Goldthwaite Landmark 70 Years To Be Replaced With New Home

A landmark of this area, that has been home for Mrs. Emma Oltrogge and her family since 1919 is being torn down. Mrs. Oltrogge and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Jones, are making plans for building a new home on the site at the corner of 5th and Reynolds.

The home pictured here as tearing down got underway served for approximately 70 years as residence, private schools, lodge rooms and boarding house.

Facts and information gathered by Mr. Earl Clements from the Mills County records shows that the front part of the building was built for a residence on or about 1889 at the corner of 2nd and Fisher by Mike S. Cassidy who was a railroad man during the days of the Santa Fe Roundhouse here.

Mr. Cassidy sold to G. W. Gartman in 1893. Mr. Gartman sold to Prof. T. W. Hatcher in 1900. He enlarged the building to its present size and operated a private school. Prof. Hatcher sold to Prof. C. E. Halmark who operated a private school also.

Present day residents who attended these private schools include Scott Thompson who studied under Prof. Hatcher, and Jim Faulkner, Jim Long, Mrs. Minnie Gatlin Woody and Mrs. Lura Oquin Bethel, who attended during the time of Prof. Halmark.

Prof. Halmark sold the building to the Masonic Lodge in 1909. The Masons used it as their lodge room until they sold it to Mrs. Emma Oltrogge in 1919.

Mrs. Oltrogge ran a boarding house until she sold the lot to the Texas-Louisiana Power & Light Company when she moved the house to the present location at 5th and Reynolds.

Clean-Up Day At Park Tuesday

The annual clean-up day for community park will be held next week Tuesday afternoon starting at 1 o'clock.

The Lions Club voted Tuesday night at their regular meeting to again sponsor the annual clean-up event.

It was pointed out at the meeting that right now is the best time to get the clean-up job done. With limited amount of rain the past few weeks the growth of weeds and undesirable grasses is relatively light and the clean-up job will be easier than during normal rainfall seasons.

Many volunteer workers will be needed for the job. Everyone who can is requested to report for the job and to bring their own clean-up tools such as rakes, grubbing hoes, "idiot sticks" and other necessities.

If a good number of workers show up the job can be completed in one afternoon.

CLEAN-UP WEEK—This week is Clean-Up Week in Goldthwaite. We reminded our readers last week about the special clean-up drive to be conducted by the citizens of the community under the sponsorship of the Garden Club and City officials. We also carried news announcement covering schedule of pick-up service by city trucks and a proclamation by Mayor Y. B. Johnson enlisting everyone's support.

Now we want to remind each one again that this week isn't over yet. There are still three days to go.

If you haven't done your share in cleaning up your premises, now is the time to get into the act.

Most all places in the community, homes and business establishments alike, can stand a little more sprucing up. There is usually something that needs to be cleared up and some things that need to be discarded.

So, why not get into the act now, if you haven't already, and give the clean-up drive a little more push, and we'll all be happy we did.

A MAN OF PRUDENCE—The plumber had been called to make some repairs at the mansion of a local tycoon. "You'd better be careful of the floors," cautioned the butler as the plumber entered the house.

"Don't worry," the plumber reassured him. "I won't slip on those floors. I have spikes in my shoes."

SUNDAY SCHOOL WEEK—What do public school officials think of Sunday Schools? Dr. John Theobald is Superintendent of Schools in New York City, controlling the teaching and preparation for life of one million boys and girls. Here is what he says about Sunday Schools:

"Man's greatest adventures are exploring the world around him and the worth within him. Whether he probes with a missile or a prayer, he's on the high road to adventure, and his preparation must begin early in life. Sunday Schools of all faiths stress the principles that start young people in the right direction."

To help focus attention on the importance of our nation's Sunday Schools, the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., a non-secretarian, non-profit organization, has been sponsoring National Sunday School Week in April for the past fifteen years. The observance this year will be from April 13 to 19. The slogan is "MAKE EVERY WEEK SUNDAY SCHOOL WEEK."

WHITE-ELEPHANT AUCTION—Here comes the last call for support from everyone in the county to get into the act and contribute a few items or articles toward the success of the White-Elephant Auction that will be conducted on the Courthouse square this Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The sale is sponsored by the American Legion and Lions Club for the benefit of debt retirement on the new Legion Building. The new building is a fine community asset for Mills County. Members of the Legion Post have assumed an indebtedness of $1,500 to complete the building and they want to get it paid. Everyone can help by contributing some salable item. The committee in charge says: "We'll accept anything that's salable."

