Local Group Attends Harber Day At Howard Payne College Tuesday

BY CHARLES HAENISCH

A group of approximately 150 farmers, ranchers and business and professional men heard Clinton Harber, cooperarator of the Payette-Bastrop Soil Conservation District, explain how the use of legumes has enabled him to convert his near worn out land into a productive farm.

Harber, 1954 winner of the $10,000 Hoblitzelle Award, was the main speaker at "Harbers Day" held on the Howard Payne College campus in Brownwood last Tuesday. Clinton's coming to Brownwood was sponsored by the Agricultural Department of Howard Payne College, Citizens National Bank of Brownwood and the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District.

Conservation slides of Harber's farming operations were shown to the group. Harber then explained how legumes had been the answer to his problem of low production.

From the use of legumes, Harber found that his soil had increased in weight from 135 pounds to 86 per cubic foot giving more air space and water holding capacity to the soil. Harber says that we must get more water into the soil to make a crop. By the use of legumes he has increased the water intake of his soil about eight times.

Declaration Of Independence Protested "Government Of Men"

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 179 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation; . . . For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses; . . . For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our government; . . ."

Our courts day by day guard these rights for us. Mrs. Jess Whitley of Big Spring, arrived last week from Edinburg where she had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Dellis and Mr. Dellis. She will visit her daughter, Mrs. Lee Watson and Mr. Watson here for several days before returning home.

CHURCHILL, JR.—OF DETROIT

VIC'S . . . SOLILOQUY

"God bless my Daddy and keep him for me." With these words, a two-year-old blind daughter of a First Armored Division Sergeant, of Fort Hood, ended the nomination of her father in Killeen's "Top Pop" contest.

German war bride, and daughter had nominated him. . . but he found out pretty quickly. The complete text of the entry was: "I am blind. My Daddy helps me a lot to see things my way. He fixes toys for me, tells me stories before I go to bed, and he loves me dearly. I pray every night 'God bless my Daddy and keep him for me.'"

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Reed of Browns Creek, on June 28, Mr. Albert E. Witting of Bisbee, Arizona, and Miss Willie May Reed were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Elder Hays.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Ellen, there's something I've been wanting to ask you all evening long. Did you bring any money with you?"

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

FCC Chairman Rebuked By Demo Leader Butler Other Federal Agencies May Come Under Fire

Special to Central Press WASHINGTON—Look for an increase in Democratic sniping at such federal regulatory agencies as the Federal Communications commission as the big political year of 1956 draws closer. These agencies are now run, of course, by President Eisenhower's appointees and Democrats will charge they are no longer bipartisan or quasi-judicial.

For instance, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler recently complained about remarks made by FCC Chairman George C. McConaughy. Butler quoted McConaughy as urging members of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters at their annual convention to "bend every effort to have President Eisenhower address you for the next succeeding five years."

The Democratic chairman then pointed out that the broadcasters "cannot stay in business without the licenses granted by the commission Mr. McConaughy heads." Butler complained that the FCC "bypassed the recommendations of its own examiners and denied new TV licenses to two 'prominent people' who supported Adlai E. Stevenson for the presidency in 1952."

GREAT DEBATE—There apparently is a bit of confusion in official Washington as to the administration's policy on exporting American farm surpluses. It seemed as if Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson had killed off any thought of trading surpluses with the Communist bloc when he said several weeks ago that he didn't see any possibility of conditions developing to the point where such trade would be advisable.

However, shortly after Benson's statement, a lesser Commerce department official told a congressional committee that the matter was still under consideration at the policy-making level. Some confusion is probably understandable since there are so many interests to be reconciled.

The deciding factor in the case of exporting to the free world probably will be whether any large deliveries of surpluses can be made overseas without severely damaging the economies of other friendly countries.

The State department is firmly against doing anything that would hurt any of this country's allies, many of whom are economically dependent on agricultural exports. However, the administration is facing some congressional pressure to increase exports of United States farm surpluses.

Some officials, but certainly not all, evidently feel that selling a limited amount of agricultural exports behind the Iron Curtain might be an answer.

ELECTION TIPS—Members of a Senate subcommittee considering election law reforms picked up some possible tips on how to get themselves re-elected recently.

Samuel Lubell, a political analyst, testified that he has asked many people in various parts of the country what led them to vote as they did in congressional elections.

Lubell said some told him they voted for a certain congressman because he gave them a shopping bag. He also said another answer he got was "I voted for this man because I got a letter from him once."

The witness said that members of the House have a harder time getting their names known to the public than senators but sometimes voters do not know the names of senatorial candidates. In any event, he concluded, the "ins" have a somewhat easier time than those who are merely trying "to get in" because their names are usually better known.

