Farmers Are Urged To Lower Sights On Conservation Reserve Payments

"Farmers who really want to get their land in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank in 1959 should seriously consider offering it at less than the maximum rate of annual payment established by the County Committee," Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee Chairman E. L. Burkett said October 10.

If applications exceed funds available for a State or County, program regulations require that priority in awarding contracts be given to farmers who make the best offers as to the annual rates they will accept for their land.

"Any farmer who has already filed an application for a Soil Bank contract may reduce the annual payment rate he will accept by going to the County ASC Office and making a change," Mr. Burkett said. "This may be done up to Oct. 17, 1958, the deadline for filing applications in the county. A farmer who has not yet filed his application may make a below-maximum offer at the time he files."

Mr. Burkett pointed out that County ASC Offices must award contracts on a priority basis. With the exception of farmers who had all of their land in the Acreage Reserve and Conservation Reserve in 1958 and who offer all of it for the Conservation Reserve, the only Soil Bank program in 1959, highest priority has to be given to the farmer who offers land at the lowest rate when compared on a percentage basis with the maximum rates for his farm.

The Chairman revealed that 18 applications, offering 1,000 acres, for annual payments totaling $10,342, have been filed with the Mills County ASC office.

VIC'S . . .

SOLILOQUY

SOLID CITIZENS

There are many ways to size up a man. One measure of his character, for instance, is the degree to which he is preparing for his future and the future of those who depend on him. If he owns his own home, carries adequate life insurance, and puts money aside to send his children to college, most people would conclude that he's a solid citizen, a man with a sense of responsibility.

You could apply the same kind of standard, in fact, to a company or to an industry. What got us thinking along these lines was an estimate of what one industry in particular, the oil industry, is planning for the future. In order to meet an expected 33 per cent increase in U. S. consumption of petroleum products by 1965, oil companies are expecting to make capital expenditures of nearly 80 billion dollars.

The oil industry has to plan farther ahead than most industries, as we understand it, because it takes years of costly exploration and drilling to find new sources of oil. Of course, refining equipment, pipelines, distribution facilities, and research laboratories also take years to plan and build.

This week, when the industry celebrates Oil Progress Week, we'll be hearing more about the things oil companies must do now in order to be ready to supply our needs in the years ahead. Knowing that they have such confidence in the future, particularly at a time when there is some uncertainty about the progress of our economy, we're inclined to regard oil companies as we regard a neighbor who plans ahead. We think they're solid citizens and we wish them well.

CIRCULATION MANAGER HUDSON

The October 1, issue of the Battalion, Texas A&M newspaper, devotes a page to a special feature that tells the story in pictures on: "Publishing Newspaper Is No Easy Task."

The picture story shows and tells how:—"Tip Comes In," "Reporter Gets Story," "Reporter Writes Story," "Story Is Edited," "Story Scheduled," "Ready For Press," "Presses Rolling," and "Circulation Underway." And that is where Circulation Manager Hudson comes into the picture story.

Ray Campbell Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Hudson, Goldthwaite, a senior student at A&M and is Battalion circulation manager and the picture shows him at the addressing machine with the following caption: "Battalion Circulation Manager Ray Hudson operates the addressing machine as he sends out the day's mail subscriptions. Meanwhile, other circulation men are busy delivering the Batts to dormitories and College Station homes—and another day's work is done."

Perhaps he sometimes slipped a bit—
Well, so have you.
Perhaps some things he ought to quit—
Well, so should you.
Perhaps he may have faltered—why,
Why, all men do, and so have I,
You must admit, unless you lie,
That so have you.
Perhaps if we would stop and think,
Both I and you,
When painting someone black as ink,
As some folks do;
Perhaps, if we would recollect,
Perfection we would not expect,
But just a man halfway correct,
Like me and you.
I'm just a man who's fairly good,
I'm just like you;
I've done some things I never should,
Perhaps like you.
But, thank the Lord, I've sense to see
The rest of men with charity;
They're good enough if good as me—
Say, men like you.

MARCH OF EVENTS

Democrats Not Too Happy Over Victor in Maine | Political Pros Caution In View of Past Events

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Sweeping Democratic victories in the Maine elections were received with public jubilation by the party and frank expressions of disappointment and dismay by Republicans.

However, privately, the Democrats are not quite so happy. Political pros know on the basis of bitter experience that it is good to have too strong a political tide run for you too early in a campaign.

