Most Businesses To Close Friday—Memorial Day

By agreement that was reached in the course of a poll that was conducted by the Goldthwaite Lions Club a majority of the business houses in Goldthwaite will be closed on Friday of this week—Memorial Day.

The Mills County State Bank, in addition to closing this Friday, also will close on Tuesday of next week in observance of the birthday anniversary of Thomas Jefferson.

All offices at the Mills County Court House, including those of the County and those of agencies of the federal government, also will be closed for Memorial Day.

The Goldthwaite Post Office will observe usual holiday hours on Friday. There will be no mail deliveries on rural routes, Postmaster Lucile Fairman said, and window service will be available only between 10:00 o'clock and 11:00 o'clock on Friday morning. Mail, however, will be received and dispatched as usual.

Many persons planned for a long weekend that would include family reunions here or trips to reunions elsewhere.

In view of the fact that the Memorial Day holiday weekend was likely to be marked by heavy traffic on main highways everywhere, Sheriff C. F. Stublefield urged careful driving and consideration of others traveling in motor vehicles.

Along with many other business establishments, the Eagle office also will be closed on Friday of this week.

For many, this Friday will mean lonely, sorrowful pilgrimages to the graves of loved ones.

Caradan Club Aims To Organize Youth

Plans for the organization of a Youth Club will be considered at 2:30 o'clock this Friday afternoon by the Caradan Community Club at a meeting at the old Midway Schoolhouse. Mrs. George Denman, Jr., said that mothers, especially, have been invited to attend the gathering and to take their children with them. Proposals for the Youth Club will be presented. "Let's get this project started off with a bang," Mrs. Denman said.

GHS Class Of 1952 Leaves School Books And Clock At Cost Of $300

At a cost of approximately $300.00, paid from their treasury, the Goldthwaite High School Class of 1952 left as a legacy to their school a "program clock" to measure and sound the times of study and classroom periods and a collection of books and dictionaries for the school library.

Myrlene Reynolds Weathers, Class Secretary-Treasurer, said that $223.00 was appropriated for the books and $76.25 for the clock.

The Class was graduated at Commencement Exercises at the Grammar School auditorium on Friday night of last week, when the Seniors presented a spun aluminum picnic set to Superintendent and Mrs. H. E. Patton. Dr. E. J. Howell, President of Tarleton State College, who had been scheduled to make the Commencement address, was unable to be present because of unusually heavy rainfall in the Stephenville area. Diplomas were presented by Mr. Patton.

Our Democrats Return Safe From Convention; GOP Sizzles In Texas

Mills County's delegates to the Democratic State Convention at San Antonio on Tuesday came home safe and sound. As had been expected, they remained with the "regulars," led by Governor Allan Shivers, and did not bolt with the Trumanites.

The delegates were Joe A. Palmer, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Mills County Democratic Party; County Attorney A. M. Pribble, County Clerk Earl Summy, and Goldthwaite Mayor Charlie T. Wilson.

Mrs. Palmer also accompanied Mr. Palmer to San Antonio. Visitors to the Convention included State Representative Arthur E. Gromatzky of Priddy and Mrs. Gromatzky.

No report has been received from S. J. Eaton of Mullin, Mills County Republican Chairman. Last week Mr. Eaton said he would attend the Republican State Convention at Mineral Wells. If he did so, it is probable that Mr. Eaton stuck with the pro-Taft leadership of Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, Republican National Commit-tee man from Texas.

From all accounts, the Democratic Convention at San Antonio was enjoyed hugely by the Mills County delegates, who were reported to have been part of a small island of calm amidst the general commotion. County Clerk Summy said that even after the Trumanites took their walk, the San Antonio gathering remained the largest State Democratic Convention in Texas history.

The issue at San Antonio, and which caused the Trumanites to bolt a majority decision, was whether to support the Presidential candidate to be nominated by the Democratic National Convention at Chicago, whomever he may be.

The issue at Mineral Wells was what the Fort Worth Star-Telegram described editorially as denial of the popular will. That was because the minority in the pro-Taft machine ran roughshod over the majority that supports General Dwight D. Eisenhower. The Star-Telegram put what happened at Mineral Wells in a nutshell as follows: "The 'clear choice' of numerous Precinct and County Conventions, as reflected in popular victories for General Eisenhower, was ignored and held for naught. The choice made by

There also was participation in the program by Winona Lawson, Valetorian and Class Vice President; John Weaver, Salutatorian and Class President; and Mrs. Weathers, who made the presentations.

Other members of the Class were Sandra Bain, who ranked third highest in academic standing; Lehman Byrd, Kenneth Collier, Alice Sparkman, James Partridge, Vernon Whitley, Wanda Kelly, Lottie Carter and Betty John Jackson.

