MILLS COUNTY TO BUY $7,251 WORTH OF WAR STAMPS

The quota set for Mills County during July for War Savings Stamps is one for each man, woman and child in the county — $7,251.00 worth. The quota for the entire United States is $131,669,275, which amount represents $1 for each person in the entire country.

To raise $7,251 in Mills County during July it will be necessary for almost every person in the county to participate to the extent of one dollar.

The woman's division of the Mills County War Bonds and Stamps Committee, of which Mrs. Jacob Saylor is chairman, has undertaken to sell this amount of stamps during next month. Mrs. Saylor has appointed Miss Coleman—owner of the Melba Theatre—as chairman of this drive, which will be made chiefly through retail outlets and the picture show. Miss Coleman is working out plans to have as her guests at the Melba winners in different branches of the drive.

Committees of women are expected to contact the merchants of Mills County in an effort to get them to prominently feature the drive through show-window space and through their sales- forces.

WHAT TO WRITE— AND NOT TO WRITE— TO MEN IN SERVICE

The Office of War Information offers these pointers for homefolks writing to soldiers, sailors, and marines—based on suggestions gathered in a survey among servicemen at home and overseas, in cooperation with the Special Service Division of the Army service forces:

TELL HIM:

1. How the family is doing everything possible to help in the war.
2. How anxious the family is for the boy's return.
3. How well and busy the family is. Give details.
4. How the family is getting along financially.
5. What's doing in the community: news about girls (single) he knows, doings of friends, who's married whom, exploits of the home team and other sports events, social doings, effects of the war on the home town. Refinise a little about past events and places the boy used to visit. Enclose clippings from the home-town paper.

DON'T TELL HIM:

1. Your troubles: He has troubles of his own.
2. Your complaints. He can't do anything about them.
3. About things you are depressed over. He can't supply them.
4. Doleful predictions about the future. He's fighting for that future. He's fighting for that fu-

Unnecessary details about financial troubles. If there are things he should know about family finances, and he is in a position to do something about the situation, tell him. But don't string it out.

SAFETY FIRST ON THE FOURTH OF JULY MAY MEAN VICTORY FIRST

Austin, July—Put victory first on the Fourth!

The Texas Safety Association made that appeal to patriotic Texans in launching a statewide campaign against fourth of July accidents that waste manpower, material and time vital to victory.

Thirty-eight statewide organizations are joining with the Association in the greatest mass attack on holiday accidents ever made in this state.

Public officials, safety leaders and citizens throughout the state are being asked to enlist in this holiday campaign in a united effort to prevent accidents which last year took a toll of 87 lives in July alone.

Wartime travel restrictions and the fact that many of the state's war plants will be working full blast through the holiday period may reduce the normal Fourth of July traffic volume. The Association pointed out, however, that many workers will have a long week-end holiday and that traffic hazards still prevail, even on short drives.

The Association made these specific holiday safety suggestions:

1. Stay close to home. Don't drive unless you absolutely have to.
2. Don't take any trips unless you have to, even on a public conveyance. Crowds on trains and buses increase travel hazards.

"This year," said R. B. Roaper, president of the Association, we are not only celebrating our independence, but are fighting to preserve it. Let us not jeopardize our independence by causing accidents which impede our fight to maintain it.

"The prevention of accidents is more than ever the patriotic duty of every citizen, for accidents slow production of war materials. We who are still at home can at least make sure that we do nothing to make it harder for our fighting men. If accidents keep weapons and supplies from them, then accidents must stop.

"Remember—accidents help the Axis. Let's avoid them and put victory first on the Fourth!"

MY POST WAR PLAN

(By SAPP HEAD)

Statesmen and near-statesmen are advancing post war plans for dealing with Axis countries if and when they surrender unconditionally.

Suggestions run all the way from justice without mercy to mercy without justice. Dorothy Thompson holds up the German people as innocent by-standers to Nazi atrocities but we know the German people plundered Jews and other helpless peoples and are still hailing the Fuehrer as long as he has a chance to win for his supre-race (?).

Briefly, my plan is: After unconditional surrender let the United Nations stand by for a spell while Russians settle their score with Nazis. In this Stalin can be assisted by all the occupied countries. Russia has already prepared a list of guilty parties and when they are done, Gestapo will be as scarce in Germany as are Jews.

Let Yugo-Slavs, Greek and Albanians attend to Musso and the Italians. If they need help they may call in a division or two of Ethiopians.

China and Koreans will need no help to pay off the Japs with interest.

