Barnett reported that a paving contractor from Waco had been to this city to check in to the matter of paving additional streets, either by the city proper, or, on a work project in which property owners and the city would share the costs.

Local School Board Meets In Special Session To Study Tax Equalization

By J. T. JONES
The school board met in a called meeting last Friday night to study plans of Tax Equalization. Two tax equalization firms had representatives meeting with the school board for the important consideration of securing employment in the situation.

H. P. Clemmons and B. T. Rucker of West Texas Appraisal & Valuation Company were both present and explained their work in such a move.

Also J. A. Tracy of Tracy Appraisal presented their plans before the board. Both firms work much on the same order and actually make a minute detail description of each piece of property within the district. When all property has been appraised at a fair and impartial figure, then it is assessed at such a rate as is necessary to provide the budgetary need of the school on an annual basis. The valuation survey remains a permanent record and the percentage of actual valuation could vary either up or down. Every person would be heard before a Board of Equalization each year that the rendered values of the property is changed. In case of a home being destroyed, that would be marked off the owner's rendition.

It was found that Tracy Appraisal company had served in other school districts not too far away. The board expects to visit these districts to secure first hand information on their work and find out how satisfactory it proved to the district.

It was definitely proved in the recent tax increase election, that the community and school district as a whole expects the equalization survey to be made and taxes on each piece of property be equalized according to the worth of the property. It is quite unfair for property of one person to be rendered at $1.50 per acre for taxation purposes and similar property of a neighbor to be rendered at $17.50 per acre.

It is hoped that the survey can be made and all property placed on the tax rolls for next year at comparable values to the usefulness of the property.

Mills County Has 157 Pint Quota For Bloodmobile Visit Here On May First

By BRIAN SMITH
Mills County has a quota of 157 pints of blood when the Bloodmobile visits Goldthwaite, May 1st, from 10:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. To reach the quota we must schedule more than 200 volunteer donors.

Miss Edith Covington of Pleasant Grove was the first recruitment chairman to make a report. She had recruited 11 donors and got additional cards to finish working the community.

You may give blood if you are in good health, weigh 110 pounds or more and are between 21 and 59 years of age. The blood you give may help a serviceman wounded in Korea, a child exposed to polio, a civilian hurt in an accident—undergoing surgery—or suffering from shock.

"Thanks, you saved my life!" You may never hear these words actually spoken. But when you give blood, you know you're giving life.

The National Blood quota for 1953 is substantially higher than it was last year. We must continue to supply whole blood to the Armed Forces; and to Civilian Hospitals; we must send increased amounts to the laboratories for processing into plasma and albumin for the Armed Service and National defense; we must make gamma globulin and other derivatives available on a vastly larger scale. Our success in meeting all of these blood needs—now and in the future—is in the hands of the American people. Your cooperation is needed to make blood available in man's constant fight for a healthier and happier world.

A list of questions, to be answered by the merchant, has been prepared in typewritten form which will be presented to each merchant as they are contacted. Some contact work will have been made by the time this announcement comes out in print and the committee stated that all contacts will be completed before the end of this week.

Merchants will be asked the following five questions:

- 1) Are you in favor of a dollar day once per month?
  - 2) If you are, what day do you prefer?
  - 3) Would you run specials for dollar day in the Eagle?
  - 4) Do you prefer a drawing on dollar day?
  - 5) Would you be willing to contribute approximately $2.00 per month for the drawing for the next six months?

GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

Beginning Monday of this week, America started to observe the ninth annual recognition of National Sunday School Week (April 13 through 19). Lasting the entire week, this all-faith drive is planned with an idea of stimulating the attendance of every adult and child at the Sunday School of his own choice on Sunday, April 19th.

Sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, a non-profit, non-sectarian organization consisting of men and women from civic as well as business fields, this worthy project is yearly highlighted throughout the entire country.

Laying foundations of faith through the training in religion for our little ones is all important if we as a nation are to survive in today's world of paganism and constant conflict. Our Sunday Schools are more than mere religious training institutions — they are a combination of the ministry and lay workers, a happy team, united in their selfless dedication to an ideal of an ever closer relation between man and God.

