Texas Banks Are State's Principal Farm Lenders in 1955, Survey Shows

Texas farmers and ranchers met their credit needs during 1955 chiefly through loans from their local banks, according to W. P. Duren, president of Mills County State Bank, who represents the Texas Bankers Association as Mills County Key Banker. During the year, the state's banks provided more financial aid to farmers and stockmen than any other lending agency, he pointed out.

Using figures from the fifteenth annual farm lending survey of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Mr. Duren noted that on January 1, 1956, Texas banks had loans outstanding to farmers and ranchers totaling $288,590,000 including both production and mortgage credit. This compares with $285,374,000 held by insurance companies, second largest lender to Texas agriculture; $164,810,000 held by Federal Land Banks; $62,263,000 by Production Credit Associations; and $90,408,000 by the Farmers Home Administration.

The total of farm credit outstanding in banks was made up of $249,211,000 in production loans and $39,379,000 in farm and ranch mortgages. In addition, banks in Texas held $244,539,000 in C.C.C. paper not included in the above total.

The services include, professional guidance, maintenance of a Scout Office and Camp Billy Gibbons, issuance of badges to boys conducting phases of services vital to the continuance of the Scouting movement.

There are 89 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts with some 1900 boys and 600 leaders in the scouting movement in the eight-county area. This represents 15% increase in membership and units. More boys are anxious to join and the need is for more sponsoring organizations and leaders.

The objective in Boy Scout training is character building, citizenship training and physical fitness. The Theme this year is, "Onward For God and My Country."

Each of us is called upon to "Give a Texan's Share" in order that the boys may receive this worthwhile training and America may continue to be "a land of the free and a home of the brave."

VIC'S . . .
SOLILOQUY

A note to post office patrons—in Goldthwaite—that means nearly everyone.

Lucile Fairman, postmaster, and her postal staff are having trouble with the courtesy box at the corner of the post office being bumped with cars parking at the yellow curb, or no parking zone.

Since the box was established on the corner as a courtesy to those who have late mail it has been broken loose from the anchor bolts several times. The box was placed in its present position so that folks can drop mail in it without getting out of the car.

As it appears at the present time there is a possibility that if the box continues to be bumped by cars and damaged in that way it may be necessary for it to be moved back to the corner of the building. If that should happen then everyone who has mail to deposit after post office closing hours would have to get out of the car to do so.

The problem is, when there is a lot of traffic around the post office corner it is simply too easy for folks to park in front of the box instead of moving down the block a good ways.

We pass this little info on to our readers so that all of us who go for our mail might keep the situation in mind when we park at the corner of the post office.

THE FIRST TO BE FIRED

Is a minimum wage law a sound way to help people in the bottom earning brackets?

If you think so, an article by Bettina Bien, in the Freeman, may give you another slant on the problem. The article states: "If the minimum wage rate is set higher than the market rate, it hurts the very person it is designed to help—the lowest producers, and hence the lowest earners. The first to be fired, when a new minimum wage is set, are those who cannot contribute enough to the market to cover the cost of their wage."

The barometer of earning power must be productivity—which is the measure of the worker's value to the employer and to the public. No law, no matter how well intentioned, can cancel out that fact.

Ricky, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Stacy, had a big treat and a wonderful time the other day when he went to see the circus. It was his first and they tell me he really took things in.

One of the clowns came up to him and while visiting with him he planted a big kiss on his cheek.

After a while another clown came in his direction and immediately Ricky asked: "Is he going to kiss me too?"

Speaking of the circus reminds me of one little boy who almost missed out on the whole deal.

Kenneth Dale "Tooter" Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kelly, was one of the third graders who made the trip to see the big top one day last week.

Strange as it may seem, they tell the story about how near he came missing out on the trip. When the teachers and sponsors got ready to leave it developed that Kenneth wasn't there yet. Of course they made contact alright and everything was fine.

First time I have heard of a boy being late or nearly missing connections, when it came time to go to the circus.

Harvey and Dorothy Parker took a little vacation trip before Harvey left for Abilene on September 12, for induction into Uncle Sam's military. Among a number of interesting places they visited was Yellowstone National Park.

