Street Paving Program Gets Boost

City To Purchase New Equipment For Paving And Pavement Upkeep

Prospects for paving more streets in the city got a major boost Monday night when the city council approved purchase of necessary equipment to enable the city to do new street paving and properly maintain streets that are already paved.

This action was taken after the council heard a report from the street committee, Joe Langford and Sam Edington and city manager W. C. Barnett on what equipment is needed and cost of same. The committee had been instructed by the council at their February meeting to investigate the matter.

After hearing the report and discussing the matter the council authorized the street committee and city manager to purchase a gravel spreader box, asphalt distributor, motor driven broom and an asphalt storage tank of approximately 6,000 gallon capacity. This new equipment will cost approximately $5,500.

With this new equipment and equipment already owned the city will be in position to properly maintain streets that are already paved and do some new paving. New paving that is undertaken will have to be paid for by property owners sharing the cost. Cost of paving will be $1.00 per running foot for property owners on each side of the street. This price is based on streets 40 feet wide. Streets that are wider than the normal 40 feet will cost slightly more based on the width.

It was pointed out at the meeting that this move does not necessarily mean that the city will go into a fast street paving program. Streets will be paved in the order that property owners get ready to pay for the blocks or streets and as the streets can be prepared for paving by city crews. The matter of need with respect to heavy travel on certain streets will also be considered.

Paving will be worked into the schedule of city activities and with regular city employees assisted some with extra help in order to hold costs down. New equipment will be paid for with funds from the Electric department and there will be no extra tax on property owners.

OTHER BUSINESS

Dr. M. A. Childress was appointed city health officer for a term of three years.

The council approved installation of a meter at the city limits line to provide water for Circle X Enterprises.

Financial report was presented for the past month and the council approved transfer of $5,000 from the Electric fund to the General Fund.

The need and purchase of insulated motor operated 30 ft. aerial ladder, new pickup truck and a short wave communications system were discussed and action was deferred until the next meeting.

Joe Langford and Sam Edington were named on a committee to contact the Jernigan Brothers regarding the sale or lease of certain buildings and land where the Commission Company operates.

Red Cross Drive Is In Full Swing

GHS Graduate Little's Staff

CHESTER BERRY
Chester Berry, member of the Goldthwaite High School graduation class of 1958, has joined the staff of Little's Dry Goods, announced this week by Little. He assumed his duties Monday.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Britton Moline Route, Chester is a member of the FFA live-stock judging team, lettered in for three years and was member of the Junior and Senior Hall of Fame. He also has been employed at Goldthwaite's championship ball teams.

His wife, Dorothy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Berry. She was Junior Class member while in GHS. Chester has been employed at Goldthwaite before and Fort Worth before and decided to re-locate to Goldthwaite to make a home.

land leased on the old Priddy highway north of the Municipal Ball Park.

Arrangements for the lease were worked out by the Goldthwaite Industrial committee. Members of the committee have worked with Schuster on this move for several months.

The business which has been operated at the ranch west of Priddy consists of gathering, processing and shipping decorative dried materials.

The firm has just completed a 40 ft. by 80 ft. warehouse and display area and plans call for moving a 20 ft. by 200 ft. packing shed from the ranch to join the warehouse here. They will build four thousand square feet of drying racks for drying dyed pieces.

They ship from 7,000 to 10,000 cases of finished materials per season. Materials are shipped in natural, in bulk, packaged in small bags and in various dyed exotic colors of fall yellows, red, browns, etc.

The dried materials business, which covers some 150 different plant items in the line, branched out of the Mistletoe business about six years ago. It has doubled in volume each year.

The firm grows annually at Priddy, 50 acres of special variety of sorghum and okra for decorative pods and plumes. They employ regularly three men full time for processing, shipping and collecting trips to Texas coast, north and west Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. They have an experienced packing crew of 25 ladies. They work about 10 weeks during the rush season in late Summer and early Fall.

Some unusual plants are grown for the firm in Northern California. They regularly receive shipments to supplement their line out of the Sierras in Southern California. Other items are collected in Florida, Ohio and the Ozarks. In the course of a year they use several tons of broomweeds which they cut each fall with a grain binder.

Dried materials are such simple things as cotton burrs, okra pods (dried), yucca pods and dock, which if you are not too accustomed to seeing them are considered a thing of beauty to housewives or club ladies who like to arrange and decorate with this type of flora. It's not exactly a new fad though more and more women are beginning to develop an interest with the new colors and items. People have commercialized on these in the U. S. for 30 years and the

Eagle To Publish Fourth Annual Soil Conservation Issue May 7

Plans are now underway for the fourth annual Soil Conservation issue of the Eagle to be published on Thursday, May 7, it was announced this week. The announcement was made by members of the Eagle staff and Hubert Berry, supervisor of the local work unit, Soil Conservation Service.

Members of the Eagle staff, members of the Soil Conservation Service and a number of other interested individuals will take part in preparing material for this special issue.

The special edition will come out during Soil Conservation Week which will be observed this year from May 3 to 10. Many churches in the area will observe Soil Stewardship Sunday on May 10.