PAY FOR WORK NOT DONE—Webster's dictionary defines "featherbedding" as the practice of "requiring an employer to pay unneeded workmen, or to pay for unnecessary or duplicating jobs, or limiting the amount of work to be done in a day as a means of stretching work." Boiling that definition down, featherbedding simply is a means of obtaining pay for work not done.

The railroad industry provides the classic and extreme example of featherbedding today. It is the result of archaic work rules, established in an era when trains were far slower, covered far less distance in a day, and the operations of the industry were far less efficient than at present.

To take one example, a rule standardized 40 long years ago provides that for most train crews either 8 hours or less, or 100 miles or less—whichever comes first—constitute a day's pay. This means that today, a passenger engineman receives his full basic day's pay for a mere 3 hours on the job. In some cases, the rule works to the absolutely ridiculous point. For instance, a fast train spans Chicago and Denver in 16½ hours—slightly more than 2 working days of 8 hours each. Yet, due to obsolete rules, the railroads must use 8 different engine crews, paying each of the employees involved 10 1/3 basic day's pay.

HANG THE EXPENSE—An editor died after a lingering illness. His savings barely covered the hospital and doctor bills, leaving nothing for funeral expenses. A friend, after soliciting funds all day, lacked only $1 of having enough. Warily, he said to a stranger, "Could you give me a dollar to bury an editor?"

The stranger pulled out a $5 bill, and said: "Here—bury five of them."

NEWS from YOUR

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT
TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

By GEORGE G. REESE

Summer Temporary Pastures—E. M. Trew, Extension Pasture Specialist, says that Sweet Sudan is still the best bet for low-humidity areas of Texas where a good yield of the highest quality forage is desired. Common Sudan is a little earlier but usually fades out quickest.

Perennial Sweet Sorghum and Sorghum alnum produce more growth than Sudan from mid-summer to fall because of their perennial-type root systems. Both are coarser, less leafy and a little less palatable than Sudan. Compared to Sorghum alnum, Perennial Sweet Sorghum has a sweet stalk, is a little leafier, is more palatable and acts primarily as an annual.

Certified seed of Perennial Sweet Sorghum are the best buy, although plant performance might be just as good from non-certified seed. You can't be sure what you are buying in non-certified seed. Stockmen should be cautious about grazing Sorghum alnum when conditions are right for prussic acid poisoning.

The primary use of Sorghum alnum is as a grazing crop. The larger stems make it more difficult to cure for hay than Johnsongrass. Sorghum alnum has one distinct advantage over Sudangrass as a temporary summer pasture crop—it makes better regrowth and produces more grazing in late summer and fall. Sorghum alnum should be planted in 36 to 42 inch rows at the rate of 3 to 5 pounds seed per acre.

Perennial Sweet Sudangrass root stocks are short and thick and do not penetrate deeply into the soil. They are more weakly perennial in habit, and are not difficult to eradicate. Seed should be planted in the spring about the same time as cotton or sorghums. Plant at the rate of 4 or 5 pounds of seed per acre. Sweet Sudan—The piper variety, which is mostly non-sweet, and Tift, which is sweet, have given good yields from the Blackland Prairie to the Rolling Plains. The rate of seeding for sweet sudan is about 5 to 7 pounds per acre.

Blue panicgrass was first planted in Texas at the Chilled Experiment Station in 1935. It was introduced to the United States in 1912 from India. Blue panic is used primarily as a cultivated grazing crop. It is not a range plant and is not suitable for overseeding among native range grasses. The rate of seeding to provide enough plants for a good stand is one pound of good quality seed per acre. Blue panic seed are very small and require a clean, firm seed bed, with rows or beds prepared and allowed to settle ahead of planting. Seeding should always be in rows and never broadcast or close-drilled.

The 4-H Livestock Judging Team will enter the District 4-H Judging contest next Saturday at Stephenville. There will be teams from District 8 entered in the contest. Team members of the Mills County team are Jerry Duren, Alvin Glenn Tiemann and Brady Wayne Duren.