This lamp is burning the "DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END" of gasoline which GULF refines out

This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the clean-burning super-fuel

Remember this picture? This is Gulf's famous burner demonstration—proof of what a difference Gulf super-refining makes. Notice that Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline . . . instead of fighting it, inside your engine, with so-called "miracle additives." That's why new, clean-burning Gulf NO-NOX can promise you not just highest octane, but full working octane.

because it's super-refined to burn clean

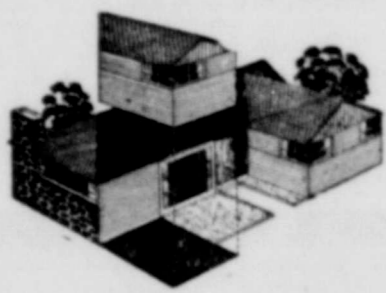

No gasoline, no matter how high the octane, can keep on giving you full power from your engine unless it burns clean.

That's why New Gulf NO-NOX is your best gasoline buy. In making new NO-NOX, Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline, the No. 1 troublemaker in today's high-compression engines.

As a result, you get a clean-burning gasoline that gives you:

- More complete engine protection than you get with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines
- Extra gasoline mileage in the kind of short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most
- Freedom from vapor lock, stalling and stumbling in hot-weather driving
- No knock, no surface pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines

FARM PRICE - COST SQUEEZE

Texas farmers, plagued by a continuous downward trend in farm prices, are being confronted with still another economic obstacle; higher production costs.

Misleading reports of stabilizing farm prices fail to justify inevitable increases in farm equipment prices brought about by higher city wages and higher manufacturing costs.

Farm prices do, of course, show signs of more steadiness, but with present prices running about five percent below those of a year ago and higher costs on new horizon, any gain the farmer might expect to make is rapidly being cancelled out.

Some of this added cost can be avoided by careful spending and planning equipment purchases and on-farm construction ahead of time. Increased steel prices are bound to signify higher costs for finished farm equipment—probably by fall.

Thus, our farmers might do well to plan purchases now of plows and other heavy machinery, building materials, wire, fencing, and like products which may be subjected to increases later in the year.

An anticipated congressional boost in the national minimum wage might turn out to be a paradox to the farmer, who will probably notice an increased demand for his products on one hand and higher prices for things he must buy on the other.

This further tightening of the farm price-cost squeeze will not be comfortably relaxed until we are assured of fair parity prices to give the farmer a return for his commodities in proportion to his costs for equipment and production.

Plentiful Foods Listed For July

COLLEGE STATION, (Spec.)—Potatoes and ice cream are headliners on the USDA's plentiful foods list for July.

"In checking food stocks in this area to determine what should be on the plentiful list, we found supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables larger than any time since last fall," says John J. Slaughter, field supervisor, Agricultural Marketing Service.

They include limes, lemons, watermelons, cantaloups, tomatoes, green beans, cabbage, lettuce, beets and sweet corn.

Also, canned and frozen lemon and lime juice, small size dried prunes and pinto beans are in good supply.

Beef, frozen halibut, broilers and fryers are the only meats on the July plentiful food list.

Milk and related dairy products as well as rice, lard, vegetable fats and oils continue plentiful.

Hillside Mission

By LIDA BYRNE

The past cannot be brought back; we should take the present to task and look well to it, and as for the future our Lord Jesus Christ said: "Take therefore no thought for the morrow; for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." St. Matthew 6:34.

See that fine fat mountain yonder? You can iron it out, flat as a flounder... and easy as whistling! Just point one of Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners at it (either the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" or the 180-h.p. "Super Turbo-Fire")... and pull the trigger! Barr-r-r-o-o-o-O-OOM! Mister, you got you a flat mountain! ... At least it feels flat. For here are engines that sing as sweetly as a dynamo... built to pour out a torrent of pure, vibrationless power. Big-bore V8's with the shortest stroke in the industry. So most of the time they loaf. Even at the speed limit they just dream along, purring out a fraction of their strength. An engineer can understand why they are so hyper-efficient. But you don't have to be an engineer to know that these are the sweetest running V8's you ever piloted. Just come in and try one out!

Ezekiel and The Earlier Captivity ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—II Kings 24:1-16; 25:27-30; Ezekiel 1:1-3; 2:1-4; 3:11-15; 11:14-20; 18:30-32.

In the reign of Jehoiachin, king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, besieged the city of Jerusalem. The king himself came to Jerusalem, and Jehoiachin, his mother, his wives and all his princes went out to meet him.