Last year, the third annual special issue, received much favorable comment from a wide area. There were more than fifty ancient Egyptians were even known to decorate with dried pods and leaves.

There will be a display room open to the general public after April 1. While the firm generally sells only to wholesale jobbers on a nationwide basis there will be a complete variety of packaged materials on display for sale on a "Help-yourself-honor-system" basis.

Schuster planned the move from the ranch to Goldthwaite to renew the quiet in the country for their home and to get nearer to express and motor freight terminals. With the new extended area telephone service coverage Goldthwaite was the ideal location.

special feature articles and pictures telling the story of benefits from soil conservation practices. A large number of business firms and individuals who are interested in the program carried special advertising messages in the issue. Also a number of contractors who do much of the work in connection with soil conservation practices in the area.

Plans this year call for more pictures of soil conservation and range management practices and their benefits in Mills County.

A number of those who carried ads in last year's issue have already indicated that they will again want space this year for their special messages.

Work on preparing material is now underway with actual typesetting on feature stories for the issue to start this week.

FISHER'S REPLY—Here is a reply from Congressman O. C. Fisher, who is representing this district in Washington, to the questions that this column directed to him a month ago. It was with reference to house action on granting the deposed minority leader of the house, Joe Martin, (R-Mass.) money for extra office help and a government owned car and chauffeur.

"Dear Mr. Koleber:

"I have just received from you an excerpt from your paper in which you quote from a letter some one in Chicago wrote to a Chicago Congressman in Washington in regard to an action in Congress whereby Congressman Joe Martin of Massachusetts was allowed to use a government car and was allowed to retain some office help which he had on his staff as former Minority leader.

"Now I will try to answer your questions. Is the report correct? Answer: Yes. What moved members of the house to take such action? Answer: I do not know. Only the members individually could answer that question. I cannot speak their minds. Were you present when this matter was acted on? Answer: Yes. If present, how did you vote? Answer: I voted against it.

"I am sorry I missed your editorial or I would have given you the information immediately after it was published. I usually scan the papers carefully, but overlooked this article.

"With best wishes, I remain, Sincerely, O. C. Fisher."

Just to refresh our readers' memories on the subject I want to point out that the Democratic controlled Congress allowed Martin $26,000 for extra office help, plus use of a new Government owned Cadillac and chauffeur. Not much, just roughly $35,000.

He was entitled to this and probably quite used to it since for many years he was Minority house leader for the Republicans. When his party members decided to retire him from this post the Democrats felt sorry for him and voted it for him anyway.

All of this makes one wonder just how far our duly elected Congressmen-Senators are going along the way of handing out the tax money.

It looks like they are getting to the point where handing it out on silver platters to everyone whom they promised some to in order to get their votes is getting them so calloused that they are even going on a wild spending spree and have started handing it out in sizeable chunks to politicians of the opposing party.

THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH—R. J. Schindler, Bangs, was the subject of nice article appearing in the Brown County Gazette a while back. It tells something about his many years of service to a wide area as a Blacksmith. Here are some excerpts from the story:

"There aren't many of them left—in fact, only one in Brown County. But the one remaining blacksmith in the county, R. J. Schindler of Bangs, has all the virtues penned by Longfellow in his immortal "Village Blacksmith."

"Still operating his shop in Bangs, Schindler has the oldest business here, save the First State Bank, having kept his doors open daily for 44 years.

"The fourth of 15 children, Schindler is the son of a cabinet maker, and probably inherited his creative hands from his father. Born in La Vaca County 76 years ago, he did blacksmithing in San Saba, Goldthwaite and Brownwood before opening his shop here July 7, 1914.

"More important than his work in Goldthwaite was his marriage there to the former Lucy Crawford in 1911. She is the daughter of a pioneer Goldthwaite family. (Lucy is a sister of our Eagle Correspondent from Chappell Hill, Pearl Crawford.)

"He hasn't found any youth willing to give up three years to learn the trade, like he had to do, but he still has no plans for retirement. "I've got to stay in business," he said, "There's nobody else to do the work."

A few young men might do very well to take up the trade and learn to be a good blacksmith.

Peace Through Strength is Ike's Biggest Goal | Curbing Inflation Now Most Important Topic

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Now that President Eisenhower has submitted his annual messages to Congress it is appropriate to assess current administration trends and goals.

On the foreign scene, one factor stands out above all others—determination to remain firm on the policy goal of peace through deterrent strength, but flexible and open-minded on negotiable points toward this objective.

The President

Domestically, the over-riding factor is the problem of inflation. This was dealt with in some detail in all three presidential messages, the "State of the Union" speech, the Budget message and the Economic report.

Governmental economy is the order of the day and it is noteworthy to report that Mr. Eisenhower is determined to do all in his power to curb further inflationary pressures, insofar as federal activities can control that economic force. His hard-headed approach to a balanced budget—one in which spending is offset by income—is the best evidence of this determination.

Defense preparedness, the ability to deter other war by massive retaliatory capability, continues to pre-occupy Washington officials both the administration and Congress. The Republican-Democratic battle will be fought on this front, and the outcome will shape government policies for years to come.

