Don Geeslin First To Buy Band Uniform As Drive Gets Underway

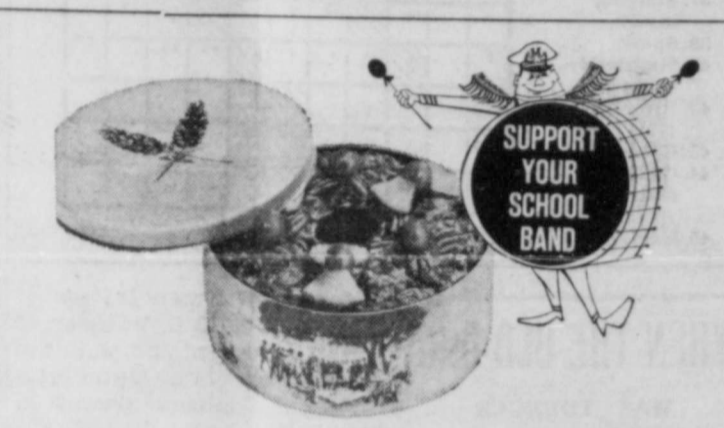

Don Geeslin, local turkey farm owner, was the first to volunteer and notify school officials that he will purchase one complete band uniform as interest in securing new band uniforms for Goldthwaite high school started to gain momentum.

"We can order the band uniforms just as soon as we receive sufficient pledges to pay for them," said Supt. J. T. Jones in answer to the question: "When can we order new band uniforms?"

In announcing Geeslin as the first one to pledge a uniform Supt. Jones stated that a number of other interested parties have indicated they will pledge a new uniform or part of one as the drive gets underway.

There has been much talk in Goldthwaite on the matter since the subject was introduced in the Eagle last week. Most of the talk, of course, comes from members of the band who realize the condition of the uniforms since a number of them have been having trouble during recent weeks with their band slacks coming apart at the seams and other places as well.

Some of the band members have received instruction from the dry cleaners not to bring their suits in for cleaning any

A petition from residents on North Parker Street asking for paving of that street was brought before the council and the 1958 tax roll was approved.

The matter of filling the job vacated in city hall by the resignation of Merlyne Long came up for discussion and the council voted to postpone for a few months hiring of a permanent replacement.

NUMBER ONE TAX PAYER

Last week Wednesday, October 1, the first day for citizens to pay their 1958 taxes, there showed up a familiar sight in the office of tax assessor-collector for Goldthwaite Independent School District.

Mr. E. L. Pass came to that office about 8:30 in the morning to pay his taxes.

At that point Henry Venable, the tax collector, and his deputy Walter Henry commented: "Here comes our number one tax-payer." Then Mr. Henry told the story that Mr. Pass has been the first one to come and pay his school taxes on the morning of October 1 for a good many years.

Mr. Pass listened to the story and commented: "I like to get it over with. If there is any one thing that I don't like it is for me to owe something."

FORMER PUPIL PRAISES FACILITIES

When the Goldthwaite Eagles played host to the football team from Diamond Hill Jarvis High School of Fort Worth on September 26, it was sort of like homecoming for one of their school officials.

Clyde L. Brown, now principal of that school, is a former Goldthwaite student. He is a member of the class of 1924 and as one of his classmates, R. L. "Bob" Steen puts it: "He was a fine student, a good boy who was determined and went out to make a place for himself in the Fort Worth school system."

Mr. Brown, his parents were the Ed Browns, left here shortly after graduating from high school and has been with Fort Worth Schools for 31 years. For the past several years he has served as assistant principal of Diamond Hill. On September 1, this year, he was promoted to principal.

While here for the game the other night Mr. Brown commented on and praised local school facilities, especially athletic facilities. When he and Bob Steen and their buddies played football in high school their playing field was on the lot in front of the present new grade school in the general area where the Leonard Cole home is now located.

