Eagles Defeat West Trojans 12-6; Play McGregor There Friday Night

BY R. C. McCOLLUM

The Goldthwaite Eagles traveled to West last Friday night with one purpose in mind and that was to win a ball game, which they did, by defeating the West Trojans by a score of 12-6. The Eagles were out weighed 15 pounds per man in the line and backfield but they were not outplayed or outhustled. Every Eagle who got into the game played a good game.

Eagles co-captains, Johnny Wigley and Phillip Edgington, called the toss of the coin correctly and chose to receive.

Neither team could get up a scoring drive in the first quarter. On the first play of the second quarter, Tom Cody Graves picked up a fumble and ran 77 yards for the Eagles score. Graves handed the ball to Kirby, who fumbled when hit by the West line. Graves picked the ball up and went around his right end, he was in the clear with a 10 yard start before West knew where the ball was. He got a good block down field by Jackie Reynolds, who took out a West back that was about to catch Graves, who then outran the West team.

The second quarter saw more good defensive play by both teams, though neither team was seriously threatened. One high point of the quarter was a 53 yard punt by Tilton Kirby, the best punt of the game.

West received opening the third quarter, they ran two plays, good for 5 yards each, then Tommy Brennon broke over right tackle and out ran Phillip Edgington for the TD.

The Eagles drove 67 yards for their final and winning TD, they used 13 plays to cover that distance. The Eagles' back carried the ball 14 time and Graves passing to Jones for 7 yards and Kirby to Kight, pass good for 20 yards to put the ball on the 5 yard line. Graves ran the ball on a keeper play behind good blocking by the Eagles for the score. This score came with some 2½ minutes left in the game. West ran one play which was an attempted pass with the passer being trapped for a 5 yard loss. Then on the next play Phillip Edgington intercepted a West pass thrown by Wendell Donahue to stop any further threats by West. The Eagles ran out the clock to end the game to the delight of the fans that made the trip to West.

Earl Covington returned to the defensive lineup and helped out immensely. All the Eagle line turned in a good game. The backs also played a good game. P. D. Head, who has been slowed down by injuries played the best game he has played this year.

SOLILOQUY

ECONOMY FOR THE OTHER FELLOW

During the last session of Congress, Senators and Representatives from all parts of the country reported an unusually large amount of mail in which stringent government economy was urged and demanded. There was a real "grass-roots" movement in favor of reduced appropriations. And that pressure produced some result. According to a Newsweek tabulation, new appropriations were $600,000,000 below the President's proposed budget.

However, there is another side to this coin. It is described in a brief article in U. S. News & World Report, which says, "Washington is beginning to hear from people back home who are being hurt by cutbacks in government spending." Individuals and organizations are vigorously protesting economy moves that affect their interests—though, no doubt, they endorse economy as a general and abstract principle with equal vigor.

Ironically, a large share of the complaints has come from local chambers of commerce. That includes the chambers in large cities and small. And these chambers are always among the first to demand government economy—again as a general and abstract principle. But it's something else again when it is felt in their communities.

In other words, a good many of the groups and people who preach economy want to limit it to the other fellow's interests. The last thing they want is economy that touches their pocketbooks. This attitude deserves the description "disgraceful." It explains why so much waste and avoidable spending still goes on. Long ago, it was said that a people get the kind of government they deserve. That is 100 per cent true.

The Workmen Who Never Showed Up

Have you ever figured out just what the federal government costs you—and related the cost of taxation to other costs you must bear?

Publisher Guy T. Ludi of the Wahoo Newspaper, Wahoo, Nebraska, has done just that. His paper is a small business, with a circulation of about 4,500. Last year, he finds that the federal government took $6.53 hour for every hour the plant was in operation. As he puts it, that was equal to the pay of three skilled workmen—"three skilled workmen that never showed up for work."

Then Mr. Ludi did some more calculating. His federal taxes came to over $260 in cash each week, and amounted to nine cents out of every dollar taken in, whether or not a profit was made on the transaction. And those taxes took enough money out of the plant to pay for any one of the following: heat for 22 years; postage for 9 years; electric lights for 32 years; water for 103 years; electric power for 9 years; electric heat for the type-setting machines for 22 years; telephone for 21 years, and insurance for 15 years.

That, Mr. Ludi goes on, brings up the big question: "... what are we going to do about it?" Here's his answer: "We don't know. We know that spending by government is too high. . . that taxes are too high and going higher. . . Actually, we would propose that tax-conscious people everywhere seriously consider the problem before the next primary election in 1958. At that time something can be done if everyone will crack down on the spenders in Washington."

