One Phase of the Civil War.

Col. McGowan in the Cincinnati Enquirer.

I went one day, just after Longstreet abandoned the siege, to see the chief surgeon, to secure his certificate to her, and she could not have done "Middlemarch," or "Daniel Deronda" without his encouragement. Since his death she feels her incentive and mainspring gone, and as she has long been in delicate health, she considers her literary career over. She is now in her sixtieth year, and no doubt feels particularly desolate, having no children and leading a very secluded life. It is not unlikely, however, that after a while she will feel compelled to resume her pen in self-defense, to dispel in part the sense of solitude and grief caused by her constant and devoted companion's death. She has lived so much and so long through her fine expression that she will be very different from most authors if she can remain silent henceforth. Any one that can produce "Romola," "Silas Marner," and "Middlemarch" has no right to allow any bereavement to cut short its literary productivity. She should have in her years of excellent work yet.

The Valley of Roses.

Boston Journal.

The name of Kezanlik first became thoroughly familiar to American readers during the Russo-Turkish war. It is a small town in a valley but a short distance from the bottom of the Shirak Pass, on the Roumelian side of the Balkans. In this valley the culture of roses has for centuries been followed by hundreds of farmers, and the distillation of the famous attar is the chief, and perhaps the only industry. The essence, which is used so profusely in the harem of Constantinople and in nearly all the sensuous refinements of the East, requires the consumption of millions upon millions of roses annually. This year the crop is said to surpass in abundance and beauty any known heretofore for very long periods of years; up to the very summit of the hills nothing is to be seen but roses of all colors. The air is said to be loaded with the heavy perfume of this immense mass of blooms for more than twenty miles round. Englishmen and Russians are the principal purchasers of the odoriferous harvest, and during the month of May they have been thronging the valley of Kezanlik, making their purchases. The tax on the annual production of the roses of Kezanlik helps out the finances of Oriental Roumelia in excellent fashion; it amounts to more than two million francs. Near Kezanlik there were several sanguinary engagements during the late war, and nearly all the Bulgarian population fled thence before the army of Suleiman Pasha when he came up after the Russian advance had been withdrawn.

SULKING FOR PLEDGES.

How Cameron & Co. Hope to Divide the Spoils.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Those of our emotional and innocent Democratic contemporaries who are in a high state of ecstasy over the supposed determination of Cameron, Conkling, Sherman—yes, Sherman they say—to defeat Garfield, will presently find out their mistake.

Cameron, Conkling, Blaine, Sherman & Co. understand their business. They are what may be called "old stagers." They know very well that the doubt about their loyalty to Garfield would be regarded as rank treason and cost them whatever political future they may have.

Undoubtedly Cameron, Conkling & Co. are sore and sulking. But those who know more about politics than what simply appears on the surface and in the newspapers—and we regret to be compelled to admit that a great deal of political twaddle and swash appears in some newspapers that ought to know better—know that Conkling, Cameron & Co. simply sulk in pursuance of their business—to take care of themselves—to look ahead—to exact the necessary pledges from Garfield—to secure the proper division of the spoils.

There is not a shadow of a principle, not a spark of a conviction, not the remotest particle of any real question or political issue that separates the Grant leaders from other Republicans. The only difference between them, the sole animating motive, is about the spoils. Those who went for Grant, like Conkling, Cameron and Logan, did so because to them Grant represented the great principle of spoils most completely. Those who preferred Blaine or Sherman did it largely on the same principle. There is no difference between the alleged Republican reformer and the Granite except that each wants the office the other has.

But, upon the principle of half a loaf being better than no bread, Conkling & Co. will make a virtue out of necessity, and after they have sulked long enough to secure pledges of good treatment which Garfield will gladly give them, go into the fight with renewed vigor and increased appetite against their common enemy.

Cameron, Conkling & Co. will be found loyal to the flesh-pots of Republicanism when the time comes. They cannot afford to leave the machine. They are machine men, and nothing else. To them bolting, or even permanent sulking, would be suicidal.

The Money Spenders.

New York Times.

