Mills County Red Cross Blood Program chairman, Norman Duren, this week issued a special appeal to citizens of the county for more volunteers to donate a pint of blood during the next official visit of the Bloodmobile to Goldthwaite next Thursday, January 26.

The Bloodmobile will set up operations at the First Baptist Church Chapel where donations will be taken from 2:00 until 6:00 o'clock p.m.

Mrs. V. Z. Cornelius is general chairman of arrangements for this visit.

The quota for this visit of the Bloodmobile is 70 pints of blood. This will apply toward the quota of 180 pints set for the county for the year. Ninety donors will need to sign up in order to meet the quota for this trip.

Members of the "Pint a Year" club will be notified when to report during the four hour operation Thursday afternoon, according to announcement by Mr. Duren. He pointed out though that this will not be enough donors to meet the quota and a number of volunteers or walk-in donors will be needed to meet the quota.

The membership drive for the "Pint a Year" club is still in progress with Mrs. Jack McKenzie and her committee still working on contacts. More than 90 members have signed the pint a year club pledge to date. The committee is hopeful to get a membership of 250 in Mills County.

Everyone is urged to support this blood donor program which has proved very beneficial to citizens of Mills County during the past year when patients were hospitalized and blood was needed.

Anyone in good health between the ages of 18 and 59 may donate a pint of blood. Those under 21 years of age must have permission from their parents.

Nearly Every Citizen Must File Tax Return

Nearly every citizen or resident of the U. S. A. who had an income during 1955 should file a tax return, according to Jim Cheatham of the Internal Revenue Service office at Brownwood.

He explained that if you are less than 65 years of age and had a gross income of $600 or more, you must file a tax return. Those 65 and over, however, must file a return when their gross income is $1,200 or more.

"Self - employed individuals with net earnings of $400 or more must also file an annual return," Mr. Cheatham said.

"A person with income of less than $600—or $1,200 for those 65 or over—should file a return to get a refund of the tax that was withheld each payday," he added.

"Every taxpayer should read the 1955 tax instruction pamphlet so he will not pay more than he owes," he urged.

Citizens Are Reminded January 31 Last Day To Pay Poll Taxes

Citizens of the county are reminded this week by C. F. Stubblefield, Mills County tax assessor-collector, that January 31 is the last day to pay their poll tax and be qualified to vote this year's elections.

This year is what is many times termed an "on election year," with school, city, county, state and national candidates to be voted on, including candidates for president of the United States.

Poll tax payments to date are running about normal, Mr. Stubblefield announced this week. But a good number of unqualified citizens do not have their poll tax with less than two weeks before the deadline. Those who have not stopped at the courthouse to get their poll tax receipt are urged to do so now and avoid the last few days rush.

Persons past 60 years of age are not required to get a poll tax or exemption in order to vote. Also, those who become 21 years of age after January 1 and on or before the day before election day on November 6 may vote without poll tax payment this year. This rule applies to counties of less than 10,000 population which includes Mills County.

More Information Is Needed To Complete History Of Mills County

BY RUTH PARKER
 A telephone conversation with Mrs. J. S. Bowles, a week or so ago when I was in Fort Worth, concerning the Mills County history that she is writing through several points to light. Mrs. Bowles hopes to finish her part of the writing so that she can get the history to the publisher by this fall, but she still has very few histories of communities to work on. She has received some information from someone working on information from the following communities:

Nabors Creek—Elizabeth Cook; Cedar Knob—Lois Scoby; Pleasant Grove—Kelly-Ruth Parker

and others; Live Oak-Bethel—Ruth Parker and Mrs. George Denman Sr.; South Bennett—Roy and Edgar Simpson; Chapel Hill—Pearl Crawford and Mullin—Miss Carrie Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Bowles especially wishes someone would write up a history of the colorful Shaw Bend community.

A nice biography of the late Rev. C. F. Miles has been turned in, but there are many others who should be written up. There is to be a charge for the biographies but that should not keep families from seeing that the grand old men and women of the past are written up.

Far Eastern U. S. Force Cut Plan Military Worry Move Would Drop Strength To Pre-Korea War Level

WASHINGTON—Some of the military men in the Pentagon are worried about the Eisenhower administration's recently announced decision to cut down on American ground forces in the Far East.

