Following is list of teams, managers and members for the four local teams.

"Frontier News Flashes" Appear In Eagle Starting With This Issue

Colorful 100-year-old Texas history is to be brought to the pages of the modern newspapers by the department of Journalism and graphic arts of the University of Houston. Highlights, including politics, farm news and advertising, are taken from the yellowed pages of 100-year-old newspapers for weekly releases to newspapers over the state.

Knowing that Texas folks are intensely interested in the history of their state, Billy I. Ross, assistant professor of journalism at the University, conceived the idea of preparing historical-type human interest bits of news, to be made available—at no cost—to all weekly and daily newspapers over the state.

"The response has been tremendous, and the first releases are being made for use the first week in June," Ross said.

Charles Aycock, senior journalism major at the University, is doing the research and preparing copy that is distributed.

Ross said, if the interest by newspaper editors is any indication throughout the state, Texas history in our schools is far from lacking in student interest.

The series under the heading, "Frontier News Flashes," starts in The Eagle this week.

12.40 Inches Of Rainfall Recorded First Five Months'

Rainfall recorded here for the month of May measured 2.58 inches, according to official report from Harry Allen.

Following is a comparative report of long term average and rainfall recorded here for the January-May period of this year.

Month	Nor Av.	1958
January	1.83	2.12
February	1.51	2.74
March	1.57	1.90
April	3.60	3.06

Jim Soules Of Star Presented Plaque By Co. School Board

At a regular meeting of the Mills County Board of Education last Monday, June 2, 1958, a plaque was presented to Mr. Jim Soules by the members of the County School Board and the ex-officio County Superintendent. The plaque read, "Jim Soules - For 16 Years Service, County School Board."

The presentation was made by John L. Patterson, ex-officio County Superintendent. He called attention to Mr. Soules' long experience as Trustee of his home school district—Star—and to his unselfish work on behalf of the schools and school children of this area. Mr. Soules was elected County School Trustee in 1942 and served continuously until May 1958.

Mrs. L. B. Ashley has returned home from a visit in Rhome with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hunn and in Fort Worth where she visited a granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sargent.

Telephone Company Is Granted Ten Year Franchise By Council

Southwestern States Telephone Company was granted a ten year franchise when the city council approved and passed a new franchise, gross-receipts tax ordinance at their regular monthly meeting Monday night.

The franchise which is effective June 2, 1958, provides for the company paying the city a two per cent tax on gross receipts in lieu of taxes. According to announcement by A. J. Eacey, Southwestern District Manager, the two per cent tax will amount to approximately $597 per year.

Under the old franchise the telephone company didn't pay this tax. The company did provide two business phones without charge. One of these was for the city hall and one for the county courthouse. Under the new franchise this free service will be eliminated and billed at the regular rates.

Mr. Lasy also announced that

Walter A. Bryant Named 1958 Campaign Chr. For Salvation Army

Warren Duren, Chairman of the Salvation Army Service Unit Committee, announced Wednesday morning that Walter A. Bryant had accepted the position as campaign chairman for the Annual Salvation Army fund drive this year. To enable the Service Unit Committee of Mills County to continue to function as it has in the past in providing emergency relief, Bryant and members of the committee announced that a campaign to raise funds for this Salvation Army Service Unit Committee will be conducted from Tuesday, June 10th to Saturday, June 14th. Funds to support the Service Unit Committee will be provided by this campaign, and Chairman Duren and all members of the committee urge all citizens to consider the good that has been accomplished under the direction of the committee and to give generously for its support.

In addition to Chairman Duren, members of this committee are: Lewis Hudson, vice chairman; Gylan Collier, treasurer; Gerald C. Head, W. E. Summy, Ray Duren, C. F. Stubblefield, Hollis Blackwell and the Rev. Presnal Wood. "We believe that we have a good community in which to live and we are proud of it," Chairman Duren said. "We also believe that any community is just a little bit better when the humanitarian work of The Salvation Army is carried on there. Your help in supporting this work is needed."

Glynn Collier reported that 81 persons had received aid from the committee this year; this includes grocery orders, lodging, meals, gas and oil for transients, medical and optical work plus the summer camp program each year for deserving children. Collier stated "these are only the things which this committee has done, the people of Mills County who continue to support the Salvation Army program have also had some part in every single major disaster in Texas, because the Salvation Army was there. A few cents from each of your dollars also goes to the Home and Hospitals for unweaned mothers, visitation to the sick and aged, prison work and parole supervision, the widespread Christmas Cheer program and many other beneficial services."

Campaign chairman Bryant wanted to remind everyone that while the primary purpose of this drive is to raise funds for the work here in Mills County that none of your contribution will leave the state of Texas. "Help your neighbors, here and across the state of Texas, who are not as fortunate as you."

Retired Red Sox Hang It On High Schoolers In Benefit Game

By CHARLES CONRADT

If you needed a Doctor Saturday morning and could not find one, they were all busy doctoring aches and pains of the Red Sox. The muscles of these Red Sox are hard to doctor, since they are so deeply embedded under a thick layer of fat. This game of baseball is sure not an old man's game. I never knew the true meaning of "foolish question," until so many people have asked, "Are you sore?"

Charley McLean did not fatten his batting average any but played his usual good "chatter" game. I think Charley will do better next time because some little 8 year old boy told him that he was hitting the ball too high and straight up. Anyway Charley pitched some and pitchers are not supposed to hit.

Boy, Ed Thornton had a good night. He caught nearly everything that came his way, including some very wild throws. And he hit one to the fence but one of those high school boys ran by and the ball fell in his hip pocket for an out.