Nebuchadnezzar carried the king, his mother, the princes and all the able workmen to Babylon in captivity. He also carried away all the treasures of the house of Jehovah which Solomon had placed in the temple.

After 37 years as prisoner, Evilmerodach (or Merodach), Nebuchadnezzar's successor, visited Jehoiachin in prison, and spoke kindly to him. He restored his rank, admitted him to the royal table, and gave him an allowance.

Ezekiel had visions from God, telling him to go to his captive people and tell them that if they would keep His statutes, he would finally restore them to their homeland.

MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 46:1.

News About Social Security

Monthly payments to beneficiaries now on the rolls may be increased through the "drop-out" provision of the 1954 amended social security law. However, James B. Marley, district manager of the Austin district office explained that these individuals must meet certain additional earnings requirements.

To qualify, an individual must have six quarters of coverage (about 1 1/2 years of work) after June 1953. A quarter of coverage is any calendar quarter in which the individual is paid at least $50 in wages or can be credited with $100 or more of self-employment income.

Millions of beneficiaries received automatic increases in their benefit for the month of September 1954. Many of those who meet the above requirement may qualify for a still higher benefit. However, it is necessary that they file an application for a drop-out recomputation. This type of an increase is not automatic.

Monthly benefits under social security are computed on average monthly earnings. Consequently, any year of low or no earnings under Social Security will result in a lower benefit. The drop-out provision of the amended law provides that as many as four or five years may be dropped only when the individual has 20 quarters (about five years of work) under Social Security.

Misses Nell and Linda Langford of Corpus Christi are spending their vacation with their grandmother, Mrs. Hubert Geeslin, Mr. Geeslin and other relatives.

Entry Blanks Are Now Available For 1955-56 Miss Wool Contest

San Angelo, (Spec.)— Beauty and talent will be the visa for some Texas girl's visit in 1955-56 to fame and the glamour centers of America.

It's the annual Miss Wool contest sponsored jointly by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association and the San Angelo Chamber of Commerce Board of City Development. Girls between 18 and 25 are qualified to enter the contest.

"Miss Wool" will be selected queen of the U. S. wool industry during Wool Fiesta Week in San Angelo, August 31 to September 3. Coronation ceremonies will highlight this annual event sponsored by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. Requests for contest entry blanks should be addressed to Miss Wool, Box 712, San Angelo, Texas, and all applications must be returned postmarked no later than midnight, July 31.

"Miss Wool" will be awarded a $4,000 all-wool wardrobe plus expense-paid tours of the style centers of America as goodwill ambassador of the wool industry. She will be spotlighted at conventions, on state and national radio and television shows and will model at some of the nation's top fashion shows.

Contest officials point out that talent is equally important with beauty for a candidate to win. Finalists must each give a short talk on wool, its properties and advantages over other fibers and to answer general questions on wool. Data on the subject, however, will be furnished contestants before they are required to make the presentation.

In addition to age limitations, Miss Wool candidates must wear a size 12 garment and never have been married. She must be at least 5 feet, 6 inches tall, without shoes; and agree to model before an audience the garments, accessories and hats selected for use by the finalists.

Mrs. Hill, mother of Mrs. Everitt Holland and who makes her home with her daughter, has been visiting relatives in Winters for the past few weeks.

Brady Plays Host To Central Texas July 4th., Jubilee

BRADY, (Spec.)— The dates for Brady's 28th annual July Jubilee and Race Meet have been set for Saturday, Sunday and Monday, July 2-3-4. However, the big show will officially open Friday night July 1 with the colorful Queen's Coronation in front of the big grandstand at the race track. Following the coronation, the Queen's Ball will be held at Brady's new and spacious Armory.

The following day, Saturday at 10 a. m., a big mammoth street parade will be staged in downtown Brady. Some fifty commercial floats have already been entered in the Parade, Chairman Jim Harkrider stated.

Six running races will be staged each afternoon at Jubilee Downs. The historic one-mile Brady Derby will be held as usual the last day of the races.

Between the horse races each afternoon will be the cowgirls' open jack pot barrel races with $100 added money. Feature attractions during the Jubilee will be Bill Hames' new shows and rides. Hames will open his show Thursday, June 30, and run through Monday, July 4.

Jubilee General Manager John Sorell has been working night and day, preparing for the big celebration. He said yesterday, "Brady, the Heart o' Texas, extends a most cordial invitation to everyone to join us for three days and night of fun and relaxation."

PRIMER FOR AMERICANS

You live in the United States of America. You are an American.

Real Americans like their country. They are proud of it. They think it is a good place to live. And they want to keep it good—to keep it getting better all the time.