The Class was able to leave its legacy of books and the program clock after defraying the expenses of the annual Senior trip to San Antonio, Austin and Kerrville during the second weekend in May.

Following the Commencement Exercises about 75 persons attended a reception for the Seniors, high school faculty members and guests at the Mills County Youth Center of the First Baptist Church. Mothers of members of the Class of 1952 were the hostesses.

the people was supplanted by the decision of the few members of the Taft-dominated central Republican organization. In all except a few minor instances, where it made no difference anyway, it was the Taft delegations which were seated, regardless of the fact that in most of the contested cases these delegations were elected by a distinct majority of the voters.

"This was a complete denial of democratic processes and a contemptuous repudiation of the will of the people. . . . The result at Mineral Wells was the more deplorable, since it set up a small group as the ones to decide what candidate for the Presidential nomination the Texas Republican delegation will support at Chicago. The decision was by a small coterie which arrogated to itself the power to say who is and who is not a Republican, and to brand many of the participants in Precinct and County Conventions as outcasts, even though they had complied with all the party requirements and the provisions of law regarding such participation.

"The result is oligarchic control of Republican affairs in Texas—a species of boss rule instead of popular rule."

In the case of the Democrats, nothing such as the above could be written about them this year. They had bolters, which was not unusual, but the majority appeared glad to see them bolt.

Joe Warlick Lost Appendix Monday

Now, Joe, even though school is out, you will be able to talk about your operation along with everybody else who has submitted to surgery.

School Pupils In County Drop By 73 In Census

A decrease of 73 children of school age in Mills County has been reported to the Texas Education Agency in Austin by the office of County Judge Lewis B. Porter, who also is County Superintendent of Schools ex-officio.

The school census figures for 1952-1953 show a total of 1,080 scholastics as against 1,153 for 1951-1952.

Scholastics were lost by Goldthwaite, Star and Mullin, according to the latest school census. Only Priddy remained unchanged, with a total of 161 scholastics recorded for each of the two years.

Goldthwaite lost 41 scholastics, or a drop from 602 to 561.

The drop in the number of scholastics in Mullin was 24 or from 252 to 228.

The Mills County census figures have not yet been approved by the Texas Education Agency. They are certain, however, to result in the loss of at least two teachers from the faculty of the Goldthwaite Schools. The effect of the census figures on the Mullin and Star schools it not yet certain.

At a time when the number of scholastics in Mills County has declined, the average annual increase in children attending the schools throughout Texas is estimated officially at 50,000.

Visiting Turks To Inspect 4-H Club Work Here

Projects of the 4-H Clubs in Mills County—which already have a national reputation—will be studied at first hand on Thursday of next week by nine Turks who are being trained in this country in American agricultural practices under the foreign aid or mutual assistance program.

County Agriculture Agent George G. Reese said this week that the Turkish trainees will be taken on June 5 on a tour of 4-H calf, lamb and turkey projects in Mills County.

In addition to Mr. Reese, they will be escorted by Robert L. Steen, President of the Mills County Livestock Raisers Association, and, if possible, by R. G. Burwell, Extension Service Agent in charge of District 8.

Mr. Reese explained that the visitors from Turkey are anxious to apply American agricultural practices in their own country with whatever adaptations may be necessary. They are especially interested in observing 4-H Club work at first hand because of the tested value of its educational methods as shown by results.

On their tour of projects in Mills County the Turkish trainees will be taken to a number of farms and ranches and they will have explained to them the "whys" and the "hows" that have produced so many local champions for so many years. Mr. Reese said he understood that the Turks who will come here next week are college students who, after returning to their own country, will pass on to others what they have been learning in the United States.

Included among the Turkish visitors will be three women who are veterinarians and who are especially interested in American methods of the treatment and prevention of disease among livestock.

Red Sox To Play Itasca Weavers Here At 8:00 P. M. This Saturday

The Goldthwaite Red Sox had a barrel of news this week—including the scheduling of a game against the Itasca Weavers at the Goldthwaite Municipal Ball Park this Saturday night, latest team batting averages, and a new shower and dressing room.

Clyde Estep, one of the Red Sox Managers, is especially anxious that everybody make it their business to go to the Ball Park no later than 8:00 o'clock Saturday night to see the game with the Itasca Weavers, who are reputed to have a splendid team.

On Wednesday night of next week the Red Sox will travel to Fredericksburg to play the Giants there and on Saturday night of next week they will play a return engagement against the Weavers at Itasca. So the big opportunity to see a home game in the immediate future is this Saturday night.