They point out that the reduction will leave United States Army strength in that area at about what it was when the North Korean Communist forces crossed into South Korea June 25, 1950.

When the cut is completed, the Army will have four understrength divisions manning a front of more than 1,000 miles from Japan to Okinawa.

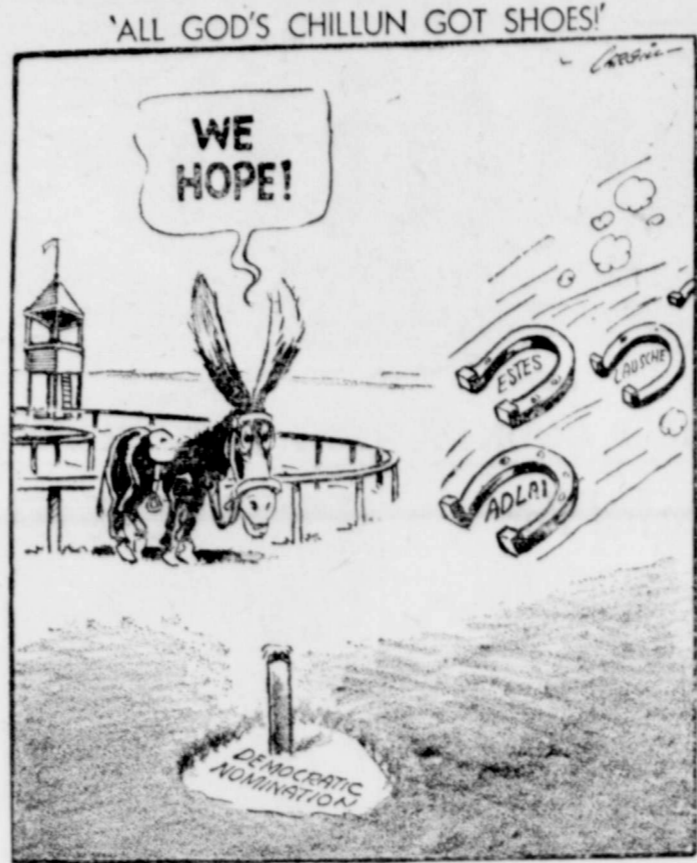

The Red Chinese and the Russians, on the other hand, are reported to have millions of troops under arms in the Far East. The Chinese Communists are said to have three million army regulars and nearly two million district troops, while the Russians are standing by with 34 divisions.

ATTACK ON MCKAY—Signs are stirring that, as the 1956 political pot begins to boil, the Democrats will devote particular attention to Interior Secretary Douglas McKay.

Prayers for Benson—Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson is vulnerable as the chief target for Democratic attack in 1956, though his controversial farm policies have been steadfastly supported by President Eisenhower.

Atomic Locomotives?—Senator Clinton P. Anderson, New Mexico, who heads the congressional atomic energy committee, sees trains drawn by atomic energy as a commercial possibility, but not passenger carrying planes.

Senator Anderson's Argument In the locomotive, the weight needed to shield the atomic locomotive would not present a huge difficulty and perhaps would even be a source of needed traction. However, a civilian airline would not want to be encumbered by the weight and space required to shield the engine.

Little Jesse Clyde Cockrum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cockrum, who is in the fourth grade doesn't have too good an opinion of the sad facts of life in school with respect to getting ready for mid-term exams. He says: "It's bad enough that you have to put in hours and hours of reviewing and homework getting ready for the test. Then on top of that a fellow can't even get out to do a little hunting with the new gun I got for Christmas."

Looks like school officials could arrange things in such a way that activities such as mid-term tests wouldn't interfere with a boy getting in some hunting.

"IT WAS JIMMY'S FAULT" Perhaps your little boy or girl has come running into the house upon occasion crying, "My top got broken. But it wasn't my fault. It was Jimmy's fault."

There are all too many adults who have never grown past the "It was Jimmy's fault" stage of their development. They still try to pass their woes to "Jimmy."

