Lions Club Will Present Texas Blind Shops Caravan Next Thursday

Don Geeslin In Turkey Short Course At A & M College

College Station, (Spec.)—Don Geeslin, Rt. 1, Goldthwaite, is participating this week in the 12th annual Turkey Short Course at Texas A&M College.

He is one of 20 "students" training as official flock selecting and blood collecting agents for the National Turkey Improvement Plan. The course, designed to qualify testing agents for the N.T.I.P., opened Monday, Sept. 8, and runs through Friday.

He will also attend Texas' first Turkey Fertility and Hatchability Seminar at the college on Thursday and Friday.

The Goldthwaite Lions Club will present the Texas Blind Shops Caravan in Goldthwaite next Thursday, September 18. It was announced this week by Charles Conradt, president.

The Caravan will be located on the courthouse square for the one day presentation when products made by Texas Blind Workers in Blind Shops or Lighthouses will be featured to the public.

Products of the Caravan include: ironing board covers and pad combinations; top quality corn brooms, attractive door mats and mops.

"Texas Blind Shops Caravan is a non-profit organization which employs many Texas blind workers," said Charles Conradt in announcing the sponsorship of the project by the Lions Club. Proceeds from the sale will go for the Lions Club projects during the year, according to the announcement.

A committee of Lions will have charge of the project. Folk from the surrounding area are invited to visit the Caravan during the one day stop here. Residents of Goldthwaite will be contacted by members of the Lions Club. Plans call for every home and business house to be canvassed. Business houses will be canvassed before closing hours and the residential area will be canvassed during the evening hours.

Members of the Lions Club will turn salesmen for brooms, door mats, mops and ironing board covers and pads during the one day benefit drive.

The project was discussed by members of the club and businessmen before it was approved by the board of directors and the club.

the non-polio patients, more than 90 per cent must have some if not total financial assistance from the Foundation's welfare program.

The Citizens' March will be scheduled some night in September and will follow an intensive public information campaign designed to tell the people of Texas about the Foundation's new program.

"We believe a lot of Texans who want to keep their fine work going will turn on their porch lights when the signal is given," Payne said.

Mrs. Carl Smith of Fort Worth was a guest of her mother, Mrs. NaVern Griest last week.

Lions Attendance And Membership Awards Made At Ladies' Night Meet

A large number of attendance and membership awards were made to members of the Goldthwaite Lions Club at their last regular meeting which was also observed as Ladies' Night. NEW BILLS—Pet Weekley, general auditor for The Southwestern States Telephone Company, and Harold Chapman examine the first local subscriber bills prepared by high speed electronic and mechanical machines. The Company is converting its billing system to the new type "punched card" bills.

Southwestern States Telephone Company Changes Billing System

New type telephone bills prepared on high speed electronic and mechanical machines will be received this month by subscribers of The Southwestern States Telephone Company in Goldthwaite, A. J. Lacy, division manager for the Company, announced.

The telephone company is converting its subscriber billing system to modern "punched card" bills which will be sent to the subscriber as a postcard when there are no long distance charges to necessitate inclusion of long distance tickets. When there are long distance charges, the bill will be sent with the long distance tickets in an envelope.

The division manager urged all subscribers to return the cashier's stub—the left portion of the new bill—with their remittance. The stub should not be folded or otherwise mutilated, in order for the Company's accounting department to automatically apply the payment to the proper account.

"The new type billing is considered the fastest and most modern type of billing system in the telephone industry where there are a large number of subscribers, and will result in ultimate economies to the Company," Lacy said. "It is another step forward in our program to utilize the most up-to-date equipment whenever possible in any phase of our operation so that we may continue to provide our customers the best possible service at the least possible cost."

Hamilton Game Football Receipts
Receipts from the Hamilton-Goldthwaite game on Friday night, September 5, have been announced by Supt. Jones as follows.

Total receipts, $777.75, with season tickets accounting for $62.00, and gate receipts showing $713.75. Expenses for officials and mileage amounted to $64.90, leaving a balance of $710.85, with Hamilton receiving $305.43 and Goldthwaite $305.42 for their share.

Supt. Jones stated that there are still 26 books of reserve seat tickets left and two car parking spaces and they are anxious to sell them. So if you are planning to attend the home games why not contact Mr. Jones or the coach and take advantage of this sale. Reservations may be picked up at the school office.

D. A. HAMILTONS ENTERTAIN GUESTS
Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hamilton had as their guests during the past Labor Day holidays their granddaughter, Mrs. George Yowell, Mr. Yowell and sons, Ed and John of Houston. Their son, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hamilton of Dallas and a daughter, Mrs. Geo. Willis, Mr. Willis and Tommy Jo of Comanche spent the past Sunday with them; and a nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Joiner of Lampasas were guests Sunday afternoon.

Sunday Services At Mt. Olive Primitive Baptist Church
Elder Curtis Ripley of Goldthwaite will conduct services Sunday morning, September 14, at 11:00 o'clock at the Mt. Olive Primitive Baptist Church, according to announcement by Mrs. B. C. Wicker.

Farm Bureau To Sponsor Rodent Control Demonstrations Next Week

The Rodent Control Demonstrations in Mills County, sponsored by the Mills County Farm Bureau, U. S. Rodent Control Service and the Extension Service, will start on Tuesday, September 16th. There will be nine demonstrations given by the Rodent Control Service. These meetings will show how to use the baits and to control rats and mice on your farm.

Since rats move from one place to another, control is the responsibility of everyone. Bait will be sold at these farms, where rat control demonstrations are held. This bait will be sold by the Mills County Farm Bureau.

Anti Coagulant poisons will be used. These poisons prevent blood from clotting and cause death from internal hemorrhages. Rats and mice must eat some of the poisoned bait every day for about 5 or 6 days. This anti-coagulant poison will be fresh and rats and mice will eat it more readily.

Everyone who needs to control rats and mice on the farm is urged to attend one of these meetings. Following is a schedule of the demonstrations to be held:

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16TH
Robert Priddy, farm at 9 a. m.
Glenn Sanders, farm at 11:00 a. m.
Clayton Egger, farm at 3:00 p. m.
WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 17TH
Mohler Simpson, farm at 9:00 a. m.
Lloyd King, ranch at 11 a. m.

H. C. Schunke, ranch at 3:00 p. m.
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18th
Oran Carothers, farm at 9:00 a. m.
Jim Soules, farm at 3:00 p. m.

Reserve Seats For San Saba Game On Sale Here Friday

Reserve seat tickets for the Goldthwaite-San Saba game have been received by Supt. Jones and will be on sale Friday (tomorrow) at the PCA office.