He and Steen talked about the field they played on and how many rocks they had to contend with in their playing. Also they commented on how nice it would have been if they had had a nice green grass field to play football on in those days.

ABOUT THOSE NEW BAND UNIFORMS

The need for new band uniforms for our school band was pointed out in the Eagle last week by Supt. J. T. Jones.

That is a really worthwhile project to be undertaken and deserves the serious consideration from everyone who is interested in the school and all of its activities.

I have said it many times and will repeat it again now. We have a mighty good band for a small school. Our music director, Mrs. Allen Moreland, and everyone who shares in the job of seeing to it that we have a school band deserves much praise for the job they are doing and encouragement for keeping it up.

Our band shows up good and while many members are quite young they play well.

New band uniforms would help them to play even better.

IF THERE WERE NO OIL

Suppose — just suppose — that tomorrow not a single drop of oil or any oil product was available.

All transportation would stop—every automobile, every train, every plane, every truck. In oil-fueled electric plants throughout the country the dynamos would fall silent. Work on the farms, dependent as it is on oil-burning machines, would slow to a crawl. Homes would grow cold, and factories would close their doors.

Without oil total paralysis would descend upon the nation.

This little flight of fancy may serve to help emphasize the significance of Oil Progress Week, which is to be observed during October 12-18 period. It is an annual observance, in which the oil industry reports to the nation. Its purpose is to tell oil's own particular story—and also the story of the competitive, free enterprise system that makes possible the existence of the industry.

The Week's slogan reads: "Today—oil builds for your tomorrow." It will be a tomorrow in which more and better oil products will make this country a finer place to live.

TEXAS GRAIN SORGHUM BOOM SPARKS INCREASE IN STORAGE FACILITIES

The five-year boom in Texas grain sorghum production is reflected in new grain warehouse licenses and the upsurge in construction of additional grain storage facilities over the state.

A total of 691 warehouses have been licensed by the Texas Department of Agriculture in the first months of the current licensing year which began June 1. This compares with only 589 licenses issued during the entire 1957-58 period and 200 licenses for the first year the Texas Grain Warehouse Law became effective in 1953.

Storage space has always been scarce during harvest, resulting in millions of bushels of grain being poured on the ground at a great risk to owners. Licensed Texas warehouses to date have a capacity of 322,460,671 bushels and more space is needed for the coming season.

Preliminary estimates show a harvest of 427,906,400 bushels of grain this year, most of which will require storage for varying periods of time. To meet this demand, the number of licensed warehouses in the state will likely increase to about 775 before the year's end, upping our storage space to over 400 million bushels.

The big boom for grain sorghum crops was partly triggered by cotton acreage restrictions which drove farmers to find new ways to utilize their soil. In addition the high cost of cotton production has caused farmers to switch to the expensive and trouble-free grains.

Prospects for a continuing increase in grain production coming years have caused more than 300 Texas warehouses to double their storage capacity in the past 12 months.

The Texas Grain Warehouse Law, which requires in new warehouses be licensed by the Texas Department of Agriculture and be bonded to protect farmers against theft and losses, was enacted after national scandals surrounding misappropriation of grain. A force of 17 Texas inspectors constantly check warehouses and receipts to insure compliance with the law.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

...that the difference between an expert fisherman and an amateur lies in one's ability to "read" a river, stream or lake. Because there definitely are certain choice spots—and he knows them lands the lunkers where the fish lie. The secret, say the pros, is the time to do the learning when fishing is at its best. In a stream, when a stream flows in a very low and clear, with no obstructions, rocks, ledges, deep runs and pool areas become evident. Make a mental note of these physical factors.

In many instances, by using polaroid glasses you actually can spot the fish, and locate weed beds and drop-off areas where fish gather.

There are two other handles. "A thermometer and a waterscope. A thermometer helps locate spring holes. The waterscope, a tube with glass in one end, also is used to determine weed-bed areas and drop-offs.

A word to the wise . . . time taken in charting the favorite stream or river really pays off in better fishing later on.

