Cotton Growers Get Acreage Allotments Soon

Mills County growers will receive official notice of their 1959 farm acreage allotments for cotton in the next few days. The notices are now being mailed by the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

Cotton acreage allotments for Mills County farms have been determined by the County ASC Committee in accordance with the law and the regulations issued by the Secretary of Agriculture. In 1959, two allotments for upland cotton will be established for each farm, and if marketing quotas are in effect each farm operator will have an opportunity to choose the one he wants to comply with and to register his choice at the County ASC Office. If he elects the "regular-Choice (A)" allotment and complies with it, he will be eligible for price support at the full level available—not less than 80 per cent of parity for 1959.

If he elects the Choice (B) allotment, (which is 40 per cent larger than the Choice (A) allotment) and complies with it, he will be eligible for price support at a lower level—15 per cent of parity less than under Choice (A).

If marketing quotas are not in effect, only "regular" allotments will be available and price support will be at 50 per cent of parity as directed by law.

The Chairman explained that the national allotment and reserve of 16,310,000 acres available for distribution is first apportioned among States and the State allotments among counties. The county allotments are then distributed among farms on which cotton was planted or regarded as planted in any one of the past 3 years, with a small acreage reserved for specified uses. The minimum farm allotment is the smaller of the farm's 1958 allotment or 10 acres.

Farmers who do not intend to operate a farm for which a 1959 cotton allotment is established should immediately return the official allotment notice to the County ASC office so that it can be sent to the person who will operate the farm next year. Cotton allotments are established for specific farms and may not be transferred by the operator or other producer from one farm to another.

Any changes in the land to be included in the farm for which the allotment is made should be reported to the County ASC Committee. Farm operators likewise are asked to check with the County ASC Office regarding any other question about the farm on which the allotment is established.

Postmaster Pleased With Response "Mail Early For Christmas"

Postmaster Lucile Fairman is pleased with the prompt response to her recently announced "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign. She said today, "The single factor in getting mail delivered before Christmas is the full cooperation of the public in early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts. Post office facilities have been expanded, extra personnel will be available, and everything is being done to handle a record Christmas mail in Goldthwaite this year."

With Christmas only a month away, the Postmaster says it's a bit too soon to start following these three simple rules for delivery of your gifts before Christmas: Wrap them early, Address them correctly, and MAIL THEM EARLY.

The Postmaster said you shouldn't take chances on mailing poorly wrapped packages, crumpled mailing cartons, heavy brown wrapping paper, and be sure every package is tied with strong string. Cartons containing several gift packages should be cushioned with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the contents.

The Postmaster also reminds you that size and weight limitations for Parcel Post packages vary according to place of mailing and destination. She suggests that you secure Pamphlet

Approximately 6,000 turkeys were shipped from Goldthwaite for the Thanksgiving market in the larger cities. Kremlin Masters Indicate Conformity All Important

Nobel Prize Winner Forced To Reject Literary Award

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—The world has just witnessed one of the shocking aspects of Soviet Communism—the kind of pressure brought to bear on Russian author Boris Pasternak forcing him to decline the Nobel prize in literature.

This prize is the most coveted award in the entire field of letters. Beyond the money award, which is more than most authors earn in several years, the honor and prestige are enormous and recognized internationally.

Pasternak wrote a book titled Dr. Zhivago which was critical of the Communist system and had been suppressed in Russia. Yet it has been recognized as a literary masterpiece, and the award was based on this fact, rather than the political daring of its author in writing it.

Russian leaders long have pushed a propaganda theme that the Soviets excel in everything. Their approach to science, culture and even sports has demonstrated this time and again.

But apparently among the Kremlin masters conformity comes before achievement. They forced their outstanding, world-acclaimed literary leader to reject the prize. And in the process they have stifled the creative spirit of all Russian men of letters. It will be a long, long time before another Soviet writer has the temerity to create a work worthy of Nobel prize consideration.

STOCK MARKET gyrations—Washington economists continue to voice their concern over rapid price movements on the nation's major stock exchanges. For several months, a rapidly rising market, said to reflect growing public concern over long-range inflationary trends, has commanded the attention of the Federal Reserve board and the U. S. Treasury.