A Savannah paper deplores the absenteeism of Southerners, who, as soon as they have any money to spend, come North. The writer says that prior to the war from sixty to seventy millions were spent out of the South independently of the money expended in purchasing goods in the North, and contends that, as in the case of Ireland, it is this which has tended so much to keep the South poor. Prior to the war there was considerable analogy between the case of Ireland and that of the South, and the same causes led to the same result—a few very wealthy people who found it more agreeable to spend their money at home than abroad. But this is now changed. The wealthy are wealthy no longer, yet those who have anything to spare at all are for the most part found away from home during three or four months of each year. Assuming that the large estates in Ireland are broken up, it is very doubtful whether, in the sequel, such good results, in the shape of people spending their money, at home, will follow as many may imagine. It is not merely the great landlord that goes away—a pleasuring. The Irish gentry and professional classes are greatly addicted to doing precisely the same thing, or their watering-places would be very different from the deadly-lively places they are. In England it is not the aristocracy or the great landed interest who give prosperity to St. Leonard's, Tunbridge Wells, etc., but the barristers, merchants, clergymen, etc., who have no country houses. In Ireland the same class of people go to England or to the Continent. In these days of rapid transit people who have money to spend will go where they find the spending most agreeable, and whether on an Irish estate or a Georgia plantation, a sheer sense of patriotism will keep very few at home.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

A delegate Convention of the Democratic party of the State of Kansas is hereby called to meet in the Hall of the House of Representatives, in the city of Topeka, at 9 o'clock, a. m., on Thursday, August 28th, 1880, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following named offices: Associate Justice of the Supreme Court Governor.

Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor of State, Treasurer of State, Attorney-General, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Five Presidential Electors; and also for the purpose of selecting a State Central Committee.

The basis of representation in the State Convention will be three Delegates from each Representative District, and three Delegates from each unorganized county not included in a Representative District. We recommend that the primary conventions for the election of Delegates and Alternates to the State Convention be held in the several counties or districts as the several County Committees may determine on Saturday, August 14th, 1880.

The Secretaries of the several conventions, county and district, are respectfully requested to forward to the Chairman of the State Central Committee, at Topeka, and to the Secretary of the Committee, at Leavenworth, each full and accurate list of the Delegates and Alternates chosen, immediately after the adjournment of said conventions, and that the Secretaries likewise transmit to us at the same time the full names and postoffice address of the members of the Central Committee selected.

We earnestly urge upon the Democrats of Kansas the absolute importance of prompt and thorough organization of the party in every county and township in the State, in order that every district may be fully represented in the State Convention, and an active and effective organization obtained at once, for a vigorous campaign the coming fall.

We respectfully request every Democratic newspaper in the State to publish this notice, and editorially call special attention to the importance of complying with the suggestions herein made.

We avail ourselves of this opportunity to congratulate the Democracy of Kansas upon the grand results of the National Convention, held at Cincinnati, on the 23d of June, in presenting to the country, as our standard bearers in the approaching campaign, the names of Winfield S. Hancock and William H. English, a ticket that must meet the cordial approval of every patriotic heart in the United States; and we have no reasonable doubt of their election to the high offices for which they have been nominated. Democrats, be up and at work everywhere, for the victory and glory are yours.

By order of the State Central Committee, at Topeka, July 1, 1880. JOHN MARTIN, Chairman. H. MILES MOORE, Secretary.

DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

A Delegate Convention of the Democrats of the Third Congressional District of the State of Kansas, is hereby called to meet at Wichita, at 11 o'clock, a. m., on Wednesday, August 11, 1880, for the purpose of putting in nomination a candidate for Congress, to be supported by the Democrats at the November election; also to select a Congressional Committee, and to transact such other business as may come before the Convention.

The basis of representation in said Convention will be three delegates and three alternates for each Representative District.

The manner and time of selecting the delegates and alternates, whether by district or county, mass or delegate, conventions, to be determined by the several county committees.

We earnestly urge upon Democrats the importance of having every county represented in the Congressional Convention, and respectfully request every Democratic newspaper in the district to publish this notice.

By order of Congressional Committee. Dated, Topeka, May 27, 1880. G. C. ROGERS, Chairman. F. B. SMITH, Secretary.