"It's said that he who fishes 'upstream' catches more and larger fish.

By upstream we mean "across and up."

Dry fly fishermen use this method successfully. Why wouldn't it work with other fishermen? Some say it does. They suggest a high rod and a constant retrieve in order to maintain a tight line. Also they point out that spinners, wobblers, small plugs and nymphs pay off in larger fish than do floating lures.

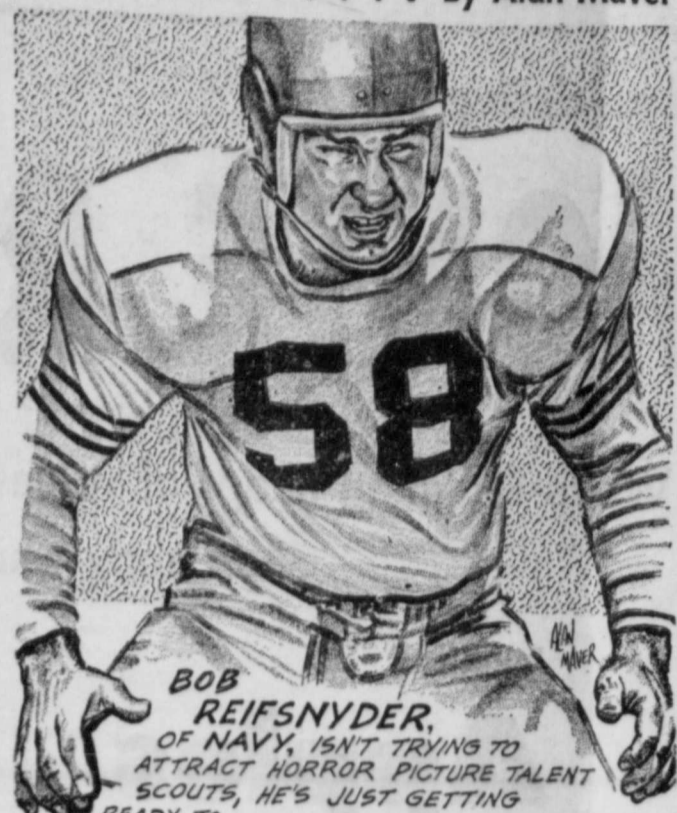

Learn your water and fish upstream for more and bigger fish, they re-emphasize.

No matter how shallow the water, there is ample concealment in weed beds or lily pads, says one tipster. He adds: Often fish lurk quite far back and do not see lures cast at the edge of weed beds or pads. In such instances a silent cast is not effective. Don't be afraid to let your lure drop with a loud splash.

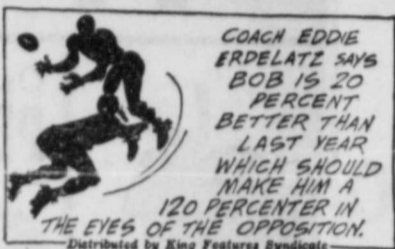

There always is danger of a hang-up. That's when a heavier leader line comes in handy. There is no reason for not attaching a leader to a spinning line—just so long as it is short enough not to enter the spool. It sure does add a safety factor . . . and makes it a little easier to change lures.

It's well to know the depth of the water in which you are fishing. Next time you fish in deep water let your lure down alongside the boat and count slowly until it reaches the bottom. Then when you cast out, start your count when the lure hits the water. Allow the lure to sink freely. But start your retrieve with a short, hard, hook-setting motion the moment your count indicates bottom depth. Many times the lure is picked up by a curious fish on its downward float—and he may still have it in his mouth.

Tips On Monofilament Line

As spin-fishing grows increasingly popular the use of monofilament line becomes more general. It is true that monofilament offers many advantages. But there are disadvantages too. Perhaps we should say "handicaps."

A knot points up its biggest weakness. In fact if you want to break a monofilament line at a specific place, just tie a knot there and jerk. The line will break at that exact spot.