The frowns of economists have grown deeper as the market rose. It has been their contention that the rise has gone far beyond the possible effects of inflation, and that current high price levels are not justified by company earnings prospects.

During a recent downward movement that lasted a week, the Street called it a "correction"—the market lost billions on stock values.

Strangely enough, the government economists were torn in their reactions—both attracted and repelled at the shake-out.

They cheered that the correction might show signs of a growing awareness by the speculating public that the national economy is leveling out, rather than continuing its inflationary trend. However, they felt badly over the indications that many first-time investors, who have put their money into stocks, are getting burned.

To them, the old cautionary phrase "investigate before you invest" never carried more meaning than now.

WHOOPIING CRANES—The federal Fish and Wildlife service is slowly winning one of its toughest and most prolonged battles with nature—saving the whooping crane from extinction.

This is no mean task. The huge, graceful birds must be protected from human poachers and animal predators, particularly during their periods of migration from south to their northern breeding grounds.

At one time the count was down to 15 birds. Last year it had risen to 26. Now the wildlife service believes there are five previously uncounted immatures.

Once the flock gets a little larger, the number of new birds will multiply faster. Ultimately, it is hoped, the birds will regain their numbers to be self sufficient from the threat of extinction. Of course, the Wildlife service will never allow the birds to become game in season for hunters.

On the Telephone, too,
YOU GET THERE FASTER IF YOU KNOW THE RIGHT NUMBER

When you're not exactly sure of the number, street addresses can be confusing . . . especially if many of the houses look alike. And the same is true with telephone numbers . . . when they sound alike.

That's why it pays to check the directory before calling. You can really speed up service. There's no "wrong numbers" and no delay caused by going through "information" switchboards.

Keep a list handy of the local and long distance numbers you call most frequently. It will save you time.

TODAY'S Menu

Easy-Do Main Dishes Help Save Your Time

By ALICE DENHOFF

As the tempo of your daily life quickens, it is wise to make good use of main dishes that while they are comparatively easy to do, are rich in nutrients and entirely satisfying.

Good ground beef cookery is a wonderful way to achieve these specifications. One such dish is Ground Beef Stroganoff. To serve 6, cook 1/2 c. minced onions and a minced garlic clove in 2 tsp. fat 5 min. Stir in 1 1/2 lbs. ground beef, 3-oz. can sliced mushrooms, 2 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. each pepper and paprika. Cook 5 min.

Mix in 3 tsp. flour. Stir in 1 c. bouillon and simmer 10 min. Stir in 1 c. sour cream. Heat but do not boil. Serve on rice or noodles.

A tossed green salad goes well with this dish.

Sausage Slices

No doubt you have made excellent use of cold cuts during the hot weather, so why not extend their boon still further by serving tangy sausage slices as a hot dish?

For Sausage Rolls to serve 4, combine 1/2 c. diced salami, a finely chopped, small onion and 1 tsp. prepared mustard. Spoon into centers of 8 slices bologna. Roll each filled bologna slice and fasten with cocktail toothpick.

Cook bologna rolls in 2 tsp. hot fat until browned. Serve immediately.

With this dish serve a crisp vegetable salad.

Basic Ingredient

To develop the idea further, make use of canned luncheon meat as a basic ingredient in a good main course. The following recipe for canned meat and sweet potatoes is ideal for fall menus. Serve it now with a crisp salad and a fruit dessert and later on, with more substantial courses.

To serve 4, drain liquid from 1 (No. 2 1/2) can sweet potatoes. Mix 1/2 c. of the liquid with 1/4 c. brown sugar, 2 tsp. dark corn syrup, 1 tsp. grated orange rind and 1 tsp. butter. Save remaining liquid for use in vegetable sauces or casseroles.

Simmer 5 min. and add potatoes. Cook over low heat 15 min.

Meanwhile, cut 1 can luncheon meat into 8 slices and brown in tsp. hot fat.

Serve meat and potatoes on a platter with accompanying sauce.