COURAGE AND SELF-DENIAL

Can the budget be balanced? Taxpayer's Dollar, a publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, recently analyzed the 1954 budget offered by the last Administration in some detail — and showed how a balance can be attained. Then it made this wise observation: "Balancing the budget will require courage on the part of the Administration and the Congress. And for us, the citizens, it may require self-denial on some of our pet projects. . . . But the pay-off will be lower taxes, a higher standard of living, and a healthier economy for the long cold war ahead."

What this means is that we must get rid of the attitude that government economy is fine for the other fellow — but that government should keep right on spending the people's tax money on unnecessary projects that happen to be of temporary benefit to us. The minor financial pains that cutting the cost of government will entail must be shared by all — just as the enormous, long-lasting benefits will be shared by all.

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Scramble for Senate Seats Thirty-Three Senators Face In '54 Already Under Way Re-election in Next Test

WASHINGTON—The razor-edge Republican "majority" in the Senate has GOP leaders already working feverishly on next year's elections. There are now 48 Republicans in the upper chamber of Congress, 47 Democrats and one "Independent."

In 1954, there will be 21 Democrats and 12 Republicans up for reelection and the GOP has high hopes of picking up some strength.

For that reason, four Democratic senators have been chosen as the top targets for Republican efforts. The GOP will concentrate on trying to beat Senators Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota; James E. Murray, Montana; Paul H. Douglas, Illinois, and J. Allen Frear, Delaware.

To oppose Humphrey, the GOP may send its popular Rep. Walter Judd; the Republican candidate against Murray is likely to be Rep. Wesley A. D'Ewart, and in Illinois, Gov. William G. Stratton may seek Douglas' seat. It is not known as yet who might go against Frear.

The Republicans also hope to defeat some southern Democrats, such as Senator Estes Kefauver, Tennessee, and Senator Robert Kerr, Oklahoma.

On the other hand, the Democrats will be going after some GOP scalps, particularly those of Senator Homer Ferguson, Michigan; Henry Dworshak, Idaho; John Sherman Cooper, Kentucky, and Leverett Saltonstall, Massachusetts.

Michigan's well-liked Democratic governor, G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, who is being groomed as a possible presidential candidate in 1960 or 1964, may try to unseat Ferguson.

PRICES—Price Director Joseph A. Freehill is backing down a little on the prediction he made in January that removal of price controls would cost consumers as much as three billion dollars a year.

There have been, of course, a number of price boosts on such items as cigarettes, milk, restaurant meals, auto repair services and the like. However, they don't add up to any figure approaching $3 billion and Freehill now says he does not anticipate a general steel price increase.

The price director believes that President Eisenhower's directive calling for an "orderly" end to the controls program has helped a lot. He explains: "This program of gradually ending controls has had the effect of persuading merchants not to get excited, and they are making plans calmly."

STEVENSON—Western friends of Adlai E. Stevenson are urging the defeated Democratic presidential candidate to settle in California and pursue his political career there.

Some of these well-wishers are suggesting that Stevenson might run as a Californian in 1956 for the Senate seat now held by Thomas H. Kuchel, who was appointed to replace Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Stevenson, former governor of Illinois, has said flatly that he would not enter the Senate race there against his good friend, Senator Paul Douglas.

The 1952 Democratic standard bearer is a native Californian. He was born in Los Angeles. He made a favorable impression on Golden Staters during his campaign appearances and he is said to have promised substantial support by party bigwigs should he decide to make California his scene of operations.

Temmie Sue Humphries has her troubles at present it seems. She has a notice appearing on the classified page wanting to find her lost dog. So if anyone has chance sees or knows anything about the whereabouts of her's light yellow, three footed half Cocker Spaniel, we are sure it will be appreciated by her if they will notify her as soon as possible, because she wrote to us as follows: "Please put this notice in your Eagle, as I wish to find my little dog."

A metropolitan newspaper has appearing on its editorial page the following quotation: "There is no hope for the satisfied man." In discussing the quotation the other day it was also printed out that a friend of ours recently said: "You know, when a person goes to the place where they DON'T WANT SOMETHING, it's too bad, for that is when that person will stop going forward." Mrs. Joe Bailey Karnes and her sister, Mrs. Alva Dalton, were listening intently about that time and Mrs. Karnes spoke up saying: "Well, if that is the case there must be plenty of hope for me, for my wants are varied and plenty to say the least, and, if you don't think so just ask my husband."