Why is America the way it is? What makes it a good place to live? The answer is simply this:

Throughout our history most Americans have believed that every person has certain rights and duties and responsibilities.

Americans have believed that there are certain things people should do, and things they should not do. They have also believed in certain things that people are, and are not.

These things that people believe are called principles. This book is an attempt to state the Principles of America in simple, primer fashion so that you can understand them, learn them, and remember them.

This is important. It was because earlier Americans believed in these principles and guided their lives by them, that America has grown to be the good place it is.

If all of us learn and remember these principles—if we also guide our lives by them—then we can help to keep America growing better, and better, and better.

And if we follow these Principles of America, we can help make the world a better place to live in, too.

The Principles of America are these . . .

- 1. Each Person is of Importance and Value as an Individual. This is the cornerstone . . . the foundation of all our other beliefs in a person's right to live his own life, to speak for himself, to choose and change his leaders. From it comes our hatred of those "isms" under which the individual has no value or importance as a person, but is only one of many unimportant people who have to live the way their leaders tell them to. Coming directly from that first principle are two others that are also part of the foundation of Americanism. 2. We Believe that All Men should Enjoy Personal Freedom. 3. We Believe that All Men are Created Equal. It is worth noting that the Declaration of Independence expressed the belief that "all men are created equal." It did not state or imply a belief that men develop equally or have equal ability, or that they should ever be forced to an exact equality of thought, speech or material possessions. That would be equality without freedom. Americans have always believed the two should go together. In our Constitution, and in other laws of our land, there are set down principles to protect the rights and freedoms and equality of individuals. 4. The Right to Freedom of Speech. This includes freedom of the press, of radio, of motion pictures, of every means by which man may express his thoughts. 5. The Right to Freedom of Assembly. As we believe in the right of individual action, so we believe that individuals should be free to act together. 6. The Right to Freedom of Worship. Not only is the individual free to worship as he will, but religions themselves are free and equal. 7. The Right to Security of Person and Property. Not just one, but three Amendments to the Constitution (4th, 5th and 14th) protect against illegal search and seizure, or loss of life, liberty, or property, without "due process of law." 8. The Right to Equal Protection before the Law. As individuals are equally important, so laws must apply equally to all, without special privileges for any group. 9. The Right to Freedom from Slavery. This includes "the right to quit," for no individual may be forced to work for another. 10. The Right to Petition the Government. The right of the individual to "petition the government for redress of grievances" is evidence of the American belief that government is the servant, not the master, of the people. 11. The Right to Vote for people of your choice. This is the individual's most potent weapon in the protection of his rights and freedoms . . . a weapon that to be effective must be constantly and wisely used. Other Principles hold that every man has . . . 12. The Right to a Good Education. 13. The Right to Live where he pleases. 14. The Right to Work where he wants to. 15. The Right to Belong to an Organization. 16. The Right to Own Property. 17. The Right to Start his Own Business.

