TALKS WITH ENGINEER PUSH PLANNING FOR SWIMMING POOL

Further conferences were held this week looking toward the construction of a swimming pool and recreation area in Goldthwaite—but designed to serve all of the citizens of Mills County.

On Wednesday there was a meeting at the office of the Goldthwaite City Utilities for a discussion of the project, in which leadership has been assumed by the Lions Club, with W. O. Leach of the Leach Engineers of Coleman.

Tuesday night a report on progress to date was made to the Lions by retiring President Ray Duren.

On Friday of last week Mr. Duren and Leston F. Bain, at present the Lions Club President, went to Lake Brownwood to inspect and study the swimming pool that now is under construction at the Baptist Encampment.

Attending Wednesday afternoon's conference with Mr. Leach were Mr. Duren, Mr. Bain, the Rev. Ed H. Lovelace, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, E. B. Gilliam, Jr., Jess Moreland and City Utilities Manager W. C. Barnett.

With Mr. Leach the local citizens discussed cost and considered whether, under the law, it would be possible to issue revenue bonds for the swimming pool project and at what rate of interest. Information on that and related points is to be obtained by Mr. Leach, who will report back to a later meeting of the civic group.

At Tuesday night's meeting of the Lions Club, Mr. Duren reported that a major stumbling block to the swimming pool project has been removed with the lifting of steel priorities. It is possible now to obtain steel required for construction of a swimming pool without a priority, Mr. Duren said.

Cost is an important factor in planning to make a big dream come true but it is not considered unsurmountable in view of the conviction that once a swimming pool is built, revenues from it not only will maintain it but retire the bonds that would have to be floated as part of the financing.

When Mr. Bain was installed as Lions Club President last Tuesday night he made reference to the swimming pool project.

"We have started it; let's finish it!" he said. "Let's go ahead and not stop until we have done what we set out to do."

A large number of persons are working on the project. They include not only members of the Lions Club and Mr. Gilliam and Mr. Barnett but also the Presidents of the Goldthwaite Garden Club, the Art and Civic Club, the Self Culture Club and the Tuesday Study Club. Members of the Goldthwaite City Council also have expressed keen interest in the project and the civic leaders will have further conferences with the City Fathers after complete information has been assembled.

Tentatively, at least, city-owned land adjoining the Municipal Ball Park has been suggested by civic leaders as a site for the swimming pool on the theory that it would be well to assemble, if possible, all outdoor recreational facilities in one place.

Lions Club Elects Jess Moreland To Its Presidency By Acclamation

By acclamation and on a motion of Joe Bailey Karnes that followed a unanimous resolution of nomination by the Board of Directors, Jess Moreland was elected President of the Goldthwaite Lions Club at a meeting on Tuesday night.

Mr. Moreland will succeed Leston F. Bain, who was installed as Lions Club President Tuesday night but who will have to vacate the office in a matter of weeks because he has been transferred to be P. M. A. Administrator for Erath County with headquarters in Stephenville.

A member of the local Lions Club since 1946, Mr. Moreland has served as Tail Twister, Lion Tamer and Program Chairman. He is known to everybody throughout Mills County, not only because he can always be depended upon to dispense cheerfulness at the H. E. Moreland & Son feed store on the south side of the Square in Goldthwaite, but also because of his many public services—such as trucking, for free, huge loads of waste paper to Waco for the Cemetery Committee of the Goldthwaite Garden Club. Mr. Moreland also is president pro tempore of the Goldthwaite City Council.

GHS Girls Win Softball Title

The Goldthwaite Junior High School softball team, coached by Jack Locklear, recently repeated last year's performance by winning the District interscholastic title in competition at Llano. After defeating Marble Falls 37 to 6 in the semifinals the local girls went on to take the District title by winning over Llano 19 to 7 in the finals. Members of the team who played in the competition on May 10 were Marie Reynolds, Ada Nell Long, Martha Carolyn Graves, Marsha Wilkins, Virginia Hill, Jearline Perry, Kathryn Horton, Glynnell Cox and Dorothy Eller.

On Tuesday night Mr. Bain was installed as Lions President in a simple but impressive ceremony by the retiring President, Ray Duren. Also installed were three Vice Presidents, George G. Reese, Lewis T. Hudson and Dr. Victor E. Moore; and Secretary-Treasurer V. A. Hudson, Lion Tamer Jack Reid, Tail Twister Charles Conradt and Directors John A. Jackson and Harold Yorborough. Dr. M. A. Childress and C. C. Collier will be installed as Directors later, as will be Charles Ford, Assistant Tail Twister.

Certificates of new memberships were presented by Dr. T. C. Graves Tuesday night to Grady Carothers, W. O. Kemp, V. A. Hudson, L. C. Byrd and H. R. Ekins. New membership certificates will be presented at a later meeting to C. C. Collier, A. M. Lilly, C. L. Featherston, John Otis Carothers, Dr. Moore and T. J. Blackburn.

Special Lions Club pins for 100 per cent attendance at meetings were presented by Dr. Graves to Mr. Jackson, Charles been under Ray Duren's Presidency P. Duren. It was the fifth such pin that had been presented to Warren Duren.

The meeting was marked by high tribute paid to Ray Duren by Mr. Bain for his "most generous contributions of time and effort." Mr. Bain said that it would be extremely difficult for any President to take Ray Duren's place and Dr. Graves noted that the most gratifying growth (Continued on Back Page.)

Telephone Co-Ops Form State-Wide Group In Austin

Under the leadership of representatives of the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative, which has its headquarters in Goldthwaite, the Texas State Telephone Cooperative Association was formed at a meeting in Austin on Monday afternoon of this week.