After full justice is meted out to these barbarians, the United Nations may find a reasonable excuse to justify feeding the miserable remnants. May we never say to these murderers: "Go thy way and sin no more." God will never forgive them. Shall we?

YOU'RE GOING TO GET IT, TOJO!

You asked for it, you slant-eyed snake-in-the-grass! FIVE MILLION dairy farmers all over America are working long and hard to produce food that will enable our big brawny boys to ram your buck-teeth down your throat. For this all-out patriotic war effort, so vital to Victory, everyone of us GERALD-WORLEY CO. are proud of our farmer friends. We join the nation this June DAIRY MONTH in paying tribute to our fighters on the farm front.

What To Write Soldiers
"The soldier wants the intimate details of life back home," says Chaplin (Major) Alvie L. McNight of Cleveland, Missis-ippi, who has just returned to the U. S. after five months of duty on Guadalcanal. "That the girl two doors down has taken a war plant job, or that the couple across the street have had a baby may make your letter read like a personal column in a small-town weekly newspaper, but that's what he wants. By all means, don't tell the soldier about your troubles. He has enough of his own. Domestic troubles affect the morale of the soldier at the front more than anything else. Something to live for and go back to is what keeps a soldier going. It is what gives a man fight. Home life is everything to the man at the front."

Farmers To Get Tools

More than 50 hard-to-get items needed on farms will be provided by a WPB order to manufacturers and wholesalers to set aside specific quantities. This action puts into effect an emergency program worked out under WPB's office of Civilian Requirements to make available at retail outlets serving farmers, supplies needed to increase food production. The list includes such items as auger bits, batteries, chains, drills, grain scoops, grease guns, harness, hoes, fractional horse-power motors, pails and tubs, pipe fittings, pliers, screw drivers, shovels, tire pumps, valve and wrenches.

Average Income Up, But—

In July, 1940, the average American had an income of about $47.92. Military expenditures in that month amounted to approximately $1.50 per person. In April of this year, income per capita was 1.8 times what it was in the middle of 1940—$85.03, but if the average American had been asked to pay April's war expenses on the spot, they would have taken $53.52 of his new $85.03 income.

Soldiers' Dependents Get Checks

Family allowances and voluntary allotments-of-pay are now in force for about four and a half million soldiers who have more than seven and one-half million dependents, the War Department announces. More than 20 million family allowances and allotment-of-pay checks have been mailed to the wives, children, and other dependents, relatives of Army men in one year.

By MRS. EULA NICKOLS

We extend sympathy to Mrs.
Bud Forehand children and his sisters in his going away.

There was a nice sized crowd out to hear Bro. R. L. English

a good sermon.

ing a meeting at Center Point mother and Mrs. John Roberts went to Center Point to church

Saturday night.

James Nickols and family and myself went over to V. D. Tysons Monday afternoon to gather peas to can. When we got there we found Charley Perry and family and Mrs. Kelly helping to can peas for themselves and Mr. and Mrs. Tyson. I never saw such nice blackeyed peas as Mr. Tyson has raised. He also has some nice cantaloupes. I can't understand why he is wanting to sell this nice farm. He and Mr. Perry make a dandy hand when it comes to gathering and shelling them. It didn't seem to make them tired at all.

As I write it is thundering here is hoping we get a dandy good rain. If it doesn't rain soon everything will be ruined.

Remember you are invited to attend church some place Sunday morning then after church you are invited to the fair ground for a fourth of July dinner. After dinner there will be talks from the elderly people from all over the county. Come and enjoy this great day.

Miss June Barbour from Fort Worth spent Sunday night in my home. She is Mr. and Mrs. C.

H. Ford's granddaughter she is helping to take care of her grand father.

James Nickols and Hobson house in Big Valley last week.

Hutchings. We went after Otis he had been in Austin visiting one of his nieces. He went down with Phil Ford and family.

The thunder sounded good Monday night. But it didn't rain. We hope to get a good one before it is too late.

Bernardino, Calif., and her

EBONY NEWS

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Our summer meeting with Bro. Clem W. Hoover of Goldthwaite doing the preaching will begin this Friday night, July 2. Remember, we don't have opportunity to hear much preaching, let's plan to attend regularly.

