Zephyr Uncle Of Lieut. King Dies At Final Rites

Elmer Edwin Petty, 69, farmer and rancher of Zephyr, died of a heart attack in Goldthwaite last Saturday just before final rites for First Lieutenant Raymond F. King, Lieut. King was a nephew of Mr. Petty's widow, the former Maude King.

Mr. Petty, who also was an uncle of Glenn Petty of Goldthwaite, died soon after arriving at the Fairman-Wilkins Funeral Home in Goldthwaite in advance of the funeral for Lieut. King at the First Baptist Church.

Funeral services were conducted for Mr. Petty last Sunday afternoon at the Zephyr Baptist Church. Interment was in the Zephyr Cemetery.

Mr. Petty, who had lived in Brown County all of his life, had been a member of the Baptist Church for 40 years. He is survived by two sons, two daughters, a brother, three sisters, six grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Fredericksburg Giants Play Here Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday night there will be a fine baseball game at the Municipal Ball Park in Goldthwaite when the Fredericksburg Giants come here to play the Goldthwaite Red Sox. Game time next Wednesday night will be 8:00 o'clock, it was announced by Clyde Estep of the triumvirate of Red Sox managers, who also include Oma Shaw and Bill Hightower.

On Saturday night of last week the Red Sox dropped a game by a score of 3 to 2 to the Air Force team from Killeen, described by Mr. Estep as the best baseball team in Central Texas. In playing the Air Force the Red Sox suffered because Ralph McAllister and Bill Shipp were not available for the Goldthwaite lineup. Player-Manager Y. B. Johnson, Jr., hopes to have both McAllister and Shipp on tap for the game against the Fredericksburg Giants next Wednesday.

Glen Nickols To Face DWI Charge On September 3

Glen Nickols, who was arrested on Friday night of last week on a charge of driving while intoxicated on Hanna Valley Road, will stand trial in the Court of County Judge Lewis B. Porter on September 3.

Nickols was arrested and jailed by Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield.

County Attorney A. M. Pribble said that on Saturday morning of last week Nickols pleaded not guilty before Judge Porter, who set the date of September 3 for trial—probably before a jury.

After Nickols had pleaded not guilty at his arraignment last Saturday morning he was released in bond of $250.00, which he posted, pending outcome of the September 3 trial.

Red Cross Makes New Appeal For Flood Sufferers

The Mills County Chapter of the American Red Cross, through Executive Secretary Brian Smith, this week renewed an appeal for a helping hand to flood sufferers in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois.

Since the initial appeal a week ago, Glynn Collier, Chapter Treasurer, has had $47.00 given to him for flood victims. Additional donations, Mr. Smith said, should be sent to the Mills County Chapter of the American Red Cross in Goldthwaite—or should be delivered personally to Mr. Collier at the Trent State Bank.

Emphasizing that contributions toward the Red Cross flood relief goal of $5,000,000.00 are being sent directly to Red Cross regional headquarters in St. Louis for immediate use in the stricken areas, Mr. Smith said that the task of alleviating human distress is long range.

"Latest figures show that nearly 20,000 families have registered for long term relief," Mr. Smith said. "Nearly 1,600 homes were completely destroyed. That is about five times as many homes as there are in Goldthwaite. In addition, nearly 20,000 homes were seriously damaged. The impact of the recent floods was such that homes were not merely inundated or just filled with mud. They were collapsed."

Numerous communities are making concentrated efforts to help the Red Cross to cope with the flood disaster, Mr. Smith said. In some areas there are "Cans for Kansas" campaigns. Here, however, it is hoped that the need can be met by voluntary contributions without direct solicitation, he added.

Conservation Technician Discusses Water Supplies For Stock Ranges

By ROGER POWELL

Providing adequate water for livestock on range or pasture is of first importance in developing sound range management plans. It is not merely a question of developing enough wells, springs and ponds to supply the water needed for livestock, but equally important is distribution.

A range or pasture capable of producing excellent grazing will not be fully utilized if water is not accessible to livestock in any part of it. On the other hand, if there is already sufficient water available, any additional water developed may only encourage over-utilization of the grasses in the particular area.

The grazing and water requirements will determine the general location of most stock ponds, and if additional water or distribution of water is needed, several factors are involved in selection of the site for construction.

First, the size of the drainage area should be considered. For most stock ponds, surface runoff is usually the source of water supply, therefore the drainage area should be large enough to furnish sufficient water to maintain the water supply in the pond during dry summer months. On the other hand, it should not be so large as to cause frequent overflow of the pond, making a large and expensive spillway necessary. Ponds on large drainage area or main streams are subject to flood and silt damage. Large deposits of silt may reduce the storage capacity of a pond in a very short time.

The depth and nature of the soil will also determine the pond site. Because of the danger of seepage, a site with porous soils, or soils that have underlying layers of sand, gravel and limestone, or other porous material should be avoided. Soils that are heavy clay, clay loam, or other below the pond depth, will delay materials that will extend and terminate the best pond site.

In some cases, newly constructed ponds lose considerable water by seepage, but this does not necessarily mean that it will not hold. Ponds will not hold until they become sealed, and in some cases, this requires several months or even a year.

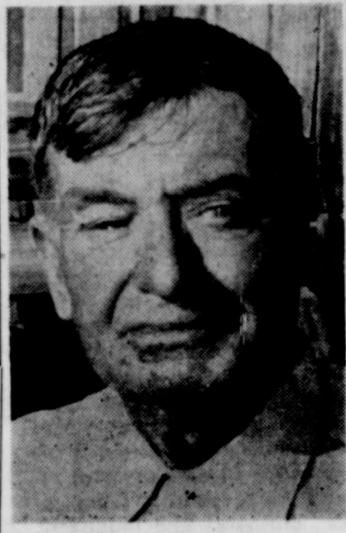

No matter how much care has been used in selecting a pond site, or how well the dam is constructed, if the size of the spillway is inadequate, the dam may be destroyed during the first heavy rain. When a pond is full of water, all the water contributed by the drainage area must pass through the pond, so the spillway must have enough capacity and protection to eliminate severe damage to the spillway and dam. A wide shallow spillway, protected by close growing grasses is the most desirable.

The best native ranges are of little value to a rancher without adequate water supply for the livestock. So if you are planning to construct a stock pond and need additional information on selection of the most desirable sites, contact J. H. Priddy or W. A. Hill, Supervisors of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District, or the technicians of the local Soil Conservation Service.

Edgar Allen "Shorty" Caraway Is Finally At End Of The Long Trail

Edgar Allen "Shorty" Caraway, who was born at Caradan and who became a fabulous figure throughout the Southwest, reached the end of the trail—as he would have wanted to have had it written—this week when, on Tuesday, his stirrups hung empty at the Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery.

"Shorty," a brother of Mrs.

"SHORTY" CARAWAY

R. L. "Bob" Cockrum of Goldthwaite, died at eleven o'clock last Sunday morning at his home in Lawton, Oklahoma, to which he had retired from the range but to which he never became quite reconciled because of his innate love for the wild, open spaces.

Funeral services for "Shorty" Caraway were conducted at three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon of this week at the First Baptist Church in Goldthwaite with the Rev. J. T. Ayers, Pastor, officiating. Interment was in the Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery, with arrangements by the Fairman-Wilkins Funeral Home of Goldthwaite.

Masonic burial rites were conducted at the cemetery.

"Shorty" was born on October 10, 1885, at Caradan—which had been named for his father and for the late Captain Daniel Boone Bush. The "Cara" was for Caraway and the "dan" was for Dan Bush.

