Farmers To Vote On Wheat Quota Friday

Mills County Growers Will Vote At ASC Office 8 A. M. To 7 P. M.

A last-minute reminder to eligible growers about the upcoming vote on 1959-crop wheat marketing quotas was issued today by E. L. Burkett, Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The referendum will be held this Friday, June 20. Mills County wheat producers will poll their ballots at the ASC Office from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. "Eligible" growers, the Chairman explains, are those farmers who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959; since growers with 15 acres or less of wheat and those in the feed wheat program are exempt from marketing quota provisions, they are not eligible to cast ballots on 1959 wheat marketing quotas.

Chairman Burkett points out that the vote is on marketing quotas for the 1959 wheat crop, not acreage allotments. Whether or not quotas are approved, wheat acreage allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining the individual grower's eligibility for price support.

The level of the available wheat support will vary, however, according to the outcome of the vote. If at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas, support will be available on the 1959 wheat crop at a national average of not less than $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity. If quotas are not approved by the necessary two-thirds of the votes, support for the crop will be available at about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity. Mr. Burkett says that if marketing quotas are in effect, there will be penalties on "Excess" wheat produced on acreage in excess of the larger of 15 acres or the farm acreage allotment. The penalty will be 45 per cent of the wheat parity price as of May 1, 1959.

Growers who have any question about the wheat program are urged to get in touch with the County ASC Office at Goldthwaite.

Little League Games Rained Out; Will Be Made Up At A Later Date

By CHARLES CONRADT
Little League games were all rained out Monday night; due to this rain-out no player of the week will be listed this week as we did not have a chance to observe all the teams in action. These rained-out games will be made up at a later date.

The teams are all improving and the managers are sure working to get the very best possible out of their boys. It is real interesting to hear the complaints and aches that the managers come up with and to listen as they try to trade some players in order to better their team. All trades have to be approved by the President of the League and I can sure see why the Commissioner of baseball has such a short life. Several new players have signed up and will be ready to play Friday night.

Team standings are as follows:

Team	Won	Lost
Priddy	3	0
Red Sox	2	1
White Sox	2	1
Mullin	1	2
Indians	1	2
Tigers	0	3

The Pony League will play San Saba at San Saba Tuesday night. These boys are really playing ball.

The Babe Ruth league will play Lampasas here Thursday night.

We are very much in need of some umpires. Does not make any difference if you can see or not, these boys throw hard enough and the ball makes such a sound when it hits the catcher's mitt that you can call by ear. The board of directors agreed at the last meeting to double the umpire's salary over that of last year, so maybe this will interest some of you to apply for the job.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Shipp and children of Irving spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. T. J. Shipp, and Lewis.

THE TEXAS TOURIST INDUSTRY

There is nothing more wholesome and refreshing than to see someone that is really sold on his job going about looking after the business of that job.

Such is the case of John T. Cox who was in town last week in behalf of the Texas Development Council. Mr. Cox knows many people in this section of the state since this is, more or less, his old home stomping ground. He was raised between here and Lampasas and went to school with a number of Goldthwaite businessmen and also taught school in this county at one time.

He has been associated with a group which has worked for some time furthering the Texas Tourist Industry, especially in the Central Texas area. He resides in San Marcos, Texas. At present he is on loan to the Texas Development Council doing the same type of work—working towards a bigger and better Texas Tourist Industry.

His organization is presently working on an educational program throughout Texas with reference to the Constitutional Amendment No. 7, which is S. J. R. No. 4, to be voted on in the general election in November.

The Constitutional Amendment makes provision for advertising and selling Texas to tourists from throughout the nation as the place to come to spend their vacations.

Up to now the only concerted effort toward this end, except through sectional groups in the state, has been through the Texas Highway Department Travel Information Bureaus.

The Texas Development Council is pushing passage of the amendment so that we can adopt a program of selling citizens from other states as well as our own on the theme: "Going On Vacation? See Texas First."

In thinking on the subject you naturally would come up with some questions and look for some answers.

Here are a few pointers that I hope will help you to see the overall program a little better.

HOW IMPORTANT IS TOURISM?

There are three basic ways to bring new money and business into any given area according to the United States Chamber of Commerce. These include Agricultural Development, Industrial Development, and Tourist Development. The Chamber also reports, "Tourism is probably the quickest, least difficult method of the three."

"If a community can attract a couple of dozen tourists a day throughout the year, it would be comparable to acquiring a new manufacturing industry with an annual payroll of $100,000," the United States Department of Commerce says.

"The tourist is the taxpayer's friend and every tourist who comes to a community can help ease the local tax burden," according to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

HOW MUCH DID THEY SPEND?