This brings up these two facts:

1. When you find a knot in your monofilament line, either untie it (which is almost impossible) or break the line, then and there. Otherwise some lunker will do the job for you . . . and you will lose a nice catch.
2. When you tie monofilament to a swivel (or direct to a lure) follow this tie-down tip and you will avoid use of a line-breaking knot.

First, run the end of the line through the eye of the swivel. Next, pull through about eight inches of line. Then, instead of tying a knot as you would with braided line, wrap the short length of line around the line proper—seven or eight times. Now comes the important part—run the end of the line through the loop that formed immediately above the eye of the swivel. All that's left to do is to pull slowly but firmly on the line itself and the wrapped-around portion will slide down the line to the swivel to form a vise-like grip.

Just be sure you pull the line tight and hard, and check to see that the swivel is firmly attached. If you have not pulled hard, then the end of the line may slip back through the loop. In that event you will have to repeat the entire operation. Until you learn the trick you may have to hold the tag end of the line to keep it from slipping through. However, after a few trials you'll find this tying method can be performed quickly. Also you'll discover that this is the safest and surest way to tie on a swivel or lure. Actually it's known as the clincher knot.

Finally, if you want to be doubly sure that the end of the line doesn't slip through—just strike a match and burn the tip of the line lightly. The monofilament will burn until a small but hard ball forms. This ball, on the end of the line, will keep the end from slipping through the loop. So, by burning the excess line you not only make a neater job, but a stronger one too.

A word of warning. Don't let any of the burning monofilament drip on your hands or clothes. It's hot as a poker!

A Fisherman's Prayer

What more fitting way to end this column than to repeat "A Fisherman's Prayer" which appeared originally in North Carolina's "Wildlife" magazine:

God grant that I may live to fish until my dying day. And when it comes to my last cast, I then most humbly pray,

When in the Lord's safe landing net, I'm peacefully asleep,

That in His mercy I be judged, as good enough to keep.

permit holder will be permitted two days of hunting.

Sierra Diablo Area in Culbertson County, Dec. 1-8, 60 permits for buck and doe. Two days hunting allowed for each permit holder.

Only persons 17 years or older will be permitted to hunt on these areas. Applications can be filed on a party system, with not more than four persons in the party.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: I am a widower receiving $98.50 per month from social security. I want to marry a lady who receives $57.00 per month as a widow. She says we can't marry as she would lose her $57.00 and we can't live on my $98.50. Is she right?

Answer: Under the law, we can pay the lady an amount equal to one-half of your benefit immediately after your marriage.

Question: My job is covered by social security and I have a wife and two small children. What social security benefits, if any, could my family expect to receive in the event of my death?

Answer: There are two payments your family could receive in the event of your death. The first payment would be lump-sum death payment and secondly, there would be monthly benefits for your widow and children until the youngest child reached age 18. Your widow would be entitled to benefits again at age 62.

KEEP CLOTHES FROM GETTING CROWDED?

You have to cram all of your clothes into one small closet. If you do, perhaps a closet cleaning with a different arrangement will help solve your problem.

As the top of the closet gets higher, a square hat box shelf space better than the one below. Find a box that will take more than one hat can be used. Liberal use of paper keeps the hats in condition. If shelf room is needed, a second shelf may be added.

Down in the closet, the hangers might be changed to a single one, the full length of the closet to two short ones installed from front to back. This arrangement adds a lot of convenience especially in narrow and wide closets.

Use your rod or rods, hang clothes by sections according to length—blouses to the back, then suits and skirts, lady dresses. Under the pressure you will have storage for boxes of out-of-fashion garments.

Closest is still too stuffy. A good look at your wardrobe. A garment that you wear for months probably as valuable to you as a new one. Store out-of-fashion clothing carefully to room for seasonal garments.

Good closet accessories help keep your wardrobe in condition. You can use your own shoe bags, hat boxes and dress directions are given in Extension bulletin "Facts in Clothing Care" which is available to my office.

