City Council and Phone Company Agree on Compromise Rate Increase

Members of the Goldthwaite City council and representatives of the Southwestern States Telephone Company reached a compromise agreement on rate increases, to be charged local users of telephone service, at a meeting in the City Hall Monday night of last week.

The compromise agreement was reached after the matter had been discussed a number of times by the council and company representatives during the past year. Each time the matter was deferred by the council, until a later date since the company was planning a building and improvement program for this city.

John D. Allen appeared before the council Monday night representing The Southwestern States Telephone Company. He stated that his mission was to renew a request for a rate increase for telephone service in Goldthwaite, a matter that had been under discussion with the council for approximately a year. He further stated that construction was underway on a new office building and that they were in the process of starting construction on distribution system, aggregating a total expenditure of $141,698.00 and that his company could not continue with these improvements unless some agreement could be reached as to telephone rates when construction is completed which would furnish dial type service for all Goldthwaite customers.

The new rate schedule requested was for $9.75 per month for business one party telephone service and $6.50 per month for resident one party service, with corresponding increase for party line service. Mr. Allen stated that these rates were in line with rates in effect in other towns of comparable size and were necessary for his company to justify proposed expenditures and make a fair return on the investment.

A lengthy discussion followed which brought out all phases of the telephone company operations and service in Goldthwaite.

On a motion by Alderman Houston Duren, seconded by Alderman Joe Langford it was voted by the council that the following rate schedule be allowed to take effect when improvements are completed and dial system is installed, beginning with first billing date after that time.

Business one party line service, $8.00 per month.
Business two party line service, $6.50 per month.
Business Extension phone, $1.50 per month.
Residence one party line service, $5.00 per month.
Residence two party line service, $4.00 per month.
Residence four party line service, $3.00 per month.
Residence Extension phone, $1.00 per month.

SOLILOQUY

Figures released by the Bureau of Public Roads indicate that there are now more than 65 million vehicles registered in this country. This means a net gain, for 1956, of approximately 3-million more vehicles on the roads today than in 1955. And, if the trend continues, we can expect 80-million in 1966 and over a 100-million crowding the roads by 1975.

What do these figures mean to you, as a motorist?

Well for one thing—if you think the traffic accident toll is terrible now, just wait 'til the above predictions become realities. Try to visualize 50,000 to 75,000 vehicle deaths each year.

The overall traffic problem must be attacked on all fronts, with stepped-up engineering, education and enforcement. However, for our purposes here, let's look at what just one of the phases offers as a partial solution and how we stand—that of education.

High school driver education extends one of the most promising weapons in the battle to prevent traffic accidents; it offers a sound conservation program of human resources.

Surveys reveal how young drivers who have received classroom and practice driving instruction have less than half as many accidents and violations as those young drivers who have had no formal training. In Connecticut, for example, the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles reported last November that only one per cent of their trained young drivers were involved in accidents, in the preceding year, compared to nine per cent of non-trained drivers.

Texas, according to records of the Texas Safety Association, falls far behind many states, but some headway is being made. During the 1955-56 school year our secondary schools trained nearly 23,983 youngsters to be better, thus safer drivers in our state. Insurance companies have been quick to see the advantages of such a program and have reduced insurance rates by 10% to those who have completed approved driver training courses.

Where do the educators stand? A survey made this past summer by TSA shows that principals and superintendents are overwhelmingly in favor of an expanded driver education program. Generally, they believed it should begin in the ninth grade.

But, many roadblocks prevent the expansion of high school driver education, the most serious of which are the costs to the school, fitting the course into already crowded curriculum and a shortage of properly trained teachers. These obstacles are emphasized by the fact that in spite of a growing public understanding, only 11.5 per cent of Texas' eligible students receive a complete course; one including both classroom and practice driving instruction—the need is obvious.

As has been indicated, the driver training program has been without some support. To be more specific, new car dealers have made outstanding contributions to the program by making driver-training cars available to schools on a loan basis or by offering them at greatly reduced rates. They stand ready to do more.

Still others have contributed greatly to the promotion of driver education. The Texas Safety Association under its current President, E. C. McFadden of Dallas, and its General Manager, J. O. Musick, Austin, has worked diligently in encouraging driver education programs, in high schools, through seminars in colleges and universities, and public conferences. At present TSA is seeking the support of legislators in making the facilities for driver education available to our secondary schools under the Gilmer-Aiken Bill. Indications so far are favorable.

The Department of Public Safety under the leadership of its director, Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr. has done everything within its bounds to gain an expanded program for our schools. In one such move, Colonel Garrison had this to say.

"It has become apparent that a trained instructor in a schoolroom could improve bad driving habits, or prevent them from being formed in the first place, since the classroom instructor had access to the students at a considerably more impressionable age." He said he believed the lesson could be taught much faster in the classroom by a qualified teacher, than on the highway by a patrolman . . . and at greatly reduced expense to the state.