An all-time high of $531 million was spent in Texas by tourists traveling by automobile last year. This was an impressive increase over 1956's intake of $379 million. Although the actual volume of visitors was not drastically different from 1956's figure those who did come to Texas stayed longer and spent more money per person per day, filling the coffers of cities and communities throughout the state.

HOW IS TOURIST MONEY SPENT?

The largest part of the tourist dollar in Texas is spent for three items—food, lodging, and car upkeep. To serve the three basic needs of tourists each year, 25,320 established businesses with 102,265 employees are required. When the retail stores, amusement spots, gift shops and other places where the remainder of the tourist dollar is spent, are considered—along with the number of employees needed to staff these outlets—the final figures are increased many times.

There you have a sample of facts on how much the tourist industry means, and can mean, to Texas and Texans.

The program deserves the wholehearted support of all of us.

NATO's Military Strength Only Half Proposed Size | Rebellion-Plagued France Unable to Supply

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower and his top military advisers are deeply concerned over the troubles besetting North Atlantic Treaty organization.

The military strength of NATO is only half its proposed strength, plagued by the Algerian rebellion, is unable to fulfill commitments; Britain seeks to reduce her troop contributions; West Germany has supplied only a token contribution.

This situation is particularly irksome to the United States, because of the great desire of Eisenhower to be able to "negotiate strength" if and when an East-West meeting is held.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy, at the cent Paris meeting of NATO defense ministers sought to obtain assurances from the Allies they would make good their pledges to forge an effective shield against Communist aggression.

The political uncertainty in France, the reluctance of West Germany to engage in any military buildup, and the domestic difficulties of the conservative government in Britain made impossible, however, for him to win firm promises of greater aid to the voters.

These same sources report that Mr. Eisenhower's veto of the farm bill definitely will stand. They say that there aren't enough votes to override the rejection of the price support farm bill. On the rivers and harbors legislation, there is a possibility Republicans might throw enough votes to an attempt to upset the President's rejection. The reason is that, with the coming up this autumn, many members of Congress would get the projects authorized for their home districts as a result to the voters.

However, the same argument isn't expected to help any to revive the farm bill. Many GOP legislators already have vowed the farm vote in November and say overriding the veto would help their campaigns now.

ECONOMY VIEWS WIDELY DIFFER—A definite answer to question of what to do about the nation's current economic picture is available in Washington—provided you hit on only one expert.

However, if you talk to two—even though they are in agreement on the cause and effect of the recession—you will end up with two widely different answers.

There are those who say the recession is entirely the fault of administration (almost invariably these are Democrats) and do not criticize the administration but lay the blame on agencies of business and labor unions.

Solutions range from an immediate tax cut to stepped-up public works spending to do the same thing, to letting things strictly alone so the economy can work itself out of trouble.

The basic conflict is between the group, including many economists and legislators, who want the government to take steps to put money in circulation, and other experts, led by Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson and federal reserve board member William McC. Martin, who fear inflation as the greater danger.

The increase in the cost of living in March, despite the business downturn, is cited by the latter group to support their argument.

PARENT PROBLEMS

Older Brother Resents Naming Baby "Junior"

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

THERE is something to be said for family pride in naming the baby boy after his father. Occasionally, it can be a business advantage. But if the second or later boy is named Junior, the other boy or boys might feel slighted. How a sister feels about it, I don't know.

An Ohio mother writes: "We have a nine-year-old son and two younger daughters and are expecting a new baby in about two months. If it is a boy, my husband would like to have it named after him and, except for our son, the family agrees."

Son's Objection
"Our son wants a brother but he doesn't want him named after his father because he wishes that he, himself, had been named after him."

"Knowing his feelings, would it be wrong to name the baby after his father, if it is a boy? My husband is willing to concede to a different name for the baby if that is advisable, although he would be disappointed. What is your opinion?"

In part, I wrote this mother: "It's fine that you parents let your son feel he is a part of the family in having a voice in the naming of the next baby. Apparently, it's a big issue with this son. Should the next baby be a boy and be named Junior, it could have an ill effect on the older boy all his life."

Jealousies Arise
Under normal conditions, jealousies of the baby are pretty sure to arise in any or all the older children. Since your son has such definite feelings about the matter, I would strongly urge you not to call the next boy Junior.

I can appreciate how Dad feels, but I admire him for his willingness to take into account his son's feelings and wishes.

Some Disadvantages
A friend of mine assures me in having his son called Junior.

When the son entered high school, he omitted the "Jr." after his name so that he was really registered under his father's name. He never referred to himself as "Junior." Mail addressed to him often omitted "Jr." and sometimes the father opened this mail, only to discover his error after reading part of it. You can imagine the effect on Junior!