As a convenience to fans, a good block of these reserve seats has been secured for those who plan to attend and will be sold here at the same price as general admission seats. There is no catch or extra charge to this, if you want a reserve seat between the 45 yard lines, at the price of admission, you can get them from Charles Conradt at the PCA office from 2:00 p. m., until closing time on Friday. Unsold tickets will be returned to San Saba but will not be offered for sale later.

Weather Report

Rainfall measured here since last report, according to an official report from Harry Allen, amounted to 1 1/2 inch. Saturday afternoon and night, .84 of an inch fell, Sunday, .51, and Monday, .15 of an inch. This brings the total so far this month to one and one-half inches.

Eagles Lose To Hamilton 20-14; To Play San Saba Friday Night

The Goldthwaite Eagles lost to the Hamilton Bulldogs last Friday night by a score of 20-14, on the local field in their first game of the season.

Hamilton scored first on a one yard plunge by Thompson in the early part of the first quarter, the attempt for the extra point failed. Thompson scored again, the second TD for the Bulldogs, from about a 30 yard run; he also ran the extra point. At the end of the first quarter the score was 14-0 in favor of the Hamilton team.

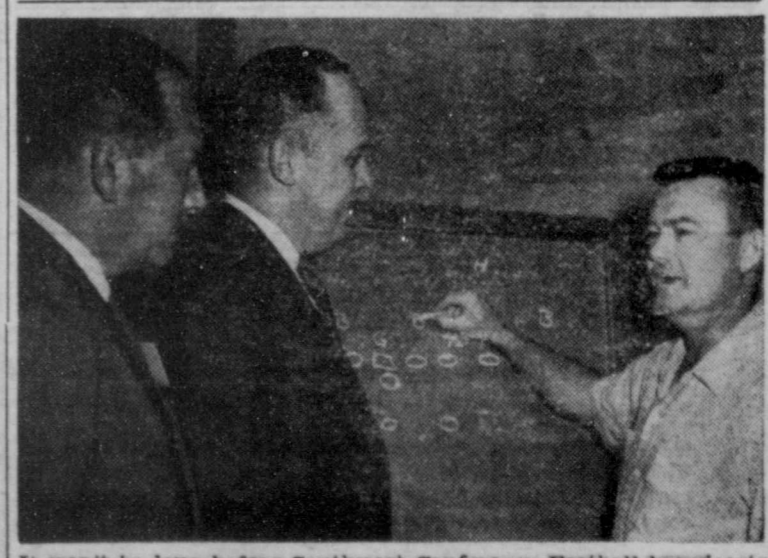

Early in the second quarter, Tom Graves scored a TD on a five yard quarterback sneak, which was the climax of a 67 yard run, Prentiss Head carried the ball over for the extra point, which gave the Eagles a score of 8 points.

In the third quarter, Gerry Head scored on an eight yard plunge to climax a 68 yard drive. The attempt for the extra point failed. At this point in the game the score was Hamilton 14, and Goldthwaite 14.

Hamilton scored again in the third quarter when Limmer kept the ball on an optional play for ten yards, on being tackled, he leveled the ball off to Lane, who made a 20 yard run for the winning TD.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

FONDA, NEW YORK, DEMOCRAT: "Time was when a row of nine zeros meant that a hero of the baseball diamond had pitched a shut-out game. Nowadays, more often than not the zeros are used to tell us how far behind the taxpayer is in the national game of making both ends meet."

SANTA PAULA, CALIFORNIA, DAILY CHRONICLE: "... How much the government now has tied up in building loan credits we have no idea beyond the fact that it runs into countless billions. However, we do know that like the billions that the government borrows from the banks, it is straight money and credit expansion of the highest inflationary degree."

LEAKSVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, NEWS: "One of the largest killers of mankind today isn't a disease or a war! It's the automobile and the open highway . . ."

"In this day and time with the manufacturers putting more and more horsepower under the hood the death rate goes higher and higher. The roads in most sections of the country are not built for the auto of today; and the people aren't either."

BRIGHTON, COLORADO, BLADE: "The most of us do not concentrate well when we read. Thus, we often miss many vital points we should have remembered . . ."

"Reading has ceased to become a habit with many children. Many don't read papers, books, or magazines. Instead they read comics and look at the TV murder plays."

"If everyone read better they would benefit themselves in many ways. They would be better students, better learners of what is going on about them. Everyone of us could learn something every day of our lives . . ."

TRAEER, IOWA, STAR-CLIPPER: "How a fool and his money get separated is no puzzle compared with how they ever got together in the first place."

BELMAR, NEW JERSEY, COAST ADVERTISER: "... Wages keep going up, forced higher and higher by the demands of all-powerful unions. Prices must follow, because labor costs are the larger part of the prices of goods . . ."

"The nation's strong unions make no secret of the fact that still higher wages are going to be demanded. They work on your wallet while you sleep."

OLYMPIA, WASHINGTON, DAILY OLYMPIAN: "The car a fellow drives doesn't necessarily give you an idea of what he makes. It may indicate what he owes."

ENSELY, ALABAMA, INDUSTRIAL PRESS: "A barber in Marina, California, has been ordered to desist from 'unfair inducements' in his shop by his union. He can no longer give lollipops to his child customers."

NEW PLYMOUTH, IDAHO, PAYETTE VALLEY SENTINEL: "What are the meat and potatoes of good government? It's not as complicated as you think. Good government is dependent on good men in government. It's as simple as that."

"If we continue to let our political campaigns degenerate to the level of cat and dog fights or hillbilly road shows, we're asking for the messes in government we've got right now."

"Slinging the most mud or strumming a guitar are poor classifications for dog catcher, let alone running the biggest business in the state and nation."

10 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle Files of September 10, 1948)

Wednesday morning's Fort Worth Star-Telegram carried a Wirephoto of Grady Carothers and his son, John, both of Goldthwaite, who had just arrived back in the States from Canada bringing two reindeer to be trained for department store displays.

Dr. T. A. Williams will open his new Chiropractic office here this morning in the Jim Brim residence on North Fisher Street, with new and latest Chiropractic equipment. He intends to divide his time between the office here and at Brownwood.

Mrs. Grady Carothers and Jack took Mr. Carothers and John as far as Seattle, Washington the first of August, where they took a plane for Alaska to hunt and fish and sight seeing. Mrs. Carothers received a telegram Tuesday that they were on their way home and expected to arrive in Goldthwaite by Thursday.