Public subscriptions made possible the construction of a concrete shower and dressing room under the south end of the grandstand, Mr. Estep said. He reported also that the scoreboard at the Municipal Ball Park has been moved to the top of the fence between right field and center field.

As for the Red Sox batting averages to date, here they are with no risk of complaint from such players as Larry McCasland, who did NOT like the goose eggs after his name the last time the list was printed.

More Rain Disproves Saying That "Drought Never Breaks In Spring"

Harry Allen's official measurement of rain in Goldthwaite for the U. S. Weather Bureau during the past week added up to 1.64 inches, bringing the official total for 1952 so far to 12.67 inches. Heavier rains than fell in Goldthwaite were reported from several portions of the County—in some cases twice as much or more.

During the past week the rainfall, measured by Mr. Allen on a government gauge nightly at 7:00 o'clock, was as follows:

Friday33
Saturday44
Tuesday72
Wednesday15

Torrential rains that late last week caused damage and in some cases tragedy in adjacent Counties did not fall in Mills County. For the most part the rain of the past week in Mills

Boyd Knowles Here On Furlough From Marine Corps Duty

Master Sergeant Boyd Knowles of the United States Marine Corps, in which he has spent 14 years, is back home in Goldthwaite on a 15-day furlough—thereby leaving Mrs. Pearl Long and other members of the family to run the Fashion Shop while Mrs. Knowles spends the furlough with her husband.

M/Sgt. Knowles was met by his wife in San Angelo last Saturday and they came to Goldthwaite on Sunday. His duty is aboard an aircraft carrier, the U. S. S. Kearsarge, which has been operating out of San Diego but to which he will return to duty at Bremerton, Wash.

Just before he started his furlough, M/Sgt. Knowles reenlisted in the Marine Corps for another six-year hitch. Mrs. Knowles is the former Dora Dean Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hale.

County was steady although there were some hard showers.

The gloom that marked the early months of the year has vanished. There is plenty of water in the ground and those who for so long were saying at the Post Office every morning that "a drought never breaks in the spring" have forgotten all about the old and erroneous adage.

The difference between rainfall in Goldthwaite and in other portions of Mills County was indicated on Tuesday when, in Big Valley, precipitation of two inches was measured as against less than an inch in town.

Also, as against a total of 1.64 inches measured in Goldthwaite during the week by Mr. Allen, Roy Lee Hill reported 3.8 inches out where he lives, 3½ miles southwest of Star.

On Tuesday alone three inches or more fell in San Saba County and on Wednesday travelers arriving in Goldthwaite reported while visiting over at Jess Moreland's feed store that "the San Saba river is about to run wild."

With the tanks in the Lake Merrett area filled up by previous rains, the later rains have been raising the level of the Lake a little. The top of the (Continued on Back Page.)

Sammy Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sherwood Owens of Center City, took first place in quarter-horse and sheep judging in this year's contest among sophomore students at Texas A. & M. College. Sammy was second high point man in the entire contest. He just about duplicated at A. & M. the performance of Allen Poe at Texas Technological College at Lubbock that was reported in last week's Eagle. Both Sammy Owens and Allen Poe were 4-H Club members in Mills County at the same time and they were members of a crack livestock judging team that was coached by County Agriculture Agent George G. Reese.

BEST WISHES TO LESTON F. BAIN

Although his host of friends will rejoice because the transfer of Leston F. Bain to Erath County means a well-deserved promotion for him, they will be sad, also, because both Goldthwaite and Mills County suffer in having Mr. Bain and his family move away from here.

We happen to know that one of the last official communications that was received by Mr. Bain before he assumed his new duties this week as Chief Administrative Officer of the Production and Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Erath County, with headquarters in Stephenville, was a message of congratulation from his "boss," W. I. Chenault, whose office is at College Station.

Mr. Chenault congratulated Mr. Bain on his work, including his public relations achievements, as P. M. A. Administrator in Mills County for the past six and a half years. Everybody will agree with us, we think, that the message to Mr. Bain was warranted. He has left his mark in Mills County, not only in better farms and ranches that have been improved by the application of soil and water conservation practices, but in the number of those who call him friend and regarded him with both respect and affection.

The list of civic activities to which Mr. Bain gave of himself, his time and his energy during his period of service in Mills County is too long to be listed here. His spirit of service was recognized by his recent election to the Presidency of the Goldthwaite Lions Club. He and the members of his family will be missed by their community, their school, their Church — and there will be many a farmer and rancher who will be genuinely sorry not to be able to go to Les Bain with problems which he so often helped to solve with sympathetic counsel and constructive advice.