"Shorty" was a son of the late S. L. and Lou Caraway. He was the second of nine children in his family.

Most of his life was spent by "Shorty" on ranches in Arizona. Sometimes he came home. Mrs. "Bob" Cockrum recalls that the first time "Shorty" went away he stayed away for 18 years. He sent home an interview last year—when he told the Eagle that Lawton, Oklahoma, never could take the place of the range. At 15 years of age, in 1900, "Shorty" left home because Mills County did not leave room enough for a man who wanted to be a real cowpoke.

An account of "Shorty's" passing from the Fairman-Wilkins Funeral Home contained the following:

"He became widely known in the range country and he built throughout the years a host of friends who came to seek his advice and counsel in times of trouble. Edgar Caraway is referred to by name and also by the nickname of 'Shorty' in many of the Ross Santee stories of cowboy life on the open range. He developed a philosophy of life peculiar to those who live in the open—in that all Creation is good and that the Brotherhood of Mankind is a natural and righteous gift. He carried throughout all of his life the ideals of his parents that honest and right living is man's highest calling. He died, as he lived—a student of nature and a man of fellowship among men."

Donkey Ball Game At Priddy Saturday

Commander LeRoy Stacy of the Memorial Post of the American Legion at Priddy this week invited everybody from far and wide to attend a donkey ball game to be staged at 8:00 o'clock tomorrow night, Saturday, at the American Legion ball park in Priddy. The event will be under the auspices of the Legion with an admission of 35 cents for adults and 20 cents for children.

Star Region Gets Good Rainfall As We Have Showers

After black clouds had wandered around most of Mills County throughout most of Wednesday of this week rain finally fell on Goldthwaite late in the afternoon, thereby helping to compensate somewhat for several days of discrimination in favor of Star and other eastern sections of the County.

The light showers of Wednesday afternoon also brought relief from the prolonged spell of hot weather. There was not enough rain, of course, to saturate.

Jess Tullos Wishes There Were Water Enough In Lake For 'Gator

Precinct number one Commissioner Jess Y. Tullos, who spread a tale of alligators in Lake Merrett back when Mrs. E. B. Gilliam, Jr.'s, swimming was being supervised by her mother, Mrs. E. B. Anderson, now is out with a theory that the puddle northwest of Goldthwaite is inhabited by another form of a marine monster.

When he was confronted the other day with his story of alligators and how, years ago, he hornsogged Ira O. Harvey into confirming his account of 'gators "under the willows," Commissioner Tullos testified as follows:

1—He has a witness, in the person of his own son, that once upon a time he saw an alligator in Lake Merrett.

2—Ira O. Harvey is quite correct—he never saw an alligator in Lake Merrett, let alone a fish. Imaginations about fish, especially of the sort possessed by Ira O. Harvey, run wild in Texas—according to Commissioner Tullos.

3—Commissioner Tullos, according to testimony against himself, has been reading the Readers Digest and, on the basis of such scientific study, he is ready and willing to attest the presence in Lake Merrett of a "Loch Ness monster" that is 60 feet long, has scales, could swallow Mrs. Gilliam, could chase Mrs. Anderson and could make Ira O. Harvey think he was pulling in Dennis D. Tate if he could hook him.

Go get in your blue pickup before the heat gets you, Commissioner Tullos. Ira Harvey already has confessed that he saw your alligator for you years ago only as a matter of friendship.

Mills And Brown County Officials Talk U. S. Plans

County Judge Lewis B. Porter and County Clerk Earl Summy conferred informally at the Mills County Court House on Wednesday morning of this week with members of the Brown County Commissioners Court on coordinated plans in the event that the Department of National Defense should reactivate Camp Bowie and expand its maneuver area.

No specific decisions were reached at the conference, which was described as "more like a visit" by Judge Porter and Mr. Summy.

Consultation, however, between Mills and Brown Counties was considered advisable because if Camp Bowie is reactivated and its maneuver area is expanded questions would arise between the Counties concerned and the Federal Government regarding loss of tax revenues to the Counties. There would be other complexities, such as the education of the children of military personnel who might move into the area.

Since Congress voted authorization to put Camp Bowie on a stand-by basis in preparation for eventualities, there has been no definite decision regarding reactivation and expansion of the maneuver area. Eut in view of the touchy international situation, both reactivation and expansion might come suddenly. In such case productive, taxable lands and properties in Mills, Brown, San Saba and McCulloch Counties might be taken over by the Department of National Defense for the maneuver area. Hence the purely preliminary precautionary conferences among the Mills and Brown County officials.

Last Wednesday morning's consultations coincided with a return to County Clerk Summy's office of a representative of the procurement division of the Corps of Army Engineers. He was unable to speak for publication but he was engaged in obtaining data for land appraisals against the possibility that as time goes on the Department of National Defense might need additional land in this area for military purposes.

It was emphasized that both the Mills and Brown County consultations and the new research into County Clerk Summy's archives were of a preparatory, precautionary nature.

Precinct 1 Levy Is Dropped From County Tax Rolls

Sitting in special session last Monday the Mills County Commissioners Court voted to abolish the five cents levy from the tax rolls of Precinct number one as result of action to retire the precinct's road sinking fund.

The action left the Mills County bonded indebtedness, on the Court House, at $2,000.00. The figure, however, does not include obligations covered by warrants which were issued to pay for road machinery. That figure also is relatively low, reflecting the sound condition of the County's finances.

At their meeting last Monday the Commissioners also approved the Mills County annual report. The meeting was attended by County Judge Lewis B. Porter, County Clerk Earl Summy, Sheriff - Tax Assessor - Collector C. F. Stubblefield and Commissioners Jess Y. Tullos, Fred V. Wall, K. B. Henry, and J. Frank Davis.

BEN RAMSEY FOR GOVERNOR

Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey, who carried Mills County nearly two to one in the run-off primary election in August of last year, was a visitor in Goldthwaite on Friday of last week. We had a good chat with the Lieutenant Governor in the Eagle's Aery and at our house and the talks got us to thinking about politics. At the moment, Mr. Ramsey knows no more of what is going to happen next year than anybody else. But everybody knows that United States Senator Tom Connally faces a tough fight for renomination and that there are many thousands of thoughtful citizens who would like to see Texas represented in the Upper Chamber at Washington by Governor Allan Shivers.

In his talks here, Mr. Ramsey said that he had not talked politics for some time with Governor Shivers, who has not yet indicated whether he would like to take the seat in the United States Senate that now is held by Senator Connally. In fact, the Lieutenant Governor was on vacation when he visited in Goldthwaite and what he had to say about the political situation was off the record.

However, time is slipping past us so rapidly that before we know it the campaigning in advance of the primaries will be upon us. We are among those who believe that Governor Shivers has been a splendid Chief Executive for Texas. We believe, also, that we can well afford to send Governor Shivers to the United States Senate in Washington because we have in Ben Ramsey a man who would be able to fill the Governor's Chair with distinction. On numerous occasions we have written about Ben Ramsey's career of public service. He is devoted to the public interest. He has served as a member of the lower house of the Texas Legislature for 12 years. He was an attorney for the Rural Electrification Administration. He served for two terms as a member of the Texas State Senate. He served with distinction as Secretary of State and now, as Lieutenant Governor, Ben Ramsey is justifying to the utmost the confidence which he won from the voters in last year's elections.