Our "no fumble" man, Hoover, was on base so many times that he had to be relieved. He said that it was easier to strike out then you didn't have to run.

John Gilliam was the "spark" that we needed. He made some good "dashes" for the ball and also pitched some. Something funny about John's pitching. The ball he throws gets to the catcher too quick. I guess that

Goldthwaite Methodists To Have New Pastor Starting This Sunday

Methodist Church of Goldthwaite is losing its pastor, Rev. Walter J. Cartwright, who has been assigned the Rev. E. B. McCrary as its new pastor. The changes, which are effective Sunday, were announced by Bishop A. Frank Smith at the Centennial Conference of the Southwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church in San Antonio last week.

Rev. Mr. McCrary was an Episcopalian in World War II. He comes to Goldthwaite from the First Methodist Church at Elgin, Texas, where he has served for the past five years. Prior to that he was Methodist pastor at Lampasas for four years. For a number of years he has been a distinguished member of the Joint-Mission Committee of Texas Methodists. Mr. and Mrs. McCrary have four married children. They will move to Goldthwaite today (Thursday), and he will preach here Sunday evening and Monday.

many friends in Goldthwaite during their three years here. While regretting their departure, they are pleased that his new assignment to the Baptist Methodist Church is a promotion.

The Town and Country Commission of the Southwest Texas Conference awarded the Methodist Church at Goldthwaite a handsome plaque in recognition of its selection as the outstanding Methodist church in the Conference in towns of between 500 and 10,000 population. Since many other churches were considered in this area, which extends from San Angelo to Corpus Christi and Brownsville and from Austin to Del Rio, the award to Goldthwaite is a tribute to both minister and members.

Former Goldthwaite pastors Ed Lovelace and M. Dick Lowry were reassigned to Refugio and Llano, respectively. Another former pastor here, Paul Weiss, was named Field Director of the new Methodist Hospital at Weslaco.

WORLD CHAMPION???

How many people want to be a world champion? For that matter, how many people even want to be a champion. Does everybody want to be a champion, and if they do, a champion of what? Does anyone want to be a champion?

There seems to be so many champions these days that one begins to wonder what the battle for championship is all about. There are a lot of recognized fields in which there are proven champions. In other fields there may not be proven champions although there are champions.

Maybe everybody is a champion, who knows? There could be a champion banker, a champion baker, a champion newspaperman, a champion butcher, dry goods or hardware merchant, a champion worker, a champion loafer, a champion liar. Maybe in someone's eyes we are all a champion. Could be a champion so-and-so, or other, but none-the-less a champion.

Seems the trouble nowadays is that in so many recognized fields the championship stalls are all taken up and some of the fellows who are aspiring to become a champion have so little room to do so that they must go out and seek a new field in which to excel and become a champion.

What have people who are champions proved, or what are they trying to prove and to whom?

At any rate now comes a man who claims that he is the world champion hitch hiker.

DeVon Smith, all dressed up in his red suit and hat, wearing dark glasses, square toed shoes, carrying one suit case, came to town last Thursday afternoon and with great pride told local residents that he is the World's Champion Hitch Hiker.

He hails originally from Wampum, Pennsylvania, and because he didn't like the cold weather in the east he migrated to sunny California.

There he is an assembly line worker in an automotive plant where he works hard, so he related, for eight or nine months a year and saves a few hundred dollars so he can take off for a few weeks each year to travel—and become the self-styled champion hitch hiker.

I guess it would be pretty hard to become a champion working in an assembly line, at that.

Anyway, this year Smith is making what he terms the first Interplanetary Trip on Earth—1958. He is visiting Planet cities on earth, cities with planetary names, at any rate. He plans to make seventeen stops, officially, before he completes his tour which is expected to take four to six weeks.

He is visiting three planetary cities in Texas. Mercury, Star, and Earth. He started his tour Monday, May 26, at Catalina Island and when he completes his tour he expects to make an official visit to the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower, to present him with documentary evidence of his planetary exposition.

I can just see how Ike and the rest of Washington Officialdom will be looking forward during the next few weeks for the arrival of this big event.

Mr. Smith even carries a scroll with him, real official looking, too, on which he collects signatures from people who give him a ride while he is hitching and other folk that he visits with en route.

When I asked him what the purpose of this trip was he said: "I just like to get out and do a little traveling and meet a lot of nice people."

He is 32 years old, he told us, and is not married.

I couldn't help thinking of that old quotation that I heard long time ago: "Every man to his own tastes, said the man as he kissed the cow."

PLANNING FOR HIGH QUALITY COTTON

The Texas cotton farmer's opportunity this year will be in a high quality crop—not necessarily in quantity, Agriculture Commissioner John White said this week.

While there is a present surplus of cotton, the supply is mostly in the lower grades that sell for less. This cotton results in heavy mill waste and added cleaning costs. But the best demand—and biggest opportunity for profits—is for the higher grades.

Seven important steps are recommended to help the grower improve the quality of his cotton. As to the first two points, planting is already well under way over most of Texas but the other suggestions can still be put into effect.

- These seven steps are:
- Plant cotton on the best suited land. The ideal field is inherently fertile, free of soil-borne disease, warms up early, is well drained and yet not drouthy.
  - Use best seed available of a recommended variety. Good seed may be somewhat short this year but all of it should be treated with a good fungicide.
  - Fertilize to fit needs. Use your fertilizer at the rates and manner recommended by Texas experiment stations in your area. Both excessive and under use of some fertilizers can have a bad effect on the grade of harvested cotton.
  - Manage the crop for quality. Control weeds, insects and diseases. Discontinue irrigation early enough for the crop to mature before frost. Late irrigation can delay maturity and seriously reduce grade.
  - Pick promptly and carefully whether by hand or machine; avoid mixing good cotton and bad, wet and dry lots.

