Repairing Bleachers Or Build New Ones Is Being Discussed

In a recent school board meeting, the condition of our football bleachers on the north side of the gridiron was introduced for discussion.

It appears that these accommodations have long exceeded their expectations and are in a bad state of repair. It appears also that the repair job would be expensive and still the bleachers would be uncomfortable and still be old equipment.

The school board, as a group, along with the superintendent would like to fulfill the wishes of the community on repairing or constructing new bleachers but feel that something needs to be done soon before the September opening.

Constructive thinking, discussion and planning will help a lot. Bleachers are expensive so if you have good ideas, let's put them into use. The bleachers are used by the public and must be safe. See school board members if you have ideas. This might be a good Quarterback project.

Robert Lee Roberson is a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Roberson. He has just completed work on his Masters degree at the University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minn.

BREAK-THROUGH TO BEAUTY

Take any street on which the homes are properly landscaped and what do you find?

More civic-conscious people—more prosperous and happier people!

The use to which people put their land often marks the difference between sound values, both of mind and property, and deterioration. Juvenile delinquency, according to the American Association of Nurserymen is far less in landscaped areas, due of course, to the higher economic standard, but also to the fact that the land is well-cared for, utilized in producing beauty and more interesting and gracious living.

One of our greatest authorities on economics as well as living, put it this way: "We have made the break-through from an economy of scarcity to an economy of abundance. Can we make the break-through from an economy of abundance to an economy of abundant beauty? We shall not become truly masters of our economy until we have taught it to serve our ideas of beauty."

Atomic and solar energy, automation, any of the great scientific and technological developments of present and future will be of no great benefit to mankind unless they serve to enrich the lives of the whole population. That they do precisely that is a challenge—the break-through to abundant beauty, better living for all. This is a goal that should be in the thoughts of all property owners.

Beauty and better living, tranquility in a complex world, solidly emanates from living more naturally amidst the pleasures of flowering plants and fruits and all the other things nurtured by the warm sun, the fertile soil and the good rains.

Everywhere, we should find beauty, whether at home in town, or driving on the turnpikes. Moreover, we find that proper use of land, or landscaping to provide better living, whichever way we word it, serves other purposes than beauty alone. At home, it expands our living to the healthful outdoors, at the factory it encourages better work and better human relations, while on the highways it lessens monotony, reduces headlight glare and lowers the accident frequency — actually saves lives.

The break-through from economic abundance to abundance of beauty can, in great measure, be derived from proper landscaping that offers, in turn, more natural proper landscaping that offers, in turn, more natural and more gracious living.

One road for America lies toward a sort of superman's push-button "slum", the other toward more natural and beautiful living, a harnessing of economic development to serve its only stable goal: an America beautiful, happy, morally and physically strong. Such a break-through is just beginning in the expanding push of recent years for outdoor living rooms, more landscaped beauty on our home and industrial properties, and to growing extent on our highways, but there still is a long way to go. This emerging break-through to abundant beauty is important news to property owners and the possibilities in this direction for the future are exciting indeed.

SPRING CLEAN-UP

Keeping our community clean is an important duty—conducive to your health, happiness and comfort.

Cooperative efforts to give communities a thorough cleaning at least once a year were first undertaken about 47 years ago. Their purpose was to teach the importance of continuous cleanliness in and about the home.

At first the campaign was devoted to ridding homes and yards of rubbish and waste that had accumulated during the winter months. Later the campaigns were spread over a period of a week or longer. Not only is an effort made to collect and cart away the winter's accumulation of waste, but many communities also undertake programs of fire prevention education and home beautification. Cellars, attics, backyards, vacant lots, alleys, streets—in fact every spot in the city, whether on public or private property, comes under scrutiny by public officials and citizens' committees.

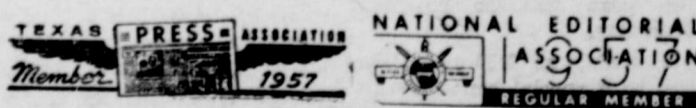

In recent years the movement has spread so rapidly that today practically every city has a spring campaign, some repeating the effort in the fall, during Fire Prevention Week. Many others, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, make a continuing year-round campaign.