The Texas Education Agency, National Safety Council, Parent-Teacher Association, universities and colleges, local safety councils, the press and other media have likewise been encouraging driver education.

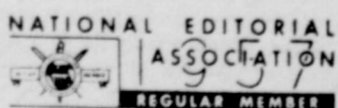

But, one thing is sadly lacking, that is the active support of Mr. and Mrs. Texas. Until public apathy is abated, the annual accident lists cannot be noticeably shortened. Until we, as individuals, express our opinions to our elected representatives and our school administrators we cannot expect our highways to be safe.

If that sounds pessimistic then let me put it another way. Let's suppose that you have two children who are now less than two years old—we can call one John and the other Mary. Now, unless some radical adjustment is made in our present traffic control program, you can expect either John or Mary to be killed or seriously injured in a traffic accident before he or she reaches the age of twenty-one.

Inside WASHINGTON

MARCH OF EVENTS

Demos May 'String Along' Party Could Thus Be Some Like Proposals

Special to Central Press Association

WASHINGTON—Look for congressional Democrats to intensify their efforts to turn President Eisenhower's popularity to their own benefit in the 85th Congress.

The Democrats, frankly impressed by the size of Mr. Eisenhower's victory, know that many voters would turn from them if they openly opposed his program during the next two years. They might spell defeat for the Democratic majority in the 1958 elections.

Instead, they will throw their support behind certain key administration proposals which they know many Republicans do not like. Any congressman who votes against White House requests will then be lambasted during the campaigns.

To some extent, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson used this technique in the last campaign by claiming the Democratic 84th Congress gave Mr. Eisenhower more support than the public 83rd.

High on the list of legislation supported by the White House, but known to offend many Democrats, are bills for federal aid to schools for liberalizing tariff and immigration policies. Democratic leaders can rally considerable support for all of these measures in their own parties.

AIR FORCE PROGRESS—In wake of rapid technological advances, the Air Force has moved rapidly to the fore in the Pentagon. Budgetwise, the Air Force will take nearly 50 per cent of entire military department budget this year.

To further strengthen the service's position, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson recently ordered that all long-range rockets turned over to the Air Force.

A top man in the "new" defense establishment is Gen. C. LeMay, commander of the Strategic Air Command, who is concentrating on bigger and better manned intercontinental bombers.

When intercontinental ballistic missiles are developed to the point where they can out-do the manned bomber, LeMay said recently he will change his present position.

LeMay, along with other Air Force officers, believes that a defense establishment must be flexible. He contends that military thinking must not be geared to what happened in the "last war," has most often been the case with generals and admirals of nations.

IMMIGRATION LAW—Ironically, it was President Eisenhower who has made liberalization of the McCarran-Walter Act impossible during the next session of Congress. This happened when President invoked the immigration law to permit admission to the United States of 15,000 Hungarian refugees in addition to the 6,500 who have been or will be allowed here under the refugee relief act.

Supporters of the McCarran-Walter Act say this confirms their belief that the law does not need to be changed as drastically as Mr. Eisenhower has long wanted. They say the President himself proved the law is liberal enough to permit the United States to meet any immigration emergency—such as the Hungarian refugee situation.

Had the administration been able to complain that it was restrictive provisions of the immigration law which kept the Hungarians out of the United States, it would have had a powerful, irresistible argument for wholesale modification of the law. No, however, it will have a very hard time convincing Congress that it's necessary.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

We're all aglow with happiness this week from many letters that have come from friends and kindred, each fraught with joyous tidings of the Christmas season just past. Mrs. Edna Dwyer writes that she and her children, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cawyer, went to her home at Ebony Friday night before Christmas. They had only Saturday there, so had to work fast to set out a few fruit trees, 100 dewberry plants, and a climbing Blaise rose.

They left early Sunday morning for Abilene and got there in time for church. From there they went to that home on Mocking Bird Lane where live Ednabeth, Harold, and Shelley—the onlies of the Cawyer and the Everetts. Austin and his school supt. had some important reports that had to be out by the first of the year, so he had to be back on the job at Orange Wednesday morning. This made it necessary for them to travel homeward Christmas Day. So Ednabeth timed her Christmas dinner for Christmas Eve night. Mamma Everett brought the Turkey already cooked.

Harold's paternal grandmother, Mom Everett of Santa Anna, is always included in the group. They made it a great party and had the Christmas tree that night too. But Baby Shelley was asleep.

Then as the Dwyer-Cawyers started on their homeward journey there was still more happiness for them when they went by the Marie Wilmeth home to find there Mr. and Mrs. John Bateman and their son, Joe, of Fort Worth and their doctor son, John Robert, of Galveston; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilmeth, Lucy, Nancy, and Joe of Fort Stockton; Mr. and Mrs. Paul McClung, Martha, Larry, and Willie of Wichita Falls; and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wilmeth of Brownwood. Bernice of Fresno, Sylvia Gene of Grandview, and the Briley-Wilmeths were all that were missing from the clan.