Mr. and Mrs. Elzy Jones of San Angelo have been canning at the Ed Jones home this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Smith made a trip to Goldthwaite Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Reid and children, Benna Von and Judy, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ketchum and June went beyond Goldthwaite Sunday to visit Mrs. Reid's and Mrs. Ketchum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cloud Mashburn. They also met a sister there, Mrs. Marvin Caraway of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilmeth, Mrs. Wayne Taylor, and Marilyn and Carol Jean Mitchell went to Brooksmith Saturday to spend the day at the Ralph Wilmeth home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Egger and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Egger went to Ridge Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Herman Glen Egger.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Reeves and children, Joe and Nancy, went to Mullin Sunday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Guthrie, and also to see her brother, Rufus Kent Guthrie, who is leaving for the Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horton and children, Terrell and Barbara of Bangs and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Horton and daughter, Patsy Kay, of Tyler visited and fished at the Wilmeth place Thursday night and Friday.

The Briley family attended the Melwood Ave. Church of Christ revival at Brownwood Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Egger of June Hanna has been attending singing school in Brownwood the past week.

On account of the serious illness of his brother, Clifford, Frank Crowder was not at church Sunday. Clifford is said to be very low at his home in Brownwood.

Mrs. Effie Egger returned Tuesday from Jonesboro, Ark., where she went to visit her son, Clayton, who is in school there preparing to be a pilot in the U. S. A. Air Corps. Mrs. Egger arrived Friday and was permitted to be with Clayton on the campus about an hour. Saturday he was off at four in the afternoon and was with her the rest of the week end. She said the town and school are beautiful with tall pines and oaks. She found Clayton fine and happy. He says he feels better since he got into uniform. Left fatherless in his infancy, Clayton is his mother's all. He is one of the finest boys who have grown up at Ebony. Perhaps no other person in this community has been called on to give as much in this war as Mrs. Egger. First the draft got her farm hand, Bill Ketchum, of whom she says, "There is no better hand." NAVY SEABEES WANTS SEVERAL COOKS, BAKERS

The Navy Seabees have immediate vacancies for cooks and Bakers and attractive ratings can be offered any man who can qualify, according to Chief Recruiter Tom Gaston of the Abilene Recruiting Office. Mr. Gaston also states that there are vacancies in nearly all rates of the SeaBees and that it will be to the advantage of those interested to contact the Navy Recruiting Party on each Monday 1 P. M. at Memorial Hall, Brownwood or apply at the office in the Post Office Building at Abilene.

Mr. Gaston also points out that enlistment of 17 year-old boys are still being effected.

OWNERS OF BUSINESSES NOT TO PAY SOCIAL S. TAX

Owners and part owners of unincorporated businesses—the self-employed workers—cannot build up credits for old-age and survivors benefits, under the present Social Security Act, by reporting their "wages" and paying social security taxes on them, stated David S. Pruitt, manager of the Social Security Board's Austin field office.

Information received by the Social Security Board indicates that many business men are reporting wages for themselves along with the wages of their employees, under the mistaken impression that they can thus establish benefit rights in the event of their death or retirement in old age, continued Pruitt.

 Mills County Home Demonstration Agent.

BIOLOGIST WARNS AGAINST BOTULISM

A poison so powerful that a teaspoonful is enough to kill 40,000 guinea pigs is not a good thing to take chances with, a leading Texas biologist has said in warning Texas homemakers against the hot water method of canning for non-acid vegetables. This method does not destroy the bacteria that cause botulism.

The entire text of a statement of the subject by Dr. Ase C. Chandler, professor of biology of Rice Institute, Houston, and advisory chairman of the Houston and Harris County Nutrition Committee, has been circulated among the county home demonstration agents of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Dr. Chandler's statement is in harmony with recommendations on home canning given by Winifred Jones, extension specialist in food preservation.

Dr. Chandler believes the chances for accidents are too great to be worth the risk if people undertake to can non-acid vegetables or meats by the boiling water bath method. "Outbreaks of botulism will almost certainly occur" he says. "It is like having rattlesnakes on your golf course. You may keep your ball on the fairways and treat the rattlesnake with impunity, but sooner or later somebody a little less careful will suffer. By comparison (with botulism) rattlesnake venom is only mildly poisonous.

Bacteria that cause botulism grow in non-acid vegetables when strictly protected from air. Dr. Chandler says there is one case on record where the spores survived heating and germinated after 22 months. The poison produced is so deadly that a person has been known to die after eating one piece of a string bean.

Miss Jones says this evidence gives strength to the many warnings. Extension Service workers have issued about hot water canning of non-acid vegetables.

GOOD CHEER FOR SOLDIER PATIENTS

Home Demonstration club women in 19 central and west Texas counties have been helping meet the recreational needs of service men in their vicinity. These 4,000 club women pooled their efforts through their local home demonstration councils to assist men who are patients at the Camp Bowie Army base hospital near Brownwood.

