County To Continue In Red Cross Blood Program

Officers Elected—Chairmen Named At Annual Meeting Last Thursday

Blood Program Chairmen Is Yet To Be Selected

Mills County will continue to participate in the Regional Red Cross Blood Program as was decided at the annual meeting of the local chapter last Thursday afternoon in the commissioners' courtroom in the courthouse.

The decision to continue with the program was made after reports were heard that residents of the county have received many more benefits from the blood program than has been contributed to it during the past several years.

The blood program cost the local chapter $690, during the past year in contribution to the regional blood center.

Officials expressed concern about the lack of support to the program from residents of the county. It was pointed out that during the past year only 90 pints of blood were donated here toward the goal of 180 pints.

Glynn Collier, secretary-treasurer reported on this year's Red Cross drive for funds. He stated $1,811.92 was contributed in the 1957 drive. Of this amount $1,031.17 went to the national fund and $780.75 remained in the local chapter.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Harold Yarborough was re-elected chairman of the Mills county chapter for the coming year. W. P. Duren was re-elected vice-chairman and Glynn Collier was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

APPOINTMENTS

After the election of officers Mr. Yarborough appointed the following to head the various committees to carry on the chapter activities.

Home Service—Glynn Collier. Home Nursing—Mrs. T. C. Graves.

Junior Red Cross Representative—Euna V. Barnett.

Disaster—Ray Duren.

Red Cross Nurse—Mrs. M. Y. Stokes.

First Aid and Water Safety—Walter Summy.

Publicity—Vic E. Koleber.

Selection of a chairman to head the blood program was deferred at this time. The appointment will be announced by the chapter chairman at a later date.

Norman Duren who has served the past three years as chairman of the blood program has asked to be relieved of the duties and it is expected a successor will be named soon.

Nazarene Church To Have Zone Rally

There will be a Zone Rally at the Church of the Nazarene, beginning next Monday, July 8, at 8:00 p.m. Rev. David Strack of Brownwood will be the speaker for the Rally. Everyone has a hearty welcome to attend this meeting.

McLean's Register Is Recovered

The cash register which was taken from McLean's Restaurant last week Tuesday night was recovered from the Colorado River later last week at the Red Bluff bridge, between San Saba and Lometa. The register was under six feet of water where it was dumped into the river by the burglars.

Report from an alert truck driver who marked down the license number played a big part in officers rounding up the burglars. The truck driver was staying at Saylor Hotel.

After Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield sent out alarm of the burglary, three of the party were picked up at Brady and one in West Texas. Two of the group were from San Antonio, one from Richland Springs and one formerly resided in Lampasas.

C. D. McLean of McLean's reported that $91 has been recovered from the approximately $200 that was in the register when it was taken from the establishment.

NEW SCHEDULE FOR MULLIN CHURCH

The new schedule for services at the Mullin Methodist Church are as follows, the first three Sundays of each month, with Prayer meeting beginning Wednesday night, July 10 at 8 o'clock. This is according to an announcement by the new pastor, Rev. Harold Orr.

AUSTIN, Tex.—State Highway Patrolmen are on the outlook for careless drivers.

Ten Texans are scheduled to die on the highways during the holidays, according to Homer Garrison Jr., Department of Public Safety Director. Twelve died on July 4 last year.

DPS fatality predictions usually are frighteningly accurate. However, state law enforcement officers are doing their best to cut the traffic toll and thereby prove themselves wrong in their estimates.

Gov. Price Daniel has made a personal appeal to Texans to join together to "curb the senseless slaughter on our streets and highways."

Colonel Garrison reports 129 extra units will be added to the patrol for the holiday "Operation Deathwatch." Their job will be to spot the speeders, drunken or reckless drivers and take them off the roads before accidents occur.

Texas Safety Association has joined in the push for better citizenship on the highways. TSA says last year's traffic accidents in Texas cost $275,000, 000 took 2, 611 lives and injured another 115,000 persons.

GRAND JURY DIGS IN—Travis County grand jury touched off a rash of speculation by issuing summonses to a new group of witnesses.

What they found out about the affairs of the bankrupt ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas and former Ins. Comm. Chmn. J. Byron Saunders will not be known until later in the summer when the jury reports.

Colorful ex-Ranger Manuel T. (Lone Wolf) Gonzauillas was the headliner witness. Gonzauillas once was vice president of the Ben Jack Cage enterprise, making purse-size alarms for women to summon help. He said he had nothing to do with ICT, also managed by Cage.

Others called to testify were Mrs. Mae Swaindner of Dallas, longtime secretary to Saunders; Paul B. Kelly of Austin, personal friend of Saunders; and Dick Mallard, Tyler CPA who was asked to bring Saunders' financial records.

CAGE PROMISES TO RETURN—Meanwhile, Ben Jack Cage, kingpin of the controversy, announced from Brazil that he'll come back to Texas "in about a month" and straighten everything out.

Cage, former manager of ICT, is under indictment in Dallas for embezzlement of the firm's funds. Governor Daniel had tried to get Cage forcibly returned to Texas for trial, but found the U. S. has no extradition.

Water Patrons Asked To Cut Down Water Use

City Utilities Tuesday issued an appeal for city water patrons to cut down on water use to insure fire protection and also make water available to residents in certain sections of town through this heavy demand period.

During the past few days the demand for water has been greater than the city pumps can supply. Production is at an all time high on a day and night basis is was announced by W. C. Barnett, city manager, but, it still falls a little short to supply the demand during extremely dry and hot days as we are having now.

City officials pointed out that if everyone will cut down and stop lawn watering and other non-essential uses of water for a short time it will take care of the situation. As soon as the situation improves the restrictions will be lifted by the city.

Weather Report

Total rainfall recorded here during the month measured only .46 inch. Of this amount .41 inch fell during the first five days of the month. Since that time only .05 inch has been recorded.

This brings the total for the first six months this year to 21.69 inches. Otherwise it is hot and getting dry.

COVERED DISH SUPPER AT METHODIST CHURCH

There will be a covered dish supper on the playground of the Methodist Church tonight (Wednesday) instead of the regular service. All who have participated in the playground project and all who would like to join in a sports program are asked to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Schradler and children of Priddy spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Dan Covington and Mr. Covington.