Any traffic court judge could tell you about countless cases in which the defendant whines, "But judge, it wasn't my fault." And whose fault was it? Well, the fault might have been anyone's from the weatherman's, to the bad roads, to the fact that his wife picked a fight just before he left home.

And try as we may, we cannot find it in our hearts to condone any of these excuses insofar as keeping out of traffic accidents is concerned. If you are involved in a winter traffic accident, and are maimed or killed—or worse yet, if you maim or kill someone else—it doesn't help one iota to say, "It wasn't my fault."

We think it's high time that you as a driver realize that it's YOUR RESPONSIBILITY to know all the facts about the hazards of winter driving, and to know how to drive safely in spite of them.

Dr. Em Wilson, manager of the Corpus Christi broadcasting station, invites the readers of the Eagle who have radios to tune in on KGFI, Corpus Christi, Texas, operating on 1500 kilocycles, and hear a DX program to be broadcast January 18, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. central standard time.

Mrs. George H. Winsor of Houston arrived in the city Tuesday evening for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rahl and other relatives.

Mrs. Ernest Allen of Blanket, who has been ill at the Central Texas Hospital for several days, underwent a major operation there Monday afternoon.

A. M. Rose, one of the substantial "old timers" of the county, made the Eagle an appreciated call Saturday. It is a pleasure to know that we have had the friendship of such a good man all these years.

Mr. Robert Robertson and daughter of Big Valley, Miss Lucille Conro of this city and Mrs. Eddie Hawkins of Globe, Arizona went to Houston Wednesday for a visit with relatives and friends.

Riley Hodges, age 29, passed over the river of death at Lohn on the 27th day of January. His devoted wife and his mother, Mrs. Charles Hodges, were at his bedside when he slipped away after a two year illness.

6. Pump your brakes to... Never jam them on. It's your responsibility to all in your power to drive without having a traffic accident. If you winterize your car as your driving attitudes, we think you can do it. Most of us have no convincing that winter driving is pretty unpleasant, but that's no reason it has to be deadly. The exercise of caution, and the acceptance of your own personal responsibility for avoiding traffic accidents will help counter-balance winter's natural hazards.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Now's the time to prepare for spring beauty, and I've been working at it desperately. All fall I've wanted to get things planted, but I've kept waiting to get my beds prepared. This stiff adobe soil needs sand and fertilizer to make it workable. Then there is an alkaline condition here which calls for soil sulphur, or some kind of neutralizer. It's all quite complicated. The Sunday paper carries a gardening column, and I study it diligently. I got a load each of sand and fertilizer not long before Christmas, but it really takes work to get it distributed. John has been doing most of that for me. He also digs the beds for me.

I got my sweet peas and hyacinths planted while it was still December, but it was Jan. 5 before I got my daffodils in the ground. Mrs. Breeding, Garland Malone's mother, told me of a place I could get bedding plants cheap. Johnny and John and I went to town Friday, Jan. 6. I secretly resolved to get some pansy plants. Not many of El Paso's streets are straight. They are mostly diagonal, curved, or circular. I studied the map till I found how to find La Luz. I thought it would be better to go to town first then come by to get the pansy plants. But I was afraid to wait for fear John might decide by that time that we had to go on home. So as we started off, I put it up to him. He decided we would come by for the pansies on the way home. We found the place all right, but it was only a residence. No sign of plants that you could see. A card on the front door said, "Bedding plants in the back." I went through a side gate, and there was a yard full. An old man came out. I told him I wanted two dozen pansy plants. We went on home, and I bordered the front flower bed with them that evening. When I was through, I counted 55 plants.

Sometime ago in the gardening column a lady wrote about the wonderful, new, giant, hybridized Bird chrysanthemums put out only by a New York nursery. They are all named for birds. I was so elated over the description of them. I wondered if I could dare hope to get some.

It's rose planting time and for months I've been studying the catalogs trying to decide on the ones most wanted and just how many the family budget would stand. Wednesday the New York catalog came, and I have been up in the clouds ever since. Four pages in color of these beautiful new Bird chrysanthemums. They cost a dollar apiece, but I have decided I just must have some. Maybe I can cut down a little more on the roses.