NEW DRUG—A new, high-priced drug is under development by the National Institutes of Health. Preliminary tests on animals show that it is ten times more effective as a painkiller than morphine, which has been the basic staple for this kind of application for many years.

The drug, now known only as NIH7519, is in the laboratory stage of development, although it has been tested under rigorous conditions on some 200 humans. According to its discoverers it holds promise of being substituted for the addict-causing morphine, and may open the way for at least a partial separation of painkilling and addicting properties that have made morphine so difficult to use.

One wonders, though, why the government chose to make public its discovery at this time, before its tests have progressed to the point of reasonable assurance of practical usage, and before any feasible manufacturing process has been devised.

One answer probably lies in the cynical view of some Washingtonians that this is the time of year when Congress is about to examine government budget requests, and there is no greater stimulant to bigger budgets than the kind of promise contained in prospects for solving some age-old medical problem.

JOHNSON'S POWER—In the aftermath of the Senate fight over anti-filibuster rules, some long-time legislative experts are wondering whether Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson, of Texas, did not hurt himself by his display of power of the Senate.

Johnson expertly beat back all efforts of the Republican-Democratic liberal bloc to make it easier to stop filibusters, and got overwhelming approval for his own "compromise" which makes it possible to end talkathons by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the senators present.

This, according to the defeated liberals, is no compromise at all. They considered themselves thoroughly beaten, which they were.

However, some Senate observers note that Johnson achieved voting strength through threats and bribes concerning committee assignments and member's pet bills. As one put it, "the people don't like such displays of raw power. Johnson may find he has won this battle, only to lose the war for control of the Democratic party in 1960."

There was a good attendance at church this morning and Brother Dycus, wife and baby were dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Emma Ranson.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mr. George Mason and extend our sympathy to his family and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Geeslin had the misfortune of having an explosion in their home last week. Mrs. Geeslin and son, David, were burned and a lot of damage was done, but they were fortunate that there was no more of them burned. They have a lot to be thankful for.

Mrs. George Brown is in a Waco hospital and will receive major surgery Tuesday. We all hope she gets along fine. Her daughter, Mrs. Delbert Shears, is with her and will stay with her after she returns home.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Geeslin and baby came by and visited with us awhile Saturday evening. They had been to Goldthwaite to show off their girl, Mrs. Florence Geeslin had not seen the baby. They sure have a beautiful baby, she is just a little doll. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Geeslin and were going to Lyle Geeslin's, his Dad, to spend the night.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frank and Hilda Mae attended funeral services in Hamilton for Mrs. Limmer, an aunt of Mrs. Frank. Mrs. Limmer died at Corpus Christi after a long illness. Mrs. Limmer was a sister of Mrs. Paul Ising. We extend our deepest sympathy to the family and loved ones of Mrs. Limmer.

Mr. Frank McCasland and Mr. Stacy McCasland visited with us awhile Sunday evening, also Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hill.

Mrs. Odell Langford and Maurice, Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Coffman and children and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coffman and children visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coffman at Evans. Mr. Coffman is not doing so well, Mrs. Coffman is doing very well, just cannot see too well.

Rev. T. W. Hogan has been ill and I understood he was going to have surgery or had had surgery. Anyway, we all wish him a speedy recovery. He married a local girl, Ann Wright.

Charles Griffin is sick with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Ace Kinchele and girls visited us Sunday and also visited Grover and Oneta Kinchele at Star.

Mrs. Virgie Wild is doing some better. She was able to attend Sunday School and church Sunday.

We were glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Hardie Collier, Mr. Bert Mason and Mrs. Jones at church Sunday - morning; also Mrs. John L. House and all others, come again.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hill visited Mr. and Mrs. Z. Karnes awhile Sunday evening.

ing their 47th anniversary this year with the theme, "You Can Count on Her to be Creative." Special emphasis is being given to arts, homemaking and service projects because the Girl Scouts believe that it is essential for every youngster to develop self confidence and initiative as well as specific talents. The men and women who serve as volunteers in the Girl Scouts and in other youth groups should be congratulated. They are not only helping youngsters, they are serving their community and country as well.

Scallorn News

By MRS. ORA BLACK

Signs of Spring are making their appearance such as a few green twigs, a few peach trees now and then in bloom, which we hope escapes the late freezes that generally come around Easter.

Some early gardening is getting underway by a few of us, who take a chance at early vegetables.

March 12 is the date for the Community Social. Make plans to be there and bring a covered dish, also tables and dominoes.

Huntis Black, now stationed at Fort Chaffee, Arkansas, was home last weekend.

Dr. Turman and family of Austin spent last weekend here with the C. H. Blacks.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hughes spent Sunday night with the C. H. Blacks. They came here from Arkansas after visiting two weeks in Arkansas, with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Earl Winters and their two youngsters, who came here from Evant are now settled in their new home at Shady Oak Ranch, which they bought recently from Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hughes.

We gladly welcome this young couple into the community.

Dogs or wolves, maybe both, are doing quite a bit of damage to goat and sheepmen in this community. Seems Mr. Winters was the hardest hit as he lost 15 head of sheep one night last week and others were left badly injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blake visited in Coleman with Mrs. Archie Bryson Ward, Monday. Word from Mrs. Bryson Sunday stated her husband was a patient in Abilene hospital after undergoing surgery.