The gathering was attended by some 60 or 70 representatives of 22 existing or proposed telephone cooperatives, which are being organized to provide modern, dial telephone service in rural areas of Texas. Ten other organizations were unable to attend the Austin meeting at which Willis A. Hill of Goldthwaite, President of the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative, was elected Vice President. They are expected, however, to become members of the Association.

School Band In Show For Lions Wins Ovation

The Goldthwaite School Band, directed by George W. Reed, played dinner music for the Lions Club on Tuesday night of this week and demonstrated to appreciative listeners that very great progress has been made during the past school year.

At the conclusion of its performance before the Lions Club the members of the band and Mr. Reed were given a standing ovation.

In a varied program, Lathon Jernigan played like Tommy Dorsey as the featured trombonist in "Getting Sentimental Over You," and Marsha Wilkins at the alto saxophone carried the solo part in "Mighty Lak a Rose." Considerable strength was given to the band by a new member, Clarence Lewis, who played the trumpet.

The band really let itself go when it played the "Fort Bragg March," which had a special appeal to the Lions because of their fondness for the paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne Division, which now is stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C.

In addition to band members mentioned above those who played for the Lions Tuesday night were Martha Carolyn Graves, Barbara Letbetter, Sanford Musgrove, Wanda Hall, Adie Jo Conradt, Nathan Carothers, Wilburn Smith, Maedell Long, Ada Nell Long, Allie Davenport, Betsy Smith, Tom Cody Graves, Del Barnett, Gary Leverett and Lavanna Benningfield.

Unavoidably absent from the performance before the Lions Club on Tuesday night were Band Members Sharlyne Schulze and Marshall Nickols. Lions President Ray Duren expressed enthusiastic praise of the work of Mr. Reed and his musicians and urged that they play a return engagement at a future date. Other Lions suggested a band concert on the Court House lawn.

MEMORIAL DAY

Friday of next week, Memorial Day, will see a majority of the business houses in Goldthwaite closed in accordance with an agreement that was reached during a holiday poll by the Lions Club. The Post Office will observe holiday schedules on Memorial Day. The Mills County State Bank, in addition to closing on May 30, also will close on June 3 in observance of the birthday anniversary of Thomas Jefferson.

RAIN LAST WEEKEND FROM TWO TO FOUR INCHES BRINGS YEAR'S TOTAL TO BETTER THAN HALF OF FALL THROUGH ALL OF 1951

Kerby Brothers Meet In Korea By Coincidence

Two brothers from Mills County, Leland and Herbert Kerby, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kerby of Rt. 3, Goldthwaite, met up with each other in Korea last week in one of those interesting coincidences that only the hit and miss of war can bring.

Herbert Kerby, who has been in Korea for 15 months with the Army's 40th Infantry Division, was happy enough as it was last week because replacements were arriving for his outfit and he has been figuring on being able to start for home about July. But when the replacements for the 40th Division arrived, who do you suppose was among them? Leland, of course!

Herbert is married to the former Mary Leigh Alldridge, daughter of Mrs. Ira Alldridge of Goldthwaite. They have a son, Reginald Lynn, who is ten months old. Herbert never has seen his son. If he reads this story in the Eagle, this is to inform him that apparently his son is quite all right. When a reporter talked by telephone to Mary Leigh Kerby on Wednesday afternoon of this week Reginald Lynn was howling his head off—not because there was anything the matter with him but because that is the way young sons of soldiers get part of their exercise.

Leland Kerby, who might well be considered a replacement for his own brother in the 40th Division in the distant combat area of Korea, is married to the former Nelda Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Robertson, Sr., of Rt. 1, Goldthwaite. Leland, who has been in the Army for nine months, sailed for Korea from Seattle by way of Japan about two months ago.

Mrs. Leland Kerby is on the staff at Clements' Drug store and Mrs. Herbert Kerby is a "hello girl" at the Goldthwaite office of the Southwestern States Telephone Company.

Although rainfall measuring as much as four inches fell in some parts of Mills County late last week and early this week the official total as recorded in Goldthwaite by Harry Allen for the United States Weather Bureau was 2.35 inches.

Up to 7:00 o'clock last Saturday night Mr. Allen had measured one inch of rain. In the 24 hours to 7:00 o'clock Sunday night he measured 1.3 inches and last Monday his rain gauge showed precipitation of .05 of an inch.

So far this year Mr. Allen has measured a total of 11.03 inches of rain in Goldthwaite, which is more than half of the total precipitation for all of last year.

At Ebony last weekend, Mrs. Clementine Wilmet Briley, the Eagle's correspondent, reported a rainfall measurement of 2.2 inches. Miss Pearl Crawford reported 2.8 inches of rain from Chappell Hill and V. C. Bradford said that three inches of rain fell on or around his goat palace on the Caradan Road.

The Eagle's Roy Lee Hill, who lives 3½ miles southwest of Star, reported that the rain out his way was 3.7 inches. It is to be recalled that last week Mr. Hill went on record as saying it would no train until wool prices went up. Mr. Hill, being known to have sold wool at 55 cents a pound in the interval between rains, was asked about the rain-wool situation this

Allen Poe Wins Judging Contest

Allen Poe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Poe of Hurst Ranch, took top honors last Saturday in a judging contest at Texas Technological College at Lubbock. Competing against sophomores who are majoring in animal husbandry at Texas Tech, Allen took first place in the beef cattle division and third place in the dairy cattle division. He is a former Mills County 4-H Club member. In the judging last Saturday he was second high point man in the entire contest. Allen's wife, also a former Mills County 4-H Club champion and a student at Texas Tech, is the former Floy Woodard.

Goldthwaite High School Graduates Class Of 1952 This Friday Night

Commencement Week for the Class of 1952 of the Goldthwaite High School began last Sunday night at the First Baptist Church where the Baccalaureate sermon was preached by the Rev. Ed H. Lovelace, Pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Graduation Exercises will be on Friday night of this week at the School Auditorium with Dr. E. J. Howell, President of Tarleton State College, as the principal speaker.