We would like to make it perfectly clear with all of the emphasis possible that during his visit to Goldthwaite last week Lieutenant Governor Ramsey definitely was not politicking. He did not in any way propose himself for Governor; he did not even indicate whether he would be receptive to an effort by his admirers to put him in the Executive Mansion at Austin. But with so many Texas citizens desirous of giving Senator Tom Connally a well-earned retirement from political life, it is high time that we looked to the future and, in so looking, there is no gainsaying our good fortune in having in our midst a man such as Allan Shivers for the United States Senate and Ben Ramsey to succeed him as Governor. So we have no bashfulness in proposing that one of the major political problems confronting the voters of Texas be happily resolved by making it U. S. Senator Allan Shivers and Texas Governor Ben Ramsey.

Voters, especially those on the distaff side, usually like to know about the wife of a man high in public life. Well, Mrs. Ramsey is a lovely and gracious lady. The Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Ramsey have a daughter who is 14 months of age and who is doing nicely, thank you. Goodness knows, Ben Ramsey's own record of public service, his intelligence, his integrity and his personal charm are such that he is not in need of any help as he goes forward in his political career. But every man in whatever his field of endeavor benefits from a good helpmate and no man could have a finer one than the Lieutenant Governor has in Mrs. Ramsey.

We shall have more to say as the time for the primary elections next year comes nearer. Until then, this is our own boomlet—Allan Shivers for United States Senator from Texas and Ben Ramsey for Governor.

DREW PEARSON DISTORTS AGAIN

On the air last Sunday night there was an entirely unwarranted attack on Texas Attorney General Price Daniel by Drew Pearson, who is much more noted for his inaccuracies, distortions and use of radio time for his personal squabbles than he is for objective presentation of the news. Pearson said last Sunday night, in one of his typical distortions, that Attorney General Daniel was trying to sell the people of Texas a "gold brick" in the form of the tidelands issue. Whose axe Pearson is grinding now is difficult to say, but any informed Texan knows that Attorney General Daniel, with both right and the record on his side, has been working tirelessly on the tidelands issue in behalf of the people of Texas.

GUEST EDITORIAL

(Editor's Note: So much interest is developing in the 1952 Democratic National Convention that added importance attaches to the following article by Peter Molyneux, editor of the Southern Weekly. The two-thirds rule, which was abolished by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and which stripped Democrats in the South of much of their influence, is the subject of the following paragraphs by Mr. Molyneux.)

By PETER MOLYNEUX

First of the demands which Sen. Harry F. Byrd proposes southern Democrats shall make on the Democratic National Convention next July is that the two-thirds rule shall be restored before it nominates its candidates for President and Vice-President.

The two-thirds rule required that the votes of two thirds of the delegates must be obtained by a candidate to be nominated as the party's choice for President or Vice-President.

It was adopted in 1832 at the time of the establishment of the Democratic party's convention system.

It was abolished at the party's national convention at Philadelphia in 1936 through the influence of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

More than a year prior to the Philadelphia convention, before any of the delegates to the convention had been named, President Roosevelt announced formally that he favored abolition of the two-thirds rule.

This doomed the rule, for the delegates to that convention did whatever President Roosevelt wanted them to do.

Its principal object was to destroy the influence of the Southern States in party conventions, and it certainly has had that effect.

Now, Senator Byrd proposes that this rule shall be restored as one of the conditions on which southern Democrats will continue to support the nominees of Democratic national conventions.

He says that the two-thirds rule was designed to protect minorities in the party, just as the Constitution of the United States protects minorities among its citizens.

This is true, but this was not the only reason for its establishment, and it was not adopted in the first instance in the interest of the South.

On the contrary, it was designed to protect the West against the Atlantic seaboard states, including the South Atlantic states.

But the fundamental theory on which two two-thirds rule was based was not that merely of protecting minorities.

The two-thirds rule is a sound rule during more than 100 years it kept the Democratic party truly national in character. It ought never to have been abolished.

The true basis of the rule is this: A major political party as a rule, will consist of not much more than half the voters of the country, and the delegates to a national convention will represent only a little more than half the people. Accordingly, a bare majority of the delegates will represent only a little more than one fourth of the people. It was held, therefore, that the men a party presented to the country as its candidates for President should have the approval of at least two thirds of the delegates at a national convention.

That was sound reasoning when the two thirds rule was established and it is sound reasoning today.

It should be noted that this rule was part of the plan for national party conventions, which were established by the rising democracy that elected Andrew Jackson.

Before Jackson's appearance on the national political scene, candidates for President were agreed upon by a party "caucus," and the "caucus" was dominated by the Atlantic seaboard.

When Jackson first ran for President in 1824, all of the Atlantic states, four of them—Washington, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe—were from one state, Virginia, and the other, John Adams, was from Massachusetts.

Jackson received the largest number of electoral votes in the 1824 election, but less than a majority, and the House of Representatives elected John Quincy Adams, also from Massachusetts, who ranked second in electoral votes.

This "unfair" outcome of the election resulted in a landslide for Jackson in 1828, and the (Continued on Page 11.)

The Eagle's Aery

By The Editor

Elsewhere in this week's Eagle there is an article based on a letter to the editor from Representative Lindley Beckworth of the Third Texas Congressional District. Congressman Beckworth, who lives in Gladewater, is Chairman of a special subcommittee of the national House of Representatives on newsprint. In his business letter, a model for its brevity, Congressman Beckworth wrote as follows:

"Dear H. R.: I'd like any views you might have about newsprint. (Signed) Your friend, Lindley."

Okay, Congressman Beckworth; you asked for it, so here it is. In the first place, newsprint is too expensive. In the second place, the distribution of newsprint is such that a single company holds the sword of life or death over this newspaper. In the third place, the free American press ought to have the first call on available supplies of newsprint. Finally, the situation could be improved if there were an end to the frightful waste of newsprint by our own government agencies.

Lindley, I am the editor and publisher of a small newspaper that tries to meet its responsibilities. The Goldthwaite Eagle is a completely independent newspaper. Once upon a time it was called the "official newspaper of Mills County." That sort of nonsense stopped on March 1, 1950, when the present ownership of the Goldthwaite Eagle-Mullin Enterprise became effective. They have "official" newspapers in Russia and the satellite Communist slave nations. They had them in Hitler's Germany, Mussolini's Italy and Tojo's Japan. We have no place for "official" newspapers in America.

I am only one of thousands of American newspapermen who are trying against bitter odds to publish a free and independent newspaper at a cost within the reach of all of those who wish to subscribe to it. My subscription rates are much lower than the cost of newsprint justifies, but I am aware that if I raised my rates enough to pay for the newsprint, some of my readers would have to stop being readers.

So far, the company from which I buy my newsprint has been able to supply me with sufficient for my needs. But I must buy from that company at its price. I cannot go into the open market and buy newsprint on a competitive basis because the firms that compete with the company from which I buy say that they cannot obtain enough newsprint to meet their commitments. I am plumb stuck. I hope that your subcommittee will learn why and tell the American people why there is what amounts to an outright monopolistic control of newsprint in this country—a monopoly in a country that has clear laws against monopolies.

Yes, Congressman Beckworth, I know that sulphur is a prime military necessity. I know that sulphur is used for the manufacture of sulphuric acid and I know that without sulphuric acid there can be no manufacture of newsprint. But I also know that there is much newsprint going overseas on which American newspapers ought to have first call. Why? I hope that your subcommittee will learn and publish the facts about that, too. In the sort of which we live in these times it is of the importance that the people be informed through their newspapers, radio, for example, quite in its present news and commercial control so many news that the listeners can confidence in either the Radio is so immature concerned with the dollar that it probably long time before even think with a science, of offering the American public as a for newspapers. I news for seven years radio, Congressman Beck and I know that there ing free, objective or about radio's handling news. That is one of sons why I place so phins on the editorial subcommittee to give ed American news call on available supplies.