6. Deliver cotton to the gin as dry and clean as possible. The ginner, too, has a responsibility to keep his equipment in order, to use proper drying and take time to do a good job.

7. Sell on merit. Have cotton classed before selling; then sell on the basis of its grade and staple. This is the grower's means of assuring himself of the benefit of producing better cotton.

New Fawn Crop Now Being Seen In Hill Country

Austin (Spec.)—This year's fawn crop is coming on two weeks early, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration of the Game and Fish Commission.

"Jim Teer, our Biologist in the Edwards Plateau area, brings in reports that many young deer are already being seen in the Hill Country," the Director said.

So far worms have not been as serious a problem, as last year. We have a heavy survival of does from last year, and there should be a bountiful crop of fawns this season. Full scale nesting of turkeys also is under way. No broods have been seen by the biologists as yet, but they have found nests indicating a favorable hatch can be expected.

Ample rains during the spring have put the range in fine condition, according to all reports nual aristas and dropseeds along with Texas grama, perennial aristas and a variety of weeds cannot under favorable moisture conditions produce more than one-half to a ton of forage annually. Some of these plants are poor livestock feed. When one-half of the few species taken by livestock are left to keep the factory going there is too little good usable feed produced on these areas. Better native grasses as sideoats grama, little bluestem, and tall dropseed will produce about two tons per year. Top yielding native grass as Indiangrass and Big Bluestem produce 2½ to 3 tons in favorable years.

Grass seeding in connection with brush control operation may be desirable. This is especially applicable for areas that have been burned or where previous attempts at brush control included heavy goating or for small traps heavily grazed for a number of years. Usually grassland with cedar and oak has a dependable seed source of the better native grasses and does not need seeding. When the woody species are removed such lands do need management to keep and increase these better grasses. There are a few small open grassland pastures that do not have the best native grasses left but usually have dependable species left that can be managed for improvement. The idle cropland that is now being used as grazing lands is mainly fertility depleted or eroded lands but often there are small bottomlands and deep soil areas included. Considering the majority of the idle land it is fairly safe to say native grass mixtures which include little bluestem, sideoats grama, and Indiangrass are best for these average conditions. King Ranch bluestem might be added to the native mixture where the land is severely eroded. The grass species, except KR, are nature's selection for the soils and climate for this area. These native grasses if given good management (proper grazing use) will give high forage and livestock production. They will also dominate the area to such an extent that lower producers and woody plants cannot come in. For some special areas as bottomlands and some of the deep soil, pure plantings of Indiangrass or other selected species may be more desirable than mixtures.

Getting the land ready for seeding grass may be done in several ways depending on the soil condition, presence of growing vegetation, and how much time one wants to wait to get into top production. Three considerations are usually necessary; first a disturbed soil, second absence of growing vegetation, and third a fairly firm seedbed. Other considerations are whether the fertility should be improved before seeding grass and whether one wants to take all precautions to secure a stand of grass. If the latter, then sorghum or sudan should be grown on the land the year before seeding the grass. Residue from these crops is left on the ground and grass seeded into stubble. Fertility improvement and growing a mulch to seed in secures success and high production sooner.

Seeding following chaining and bulldozing brush, seeding on existing grassland that has been pitted (special implement) or disked lightly to kill or set back existing vegetation can be considered satisfactory except in the lower rainfall years. Plowing the land in the fall and minor harrowing or disked operations to eliminate growing vegetation just before seeding is usually the best to secure a firm seedbed.

Boys, Read This: Help To Protect Young Wildlife

Austin, (Spec.)—Don't molest nesting wildlife. This is the warning from the Director of Law Enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. Teachers and parents should explain to boys who are venturing into the woods with 22 rifles, air guns, and sling shots that nesting birds and young animals should not be harmed. The same is true on the coast, the Director said. Millions of shore birds are nesting along the shore line and islands. These birds are protected under the laws. "If nests are robbed or the parent birds otherwise disturbed, it will mean a loss in population of the birds," the Director said. "Sometimes people are thoughtless and throw rocks at these birds or destroy the nests. Wardens over the state are doing a fine educational job, especially among Boy Scouts and organized groups in teaching them the value of protecting wildlife. We hope it will be protected."

The Director also warned against the capture of young wild animals as pets. Every year it is necessary for wardens to liberate young animals that people have taken for pets.

NEWS from YOUR COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

BY GEORGE G. REESE

The grain storage situation will be tight in some sections of the country this summer and fall. In several states, substantial increases will likely be needed in farm storage capacity.

The carryover stocks this year of six major grains before 1958 harvests, may be a new record of about 3.3 billion bushels. This would be around 500 million bushels more than the same commodities in 1957. The six crops included corn, oats, barley, grain sorghums, wheat and rye.

As of April 1, 1958, stocks of corn, barley and sorghum grain in all storage positions were the highest of record for that date in each case. Oat stocks were the third highest of record.

Adequate storage is essential if the 1958 crop of grains is to be handled in an orderly and efficient manner that serves the needs of farmers, the grain trade, and the consuming public.

The farmers must have ample storage: (1) For orderly marketing that gives him income protection. There may be a substantial loss if a crop has to be sold on a glutted market at harvest time.

(2) To participate in the price-support program. If the farmer cannot locate warehouse space and does not have adequate storage on his farm, he cannot get a price support loan.

(3) For a reserve feed supply. For the farmer who feeds livestock, ample storage on the farm is the key to a close at hand reserve that is available promptly when needed at any time for feeding.