Layton Black of ACC, Abilene, spent the weekend with his parents.

ONE STAR Agriculture

Released by Department of Agriculture

By John C. White, Commissioner

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES PUBLIC PROTECTION

The week of March 1 through 7 has been officially designated as Weights and Measures Week by the Texas Department of Agriculture as a special time for recognizing our most valuable public protection.

Practically everything purchased in connection with daily living needs is bought in terms of a fixed amount for price, careful regulation necessary to see that we get amount of goods for which we pay.

Protective regulation is through the agencies which regulate weighing and measuring devices. In Texas, the Texas Department of Agriculture through its division of Weights and Measures has the responsibility of checking such devices for accuracy, ranging from intricate pharmacy scales to huge commercial scales such as are used at public weighing stations.

Weights and Measures Week is a good time for everyone to stop and recognize the direct individual protection provided by this valuable service.

MARCH IS EGG MONTH

Texas egg production is on the increase, and during March—the month nationally designated by the egg industry as "its" month—fine quality Texas eggs will be available at reasonable prices all over the state.

March is a good month for buying and using more eggs. For persons observing meatless days during the Lenten season, eggs provide the rich protein and other food value needed. For school bake sale days as well as great eating at home, extra eggs in home-baked breads and cakes will make everyone healthier and happier. And at Eastertime, of course, nothing provides the genuine pleasure and spirit of the season like the home-decorated boiled egg.

Texans who buy and eat more Texas eggs during March will be supporting an advancing Texas Agricultural industry while doing themselves a big personal favor.

BROILER CHICKENS: BIG BUSINESS IN TEXAS

The business of raising and marketing broiler chickens in Texas has become a major agricultural industry. In 1958, Texas

STRIKE VIOLENCE IN PITTSBURGH—Police and a picket mix it up at the Allis-Chalmers plant in Pittsburgh, Pa. Some 100 United Auto Workers pickets tried to stop a freight train from entering the plant. Twenty-six pickets were hauled off to jail. Two policemen were treated for cuts and bruises and one picket was treated for a back injury. About 13,600 U.A.W. members have been on strike at eight Allis-Chalmers plants throughout the United States since the beginning of February.

Prepare Now For Good Fall Quail Hunting

Austin, (Spec.)—Now is the time to get ready for next season's quail crop. This comes from W. J. Cutbirth, Jr., assistant secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

"The preparations made now, in providing cover and feed, will have much to do with this year's quail crop," Mr. Cutbirth said. "Apparently we have a carry-over that is above the average. In some places birds did not get enough feed during the winter and have perished. Fortunately, however, we didn't have a long heavy freeze and many of the birds pulled through."

"This indicates the importance of providing both cover and feed for quail if we expect to have a good crop. Hunters and landowners can cooperate in this program, which will be beneficial to both."

The Game Commission game farm at Tyler will have quail for release again this year, according to Mr. Cutbirth. Application should be made early. These applications can be sent to the Austin office, or landowners can contact their game wardens.

When the applications are received the land will be checked by the warden to determine whether there is sufficient cover and feed available. Shipments then will be made from the hatchery. The price will remain the same as before, 50 cents per bird.

as broiler producers grossed 63 million dollars. Added to the even greater income enjoyed by Texas broiler processors and their employees, this spells a big business—quite a cry from the first days of commercial broiler raising in Texas some 25 years ago.

Commercial broiler growing was originated in Texas in the early thirties, starting around the Smiley-Nixon-Gonzales area in South Texas. In 1934 total state production was 1½ million birds. In 1958, 114.3 million broilers were produced in Texas, mostly in East, Southeast and South portions of the state.

Report On Savings Bonds

W. P. Duren, Chairman of the Mills County Savings Bonds Committee, announced that the 1959 Savings Bonds Goal for Mills County will be $225,000.

"During the month of January, the people of this county purchased $20,319 in Series E and H bonds which was 9% of our 1959 goal," Duren reported.

The 1959 goal for Texas is $182,500,000. Sales during January totaled $16,147,649, which represents 8.8% of the 1959 sales goal.

"A part of every American's savings should be invested in Savings Bonds, to provide for his future and to add strength to the national economy," stated Mr. Duren, County Chairman.

Eddy Jones Is Member Of Taurus Club At Baylor

Waco, Texas, (Spec.)—Charles Edward Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones of Goldthwaite, has been accepted for membership in Taurus Society, men's social organization at Baylor University.

Jones is a freshman at Baylor. He is a 1958 graduate of Goldthwaite High School.

Wayne Wilcox Does Student Teaching

San Marcos, (Spec.)—Wayne Wilcox of Goldthwaite is one of the senior students from Southwest Texas State College now practicing teaching throughout south Texas.

Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilcox, is instructing agriculture at Navarro High School near Seguin for 9 weeks.

Two plans for practice teaching are being used: a student teacher can either teach all day for 9 weeks or one-half day for 18 weeks. Before practice teaching began, each person was required to make a general outline for class leadership and a long-range teaching plan to be used while participating in the program.