Bennie Seules is a surgical patient at Medical Arts Hospital in Brownwood. At last report he was improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Coleman were guests of his aunt and cousin, Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Arthur Cline last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hagerman and granddaughter of San Angelo and Mrs. Frances Seltz and daughter of Robert Lee spent the weekend with Mrs. Ola Harville and Mr. Harville.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pass and little granddaughter, Sharon Maddux visited in Brownwood with relatives Tuesday.

Mrs. Emma Oltrogge had as her guest last weekend Mrs. Lena Weltitche.

Mr. Wicker reported that the one he is holding in his right hand measured nine inches around and weighed 13 ounces. The three in his left hand measured from seven and one-half to eight and three-quarters inches around. Pictured still on the tree are three figs reportedly weighing 13 ounces with one of them measuring nine inches around.

Mr. and Mrs. Wicker harvested 28 figs from this tree that survived the freeze. (Eagle Photo By Wicker Studio)

Bank Call Shows Healthy Increase In Deposits Here During Past Year

Statement of financial condition of Mills County State Bank published this week shows an increase of $404,672, in deposits over the statement issued in June 1956. "This reflects a healthy economic sign for Mills county and surrounding area," said Warren P. Duren, President of the bank, in commenting on the statement.

According to this statement taken from the close of business on June 6 total deposits were $3,975,081. Deposits in the June 30, 1956 statement were listed as $3,570,409.

Loans and discounts are reported $425,737, higher than the total of $1,173,043, a year ago. Total resources for the institution this year are reported as $4,242,231, compared with $3,829,780 last year. An increase of $412,451.

The fact that deposits have been on a steady increase during the past year shows some improvement in the general economic condition of the community and county. Since little grain has been sold from this year's harvest it would indicate that the increase in general economy is due to sale of wool, mohair, lambs and a general improvement in livestock conditions.

Looking at the bank statement from the standpoint of increase in the amount of loans is an indication that officials of Mills County State Bank are ever eager to serve farmers and ranchers in this agricultural area with loans. During the past year, while deposits at the institution have increased over four hundred thousand dollars loans likewise have increased in a similar amount.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Smith of Mission, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Kelcy, Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Ethridge, Donna and Lanna Jo, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Blue and Donnie all of Grand Prairie were guests last weekend of Mrs. Addie C. Stark, Mrs. Stark and J. T. Stark.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Hack Robertson of Big Spring and their daughter and sister, Mrs. Glenn Johnson and son, Bill of Elmonte, California were guests of Mrs. Ada Dunkle, Mrs. Mayme Traylor other relatives and friends here a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Boothe and children of Cotton Center spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hale and other relatives.

Independence Day 1776-1957

VIC'S . . .

SOLILOQUY

INDEPENDENCE DAY

From Independence, Calif., to Independence, Mo., to Independence, Va., Americans will celebrate the 181st anniversary of their independence on July 4.

In 1956, a total of 137 persons died in motor vehicle accidents during a one-day holiday. Seventy-six drowned. One was a victim of fireworks. Thirty-eight others died from miscellaneous causes.

The last four-day Fourth of July holiday was in 1950. A shocking 491 traffic deaths were recorded. A total of 793 persons died from all causes. And the traffic accident death toll that year was well below what it is now.

What kind of Fourth of July will this be for the nation's motorists? For the swimmers? For the tots who twirl sparklers? It will be a fun-filled Fourth if it's properly controlled. On this 181st birthday of U. S. independence, a look backward shows graphically how controls contribute to safety.

In the year 1963 fireworks took 466 lives. The fledgling automobile-a-stiff-jointed youngster then—took only 400 lives for the whole year.

Last year on the Fourth only one person died from fireworks. But on the highways between Independence, Calif., and Independence, Mo., and Independence, Va., 137 died in auto accidents—in one day!

The National Safety Council, in an effort to make this fourth a holiday from accidents, urges motorists—and the swimmers who'll swarm to beaches and the youngsters who'll thrill at the excitement of fireworks—to "Be safe on the Fourth—be alive on the Fifth!"

DRIVING TIPS FOR A SAFE JULY 4TH

As millions of fun-seeking motorists head for the lakes, mountains or beaches over the Fourth of July holidays, safety experts are hopeful that extra care and caution will keep the highway accident toll at an all-time low.

To help achieve this goal, Jeanne Smith, safety consultant, has prepared this list of 10 driving tips.

1. Control your temper when behind the wheel. Highways are crowded and travel is slow; don't "blow-up" and take unnecessary chances.
2. Start early, expect frequent delays and leave from home early, preferably during daylight.
3. Watch out for careless drivers who are over-anxious to reach their destinations.
4. Slow down, to allow passing cars extra room to get back into the right lane ahead of you.
5. Always give the other driver more than his share of the road.
6. Get into the proper lane well in advance of turning—and always signal your intention to turn or stop.
7. Pull your car entirely off the road when stopping for sightseeing or a roadside picnic.
8. Check traffic in all directions, especially to the rear, before pulling out of a parking spot onto the highway.
9. Reduce speed at sundown and drive within the range of your headlights.
10. Concentrate on your driving—it's a full time job.

PRENTISS, MISS. HEADLIGHT: "Our forefathers knew the blessing of planting at seedtime, reaping at harvest time without government restriction, and the joy of deserved repose after hard and satisfying labor. They lived by God's command of 'six days shalt thou labor', and looked only to good and their own efforts to provide their needs."

WHEN THE OLD BIRD WAS YOUNGER

10 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle files of July 4, 1947)

James Coleman Jones, 64, was found dead early Tuesday morning at the home of nephew, Jake Brown of Goldthwaite. The body was found between 4 and 5 a.m., and according to a doctor's belief, death was due to heart trouble.

Beverly Sue Barton, the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Barton of Longview and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barton of this city, was born Friday afternoon June 27, weighing four and one half pounds. The little baby died a few hours after birth.

Miss Mary Cynthia Looney, only child of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Looney of Rio Grande City, became the bride of Mr. Bill Stubblefield, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Stubblefield of this city, June the 17th at 10 a.m., with Rev. Howard East of the First Baptist Church of Kingsville reading the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cole attended Sunday School and church at the First Baptist Church in Mexia where Rev. D. A. Bryant is pastor, and visited Rev. Bryant and family in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Holland are the parents of a new baby girl, who made her arrival June 26, at San Saba. She weighed eight pounds. Charlotte Ann will make her home with the Hollands.

Goldthwaite Postmaster, M. Y. Stokes was stung by a yellow jacket early last Saturday morning. The poison from the sting received emergency treatment by Dr. Ruel Slaughter, after which Mr. Stokes was taken to a Brownwood hospital for further treatment. He was back on the job Monday morning.