In this program they successfully have followed the recommendation of their state organization, the Texas Home Demonstration Association, says Maurine Hearn, district agent for the A. and M. College Extension Service, who supervises home demonstration work in District 7. All gifts were sent to the American Red Cross for distribution.

From club women, the recreation center of the Camp Bowie hospital has received eight card tables, two divans, four end tables, three smoking stands, two magazine racks, a floor lamp, three serving trays, 13 pairs of book-ends flower vases, 26 waste baskets, and 413 ash trays. To provide reading matter, the women furnished 118 books, plus two Bibles, and gave subscriptions to 15 magazines.

Supplies contributed for use during parties and other entertainments included 682 water glasses, 305 cup towels, 153 candy and bon bon dishes, and a variety of other utensils. Other recreational gifts were 50 decks of playing cards, a radio, 135 phonograph records, and 136 games, including checkers, dominoes, jig-saw puzzles, chess, Chinese checkers, bingo, and croquet.

For the comfort of the patients, the women provided 58 lap robes, 77 pillow cases, and 816 individual gifts, varying from sewing kits to hair tonic.

GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY FOR FOOD

It's a good custom in rural communities when a home is destroyed by fire or flood for neighbors to come to the assistance of the family, regardless of whether the folks are well-liked in the community. This same type of assistance must be given to starved and impoverished nations at the end of the war, whether they are on "our side" or lined up with the Axis, believes Jennie Camp, specialist in home production planning for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

In a recent talk to several hundred home demonstration club women Miss Camp pictured the near-starvation demonstration of people in Axis-held territories. In April, 1942, the Society of Friends reported that the French rations allowed by the Germans totaled 1116 calories per day. About 1250 calories per day are required for a man to exist over a protracted period, and 2500 to 3000 daily are required for a man to live at normal activity, she explains.

"Establishing an enlightened world policy with reference to food will mean that we will plan and produce the food needed for a good diet for every body in the world," Miss Camp says. If the United States is to overcome its dietary deficiencies, we will have to produce and consume 10 to 20 per cent more citrus and tomatoes, 100 per cent more green and yellow vegetables than were produced and consumed in the late 1930's."

She urged the club women to keep informed and help their neighbors keep informed on the food situation and the need for increased production, to abide patriotically by the rationing programs, to continue their efforts toward maximum production and save all they produce, to support legislation affecting food, and to promote educational activities on the intelligent use of food.

CANNING FRUIT JUICES AT HOME

For variety in next winter's meals—free from the thought of coupons or points—home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are suggesting home-canned fruit juices. Those other fruits which the homemaker must discard for whole fruit will give excellent juice provided they are free from bruises and decay and in no way overripe.

You may use rhubarb, berries, cherries, currants, plums, cranberries, or grapes, preferably locally grown. Fruits from your garden or nearby farms are best for juices, since freshness plays an important role in all successful canning. Red raspberries make an especially fine fruit juices that retains the fresh fruit flavor over many months, even though it may lose some color in time. Wild berries, if sufficiently juicy may be used and also the wild Muscadine grape if it grows in your region.

To preserve the fruity taste juice for beverages should be extracted from the raw or slightly heated fruit. Since apples and peaches do not give up their juices readily when raw or slightly heated, home economists do not recommend them for home-canned beverage juice.

Citrus juices are hard to put up at home and take a good deal of sugar. Chemists of the Department of Agriculture have found in their experiments that citrus juice packed in glass and stored at room temperatures darkened and developed "off" flavors within a few months. As for putting up these juices in tin cans, home economists do not recommend using tin cans for the home canning of any of the fruit juices unless the cans have a special enamel lining.

FRUIT JUICES TO DRINK

Here's how to can fruit juice for beverages: Wash fruit but do not soak it. Remove any pits and crush the fruit. Now heat the fruit gently to 170 degrees F. below simmering) until soft. Strain it through a cloth bag. If you wish to add sugar, one-half to one cup of sugar per gallon of juice is sufficient, but remember sugar is not necessary for the preservation of juice. Heat the strained juice to 170 degrees F. and then pour into hot jars or bottles, leaving 1-8 inch head space. Completely seal at once crown cap bottles or jar closures with rubber "made on." Process in a boiling water bath for five minutes. Jar closures of other types are partially sealed before the five-minute processing and completely sealed immediately after.

