VIC'S
SOLILOQUY

MORE CONSIDERATION NEEDED—As the Wall Street Journal observes, the labor bill passed by the Senate and sent to the House "is neither the Kennedy bill, nor the Administration bill, nor is it a McClellan bill. It is a product of many minds, hammered out on the anvil of compromise, and its value may be gauged by the view many Senators hold of it: "It will wholly please neither labor nor management." On balance, the paper adds: "The public interest is better served by this measure than if there were no new labor laws at all." At the same time, it would seem that the public interest deserves a good deal more consideration than the Senate bill provides.

At a press conference, President Eisenhower pointed to grave weaknesses that still remain in the bill—namely, the failure to curb secondary boycotts, the failure to outlaw blackmail picketing, and the failure to clarify the no-man's area where the authority of the National Labor Relations Board and that of the states meet in cloudy confusion. The President said that he was very disappointed in the bill as approved by the Senate, and that he hoped the House will rectify the weaknesses.

Last year the House did the nation a great service by voting down a woefully weak labor bill that had been virtually railroaded through the Senate, with next to no time allowed for analysis and testimony. The House can perform another great service by following the President's reasoned proposals on this year's bill.

HOW MUCH MORE TAXES?—Just how much additional tax burden can the people of this country stand? This is no idle question. State and local taxes are soaring. And current proposals would swell the federal tax bite by heavy amounts.

Take, for instance, the plan to provide government medical and nursing home payments for elderly people through the Social Security System. It would be financed by raising the Social Security taxes on both employes and employers.

The cost of the program, according to the Health Insurance Association of America, would be $1,883,000,000 a year. Another estimate, from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, places the bill at more than $1 billion a year. Incidentally, this report is of a factual character, and makes no recommendations. But it does include a significant statement—that "in our society the existence of a problem does not necessarily indicate that action by the federal government is desirable." The intimation is that the Department is highly dubious of the virtues of the proposal.

That aside, if the government is to spend a billion or two a year on medical aid for one group of people, is it reasonable to suppose it would stop there? No one with any knowledge of the history of such governmental undertakings can believe it would. The door would be wide open to socialized or government-dominated medicine on a limitless scale. The tax cost would be incredible. Worse still, if the experience of England and other nations is of any value at all, we would pay an enormous price in deteriorating medical standards and inferior medical care. That always happens when the bureaucrats take over, write the rule books, and call tunes.

WHAT FARMERS WANT—Farm Journal, the leading magazine in its field, has polled its readers to find out just what kind of a government farm plan they really want.

The results will come as a big surprise to those who think farmers as a whole want more and more government aids, controls and supports.

Here's how the vote adds up: 55% want total abandonment of supports and controls, and a return to the free market; 15% favor supports on an emergency basis only; 8% want adjustment supports which would permit a gradual return to normal markets over a period of time. In sum, therefore, 78% favor plans calling either for no support or for less support.

By contrast, only 14% say they want high price supports, of 90% to 100% of parity, and only 8% favor the production payment plan.

The percentages were pretty much the same in all sections of the country. Among the different commodities, farmers specializing in poultry, beef, or fruit and vegetables are the most inclined to get rid of supports. Wheat and grain producers are least disposed to do this—but, even so, close to half of them consider it the thing to do.

Farm Journal has done the country a real service—and the hope is that the lesson learned will find its reflection in future policy. Farmers, like the rest of us, know past programs have been monumental failures, and that billions have gone down the drain with no return. And farmers want to stand on their own feet.

10 YEARS AGO—

There has been an election called in the Ebony School community and the Mullin Independent School District to consolidate the Ebony School with Mullin.

The marriage of Miss Doris Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Harper of Star, to Thomas Hastings of Sasakwa, Oklahoma, was solemnized Saturday at 7 p. m. in the Star Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holland are the proud parents of a little daughter, Brinda Gay, who made her arrival May 27, at Smith-Childress Clinic.

Among the beautiful weddings which have spotlighted the bridal calendar, one of the loveliest was that in which Miss Paula Ann Tullos, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Tullos, San Fernando, and William Wood Cannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cannon Sr., Los Angeles, California, exchanged their marriage vows. Goldthwaite and Mills County suffered a great loss in the passing of Mrs. Walter Fariman, May 25, 1949.

Joseph Monroe Spinks was born July 28, 1874. He died at his home May 26, 1949 at 12:15 a. m.

Harold Dee Roberson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric D. Roberson, will receive his degree from Texas A&M on June 3rd.

Mrs. Ira Toney was born on May 24, 1889, in Alabama, and passed away Friday evening at the family home near Goldthwaite.