It's interesting to note how some folks take a special liking to a particular job or project and work at it unceasingly. Now take the case of Chester Frazier, for example. Did you ever see the time that Ches wasn't doing his bit toward promoting the Downtown Bible Class or the every other Friday night singing session which is sponsored by the group? I can say one thing, he surely doesn't pass an opportunity to invite friends, neighbors, and passers-by to come out and visit the class or to take part in the singing.

The Goldthwaite Eagle is a mighty fine county paper. I have been reading it ever since it started as the Mountaineer," said D. L. McNeill, of Mullin while visiting at the office the other day.

It was too good an opportunity to pass by without at least some comment, when, one day last week there appeared coming out of Harper Feed Store, Sammy, carrying one of those hundred pounders, sack of feed, with Nolan T. (Tiny) Miles following right behind him in a sort of tutoring way. Well, fact is he did open the car door for Sammy so he could unload as soon as possible. When we started to leave (Tiny) on his tutoring way, he said to the job he took it quite good naturedly and came back with this remark: "After all someone has to show the boys how to get the job done."

We came across a little write-up concerning typographical errors in newspapers and some statistics that were pointed out by the editor of a small town paper regarding the subject. While we haven't gone into the matter to that extent we do feel it interesting to pass along to our readers, so here it is: "Concerning Typographical Errors—The editor of a small town newspaper, when taken to task because of an error in his paper, came up with this answer: 'Yes, we know there were some errors in last week's paper. We will further agree that there were some errors in the issue of the week before. But before bawling us out too unmercifully about it, we want to call your attention to these facts—In an ordinary newspaper column there are 10,000 letters and there are seven possible wrong positions for each letter, making 70,000 chances to make errors and several million chances for transposition."

There are 48 columns in this paper, (84 columns in the Eagle) so you can readily see the chances for mistakes. Did you know that in the sentence 'To be or not to be' the transposition alone, 2,750,000 errors can be made? Now aren't you sorry you got mad about that little mistake last week? Sometime when we get caught up with our work and play we may be inclined to sit down and try to figure this thing out to see if the editor in question was correct in his calculations.

Leave it to V. C. Bradford to get things figured out for me and effort on the part of the (bluehead—) and mind you that is the way it ought to be. Brad related to friends how he has been blessed this spring with about thirty orphaned KIDS on his ranch east of town. He stated: "To begin with I started to feed them by bottle, since goats are a pretty price these days, I thought that would be worth trying to use. The job got too complicated and time consuming and I manufactured a job with outlets around the bottom with a nipple on each outlet and I feed eight KIDS at a time and boy do they go to town around that can."

Prayer is the peace of our spirit, the stillness of our thoughts, the evenness of our collection, the seat of meditation, the rest of our cares, and the calm of our temper. Prayer is the issue of a quiet mind, of untroubled thought, it is the daughter of charity and the sister of meekness. —(Jeremy Taylor)

Appetizing Jiffy Breads
By ALICE DENHOFF

Garlic or cheese bread, piping hot, is a reputation-maker for many a restaurant, and could be for the homemaker, too. So surprise the family with Parmesan French Bread or Garlic-Cheese French Bread.

For the Parmesan Bread, cut a one-pound loaf of French or Vienna bread diagonally, almost through to bottom crust, in slices about 1 1/2 inches apart. Spread 1/4 c. soft butter between slices. Sprinkle 1/4 c. grated Parmesan type cheese between buttered slices. Place on cookie sheet and heat in 350° F. oven for 12 minutes. Makes 10 servings.

Garlic-Cheese Bread
For 12 slices of Garlic-Cheese Bread, cut a one-pound French or Vienna bread as described above. Combine 2 (3-oz.) packages cream cheese, 2 tsp. milk, 2 tsp. garlic salt and 1/2 tsp. prepared horseradish. Spread mixture between slices. Wrap loaf in aluminum foil. Heat at 350° F. for 15 minutes until piping hot and crunchy.