A. J. Willis of Abilene died suddenly at the home of his sister at Weatherford at the age of 76. His remains were brought to Goldthwaite for burial Tuesday afternoon in Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Long and Jerry and Mr. and Mrs. David Straley of Grand Prairie spent part of Sunday and Labor Day with relatives and friends in Goldthwaite.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Rutherford and children of Waco spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Carothers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Faith of Antioch, California are visiting their son, J. N. Faith and family for several months.

Iris, June and John Tomlinson returned Saturday from a month's visit in Kilgore.

Walter Henry is building a nice two room house for his mother on his lot.

Saturday evening quite a few of the Koen families and friends met at Lake Eanes for a reunion on Sunday, August 29.

25 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle Files of September 8, 1933)

Last week the Eagle suggested the building of a city auditorium while the federal funds are available and other cities and towns are procuring funds for buildings and other improvements. Our neighbor, Brady, is preparing to build a $20,000 Legion hall. Brownwood plans to do paving and do other improvements and the state committee at Austin has a large number of applications for projects of various kinds.

Mrs. M. H. McNutt, an aged lady who made her home with her son, E. W. McNutt, and family in the Trigger Mountain community, passed away Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and her remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at this place Wednesday, by the side of the grave of her husband, who preceded her in death by several months.

Mrs. Ella Cook, who for the past few months has been teaching commercial arts in Goldthwaite, is meeting her classes at her residence, due south and just around the corner from the High School Building. She is offering courses in typewriting and shorthand besides a Commercial Teachers' Course.

Our friend and neighbor, T. S. Dellis, and Miss Alice Crow of the Houston Country, drove to the Hays home Saturday evening in company with friends and were happily made man and wife. Mr. Dellis is one of

With this issue begins the fourteenth year of the Eagle's existence. The paper has been under the same management for all the time save the first few months of its publication. It has grown from a very small beginning to one of the leading county papers in Texas. When the present management took control of the business the paper was printed on a hand press and the office equipment would invoice less than $1,000. The paper was partly printed in Dallas by a ready print concern and the home printed side contained hardly enough local advertising to show where it was published. Today the Eagle has a house full of up-to-date material and machinery and has a patronage that would do credit to a town twice the size of Goldthwaite. The paper goes in the homes of more than 1,300 people who are either citizens of the county or are interested in the town and county.

MARCH OF EVENTS

Ike Bearing Up Well Under Recent Crises

Correspondent No. 10

By HENRY CATHCART

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower appears to be bearing well under the wave of successive crises that have hit the White House over the last six months.

Newsmen had their first press conference opportunity to chat with the Chief Executive since he ordered U. S. troops into Lebanon the height of the Middle East crisis. They found him in good humor, sharp spoken and yet relaxed.

Most correspondents were agreed that the year-old President showed no signs of the strain he must be under in the tense diplomatic times, together with other pressing problems such as the recession and Sherman Adams' recent "imprudence" in accepting gifts from lionaire textile man Bernard Goldfine.

The presidency of the United States is probably the toughest job in the world. Chief executives and Congresses in the past have tried to reduce presidential responsibilities in some way to bring the jobs somewhere within the range of possible fulfillment. However, the demands of the office, plus political realities, have frustrated all such efforts.

President Eisenhower has sought to meet the problem by gating greater responsibilities to Vice President Richard M. Nixon and installing a military "chain of command" system in the operations of the executive offices. However, for the foreseeable future—certainly for the balance of Eisenhower's term—the President has to meet and decide the innumerable crises that flow from his desk.

● NATIONAL DEBT—President Eisenhower has now officially requested Congress to again raise the national debt limit—from $285 billion—the highest point in American history with the exception of World War II. Congress probably will grant the request although many congressmen and senators privately are doubtful about it.

The Senate particularly likes to consider itself a deliberative body, likes to take its time and talk over all the pros and cons of an issue before voting it up or down.

But the recession and Middle East developments have thrust makings of a fiscal crisis onto the administration and only a few days remain for the present session to act before adjournment. It act it must if the federal government is to continue to have orderly, economical way of financing its operations over the next 18 months.

There is a move afoot to give the administration only a part of the eight billions additional ceiling it is asking. Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson will undergo close questioning on Capitol Hill as the legislators try to find out just how much of the increase is needed between now and next spring.

Chances are that an economy faction, led by Senator Harry Byrd (D), Virginia, will try to confine the increase to this amount in order to give Congress more time at the beginning of the session to look at all the aspects of a permanent arrangement.

● REAL COOL—The Washington traction company now has something extra as an inducement to convention groups and others who have shied away from the nation's capital in the summer because of the extreme heat and humidity. The D. C. Transit company has 67 brand new air-conditioned buses.

Now groups who wish to see the sights can do so in complete, dry, 72-degree comfort, and duck into air-conditioned federal buildings for a complete, guided tour unmarred by Washington's famed summer heat.

Sanders Family Reunion Held At Lake Merritt, Sunday, August 31

Members of the late Marion Jones Sanders family met at Lake Merritt near Mullin for its sixth annual family reunion on Sunday, August 31, 1958. Fifty-one members were present which represented the families remaining of the original one which migrated to Mullin, Mills County, Texas from Philadelphia, Mississippi in 1893. They came to Texas in an oxen-driven wagon.

The President of the group, Glynn Sanders, called the meeting to order at 10:00 o'clock and the following program was presented: invocation, John Dixon. Old and new business was discussed. The family history was brought up to date by reports from the delegates of the respective families. A duet, "Home Sweet Home" was rendered by Mrs. John Dixon and her daughter, Mrs. Wayne Tarno. A prayer was beautifully read by Mrs. John Dixon and Mr. Dixon spoke to the group briefly on the Twenty-Third Psalm as a memorial to those who had gone on before.

Two new members had been added since last meeting. These were Master Johnnie Wayne Tarno, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tarno and the great-great-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Alcy Sanders. Also Miss Cindy Ann Elkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Elkins and the great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alcy Sanders. It seems noteworthy to mention that Johnnie Wayne Tarno is a fifth generation with all five generations on both sides still living.

The following officers were elected to serve a term of two years: President, J. P. Sanders; Vice President, John Dixon; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Ray A. Garren; and Program director, Mrs. John Dixon. The following family delegates were appointed by their parents: Mrs. Albert Jenke, Roy Sanders, Mrs.

John Herndon, Mrs. M. S. Savoy, and Mrs. Glynn Sanders.