Winona Lawson is the Valedictorian of this year's Senior Class and John Weaver is the Salutatorian. Third place in scholastic standing was taken by Sandra Bain.

Other members of the Class of 1952 are Lehman Evert Byrd, Charlotte Elizabeth Carter, Kenneth Earl Collier, Wanda Jean Kelly, Betty John Jackson, Morris James Partridge, Alice Gertrude Sparkman, Myriene Reynolds Weathers, and Arthur Vernon Whitley.

Mrs. Oran W. Carothers is the Class Sponsor. Music for this Friday night's Graduation Exercises will be by week. "Wool prices went up," Mr. Hill said, justifying his prior assertion that such would have to happen before it could rain. "I could have sold at 60 cents. After that, wool went down to 57 cents."

Hollis Blackwell, to whom the Eagle's wool and weather reporter turned to establish whether or not Mr. Hill is and/or was full of prunes supported Mr. Hill.

"The man is right," Mr. Blackwell said. "He sold his wool cheap. It did rain. Wool was sold as high as 60 cents. But the average price for wool in these parts now is 55 cents to 57 cents per pound."

That was on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

From San Saba Peak Mrs. Dutch Smith reported more than three inches of rain last weekend. There were reports of as much as four inches in Big Valley. Down in that direction the San Saba river was out of its banks for a while last Sunday and the Colorado river was red, high and rolling. For a time on Sunday travel to San Saba was impeded because of high water.

The rains varied. In some places the fall on Saturday and during part of Sunday was so hard as to cause washing. Cases were reported of the destruction of newly-built terraces which had not had time to settle. In the Duren and Trigger Mountain communities, however, all of the rain late last week and early this week was slow and steady and did a lot of good without washing.

Generally throughout the County tanks filled up and ran around the spillways but Lake (Continued on Back Page.)

May 31 Deadline Set By Sheriff For Renditions

Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield this week issued reminder that the deadline for making property renditions for State and County taxes is Saturday of next week—May 31. He urged that all persons who have not made their renditions to the Sheriff's office at the Mills County Court House do so at once to avoid a last-minute rush and possible penalties.

Deputy Sheriffs John L. Patterson and Clyde Cockrum pointed out that under the law homestead rights may be lost if property renditions have not been made by the May 31 deadline.

The Sheriff and members of his staff pointed out also that in the course of making renditions for taxation purposes any real estate changes should be reported to the Sheriff's office.

Such changes would include sale or acquisition of land, transfers and improvements.

"Homesteads are exempt from State taxes but the only way to insure that such exemptions will be received is to personally make property renditions," Sheriff Stubblefield said. "Property owners also will find it to their advantage to see to it that correct acreages and descriptions are given on all assessments, thereby frequently avoiding needless trouble and expense in later years."

The Sheriff said that any person who has not personally rendered his property for assessment this year or who may be in any doubt in the matter should check with the Sheriff's office as soon as possible.

Party Delegates Next Tuesday Conventions

Delegates from Mills County representing both Democrats and Republicans will attend the Conventions of their party on Tuesday of next week.

Democratic State Conventions will be held in San Antonio. Mills County delegates will be Joe A. Palmer, Chairman of the Party Executive Committee in Mills County; County Clerk Earl Summy; County Attorney A. M. Pribble; Goldthwaite Mayor Charlie Wilson. They were elected at County Convention at the House on May 6.

Eaton of Mullin, Mills County Republican Party Chairman, said this week that he will attend the Republican Convention at Mineral Wells.

"Sir Eric" Adams of Goldthwaite also had stated he intended to attend the Republican Convention at Mineral Wells but whether he will claim status as a delegate was in some doubt since he was not available on Wednesday to elaborate on his plans.

Persons who purported to have an inside track into the intentions of Mr. Adams quoted him as saying that he intended to go to Mineral Wells primarily to find out at hand what went on and the professional politicians that they do—or don't do.

Whatever goes either to Antonio or Mineral Wells, prospect is that there will be Conventions from which those in either place. In Antonio the regular Democrats who recognize the leadership of Governor Shivers, will attend with the possibility of a "rump" Convention under the Trumanite banner that carried by Fagan Dickson his cohorts.

Mineral Wells there will be possibility of rival Conventions by supporters of General Dwight D. Eisenhower and for Robert A. Taft, although the majority of Republicans who participated in Pre-County Conventions stated their preference for Dwight Eisenhower.

A number of metropolitan newspapers have defined the situation, Texas now is a (Continued on Back Page.)

Ston F. Bain Promoted By PMA Erath County

Ston F. Bain, who has been County Administrator for Production and Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the 2½ years, has been transferred to the same post in Erath County with headquarters in Stephenville, effective next day.

Yet a successor to Mr. Bain in Mills County has not been named. Indefinitely, Mr. Bain will continue to make his home on Fisher Street in Goldthwaite with Mrs. Bain and children, Sandra, 17, and

He does not contemplate a change of his residence in the immediate future. Mr. Bain will continue as President of the Goldthwaite Lions Club. He was elected in office as Lions Club President on Tuesday night of last week. Representative of Comanche County, he was "reared on a farm." Mr. Bain has been with the Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration since 1939. Prior to his appointment as Administrator in Mills County, he served in similar capacity in Parker County, with headquarters in Waco. Previously he had been P. M. A. Administrator in Erath and Lamb Counties. At Stephenville, Mr. Bain is in charge of more extension work for the Department of Agriculture than at any time in his career so far. His transfer is regarded as recognition of his achievements in Mills County prior to his coming here.

STILL WANT TO VOTE 'ER STRAIGHT? It is our considered opinion that all thoughtful citizens of Texas are so aroused by President Truman's latest outburst on the tidelands that they do not need any more needling by editorial writers.