Since we individually in this community stand to benefit greatly from this activity, we all should do our share of the work. Then the rewards of health, happiness and comfort will result.

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Forty Plus Group Fights Age Barriers of Industry

WASHINGTON—Two sparsely furnished rooms in an old building three blocks from the White House are the headquarters for one of the liveliest battles now being waged in the wide drive against age barriers in American industry.

Every Monday morning, a couple of dozen men, ranging from 40 to 70, drop in for a two-hour session in which to prove their proven abilities and job qualifications against younger men.

Their purpose is to petition for the increasing flow of professional and executive employment offerings from government agencies and private industry.

These are active members of Forty Plus Washington, one of 10 similar organizations throughout the United States, which call itself a "non-profit association of upper executive and professional men over 40 years of age with mature experience and ability, with good records in responsible positions, who have combined in a group effort to secure employment."

At a recent weekly meeting, the members included two retired admirals and a full colonel of the Navy, a retired Army colonel, a newspaper editor, a retired Army engineer, several personnel and public relations specialists.

Virtually all of these men were unemployed as the result of business mergers, reductions in force, or mandatory old-age retirement, and all of them were far too active mentally and physically to be passively accept being placed "on the shelf."

The batting average of the Washington group is about 92 per cent, with 90 placements as against 37 applications. During the first two months of 1957, according to the demand for executives was high, but a temporary wave was responsible for cutting placements to 13 in the new membership.

The chairman of the club's placement committee says the continuous contact maintained with interested employers through the country indicates that the slack will be taken up in the resurgence of employment.

One of the 13 who went back to a full-time job was a newspaperman and editorial consultant, who qualified for a new position with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, according to latest reports, is now a valued member of the staff.

Other Forty Plus men have gone to the departments of Defense, Commerce and Labor, as well as to Washington government stores, hotels, banks, and to George Washington University.

At least 10 states and three foreign countries (Thailand, Rica and Ecuador) have found openings for members of the Washington organization.

"YOU MAY IMAGINE," says President John T. Gibbs of Forty Plus of Washington, "the thrill we get out of signing up a new member who may be discouraged by the 'Over Forty' bar to employment and needs nothing in the world so much as the reassurance that he still is not only employable, but is actually needed in our American free economy."

"We immediately put him to work two days a week here at Plus headquarters—where we have no paid office help—and finds himself drawn back into a center of useful activity."

"There is little time for worrying about his personal progress—least of all when a call comes from an employer who has his career resume and wants to meet him!"

the river that flows on wheels

More petroleum moves over Santa Fe than over any other railroad in the country

The 2,384,000,000 gallons of petroleum that Santa Fe moves every year is the river that flows on wheels.

It's so large that it makes Santa Fe the No. 1 petroleum railroad in the country.

This flood tide of oil gives heat and power to farms, factories, military installations and homes all over the nation.

The tremendous demand for petroleum, in all its forms, poses special problems for Santa Fe. For it requires speed and service to keep that river flowing full force. Here are a few of the ways we get the job done:

We move empty tankers just as fast as full ones, so no vehicle will stand idle.

As new oil fields are opened up, we stand ready to serve them. And when new developments take place within the industry, we adapt ourselves to take care of them.

As an example, take liquefied petroleum gas. The demand for it has skyrocketed in the last 10 years, because with this "bottled gas" rural families can cook and heat with gas just like city people. And the railroads have made it possible for them to get it.

Santa Fe runs special LPG trains when the demand for this product requires it. In a year, these trains carry enough LPG to heat over 500,000 homes from November through April.

This is just a part of the story of the dependable transportation service Santa Fe is providing to essential industries that contribute so much to the welfare of our country.

County Commission Company
Subject To USDA Standards

County Commission is now subject to the Act of the Packers and Stockyards Act. As announced this W. C. Ball, District Packers and Stockyards Branch, Agricultural Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Ft. Worth.

"Livestock markets with 20,000 square feet of space or more, handling livestock for buyers shipping to other states, are subject to this law," explained Ball.

Congress designed the law to protect the interest of farmers and ranchers selling livestock at markets which operate on a commission basis.

"At the same time, it gives protection to the market operator, too. 'Ball pointed out,' and assures the community of a well established, financially strong market outlet for its livestock plus a reliable source of supply for packers."