G. H. S. Class Of 1941 Has First Reunion At Legion Hall Sunday

For the first time in ten years the Goldthwaite High School Class of 1941 had a reunion last Sunday at the American Legion Hall where those who attended were brought up to date on the lives of their classmates during the past decade.

A co-sage was presented to Mrs. Delton Barnett, who was the Class Sponsor, in appreciation of her efforts in preparing for the reunion. It was decided that the Class would meet again in two years on the last Sunday of July.

A. H. Smith, now of San Antonio, who was Superintendent of Schools in Goldthwaite in 1941, was present for the reunion. Miss Lucille Welch, who was Class Sponsor during the final months of high school, also was present.

During reminiscences at last Sunday's reunion it was established that more than half of the members of the Class held college degrees and that the members now are scattered from Los Angeles, California, where Christine Renfro Stubbs resides, to Bridgewater, Maine, which is the home of Wanda Faulkner McKeen.

Those who attended the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Collier, and their one year old son, Randy, of Pasadena, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Porter, Jr., and their children, Jean, 7, and Delania, 15 months, of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. (Dora Deane Arnold) Fayne Coffman and their children, Phyllis, 6, and Gaylan, 5, of Roswell, N. Also Mr. and Mrs. (Roberta Robertson) Hester Michalek of Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. (Lollie Obenhaus) Oda Daniel and their children, Eddie, Debbie and Pat of Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. (Cleda Geeslin) Lee Doggett and Donna Lynn, 5, Lee Stanley, 4, Goldthwaite; James Smith of San Antonio, Walter Jean Sturgis of Corpus Christi, Louise Nolen of Austin, Floyd Sansom of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. (Aggie Forehand) George Kenny and their children, Dianna Gail and Paul David of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. (Doris Rae Shaw) Clyde D. Griffin and their children, Billy Roy and Marilyn Rae of Monahans; and Mr. and Mrs. (Janett Jernigan) J. T. Fisher and Terry and Sheryl of Levelland.

Floyd Sansom, Class President, presided over a business session during the reunion.

At the reunion, it was also established that the oldest child belonging to a Class Member is Billy Roy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Griffin of Monahans. There is also one set of twins, Billy and Betty Miller, children of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Miller of Goldthwaite.

President Ray Duren of the Goldthwaite Lions Club announced this week that next Tuesday night will be Ladies' Night at the Hangar. Mr. Duren said that in addition to entertaining their ladies, the Lions will have Dr. T. R. Havins, a member of the faculty of Howard Payne College in Brownwood, as the guest speaker.

Dr. Havins is a member of the Prison Board of the State of Texas and when he addresses the Lions Club and guests next Tuesday night he will speak on penitentiary reform. Mr. Duren said the meeting will begin at 7:45 o'clock.

Center City Club Picnic August 15

Plans for the picnic were made at the meeting on Thursday of last week when Mrs. V. C. Segelquist was the hostess.

Mrs. Featherston Has Very Belated Birthday "Party"

Perhaps it will be a surprise to Mrs. Cecil Parker, who now lives in Hamilton County, to know that last Saturday night her cottage at Lake Merrett was used for a belated celebration of her mother's 70th birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Parker's mother, Mrs. C. G. Featherston, was 70 last June but not one of her daughters told the Eagle about it. During the coming autumn, Mrs. Featherston will celebrate the 50th anniversary of her arrival in Mills County from Virginia and when the time comes, the Eagle plans to turn the other cheek and tell Mrs. Featherston's daughters about the occasion.

Present for last Saturday night's highly informal, impromptu and belated celebration of Mrs. Featherston's 70th birthday anniversary were Mrs. I. Z. Woodard of Brady and her children, Betty and Bob, Miss Mae Featherston and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Ekins and their son, Harvey. Sorry Mrs. Parker, but there was not time enough in which to notify you that your cottage was to be the scene of the party.

At the meeting it was decided also to change the date for the annual picnic from August 17 to the night of August 23 so as to avoid a conflict with revival services at the Scallorn Baptist Church. The picnic on August 23 will be at the home of Mrs. Ora Black.

John Hester Thinks Donald Means At 3 Has Good Remedy For World

John A. Hester has a prescription for the hot weather, the woes of a worrying world and the ailments of mankind generally. He got it from a grandson, Donald, son of Dr. and Mrs. Bert L. Means of Fort Worth.

Mr. Hester said that last week they were visiting Dr. and Mrs. Means in Fort Worth and then noticed that whenever they said, "How are you feeling?" to Donald, who is less than three,

he invariably replied, "Just fine, just fine."
"If everybody would say 'just fine, just fine,' more often," Mr. Hester philosophized this week, "a great many of us would get to start feeling better."
Young Donald, incidentally, came down for a visit in Goldthwaite with Mr. and Mrs. Hester. He returned last Saturday to Fort Worth with his parents, who had driven down to take him home.

Woodard Celebrates 14th Wedding Day With War On Bees

Woodard of Brady celebrated her 14th wedding anniversary at her home on Wednesday of last week by having a party in a nest of the palm that by the former of Mills County was decorated for by the concerned expression.

With the arrival of the wedding anniversary, Woodard was entertained with sugar before and the anniversary, Mrs. Woodard with a spray of flowers and a good fight. On Wednesday of last week, after an announcement that had been made in the "Eagle" and in which Mrs. Woodard had called to her guests and good wishes, Woodard decided to fire another salvo at the stone columns of a side porch. In the midst of the action she stepped off the porch and into the yellow jackets, which immediately took the offensive.

By last weekend, Mrs. Woodard, although still concealing many wounds of battle with dark glasses, was recovered sufficiently to visit relatives and friends in Mills County while I. Z. went on a deep sea fishing expedition off Corpus Christi. At last report, I. Z. was suffering almost as much from sunburn as his wife had suffered from bee stings.

Mrs. Thelma Mauldin and daughter, Jacqueline, of Texas City, and Mrs. Jimmie Mason of Hico were guests this week of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henry.

Methodist Church Makes Progress—And Plans More

Howard Morgan, pastor of the Mullin Methodist Church, who this week attended the annual Methodist Pastors' Conference at Georgetown, is planning to organize a Methodist youth group in Mullin.

Before he left for the study at Georgetown, Morgan said that plans for the Methodist Men's Club in Mullin will be considered on August 16 when Morgan will be host to the Methodist Men's Club at the Mullin Methodist Church.

Morgan said that in a few weeks since he has returned from the Methodist Pastors' Conference at Georgetown, he will be the floor of the Church has been repaired by the Board of Stewards. The altar has been redecorated. There also has been a redecoration job on the room in which the Friendship Class meets.

Continuing with his account of progress and indications of the vitality in his parish, Brother Morgan said that ground behind the Mullin Methodist Church has been cleared and graded so as to make a recreation area for the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

The Board of Stewards, Brother Morgan said, has tentatively approved plans for new pews for the Church and other improvements are in prospect or are under consideration.

Class Singing At 7:30 Friday Night

W. C. Frazier, Song Leader of the Downtown Men's Bible Class of Goldthwaite, announced this week that tonight, Friday, the regular fortnightly Singing of the Class will start at 7:30 o'clock at the Baptist Education Building on Fisher Street.

Mr. Frazier said that the Singing will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock so that at eight o'clock those who may wish to attend the revival services at the First Baptist Church may do so.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith of Houston visited recently in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Miller.

A tidelands bill topped the legislative calendar in the House last week, so far as Texas is concerned. On the first test vote it became apparent that the vast majority of the Members recognize the need for correction of the confusion and injustices brought about by the Supreme Court decisions. By a vote of 270 to 92, the House decided to take the bill up and final passage by a comparable margin was assured.