Governor Allan Shivers and Attorney General Price Daniel can be depended upon to continue the fight for the tidelands, which Texans always will consider to be theirs and the revenues from which they wish to continue to use for the education of our children.

Legislation seeking to return the tidelands to their rightful owners — the States — has been described by President Truman as "robbery in broad daylight." As Attorney General Daniel promptly countered, the robbery has been from Texas by the New Dealers, the Fair Dealers and the Queer Dealers. The President had the proposition backwards.

What concerns us most is the setting for which President Truman chose his latest affront to Texas. It was a gathering of a small group known as Americans for Democratic Action. They call themselves liberals. That is pure and simple abuse of the English language. A liberal, a true liberal, is a person who wants the least possible interference by government in the daily lives of the citizens. The persons who call themselves liberals as they wrap the high-sounding title of Americans for Democratic Action around themselves are advocates of unlimited government. They would, if they could, turn every activity of our daily lives over to the government — preferably the big, centralized bureaucracy that sprawls all over Washington and extends its tentacles into most of the land.

In his speech before the Americans for Democratic Action, President Truman not only assailed legislation that seeks to return the tidelands to the States, but he asserted that in this vital year of 1952 the Democrats would nominate and elect a liberal to the Presidency.

That is where all of us come in. Too many, we think, hold to the notion that everything will be hunky-dory if we just get rid of Harry S. Truman. In the South, especially, there is a tendency to overlook the danger that by continuing to go along and "vote 'er straight," we can put into the White House for the next four years a candidate wearing the label of Democrat who would be cut from the Truman pattern and who would be just as intent upon flagrant violation of States rights as Mr. Truman.

Who are the top-flight candidates now for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency?

They are Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, W. Averill Harriman of New York and Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. Governor Stevenson is not an avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency but there is a strong undercurrent of activity by the Queer Dealers to draft him.

Senator Kefauver, Mr. Harriman and Governor Stevenson would, if any of them were to be elected, give us more of the same of what is causing us to holler so long and loud now. If rebellious Southerners think they have an "out" in Senator Kefauver, they should look at his record. He is all for carrying on what President Truman has been doing and what the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt did before him. The same goes for Mr. Harriman and it would be even more so if Governor Stevenson were to become President under the banner of the Democrats. He is the real darling of the people with whom Mr. Truman felt so very much at home when he sounded off last Saturday night.

Senator Richard Russell of Georgia is a Democrat who still believes in Jeffersonian principles. But it is to be doubted that he has a Chinaman's chance for the Democratic nomination. The Queer Dealers, the big union bosses, and the splinter groups such as the Americans for Democratic Action — to say nothing of the machine politicians among the Democrats in the North — would gang up against a man holding the beliefs of Senator Russell so fast that he would be done for before you could say "cactus."

Accordingly, in all the moaning about the latest assault by the Queer Dealers against the Texas tidelands, what are the Democrats in this great State going to do? Are they going to continue to be kicked around and, for all of their hollering when they don't like what happens, continue obediently to "vote 'er straight?"

The time is very close at hand when we shall find out how long the Northern Democrats can keep the brass collar on the necks of Southerners.

Watch the State Convention at San Antonio on Tuesday of next week.

And see what happens when the Texas delegation goes to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in July.

GUEST EDITORIAL

(Editor's Note: That cookoo Robert C. Ruark has been writing about Texas again and what he writes about Texans and the telephone may come as a great surprise to both Texans and the Southwestern States Telephone Company. We have thought for some time that Mr. Ruark was completely batty in a lovely way. The following by Mr. Ruark helps to go to prove it.)

By ROBERT C. RUARK

I have always regarded the telephone as an instrument of torture, to be used only when the wood won't smolder on the signal fire and the Indian runner had died halfway between here and there. But the true torture of the telephone may be appreciated fully only if you have spent some time in the West, where it is regarded as more miraculous than penicillin.

Telephitis is a disease which is prevalent in the South, but which is epidemic across the Mississippi. Especially in Texas, the feeling of the man for phone surpasses the feeling of man for horse or oil or cattle. Give one of them old boys or one of them pretty old girls two drinks and a place to sit, and they will out-Hollywood Hollywood with Mr. Bell's tidy little bakelite invention.

The basic idea is to sit down, preferably at about 2 a. m., and remember fondly all the old friends who live in the East, where it is even later. "Gimme Long Distance," they say, and that is the end of slumber for everybody, everywhere.

I know one resident of Oklahoma who made a court-martial during the last war because he wanted to call his mama from Australia. He finally got her on the phone at her home in Muskogee and the conversation went like this:

"Hello, mama, this is Jack. What you doing?" "Nothing, son. What you doing?" "Nothing, mama. I'm in Brisbane, Australia. Where you?" "I'm home, son. Where'd you say you were?"

"Brisbane, mama. Look mama. When you pass that 10-gallon keg of corn licker I got giving on the back porch, will you give it a kick ever now and then?" "Sure will, son. You take care of yourself, now, you hear?" "Yes, mama, I sure will, mama. You be careful, too."

After sonny boy stood his court-martial, he went over to Peiliu and drove the Japs away with his bare hands. Mama, it is presumed, gave the keg a kick in a while to keep the charred oak working with the molecules of whisky.

The other night, when I was engaged in a bit of sociological research in Houston, one of the guests came down with telephitis, and before the dawn cracked he had called such diverging addresses as Nova Scotia, California, and Cuba. He also called New York, and went to infinite pains to find a certain night club—5 a. m. New York time—to insure that I would be able to get into the joint on some misty future day.

He finally tracked the waiter-captain to his home, dragged the drowsy man out of bed, and introduced him to me. "Hello, Bob," the man said. "Hello, Joe," I said. "How you been?" "Pretty fair," Joe said. "You?" "Not bad," I said. "Well, so long."

