Mills County FFA Boys To Show Calves, Lambs At Dallas Fair

Robert Henry Johnson, Jackie Burks, Bobby Letbetter, and Myron Hillman will represent the Goldthwaite F. F. A. Chapter at the State Fair at Dallas. They will leave Thursday, and have hopes of making the best showing that Mills County has ever made at Dallas. Although Mills County has made a wonderful show record at various shows the last few years we have yet to hit the jackpot at Dallas.

Robert Henry will show an Angus calf bred by Tommy Brook Ranch of Camp San Saba. The calf is in excellent shape, and will weigh in at around 875 pounds. We hope this Angus can do as well as the one last year.

Goldthwaite is known around the country as a calf feeding center. This year we hope to be as well known as a lamb feeding center. Jackie Burks, Bobby Letbetter, and Myron Hillman will give us a good start towards this goal. Jackie will show a South-down lamb bred by Steen and Turbiville of Goldthwaite. Bobby will also show a lamb bred by Steen and Turbiville. Myron Hillman is showing a lamb from his own flock. All of these lambs will weigh in around 90 pounds. The Dallas show will have to be better than it was last year or one of these boys will get that first place for Goldthwaite.

Y. B. JOHNSON,
Voc. Agr. Teacher.

GOLDTHWAITE EAGLES GO TO MASON TO PLAY COWPUNCHERS

Coach Bert Brewer will take his Goldthwaite Eagles to Mason tonight to play the light but tough Mason Cowpunchers there at eight o'clock. They will be accompanied by the Goldthwaite High School Band, the Pep Squad, and a large number of Mills County football fans.

The Cowpunchers' coach is John Albers; their colors are purple and white, and their class song is "Victory." The Cowpunchers have won every game they have played to date this season, standing 100 per cent in District 22-A play by virtue of beating Marble Falls there last Friday night 26 to 12. In non-conference play they have scored the follows: Mason 19, Melvin 0; Mason 19, Junction 7.

The Goldthwaite Eagles will be cocky tonight, after their conference win on Eagle Field last Friday night over Burnet Bulldogs 39 to 7. However, the week before they lost in a game here to the San Saba Armadillos in conference play 12 to 7, leaving their standing at present at 50 per cent. The Eagles colors are black and gold. The Eagles have only played the Cowpunchers once, two years ago, when they won over Mason 6 to 0, but had three men crippled.

Eagles starting lineup averages 151 pounds to the man; the Cowpunchers average 149 lbs. per man.

The Eagles will have one of the toughest of the district series games at Mason tonight. Editor G. V. Burke of the Mason County News, upon request, wrote The Eagle this week as follows:

"We have a genuine Cinderella team. They are very light but full of scrap. This spring the outgoing coach actually planned to recommend to the school board that football be discontinued here this year, his argument being that it would not be humane to subject such a green, light team to the poundings it was certain to take. I'm pretty sure Mason is going to get walloped down along the line, perhaps by Gold-

OUR IDEA OF GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

Robert Henry Johnson, Eagle ace quarterback who generated his team to a 39 to 7 win here over Burnet Bulldogs last Friday night, will have a big week-end this week. He left Thursday for Dallas to enter his Angus calf in the Dallas Fair show. His father, Bob Johnson, will go to Dallas today, pick up his son and take him to Mason to play with the Eagles against the Cowpunchers tonight. After the game, Bob will take Robert Henry back to Dallas, where he will prepare and show his calf some time Saturday, opening day of the Dallas Fair.

Our hat's off to a boy who will travel over 600 miles to help his football team out, play his heart out, and then stay up all night riding back to Dallas to try to bring additional honors to Mills County in the calf show, one of the largest in the state. Robert Henry's calf last January won Grand Championship honors at the Houston Livestock Show, and he will go to Kansas City next Tuesday to enter the national judging contest.

B. F. Mahan was in town Tuesday of this week meeting his many friends and acquaintances.

Goldthwaite, but the PUNCHERS can be counted on to wage an awful battle. They simply don't know when to quit."

SMITH-CHILDRESS CLINIC BEING SET UP FOR GOLDTHWAITE

Dr. C. M. Smith has announced the association with him of Dr. M. A. Childress and the preparation of the Smith-Childress Clinic for obstetrics and minor surgery. Dr. Childress, like Dr. Smith, is also a staff member of Memorial Hospital in Brownwood.

Dr. Childress and his wife, who is a Registered Nurse, were born in Oklahoma and have two children, Caroline and Jimmy. They are members of the Methodist church, in which Dr. Childress, father is a minister.

Dr. Childress is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and received his M. D. degree from the Medical School there. He served his internship at the University Hospital in Oklahoma City and was on the staff of the Veteran's Hospital in Waco for two years. He has completed his residency at Hillcrest Hospital in Waco. Mrs. Childress completed her training at Enid General Hospital in Oklahoma and in her work at Crippled Children's Hospital in Oklahoma City.