The bill would wipe out the rank injustices done by the Supreme Court in the Texas case when the high court, by a vote of 4 to 3, brushed aside the solemn agreement between Texas and the Federal Government whereby Texas was admitted to statehood with its boundaries defined as extending 10 1/2 miles from the coast seaward. Other coastal states extend out for a distance of three miles. In other decisions the Court stripped California, Louisiana, and all coastal areas of oil rights under tideland and submerged surfaces. This novel policy was directly contrary to prior decisions and custom and usage that had been universally recognized for 150 years.

Actually, the fight against tidelands legislation now stems primarily from special interests which hope to preempt leases under submerged lands for nominal sums and get rich at public expense. Many of them, courting the favor of the Administration, have already filed for leases and the Big Grab is on. The passage of the tidelands bill would play havoc with their playhouse.

Unless the Supreme Court's decisions are corrected by Congress it is feared that the next step, using these decisions as precedents, may be for the Federal Government to eventually lay claim to all petroleum deposits everywhere, along with all other minerals under the ground.

But even with strong House approval, the tidelands legislation has a rough and rugged road to travel before it is finally enacted. It must be approved by the Senate and will then face a Presidential veto, according to all indications. President Truman vetoed a similar measure a few years ago. The House should be able to override a veto handily, but it may not be so easy in the Senate.

The economy drive which has been doing some good in the House this year got a set-back last week when a conference report on an appropriation bill increased the number of public housing units to be begun during the next year from 5,000 in the original House action to 50,000 by the Senate.

The House voted, however, to recommit the conference report for further study by the Conference Committee. But it was a close squeeze, the vote for recommitment being 188 to 186. I joined with 8 other Texans in voting to recommit. With the Senate approval of the 50,000 units and the close vote in the House, chances for scaling down the public housing program this year are not very encouraging.

It will be recalled that when public housing was approved by Congress two years ago, the House version squeezed by with a five-vote margin. The mammoth public housing program calls for 800,000 units to be built by Uncle Sam and then rented to so-called "low income" tenants at low rentals. These are designed mostly for the big cities, and the ultimate cost will run around $20 billion. Outside of totalitarian countries it would make the Federal Government about the biggest landlord in the world, and is believed by many to be the strongest single evidence of state socialism which this country has embarked upon in its history.

What the program amounts to is a policy of having the Federal Government subsidize the rent bills for the occupants of the public housing units. In other words, tax money would be appropriated each year to help 800,000 tenants pay their rent bills because they will be getting bargain rent bills below cost and below market rates. The units would be rented for an estimated one-third less than would be the case if they were rented to the public on a competitive basis. If this is not socialism, then it would be hard to find a definition for the word.

Mrs. J. M. Oglesby and son, John Mohler, visited in Fort Worth Tuesday of last week, with her daughter, Virginia. They returned Wednesday. Mrs. Chas. Ed Wylie and her mother, Mrs. Louise Long, visited Sunday with relatives in San Saba.

Mrs. Andrew Baxter Likes The 62 Degrees Of Longhorn Caverns

After having been in Goldthwaite for two weeks Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Baxter and their daughter, Susan, who moved here from Greenock, Scotland, are settling into their new way of living.

Mr. Baxter is hard at work on granite at the E. B. Adams monument works on highway 16, just south of Goldthwaite. It was all because, at the same monument works, Mr. Adams, nudged by Harry Allen, made a duplicate of the Stone of Scone for Westminster Abbey, that the Baxters came to Goldthwaite. Somebody stole Mr. Adams' Stone of Scone but, as result of correspondence, he got the Baxters instead.

Mr. Adams and Mr. Baxter have been having a fine time comparing notes on monument manufacturing and lettering as the methods differ in Scotland and the United States. Mr. Baxter is a marble man and Mr. Adams is a granite man but they have been getting along just fine.

On Monday of this week Mrs. Baxter and Susan had a respite from the heat when they drove with Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Levi Auldridge down into the Buchanan Dam country. Among the places they visited the favorite, so far as Mrs. Baxter and Miss Susan were concerned, were the Longhorn Caverns, near Burnet, where the temperature was a steady 62 degrees. It was in the high 90's outside.

The Baxters live on Fisher Street in Goldthwaite. It has no resemblance to the street on which they formerly resided in Greenock, Scotland.

Miss Barbara Ann Vaughan returned home last week after spending several weeks visiting relatives in Houston.

Mrs. Mamie Traylor spent the first part of the week with her daughter, Mrs. Greta King, and children in Brownwood.

Guests At Harveys

Mrs. Wayman Harvey of Fort Worth and Miss Martha Lee Harvey of San Antonio this week joined the guest list at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira O. Harvey, which had consisted previously of Jimmy Harvey, Jimmy and Martha Lee, both grandchildren of the Harveys, are enjoying their visit so much that they do not want to go home. Accordingly, Mrs. Wayman Harvey may have to return to Fort Worth without her son Jimmy. Miss Martha Lee's plans are indefinite—while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Omar Harvey, move into their new home in San Antonio with the assistance of Miss Carol Lynn, who had a sniffle and fever and so could not come to Goldthwaite.

Personal Paragraphs

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kauh were in San Antonio on business Wednesday. They were accompanied by Jimmie and Monette Simpson, who remained for a few days visit with their sister, Janie Ruth Simpson. Before returning home Monette will also visit Elwin Clark of Beeville.

Recently, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Harris had as guests her sister, Mrs. Robert Herron and Patricia, who spent several days. Mrs. Harris, Marshall and Judy accompanied them back to Silsbee for a visit. The Harrises also visited in Beaumont with another sister, Mrs. Kenneth Fisher and family. They returned home last Friday.

Dennis D. Tate reports that the fishing continues to be good in Lake Merritt. Mr. Tate catches bass and catfish when most other fishermen have to be content with feeding bait to crappies too small to be allowed out of the water. Miss Elizabeth Ann Hapgood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Hapgood of Rancho Nueces in Big Valley was scheduled to return from Texas Technological College in Lubbock, where Miss Liza is a major in animal husbandry. In anticipation of three weeks vacation she ordered steaks and plenty of chicken.

The Rev. Ed H. Lovelace, Pastor of the First Methodist Church in Goldthwaite, and Mrs. Lovelace will start a three weeks vacation next Monday. They plan to visit relatives in Nashville, Tenn., and in Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Bibby of Gorman visited Mr. and Mrs. Ira O. Harvey last Sunday. On Tuesday of this week Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ritchie of Austin were guests of the Harveys.

Do you have Series E Defense Bonds coming due this year?

Here's a money-earning opportunity for you!

Now—a new law lets your maturing Series E Bonds go on earning for you ten years longer! And you don't have to do a thing!

ARE YOU one of those patriotic citizens who began buying—and holding—U.S. Series E Bonds back in 1941? Now your government is going to reward your faith with a chance for your bonds to earn extra money—over and above what you'd expected!

According to the bill passed by Congress last spring, it is now possible for your U. S. Series E Bonds to continue earning for ten years longer than was originally planned. For example, a Series E Bond which cost you $18.75 in 1941 will pay you $25 in 1951. But if you hold that bond ten extra years, until 1961, it will pay you $33.33, an average interest of 2.9%.

And there is nothing for you, as a bond holder, to do. You simply keep your bonds as you have been keeping them.

You may still redeem any Series E Bond at any time after you've owned it for sixty days. (The tables on this page show what you can get for it.) But, unless you really need the cash you're much better off to hold your bonds. Cash is too easily spent on nonessential things. And if you lose or accidentally destroy it, you're out that much money. But when you have cash in Defense Bonds, you're more apt to hold on to it. And if your bonds are lost or destroyed, the Treasury will replace them for you at no cost.