For still another version of tasty jiffy breads, cut 2 (5-oz.) loaves brown-and-serve French bread diagonally, almost through to bottom crust, in slices about one inch apart. Combine 1/4 c. soft butter, 1 1/2 tsp. mayonnaise or salad dressing and 1/2 c.

grated Parmesan cheese. Spread top, cheese mixture between each bread slice. Place on cookie sheet and bake at 400° F. for 12 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 10 servings (2 slices each).

Cinnamon Toast Sticks
A nice escort for midmorning coffee or afternoon tea is a batch of delicious Cinnamon Toast Sticks.

To prepare, remove crusts from slices of bread and brush down both side of the slices with melted butter. Cut each slice into 6 strips of equal size, and roll them in a mixture of cinnamon and sugar. Arrange on cookie sheet and bake at 350° F. until crisp. Nice with fruit salad, too!

Here's a trick cookie dessert that should do well at a children's party.

Crush pink peppermint candy sticks and fold into whipped cream. Spread the mixture on thin, crisp chocolate cookies. Stack 3 or 4 chocolate cookies on top of each other, with the whipped cream mixture between. Place on cookie sheet and chill in refrigerator for at least 3 hours. At serving time, more whipped cream may be spooned on and grated chocolate or crushed peppermint candy sprinkled over each stack.

With an Electric Home Freezer You Do Both — AND Eat Better

The garden you grow this spring will be put to its fullest use when you have an electric home freezer to preserve your fruits and vegetables. By freezing foods when they are plentiful, you can serve them all year long — as fresh as the day you picked them.

You also save time in the preservation of surplus fruits and vegetables. Freezing takes fewer steps than old-fashioned methods of canning or preserving. You save time in food preparation, too. Frozen foods are easy to prepare — and so good to taste.

If you haven't used an electric home freezer, you'll be surprised at the money you'll save on food costs. In fact, you can save enough to pay for the freezer.

Spell petrochemical the easy way...

P-R-O-G-R-E-S-S

Progress in finding and producing oil is an old story to the oil country. Nearly everybody has heard about the oil industry's day-to-day miracles in exploration and production.

Now we all have a new series of miracles to wonder at—the transformation of petroleum hydrocarbons into chemical products of astonishing variety. These chemicals from petroleum have even added a new word to the American vocabulary—petrochemical.

Progress in the field has been amazing. The capital investment in new industries based on the petrochemicals has mounted to hundreds of millions. The new plants have created thousands of new jobs. And petrochemicals, as an industry, have provided a wider, a more complete, use of the country's oil resources.

Butadiene and butyl for synthetic rubber, toluene for TNT, solvents, aldehydes, and many other petrochemicals—even alcohols—are now produced in oil refineries. For example, the Humble Company, at its Baytown, Texas, refinery, is building facilities to manufacture paraxylene, the raw material for the new fabric called dacron.

The day may come, and very quickly, when you can be clothed from tip to toe in synthetic fabrics derived from petroleum; when petrochemicals provide the rubber for your tires, the plastics for your car's interior fittings, the fabric for the seat covers, the vehicle for body paint and polish.

The petrochemicals spell progress... progress to which the oil industry contributes research, capital, manufacturing facilities and, most importantly, an enterprising spirit.

Paul's Conversion at Damascus

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Acts 7:58—8:3; 9:1-30; 22:1-21; Galatians 1:1; Philippians 3:1-6.

The first Christian martyr was Stephen whom the people cast out of Jerusalem and stoned to death. Saul, a young Pharisee, while throwing no stones himself, gave his consent to Stephen's death, and permitted those who killed him to lay their clothes at his feet.

Bent on persecuting Christians, Saul started for Damascus, but on the way a brilliant light blinded him so that he fell from his horse, and he saw Jesus who asked why Saul was persecuting Him? Saul's companions led him to Damascus, as Jesus had directed.

A certain disciple of Damascus, Ananias, was told by God to seek out Saul and to restore his sight. Ananias found Saul, put his hands on him, saying, "Brother Saul, the Lord Jesus hath sent me," and Saul's sight was immediately restored, and he stayed with the disciples.

In Jerusalem Saul was seized by Asiatic Jews who would have killed him, but a Roman captain saved him and took him to the castle. On the stairs Saul talked to his enemies, but they said, "Away with such a fellow."

MEMORY VERSE—Philippians 3:8.