The Smith-Childress Clinic is located on North Fisher street in this city, where Dr. Smith and Dr. Childress also have their offices.

Both doctors have come highly recommended to our city. Dr. Smith came to Goldthwaite on the recommendation of the late Dr. H. F. Connolly of Waco, who was well known to many of our residents and who was at that time Secretary of the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners. Dr. Childress is well known in Waco through his years of service in that town and is highly regarded there.

Both Dr. Smith and Dr. Childress feel that the citizens of Goldthwaite are entitled to the best in medical service and have set up their clinic to see that it is available at all times to our people. We feel sure that Dr. Childress and his family will be welcomed to this city.

NOTICE

The Goldthwaite Garden Club announces their annual "Nigger" Minstrel at High School Auditorium on November 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manley and children of Big Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Rimer Walthers and baby of Brownwood spent Sunday here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bryant.

Goldthwaite Lions Club Is To Help Mark Eagle Football Field

The Goldthwaite Lions Club held its regular first Tuesday night meeting at The Hangar at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday. Guests introduced were: Lion W. P. Durand introduced Paul Bentley, who was engineer for the construction of the locker plant here; Lion Harold Yarborough introduced Charlie Evans as his guest; Lion Schultz was introduced as a transfer.

After the meal, Program Chairman Lion Blake introduced Highway Patrolmen Worth Moddesett and Glen Williamson, who live at San Saba and patrol three counties, Mills, San Saba and Llano, who made principal speeches of the evening on the subject of Highway Traffic Safety. Mr. Williams told of some things the citizens could do to help the patrol in its fight against highway traffic accidents, saying 2,000 people were killed last year in Texas. The total has been held down some this year, but worst driving season is just ahead. Mills County has reported ten auto wrecks to the Highway Patrol he said, with one fatality. He said lots of accidents on Highway 84 were caused by slick pavement, and complimented the citizens here in their cooperation with the Patrol that resulted in only one fatality so far.

Lion President Joe. B. Karnes asked that the people be especially careful on football nights and at other times, and that they cooperate with the Highway Patrol.

Lion Brian Smith noted that the President every ten years called a White House conference on children and youth, and the next one would be in 1950. However, the Department of Public Welfare of Texas wants a thorough survey of youth needs made in Texas this year. The Lions Club voted to help form a committee for the survey.

Lion President Karnes asked the club to go on record favoring backing the recently-organized Junior Chamber of Commerce here, and stated the Lions Club would help them in any undertaking.

Lion D. D. Tate reported the city had already ordered metal street markers, and that houses here would be numbered. This is the minimum requirement for free city mail delivery, said Lion Postmaster M. Y. Stokes. The club then took up the matter of Christmas street lighting this year, and Lion Karnes said the city would order the material and sell it at cost to the club. The club voted to sponsor the Christmas street lighting.

More History Of Treasure Hunts In Mills County Told In 'Silver Dreams And Copper Plates'

By MAE FEATHERSTON
(Editor's Note—The following article written by Mae Featherston of Mills County, entitled "Silver Dreams and Copper Plates," was published in 1937 in STRAIGHT TEXAS, a publication of the Texas Folk-Lore Society. Due to interest here now in treasure and mine hunts, The Eagle reprints it with special permission from the author and from the Texas Folk-Lore Society.)

The storied land of the Southwest contains no place where more romance and legend can be found than the hills of Mills County, Texas. From the cliff-lined banks of the Colorado River, the brush-covered hills stretch northward, among them tradition and folk-lore thriving as freely and abundantly as the bluebonnet in the spring.

In the dawn of Texas history, legions of pack trains, carrying gold and silver from mines in the mountains of Mexico and from the hidden shafts of the Lost San Saba Mine, moving slowly up the trail which crossed this land rich in natural scenic beauty and led by the Epley Spring. At least that is what the treasure-seekers say. Here the weary travelers drank the cool waters of the spring, rested in the shade of the pecan and elm trees, and then resumed their northward journey, leaving behind strange and fantastic stories about the contents of their packs.

But not all of the gold and silver laden burros which camped by Epley Spring ever reached their destination somewhere to the north. Roving bands of Indians charged back and forth among the brushy slopes around Epley Springs and spread panic among numerous pack trains. As a result some of the gold and silver from the Aztec mines still lies buried in the hills of Mills County.

With the advent of the cattle industry in the brush country of Southwest Texas, Epley Springs became a famous watering place on the western branch of the Chisholm Trail. Then thousands of cattle on their way to markets in Denver stopped over here for water and the whispering voices of the fleeing miners and the attacking Indians were stilled by the angry milling and bawling of the cattle and the incessant shouting of the trail drivers. The voices, though stilled silver could be located.

With their silver thus secure, the men continued their journey under the cover of darkness, but before morning the Indians made a severe attack on them. A few escaped, but most of the miners were killed there in the lonely hills under the paling stars. Whether the priest escaped, no one knows, but the prospectors who stopped at the Shultz home claimed that they had the original chart which he had made and kept with him.

