Archer Grocery Will Reopen In Spite Of Flames

The spirit of the pioneers was exemplified this week when Leonard Archer, whose Archer's Grocery was gutted by fire last Sunday afternoon, announced that he would be open for business with a new bigger and better store in 45 days.

"I will need friendship and more business and I will try hard to be worthy of both," Mr. Archer said as he stood, working, amidst the wreckage of a mercantile establishment that has served Goldthwaite for many, many years.

There has been an Archer Grocery on the north side of the Square in Goldthwaite since 1915, when the late M. E. Archer established the store that was damaged so badly last Sunday afternoon.

At the time of the fire, Mr. Archer was visiting J. F. Dennis, his father-in-law, when he heard the fire alarm in Goldthwaite. On his way to respond to the alarm, Mr. Archer was informed by Miss V. Sellers that he was on the way to put out a fire in his own business headquarters.

The fire apparently started in electrical wiring between the ceiling and the roof of the Archer Grocery about four o'clock. A clock in the store stopped at 4:05 p. m., when current was interrupted.

The Archer Grocery building was not too seriously damaged, but stock on the shelves and ready for the shelves was scorched, soaked or permeated by smoke. During the past week Mr. Archer has been hard at work.

Doyle Wright Is Hurt In Tractor Mishap At Mullin

Doyle Wright, who lives on the Caradan road, was painfully injured yesterday morning, Thursday, when the emergency brake of his tractor slipped at Locke's Garage in Mullin and pinned him against a standing automobile.

Mr. Wright was removed to the Medical Arts hospital in Brownwood in the Fairman-Wilkins ambulance, following emergency treatment by Dr. M. A. Childress at the Childress Clinic in Goldthwaite.

Dr. Childress said that Mr. Wright suffered a fracture of the right elbow and severe lacerations. He suffered also from loss of blood.

Witnesses at the scene of the accident said that Mr. Wright had driven up on a tractor to Locke's Garage in Mullin. After setting the brake on the tractor, which was drawing a combine, Mr. Wright dismounted. At that point the brake on the tractor let go and Mr. Wright was pinned against the standing automobile by the combine. He was rushed to the Childress Clinic, where Dr. Childress ordered his removal by ambulance to Brownwood. At the Clinic, Mr. Wright's blood was typed; he probably would receive a transfusion in hospital, Dr. Childress said.

Houston Weather

Rainfall in Goldthwaite during the past week added up to .85 of an inch, according to the recording by Harry Allen's faithful gauge. As the Eagle went to press, it looked like more rain but the Mills County Rodeo Association was negotiating with Jupiter Pluvius to keep dry until next week—or until the Rodeo ends.

YESSIR! IT'S RODEO TIME!!

It's Rodeo Time!

At that point in this story, the reporter got stuck. So did the rewrite battery and the copy desk and the host of editors in various departments who put this newspaper together. For although the Eagle is dated Friday, it went to press on Thursday—when there was a big headache because of an overcast sky. So here is the best we can do under the circumstances:

There was supposed to be a Big Rodeo Parade in Goldthwaite at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, Thursday. Hollis Blackwell, Chairman of the Parade Committee, said there would be a parade.

"Never mind the clouds," Mr. Blackwell said. "It never rains at five o'clock in Texas." Okay, Mr. Blackwell, but you should have seen how wet this reporter got right at five o'clock one afternoon when he was delivering Eagles to the Post Office.

"There will be a parade, it won't rain," Justice of the Peace E. A. Obenhaus said.

"Are you willing to be quoted?" we asked.

"Well, let's not go too far," Mr. Obenhaus hedged.

"Two tenths of an inch after five o'clock" was the prediction of Trent State Bank Cashier Dumble Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton looked just like a banker when we murmured something about "rain insurance." That was when T. M. Glass was sitting in his office biting his finger nails.

"Yes sir, Rodeo parade rain or shine," said Howard Campbell, who is Secretary of the Mills County Rodeo Association.

"Are YOU willing to be quoted?" Mr. Campbell was asked.

"Well, there's an exception to all things," he said. Then he went on to tell how the Rodeo Parade would form at the "Y" of the San Saba and Lampasas roads on the south edge of Goldthwaite and he said it would be the best and biggest and most thrilling and most wonderful—in fact, colossal Rodeo that ever happened—Thursday night, Friday night and Saturday night of this week at the Jernigan Arena, every night at eight o'clock.

Whatever happens weather-wise, the program for the Rodeo is all set. The show, starting at eight o'clock Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, opens with the Grand Entry. Then the introduction of officials, followed by the steer scramble. Event four is the Clown Act and then bareback bronc riding.

In order, the events then include a calf roping contest, trick-

Youth Council Carries On And Meets Thursday At Legion Hall

The Goldthwaite Youth Council, which has had such outstanding success in providing wholesome fun and entertainment for the young persons of this community during the past few months, will carry on during the summer, it was announced this week by Mrs. Fred Reynolds, President; and Mrs. Delton Barnett, Secretary.

Since late winter, the Youth Council, in cooperation with civic clubs and organizations that have acted as sponsors and that have provided hosts and hostesses, has arranged Play Nights every Thursday at the School Gymnasium.

In accordance with its plan to carry on during the summer months, the Youth Council will have a shindig next Thursday night, June 15, at eight o'clock at the American Legion Hall. To see for themselves the splendid entertainment and wholesome companionship provided by the Youth Council, it has invited all parents of 'teen-agers and young persons home from schools and colleges to join in the fun at the American Legion Hall next Thursday night. The premises of the American Legion Hall are well lighted, and the Youth Council will enjoy the benefits of its spaciousness, public address system, tables and chairs and other facilities.

During the proceedings next Thursday night, there will be a business session at which both youngsters and parents will have an opportunity to express themselves candidly regarding the Youth Council, its program and its purpose.