THANKSGIVING DAY Greetings

Mrs. Hinkle registered the following guests: Mrs. W. T. Fisher of 1301 Austin Avenue, Brownwood; Mrs. John Dellis, Mrs. J. H. Saylor, Mrs. Jack Earl Long, Mrs. M. Y. Stokes Jr., and Mrs. Y. B. Johnson.

Mrs. Milton Schwartz welcomed the members and guests for the afternoon. Mrs. Jack Elms gave the invocation and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. W. T. Fisher, who is also a member of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and has been active in Federated work for many years.

In a "Pep Talk" Mrs. Fisher stated the ways in which to avoid becoming mentally ill. Namely, to live a rich and well rounded life, working diligently in the church and community, be interested in others, it will bring you real happiness. Be informed by reading to educate yourself.

A duty for everyone is to welcome back your friend or loved one who has returned home after receiving mental treatment. Help that person rejoin society.

The club is indeed grateful for such an opportunity to have Mrs. Fisher come and be a part of the club activities. The guests and club members were served refreshments from a table laid with a lace cloth and centered with a beautiful harvest arrangement of fruits and flowers. Miss Lucy May Burrus served white fruit cake and Mrs. David Williams poured coffee from a lovely old English their lifetime. The buck that a sportsman shoots at, and misses, doesn't go too far before he slows, then stops. He may even, in a few hours, return to the spot where he was first sighted.

(3) The deer is a browser. So it is logical to hunt those areas where your quarry is most likely to be—copses of stunted trees, brush and shrubs, rather than grassy fields.

However, the deer has a weakness for new oats, and may be found at the edges of such fields during the early morning and late evening. Also, look for him wherever there are acorns and other mast.

He must have water, so scout around the waterholes. In the low country he's there around noon, but in the hills he is more likely to tank up just before dark.

(4) A deer beds down during the day, leaving his bedding area only to seek food and water. But this routine can be disrupted by activity of hunters in the vicinity. He has three move-about periods during daylight hours: dawn until about 9 a. m., noon, and late evening until dark.

(5) A short-cut toward getting your buck is to watch the deer trails. The whitetail follows regular paths to water, to feeding grounds, and to almost everywhere else he moves. Deer also are fond of following fence lines, and will walk up or down one whenever possible. Smart hunters take their stand along such a fence line, especially if it shows signs of deer travel.

(6) Deer invariably leave "signs" of their habitation in an area. Droppings, footprints, rubbed bark, and scrapes tell their own story.

A buck's hoofprint sometimes can be determined by its sharp-pointed toes and dew-laws indentations just to the rear of the print. Does usually have blunter toes and no dew-claw marks. This differentiation of sex by footprints is far from infallible, however, for the older a buck gets the rounder his toes become from natural wear and ground pawing.

A buck at this time of the year is arrogant, scrappy and foolish, and will decoy easily to a pair of antlers rattled and clashed together by a hunter to simulate other fighting bucks.

These are all things a hunter should know before he picks up his gun and goes afield. There are a few other suggestions we might make here, as to type of gun, care in shooting, etc.

Ang good deer rifle is satisfactory. Shotguns loaded with 00 buckshot, or single slugs are good at close range for those unfamiliar with rifles. And the bow and arrow is gaining a lot of popularity.

Whatever you do, don't use a .22 rifle. Many hunters swear by the Winchester carbine 30-30, or 32 caliber, because it is accurate and easy to handle. It is a very good gun in brushy country, but longer rifles are more satisfactory for distances of 150 yards or more.

Use a soft-point bullet for surer kills, and aim for the neck or shoulder just back of the forelegs. Gutshots cripple and lose game.

There are many other bits of lore you will pick up in the woods, so go out and enjoy yourself while you increase your woods knowledge. But remember one thing, BE CAREFUL! The hidden movement you think is a buck may be a man. If you can't count the points on the antlers—DON'T SHOOT!

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: I understand there is a special farmer's social security; where can I sign up for this?

Answer: There is no special social security program for farmers. The social security program that applies to farmers is the same one that city people come under. If you can qualify for benefits or have any question about social security, get in touch with your nearest social security office.

Question: Will farmers get the same increase in their social security benefits that other people get under this new law?