Their chart called for a large pecan tree a given distance and direction from the Epley Spring. The tree was supposed to have a limb cut off and a spike driven in the remaining part and pointing toward the treasure. Doubtless the chart was more definite, but the daughter of Mr. Schultz, who told this story to me, had forgotten many of the details.

No tree fitting the description could be found, but the men easily located a large pecan stump about one hundred yards east of the spring. They thought that the spike must have pointed northwest, as the nearest hills lay in that direction.

The prospectors stayed around and searched for several months, and then all of them except one man, Mr. Brooks, left. He hunted among the near-by hills for several years before he finally left, too.

The treasure-seekers left, but their story remained—burned in the minds and hearts of several children of the adventurous Coronado.

Chief among these was Uncle Jimmie Guthrie. Uncle Jimmie became interested in buried treasure about 1887, while Mr. Brooks was still prospecting. He left his home in Mullin and worked with Mr. Brooks and the two Urbach brothers of Goldthwaite for several years. When Mr. Brooks left, he sold his mineral rights, cabin, and equipment to Mr. Guthrie for four hundred dollars. The cabin was located about a quarter mile north of the Epley Spring. Here Uncle Jimmie lived for almost thirty years digging and prospecting among the neighboring hills. Out on a hillside one day he discovered a large rock on which was crudely drawn a long curved line of jagged heads for the mouth of a cave, but the rock was marked down; so it did not help him so far as guidance was concerned. This was not the same rock which Dr. Jim Kirkpatrick's men found. (J. Frank Dobie, Coronado's Children, p. 45.) Dr. Jim's men found their rock some time earlier.

In his long siege of digging, Uncle Jimmie dug a vast labyrinth of caves into several hills north of the spring, and these are still called the Guthrie Caves.

Uncle Jimmie was a great talker. He had a shrill, strong voice, and he talked to anyone who would listen. He loved nothing better than to get a crowd of people around him and tell stories about the Mexican silver for which he was seeking. He always carried a number of Indian arrowheads with him, and he amused many children and older people as well by holding up some arrowhead and relating the story from the time it was chiseled by some dusky brave until it fell into his hands. Many a buffalo and many a savage Indian had been killed by the flint points which he carried.

Uncle Jimmie knew the Bible from cover to cover, and he always attended church and Sunday School at Bethel, a small church several miles from his cabin.

My father and mother, Charles G. and Blanche Moreland Featherston, moved to a farm about two miles east of Epley Spring in 1907, and for many years Mr. Guthrie was a constant visitor in their home. He whittled away many long winter evenings sitting by their fireside and telling stories to my older sisters. Naturally Uncle Jimmie was a great favorite with them.

Many public picnics were held at the Guthrie Caves to Uncle Jimmie's great delight. Besides the picnic crowds, random bands of pleasure seekers frequented the chalky hillsides; so what time Uncle Jimmie was not actually digging, he was guiding people through the intricate passages and tunnels he had made.

Although Mr. Guthrie carried on most of his operations alone, he worked for a while with Dr. Jim Kirkpatrick and Bob Urbach, who were making an extensive search in some hills west of the spring. It was they, and not Uncle Jimmie, who unearthed the first of the priest's copper boxes. On the lid of this box was etched a long string of pack burros headed for the mouth of a cave, and beneath that was the name Padre Lopez and the date 1782. Unquestionably they were on the trail of the buried Aztec treasure, but the story of Dr. Jim has already been told. (J. Frank Dobie, Coronado's Children, pp. 43-49.)

Uncle Jimmie continued to work, sometimes with some interested party but most often alone, until age began to claim him, and his health began to fail. About 1917 his sons came and took him back to Mullin, where he died several years later.

But Uncle Jimmie's spirit still lives, and, hand in hand with the lure of buried treasure, still haunts the hillsides where he worked. The Guthrie Caves are now crumbling ruins. Only a few look safe enough for one to venture into their dark, uncertain depths, and they are the home of innumerable cave rats and rattlesnakes. But Uncle Jimmie's spirit moves restlessly back and forth among the dusty obscure tunnels—still pursuing his dream, still seeking.

A man who prospected for several years near the site of Mr. Guthrie's digging was Wiley Wall, an Indian. When my father moved to Mills County in 1893, Wiley lived with his Indian mother and his sister, Landonia, on a farm about five miles north of Epley Spring. But Wiley became interested in buried treasure, and in 1901 he sold his farm and bought a large tract of land just west of Epley which included the site of Mr. Guthrie's excavations. The two became steadfast friends, but they did not work together. As a Mills County pioneer expresses it, "They did not see things alike." Wiley explored in other places on his land, but he never discovered anything unusual except some strange writings—probably Indian pictographs—on the walls of two of the natural rock caves.

The Walls were typical Indians who, due to circumstances, were living among civilized people. For several years after they moved to their new farm, they did not build a house but lived in a dug-out cellar. Even after the house was built, Grandma Wall continued to live in the cellar most of the time.