Purpose of practice teaching which began Jan. 30, is to observe students while learning classroom management, to participate in leading a class, to work with the individual pupil and to take complete charge of a class for at least one unit of work.

Impala Sport Coupe—like every Chevy—has Safety Plate Glass all around.

Chevy stops quickest... goes farthest on a gallon!

Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in a test of repeated stops at highway speeds conducted and certified by NASCAR*. Chevy also won over the other two in a NASCAR economy run—with the highest gas mileage for 6's and V8's at cruising speeds of just over 55 miles an hour.

Here's a car that knows how to get the most out of a gallon. And it's the only car in its field to bring you hydraulic valve lifters in all popular engines—6 and V8. This means smoother, quieter performance for you. There are many other advances just as fundamental as the efficiency of Chevrolet's engines and the dependability of its new brakes (with more lining area than any other low-priced car). But why not stop by your dealer's and let Chevy do its own sweet talking!

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas—56th Legislature is moving like a snowplow—with the snow still falling and the snowballs flying.

Taxing and spending committees are pushing doggedly through their hearing schedules. But new bills are still swirling into their path, and, in whatever direction they move, they're constantly pelted with objections.

With the 120-day session nearing the halfway point, each passing day increases the possibility that they'll come to the May 12 quitting deadline still "snowed under."

Overhaul Plan—Rep. Frates Seeligson is pushing his take-some, add-some tax plan as a long-needed updating of Texas' tax structure.

Seeligson (of San Antonio) told the House Revenue and Taxation Committee that many taxes still on the books (such as those on clock peddlers, wax-works, medicine shows, etc.) are no longer useful. Others, such as the chain store tax, he called inequitable.

Seeligson's bill would repeal some 38 such taxes and increase levies in other areas—auto sales, cigarettes, liquor, beer, corporation franchises. His plan also would include two ideas backed by Gov. Price Daniel—to take over abandoned property for the state and to make a book-keeping transfer of $18,000,000.

But unlike the governor, Seeligson is frankly pulling for a general sales tax.

Other new tax ideas are to increase the levy on beer from $4.30 to $10 a barrel, by Rep. Leon Thurman of Anson.

thur has introduced a five per cent gross receipts tax on hotels, motels, rooming house rentals and airline passenger business. Oliver also proposed a five-cent-a-gallon tax on soft drink syrup and a three per cent levy on pop sales.

Gals At It Again—That hardy repeater from many past sessions, the women's equal rights amendment, is back again.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas is sponsor of the proposed constitutional amendment which would remove legal restrictions on women.

Representatives of the Federated Business and Professional Women told the Senate Committee that some Texas laws classify women with "infants, imbeciles and lunatics." They pointed to the statute that prevents a married woman's selling, without her husband's permission, property she acquired on her own hook.

As usual, no one opposed the women. But the proposal was packed off to the attorney general for a "full appraisal of what effect it would have."

Of Church And State—Religion and politics got mixed—with explosive results—when four legislators announced they had heard atheism was being taught in state colleges.

A bill to require faculty members in state schools to take an oath they believed in a supreme being was introduced by the four. They are Reps. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs, Ben Lewis of Dallas and W. T. Dungan of McKinney.

College officials and university pastors joined in calling the charge "ridiculous." Several University of Texas spokesmen, both educators and ministers, said they had never known a time when there was more sincere interest in religion among both faculty and students than at present.

Why Vaccinate?—Sen. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford and the medical profession are at odds as to the value of smallpox vaccinations.

Sen. Bradshaw refused to send his four children to Austin schools, which require vaccinations, and is teaching them himself in his office. He also introduced a bill which would prohibit local school boards from requiring that children be vaccinated before they can attend school.

Quoting from a 34-year-old medical article, Bradshaw told the Senate Public Health Committee, "the bedbug is the sole conveyor of smallpox."

But medical spokesmen credited vaccinations with eliminating the scourge that once killed thousands every year. Dr. J. M. Coleman of Austin told the committee that allowing children to come to school unvaccinated had the same "potential for destruction" as allowing them to bring "pistols and switchblade knives."

Four Alarm Hearing—Committee discussion of bills on city firemen's and policemen's hours brought more spectators than a first class fire.

City officials and the firemen's and policemen's associations are in a head-on clash over the old issue.

A bill by Rep. Robert Johnson of Dallas would set maximum hours, increase overtime pay for fire and police work in cities over 10,000. A rival bill by Rep. Ben Sudderth of Brownwood would give the cities control over these matters.

City officials declare the people who have to foot the bill ought to be able to make the decisions. Spokesmen for the associations said, in effect, that they have to come to the legislature because they can't get any help from their cities.

How Much Cream?—Milk producers and milk sellers are squabbling as to whether the law should require that milk be labeled as to butterfat content. House Health Committee sent the labeling bill to a sub-panel. Retailers opposed the bill, said the procedure would be costly. They said, too, that there would be competition to provide richer milk which a calorie-conscious public doesn't want. Present law requires 3.25 per cent butterfat content for whole milk.

Producers said they thought the public ought to know what they're buying.