"ROYAL THIEVERY"

Discussing the penalties imposed on the pocketbooks of the people by inflation, John S. Knight, editor of the Chicago Daily News shows that:

- It robs the worker of his pension security.
 - It robs the man who has invested in government securities as part of his savings.
 - It robs the dependents of veterans who depend upon insurance.
 - It robs widows and children of all people who have tried to provide for their families through insurance.
 - It makes Social Security a fraud.
 - It cuts down the amount of goods that can be purchased by the growing army of old people.
 - And finally, Mr. Knight declares, it robs everyone who is dependent upon a fixed income from investments.
- In the face of this, our senators and representatives go merrily on deflating the dollar by federal extravagance and waste—the process has been accurately termed "Royal Thievery."

Sam Houston Devoted to Huntsville

Few men ever grew to love a house more than General Sam Houston's first and favorite son. His self-designed "bag-up place" referred to it, at Huntsville offered him more comfort than the mansions he occupied while representing the "Lone Star State" nation's capital during his three terms in the Senate.

The October McCall's article, "Sam Houston Loved This House" recreates life during the mid-1800's in the then tiny frontier settlement of Huntsville. Sam bought the 174-acre homestead seventy-five miles north of Houston in 1847 for $1,000 and proceeded to build a white, two-story, six room, colonial style house, where eventually seven of his eight children were born.

The Houston's regularly entertained visitors to Huntsville, placing heavy emphasis on Texas-style food. Recipes for some of Sam's favorite dishes—Texas baked ham, pear cobbler, southern rice pudding, Alamo lemon jelly cake, and Sam Houston's favorite, white cake with chocolate frosting, which appears on the magazine's cover—are given in the article.

Goldthwaite HD Club Elects Officers At Recent Meeting

Mrs. H. J. Leonhard was re-elected as Council Delegate, Mrs. A. L. Reese was elected to serve with her as second Council Delegate.

Plans were made for the Workshop which is to be October 9, 11, 23, and 25, at the Youth Center. Mrs. Nelson Waggoner, Mrs. Jim Rudd and Mrs. R. L. Mote were welcomed as new members to the club. Miss Lucy May Burrus was program leader and showed slides on "When You Buy Ready To Wear." At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served to 21 members and our agent. The next meeting will be October 8 in the home of Mrs. W. W. Reynolds at 1612 Faulkner Street.

The story of the three bears takes a new twist, as told by John M. Oglesby of Santa Fe, New Mexico. John, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Oglesby, Goldthwaite, now a Soil Scientist with Soil Conservation Service, went bear hunting September 2, in San Mateo Mountains south of Magdalena, New Mexico. His companions were Fayne G. Coffman, F.H.A. Supervisor of Socorro, New Mexico and Coffman's 11 year-old son, Gaylon. Gaylon spotted a bear and his dad downed it—a big one weighing about 300 pounds. Fayne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coffman of Evant, who formerly lived at Center City.

The following week Oglesby went out again, this time with Richard Gilbreth, Assistant District Forest Ranger, Santa Fe, New Mexico. On Borrega Mesa outside of the Cordova in the Sangre de Christo Mountains, Gilbreth sighted a bear. He borrowed Oglesby's gun, which had a scope, and promptly got his bear—a 130 pounder.

At long last Oglesby got his chance. On Saturday, September 14, hunting in the Jamez Mountains with Rex Wermer of Espanola, Oglesby took his bear, also weighing about 130 pounds.

Each of the three kills were made with a single running shot, the first two straight through the hearts and Oglesby's a neck shot.

Incidentally all three of these crack marksmen are graduates of Texas A. & M. College.

Basic colors in accessories, namely black, brown or navy, are always in good taste and easy to use.

Color in shoes is a fashion to be used with caution. It calls attention to the feet and ankles. Be certain yours can stand the spotlight.

A final suggestion: Look smart but not extreme. Don't overdress. The best dressed women are often the most simply dressed.

BITS and pieces today. To start off, here's an excellent shrimp, crab or lobster butter to use as a canapé spread or served, heated, with fish.

To 1/4 c. butter, creamed, add 1/2 to 1 c. cooked shrimp, lobster or crab meat, finely shredded or crushed. Season to taste with salt, cayenne pepper and paprika.

Raw Shrimp

If raw shrimp are used, cook in boiling, salted water with 1 bay leaf until just pink. Shell the shrimps, pound shrimps and shells together in mortar and rub through a fine sieve before adding to butter. Be sure that shells are entirely crushed and integrated, not a bit left. The shrimp shells add unusual flavor.

Corn Soup

For a really good cream of corn soup that will balance a light luncheon or supper, add 1/2 tsp. finely chopped green onion and 2 tsp. finely chopped celery to 2 tsp. butter that has been melted. Cook slowly until vegetables are tender. Add 1 1/2 tsp.

flour, tsp. sugar, tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper, 1/2 c. nonfat dry milk solids and 2 c. water. Proceed as for white sauce. Add 1 c. cream style corn. Sprinkle bowls with chopped parsley.