Many stories were told about their queer way of living. One was that the Walls did not have a comb and that Landonia's hair had not been combed for seven years. Another was that, on cold winter nights, they of ten brought their whole flock of goats in the house, and sometimes Landonia slept with the little kids.

The Walls were very silent and reticent about their affairs. They were, also, very devout and religious, and Wiley knew the Bible as well as Uncle Jimmie Guthrie. Moved by the spirit of God, Wiley overcame his taciturnity enough to take up preaching. He preached at Bethel one windy Easter Sunday, and I well remember hearing my father tell about it.

He said that the church swayed like a tall pine in the wind. As the sermon progressed, the congregation became more and more restless. Numbers of people got up and walked out, but Wiley preached on undisturbed. Later Uncle Jimmie, who had not been at church that windy morning, remarked that he thought things were coming to a pretty pass when Wiley Wall tried to preach—no wonder the Lord had tried to destroy the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hodges, Jr., of Port Arthur, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hodges, Sr., before moving to Toledo, Ohio, where Marvin is being transferred by his oil company.

Miss Norma Sue Ross, who is attending college in San Marcos, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ross.

Abilene—Madeline Johnson of Goldthwaite is one of the more than 50 members of the McMurry college band which has already begun a strenuous schedule.

The band made its initial appearance this year at the Texas Mines-McMurry football game at Odessa. Other performances were at the East Texas Baptist College-McMurry game here, and the opening parade of the West Texas Fair Sept. 27. The band goes to the Haskell Fair this week.

Raymond T. Bynum, director, says there are 26 new members this year. Of this number, 16 are band majors, four of whom will graduate with the 1948-49 class. These students expect to become band directors in the public schools when they finish at McMurry.

Other band activities include attending football games at Wichita Falls against Hardin College, and at Brownwood for the Howard-Payne game. Other performances include the ACC-McMurry game Oct. 23; the Austin college game here Oct. 30, and the McMurry-Southwestern game here Nov. 19.

'SILVER RIVER' HIGH GEARED WESTERN

The Old West after the Civil War is captured with lusty brilliance in Warner Bros.' sweeping romance, "Silver River", co-starring Errol Flynn and Ann Sheridan, which plays Sunday and Monday at the Melba Theatre. The film, directed by Raoul Walsh, past master at action tales, abounds in gun fights, fistcuffs and high-geared romance, all shot against a vivid panorama of a western mining town.

Flynn, in top form, first as a soldier, than as the dashing gambler and banker of Silver City, shares honors with luscious Ann Sheridan, high-spirited heroine of this colorful story. Their romance, runs the gamut of temperamental outbursts to more tender moments. Both parts are lively and the winning personalities of the duo manage to invest their roles with character and drive. They make an interesting twosome to follow.

'The Voice of the Turtle'

That celebrated record-smashing comedy-romance, "The Voice of the Turtle" which Warner Bros. have transferred to the screen with Ronald Reagan and Eleanor Parker in the leads playing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Melba Theatre, is in that exclusive class of Broadway's celebrated long-run hits. The play opened December 8 1943 at the Morosco Theatre in New York, and has since won international acclaim as one of the greatest romantic comedies of all times.

"The Voice of the Turtle" has played on the stage from Montpelier, Vt. to San Diego, Cal., in London, in Sydney, and on Broadway. Other long-run hits in the same class include "Life With Father" and "Arsenic and Old Lace", both of which were made into movies by Warner Bros.

SCALLORN—

—By MRS. ORA BLACK

It seems news has been rather scarce out our way, or maybe we weren't at home when the neighbors called. Any way we want to be represented in our home town paper as we have a very enthusiastic group of people. For instance our newly elected Sunday School superintendent Arlie O'Bannon suggested a meeting at the Church Wednesday of this week for the purpose of repairing the church building.

The newly elected officers and teachers were most all present Sunday to take over their respective places. We're looking forward to a greater work through the new year.

Mrs. S. M. Black of Brownwood accompanied by her sister Ora Black were in Temple Friday where Mrs. S.M. Black took treatment at Kings Daughters Hospital.

Dean Burk was in San Antonio one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Smith called Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Black

Mr. and Mrs. John Kuykendall went to Brownwood Sunday as guests of their daughters Mrs. Francis Kill and Mrs. Bob Simms.

GOLDTHWAITE GARDEN CLUB IS PRAISED

(By MRS. MARY DAGGETT LAKE In Fort Worth Star-Telegram.)

A recent visit with the Garden Club of Goldthwaite revealed much natural beauty. The luncheon table was unusual in colors of gold and fuchsia, and decorations consisted of attractive favors in the same colors, and with the addition of many products or by-products of native plant materials.