There are two types of government farm storage loans available.

(1) Farm Storage Facility Loans: These are five year 4 per cent loans covering up to 80 per cent of the cost of an approved structure for storage of wheat, corn, rye, and grain sorghums. Any farm-operator, share-tenant, share landlord or producer partnership is eligible for this type of loan. Application is made at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office.

(2) Another type of loan is also available. These loans are made by the Farmers Home Administration's farm housing loan program to farmers who qualify. To be eligible the borrower must own a farm in production and will produce at least $400 worth of commodities for sale or home use.

The 1958 price support on oats, grading number three is 69 cents per bushel for oats produced in 1958.

This support is available through farm-storage and warehouse-storage loans and through purchase agreements.

The price support for 1958 number two barley is $1.06 per bushel stored on the farm in Mills County. Barley stored in an approved warehouse will receive the rate for the county in which it is stored and will be subject to the applicable storage deductions.

All grain storage structures should be thoroughly cleaned and treated to control grain insects before storage of grain. Spray bins with 2 pounds of 50 per cent DDT to five gallons of water at the rate of two gallons per 1,000 square feet of surface area.

Frequently, the rice weevil and Angoumois moth infest grain in the field before harvest. In many instances, it is advisable to fumigate soon after the grain is stored or not later than two weeks after storage.

Several liquid fumigants are effective for use in controlling stored grain pests. These are formulated as various combinations and sold under different trade names. The dosages also vary according to the formulations used. Directions for use as given on the label should be followed closely. The grain surface should be fairly level before fumigation. Liquid fumigants properly applied will penetrate grain and give good insect control to a depth of 10 to 12 feet.

LEE RUTH CAMPBELL
Girl Scouts and Brownies of Goldthwaite Area held annual Day Camp last Monday through Friday. Campers for the camp this year were called "New Frontiers," and were held at Lake Merritt.

The fireplace in the house was a bulletin board the names of each unit and the duties for each unit for five days. Mrs. Marsella Kemp, camp director, Mrs. Kemp, assistant camp director, and Mrs. Lillian registered nurse, set up headquarters in the clubhouse. The first day at camp was setting up camp by making tables, made of burdened lashed to sticks, tables by lashing limbs together, and clothes lines and disposals and etc.

Second, third and fourth were cook-out days. This was the girls enjoy and most want to be a cook at the last day they came at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon to share with parents and friends the achievements of their camp. The girls were with a pro-

Their adult helpers were Mrs. Lillian Stokes, Alma Sutherland, Lee Ruth Campbell, and Betsy Glass.

On the open range, Troop 5, "The Cowboy's Retreat," was located. What a lively group! What signs painted! The camp, "Trail Scouts," knew the ten "Cowboys" were there and vice versa. Their skit on the program was "Initiation into the Cattle Club." Ray Standley, principal of Goldthwaite Elementary School, is now a member of that cattle club. The adult helpers were Mrs. Etta Jordan, Alice Summy, Mrs. Jack Welch, Adele Tubbs, and Betty Bramblett.

Troop 2, named "Trail Scouts," was located on the banks of a running stream, which has been called The Nile River in previous years and was called the Colorado River this year. These ten girls were highly complimented for having "The Girl Scout Laws" on their bulletin board. The "Trail Scouts" unit was made up of the seventh and eighth grade girls. They gave a skit, "Ollie and Me." Their adult help was Eloise Duren, Jewel Yeager, Mrs. C. H. Bramblett and Jerrilyn Gotcher.

Perfect attendance cards were given to twenty-six campers as follows: Charlotte Dalton, Jeanne Breeding, Flossie Jordan, Sylvia Saylor, Lowell Welch, Betty Robertson, Mary Standley, Wynona Wasserman, Carolyn Breeding, Karen Summy, Judy Tubbs and Sandra Jordan.

Also Wanda Welch, Pat Bradley, Barbara Davis, Margaret Stokes, Betty Sutherland, Carol Straley, Anita Rhoades, Sandra Arnold, Jeanie Bramblett, Billie Kemp, Sue Todd, Ann Kemp, Jeanie Taylor and Kay Benningfield.

SUMMERTIME ON WHEELS

National and state park officials are preparing for an estimated 200 million family vacationers this summer. Some will stop for a few hours, some overnight and some for several days. Park attendance has been climbing steadily in recent years. Current estimates amount to just twice as many overnight campers as five years ago and 75 million more day visitors in the same period.

Whether it's a short trip or long cross-country excursion the wayside picnic area is a welcome convenience to relieve periods of driving. State park officials watching the growing luncheon - on - the - way trend have found that families—and particularly the homemakers—wish for more guidance in planning picnic-lunches. The homemaker needs to know which foods may be prepared ahead, how to plan nutritious menus that travel well, a convenient check list of things to remember, and tips on how to pack a basket.

ITEMS TO HAVE ON HAND

Much of the "rounding up" of picnic supplies can be eliminated by keeping staples in one convenient place. Such items may include: roasting forks; flashlight; books of matches; bugbomb; can-bottle opener; napkins; vacuum bottle; disposable cups; rolls of transparent plastic wrap; camera; salt and pepper shakers; insulated cooler; and plastic dishes. Next week, read what foods can be prepared ahead.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: Since Texas is a community property state, I wonder if one-half of my wife's wages should be added to my wages in figuring the $1200 I am permitted to earn in a year and still get my social security checks. I worked for wages of $1050 in 1957 and my wife made $3000. One-half of my wife's wages added to mine would make me lose all my social security checks.