William L. Biddle's wife, son and sister-in-law visited him at McClosky Hospital last Sunday.

25 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle files of July 1, 1932)

After midnight Tuesday, July 5, all letters must carry three cents postage instead of two in accordance with the tax bill recently passed. Letters that are short the additional postage will be delayed and the extra cent collected as postage due.

Judge Roy Simpson has appointed W. L. Biddle to fill the expired term of his father, the late Mr. Wm. Biddle as commissioner of precinct number 2. The term will expire January 1, at which time the commissioner elected in the November election will take charge of the office in his own right.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whiteman returned last Friday from Fort Worth, where they were called on Wednesday of last week by news of the serious illness of her father, Mr. J. G. Meserole, and who succumbed Thursday morning to an illness of some duration. Brady Standard.

A few nights ago, a thief broke open L. J. Gartman's storm cellar at his residence and stole all of his canned meats, which included a number of fowls and two calves.

Mr. William Biddle of Center City died of heart trouble in a sanitarium in Brownwood last Sunday, shortly after noon, and his remains were brought to Mills County and interred in the Center City Cemetery, Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Carothers of Crane, are visiting in the N. L. Verser home at Pleasant Grove. They expect to spend several weeks on their ranch in Mavrick Valley before returning to Crane this fall. Mr. Carothers is a teacher of manual training and Mrs. Carothers is a commercial teacher and also teaches Spanish.

Herman Richards who underwent an operation in the hospital at Temple last week is getting along fine and it is hoped he will be able to be brought home Saturday or Sunday.

50 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle files of July 6, 1907)

The funeral of Mr. C. D. Hammond last Sunday morning at 10 o'clock was attended by the largest congregation ever assembled for a similar service in town. No church service or Sunday School were held in any of the churches in the forenoon, in order that all might have an opportunity to pay their respects to the memory of one of the towns best men and a leading church worker.

H. G. Bodkin and wife have gone to housekeeping in the Terrell Roberts residence in the southern portion of the city.

Henry Martin has had an archway made between his two store buildings on the east side of the square.

C. J. Sherman of near Payne was a pleasant caller at the Eagle office one day this week.

W. F. Keese, now living at Mansville, I. T., was here this week shaking hands with his friends. He formerly lived here and is always given a hearty welcome when he returns for a visit. His daughter, Mrs. Stovall accompanied him and spent several days with friends.

Mrs. E. W. G. Dyer returned to her home in Houston the first of the week, after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Triplett in the Center City community.

Mrs. Stanford Steele, and baby left Saturday night for Granbury to visit her mother and other relatives.

Miss Bea Little returned Sunday morning from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Will Walton, at Tarrant.

J. M. Wilson is happy because of the arrival of a new girl at his home a few days ago. Ed Dalton came in early morning train from Temple, where he had been to accompany his father that far on her way to the Indian Territory for a visit to relatives.

Inside WASHINGTON

MARCH OF EVENTS

Like 'Item Veto' Idea 'Vetoed' by Congress
Lawmakers Fear Projects Endanger

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's plea for authority to veto specific items in appropriations bills, which he termed an effective tool for economy, is falling on deaf ears on Capitol Hill. It may be effective economy from the President's standpoint, but members of Congress strongly fear that Mr. Eisenhower would use the item veto on their pet projects.

The chief executive broached his plan during a telephone call to New Jersey Republicans recently. Later, after signing Treasury Secretary George M. Brown's budget director, Percival F. Brundage, went to bat for the proposal before a House subcommittee.

Symptomatic of congressional coolness to the idea was the fact that only two members of a seven-man subcommittee showed up for the hearing. Lawmakers won't say it publicly but they know that one of the targets of a proposed item veto would be the Rivers and Harbors Act known as the "pork barrel" bill, which contains scores of small local construction projects.

● IRRADIATED RATIONS—The Army has assured Congress it will not risk feeding "hot" food to soldiers until tests prove conclusively that irradiated foods are safe to eat. That was the upshot of testimony in which Pentagon officials described as "exaggerated" a published report that the Army is ready to start serving such foods to troops to save the practicality of a new preservation process.

Irradiation involves atomic sterilization and pasteurization of food which might make it possible to keep comminuted food shelves for years without spoiling. A House appropriations subcommittee was assured that no such food will be given service personnel until the process is declared perfectly safe.

● ANTI-AMERICANISM IN FAR EAST—A House foreign affairs subcommittee will dig deeper into the recent anti-American riots in Formosa, and enlarge its probe to include all such outbreaks throughout the Far East.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki (D), Wisconsin, said his subcommittee was assured by Defense and State department officials that the Chinese Nationalist government accepts full responsibility for the Formosa incident. However, he said his group will "go further" into this matter and other similar incidents in the Pacific.

One of the other such occurrences certain to come under scrutiny is the Japanese-American dispute over an American soldier accused of killing a Japanese woman who was picking up metal shrapnel in a firing range. U. S. officials now have decided to turn him over to the Japanese courts for trial.

The Formosa riots also centered around an American seaman. In this case the man was accused of manslaughter in a shooting of a Chinese but was acquitted by a court martial.

● MISSILES IN 1200 A. D.—If you think missiles and rockets are modern developments, you're wrong. The Chinese used them against the Tartars in the year 1200.

That's the word from the Library of Congress—the Nation's largest library—which houses all kinds of odd bits of information. It recently compiled a report for the guidance of congressmen.

The report noted that the British used rockets "And the Rockets" in the War of 1812. Until 1900, the weapon was employed in many military engagements. They were later replaced by long-range guns because they had lacked accuracy.

With the inception of World War II, the Germans showed the rockets could be a very menacing and devastating weapon. The British still remember the destruction wrought by the V-1 and V-2 rockets. The report also underscored what most congressmen know: Rockets equipped with nuclear warheads can wipe out densely populated and industrial areas.

The meeting was sponsored by the Board of Education of the Methodist church and the six annual conferences of Texas Methodism.

FUTURE TENSE LAW

You can tell a lot about people by the way they regard time.

Do they put stock mostly in the past—their record; the present—their direct joy in work or play; or the future—their plans? Why not use all three dimensions of time? Past experience to guide, the present for zest, and the future to realize dreams.