Short Snorts—Texas Capitol grounds of the 1980's will extend almost to the University of Texas campus, if plans materialize. A proposed master plan, unveiled by Governor Daniel and the State Building Commission, aims at continuing present expansion northward by four blocks and in a four-block-wide strip. National Safety Council sent congratulations to Governor Daniel for Texas' eight per cent drop in traffic deaths for 1958. Latest reports show 2,336 killed last year as compared to 2,539 the year before.

Final Rites For John R. Brandon Held In Lampasas Tuesday Morning

Funeral services for John R. Brandon, pioneer Lampasas County rancher, were held Tuesday morning, March 3, at 10 o'clock in the Briggs-Gamel Funeral Home. Services were conducted by Rev. George Brown of Temple and Rev. Don Cochran, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Lampasas.

Palbearers were Sig Jernigan, Fred Allen, Joe Allen, John R. Brandon II, Jack Brandon and Lewis Long.

Mr. Brandon was born in the Oakalla community of Burnet County, Texas, March 28, 1886, son of George A. Brandon and Levina Jane Bebout Brandon. He passed away at his home Sunday morning, March 1, 1959.

He was instrumental in introducing registered Delaine sheep into Texas. And at one time he was among the largest if not the largest breeder of registered Delaine sheep in the state. Mr. Brandon was known in this capacity for a period of 20 years. At one time he was president of the American Merino Breeders Association. During this time he made frequent trips to Ohio, Michigan, Vermont and other states to purchase the finest bloodlines to improve his flock.

For 41 years or more Mr. Brandon had been active as a livestock inspector for the First National Bank of Lampasas of which he was also a director. Hundreds, perhaps thousands of loans were made upon the recommendation of Mr. Brandon whose reputation as an appraiser of livestock and real estate values were recognized throughout the state and southwest.

At the age of 16 Mr. Brandon was married to Miss Myrtle McGuire. Three children were born to this marriage.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Myrtle Brandon of Lampasas; two daughters, Mrs. Fred Allen of Lampasas and Mrs. S. D. Jernigan of Goldthwaite; a son, George William Brandon; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Coss of Santa Barbara, California and Mrs. Maude Bryant of Jasper, Tennessee.

MEMBERSHIP TROPHY—Members of Mills County Farm Bureau, who received special recognition last year for the greatest percentage gain in membership, will launch their annual membership drive with a kick-off supper at McLean Cafe Monday night at 7:30.

Shown here is W. W. Fox, secretary-treasurer, of the local chapter, as he received the silver cup from a representative of Plains Co-operative Oil Mill at the annual state convention at Corpus Christi in November. Mills County won the cup for the best percentage gain in membership which scored 453 per cent.

Their membership drive will open Tuesday morning and will be completed in the week. W. C. Fox, vice-president, is membership chairman. Homer McCasland is president and directors are Gesslin, Oran Carothers, H. C. Schunke, V. Z. Cornelius, Glynn Sanders, Hobart Priddy, E. J. Ekhammer, Andy Rowlett, J. C. Humphries and Hulon Egger.

Present membership is approximately 150 and they have set their goal for 75 new members by this drive.

consuming food that otherwise might go into making bigger and better game fish.

When and impoundment becomes overpopulated with these fast breeding shad, there are three methods of control.

Simplest, of course, is to empty the lake. Sometimes this is done. But seldom is it practical.

Another method is a heavy dosage capable of killing all the fish in the lake. Naturally, this is undesirable.

The next step is a selective kill. Usually the water of the lake is lowered. Then a mixture of rotenone is spread over the surface of the lake, either by plane or boat. This is the latest and the preferred method.

Within the last few years many tons of shad have been killed by this selective treatment. Better fishing always has resulted. It is a constant job, however, because the shad mul-

Commercial Fishermen Helpful

There also is another factor in rough fish control that should not be overlooked. This is the legal commercial fisherman.

Although many rod and reel fishermen hate such fish as carp and buffalo, there are others who like their meat. The same is true of gar. This fish finds a ready market in large centers of population.

Right here we might say a word in behalf of the numerous commercial fishermen who work many of the lakes and streams of Texas. These fishermen are required to have a license from the state. They are not allowed to take and sell any game fish. In some waters they are not allowed to take catfish.

On the other hand, these commercial fishermen each year take thousands of pounds of such fish as carp, buffalo and gar.

Recently I watched a couple of these commercial fishermen at work. They were running a net across a channel in one of our North Texas lakes. They were in a 12-foot aluminum boat. Their net must have been a couple of hundred feet long. Before they had reached more than a third of the distance, they had their boat almost filled with these rough fish. They had to return to shore and empty the boat before they could run the nets again.

They got two boatloads of fish from that net in an overnight haul. They iced the fish down in a pickup and hauled them to the nearest city fish market, where they found a ready sale.

There have been times, and probably still will be, when commercial fishermen will ignore the law and take game fish when they shouldn't. Sometimes they use excuses that the fish was caught in the net and died before they could get it out. Wardens and biologists are watchful of these fishermen. Those who violate the law lose their licenses.

There always is a need for the commercial man who is legitimate.

In fact, the need may grow as time goes on. Ken Jurgens, assistant director of Inland Fisheries, thinks so. He says the time is coming soon when fish management will be required to fill the needs for fish.