When a yard is "posted," it becomes subject to the highest operating standards set out in the law, Mr. Ball explained.

The Packers and Stockyards staff check a posted market ever so often to verify the accuracy of its sales, general accounting of funds to farmers, charges for marketing, feed and other services.

Ball said that Texas has more markets operating under the Packers and Stockyards Act now than at any time in history—about 70.

Well this is a very cool morning but no frost thank goodness.

On Tuesday of last week I accompanied Mmes. D. R. Edgington, W. P. Duren, D. W. Arnold, Leonard Cole and Floyd Langford to Dallas to the Baptist Convention and we saw the tornado that hit Dallas.

As we came out of the church I noticed a funny looking cloud and told the ladies to look at the cloud. We were going right toward it. By the time we were on the viaduct we knew for sure that it was a tornado and we could not get off. We could see pieces of plank and what have you going up in the air. The tornado was still coming towards us. I did not know what to do but pray and that is what I did. We turned off at the first street after getting off the viaduct and stopped at a filling station. The attendant told us we were in five blocks of the storm. I do not know if it was five blocks or not but it was too close anyway.

I believe I was the only one that was really and truly scared and believe me, I was scared. Anyway I believe God did answer my prayer and no one could make me believe otherwise.

Well anyway we made it home safe and sound and enjoyed the day very much.

Mrs. Terrell Casbeer received a message that her uncle, Ace Hufstutler was very ill in Austin.

Mrs. Vic Koleber visited with me Friday evening.

Dutch and I accompanied our son, Johnnie and wife to Houston over the weekend. Mrs. Smith's mother underwent surgery Friday morning. We also visited our daughter and family the Jess Balls.

I visited in the Whittaker home before prayer meeting Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Nickols and Mrs. Dutch Smith attended the Workers Meeting at Long Cove Monday night.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

By CHARLES HAENISCH

Recent good rains and moisture of one form or another have put a fair moisture supply in the ground.

This is especially true where cover was present. Penetration on the bare spots was around twelve inches.

Anson Oden, supervisor of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District reports these facts. "These slow rains have been ideal for getting moisture in the ground but as the rains increase in intensity the run-off will increase from over-used pastures. The Supervisors urge farmers and ranchers of the district to take advantage of the benefits that are to be gained by range deferment and pitting or chiseling practices.

These practices can be of great value to pastures especially when they are carried out together. The chiseling opens up the parched surface crusts and forms a trap for the heavy spring rains the increased moisture penetration grows more cover if grazing is controlled. This is where the deferment pays big dividends. As the cover increases the amount of moisture that is stored in the soil increases.

The only way to increase the production of a pasture is to get more moisture into the soil so it can produce. This statement can be compared to an investment of money. Everyone knows that as the investment increases so increases the total amount of interest that comes from that investment. We also know that if we make withdrawals the interest will soon cease altogether.

The same holds true for our pastures; if we continue to make withdrawals in the form of beef, mutton, wool or mohair and never give the pasture a rest, the amount of the interest in the form of beef, mutton, wool or mohair will decrease also.

So why not start thinking about how the interest rate on your pasture can be increased. The returns will be many fold.

Oden also pointed out that the supervisors are always glad to have any farmer or rancher who has problems either make a date with Soil Conservation Service technicians or to meet with the Board on the second Tuesday of each month.

WASHING PROBLEMS WITH SYNTHETICS

Women complain that many of the new synthetics develop dingy unattractive color in washing, which is hard to remove.

Much of this discoloration is due to one of three factors.

First, is the static electricity produced by some of the newer fibers. This attracts soil and dirt from the floor and surroundings. Ordinary washing will remove this type of soil.

The water used is a second factor. White garments, especially, will absorb the soil from the water and become grey looking. Be sure that the wash water is clean and that a good detergent is used. Curds formed by hard water and soap will also discolor synthetic fabrics. If soap is used, be sure to use a non-precipitating water softener with it.

A third type of discoloration comes from washing synthetic fabrics along with something that is dyed a deeper color. Avoid this by sorting carefully before washing.

For best results, rinse garments several times using same temperature of water used for washing.

Always check labels for washing instructions.