In the past few months, the Play Nights sponsored by the Youth Council have been from 7:30 p. m., to 9:30 p. m. Present plans provide for Play Nights, every Thursday, from 8:30 p. m., to 10:30 p. m.

The officers of the Youth Council urge that all young persons as well as parents make it a point to be present at Youth Night at the American Legion Hall next Thursday night—not only to participate and to have a good time, but also to have a say in the Youth Council's future plans.

It was stipulated by the Council that Youth Night is primarily for youngsters and parents in the Goldthwaite Independent School District. The purpose next Thursday night is to have parents and children playing together in a spirit of understanding and camaraderie. Out-of-towners will be welcome if they are the house guests of residents of the Goldthwaite Independent School District. Especially welcome will be the boys and girls who will be freshmen at the Goldthwaite High School next autumn.

Mohair Prices Reach All-Time Highest Level

Big news developed in Mills County during the past week when prices for mohair at the warehouse reached an all-time high.

Hollis Blackwell, who operates a bonded warehouse, said that a record was established when the price for grown hair reached 80 cents a pound and when the price for a pound of kid hair went to $1.00.

Mr. Blackwell attributed the high prices for mohair, which made wonderful news for Mills County and adjacent territory, to a sharply increased demand. Most of the demand is for mohair for furniture fabrics, Mr. Blackwell said.

An idea as to what good prices for mohair mean here is to be had from the fact that between 700,000 and 800,000 pounds are traded here each year. The fall clip, Mr. Blackwell said, runs to about 350,000 pounds. There is a mohair clip twice a year.

The good news of the mohair market follows the end of the wool trading season, during which the market was steady with the average price, about 55 cents a pound.

The previous high for mohair in the local market was 78 cents a pound for the clip from grown goats. Mohair from kids has never gone above a dollar a pound. In describing the mohair market, Mr. Blackwell said:

"History was made in Mills County this week."

Work Will Be Started In July On Ten More Miles Of Farm Highways

Nearly ten more miles of paved, farm-to-market roads will be constructed in Mills County this summer, with work beginning early in July, it was announced this week by Thomas W. Smith, Senior Resident Engineer of the Texas State Highway Department. Bids for the new highway construction will be opened in Austin on June 21.

Mr. Smith, who makes his headquarters in Brownwood, said that the road construction that has been planned for Mills County will consist of three separate projects.

Project No. 1 calls for the construction of 4 1/2 miles of asphalt surface road, beginning at the present end of farm-to-market road No. 574 and extending across the Pecan Bayou to the junction of the old Rattler road. This construction will begin five miles west of Goldthwaite on what is popularly known as the Hannah Valley Road.

Project No. 2 is, in reality, an extension of Project No. 1. It calls for the construction of 1.6 miles of highway from the junction of the Hannah Valley and Rattler roads to the point where the Regency road joins the Ridge road.

In other words, what starts in Goldthwaite as the Hannah Valley road will be paved for 12 miles westward when the work on Projects No. 1 and No. 2 has been completed. All of the construction planned for the coming summer will result in highways 18 feet wide, as against the 16 feet width of the present farm-to-market roads. In time, Mr. Smith said, all of the asphalt-surfaced farm-to-market roads will be widened to 18 feet.

The third project that will give Mills County more farm-to-market highway during the coming summer calls for the construction of 3.2 miles of asphalt-surfaced road northward from Bozar. This construction will begin with an intersection at Highway No. 84 at Bozar, Mr. Smith said.

In preparation for the construction work fence lines already have been moved back and rights of way have been cleared, Mr. Smith said.

For those interested in submitting bids on the projected highway construction, plans and specifications are available at Mr. Smith's office. A legal advertisement giving notice to contractors of the highway construction in Mills County this summer is published elsewhere in this issue of the Eagle.

Credit Bureau Is Proposed To Local Merchants

Plans for the organization of a Retail Merchants Association that will operate primarily as a credit bureau were announced this week by William G. Yarbrough, Goldthwaite attorney-at-law.

Mr. Yarbrough, who will be Counsel for the projected Retail Merchants Association, said the organization would maintain headquarters at his office and would operate under his supervision.

A meeting for the formal establishment of the organization and for the election of officers and directors will be held before July 1, according to Mr. Yarbrough. Businessmen who are interested should communicate with him, Mr. Yarbrough said.

Some time ago a similar credit bureau was in operation in Goldthwaite, with the late Wiley Johnson as manager, Mr. Yarbrough recalled.

HIZZONER

LOY LONG

Mayor Loy Long of Goldthwaite is one of the wild bull riders in the 5th annual Mills County Rodeo which opened last night, Thursday, at the Jernigan Arena and which will be the big attraction tonight, Friday, and tomorrow night, Saturday. If the Mayor is as deliberate about sticking on a bull as he was in taking his time to go about having the above Eagle photograph made by Mrs. B. C. Wicker of the Wicker studio, he should turn out to be the champion amateur bull rider of the Mills County Rodeo.

Goats, Sheep, Cattle Smirk While Treasure Seekers Dig

Treasure, including allegedly buried Spanish wealth, coins, bullion and oil, was in the news of Mills County again this week.

They continued to dig at Dry Pond on the W. P. McCullough ranch. On the neighboring ranch of W. W. "Bill" Fox, Sheriff Candidate Bill recalled that on his ranch there is a cave, in which there is supposed to be Spanish treasure. But he wasn't digging for it. Bill Fox said, however, that he got some treasure this week, alright, when a fox, a wildcat, a possum and two skunks were trapped on his ranch, all last Tuesday night. Life is sweeter for his treasure, such as goats, when predatory animals are trapped, Bill Fox said.

Three miles south of Goldthwaite on the Lampasas Highway, there was no sign of dig-

Eight Year Old Bill Clements Writes And Publishes Poetry

Bill Clements, age 8, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David O. Clements, is a poet. A poet is a person who writes poetry, whether he or she gets his or her poems published or not. Bill Clements now is considerably ahead of most poets, because he is being published herewith. Most poets never get published, thereby accounting for cries of anguish that can be heard almost anywhere.