JUICE FOR JELLY

Perhaps you are wondering about canning juice for later jelly-making when and if the sugar can be spared. Yes, the home economists say, it can be done, but there is one important factor to keep in mind: While juices for beverages are extracted from the raw or slightly heated fruit to preserve the fresh fruit flavor, juices for jelly must be extracted from the fruit at boiling temperatures in order that pectin—the substance which makes the jelly jelly—will be contained in the canned juice. Therefore, if you put up juice for later jelly-making, add apple, crabapple, and quince to your list of possible fruits for juices, since they will yield juice when water has been added and the fruit softened by boiling.

DO'S AND DON'TS

- Now for a quick refresher course in the home preservation
1. Be sure jars or bottles have no nicks or cracks.
  2. Be sure caps for jars or bottles will provide an air-tight seal. Recommended for use on bottles are crown caps with shiny brown paper facing, sealed with a capping device.
  3. Boil bottles or jar caps without rubber, to sterilize them. Dip bottle caps and jar caps with rubber "made on" into boiling water quickly just before using.
  4. Be sure fruit is not overripe. Remember that one spot of rot can spoil the whole batch.
  5. Do not hold fruit too long before canning. Remember to keep it cool and well ventilated until you begin preparation. Wash the fruit well but don't soak it.
  6. Remember that "time is of the essence" if you are to pack freshness and hold onto nutritive values. Prepare fruit in small batches to reduce canning time.

7. Observe directions, times, and temperatures in canning time.
8. Fill jars quickly, seal tightly, cool in air.
9. Store in cool, dry place away from light. Cool temperatures—above freezing but not over 60 degrees F.—the home economists say, are important to the preservation of food.

More Deerskins Needed

Letters requesting cooperation in the WPB program to secure deerskins for army gloves have been mailed to 45 taxidermists in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, regional WPB officials announced. Owners are asked to donate deer hides they own which were frozen in processor's hands last March, as state laws forbid sale of the hides. Collections are being made through regular trade channels, including taxidermists and tanners.

FRIENDS OF OTHER YEARS

By J. S. BOWLES

THE EAGLE does not always bring to its readers comforting things. That is not the fault of the Eagle; it is simply the inevitable. Any paper is supposed to report the news, and news is not news simply because it is pleasant or unpleasant. It seems to me that never in so short a time as the past few months has the Eagle brought to me so many things that have caused a heavy heart. It seems that all the old friends that I have known at Goldthwaite since I came there almost thirty-seven years ago have passed away within the last few months.

The memory of this fact is more than a mere sentiment to me. I have been deeply touched with the going of all these friends of other years, and for a reason that is deeply human.

Those who have slipped out into eternity during the past few months were those who stood by me in a crisis in my life when I had much of suffering and sorrow. Had it not been for these friends, very few of whom are now living, I do not know what I should have done. They stood by me in sickness and when the dread messenger came they were there to comfort me and my motherless children. Many times have I called up those days of kindly deeds and sympathetic words and deeds of these friends of passed years. Blessings upon their ashes.

I suppose that these words that seem to suggest crape were suggested by the recent going of my old friend and neighbor, John Allen. But the going of each one of the others has also brought the same sense of loss by their going, whom I shall not attempt to name at this time. I loved them all, and so long as I live I shall treasure their memory.

My wife and I had a very pleasant surprise in a visit from Mrs. R. M. Thompson, former Editor of the Eagle, a few days since. She is one of the few left of whom I spoke above. She was one of the first I came to know when I came to Goldthwaite, and always one of the most faithful friends besides a teacher of my wife in her Sunday School class. What a joy it was to have her as a visitor. We talked about everybody we knew in those days gone. It was a joy to think of both the living and the dead, and their many acts of kindness. We voted her coming as one of the bright spots in our lives, not always filled with nothing but sunshine. That she promised to come again was a happy climax to the visit.

DANGER FOR HUMAN RACE

DR. RAY LYMAN WILBUR, chancellor of Stanford University, speaking at the Chancellor University commencement, asserted there was "danger to the human race" in "the present drive for all-out security."

"When things go easy," he said, "easy becomes the rule. Ease leads readily to indolence, and indolence to such indifference that responsibility for the group is left to others. There are always men seeking political power ready to pick up such opportunities. It is remarkable that we hear so much about security from this and that when our men have none at all and must give up everything upon a nod from the government.

"Too much security, based upon the actions of others, means overdomestication. Domestication is a form of preparation for butcher. The beef animal does not determine when he shall go to market."

The Axis Stops at Nothing. Don't stop your War Bond Payroll Savings at 10%. Every soldier is a 100 percent. Figure it out yourself.

War Bonds should mean something more to you than just "a good sound investment." Figure it out yourself.