Letters from Daughter Ruth and granddaughters, Marilyn and Carol Jean, described Christmas at the Mitchell home in Beaumont. The Sheffields, Tommy and Marilyn and Brenda and Becky, of Port Lavaca arrived Friday before Christmas. The Vinzants, Don and Carol Jean, arrived from Fort Worth at one o'clock Christmas Eve night. Ruth and Marilyn were still going strong, making dressing, filling stockings, etc. They had their Christmas tree Christmas morning, and the complete family circle—eleven in all, sat down to dinner at twelve.

A letter from our good friends, Herbert and Emma White, told of their happy golden wedding anniversary, Dec. 30, at their home in San Angelo. One hundred and fifty guests signed the register. Friends and kindred came from Balrd, Sonora, Eden, Ozono, Mullin, Sweetwater, and Aspermont, and from Oxnard, Calif. Their five daughters, Mrs. Onetta Fields of Tankersly; Mrs. Imogene Griffin of San Angelo; Mrs. Jeffy Ruth Norwood of Demming, N. M.; Mrs. Bernice Clendenen of Alamogordo, N. M.; and Mrs. Mary Dunlap of Ozona were hostesses.

A clipping from the San Angelo paper stated, "The couple were married Dec. 31, 1906, at the home of J. R. Wilmeth near Ebony. Mr. Wilmeth officiated at the ceremony. They have lived near San Angelo most of the time since their marriage, farming until 1955, when they moved to their city residence. They have 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren."

A letter from Mrs. Stanley Reeves said, "Oh! I wish you could have been here for the happy occasion. We had expected on Dec. 30, a quiet golden wedding anniversary with our children bringing the dinner. But Miria and Hubert and Mildred and Fred (Crawford) contrived to make it a great surprise. Three brothers and wives from Frederick, Okla.; my sister, Mrs. Lanford, from Ardmore, Okla.; another sister, Mrs. Hawkins White, and husband and granddaughter, Becky, of Brownsville; granddaughter Evelyn and her daddy, Albert Hardin, from Big Spring; a nephew, Sam Zumwalt, from Kansas; and of course Hubert's family, and Mildred's, including the Charles Roberts family from San Antonio were all here for a sumptuous dinner. They hurried to clear the table, and by two o'clock guests began to arrive bringing all kinds of beautiful gifts. My husband had bought me a beautiful corsage of deep yellow Sweetheart roses. I was "Queen for a Day." Mildred brought the three-tiered wedding cake with the bride and groom atop under a golden bell. Cake and punch was served to the guests. It was a perfect day in every way, even to the weather. Fred said, "I wish Mrs. Briley could have come to write up the affair."

Income Questionnaires Mailed to Veterans, Widows and Children

Annual income questionnaires have been mailed to more than 1,200,000 veterans and widows and children of deceased veterans in the Waco Veterans Administration Regional Area who are receiving pension, Dr. George T. McMahan, Manager, announced today. Those in the Waco area are among 1,200,000 throughout the nation who will receive the questionnaires.

Dr. McMahan urged those who receive the questionnaires to fill them in completely and return them immediately to the VA office in Waco. Unless completed questionnaires are returned to VA within 30 days, pension payments will be stopped, Dr. McMahan stressed. Questionnaires are mailed out yearly because disability and death pensions are subject to annual income limitations. The current questionnaires request data on 1956 income and anticipated 1957 income. Pensions are payable to certain eligible veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean conflict period who are permanently and totally disabled from causes not connected with their service in the Armed Forces, and to certain widows and children of veterans of these wars who die of nonservice-connected causes. In both cases, the annual income of those receiving pension must not exceed $1400, without dependents, or $2700 with dependents. Only dependents allowed for a living veteran for pension purposes are a wife and minor children, and for a widow, only minor children. For income purposes, payments from VA for disability or death including proceeds of GI insurance need not be reported. However, all other payments, including gifts, employment, commercial life insurance, social security, annuities and retirement benefits must be reported. Those receiving pensions should report immediately any increase in income which would raise their annual income above the statutory limitations to avoid an overpayment. Overpayments are recoverable by the Government.

News About Social Security

Virtually all self-employed people are now covered by social security, except doctors of medicine, according to Maurice M. Chastain, Manager of the Temple social security office. With the passage of the 1956 Amendments to the Social Security Act, the Nation's social security system will now protect practically every family. About 200,000 professional self-employed are affected by this change.