High School Seniors Are Urged To Consider Printing Trade Advantages

High school seniors throughout Texas and the Southwest this May and June are being urged to consider the career opportunities open to trained printers in the Southwest.

"The continuing industrial growth of this section of the nation has created new and greater demands for printing—demands which can be met only if the printing industry has the trained craftsmen we need," says Pat Taggart, business manager of the Waco, Texas, News-Tribune, and president of the Southwest School of Printing in Dallas.

"Naturally, as the need for printers has increased, there are more and more opportunities open for young men who have been thoroughly trained in the fundamentals of the craft," Taggart declared.

The Southwest School of Printing, of which Taggart currently is president, is the only school of its kind in the Southwestern United States.

The School is a non-profit institution representing an investment of nearly $250,000 and is owned by the daily and weekly newspapers and commercial printing establishments throughout the Southwest. The large, well-equipped school plant is located on the southwestern edge of Dallas.

"The sole purpose of the Southwest School of Printing is to train young men for profitable careers in the graphic arts industry," Taggart explained.

In the 16-month course offered by the printing school, trainees are taught the fundamentals of hand composition, presswork and machine composition. In addition, each student attends a daily class in what the School's General Manager, Robert L. Gleason terms "printer's English." Here students are taught English usage which a competent printer must know.

"The entire curriculum of the Southwest School of Printing is designed to achieve the sole purpose of training men so that they may become skilled craftsmen more quickly and economically," Gleason emphasized.

"Graduates of the School are not considered finished printers, but are recognized throughout the Southwest as men with solid, on-the-job practical training in the fundamentals of the craft."

Job opportunities for graduates of the School exceed the number of graduates "three or four to one," the General Manager reported.

News Of The Ebony Community

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Despite our good rain in March, drouth still harrasses us. Grass is good, and cattle are fat. And everywhere wild flowers bloom. Along the road to town I could see through the trees a purple sea of wild verbenas. And oh, the ecstasy to come upon a host of bluebonnets! They throng our creek on either side, and in the Hosesy field I found a field of blue. It is the time of roses, and pansies and sweet peas bloom. And oh, the blossoming petunias! They come up of themselves and ask no care. They bloom undaunted, profuse and beautiful.

We are enjoying fresh English peas and fried spring chicken. And last week Mrs. Charles Griffin brought us honey fresh from the hive. We haven't milked since last fall, but now old Buttercup is fresh. I guess we'll be having plenty of milk and butter soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Griffin of Brownwood were at the Griffin home for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Egger had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Egger Sunday after Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Egger, who went to Bentonville, Ark. over the Easter weekend, got home Monday morning just ten minutes before time for Mrs. Egger to start with the Mullin school bus. Though they had traveled all night Sunday night, she took the bus and went right on. They also traveled all night Friday night. It rained all the time they were there, and it rained on them all the way to Denton coming home.

A letter from the Bill Beliches last week said Bill had been made manager of a Western Auto Store in El Paso. And Billy declares he loves Granddad and Cranny better than any body else in the world.

As we passed the mailbox going to town Friday, we got a letter from our good friend, Mrs. Nan Edmiston Keahey, of Bluff Dale saying that she and her foster son, Thomas Harris, might visit us next week. I mailed her a card from Brownwood, and she got it that evening. Saturday afternoon they surprised me.

Mrs. Edna Dwyer had us go home with her from church. Mrs. Keahey had taught out here in 1904-1905. We stopped by to see Mrs. Effie Egger. She had been "Miss Nan's" pupil. The Whittenburgs had been fishing. As we passed there, Clint brought out a four pound fish for us to have for dinner. While we were still at the dinner table, Mrs. Effie Egger came, looking as fresh as a daisy. We let the dishes wait while we enjoyed a delightful talkfest. "Miss Nan" and Thomas decided they must go home, so we had to break up the party. But at the urgent request of Mrs. Keahey, Mrs. Egger said sometime when Clayton could be here to take us, we would all go to Bluff Dale to spend the day with "Miss Nan."

We came around by the Taylor Duncans that Nan might see the old Wilmeth place. One summer long ago when she visited us there, she and my niece, Nell Millar, of San Angelo were in the buggy down in the river bottom. Our city cousin, unfamiliar with horses, pulled the bridle off the horse that he might eat. The horse promptly ran away. Nan and Nell were thrown out of the buggy. Nell had to walk on crutches for awhile, and Nan still has a crooked arm from the broken arm she got.