"That the maintenance of the principles promulgated in the Declaration of Independence and embodied in the Federal Constitution * * * is essential to the preservation of our Republican institutions; and that the Federal Constitution, the RIGHTS OF THE STATES, and the Union of the States, must and shall be preserved."

"That the maintenance of the rights of the States, and especially of each State to order and control its own domestic institutions according to its own judgment exclusively, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depends; and we denounce the lawless invasion by armed force of the soil of any State or Territory, no matter under what pretext, as among the gravest of crimes."—Republican Wigwag Platform of 1860.

The Grant Club of St. Louis, Mo., have come over in a body to the support of Hancock.

Garfield belongs to a society of which the watch-word is "none but Americans need apply."

Hancock's popularity increases, and by November 3 the people will elect him by acclamation.

That thing of Hancock's being a Catholic, and going to communion in the evening, will do to tell to naught.

The Republican nominee for Governor of Florida is a Negro by the name of Witherspoon, who was once indicted for theft and sent to the penitentiary.

Already the Republicans begin to confess that they will be beaten at the polls, and they are casting about for a way to take the election out of the hands of the people.

It's wonderful how the people are coming out for Hancock. It is not a question of election now, but how large the majority will be. He will go in with a boom, at any rate.

The United States Army chewed 3,000,000 pounds of tobacco, last year. Think of the amount of chewing gum that would buy for the girls, at four sticks for five cents!

We have received the rules and regulations and premium list of the eleventh annual fair of the Shawnee County Agricultural Society, to be held at Topeka, Kansas, October 5 to 8, 1880, inclusive.

We have received the premium list of the first annual fair of the Western National Fair Association, to be held at Bismarck Grove, near Lawrence, Kansas, September 13 to 18, 1880, inclusive.

Dr. Larmer, of New York, is trying to go forty days without eating. If he ran a country newspaper, he wouldn't be fooling around that way, but would spend his time hunting up grub for himself and family.

Does the 9th Judicial District elect a Judge, this year, and if so, is it not about time something was being done in regard to the matter?—Republican Exchange.

We elected a Judge, last year; but, as office is what you fellows are after, if you will wait until next February, we will have some Road Overseers to elect.

Gen. Hancock proposes to resign his position in the Army before he accepts the nomination for President. Had he resigned when the writ of habeas corpus was served on him from the Judge of the District of Columbia for Mrs. Surratt, there would have been no advocate for her at the White House, nor any file of soldiers ready to convey the latest possible hope to the doomed woman.

Read the call for a Democratic State Convention, which will be found in the first column on this page, and be sure to comply with its suggestions. It is needless for us to tell you that one of the most important campaigns in the history of this country is now fairly opened, and that it behooves those who wish to preserve our free institutions to work in season and out of season to that end, and to work together—to organize.

Give us a rest. The everlasting controversy of C. R. Robeson, Neal Dow, Sam Wood, the Junction City man and others, in the Commonwealth, on the proposed prohibition amendment is getting to be a bore; besides, it occupies Mr. Baker's editorial space, where he wants to prove Gen. Hancock is a Catholic, and that he is responsible for the hanging of Mrs. Surratt. There can't anybody get to Congress on that dodge, and what is the use of trying?

The Topeka Commonwealth, Lawrence Journal, and other Republican journals should post themselves in regard to the practices of the Catholic Church before they start on foot another canard like the one that "a Catholic woman," mind you, "stated to a certain party that she had seen Gen. Hancock go to communion in a certain Catholic church on a certain evening." True, the communion is the Lord's supper, but Catholics always partake of it in the morning, fasting from mid-night.

The State Convention of the Greenback-Labor party of Kansas will be held at the State House, Topeka, on Wednesday, the 28th day of July, 1880, at 11 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of nominating a State ticket, and transacting such other business as may come before the convention. Each Representative District will be entitled to two Delegates and two Alternates. All in favor of industrial emancipation are invited to unite in sending Delegates to the convention. We publish this item by request.