Since the Bains will be establishing residence only a short distance up the road, at Stephenville, we hope they will come back to Goldthwaite many times. That is the consolation which tempers having to say farewell to them.

THOMAS JEFFERSON'S BIRTHDAY

Tuesday of next week will be the birthday anniversary of Thomas Jefferson, who lived from 1743 to 1826. He became President of the United States in 1801. He wrote much of the Declaration of Independence, including that part which begins: "When in the course of human events..." Thomas Jefferson's achievements were many and among them was the enunciation of principles that supposedly are those of the Democratic Party which, however, has departed from them all too often — especially during the past twenty years.

Since Thomas Jefferson's birthday anniversary falls at a time when we are building up toward momentous decisions in our political lives, we offer a few quotations from his writings that are just as apt now as when they were written. Consider this one:

"When a man assumes a public trust he should consider himself as public property."

And this one: "Indeed, I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just."

Every citizen could benefit these days from reading the works of Thomas Jefferson, although he died so long ago as 1826. He held that the best government was represented by the least government — which certainly is something to ponder in these times when government has grown so huge that it controls the citizens rather than meeting the ideal, which is citizen control of government.

There is another apt quotation from Thomas Jefferson. It was written four months after he became President in a letter to Elias Shipman. Here it is:

"Of the various executive abilities (of the Presidency), no one excited more anxious concern than that OF PLACING THE INTERESTS OF OUR FELLOW-CITIZENS IN THE HANDS OF HONEST MEN, with understanding sufficient for their stations. No duty is at the same time more difficult to fulfill. The knowledge of character possessed by a single individual is of necessity limited. To seek out the best through the whole Union, we must resort to the information which from the best of men, acting disinterestedly and with the purest motives, is sometimes incorrect."

Amen.

Last Saturday afternoon Frank Watson, son of Mr. H. A. Watson, was thrown from his horse and his collar bone was broken. The young man had ridden to town and left his horse standing at E. Oden's shop. When he remounted to go home the animal "bucked" like a broncho and threw the young man violently to the ground. He appeared to fall upon his head and it was feared that the result would be serious, if not fatal, but the developments have proved that he fell upon one shoulder.

W. E. Miller, president of the Goldthwaite National Bank, received a telegram Wednesday evening announcing the death of his father at Ladonia, Fannin County, He left on the first train for that place to attend the funeral, and will probably return tonight. GUEST EDITORIAL

(Editor's Note: On the night of May 17 President Truman made his intemperate attack on legislation designed to restore to Texas the rights of its tidelands. Since the President sought to make political hay with the leftist, pinkish group known as Americans for Democratic Action, a great deal of water has run under the bridge. However, one of the most temperate and most reasoned answers to the President was made by U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. We believe that even at this late date the remarks that were made on the Senate floor by Senator Johnson are worthy of publication in full — and they are worthy, too, of thoughtful consideration by all Texans. Here they are:)

By SENATOR JOHNSON

On Saturday night, the President of the United States addressed a private organization. During the course of his remarks, he took occasion to refer to a bill which recently passed this body—the so-called Tidelands legislation.

Mr. Truman's language on this subject can be most charitably described as "unusual." It was particularly unusual in that he still has a constitutional duty to perform in respect to this legislation. He must approve, disapprove, or permit it to become law without his signature.

Ordinarily, the President's decisions on these matters are communicated directly to the Congress. There are well-established channels for such communications. For some reason known only to himself, Mr. Truman did not see fit to make use of those channels.

Instead, he decided to inform Congress of his attitude through the medium of a political forum and the press. He told the forum that the legislation represented "robbery in broad daylight — and on a colossal scale."

There is robbery involved in this issue. But who is robbing whom?

For more than 100 years these submerged lands have been considered part of the public domain of my State. That viewpoint has been upheld by international treaty, three Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, the National Association of Attorneys General, the Governors Conference, an overwhelming majority of the members of the House of Representatives, and a substantial majority of the members of the United States Senate.

The Tidelands legislation would confirm what all these people have held—that the submerged lands belong to the States. It would block an outrageous attempt to take from the States property that is rightfully theirs.

The President's statement on robbery is no more accurate than his statement on ownership of the submerged lands. Possibly if he had taken the time to look up the facts, he would not have been so reckless in his language.

In his prepared statement, the President said that Federal ownership had been "affirmed by the Supreme Court of the United States." I do not believe that is an accurate statement of the facts.

The actual facts are these. The Solicitor General asked the Court to rule that the Federal Government was possessed of paramount rights of proprietorship in the submerged lands. Instead, the Court refrained from passing on the question of ownership and came up with the doctrine that the Federal Government possessed "paramount rights" only.