For These Things We Fight

WHAT'S ALL THE SHOOTING ABOUT? I'll tell you. We are fighting to protect a thousand and one simple riches that add up to the American way of life. They are precious things and we want to keep them. I mean things like quiet white churches where we can go and worship God as we please. I mean things like roaring crowds and ball games, hot dogs, picnics, and county fairs. I mean vine-covered cottages and laughing children. I mean trout streams and golf courses, and the family automobile. I mean things that we take for granted until we lose them.

But that isn't all that the shooting's for. There are deeper things. The right to hold up our heads and walk the earth as freemen, instead of slaves. To think what we want to think, say what we want to say, and take a crack at being what we want to be. To do what we want to do with our own lives, to give our children an opportunity to do more than we have done, and to be more than we have been. To work together to abolish poverty and sickness and failure, and make our land even more like heaven than it is now.

And the shooting is for even more than that! Out of the blood and the tears and the sacrifice must come a peace that will bring to all men, the world around, the blessings of freedom. Out of the battles in the air, on the land, and on the sea, we must forge a world brotherhood of nations, founded on justice and dignity and character.

Health Notes

To help prevent heat cramps, salt should be added to the drinking water of those persons whose work is such as to cause excessive perspiration. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises in an attempt to forestall a possible increase in the number of heat victims as the Texas thermometer hits 90 degrees and above.

Laborers, mechanics, farmers, and white collar workers whose work causes them to sweat profusely are in danger of having their body salt content become deficient, with resulting heat cramps or heat fat. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat; the body may lose as high as forty to fifty grams of salt during hot days. Workmen whose duties require muscular exertion should be especially careful to add more than the usual amount of salt to what they eat and drink.

In industry, a method of preventing heat cramps is to take a tablet of pure salt or a mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. However, salt deficiency may be prevented by taking salt in various ways. Where prepared salt tablets are not available, a pinch of table salt may be added to each drink of water. Milk is a source of salt and will help to make up for the deficiency caused by sweating. Alcoholic drinks should be avoided.

Heat cramp is characterized by pains in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases, by nausea and vomiting. The body temperature remains about normal, likewise the pulse rate. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until there is a deficiency; then the abdominal muscles begin to cramp.

"A" Book Renewals Start Soon

Application forms for renewal of basic "A" gasoline rations are being distributed this week, the OPA region office announced. The forms will be available at gasoline stations and other convenient locations to be announced by local War Price and Rationing Boards. After completing the portion of the form set off by heavy borders, the applicant is to mail it to his local board, along with his current tire inspection record and the back cover of his present "A" book. Renewal books will be mailed to car owners before July 21, the date on which current A coupons expire.

A PEOPLE IN DISTRESS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 1:6-14; 2:23-25. GOLDEN TEXT—They cried, and their cry came up unto God by reason of the bondage.—Exodus 2:23.

Today is Independence Day. Yet much of the world is in bondage, and the rest of it in a struggle to prevent freedom from perishing from the earth.

Our lesson too is about a nation in bondage, but we learn from it that there is a way to be free. Even so we declare the way of personal liberty which is open and free.

The Lord Jesus Christ opened it at Calvary's tree and anyone who is still the bond slave of Satan may make this a great and glorious Independence Day by now declaring his faith in the Deliverer of our souls.

We begin today a series of lessons in the book of Exodus which reveal the high and mighty hand of God working on behalf of His people.

The family of Jacob—or, as the Bible calls them, the children of Israel—prospered in Egypt particularly as long as Joseph and the rulers who remembered him were alive. But they soon learned one of life's bitter lessons, that—

I. Prosperity Is Not Always a Blessing (1:6-11).

The Hebrews were a peaceful, law-abiding people. They were God's chosen people, and as He blessed them they prospered, and thus innocently they brought upon themselves the hatred of the suspicious Egyptians.

Prosperity is never an unmixed blessing. We as a nation know that to be true. Not only does it lead to a certain softening of the sinews, but all too often it results in a weakening of the moral fiber, which makes man easy prey to the attack of the enemy of our souls.

Is it not strange, then, that we should—even in times of all-out warfare—be so eager to chase the dollar that we are willing to neglect our children, forget church, live unnatural lives, just that we may make more and more money?

The Egyptians had, humanly speaking, reason to fear this great nation which was growing up in their midst. The new rulers did not know Joseph and had forgotten the spirit in which he had brought his family into the land. The leaders of the Egyptians therefore made plans which appealed to their brilliant leaders as politic and wise. But they reckoned without God, and the burdens and afflictions they placed on the Israelites only served to bring further blessing.