The cash you have in bond savings is safe and solid; and it's steadily growing toward a sum big enough to buy a dream—something really worth while—a home, a business, a retirement fund, an education for your children.

So if you have bonds coming due, take advantage of this new offer—just sit back and let them go on making money. Meanwhile keep adding to your savings by buying more U. S. Defense Bonds regularly—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

If you want to be paid your interest as current income—the new law also allows you to exchange your Series E Bonds, in blocks of $500 or more, for Special Series G Bonds which pay interest semiannually at the rate of 2½% per year. For full details, ask at any Federal Reserve Bank or Branch.

Look how your maturing bonds go on earning under the new law! (This table shows $25, $50, and $100 bonds as examples of how All Series E Bonds grow.)

Here's Postmaster's Story To Answer All Those Complaints

Postmaster Lucile Fairman remained on the job all through the past week despite a cast on her right leg—necessitated by a fall that broke her knee in three places. She planned to go to hospital in San Saba this week for a check up.

Patrons of the Post Office, who never before have had any complaints under Mrs. Fairman's administration, assert that due and detailed publicity has never been given about HOW the Postmaster busted her shank. Since there has been so much interest in the matter, here is the story:

On the evening of July 5 Mrs. Fairman, who was working at the Post Office, decided to go to her home to obtain some papers which she needed for the work. In other words, she was on duty.

Upon arrival at her home she crossed the lawn toward a side porch. In her haste to get her papers and get on with the job, she fell over a water hydrant and went down on her knee on a concrete basin into which water from the hydrant could drain. Although her leg hurt, Mrs. Fairman returned to the Post Office. She drove her car with her knee broken in three places. And it was not until she left the Post Office and encountered that accomplished First Aid Expert, Brian Smith, that the full extent of her injuries became known.

After Mr. Smith, who teaches Red Cross first aid courses, had diagnosed Mrs. Fairman's injury, he accompanied her to hospital in San Saba in a Fairman-Wilkins ambulance. The Brian Smith diagnosis was confirmed in hospital.

Is everybody satisfied now? If there are any further complaints, please take them up with the Postmaster.

"ALWAYS COOL AND PLEASANT"

Congressman Beckworth Sends His Regards To Palmers And Pribble

Representative Lindley Beckworth of the Third Texas Congressional District has sent a resounding "howdy" to everybody in Mills County with special regards going to Joe A. Palmer, Maston Pribble and "my wife's folks."

Mills County is not in Congressman Beckworth's District and he is not running for anything. His regards to Joe A. Palmer and Maston Pribble appear to have nothing to do with the fact that Mr. Palmer is Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Democratic County Committee, of which Mr. Pribble is a member. Both were delegates to the last Democratic State Convention at Mineral Wells—to which Mr. Pribble went armed with instructions from Mrs. Pribble.

In "The Eagle's Aery" on the editorial page of this week's Eagle there is a discussion of a one line letter that Congressman Beckworth wrote to the editor from his home on Route 2, Gladewater. But there was a postscript to the letter, as follows:

"My wife's Dad, Barney Carter was reared at Center City; her mother, Mattie Palmer, is from Goldthwaite. My Dad taught in Erath and Palo Pinto; his wife is from Comanche. I was in college with Maston Pribble. Give my regards to my wife's folks, the Joe Palmers and to Maston."

Here they are Mr. Congressman—for everybody to read under a two-column headline. And the reply to the strictly business end of your letter appears in "The Eagle's Aery" on page two of this week's Eagle.

Correction to above: County Attorney Pribble, in the course of trembling over what Congressman Beckworth MIGHT have written about him, denied that he is a member of the Mills County Democratic Committee. He was merely a delegate to the Mineral Wells Convention, he said.

Hill And Kelly—Why The Aspirin?

As men grow older, life becomes tougher and sterner—as was evidenced this week when Roy Lee Hill and/or Arnold K. Kelly placed a package of aspirin on a type rack on the job printing stone in the composing room of the Goldthwaite Eagle. A number of commercial printing orders were in the "works" at the time but they will not be listed here because it might be embarrassing to the craftsmanship of Kelly and/or Hill to have one or both of them admit to having encountered a headache in the course of turning out a job printing order. It could be, of course, that somebody brought a headache to work with him.

Goldthwaite FFA To Use $100 Gift For October Trip

A gift of $100.00 to the Eagles Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, the Goldthwaite High School, will be used to help defray the expenses of the Chapter's livestock judging team trip to the American Royal livestock exposition at Kansas City next October, it was announced this week by Chapter Advisor Y. B. Johnson, Jr.

The check for $100.00 was presented to the Goldthwaite F.F.A. Chapter by Archer Romero, a grain dealer of Houston, in recognition of the fact that the Eagles livestock judging team won the Statewide contest last May.

In expressing thanks to Mr. Romero in a letter, Mr. Johnson wrote in part as follows:

"The money will be used to send the judging team to the national American Royal contest at Kansas City next October. I can assure you that we will enjoy every bit of it. Some of my boys and myself will see you at the 1952 Houston Stock Show to personally thank you for your support."

Members of the Goldthwaite F.F.A. livestock judging team are Bill Parker, John Carothers and Harvey Parker. They took topmost honors last May at the Statewide F.F.A. livestock judging contest at Texas A. & M. College.

Dr. Childress Has Rush Of Patients From Mean Spiders

In the course of just last week alone, Dr. M. A. Childress of Goldthwaite treated three patients for bites by black widow spiders—an ailment which last month also sent Mrs. Flo Wilke of Shady Oaks Ranch to hospital in San Saba. Mrs. Wilke, incidentally, makes a practice of trouble of that sort for after she was released from hospital she proceeded to get herself stung in the shoulder by a scorpion.

The patients who were treated by Dr. Childress were Mrs. Carlos Patterson of Goldthwaite, Mrs. F. A. Carr of Rt. 3, and Geo. W. Denman, Jr., who lives up Caradon way. Dr. Childress administered calcium to the victims. The account by Dr. Childress of his experience with victims of black widow spiders got County Judge Lewis B. Porter to telling about tarantulas as big as ter-rapin. Please see the Judge for further details.

Services At Star Church Of Christ

Gospel services will be conducted at the Church of Christ in Star starting tomorrow, Saturday, and continuing through August 12. The preacher will be Bomer B. Gist of Sonora. Services will be conducted every morning at ten o'clock and nightly at 8:15 o'clock.

Learn To Swim

Starting next Monday American Red Cross swimming classes will be taught every morning, Monday through Friday, at the American Legion pool in Brownwood. Classes will be conducted from 8:30 a. m. to 11:00 a. m. Those who wish to take advantage of the opportunity for swimming instruction may register at the American Legion pool or at Red Cross headquarters in Brownwood.

Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey and Mrs. Ramsey were guests in Goldthwaite of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Ekins on Friday of last week. They stopped off in Goldthwaite on their way from Austin to Colorado for a brief respite from official duties.

Except for some pithy off-the-record comments, the Lieutenant Governor also was taking a vacation from politics. In response to a question as to whether Governor Allan Shivers would run in next year's primary election for nomination to the seat in the United States Senate now held by Tom Connally, he said that it had been some time since he had talked politics with the Governor.

While the Lieutenant Governor beamed with pride, Mrs. Ramsey gave a glowing report on the progress of their small daughter, who now is 14 months of age and who remained at the Ramsey home in San Augustine while her parents made their trip to Colorado.