Who is robbing whom? The States that seek to protect their own property or the Federal bureaucracy that seeks to take it away from them?

Mr. Truman may, if he wishes, accuse the distinguished jurists, State officials and legislators I have mentioned of being guilty of "robbery in broad daylight." But the people will look at the facts and decide just who is the thief and who is the victim.

Mr. President, this is a day when the air is full of strange and unusual doctrines. The steel mills have been seized upon the pretext that the President has "inherent powers" that override the plain language of the Constitution. An attempt is being made to seize the submerged lands on the pretext that the Federal Government has "paramount rights" regardless of the question of ownership. Both doctrines—the inherent powers and the paramount rights—are defended largely by reckless charges and wild accusations.

Personally, I do not think the members of this body are going to be influenced by intemperate language or intimidated by political statements. I do not believe they will vote to set aside custom, agreement, tradition, and the Constitution because of pressure—from whatever source it may come.

The Eagle's Aer By The Editor

In full recognition of the fact that the editorial in Life Magazine of the week before last was written before the political State Conventions in Texas, the editor believes nevertheless that it ought to be given thoughtful consideration on a long range basis. The editorial in question was entitled "There Are Signs of a Chance For a Real Two-party System." The chance referred to, of course, is in the South.

It is the opinion of the editor that no Democrat in Texas can take any pride in Fagan Dickson and the Trumanites and that no Republican can take any pride in Henry Zweifel and his interest in the G. O. P. for patronage purposes only. However, events of great moment are and have been happening in the South and long-needed changes appear to be in sight. For that reason Life's editorial, which holds that the Republicans need a strong organization in the South, is important. Accordingly, it is reprinted in the following paragraphs:

"Senator Mundt (Rep., S. Dak.) never got off the ground with his hopeless scheme for a merger of the Republican and Southern Democratic parties. But he may be right when he says, 'The key to America's political future is in the South.' Our fastest-changing region is already in a political turmoil which foreshadows more to come.

"The strangest and most failure-prone of all political machines, the Southern G. O. P., has had a firecracker pinned to its coat tails by the Ike-Taft contest for delegates. For instance in Texas (not typically Southern, but what is?) the tight little Zweifel organization is strong for Taft, but the people — Republicans and Democrats — seem to prefer Ike. Lacking a primary, Texas Republicans have been fighting it out during the last fortnight in precinct and county conventions. Result: a series of rump meetings, bolts and standoffs that may not be composed this side of Chicago.

"The standoff pattern had already been set in Louisiana, where the incumbent pro-Taft machine resorted to the most ruthless tactics — 'brazen thievery.' Senator Tobey has called it — to maintain control. One machine-appointed ward chairman named Robert Butler elected himself delegate while the rest of the meeting — four Ike-men — sat helplessly but vicerously by their votes uncounted. An honest count in Louisiana would probably have sent at least 10 of 15 delegates to Chicago for Ike. Instead, the furious Ike-men must now send rival delegates and maybe conduct a floor fight for credentials.

"What are these Southern Republicans fighting so fiercely about? Like most Southern politicians, they refuse to fight each other about Negro rights; that explains none of it. Like question of ownership. Both doctrines—the inherent powers and the paramount rights—are defended largely by reckless charges and wild accusations. Personally, I do not think the members of this body are going to be influenced by intemperate language or intimidated by political statements. I do not believe they will vote to set aside custom, agreement, tradition, and the Constitution because of pressure—from whatever source it may come.

M. A. Horton Twins Pictured In Waco

Whenever you see Mrs. M. F. Horton smiling, which is practically all of the time, it is because she is thinking of her twin grand-daughters, Nan and Jan. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Horton of Waco. A couple of weeks ago the Waco Tribune-Herald published a photograph of Nan and Jan as they were being fed bottles of milk by their mother, the former Mariquetta Coats of Waco. Ever since then the Waco Tribune-Herald has been Mrs. M. F. Horton's favorite newspaper. By the way, Nan and Jan now are a little more than two months old.

Two years after he campaigned for election, the picture of Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield still hangs on the wall of the B. J. Crawford home on Chappell Hill. That interesting item of information came this week from the Eagle's Chappell Hill correspondent, Miss Pearl Crawford, who some day ought to drop into the Sheriff's office at the Court House and see the pictures on his wall! They're not of him, either.

The steadfastness with which B. J. Crawford clings to the campaign literature of Sheriff Stubblefield got into the news because, in her regular weekly letter, Miss Crawford reported that a magazine salesman had been making the rounds on Chappell Hill and he spied the Sheriff on the Crawford wall. The salesman, M. C. Kuykendall, and the Sheriff had been boyhood friends in the same community. And Mr. Kuykendall was delighted to gaze upon a likeness of his old friend.