- 18. The Right to Manage his Own Affairs. 19. The Right to Make a Profit or to Fail, depending on his Own Ability. There are other, similar rights of individual action which are Principles of America, but all of these individual rights may be combined in these two broad principles . . . 20. Every Man is entitled to Freedom and Equality of Opportunity. 21. Every Man may Earn his Living When, Where, and How he wants to. There are also Limiting Principles . . . Principles of individual freedom sometimes clash with those of individual equality. Therefore our rights as individuals must be limited, and those limitations are themselves principles. 22. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with those of Other Individuals. Your right to swing your arms stops where the other fellow's nose starts. 23. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with the Welfare of the People. Freedom of speech does not give the individual the right to shout "fire" in a crowded theatre. 24. Every Individual owes Obedience to the Laws under which he Lives. The individual has the right to talk against a law, to work and vote to change that law, but NOT to disobey that law. Principles that are Patterns of Behavior . . . Many of our principles of individual freedom and equality are guaranteed to us by law. But we have other beliefs, other general rules of action and conduct that have grown to the status of principles. And these too, are foundations of Americanism. 25. A Man shall be Judged by his Own Record. A man's family background, his race or his religion, is not as important as what that man himself can do, for Americans believe a man must stand on his own feet. 26. A Man is Free to Achieve as much as he can. We believe that where any boy may become President, where any man may achieve greatness, there is the greatest incentive for every man to do his best. 27. To Achieve anything, a Man should be Willing to Work. Americans have always known that "you don't get something for nothing," that to get anything takes a willingness to work. 28. Achievement also Depends upon the Ability to do a Good Job. Add to "willingness to work" the ability to produce results and the combination is the basis for most individual achievement in our country. 29. Every Man has the Right to a Fair Share of the Results of his Work and his Ability. Because of this belief, America has not only produced more goods, but they have been more fairly and more widely shared by more people than in any other country. 30. Security is the Ability of a Man to Provide for himself. The only true security for any individual is the opportunity, the ability, and the determination to work and plan and save for his own present and future. Self-reliance is vital to individual independence and personal freedom. No man can be "proud and free" who depends on others for his security. 31. When an Individual cannot Provide his own Security, the Responsibility should be Assumed by Others. We believe that no one should starve, or be without adequate clothing and shelter, so those who have more than their basic needs share the responsibility of providing the essentials of security for those who need help. 32. Each Individual must Deal Fairly with others. Honesty, fairness, and personal integrity are virtues that help free and independent individuals get along with each other without losing their independence. 33. Fair and Free Competition is a Good Thing. Americans have always believed that competition among individuals or groups encourages greater effort which in turn brings greater benefits to all. 34. Cooperation among Individuals is Vital. PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has said: "The freedom to compete vigorously accompanied by a readiness to cooperate wholeheartedly for the performance of community and national functions, together make our system the most productive on earth." Principles of Individual Responsibility . . . Freedom for individuals carries with it an equal responsibility to use that freedom wisely. If we wish to remain free, we must faithfully fulfill this responsibility. 35. The Individual is Responsible for himself and his Family. He must protect them and provide for their present and future well-being. 36. The Individual has Responsibilities to the Groups of which he is a Part. He must give of his best to his community, his church, his employer, his union, and to every group in which individuals cooperate for their mutual benefit. 37. The Individual has Responsibilities to his Country. He must be an active citizen, interesting himself in local, state, and national government, voting wisely, thinking and speaking and acting to preserve and strengthen freedom, equality and opportunity for every individual. 38. The Individual has Responsibilities to the World. Man's horizons have expanded. What happens in the world affects him, and his actions can affect the world. Today, therefore, each man has a responsibility to act—and to encourage his country to act—so that freedom and cooperation will be encouraged among the people and the nations of the world. For America's Future Most of us have faith in our country's ability to move forward, to improve, to grow, to provide more and more individuals with more and more of everything they want and need in life . . . If we, the people of the United States, want to have more material benefits, we must believe in and follow these two principles: 39. The only way we can Have More is to Produce More; and 40. As we Produce More, we must make it possible for More and More People to Enjoy that which we Produce. If we, the people of the United States, want to have a better life, spiritually as well as materially . . . 41. We must stand firmly for our Beliefs, our Rights, our Principles. There are those who would chip away our confidence so that their special brand of tyranny might creep into America. They must not succeed. So, let us ask of every plan, or act, or idea . . . Is it With or Against the Principles of America?

News Of The Ebony Community

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Father's Day turned out to be quite a party for Frank Crowder, Frank had written the Dwyer-Brileys a card of invitation to go home with him from church, saying that F. L. and his family would be there. The Caywers of Orange arrived unexpectedly at the Dwyer home Saturday night. So they and Mrs. Dwyer fixed dinner to take, and we all went. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Egger and Jerry were at church. Mrs. Alvin Hanna asked them home with her. Then she reconsidered. She sent them on to Frank's while she and Alvin went home after their dinner. Then we all waited till Mr. and Mrs. Truman Crowder and children arrived from Brownwood with their dinner. We ate our dinner cafeteria style, and in honor of Father's Day, the men lined up first. It was F. L.'s first time to be included as a father on Father's Day. He and his lovely little wife and their six-weeks-old son, Kevin, arrived from Roby Saturday. The baby was the center of attraction for everyone. Frank held him in his arms and talked to him. I heard him say, "But you don't look like you would ever be big enough to drive a car, or to drive a tractor." F. L. hurried to get the camera to take a picture of his father holding the baby. We all had a happy day. Mrs. Don Lewis and children, Doretha, Dickey, and Deborah of Fort Worth have just spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blue Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Austin Caywer and Mrs. Edna Dwyer went to Abilene Tuesday to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Everett. Mrs. Effie Egger and Clayton have had quite a homecoming at their home this past week. Included among the homecomers were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tippen of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Philen, Mittle and Dinky of Texas City; Mr. and Mrs. Rob Philen, Donnie and Debbie of Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Mitchell, Robert, Jill and Jan of Beaumont spent Monday night at the Briley home. They had left their home Friday, June 17. They spent the weekend with the Mitchell kin in Texarkana. Monday they had lunch with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bateman in Fort Worth. While there they took the children to Forest Park to see the zoo. They were to spend Tuesday night with friends in McCamey. Wednesday they were to go on to El Paso to visit the Beliches. While there they planned to visit Carlsbad Cavern and other points before returning to the Briley home June 28.