A good sour cream dressing adds an epicurean touch to slaw, sliced cucumbers or tossed salad.

Shake together in a jar or beat or whip until smooth, 1/2 c. heavy sour cream, 1/2 tsp. sugar, 1/2 tsp. each salt and paprika, freshly ground black pepper to taste, 1/2 tsp. mustard, 2 tsp. vinegar and 1/2 tsp. salad herbs. Chill.

Whipped Cream Waffles

Have you ever eaten whipped cream waffles? We have and it was worth falling off the diet wagon!

To prepare 8 waffles, sift 1 1/2 c. sifted flour, 4 to 6 tsp. sugar, 2 tsp. baking powder and 1/2 tsp. salt. Combine 4 well beaten egg yolks, 2 c. heavy cream, whipped, 2 tsp. finely chopped celery to 2 tsp. butter that has been melted. Cook slowly until vegetables are tender. Add 1 1/2 tsp.

Waffle iron.

Mrs. A. J. House Guest Speaker At Art And Civic Club Meeting Friday

BY MRS. M. T. BURNHAM

The first meeting of the Art and Civic Club for the new year was a "Coffee," at the Jennie Trent Dew Library, Friday morning, September 20, honoring Mrs. A. J. House, Yoakum, President of Texas Federation of Women's Club.

Receiving guests were Mrs. Jack Elms, Club president, Mrs. House and Mrs. Lewis Hudson. Mrs. W. G. Saylor registered the guests.

Mrs. Marvin Hodges directed the guests to a beautifully appointed refreshment table, which depicted the autumn theme. Mrs. Marion Burnham and Mrs. Lee Roy Stacy served dainty jelly rolls and coffee.

Invocation was given by Mrs. Hodges. Mrs. Elms welcomed the guests and members and introduced Mrs. House, who spoke on "Our Federation."

Mrs. House, asked "why belong to a Federated Club?" She then answered: "By strength of cooperation it becomes a tremendous force in the development of American life." She also spoke briefly on four departments in "Our Federation," "The American Home," "The Religions of the World," "Education and Scholarships."

The Women's Federation are sending a number of foreign students to college in the United States. Two of whom are Miss Dorothy Zia and Sammy Ouisal, who are attending Southwestern University, Georgetown.

Mrs. Milton Schwartz sang the English version of Stiel Wie Nacht (Calm as the Night) by Nathan Haskell Dale, accompanied by Miss Janell Jernigan. After this delightful number "Federation March," composed and published by Mrs. House was sung by the entire group.

At the conclusion of the program a short business meeting was held, after which the following ladies entertained Mrs. House with a luncheon at McLean's Cafe, Mmes. Jack Elms, Marvin Hodges, Marion Burnham and Miss Lucy Mae Burrus.

Back when today's adults were growing up, one out of every ten babies died before its first birthday. Now, advances in medical science are saving millions of young lives each year. Yet the cost of the better medical care available today is actually less than the best care you could get when you were a child!

The reason: new treatments and new medicines developed by the medical profession and the pharmaceutical industry.

A dramatic case in point is mastoiditis in children. Surgery was often able to save the child's life, but sometimes left him with a deaf ear. Nowadays, the doctor is often able to cure him with perhaps $25 worth of potent new medicines, and thus save the expense of an operation and hospital stay.

But most important, these new drugs are saving children's lives—by the millions. Once, the four most deadly child-killers were diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever, and pneumonia. Nowadays, the number of deaths from all of these causes combined is actually less than the number of children killed by accidents.

And medical progress continues. Today, the dollar you spend for prompt and proper medical care buys more than ever before—and may well represent one of the really extraordinary bargains of your life.

An outdoorsman, as you would expect, is more sensitive to the weather than other folks. And that doesn't merely mean that he is interested in whether it's hot or cold, wet or dry.

He watches the fishing calendar, the solunar tables, the barometer, and the weather predictions. He is aware of water temperatures at various depths, and he looks for the signs of nature.

All this goes for the hunter as well as the fisherman. As the dove hunter contemplated the season opening in the South Zone, Oct. 1, for example, he recalled heavy rains in the area late in September, and he thought about cooler weather.

His conclusions were that dove hunting around tanks would not likely be productive because there's water everywhere for the birds. And he figures that doves would be migrating southward in search of warmth.

WEATHER SIGNS

Old timers were keen about the weather. Far more so than moderns who live in conditioned air and don't depend directly on agriculture for their livelihood.

The old folks didn't depend on gadgets to know whether the fish were biting. They understood that there is a rhythm in nature, and they watched for signs that they knew were reliable.