So Israel learned a lesson which our present sorry world can profit by, that—

II. Persecution Is Not Always a Burden (vv. 12-14).

The people of Israel did not appreciate it, but the bitterness of their bondage was a blessing in disguise. Note that—

1. It Kept Them Separate as a People. Affliction often serves to keep God's people separated from the world. It is doing so today.

2. It Disciplined Them and Prepared Them for the Hardships of Their Wilderness Journey. We too do well to remember that "whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth," and that if we are properly "exercised" thereby, our sorrows may yield rich fruit in our lives.

3. It Threw Them Back upon God. Many are the saints of God who have found that the fiery trial, the burden so hard to understand, or some affliction of their body, has caused them to bring their burden to the Lord. We have traveled far on the road of faith when we have reached the place where we learn that "man's extremity is God's opportunity."

They had only one place to turn. They were hemmed in on every side, but, as ever, they found that the way up no man can close. They called on their God.

III. Prayer Always Brings Deliverance (2:23-25).

Does God really know when His people suffer? Does He really care? Yes, He does. "They cried," and "God heard" and "remembered." That's all we need to know. The groaning of His people had already stirred God's gracious and tender heart. But He waited to hear their cry before He answered. Such is the law of prayer. May we not forget it. Far too often we turn to everyone and everything else, and finally, in desperation, to God. Why not turn to Him first?

Does God hear and answer prayer? Yes, but remember that real prayer is the cry of faith coming from the heart of an obedient child. God may answer other prayers, but He always answers such a prayer.

His answer may not be in accord with our opinion of what it should be, for His wisdom is infinite. He knows better than we what the answer should be. Let us trust the Judge of all the earth to do right (Gen. 18:25).

ANTI-STRIKE BILL PASSED OVER VETO

The big news in Washington last week-end was the passage of the Connally anti-strike bill over the President's veto.

I voted to override that veto. I did so because I am not ready to place the interests of John L. Lewis above those of this nation and the American people who want to go on with the war.

Like most of the other congressmen and the bulk of the American people, I had had my fill of the civil anarchy fostered by Lewis and others of his calibre.

I have not witnessed a more tense and dramatic occasion since I came to Congress. As the news spread through the House that the Senate had just received and promptly overridden the President's veto, Congressman Woodrum of Virginia, than whom there are few more eloquent and forceful, arose to say:

"The Chief Executive, for reasons undoubtedly sufficient in his own mind, has vetoed the Connally-Smith bill. The Senate has passed the bill over the presidential veto. The clerk of the Senate is at the portals of the House of Representatives with a message from the Senate. It is time now for action. Every man is entitled to his own individual opinion, and he must take his own responsibility. The President can take his. I want to take mine. I want to send a message to the boys in the fox holes and on the battle fronts that those of us here at home are going to do our part. We should pass this bill over the veto."

WHAT THE BILL PROVIDES

My only objection to the bill is that it does not go far enough. It provides that in case of a threat of a strike in a war production plant, at least 30 days must expire before strike action could be taken, during which time a secret vote is taken of all employees. If a majority votes to quit making war materials to fight Hitler and Tojo with, the President can step in and take over the plant. It then becomes a criminal offense for any worker or leader to "coerce, induce, conspire with or encourage" anyone to impede output by strike, slowdown or other interruption.

The bill does not deprive legitimate, patriotic laboring people of a single essential right. But it does very properly impose certain restrictions and controls over labor leaders who are irresponsible, defiant and selfish, and who in recent years have become intoxicated with power.

SOME DIRE THREATS

Some of the labor leaders opposed the bill very vigorously, and went so far as to threaten that their unions would "use all the resources at their command" to "vote out of office" those of us who supported the anti-strike bill.

But the vast majority of the Congress was more concerned with stopping strikes and winning the war than with such political threats.

The Goldthwaite Home Dem. Club

The local Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Jim Weatherby June 16 at three o'clock with a large number of members present.

A program on "Home Nursing" was led by Mrs. Jim Weatherby. A round table discussion on "what to do until the doctor comes" was the most instructive in our present situation of war.

Our hostess served delicious cookies and Coca-Cola to the members and two guests, Mrs. W. J. Weatherby and Mrs. Walter Summy.

The club will meet with Mrs. Paul McCullough July 8 at two o'clock. The program will be "Drying of Home Grown Fruits and Vegetables." All members are urged to come.—Reporter.

SHOW COMPLETE ADDRESS ON S. S. APPLICATIONS

"Many individuals mailing applications for social security account numbers to the Austin field office show as their address only the town in which they live," according to David S. Pruitt, manager of the Austin Social Security Board field office.