When John and I were in town Friday, we came by the Pioneer Nursing Home to see Mammy Reeves. We found Daughter Brownie installed with her in her pretty east room. Flora, who has been with her mother for several months, had returned with her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Brooks, to their home at Gruver. The day Brownie left Los Angeles she had the pleasure of seeing her son, Charles White, graduate in law from the law department of the University of Southern California. Charles went to his first school at Ebony, and I was his teacher. On Saturday Mrs. Dwyer, John and I visited Mrs. Will Grady and her daughters, Eulalia and Miss Maggie. They have bought them a pretty home in Brownwood. Mrs. Grady was sitting in a chair in the living room looking very calm and sweet and pretty. And she entered into the conversation with an alertness equal to any of us. Frank Crowder received word Wednesday, June 22, of the death of his aunt, Mrs. Sadie Haley of San Antonio. Frank left on the Wednesday night bus to be present for the funeral. Back in my early childhood I remember the Halesy's coming out here to visit the Crowders. To me she was the lovely lady from San Antonio. Later they invested in land here. Later still she and her boys lived here for some time. Their home was the home now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Egger. She is survived by three sons, Ray and Hubert of San Antonio, and

A letter from Sister Grace expresses her appreciation for our delightful day of "Auld Lang Syne." Stella Reeves Pi-nette writes that the wonderful experience so lifted her spirits and cheered her heart that she is just getting back to earth again. She says it was far beyond anything she had ever hoped for or expected to happen to her late in life.

My senisa is in bloom. It is completely covered with its lavender flowers. I gaze at it enraptured and wish it could last till the children come. But alas! how fleeting is its beauty.

Brown-Mills Soil Conservation News

By CHARLES HAENISCH

"Is the rain you KEEP that counts." These words are meaningful more everyday to farmers and ranchers in the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District.

Many cooperators of the District are observing the value of cover and litter on their own farms. Trials have shown that when at least 2,000 pounds of litter per acre is allowed to remain on the surface of the ground, water penetration increases as much as four times.

After the recent rains, soil borings on the Floyd Daniel farm near Caradan showed good moisture penetration at a depth of 30 inches where the 2,000 pounds of litter had been left near the surface of the ground. Near by on the same type of soil where no litter was present the moisture played out at a depth of 10 inches.

Most farmers will be breaking their stubble in the near future. Prepare your land now for the fall rains ahead. Break your stubble land in such a way as to leave as much the stubble near the surface as possible.

Coordinated soil, water, and plant conservation plans have been made by cooperators of the district this month. John R. Parker of Bulls Creek, Silas Burks of Scallorn, Fred Mason of Star, Lee Walton of Center City, and Ercher McCasland of Center City have developed complete conservation plans with the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District. Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service assisted these farmers and ranchers in the developing of these plans.

WHAT OTHERS ARE DOING

Field terraces have been laid out by SCS technicians for Ward Carlile, Lee Roy Warren, and Albert Schuman.

To provide adequate livestock water, farm ponds are now being constructed on the W. O. Kemp farm, McKinley Humphries farm, Robert Doak farm, and the George L. Kemp farm.

H. W. Boykin of Star is building a diversion terrace on his farm.

Mrs. Jack Locklear and children, Clyde, CeCe and Curtis of Brady spent several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Locklear last week.

Farm And Ranch Real Estate Taxes Show Increase Eighth Straight Year

COLLEGE STATION, (Spec.) — Real estate taxes on farms and ranches in Texas were 3.2 percent higher in 1954 than in 1953—the eighth straight year of increase.

The average tax per acre for the state in 1954 was 28.8 cents compared with 27.9 cents the previous year, according to L. P. Cabbard, agricultural economist at Texas A. & M. College.

While this slight increase was taking place in taxes, agricultural prices in Texas declined. The price index of agricultural commodities in the state dropped from 273 in 1953 to 265 in 1954. The change in the tax-price ratio was from 1.14 in '53 to 1.21 in '54—a relative increase in tax burden of slightly more than six percent.

Pampered Poultry Pays Dividends

COLLEGE STATION, (Spec.) — Poultry raisers are finding it pays to pamper their birds on hot days. It helps keep feed conversion high, eggs rolling and profits up.

Open up the house to provide maximum ventilation, Ben R. Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman, suggests.

Many producers install sprinklers on the roof of their houses for use on the hottest days. Water on a roof helps reflect the sun and cools the hot surface through evaporation. Water dripping off the house also serves as an evaporative cooler, lowering temperatures inside.

Add several more drinking troughs so water is handy to the birds at all times, Wormeli adds. If a chicken must walk more than 10 feet to water, it may go thirsty rather than make the trip.