Furthermore, some boys wish they had never been called "Junior."

(My bulletins, "Fathers Are Parents, Too" and "Jealousy" may be had by sending a self-addressed, U.S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

ANSWERING PARENTS' QUESTIONS
Q. Our son is slow in reading. I wonder if the reason is that none of our ancestors were professional people. Most of them were farmers or laborers.

A. Get this notion out of your head. Studies have shown that more and more gifted children are coming from the laboring group.

MR. AND MRS. JOHNNY VAUGHAN

Patsy Singleton And Johnny Vaughan Exchange Vows In Church Ceremony

Miss Patsy Singleton and Johnny Vaughan were united in marriage Sunday afternoon, June 8, at 3:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Mullin, with Rev. A. M. Bell performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Singleton of Mullin and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Vaughan of Goldthwaite are parents of the groom.

Vows were exchanged before an altar, flanked by white candelabra with pink candles, baskets of pink gladioli and greenery with a background of palms. Pews were marked with pink satin ribbon bows.

S. L. Tate of Goldthwaite played wedding selections prior to the ceremony and accompanied Miss Sue Rowlett of Mullin as she sang "Because," "At Dawning" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon net over taffeta. The bodice of lace was highlighted by a lace scalloped neckline, fitted sleeves tapering to points over her hands. The pointed waistline emphasized the lace overskirt.

Her finger-tip veil of white tulle fell from a crown of tulle leaves with seed pearls. Lace rosettes beaded with pearls were scattered around the edge of the veil.

The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a small white Bible covered with Chantilly lace and topped with a gardenia surrounded by carnations and showered with streamers tied with lilies-of-the-valley in lovers' knots.

Miss Mary Singleton served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a waltz length dress of pastel pink taffeta designed with tightly fitted bodice and a very bouffant skirt. She wore matching pastel pink gloves and bandeau and carried a bouquet of daisies surrounded by white net and satin ribbon.

Dianna Gist of Breckenridge, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress was of pastel pink taffeta and designed with tightly fitted bodice, puff sleeves and very bouffant skirt. She also wore a matching bandeau.

H. T. Vaughan of Odessa was his brother's best man. Ushers and candle lighters were Raymond Singleton, Mullin, brother of the bride, and Wilbur Chesser of Brownwood, cousin of the bride. Mark Daniel of Goldthwaite, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. The groom wore a charcoal

Local Girls To Attend Scout Camp

By NORMA DUREN
 June the twenty-third will be the beginning of a wonderful and new experience for six local Girl Scouts and their leader. This will be the beginning of the Regional Encampment. The Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council sends sixteen girls to the encampment. We are proud to say that the girls from Goldthwaite are in the first six. The camp is to be primitive. All drinking water must be boiled before it can be used, electricity is to be unheard of, nails are yet to be invented, and tents will be the closest things to shelter. From June the twenty-third to July the second the six girls, Lynetta Duren, Judy Benningfield, Judy Dalton, Norma Duren, and their leader, Mrs. L. V. Benningfield, will be at 6-B, Girl Scout Encampment, Rt. 1, Box 217, Roanoke, Texas.

suit and the masculine attendants wore dark trousers, white jackets and white boutonnières.

Mrs. Singleton, mother of the bride, chose a navy linen dress with white accessories and a white feathered carnation corsage. For her son's wedding Mrs. Vaughan wore a dress of navy linen with white accessories and a white feathered carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth over pink. The tri-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Garth Gist of Breckenridge, sister of the bride, served the cake and Mrs. Billy Singleton of Zephyr, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Silver and crystal appointments were used. Others assisting in the house party were Mrs. Wilbur Chesser and Miss Laura Mae Anderson.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride wore a mint-green dress with white tulle picture hat and white accessories. Her corsage was a white gardenia.

The bride is a graduate of Mullin High School and is presently employed by Southwestern States Telephone Company. Mr. Vaughan is a graduate of Goldthwaite High School and Modern Barber College of Houston. He is presently associated with Shaw's Barber Shop in Goldthwaite.

The couple will be at home at 306 West Adams, Brownwood, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Willis of Fort Worth spent Father's Day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wooster.

Mullin FHA Girls Continue Work On Projects Through Summer Months

Mullin F. H. A. girls are continuing work this summer on various home experiences and group work at school. If this work is successfully completed the girls will be given one-half credit toward graduation. To be eligible to carry summer work, a girl must have completed at least one full year of Homemaking during a regular school term. Seventeen girls have signed up to work under the supervision of Mrs. Galloway.