"Goodbye," Joe said, rather wearily, I thought.

This was the evening when the victim of telephitis called his girl because he wanted her to hear how pretty a guitar player could play a guitar. The guitar player played into the receiver. The lady was not impressed.

"I got a better record of that," she said. "Wait a minute." So she switched on her record player and played the disc back at the guitar player, at Lord knows what cost in phone tolls.

The Eagle's Aery By The Editor

Before President Truman made his speech last Saturday in which he made it clear that he would veto any legislation restoring ownership of the tidelands to the States, Amos Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, had sent a telegram to the President on the subject. The sad thing is that in the same issue of the Star-Telegram in which Mr. Carter's message to the White House was published, front pages were telling in box-car letters of the re-affirmation of the President's attitude.

Although events overtook Mr. Carter's telegram to the President, the facts that he stated in it remain of vital importance to every citizen of Texas. Mr. Carter made it clear that so far as Texas is concerned, the tidelands provide the revenue for the education of the children of this State. In another column on this page we have an editorial on this same subject. But Amos Carter's telegram to President Truman ought to be read in connection with that editorial. So, in the following paragraphs, here is the message that Amos Carter sent to the White House—apparently in vain, for the time-being:

Honorable Harry S. Truman, President of the United States, The White House, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

At the risk of being thought presumptuous and unduly persistent, once again I urge you to permit the so-called tidelands bill to become law. Among the considerations prompting this appeal is my deep interest in behalf of the school children of Texas, who would be the prime beneficiaries from the legislation.

In the form in which it has come from conference committee and has been approved by House and Senate, the measure does no more than confirm to the States the title to lands which traditionally have been theirs, without relinquishment by the federal government of anything to which it might have claim outside the historic boundaries of the States. Permitting this measure to become law will, in my opinion, constitute validation of the integrity of the United States government by upholding the sanctity of the agreement by which Texas became a part of the Union of its own free will. This agreement, jointly entered into by the Congress of the United States and the Republic of Texas, specified that as a State Texas should retain all its public lands. The legislation also will guarantee to Texas school children the heritage handed down to them by their forebears, since all the income from these lands forms an endowment for public school education in the State.

The claim of Texas to its offshore lands rests upon grounds which, as you yourself once stated during a visit to Texas, give it a special status, but we the other what he or she is doing, and the answer, obviously, is nothing. The conversation continues to sparkle along these lines until someone thoughtfully trips over the extension cord and brings the business to a merciful end.

I am not an advocate of censorship, but I sincerely believe that some sort of lie-detecting or sobriety-test should be administered by police officers to all people of Southern descent before they are allowed to touch a telephone after midnight. Especially when my time is not your time, old buddy, and maybe I had rather sleep than talk. Personally, I wish Ameeche had the whole thing back.

believe the legislation now before you strikes the ground of fairness to all States and to the federal government. It likewise has the important merit of ending a stalemate which is blocking orderly development of oil resources. The direct ownership provided for by government permits the portion of these resources to be used for the benefit of the State and does away with the contention that it is retained to the States what should be retained as a national oil reserve. Although you saw fit to somewhat similar legislation in 1946, it is to be recognized that conditions confronting the nation have changed since that time. The effort to unify defenses in Europe, and the tremendous program undertaken in this country combine to make imperative that oil in quantities be readily available.

The offshore areas are the greatest potential source of oil. Incidentally, the mental operations in the merged areas are the most intensive of petroleum activity in America, so that they are expected to be undertaken by large, adequately financed companies and then only on a long-term stability. They have in good working order machinery required to be about quick and intensive development of the oil resources of the area that would be added to them, and thus to the oil available for the nation. Settlement of long-standing controversies leave the federal government free to proceed according to own plans with oil development in the area allotted to it.

Whatever you do in this matter I am confident will be in accord with what you consciously believe to be the best interests of the nation. The spirit, plus an interest in its welfare which I am sure you will understand, this appeal from the Worth Star-Telegram.

As previously has been stated, this newspaper has any personal financial interest in the matter. In all sincerity I believe measure before you embody settlement fair to all—light of the historic fact of ownership, fair to school children of Texas and preservation of their valuable heritage, not only fair but greatly to the benefit of the program of national defense.

I hope you do not disappoint the citizens of Texas and school children of the State in the form in which it has to you, the tidelands bill nothing more than honest fair play.

Hopefully and most sincerely, Amos Carter, Publisher, Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Uncle Amos Lilly Is A Commuter Now

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lilly have moved to their farm home a mile and a half south of Zephyr but "Uncle Amos" Lilly would like to have it understood distinctly that he still is doing business, with his partner, C. L. "Solly" Featherston, at the Lilly & Featherston Real Estate Office, next door but one to the Eagle. On his farm of 617 acres, where he got three inches of rain last weekend, "Uncle Amos" is running cattle and goats. He is not a sheep man, he said. Mr. Lilly said that although he now lives out in the country he is only 25 minutes by car from his office.

Our Miss Pearl Crawford Blows Gasket Over Shortage Of Potatoes

The shortage of potatoes that has been causing so much anguish among cooks, housewives and all persons who like to have spuds with at least some of their meals has caused a rise in the blood pressure of the Eagle's correspondent, Miss Pearl Crawford.

While Miss Crawford's usual weekly letter was being edited this week the following appealing passage jumped out from the second page:

"After driving home from town last Friday afternoon I was about half mad. I had been told in town that there were NO Irish potatoes to be had. What made me half mad was that in one of the stores a girl clerk had smiled at me when she said, 'we had some this morning.'"