"I'll come back tomorrow. I really cooled off too much waiting in this long line."

THE BEARDED SILVER POLISH (FOWLS) DID NOT ORIGINATE IN POLAND, BUT IN ITALY.

WHAT IS AN EXCELLENT SOURCE OF VITAMIN C? FRESH CABBAGE.

State Health Department Says With Spring Comes Picnic Time— And Ticks

Austin, (Spec.)— The trouble with spring is that it is the season when most people's thoughts turn naturally to picnics and exploratory sojourns into the great outdoors. At this time of year, such a turn of mind could, unless care is taken, mean exposure to the fever-laden bite of a tick with a big name.

In scientific circles, one of these pernicious little parasites goes by the name of Ornithodoros turicata. He feeds so quickly before releasing his hold and dropping off that most of his victims never know they have provided him with a blood meal.

He belongs to the soft-shelled tick family, and is the most important transmitting agent of relapsing fever, a tropical disease well-known in Texas.

Technical workers in the Bureau of Laboratories at the State Department of Health go into all sections of the state searching for these little disease bearers, gathering specimens from their natural habitat.

State Health Department laboratory specialists have added many refinements to diagnostic technics relating to relapsing fever. The strange disease occurs all over the world, despite its being classified as a tropical disease. It has been endemic in Venezuela for many years and has become all too prevalent in the United States in recent years.

There is as yet no serum known to be effective against relapsing fever. While it usually can be successfully treated when identified, its diagnosis is often difficult. Many cases run their full course without the miserable victims ever knowing what caused their distress.

Soft-shelled ticks usually inhabit caves and old abandoned buildings, while their hard-shelled counterparts stick to the woods and fields.

And so wherever you go on that picnic, or whatever you do to commune with nature, have fun — but be careful of those ticks.

Governor Allan Shivers is shown preparing to sign an official memorandum proclaiming Texas Fine Arts Week April 18-26 and calling attention to the Fine Arts Festival to be held in Austin during that period. At right is Charles Umlauf, of the University of Texas Art Department and a member of the Texas Fine Arts Association's Executive Committee, with his sculpture of a young steer modeled in Texas clay which will be an entry in the general exhibition at the Festival. On the left is Mrs. Albert Fish, a member of the TFFA executive committee. The Fine Arts Festival, to be held in Austin's City Coliseum, will include an exhibit of a million-dollar collection of "Old Master" pictures, on loan from New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art. These 20 renowned paintings will be shown in Texas for the first time. Mrs. Fish is chairman of the Metropolitan exhibit. Besides the old Masters, the Festival includes the work of important American painters, a contemporary Swiss architectural show, and a presentation of the work of professional and amateur Texas artists and craftsmen, as well as public school art from primary and secondary schools throughout the State. School children attending the Festival in groups will be admitted free. Tickets for adults will be $1.20 and admission for children not in class groups will be 45 cents.

P-T-A Meeting Last Wednesday

The Goldthwaite P-T-A met in regular session Wednesday, April 8th., at 3:30 p. m., in the grammar school auditorium, with Mrs. Jim Weatherby, President, presiding.

Mrs. Oran Carothers, Program Chairman, introduced E. B. Gilliam, Jr., the guest speaker, whose subject for discussion was "The World On Our Hearthstone." His message was very instructive. Two very interesting points brought out in his message were, we are only thirty-six hours from any place in the world, and that three-fourths of the population of the world are of a colored race.

All P-T-A members were asked to save Admiration coffee coupons for the F. H. A. girls. The 11th. grade won the room count by having the most mothers present.

PARENT PROBLEMS

What Does Education Offer?