For a group experience the girls are redecorating the clothing laboratory at school. This consists of choosing a new color scheme, painting all equipment, and covering the tables with a colorful plastic material.

Also some demonstrations have been planned for the girls and mothers. The first of these was a pressure cooker clinic and canning demonstration of vegetables. This was given by Miss Lucy May Burrus, County Home Demonstration Agent, in the foods laboratory on Tuesday afternoon, June 3. This meeting was well attended and quite a few cookers were tested for accuracy.

On Friday afternoon, June 13, the Homemaking girls, accompanied by Mrs. Galloway, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Pafford, enjoyed an afternoon of swimming at the Municipal Pool in Brownwood. Afterwards the girls ate supper at Chisholm's.

Later this summer an overnight camping trip at the "36" Division State Park and an Achievement Day at the department are planned.

The girls are also working on Junior, Chapter, and State degrees this summer.

The wheat crop in this county (very little having been planted), was almost perhaps totally destroyed by the grasshoppers. Oats are most excellent as fine as could be wished; excepting a few, that have been injured by the rust. Corn that which was left of the last planting—perhaps one fourth planted—is now really made; it is being almost in roasting ears. It can not fall much short, if any, of fifty bushels to the acre.

Anecdote of Peter Cartwright—Peter Cartwright, the famous western preacher, whose name is associated with that of General Jackson, and is familiar to thousands of our readers, has been in the city making us a visit. Right well have we and many more enjoyed the old man's flow of soul, his genial humor, and his fund of backwoods life and adventure.

Census Bureau Surveys Child-Care Arrangements Of Working Mothers

Employment and unemployment information will be collected locally and in 329 other areas of the country in the Current Population Survey during the week of June 16, it was announced today by Supervisor James W. Stroud of the U. S. Census Bureau's regional office in Dallas, Texas which will participate in the survey. Data from the local surveys will be used to obtain national estimates of employment and unemployment for June.

The June Current Population Survey will include two special inquiries, in addition to the regular questions on employment and unemployment—(1) on child care arrangements of working mothers, and (2) on place of marriage of recently married couples.

The child care inquiry is being made at the request of the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, to determine the kind of arrangements working mothers make for the care of their children during working hours. The inquiry will cover May, the last full school month, and will relate to mothers who work full time (35 hours or more a week) and who have children under 12 years of age. The data obtained from the child care questions disability protection as soon as he has been unable to work for six months and it appears that his condition will continue indefinitely. If he cannot call at a social security office in person, he should write or phone for information. If he waits, he may lose some benefit checks. When he makes his claim, the social security representative will ask him about the date he had to stop work, his work history during the previous ten years, and names of doctors and hospitals which have treated him.

Answer—Only if he already has them. When a person files an application for disability protection, the social security office will give him medical report forms to be completed by the doctors or hospitals which have treated him. These completed medical reports will be considered along with his application in deciding whether he meets the requirements of the social security law for disability protection.

Question—Should he take medical reports with him when he goes to file his application?

NEWS from YOUR COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

BY GEORGE G. REESE

Agribusiness is a new and fresh concept of a giant industry that is growing in the Southwest. While the number of farmers has declined during the past few years, the number of people supplying farmers and the number processing their products has increased rapidly.

In Texas, approximately 40 percent of the population is now employed in Agribusiness. The products of their efforts amount to a $4½ billion industry.

In 1940, farmers and ranchers made up about 24 per cent of the United States population. Their suppliers made up only 4 per cent. Their processor-distributors made up only 7 per cent. Today, farmers and ranchers make up only 13 per cent of the population, their suppliers 10 per cent, their processor-distributors 17 per cent.

What of tomorrow? The trend, says Texas A&M's specialists, shows every indication of continuing. In all probability, we can expect the shrinking farm and ranch population to make up only 8 per cent of the future total.

The steady growing supply branch will account for 12 per cent and processor-distributors will tally 20 per cent.

Combined, they did, do, and will make up 40 per cent of the nation's population—the shifting, vital segment known as Agribusiness.

Bagworms Have Arrived—Ornamental plants infested with bagworms must be treated while the worms are small if effective control of the pests is to be achieved. Chemicals applied after the worms are grown give no control. The worms hatch in the late spring or early summer and the larvae feed on the foliage of ornamental plants. The young worm spins a silken sack and attaches bits of leaves to it as it feeds. The bag is carried by the worm as it moves about. A full grown worm may produce a bag from one and a half to two inches long and once inside the bag, the worm becomes most difficult to control.

The female bagworm remains in the bag and dies after depositing her eggs. The bags should be picked from infested plants and burned because the eggs for next season's worms go through the winter inside the bags.