"When I got home I went out to my own potato patch. I found plants that were a bit wilted and sick from the hot weather and lack of moisture. But I reached down and pulled up a vine. To my surprise, I found three potatoes, each about the size of a Guinea hen's egg and five others that were even smaller. That made me feel it would be wonderful if we could get about an inch of rain. Then how nice our potatoes and beans would be in just a few days."

Since Miss Crawford blew off steam as per the above, there has been nearly three inches of rain on Chappell Hill. That ought to help the shortage in the Crawford potato patch.

waiter ought to be warned that when Miss Crawford is told "we have no potatoes," information such as "we had some this morning" ought to be withheld from her.

Mr. and Mrs. Weyman Harvey and their son, Richard, of Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Omar Harvey and their daughters, Martha Lee and Carol Lynn, of San Antonio were guests last weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Ira O. Harvey, parents of Weyman and Omar.

The Rev. Ed H. Lovelace Throws Challenge To G. H. S. Senior Class

"What is that in thine hand?" was the topic of the Baccalaureate sermon that was preached at the First Baptist Church last Sunday night before the Goldthwaite High School Class of 1952 and their guests by the Rev. Ed H. Lovelace, Pastor of the First Methodist Church.

In starting Commencement Week for the Goldthwaite High School Seniors, Brother Lovelace

BROTHER LOVELACE

EAGLE PHOTO BY WICKER STUDIO challenged them "to bring that which is in thine hand unto the Lord and let Him make of it that which He alone can."

"In your hand and in your strength and wisdom it may be only a shepherd's crook," Brother Lovelace said. "He can make of it a blessing to you and to your community. Who knows but that someone here tonight may be chosen by God to lead our nation and the world out of the moral and political wilderness which we sometimes feel is settling down around us? God is calling for leadership. What is that in thine hand?"

In part, the Baccalaureate sermon by Brother Lovelace was as follows:

"Moses, having slain an Egyptian taskmaster for beating a Hebrew slave, was compelled to flee from the court of Pharaoh into the wilderness of Midian. There he became a shepherd for a Midianite priest named Jethro, and in the course of time married one of his daughters, by the name of Zipporah. Now, 40 years after Moses fled from Egypt God spoke to him through the Burning Bush as the story is related in Exodus. Many people spend much time trying to explain the phenomenon of the burning bush when the important thing to consider is what happened to Moses as a result of that experience.

"The attention of Moses having been arrested by the strange phenomenon, God spoke to him and said that the cry of his subjugated people in Egypt had come up unto him and that he wanted Moses to lead them out of bondage. Moses demurred in spite of the fact that God told him he would be with him. 'But how will the people know you have sent me?' Moses asked. God said, 'What is that in thine hand?' Moses answered, 'It is just my shepherd's crook.' 'Cast it upon the ground,' God commanded. Moses obeyed and the ordinary shepherd's crook, surrendered to God, became the symbol of the shepherd who led a vast host of slaves from bondage to become the Chosen People from whom our Lord and Saviour descended.

"The pages of Sacred Writ reveal the names of many others who in answer to God's question, 'What is that in thine hand?' surrendered the symbol of their vocations to God and he made of them great leaders and conquerors. Thus of the shepherd boy David He asked, 'What is that in thine hand?' and David replied, 'just a sling shot.' 'Cast it upon the ground for me,' and it became the symbol that delivered the children of Israel from the Philistines.

"It has ever been thus down through the ages, whenever men and women have surrendered that which they have in their hands, God has been able to make great deliverers out of them. In our own generation, we have one of the finest examples of this. Toward the close of the Civil War Moses Carver in Missouri has been able to ransom a sickly child who, with his mother, had been stolen from the Carver place by night riders. God spoke to Moses Carver and asked, 'What is that in thine hand?' 'Oh, it is only a little sickly negro boy. I sure got the little end of that bargain. He is too frail to work and spends his time hunting strange weeds and reading books.' 'Cast him upon the ground for me. Let him go to school.' The request was granted. George Washington Carver, the negro boy, worked his way through High School, then through College, then through Graduate School and was given a position on the faculty of Iowa State College. After a short time Booker T. Washington, President of Tuskegee Negro College, in Tuskegee, Alabama, invited Mr. Carver to become a member of the faculty. It was Mr. Carver's conviction that the economic condition of the Negro in the South was largely due to the one crop system of farming. One day the Lord spoke to him and asked, 'George, what is that in thine hand?' 'Only a little peanut, Lord,' he answered. 'Cast it upon the ground for me,' instructed the Lord. Each day as Mr. Carver entered his laboratory, he would kneel in prayer asking God's guidance in his work.

"From his experiments, Mr. Carver developed more than 200 by-products from the peanut; more than 80 by-products from the sweet potato; more than 100 tints and colors from the red clay of Alabama; synthetic marble from waste shavings, etc. His discoveries were not only a blessing to his people, his state, and the nation but to the world at large. He never sought a patent for any of his products. He asked only that they be used for the welfare of humanity. His salary as a professor was never large. When offered $100,000 by Thomas A. Edison to come to his New Jersey laboratory, he refused by saying:

"Booker T. Washington placed me here nearly 25 years ago and told me to let my bucket down. I have always tried to do that and it has never failed to come up full of sparkling water.

My work is here in the South and I believe my own race should benefit from my discoveries.

"In the Parable of the Talents, the Lord did not condemn the man of one talent for having only one talent. His condemnation was upon the failure of the man to use that which he had."

How to spot an expert

An expert makes hard work easier.

When it comes to hauling, a GMC truck is your expert—for this very sound reason:

GMC—as the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles—concerns itself 100% with the development of new and better ways to transport goods.

Each model is the careful answer to specific, tough hauling problems.

The new GMC "302" engine is a case in point. In addition to being America's highest-compression standard gasoline truck engine—it packs more horsepower for its weight than any other on the road! The result is savings in useless "dead weight" by as much as 500 pounds over other engines of equal horsepower.