Answer: It doesn't matter whether you've been a farmer or a factory worker—if you are getting social security payments, your payments will be higher with the check that comes February 3, 1959. And you don't have to do anything to get this increase—it will be automatic.

Quail Season Opens Dec. 1

Austin, (Spec.)—Two more shooting seasons on important species will open Dec. 1, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission. Of widest importance will be the opening of quail season, with a bountiful crop reported throughout the state. The deer season west of the Pecos also will be open at that time. Shooting of quail will be legal until Jan. 16, but trans-Pecos deer season will end December 8.

All dove shooting in Texas now is over for the year. Any further killing of doves is illegal.

The season also is open now on all species of geese. It is now legal to kill Canadas and white-fronted geese. He warns, however, no more than two of either of the Canadas or specs, or one of each, may be legally killed.

However, the deer has a weakness for new oats, and may be found at the edges of such fields during the early morning and late evening. Also, look for him wherever there are acorns and other mast.

He must have water, so scout around the waterholes. In the low country he's there around noon, but in the hills he is more likely to tank up just before dark.

(4) A deer beds down during the day, leaving his bedding area only to seek food and water. But this routine can be disrupted by activity of hunters in the vicinity. He has three move-about periods during daylight hours: dawn until about 9 a. m., noon, and late evening until dark.

(5) A short-cut toward getting your buck is to watch the deer trails. The whitetail follows regular paths to water, to feeding grounds, and to almost everywhere else he moves. Deer also are fond of following fence lines, and will walk up or down one whenever possible. Smart hunters take their stand along such a fence line, especially if it shows signs of deer travel.

(6) Deer invariably leave "signs" of their habitation in an area. Droppings, footprints, rubbed bark, and scrapes tell their own story.

A buck's hoofprint sometimes can be determined by its sharp-pointed toes and dew-laws indentations just to the rear of the print. Does usually have blunter toes and no dew-claw marks. This differentiation of sex by footprints is far from infallible, however, for the older a buck gets the rounder his toes become from natural wear and ground pawing.

Deer droppings are clues to whether or not a deer is in the immediate neighborhood. If the pellet-like dung is slick-looking and easily mashed, get ready, for your deer is nearby. If dry-looking he may be a mile distant. Don't however, get deer dung confused with that of sheep, goats, or rabbits. Learn to tell the difference.

Deer pellets are rather elongated, while a rabbit's are round. Goat's and sheep are more like rabbit dung. On rare occasions deer droppings will resemble that of calves, especially when they have been feeding on very succulent plants.

Even better signs to look for than tracks and dropping are the "rubs" and "scrapes" a deer makes. These signs tell you that the deer you are stalking is a buck.

"Rubs" are spots on small tree trunks and saplings where a buck deer has rubbed off the bark with his antlers in an effort to remove the velvet, or later in the season, to polish them.

"Scrapes" are pawed areas of ground near the edges of brush and openings, made during the buck's rutting season. They follow a definite pattern, and are made as a message to possible mates.

Does in heat visit "scrapes" and urinate upon them to leave a scented trail. When the buck retravels the route and finds such invitations from the doe he takes out down the trail after her, oblivious to man, beast, or the elements. He will run right over a hunter if the hunter doesn't get out of his way.

A buck at this time of the year is arrogant, scrappy and foolish, and will decoy easily to a pair of antlers rattled and clashed together by a hunter to simulate other fighting bucks.

These are all things a hunter should know before he picks up his gun and goes afield. There are a few other suggestions we might make here, as to type of gun, care in shooting, etc.

Ang good deer rifle is satisfactory. Shotguns loaded with 00 buckshot, or single slugs are good at close range for those unfamiliar with rifles. And the bow and arrow is gaining a lot of popularity.

Whatever you do, don't use a .22 rifle. Many hunters swear by the Winchester carbine 30-30, or 32 caliber, because it is accurate and easy to handle. It is a very good gun in brushy country, but longer rifles are more satisfactory for distances of 150 yards or more.

Use a soft-point bullet for surer kills, and aim for the neck or shoulder just back of the forelegs. Gutshots cripple and lose game.

There are many other bits of lore you will pick up in the woods, so go out and enjoy yourself while you increase your woods knowledge. But remember one thing, BE CAREFUL! The hidden movement you think is a buck may be a man. If you can't count the points on the antlers—DON'T SHOOT!

