spending to replace worn-out pieces of furniture and equipment.

Even when you consider that the cost of living has increased some 20 per cent in the last two years, you still have a lot more money available than you had before. You should, for the country's sake and your own sake be investing at least that much in Government bonds. When the war is over you will have the money to buy the things you can't buy now. If you don't save it, you won't have it, and in the meantime you will be hurting rather than helping both your country and yourself. Do not let those Mills County boys down. Let's match the sacrifices they are making by buying Second War Loan Bonds to back them up. They give their lives—you lend your money.

"Is it true, what they say about War Bonds?"

THEY SAY — "Hey, Bill, I heard that in order to pay for the fighting equipment our boys need, each of us should be putting at least 10 percent of our pay into War Bonds."

THEY SAY — "That's a sweet investment, I'd say! And when you lend dough to Uncle Sam, you know he'll make good on his I O U"

IT'S TRUE — "That makes sense to me, Joe. Those things cost plenty of dough. After all, one dime out of every buck is a darn cheap price to pay for freedom!"

IT'S TRUE — "Say! War Bonds are better than dollar bills! They're backed up by the strongest Government in the world—and they make more money for you!"

THEY SAY — "We're not really paying that money to the Government, either. It's just a loan to Uncle Sam, as I see it."

THEY SAY — "Must be a lot of people owning War Bonds by now, aren't there, Bill?"

IT'S TRUE — "Sure. You get it back—with interest. Every 3 bucks you put in brings you 4!"

IT'S TRUE — "A lot of people? Listen! 50 million of 'em have bought War Bonds—and I'm one of 'em. 50 million Americans can't be wrong, Joe!"