"When that time comes, the commercial fisherman, with his currently undesirable fish, may fill a great demand for food fish," he said.

Jurgens also paid tribute to the many individual or corporation lake owners throughout the state.

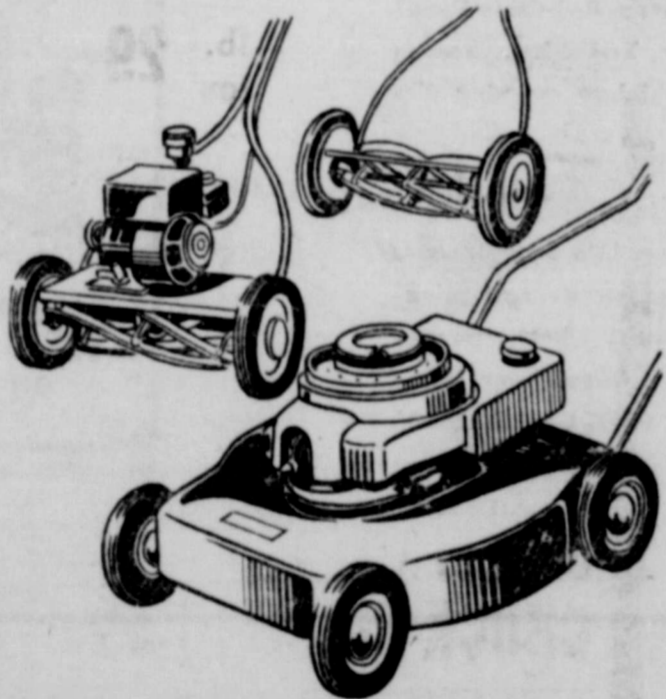

"Some of these places are taking the lead in experimentation which is helpful on public waters," he said. "Their leadership is badly needed, with fishing pressure increasing every day."

An understanding of what is being done to improve fishing helps us appreciate the quality of fishing we are getting now, as compared to only a few years ago.

Governor Proclaims 4-H Week

College Station, (Spec.)—By proclamation, Governor Price has designated the week February 28-March 7 as 4-H Week in Texas. The week also being observed nationally.

In 1914, Governor Daniel proclaimed, "the United States Government invested in the rural youth of our nation through the 4-H club program. Since that time, more than 20 million young people have received the benefits of this vast program and become 4-H alumni. These alumni are engaged in farming, ranching, homemaking and a variety of other occupations. Throughout Texas and the Nation a special salute is extended to them."

In a letter to the 111,000 4-H club members in Texas, the Governor said, "Since the 4-H club program was organized 50 years ago, members of your organization have made outstanding contributions to the material wealth of Texas and the Nation. More important, as young people, you represent the richest resource of our State.

"I extend sincere congratulations to each of you on your fine accomplishments of the past year and join the people of Texas in saluting you, your parents, adult leaders and friends who make this program possible.

"Please accept my best wishes for 1959 and the years ahead. May you continue to build yourselves, your homes and your communities, and thus help build our State and Country. The future holds bright promise for our land, and as 4-H club members you have a vital share of this future."

Plans for observing 4-H Week are being perfected in the counties and will include special recognition for 4-H alumni. More than 1,000,000 Texas young people have been 4-H members during the past 50 years. Today, 4-H alumni are leaders in business, industry, the professions and government, and are among the strongest supporters of the Agricultural Extension Service sponsored organization.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Mexican neighbors across the border are about to finish adding on to their homes. Besides all that, they have the new building code which all houses to be built both inside and out. In this locality, most are built of cinder blocks and painted inside and out. The house they have built with the long white end triangle, the top of the windows, and the woodwork of the front porch. It makes a very nice house.

of Parks and recreation have decided to do something about the feathered population of El Paso. They estimate there are millions of sparrows and tens of thousands of pigeons roosting every night in down town El Paso. They first thought to trap the birds by placing traps on top of the business houses then destroying them with carbon monoxide, but the Audubon Society has suggested that they think they can destroy them by using carbon monoxide through a hose, applying it to them while they are on the roost at night. The big trees in the Plaza are just crowded with the roosting birds.

Spring keeps flirting with us, giving us warm days, then blowing cold wind in our faces, and giving us cold nights. But the roses are putting out a wonderful new growth, and the pansies, blooming here and there, promise to bring us the loveliest colors we have ever had. Daffodils are opening fast, and at the front door I see beautiful blue Dutch Irises in bloom, while nearby a pansy blooms, exquisite in deep purple velvet.

This week (March 6) the Trans-Pecos Teachers' Association are holding their annual meeting in El Paso, and we enjoy having as our guests the Ralph Wilmeths from Fort Stockton.

Mrs. Grace Bateman writes from Fort Worth that she has interesting letters from her children in France. They love it and wish she were there to enjoy it with them. They each have four one hour lessons a week in French. Harley is learning faster than John as she associates with the French-speaking people a lot through the day while John is only with Americans. Harley says you can ride 100 miles and see 50 villages. The houses are all made of brick and stone, and even the most tumble-down shack has a beautiful wall with ornate gates around it. Even the poorest have beautiful flowers in their gardens and homes. Their cities and highways have no red lights or stop signs, not even any speed limits, but if you dare honk your horn, you are heavily fined. The telephone poles are made of concrete. The houses are heated with wood.