Take the Truman-Dewey campaign in 1948. Everything—polls, experts and common sense pointed to a Dewey victory—but Truman came up strong and undetected in the closing days of the campaign and nipped the Republican presidential candidate at the wire.

The same situation has repeated itself on national, state and local levels many times in the past. And there are some signs that it could happen again.

In California, where Senator William F. Knowland was running well behind his Democratic opponent for the governorship, he is now reported "pulling up, though still behind." In Arizona Senator Barry Goldwater, seeking re-election to the U. S. House on the GOP ticket, was originally reported behind, but is seen as making a good showing with a better than 50-50 chance of pulling through. In New York, Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman was reported well ahead in his bid for reelection, but now New York Governor Rockefeller is seen gaining on him.

So it goes. Anything can happen in politics. However, the specific situations notwithstanding, Washington observers still believe the Democrats will emerge from November's elections still in control of the Senate and the House.

● VACATIONS UPSET—The vacation season for Washington government officials has been shattered again this year by a number of unpredictable developments in foreign and domestic affairs. Last year at this time government officials from President Eisenhower on down went through the same thing, and on some of the same issues, too. To Washington newsmen and federal officials it seems as though time has been rolled back a year.

First and foremost, of course, is the war-threatening crisis in the Formosa straits. The Red Chinese military attack on Quemoy has caused the President to interrupt his vacation twice within a week. It appears at this writing that the sharply increasing tensions there will provide Ike with some more headaches before it all over with, one way or the other.

Then there is the integration situation. This is almost an exact re-play of a year ago, even to the Newport, R. I., datelines and the now familiar name of Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus. If anything, the integration fight in some of the southern states is worse this year than last.

Normally, this is the time of year, after Congress has quit, for the annual exodus from Washington. True, many officials of Cabinet rank have left—but they have not gone far and sort of maintain a shuttle operation between their vacation retreats and their offices.

To the private distress of many, it is reminiscent of wartime Washington when a government appointment really meant a 15-months-a-year job.

CLEANING FLOORS AND FLOOR COVERINGS—

Waxed Floors
Dust with an untreated dust mop or cloth. Do not use oil on a waxed floor as it softens the wax. Soiled spots may be removed with a cloth moistened with turpentine, kerosene, or a commercial cleaner. Renew the wax finish where the spot was by applying a small amount of wax with a soft cloth or applicator. Allow the floor to dry and polish with the grain of the wood.

Linoleum

Dust with a dry mop or vacuum cleaner. Clean thoroughly with a soft cloth or mop wrung dry out of warm soapy water. Rinse with cloth or mop wrung dry out of clean warm water. Never use hot water and avoid a large amount of water, strong soap and cleaning agents.

Paste or liquid wax may be used as a protective finish. It also makes cleaning easier.

RUBBER AND ASPHALT FLOOR COVERING

To clean rubber floor coverings use a soft untreated dust mop or cloth. Grease or soap spots should be wiped up at once as they soften rubber.

A mop moistened with clear, cold water may be used for a thorough cleaning. Dry immediately.

Use only water-emulsion or self polishing waxes on rubber floor coverings as the solvents in other waxes are injurious to rubber. Those waxes to avoid are those that smell like naphtha. Water-emulsion waxes have hardly any odor.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Into and out of the State Supreme Court flow many of the most controversial issues of the day. Public officials, large corporations and important persons often are involved in the cases, and the lives of many less-celebrated persons frequently are affected by the decisions.

After a two-months summer recess the high court reconvened this month and waded into a stack of disputes. Among interesting cases either decided or due to be decided are these:

WATER RIGHTS are involved in a case filed by Southern Canal Co. of Houston against the State Water Board. Southern Canal wanted a permit to take 280,110 acre feet of water per year from the Trinity River for industrial use in the Houston area. Water Board refused the request, and the company appealed to the courts.

Upstream cities such as Dallas and Fort Worth had opposed the Houston company's request when it was before the Board. Oral arguments were centered on whether the courts have the right to review Water Board decisions. Supreme Court's ruling will have implications for every person interested in the course of Texas' water development.

KEEPING ROOMERS and setting up a church in a residential area were the cause of contention in two cases from Houston. In both cases certain property owners in university neighborhoods argued that other property owners were violating deed restrictions.

Lower courts ruled in favor of the room renters and church builders. Supreme Court agreed to review the roomers' case and denied a motion to force the lower court judge to move the student religious center.