Bill Clements has been writing for some time. He confers regarding his literary activities with his grandfather, R. E. Clements, who long has enjoyed a considerable reputation as a poet and writing man. In the case of Bill's first published poem, it was dictated to his grandfather. It is hardly a secret that Rog, who is published frequently on the first page of the Eagle, is none other than R. E. Clements himself.

Here is Bill Clements' first poem. It is entitled, "Sleepy Time."

"Sing a song of lullabies—
"Look into the baby's eyes.
"Watch those baby eyes shut tight,
"Thanking God for the lovely night."

Mr. R. E. Clements is Bill Clements' literary agent. For further information, especially on Bill's unpublished works, please see Mr. R. E. Bill's mother feels that her son's writing activity is under competent guidance.

For the Golden Wedding anniversary, the Wilsfords' ten children, sons-in-law, daughters-in-law and 21 grandchildren gathered to celebrate. Before they moved to Corpus Christi, the Wilsfords lived in Snyder. In all, there were 44 present for their 50th wedding anniversary party.

TREASURE TROVES IN MILLS COUNTY

Joe T. Cook of The Times at Mission, Texas, is credited with having said that in a small town everybody knows everybody else and where everybody knows what is going on, the people buy the newspaper just to see if the editor knows what is going on, and whether he gets it right when he reports the news. With that in mind, we went the other day on what amounted to a grand tour of Mills County. We went out to Dry Pond on the W. P. McCullough ranch to have a look at the digging for "Spanish Treasure." We took a look out Democrat way, where there is search for another sort of treasure—petroleum. We dropped in on W. W. "Bill" Fox, on whose ranch there is a cave in which, according to legend, more "Spanish treasure" is to be found as a reward for searching in the right place. Three miles south of Goldthwaite, we made a call on McKinley Humphries, the owner of an eminence known as Cedar Knob and in which, also, there is supposed to be "Spanish treasure," in the form of bullion and coins. It was all very interesting to notice how many other persons, intrigued by the possibility of locating long-buried treasure, were out having a look-see, especially on the W. P. McCullough ranch. On our grand tour, we pondered the fact that men are fascinated by digging or drilling far into the earth in search of treasure, but show so little appreciation of treasure where it really lies—on the ground, on top of the ground, all around us. In Mills County, there is treasure ON the land for anybody who is willing to work for a certainty, which the Will o' the Wisp of "Spanish Treasure" is not. In this week's Eagle, there are two news articles that tell us precisely where to find our treasure. One is the account of a speech made before the Farm and Ranch Group by A. Carl Spencer of Friends of the Land on the night of Thursday, June 1. In his speech, Mr. Spencer pointed out that in Mills County, if income from our soil were increased by just a little more than $2.00 per acre, it would mean a total of one million dollars a year in additional income here. The other highly significant news article in this week's Eagle is by Ben R. Day of the Soil Conservation Service. Mr. Day has written about the changes in the agricultural life of Mills County that have come about as a result of soil conservation practices. To those who really are interested in finding treasure in Mills County, we recommend a reading of the news articles about Mr. A. Carl Spencer and Mr. Ben R. Day, and then some very serious thinking about them. We believe that long after search for "Spanish treasure" has been abandoned hereabouts, wise men will be finding treasure ON the land, and in greater amount in the future than in the past, because, as Mr. Spencer said, "the prosperity of a community depends upon the efficient use of its natural resources." In Mr. Day's article, he said: "With all the new soil-building legumes, grasses, fertilizers, terraces, contour farming, range improvement and other conservation practices, Mills County is taking on a new look. The farmers are buying modern tractors with hydraulic lifts, air-cushioned seats, lights, self-starters, road gears and rubber tires. The days of drudgery on the farm are over." Yes indeed, during these days when Goldthwaite and Mills County are receiving nation-wide publicity about searches for "Spanish treasure," the real clue as to where our treasure has been and will continue to be found is in the articles by Mr. Spencer and Mr. Day in this issue of the Eagle. We urge that you read them, ponder them, and then decide for yourself where treasure is to be found in Mills County.

TREASURE IN NEW ROADS

Some of the very best news of this week is that early in July, work is to begin on nearly ten more miles of paved, farm-to-market roads in Mills County. Road No. 574—the Hannah Valley Road, is to be paved all the way across across Pecan Bayou and on to the junction of the Regency and Ridge roads. There is to be a new farm-to-market road, to be designated as No. 1029. It will start at Bozar and run north from highway No. 84 for more than three miles. The new asphalt surface roads will be 18 feet wide. They will do more to exploit the real Mills County treasure than all the doodlebugs in the world. The best measure of value of an acre of land is the readiness with which its produce can be marketed. Good roads literally move farms to their markets and change for the good the whole economic outlook of a community.

WHEN THE OLD BIRD WAS YOUNGER

10 YEARS AGO—

(Taken From Eagle Files, June 7, 1950.)

Misses Mary Margaret Big-ham, Virginia Womack and Ruth Goosby of Goldthwaite were graduated from Texas State College for Women at the thirty-seventh annual commencement exercises Monday morning, June 2, when 348 graduates received degrees. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reynolds and daughter, Mylene, spent Sunday in De Leon with her brother, Otis Baber and family. Mr. and Mrs. John Potter left last Thursday for a week's visit with their son, Horace Potter and family at Athens. Miss Hazel Fulton of Brownwood was here for R. L. Armstrong's funeral Monday afternoon.