Miss Crawford also reported this week on something else that has absolutely NO connection with the Sheriff. She made it known, however, that while A. L. Crawford and William G. were visiting her Dad—the aforementioned B. J. Crawford—on Thursday of last week they went out to the brooder house to see Miss Pearl's chicks. Here is the rest of the story from that point on in Miss Crawford's own words:

"I had left some cardboard and a box in a corner of the brooder house. William G. went over to the box to see if he could find some feed for the chicks. Instead, he found snakes. Albert killed them. Both were chicken snakes. One was 6 feet three inches long and the other was more than five feet long. My loss was seven little chickens and one little turkey."

Gladiolus Shop

Interested Mills County persons have been invited by the Home and Garden Study Club of Lampasas to attend its annual Gladiolus Flower Show from 2:00 p. m., to 9:00 p. m., on Saturday of this week at the Hancock Park Hostess House in Lampasas.

Four Lions Given Attendance Awards

In last week's Eagle a couple of printers fouled up a story reporting that at a Lions Club meeting pins for 100 per cent attendance had been awarded by Dr. T. C. Graves. The attendance champions were Ray Duren, Charles Conradt, Warren P. Duren and John A. Jackson. In the case of Warren Duren, his pin was the fifth such award that he had won. If Eagle printers should have their heads bitten off by Lions it would serve them happy well right.

Oscar Hill Thins Out The Rattlers

At least three rattlesnakes have been killed so far this spring by Oscar Hill, who lives four miles north of Center City. In her weekly letter from Center City this week Oleta Coffman brought the public up to date on Mr. Hill and buzztails with the following paragraph: "Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hill are hoping that rattlesnakes will get scarcer on their farm. Mr. Hill has killed two more of the rattlers since I last reported that he had killed a large one."

Personals

Weekend visitors in the H. R. Collier home were Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Carter and children, Harold, Eddie, Sammy, Wanda, and Bobbie, of Kopperl; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Collier, Anna and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Horton, Wayne and Wilbur, and Mrs. Lloyd Hiller and James of Goldthwaite; Mrs. Darrell Head, Sandra and Dina of Center City; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Collier and Jerry and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Blackburn and Billie of Goldthwaite; and Mr. and Mrs. Walton Moore of Center City.

It's A Jackass, Mrs. K. Coffman

Okay, Mrs. Kenneth Coffman of Center City; it's a jackass! The above is an answer to a "guess what" question Mrs. Coffman posed in her letter from Center City this week when she wrote:

"From all accounts Kenneth Coffman's livestock are waking up his neighbors at night. The last animal he brought in even woke up the 'creek folks.' By that I mean Mr. and Mrs. Dan Townsen. I will leave it for you to guess what kind of animal he is!!!!?"

Gold Rimmed Specs

If you lost a pair of gold rimmed, bifocal spectacles, they are waiting for you to claim them at the Eagle office. They were found on the west side of the Square on Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Collier and Eddie Carter visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walton in Coleman Monday.

Personals

Mrs. Tom Womack of San Saba, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. C. F. Stubblefield, returned on Monday night of this week from Washington where she was a guest of her brother, William T. "Bill" Stubblefield, and Mrs. Stubblefield.

Captain John H. Bowman of Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, with his wife Billie, and daughters, Judith Kay and Betsy Ann, visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowman last weekend. Captain and Mrs. Bowman went to Austin, to take part in the Shrine activities on Saturday while their daughters remained with their grand parents.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Miller and family last week were Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Waldret and girls of Richmond, Washington; Bill Miller and children and Mrs. Alma Moore of Odessa; Mrs. Tom Beal of Hamilton; Bert Miller of Fort Worth; and A/2c and Mrs. John Alex Miller of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Fairman of Lockney visited Mr. Fairman's mother, Postmaster Lucile Fairman, this week.

Chappell Hill

By PEARL CRAWFORD

Our community received a nice rain Friday night and early Saturday morning. Our rain gauge registered 1 inch. Mrs. W. L. Conner and Mrs. O. A. Evans said that they also received 1 inch of rain. Some small hail fell, but the rain fall was slow and gentle.

Everyone reports a nice crop and garden, and most all the farmers will be very busy for a few days.

Billie McNeerlin's oat field has begun to show up. Bill Partin and George Crawford are not talking about their cotton. They just wonder if they will have to replant after so much rain.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. C. M. Bramblett is on the sick list. Her daughter, Mrs. Bill Yeager of Goldthwaite, has been visiting her often during her illness. We all hope for Mrs. Bramblett a speedy recovery.