The long tables were spread with a bountiful feast at the noon hour. Geeslins' Cabin At Lake Merritt Scene Of Goodwin Reunion

On August 31 the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Goodwin met at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Don Geeslin at Lake Merritt for a family reunion.

The day was spent in various ways, while some just visited, others enjoyed boating, swimming, water skiing and some the very popular game of dominoes. Late in the afternoon the group was called together and cameras began to flash making pictures which will keep in memory this very happy occasion. A bountiful feast was spread at the noon hour and almost everyone remained for another spread at suppertime.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. French, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Mosier and children, Lynn and Vicki and W. M. Mosier, all of Mullin; Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Goodwin, Blanket; Mr. and Mrs. U. L. Clement, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Murphy, Judy, Paula, Donnie and Rhonda, San Saba; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight, Diane, Ronnie, Kathy and Randy, Duncanville.

Also Mrs. James Westlake, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. James Wesson, Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Jernigan, Harlan, Brenda and Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wesson, Pat, Phyllis and Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Wesson and Mrs. Julia Taylor, all of Goldthwaite; Kenneth Wesson, Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. Don Geeslin, Linda, Kent and Mark, Goldthwaite.

At a late hour the group began leaving for their homes after expressing their thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Geeslin and making plans for another reunion in 1959.

Joe Neal Kelly, who is serving with the United States Navy, was a guest of his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold K. Kelly and family Sunday evening.

Since 1940, prices of most commodities and services have more than doubled. But...in terms of what a dollar buys today... medical care has dropped 15%. That's because medical discoveries have shortened hospital stays and cut weeks off convalescence.

MRS. RICHARD D. ROGERS

Eulogia Flores, R. D. Rogers Repeat Wedding Vows, Saturday, August 30

Miss Eulogia Flores of 4221 Rawlins, Dallas, daughter of Mrs. Juanita Flores of Goldthwaite, became the bride of Richard D. Rogers, also of Dallas, Saturday evening, August 30, 1958, at 7:30 o'clock, in the First Baptist Church of Goldthwaite.

The impressive double ring candlelight ceremony was read by Rev. Presnell H. Wood, pastor of the church, before an altar decorated with beautiful arrangements of white gladioli and candelabras and a background of palms.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Miss Noemi Guarnero, organist of Dallas, who accompanied Mr. Roberto Quimbar, also of Dallas, as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John Flores of San Angelo, wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace and chrysalis tulle fashioned with wide scalloped neckline, long lace sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her matching headdress held a silk illusion veil and she carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

Miss Ramona Flores of Dallas, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Baker and Miss Margie L. Baker, both of Dallas. They wore street length dresses of ice blue taffeta and carried bouquets of red roses. Humberto Saucedo, of Dallas, was best man. Ushers were Tim Villasana and Vidal Saucedo, both also of Dallas.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother wore a blue net over satin dress with white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given by the bride's sisters, Misses Louisa and Elisa Flores, in the church chapel.

The bride's table was laid with a white taffeta cloth overlaid with tulle and decorated with a beautiful floral arrangement of white glads and blue carnations, a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, baked by the bride's sister, Louisa. Miss Louisa Flores served the cake and Miss Star Villasana of Dallas laded the punch. Miss Stella Hernandez, niece of the bride, presided at the registration table.

For a wedding trip to San Antonio the bride chose a light gray suit with matching shoes and bag.

Mrs. Rogers is a graduate of Goldthwaite High School and is presently employed as a beautician at Peacock Beauty Salon, Dallas. Mr. Rogers is a graduate of Ball High School, Galveston and is a barber at the 10th Street Barber Shop in Dallas.

The couple is now at home at 4221 Rawlins Street, Dallas.

Reggie Robbins Is Birthday Honoree, Saturday, Sept. 6

Mrs. Sonny Robbins honored her son, Reggie, with a birthday party Saturday afternoon, September 6, at the Youth Center. Reggie was five years old on September 8.

The birthday cake in the form of a large white milk truck and trailer, with brown sugar road, plastic fences, green sugar grass and miniature animals, milk cans and men, on a large plaque was the center of interest on the refreshment table. After an interval of playing games and taking pictures as Reggie opened his birthday gifts, refreshments were served to the following guests.

Stephanie and Sally Saylor, Seattle McLean, Johnnie Johnson, Gary Summy, Steve and Shelby Kerby, Marilyn Roberts, Mac Clay, Lavonia and Rita Casbeer, Amy Jo Page, Carolyn Kelly and Janna Petty.

Those assisting Mrs. Robbins were her mother, Mrs. Everett Holland, Mrs. Y. B. Johnson, Jan Saylor and Nelda Jean Sherwood.

Household Hint

Cool note for summer: Take up the rugs! Nothing looks more invitingly cool than the expanse of a hardwood floor.

A few cotton scatter-rugs will be sufficient to add color and group the furniture, and they have the bonus value of cutting down on housework during the summer's heat.

Odd Fact

Taken to a hospital in Indianapolis, Ind., with a bullet wound in his hand, the patient explained that he accidentally shot himself while cleaning his pistol in order to shoot his wife.

Texas Banks Largest Lenders To State's Farmers And Ranchers

Texas banks were serving farmers and ranchers with more credit than any other group of lenders on January 1 of this year, according to W. P. Duren, President, Mills County State Bank, who represents the Texas Bankers Association as Mills County Key Banker. During 1957, the state's banks maintained their leadership in agricultural credit services. Texas banks held a higher proportion of the total farm production credit than a year previous.

Based on the seventeenth annual farm lending summary of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Mr. Duren reported that "at the beginning of the year, Texas bankers were helping farmers and ranchers with $309,115,000 in loans — 12 per cent more than a year previous. This total included $268,221,000 in production loans and $40,894,000 in agricultural mortgages. On the same date, $294,909,000 in agricultural loans were held by insurance companies; $201,409,000 by Federal Land Banks; $77,249,000 by Production Credit Associations; and $73,807,000 in nonreal estate loans plus $30,240,000 in real estate loans by the Farmers Home Administration. It can be seen from these figures that about two-thirds of the production credit used by Texas farmers and ranchers came from banks."

Mr. Duren said that "more and more, the banks in Texas find that farmers and ranchers need a new type of credit to help finance the rapid increase in capital requirements. To meet this changing need, an increasing amount of agricultural credit from Texas banks is on an intermediate-term repayment basis.

"Intermediate-term loans are most frequently needed for machinery and equipment, livestock, soil improvement, additional land, and refinancing short-term notes. Over one-half of all real estate credit is used to finance those intermediate-term capital expenses.