We want to know what business our Governor, militia, etc., etc., have sloshing around among the "Pukes," anyhow. Didn't "the greatest man God ever made" visit at Leavenworth, Topeka, Emporia, and other points in the State? They handled coal and got their fingers b'acked; that's all there is of it. It's all in a (Van) Horne. The Ohio constable said: "He who kicks me kicks the Commonwealth." Governor, if you had stayed within your own "jurisprudence," (another Ohio constable), you wouldn't have got kicked.

Address of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Kansas.

"The Republic Established by the Fathers shall be Maintained by the Sons."

TOPEKA, KANSAS, July 1, 1880.

To the Young Men of Kansas:

The results to which the issue of the National election of 1880 necessarily lead, stamping with indelible character, for good or for evil, the future of our Government, though challenging the profound consideration of all thinking men of the United States, appeal with especial interest to the earnest, to the careful investigation of those voters, who, young in years and in politics, are to a large extent unbiased and unprejudiced by past controversies, and more open to conviction as to which of our present political parties are the essential working factors in our political problem.

In our own young, and rapidly developing State, the majority of whose citizens are as yet but in the morning of life, does this responsibility press with unusual force upon our young men, whose interests are better served by the expulsion of knaves from office than by fighting, on paper, that which has been settled upon the field of battle, and sealed by the best blood of our country.

Believing that a change in the administration of affairs of our great Union is necessary for the good of the people, the YOUNG MEN'S DEMOCRATIC CLUB OF KANSAS, proposes to establish a division or divisions of its organization in every county in this State, to assist in increasing the great Democratic wave of victory that will sweep the country, next November.

The plan of organization is for each member of the State Central Committee to call a meeting of the young men of his county, or in a county where a committee-man has not been appointed, or where he shall fail to act before the 20th instant, a mass meeting may be called by any person interested in the cause, and a member of the State Central Committee shall be elected, and the organization proceeded with. Every young man of Kansas, who will support the Democratic candidates at the National election of 1880, is eligible to active membership in the Club. The chief business of the members of the Club will be to ascertain the politics of the young men of the community, and to influence all those who are undetermined or doubtful as to the best candidates to support, and encourage them to attend Democratic meetings, to read Democratic literature, and finally, at the election, to vote for the Democratic nominees. Especial efforts should be made to influence those persons, who, in 1880, will cast their first Presidential ballots. We must not abandon the good work on the election of the Democratic President, but revolutionize the politics of our own State.

A President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer shall constitute the officers of each Division or Club. The management of the different divisions of the Club, in regard to meetings, dues, banners and uniforms, times of meeting, &c., will be left to the choice of each division, although the Executive Committee will offer suggestions if desired. The Secretary will issue a certificate to each Club as fast as organized, on notice of such fact being forwarded to him, together with list of members.

The State Secretary will provide badges bearing the morogram of the organization, which shall be forwarded to each Club, one for each member, on receipt from such Club of 25 cents for each member thereof by the State Treasurer, L. A. Mulholland, at Topeka, and notice of same being sent to F. L. Peacock, State Secretary, at Topeka, such money being subject to the order of the State Central Committee, and such badge shall be his certificate of membership.

LAFÉ PENCE, President, Winfield, Kansas. F. L. PEACOCK, Secretary, Topeka, Kansas.

In accordance with the foregoing, I, as the member of the State Central Committee, for Chase county, hereby request the young men of the party to meet in the court-house, on Saturday, June 31, 1880, at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of organizing a division.

ARM WITH HAMMER, BRAND.

Impure Bi-Carb Soda is of a slightly dirty white color. It may appear white, examined by itself, but a COMPARISON with CHURCH & CO'S ARM AND HAMMER BRAND will show the difference. See that your Baking Soda is white and PURE, as should be ALL SIMILAR SUBSTANCES used for food. Housekeepers who prefer bread made with yeast, will improve its quality, make it rise better, and prevent it from souring, by adding one-half teaspoonful of Church & Co's Soda or Salarsoda. Be sure and use too much. The use of this with sour milk in preference to Baking Powder, saves twenty times its cost. See one pound package for valuable information, and read carefully. SHOW THIS TO YOUR GROCER.

Literary Revolution in Universal Knowledge.