O. A. Evans went to Abilene last Tuesday to visit his sister, Mrs. J. N. Crook, who is reported to be very sick at her home.

Tom Partin of Calf Creek, who has suffered a long spell of illness, was able to visit his brother, C. G. Partin and Mrs. Partin recently. Tom Partin spent most of his boyhood in the Trigger Mountain community.

Virgil Bramblett visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bramblett, during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Evans visited Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bramblett Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rainy and William Gene of Texas City spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Partin and boys and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Partin.

A. L. Crawford and William G. were business visitors in Comanche Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Stevens visited Mrs. R. A. Stevens and Miss Lola last Monday.

Sunday guests and guests during the week of B. J. George, and Pearl Crawford included: Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Evans, Mrs. Roger Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Schindler of Bangs, Mr.

At last every water hole in this part of the country is filled to the brim with water running around the spillway. Through the last week there has been eight inches of rain with quite a bit of hail, but with very little damage.

Rev. Pankhurst and family of Brownwood were guest Sunday in Lometa of Mr. and Mrs. Karcher O'Bannon.

Mrs. C. H. Black took her daughter, Jane to Austin Sunday where she will have employment with the Welfare agency. This work will take her to different cities throughout the state. Jane received her B. A. degree last Friday from Howard Payne College.

Those who attended the graduation exercises at Howard Payne College from here were the C. H. Black family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Henry and daughter, Imola, and her friend and the writer.

Mrs. Charles Wright of Mullin was a guest of her mother Saturday. Her brother, Billie Black, accompanied her home for a few days visit.

John Livergood of Fresno, California, visited here Thursday with the writer and with Mr. and Mrs. John Kuykendall. In the afternoon we drove to Lampasas where Mr. Livergood visited with a sister, Mrs. Gunderland, and Mr. Gunderland.

The Gunderland Park located two miles down Sulphur creek from the town of Lampasas is owned and operated by the Gunderlands. It would be hard to find a more beautiful place for an outing. We were invited to fish and swim at our leisure. So we plan to make them a visit in the near future.

Jane and Huntis Black accompanied by Miss Willa Fay Reed of Lometa went to Hamilton Saturday for the wedding of Miss Romona Tennison to Ferris Akins.

The writer was in Broynwood Monday of last week to attend the funeral of a friend, Jasper Wright, who passed away suddenly of a heart ailment. Mr. Wright was a brother of Charles C. Wright of Mullin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bostic and Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Smith called Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Casbeer.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

While the weather along the Potomac has remained cool thus far, already there are outcroppings of frazzled nerves and irritation in some quarters. That has been particularly true in the case of President Truman who, of late, has been snapping impatiently at Congress and at most all others who do not see eye to eye with the Executive.

In the mood of a setting hen, with the hatch over-due, the President lashed at Congress when he made a major speech before the left-of-center Americans for Democratic Action at their annual convention the other night.

Speaking to a group of liberals who look upon States' rights as something that belonged to the dark ages, Mr. Truman paid his respects to the Congress for again passing a bill confirming title in the States to their tidelands. In his words, "This would be robbery in broad daylight—and on a colossal scale." In his enthusiasm, he committed mayhem upon facts by saying the Congress had voted to turn over to a handful of States ALL of the country's great offshore petroleum and gas deposits—a national asset that "may be worth as much as $40 billion."

He either did not know, or overlooked reporting, that from 70 to 80 per cent of offshore oil reserves is beyond the area covered in the tidelands bill—in other words, is within that part of the continental shelf that Congress has not acted upon at all.

Appearing before another audience a few nights later, the President blasted what he called the "so-called economy bloc" for trimming his budget in many details. He said his $85 billion budget was "a good budget and an honest budget," and the Congress was misbehaving very badly by tampering with it.

In still another appearance the President said if the Congress did not give him all he wanted in the way of money, he would call a special session every day if necessary until he got what he wanted.

In the meantime, the Congress went about its business, reviewing the cuts that have been made and some members searching for more fat that can be removed. It's the weather, most of them say, and the Potomac is known for unruly nerves and upset tempers—especially about this time of the year.

Emory Walton Returns After Duty In Hawaii

Staff Sgt. Emory C. Walton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Walton of Center Point, returned home on Friday of last week after 20 months of service with the Air Force in Hawaii, where he was a member of the 1957th AACSS Squadron.

Sgt. Walton, who is on a 10-day furlough, plans to go to San Angelo next Sunday. In San Angelo he will be discharged from the Air Force and returned to civilian life on June 21. After his discharge, Sgt. Walton plans to become a college student. He was graduated from the Mullin High School in the Class of 1948.