Lawyers report a sharp shift in the way people regard time and the law: Of old they thought of law in terms of past facts like failures to meet legal duties misdeeds, etc.—facts useful chiefly in lawsuits.

You still have to think of the record, since you may have to go to trial some time. So keep good records of your affairs. But more and more people now also think of the law in the future tense—in terms of built-in safeguards for plans they want to go through without legal hitches.

Our heavy income and death taxes have made people plan ahead legally, rather than wait for the axe to fall. Any time you buy or sell a home or a business or make an investment you have choices of how you may do it—some wise, some not, in view of your circumstances.

Should you do business as a sole proprietor, a partnership, or corporation? Do your contracts set out ways of meeting unexpected events? How best may you serve your estate (and also carry out your wishes)—by a will or a trust, or by direct gifts?

While all of these things point forward, the past in the form of court records can serve you by showing where trouble may come from.

As more and more people know the symptoms of legal trouble—where to look for legal hitches in plans before big trouble starts, there will be fewer law suits and better human relations.

And where does trouble sometimes start? Most often where you lack a clear grasp of your relationship, your rights and duties, and your own and the other fellow's resources—in transactions involving large personal or financial stakes.

Carolyn and Kenneth Kelly returned home last weekend from a visit to relatives in Monahans.

Funeral services for Ezra L. Eubank, 85, were held Monday afternoon, July 1, in the First Baptist Church of Goldthwaite. Services were conducted by Rev. Presnell H. Wood, pastor of the Church.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Roy Wilkins Funeral Home with interment in the Oak View Cemetery at Mullin.

Mr. Eubank was born May 3, 1872, in Newton, Mississippi, and died in a Comanche hospital Saturday June 29. He was the son of the late Benjamin F. and Mary Scoggin Eubank. He was a retired farmer and had made his home in the Trigger Mountain Community a number of years. He was a member of the Baptist Church at Democrat.

In 1892 he was united in marriage with Elizabeth Paralee Pafford in Mills County. He was preceded in death by one child.

Survivors are the wife; one son, Lewis Eubank of Goldthwaite and a daughter, Mrs. Pearl Reynolds of Mullin; a sister, Mrs. H. M. Goza of Anson, and a host of friends.

Pallbearers were Jake Summy, Truman Vaughan, Chester Frazier, Oscar Holland, Ray Duren

Simple Rules For Taxpayers To Determine Filing Estate Tax Return

Thousands of taxpayers inquire each year of the Internal Revenue Service on whether they owe any Federal Estate Tax on inherited property, according to Jim Cheatham, Administrative Officer of the Brownwood office. Mr. Cheatham advised taxpayers of these simple rules for determining whether to file an Estate Tax Return and pay tax:

(1) No Estate Tax Return need be filed unless the gross estate exceeds $60,000.00.
(2) In Texas, a community property state, the total earned during the marriage would have to exceed $120,000 before an Estate Tax Return is due since one-half the estate belongs to the surviving spouse.

(3) The Estate Tax Return is due within 15 months after the date of death if the estate exceeds $60,000.00.

(4) A preliminary Estate Tax Notice is due within two months after the date of death if the gross estate exceeds $60,000.00.

(5) The gross estate (60,000.00 or more) means the value of the property before debts and expenses are paid and includes life insurance proceeds and gifts made by the decedent within three years of death.

(6) Property inherited or received by will is not subject to income tax.

(7) Earnings from inherited property are subject to income tax.

(8) The value of property for income tax purposes is changed in Texas and other community property states upon the death of the surviving spouse.

(9) The value of property for income tax purposes is ordinarily based upon the cost of the property.

(10) Upon the death of either the husband or wife in a community property state, the value or basis of the property for income tax purposes is based upon the fair market value of the assets as of the date of death.

(11) The income taxes or capital gain or loss upon future sales of either the decedent's or the surviving spouse's half of the property must be figured on this new fair market value basis. This particular provision of the law is not clearly understood by the widows and widowers in Texas. For example, John and his wife bought the old homestead for $1,000.00 in 1920, had a tax base of $500.00 cost for John and $500.00 for the wife on the day before John's death; if either John or his wife sold their half they would have to pay taxes on any amount above the $500.00 cost. If the property is worth $200,000.00 on the date of John's death, and the wife sells her half of the old homestead the day after John's death for $100,000.00, she owes no taxes at all since both halves of the community property acquired a new cost basis on the date of death of either spouse. This has become very important because of the tremendous increase in value of property during the last few years.

(12) This new fair market value basis applies to all estates for federal tax purposes regardless of the size of the estate and whether or not any federal estate taxes are paid.

STATE PARK on Blanco River at U. S. Highway 281 has a picturesque rock dam on the swift flowing stream that feeds the clearness of its water. The park extends along the river with many good sites for picnicking. A stone building, rest rooms and playgrounds make it an attractive park.—Photo Courtesy Texas Highway Department.

OF THE WEEK—STATE PARK at the Blanco River by Highway 281 preserves the beauty of a typical hill stream with just enough rapids to meet the needs of those who find it an enjoyable time park.

Henry dams on park of the river provide a waterfall so skillfully some of them seem natural. Rock work in the attractive, including a rock arch bridge, the dam at the park ends a rock and timber There is good rock seen also in the pri separated from the Low water crossings below some of the dams make both sides of the river accessible. Small groups can use tables and grills and larger groups can arrange long tables in the pavilion at the first dam with a low water crossing. Restrooms are located at this pavilion.

The park is in rodeo country and a rodeo area and livestock display is an important part of the park activity handled through a local organization.

Cottonwoods, pecan and live oak trees provide most of the shade. There is a wading area below the place where Coke Creek flows into the Blanco River and fishing pools below most of the dams. Recent floods have washed out the fish and until restocking it is not profitable to take along a rod and reel.

Travelers using U. S. 281 will find a pleasing and short detour by turning into the park and following the park road through the first low water crossing and continuing upstream to the next low water crossing just below the Blanco City water supply dam. By continuing on, the park can be reentered or some of the attractive parts of Blanco can be seen by following the County road back to the town square where it rejoins U. S. 281.

At the square there is a County hospital occupying what once was the County Court House. This became available for its new use when Johnson City became the new County seat.

News Of The Ebony Community

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

While we hear of floods and tornadoes and hurricanes dealing death and destruction to many, all is peaceful and quiet with us. Cool breezes blow enabling us to stand the heat of the day and turning our windmills to pump the water we so much need to water our yards, for truly we are definitely in the midst of a summer drought.