An Encyclopedia in 20 volumes, over 10,000 pages, 10 per cent. more matter than any Encyclopedia ever before published in this country, and sold, handsomely and well bound, in cloth for $10, in half morocco for $15, and printed on fine heavy paper wide margins, bound in half Russia, gilt top, for $20—an enterprise so extraordinary that its success, beyond all precedent in book publishing, may be fairly claimed to inaugurate a Literary Revolution. SONG OF THE SUMMER WINDS.

Up the dale and down the bourne,
O'er the meadow swift we fly;
Now we sing and now we mourn,
Now we whistle, now we sigh.

By the Jimpid, grass-fringed river,
Through the murmuring reeds we sweep;
Mid the lily leaves we quiver,
To their very hearts we creep.

Now the maiden rose is blushing
At the frolic things we say,
While aside her cheek we're rushing,
Like some truant bee at play.

Through the blooming groves we rustle,
Kissing every bud we pass—
As we did in the bustle,
Scarcely knowing how it was.

Down the glen, across the mountain,
O'er the yellow heath we roam,
Whistling round about the fountain,
Till its little breakers foam.

Ben'ing down the weeping willows
While our vesper hymn we sigh;
Then into our rosy pillows,
On our weary wings we lie.

There of idleness we're dreaming,
Scarce from waking we refrain,
Moments long as ages seem,
Till we're at our play again.

THE HYPNOTIC STATE.

Remarkable Things a German Professor Has Been Doing.

According to a correspondent of the Nation, Professor Heidenhain has been doing some remarkable things at Breslau in the way of hypnotism. This scientist has been invited by the city fathers to repeat and explain in a rational way the marvelous results which Herr Hausen, the Danish "magnetizer," had been producing in a series of public exhibitions.

Many well known citizens had been hypnotized by the Dane, the modus operandi being for each one to look fixedly at a bright glass button held by himself about eight inches from and above his eyes. The subject hypnotized became insensible to pins thrust into his hands, imitated sounds and motions made before him, and performed many strange and absurd antics.

On one occasion, as well as incredulous, of what he had done. Prof. Heidenhain declared his ability to repeat all of Hausen's performances, and his doings have created a sensation among the Germans. The hypnotic state could be brought on by slight, constant and uniform, or repeated, irritation affecting the eye, ear, or skin, "passes" with the hand—the warmth of which is often effective at a distance—a tuning fork, a watch or a distinct fixation point, with thoughts occupied only by the object felt, seen or heard.

In one case each of five Polish soldiers were told to hold a loud-ticking watch to his ear and listen intently. In five minutes two of them had fallen into a profound cataleptic sleep and become insensible to pain. On awakening, they declared that they had not been asleep. A constant touch on the back of the neck made some subjects perfect imitation machines, reproducing exactly every word, look, and motion of the person on whom the attention was fixed.

As soon as the finer was taken from the neck the repetition stopped instantly. But stranger still, Prof. Heidenhain and his colleagues succeeded with some subjects in hypnotizing one-half of the brain and body, while the other half remained normal. One side of the face would smile, while the other side remained unchanged in a cataleptic state. One arm and leg could be moved at will, but not the others. One eye would see distinctly and the other imperfectly or not at all.

Their experiments were made only with men, and he succeeded with about one subject in twelve. The first time was found to be the most difficult to hypnotize a subject. After the first time some grew more sensitive to the influence, while others finally lost the power of being affected. Some acquired the faculty of hypnotizing themselves. Prof. Heidenhain maintains that the production of hypnotism is not injurious to the subject. The Professor's brother was hypnotized on an average two or three times a day for two months, and claims to be none the worse for it.

THE FOLLY OF FOLLIES.—Many persons are accustomed to disregard all slight symptoms of disease, saying, "Let it go as it came." But when one feels the symptoms of Kidney Disease—such as pain in the back and loins, palpitation, urinary derangement, etc.—to neglect them is the folly of follies. Kidney, Bladder, Liver and Urinary Complaints are always liable to end fatally if neglected. The true cure for them is Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine. There is no symptom or form of Kidney Disease that Hunt's Remedy is not master of.

Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents. A Barefooted Beauty. At a recent charity entertainment in this city, says a woman correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, "Maud Muller" was represented in a tableau by a girl literally "looking down on her feet so bare and her tattered gown."

There was no doubt about it," the writer adds; "I sat in the very front seat, within ten feet of her. She had sacrificed herself wholly to the requirements of art. Her shapely little feet were actually bare. Their color, though she was a very dark brunette, only fairly represented the tan of the sun. How did she come to do it? I inquired of one of the committee. 'Well,' he replied, 'she did hesitate at first; but we argued that it would be a great attraction, and she said she would make almost any sacrifice for the orphans.'

No Cure No Pay. Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines are guaranteed to cure; for particulars see wrappers and pamphlets. They are reliable, have not sprung into popularity in a week or month and gone out of favor as rapidly, but being sustained by merit, have won a world-wide reputation, necessitating a branch in London, to supply foreign countries, while the home sales are enormous throughout the United States. Golden Medical Discovery purifies and enriches the blood, preventing fevers, and curing all skin and scrofulous affections, stimulating the liver to action, relieving biliousness and curing consumption, which is scrofula of the lungs. If the bowels are constipated take Pierce's Pellets (little pills). Both sold by druggists.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 6th, 1879. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION: Gentlemen—For years I have been a great sufferer. My trouble first started with terrible ague chills and constipations. This came in 1878 with a racking cough and frequent bleedings from the lungs. Since this time I have been continually doctoring, consulting physicians without number. From them I received no benefit or encouragement. The most noted physicians of our city had last visited me and pronounced my opinions in the brief but hopeless words, "Take good care of yourself the few days you have to live, we cannot help you." I grew steadily worse under their treatment. One day, through reading your Memorandum Book, I learned of the Golden Medical Discovery. With little hope of relief I purchased a bottle and took it. To my surprise and satisfaction it did me more good than all the drugs I had taken the year before. I am now steadily using it with benefit, and recommend it to all to be just what it is advertised.

Sincerely yours, JAMES P. McGRATH, 50 Wiggins street. An Idaho woman who was caught by an Indian broke away from him and put two holes in him with a pitchfork. Baby shows are the fashion now, but as long as mothers continue to nurse their little ones with laudanum or other opiates, they cannot expect their babies to look bright. If your baby needs medicine get a good and harmless one such as Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup.

Short and scant continues to be the rule for riding habits. To suffer and be pleasant is almost impossible for an adult, and quite so for a baby. When it is afflicted with Colic, Diarrhoea or other troublesome disorders, use Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. Price 25 cents.

[From the Topeka Time Kansas.] GOOD PIECE OF WORKMANSHIP.—Wm. Armstrong, residing in this city, has a little son about seven years of age who was deformed in his left foot at birth. The foot was turned in, and the weight of the body fell, in walking, upon the ankle joint. Last summer Armstrong sent his wife, with the child, to the Kansas City Surgical Institute for treatment, where they stayed for several weeks. The result is, that now when the boy walks, no deformity can be discovered, and the bright little fellow seems to realize the great benefit derived from a few weeks' stay at the Surgical Institute. The second trip was made a few days since, and mother and son returned home to-day, the boy being entirely well, and carries a crutch only as a precaution against making a mistake. Mrs. Armstrong, previous to the birth of this child, was attending a pair of stairs, accidentally slipped, and in falling her left foot was twisted inward, and this is given as an explanation of the cause why the child was thus deformed.

The Kansas City Surgical Institute has done a neat piece of work in this instance, and it is entitled to commendation therefor. They advertise to cure and make straight almost any of the deformities that human nature is subject to, and we do not but what their proficiency in correcting deformities cannot be excelled. The management of the Institute is systematic, thorough and efficient. There has been no change in the staff of medical officers since its organization. Drs. Dickerson and Stark are still the surgeons in charge.

Albeau With a Bow. "Wouldn't you like to have a bow?" said the bold young archer as they sauntered down the field, and she murmured, "Yes," and the absorbed archer said, "What kind of a bow would you like?" She quivered a little as she replied archly, "I think I should prefer you," and then the young man took it in, and although he was an arrow-curved youth, he went to the target and heaved a bull's sigh.