Quail Season Opens Dec. 1

Austin, (Spec.)—Two more shooting seasons on important species will open Dec. 1, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission. Of widest importance will be the opening of quail season, with a bountiful crop reported throughout the state. The deer season west of the Pecos also will be open at that time. Shooting of quail will be legal until Jan. 16, but trans-Pecos deer season will end December 8.

All dove shooting in Texas now is over for the year. Any further killing of doves is illegal.

The season also is open now on all species of geese. It is now legal to kill Canadas and white-fronted geese. He warns, however, no more than two of either of the Canadas or specs, or one of each, may be legally killed.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

CAUGHT IN ITALIAN FLOOD—Flood waters that left 10,000 persons homeless in the area inundate the square in the Italian village of Goro. Heavy rains caused the Po River to overflow.

TEXAS—Texas state universities should be on doing the best of one thing — education.

Commission will ask the Legislature for the largest appropriation in history, about $67,000,000 annually, for the state's 18 tax-supported colleges and universities. This would be $10,000,000 a year more than is presently provided. Extra money would be used to provide more teachers, better faculty salaries, improved library and research facilities.

On the other hand, the Commission turned thumbs down on the conducting of a number of extra-curricular activities at state expense. Things which the Commission recommends the Legislature NOT include in the higher education budget: (1) intramural athletics, (2) free or low-cost medical services for students, (3) the 17-year-old Cotton Research Council and the Rodent and Predatory Animal Control Service, (4) a bureau of business research at Texas Tech, (5) Texas A&M's Texas Transportation Institute and (6) operation of museums as a part of five schools.

Legislative Horizon — Beginning of the 56th Legislature is a little more than seven weeks away. Each week brings forward more touchy problems the lawmakers will have to wrestle. Some are new; some have been chewed over in many previous sessions. Examples:

Cities vs. City Employees — Texas League of Municipalities recently voted to ask the Legislature to step out of the field of regulating city employees' salaries, hours and benefits. It's a purely local concern, said the League. State Association of Firefighters and Police Officers Association took a dim view of the proposal. Executives of the two groups met in Austin, promised a fight against "legis-

More School Days—Less fishing and more studying time may be in the offing for Texas school students.

State Board of Education voted to recommend to the Legislature that the present 9-month school year be extended to 10 months. Earlier this month the Hale-Aikin study commission decided to recommend 9½ months of schooling.

A spokesman for the Texas State Teachers Association said he thought teachers were generally favorable to a longer year. More will be known after TSTA has its annual convention in Fort Worth over the Thanksgiving holidays.

Among groups that already have expressed opposition are the operators of summer camps and resorts. A longer school year would mean less time for them to be in operation.

Other questions sure to be raised are the extra costs coming at a time of financial strain and the possible ineffectiveness of study during hot weather weeks.

But probably the sharpest division of thought will be between parents (for) and children (against).

Credit Rates Upheld — State Insurance Department's drastically reduced credit insurance rates are back in effect again. Last spring the Department issued an order which, in effect, cut in half the legal rate that could be charged for credit insurance. Cosmo Ins. Co., Amarillo, and others sued in an Austin district court and obtained a court order preventing the Department from enforcing the new rule.

But the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals reversed this. It held that Cosmo was entitled to a court hearing as to whether the new rates were just and reasonable. Meanwhile, they're in effect.

ICT Suit Re-Filed—A suit charging scores of well-known persons and financial institutions with a share of the blame for ICT's ill-fated history has been re-filed in an Austin district court.

It was originally filed last June when V. F. Taylor was receiver for the case. Then there was a complicated shake-up and turnover in the liquidator-receiver's office, bringing in an almost all-new team.

Now the suit has been filed again with the name of the new receiver, C. H. Langdeau, substituted on the papers.

This probably is the granddaddy of all damage suits. It asks $15,000,000 damages. Defendants include such renowned names as Lloyds of London and Republic National Bank of Dallas.

Prayer Meeting Wednes. night
Singing each 4th Thursday night
(except months of July & Aug.)