We are bustling around some this week since next Thursday, July 4, the Wilmeths are having their reunion at the home of Mrs. Edna Dwyer. To my dismay, my children informed me sometime ago that they couldn't make it this year.

Mrs. Dwyer's children, the Cawyers, wrote her they would be here Saturday, June 29, and would spend a good part of their two weeks vacation with her. Then Opal called her Saturday morning and said they could not come. They had accepted teaching jobs at Victoria and would move there soon from Orange. Opal finally said she and Ruth might come later.

The Angus Burns arrived in New York last week. Mrs. Burns left Angus there while she ran down to San Antonio to be with her brother, Ernest Malone, a few days. Ernest had intended to come to the Malone farm to be with the Burns, and also his sister, Mrs. Clara Bean. But Florence writes that Ernest is sick and will not be able to come to the farm at all.

According to letters received by Miss Estelle Duren of Brownwood, Florence was to meet Angus, and also her sister, Mrs. Clara Bean of Van Horn, in Brownwood today (Sunday, June 30). Monday afternoon her Uncle Jim Wilmeth is to bring them out to the Malone farm.

John Briley went to the creek Saturday to work the road some. He met up with the Griffins—Charlie and Eunice and their daughter, Gladys LaRue of San Antonio, and their granddaughter, Bonnie Crowder. They had been to the Malone house "to read it up a bit"—as the Virginians say—before the coming of the Burns and Mrs. Clara Bean.

A card from my sister, Grace Bateman, of Fort Worth, written June 27, said that just that morning they got their son, Dr. John Robert, off to Los Angeles where he will intern in the hospital of the Good Samaritan. She said she and John Bateman and their son, Joe, expect to attend the reunion. She also said Mrs. Jo Wilmeth of Fort Worth—a sister-in-law—now in her mid-eighties, the last of my father's first family, expects to

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

BY HUBERT L. BERRY

Farmers and ranchers of the District have, within a few short weeks, changed their conversation from "too wet" to "too dry."

This sudden change in weather is quiet typical of the climate in which we live. Modern science, with all its accomplishments, has failed to regulate the weather. The solution is left up to the person who manages the soil to regulate his operations according to what mother nature dishes out.

You may have heard your neighbor say "all we need is some rain" or "there's nothing wrong with this country that a good rain wouldn't fix. The time and amount of rain we get is very important; however the preparation we make for a rain can be more important than the rain itself. Possibly you have observed the contrast in nearby crops or pastures the last few days. One crop may be pretty and green and another across the fence wilted and suffering from lack of moisture. You may have noticed one pasture lush with green growth while another is brown and practically dead.

The reason for these differences, obviously, is that some of these plants are still getting moisture and the others are not. This situation further emphasizes the fact that "it's the rain you keep that counts."

Hot, dry winds seem to be the order of the day. This being true, deferred and properly stocked ranges will prevent excessive loss of moisture through evaporation and make more efficient use of rain when it falls. Beef, lamb, wool and mohair can be produced more economically and ranching can become a profitable operation year after year regardless of the abundance or the lack of rainfall.

come with them. Her son, Colonel James Wilmeth, of Austin will come direct from Austin just for the day. We have also had word from Sylvia Gene Wilmeth of Grandview, daughter of the late Captain Lillard (Dutch) Wilmeth, that they intend to be at the reunion.

Mrs. Brownie Reeves White of Brownwood has been visiting at the Stanley Reeves home this past week. She and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reeves called on Mrs. Edna Dwyer Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Egger attended the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Convention at Mineral Wells Saturday.

Mrs. Edna Dwyer takes us down in her orchard and gives us buckets of peaches and tow sacks full of roasting ears. We have had plenty of black-eyed peas and squash and okra from our garden which Mrs. Effie Egger planted for us. We've really been living high ever since we got home.

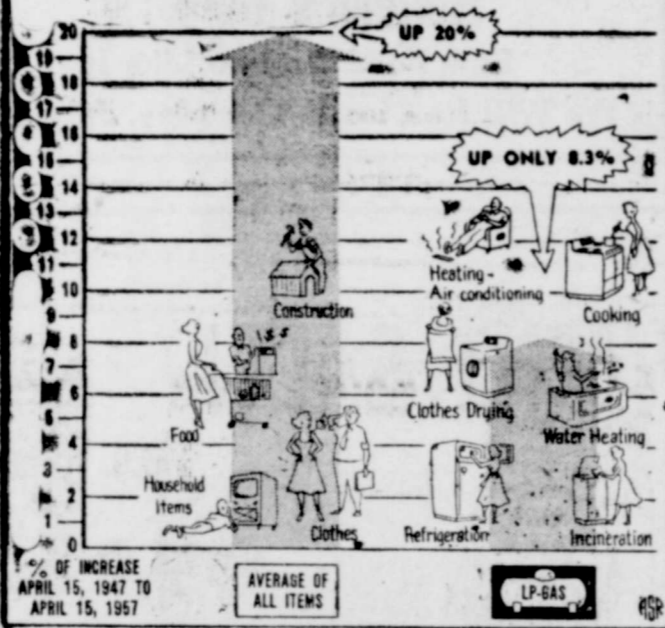

Youngsters Get Warning Against Limit Violation

AUSTIN, (Spec)—Youngsters who take more than the legal limit of fish are violating the laws the same as adults, according to the Director of Law Enforcement of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

All persons who either hunt or fish, whether they are required to have a license or not, are subject to bag and creel limits, he pointed out. Parents who would permit youngsters to violate the game laws are teaching them poor sportsmanship, the Director said.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Anderson of Abilene were guests of his mother, Mrs. Willie Bell Kirby, Tikmon and Nan last weekend.

LP-GAS INDUSTRY RESISTS INFLATION

The average of all items in the Bureau of Labor Statistics cost of living index advanced almost 20 per cent in the past ten years. In the same period LP-Gas, used by millions of suburban, town, and farm homes, increased only 8.3 per cent, a survey conducted by the National LP-Gas Council reveals.

Living Costs Continue to Zoom But LP-Gas is One Bright Note

CHICAGO—Although the average of all items included in the U. S. cost of living index has jumped almost 20 per cent to a new high record in the past ten years, the cost of LP-Gas, used by millions of suburban, town, and farm homes is up only 8.3 per cent.