OFFICE-SEEKERS had their inning in the usual contests arising out of the year's elections. George Parr, a familiar figure in the courts, won the right to a new trial in his effort to be certified winner in a 1956 election for Duval County sheriff.

Laredo Attorney William Wright lost out in an attempt to force Sec'y of State Zollie Steakley to place his name on the general election ballot as a Constitution Party candidate for district judge. Steakley had refused on grounds Wright voted in the Democratic primary.

Myron Love, choice of Houston liberals, won out in a dispute over the legality of his selection as Democratic nominee for district judge. Harris County Executive Committee had ruled that no candidate filed in time for this office, and Love was nominated by the one-man District Executive Committee. Conservative forces had contested this method.

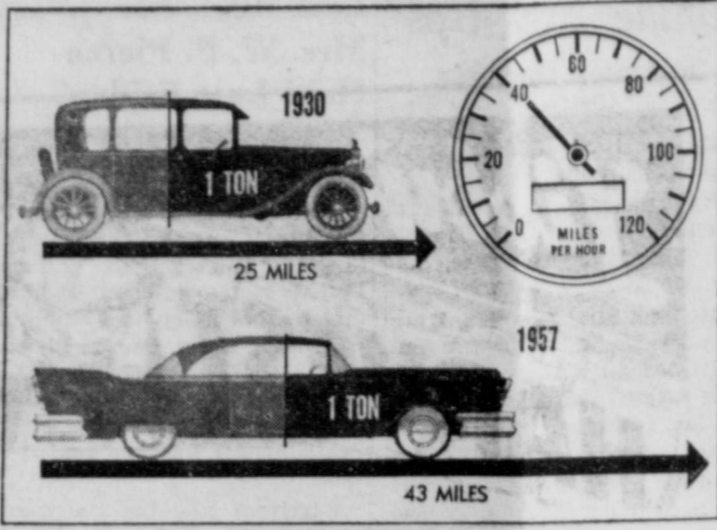

DAMAGE SUITS, labor-management controversy also commanded judicial attention. A gas explosion in the basement of Dallas' Baker Hotel, back in 1946, is the basis for one suit in which 83 petitioners ask some $1,000,000 for deaths and injuries. High court sent it back to district court for new trial.

In Houston 311 workers of the AFL-CIO Office Employees Union picketed a construction project to protest the firing of one man. A lower court granted an injunction against the picketers, and the Supreme Court refused to interfere.

BETTER TRAVELING DAYS AHEAD—Holding promise of better traveling days ahead is the 1961-62 interstate advance planning program announced by the State Highway Commission.

Commission authorized the preliminary engineering studies for 285 miles of new interstate highways, consisting of 45 projects in 22 counties. Included in the advance planning will be completion of the gaps in the interstate highways between Dallas and Houston, Dallas and Texarkana and from Denton to Fort Worth to Hillsboro.

Cost of the program is forecast as $36,500,000 for land pur-

GASOLINE PERFORMANCE IMPROVES—One gallon of today's gasoline does 70 per cent more work in a modern car than 1930 vintage gasoline did in the average car of that year. In 1930, one gallon of gasoline moved one ton of car 25 miles at a speed of 40 miles per hour. By 1957 one gallon of gasoline was moving a ton of car 43 miles at the same speed—a 70 per cent improvement.

chases and $166,500,000 for construction.

WATER SAFETY LAW DUE—Some 280,000 Texas boat owners will have to obtain licenses for their craft if a proposed Uniform Water Safety Act is enacted by the 1959 Legislature.

Representatives of sportsmen's organizations, trade associations and safety groups drafted the measure. It is to be introduced by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas.

State Highway Department would have responsibility for registering boats. Enforcement of safety regulations would be the job of the state's various peace officers and game wardens.

Zoning—the restriction of skiing, racing, fishing, etc., to various areas — was omitted from the bill.

REPUBLICANS JOCKEY FOR POSITION—Texas Republicans got no help from Secretary of State Steakley in their efforts to break into the first column on the general election ballot.

In the past the Secretary of State's Office has sent out the list of certified nominees, to counties, with the Democrats listed in the first column. GOP protested, demanded a drawing for position.

Steakley said he was not authorized to set up such a procedure. His office mailed out ballot forms this year, without comment. Democrats were in the first column on the forms.

SHORT SNORTS—An Austin district court ordered forfeiture of the charter of Walker-Texas Investment Corporation which had refused to allow the Attorney General's staff to inspect its records. Walker-Texas operates five loan firms in Houston.