I decided to call Mrs. Powell—the lady who wrote about the Bird chrysanthemums. She answers questions through the gardening column. She advised me to get my roses from a local nursery, but to be sure to order some of those Bird mums. She said she had just been made counselor. She was glad I called, and to call any time I had a problem. Today (Fri. the 13th) John, Johnny, and I went to Mrs. Gore's—our nearby greenhouse—and got five roses. As a post office was near, I got me a five dollar money order for five of those Bird mums.

This afternoon I put out the roses following directions as closely as I could.

Hillside Mission

By LIDA BYRNE

Some of us have found out, while traveling downlife's highway, that a stubborn, uncontrollable attitude, paying no attention to God's laws is dangerous and that there is a bridge out down the road. Some amend their ways by repentance and turn to the right while others go head-on into destruction and find out the Truth but too late. The Bible says: "I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings." Jeremiah 17:10.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

By CHARLES HAENISCH

Drought in 1955? The rainfall chart says we shouldn't have had.

Can a drought in 1956 be avoided? Supervisors of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District urge farmers to study their farming operations to see what can be done to save more rainfall for crop production. Many crops failed and pastures burned up because rains that came in May and June ran down the creeks.

The average rainfall for Goldthwaite is about 27 inches. Last year we received 24 inches. If October, November, and December had not been completely dry we would have had average or above.

A review of rainfall for the past two years shows that we have been getting little or no rainfall in the fall and winter. With this situation it is very necessary that as much of the spring rain as possible be held for crop production.

What can a farmer do to save moisture? Practices recommended by the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District are divided into two classes—emergency and permanent.

Emergency measures for cropland include chiseling, contour listing or both. These two operations, if the soil has pretty good humus in it, will cause the soil to take up large quantities of water. It will be found that soils low in organic matter will soon run together and will take up little moisture.

Permanent measures for cropland: keep the soil high in humus or organic matter. Leave plenty of crop residue on the surface of the ground to protect it from high temperatures and protect the soil from crusting. Use a deep rooted legume to open the soil.

Emergency treatment for pasture: Fitting or chiseling to break the surface crust in bare areas so moisture will have a chance to get into the soil.

Permanent treatment for pasture: Leave at least 2,000 pounds of cover per acre on the ground. Any less cover on the ground will allow valuable moisture to get away.

"Any farmer or rancher who would like some assistance with his water conservation problem can get it by calling at the of-

Office of the Soil Conservation Service in the courthouse. The SCS is here to assist the District and District Cooperators," says David Watters, chairman of the Board of Supervisors of the Brown - Mills Soil Conservation District.

News From Your COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

By LUCY MAY BURRUS

The work of the Home Demonstration Agent is nearly organized and about to get into swing.

Four clubs of 4-H girls have been organized at Goldthwaite, Mullin, Star and Priddy. These girls have elected their officers and voted on what their demonstrations would be. Clothing won by a wide margin and foods and nutrition was the next highest, so these are the two demonstrations. By this weekend the agent will have met with each club once to give a program on "Colors and Line for the Individual and Dressing for the Occasion."

Adult leaders were also chosen to help with the programs. The plan for the 4-H Clubs is to have two meetings each month. The agent conducts one of these meetings and the adult leader conducts the other after attending a "Leader's Training Meeting" conducted by the agent.

Three Home Demonstration Clubs have reorganized so far and have started work. The

and Mrs. Charles Dennard, Fort Worth; Virginia McGirk, Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Parker, who were enroute from Massachusetts to Japan arrived in Dallas just in time for the get-together.

Home Demonstration Agent has completed its choosing officers. The agent is meeting with the clubs this morning giving a program on "Planting a Labor Saving Landscape." Leaders from the clubs will attend a Training Meeting, January 30, on "Growing Trees and Shrubs From Cuttings and Seed." And the leaders will give this program to their clubs during February. The agent has two meetings a month. The other two meetings, the agent will conduct programs on subjects of interest to the people of the county.

I received some material from A&M in which was included a recipe for Apple Sauce Griddle Cakes. The recipe sounded good, so I just had to try them. If you like cornmeal hotcakes, I think you will like these—the ones I tried the on did.