If the old cow rested quietly under a shady tree, if the dog slept by the front steps, if there were no birds singing or flying—if all nature seemed at a standstill—that was no time to go fishing.

But when the cow got up and started grazing, the dog stretched himself and dug up a bone, and the birds suddenly appeared in the sky—that was fishing time.

The system still works. One friend of mine keeps a bowl of goldfish and can tell by their action—or inaction—whether to head for the creek or not.

SOLUNAR TABLES

Another fellow tells me that by watching the solunar tables he can tell when the workers in his office are going to be the most alert, active, and industrious. These times coincide with the best fishing hours as indicated by the tables.

It has long been known that the weather affects the way we feel. Benjamin Franklin advised that we "do business with men when the wind is out of the northwest." That's because a northwest wind is a sign of fine weather.

Thus it's not surprising that anglers say "fish bite the best when the wind's from the west."

BAROMETER READINGS

Many salesmen refuse to call on customers when the barometer is low. They know that the prospect is likely to be feeling depressed at such a time. Likewise, old fishermen know that the fishing is best when the barometer is high or rising.

September rains were good for the angling situation. They washed food from surrounding land into the lakes and streams for the fish to eat.

Some big bass are going to be caught in Texas during the next two months!

Incidentally, the better the land along the shore line, the more food washed into the water by rains. No lake surrounded by poor land can be rich in fish. Consequently, your earnest angler is a booster of soil conservation.

SYSTEM FOR BASS

Getting back to black bass fishing for a minute—there's a fellow around here who catches them regularly from the Colorado River lakes. He gave me his system the other day, and I'll pass it on for you to try:

He gets in a boat at daybreak and moves slowly along, casting a surface lure to the edge of the weed beds, and into pockets among the weeds. He gives the lure plenty of time, twitching it ever so slightly at long intervals.

Recently he has scored one 5½ and two 4 pounders. His favorite bait is a Heddon SOS Silver Flash, a wounded minnow type with a spinner front and back. He ties on a red and white bucktail.

IT'S EXCITING

Many's the black bass that has been caught by similar means—and many more will be. To most fishermen, there's nothing like a big black exploding out of the water, hitting the bait as if he was angry with it.

And that is his state of mind, sometimes. He stakes out an area and defies anything to trespass on it. Particularly is this true during the spawning season when he is guarding his nest. (That's right. It's the male black bass that makes the home.)

At other times the bass is just plain hungry—but you can't tell the difference by his charge. He always hits surface lures with the same ferocity. Usually he leaps two or three times before you get him to the boat, trying to throw the lure. And while under water he tugs hard and runs fast.

It's an old story to bass fishermen. But they never tire of it.

TRY UNDER TREES

A bass often will make his home under trees along the bank. He likes the shade and the food that occasionally comes dropping from above. Woe to the baby bird that drops out of the nest, or the mouse that tumbles into the water, or the grasshopper that makes a careless jump—if the bass is there.

An old trick is to cast a lure over a low-hanging tree branch, let it dangle down and splash lightly on the water, then let it rest on top, and after waiting awhile, splash it again.

Once I had a bass strike three times on a lure that way. Missed it every time. Or maybe he was just bumping it with his snout for pure cussedness.

Finally I gave up and started to retrieve the lure. My partner cast over by the tree and immediately caught the bass, a three-pounder.

Some days you ought to give up, but maybe, but you never do.

Even eating a hot dog is fun when it's State Fair time in Texas. The fun grows by leaps and bounds when it's a foot-long hot dog and you can keep it forever when you "Catch" it with a movie camera. Whether you're using a movie or a still camera though, it's planning that will let you get pictures like this one and let you come home from the State Fair of Texas with pictures you'll be proud to show your friends.

BURLAP LININGS FOR IRRIGATION CANALS

A number of Texas farmers may be able to profit from a newly-developed asphalt and Burlap material designed for use as an irrigation ditch lining.

Already in limited use and expected to be on the market next year, the new lining process consists of two layers of specially treated burlap sandwiched between three layers of a special asphalt material. Developers claim the new development will lower lining cost by forty-five percent below concrete, used to prevent seepage of water flowing through canals on its way from the reservoir to the farm.

Without linings, as much as a third of the irrigation water is often lost.

Another possibility for the new burlap inner-liner is its similar use as a seepage-pre-ventor in artificial tanks and ponds. However, it might meet fairly stiff competition here with another more natural type of sealing agent already in use.

Some Texas farmers and ranchers are calking their leaky tanks with a special type of dirt which, when mixed with porous soil, produces a hard seep-proof bottom. The big disadvantage here is that the water has to be emptied and the soil dried completely before this transformation can take place.