KILL INSECTS ON ORNAMENTAL PLANTS

Springtime brings an assortment of hungry insects that attack ornamental plants. Determining the kind and amount of insecticide to use on the different insects becomes a problem.

To answer these and other questions, extension entomologists have prepared a new leaflet entitled, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants."

The leaflet defines the most common insect pests, describes the type of damage and gives directions for treatment, complete with dilution chart for mixing sprays.

Copies are available from my office.

Tom Duncan Given Award For Courtesy On The Highway
Tom Duncan of Aransas Pass was among the 22 commercial drivers named the past week by the Texas department of public safety to receive the Hobbs Knight of the Road Award. The program is set up to recognize courteous actions performed by truck drivers on Texas highways. Nominations for awards are made by the license and weight inspectors and reviewed by the awards board in Austin before a driver is "knighted." Twenty two truckers were named in the first group for 1957, 15 were recommended for assisting at an accident scene, four helped fellow truckers in distress and three aided stranded motorists. Duncan was nominated for his courteous action in helping a trucker get a tractor that was on fire away from the loaded trailer and getting the equipment to the Davis Mountain Station. Co-sponsors of the program are the Texas Safety Association, Hobbs Trailer, the license and weight division of the Texas department of public safety. Presentation for the award was made by Howard Van Lines, Tom's employer. Mr. Duncan is a nephew of Mrs. Roy Simpson of Goldthwaite and was reared in the Payne Gap Community, where he made his home until moving to Aransas Pass.

Large picnic facilities are built in Palmetto State Park for the convenience of nature students, scientific societies and other large groups who visit this unusual semi-tropic botanical area near Ottine. Palmetto State Park's astonishing vegetation includes native orchids and other exotic plants far from their usual locations. The park takes its name from an abundance of dwarf palmettos that ordinarily would be seen in Florida. Sphagnum bogs, mud pits and an astonishing number of rare birds and butterflies attract people to this park, off U. S. Highway 183 about midway between Gonzales and Luling.

PALMETTO STATE PARK in a puzzling semi-tropic area about Ottine on the San Marcos river is such an unusual botanical paradise that it attracts scientists, students and nature lovers from all over the world.

Brilliant wildflowers, including bluebonnets, coreopsis and Drummond phlox carpet the surrounding countryside. Within the park exotic growths like dwarf palmettos and native orchids are found. Botanists have listed 600 species including iris, water lilies, rare ferns and a wide variety of moss-draped trees of unusual size and beauty.

Most of the strange growth is attributed to the underlying mineral water. Its peculiar properties led to the establishment of the Texas Warm Springs Foundation which adjoins Palmetto State Park.

Bird watchers have listed 21 resident species, 96 Fall and Spring migrants and 29 scarce and irregular migrants. More than 100 species of butterflies have been observed.

Picnicking facilities for families, school groups and expenditures of nature clubs were emphasized in the development of this rare park land. Shady paths lead to picnic units in all parts of the park. A large concessions building of such rare design that it was featured in National Park Service publications offers shelter from showers or storms.

This rare park is reached by a road that leaves U. S. Highway 183 about midway between Luling and Gonzales. The same road leads to the Texas Warm Springs Foundation and the village of Ottine.

AGRICULTURAL HIGHLIGHTS ON TEXAS

TEXAS VEGETABLES may be slightly higher this spring, due to acreage cutbacks. Onions, already 16% higher than last year, and slightly higher prices on cabbage are due to reduced crops in the Valley and Winter-Garden Areas. Tomatoes are expected to continue to rise due to the short anticipated crop, one-fourth below last year's production. In contrast, bargains may result from big out-of-state crops such as Florida sweet corn, lettuce, asparagus, broccoli and cauliflower.

TEXAS EGG PRICES, already below 1956 price levels, will continue to sell cheap through the spring, but are expected to begin a market increase by mid-summer. By early fall, egg raisers should be getting prices well above 1956 levels.

BEST INSECT REPELLENT yet will be put on the market this spring. A product of agricultural research, the new repellent successfully defends against attack by mosquitoes, chiggers, ticks, fleas and biting flies. The repellent, an organic chemical called diethyl tolu-mide, will provide long-lasting protection for outdoor laborers and sportsmen. Its pleasant lotion feel recommends it to picknickers and backyard gardeners.