Answer: It is your employment earnings only that are counted in the $1200 a beneficiary is permitted to earn in a year without losing one or more social security checks. Your earnings of $1050 for 1957 were less than $1200, therefore you do not lose any benefits for that year, but your wife would lose all her social security checks.

Question: I was injured in an accident in 1952, at the age of 50. The state workmen's compensation agency is paying me $120 a month for permanent and total disability. Can I also get disability payments from social security?

Answer: No. The amount of your social security disability payment must be reduced by the amount of your workmen's compensation. Since your payment from the state is larger than your social security payment could possibly be, no disability benefits would be payable through social security. However, you must file an application before July 1 of this year if you wish to protect the future social security rights of yourself and your family. If you do not, your social security payments will be lower when you reach age 65, and your family's benefits would be lower in case of your death.

Battle With The Indians!
76 Of Them Killed!

From the following letter, from Camp Runnels, it will be seen that Captain Ford, with 213 Rangers and friendly Indians, had a fight with the Comanches on the 12th inst. The engagement took place in the Wichita country, eight days' march from Camp Runnels. Our correspondent does not give the number of killed, wounded, etc., but we learn from the official report of Captain Ford to the Governor, (which we would publish but for the length), that seventy-six Comanches were killed, eighteen taken prisoners; and of our men, only two were killed, (Robert Nickel and a Waco Indian), and three slightly wounded.

The Houston Telegraph is informed by the Agent of Redding & Co.'s Express, that two men went to the plantation of General Welborne, in Fort Bend county, on Friday night, and represented themselves as clergymen, and asked permission to preach to the negroes. The overseer refused. They then asked to stay all night. The overseer informed them that the family was residing in town, and the house was locked up. In the altercation they seized upon the overseer, and while one held him the other gashed him in an awful manner with his knife. The overseer is not expected to live.

SHE BELIEVES IN PEACE POWER

Mrs. Robert B. Anderson, wife of the Secretary of the U. S. Treasury, displays one of the Treasury's new Peace Power posters to promote the sale of Savings Bonds. "Peace costs money! Money for many different things," Mrs. Anderson says. "Savings Bonds, as a direct investment in our country, make each of us a partner in the job of strengthening America's Peace Power. Every American can help keep the peace by regularly buying and holding United States Savings Bonds. Are you buying all you might?"

The Treasury's goal of $4.7 billion in Savings Bonds this year represents an investment of almost $28 for each man, woman, and child.

A Few Prize Recipes To Add To Your Files

By ALICE DENHOFF

WE came away from a recent visit to a friend with two of her prize recipes.

For example, with coffee she had served the tenderest, tastiest muffins we've ever eaten. Here is her recipe for 16 small ones.

To Make Muffins

Sift together 1 1/2 c. sifted cake flour, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1/4 tsp. soda and 1/4 tsp. salt.

To Prepare Prunes

Add 1/2 c. finely cut dried prunes. (To prepare prunes, soak until fruit is soft. Drain well. Remove pits and cut or chop into fine pieces. Mix well with dry, sifted ingredients.)

Beat 1/4 c. shortening until creamy. Add 1/2 c. sugar gradually and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add 1 egg, and beat well. Add flour mixture alternately with 1 c. mashed bananas (use 2 to 3 all-yellow or fluffy ripe bananas). Mix until batter is smooth.

Turn into well-greased small muffin pans and bake at 400° F. about 20 min. or until muffins are done.

Special Sundae

Her special sundae is one of our friend's most popular desserts.

Add 1/2 c. sugar to 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten, and beat well. Make double strength coffee (using 2 heaping tbsp. coffee to each measuring cup of water). Add 1 c. of the egg yolk mixture and cook in top of double boiler until mixture coats a spoon. Cool. Pour over lemon ice cream and top with finely chopped nuts.

And here's a nice switch on the popular Peach Melba.

Fold 2 tsp. black raspberry or black currant preserves and dash of salt into 1/2 c. heavy cream, whipped. Turn into a freezing tray in the refrigerator. Set temperature at coldest position and freeze without stirring.

When frozen firm, set control at normal freezing temperature. Have ready chilled pear halves from a 1 lb. can or jar of pears. Place fruit in serving dishes and fill centers with frozen mixture.

Quickie Dessert

For a nice quickie dessert, whip 1/2 c. heavy cream until it forms a peak.

Add 2 tsp. powdered sugar, tsp. vanilla.

Fold mixture into 1 c. applesauce.

Heap in individual serving dishes and place in freezing compartment of refrigerator for about 10 min. to chill.

Not for calorie counters, is the following Strawberry Dish.

Beat 4 oz. cream cheese with 1/2 c. sweet cream to make a thick, creamy topping.

Place in bowl in the center of a platter of fresh or frozen strawberries—to be spooned over berries for each serving.

This is excellent for a party dinner that calls for a gourmet dessert.