Combine 1 cup yellow corn meal, 1 cup flour, 2 tea spoons sugar, three-fourths tea spoon salt, 4 tea spoons baking powder. Beat 2 eggs and add dry mixture with 1 and 1-2 cup apple sauce. Stir until blended. Add 1-4 cup melted butter. Add 3-4 cup milk, mix well. Beat by spoonful on hot griddle spreading thin. Bake, turning to brown both sides. Serve with syrup and butter or margarine.

News From Your COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

Agricultural Extension Service—Texas A & M College System

By LUCY MAY BURRUS
The work of the Home Demonstration Agent is nearly organized and about to get into swing.

Four clubs of 4-H girls have been organized at Goldthwaite, Mullin, Star and Priddy. These girls have elected their officers and voted on what their demonstrations would be. Clothing won by a wide margin and foods and nutrition was the next highest, so these are the two demonstrations. By this weekend the agent will have met with each club once to give a program on "Colors and Line for the Individual and Dressing for the Occasion."

Adult leaders were also chosen to help with the programs. The plan for the 4-H Clubs is to have two meetings each month. The agent conducts one of these meetings and the adult leader conducts the other after attending a "Leader's Training Meeting" conducted by the agent.

Three Home Demonstration Clubs have reorganized so far and have started work. The

and Mrs. Charles Dennard, Fort Worth; Virginia McGirk, Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Parker, who were enroute from Massachusetts to Japan arrived in Dallas just in time for the get-together.

Home Demonstration Club has completed its choosing officers. The agent is working with the clubs this morning giving a program on "Planting A Labor Saving Landscaping Leaders from the clubs will attend a Training Meeting, January 30, on "Growing Trees and Shrubs From Cuttings and Seed", and the leaders will give this program to their clubs during February. The agent has two meetings a month. At the other meeting, the agent will conduct programs on subjects of interest to the people of the county.

More, Bigger Roses Result From Regular Blackspot Control Program

COLLEGE STATION, (Special) —By sticking to a regular, year-in and year-out blackspot control program, rose growers can get more and larger early blooms.

Studies by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Research Service prove that regular control has both a current and cumulative value. This year's efforts will give immediate benefit and also lower the blackspot carry-over on leaves and stems next year; similarly, next year's efforts will benefit the following season's rose production.

For example, in test plots at Beltsville, Maryland, planted to Golden Masterpiece, a blackspot susceptible rose, regular dusting with the organic fungicide zineb during 1954 resulted in about 42 percent blackspot infection in September and only 25 percent in June 1955. Roses of the same variety, not treated with fungicides, were 83 percent infected by September 1954 and 55 percent in June 1955. Good control results similar to those obtained for zineb, were also achieved with dust mixtures containing 3.4 percent copper and 24 percent sulphur or 7.6 percent ferbam and 25 percent sulphur.

Twice-weekly, early season cuttings (May and June) of the Golden Masterpiece roses further proved the carry-over

Teen-Ager in Cell

UNDER arrest in a Burbank, Calif. jail, Jack Reginald Lemon, 18, is charged with assault with intent to kill policeman William Catlin. The officer stopped Lemon for a traffic violation and found an automatic revolver in the car. According to charges, the youth seized the gun which was discharged during a struggle.

has been appointed as manager of the dealer assistance section in the general sales and promotion department of Lone Star Gas Company's General Division of Distribution has been announced by Carl L. Trevitt of Dallas, manager of the sales and promotion department.

Watkins will have headquarters in Dallas and his territory includes Goldthwaite and more than 350 other Texas and Oklahoma cities and towns comprising Lone Star's General Division of Distribution.

value of blackspot control. The copper-sulfur dusted roses yielded 1,479 blooms with an average bloom weight of 11.7 grams in May and 11.3 grams in June. Untreated rose plots yielded only 492 early-season blooms with an average weight of 11.3 grams in May and 9.8 grams in June.

In these tests, fungicidal dusts were applied once each week during the growing season. Studies are planned to determine whether a different frequency of dust applications should be used.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE KHAPRA BEETLE INFESTATION

The word "Khapra" is from an Indian word meaning "brick" and was ascribed to a stored grain pest by natives of India. The insect in the larval stage has a habit of hiding out in the pores of bricks or cracks in storage houses.