One of its best features is that it can be used to impregnate fabrics, and can even be applied in dry cleaning processes. As a matter of fact, it's more effective when applied to trouser cuffs or stockings directly to ankles. No more diethyl toluamide residues longer giving protection several hours.

GRASSHOPPERS will be a Texas again this summer though if rainfall over West Texas and the handle where most damage occurs, the threat will be somewhat. Last year's grasshopper crop was due to severe drought conditions, which always the hopper menace.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

Ever since the first cancer appeared on this planet, it has been one of the most mysterious and most dreaded diseases of mankind. But we know more about it than is generally known. In the diagnosis of cancer, a pathologist is considered a specialist. That all types of cancer are different since they affect different tissues of the body, cancer has no respect for age, all types occur more frequently in men than in women. Conversely, we know that more deaths than any other disease in children are due to cancer. Cancer is not inherited, except in two rare types. In the majority of cases, cancer may be passed on from one generation to another, but the actual cause is not inherited. This is the reason that cancer is not a communicable disease. We know certain agents or conditions will cause certain types of cancer or are factors in causing cancer. For example, exposure to sunlight over long periods of time (farmers, seamen) is known to cause certain types of skin cancer. Certain chemicals such as aniline dyes may cause cancer in experimental animals. An injury or prolonged irritation of the mouth or lip area such as sometimes comes with habitual pipe smoking is also a factor in causing cancer. Prolonged exposure to x-ray or radium may also cause cancer of the skin or other parts of the body.

We know that certain malignancies are self-limiting; that is, they have the curious property of curing themselves without treatment. This is an unusual happening, but it does occur for some unknown reason.

Perhaps the most important thing we know about cancer, many cases can be cured by early removal by surgery or by irradiation with x-ray or radium or a combination of these techniques. Rapid strides are now being made in treatment of certain types of cases with chemical compounds.

Since it can be cured, why do more than 10,000 people die in Texas with cancer each year? Because by the time the disease is recognized it is too far advanced for effective treatment. Half of these persons could be saved by early and adequate treatment.

If this one cardinal fact could be drilled into the minds of people until it moved them to action at the appropriate time, cancer would skid downward almost overnight.

Here again are cancer's seven danger signs. It will pay to memorize them: irregular bleeding or discharge from body openings, unexplained change in normal bowel habits, sore that does not heal properly, persistent cough, any lump especially on breast, constant indigestion, unexplained weight loss, and change in moles.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry McCasland of Pittsburg were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Ercher McCasland last week.

Have you ever seen any honey soured or spoiled? According to the wisest of all health books—the Bible, it was prophesied that our Lord Jesus Christ would eat butter and honey, and for what reason? This is what we find in Isaiah 7:15: "Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good."

WATCH YOUR HAT, COAT

The sign over the coat rack read: "Not responsible for lost or stolen articles." John glanced at it as he hung up his coat and hat and then turned to assist Jean, his wife, in taking off her fur coat. He put it on a hanger beside his own.

The two of them drifted casually down the corridor into the dining salon and were assigned to a table by the hostess. The lunch was exceptionally good and both were hungry. The minutes flew by. John glanced at his watch, "Golly, it's almost 1 o'clock. Better get going."

But when they got back to the coat rack, Jean's fur coat was gone.

"I'm sorry, sir," said the manager, "but we are not responsible for lost articles. We put up the coat rack for the convenience of our patrons, but that sign you see makes you responsible for your own hat and coat. I'm awfully sorry, but we just can't watch everybody's possessions."

SIGN NOT FACTOR

The fact is that in the case of Jean's fur coat the restaurant would not have been responsible for its loss even if there had been no sign. One who takes off a garment and places it on a rack, as one would do in a restaurant, retains the power of surveillance and control over it himself.

Ordinarily, under such circumstances, the operators of the restaurant have no responsibility toward the customer's belongings because they have not knowingly received the exclusive possession and dominion over them.

The case would be different, however, where the coat had

The case would be different, however, where the coat had been delivered to an employee in a checkroom. In such event, the management probably would be responsible. So, also, in the cases where a customer checks valuables with a bathing house proprietor, or with a hotel desk clerk, or leaves his automobile with the parking lot attendant to be parked and stored for him, those receiving possession of the customer's property have the duty to use proper care to see that the customer's property is returned.