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.
 SOME bright youths whose parents could afford to send them to college don't choose to go. Others have parents who would rather build up a material inheritance for their children than provide them with an opportunity for a higher education; or would rather see their children take jobs at once and earn money even if they spend it all for pleasure.
 Many a bright youth, of course, needs no encouragement to quit school. He is lured by a car, finer clothes or other luxuries he might earn.
 But many a bright youth, alas, can't go to college for want of money; and the number is far greater than most of us suppose. Recently, I heard Prof. Paul Witty of Northwestern University say that half the gifted children of the United States never go to college and half of those who do go don't finish.
Teachers' View
 A high school girl writes: "Dear Dr. Myers: Our teachers say that not everyone should go to college. My mother maintains that a year or two away from home at college helps a child to grow up under guidance, to mature; that college is a worthwhile experience and that nothing compares in value to higher learning, provided one is mentally and physically able. She says that the experience will help one to live a happier life because his horizons are broadened. What is your view on this matter?"

 In part, I replied: Your mother is wise and right, and what you heard your teachers say may also be right. They probably mean that not everyone has the mental ability or preparation at book learning or study habits to profit from going to college. It would be hard to believe that any teacher would discourage further effort at getting more education by any youth who had the mentality, zeal and stuff of character to do so.
Always Rewarding
 Whether we run a lathe, drive a tractor, do housework or anything else of a manual nature, it can be satisfying to us to have something to think about; and as our hours of leisure grow, what we have in our heads can make these hours more meaningful to us.
 I wish your mother had added "broader usefulness" to the happiness reward from higher education. The more a person knows, all else being equal, the more he can help others to strive toward higher levels of attainments, provided, of course, that this person has appreciation of other persons with less education than his own.
 No one physically and mentally able needs to stop learning from books even if he can't go to college. Practically everybody can keep on being a student.

Mrs. Pete Smith, Mrs. George Fletcher, and Mrs. Fowler White attended the Parent-Teacher Association Convention in Cisco last Thursday.

"CANCER CAN BE CURED"—Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey hears from Steve R. Wilhelm, left, during Texas Cancer Crusade kick-off ceremonies at the State Capitol. Mr. Wilhelm, Houston radio and advertising executive, told how cancer caused him to lose his voice in 1949. He has since learned how to speak without vocal chords. "Supporting the American Cancer Society, during its April Cancer Crusade, will help to save lives, and may include your own," he said.

Victory Sunday School Class Has Fish Fry

Members of the men's Victory Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church entertained their families and a number of guests with a fish fry on Thursday night of last week. The gathering was held at the riverside camp of Mr. and Mrs. Delton (Puny) Barnett.

There were eighty-eight persons served during the dinner hour which consumed sixty pounds of fish, forty pounds of french fries, four gallons of potato salad and a multitude of other trimmings which left their effects with some of the brethren throughout the next day.

Arrangements for securing the fish and preparing the dinner were taken care of by members of the class who served as hosts to their families and guests.

LONE STAR Agriculture

Released by The Texas Department of Agriculture.

By John C. White, Commissioner

KNOW YOUR NURSERYMAN

How many times have you purchased nursery stock from a mail order house or roadside stand only to find out later that the plants were inferior or misrepresented?

It happens all too frequently. Many times the plants fail to grow at all. If they do, the gardener may discover he has a weak, multiflora hedge rose instead of the American Beauty he was expecting—or perhaps a tree crippled with disease when he was entitled to healthy stock for the price paid.

For many years legitimate nurserymen have suffered the consequences of these actions by unscrupulous operators. Reliable local dealers and out-of-state houses are eager and willing to cooperate with Texas officials in wiping out the fly-by-night firms which abuse the public trust.

One of the duties of the Texas Department of Agriculture of which few people are aware is the inspection and certification of nurseries operating within the state. The department also checks with similar agencies in states from which dealers want to ship plants into Texas. When the firms and their nursery stock meet state specifications, a certificate is issued.

There are nearly 6,000 state inspected nursery firms operating within Texas. Each one has been issued a license which certifies that the stock on hand is apparently free of disease or harmful insects. Each nursery is spot-checked periodically to make certain a high standard is maintained.

Every person who sells plants, or exposes plants for the purpose of sale—whether in the field, off a truck, or in a business house—is required by the Texas Orchard & Nursery Inspection Law to secure a license. The buyer who desires good stock should make certain that he is doing business with a legally operating state licensed firm or individual. It may save disappointment later.

When you have reason to believe the nursery stock you bought is inferior, diseased or misrepresented, it should be reported at once. Contact the official nursery inspector located nearest your home.