Mills County has an allotment of 3,000 acres of cotton for 1959. Eight hundred acres have been released and as of April 3, 1959 there were 100 acres that still can be used by cotton growers in the county.

outdoors. He worked in the woods. He planted a few trees where others had been removed. He took his biology class into the woods and there the members also learned about trees. Dr. Warner began to assemble his acreage back in the 1930's, when most everyone else was crying about the depression. After his daily classes he went into the forest and did hard-wood control, culling out worthless timber. Then he concentrated on building better stock. That's why today he is recognized as the outstanding tree farmer of Texas.

one tree can do so much for the land, then think what hundreds of trees can do. Or a thousand trees planted by one man. With this thought in mind I am especially interested in the news release from the Texas Forest Industries Commission. It said that Dr. S. R. Warner, a retired department head at Sam Houston State University, has been voted the outstanding tree farmer of 1958. Dr. Warner owns 2,000 acres of timberland scattered throughout Walker, San Jacinto and Tarrant counties. It isn't rich, but Dr. Warner enjoyed the

Too little is known by the average person of the trees of East Texas, where we still have our national forests. Actually there are six properties in the Texas Tree Farm program which have been in the family ownership for more than 100 years. These farms, dating back to the days of the Republic, are in the Houston County group. They cover 655 acres of the 13,415 acres already booked in the program in this area. Throughout Texas there are 1,111 tree farms covering 3,669,774 acres. This puts Texas in third place in the nation in certified acreage. Mississippi is first and Alabama second. With a tree program like this, Texas will continue to have wildlife for a long time. This is particularly true through the new soil bank program which gives credit for wildlife habitat practices. Under this program landowners may enter their land in the program, and still harvest a crop-wildlife. Whether you realize it or not, as a hunter or fisherman, you are helping in this program. Excise taxes on hunting and fishing equipment are helping to do this job. The Dingell-Johnson bill, which provides for fishery work, showed a collection for 1958 of $4,994,822.41. That is up some $270,000 over the previous year. Under the Pittman-Robertson act, the collection on guns and ammunition totaled $14,617,360.75. This was a half-million less than 1957. Money derived from these two sources is used by the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service on a matching basis with state funds. There is federal aid up to 75 per cent of approved projects conducted by state wildlife conservation agencies. TEXAS' OUTDOOR INDUSTRY

There is a growing demand in Texas for hunting and fishing equipment. As a result more and more Texas manufacturers are springing up to turn out outdoors merchandise. For example, not many know it, but in Texas there is a rod manufacturer making high class glass rods. It is the Makit Rod Co. of Fort Worth. In Houston is the Central Specialty Co., which makes a fish hook disgorger that is sold nation-wide. In San Antonio an electric reel is manufactured for use on party boats fishing in deep water for red snapper in the Gulf of Mexico; while in Tyler a fellow by the name of Hilton Meigs is making an aluminum portable kitchen, sold all over the United States. In Bellaire, near Houston, True Tone Game Calls, Inc., is making a quail call that is most natural. Another Houston firm is making decoys out of 56-ounce juice cans. Practically every city of any size in Texas has a manufacturer turning out good fishing lures or some kind of device for fishermen. If not that, then bullets, mounts and scopes, game calls, clothes or camping equipment for the hunter. Some of the award-winning fish caught in the United States the past season were taken on Texas made lures. They include the Bomber, Whopper Stopper, Dixie Jets, Old English, Hump Lures, Hawk Lures, Sportsman Lures, Pico Perch, Jensen and a half-dozen others. Texas has a leadership in boat manufacturing. There are such companies as Whitehouse, Fleetform, Lone Star, Texas Maid, Red Fish, Yellow Jacket, Blit - Well, A. R. A., Glaston, Glass Magic, Glasslite, Continental, Holmes, Helton and many others that are adapted to our particular waters. There are good boat-trailer manufacturing firms in Texas too—to name a few, the Little Dude and the Imperial of Fort Worth; the Lone Star and the Dok-King of Grand Prairie; and the Chief of Dallas. There is also a fine house boat made in Texas—the Terra-Marina — which is made in Houston. It is an amphibious land and water cruiser that serves as a combination house boat and house trailer. Other firms in the state manufacture everything from fish nets, trot line, catfish bait and rod holders to fish hook covers. Yes sir, hunting and fishing figure very strongly in our economic picture in Texas today and public interest is rapidly increasing.

Last Rites For I. Z. Woodard Conducted Tuesday Afternoon

Funeral services for Isaac Woodard were held Tuesday afternoon, April 7, at 1 o'clock, in the First Methodist Church of Brady. Services were conducted by the Rev. Harry Amberger, pastor of the church.

Mr. Woodard was born July 4, 1914, at Leuders, Texas, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woodard. He passed away April 5, 1959 in Brady hospital after a long illness. He joined the Church of Christ at an early age at McMillin, Texas and later he united with the First Methodist Church of Brady. He was active in the Rotary Club, the Retail Merchants Association and Chamber of Commerce, until ill health forced him to resign.