There's "food for thought" in a Thanksgiving Day visit to your house of worship

TODAY far too many of us think of Thanksgiving in terms of food and football—overlooking the fact that there is so much more food offered than that which is placed on the family table. For there is much "food for thought" as well.

Thanksgiving is a time to take stock of life's blessings . . . to take a bright-eyed child on your knee and talk to him quietly of things that really matter . . . of his great American heritage and the promise it holds for him. It's a time to take your whole family to your church or synagogue for an hour of prayer and thanks that will make your holiday mean so much more.

True, our lives are far removed from those of the Pilgrim Fathers. We live in the uncertainty of the Atomic Age. But we also live in the abundance of 20th Century America. Has any one of us so much or so little that he cannot find room or time in his heart for thanks?

This Thanksgiving, why not take your family to your church or synagogue? Wherever you are . . . whatever your beliefs may be . . . take time to offer your word of thanks.

November Marks 60th Anniversary Of Kirsche Family Moving To Priddy

The following note by Mrs. Albert Tischler describes some experiences of the Kirsche family when they moved to Priddy 60 years ago.

SIXTY YEARS AGO
The month of this November marks sixty years since Detrick Kirsche moved to Mills County, Priddy, from Richland. It was three days traveling in a wagon.

Party of six, the first night camped out at Georgetown on the second night at Lam-son and the third night on the north side of Goldthwaite.

That night it rained, sleet and ice. Daddy had to get up early and crawled over the wagon without getting anything wet, but he didn't cook anything.

When we came through town of Priddy over the rough hills a bill that was awful, made it. And that day we camped at the old Grandpa Kirsche place. That is where we stayed several months.

When Kirsche bought a 60-acre and sixty-eight acres tract, we had to see to getting a house built and a well dug. Dug one by hand and one by machine. No water in the well had to be drilled.

When a small house was built by 36 and three windows and two doors, but it was empty room. Not much furniture at that time, two chairs, cook stove and a small kitchen table. The house was about half ready as we moved in. No window or door put in. As we moved that day Daddy took one door, windows and hinged the other one. The walls no strip outside or inside. In a few months time it got more finished.

Then the field put in cultivation. Then the parents both start grubbing, digging and burning brush and grubbing big trees and sawing them in two and haul it off.

Then it had to be ploughed, and just three horses, so they borrowed one from Mr. Wasserman so Dad and Ma had each a team, ploughing with a walking plow. They cleaned several acres and made four bales of cotton that year.

Then it had to be fenced, there is one post standing in the fence that dad or mother put in. That was all hard work for the parents, but they made it.

The nearest town was Goldthwaite to get groceries. And nothing much fenced. The old steers and big wild looking cows came nights stamping around the house and the wolves be howling standing behind you if you had gone out after dark. But they made it.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Albert Tischler.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

We had snow Monday night, Nov. 16. The forecast said there would be four inches. Billy and Johnny were jubilant, hoping there would be no school. Monday morning dawned a beautiful sight, but the snow on the ground measured only 1 1/2 inches. The radio said there would be school. The thermometer dropped to 18. Thursday morning on the north side of the house I could still see a little bit of that snow. The freeze got the tomato vines, the marigolds and the rosebuds, and the chrysanthemums are no longer beautiful.

There are many garden clubs in El Paso. And they put contests in the paper and urge all who will to enter. Then the garden club ladies come around and judge and classify your garden. Last spring I entered my daffodils. They were put in the first class. So I got a blue ribbon. This fall I entered my chrysanthemums and marigolds. In Tuesday's paper I saw my name in the First Class list, again. So I'll get another blue ribbon.

We had a letter from Mrs. Edna Dwyer recently. Mrs. Effie Egger had been to see her. Her husband's niece, Mrs. Viola Long, of Austin, spent Veterans' Day with her. In the afternoon they went to Indian Creek to see Miss Cora Posey. Miss Cora is still doing fine with her broken hip. A 12-year-old boy stays with her what time he is not in school.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hanna of Oakland had come for Mrs. Dwyer and she stayed with them for a few days. While there she spent a day and night with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crowder. She says it is just amazing what Frank's wife has done for his bachelor quarters. The house is all cleaned up and redecorated. Emily has brought in some beautiful furniture of her own, and the place just looks grand. Congratulations to the Frank Crowders.