The University of Texas Monday night conferred advanced degrees on 133 candidates. Included in this group was Laura Lucille Welch of Goldthwaite. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnston spent several days in Waco this week attending the commencement exercises of Baylor University, where Mrs. Rosa Weaver, their daughter, received her B. A. Degree. Gail Ervin of Ranger is spending this week with his aunt, Mrs. Marsh Johnson and other relatives. Dr. Campbell carried Elmer Berry to a Temple Sanitarium Thursday morning, suffering with an attack of appendicitis. Mrs. L. E. Miller is expecting her sister, Mrs. Asa Hay of Bisbee, Arizona, for a visit Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ervin and daughters, Jean and Abbie Wyleta, spent last week visiting in Ranger with relatives. Some days ago Mrs. E. L. Pass brought to the Eagle office, two very peculiar hen eggs. One was as large as a turkey egg with a roll around the center, and the other was smaller but crumpled looking and bent over at the small end. Relatives and friends of R. L. Armstrong were shocked and made sad Sunday when the news came that he had passed away at a Brownwood hospital where he was carried after a car wreck near Lampasas one day last week.

J. R. Murrah has purchased a fine piano for his daughter from Thos. Goggan and Bros., through their salesman, H. C. Collier.

P. D. Yarborough's little son was pretty sick the first of the week, but is much improved now.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer started quite an argument in Washington last week when he fired two prominent employees—reportedly because of loyalty checks.

A Senate Committee had threatened a full scale investigation of possible Communist infiltration in the Commerce Department unless these two suspects were released. The Secretary promptly ordered them out.

The two involved are Michael J. Lee, Chief of the Department's Far Eastern Division, and William Remington, another Commerce employee.

The letter was under attack last year after having been named by Elizabeth Bentley, an ex-Communist, who corroborated Whittaker Chambers in exposing Alger Hiss and other government workers when testifying before congressional committees.

Mrs. Bentley, it will be recalled, was one of the underground couriers a few years back, having delivered secret documents from Communist workers in the government to Soviet agents. She reported that one of her sources of information in that job was Remington. However, he was eventually "cleared" of these charges by the Loyalty Board and was reinstated in his government position.

More recently, however, new witnesses have shown up and stated that Remington attended meetings of a CP cell with them in 1936 and 1937 when he worked for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Some witnesses claimed that one Betty Todd, a former TVA employee, held Communist meetings in her home which were attended by Remington. The other day the Un-American Activities Committee subpoenaed Betty Todd to find out if this was true, but when she appeared before the Committee, she refused to answer questions on the grounds that by doing so she would incriminate herself.

The upshot of this refusal to testify was that Betty Todd, an Associate Director of the Columbia Broadcasting System, was promptly fired from her job, and this along with other evidence apparently prompted Secretary Sawyer to give Remington the gate.

The second Commerce employee to be discharged, Michael J. Lee, has refused to quit and a law suit may be filed to determine the Secretary's right to fire him. It is interesting to recall a bit of Lee's background. His real name is Leiberman, and he has for some time been Chief of the Commerce Department's Far Eastern Division. In that capacity he had authority to act on export licenses and has been an important figure in dealing with foreign policies. He was born in Manchuria, was reared by a Chinese Communist family, and came to this country about 1935 under the Chinese quota for white persons.

He was denied naturalization papers three times and in 1943 Henry Wallace, then Secretary of Commerce, placed Lee in charge of the Far Eastern Division desk in the Commerce Department. This gave him the opportunity to act on export licenses. It will be recalled that last year, China's Nationalist Military Mission to this country bought from the Cities Service Company, and paid for in American dollars, a large quantity of aviation gasoline. When they called on Lee for an export license, he demanded details regarding ships, planes, and other uses to be made of the gasoline. The effect of this delay was to keep the Chinese Generals

The Eagle's Aery

By The Editor

The editor was reading just the other day about a man who went to a psychiatrist to say that his wife suffered from an inferiority complex. Just as the psychiatrist was warming up the proper degree of professional sympathy, the man queried: "How can I keep her that way, Doctor?"

The editor's problem is not yet keeping her that way—it is how to get her to be that way. Her latest piece of noseyness has been an effort to get recipes published in the Eagle. The editor would like to ruminate about that for a bit.

For the last three months, the editor has been seeing to it that no "canned" stuff got into this newspaper. Everything in it is what is known to the journalistic craft as "live copy." Any loafer or incompetent could fill up a newspaper by the use of pastepot and scissors or by printing some of the handouts that come to his desk in reams. This editor is dead set against that sort of sloppiness. He believes that Mills County is entitled to a newspaper check full of Mills County news, and he wants no part of "boiler plate."

The editor has explained patiently to his wife that he is determined to keep this a "live copy" newspaper. She listens through about two words of any sentence the editor manages to start and then interrupts with: "how about recipes?" The editor replies: "This is a newspaper, not a cookbook." So she goes on talking about and demanding recipes.

She has been joined in the "how about recipes?" chant by Mrs. L. E. Nix. Goodness only knows what other reinforcements she may have in reserve. On many a field of battle, the editor has had drilled into him the old military maxim against underestimating the strength of the enemy. So we have reached a compromise. It is this: If any recipes get into this newspaper, they will have to come from Mills County folk, and the authors will have to take full responsibility for them. If recipes can be made into news, then okay—but this is not a cookbook.

That's what the editor thinks. As soon as the compromise was reached, she was in with a recipe. She said it was especially good for summer because it would not make the kitchen hot. The recipe in question is for a chocolate soufflé. Here is what transpired when the weary editor, still battling for "live copy," finally agreed to print the chocolate soufflé recipe:

WIFE: "Heat two-thirds of a cup of milk."

EDITOR: "You said there would be no heat to hot up the kitchen."

WIFE: "You heat it on top of the stove, Dummy—you don't have to light the oven."

EDITOR: "Okay, you heat two-thirds of a cup of milk to keep the kitchen cool."

WIFE: "Add one-quarter cup of sugar."

EDITOR: "Add the sugar to what?"

WIFE: "To the milk, Stupid. Then put in one square (one ounce) of chocolate and a pinch of salt into the double boiler with boiling water in the bottom part."

EDITOR: "Boiling water? Do you think anybody is going to put gasoline down there? My readers are brighter than that."