"As a further service to help farmers and ranchers improve their operations, about one-third of all other bank agricultural loans have a repayment program longer than one year. Banks serve farmers and ranchers with far more intermediate-term credit than any other group of lenders."

Mr. Duren believes that "farmers, ranchers, and bankers working together in this way help make Texas agriculture more prosperous."

Mr. Duren reported that over 94 per cent of the insured commercial banks in Texas are serving agriculture's credit needs."

WHAT HAPPENED TO ALL THOSE GRASSHOPPERS?

The late spring of 1958 will be remembered by many midwestern farmers as the "Year the Grasshoppers Came." It was the worst invasion for Texas in 40 years and the heaviest in many neighboring states since 1949.

Spraying of nearly 5 million acres against the hoppers in 10 states apparently prevented any significant damage to wheat and other small grain crops. Rangeland, idle lands and roadsides were sprayed by planes and ground equipment in the cooperative federal-state-rancher program in all these states. Migratory grasshoppers caused ed the major outbreaks this year. Weather conditions last fall and spring were ideal for their development, producing some freakish events over the West.

In April, one large migration converged on Las Vegas, Nev. The accumulated dead grasshopper bodies made a special city clean-up campaign necessary, but there was little damage to vegetation.

In May, swarms of flying hoppers descended on Tucson and other Arizona cities. Attracted by the lights, they flew into Phoenix en masse during the early morning hours, blanketing the city. Some were observed by commercial airline pilots at elevations as high as 10,000 feet. Texas highway right-of-way and rangeland erupted with new hatched hoppers in May. Quick action by the Texas Department of Agriculture, the federal government and local authorities in some 924,000 acres of land sprayed to prevent damage. In addition, many more acres were sprayed to protect individual land owners. It is hoped that the grasshopper outbreak this fall and spring. Department inspectors are keeping a close check on hoppers and an egg-count survey will be made early in the fall. If another heavy invasion appears likely, preventive measures can be planned in advance and once again prevent disastrous conditions from creating.

Lucy May Burrus

Council Officers

Lucy May Burrus, County Home Demonstration Agent, met Wednesday, September 3, in my office.

to those 4-H members who have successfully completed their 1958 demonstrations.

This is the 50th Anniversary of 4-H Club work. In view of this, it would be interesting to find former 4-H members and learn what they did in 4-H and what they have done since.

I would like to find the person who was a 4-H member the greatest number of years ago. If you were a 4-H member in Mills County or know of someone who was, please send me the name, address, the year or years in 4-H Club, and a short statement of the demonstration carried.

New Bulletin on Interfacings

Interfacing can help give a more professional look to your home sewing. It gives additional body to fabric and is a "must" with many pattern designs. The secret is in knowing where to use it, and what kind of interfacing to use.

Interfacing is most likely to be needed at edges where buttons and buttonholes are to be placed. Collars, cuffs and pocket flaps often need interfacing to give them body and the crisp, perky look that adds style to a garment. Peplums, yokes and the lower portion of fitted jackets also are in need of some additional body for a professional look.

Skirt waistbands may need a single thickness of interfacing to prevent the waistband from stretching. It also helps to keep the waistband from rolling or wrinkling.

A new extension clothing bulletin, "Interface It," gives up-to-date information on different interfacing fabrics, when to use what, etc. It is clearly illustrated to show how interfacings should be used.

Ask for a copy from my office.

Center City News

By Mrs. Joe Green

We had a nice rain out this way for which we are very thankful.

Church services were conducted at the Baptist Church Sunday morning and night with a good crowd in attendance at each service.

Brother and Mrs. Dycus and baby were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coffman and family Sunday.

Star school began this morning. It makes us think that fall of the year is here again.

Brother and Mrs. T. W. Hogan and boys, also Mrs. D. A. Carter and daughter and Mrs. Vestus Horton were guests at our church Sunday. We were all glad to see them. They both lived in our community several years before moving to Kopperel.

Several of Mrs. C. M. Head's children came Sunday to help celebrate her birthday. Some of the children were here last Sunday but I guess it won't be out of order to celebrate her birthday twice. Happy birthday, Mrs. Head, and we all hope you have many more.

We were surely sorry to hear Mrs. Martin McCasland was so sick. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Owens and Randy have gone to College Station to make ready for school.

The Workers' Conference met at Star Monday night and I hope Center City was well represented.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Coffman and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Stacy McCasland Sunday afternoon. Mrs. McCasland is feeling better since receiving surgery. We hope she continues to improve.

Mr. Red Wright of San Angelo was a supper guest in our home last Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frank and Hilda Mae had several of their folks for dinner guests Sunday.

Eva Faye and I visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coffman at Evant Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Coffman is going to Fort Worth to see an eye specialist this weekend.

Mrs. Virgie Wild is at home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Watson and children were in this community visiting over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCasland have had as their guest their daughter, Brockle D. and daughter of Midland the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hill were in Goldthwaite Sunday visiting her mother, Mrs. J. Everett Evans, and Gladys. Mrs. Evans hasn't been well the last few weeks. We all hope she is soon much better.

H. D. Council Elects Officers

The Goldthwaite Home Demonstration Council met in the agent's office Wednesday, September 3. Nine members answered roll call. Minutes were read and approved. A card was signed by each member to be sent to Mrs. Singletary, who is in the hospital. The standing committee gave their reports and Miss Burrus explained plans for the year book which were adopted.

The following officers were elected for the new year: Chairman, Ola Harville; vice-chairman, Alta Reynolds; secretary, Mrs. Leonhard; treasurer, Mrs. Alice Waggoner.

Miss Burrus will meet with the Goldthwaite Club September 30 and with Center City Club September 11. Miss Burrus taught a course on committee procedure after which the meeting adjourned.

Mrs. Flora Owens conducted a short recreation period.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

By HUBERT BERRY

Blue panic, sorghum alnum, and Johnson grass fields have permitted many cooperators to defer or properly use their range land this summer.

The value of Johnson grass or sudan grass as temporary pasture has long been known; however sorghum alnum is still in the testing stage. As a perennial it appears weak. On the other hand, sorghum alnum produces tremendous growth the first year with a marked decrease in vigor as time goes on. Blue panic and other similar perennial grasses produce little forage the first year but per-est as a stronger plant from year to year when managed properly.

These facts must be considered in planning a long extensive conservation program. As a conservation crop, true perennial grasses exceed annual or so-called perennial grasses in moisture conservation and erosion control. This is due largely to a deeper and more extensive root system of the perennial grasses and the lack of protection the soil has when being prepared to plant annuals each year.