Authorities agree that the Khapra beetle is much harder to control than any other known pest of stored grain. It can secret itself in cracks and crevices where sprays have little effect and can be reached with much difficulty, by fumigants.

Pest control workers in California, Arizona and New Mexico know how tedious it is to kill the beetle. Texas authorities hope they never have to cope with it if present quarantine and inspection measures are successful.

Eradication is a time-consuming and costly process. The entire storehouse or elevator must be covered with impervious material, including the ground area for a radius of about 30 feet. Then the interior is fumigated with ethyl bromide, allowing plenty of time for the fumes to seep into every crack and crevice of the building.

The insect belongs to the same family as the carpet beetles. It is usually first noticed because of the presence of its fuzzy larvae, their cast skins, in clusters around the corners of grain bins or in used sacks.

It is spread from place to place in grain, feed, seed or used sacks. It will probably be found only indoors. To determine whether an infestation is present, take a double handful of grain from the corner of a bin and sift it lightly through the fingers. If Khapra Beetles are present, you may find the fuzzy larvae or the cast skins clinging to the skin of your hands. Another method is to take floor sweepings from a recently emptied bin and screen it. Larvae or cast skins usually will not fall through the screen.

Check outer surfaces of bagged grain, seed or other sacked goods for skins or clusters of small insects. Pay particular attention to the top stem and inside of the bag ears.

Bin corners are favorite hiding places for the beetle. The larvae leave the grain when ready to pupate and congregate in great numbers in such locations.

Any suspected infestation should be reported to the Texas Department of Agriculture immediately. Contact John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Austin, Texas. Failure to do so may mean the loss of an entire storehouse of grain.

Agricultural Employees Covered By Social Security

Farm operators who have paid as much as $100 in cash wages to any farm employee during the year 1955 should file an employer's tax and information return for agricultural employees. Mr. Sam Hamlett announced today. This tax return should be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas, together with the social security taxes on the wages shown on the form.

Mr. Hamlett emphasized that this annual report of wages paid for agricultural labor must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service before January 31, 1956. The return must show name, social security number and wages paid every month. Some cash wages from some farmer amounted to $100 or more.

Farmers, who must file these tax returns and have yet received or written proper forms, should contact District Director of Internal Revenue, Brownwood, immediately in order to be sure of getting the report before the January 31 deadline, Hamlett urged.

Mrs. Ruby Simpson and James Leslie, spent a recent holiday with their daughter, Mrs. John Allen Miller and daughter Susan, in Austin.

Newspaper Publishers To Hold Problem-Solving Session At Meeting

Some of the many now confronting publishers will be sought during two problem-solving sessions at the Texas Press Association's Mid-Winter meeting in Austin on January 21.

David C. Leavell, Galveston News-Tribune, will serve as chairman of a daily group session, with Jack Howerton, Cuero Record, as vice chairman. Heading the weekly group will be Frederic Oheim, New Braunfels Zeitung - Chronicle. Addison Buckner, San Marcos Record, will serve as vice chairman of the weekly group.

A number of speakers are scheduled for 10-minute talks at the weekly group session, with general discussion following each talk. Joseph G. Griffing of the Texas Military District will talk about the army's new Reserve Program.

Publishers also will hear from Wesley D. Calvert of the Texas A&M College Journalism Department; Weldon Hart, executive director of the Texas Employment Commission, and Hal Bredlow, Texas representative for Stamps-Conhalm, advertising mat manufacturers. ### IKE RETURNS TO 'FULL DUTIES'

WHATEVER HIS EVENTUAL decision on seeking a second term, President Eisenhower is back in "full swing" at the White House after his Florida vacation. Tanned and relaxed, the Chief Executive flashes his famous grin as he rides to his office. (International Soundphoto)

TPA member publishers taking part in the session will be Harry Hornby, Uvalde Leader-News; W. H. Graham, State Line Tribune, Farwell; Francis E. Perry, Slaton Slatonite; and Rowland Peters, Nocona News. Hornby will discuss use of color in weekly newspaper advertising. Graham's topic is rising costs. Perry will talk about advertising rates, and Peters about editorials in weekly newspapers.