WIFE, IGNORING EDITOR: "When chocolate is melted, beat smooth and add one-half

Yellow Caps Give Fine Performance In Opening Games

The Yellow Caps, the girls softball team sponsored by the Goldthwaite Junior Chamber of Commerce, gave an excellent account of themselves last Saturday night when they met opposition for the first time, and played a double-header. In their first competition at Brownwood, the Yellow Caps were defeated by Levine's girls 25-18 and 14-2. They had taken on really tough competition and although they lost, they scored more runs against Levine's girls than had ever been scored against that crack outfit previously.

After last Saturday night's game, R. C. McCollum, Chairman of the local Jaycee's Softball Committee, said, "I was proud of the girls. The Yellow Caps did very, very well."

In the first game, Rachel Elders distinguished herself by scoring a home-run for the Yellow Caps.

Fed Up With Dish Washing, Allen Campbell Leaves Town

Allen Campbell, a Major in the Air Force Reserve, last week flew to Washington from Fort Worth. He left Fort Worth on Tuesday and returned to Goldthwaite, by way of Fort Worth, late on Thursday.

In Washington, Major Campbell visited the office of Representative O. Clark Fisher, where he noted that the Charles Haenisches of Goldthwaite were registered on the Congressman's guest book. Upon his return from Washington, Major Campbell amended an Eagle report on the May 29 session of the Merry Wives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Patton. The report had conveyed the impression that at the party, some of the work in connection therewith had been done by Mr. Patton. That, said Major Campbell, was NOT so. ALL the work he said, was done by one Allen Campbell, who even washed the dishes—presumably while Mr. Patton looked on.

Major Campbell, entirely aside from his dish washing ability, follows his Air Force duties consistently, making frequent and regular trips to Fort Worth to put in his flight time.

Social Security Agent To Be Here Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday, June 14, Travis Briggs, Field Representative of the Federal Security Agency in Austin, will be available at the Mills County Court House to discuss social security problems. At four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, in the District Court Room at the Court House, Mr. Briggs will take up old age benefits and related problems with all interested persons.

"What you don't know about Federal Family Insurance—your social security—can cost you and your family a lot of money," Mr. Briggs says. Accordingly, he urged that persons who may be in doubt about their social security situation talk with him at the Court House next Wednesday afternoon.

It looks like prosperity is just around the corner, what with Mr. McCullough's treasure digging and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Fambrough's oil well. I live a few blocks from the City Line, so I can qualify for the promised booms. Mrs. Fambrough said it will not be a fur coat, but rather something much nicer.

We had some big showers last week. Monday morning of this week, it rained 1/2 inch at the B. J. Crawford farm, and prospects were for more rain.

C. H. Bramblett got his oats combined. The grain is getting ripe fast. Most all other farm work is progressing nicely.

Pearl Crawford enjoyed a short visit with Mrs. J. C. Bramblett Saturday morning.

Those who called in the Jim Evans and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Evans home Sunday were J. A. Creek, B. J. George and Pearl Crawford.

Harveys Fish

Ira O. Harvey of Fisher Street, with his son, J. W. of Fort Worth and grandson Jimmy, went fishing on the Cherokee in San Saba County this week. While camping out, they coped with a snake. Some fish were taken but since none was as large as a whale, the Harveys are not bragging.

Here's A Million Genuine Dollars For Mills County

Significant suggestions that provide a clue to prosperity in agricultural areas were offered to the Fagn And Ranch Group on Thursday night, June 1, by A. Carl Spencer, field representative of Friends of the Land.

At a meeting at the school auditorium in Goldthwaite, Mr. Spencer said that the prosperity of a community depends upon the efficient use of its natural resources.

"If the Chamber of Commerce or Lions Club wanted to improve the business conditions in a town," Mr. Spencer said, "they would seek ways to increase the amount of money; the number of people, and the cultural institutions in the community. Usually they think in terms of an added industry or business concern."

Mr. Spencer then pointed out the possibilities of increasing the income and the number of people by making efficient use of our natural resources—the soil and range land. "If a rancher on one side of the road had a pasture consisting of Indian Grass, Little bluestem, Sideoats grama, and very few weeds, he could possibly carry a cow and calf on 10 acres of range the year long," Mr. Spencer said.

"On the other side of the road, another rancher could have a pasture with nothing but needlegrass, queens delight, brush, and other inferior grasses in it which would do well to carry a cow and calf on twenty acres the year long."

"It is obvious that one rancher is producing beef more efficiently than the other one," Mr. Spencer stated. "The yields on cropland can also be increased by soil improving methods."

Three things need to be done by the farmer, according to Spencer. First, he needs to hold his topsoil in place. Second, he needs to add the needed minerals that have been removed by crops, erosion, and leaching. Third, he should maintain the structure of the soil by use of legumes, by adding organic matter to the soil, and proper plowing and cultivation.

"If we could increase the income from our soil a little over $2.00 per acre, it would mean a million dollars in additional income," Spencer told the group. "This would certainly improve the business conditions in the county."

Spencer showed the film, "This is Our Land" which showed that our schools, industry, all business is dependent on the productivity of our soils.

The Farm and Ranch Group voted to have a tour of the county during the month of June to observe conservation practices. Ben R. Day, Work Unit Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service was asked to plan the field tour.

Cowhouse League Baseball Sunday For Only 2 Bits

There will be Cowhouse League at the Goldthwaite Municipal Ball Park at 2:30 o'clock next Sunday afternoon. Goldthwaite will play Evant, and Press Agent Freddie Marshall of the Cowhouse League is hoping for a big crowd.

In the Cowhouse League, Goldthwaite so far has won three and lost three games this season.

Unless there is a change in strategy, Charlie McLean will start for Goldthwaite in the pitcher's box Sunday afternoon, and Robert Henry Johnson will be the catcher.

On the prowl for strictly free advertising, Press Agent Marshall said that admission to Sunday afternoon's game was 25 cents.