Many livestock men value a grass on its palatability or taste to livestock. Here, it should be pointed out that annual grasses invariably taste better due to their fast tender growth. If you have in mind retiring some cropland from cultivation, it would be wise to do a little research before planting a grass just because it is easy to get a stand.

The Goldthwaite Eagle

News Of The Ebony Community

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Thursday afternoon, August 21, John and I made our way to the home of Miss Otie Willson at Dublin where we were to commemorate that well-remembered year at Ochiltree. Mr. and Mrs. Fine of Bangs were already there. Otie's brother, Clarence Willson, came. Also our mutual friends, Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Brooksmith. We were a congenial group, and the time passed all too soon. Despite the fact that John and I were to go on from there to Bluff Dale, I could hardly tear myself away.

We arrived at Graystone Cottage, the home of Mrs. Nan Edmiston Keady in Bluff Dale just before dark. She and Tom were out to greet us. Nan is a rare person, and her home has a rare, individual charm. She is an artist, and has painted many pictures of old homes and landscapes and other things. And it was she that was giving me this much-desired trip to Corinth, Ark., where I spent two of the happiest and most profitable years of my childhood.

It was here my uncle, C. M. Wilmeth, was president of a small church college. My father went to help him in the school.

It was a country of tall pines. Of clear, running brooks where grew tall sweet-scented ferns. In the spring wild violet bloomed thick in the woods. Also crabapple blooms, and the beautiful blooms of the dogwood. There were tall huckleberry bushes with their delicate white flowers like lilies of the valley.

The country was full of people. People whose wants were few, and whose means of making a living were meager. Their small farms did not produce much, but they raised most of their living. They were just beginning to discard their looms and spinning wheels. There was a small factory at Center Point nearby where they made jeans and linsey.

Corinth was a flourishing little village with three or four stores, post office, blacksmith shop, saw mill, mill pool, and quite a number of residences. On a hill south of Corinth stood the college. Just across the road to the west, on another hill, stood my uncle's home.

It was a big two-story house with three fireplaces down stairs and three up stairs. It had many rooms, and they kept the college students who came from a distance. There were six cousins, and besides Uncle Mac and Aunt Griffie, there was a maiden aunt, Aunt Lucy, and dear little Grandmother Ruth-erford who kept things going in the kitchen. There was a piano in the parlor, and there was never a dull moment. A board fence with a flat board on top ran all around the big yard, and how we children did like to walk it. The yard was full of tall pine trees and we used to bury one another in the needles. Just north of the house was a little printing office where Uncle Mac published a newspaper and a religious paper. Just south of the house was a large fenced-in garden which Aunt Lucy planted with flower seed. I remember also a moon-vine which grew to the top of the second story.

Nan and I left Bluff Dale at 6:30 Friday morning. We took the route up through Durant, Oklahoma. We arrived at the home of Nan's cousin, Mrs. Ruby Davidson, near Nashville, about 3:30. A meeting was going on at Corinth. Though it was 12 miles, we went to church there that night. I saw some who still remembered the Wilmeths.

It rained every day and also at night. Saturday Ruby took me to Nashville and to Corinth. Uncle Mac left there in 1877. Took a colony to Tampico, Mexico. He took the yellow fever, and died in 1898. The college burned not long after they left. Only the church remains. It is near where the college was, and has still that beautiful background of pines. But the village of Corinth is gone. Not a house, not a store, not even the mill pool is there. Uncle Mac's house has been torn down, and the hill on which it stood looks like a bare prairie hill. Every pine is gone. In the cemetery I found the names of many whom I had known.

Sunday we went to church at Corinth. There were paste board fans scattered on the seats. On each was a picture of a little white church, almost exactly like the Corinth church, with that beautiful background of pines. I brought three of them home with me.

A number of years ago a northern company bought up the land around Corinth and put 27,000 acres in Elberta peaches—the largest peach orchard in the world. But, as here, the peach trees were short-lived, so the company sold out their holdings. There are now many nice orchards and many young orchards coming on, but all are individually owned.

Nan and I left at sunrise Monday morning. The country was green and beautiful. We came by Hope and Texarkana. Saw the Confederate State Capitol at Washington four miles from Hope. Saw the monument of Elizabeth Crockett, wife of RECORD CROP—Entrants in a whiskerino contest, Wayne Walkup (left), of Yuba City, Calif., and Jim Koplos, of Marysville, compare their chin crop as they prepare to take part in the Yuba City Golden Jubilee Sesquicentennial celebration at Marysville. There will be no hair-splitting in the decision.

David Crockett, in the Acton Cemetery near Granbury. Stopped in Fort Worth to see Willie Beavers Montgomery. I phoned my sister, Grace, and she came right over. She surprised us with the news that her son, Dr. John Robert Bateman of Gunter, Alabama, had married Harley Ruth Griffin of Fort Worth. They will be at home at Driex Air Force Base, Paris, France, shortly after Sept. 1.

We got home at sundown. We were to meet John in Comanche at eleven Tuesday morning. We got there a little after ten. John was already there. He told me that Nancy Reeves and Steve Williams had had a pretty home wedding at the Reeves home Saturday night and were already gone to Austin.

He also told me that Mrs. Horace Reynolds had died Monday.

She was buried Wednesday in the Ebony Cemetery. She was 92. Her father, Jack Shafer, settled here in 1875. The stage coach from Williams Ranch to Fort Concho (San Angelo) used to change horses at his place. Mrs. Reynolds is survived by four sons: Jack of California, Arthur of Dallas, Roy of Brownwood, and Mack of Lake Arthur. N. M. Arthur and his wife came from Dallas for the funeral.

FIRE PREVENTION

Eleven thousand three hundred lives . . . over one billion dollars! According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, that's what fires cost our nation last year! And over a third of these fires were HOME fires! "Check your home regularly for fire hazards," says Fire Chief Jack Reid.

MR. AND MRS. WALTER S. SUMMY JR.

Miss Deanna Simmons Becomes Bride Of Walter S. Summy Jr., August 9

Candelabra, baskets of assorted gladioli and ferns banked the altar of Fifth Avenue United Church of Canada in Medicine Hat, Alberta, Canada, for the beautiful twilight wedding ceremony which united Miss Deanna Louise Simmons to Walter S. Summy Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Simmons of Hussar, Alberta, Canada, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Summy of Goldthwaite.