I was grieved at the passing of Ben Egger. Mrs. Dwyer said she had never seen so many people, nor so many flowers as there were at his funeral. The Eggers have long been such a prominent part of both the Ebony and Regency communities. And that Regency store which Ben and Henry ran was for so many years an institution for all the people roundabout. My deepest sympathy to all his loved ones.

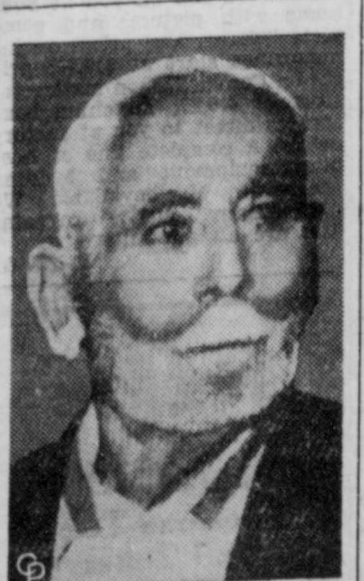

Mrs. Dwyer says she will soon be going to Victoria for the winter. Her daughter, Mrs. Austin Cawyer, wrote her they would come for her Wednesday before Thanksgiving.

In last week's Eagle I found several things that made my heart rejoice and made me realize that my County Seat is keeping pace with the times.

That Foreword from the Mills County History, surely commends the History as a worthy volume and confers on Mrs. Flora Gatlin Bowles a high honor.

Besides all those Grand Champion Steers Mills County boys have won, I find another First. That Mills County Commission Company, operated by Malcolm and Signor Jernigan, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram declares their Sheep and Goat Auction Sale to be the largest in the United States. Hurray! for Mills County and the Jernigan boys.

The designation of the paving of our road from Ridge to the Brownwood - Richland Springs road is surely good news to me. I only wish that I could appear before the Commissioners' Court with a petition to grant us a straight road from the gate at the Griffin place to the Wilmeth place, and put a bridge—or at least a low-water crossing—across Buffalo Creek, that we might stand a chance to have our mail delivered to, at least, walking distance from our house.

ESCAPES KIDNAPERS—Albert Castello, 72, the Copiague, N. Y., tourist who escaped from Sicilian kidnapers, is shown in Trapani, Sicily, where he pleaded with officials to let him "take the first boat home." Suffering from shock, after a week's ordeal, Castello said he had been kept in a cave in the mountains.

AUTO STRIKE SETTLED—John D. Leary (left), vice president of Chrysler, and Walter Reuther, head of the United Automobile Workers, shake hands in Detroit after reaching a settlement which sent 44,000 Chrysler employees back to work. The plant had been idled by a strike of 8,000 white-collar workers. The three-year agreement climaxed 35 hours of negotiations.

NEWS from YOUR COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT
TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

BY GEORGE G. REESE
Mr. Maurice M. Chastain, District Manager, Social Security Administration, Temple, Texas, has sent me a letter pertaining to Social Security. Part of the letter is as follows:
Congress has made the following changes in the law:
1. Benefit payments have been increased.
2. Maximum family benefits were increased to $254 per month.
3. Dependents of persons qualifying for disability payments are now eligible for payments.
4. All benefits are payable in full even though a veteran's pension or other pensions are being received.
To qualify for these benefits, a person must pay social security taxes regularly over a period of years. For example, a farmer born in January, 1904, will need 9 years' credit to be eligible for ANY retirement benefits at age 65, and he will need 13 years' credit to get the best advantages of the program. Of course, if he becomes disabled or dies before reaching age 65, he will not need that much credit for disability benefits or survivors benefits.
All farm operators who make a profit of $400.00 or more in a year are covered by the Social Security Law, and they must file an income tax return and pay the small self-employment tax at the end of the year. This gives them one year's credit.
But what about the year they have heavy expenses and do not make as much as $400 profit, Congress provided a special option for farmers and ranchers so they could keep their social security paid up even if they did not make $400 profit. This option works this way. If a farmer's gross farm income is $600 or more in a year, he may get social security credit up to $1200 by paying the tax on 2/3 of his