Mrs. Ramsey also gave an interesting report on the coffee consumption by members of the last session of the Texas Legislature, including our own Arthur E. Gromatzky. By tradition, the Lieutenant Governor's apartment is open at all times to members of the Legislature for coffee, rest and conversation. After she had brewed more than 50 pounds of coffee for the solons, Mrs. Ramsey said, she lost count.

The Ramseys are planning to build a home in Austin. Through the Eagle, the Lieutenant Governor extended his best wishes to all citizens of Mills County.

Summy Trains His Quail To Sheriff When In Trouble

It is a story that goes to show how well Walter "Jake" Summy is educating the quail he raises in the back yard at his home on Fisher Street. He has taught the quail to go to the home of Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield when in trouble.

Tuesday morning of this week one of Mr. Summy's high-raised birds got out of his or her pen and went for a look at the big world. At once Summy's youngsters as Martha Lee and Jimmy Harvey, who are visiting their grandparents, and Mrs. Ira O. Harvey, and Harvey Ekins set out to stalk the quail for the purpose of restoring the bird to its rightful owner.

The quail, however, misunderstood the motives of the children and fearful that they had a plucking and a roasting in mind, the bird headed immediately for the Stubblefield home. The Sheriff was not there but Mrs. Stubblefield took over. She shepherded the frightened quail into the Stubblefield home, where it sat securely until Velma, repeat Velma Summy arrived with one of Jake's nets, in which the bird was caught and returned to its cage.

That is all there is to the story—except that some small fry were highly impressed with the way Jake Summy has taught his birds to look up the Sheriff in time of dire need.

Miss Ramona Flores left Goldthwaite on Thursday of this week for Dallas where she will study at the Draughtons Business School. In Dallas, Miss Flores will make her home with Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith, formerly of Goldthwaite.

Musgrove Burned As Spilled Fuel Damages Tractor

S. W. Musgrove of Rt. 2, Goldthwaite, was burned on the arm last Monday when gasoline spilled while he was filling his tractor. Sparks apparently ignited the gasoline when the funnel struck the battery. Mr. Musgrove was treated for burns by Dr. M. A. Childress and the tractor suffered some damage.

Mr. Musgrove's elder son, Sanford, 13, was in the family home at the time getting oil for the tractor or he, too, might have been burned. Sanford, with his brother Jimmy, 7, took advantage of safety training and shoveled earth on the blazing tractor. Then they helped Mrs. Musgrove to administer first aid to their father.

Mrs. Musgrove, pointing to the value of safety and first aid training, also said this week that the mishap to her husband should serve as reminder to all to be careful in fueling tractors. She said that henceforth the Musgroves will cover their tractor battery while fueling.

Judge Dice Gives Prison Terms In Court On Monday

District Judge Wesley Dice, sitting at the Mills County Court House on Monday of this week, imposed penitentiary terms for attempted robbery of the Shelton Brothers Garage in Goldthwaite and for burglaries of the business establishments of Darrell Head in Center City and Herman Lee and Paul Kelso of Star.

The Star and Center City crimes occurred last May 17. The attempted burglary of the Shelton Brothers Garage, which was frustrated when Night Watchman Jack Davis gave the alarm to Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield, occurred last June 24.

With District Attorney James K. Evetts prosecuting, Johnny Cook and Raymond Harris, negroes of San Angelo, pleaded guilty to charges of the Center City and Star burglaries. The right to trial by jury was waived. Frank P. Bowman, appointed by the Court, was Counsel for the defense. Judge Dice sentenced Cook and Harris to penitentiary terms at Huntsville of five years each on three counts, as voted by the Mills County Grand Jury—the terms to run concurrently.

Adey D. King of Dallas, who pleaded guilty to the charge of the attempted burglary of the Shelton Brothers Garage after waiving trial by jury, was sentenced to two years at Huntsville. He also was represented by Frank P. Bowman by appointment of the Court. Jack R. Stewart, also of Dallas, who was arrested on the same charge to which King pleaded guilty and who also was represented by Mr. Bowman, was not in Court. His case was postponed until the next sitting of Judge Dice's Court.

Hoggie Rudd Cheers Rain In San Angelo

J. O. "Hoggie" Rudd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rudd of Goldthwaite, was pictured prominently late last week on the first page of the San Angelo Standard—all because it rained out that way. Mr. Rudd, who lives in San Angelo and who has a ranch near Juno, was photographed with another rancher as they stood beaming "in the most welcome rain in 51 years." Mr. Rudd and his fellow rancher, Sam Kelly, agreed that while the moisture was welcome, it was not enough. The photograph showed them shaking hands while, with a big smile, Mr. Rudd held out his left hand expressively to allow the rain to fall in his outstretched palm.

 Fort Hood. While you are investigating the matter yourself also draw it to the attention of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, please.

I have no doubt, Congressman Beckworth, that you will be now have gathered a great deal of information and opinion from publishers and editors. It is high time. Take a good, hard look at the cost of newsprint—only their prices but also their means of distribution, their cavalier attitude toward consumers, and their monopolistic practices. Learn why available supplies are not made available first to American newspapers, and then, look into the futile and silly waste of newsprint such as I have told you about at Fort Hood.

Thank you for writing "The Interest of You" subcommittee. I hope, will be primarily the public interest. Our people are really and truly dependent on their newspapers—not only for information but for markets in which to buy and sell goods and services. Any town in America, Congressman Beckworth, can be only as good as its newspaper.

Training For Vocational Nurses With Pay Is Offered At Temple

Mills County women and young ladies who may be interested in becoming vocational nurses were invited this week to study a new plan under which a Vocational Nursing School will start a new class at Temple on August 20 through the cooperation of the Scott and White Memorial Hospitals and the Kings Daughters Hospital.

Those who enroll in the class that starts on August 20 will not have to pay an entrance fee. Books and uniforms will be furnished free and students will be paid while in training.

Also, students will receive free lunch each day, and upon completion of the 12 months course, they will be given a two weeks paid vacation.

A free physical examination will be given each student when she files her application, and five days sick leave will be granted each student, when recommended by a physician. Free medical care will be given each student during the course. Three holidays will be observed during the year's course—Christmas, Thanksgiving, and July 4th. Graduates of the school will receive monthly salaries from $125.00 to $175.00.

A diploma will be granted each student upon successful completion of the twelve months course and, upon passage of examination given by the L.V.N. (Licensed Vocational Nurse) Board, each graduate will be a Licensed Vocational Nurse and entitled to wear the L.V.N. insignia.

The army, the navy, the air corps, the marines, the Public Health Service, and the Veterans Administration Hospitals have all required the services of so many registered nurses and have taken so many of them out of private duty and hospital service that there is consequently an acute shortage of registered nurses in hospitals and for use in private homes all over the country. There is, therefore, a tremendous demand and need for thousands of vocational nurses in hospitals and in homes. To meet this demand, the last Legislature of Texas passed the "Licensed Vocational Nurse" law, authorizing hospitals to establish vocational nursing schools.

Scott and White Memorial Hospitals and Kings Daughters Hospital are cooperating with the Temple Public Schools to make this Vocational Nursing School possible. Any woman 17 years old, or older, who is interested in a nursing career that will pay a good salary and render the sick a great service should telephone, write or see Mrs. Ruby Gilbert, R. N. at Kings Daughters Hospital, Temple, or Miss Laura Cole, R. N., Scott and White Memorial Hospitals, Temple, for complete details.

 Appearing in this week's Eagle is an advertisement giving many of the offers made by the school.

Flames Destroy Home Of Herman Ford Near Star

Fire of undetermined origin in mid-afternoon of Thursday of last week destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ford, 3 1/2 miles southwest of Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford lost the entire contents of their home, including all of their clothing, except what they were wearing at the time of the blaze.