Rev. Walter G. Jones officiated at the candlelight double-ring ceremony on August 9th at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. J. Armstrong was organist and accompanied Mrs. V. Odenback as she sang "Oh Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was radiant in a full length gown of white embroidered silk, styled with a chapel train and featuring a V neckline and short sleeves. A Juliet cap of lace over silk embroidered with seed pearls, held in place her fingertip veil of illusion net. She carried a bouquet of red roses which centered a white orchid. A small gold cross was her only jewelry.

Miss Gwen Simmons, sister of the bride, was maid of honor; Miss Sonja Simmons, Miss Darlene Treacy and Miss Jean Mitsunaga were bridesmaids and Marilyn Carlson was flower girl. The senior attendants were gowned in identical cocktail-length embroidered pink silk gowns styled on Empire lines. The bridesmaids wore picture hats of pink silk trimmed with matching tulle. The maid of honor wore a small chapel hat of pink tulle and sequins, and all carried cascade bouquets of white shasta daisies. The flower girl wore a party dress of pink nylon tulle with matching head-dress and carried a basket of white daisies.

Allan Carlson was ring bearer. Mr. Jim Magee was best man and guests were ushered to pews marked with candles by Mr. Paul Quan, Mr. Drew Innes and Mr. Jerry Carlson.

A reception for the 125 guests was held at the Town and Country Club. The bride's table was decorated with arrangements of white daisies which centered a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink roses, silver leaves and topped with miniature doves holding rings. Toast to the bride was proposed by Johnny Moffat of Hussar.

Mrs. Simmons chose for her daughter's wedding a cocktail gown of powder blue lace over satin, pink velvet picture hat and white accessories. A corsage of white roses completed her ensemble. Mrs. Summy, mother of the groom, wore a cocktail gown of navy blue with lavender accessories and a corsage of white roses.

For traveling the bride wore a figured sateen cotton dress in yellow and white with avocado velvet hat, white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Summy are now at home at 363 Fifth Street SE, Medicine Hat, Alberta, Canada.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were from Hussar, Calgary, Fort Macleod, Bow Island, Thelma, Didsbury, Swift Current, and Texas.

Mrs. Chester Berry of Fort Worth returned home Saturday after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Warlick, Wanda and Gary.

Local Library Sponsors Children's Reading Program

The Library Board of the Jennie Trent Dew Library sponsored a reading program for children during June, July and August. Fifteen books were to be read by children in the fourth grade and 20 books for children above the fourth grade. Fifty-two children participated. Ten pins were awarded the following students for being good readers:

Poncho Rahl, fourth grade student, headed the list by reading 82 books; Ronnie Auldridge, 20 books; Pat Bradley, 23; Tom Duren, 30; Ernest Horton, 29; Linda Horton, 35; Sandra Jordan, 21; Mary Standley, 19; Kenneth Thomas, 20; and Wanda Warlick, 26; making a total of 305 books.

A total of 2,684 books were checked out during the summer months, according to an announcement by Mrs. V. C. Bradford, Librarian.

The Library is open each Monday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 2:30 until 5:30 o'clock and adults are invited to read the good books.

Everything You Expect In a Fine Washer . . . the NEW

MAYTAG AUTOMATIC FILTER-AGITATOR

The exclusive new Maytag Filter-Agitator is the most revolutionary change in agitator design since it was invented by Maytag. It provides increased washing action, positive distribution of detergent, and maximum lint filtration. It's new, it's fabulous, and it's available only in Maytag.

New full time filter in the heart of the new agitator prevents lint from being carried through the machine. Lint is filtered out as water circulates through agitator. And there are no pans or trays to interfere with loading or unloading.

Detergent dispenser in agitator prevents discoloration and damage to fabrics from heavy concentrations of undissolved detergent. Simply pour detergent in agitator cavity; circulating water dissolves it completely before it comes in contact with clothes. Big two cup capacity permits addition of water softener.

Famous Maytag Agitator Action has been amplified by the pumping action of the new Filter-Agitator. Wash water circulated through the agitator is forced out through specially designed channels in the bottom, so washing jet streams. Loosens even deep down dirt in seconds.

Plus THESE ADVANCED FEATURES

- Swift-Away Draining Action • Cold Water Wash • Rinse • Pushbutton Control • Delicate Fabric Cycle • Two Speed Action • Automatic Water Level Control • Water Temperature Control • Safety Lid • Suds Saver • Interior Light • Unbalance Switch • Rinse Conditioner • Flash to Wall Installation • Five Year Warranty on Power Unit

Rev. T. M. Mitchell read in Jer. 8-20, the harvest is past, and we are not saved." This famous came from the lips of the who knew the full of a crop failure, and consequences.
The harvest was not good failure, it meant famine
the people and starvation Jeremiah said the
is past and summer,
of the gathering of the
is ended, and the sad
"We are not saved." Not crops saved to guaranfull supply.
we draw the conclus-that the poem is written to describe the con-of his people who had after idols and left the of the true God who is of every good gift in-their daily food.
I have seen a melon crop season when the melons ready for market. But for reason, low price and fail-many were left in the

to sell the fruit
hard on the producer
churches in our area had revival meetings hoping to have a large gathering of souls in the Kingdom and members in the churches. No doubt the Saviour and Lord of the harvest can look over the communities and see many people left out of the soul harvest, knowing for many there will not be another special chance in a revival meeting.

Jeremiah identified himself with his lost people and said,
"We are not saved." We know many pastors are grieved for they can see some of their own prospects not in the church yet.
There is always an element of sadness when a meeting closes without a good harvest of new converts. There is the feeling that we failed in cultivation or preparation of the prospects for the revival. There may be a sense of guilt because we failed to do our duty in some way. Perhaps we failed in the fervency of our prayers, or maybe we did not put feet to our prayers. Or we did not realize the eternal value of a human soul. Jesus placed the highest value on the soul.
If a crop failure has far-reaching values in the material world, how much greater the significance of a spiritual harvest. May God help us to be faithful in our work for Him.
Knowing that he who convert-eth a sinner from the error of his ways, shall save a soul from death and hide a multitude of sins.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—How best to educate Texas children — and how to pay for it—will be a key issue in the upcoming legislative session.

Problems were spotlighted when the Hale-Aikin Committee made its first report. Included were 12 recommendations for improvement or expansion of public education.

Several proposals reflect the concerns of the times. In an age of mounting traffic death tolls and almost universal availability of high-speed cars to teenagers, state-supported driver education was urged. In the face of widespread reports of the superiority of educational systems in other countries, the committee recommended state aid for classes for the "academically gifted." It also proposed increasing the school year from a minimum 175 days to 180 days plus five days for teacher training.