Oak leaves and acorns, gourds in shades of chartreuse to gold, wild grasses in seed, the glowing fruits of the wahoo, chinaberry, soapberry, barberry, chaparral bushes and prickly ash, all added to the beauty of the artistic combinations. A special feature of this, the first fall meeting of the Goldthwaite club, was a screen which was covered with the native plant materials, branches of flowers or fruits of the trees and shrubs, and flowers and fruits of plants. This was an educational feature which provoked much comment.

Mrs. Jim Weatherby, president of the club, and Mrs. John G. Berry, program chairman, together with a number of others who worked to make the affair a success, were duly congratulated as visitors spoke highly of the work this club had done along civic lines.

The natural beauty of the wooded hills, the alkaline and chalky soils and rocks, the dark green of the cedars made pleasing pictures. One wonders, with so much that is attractive near by, why local people do not take advantage more generally of what is near at hand.

The dwarfed, crooked, gnarled trees with grotesque, twisted branches—such as those we see in the ming trees we bring in from California and the high Sierras—are all there; not the same trees and branches certainly, but something equally more attractive, even to the artist, to the flower arranger who is looking for something different for his or her garden club. And here too are unusual flower and fruit and nut forms. These materials, when used by an artist, offer unlimited possibilities. A recent Garden Center visitor, R. B. Page, Carthage, Texas, who carves unusual designs from our native nut trees thinks the field is unlimited in design, but unchallenged as yet.

Henry Featherston
"Gone But Not Forgotten"
To say a word in memory of our friend is not to me a duty only but a pleasure which I now perform. Able no longer to speak for himself, his friends at least can join and weave from memory's thread a chapter for him now.

In the fullness of his years he has been gathered to his rest. Devoted to his friends, attentive to duty's call, earnest in his conviction and a true Christian, he leaves to his family and friends the richest heritage which earth or time can give—a name untarnished!

If we all could live the life he has we could throw more sunshine into every life, and scatter flowers along the way. The course of friends and beautiful flowers that followed the body proved what I am saying.

Standing near the line where shadows kiss the sunshine of the Great Beyond, think of him, late sat among us, and seemed to have before him such noble plans.

Henry was born in Arkansas June 4, 1891, died September 16, 1948. He moved to this county when he was a small boy. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Featherston, who passed away years back. He was converted when a child and joined the Baptist Church and was a faithful member as long as he was able to go. Henry was a lover of music and was a member his choir.

His funeral was conducted at the Baptist Church by his pastor, Rev. Joseph L. Emery. His body was laid to rest at Pleasant Grove. He leaves to mourn his going his wife, Hersa; one son, H. M. of Odessa; three step-sons, Carl, Raymond, and Joe; one daughter, Mrs. Willie Long; two brothers, Sam of Dallas, Walter of Goldthwaite; two sisters, Mayrene Hamey of California, Mabel Austin of Amarillo, who were all at his bedside when he passed away, except his son H. M. and Mrs. Hamey, who were unable to attend.

"A precious one from them has gone,
A voice they loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in their home,
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled
The boon His love had given,
And, though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven."

FARM BUREAU DISTRICT MEETING IN WACO MONDAY
A district Farm Bureau meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, 414 1/2 Franklin St., Waco, Texas, on Monday, October 11, it has been announced by J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation. Frank Taylor, of Waco, Texas, District Director, will preside. The meeting will start at 10:00 a. m.

This will be one of a series of 13 district meetings being held throughout Texas during the month of October, for the purpose of bringing farmers and ranchmen first-hand information on the immediate agricultural situation, and the economic conditions of the Nation as a whole, and go get the thinking from the grass-roots with reference to agricultural matters.

"Farm prices have dropped 30 percent in the past nine months, and farmers' buying power has been reduced 18 percent," Hammond said. "Only through a workable, long range farm program that will provide for adequate price supports for farm commodities, can this Nation enjoy a balanced economy and avoid another depression such as was experienced in the early thirties," he declared. The long range farm bill hastily passed during the closing days of the last session of Congress will not adequately safeguard the interests of agriculture, and it will take a strong organization of farmers in this Nation to secure necessary amendments to this bill at the next session, the Federation president emphasized.

Plans for the Farm Bureau's Fall Membership Round-Up will be discussed, and an added feature of the district meeting will be selection of a district Farm Bureau queen to participate in the State Queen Contest to be held during the state convention.

After a pep talk by Coach Brewer, the Eagles came back to score twelve points in the third quarter. A beautiful run by the great Eagle halfback, Hamil Lynch, was good for a touchdown. The try for the extra point was no good. The illusive Eagle fullback, John

Alex Miller, who played a magnificent game, went over for the next touchdown. The extra point was no good. It was in the third quarter that the Bulldogs made their only score.

The last touchdown, which was in the fourth quarter, was made on a thrilling run by John Alex Miller. The try for the extra point was no good. Coach Brewer's substitutes played a very good game in the fourth quarter. The game ended with Goldthwaite out front, 39-7.

The Eagles journey to Mason next Friday to meet the Punchers in the third conference game. Everyone is looking forward to a great victory.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Holland moved last week into their new home southeast of town.