Before he returned to the mainland from Hawaii, Sgt. Walton met two other Air Force men who are well known in Mills County. One is Robert Manuel, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. A. Manuel of Caradan, and Vernon Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wood, now of Lubbock but formerly of Goldthwaite.

On a visit to Goldthwaite last Monday afternoon Sgt. Walton was one of the brightest sights on the Square, what with a red cap and a white shirt that was resplendent with a red Hawaiian scene and that was marked "Kilauea Rest Camp, Hawaii," in green letters. The Kilauea Rest Camp is on the island of Hawaii, about 400 miles south of Honolulu. In Hawaii Sgt. Walton's permanent station was at Hickham, Field on the island of Oahu.

Sgt. Walton has two brothers who also are in the Air Force. They are Myron Walton a veteran of service in Japan and Korea, and Robert, who is at Pine Castle in Florida.

Electric Home Freezers...

THE MODERN ANSWER TO:

- Less Work • Lower Food Costs
- Greater Convenience!

Yes, indeed! An electric food freezer is convenient and saves you money, too!

Experts say that waste and spoilage claim 10% of all the food Americans buy. A home freezer cuts that waste to the bone.

And convenience is another great benefit when you own a food freezer... Convenience in buying to take advantage of special bargains, in fewer trips to the store (you "shop" from your freezer in bad weather)... convenience in having a variety of food always on hand to please the taste of your own family, or to provide for unexpected guests.

Frozen foods are popular with everyone... and doubly so with the thrifty housewife who knows the convenience, and the real saving in work and food costs that a home freezer brings.

Don't put it off any longer... find out how these savings actually will pay for your food freezer.

ONLY A FEW WEEKS... and fresh fruits and vegetables
 will be available in quantities...
 Whether you buy them or raise your own, you can enjoy delicious, garden-fresh fruits, vegetables, fish and game the year round from your FOOD FREEZER.

We hear the sound of the hammer and the saw at the Malone place this week. Mrs. Bean and Mrs. Burn have Mr. Shafer and his brother out from Brownwood enlarging the bedroom and raising and recovering the roof.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. LaRue of San Antonio spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffin.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Egger went to Lampasas Sunday to attend a reunion of the Smith family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Cummings. They spent the night in Lampasas. Then they went on Monday to San Marcos to bring home their daughter, Ynell, a student of Southwest State College. While they were away, Mr. and Mrs. Charm Whittenburg looked after their things.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ketchum and children from near San Angelo visited his sister, Mrs. Eugene Egger, Thursday. Mrs. Egger accompanied them to Brownwood to visit their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Ketchum. Mrs. Egger said her mother was rather poorly.

Mrs. Edna Dwyer had as guests for dinner Thursday Mrs. Bean, Mrs. Burn, and Mrs. Briley. She was able to serve them fried spring chicken, green beans, new potatoes, and fresh beets, all her own raising. Mrs. Cecil Egger joined them after dinner. She came to give Mrs. Briley a permanent and to hear Mrs. Burn tell about her trip from Manila. Mrs. Burn said she was on the plane three days and two nights. They stopped at Guam, Wake, and Honolulu before reaching San Francisco. To have come by boat would have taken her a month, and the plane fare is very little more than the boat fare.

Mrs. Griffin says they went out to thin their huge crop of peaches, but found the trees were tending to that themselves. However, they think the orchard will retain a pretty good crop.

We were happy to have Mrs. J. E. Bean and Mrs. W. A. Burn attend Church here Sunday. After Church they and Mrs. Dwyer were guests at the Briley home.

As next Sunday is preaching day at Oakland, we will not meet here, but will attend Church at Oakland. The following Sunday, June 8, there will be preaching here. We urge you to come and be with us. Remember our radio program Sunday from 1:00 to 1:30 o'clock over Abilene 1470, San Angelo 970, and WBAP 570.

Since Orvel Egger has moved to Arkansas, Charm Whittenburg has succeeded him as Dewey Smith's partner in the well-drilling business.

One day last week Mrs. Dwyer was visited by Ralph Williams and Billie Wylie from Brownwood. Billie is one of a party of boys who were lost in the Camp Bowie Maneuver Area a few years ago. At that time the Cecil Eggers were living in the Dwyer house. The boys happened upon this place after wandering all night, lost and cold and hungry. Mrs. Egger fed them with country ham and hot biscuits, and Mr. Egger took them home. Billie, still grateful, was wanting to see Mrs. Egger again. Mrs. Dwyer directed them, and they paid Mrs. Egger a visit.

We have had good rains this past week. Everything is thriving, and we are basking in the luxury of perfect days.