The increase in living costs was revealed by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The bureau had recorded an increase in prices that brought the living cost index in April to 119.3 per cent of the 1947-49 price levels, a new high record. This meant that it took about $1.20 to buy the same amount of goods and services that could be bought for $1 in the 1947-49 period.

To determine if rising prices in the LP-Gas industry were contributing measurably to the inflationary spiral, the National LP-Gas Council, sent a questionnaire to hundreds of LP-Gas dealers in every state.

The dealers were asked to tell how much their bulk customer price increased per gallon in the past ten years. Results of the survey indicate that the price of LP-Gas, used in homes for heating, cooking, water heating, clothes drying, refrigeration, and incineration, has increased only 8.3 per cent.

How has this rapidly expanding industry kept the price of its product below the halfway mark on the postwar inflationary spiral?

The Council attributes the stability of LP-Gas rates, to a number of factors. Of these, industry growth may be the most important.

Post war growth of suburban, farm, and town populations opened tremendous new markets for the young industry. Through aggressive salesmanship and promotion, independent dealers obtained a major share of these markets for the fuel. Evidence of their success can be seen in the record-breaking sales of 7 billion gallons last year. The billion gallon increase in 1956 alone, was equal to total industry sales in 1945.

This growth in public acceptance of the fuel has, of course, resulted in distribution economies.

Increases in storage facilities and the number of plants to serve customers, and improved shipping and handling methods also contributed to industry price stability. Other technical and service advances helped make it possible to keep the price low.

The above is on National average, yet, in Mills County and Central Texas the price is lower than in the above mentioned years.

Over 20,000 Veterans Victims Of An Unfavorable Money Market

Austin - (Spec) "Over 20,000 Texas veterans are victims of an unfavorable money market." This statement was made by Land Commissioner Earl Rudder in answer to inquiries concerning progress in processing applications to purchase land under the Veterans' Land Program.

"So far, we haven't been able to sell our bonds," the Commissioner continued.

"When a second $100,000,000 bond issue was passed by voters in November, many veterans assumed that loans would be available immediately. This has not been the case," Commissioner Rudder said.

"Aside from time necessary to enact legislation putting the new program into effect, inability to sell the bonds has prevented the program from developing as was hoped. In addition, three percent that can be paid on bonds, which is prescribed by law, is a limiting factor."

"How is the program progressing?" Commissioner Rudder said he is frequently asked.

"We are processing a few loans as money becomes available from the revolving fund created by bonds sold during the first program. We are also watching the money market very carefully and exploring every possibility of sale. The bonds will be offered again just as soon as we feel there is a possibility of selling them," he said.

In summing up the situation, Commissioner Rudder said he hoped that veterans who now have applications pending will understand problems involved. He indicated that applications are still being processed in the order in which they are received when money is or becomes available.

Austin State Hospital physician called the State Health Department to report that a radium needle, being used to treat a patient with skin cancer, had been dislodged or lost.

Did the Department have radiation detection equipment with which the needle might be located? The Department did, and the needle was subsequently found in a gauze bandage.

This incident, one of many that take place every month, illustrates the manner in which the Department's Division of Occupational Health, working in cooperation with private physicians and other agencies, is quietly going about the task of protecting citizens from the dangers of excessive radiation exposures.

A great deal has been said in recent months about the imminent peril the entire nation is facing from excessive radiation. Much of that information has been true in general, but some of it has been misconstrued to the point where people have cancelled much-needed x-ray treatments or examinations because of unjustified fear of radiation exposure.

One of the state's leading radiologists writing in the Texas Medical Association Journal, has summed up the situation by saying that curtailment of radiologic examinations would cause a failure in diagnosis that would result in many times the number of deaths than would theoretically occur from radiation accumulation in the population 20 generations from now.

There is no question but what the various sources of radiant energy now in use—isotope usage in industry and medical research and the so-called "fall-out" from nuclear weapons, testing—are potentially dangerous.

But the very fact that danger exists serves as a sort of safety valve. Persons engaged in peacetime use of radiation equipment and materials, acutely aware of the hazard, act with extreme caution.

Competent physicians and dentists keep accurate records of their patients' radiation exposure level. Wealthy foundations have been set up to train technicians in the safe use of radiation devices. And federal and state governments—along with medical, dental, and engineering schools—have made considerable investments of money to insure the proper control of radiant energy equipment.

And as a sort of clincher, the Texas State Department of Health is one of five states which has complete regulations regarding the registration and proper use of all radiation-producing equipment and materials.

So while it is true that ever-increasing uses of radiant energy in national defense, medicine, and industry does demand that we exercise every precaution, that caution must be tempered with common sense. tion in controlled amounts be more beneficial than Beauty in motion—Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Sedan with Body by Fisher.

Here's why Chevy's best showroom is the road!

Because Chevrolet's sleek good looks, its advanced features, are only part of the story. The big bonus is its remarkable roadability, the crisp precision handling that has posted an entirely new standard for cars in every price class. You can't read about that... but you can feel it in one minute on the road!

Good drivers know roadability is the single thing that means more driving satisfaction for more thousands of miles than anything else. More safety, too, for it grants greater stability on curves, greater traction on wet roads, better "bite" under hard braking, more accurate steering. There are reasons for all this, of course: Chevrolet's balanced weight distribution that takes excessive loads off the front wheels, the wide stance of outrigger rear springs, Ball-Race steering, spherical-joint front suspension. Sure, you can admire the sculptured lines in the showroom. But Chevy's a car specifically designed for beautiful motion—you have to travel in this one to know just how terrific it is. Try it, this week!

Charlotte Straley Attends Texas Lions Camp At Kerrville

KERRVILLE, (Sp)—Charlotte Ann Straley, 15, of Goldthwaite climaxed her stay here at the unique Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children Friday night by participating in the awards night ceremonies.

At the camp's final, each youngster receives a neckerchief stencilled with symbols of the activities he has enjoyed.

During the two weeks here, each camper has the opportunity to swim, camp out overnight and take part in all sorts of sports and craft activities while making friends with youngsters from all over Texas. The camp operates six two-week summer sessions and is free to any handicapped child in the state from 7 through 16. Fifteen permanent buildings—including a new air-conditioned infirmary and a duplex for staff members—dot 504 hillside acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Massey of Denton spent the past week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Massey and Mr. and Mrs. Vic E. Koleber.

Mrs. Vic E. Koleber returned home last Friday from Temple where she had undergone surgery. At last report she was improving nicely.