CONTROLLING POST OAKS AND BLACKJACK OAKS

Chemicals have been developed for the control of post and blackjack oak and are doing an efficient job where they are used right. Now is the time to begin locating these chemicals for use during the months when the leaves are gone and before the flowers begin to appear. There are several brush controlling chemicals that have been proven successful on the market now. Some of these are 2,4,5-T; Karmex, Karmex W, Karmex FW, and Fenuron. Fenuron is the newest and it is in pellet form. Instructions for the use of these chemicals is on the container of each one.

Allow your new grasses to get a good start by grazing very lightly or better still, don't graze at all the first growing season.

TEXAS WATER PROSPECTS IN 1959
It won't be news to people in the flood-soaked Rio Grande Valley but fall rains over much of Texas bring reasonable assurance of good surface water supplies for 1959.
The Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande has backed up more than its share of irrigation water for the next growing season. But unfortunately, the state as a whole has not even approached its potential in irrigation. The New Texas Water Project, which like the old project along its major streams, gives good for the natural underground resources upon which many of us depend.

GETS SCALP TREATMENT—Detective Joseph Standish grips the hair of Harold Konigsburg, 31, of Bayonne, N. J., who glowers at photographers while being booked in Kearny, N. BRENNAM AND HEMPSTEAD RAILROAD

We learn from Col. W. M. Lewis, that they have 100 hands at work on this road on the west side of the Brazos River, and Col. L. only gives until the first of July, 1859, to complete the road to Brenham.

The grass hoppers appear to have mostly left (from Travis County), and those which remain do not jump as far as the length of their legs would seem to argue their ability to do so. A friend of ours says he noticed one, yesterday morning, slowly limping away with a sprained ankle, and an icicle hanging to the end of his nose.

L. D. Phillips, Esq., writes

Let us give thanks for our leaders, who through the years have felt the need for preserv- ing "Thanksgiving Day" as a holy day.

Let us give God thanks this season for the opportunities for worship in public each week and in our family circle every day.

Let us not forget, in this modern age, the importance in giving thanks which our forefathers saw and preserved for us.

Let us give God special thanks this year for the blessings which He has bestowed so wonder- fully upon each of us, our families and our nation.

'Eligible Voters' For Cotton Vote Has Been Defined

College Station, (Spec.) — Farmers "eligible to vote" in the upcoming referendum on 1959-crop cotton marketing quotas has been defined by Searcy M. Ferguson, Chairman, Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

one who engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1958 is eligible to vote in the December 15 referendum," the Chairman explained. "This, of course, would include all persons — whether owner, operator, tenant, or sharecropper—who had an interest in the 1958 upland cotton crop.

"However, under the provisions of law now in effect, the term 'eligible voters' also includes some other persons whose right to vote on cotton quotas may not be so well understood," Ferguson declared.

"For instance, any grower who had a 1958 cotton allotment for his farm but who produced no cotton this year is also eligible to cast a ballot on 1959-crop quotas.

"Likewise, a farmer who placed his 1958 cotton allotment in the Soil Bank is eligible to vote in the December referendum.

"These are the principal classes of persons who are defined as 'eligible,'" the Chairman stated, "but persons may also qualify to vote as a guardian, administrator, executor, or trustee for another person. In such a case the person for whom he is acting may not also vote.

"Each individual's right to vote depends upon his or her own qualifications," Chairman Ferguson concluded, "and this applies to husbands and wives, as well as minors who were engaged in the production of cotton in 1958."

Where any person has a question about his eligibility to vote in the December 15 referendum on 1959 cotton marketing quotas, he is urged to get in touch with his local county ASC office where he may obtain all the necessary facts.

FIFTH BEEF WEEK IN TEXAS — Governor Price Daniel, himself a rancher, proclaimed December 1-7 as Beef Week in Texas at his ranch in Liberty, Texas. Receiving the salute for the cattle industry which "has built for Texas an international fame as the world's foremost beef producing area" is Leo J. Welder, president of the Texas Beef Council, sponsor of the annual event.