Dorothy tells the story about how cold it was there. When they got up in the morning, in one of those little government log cabins, the temperature had dropped to 18 degrees. That sounds pretty chilly to folks from Goldthwaite for the first week in September.

In relating their experiences Dorothy said: "I took a picture of Harvey at about two o'clock in the morning. He was dressed up in his coat and trying to build a wood fire in the little stove so we could get warm. I can hardly wait for the pictures to get back."

Harold Stassen May Be on His Way Out

Now Discovers Role Of Diplomat

Special to Central Press Association

WASHINGTON—White House sources say Harold E. Stassen's days as President Eisenhower's adviser on disarmament problems are numbered—and that the number isn't a very large one either.

The resignation of the man whose "dump Nixon" move here in his face at the GOP national convention is expected to be received and accepted shortly after election day.

Harold Stassen

Mr. Eisenhower is said to agree with national Chairman Leonard W. Hall and his usefulness as a member of Ike's "team" of ambassadors to India are being questioned. Rumors that Stassen might be offered the Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, disinterested in Stassen's recent and anti-Nixon activities, has made no secret of dislike for the big Minnesota's approach to international affairs.

TAX BATTLE—Bills to ease the burden on the nation's taxpayers will be introduced very first day that Congress comes back to Washington in January. Measures are expected from both the Democratic and Republican sides, since both parties promised at their political conventions that they would seek tax relief.

However, the projected legislation is certain to touch off a battle.

In its recent budget review, the Eisenhower administration anticipates a $707 million surplus for the current fiscal year. It indicated it has no present intention of asking Congress for taxes.

The administration said current plans are to apply the act toward reduction of the $272-billion public debt. Moreover, Senator Harry F. Byrd (D), Virginia, chairman of Senate finance committee, declares the surplus would not warrant a tax reduction.

On the other hand, many members of Congress will be campaigning for re-election on tax-cut pledges, so it is obvious that a hassle is shaping up, which Mr. Taxpayer anxiously will watch from the sidelines.

KENNEDY—Some Democrats profess to see in the present Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts a likely nominee for the presidency in 1960 if, as the odds-makers say, Adlai E. Stevenson takes another licking at President Eisenhower's hands.

The spectacular strength Kennedy exhibited in the vice presidential nomination tussle he lost so narrowly to Senator Eugene McCarthy demonstrated that he has support in virtually all sections of the country.

The South, particularly, appeared to feel that the Roman Catholic New Englander was more to its liking than any of the other hopefuls.

Now only 39, Kennedy still will have youth on his side when the nomination chips next go down. He has the backing of his father—former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy—on the financial side of the picture. The elder Kennedy is reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in the world.

If, as he is expected to do, the senator makes an outstanding record in the next two sessions of Congress, he will go to the Democratic convention with formidable strength.

The refreshment table was laid with a hand crocheted cloth made by the grandmother and centered with a floral arrangement. Mrs. N. L. Mosier, sister of the bride, served the cake and Mrs. Glenn Calder, aunt of the bride, laddled the punch. Guests were registered by Miss Glenda Kay Calder, cousin of the bride.

For traveling Mrs. Smith wore a brown two piece dress with black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are now at home in Fort Worth where he is employed by Convair.

BLACK BLIGHT
By John C. White, Commissioner

What's worse, when one bale of tar cotton is mixed with 39 other bales in the bleaching room at a mill, all material made from the entire 40-bale lot contains tar. This results in necessary price reductions of 10 to 20 per cent, and in some instances, total rejection.

Now, more than ever, mills are pin-pointing areas from which blighted cotton continues to come. This may result in general penalties by industrial price-cuts to innocent farmers who live in an area full of careless neighbors.

The wise thing would be for everyone to discard the old asphalt-covered pick sack and to keep his raw cotton as clean as possible as long as it is in his hands.

LATE REPORT ON THE MEDFLY
An alien insect who evaded immigration officials is the cause of growing concern among fruit-growing states.

The Mediterranean Fruit Fly, black and yellow and about 1/2 to 2/3 the size of a housefly, was first seen about three months ago in a grove near Miami, Florida. Since that time the pest has spread into 20 Florida counties and a resolute concentrated campaign is underway to check infestation.