Self-employed lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors, veterinarians, naturopaths, and optometrists are now building old-age and survivors insurance protection for themselves and their families. Net earnings for 1956, if they are as much as $400, will count toward social security insurance. The law requires self-employed persons in these groups to report their earnings up to a total of $4200 a year for taxable years ending after 1955. In most cases, first reports will be filed with 1956 income tax returns early in 1957. This applies whether the work is in individual or in a partnership.

The 1956 Amendments also cover additional farm operators. Landlords who substantially assist in or manage production of a crop or livestock on land farmed by renters or sharecroppers must report their farm income for social security if they had a net profit of $400 or more in 1956.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kirby of Jal, New Mexico, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Frizzelle of Sherman Oaks, California, returned to their home last Saturday after visiting their families, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kirby and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Daniel and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Frizzelle were en route home after having spent the past several weeks here and in San Antonio with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolff of Carrizo Springs spent the New Year Weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Wolff and Iva Dee.

Mrs. Joe B. Karnes spent the past weekend in Fort Worth with her children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Proctor Karnes and Wanda.

Proposed Law Would Change Auto Insurance Rates

AUSTIN (Spec.)—A bill that would permit companies to charge lower automobile insurance rates has been introduced in the Texas Legislature by Senator Jarrad Secrest of Bell County (Temple).

This would be possible when, as the legislation proposes, a flexible rating system is substituted for the present antiquatedly single or uniform rating system for determining rates for surety and casualty (including automobile) insurance. "Many insurance companies now are in a position to charge lower rates for insurance, but are not permitted to do so because the State Board of Insurance Commissioners must under the present law name the same rate for all companies," the senator explained.

Other advantages of the proposed law were listed as: 1. A buyer of casualty and automobile insurance can shop around to find the lowest rates and best coverages—something he cannot do under the present law because all companies must charge the same rate. 2. The careful driver is penalized under the present rating system. Rates are determined by the State Board of Insurance Commissioners on an average basis. Thus, the careful driver pays the same rate as the careless driver. This would not be true under the flexible system. 3. The present system is nothing more than "fair trade" applied to the insurance business, with the State fixing the price. 4. The State is losing nearly $6,000,000 in taxes each year now because much insurance business that should go to companies authorized to operate in Texas is going to "non-admitted" companies that pay no State taxes.

Chevrolet shows you some important differences in low-priced cars just by the look on its face!

Wouldn't you say that most of the '57 cars look good from 50 feet away, but what about from 50 inches away?

What does a close-up of the grille tell you, for example? Is it solidly made like the new Chevrolet grille? Or, in comparison does it look less rich in design—feel less strong and solid? Compare the quality and construction of the bumpers and headlights, the fit of the chrome trim.

The more closely you look all around the car, the more clearly you'll see that Chevrolet has the edge in the way it's put together. You'll find, for instance, that Chevrolet is the only car in its field with a lacquer finish... that only Chevrolet Bel Air models give you foam rubber cushions in front and rear seats as standard equipment. These are just a few of the advantages of Body by Fisher. And Chevrolet, you know, is the only low-priced car that has a Fisher Body.

Mission of the Twelve

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matthew 9:35—10:42.

Jesus went about all the cities and villages preaching in the synagogues, and healing every type of sickness and disease. He grieved for the people, for they seemed as sheep having no shepherd.

Christ told His disciples that the harvest of souls was plenteous, but there were few laborers. He begged them to pray that God would send more laborers "into His harvest."

When Jesus had called His 12 Apostles to Him, He gave them the power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.

Then Jesus sent the 12 away, telling them to go to the cities and preach, saying, "The kingdom of Heaven is at hand."

MEMORY VERSE—Matthew 9:37, 38.

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Texas—Texas' 55th Legislature is down to business with a "first things first" agenda.

House members agreed to Speaker Waggoner Carr's plea to give top priority to appropriations. A $2,000,000,000 appropriation bill is proposed by the Legislative Budget Board. It would require no new taxes. But it does not include such strongly-backed items as the teacher pay raises.

Members of the House Appropriations Committee, headed by Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, already have begun their dollar-by-dollar deliberations. Said Speaker Carr, as they began, "You are the key to the whole session."

A host of other controversial problems will be pushing for attention. Among them:

1. Long-range, state-wide water conservation. Sen. George Farhouse of Dallas, chairman of the Water Resources Committee, is asking for prompt action. Sixteen bills, two constitutional amendments were presented by the committee.

2. School integration. Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs circulated a Texas Manifesto which pledged signers to support legislation to help preserve school segregation.

3. Election code revisions. Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas proposes a law requiring a run-off between top candidates in special elections for U. S. senator and congressman-at-large. He wants it passed on an emergency basis to apply to the upcoming race for Price Daniel's place. Republicans are protesting vigorously.

4. Lobby control and legislative ethics. Rep. Zeke Zbrank of Daisetta says he will introduce a bill requiring lobbyists to file monthly financial reports.

KEY POSTS ASSIGNED—Though new faces abound—56 in the House, seven in the Senate—honors, as usual, went to old hands.