Details on the session for daily newspaper publishers will be announced later, according to Russell W. Bryant, publisher of the Italy News-Herald and President of TPA.

Social Security Representative To Be Here Wednesday

The regular visit of the social security representative to Goldthwaite, Texas, will be Wednesday, January 25, 1956. You are invited to contact this representative at the Department of Public Welfare at 8:00 a. m.

This community service is offered by the Austin office of the Social Security Administration for the convenience of residents of this area.

Farm And Ranch Operators Have Social Security Responsibility Now

In previous articles in this series I pointed out the wage reporting and social security tax remitting responsibility many farm and ranch operators must meet by January 31, 1956. This applies to all of them who paid as much as $100 cash wages to any one agricultural employee in the calendar year 1955.

Right now I want to define "agricultural labor" as the term applies to social security under the old-age and survivors insurance program. The definition includes services performed on a farm in connection with the raising and harvesting of products and the raising, etc. of livestock poultry, bees, fur-bearing animals and wildlife; services in the care of the employer's farm and equipment if performed for the most part on a farm; services performed in handling, processing, or packaging agricultural commodities produced in major part by the employer; services in connection with cotton ginning; and domestic service in or about the household of the employer if performed on a farm operated for profit.

If you operate an agricultural enterprise—either as sole owner or in a partnership—and you pay any one employee as much as $100 cash wages to perform agricultural labor in 1955, you have an obligation to meet before the end of January, specifically, you must fill out Internal Revenue Service Form 943, "Employer's Tax and Information Return for Agricultural Employees," and remit the Social Security tax. The amount of the tax is four percent; it applies to each of your agricultural employees to whom you paid cash wages of $100 or more in the year. If you paid an employee more than $4,200 in the year report only $4,200 paid to that employee. If you paid wages for any services other than agricultural labor, do not report such wages on Form 943.

Please bear in mind that the regularity of the employee's work for you is not a consideration. You may employ him part time or for a short period of time; you may engage him by the day, week, or month. It is the amount of cash wages paid him during the year that determines whether you have an obligation to report his wages and pay the social security tax.

In conclusion I want to point out that the cash wages you report on Form 943 are credited to the worker's social security account. The Social Security Administration maintains individual accounts for every person—employed or self-employed—in work that counts toward old-age and survivors insurance. Through the proper reporting of taxable wages to your employee's account in January, just as by your proper reporting of your net earnings to your social security account by April 15, both you and he are building old-age and survivors insurance protection for yourselves and your families in your later years and for your dependents in case of your death.

Household Hint

If you use your bathroom as an auxiliary laundry, as most householders do, increase its efficiency by installing hooks over the bathtub. A clothesline can then be put up easily and quickly on which to dry the bathroom wash.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Insurance firms of all types are feeling the effect of the public's reaction over the failure of U. S. Trust & Guaranty Co. There appears to be a public wariness of insurance salesmen at the moment.

Steps are being taken to re-sell the public on the insurance business. One such move was an offer on the part of 28 legal reserve companies to "take over" the life insurance policies of defunct concerns. Thus they would protect policy holders from loss of their life insurance.

Today no policy holder in any legal reserve life insurance company in Texas has suffered any loss. Nevertheless the companies are feeling the pinch of the adverse publicity.

J. Ralph Wood, president of the Southwestern Life Insurance Co., was one of the 28 executives who presented the "guarantee" proposal to the insurance commission. "We want to protect the good name of Texas insurance companies," Wood stated, "and also protect the innocent life insurance policy holders."

J. Byron Saunders, chairman of the insurance commission, said "I am happy to learn of the project. It is a most laudable step. It will help relieve much public anxiety and concern."

In other developments, the insurance commission moved to force a change in management of the John K. Wilson Mutual Aid Association of Princeton; while the state obtained court orders to shut down the American Atlas Corporation and J. A. Irwin, Inc., of Dallas.

Meanwhile investigations continue by the Texas State Senate's investigating committee concerning all details of the collapse of the U. S. Trust & Guaranty Co., whose president A. B. Shoemaker shot himself when the firm went under recently.