LOOK FOR BETTER SOIL

thrive better in good soil containing plenty of organic matter to help it hold air, moisture and giving it a loose structure that permits roots to develop naturally.

With a little effort, you can have such soil for your plants. A compost pile could be the answer.

In a few weeks the leaves will begin to fall on our lawns and if we follow the usual habit, these will be raked up and BURNED. Did you realize that when you burn leaves you are destroying material that would improve your soil? Instead of burning them, why not make a compost pile? Grass clippings, weeds, plant residues, and even vegetable parings and fruit peels from the kitchen will decompose into suitable compost material, as well as the falling leaves.

To make compost, build up alternate layers of soil and organic waste materials such as leaves. Over a 5 or 6 inch layer of the organic materials, spread a thin layer of manure or a high nitrogen fertilizer. The nitrogen is needed to hasten the decomposing of the organic materials.

After applying the source of nitrogen, whether manure or fertilizer, add one or two inches of soil to the pile and continue the alternate layers until the pile reaches the desired height. The sides of the pile should be kept vertical and the top should be level or slightly sloping to the center so as to catch and hold moisture. In dry seasons, the pile should be sprinkled to keep it moist.

Turning and mixing a "ripening" pile will help the decomposition process and produce a compost mixture of more satisfactory firmness. By noting the condition of the material during the mixing or turning, it is easier to determine when the compost is ready for use.

Mr. And Mrs. John A. Hester Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday

The children of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hester held open house on the afternoon of Sunday, October 5th from 2 until 4 o'clock in honor of their parents' fiftieth wedding anniversary, at the Jennie Trent Dew Library.

Mr. and Mrs. Hester were married in Goldthwaite, October 7, 1908, at the home of the bride's parents, with the late Rev. J. S. Bowles, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating.

Mrs. Hester was Miss Loraine Walters and Mr. Hester's parents were Mills County pioneers, moving to Goldthwaite when the town was first established.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. J. M. Campbell and Mrs. C. M. Burch. Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Yarborough, who were guests at the wedding fifty years ago, also assisted in receiving the guests. Mrs. O. C. Weatherly presided at the guest register book, which was bound in gold moire with the names of the honorees in gold letters.

Mrs. Claude Saylor directed the guests to the table where the handsome family Bible was open at the record of the marriage and pictures that were made fifty years ago were displayed.

The tea table was laid with a cloth of gold festooned with miniature white mums and trailing abelia, centered with the gold and white wedding cake decorated in lily of the valley, orange blossoms, wedding bells, topped with a golden "50" and flanked by tall silver candelabrum holding golden tapers. Coffee was served from an antique silver service that has been in Mrs. Hester's family almost 100 years.

Mrs. Ben R. Hester of Brownwood poured coffee during the first hour and Mrs. J. C. Wilford of Corpus Christi the second hour. Mrs. W. W. Tippen of Abilene served the cake the first hour and Mrs. Joe Palmer the second.

Violin and piano selections were presented by Miss Patricia Humphries of Baylor University and Mrs. Ray Duren and Mrs. Azilee Leinweber played recordings of music in vogue fifty years ago.

The club rooms were beautifully decorated with potted chrysanthemums and cut flowers in the chosen color scheme.

Other members of the house party were: Mmes. T. C. Graves, John Jackson, W. C. Barnett, Harold Yarborough, L. R. Rudd, Delton Barnett, Warren Duren, W. G. Yarborough, J. H. Randolph, Gordon McCann of Lometa and J. S. Bowles of Fort Worth.