Sen. Otis E. Lock of Lufkin, veteran of nearly 20 years in the Legislature, was elected Senate president pro tempore. It is the top Senate honor, second in line to the governorship.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock is a fourth-termer.

Rep. Max C. Smith of San Marcos, now in his seventh term, drew the important House appropriations committee chairmanship. Other key chairmen in the House are Frates S. Seel-gison of San Antonio, revenue and taxation; W. S. (Bill) Heatly of Paducah, state affairs.

Other returning lawmakers hold remaining House chairmanships. They are: aeronautics, Vernon J. Stewart of Wichita Falls; agriculture, Harold B. Parish of Taft; banking, Thomas R. Joseph of Waco; claims and accounts, W. A. Stroman of San Angelo; commerce and manufacturers, W. W. Glass of Jacksonville; common carriers, J. B. Walling of Wichita Falls; comptroller's accounts, Louis H. Anderson of Midland; congressional and legislative districts, Malcolm McGregor of El Paso; conservation and reclamation, Leroy Saul of Kress; constitutional amendments, Jack Welch of Marlin; contingent expense, Louis Dugas of Orange.

Also: counties, Menton J. Murray of Harlingen; criminal jurisprudence, J. E. Winfree of Houston; education, James A. Turman of Gober; engrossed bills, Herman Yezak of Bremond; enrolled bills, Walter C. Schwartz of Brenham; federal relations, Eligio de la Garza of Mission; game and fish, Cecil Storey of Longview; highways, Jim Moore of Fort Worth; hospitals and special schools, Moyné L. Kelly of Afton; insurance, Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio; interstate commerce, Truett Latimer of Abilene; judiciary, Wade F. Spilman; judicial, Richard C. White of El Paso.

Also: labor, Scott McDonald of Fort Worth; liquor regulation, DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi; livestock, A. J. Bishop Jr. of Winters; local uncontested bills, Robert W. Baker of Houston; military veterans, Paul Brasher of Cisco; motor traffic, Joe Pool of Dallas; municipal and private corporations, R. L. Strickland of San Antonio; oil, gas and mining, Richard C. Slack of Pecos; penitentiaries, Warren C. Cowen of Fort Worth; elections, Carlton Moore of Houston; public health, J. Edgar Wilson of Amarillo; public lands and buildings, Bob Wheeler of Tilden; public printing, Charlie Heitman Jr. of Nacogdoches; representation before legislature, Reagan R. Huffman of Marshall; rules, R. H. Cory of Victoria; school districts, Alonzo Jamison of Denton.

NEW ERA—Secretaries will be heard, but not seen, this session.

This and a number of other innovations are being tried out by the 55th Legislators.

Formerly the lawmakers' secretaries, usually including many University coeds, were on and off the floor all during sessions. House members' secretaries had no desks of their own.

Now the house secretaries have basement offices. Their employers have new private telephones to call their secretaries, other lawmakers' desks and outside.

But banished secretaries can console themselves with pay raises—up from $9 to $10 a day in the House, from $12 to $14 in the Senate. Both are paid seven days a week.

Even so, many observers deplored the passing of the secretarial "beauty parade."

House members also voted to permit radio and television broadcasting of their sessions.

FOUR SEEK SPEAKERSHIP—Campaigning for Speaker of the House in 1959 already has begun.

Candidates are Reps. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville, Ben A. Glusing of Kingsville, Barefoot Sanders of Dallas and Will Smith of Beaumont.

Decision will not be definite until after the 1958 elections.

CITIZEN SHIVERS—Gov. Allan Shivers steps out of the Capitol into multiple private business activities.

He will continue to live in Austin where he will serve as chairman of the board of Western Pipe-Lines, Inc. He also will oversee his farm and ranch property at Woodville and the Shary estate in the Valley. His family moves from the mansion to a large rented home while remodeling of their next home, the 100-year-old Pease Mansion, is completed.

In his farewell address to the Legislature, Governor Shivers urged an unemotional approach to segregation problems. He gave his backing to a primary in the special senatorial election.

His departure closes a spectacular public career begun 22 years ago as a state senator from an East Texas district.

SHORT SNORTS—Dan Moody Jr., son of the former governor, now is parliamentarian of the Texas Senate. . . . John Davenport, former executive assistant attorney general, now is general counsel to the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association.

INCOME TAX INFORMATION

Under the provisions of the federal Internal Revenue Act, all persons who have a gross income over $600 must file income tax returns, except if the taxpayer is 65 or older he need not file a return unless he has gross income over $1,200. This is because persons who are 65 or older have two exemptions which automatically eliminate any tax liability for income under $1,200.

All federal tax returns for individuals must be filed on or before April 15. Although many persons believe that a tax return need only be postmarked by the due date, such is not the intent of the statute. Tax returns are supposed to be in the office of the Internal Revenue Service by the due date specified.