Use either Chlordane or toxaphene as a 10 per cent dust. For a spray, 40 per cent chlordane emulsion concentrate or a 60 per cent toxaphene emulsion applied at the rate of one to two tablespoons per gallon of water will give good control if used while the worms are small. Lead arsenate used at the rate of one to two tablespoons per gallon of water is a good spray.

Low-Calorie Cabbage A Versatile Vegetable

By ALICE DENHOFF

MAYBE "a rose is a rose is a rose," but a cabbage is not so limited. This very versatile vegetable can turn up as a salad, as the star of an old-fashioned exotic stuffed dish or, alone, as a delicious, self-respecting vegetable in its own right.

There is historical and botanical evidence that the cabbage has been around for more than 4,000 years, so it certainly deserves to be treated with respect. However, cabbage has never gone high-hat in price.

Rich in vitamin C, with good quantities of others, too, plus important minerals, it is highly nutritious. Walstatine-watchers love its economy of calories—only 30 to a generous serving.

Color and Flavor

To keep the delicate flavor and fresh green color of cabbage, cook it quickly, usually about 20 min., in an open kettle with the water at a rolling boil when the vegetable is put in.

To serve 6 portions of Spring Cabbage Amandine, trim 1 head (about 3 lbs.) spring cabbage and cut into 8 wedges.

Place in saucepan with 1 in. boiling water and top. salt and boil, uncovered, 5 min. Cover and continue cooking until cabbage is just crisp-tender—10 to 12 min. Drain.

Melt ½ c. butter. Add ½ c. silvered blanched almonds and cook until almonds are browned.

Add 2 tsp. lemon juice and ½ tsp. black pepper.

Pour over cooked cabbage and serve at once.

With Dill Butter

Shredded cabbage prepared with dill butter turns a simple dish into something very special.

To serve 6, shred a medium head of cabbage and place in a saucepan with 1 in. boiling water, ½ tsp. salt, ½ tsp. sugar and 1 small onion, thinly sliced. Boil, uncovered, 5 min. Cover and continue cooking until cabbage is just tender—about 3 min. Drain, if necessary.

Add 1½ tsp. salt, ½ tsp. black pepper, 2 tsp. butter, ½ tsp. dill seed and 1 tsp. lemon juice. Toss lightly. Serve hot.

For a good Spring Cabbage Slaw, combine 3 c. finely shredded cabbage, ¼ c. finely chopped scallions, 1½ tsp. lemon juice, 2 tsp. salad oil, ½ tsp. salt and ½ tsp. black pepper. Toss together lightly. Serves 6.

GAINS IN AGRICULTURE THROUGH BETTER RESEARCH

Last summer, Nikita Khrushchev told Americans via a television interview that Communism would eventually win its contest with Capitalism. The Russian leader was not threatening a hot war. Instead, he based his prediction on the claim that the Soviet Union would in five years outstrip the United States in the per-capita production of meat, milk, and butter plus other agricultural products.

In a word, he was reminding us that a nation is only as strong as its agriculture. But while Russia still appears to have an edge in "Sputniks," that nation is far behind us in farming methods—yet is determined to catch up.

Fortunately, we are not lagging in our scientific achievements in agriculture. The Russians will have quite a way to go if they catch us because our own progress in farming has been phenomenal.

In 1939, when World War II broke out in Europe, American farmers produced a 2½ billion bushel corn crop on 88 million acres. Last year, they produced 32 per cent more corn on 17 per cent less land. Since 1939, the national wheat crop has risen from 740 to 940 million bushels, but harvested acres have gone down from 52½ to 43½ million. Compared with 1939, farmers last year reduced cotton acreage by 45 per cent, and still produced 95 per cent as much cotton.

The story is the same with livestock. In 1956, dairymen had nearly 3 million fewer cows than in 1940, but each cow produced two-thirds of a ton more milk. For every two eggs a hen laid in 1940, her descendant is laying about three today. Nearly 100 million cattle and horses grazed the same acreage that in 1940 supported only 83 million head.

A pig crop of 90 million in 1956 compares with only 80 million produced on the same farm in 1940.

All told, our farmers today are producing 40 per cent more about the same acreage they had in 1939.

Figures on manpower required to do the job also are significant. In World War I, our farm commodities were produced by 13½ million workers; in World War II by 10½ million, and today by only 7½ million.

The efforts of our agricultural scientists underlie much of this spectacular gain. Their research has practically changed the face of American agriculture. But in the long run, it was the American farmer, himself, who completed the job.

Hillside Mission

By LIDA BYRNE

In Hebrews 12:6 the Bible tells us: "For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth."