Hot Check Law Amendment Is Signed By Daniel

AUSTIN (Spec)—An amendment to the Texas "hot check" law that makes employers liable for paying their employees with checks that "bounce" has been signed into law by Gov. Price Daniel.

Charles T. Lux, executive vice-president of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, said the new amendment closes a loophole in the "hot check" law. "Until this amendment was signed, a retail business or any other place of business that accepts worthless checks presented in good faith by workers had practically no legal recourse to recover its loss," Lux said.

"Now under the new amendment employers who give checks that prove to be 'hot' are subject to criminal prosecution and may be fined up to $2,000 and sent to jail for 30 days if the amount involved is less than $50. If the amount of the worthless check is more than $50, then the penalty is from two to ten years in prison and a fine up to $10,000."

Lux said there were several hundred cases in Texas last year where employers paid off their workers with worthless checks causing the places that cashed these checks to lose many thousands of dollars.

Prosecution of these cases under the Texas "hot check" law was difficult because provisions did not cover checks given as wages or salaries for services.

Lux said the new amendment was endorsed and supported by the members of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas.

Olds Owner: That's Oldsmobile's new J-2 Rocket Engine!

Neighbor: What's that? Tell me how it works.

Olds Owner: When you're driving under ordinary conditions, it uses only one carburetor. That means economy with a capital E. But when you need a sudden burst of power, for safety's sake, you just press the accelerator three-quarters of the way down—and two additional carburetors cut in!

AUSTIN, Tex.—"Sine die" is the magic phrase around the Capitol nowadays. It's the phrase traditionally applied to the final adjournment time agreed on by both houses of the Legislature.

Only three weeks remain of the 120 days recommended in the Constitution for sessions. After that (May 7) lawmaker's pay stops.

Sentiment appears strong for a sine die resolution set on or very near that deadline. It's been a rough session, say many members. Investigations, bribery charges, counter-charges and threat of more have frayed nerves, provoked hot words, deep rifts.

They've made it harder to plough through the usual hundreds of measures requiring study, debate and some sort of agreement. Many are still backed up in discouraging stacks.

Even so, say members, they hope to shove through the "musts" and go home on time. But likely difference of opinion on what constitutes "musts" promise even more tension and temper for the final weeks.

TEACHER RAISE—One of the biggest issues still gathering steam in the Legislature is the teachers pay raise. Despite strong backing, the drive has been beset with stumbling blocks.

Public school teachers want a $399-a-year boost. Total cost for the biennium is variously estimated from $45,000,000 to $70,000,000.

Sponsors have become increasingly impatient of delays. Bill was stymied by House rule which prohibits consideration of any other spending bill until the general appropriations bill is finally approved. This is in conference committee.

Then the attorney general ruled the teachers' bill was not an appropriation bill. This seemingly opened the door to quicker action. But budget-watchers intervened. They said passage of the teacher bill first would leave the treasury $20,000,000 short of enough to cover the general appropriation bill.

This focused attention on Rep. Tom Joseph's "just in case it's needed" tax bill. It would tax dedicated natural gas reserves, produce an estimated $35,000,000 in two years. Gov. Price Daniel had recommended a levy of this sort should more revenue be needed.

But this one, by some slip, was introduced without an enacting clause. Joseph sought the necessary two-thirds House vote to permit a correction. Vote was 68-to-66 against.

ETHICS BILL ZIPS OUT—After weeks of haggling in the House, the code of ethics bill whizzed through the Senate in one day.

It goes to the governor's desk with 29-0 Senate approval.

Bill provides that no legislator, state official or employe shall engage in any outside activity "in substantial conflict with the public interest." Penalty is expulsion or dismissal.

NARCOTICS BILL PASSED—A possible death penalty for dope peddlers seems almost certain to become law.

House and Senate have passed the bill which was recommended by Gov. Price Daniel. It would permit juries to assess the death penalty on second conviction for sale of any narcotic drug to a minor.

AUTO REGISTRATION TAX—State car taxing system would be over hauled under a measure which won preliminary House approval.

If passed, the constitutional amendment would abolish the property tax on motor vehicles. Legislature would be given authority to increase registration fees by one-third. Revenue would be divided between school districts and city or county.