One hundred and seventy-five guests called during the afternoon. Those from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gary, San Marcos; Judge and Mrs. W. G. Callihan, San Marcos; Mrs. Bruce Hannah, Junction; Mrs. John H. Gary, Winona; Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Stephens, Robstown; Mr. Willard Mosier, Mullin; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lacy, Miles; Ben Lacy, Miles; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Priddy, Clinton; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tippen, Abilene; Kent and Jana Tippen, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. L. Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Rain! Rain! Rain! That's El Paso. Thursday, Sept. 25, it rained all night. Friday morning still looked rainy. Friday night it rained again. Saturday it just rained all day. Sunday morning it was still raining. Had to go to church through the rain. Monday it was rainy still. Rain for the four days amounted to 3 inches, bringing the total for September to 6.31 inches. Normal for the month is 1.07. Rain for the year is 15.03 inches. Normal is 6.07 inches.

Many streets were blocked and many people had to be evacuated from their homes. The Rio Grande has been on a rampage, and what it has done for Presidio is pitiful. Tuesday we had a norther, and Wednesday morning the thermometer dropped to 48 degrees.

Bong-bang-boom! With an anvil salute the Stage Coach arrived in El Paso Tuesday, Sept. 30, and El Pasoans came out to give it the same rousing welcome they gave the first stage coach 100 years ago. The occasion was the centennial celebration of John Butterfield's heroic part in opening the frontier a century ago. In 1858 John Butterfield established his overland stage route from Tipton, Missouri to the Red River and from El Paso to San Francisco. Prior to that travel, except by foot, was done by one of only two ways: on horseback or by wagon.

HEAVENLY GOLD
The Kingdom of God is like treasure hid in a field.

been rejected or sought for at a dying moment. But to the spiritual miner the heavenly "treasure" is beyond all computation of earthly mathematics. The gold of the Spirit is the riches of Love, Mercy, Forgiveness, Redemption, spiritual blessing of heavenly comfort, the earnest of the Spirit, the assurance of hope.

God has deposited the "treasure"; men must seek for and mine it. Let us get rid of the thought of a cheap kingdom with its gold easily obtained. The King's gold is "hidden in a field," and many weary days or years of search may precede its discovery. The best is not to be obtained by scratching the surface. One's religion is worth only what it costs. The effort is the measure of the treasure's value. A salvation that cost no striving, no tears of penitence, no crying for forgiveness, will not mean much nor long endure. But no one need despair. The "treasure" awaits every sincere seeker, and final perseverance will be rewarded with a rich yield.

The old-time miner possessed not only his mining equipment and camping outfit, but he had also the "gold fever," without which his equipment and mining skill were of little account. The gold fever was essential. It carried him along the trail, over rocky peaks, it blasted out tunnels. It was the never dying spirit of enthusiasm which assured success at last.

Neither shall the spiritual miner expect success without the enthusiasm. How little avail his genius, his natural and acquired abilities, without the additional "hunger and thirst" of a heart-consuming desire for the pure gold of the kingdom. Happy the one whose stout heart-mining amounts to the "gold fever" passion, whose dauntless spirit slackens not till the shining gold of the kingdom rewards his toil.

We must have faith in the venture. It is the Father's field. The "treasure" must be there. A slight discovery indicates it. The prospector determines on

YELLOW FEVER AT GALVESTON

The Galveston News reports a considerable increase in the mortality there during the last few days. For the four days ending Sept. 28, the number of burials were twenty.

The Liberty Gazette says the District Court was adjourned, after being in session three days, and before any business had been disposed of. The reason was, fear that yellow fever would make its appearance there.

AUSTIN—We hear numerous inquiries in regard to the distinguished Dentist, Dr. Cronkite. Toothless old maids and bachelors are becoming num-"buying the whole field." In order to do this the true seeker "sells all." It is a venture, but "no risk, no mistake," and the "treasure" is worth it.

And at last the separating is a refining process. The gold miner turned out a mixture of quartz, rock, dross and baser metals clinging together that only at great cost and labor was the gold separated from its impurities, weighed, approved, stamped and ready for currency. How often we meet with Christian possessors of heavenly treasure only to discover a mixture of base metal, narrowness, fault-finding, temper, depreciating the value and marring the beauty of the heavenly treasure. Of such were the Colossians, to whom Paul wrote, "But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth." Col. 3:8. And now, after so many centuries do we find this condition still among us. While the heathen is forsaking his idols, will we who have named the name of Christ cling to ours? May we welcome and hasten the separating process until only the purest gold of the kingdom of heaven remains, and "holiness" has indeed been "perfected."

TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

BY GEORGE G. REESE

FALL ARMY WORMS

Reports of fall army worms attacking small grains have been received from over the county. The fall army worm can become a serious pest of many crops by eating the foliage and tender stems of the plants. Probably the fall army worms cause more damage to fall seeded small grains, grain sorghum and Bermuda grass in Texas than any other pest to crops.

The larvae do not become conspicuous until they are nearly grown. Young larvae feed near the ground at first and are not generally noticed until they become 1 to 1½ inches in length. At first, the young larvae do not consume the entire leaves of the food plant but skeletonize them, leaving the veins and ribs. This type of damage causes whitish areas to appear on lawns and grass fields where concentrated feeding of the worms occurs. Whitish patches that appear in grass are the first indication that small fall army worms are present.

The fullgrown larvae are about 1½ inches in length. They may be identified by the presence of a white inverted "Y" on the front of the head. On the back there are three yellow-whitish hair lines present from head to tail. On each side there is a wider dark stripe and next to it is an equally wide somewhat yellow wavy stripe tinted with red.

Small fall army worms are much easier to kill, therefore it is wise to be watchful for the first signs of the worms in the grain. Due to the regulations of the Pure Food and Drug Administration, we are limited as to the insecticides that can be recommended on pastures and small grains. If control measures are needed, use the following insecticides as sprays:

(1) Toxaphene emulsion concentrate (containing 6 pounds actual toxaphene per gallon) — one and one third to two quarts per acre. Do not allow dairy animals or animals being finished for slaughter to graze in treated areas. Remove range cattle from treated areas for 15 days after insecticide application.

(2) Heptachlor emulsion (containing 2 pounds actual heptachlor per gallon)—1½ to 2 quarts per acre. Do not apply within 15 days of grazing. Due to the heavy dosage recommended, it is necessary to wait 15 days before grazing grain or pastures.

Fall army worms can be controlled on the lawn or other small areas with DDT, Chlor-dane or Toxaphene. Use one tablespoon of any of the above insecticides to one gallon of water. This one gallon will cover about 1,000 square feet of lawn. Small children should not be allowed to play on poisoned lawns until the grass has been thoroughly watered to remove the insecticide residue.

Mrs. Bradford also reported that 67 books had been sent to Star School for various age levels and other schools in the county were urged to use the library.

A discussion of the rental of the club room was held. All clubs are welcome to use the club rooms at the same rental rate, but are asked to please be prepared to pay the rental fee when the key is picked up at Mrs. M. T. Burnham's, Library Treasurer or at the Librarian's desk. This will enable the treasurer to keep her record correct.

There is also an opportunity for a number of residents in Mills County and the surrounding area to contribute funds to the Clinic-Hospital building program and in turn receive pre-paid hospitalization credit from Dr. Childress.

Someone asked about the band uniforms that were purchased a few years ago. The school has bought no new band uniforms for about 12 or 13 years. Three years ago some used uniforms were purchased from Menard High School to fill in with uniforms on hand. They were the same style and color and it is assumed about the same age.

It is pretty well agreed that the uniforms that have been worn a dozen years need replacing and the drive for new ones is underway.

More details will be announced in the Eagle next week as list of contributors will be released.

Anyone who is interested in the project and wants to have a part by contributing a new uniform, or part of the cost of one, is urged to contact Supt. Jones, Band Director Anna Gene Moreland or A. L. Oliver, chairman of the band boosters' club.

She was carried to a Marlin hospital where she stayed until Monday of this week. She was taken back to her daughter's home at Lott and Mrs. Porter returned home.

Mrs. Porter reported that her mother was resting comfortably but was not out of danger yet.