It's this kind of expert engineering that makes you sure of one thing: whatever model you select at our showroom—panel or pickup, stake rack or platform—you'll have an expert on your next job!

News Of Chappell Hill

By PEARL CRAWFORD

Week was a busy week for our boys and girls and parents. It was the last of school. Most everyone here attended the play Wednesday night of last week. Those who missed it surely missed a treat. It was very fun and all of the children were talented. We all think Mrs. Hardgrave did excel in the play. This being the first year school for Charles.

The saddest part of my week was because I had to miss the last Friday. There was a dinner, a ball game in afternoon and conversation with the neighbors.

Mr. Crawford, Bill Partin and H. Tiemann planted cotton last week.

Mr. Evans was bedding land Wednesday of last week when he fell or stumbled in the plow. He suffered a bruised knee but in a few hours he was able to go about his work again.

A. L. Crawford plowed maize for B. J. Crawford last week.

William G. Crawford spent Thursday afternoon of last week with Roy and Ray Harris.

Mrs. Billie McNeerlin and Gene and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Creek of Mullin visited Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Evans on Thursday afternoon of last week.

A. L. Crawford visited at the Will Steinman home last Friday afternoon. Mr. Crawford enjoyed seeing and hearing Mr. Steinman talk about his New Hampshire chickens.

We were sorry to learn that Mrs. O. A. Evans suffered a cold and fever last week. At last report she was feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crawford and William G. were guests recently of Mrs. R. A. Stevens.

John Livergood Returns Home To See Old Friends

John Livergood, formerly of Goldthwaite and now of Fresno, Cal., came back home for a brief visit this week after having visited his mother, Mrs. J. S. Branon of Fort Worth, who is 84. Mrs. Livergood, who is the former Alma Griffin, was not able to make the trip "back home" with her husband.

Mr. Livergood arrived in Goldthwaite late on Tuesday and he was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Worley Laughlin. He seemed happy to be back in familiar surroundings and sorry that he had to hurry back so soon to California. He was due to start the return journey home on Thursday of this week.

"Both my wife and I were reared in Mills County," Mr. Livergood said. "I went to school at Antelope Gap — which now is Scallorn — and later at Pleasant Grove."

During his brief visit, Mr. Livergood crowded in as much visiting as he possibly could.

Before he moved to California, where he continues to be a railroad man, Mr. Livergood was a section foreman for the Santa Fe.

More Than 1,100 At Star Home-Coming And Feast Saturday

More than 1,100 persons attended the Star home-coming last Saturday when the grounds of the Star School were thronged for a mid-day "Bill Fox barbecue" and when hundreds of former pupils and teachers of schools in the Star area got together for one grand reunion.

The oldest teacher present was Jim Goodnight, 72. He taught at Star from 1905 to 1909 and afterwards he taught at McGirk, Hurst Ranch and Moline.

A prize for having traveled the farthest distance to the home-coming was awarded to Mrs. Leta Lee Perkins. She came from Birmingham, Ala. Mrs. Perkins was a former student at Star.

Other prizes were awarded in the course of the home-coming. The speech for the occasion was delivered by a former teacher, E. W. Clendennin of Dallas, who spoke on the freedoms that still are regarded as their inalienable rights by Americans.

For the most part, the reports on the home-coming that have come to the Eagle have dealt with the quantities of food consumed by those present. Mrs. Oleta Coffman of Center City reported that a well known remedy for dyspepsia was in great demand.

Miss Billie Gail Soules was Secretary of the Committee on arrangements. Members of the Finance Committee, who did a thorough job, included Slim Hurst, Henry Soules, Bill Lucas, T. E. Duncan and L. O. Kelly.

Another reunion of the same gigantic proportions already is being planned for next year and the men who raised the funds to make last Saturday possible say they are all ready to do it again.

John Meadors Fails To Dispose Of Editor With Huge Bull Snake

John Meadors of Lake Merrett brought into Goldthwaite on Thursday of last week the biggest bull snake he ever saw.

The snake, which was six feet, four inches long, was properly dead—a fact that made Mr. Meadors mourn, inasmuch as he thinks highly of bull snakes because they eat venomous critters like rattlers.

Early on Thursday morning of last week Mr. Meadors was riding his telephone line in an effort to see why his telephone was not working. That was when he ran over the big old bull snake and killed it. He put the carcass into a bucket and brought it into Goldthwaite so everybody on the Square could see it. Before bringing the dead snake to the Eagle office Mr.

Meadors asked County Clerk Earl Summy if he thought the sight of it would give the editor a heart attack. Mr. Summy, having some inkling of what editors endure day in and day out, sent Mr. Meadors right over with his bucket full of bull snake.

Even when he was a cowpoke and later a foreman on 44 sections in New Mexico, Mr. Meadors never saw a bull snake so big as his kill of last week. Some day he ought to be told of the effect he had on Mrs. Editor when he displayed the corpse of his bull snake to her! She isn't used to snakes.

James Clinton Mason Died Last Thursday In Hospital In Dallas

James Clinton Mason, whose home was seven miles north of Center City, died on Thursday of last week at the Methodist Hospital in Dallas after a brief illness. He would have been 72 next September 1.

Funeral services were conducted last Saturday afternoon at

J. C. MASON

EAGLE PHOTO BY WICKER STUDIO the Church of Christ in Goldthwaite with Minister Norman Newton of Hamilton officiating. Interment was in the Center City Cemetery with arrangements by the Fairman-Wilkins Funeral Home of Goldthwaite.

Mr. Mason, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mason, was born in Kansas but he had lived in Texas since 1890. After living for a short time in Cook County he established residence in Mills County in 1899. On April 8, 1901, Mr. Mason was married to the former Pearl Lee Walton. They celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary at their home with a host of friends and members of their family around them on April 8 of last year. Mrs. Mason, who was born in a portion of Mills County that formerly was part of Hamilton County, survives.