Job was really afflicted and he got well. After he had suffered and repented the LORD told him something to do, and how happy Job must have been! Our Bible says in Job 40, verses 6 and 7: "Then answered the LORD unto Job out of the whirlwind, and said: "Gird up thy loins now like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me." In verse 10 the LORD told him: "Deck thyself now with majesty and excellency; and array thyself with glory and beauty." We believe Job was a king and evidently a good-looking one. As an ordinary citizen, do we have the stamina to give up that something which is wrecking our life, or do something that we have failed to do, which may take a tremendous lot of courage, but really step out on faith and carry out God's plan in our life?

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

VERN SANFORD
Every owner of an outboard motor boat faces this question: Should I leave my boat in the water, or should I buy a trailer?

thing else too—he eliminates the problem of where to store the boat and trailer. Also the problem of transporting trailer and boat from home to lake. Loading and unloading a boat, at best, is no easy matter. It requires at least two persons to do the job, even for the smallest runabout. And usually it necessitates leaving your car in a not too desirable location—with the added possibility of theft or damage to car and trailer.

And owning one is far more expensive than renting. There are many other angles to consider, besides the docking fee who keeps his boat in the water all the time always available for immediate use. It saves time launching and retrieving, not to mention the cost of buying a trailer. Some-

Also well worth considering is the possibility of damage to the boat while loading and unloading, as well as in transportation to and from the boating locale.

TIME ELEMENT IS IMPORTANT

Important to most of us is the fact that it takes far more time to get aboard—from the moment you decide to go boating—if you have to be bothered with hitching and unhitching a trailer, and unloading and reloading the boat. A boat already in the water is ready for instant use—or almost so—depending on whether you first have to remove a tarp and tidy up a bit. Then there's the maintenance problem of the trailer—small but ever present.

Finally, and as important as any feature to most of us, is the matter of finance . . . the cost of buying a trailer, an annual license, and insurance.

Now, let's look at the other side of the picture . . . the advantage of having a trailer . . . and not keeping the boat in the water all the time.

LITTLE ADMIRER—Darrell Mims, 2, tweaks Elvis Presley's cap as the rock 'n' roll singer makes his first visit home in Memphis, Tenn., since his induction in the Army. A large crowd of teen-age fans was on hand to greet the singer. (UPI Photo)

In the first place the cost of building a dock, or the expense of stall rental eventually would pay for the trailer.

Another mighty important point to consider is the advantage of moving the boat from one lake to another. In Texas with its many lakes and rivers and the Gulf Coast area, available for fishing or boating, this is a highly important point in favor of trailer ownership.

I kept a 14-foot, fiberglass Fleetform boat in the water for a year before buying a Little Dude trailer, so I speak from some experience when I say that keeping a boat in a public dock has it worries, even though the dock is well guarded. While there isn't as much fear of someone stealing your boat or motors from a public dock, as from a private dock located in some remote spot on the lake, there is the ever present worry about pilfering.

If you are going to have your boat readily accessible so that you can take your friends and business acquaintances boating on a moment's notice, you must leave in it all the necessities of boating. Namely gas tanks, a battery, several life preservers and a couple of oars.

In addition, a fellow should take along a few extras. For instance, I never go out day or night without an emergency spotlight with a built-in red blinker—a Burgess Radar-Lite—and I've been mighty glad on more than one occasion that I had it along. Ever present is an extra long coil of rope, an anchor with rope attached, several bumpers, and at least two mooring snubbers.

In toto that's not much. But they are "loose" items, and they can be stolen. All of which adds up to the fact that pilfering items from a boat is a constant worry unless the dock is well guarded. I have heard of more than one person who has lost a motor, not to mention the smaller items.

BEWARE OF "BORROWERS"

Then there's another problem. The temptation to joy riders. Every so often one reads of thrill seeking kids who, out of sheer devilment, "borrow" a boat. Some are not too careful with them either. It was only last year that four boys commandeered a brand new runabout and, after a wild midnight ride, finally sank it in Lake Austin. The boat was less than 24 hours old, and the kids were less than 21 years.

More and more outboards are coming equipped with keys. But a youngster bent on borrowing can short one out in short order. Sort of like locking your motor to your boat. If they are going to steal it, a lock won't make much difference.

There is another kind of "borrowing" too. The honest kind. Some people think nothing of asking you to loan them this or that. How valuable it is makes no difference. No man likes to loan his boat. But your borrowing friends are more likely to ask for the loan of your boat if it's already in the water.

A regular problem of all motor boat owners is "gassing up." You gotta have the petrol to percolate. Some of the lakeside gas stations are virtually inaccessible to all but the expert boatman. Far too many are in difficult to reach locations.