For, if the Medfly should get a foothold in this country, the fruit industry of which Texas is a major part will be doomed to great losses.

The female of the species lays her eggs under the peel or skin of the fruit, and when they hatch, little white worms emerge and burrow into the fruit. Their wide appetite includes citrus, peaches, figs, peppers, tomatoes, cucumbers, squash, and cantaloupe to name a few.

Texas and Federal quarantine experts are keeping a close watch on this worst of all fruit pests with a determination to pre-empt any westward movement.

Santa Fe R. R. Will Continue 4-H Club Support

The Santa Fe Railway will continue its support of 4-H Club activities during 1957 when more than $18,000 will be contributed for educational purposes and to the National 4-H Foundation, Fred G. Gurley, president, announced today.

Of the total outlay for educational purposes the share going to young boys and girls of 4-H in Texas will be $3,177 of which four will be for college scholarships of $250 each and the remainder allocated by State 4-H leaders to thirteen other outstanding youths.

Award winners are selected by State leaders on the basis of successful activities of the members.

In addition to offering educational awards for these achievements the Santa Fe will honor all of the winners at a special dinner during the annual 4-H Congress to be held in Chicago this fall. The Railway has supported this worthy nationwide activity for boys and girls since its inception.

UNORDERED MERCHANDISE

Suppose the mailman delivers to you a package containing a necktie—or a book, key-ring tags or a phonograph record—that you didn't order. Either with it, or by later mail, is a bill or request to remit the price.

What are your obligations, assuming you don't want the merchandise? Must you return it? Can you use it and not pay for it? Must you keep it, or can you throw it away?

Generally speaking, recipients of unordered merchandise are under no obligation (a) to return it; (b) to acknowledge its receipt; (c) to pay for it unless used; (d) to give it particular care; or (e) to keep it beyond a reasonable time.

You are obligated to surrender the merchandise if called for in person by the shipper or his agent within a reasonable time. But you can demand storage charges before surrendering the item. If you mail it back at your own expense, you very likely will stay on the sender's mailing list and will receive other shipments in the future.

There are no postal regulations governing unordered merchandise, except where fraud is involved.

Congress is trying to draft some legislation that will cover the situation. However, if you know what is in the envelope or package, you can write "REFUSED" across the face of the piece of mail and hand it back unopened to the mailman. No further explanation is required. You don't have to accept any class of mail. Further, your refusal probably will result in the sender having to pay return postage.

A ruling by the Federal Trade Commission holds it a violation of the Federal Trade Act for a sender of unordered merchandise to claim that "the receiver is under obligation . . . to pay for or return the merchandise." Hence, if you don't use the merchandise you are within your rights in refusing to pay for it.

In summary, unless you want to use the item, in which case you should pay for it, you should keep it for awhile and then throw it away.

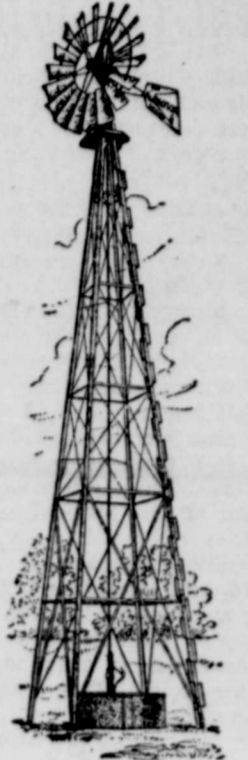

If another person's mail is improperly delivered to you, do not open it, as such action might make you liable to severe legal penalties. Such mail should promptly be re-deposited in a postal box with an appropriate notation thereon, such as the proper address or "not 14 South Brown Street," showing the address to which the mail had been delivered.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Membership Drive Underway For Mills County Historical Society

Mills County Historical Society is still working and more interest is constantly manifested in the work of having the county history published.

A charge of $1.00 is being made for each membership in the society and two and one-half cents per word is charged for biographies, in order to raise money to publish the book.

Mrs. Flora G. Bowles is doing her work free and Mrs. Claude Escott is doing research work in the county records without cost and R. E. Clements is also working free. But pay for the publication of the history must be made.