"Little enough for such high class baseball," Mr. Marshall said.

Otto Simpson Gains

Otto Simpson of Goldthwaite was removed this week to Memorial Hospital in Brownwood. Following medical treatment, Mr. Simpson has returned to his home, where he is recovering.

JERRY JACKSON

Jerry Jackson of the United States Navy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Jackson of Goldthwaite, was dismissed from the Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Maryland, and has been assigned to the Receiving Center in Washington, D. C. In a letter to his mother, Jerry wrote: "Even if I am only a short distance from the hospital, I'm out, at least, and have a change of scenery." He said it was "great" to be back in a world of well people after having lived with the ill and incapacitated for nearly two years.

Jerry still wears a brace and so has been assigned to light duty, such as checking linen. On Armed Forces Day, he stood watch at the Washington Monument, along with eleven other representatives of the Armed Forces. He may show up in the newsreels, so his mother is watching them closely.

Jerry Jackson suffered a broken back in an automobile accident nearly two years ago.

Ben R. Day Tells Of New Look In Mills County Agriculture

(Editor's Note: Farming and ranching in Mills County are not what they used to be. There has been tremendous progress in management of the land, and there can be much greater progress in the future. A review and summary of the "new look" in agriculture in Mills County has been written by Ben R. Day of the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture. Because of its basic importance to the lives of all of us, the Eagle herewith publishes Mr. Day's article in full. The following paragraphs are by Mr. Day.)

The Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District proved that hairy vetch could be grown in this area with phosphate fertil-

Mills County was in 1945. Since that time, hairy vetch is playing a big part in Mills County agriculture. While its greatest value lies in its ability to improve the soil and increase the production of the following crops, the production of vetch seed is a new venture. A special cleaning plant was set up by Mills Blackwell, and it does a thriving business in season. Phosphate fertilizer is a new item to sell, and farmers are realizing greater production from the use of phosphate, especially with their legumes. Other fertilizers are being used extensively under cash crops.

Combination fertilizer and grain drills had to be obtained to sow these new crops and fertilizers. Harvesting the crops with a combine is a new skill the farmer had to learn. Then the livestock-farmer began to graze the vetch and small grains with satisfactory results. He found out that the grazing got better from year to year.

In search, then, for a crop that would build the soil and furnish summer grazing, the farmers began to try sweet-clover. Hubam, Madrid and Evergreen clovers are the ones that are being used. Dry weather has prevented our getting a true picture of what the clovers will do. The few results have been satisfying. As a cash crop, Charlie Swindle, near Priddy, made $148 per acre from the seed. An average crop will produce about 400 pounds of seed and sell for 30 cents a pound. A farmer can expect to use a good clover crop for grazing, hay, seed and soil building. Wheat following clover on H. P. Beard's farm produced 16 bushels per acre and across the fence it produced 9 bushels. Cotton did not die out on land that had been in clover on the Jay Partin farm.

On our pastures and ranges, we have learned much about the native grasses. Most ranchers know how to identify Little Blue Stem, Indiangrass, Side-oats grama, Texas Wintergrass, and they have learned the difference between Buffalo-grass and Mesquite. They have learned a few new introduced grasses such as King Ranch Bluestem, Weeping Lovegrass and Harding grass. A new practice of sowing grasses on good cultivated land for seed production is being introduced this year. Over 270 acres of grasses have already been planted under the supervision of Soil Conservation technicians. Johnnie Fallon has given us some idea of what can be expected by harvesting 4 acres of KR Bluestem and selling $640 worth of seed, or $160 per acre. Producing grass seeds for a cash crop is something to look forward to.

Dr. T. C. Graves is trying 200 pounds of KR Bluestem on 100 acres of bulldozed brush. He also seeded native grass on approximately 150 acres pasture that has been bulldozed.

The farmers and ranchers of Mills County are learning new words and phrases. They talk about 0-20-0, 4-12-4, 16-20-0, and phosphate, nitrogen and potash. They speak of organic matter, crop residues, and they argue about stubble mulch farming.

"Front Porch Farming" has caught the imagination of the livestock farmer. He dreams of a "perennial legume-grass mixture" that will furnish "year-long grazing" while he goes fishing.

Inoculation of legumes with nitrogen-fixing bacteria is a necessary step in growing vetch and clover.

A rancher talks how much his grass grew during a summer-deferment and is concerned about its vigor and root system.

Channel-type terraces are popular with the farmers and Terrace Maintenance is being practiced. Waterways are being sodded or seeded ahead of terrace construction.

With all the new soil building legumes, grasses, fertilizers, terraces, contour farming, range improvement, and other conservation practices, Mills County agriculture is taking on a New Look. The farmers are buying modern tractors with hydraulic lifts, air-cushioned seats, lights, self starters, road gears, and rubber tires. The days of drudgery on the farm are over.

The farm homewife is enjoying electricity, running water, automatic washers, home freezers, new autos, and farm-to-market roads. As the production of the soil goes up, she has more of the nice things that makes good living. A permanent agriculture is in store for all of us if we do the things that we know will produce a high standard of living. And good living includes being a good neighbor.

Poet's Corner Poppies And Thorns

By C. O. CLENDENNING
When I am sleeping in my grave,
Wouldst thou come at early dawn,
And plant a poppy, and a thorn,
While weeping willows o'er me wave.
The poppy to portray a restful sleep,
The thorn is for the aches and pains;
The poppy to stand for a silence, deep,
The thorn for troubles, down life's lanes.
What has been gained, through stress and strife?
May it be that we have helped our fellow man;
As we journeyed along the road called life,
By being a neighbor, with a helping hand.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank our dear friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness, messages of consolation and the beautiful floral tributes received during our recent sad bereavement in the loss of our loved one, Mrs. Ed Hamilton. May God bless each of you.—The Ed Hamilton Family.