On the other side of the water-retention problem—evaporation—other Texans are using a chemical "cover" of "fatty alcohols" which, when applied to reservoir surfaces, hold evaporation to a minimum.

All of these developments, and others as well, are at least worth a fair try in the constant search for answers to cur water problems.

Mrs. Carrie Evelyn Walker Buried In Pecan Wells Cemetery Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie Evelyn Walker, 84, were held in the Pecan Wells Cemetery Thursday afternoon, September 26, at 2:30 o'clock. Services were conducted by O. O. O. Newton, Church of Christ minister of Royce City.

Mrs. Walker was born July 27, 1873, in Dallas, County, Texas, daughter of the late W. M. and Margaret Kemp. She died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Otto Kelly, Winters, September 24, 1957. She moved to Hamilton County when a small child and had lived in the Pecan Wells community until a few years ago when she went to Winters to live with her daughter. She was a life long member of the Church of Christ.

On August 28, 1892 she was married to Charles B. Walker. She was preceded in death by her husband and a son, Frances M. Walker.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Otto Kelly, Winters and Mrs. J. B. Yeager, San Angelo; a brother, W. J. Kemp, Winters; seven grandchildren and 19-great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Gordon Williamson, Nolen Stanfield, James Bates, Johnny Kemp, Lawson Kemp and Olen Kemp.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Roy Wilkins Funeral Home.

Bond Sales Still Strong

$17,870 Series E and H United States Savings Bonds were purchased by the residents of this county during August. These figures were released recently by W. P. Duren, Chairman of the Mills County Savings Bonds Committee. Sales in this county during the first eight months of this year totaled $126,509 which is 78.8% of the yearly goal of $135,170.

Sales in Texas during the first eight months of 1957 totaled $112,863,400, or 58.4% of the 1957 goal of $193,100,000. August sales in Texas were $13,118,000.

"During the months of September and October, many schools throughout Texas are again installing the Savings Stamp program for their students. The School Stamp Program affords our younger citizens an opportunity to learn the habit of thrift. In addition, they will develop a better understanding of our government and will learn to realize their responsibilities as citizens of this great land." Chairman Duren said.

The Mills County Savings Bonds Committee is hoping that many of the schools in this county will continue conducting their weekly "Stamp Days" or, in those schools that do not have the program, the Savings Stamp program will be installed, Chairman Duren concluded.

were guests of their mother, Mrs. John Keese on September 21 and helped her celebrate her birthday.

Fall Rains Prove Need For Passage Of Proposal No. 3, Says Province

Flood waters from recent rains have written another chapter in the story of Texas' lagging water development. So stated Harry Province, chairman of the governor's steering committee for proposal No. 3, the water bond amendment.

"Millions of acre feet of water have been lost in Texas this year for want of reservoirs to hold our floods," Province said. "The overflows in South Texas in the past few days are merely the most recent examples of how urgent is our need for more water storage projects."

A Constitutional Amendment to create a revolving fund for financing such water reservoirs will be laid before the voters of Texas on Nov. 5.

This revolving fund, to be created at no expense to the state taxpayer, will make it possible for many small and medium-sized communities, water districts and river authorities to finance the storage of water in time of heavy rainfall, said Province.

A favorable vote for the amendment on Nov. 5 will start Texas on a new era of conserving surface waters for maximum beneficial use, he concluded.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Today John and Johnny and I went to Mrs. Gore's (our nursery lady). One of our pyracanthas looks a little yellow. I suppose it is from this alkaline soil condition which we battle constantly. And then I wanted the right ingredient to put into the soil for my sweet peas and my bulbs. She sold me Sulfa Soil for the alkaline condition, and Ortho-Gro for my sweet peas and bulbs.

At the beginning of my row of roses along our west rock fence, I have a Paul's Scarlet Climber now in its third year. It has sent out a generous number of long, strong runners—and I have already visioned how beautiful they will be when covered with red roses next spring—but they have no affinity for that rock fence. They have just run wild and are spoiling the appearance of my rose garden. I decided I had to make it cling to that rock fence, or else we would just have to part with it. Mrs. Gore had just what I wanted. Little hooks to cement to the rock fence. Along the north rock wall I have a Queen's Wreath I set out just before we left last spring. It is blooming now—they are blooming beautifully all over El Paso—but it is in a little heap at the foot of the fence. I'm going to fix it up too.

I got ten King Alfred daffodil bulbs last Saturday. They were big bulbs. I knew they were cheaper than Mrs. Gore's. But when I saw hers today, I knew they were nicer. I couldn't resist getting a few more. I got three more daffodils, three poeticus narcissus, and three jonquils. And I got two fine Irises, Copper Medallion and Lilac Lane. They were selling at half price today, but at that they were still very high as the regular price of one was $2.00 and the other $1.50. We have a lot of fine Irises which a teacher gave Grace two years ago, but we have only two colors. I hope to add a few ones each year. El Paso wishes to be called The City of Irises.