Meanwhile, Texas Research League released a study suggesting further revision of the registration laws. License fees based on weight result in inequities, said the League. It proposed a flat fee for all size cars.

FARM BILL SHELVED—A bill to replace Commissioner of Agriculture John White's office with a 21-member board went to House sub-committee. White declared the bill was dead.

Hearing brought prolonged and heated testimony. Proponents of the measure contended lack of state-federal cooperation has resulted in inadequate crop inspection.

Opponents declared the 21-member board would be unwieldy and cost the state more in travel expense.

Social Security News Effecting Farmers-Ranchers

Farm and ranch operators who were 65 years old by April of last year and who did not make over $1840.00 profit in that year should consider filing an application for social security payments before the end of April, according to an announcement received from Maurice M. Chastain, District Manager of the Temple Social Security Office.

Raymond W. Ward, field representative of the Temple Office, will be at the Department of Public Welfare in Goldthwaite Thursday, April 25, to assist residents of this county in filing applications. This is a special trip being made by Mr. Ward to give everyone in Mills County an opportunity to file their applications before the end of the month.

GHS Students Attend Production At TU Thursday

Thursday night of last week, a group of students from the various grades of Goldthwaite High School, about 36 in number, went by school bus to Austin to see a production of The University Speech Art Department as guests of that department. Such a production as they witnessed is an annual affair and this time "Richard III" was presented. All reported that it was a "Highlight" of anything that they had seen and gave them an inspiration to become stage wise and have similar productions within our own school.

The group was accompanied by Mrs. Geo. Reese, Miss Love Gatlin, David Williams and James Bowman. Arrival back home was not at an early hour but every student reported to school on time the following morning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Todd and daughter, Kay of Houston and Bill Todd of A. C. C. were guests of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Ligon and Mr. Ligon Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Gailion Kirby of Lometa were guests of the Ligans Sunday afternoon.

Easter Hat Parade Enjoyed By Local HD Club Members At Last Meeting

BY MRS. OSCAR BURNS
The Goldthwaite Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, April 9 in the home of Mrs. W. W. Fox. Mrs. W. W. Reynolds gave the opening prayer. This was followed by the club singing "The More We Get Together." Mrs. Harvey Hale presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. A. L. Reese gave a very interesting report on the district 8 THDA meeting which was held in Lampasas March 26 and 27. Mrs. Allen Ross and Mrs. Dutch Smith had charge of the program on "How To Laundry And Care For New Fabrics." They also passed out papers on "Solving The Laundry Problem," compiled by Miss Lucy May Burrus.

The club women had an Easter Parade of hats trimmed with useful household articles such as measuring spoons, ice tea spoons, hot dish pads, dish rags, wash cloths, handkerchiefs, earclips, clothespins of all description, screw drivers, bowls, etc. The hats sold for 50 cents each, eight unseen, which added a sizeable amount to the club treasury besides being a bushel of fun. The hats were worn during the program.

The social hour and Easter parade began when the ladies marched to the kitchen and were handed a small paper bag of refreshments (by hostess). Then we marched to the front lawn to a picnic table where bottle drinks were served by Mrs. Allen Ross. After refreshments were enjoyed picnic style, Miss Marie Reynolds made pictures of the ladies with their hats on. There were nineteen members, four visitors and one new member, Mrs. Annie Miller, to enjoy the fun.

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Harvey Hale on April 23. We will reveal our Secret Pals at this time and draw for new ones.

LIONS MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

Hudson to work with members of the Garden Club to raise funds for the proposed landscaping program for municipal park. A number of financial pledges have been made for the project.

A number of Lions and their ladies will attend the regional ladies' night meeting to be held at Llano on April 29.

A film on the part Natural Gas plays in America was shown. Jesse Moreland and George Reese were in charge of the program.

TRACK MEET POSTPONED
Inclement weather Sunday caused the postponement of our Regional Inter-School Track Meet scheduled at Howard Payne College, Hamptons and five boys qualified in the district. The meet was postponed Wednesday but results were available at this writing. Hammond, Jerry Knight, Kerby, Connie Todd and Edmondson are those who participated.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell and Mrs. R. L. Cooper were guests of Mrs. Marion Burnham Sunday afternoon.