Fall pick-up in Texas business activity may gather momentum, develop into a "devastating break-through," says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Optimists see complete recovery from the recession by the end of 1959; pessimists, later in 1960. . . . State Board of Health has upped standards on fire prevention measures and space requirements for state-licensed nursing homes. There are 560 such homes in Texas. Board must approve all plans for new homes or re-modeling. . . . W. E. (Bill) Arpe of Weslaco was cited by Gov. Price Daniel as Handicapped Man of the Year in a program sponsored by the Texas Committee of Employment of the Physically Handicapped. Arpe, whose hands are paralyzed, teaches radio and television repair to other handicapped men. . . . Texas Rangers will be honored at a $50-a-plate dinner to be given in Fort Worth's Ridglea Country Club to climax Law Enforcement Week. Texas Law Enforcement Foundation is spearheading arrangements. . . . Texas Highway Department is experimenting in the use of lignite slag as a road surfacing material. Slag is very hard and has an uneven surface to hold down skidding. Lignite, a very soft coal, is plentiful in Texas, and slag is what's left after the lignite is burned. . . . Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has ruled the Water Development Board can grant money for constructing a water filtration plant when the plant is an integral part of the district's water project. But no loans for water filtration alone.

Personal

W. O. Kemp, Roy Lebetter and Horace Brooks left Sunday for Durango, Colorado for a deer hunt.

Edward Harris of Jal, New Mexico, spent several days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Harris.

and children... the weekend... Mr. and Mrs. and Linda.

people go snapper fishing... the summertime.

from Hereford, Texas, where it is high and dry. Although Vern lives in Austin, the heat hit him too. But they caught fish.

They found it to be work. But lots of fun too. Although both of them were new at this sport, the take-home was some 25 nice-sized snappers.

That evening, around the dock, they were telling Muchowich how hot they got.

"Come back again in November," he told them. "That really is one of the best snapper months of the year. It isn't too hot then and fishing is even better."

Well, that's how it got started, and now Vern and I have a date to go back to the snapper banks about mid-November. Muchowich says it's a good month. If he says it's good I am willing to take his word for it.

Incidentally, Party Boats, Inc., which he operates, takes out thousands of fishermen each year. The firm, one of the most successful on the Gulf Coast, specializes in providing fishermen with a good trip at a nominal price.

Departure time from the docks is 3:00 a. m.

You can bring along your own gear if you like. However, heavy rods and reels with special line and hooks may be rented.

Ice water, ice and bait are furnished with each boat. But you should bring along your own food and beverage.

You'll be at the snapper banks for four or five hours. So take along enough food to last you until you return to the docks, around 4:30 to 5:30 p. m.

Better take along a fairly large size insulated ice box with you, in which to pack your fish. Muchowich will provide the ice if you will furnish the box.

And, when you get ready to scale that box of red snappers, here's a tip. You can do the job in a third the time with a water hose.

Yes, I said a water hose. Just hook the hose up to a hydrant, attach the usual nozzle, turn on the water and direct a strong spray against the snapper's scales.

You'll find scales flying in every direction. So will the snapper, too, if you don't grip the tail tightly with a gloved hand or a pair of pliers, or nail the tail to a cleaning board.

Good way to give yourself a bath, too.

Jimmie and Vern had a lot of fun cleaning their fish this way. They were so sopping wet, though, that Jimmie's son Buzz thought they oughta have a water fight—if they hadn't already.

We'd suggest wearing a bathing suit.

If you want more information about Freeport, and red snapper fishing, write Arnold Mathias at the Freeport Chamber of Commerce. He'll tell you.

Household Hint

Before you diet, find out how many calories your personality needs, as well as what your figure should have.

A very low calory diet can cause emotional maladjustments in some people. So once again, the old warning: consult your doctor first.

The Dallas Herald thinks that if the Houston Convention to be held next May, is to make a proper selection for Governor, it is time the people should begin to talk about it. A little "tickling" by the press would no doubt set the wire pullers in motion.

The Gonzales Enquirer says business is looking up, and thinks the planters in that county will invest liberally in Railroad stock before the close of another year.

ON FORAGE CROPS AND GRASSES IN TEXAS

The culture of forage plants is an essential part of a good system of improved independent agriculture, without which really no perfection in this latter is possible. It is very properly remarked, in the Patent Office Report of 1855, p. xii, that already in old times, Cato declared the best system of farming to be "bene pascere," translated to graze well, or to procure food for cattle.—This may indeed be called the good part of farming.