NEW SCOTT AND WHITE PLANT—This will be your room, Commissioner," says Dr. Howard O. Smith of Marlin as he examines a scale model of the new $10,000,000 Scott and White Memorial Hospital main building at Temple. At left is Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson, of Austin, chairman of the Citizens' Council for the Building Campaign, which was launched at Temple Feb. 14 and will continue through 1959. Observing at right is Dr. I. S. Ravdin of Philadelphia, chairman of the board of regents of the American College of Surgeons, and the surgeon who operated on President Eisenhower for ileitis. The background picture shows the 300-acre site on the south side of Temple, where the new plant will be built.

A letter came Friday from the Burt Brileys at Brownwood telling us of the passing of Dr. Harry Locker and Dr. Thomas Hart. I feel a deep personal grief and a great loss in the passing of these two prominent men. I became acquainted with the Hart family soon after I entered Daniel Baker College. Once in a summer normal in Brownwood Dr. Hart was my teacher. He was a great educator and always stood for right principles. Dr. Locker grew up just a few miles across the river from us. He also entered Daniel Baker College while I was there. When I taught at Locker in 1907-1909 he was married and living there. The schoolhouse was right near his drug store. It was after that that he went off to school and studied to be a doctor. He was always a friend to the country people. He did not fail to answer their call when they needed him. He was also a friend of those of low income, and rendered his services freely to the needy. Both these men will be greatly missed.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: I understand that I am allowed to make $1200 a year without losing any social benefits is taxable income. If you receive medical expense reimbursement, then you cannot deduct as medical expenses the bills that were reimbursed.

If you deducted medical bills in a prior year, and this year received reimbursements for them, then you should include the reimbursement in your income, but only if the deduction in a prior year gave you a tax benefit.

Where your W-2 slip includes payments to you which are not taxable because they are benefits for sickness or accident, or are wages paid while you were off work due to sickness or accident, as above, you enter the total amount of your wages on line five of the tax return and then deduct the tax free amount on line 6.

Be sure to attach a detailed statement to your tax return showing how you figured this. When you were off—what happened, if you were in the hospital, etc.

Better still, get Form 2440 from the Internal Revenue Service and use it.

security benefits. Do I figure this $1200 total earnings from the month when I first filed for benefits, or must I count earnings for the entire year?

Answer: You must count your earnings for the whole year in order to decide how many benefit checks will be due you in that year. This is true even in the year in which you first file your claim.

Question: Recently I hired a part-time employee to help me in my home. I am paying her $20 a week. When I asked for her social security number, she said that she didn't need one as she is past age 65. Is this correct?

Answer: No. She needs a social security account number, and social security taxes must be paid on her cash wages, regardless of her age.

Did you receive benefits for accident or sickness, or were your wages continued for the period you were off work because of sickness or accident? If so, the amount you received because of accident or sickness, if received from an insurance company where you paid the premiums either directly or through payroll deductions, is not taxable income.

The amount you received because of accident or sickness where your employer paid the premiums to the insurance company, or where your employer himself paid your wages while you were off sick, is not taxable income up to the first $100 per week you received after the first seven days you were off.

If you were in a hospital for any day while you were off sick, then no part of the amount you received under $100 per week, is taxable. If you have received over $100 per week, the excess over $100 per week is taxable income to you, but only if you did not pay the premiums to the insurance company, or if your employer is simply continuing your wages. If you paid the premiums on the insurance yourself directly, or by having them withheld from your paychecks, then no part of any amounts that you receive as sickness or accident

Heart Fund Campaign Over Quota In Mills County; $538.06 Is Raised

A total of $538.06 was contributed by Mills County citizens to the 1959 Heart Fund Campaign, Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Jr., county chairman announced this week.

Star and Center City, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lee Walton, proved the outstanding leader on a per capita basis, turning a total of $163.17. Priddy, with Mrs. C. W. Oliver, chairman, raised $83.36 and Mullin under Mrs. Tom Cooksey, Jr., turned in $45.01. Goldthwaite raised $246.52.

The success of the campaign was made possible by the unselfish cooperation of a large number of volunteer solicitors, men, women and children. In Goldthwaite Delmar Sears turned in the largest amount collected by an individual.

Of the $538.06 collected, $317 will be forwarded to the Texas

Heart Association for use in the American Heart Association's extensive research program in heart disease. The remainder will be used to purchase two valuable plastic hearts which will be used in health classes at the Star and Goldthwaite schools, and the remainder will be retained in Mills County for emergency assistance to local heart patients.

In announcing the successful termination of the 1959 campaign, Mrs. Stokes said, "As your county chairman I share with the people of Mills County the satisfaction of knowing that Mills County has exceeded its quota. I also feel that in addition to the money raised for heart research, the interest that has been aroused in the detection and treatment of heart disease, particularly among children, will do much good."

$1244.11 Collected In March Of Dimes

The annual March of Dimes has been completed in Mills County and according to official report from W. C. Barnett, auditor for the drive committee, a total of $1,244.11 was contributed.