To date 92 memberships in the society and a donation of $100.00 with an order for 10 books when completed from Ernest Jackson of Austin have been received by the society. This generosity is greatly appreciated. Also many biographies are being received. With a little help from everyone Mills County's can be the best history on any county in Texas.

You do not have to be a pioneer to be a member of the society. Anyone interested in Mills County and its history is eligible and should be a member.

Names of the 92 interested people who have become members will be printed in the next week's issue of this paper.

Tom Lasly, Former Resident, Is Buried Here Last Thursday

Graveside services for Tom Lasly, pioneer citizen of Goldthwaite, were held Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Ross Welch of San Antonio.

Mr. Lasly died unexpectedly in a Seminole Hospital about 7:00 o'clock Monday morning, September 10. He had suffered an attack of indigestion at his home late Sunday evening and was carried to the hospital. He had been employed by Phillips Petroleum Company since 1923 when he left Goldthwaite. He was transferred to several different towns before being sent to Seminole, where he was chief engineer for the company. He was married to the former Miss Florence Welch of Goldthwaite. They owned a home here and were planning to return here in the near future.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Florence Lasly of Seminole; two daughters, Mrs. Ruby Wright of Melrose, Mass. and Mrs. Tom Lewis of Rising Star; two sons, Lt. Col. Walter D. Lasly of the Air Force, Dallas, and Mark Lasly of Monahans; seven grandchildren and three sisters and a host of friends.

THE PARABLE

herefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

(St. Matthew 13:13)

THE PARABLE is the basis of all religious education. From infancy through adult life we learn spiritual truths only as they are interpreted for us in terms of every-day experience.

OUR CHURCHES follow the example of the Greatest Teacher. Simple precepts or more complex doctrines are brought to us in vivid illustration. Lessons, sermons, hymns—even church architecture and ritual—are full of human narrative, word pictures or traditional symbolism to help us grasp and apply God's truth.

SPIRITUAL MATURITY must come to us through the effective teaching and practical guidance our churches provide. Our souls cannot grow simply by seeing a church on the corner, or hearing folks talk about religion. Working and learning every Sunday, we will understand Christian truth in living terms and use our understanding to serve God and man.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

NOTICE!

For the first time in seven years we find it necessary to increase the price of Butane and Propane.

In 1949 the general price on Butane and Propane was 13c per gallon throughout Central Texas. Since that time as the refineries have lowered their prices we have lowered our prices to you.

Now the refineries have advanced their prices and it becomes necessary for us to advance also if we stay in business and continue to serve you.

Effective October 1st, all domestic butane and propane will be 12c per gallon net price. All accounts due and payable by 10th day of following month from date of delivery. Where credit is extended beyond this period, individual arrangements must be made.

We will continue to handle only the best product available and these prices are the same or lower than all neighboring dealers.

We hope that we may continue to serve you with the same friendly relationship as in past years.

Game Commission Requests In Restocking Texas Quail

(Spec.)—Drouth in-paralysis of the state's restoration program has
in some areas as
have stimulated fall up" work, according to Assistant Executive Secre-
of the Game and Fish Commission.
aid "now is the time" for hunters to pledge time might have been devoted to favorite field sport of quail hunting under more favorable conditions.

Quail hunting in Texas is just another one of the many victims of the devastating drouth.
Outside of the Panhandle and parts of East Texas, the popular fall pastime has been reduced to a fraction of former facilities.

The Game and Fish Commission has spearheaded efforts to begin restoring quail as soon as the dry spell yields to conditions conducive to providing food and cover. As a key part of the program, the Commission this year established an experimental state quail farm

at Tyler which is designed to provide brood quail for areas
where native stock has disappeared.

The Assistant Executive Secretary said the first year's production has been only partly distributed simply because lack of rainfall and the unprecedented heat balked habitat establishment efforts.

"Now we're beginning to get some rain," he said "and the people really interested in personally helping bring back the quail have their chance. After all, fall is the ideal time for plowing and for planting at least some of the needed cover
and food plants."

All available field personnel, particularly game wardens, are available for consultant services for individuals and groups eager to have an actual part in the greatest quail restoration program in Texas history.