Change the water several times daily to keep it cool. Cool water means a cool chicken and paves the way to increased water and feed consumption and higher feed conversion.

Other poultrymen encourage a high rate of feed intake with early morning or all-night lights. This way, birds eat while it's cool, before the sun starts beating down.

"In other words, it took six percent more farm commodities to pay taxes last year than it did the previous year," Gabbard said. The tax burden has increased 57 percent during the four year period 1951-1954.

Gabbard cited a high degree of variation in real estate taxes among type-of-farming areas and from one year to another in the same area. In 1954 the average tax per acre in the irrigated Upper Rio Grande Valley was $4.55 while in the High Plains and Trans-Pecos areas adjoining, it was six cents an acre.

The economists found that taxes declined 10 percent in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and increased 16.6 percent in the Coastal Prairie area in 1954 compared with 1953. Variations among counties were even greater.

Save TIME . . . Save MONEY . . .

With an Electric Home Freezer You Do Both — AND Eat Better

The garden you grow this spring will be put to its fullest use when you have an electric home freezer to preserve your fruits and vegetables. By freezing foods when they are plentiful, you can serve them all year long — as fresh as the day you picked them.

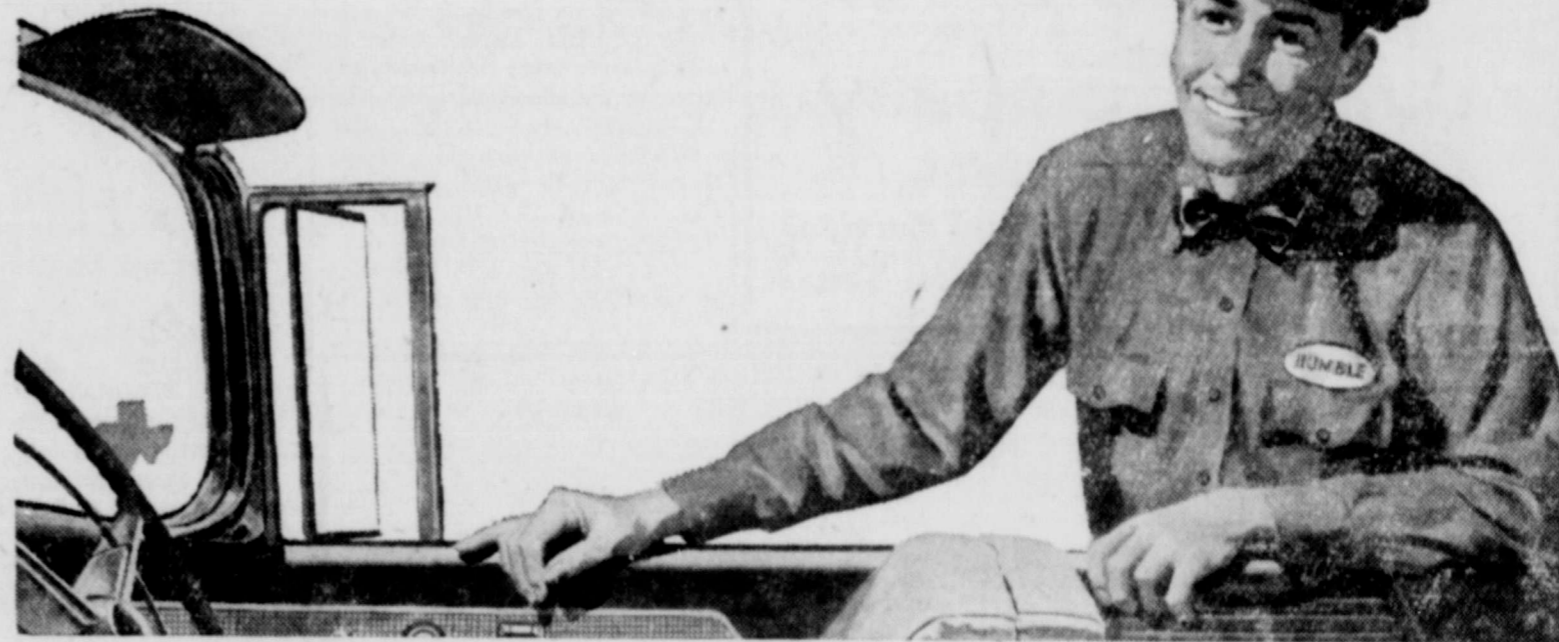

You also save time in the preservation of surplus fruits and vegetables. Freezing takes fewer steps than old-fashioned methods of canning or preserving. You save time in food preparation, too. Frozen foods are easy to prepare — and so good to taste.