SECOND KILLING AS RESULT OF MILLS COUNTY OIL LEASE

The shooting through the head from the back of a car of Que Robert Miller in Fort Worth on Thursday night of last week brings the killing total to two of the principals in an oil lease swindle involving 210 acres of Mills County land.
 On last August 2, O. T. McDaniel of New Mexico came to the Mills County courthouse to file an assignment of an oil lease on 210 acres of Mills County land. When he found that the original lease made out to a "George Wiggins" had not been recorded, and there were no producing wells nearby, he left for Farwell, in far west Texas, to find the man he bought the lease from and "try to get his money back." In less than an hour, a man identified by officers as Que Miller appeared at the court house here with an original lease calling for the payment of $210 to the landowner, the original having been notarized at Mullin earlier that morning.
 The next morning, McDaniel was found dead in his car a few miles from Farwell at the side of the highway with a bullet hole in his left temple. A new rifle was nearby.
 Sidney Miller, formerly of Brownwood and a brother of Que Miller, is one of the men out on bond in connection with the death of McDaniel.
 Prot Worth officers believe the killing of Que Miller was a typical gangland murder. Two men are believed to be implicated and are thought to have shot Miller through the head while sitting in the back seat of his car. No clues have yet been found.

FARM OWNERSHIP DAY AT DALLAS FAIR

In recognition of the achievement of operators of family-type farms who have paid their loans and continue to operate their farms, the State Fair of Texas has designated October 13, 1948, as "Farm Ownership Day."
 An "Achievement Award" in the form of a certificate will be awarded to approximately 1400 eligible families in recognizing the accomplishment of the individual families who used improved agricultural practices to produce income to repay the loan advanced through the Farmers Home Administration.
 The certificate is signed by R. L. Thornton, President of the State Fair of Texas, and L. J. Cappelman, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, complimenting the farmer on assuming a place in the ranks of successful Texas farm families who own their homes free of debt.
 Three families in Mills County who have paid their farms out in full under the "Farm Ownership" plan will get their Achievement Awards there. They are: Fred Mosier, Clark Miller and Carl Greele families. Twenty-three other families in Mills County own farms under the plan, which they are now paying out, several of which are nearly paid out at this time.
 Chief speaker for the program, to be rendered in the Hall of State on the State Fair grounds at 3:30 p. m., October 13, is Judge Marvin Jones, Chief Justice of the Court of Claims, Washington, co-author with Senator John H. Bankhead of Alabama of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Purchase Act of 1938.

THE FIFTH HORSEMAN
The official posture for this year's Fire Prevention Week—which will run from October 3-9—shows, in the background, the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse—war, famine, pestilence, and death. In the foreground carrying a flaming brand, is the Fifth Horseman—fire.

That makes a dramatic and thought-provoking picture. Fire is one of the most consistent killers. Its ravage is especially great among small children. And, on top of that, it disfigures and cripples thousands of people each year. Then, for good measure, it destroys well over $50,000,000 worth of property every month.

Can fire be prevented? The experts say that 90 per cent of all fires, great and small, are unnecessary. Of all fire's allies, human carelessness is by far the most effective. Our collective failure to allow the rudiments of fire safety is the basic reason why fire waste continues to grow. When fire is fought intensively, it always loses. As a recent example, the Navy's Bureau of Yards and Docks has been carrying on a major fire prevention campaign. In the first quarter of this year alone fire damage to its installations were cut by nearly $1,500,000.

When you see the Fire Prevention Week posture, study it closely. Keep its message in mind. Learn the simple rules of fire safety and follow them. Then, and only then, the Fifth Horseman can be but to flight.

WHY I DISLIKE THE RUSSIANS

(English Theme By JOE L. TATE, Stephenville, Student in A & M)

Personally I have no basis for opposing the Russians. They have inflicted no injustice upon me as an individual. Actually, I have never come in contact with the Russian people. When I think of the situation in this manner, the bitterness toward the Russian people does not leave me. When I hear the word "Communist," I immediately associate the word with the Russian people. This seems to make my "blood boil," and a hardness appears upon my face like a thunderstorm over a small valley.

When I read a newspaper, the article that immediately comes to my attention is one concerning the United Nations. In most casts they have failed to pass an important issue because the Soviet Government would not cooperate with the other larger nations. This leaves the impression upon me that all the people of the world will be affected by this event.

The Senate Un-American Activities Committee has frequently questioned citizens about Communism. This questioning kept me provoked for a time, but it has no effect upon me now. If they have found one person who has acknowledged that he was a Communist, I do not know of it. This investigation was supposed to expose Communists to the open public. People who are investigated will not answer direct questions because they do not want to be exposed to the American public.

The "Iron Curtain" which the Russians have inflicted upon many smaller nations, stirs a combination of fear and impulsive anger within me. This "Iron Curtain" is a secret wrong in which the Russians are engaged. This should be an infraction of international law, and world police power should be sought to eliminate such intolerance.