Tax forms and instructions will be received by most persons during January. The instructions being distributed this year contain the following statement: "The Internal Revenue Service will mail Form 1040 ES, as far as is practical, to each person who may need it. Anyone else required to file should obtain the form from an Internal Revenue Service office in time to file by April 15, 1957."

Declarations of estimated tax are required from all persons who expect gross income of more than $400, plus $600 times the number of exemptions which may be claimed, if more than $100 of the income will not be subject to withholding.

Single persons with more than $5,000 and married persons with more than $10,000 expected gross income must file declarations of estimated tax even though all of the income is subject to withholding.

Declarations of estimated tax, except those for farmers, must be filed by April 15. Like the income tax return, this date is one month later than the deadline for years before the new Revenue Act went into effect. However, the final dates for quarterly installment payments remain the same—April 15, June 15, September 15, and the last one on January 15 of the following year.

If a person, other than a farmer, desires to file his income tax return and pay his tax in full, he may do this on or before January 15 instead of paying his last quarterly installment. It does not relieve anyone from filing the original declaration of estimated tax and making three payments on it. However, in most cases this provision does remove the possibility of a penalty for an under estimate of tax liability.

Farmers have special provisions concerning declarations of estimated tax and may postpone the filing of any estimate until February 15 of the following year.

The penalty for underpayment of tax liability on the declaration of estimated tax was reduced by the 1954 act. There is not an underpayment if the taxpayer remits at least 70% of his tax as shown on his final tax return. If there is an under-

TEXAS TIMBER PRODUCTION

Anybody want to build about 885,000 average five room houses this year? Enough lumber will be cut in Texas during 1957 to do it!

If a 10-foot wide wooden belt were needed around the equator to hold the earth together, Texas could furnish the material and still have some left over. Or laid end on end, Texas' yearly lumber production would form a continuous span to the moon.

The piney woods section of East Texas has made a real comeback in the past 20 years. Almost one million acres more forest land exists today than in 1935 due to once cleared land reverting to woods.

Forests now cover 11,655,800 acres in the commercial timber belt of East Texas. Annual income exceeds 100 million dollars from cut lumber, furnishing employment to over 50,000 persons.

The volume in sawtimber trees totals 26 million board feet. Softwood sawtimber volume, mainly southern yellow pine with some cypress and red cedar, has risen 26 percent since 1935 in southeast Texas. This big increase in growth reflects the great progress made in protection and improved forest practice during the past 20 years.

Fire, insects, disease, and other natural disasters annually kill about 50 million cubic feet of timber in East Texas. Special attention is being given this problem for if the existing timber supply were exhausted, the economy of 36 counties would be severely hurt.

About 92 percent of Tyler county is in forest land, and in Newton, Polk and Angelina counties, more than 80 percent of the total area is wooded. From these and other counties come over 1 1/2 billion board feet of lumber handled by 70 large sawmills and several hundred portable mills.

Three pulp mills in Texas are now using about half as much pine annually as all of the more than 500 sawmills together.

The towering pine is still big business in Texas, and will be for many years to come.

payment, the penalty is 6% per annum interest on the additional amount which should have been remitted. It is expected that there will be more strict enforcement of this provision in the future by the Internal Revenue Service.

STORY NO. 4

Buy, Scare or Kill Him -- That's The Duval Rule For Successful Bossism

By--FRANZ ROSENWALD

SAN DIEGO, TEX.—The first thing any smart dictator does is destroy the freedom of the press. Dictatorship, whether it be called Nazism or Bossism, and a free press cannot exist together.

In a later article I want to tell you how the press played an indispensable role in the collapse of the Duval Duchy.

But right now I want to talk about Manuel Marroquin, who was beaten because his little newspaper published things the boys didn't like. It's a lot like other beatings I've seen in other places, halfway around the world.

The first Nazi storm trooper I ever saw was at a Hitler birthday rally in the Berlin Sports Palast.

He was a smiling, affable fellow, booted, wearing a Sam Brown belt over his neat khaki shirt. On his left arm was a swastika, emblem of good luck. At his side hung a dagger in its sheath.

Hundreds of his fellows were scattered about the huge hall, all smiling, all good natured, selling photographs of Der Fuehrer and copies of "Mein Kampf."

My storm trooper worked in a bakery not too far from my home. I knew him well. He was a bit on the round side, jolly, and he wouldn't hurt a fly.

This was long before Hitler came to supreme power in Germany.

Hitler made his grand entrance—and a man near me laughed at the strutting little bantam rooster with the funny moustache.

My mild-mannered baker was on him in a second, beating him in the face with his fists, tearing his glasses off and flinging them in the aisle. Another storm trooper moved in, deliberately crunching the glasses under his heel, his dagger drawn and pointed at the man who was being beaten.