REV. A. A. CARTER
Does the Christian
... long time I was confused
... the center of our faith
... to hold a very long
... the non-Christian
... the heart of our re-
... being left out, so I
... stand at Christ.
... a Christian, one who
... in God and man and
... stand at Christ.
... that the Old Testament
... Christianity—it was a
... preparation for Chris-
... further saw the Bible
... in Christ; that in
... we have the final and
... revelation in God.
... made himself final even
... "Ye have heard it
... times, but I say unto
... would then do what He
... made himself the cen-
... tality is Christ. The
... of my belonging to
... or the other group is
... that settles little or
... But the question of
... to Christ—that is
... settles everything.
... made himself greater
... the Old Testament
... and disciples. He also ... himself greater than
... the Church. "One great-
... the Temple is here,"
... would say that the group
... does not matter. It
... matter, but not vitally.
... there was but one
... built at the command
... and yet Jesus could
... it and say truly: "One
... than the Temple is
... the first and He is great-
... the Temple. Standing
... the sacred religious ob-
... the Sabbath, Christ
... the Son of Man is Lord
... Sabbath." One greater
... Sabbath was there.
... all rites, all ceremon-
... observances, in their
... place is subservient

to Christ. Our allegiance to Christ is primary and no rite or ceremony or observance can usurp that place. When Peter said "Lord, let us make three tabernacles, one for Thee, one for Moses (The Law) and one for Elijah (The Prophets)," Peter wanted to put the Prophets on the same level—a tabernacle for each. But a voice from Heaven spoke and said: "This is my beloved Son, hear ye Him." And when they lifted up their eyes, "they saw no man save Jesus only." We, too, must see no man save Jesus only.
All true Christians have one center of allegiance—Christ. Suppose I say, "What do you believe?" We would go in different directions, for none of us believe exactly the same in all things. But suppose I say, "Whom do you trust?" Then we as Christians answer: Christ! If the emphasis is upon the "What's" the doctrines, the beliefs about this, that and the other, then our Christianity is divisive. But if our emphasis is upon the "Whom," then our Christianity is uniting, constructive, saving.
Christianity is Christ and Christ is Christianity and the world's supreme need is for a Christ-centered religion. Not a creed-centered life or a denomination-centered life but a Christ-centered life and a love-dominated life. For Christ is God and God is love. And a love-centered life must have two great reaches as indicated by Christ's Two Great Commandments: It must have an upward reach toward God who is Love and whom we must love supremely, and it must have an outward reach toward our fellowman whom we must love as fully as we love ourselves. To live such a life is to find the power which Paul expressed: "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me."
The world's supreme need is a Christ-centered religion.

If you are a salt water fisherman, or plan to take your vacation on the Texas coast this year, you'll want to check this calendar of coming events.
First on the schedule is the Anahuac catfish fry. This will be held Saturday, June 21. Notices have just been sent out by Judge Guy C. Jackson Jr., who is founder of the Fraternity of the White Heron. For many years this big fish fry, which thousands attend, has been held on the Saturday closest to the Judge's birthday.
This is one of the best organized mass parties in Texas. It has been held annually for some 14 years and becomes more popular as the years go by. Thousands of pounds of Trinity Bay catfish are fried in tremendous steel vats, heated with bottled gas. Many thousands of large, white onions, hush-puppies and potato salad also are prepared. A half-dozen lines move the hungry crowd, buffet style, by the huge tubs of sizzling catfish. You get all you can eat.
This year's party will be an exceptionally big one. It's a campaign year and most of the state candidates and many district candidates will be there. A huge platform is provided for those who want to speak. And someone is talking all the time. You don't have to listen unless you want to.
One of the more impressive sights is the appearance of the fleet. Hundreds of boats from Houston take to the water, loaded with prominent Houston citizens. If you plan to be in Southeast Texas on June 21, be sure to attend.

Worm Farming—In an Australian publication the other day we saw a long story about breeding your own bait. It reminded us how we used to raise worms—big, fat, garden worms—many years ago. It will still work today. And for bream, crappie or catfish, there's nothing like a big juicy worm. One of them is better than a handful of little red wigglers.
In our own little worm-farming process we partitioned off a bed about six feet square in a back corner of the garden. Into the black dirt we worked a generous supply of barnyard fertilizer and sawdust. We wet this down thoroughly and put in a few big brood worms dug out of the flower bed. Then we wet it down some more.
We then tossed out potato peelings, slices of bread and corn meal. Back in those days weevils were bad about getting into corn meal. We talked the corner grocer out of the returned packages and fed the worms with them.
Other good feed for worms consists of old tea bags, poultry mash, oatmeal, etc. Do not put any citrus peels, like grapefruit or oranges in the bed. They will kill the worms.
The earthworm is bisexual. All worms can lay eggs, but they must be fertilized by other worms. They reproduce very rapidly and a small bed will provide all you need.
This little bed supplied us with many cans of big fishing worms all summer long.
Artificial Worms — Catching

Fishing Tournaments Scheduled—Many fishing tournaments are upcoming along the coast. We have been advised of the following:
Texas City Tackle Time: June 28-July 6. Sponsored by the Texas City Junior Chamber of Commerce.
Freeport Fishing Fiesta: July 1-6. Jaycee sponsored.
Port Lavaca Fishing Tournament: July 4-6, inclusive. Jaycee sponsored.
Red Fish Bay Tournament: Port Mansfield, July 4. C of C sponsored.
International Tournament: Port Isabel, Aug. 7-10, inclusive. Sponsored by the Valley Tournament Committee.
Each of these tournaments is a major event. Thousands of dollars in prizes are offered in various categories. Mainly the fishermen are after big fish, such as sail, tarpon, marlin, etc. However, there are many events in which weight and number count as well as size.
Prizes consist mainly of tackle items, but in many cases the awards are boats, motors and cash.
Many of these tournaments will be attended by the same people, owners of large boats, or persons who have saved their vacation cash for just such an occasion.