FIGHTING FOR YOU

"Safety is hard to advertise," says the New York Times. "Most people think they have it, like common sense. Many hazards become contemptible because they are as familiar as the loose wire in the kitchen. . . Who sees the build-up of static electricity in the dress you clean with gasoline? Even the shock of a big hotel fire wears off and false security exerts its age-old drug."

That is why fire prevention work must never slow down—and why every medium of communication must constantly be employed to keep the menace of fire before the American people. Today fire is costing some $700,000,000 a year in direct waste alone—and the indirect waste is two to three times as great. Worse still, it is taking more than 10,000 lives, and fire is the cause of about one-fourth of all accidental deaths of children.

The war against fire is being fought for you—and for everyone else.

By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Genesis 11:27-25:11. DEVOTIONAL READING: Hebrews 11:1-10.

God's View of People

Lesson for October 10, 1948

"YOU can learn more about human nature from reading the Bible than from living in New York," said a Yale professor who had tried it both ways. He was right; for in New York you are likely to see your neighbors only on the outside, while in the Bible you are introduced to people on the inside.

Dr. Foreman

One great value of the Bible is its plain stories about people, all sorts of people—simple, great, wise, foolish, saints and sinners. They lived thousands of miles from here, and thousands of years ago. They dressed differently and many of them spoke in languages now dead. Yet somehow they live in these inspired stories.

Saints

ONE of the great biographies of the Bible is that of Abraham. If you will read it in Genesis you will see it is not like one of our modern biographies; it does not follow a continuous line, but consists of short incidents strung together sometimes without connection.

It is more like an album of pictures than like a movie. Yet putting all the pictures together we get an impression of a remarkable man.

Indeed, Abraham was one of the most remarkable men who ever lived. Without a church, without a Bible, without prophet or priest or tradition, born in a nation and a family that "worshiped other gods," as Joshua said later, somehow Abraham came to know that there is but one God, and not only to know that as a fact but to know that God as a friend. (In fact, Abraham's name among the Arabs to this day is "The Friend.") We must call Abraham one of the great religious geniuses of all human history.

Yet he does not stand alone. The Bible is a book of saints; the letter to the Hebrews calls the roll of some, and ends by saying time is too short to name them all.

Now a saint is not a person who lives totally without sin. A saint is one in whose life goodness is stronger than evil; a saint is one who actually lives as a friend of God, for whom God is the central fact in all his life.

Sinners

THESE are no whitewashed plaster saints, the great and small figures of the Bible stories. They come before us just as they were, Abraham, for example, at times was a coward, a liar, a bigamist, a slaveholder.

We must not suppose that everything any character in the Bible did was right, or is right today. The writers simply tell the stories, seldom using adjectives like "bad" or "good" or "noble" or "mean." We are left to make our own judgments.

We are shown what effects sin has on men, we see how evil spreads by suggestion and imitation, we see how temptation works. God inspired the biographers; but he does not inspire men to tell lies or to cover up evil by calling it good. So do not be shocked to find that even a saint like Abraham had feet of clay. The important things about him are the good, not the bad.

The Light That Shines

FURTHERMORE, when you read these Bible biographies, you can trace a very interesting story through them all: namely the story of the human understanding of Right and Wrong.

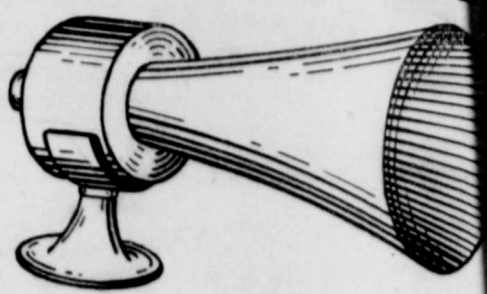

But in Old Testament times, as in the case of Abraham, we must remember they were in the dawn-years before the sunlight of Christ had risen. Some of the things Abraham did would get him into jail nowadays; but some of those very acts were then the mark of a gentleman.

Sometimes when you are discouraged and think the world is growing worse, all you need to do is to think back to some of these old Bible stories. What the very best people did then, is now by Christians seen to be not always good.

The human race has progressed, and nowhere more than in its knowledge of what is right to do. And even so, a man like Abraham, as good and great as he was, shines with an even brighter light across the centuries, challenging us to rise above our times as he often rose above his own.

More than one-fourth of all deaths among American women aged 40 to 60 are due to cancer. About one of every eight deaths is due to cancer, the American Cancer Society points out.

X-ray or other radiation treatment and surgery have cured many cases of cancer. No quick remedies are of any use in this disease. Always consult your doctor if cancer is suspected.

With the exception of diseases of the heart and circulatory system, cancer kills more than any other disease.

A sore that does not heal might be cancer. See your doctor immediately, the American Cancer Society warns.

Painless lumps may be an early sign of cancer. A doctor should be consulted immediately, the American Cancer Society points out.