Nobody in the vicinity moved, and the ovation for Der Fuehrer roared on. The storm troopers hustled the man out. My mild-mannered baker returned in a few minutes, jovial, smiling, selling his pictures of Der Fuehrer.

The first pistolero I ever saw was just the other day in the Windmill Cafe in San Diego, Texas.

He was a smiling, affable fellow, booted and wearing a neat khaki shirt. Belted to his side was a .45 in a holster.

That same day I tape recorded the story of Manuel Marroquin, publisher of a little political paper called "New Duval," a paper dedicated to the destruction of the dictatorship of George Berham Parr.

The incident, the parallel with the peace and resisting arrest. He was acquitted in court. A Jim Wells County court.

Let's take one more parallel case—and there are literally hundreds that might be cited. We'll consider Manuel Sanchez, a grocer. He's a Latin-American and his name is Spanish. The name is curiously close to that of Don Quixote's roly-poly squire in the famous Cervantes satire. But this Sanchez, also a roly-poly man who weighs over 300 pounds, isn't tilting at windmills.

Manuel Sanchez' name might have been Schultz and he might have lived in Berlin. His experience would have been the same.

Sanchez' sin in San Diego was to vote—and talk—against the machine of George Berham Parr.

Sanchez' business was placed under a strict boycott. He was threatened. People on relief (and these are many in Duval, particularly at election time) were ordered not to trade with him. His business was ruined. He might just as well have had "Juden" soaped on his window and storm troopers posted at his door.

In Hitler's Germany the terror hours were at night. It was a favorite sport of the storm troopers to rouse suspected enemies of the Reich out of bed, line up the family and glare powerful flashlights into their eyes. The troopers would say nothing, just stand back of the lights. Sometimes this would be repeated night after night for weeks. Eventually some member of the family would crack and blurt out a confession. The next stop would be a concentration camp.

Manuel Sanchez and his family were subjected to the same treatment in a modified form. Parr's bully boys would drive up to the Sanchez home at night and throw the blinding beams from strong flashlights into the faces of Sanchez and his family, into the frightened eyes of Sanchez' mother, who was ill. Sometimes George Parr took a personal part in these expeditions.

Hitler's storm troopers didn't bother to get search warrants when they pulled a raid. Parr's men at least went through the motions. Parr's sheriff obtained an illegal warrant and ripped Sanchez store apart in a search for alleged narcotics. Sanchez was smart enough to get witnesses. No narcotics were found.

The story of a dictatorship cannot be fully told except in terms of living people—and we could go on and on with stories of Duval, each story with a counterpart in the Germany that I knew, the Germany from which I escaped. There's the story of Cristobal Ybanez who was personally beaten by Parr who swung a rifle at his head. But why go on?

Manuel Marroquin's story illustrates the pattern. A smart dictator and a spunky newspaper don't mix. That's one of the big reasons why the Duval machine broke down, as I'll tell you about in another article.

Businesses Are Urged To Release Tax Withholding Statements Early

Businesses with large payrolls urged today by E. C. Wentreck, chief of the Internal Revenue Service, to release 1956 W-2 tax withholding statements to their employees now to speed up filing and adjustment of individual taxpayer returns.

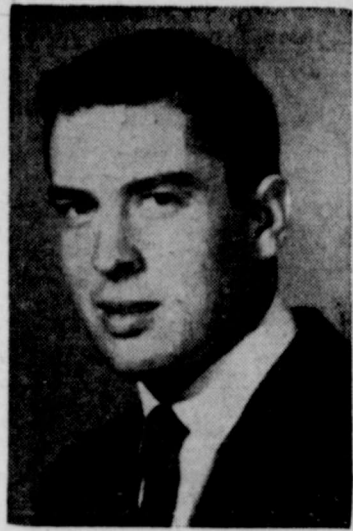

With their 4-2s available, taxpayers will be able to prepare their own income tax forms at home and send them to Internal Revenue Service, 2101 Pacific, Dallas, Texas. Make checks or money orders payable to the Internal Revenue Service. Please don't send cash, IRS asks.

"To hundreds of our fellow citizens," Mr. Wentreck said, "the withholding tax represents their entire tax indebtedness. In some instances, there may be a small overpayment or underpayment. Such cases can be easily detected when the individual reads the comprehensive instructions. We'd appreciate taxpayer cooperation in getting all such forms in to us at once. That will help us take care of the heavy work load during the deadline period.

"Our office will gladly help taxpayers with knotty problems. If you think a phone call will do the trick, call us at 2-7639. If you feel that a personal visit is the only way, come in and bring your papers, including everything concerning your income for 1956.

"We are urging taxpayers to file and pay early before the hectic rush of the second week in April."

Tax Man Sam Says!