Mr. Woodard had been associated with International Harvester Company for the past 25 years, first as a salesman for the Harvester Company of Goldthwaite and for the past twelve and one-half years he had operated the Woodard Truck and Tractor Company in Brady.

On July 25, 1937 he was married to Izzetta Featherston at Goldthwaite. To this union two children were born.

Survivors are the wife, Mrs. Izzetta Woodard of Brady; one son, Bob Harrell, and a daughter, Betty Carol; his mother, Mrs. Pauline Woodard of Goldthwaite; his father, Walter Wesley Woodard of Bakersfield, California; four brothers, J. B. Woodard, Wesley of Rochester, New York, Bill of Cleburne and Cleo Woodard of Gatesville; four sisters, Mrs. Earl Summerfield of Gatesville, Mrs. Deward Wright, Richmond, California, Mrs. Heron Lawson, Los Angeles, California, and Mrs. Oliney Kelly, Fort Worth.

Pallbearers were C. M. Riddell, Roy Kidd, Deward Flemming, Elry Green, Dallas Miller and Jack Gartman, all of McCulloch County.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Wilkerson Funeral Home of Brady with burial in Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery. Rev. T. M. Mitchell assisted with the graveside services and the Roy Wilkins Funeral Home was in charge of interment.

Savings Bonds Sales Report For Mills County

"Savings Bonds Sales in Mills County totaled $14,820 during February. Sales for the first two months of 1959 amounted to $35,139 which was 15.6% of the county's 1959 goal of $225,000," Mr. W. P. Duren, chairman of Mills County's Savings Bonds Committee has announced.

The total sales in Texas during January and February of this year were $31,100,328 which represented 17% of the state's 1959 goal of $182.5 million.

"Top business leaders from all over our nation gathered in Washington recently to hear the President, cabinet members and other governmental leaders discuss our nation's economy and defense position under present conditions. The importance of the Savings Bonds Program to our nation's economic and military well-being was emphasized over and over again by the speakers. I know that the citizens of this county will support our President and our county will surpass its 1959 Savings Bonds sales goal," Chairman Duren stated.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: Is it really necessary to keep records of my income and expenses on my farm?

Answer: Yes. Accurate records listing all income and expenses should be maintained in order for you to be able to file an accurate and complete tax return each year. If you do not have accurate records, you may fail to receive social security credits for your farm income.

Question: I will reach age 65 in July of this year; however, I intend to work until the end of the year. I earn $25 a week. Should I come in to see you July or wait until after I retire?

Answer: You could wait until after your retirement with losing benefits, but it would be better for you to contact your social security office in July. At that time you could file your application and, in your case, receive your benefit beginning for the month of September.

Question: I plan on renting my farm to my son and son-in-law to move to town. I expect to receive over $1200 income from the farm and will receive other income. Am I entitled to draw social security monthly benefits?

Answer: You can get monthly payments for any month which you do not render substantial services or are not actively engaged in the farm operations.

Question: I understand that if my earnings are not over $1200, I can receive benefits all months of the year. What I count in figuring my earnings for social security purposes?

Answer: If you work for wages or a salary, count your gross pay before deductions, not your take-home pay. If you are self-employed, count your net profit from your trade or business farm, after deducting your business expenses.

MEETIN IN YOUNG COUNTY IN RELATION TO THE RESERVE INDIANS

The proceedings of a meeting held at Belknap, Young County, March 24th, are published in the Dallas Herald. The resolutions passed opposes the immediate expulsion of the Reserve Indians, but recommend petitions, in which they propose joining to the Secretary of War and of the Interior, for their removal they say, "then we, the citizens of Young County, will use all means in connection with our sister counties to expel said Indians, from this portion of the State."

THE CARS ARE COMING BUT NOT YET IN SIGHT

The LaGrange True Issue furnishes the following item of Railroad news:

"We should have noticed, last week, the fact that the subscription to defray the expense of the survey and location of the Harrisburg Railroad from a point opposite Columbus to this place, has been made up. We learn, through a letter from the Secretary of the Directory, to a friend here, that the Surveying Company are organizing, and will commence by the 1st of April, and will be completed before the 1st of May. This is truly gratifying to the people of this country, and will, we hope, put to rest the question, as to what

SENATOR SAM HOUSTON

The Washington Evening Star, of the 11th inst., says: "This distinguished man left Washington yesterday afternoon for his home in Texas. Up to the hour of his departure, his rooms were crowded by friends calling to take leave of him. No other public man ever made more, or more sincere friends here, nor was severance of a gentleman's connection with American publications ever more sincerely regretted than in his case."