JACK PORTER FOR U. S. SENATOR

JACK PORTER
 Jack Porter, the Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate seat now occupied by W. Lee O'Daniel, and the first Republican to wage an aggressive campaign for election in Texas, has taken a clear-cut and definite stand on the vital issues confronting the people of Texas.
 A business man who has never before sought public office, Porter was unanimously brought forward as the Republican senatorial candidate to claim the Senate seat which two other candidates for the office on the Democratic ticket battle for in the state and federal courts.
 Porter, in his opening speech, stated that he was for decentralizing the powers taken over by the federal government and returning them to the states. He said he would irrevocably oppose the so-called Civil Rights Program advocated by Truman, as well as the FEPC. Porter has long fought for the rights of the states to retain their tidelands and to keep for the school children of Texas the many hundreds of millions of dollars which go into the school fund from state tidelands revenue.
 Porter said that he would work to rid our government of the communists and fellow travelers who have infiltrated into some of our nation's most important agencies.
 He appealed to the individual voters in Texas, asking that they put the welfare of the country before party politics. Porter pointed out that if he is elected to the U. S. Senate, he will be seated without question.

HILLSIDE MISSION

By LIDA BYRNE
 A healer once said to my mother: "If I should ever let the sun go down with malice in my heart against any one, I believe God would take my gift of healing away from me."
 We turn to the book of St. Mark, Chapter 3, verse 23 and read some of what our Lord Jesus Christ said concerning healing: "And he called unto them in parables, 'How can Satan cast out Satan?'"

True Hospitality

Wednesday, Sept. 29, was the happy occasion when Mrs. Charley Bailey entertained a few special friends, honoring Mrs. J. H. Randolph's birthday.
 This was among the first crisp autumn days when we welcome a change after the long hot summer which lingered far into autumn. This home with its well-kept grounds, and background of majestic oaks along with flowers giving a setting of unusual scenic beauty. Mrs. Bailey welcomed us at the door and ushered us into her adorable home, made more inviting, if that be possible, with cut flowers and potted plants along with the aroma of an abundance of delicious foods. As we gathered around this feast of good things, all joined hands while Mrs. R. M. Thompson gave the invocation and we joined in singing the birthday song. After lunch we enjoyed a social hour and said goodbye to our charming hostess, hoping soon may we enjoy another occasion as happy as this.
 Those enjoying this hospitality were Mrs. J. H. Randolph, the honoree, Mesdames R. M. Thompson, W. C. Pardue, Dan Yates, Henry Martin, J. C. Mullian, Walter Bailey, John Keese, J. C. Evans.—A Guest.

Scallorn H. D. Club

The Scallorn Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday afternoon, September 22, in the home of Mrs. M. F. Hines. The house was called to order by the president and each one present answered the roll call by telling which club office she had rather hold. Some very amusing answers were given. It seems that the office of "vice-president" is the most popular one in our club.
 Mrs. Frank Hines directed ten minutes of recreation. There was not a winner in the contest, so she kept the prize. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. After a motion and second the club voted, unanimously to change the time of our meeting from 2:30 to 2:00 o'clock through the winter months. Mrs. C. S. Smith gave the report of the last council meeting. A nominating committee composed of Mrs. P. R. Jordan, as chairman, Mrs. F. E. Ecker, and Mrs. Ora Black was appointed by the president to submit nominations for officers for next year at the next meeting.

The meeting was then given over to Miss Hintz who gave a discussion on "The Selection of Material for Tailoring." After her discussion Mrs. Fields Hines gave the annual report of the club. Mrs. F. E. Ecker discussed the care of clothing, cleaning and pressing. Mrs. P. R. Jordan gave an interesting talk on: "Lunch Box Fillers."
 The hostess served refreshments to eight club members. Miss Hintz, and one guest, Mrs. Webb Laughlin. The club adjourned to meet Wednesday, October 28, in the home of Mrs. P. R. Jordan.—Reporter.

Miss Joyce Harrell of Baylor University in Waco spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harrell, Sr., and family.
 Miss Nancy Collier of Austin and Doug Collier of Stephenville spent the week-end in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Collier, and family.

Jones Valley H. D. Club

The Jones Valley H. D. Club met Tuesday, September 28, with Mrs. Raymond Wilcox. The vice chairman called the house to order and we sang the song, "The Eyes of Texas". Five members answered roll call by "How I Can Help to Have a Better Club."
 We voted to change the program "Report of the State THDA meeting" to "The Election of Officers," so all members be present at the next meeting to help elect the officers you want. We also voted to start a friendship quilt, luncheon cloth or anything you want to make. Then let the club members sign their names on it in embroidery.
 The program was on "Care of Clothes, Cleaning and Pressing." We all discussed this. Mrs. J. D.

Berry gave an annual report of the club.

The hostess had a very interesting game. She served delicious refreshments to each member and three children.
 Meeting adjourned to meet October 12 with Mrs. Arthur Wilcox. Please, all members and all who are interested in our club, be present.—Reporter.