At the time, about 3:15 o'clock in the afternoon, Mr. Ford was at a livestock sale in Evant and Mrs. Ford, following a shower of rain, had gone to the hog pen.

Suddenly the residence on the 560 acre farm was enveloped in flames that apparently started in a front bedroom. The rain had been accompanied by thunder and lightning and the possibility has been suggested that lightning was responsible for the blaze.

The fire was seen by R. C. Thompson, the closest neighbor on the west, and Mrs. Ford at about the same time, but when they reached the house the flames had gained so much momentum that it was impossible to save the structure or its contents.

Calls were sent to the Volunteer Fire Departments in Goldthwaite and Evant. The Goldthwaite truck, commanded by Jess Moreland, and the Evant apparatus, under Fire Marshal Melvin Horton, J. Y. Hamilton and Elmer Brooks, responded. They wetted down the embers.

Following the fire Mr. and Mrs. Ford made their home temporarily with Mrs. Ford's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Cleghorn of Star.

Jess Moreland was accompanied to the fire at the Ford home by Ancil Morgan.
 At the time of the fire, Andrew Hyman, a long-time employee and an old friend of the Fords, was with Mr. Ford in Evant.

 triumphant democracy in due course proceeded to establish the system of nominating party candidates for President by representatives of the people in convention assembled. And the two-thirds rule was part of that system from the first.

During the last seventy-five years the South has been the backbone of the Democratic party, and it has been an unwritten law of the party that its candidates for President should come from other sections of the country.

But, the two-thirds rule gave the Southern States a voice in naming the party's nominee—a voice, but not a veto.

Until 1936 this was regarded to be as it should be, not a favor to the South but a fair and just arrangement for all concerned.

Abolition of the two-thirds rule, however, created a condition distinctly unfair to the South.

That's why it should be restored, and that's why Senator Lyrd proposes that southern delegates to the Chicago convention next July shall demand that the party restore the rule or take the consequences.

One of the interesting features of the tidelands legislation is that it finds Speaker Sam Rayburn, himself a Texan, unalterably opposed to the White House. Speaker Rayburn does not have a vote except in case of a tie, but his influence is great because he is the Administration leader in the House. On tidelands, however, he and the White House never will get together unless there is a change of attitude on the part of President Truman.

Another usual Administration supporter, Senator Tom Connally of Texas, also is dead set against the White House position regarding the tidelands. Senator Connally also got himself nationwide publicity this week for going after the State Department, which he has supported so many times in the past and which has cost him political friends in Texas. But on tidelands, Senator Connally is completely in the clear. He made that evident in a speech in the Senate last week. Here are some excerpts from Senator Connally's speech and I print them here because they go so thoroughly to the very heart of the matter:

"The question is whether the federal government is going to become a common claim jumper. Today, the claims the federal government would jump do involve a resource called oil. Tomorrow, unless we stop this march toward nationalization, the resource may be something else—something in the submerged lands of Maine, or Illinois, or Florida, or any other state."

Here are some more excerpts from Senator Connally's important speech on tidelands:

"I feel that federal seizure of submerged lands would be a long step in the direction of socialistic theory. I intend to vote against anything that I believe might lead in the direction of socialism. Our days will have reached the twilight of honor if a vote against socialism shall be called betrayal. If my vote against something which I believe to be tainted by socialism be a betrayal, someone will have to make the most of it."

Finally, here is some more of what Senator Connally had to say on the floor of the United

Late in life—on June 30, 1932—"Shorty" was married to Miss Dora Delk, a native of Kentucky. She survives, as does their son, Allen E. Caraway. Allen now is with the Armed Forces in Japan.

Other surviving relatives in addition to Mrs. "Bob" Cookrum of Goldthwaite, are "Shorty's" sisters—Mrs. Garfield Ball of Odessa, Mrs. Neil Mayo of Brownwood, Mrs. Paul Pinkston of Fort Worth, Mrs. R. L. Fortune of Brownwood, and Mrs. Lois Dewbre of Austin. Two brothers, Guy Caraway of Beeville, and Granville Caraway of Fort Worth, also survive.

"Shorty" Caraway's last visit to Mills County was in late 1949, when he visited Mrs. R. L. Cookrum and other relatives and friends in Mills and Brown Counties.

Every time he came home, "Shorty" had some tall tales to tell of his experiences. He was a well known and colorful figure at famous rodeos, in which he won many purses and prizes. In the years between his departure from Mills County and his death in hospital at Lawton just a few days ago, "Shorty" Caraway became a fabulous figure.

States Senate:

"A quitclaim to the states is no gift. It is a recognition of the justice and equity of the title in the states, recognized by the Federal Government for 100 years. The State of Texas devotes all of the revenue from submerged lands to public education. There is no exploitation by the State or under its sanction of funds from such a source. The charge that an oil lobby is advocating state ownership is untrue and ridiculous. The only oil lobby involved is opposing state ownership in order to obtain cheap Federal leases. It is also a false statement that only three states will be benefitted by confirmation of the state title. Every state in the Union is affected, because all states have valuable resources of submerged lands within their boundaries."

Flier Cracks Up At Bozar After Losing His Way

Highway 84 near Floyd Burkett's service station at Bozar was used as an emergency landing field shortly after noon on Wednesday of this week by a student flier, J. C. Patterson of Dallas, who ground-looped his plane, crashed into a fence and damaged the plane to the extent of about $100.00.

Deputy Sheriff Clyde Cookrum, who investigated, said that Patterson, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Ward of New Jersey, was making a training flight on a prescribed course from Dallas, to Lampasas, to Brownwood and back to Dallas.

The student pilot lost his way and, out of gasoline, he landed in a field on the J. C. Bramblett ranch southwest of Lake Merrett. At the time he thought he was near Lake Merrett.

Patterson landed in the Bramblett field in good shape and took on an emergency supply of gasoline. Miss Ward went to the Burkett gasoline station to await Patterson's landing on highway 84 while Game Warden John Wood of Brownwood and Blackie Bowers of San Saba stopped traffic so that the landing could be made. As Patterson came in to land on the highway and with light thunder showers in the vicinity, the wind shifted and the student flier ground-looped his plane.

There were no injuries, Deputy Sheriff Cookrum said. A truck was scheduled to come from Dallas to pick up the damaged airplane.

More Rain

Isly farmers and ranchers, but it surely was pleasant to go out into the Square and find a cool, damp breeze blowing over fevered brows.

Throughout the past week Goldthwaite and the western portions of Mills County have not fared so well rainwise as Star and the eastern reaches.

Last Thursday afternoon and night, for example, rainfall measuring 8 of an inch fell on the Roy Lee Hill estate 3 1/2 miles southwest of Star. On that day no rain fell on Goldthwaite and to the south, along the Lampasas and San Saba highways, there were only sprinkles.

On Friday night of last week Roy Lee Hill, using a Sam Henry

Rahl rain gauge, measured the rainfall at 1.6 inches. Star itself also had a good rain last Friday.

The weekend generally was hot and clear but on Tuesday night the area south and east of Star got a "good shower," which Mr. Hill did not have time to measure because he had to be on time for work on Wednesday morning. When his colleagues doubted his story about rain out his way Tuesday night he told them to go out and look at the mud under the fenders of his car. That proved only that the Hill car needed a washing.

As the Eagle went to press an official U. S. Weather Bureau measurement of Wednesday's rainfall was not available from Harry Allen. Unofficial estimates placed showers as one tenth of an inch in Goldthwaite.