PROTECTION FOR THE 1959 COTTON CROP

Cash value from cotton and cottonseed in Texas for 1958 has been estimated at a whopping $756,655,000 by agricultural economists.

This means that last year Texas cotton growers received an average income of $140.12 for each harvested acre of cotton as compared with an average of $39.73 from all other crops.

This year, then, cotton will again be the best cash crop for farmers capable of producing high yields of good quality. But it is a challenge calling for quality production in an efficient and economical manner.

For most farmers, this goal was achieved in 1958. They harvested 4,350,000 bales from 5,400,000 acres with an average yield of 387 pounds of lint per acre. This was the highest acre yield since production records started way back in 1866. The yield was 121 pounds higher than the average of 226 pounds for the previous five years.

During this past winter however, conditions have been generally favorable for the buildup of many insects injurious to cotton. This is especially true in sections where the boll weevil and the pink boll worm are a problem. Last year, the farm cleanup and stalk destruction program were hampered by a late harvest and continued wet weather.

Complacency concerning the insect threat could easily prove disastrous to many cotton growers in 1959. No cotton producer should ever forget that when conditions are favorable for making good yields, conditions are also favorable for a buildup and damage from cotton insects.

A bulletin entitled "Texas Guide For Controlling Cotton Insects" is available to all farmers from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M. It can prove valuable in pointing out proven and practical insect control methods. All good cotton cultural methods should be practiced this year to help keep down injurious insects and make a profit out of the 1959 crop. Copies of the bulletin are available on request.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas — With just about a month left between now and May 12, automatic adjournment date, it's "now or never" time in the Texas Legislature.

Bill sponsors are challenging other members to "pass it or kill it." No more playing the waiting game. Less juggling of the parliamentary ball.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr gave this "get with it" mood a strong shove by taking a firm stand on tax goals. "There is no Santa Claus," Carr told House members. Texas must raise $300,000,000 in new money to meet its obligations, he said. On "how to do it," the Speaker made these suggestions and observations:

1. A bill is needed "which will include a broad array of selective taxes—including, but not confined to — selective sales taxes."

2. A general sales tax is "out."

3. "Broad" taxation would include upping levies in areas suggested by the governor—natural gas, liquor, cigarettes, corporations — but at a lower rate than suggested by the governor. In addition, many new items would be added, in keeping with the "spread thin, hurt little" principle.

4. "Piece-meal taxation" is unfair, inadequate to the present challenge. State government should not "reward political favorites." New taxes should be "spread across as much of the Texas economy as possible."

5. Likewise on appropriations. If college professors and state employees get a raise, public school teachers should, too.

Carr's speech was regarded as public announcement that he is taking the reins of leadership to get a tax program passed.

Gov. Price Daniel's comment on Carr's statement was in the vein of "why didn't you say so before?" Daniel said, "I am in agreement with much of it and only wish it had been made 30 days earlier."

House Taxation Chairman V. L. Ramsey of Beckville named a five-man committee to write a tax bill and have it ready for next week.

Given the task are Reps. Wesley Roberts of Lamesa, H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, Joe Burkett of Kerrville, Ben Atwell of Dallas and Warren C. Cowen of Fort Worth.

GOVERNOR MEETS CANCER FAMILY—in Austin recently Governor Price Daniel met with top American Cancer Society officials and presented the proclamation for April as Texas Cancer Control month to Mrs. Joe R. Lewis and her family. Mrs. Lewis is a five year survivor from cancer and represents the more than 800,000 Americans alive today and with their families because they heed the life saving message of the ACS. tee, but sponsors claim it has been "gutted" by committee action.

As originally proposed, the bill would have allowed the state to take over bank accounts and money and property held by banks, insurance companies, oil and gas companies, etc., if unclaimed for seven years.

As amended, the measure cut out all holdings except bank accounts and upped the waiting period to 20 years.

Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, sponsor, said this would take away 60 per cent of the revenue raising possibilities.

Texas in 1980—Creation of a vast "government center" that would cover most of an area seven blocks long and four blocks wide is the aim of the Capitol Hill Master Plan.

Legislators, whose assent will be needed to make the dream a reality, got a preview of the 20-year plan from architects and Building Commission members.