Post Office regulations require that a complete address be shown on all mail, and with the increased volume and the large numbers of new residents in each locality, it is especially important now that this regulation be followed and that each person furnish a definite address showing box number, street and number, or "General Delivery," as the case may be.

The Austin Social Security Board field office replies to all applicants for original account numbers within twenty-four hours of the receipt of the applications, but because of indefinite addresses furnished, a substantial number of people either fail to receive their cards or their delivery is delayed. In order to cooperate with postal officials, it is requested that each individual give a definite return address so that these replies will be received as soon as possible, and in order that we may aid the post office in reducing their delivery problems during these rush times.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends for their many expressions of love and sympathy extended during the illness and death of our dear mother. The beautiful flowers were deeply appreciated. May God bless each of you.—The Collier Children and Grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Branson Casbeer and children of Lampasas visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harris, Sunday.

FEEDING DAIRY CATTLE

E. R. Eudaly, Dairy Specialist for Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, spoke before a group of Mills County dairymen and other interested persons at Goldthwaite this week. Mr. Eudaly spoke on the feeding and management of dairy cattle. He stressed the importance of green pastures, both permanent and temporary, in the feeding program. They are the cheapest feed for a dairy cow, being high in proteins and vitamin A, but he said it was important that dry roughage be kept before the cows at all times for the reason that they might not be able to eat enough of the green sappy grass in the early spring to obtain enough dry matter for maximum production. A cow needs about 20 pounds of dry matter from pastures and hay that she consumes. Unless hay is kept before them at all times even when they are on green grass, we do not know whether they are getting this amount of dry roughage.

Mr. Eudaly stressed the importance of dairy cattle getting plenty of water. They need plenty of clean, cool water in the summer and during the winter months the water should be as warm as possible. The falling off in milk production during cold weather as generally happens shows the cows are not getting enough water, because it is too cold.

The next important point to consider, as outlined by Mr. Eudaly, is to furnish a required amount of protein to the cow. Protein is the substance in feeds that stimulates milk production; however it must be balanced in the ration if economical production is to be obtained. As there is critical shortage of protein feeds at this time, Eudaly brought out the fact that a dairyman should try to obtain as much of the protein through green pastures and legume hay as possible. Do not guess at the amount of protein your dairy cattle are getting, obtain Bulletin B-69, Feeding and Care of the Dairy Herd, from the County Agent's office and ask him to explain how you can easily determine the amount of protein to feed in your ration at all times.

Minerals are as important as any other feed substance to the dairy herd, says Mr. Eudaly. This is one of the reasons that milk is so important as a food for growing children. It is high in minerals if cows from which it comes are obtaining them in their feed ration. Phosphorous and calcium are the minerals we are concerned with. Phosphorous and calcium should be balanced in a dairy ration. An unbalanced condition of these 2 minerals might cause serious trouble with the dairy herd. If cottonseed meal, wheat bran, or wheat is being fed in the ration, Mr. Eudaly recommends adding 2 pounds of ground oyster shell or powdered limestone to each 100 pounds of concentrates. Where soy bean meal or peanut meal is used in the ration, use one pound of bone meal and 1 pound of oyster shell or ground limestone to the 100 pounds of concentrates. Two pounds of pure bone meal mixed with 1 pound of salt should be kept out free choice to the dairy cows, when they are dry or in milk.

Salt is another feeding constituent that should not be overlooked. Add one pound to each 100 pounds of concentrates and offer free choice. Have plenty of loose salt available, free choice, to the cows at all times also. Rock salt is no good for dairy cows, according to Mr. Eudaly.

Vitamin A is also very important to the dairy cows, says Eudaly. It is contained in green grass and pea green hay. A cow has the ability to store as a reserve certain amounts of this material in her body, but if she goes for long periods without obtaining green grass or pea green hay, serious results may follow. The first indication of Vitamin A deficiency is a lack of yellow color in the butter; next the cow will fall off in milk production and if nothing is done, she will eventually get down and the condition may finally cause death.

The following suggestions are made by Eudaly on how to cure diseases of dairy herds:

For Cowpox, use sulfathiazole ointment, 20 percent strength for cowpox, 10 percent for ordinary sores, and 5 percent for humans.

For calf scours, use sulfaguanidine. Give the three tablets the first day, two the second day and one the third day.

For mastitis, use sulvelin. Do not use milk from infected quarter for 10 days after treatment.

For Bangs Disease, vaccinate with strain No. 19 Bangs vaccine. Vaccinate calves from four to six months of age and cows 30 days after calving.