The tax folks spend a lot of time sending back income tax returns that Papa signs and forgets to have Mama sign. If the return is a joint return, Papa and Mama are both responsible and both have to sign. Prepare your tax return and both sign it, if it is a joint return, now. It may be to your advantage to file early.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

By CHARLES HAENISCH

Water-short Texas towns are waking up to the opportunity of adding to their water supplies through the Department of Agriculture watershed protection and flood prevention programs in the Trinity and Colorado River watersheds and in local projects assisted under Public Law 566.

State Conservationist H. N. Smith of the Soil Conservation Service reports growing interest on the part of municipalities eager to pay added costs to provide needed water storage behind floodwater retarding dams. Smith explained that the dams are designed as detention structures primarily. Their purpose is to slow down floodwaters and release them automatically at a rate stream channels can hold. Each dam must first be justified on the basis of its usefulness in flood prevention. Water storage for any purpose other than flood prevention must be secondary and in keeping with state law.

Applications for SCS help under the comparatively new Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act (Public Law 566) now total 113, Smith reported. Modification of the Act has made it easier for municipalities and special purpose districts to make use of the program in meeting local water needs.

In the new watershed protection program, municipalities or other authorized organizations can build water storage into a floodwater retarding structure by paying the difference in cost, Smith said. The city of Kaufman, in the Kaufman-Van Zandt Soil Conservation District, was the first Texas city to take advantage of the water-storing opportunity.

Added capacity of 1834 acre feet was built into a floodwater retarding structure on Big Cottonwood Creek, a small watershed in the big Upper Trinity flood prevention program.

The 1834 acre feet storage—nearly 600 million gallons—was provided at a cost to Kaufman of $18,114.

Smith said construction has started on a similar project near Coolidge, Texas, to provide 355 acre feet of storage for that city in the Pin Oak Creek watershed program.

In the new watershed protection program the government can lend up to $5 million for periods of as long as 50 years at a rate of about 2½ percent. The loan is retired on an annual basis. There is no such loan provision in the older Upper Trinity and Middle Colorado flood prevention program.

SCS is authorized by the new law to cooperate with local subdivisions of government in building structures up to 5000 acre feet of floodwater detention capacity. Additional storage up to 25,000 acre feet in total capacity can be provided for municipal water supplies.

A city or water district must use its own engineer or employ one to determine water needs and suitability of the watershed and the proposed structure for a municipal supply. The local engineer may re-design the dam to include the additional storage, or the city or water district may use the SCS engineering help and reimburse the agency.

Smith explained that the objective of the locally sponsored watershed program is to give protection to land, crops and property against flood damage. Soil conservation treatment of land in the watershed is fundamental. It insures a long period of usefulness for the floodwater retarding structures by reducing sediment carried by runoff into streams and reservoirs. It also benefits the farmer and rancher through more efficient use of land and available moisture.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Porter and little granddaughter, Miss Cathy Dell Harkey were in San Angelo last Sunday and were among the crowd that saw the President arrive by plane.

Farm And Ranch Assistance Bills Are Introduced

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, as one of his first actions in the 85th Congress, last week introduced in the Senate a bill providing immediate additional assistance to farmers and stockmen in drought areas and setting up a program to restore drought-hit pasture land to productivity.

As immediate assistance, the Senator's proposal instructs the Secretary of Agriculture to give assistance in providing cottonseed cake to cattle owners.

The second section of the proposed program calls for conducting an extensive soil conservation program through the use of a deferred grazing plan.

"This would make it possible for stockmen to give their land a chance to recover from the effects of the drought, once it breaks," Senator Johnson pointed out. "The bill would require the Department of Agriculture to make payments, at normal annual rental value, to landowners agreeing to defer the use of their depleted pasture lands for periods of not less than 12 months.

"In other words, the plan would make it possible for our stockmen to do what they know is sound from a conservation standpoint but what they cannot afford to do unless an adequate Government program is provided," Senator Johnson said.

An identical bill was introduced in the House of Representatives by members of the Texas Delegation.

Membership dues will be $2.00 per year for regular membership and $1.00 per year for junior members until their high school education is terminated.

The sales committee which was appointed by the president will work out details and plans for the annual sale to be held in Central Texas which is the primary purpose of the organization.

Twenty-three members joined the organization at this initial meeting and an invitation is extended to all registered goat breeders to become members. Those who became members at the organizational meeting are: V. Z. Cornelius, H. B. Jernigan, David Watters, Robert Kerby, R. E. Casbeer, Joe Weedon, Joe Dan Weedon, H. D. Roberson, W. F. Sutherland, Roy S. Dellis, Clarence W. Dellis, Steve Smith, Harry Smith, Glenn Nickols, Bob Oxford, Alan Oxford, F. B. Daniel, W. A. Elms, T. C. Graves, E. L. Luckie, Mrs. E. D. Roberson, Charles H. Cornelius and Tom Cody Graves.