Other proposals were to provide state support for (1) more principals, (2) assistant superintendents in large districts, (3) pre-school teaching of children unable to speak English, (4) larger allowances for maintenance, (5) replacing school buses and paying drivers, (6) buses for city children living more than two miles from school, and (7) state and local guidance services.

It also suggested basing teacher-pupil ratios on current attendance rather than figures for the year before and urged the setting aside of TV channels for future educational use.

Final decision on other recommendations was postponed until Sept. 15. These include raising the minimum pay for teachers $595 a year (from $3205 to $3800) and releasing state property taxes to allow for more local district collections.

Hale-Aikin Committee is a 24-member study group of lawmakers and private citizens set up by the last legislature to study public schools and make recommendations to the 1959 session. Grass-roots discussion has been going on for nearly a year in cities and counties over the state. Proposals being made now result from sifting and weighing of hundreds of ideas urged by educators and interested citizens.

Committee members are not blind to the likelihood of stiff legislative resistance to the additional money-spending called for by most of the proposals. Cost of the state minimum foundation program for the present school year is estimated at $349,416,000. H-A Committee's "enrichment" suggestions could add from $50,000,000 to $150,000,000 to that figure.

Most lawmakers already are feeling financially gloomy because of a predicted $140,000,000 gap between state revenue and cost of present programs — without any kind of improvement anywhere.

One committee member suggested that, while all the proposals might not be put into effect right away, they could serve as "a pattern for years to come."

WHAT, NOT HOW—Greater emphasis on what to teach, rather than how to teach will be reflected by this year's college graduates majoring in education.

A law passed in 1955 requires future teachers, beginning with the 1959 grads, to have 40 per cent of their credits in subjects they will teach, 40 per cent in "cultural subjects," 20 per cent in education courses.

State Board of Education called attention to this change at its September meeting.

Board also hit a lick in its unrelenting battle against all plans to dip into principal of the permanent school fund for current expenses. Its resolution warned of possible "tragic consequences."

Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar was authorized to prepare recommendations for Texas participation in the newly passed federal aid to education program. Texas would be eligible for some $9,000,000 to bolster the training of teachers, scientists, mathematicians and other kindred professions.

PHOTO FINISH—Race for speaker of the House seems stalemated with the likelihood that the winner will not be known until all 150 members convene and vote in an all-exits-barred showdown.

Both Rep. Joe Burkett of Kerrville and incumbent Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock claim a majority. But each says he does not have permission from the signers to show all his pledged cards.

There are rumors that several House members, wanting to be agreeable, pledged support to both candidates, never dreaming that the contest would be so close as to bring a "judgment day."

If and when the two candidates sit down together and compare notes there may be a number of representatives with red faces. Some speaker candidates have done just that, in the past. Then they jointly telephoned the representatives whose pledges were "in question" . . . to settle the matter then and there.

FATTER WELFARE CHECKS—An across-the-board increase of $5 per person in checks to the aged, needy blind and disabled begins Oct. 1.

Gov. Price Daniel said the increase was made possible by liberalization of the Social Security Act during the last session of Congress.

Under the new formula, maximum monthly checks to the aged will be $65, for the disabled, $63.

Undesirable Wheat Varieties To Be Discounted Under The 1959 Support Program

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has named wheat varieties which are undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities and will be discounted 20 cents a bushel in price rates on the 1959 crop.

Discounts to discourage plantings of the undesirable wheat varieties were included in the price-support program for the first time in 1956.

The list includes among the hard red winter class Bluejacket, Chiefkan, Cimarron, Early Blackhull, Kankang, Kharkof MC 22, New Chief, Pawee Sel, 33, Purkof, Red Chief, Red Hull, Red Jacket and Stafford.

Also listed in the soft red winter class is Kan Queen, Kawvale, Nured and Seabreeze. Durum varieties listed are Golden Ball, Pelliss and Pentad.

The list was developed by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service after consultation with state agricultural experiment station personnel, agronomists, cereal chemists and others. Representatives of crop improvement associations support the program which is aimed at improving the overall quality of U. S. wheat production.

Application of the 20-cent-per-bushel discount to producer support rates will be the same as under the 1958 operation. Because wheat varieties are difficult to determine from threshed samples, identification of the variety going under price support will be the responsibility of the producer based on his knowledge of the varieties he seeded and harvested.

Even though some of the undesirable varieties might have protein content high enough for a premium, no protein premiums will apply to the undesirable varieties when loan rates are determined.

BUY CERTIFIED SEED

Are you looking for seed? Well, your best bet is to buy Certified Seed. The difference in cost of certified and non-certified is small and the advantages are many.

Lee C. Coffey, who is in charge of the foundation seed program at A&M College, says the fact that you know exactly what you are getting is a big factor. Other advantages he lists are: known germination, freedom from noxious weeds, and the fact that they were inspected during growth by the State Department of Agriculture.

Yes, it will pay to buy Certified Seed. So when you go looking for seed, look for the blue tag on the bag that gives all the vital information you will need. You will know it is Certified by this blue tag and the area after a rainy spell has filled low places.

A side benefit of the plan, noted Highway Commission Chairman Marshall Formby, would be the re-charging of underground reservoirs.

LABOR LAW ARENA—Another legislative slugfest, for which ammunition is already being stacked, is foreseen in the area of labor union regulation.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, longtime champion of respective labor laws, has announced he has some more in mind. He said his proposals were prompted by abuses reported to him by union members.

Parkhouse said he would sponsor bills to (1) provide state regulation of union pension funds, (2) prohibit union assessments for political campaigns, (3) require public disclosure of union spending and (4) correct practices whereby, according to the senator, union leaders prevent some members from getting work.

Jerry Holleman, State AFL-CIO president, stated that organized labor would welcome state regulation of pension funds. The other proposals, Holleman said, are taken care of under existing law.

SPRAYS REPLACING HOG WALLAWS

Water sprays, dashing cooling water over the hogs, are replacing the hog wallaws. The sprays are much cleaner, and they actually do a better job of keeping hogs cool in summer than the wallaws.

Sprays are being installed in front of individual farrowing pens, usually on the south side to permit the breeze to blow the mist over sows and small pigs. Weaned litters are larger where sprays are used.

Without a spray system, hog raisers find it difficult for sows to farrow pigs in July and August. They find it possible to farrow pigs—and thus market their hogs, most every week in the year. This gives a better market for the porkers. Pete and Sammy Harper, who live in the Star community, have constructed central farrowing houses, with concrete floors, for their hogs. These houses can be cooled with sprays in the summer.