If you haven't used an electric home freezer, you'll be surprised at the money you'll save on food costs. In fact, you can save enough to pay for the freezer.

There are models, styles and prices to fit every home and every pocket-book. See your appliance dealer today and buy your home freezer before the summer garden season.

Austin, Texas—Selection of a successor to Wright Morrow, Democratic National Committeeman from Texas, is imminent. Because he voted for Eisenhower for President in 1952, Morrow was barred from serving on the Democratic National Committee. But, Gov. Allan Shivers doubts that anyone can be found to fill the prescription laid down by Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler.

election. And it must be someone who can be approved by Shivers, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, and Senator Lyndon Johnson.

Possibility of replacing Morrow became a by-product of activity by top-level Democratic and Republican figures in the preliminary skirmish toward Texas' role as a battlefield in the 1956 presidential contest.

Chairman Butler spent six days in Texas, mostly under the guiding hand of the "Democratic Advisory Council," a group of liberal-loyalists appointed to take over Morrow's duties.

Butler declined an invitation by Governor Shivers to visit the executive mansion; Shivers did not accept Butler's invitation to come to some of his meetings.

Republican National Committeeman Jack Porter followed Butler promptly with a state workers' rally in Austin. He announced he was extending "not only an invitation, but a challenge" to the conservative Democrats who carried Texas for Eisenhower, to join up formally with the Republicans. Porter predicted that President Eisenhower will be renominated, will carry Texas, Florida, Virginia and Tennessee again—and win in 1956.

"The Conservative Democrats," he said, "were invited by Butler to quit their party. They know they will have no more say in selecting a nominee next year than in 1952 or 1948."

Porter believes the Democratic party split is permanent. ANDERSON TALKED FOR GOVERNOR

Resignation of Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert L. Anderson of Vernon started speculation whether he might figure in next year's governor's race as the conservative's choice. Or possibly be in line for a place on the national Democratic ticket. This despite his service in a Republican administration.

Another name that crops up when conservatives are mentioned as likely candidates in the governor's race is that of Sen. Otis Lock, of Lufkin. He already has been referred to as the "jet age candidate" since his talk to the Jacksonville Rotary Club last week.

Senator Lock pointed out the need for streamlining state administrative agencies; urged improvement in spending methods; and "a sound, fair code protecting each person from excessive taxation."

With its population increasing and its economy expanding Texas can not meet its jet age governmental needs with a Model-T vehicle, he stated.

JOHNSON FOR PRESIDENT
There has been a remarkable array of national comment, in such publications as the Wall Street Journal, Newsweek, and the Washington Star, about Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson's success and his "availability" as the Democratic standardbearer for President.

Governor Shivers himself came back from Washington recently praising Johnson, a loyalist.

A speech early in the week by Governor Shivers, before the New York Sales Executives Club, is another in the national network of his appearances in which he restates the basic doctrine of the dissident Dixie and conservative Democrats.

Governor Shivers had pointed suggestions for Texas schools, faced with the US Supreme Court desegregation decision.

"I do not think it necessary at this time for any district to take any step its board does not want to take, beyond studying the problems and its solution," he said.

He will name a statewide committee, to study problems of the desegregation ruling, and recommended that school districts appoint their own committees.

According to the Governor, the decision leaves a large measure of control to local districts, "where the problems should be worked out."

SHORT SNORTS

Efforts of former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles and of B. R. Sheffield of Brady, to have Travis County indictments in veterans' land cases quashed were rejected in district court.

Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder said he will start a shakeup of the General Land Office in July. His decision follows testimony in a lengthy court of inquiry on the office's operation under former Commissioner Bascom Giles.

John C. White, commissioner of Agriculture, denied that Texas overspent by $162,670 federal drought aid money in 1953—as claimed by the US Department of Agriculture.

Congressman Clark Thompson and Homer Thornberry announced a tour of Central Texas counties, by a House Agriculture sub-committee, to study acreage allotments for rice and cotton.

Governor Shivers paid tribute to Amon G. Carter as "one of the most dynamic Texans of his generation." Carter, long-time publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, died on June 23.

Trials for George B. Parr, south Texas political czar—and 11 others from Duval County—on charges relating to school funds, have been set for July 5 in New Braunfels, on charge of venue.

A Texas committee to plan the state's part in the White House Conference on Education, Nov. 28-Dec. 1, was named by Governor Shivers, Dr. Erwin L. Ripplly, president of the Dallas School Board, is chairman. Its first session will be in Austin.

A state building commission bill was signed by the governor. It provides $6,000,000 for a new state courts building and a state office building.