Poetic Painting By Rog Captures A Story Of Life

Behind the poem, "The Splintered Oak," that is published in "Rog's Corner" on page one of this week's Eagle, there is a story of achievement in the use of words to portray both a picture and feeling.

The poem, written by R. E. Clements, was the creation of a recent visit by "Rog" to his daughter, Mrs. George Clements of Greenville. Opposite the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clements, there was a post oak that had been splintered by lightning. From its former towering height of some 60 feet, the tree had been left a shambles, but even with its mighty limbs fallen at its base, the splintered shaft of the trunk still pointed defiantly toward the dome of the sky.

Mr. Clements asked his daughter, Leda, to paint the picture of the tree. Mrs. Clements said she could not do justice to the scene and its symbolism, but she expressed confidence that her father could capture the spirit of the stricken oak in words. Mr. Clements made several sketches of the tree as it stood stark and rent by storm, and then he wrote his poem.

"The Splintered Oak" in Rog's Corner on page one this week speaks for itself of Mr. Clements' success in using words for a vivid picture.

An Orchid To Mrs. J. W. Morgan On Her Big 73rd Birthday Party

There was a big time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Adams in Goldthwaite last Sunday when a host of relatives and friends gathered to celebrate the 73rd birthday anniversary of Mrs. Adams' mother, Mrs. J. W. Morgan.

Mrs. Morgan's birthday actually was yesterday, Thursday, but her clan celebrated on Sunday. One of the high spots of the family reunion was the presentation of an orchid to Mrs. Morgan by Mrs. Floyd Langford and George A. Morgan. Since both Mrs. Langford and Mr. Morgan are tall, Mrs. Morgan acknowledged the gift of the orchid by proclaiming to one and all: "That was from my long-legged grandchildren."

Present for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Barney Morgan and son Frank of Jonesboro, James Curtis Ward of Baytown, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Morgan of Kerrville, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Morgan, also of Kerrville; Mrs. Viola Waldrop of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. George Morgan of Rochelle, and Mr. and Mrs. Doc Morgan and Jimmy Ross and Josh of Spade.

Also present were Ross Morgan, Mary Nell and Ross, Jr., of Friends who attended the family reunion were Mr. and Mrs. George Williamson of Carlton, Emma, Addie and Hubert Harris of Pottsville, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ball of Goldthwaite. Mrs. Morgan spent most of her life in Hamilton County but while she visits around a great deal, she has called Goldthwaite home for the past four years.

WHOSE HOME ARE YOU BUYING?

Look at it this way: Every month's rent you pay your landlord could be going into a home that will be all yours someday—if you buy or build your own home. Our home-financing plan calls for monthly payments—just like rent—that fit your budget. It never requires lump sum payments, never needs re-financing. Let's Talk It Over!

High Blood Pressure
 Hardening of Arteries, Pains In Left Arm And Side—
 Elmer G. Johnson, President of Harlingen State Bank, Harlingen, Texas, writes on Feb. 20, 1948:

"Please send another bottle of Liquid Garlic, also send a bottle to my sister-in-law, Mrs. Hulda C. Dutton, 45 Atwater Terrace, Springfield, Mo.
 "I have some good reports to make on the effectiveness of garlic used. Mr. Turner, Texaco dealer here has taken two bottles and is much better, his blood pressure down about 60 points. Mrs. W. F. Nelson, San Benito, who was in bad shape, is also very much better and her blood pressure down considerable. This garlic works, and you are doing a fine job of producing it for the benefit of those suffering from high blood pressure or heart trouble."

Phillip Hudson, James Penn Barnett, the Boy Scouts who will attend the National Jamboree at Valley Forge, will attend the preliminary shakedown at Lake Brownwood on June 18. The camp will be held from June 18 through June 24 at the 36th State Park, to view the village that Scouts of the Valley Forge Trail Council will hold at Valley Forge. The camp will be conducted by Dr. T. C. Goldthwaite, Scoutmaster of the Valley Forge Council. The National Jamboree will be held at New York, Philadelphia and other cities.

July 31-Aug 4
Dates Are Set
For Baptist Camp

The annual summer encampment of the Mills County Baptist Association will be held this year at Lake Brownwood from July 31 through August 4 with the Rev. Keith Parks as the principal speaker. Walter R. Langston, Jr., Assistant to the Pastor of the First Baptist Church in Goldthwaite, said that a well-rounded program of worship, study, recreation and fellowship will mark the encampment this year. Transportation will be provided from the various communities in Mills County on Monday afternoon, July 31. Return transportation will be available the following Friday morning. Further announcements regarding the encampment will be made later.

James Ervin White, nephew of the Misses Abble and Ruth Ervin of Goldthwaite, was graduated last Saturday night from the University of Texas in Austin with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. White of Temple.

Red Cross Meeting

The annual meeting of the Mills County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held at ten o'clock tomorrow morning, Saturday, in the Commissioners Court Room at the Mills County Court House, it was announced this week by Brian Smith, Executive Secretary. The meeting will elect officers, receive reports and transact other business. All Chapter members were urged to attend.

Softball League
Piles Up Scores
To Astronomical

Ground at the Ball Park dried in time for play in the Softball League last Tuesday night when the team sponsored by the First Methodist Church defeated the Lions Club. On the same bill, the team sponsored by the First Baptist Church gave a trimming to the American Legion. After brief thought about the scores, Park Board Secretary W. C. Barnett said they ran into "astronomical figures." He said it fast, before he fell on his face.

Next Tuesday night the Lions Club will play the Baptists, and the Methodists will play the American Legion.

Softball games start at the Ball Park every Tuesday night at eight o'clock. Secretary Barnett says to come to the Ball Park every Tuesday night for astronomical phenomena.

Mullin Baptist Vacation School

The First Baptist Church of Mullin will conduct a summer Vacation Bible School. Sessions will begin on Monday, June 19, and they will continue through Friday, June 23. All children of the community, regardless of denominational affiliation, have been invited to attend.