The last three years have shown that even the natural sources of food for cattle in Texas—the prairies, were not sufficient to keep cattle from starving and perishing, particularly where the free range for cattle was overstocked, as in the more settled parts of the country; and the complaint in such parts was frequently heard, "the range is getting too bad for cattle."

Of the numerous convictions for the Penitentiary, at the present term of our District Court, not a single one was a citizen of Bexar County. They were either all brought here for trial, or were transient persons here, when they committed the crimes for which they are to be punished. (San Antonio Herald).

The Houston Telegraph of the 6th inst. says, there are about twenty cases of fever in that city, nearly all doing well. Three deaths had occurred up to that time.

TEXAS JAYCEES SEARCH FOR OUTSTANDING YOUNG FARMER

The Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce's annual search for the year's "outstanding young farmer" is now underway, and Jaycees over the state are urging local communities to nominate local farmers between 21 and 35 years of age who they feel deserve special recognition.

Any Texas farmer within the proper age limit is eligible for the "outstanding young farmer" title, and any community group can sponsor any young man of their choice for the honor. Basis of judging in the state-wide contest will progress in farming, soil and natural resources conservation practices and personal efforts toward community betterment.

From community nominees, a panel of judges will select the Outstanding Young Farmer next February. The winner will be guest of honor at a state Jaycee-sponsored banquet and will receive an all-expense trip to the National Awards Program in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, next April, where the nation's four top young farmers of 1958 will

PETROLEUM—basic to the needs of our time

Oil and natural gas have powered most of the great technological advances of modern times; petroleum hydrocarbons have transformed the dreams of inventors into the realities of engineers . . . Today, in the United States, oil and natural gas provide about 75% of the country's energy requirements; and large quantities of oil, available for production beyond immediate need, are necessary to the national security.

An obvious example is the gasoline that powers our automobiles; another is the diesel fuel burned by post-war railway engines. But do not overlook electric power plants, the airplane, whether jet or propeller driven, factory power plants, farm mechanization, and the revolution since World War II in home heating devices. Oil provides the energy that moves the trucks, airplanes, ships and tanks of our Armed Forces.

But petroleum as a source of energy is only part of the story. In the past two decades, the petrochemicals have supplied the country with a vigorous new industry: already most of our rubber is made from petrochemicals . . . the ubiquitous plastics derive from petroleum products . . . paraxylene, a petrochemical, is the raw material for one of the most useful of the new fabrics. In this area, wonders never cease; the petrochemicals contribute more each year to the efficiency, comfort, and convenience of modern living.

Thus, our progress has made other progress possible all along the front of American industry . . . Petroleum is the American resource that is basic to the needs of our time . . . that is essential to our national security.

The Humble Company, established in 1917, has developed with the industry.

Humble's exploration activities extend from Florida around the rim of the country to California, Oregon and Washington, and beyond to the new State of Alaska . . . The Company is a leader in the production of oil and gas in the United States . . . Humble Pipe Line Company is a public carrier transporting not only Humble's oil but that of many other companies and independent producers to Gulf Coast terminals . . . Baytown refinery is one of the nation's great manufacturing plants . . . And Humble is a marketer in the Southwest, supplying the needs of motorists in modern service stations.

The Humble Company believes strongly in research, maintains two outstanding research facilities, and annually budgets considerable sums for this activity . . . Humble research has made substantial contributions to the discovery, production, and utilization of petroleum.

Walton Twins Are Commended By Ed. Of Air-Base Paper

Toul-Rosieres Air Base, France, (Spec.)—Roy and Bob Walton, twin sons of Master Sergeant and Mrs. Walton have recently been commended by the editor of the "Toul Tiger," base newspaper of Toul-Rosieres Air Base, France.

The two lads, grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Walton of Center Point Community and Mrs. Opal Henkes of Goldthwaite, wrote the "Teen Talk" column in the base paper for the past fifteen months and have recently had to give up the job.

It was emphasized that the boys were not neglecting any of the teen age Air Force responsibilities by leaving the paper. Rather it was the fact that they are currently attending school in Verdun and only return to Toul on weekends. Feeling that their absence during the week would not allow them to keep abreast of affairs they gracefully bowed out in favor of a new "Teen Talk" writer.

A tip of the hat and a grateful "thank you" was offered by the editor to the two youngsters.