Although there will be a heavy demand for rooms, the various cities have sufficient accommodations to take care of most of their guests. In any event, if you plan to attend it would be wise to write the sponsor for full information about activities and accommodations.
If you are looking for a vacation filled with excitement one of these fishing tournaments has it.

fish with artificial lures is of course even more fascinating than with live bait. To satisfy this type of fisherman David A. DeLong of DeLong Lures in Cleveland, Ohio, has produced not only some excellent imitations of the little wigglers, but also has incorporated taste.
Speaking of his very life-like eels and worms, DeLong says "fish them deep and slowly. Let them go as near the bottom as possible and in retrieving do not hurry them."
The special odor which DeLong fuses into the plastic does not attract any more fish, but says the inventor "when a fish hits it he seems to like the taste and smell and holds it without spitting the hook."
New Sports Center—A fellow over in Big-D has set about to prove it is possible to get all your coons up the same tree. This time it is in a sports center, where there'll be everything.
Angus Wynn and associates are spending $3,000,000 on this sports center as a part of the development near Arlington, where a few hundred million more will be checked out of the bank.
This sports center will be located on 275 acres. It will have everything from a little perch hook to the heaviest tackle made, and from a 6 foot pram to ocean-going cruisers.
It will have a lake for casting practice, protected rifle range, skeet range and a place to ski.
The sports center will be a clearing house also for information about hunting and fishing all over the world.
This gigantic air conditioned store will be 242x410 feet, the largest sporting goods store under one roof in the world. All of it is supposed to be ready within a year.
Finally it looks like businessmen are recognizing that the outdoor traffic is big business.

Final Rites For T. T. Boyd Sr., 50, Held At Lufkin

Funeral services for Timothy Terrell Boyd Sr., 50, of 1208 Idylwood Drive, Lufkin, were held Sunday afternoon, May 23, at 3 o'clock in the First Church of the Nazarene, Lufkin. Services were conducted by Rev. Hershall Patterson, Rev. Emma Irick and Rev. H. B. Brooks. Burial was in the Garden of Memories.
Mr. Boyd passed away in a Lufkin hospital Friday afternoon, May 23, after a brief illness. He was born in Williamson County, Tennessee, July 4, 1908 and had resided in Lufkin for the past nine years. He was employed by the Electrolux Corporation. He was a member and Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Bethel Church of the Nazarene and a member of the Houston District Advisory Board.
Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Kathaleen Boyd of Lufkin; three sons, Tom W. Boyd, Bethany, Oklahoma, Timothy T. Boyd Jr., and James Davis Boyd of Lufkin; a brother, James O. Boyd, Franklin, Tennessee; one

The Boyd family made their home here a number of years before moving to Lufkin. Mrs. Boyd will be remembered as the former Kathaleen Keese, daughter of Tom Keese and the late Mrs. Keese, pioneer residents of Mills County.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX.—During coming months Texans will ponder and argue the wisdom of adopting sweeping changes in election procedures.

If adopted, the changes recommended by Gov. Price Daniel would alter campaign procedures more drastically than anything since the Terrell election law became effective over a half century ago.

Governor Daniel's proposals are (1) to abolish precinct conventions and, instead, elect county convention delegates at the first primary and (2) to hold primaries in May and June instead of July and August.

Such ideas are grist for mills that grind slowly. They'll be debated, pro and con, at the party conventions this summer and, probably, again by the Legislature next year.

At the June 9 meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee, the resolutions subcommittee will recommend support of the changes. Subcommittee members announced they agreed with the governor that a direct primary vote in the precincts would insure wider participation and do away with the "ugly contests, rump delegations and bitterness" that have characterized Texas party politics all the way to the national convention.

Support from the State Committee was to be expected since a majority of its members are friendly to the governor.

Opposition is anticipated, down the line, from people who regularly participate in precinct meetings. They—or at least some of them—contend the neighborhood gatherings provide the citizenry with a sort of democratic "town hall" experience. Others object to earlier elections on the grounds they would prolong the "lame duck" period for defeated incumbents.

Defenders of the anti-precinct convention plan declare it's the next logical step in a long-range trend. Before adoption of the Terrell election law, state officials were nominated by political parties at their state conventions. Beginning in 1907 voters were given a more direct say by the use of one primary and a convention vote if no candidate received a primary majority. In 1918 this was amended to provide the present two-primary system.

"Code" Forthcoming—SDEC's resolutions committee also promised to meet DOT's challenge for a "code of ethics" for conducting party conventions.

The committee said it did not feel privileged to dictate procedures from the state level, to precinct and county officials, "the overwhelming majority of whom can be trusted to function... with the highest ethical considerations." But it said it would recommend a "declaration of principles which will insure... majority determination" at state conventions.

A "fair play code" has been a rallying cry for the liberal Democrats of Texas led by Mrs. Frankie Randolph of Houston.

Anti-Trust Inquiry—When a city or county needing supplies or equipment gets sealed bids identical to the fraction of a cent, there's a possibility the bidders got together beforehand and agreed on a jacked-up price.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson says that his office has had several reports of identical bidding. He is making an intensive investigation. Suits will be filed after evidence is complete, probably within six to eight weeks.

Contracts under study involve sales of electric transformers, chlorine for swimming pools, and lime and oyster shells for street topping.

A conspiracy among bidders to raise prices can cost taxpayers in the multi-millions, Wilson commented.

Holes In The Net?—With the state facing a sizable deficit next year, the Senate general investigating committee is seeking

Mrs. Donald Padgett, Recent Bride Complimented With Bridal Shower

Mrs. Donald Mack Padgett, the former Miss Joe Ann Combs, was complimented with a bridal shower tea in the home of Mrs. A. G. Collier Friday afternoon, May 30, from 3 until 5 o'clock.

Hostesses were Meses. A. G. Collier, Leonard Cole, Truman Vaughan, Anell Morgan, Henry Simpson and Lee Long.