Sam P. Rahl, who was a patient in a Temple hospital for several days has returned home and is able to be in town greeting friends.

NEWS from YOUR COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

BY GEORGE S. REESE

FOREIGN AGRICULTURAL TRADE HITS NEW HIGH

An interesting report that directly affects every farmer and rancher in Mills County has been compiled by Alvin H. Wooten, Extension Economist, for the Texas Extension Service. Mr. Wooten says, "one of the most successful activities of the Department of Agriculture is its Foreign Agricultural Trade Program."

This year's agricultural exports are the highest on record. This is true for both value and quality exported.

Highlights of the program's accomplishments are: Nearly $9 billion of farm surpluses have moved out of stock and into use in the past 4 years. A majority of these in the last 2 years.

The "sold out" sign has been hung up for a sizeable list of commodities, including cottonseed oil, and soybeans.

Stocks of grain sorghums, rice, barley, butter and dried milk have been reduced.

CCC wool stocks, built up under old price support programs, are less than 50 million pounds, and these are being liquidated at a rate of about six and one-half million pounds per month.

U. S. farm exports this fiscal year are rising to a record level, this is the 4th successive year of increase.

Exports for dollars are being emphasized more and more. Dollar sales now account for approximately two-thirds of CCC disposals.

The CCC inventory is being moved in a orderly manner and without adverse effect on domestic or world market prices.

A billion dollars of farm surpluses have been bartered for strategic foreign materials and other defense needs.

KILLS INSECTS ON ORNAMENTAL PLANTS

Summer brings an assortment of hungry insects that attack ornamental plants. Determining the kind and amount of insecticide to use on the different insects becomes a problem.

To answer these and other questions, extension entomologists have prepared a leaflet entitled, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants."

The leaflet defines the most common pests, describes the type of damage and gives directions for treatment, complete with dilution chart for mixing sprays. Copies are available from my office.

Bindweed can put cotton farmers in a real bind. This rapidly-spreading menace will completely dominate infested field sites with a deep-rooted weed unless properly treated. Bindweed is sometimes called the most feared weed in Texas. Small spots of bindweed can be controlled in cotton with "Kuron" and kerosene. On 1/4 acre or less spots, apply 1-1/2 to 3 gallons "Kuron" mixed in 100 gallons of kerosene to the foliage and crowns of bindweed in or close to cotton. Spray below 8 inches for best results, using 5 pound-per-square-inch pressure or less. Spray surviving plants the next day and leave soil undisturbed for the remainder of the season. Treat any new bindweed at emergence for two seasons.

DO YOU KNOW?

Mills County has 47,809 improved pecan trees (budded, grafted or top worked), that produced 367,196 pounds of pecans? That 10,282 wild or seedling pecan trees produced 18,546 pounds of pecans?

This makes a total of 58,092 pecan trees and 385,792 pounds of pecans produced in Mills County in 1954. This information was taken from the latest census.

IMPACT OF TEXAS' NEW EGG LAW
 The Texas Egg Law, which becomes effective in a few weeks, will have probably a more far-reaching impact on the citizens of Texas as a whole than any agricultural legislation of recent times.
 Although regulations will extend only to certain areas of the egg industry itself, the effect of the law will be felt not only by producers and other industry men, but by consumers as well. And the effect felt will be a good one.
 What the law actually does is to stop misrepresentation of inferior eggs as quality merchandise and to place emphasis on accurate product labelling of quality eggs and a better product for consumers.
 This is accomplished through a system of egg grading which requires all eggs offered for sale to consumers through retail outlets to be accurately labelled according to size, grade and condition of freshness.
SMALL PRODUCERS ARE PROTECTED
 Heretofore, labelling of eggs as to grade and condition was a free and open affair with no recourse available even in the most flagrant violations. The new standards require that no egg below actual "A" quality be sold or advertised as fresh, selected, infertile, cage, or any word of similar import.
 Producers of eggs who sell only the production of flocks are exempt from provisions of the act, claim some kind of grade, their eggs must completely with present the law.

 The act becomes August 22. Deadline for licensing (By retailers, wholesalers and producers) in October 20. Actual enforcement of violations, which fines up to $1,000, will begin after February 17, 1958. (NEXT WEEK: A summary of the Texas Law)

Agriculture Delayed But Not Rained Out

(Spec) "From Drou-
age," last month's re-
the Texas agriculture
surveyed state rain-
for this year (the table
statistics from that ward through May).
al, the wet, cool
delayed crop plant-provided lush forage for Conditions have been weeds, insects, and ases, but the extent
will not be clear un-
the summer. Fields
work and washed-out

plantings have also caused concern. But there is an over-all spirit of optimism in Texas agriculture this year--worries about fleahoppers reducing the yield are not nearly so serious as worries about no crop at all for lack of germinating moisture. During the first five months of this year, nine of the twelve crop-reporting districts had already received as much as or more rain than in all of 1956. And throughout the state, Weather Bureau stations averaged 18.13 inches for January-

May, which was 2.52 inches over the average total for last year (15.61 inches).

What have been the effects of this downpour on Texas agriculture? Here is a crop-by-crop summary of conditions in the Lone Star State at the end of one of the wettest springs on record:

LIVESTOCK. To this segment of the state's agriculture economy, the spring rains have been an almost unmixed blessing.
Late last fall, 222 of Texas' 254 counties were classified as "drouth disaster zones" in the federal livestock aid program.
Cattle were being fed throughout the state as pasture conditions reached all-time lows. Experts felt that even if rain were to come, the barren ranges would take a long time to recover. But they were wrong.
As the rains that began in January continued during the following months, rescue grass and clovers appeared as if by magic to turn the fields to green. Supposedly dead roots soaked in the moisture and produced rank forage for hungry cattle. Weeds gave some trouble, but grasses came on steady-ly to crowd them out. The eastern half of the state recovered most rapidly, but steady improvement was also made in the hard-hit western areas (with the exception of the region west of the Pecos). By June 1 the U.S. Department of Agriculture could report that Texas pasture conditions were at 83% of normal. This was the best showing for that date since 1950 when the drouth began. Last year the June 1 report placed pasture conditions at 53% of normal. All over the state, livestock are now getting fat and sleek on the abundant green feed. The flood of livestock to market, caused by the high cost feeding, has stopped. Ranchers are restocking conservatively to give their land the time needed to repair the ravages of the drouth.