Red Sox Take On Fredericksburg
Giants Thursday

Still undefeated, the Goldthwaite Red Sox will take on what Manager Howard Hoover figures to be the toughest competition of the year when they play the Fredericksburg Giants at the Ball Park in Goldthwaite at eight o'clock on the night of Thursday, June 15.

The Red Sox are not playing this weekend, Manager Hoover said, because like everybody else for miles around they will be turning out for the Rodeo. Last Friday night, the Red Sox, playing at the Ball Park, defeated the all-negro Austin Palominos by a score of 5 to 4.

In the game against the Fredericksburg Giants, Manager Hoover will start McAllister on the mound with Larry McCasland taking his hot ones behind the plate.

"Next Thursday night's game will be a game for everybody," Manager Hoover said. "After the thrills of the Rodeo, nobody will be let down. Come on out and support the Red Sox—we have been winning every game all season."

Eagle's Eye

ject to the July 22 Democratic Primary.

Now, Ben Ramsey is going around the state of Texas, meeting people, giving them a chance to know him, and asking them to hear about his ideas of government. It was fairly late in the day when Ben Ramsey came to Goldthwaite this week, but he assured me that he will be back. I kept him so long as I picked his brain and tried to look into his heart that he spent just about all his time at our house. He was frankly politicking when he arrived, but I felt, when he left, that a friend had departed—even if my wife was gazing longingly after that dimple.

I did what I could to encourage Ben Ramsey to go full speed ahead with his politicking. I told him what I have said in the editorial columns of the Eagle—that politicking is the way free men govern themselves. Ben Ramsey is alert to the dangers to our freedoms, and I believe that if we had more men like him in public office, we would have less reason to worry about what the Socialists and economic planners are doing to us.

Ben Ramsey calls himself "just a country lawyer." If that is what he is, then I am all for country lawyers. I believe that a man's politics should be governed by his intelligence and by his honest belief in what he considers to be best for the most people. I have no patience with Party regularity or with the idea that a man inherits his politics and that once having voted for the candidate of any given Party, he should vote ever afterward for candidates of that Party. As a rule, politicians rate me pretty low because I am proud to be an independent; it is the Independents who often upset the apple cart in elections. But I think any man could look himself straight in the eye when he shaves and feel right comfortable about being willing to delegate his powers as a free citizen to a political candidate like Ben Ramsey.

If ever you have a chance to sit down for a long chat with Ben Ramsey, I think you will enjoy yourself. He is a good story teller and he has a rich store of good stories on which to draw. But to my mind, the most important thing about him is that he is motivated by a great desire to serve his fellow-men. He is aware that he has had a valuable experience in public life here in Texas and he wants to use that experience in the office of the Lieutenant Governor.

In one of his printed pamphlets, it says of Ben Ramsey: "He believes in the things you believe in." That, I think is so, if you believe in human freedom, in the dignity of the human individual, in efficient, economical and unselfish government—government in the interest of the welfare of people and not government for the sake of perpetuating machine politicians in office.

Good luck, Ben Ramsey. Come and pull our latchstring again. Since you want to be the Lieutenant Governor of the great state of Texas, I think you deserve to be elected—and I think Texas would be fortunate in having you back in public life.

Rodeo

(Continued From First Page.) roping, the Roman jump, saddle bronc riding, a barrel race for cowgirls, the steer wrestling contest, trick and fancy riding and Brama bull riding. Some of the finest stock, equipment and human talent has been brought to Mills County for the Rodeo by the Producers, Buck and Tommy Steiner. The Rodeo itself, as planned by the Mills County Rodeo Association, is a tribute to the war veterans of the County.

Local entrants in the calf roping contest will include Malcolm Jernigan, who is President of the Mills County Rodeo Association; Howard Spinks of Goldthwaite, and Henry Schoen of Priddy. The list of Mills County amateurs who will try bull riding was published in the Eagle last week. It includes Les Bain, Howard Campbell, Mayor Loy Long, Burl Holland, Everitt Holland, Jack Long, Jack Locklear and Howard Spinks.

Archer Grocery

(Continued From First Page.) work sorting the stock in an effort to salvage undamaged goods and to set aside for sale stock that can be sold as not having suffered from the fire.

After he has cleaned up the mess resulting from the fire, which might have resulted in much more serious damage except for the prompt and efficient work of the Goldthwaite Fire Department under Chief Jack Reid, Mr. Archer plans to turn carpenters, painters and electricians loose to repair the damage.

Mr. Archer set for himself a deadline of 45 days for a Grand Reopening. He said he was deeply grateful for countless expressions of sympathy, and he took in stride and with good spirit a great deal of joshing, including suggestions that he might find it easier to do business on the sidewalk rather than inside the store.

Despite the fire in the Archer Grocery, business continued as usual in the adjoining stores of Yarborough & Duren and the H. B. Davis 5 and 10 cents store.

Mr. Archer said that pending a complete inventory and the sorting of his stock he was unable to make a precise estimate of the damage resulting from the fire.

Lions Install New Officers And Hear Saegert

Charles Conradt was installed as President of the Lions Club, succeeding Warren Duren, at a meeting at the Hangar last Tuesday night.

Other officers whose terms became effective Tuesday night were Dr. C. C. Sadler, First Vice President; S. C. Mauldin, Second Vice President; R. T. Padgett, Third Vice President; Ben R. Day, Secretary; Jack Reid and Houston Duren, Directors; John Jackson, Lion Tamer; and Walter R. Langston, Jr., Tall Twister.

The guest speaker of the evening was J. F. Saegert, father of Jesse Saegert of Goldthwaite. Mr. Saegert told of his experiences in public school education over a span of 45 years. During that period he was a teacher, a principal, a county superintendent and for 29 years he was superintendent of schools at Seguin.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Saylor and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Saylor of Port La Vaca spent last weekend here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Saylor.