A card from Mrs. J. E. Bean of Van Horn said the doctors report the condition of her brother, Ernest Malone, to remain about the same. A letter from her sister, Mrs. Angus Burn, of Manila, P. I., says she doesn't get excited because the doctors say Ernest has only a few days. She says he has made it back four times before, and he told her when she left that if she could make it back in two years, he would still be here to see her. I'm sure Ernest would appreciate cards from any of his friends. His address is W. E. Malone, Ward 18-A, McCloskey's Veteran Hospital, Temple, Texas.

Billy has made the football team. He's been staying after school till 6 o'clock to practice. He says Saturday at 12:30 they are to be at Burges Hi Field for a game. His Dad brought him a beautiful red helmet from his store last week. Johnny was heartbroken because there wasn't one for him. His Dad told him that was the only one he had, but he had more ordered and when they came he would bring him one. So today he brought him a beautiful white one with a red stripe from front to back. And is he happy!

NEWS from

YOUR

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

BY GEORGE G. REESE

The pruning that a tree receives at the time of planting and during the next two or three years there after has much to do with its future. Pruning is done to maintain a perfectly balanced tree that is easy to spray and from which fruit may be easily picked, and pruning is employed to stimulate new growth. Except in the case of one, two or three year trees, pruning should generally be done during the dormant season.

In the young orchard the selection and training of branches for forming the head is a matter of importance. The heads of first year trees should be developed with three to five branches. The first of these branches should be eight to ten inches above the ground with the others alternating four to six inches apart to the top.

At the end of the first growing season prune off those branches on the body that are to become part of the permanent framework of the tree. The ends of the remaining branches should be pruned so that all will be of approximately the same length.

In pruning peaches and plum trees it is essential that some pruning be done each year, young trees should make at least ten inches of growth annually, for where the growth is limited to a few inches there is usually a diminished number of fruit buds. A general rule for pruning bearing trees is to remove approximately one-third of the current season's growth each fall.

Paradichlorobenzene crystals should be used for the control of the peach tree borer. These crystals should be applied between October 20 and November 5. In applying the crystals break the crust for 15 to 18 inches around the tree and remove any grass or weeds.

The crystals should be placed in a circle around the tree about three inches from the base. For mature trees of average size, one ounce by weight should be used; for unusually large trees, an ounce and a half is sometimes needed; for trees 4 to 5 years old, three-fourths of an ounce; and for trees one to three years of age, one-half ounce should be used.

Immediately after the crystals have been applied they should be covered with several shovelful of dirt, and packed with the back of the shovel to make a cone-shaped mound. After about six weeks, the mound of earth should be torn down and the residue of crystals removed.

Congratulations to Alvin Glenn Thiemann, a 4-H club boy from Priddy, for showing the Grand Champion Steer at the Heart O' Texas Fair at Waco. Alvin has a October Hereford steer that won the light weight class and then was judged champion Hereford. He competed with the champion Angus and champion Shorthorn and won over them. His prize money totaled $390.00.

Wayne Poe showed the third place, heavy weight Hereford, steer at the Waco Show. These two steers were all of the steers that Mills County 4-H boys had at the show.

PARENT PROBLEMS

Studies Reveal Things Youth Worries About

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

THERE are some published studies of what children worry about.

One study by Pintner & Levy noted that 540 fifth and sixth grade children worried about the following: failing tests, Mother working too hard, being blamed for something you didn't do, Mother getting sick, Father working too hard, being late for school, having a poor report card, getting sick, being scolded, spoiling good clothes, people telling lies about you, doing wrong.

Another published study by Frazier and Sisonbee was made of 580 high school students. They were asked to mark on a list the items related to facial appearance which worried them most.

Some 57% of boys and 82% of girls headed their lists with "blackheads or pimples."

Other high ranking worries of boys were irregular teeth, 39%; oily skin, 27%; gap in teeth, 25%; glasses, 23%; too-thin face, 15%; scars, birthmarks, moles, 17%.

On the questionnaires of girls, oily skin, 52%, proved to be the second highest worry. Others included: too big nose, 44%; dry skin, 43%; too homely and irregular teeth, 42% each; glasses, freckles, 24%; too-long or odd-shaped nose, 23% each.

Differences in Worries

None of the boys worried about freckles or homeliness. While 11% of the girls worried about heavy eyebrows, only 1% of boys did. Only 8% of the boys worried about the nose, 8% named too large ears. Pressey & Robinson published a study of the worries of 3,000 persons from through college.

New Worries

They concluded that previous is the marked new physical dangers in the years and the way in which are almost completely by what might be called economic worries later on.