With our trailer, however, we just drive up to a Humble station, gas up the car, tell 'em to put white gas in the boat's tank (along with outboard motor oil) and roll on our merry little way. Sure lots easier than trying to fill up while in the water.

Not all stations carry outboard oil and white gas. But most Humble stations do. If not, they do have regular gas. It's next best. But avoid the high octane, treated stuff. It tends to gum up your motor, especially after long periods of inactivity.

There's something else to consider. If you leave your boat in the water, keep your eye on the weather. Heavy rains may fill your boat. And a sudden rise in the lake level may cause you plenty of trouble, even sinking.

Once a year every boat owner should take his boat out of the water and give it a good cleaning. Scum will collect on the bottom of any boat—fiberglass, metal or wood. Some boats need painting every year. All boats and especially the motors, need at least an annual examination. If you own a trailer this is a relatively simple matter. Other-

Local Activity In Farm Housing

More farm construction—with better homes for farm families, better shelter for livestock and improved storage facilities for machinery and grain. That's the prospect in coming years says Aston W. Cole, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration.

Recently, as an anti-recession measure, his agency expanded its farm housing loan program to the fullest extent possible under existing laws set up by Congress. To be eligible now, an applicant must own a farm that is in agricultural production and must plan to produce at least $400 worth of commodities for sale and home use, based on 1944 prices. Many part-time farmers who previously were ineligible can qualify for loans under the expanded program.

The loan bears 4 per cent interest on the unpaid balance and may be repaid over a period up to 33 years.

In addition to financing major construction, the loan funds can help a farm owner repair and up-date buildings. For example, he may wish to add a bathroom including a waste disposal system, modernize the kitchen, add an extra bedroom, improve the heating, insulation and electric wiring, and cement floors in service buildings, or paint the house and service buildings.

Mr. Cole reports that the agency has $400 million available nationally which can be used over the next three years for farm housing loans. He said there is no specified limitation on the amount which can be loaned in any one state or community. Walter T. McKay, state director for Farmers Home Administration estimated that if present farm housing loan activity continues as it has in the past two months, that more than $2,000,000 will be channeled into this state by the end of the calendar year 1958. Practically all of the money will be spent locally to purchase supplies at lumber yards and business places, and to hire skilled labor.

Miss Barbara Ann Sheldon And Bobby Channell Exchange Vows

The Star Methodist Church was the setting Saturday afternoon, June 7, 1958, at 5 o'clock for the wedding of Miss Barbara Ann Sheldon of Star to Bobby Doyle Channell, R. M. 3, United States Navy of San Diego, California.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winifred L. Sheldon of Star and Mr. Channell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Channell of Lubbock.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Jesse Long, pastor of the church, before an arch covered with greenery and white carnations centered with wedding bells and flanked by baskets of white gladioli.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Jack Dickison, pianist, who accompanied Miss Barbara Burns, soloist, as she sang "Always," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of satin and tulle with panels of Chantilly lace in the skirt forming a chapel length train. The tight fitted bodice featured a cowl neckline with long sleeves of lace that ended in points over the hands. She wore a pearl tiara with fingertip length veil, borrowed from a friend, Mrs. Clinton Miles.

Her jewelry was pearl earrings and a gold and pearl lavelier, gift of the groom. She carried a lace covered Bible topped with a purple orchid surrounded by lilies-of-the-valley. She also carried out the tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue and a penny in her shoe.

Betty Jo Sheldon was maid of honor. She wore an orchid taffeta dress designed similar to the bride's and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations. Pat Channell and Linda Channell, nieces of the groom, were flower girls. They were dressed in light orchid flocked nylon similar to the bride's with white lace half hats and carried petal baskets.

Glynn Channell, brother of the groom, served as best man. Larry Paul Keiso and Armond Zoe Clary, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles and ushered.

Mrs. Sheldon choose for her daughter's wedding a mauve lace dress trimmed in mauve satin and wore a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Channell was wearing a blue dress and accessories with a white carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given by the bride's parents in the Methodist Youth Center. The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth over orchid centered with a tiny arch and a miniature bride and groom and a floral arrangement of gardenias and white carnations. Silver and crystal appointments were used. Mrs. Clinton Miles served the cake and Jackie McCasland ladled

AUSTIN, TEXAS—If a fire-breathing dragon were loose on the Texas countryside—smashing cars and their occupants, slapping down pedestrians—there'd be no question about the need to get rid of the monster. An aroused public would demand that SOMEBODY DO SOMETHING!

In actuality, innocent people ARE being maimed or killed every day as they go about their business. Thousands are lost every year.