Governor Daniel said the $37,000,000 project could be financed with no new taxes. Income, he said, would come from the Confederate pension fund, funds of state agencies now paying rent for privately owned buildings and funds now available to the Building Commission.

Recommended steps for 1960-61 are buying up several more blocks of land and remodeling the Capitol to provide offices for House members.

Party Registration Fight — A watered-down party registration bill is in line for House consideration after approval of the Elections Committee.

Original proposal by Rep. Jamie Clements of Crockett would have required that a voter state his party preference and have it stamped on his poll tax at time of purchase. Thereafter, the carrier of a "Republican receipt" could not vote in a Democratic primary and vice versa.

Attorney General Will Wilson ruled this unconstitutional. He said it set up requirements for voting not authorized in the constitution.

As amended, the measure provides that a voter would have his receipt stamped when he voted in a primary or participated in party conventions. This would prevent his participating in the convention of a different party until he bought a new poll tax.

Liberal Democrats, particularly DOT spokesmen, were very dissatisfied, even called the attorney general's opinion "dead wrong."

Help For Busses—In this two-car-in-every-garage age, public transportation companies say they've fallen into hard times, and need tax relief.

A bill to lower the license fees on motor busses to a rate equal to trucks of the same weight has Senate Transportation Committee approval. It is sponsored by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas.

City transit companies are asking to be relieved of motor fuel taxes. Rep. Warren C. Cowen of Fort Worth is sponsoring a measure to do this.

Transit companies are caught in a cost squeeze say supporters, that makes it hard to continue serving working people at reasonable rates. San Antonio transit lines had to give up, were taken over by city government.

Sunday Sale Ban—Senate has given final approval to a measure that would prohibit selling, buying or trading motor vehicles on Sunday. Exempted would be persons who observe some day other than Sunday as the Sabbath, such as Seventh Day Adventists. Bill had lively opposition, several senators whose argument was that it would be competition in the name of Christianity.

Mayors of Many Cities Plump for Jobless Aid

Ike Turned Thumbs Down On Federal Help in 1958

By HENRY CATHCART

Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Mayors of the nation's larger cities are conducting a determined lobbying program to win approval of a $400 million federal aid program for areas suffering from chronic unemployment.

They are trooping to Capitol Hill to win support of federal job aids, despite the fact that President Eisenhower vetoed a similar measure last year, when arguments for it were more cogent because of the recession that then prevailed.

The problem ranges all the way from changing buying tastes of the public that have put some industries on lower manufacturing schedules to the South's success in luring textile and other industries away from the East and Midwest because of lower state and local taxes and availability of "cheap" labor.

Chances are that Congress will again approve this measure, and that President Eisenhower will again veto it. The big question mark concerns the increased Democratic strength in Congress, and whether they have the votes to override a presidential veto.

● DULLES—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, undergoing radiation treatment for glandular cancer, is responding far, far better than his physicians could have expected from a man of his 71 years.

He has had no digestive disturbances or other side effects which so often accompany this kind of treatment, and is reported growing stronger each day. He has remained cheerful throughout his stay in Walter Reed Army hospital, and is showing increasingly active interest in the workings of his department.

At present he is devoting more than an hour each day to talking over diplomatic developments and possibilities with his aides. He has discussed high policy with President Eisenhower on each of the chief executive's numerous visits to his bedside.

State department officials are more optimistic than ever that Dulles will be able to return to his desk, after a period of convalescence, and resume the direction of United States foreign policy.

No more globe-girdling flights, or long international conferences, of course, but the outlook is that he will be available for consultation and advice, and with that much, he is able to continue as President Eisenhower's topmost and most trusted Cabinet officer.

● THE GREAT FLOWER DEBATE—For several years now Congress has been lightheartedly debating the selection of a national flower. It is a pleasant subject in these times of cold wars and hot budgets, and affords the legislators an opportunity to let off some good-natured steam and make some hay with their constituencies.

Most New York legislators want the rose to be selected, no doubt because the largest commercial rose garden in the United States is situated in that state. Iowa and some other Midwestern legislators, with a keen eye on the farm vote, are plumping for, of all things, the corn tassel. Kentuckians are backing blue grass to the hilt.

The other day, Senator Gordon Allott (R) of Colorado, hit upon a gimmick to promote his own selection for the national flower. He distributed, free to all senators, carnations.

The senators, ever courteous, wore them to the floor of the upper chamber, but the only visible result was to set off a "corny" debate on the whole subject.

As good as it looks and it looks plenty good!