Of seven children born to Mr. and Mrs. Mason, those who survive are W. F. and J. D. Mason of Grand Prairie, Mrs. A. E. Fields of Gilmer, J. L. Mason of Londale, Cal., and Mrs. Roy Hill of Lawn. Also surviving are two brothers, George and Bert Mason, three sisters, Mrs. Hardy Collier, Mrs. Louie Karnes and Mrs. Clarence Jones; and seven grandchildren and one great grandchild. Mr. Mason had been a member of the Church of Christ since about 1905.

Until he was stricken Mr. Mason continued to be active in working the 89 acres on which he lived in the North Bennett community.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason were married at Center City and their friends throughout Mills County are legion. Wherever he went Mr. Mason carried an atmosphere of cheerfulness with him. He was especially proud of his children and grandchildren, his long residence in Mills County and the fact that he carried on his active farm work after he had passed the years of three score and ten. On his frequent visits to the Eagle office Mr. Mason always left everybody feeling better than they had felt before he came in.

Pall bearers for the funeral last Saturday afternoon were Lee Roy Mason, Leonard Collier, Forest Billingsby, Warren Harris, Larry Walton and Otto Newton.

Telephone Co-ops

with Mr. Hill were Ernest E. Wilson, Secretary of the local Co-op which will serve rural areas in nine Counties of Central Texas, and C. C. Sanders, who soon will assume his post as Manager of the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative.

Upon their return from the meeting at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel in Austin Mr. Hill and

Mr. Wilson said that the Texas State Telephone Cooperative Association had been formed for the purpose of exchanging ideas and methods and for the joint solution of mutual problems. Carl Freeling of Vernon was elected President of the Association and Jimmy Wright of Spur was elected Secretary. At a later date the organization plans to employ a permanent, paid executive secretary who will maintain headquarters in Austin.

At last Monday's meeting resolutions dealing with telephone cooperative problems were adopted and referred to the Administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration. Telephone Co-ops are being formed with funds loaned by the R. E. A. through its telephone division.

Party Delegates

"four party State," with minorities led, in the case of the Democrats by the Trumanites and in the case of the Republicans by the Taft men refusing to recognize the will of the majority.

Mills County delegates to the Democratic Convention at San Angelo will go uninstructed but it is presumed that they are unlikely to be found in the camp of the Trumanites.

As for Republican County Chairman Eaton, he is on record simply as not being for General Eisenhower. Other Republicans, who are easy to poll in Mills County because there are so few of them, are for the most part vociferous in favoring General Eisenhower. But with the possible exception of Mullin they merely went through the motions of precinct conventions, without following up in the filing of official documents, and their scheduled County Convention on May 6 was a washout because the brave but tiny band of G. O. P. adherents could not manage to find each other at the Mills County Court House all at the same time.

Fine Rainfall

Merrett can take a lot more water. As one small boy put it about Lake Merrett, "the water still is a long way from the shore."

After the rains there was a chill in the air but by midweek temperatures began climbing and the wind grew warm again. With so much work to be done on the farms and ranches there were fewer people than usual on the Square in Goldthwaite.

As the Eagle went to press this week the skies were clear except for a little haze on the horizon. There were no predictions of rain but with water in the ground and in the tanks everybody was reasonably happy for the time-being.

Jess Moreland

of Lions Club membership had been under Ray Duren's Presidency.

At a Board meeting Tuesday night the Directors voted to purchase a new national flag and a new Lions Club flag for the local organization.

Mr. Bain told the Lions that he would continue as President until he moves his residence to Stephenville. Then he will turn the gavel over to Mr. Moreland. President Ray Duren said that "it has brought sadness to the hearts of all of us to know that Les Bain is leaving us."

At the conclusion of the meeting Grady Carothers exhibited a motion picture film that was entitled, "Credit Man's Confidence in Man."

Ebony News

By Clementine Wilmeth Briley
We are happy over the good rains which fell here last Saturday and Sunday. Altogether our rain gauge registered 2.2 inches.

Despite the rain, four of us met for church services Sunday. Remember, we have preaching every second Sunday. Our summer meeting is scheduled to begin August 15 and last through August 24 with Bro. Pinkerton, Minister of the San Saba Church of Christ, doing the preaching. If you haven't heard our nation-wide program, Herald of Truth, tune in over San Angelo, 970, or Abilene, 1470, from 1:00-1:30 Sunday. On this program you will hear singing from the A. C. C. a Capella Choir.

Jim Wilmeth came out from Brownwood Monday morning to bring his nieces, Mrs. W. A. Burn, from Manila and Mrs. J. E. Bean from Van Horn. They will visit for awhile at the Malone home. They went to work at once to have a new roof put on the house.

Mrs. C. J. Humphries and Mrs. Cecil Egger, who have been driving the Ebony and Regency school buses for the past several weeks, celebrated their freedom Friday night with a little party for themselves and their husbands at the Humphries home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Briley had dinner with Mrs. Edna Dwyer Sunday. Mrs. Dwyer had green beans, new potatoes, and fresh beets from her garden.

Ben Egger, who has been at Marlin Hospital for some time, is back home again.

After a second planting of maize, John Briley sees a good stand and peeping through since the last rain.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Reeves have received word from their niece, Mrs. Charles White, that she has arrived safe at her home in Los Angeles. Mrs. White and her two small children drove through in her car.

We hear the Reeves and Humphries ranches have suffered some loss of cattle from bud fever. Sprouts from oak timber that has been knocked is blamed.

We hear that Mr. and Mrs. Max Mahan are living in our community. We went up the old Ebony road to town Friday, just to see for sure. And there it was, the Roberts place, with the