But somebody IS doing something. Right now, officials and private citizens are forming a massive "posse." They're going after the killer—the monstrous indifference, carelessness and other difficulties that bring death on Texas streets and highways.

Leaders are members of the Texas Traffic Safety Council created by the Legislature just a year ago. Gov. Price Daniel is the punch, assisted by Mmes. Carl Casbeer, Al Soules, Lee Clary, Woodrow Boykin, Harmon McCasland and Howard Moore.

The registration table was decorated with dolls dressed identical as the bride. Ira K. Head registered the guests.

For a trip through West Texas the bride wore a Cocoa colored summer suit with three-quarter length sleeves and rhinestone trim.

The couple will make their home in San Diego, California, where the groom is stationed in the Navy.

chairman; Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, vice-chairman. Heads of numerous other state agencies are members.

Formation of the Council was the starting point for a campaign which, for the first time, brought the official power and prestige of state government to bear on a growing problem. For some years Texas vehicles and their drivers had been outgrowing highway facilities and outdistancing law enforcement agencies by sheer weight of numbers. In 1956 Texas had an appalling all-time high of 2,611 motorcides.

Governor Daniel called it a public emergency.

With only a skeleton organization, the Council hammered away through 1957 at tightening enforcement, organizing holiday safety campaigns. By the end of the year the toll had dropped by 72.

In February of this year the governor appointed the state's first full-time traffic safety director. He is Brad H. Smith, veteran South Texas newspaper, radio and television man and past president of the Texas Press Association, who has for many years been a volunteer worker in traffic safety.

First move was to acquaint Texans with the enormity of the problem. In this Smith says he's had unstinting help from mass news media and volunteer assistance from every type of civic group.

In April Governor Daniel climaxed publicity efforts with a statewide broadcast calling for a "crack down" on two major traffic evils—speeding and driving while intoxicated. Simultaneously, local traffic safety councils were formed in 190 counties. An estimated 5,000 people participated.

Meanwhile, the battle is being pushed on other fronts. A survey of traffic-controlling resources resulted in recommendation of a 7-point program to bring Texas up to par:

1. A statewide program to bring greater public cooperation.
2. More rigid enforcement of present laws.
3. Adoption of the Uniform Driver's License Law.
4. A law to permit police to use chemical tests and other scientific aids to detect drunken drivers.
5. Development of strong, fair, effective traffic courts.
6. A State Highway Patrol double its present size.
7. Universal driver education in public schools supported by state aid.

Besides the state agencies working cooperatively through the new Council, other groups are part of the crusade. A major source of help is the 20-year-old Texas Safety Association, a pioneer group which finances its efforts on a voluntary basis.

Texas Legislative Council is studying traffic problems and will report to the 56th Legislature.

Bringing new weight is the Governor's Highway Safety Commission. Scores of prominent Texans answered Governor Daniel's call to give citizen support to official efforts. First Commission meeting is set tentatively for Fall.

Results thus far are encouraging. For the first 23 weeks of this year the toll was down by 101 persons, about 11 per cent, from last year. There were 163 fewer deaths, down about 17 per cent, from '56. Goal for 1958 is a year-long 10 per cent drop or 254 lives saved—a real stab at the dragon.

July Snow Storm—Next summer's Democratic precinct conventions will be like an extra after-hours election. There'll be rival "platforms" and rival candidates, but only one key issue—who's to control the party. Battle lines were drawn when the State Democratic Executive Committee held its June meeting in Austin. Governor Daniel, as head of the party in Texas, called on his moderate-conservative cohorts to "snow under" the liberal-labor Democrats of Texas at the conventions. He accused DOT of trying to usurp the party name for a "splinter group."

SDEC is recommending electing precinct delegates to county conventions by primary ballot and moving primaries up to May and June. It also suggests a search for means to prevent party line crossing at primary time.

DOT is pushing for its "code of ethics" for conducting conventions and a party registration law to keep out Republicans.

Relative merits of the two "platforms" may be as confusing to some voters as a snow-storm in July. What's clear is that if the moderate-conservatives win out, Governor Daniel will continue at the helm of party affairs in Texas. If the DOT prevails, Mrs. Frankie Randolph, national committee-woman and DOT chairman, will take the wheel.

Short Snorts—Governor Daniel has asked the State Board of Water Engineers to have ready by Dec. 1 a survey of Texas water needs that is to be presented to the next Legislature. Study is to be projected to the years 1975 and 2000... For the fourth straight week the Texas Employment Commission reported a drop in unemployment payments. Jobless persons receiving benefits totaled 78,965 in the last report. During the spring the total soared above 91,000.