Summaries of these and other studies of youth are in the book, "Adolescent Development and Adjustment" by D. Crow and Alice Crow Hill. This book contains scientific facts about the percent than any other I

Texas Press Head Urges Public To Visit Their Local Newspaper

Jimmie Gillentine, president of the Texas Press Association urged all Texans to visit their hometown newspaper sometime this week in the 18th annual observance of National Newspaper Week.

"We want all newspaper readers to have an opportunity to witness the actual operation of a newspaper plant during the week of October 1-8," emphasized Gillentine, who is also publisher of the Hereford Brand.

"Texas newspaper men and women, who devote a great deal of their time and talents each year to the success of special weeks, will be reflecting, in their columns and news stories, thoughts on the Constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press and the threats to it," Gillentine continued.

"Many will remind their readers of the first threat which ended in the classic trial of John Peter Zenger in 1735, and firmly established freedom of the press," the TPA president pointed out, "and others will review present day threats, represented by secret or closed-door meetings of public bodies."

Gov. Price Daniel, in an official proclamation honoring the Texas Press Association, succinctly, summarizes the importance of this basic freedom:

"Our Constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press is a guarantee of an individual's right to own and to control a printing press without subservience to the government. That guarantee established the fact that a free government of free men does not need to live in fear of the thoughts and words of its free citizens."

"Were it left for me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter."

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—How much will Texas' drought-shocked farm economy be able to come back, thanks to 1957 rains?

U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates says Texas' 1957 cash income, from all farm and ranch products, may be as much as $200,000,000 higher than last year.

Actual statistics now in are not so rosy. Reports from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research show cash income, as of July, down 13 percent from July of last year. Farm income for July is 70 percent of the 1947-49 average.

"Farm income," says a BBR analyst, "is still the most depressed sector of the Texas economy, although rising prices and a better outlook for crops give some grounds for optimism."

Some attribute the poor cash showing in reports thus far to lateness of crops in areas where continued spring rains delayed planting.

Whatever final statistics show, most farmers and farm observers seem to regard 1957 as the beginning of better things. It rained. And though the rains may have washed out cotton, rotted melons and mildewed grain, it "put a season in the ground."

LITTLE ROCK REPERCUS-

SIONS—News from Little Rock, Ark., brought expressions of concern and disapproval from the Texas Capitol.

Gov. Price Daniel, on hearing the president had sent in federal troops to enforce school integration, fired off a telegram to the White House. Such action, said Daniel, was "reminiscent of the tactics of Reconstruction Days."

"Does this mean you will occupy with troops every nonintegrated school in the South?" the Governor asked. "If so, your action will destroy the public school systems and good will among the races which most of us in the South have labored so hard to preserve."

U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, who was in the State Capitol at the time, for a Democratic women's gathering, said he was "concerned and disturbed."

"I think there should be no troops from either side patrolling our school campuses," said Johnson.

NEW LAWS SUGGESTED—Spectators of the ICT investigations are no longer interested in what BenJack Cage did or didn't do. Or in what he says or doesn't say. They are more interested in the effect the ICT matter will have on future insurance regulations.

Cage answered a few general questions for the Senate investigating committee. But he refused to answer 90 others on grounds of possible self incrimination.

However, officials of the State Insurance Department spoke to the committee specifically and without hesitation. Commissioner William A. Harrison suggested need for possible legislation in four areas:

1. Board authority to determine the competence of management and to pass on management contracts. (Jack Cage Co. had a management contract with ICT.)

2. More board control over financial record keeping by companies.

3. Change in the minimum capital requirements for organizing a company (presumably to require more capital).

4. Changes in insurance investment restrictions.

FLU FUORE FADES—After the shock of the first flare-up, most Texans seemed resigned to living with the Asian flu threat for awhile.

Although cases tripled (to 9,151) in a week, health officials in some areas reported a decline. Some said they felt they were "over the hump."

SHOEMAKE'S POLICY DROPPED—An Austin district judge has ordered the state receiver to stop paying premiums on A. B. Shoemaker's giant insurance policy. Value of the gradually diminishing policy was down to $719,000.

At one time the policy would have been worth $1,000,000 on Shoemaker's death. Money would have been added to the assets of the bankrupt WS Trust and Guaranty Co.

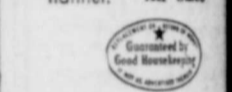

Shoemaker attempted to kill himself after his company collapsed. His death seemed imminent, and the $20,000-a-year premiums were kept paid. Now, doctors say Shoemaker may live another 15 years.

Port Worth had better with the Water Board. It acre feet a year from the Trinity. Enough, sumably, to care for the needs until the year 2000.

But there were protests from within and without. Board said permit new type which will protect supply of downstream.