Guests were received by Mrs. Collier, Mrs. Long and the honoree and Mrs. R. T. Padgett. The tea table was laid with a white hand crocheted cloth over pink and centered with a beautiful arrangement of white snap dragons and pink carnations. Miss Ann Padgett assisted by Meses. Vaughan, Morgan and Simpson served the punch, cookies, nuts and mints. Miss Carolyn Simpson registered the guests.

Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Long were in charge of the gift room where a number of beautiful and useful gifts were attractively displayed.

Members of the State Comptroller's Department, chief collecting agency, told the committee, in effect, that the collecting net was a little skimpy for the potential catch.

They're way behind in their audits of large companies, said Houston area supervisor Harvey J. McKenzie. Reason, he said, is that low state salaries have caused the staff to dwindle from 14 in 1948 to 5 at present.

An audit, said McKenzie, sometimes results in recovery of large sums of additional tax money.

Back Again—Texas officials are making another attempt to get the Supreme Court to say who's "boss" of insurance liquidation.

Both the State Board of Insurance and the judge of the local district court handling the liquidation cases have had a hand in selecting liquidation attorneys during the past few years. In a recent test case the Supreme Court said the Board had the first responsibility for naming the attorneys and setting their salaries, but that if it failed to act, the judge could step in.

Now, the attorney general is pressing for a more definite ruling. Acting on behalf of the Insurance Department, he has asked the court to set aside a recent order by Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts raising the salaries of three liquidation attorneys.

Wilson's petition contends that, in changing the salaries of men already appointed by the Board, the judge is overstepping his authority.

All Or Nothing—A farmer or rancher cannot get a refund on state gasoline taxes if he uses his "agricultural gasoline" for any other purpose.

This opinion by the attorney general was given at the request of State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, who said that a farmer wanted to correct a previous claim and get a partial refund for gasoline used partly for farming.

A farmer using gasoline on which he receives a tax refund may not drive the vehicle on a public road.

Fewer Jobless—Texas Employment Commission's latest report on Texans out of work is cheerful.

For the second consecutive week, the number claiming unemployment benefits dropped substantially—from 86,528 to 83,099.

Optimism is tempered by the expectation of a new flood of job-seekers when the schools and colleges turn out graduates and summer workers this week.

Mills County One Of 26 With Only One Traffic Death In 1957

The battle against death on the highway is being waged vigorously in every Texas county except one. That one is Loving County in far West Texas, which has been immune to traffic fatalities for at least the past 21 years.

Governor Price Daniel quotes Department of Public Safety records as showing that traffic has never taken the life of a single person in Loving County since the DPS began compiling the annual death list in 1937.

Loving, the newest and last county to be organized in Texas, came into legal being in 1931. Its 1957 population was listed at 647, its automobile and truck registrations totaled 195, and those cars traveled over 23 miles of State and farm-to-market highways and an unlisted county road mileage. Mentone, county seat and only city in the county, is located on Farm Road 302.

No other county in Texas even approaches the deathless record established by Loving County drivers, although nine other counties also reported no traffic deaths in 1957. They were Burleson, Culberson, Hartley, Jim Hogg, Mason, McMullen, Rains, Roberts and Zapata. Two of these counties, Burleson, of which Caldwell is the county seat, and Culberson, where the county seat is Van Horn, burned in perfect improvement records from 1956 to 1957. Eight persons died in Burleson County traffic in 1956, and 11 in Culberson County. These two counties alone accounted for 19 fewer deaths, or more than 26% of the motorcade reduction for the entire State from 1956, with its record-breaking toll of 2,611, to 1957, whose total was 2,539.

Another 26 counties in Texas reported only one death each in 1957, according to the annual report of the DPS Statistical Division. They included Blanco, Borden, Brooks, Camp, Delta, Frio, Hall, Hardeman, Kendall, Kerr, Kimble, Knox, Lipscomb, Menard, Mills, Motley, Ochiltree, Real, Runnels, San Augustine, Sherman, Somervell, Sutton, Terrell, Throckmorton and Upton. In 1946, 31 counties had only one death.

Four of the ten counties reporting no motorcades in 1957 also had no such deaths in 1946, when the post-war highway death list began climbing again. These were Loving, McMullen, Roberts and Zapata Counties.

The pattern of lives saved in 1957 is continuing into 1958, the Governor reported. Through Saturday, close of the 19th week of the year, 81 more Texans were still alive than at the same time last year. Total motorcades through this week were estimated by the DPS at 657, as compared with 738 at the same date in 1957.

This improvement continues in spite of the DPS estimate that Texans are increasing their automobile mileage by one per cent over last year. The death list after 19 weeks this year was 11% smaller than last year at the same time.

RED SOX—

is something he learned from Baylor.

That tall pitcher from Baylor had them eating out of his hand. He can still throw a ball, slow curve that gets there. And hit, he's a leading hitter.

Jake Stacy played ball, slow speed, that struck out, grounded out, and stood on his feet in one game. He also pitched the game by pitching the ring. Only scored two runs against him in one game. He was the only pitcher who never got a ball pitched.

Dale Reid puts them the first bounce. He's watching too much TV, that it still hurts to pitch a pitched ball.

Richard Hampton, high school boys how to ball. He said all there was to just hit the ball, run, that he did.

Roy Loudemilk, he would stay with bread rather than the ball that little old baseball. Sure appreciate for helping out as some of Sox were a little late.

The high school boys, fine ball. Some of them anxious to try the ball again, but not soon I'd like to see them.

Thanks to W. C. B. Clyde Estep for their batting average. Also to Mr. Little for the announcement.

In behalf of the Sox, let me say thank you to Mullin game added about the treasury.

Oh yes! The score, favor of the Red Sox.