The Assistant Executive Secretary said persons desiring a share in the effort will be contacted if they will simply notify the Commission. He asked news media, which have been the backbone of the quail restoration information facility, to pass along this basic bid for identifying potential participants:

"I want to help bring back quail to Texas. My name is:
_____, My address is:
_____, My phone number is: _____"

The data should be mailed to
the Game and Fish Commission headquarters in Austin,
which will have the names processed through local game wardens or other field personnel.

"I have a hunch," said the Assistant Executive Secretary,
"that many a Texan who sorely misses his quail hunting will slow down long enough to send us his name. They may have some land or know somebody who has some land suitable for quail propagation. Our men will work with them and, where conditions are at all possible,
the ground work will be laid for definite action."

East Texas tall trees growing right down to the lake shore make Daingerfield State Park one of Texas beauty spots, beside furnishing inviting shade for picnics, large or small.

PARK OF THE WEEK—Dain-
gerfield State Park in Morris County preserves one of Texas prettiest lakes in the heart of a highly developed industrial area needing recreational facilities.

Visitors get an introduction to the beauty on a winding tree lined road as they enter the park from State Highway 49
about midway between Hughes Springs and Daingerfield.

The setting of the 80-acre lake is superb. Large pine trees mixed with other growths, rim
the shores on all sides, and are reflected in the water. A cleared peninsular tract is the site for the park recreation building, a boat house, large car parking circle, bath houses and a mall leading to the swimming beach.

The lake is well stocked with bass, crappie and white perch.
It has been cared for and fertilized under supervision of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

Limited cabin facilities make
the park chiefly a day-use area.

All of the cabins have evaporative coolers, showers with hot and cold water, butane cooking stoves and ice boxes. Linens and blankets are furnished, but not utensils.

Swimming season at Dainger-
field State Park runs through Labor Day. If weather is favorable, it is extended through September 15. The swimming beach is fenced and has a tree-shaded lounging area within the enclosure. A large diving platform with aluminum diving
board, slides and other equipment is anchored off shore.
There is Lifeguard service.

Sheep-Goat Raisers
Have Fall Meeting
Saturday Sept. 22

Directors of the Texas Sheep
and Goat Raisers Association
and members in that general
area will meet at Big Lake Saturday, September 22, for the Association's fall meeting. J. B.
McCord, Coleman, TS&GRA

president, has announced.

The general and all committee meetings will be at the new high school building and will begin at 9:30 a.m.

"It will be the first time that such a meeting has been held in Big Lake and I hope we will have a good attendance of both directors and members. The Association officers and others have been very busy this summer and I am anxious that their reports be heard," McCord said.

Reports covering activities on emergency drouth a.d. credit,
feed laws, proposed water legislation, Mexican National labor record keeping and the low incentive level for the 1957 wool clip will probably be covered.
Most important, he added, will be the vote to adopt the new districts set up for the purpose of election of directors.

A barbecue dinner will be served at noon at the High School Cafeteria.

Research Announces
A BRAND NEW
WAY TO WORM
CHICKENS
AND TURKEYS

Now — treat
for worms
the easy way
through the drinking water!

Purina Liquid Poultry Wormer! It's the biggest poultry news we've heard in a long time. Big news because it does such a tremendous job of worming chickens and turkeys
— big news because it's so easy to give and costs so little.

Purina Liquid Poultry Wormer, you see, is the brand new drinking water treatment for roundworms. Birds worm themselves just by drinking the medicated water from their regular waterers. Because it's a liquid, this new product is a natural for broiler producers who have a medication barrel on their water system. It mixes easily and of course doesn't clog lines or valves.

And just as important is the fact that you don't have to interrupt or change your feeding program to worm your birds. You keep feeding just as usual.

But the best news of all is that Purina Liquid Poultry Wormer does a better job of removing roundworms than any other compound ever tested by Purina! It even knocks out the small, undeveloped worms that other type wormers so often miss.

What does it cost? Only 30 to 50¢ per hundred birds! Where else could you find a safe, effective wormer
that's so easy to give and still costs
so little? That's why we're sure Purina Liquid Poultry Wormer will make such a big hit with poultrymen in this area. Ask for it today—

board Sign.