COTTON. As the rains continued through May, impeding planting and washing out fields that were already seeded, the state's cotton farmers became more and more worried about the delay. Extensions on the federal price support planting deadline had to be made in most areas. But in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and the Coastal Bend, where the fields stayed dry enough to work earlier in the spring, prospects looked very promising. There the crop was being cultivated and chopped in early June. In the rest of the state, however,
the picture was not so bright.
While Valley farmers were thinking about picking, cotton-men from Waco northward were still worrying about getting their seed into the ground. And in the High Plains the situation was the same; considerable acreage had to be replanted because of the heavy May rains.
Nevertheless, the benefits of the rains still far outweigh the harms. During the drouth, only the irrigated areas were able to sustain production. Adequate moisture means that dryland farmers over the state will be back in the cotton picture.

WHEAT. This winter, High Plains dryland wheat farmers dusted their seed into the parched ground and hoped that this would be the year. The drouth had struck hard, and most of them had not raised a crop in several years (see January 1957 TEXAS BUSINESS REVIEW). Intermittent rains nursed the seed along, but the outlook was not favorable, and at the beginning of the year
the USDA estimated production at a very low 18.9 million bushels. Doubts were not soothed by the fact that much of the crop did not germinate until mid-February--very late for winter wheat. But frequent rain and cool weather brought the crop along better than had seemed possible. June estimates of the USDA placed the crop at 33.9 million bushels. The indicated yield of 15 bushels per harvested acre would be the highest since the record-breaking crop of 1947, when the Lone Star State produced 124 million bushels, or more than 10% of the total U.S. wheat output. A 33.9 million bushel crop this year would be about one-fourth larger than last year, and the best production since 1952. Before the drouth Texas perennially ranked among the nation's top wheat-raising states; this year's crop may signal the start of a comeback.

SMALL GRAINS. The USDA's June survey of the condition of small grains in the state pointed to good yields. Rye was estimated at 79% of normal conditions, as compared with 55%

last June. Oats were at 73%, compared with 42% in June 1956. Barley (75%, up 19 points over last year), hay (75%, up 16 points), and alfalfa (76%, up 23 points) were all in good condition despite damage by the heavy rains.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.
Excessive rains have hurt vegetable and melon production in many areas, and as a result, Texas production this year is estimated to be 4% under last year. South Texas cantaloupes, North Texas onions, and East Texas tomatoes were particularly hard hit by the May downpours. Spring cantaloupe production is estimated at 698,000 boxes (100 pounds each), as compared with 1.2 million boxes last year. Blight reduced the late spring onion crop in North Texas to an estimated 160,000 boxes. This is above last year's low 148,000-box output, but far below the average crop (282,000 boxes for the period 1947-55).
The same story holds for tomatoes, with estimated production at 407,000 boxes -- up from last year's 375,000 boxes but down from the average of 717,000 boxes. However, the early summer onion crop has escaped rain damage, and with greatly increased acreage over the state the outlook is for a bumper crop of 1.4 million boxes. Last year's early summer prediction was 696,000 boxes, compared with an average of 271,000 boxes. Watermelon prospects are also good,

with a production of 5.4 million boxes predicted. This is substantially above last year's 4.4 million boxes and above the long-term average (5.2 million boxes). The watermelon harvest is expected to extend later into the summer this year than is usual because of slowed vine growth from the cool weather.
The favorable moisture situation has substantially improved prospects for the Valley citrus crop, and there is now sufficient water behind Falcon Dam to see the trees through the critical July-August period. At the peak of the drouth last summer, citrusmen claimed that they were "watering their trees by the glassful." USDA estimates in June placed the crop at 65% of normal for grapefruit, 75% for oranges.

This was much above the 43%
and 52% shown for the 1946-56
average June condition.

dition treaty with Brazil. Cage terms the Texas talk "hysteria," blames his successors at ICT for the company's collapse. But, he said, he plans to set up a cooperation under which 75 per cent of his earnings for the rest of his life will go to repay ICT shareholders.

"NEW LOOK" LAUNCHED—Texas' long-heralded "clean slate" Insurance Commission is finally a reality.

The "New Look" was officially launched with the appointment of Assistant State Auditor William A. Harrison as Commissioner of Insurance. Under the recognition law passed by the last legislature, the commissioner is to be a $20,000-a-year executive who will run the department.

Although it will be one of the highest-paid posts in state government, Harrison is serving without pay. Through oversight the legislature neglected to make the commissioner's salary effective until Sept. 1.

Harrison, who was named "temporarily" until September, is reportedly serving "on faith" that the Legislature will make some adjustment when it next meets.

TEACHER MONEY ASSURED—Teachers, who've had state officials scraping and scrambling for months, are now apparently assured of receiving their $399 a year raise beginning next fall. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that $4,000,000 can be made available for this purpose on Aug. 22. A bill authorizing transfer of this amount from the permanent school endowment fund becomes effective 90 days after adjournment, said Wilson.

Earlier, doubts had been raised whether wording of the bill would permit the transfer before the end of this fiscal year, Aug. 31.

FIRST WITH THE WORST—Cost of Texas' severe weather damage in 1957 will probably top $100,000,000, says William L. McGill. Official total is already more than $91,000,000.

McGill, director of Texas Civil Defense and Disaster Relief Headquarters, said this year has brought the "most far-reaching and widespread destruction the state ever has known."

Texas always has had the "dubious distinction" of leading the nation in catastrophes he said, recalling the Galveston flood, New London school explosion, and the Texas City disaster.

But 1957, he recounted, brought, in just four months, 120 tornadoes that hit the ground; major floods in 13 river basins; and for good measure, the worst blizzard in history in the Panhandle.

As McGill spoke at the statewide Civil Defense Advisory Council conference in Austin, hurricane warnings were posted on the Gulf Coast. "That," said McGill, "is all we needed."

HIGHWAY PLANS EXPLAINED—State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer is trying to soothe riled East Texans who learned that a proposed new interstate highway would bypass them.

Plans show that "Interstate 2," designed to extend from Shreveport, La., to El Paso, would miss both Wood and Upshur Counties.

Greer promised that present U. S. Highway 80, which runs through those areas, will be improved to a 4-lane artery. It will serve the purpose of the

No point in trying to avoid being fingerprinted. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has ruled officers may use "reasonably necessary" force to fingerprint a person legally arrested. Employment by new Texas businesses dropped 3,656 during May, reports the Texas Employment Commission. But the number still was considered stable—107 new firms hiring 1,552 people.