SCHOOL PANEL—Speaker Waggoner Car three more to the committee which is to study handling Texas' growing population. They are Mrs. Miller of Corsicana, Mrs. Williams of Lubbock and Wells of Houston.

Appointment of six members Governor Daniel will name the 24-member committee.

Texas Press Head Urges Public To Visit Their Local Newspaper

Jimmie Gillentine, president of the Texas Press Association urged all Texans to visit their hometown newspaper sometime this week in the 18th annual observance of National Newspaper Week.

"We want all newspaper readers to have an opportunity to witness the actual operation of a newspaper plant during the week of October 1-8," emphasized Gillentine, who is also publisher of the Hereford Brand.

"Texas newspaper men and women, who devote a great deal of their time and talents each year to the success of special weeks, will be reflecting, in their columns and news stories, thoughts on the Constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press and the threats to it," Gillentine continued.

"Many will remind their readers of the first threat which ended in the classic trial of John Peter Zenger in 1735, and firmly established freedom of the press," the TPA president pointed out, "and others will review present day threats, represented by secret or closed-door meetings of public bodies."

Gov. Price Daniel, in an official proclamation honoring the Texas Press Association, succinctly, summarizes the importance of this basic freedom:

"Our Constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press is a guarantee of an individual's right to own and to control a printing press without subservience to the government. That guarantee established the fact that a free government of free men does not need to live in fear of the thoughts and words of its free citizens."

"Were it left for me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter."

Governor Daniel seems to concur when he says, "the freedom of America depends on the freedom of the press. The free flow of information to the public is essential to the preservation of our American way of life, and we must be continually vigilant in our efforts to impede this freedom of information."

Theme for the week is "Your Newspaper Serves," and both the Newspaper Association Managers Inc. and Texas Press Association, which jointly sponsor National Newspaper Week in Texas, invite newspaper readers everywhere to join in the observance this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Auldridge and Mrs. James McClement attended funeral services for their cousin, Mrs. Herman Stahle at Tomball last Wednesday. They spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Myers at Rosenberg, and visited Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Briscoe at Sheridan and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Pillow, Smithville on their return home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Locklear received word Monday that Mrs. C. H. MacMillon, sister of Mrs. Clyde Locklear, had undergone major surgery in St. Louis, Mo., and that her condition was critical.

Mr. and Franklin D. Weathers and daughters of Llano were guests last weekend of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Reynolds and Mrs. Bertha Weathers and other relatives.

AUSTIN, Tex.—How much will Texas' drought-shocked farm economy be able to come back, thanks to 1957 rains?

U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates says Texas' 1957 cash income, from all farm and ranch products, may be as much as $200,000,000 higher than last year.

Actual statistics now in are not so rosy. Reports from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research show cash income, as of July, down 13 percent from July of last year. Farm income for July is 70 percent of the 1947-49 average.

"Farm income," says a BBR analyst, "is still the most depressed sector of the Texas economy, although rising prices and a better outlook for crops give some grounds for optimism."

Some attribute the poor cash showing in reports thus far to lateness of crops in areas where continued spring rains delayed planting.

Whatever final statistics show, most farmers and farm observers seem to regard 1957 as the beginning of better things. It rained. And though the rains may have washed out cotton, rotted melons and mildewed grain, it "put a season in the ground."

LITTLE ROCK REPERCUS-

SIONS—News from Little Rock, Ark., brought expressions of concern and disapproval from the Texas Capitol.

Gov. Price Daniel, on hearing the president had sent in federal troops to enforce school integration, fired off a telegram to the White House. Such action, said Daniel, was "reminiscent of the tactics of Reconstruction Days."

"Does this mean you will occupy with troops every nonintegrated school in the South?" the Governor asked. "If so, your action will destroy the public school systems and good will among the races which most of us in the South have labored so hard to preserve."

U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, who was in the State Capitol at the time, for a Democratic women's gathering, said he was "concerned and disturbed."

"I think there should be no troops from either side patrolling our school campuses," said Johnson.

NEW LAWS SUGGESTED—Spectators of the ICT investigations are no longer interested in what BenJack Cage did or didn't do. Or in what he says or doesn't say. They are more interested in the effect the ICT matter will have on future insurance regulations.

Cage answered a few general questions for the Senate investigating committee. But he refused to answer 90 others on grounds of possible self incrimination.

However, officials of the State Insurance Department spoke to the committee specifically and without hesitation. Commissioner William A. Harrison suggested need for possible legislation in four areas:

1. Board authority to determine the competence of management and to pass on management contracts. (Jack Cage Co. had a management contract with ICT.)
2. More board control over financial record keeping by companies.
3. Change in the minimum capital requirements for organizing a company (presumably to require more capital).
4. Changes in insurance investment restrictions.