Since last report, County Clerk Earl Summy has issued the following marriage license: Douglas Raymond Warren and Virginia Gail Stuart. Friends here of James "Jake"

Harrison, a boy reared in Goldthwaite and who went to Hollywood and made good, will be interested to know he is now acting as technical advisor and doing all the championship shooting as well as a roll in a picture being made at M. G. M.

50 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle Files of June 5, 1909)

The once thriving little town of Zephyr was devastated by a cyclone shortly after 12 o'clock Saturday night. One can not imagine the complete wreck and terrible conditions prevailing there with out a personal inspection.

The friends of Mr. Owen Yarrow and Miss Mabel Mullan were much surprised Wednesday evening of this week to learn that they had been married just one week. Wednesday evening, May 26, accompanied by a few intimate friends, they went to the Methodist parsonage, where by some means not just known to the public, they bribed or persuaded or intimidated the pastor, the Rev. J. S. Bowles, into secrecy as to the matter, and were married by him.

Mrs. Emma Hufstutler has bought her little girl an organ. She and the two Ford girls are taking music lessons from Mrs. Hines—Antelope Gap News.

Mr. R. B. Brown died at his home in this city Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, after having been almost completely paralyzed for several weeks.

Dr. M. L. Brown has been confined to his room several days, suffering with rheumatism. He left yesterday morning for Martin hot wells. His daughter, Leila and Dr. Campbell accompanied him.

C. P. and S. B. Manning, Grady Mason and others from Star and Center City, boarded the train here the first of the week to go to Zephyr to see the havoc wrought by the cyclone.

Mrs. Eddie Hawkins of Wapanucka, Oklahoma, is in the city visiting her parents, and other relatives.

A meteor that passed from the east to west Sunday night lighted the earth as bright as day. The explosion was heard and the concussion felt all over this part of Texas.

Economic Indicators Ring Note of Cheer Even Improved Outlook For a Balanced Budget

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Economic indicators all point to boom business conditions for the third quarter of this year, and probably for the fourth quarter as well.

Auto sales, a vital measure of prosperity, are running at a rate exceeded only by the record 1955 year. Employment is high, and unemployment while larger than desired, is dropping. Department store sales volume, freight car loadings, production and other figures all point to an extremely high level of industrial activity.

Of equal significance is the current absence of further signs of inflation. Food prices are remaining stable, and even dropping slightly in some categories. Fewer price increases than expected are being posted in durable consumer goods.

A bi-product of boom business conditions is the improved outlook for a balanced budget this year. Corporate earnings are running higher than the Treasury anticipated when it made its government revenue estimates. It is likely that federal revenues will exceed the $17 billion estimated last January.

Washington

HOW TO GET RICH QUICK—The United States government won a court suit in Washington the other day against an "absent" former Air Force warrant officer, but it was a pretty hollow victory. Pentagon officers are chucking about the case, but it's funny to the "brass" or the Justice department.

From 1949 to 1951, the warrant officer was finance officer Turkey. He drew checks to pay the Air Force mission's bills. However, instead of cashing them and obtaining Turkish money at the rate, he exchanged them at the black market rate, pocketing the difference. He got $136,000 extra that way, which he kept himself.

When the authorities finally caught up with him, he elected to be tried in Turkish courts, and got a three-year sentence for his black market activities. Upon completing the sentence, he left Turkey and was last known to be somewhere in West Germany. Meanwhile his tour of duty with the Air Force had expired, and the Pentagon had no military strings on him.

In Washington courts the other day, the government won a judgment against him for the full amount of his black market profiteering. Only trouble is that the government has no way of collecting the money unless the officer voluntarily returns to the United States.

Pentagon betting is that he'll probably return when he's broke when he's concealed the money in such a way that it will be beyond the reach of a government attachment.

THE BIG NOSE COUNT—The first of April, 1960, will mean great deal more to the citizens of the United States than just another April Fool's Day, for on that date 160,000 interviewers Uncle Sam will begin counting all his nephews and nieces in the 18th decennial population and housing census in American history.

As a result, exclusive of the two baby states, Alaska and Hawaii, some 23 states will either gain or lose in representation in Congress.

States which will probably gain in number of representatives are California, seven; Florida, three; Michigan, five; Indiana, Arizona, Ohio, Maryland, Oregon and Texas, one each.

Probable losers are New York and Pennsylvania, three each; Massachusetts and Arkansas, two each; Illinois, Alabama, Georgia, Maine, Minnesota, Kansas, Mississippi, North Carolina and West Virginia, one each.

VALUE-RATE the ROCKET

The man who knows value goes Olds!

More and more medium-priced car buyers who want the most for their money are joining the swing to Olds.

Why? Because they figure up all the extra quality features and conveniences Olds has as standard equipment. They carefully consider the economy of the Rocket Engine . . . the low-cost maintenance of an Olds . . . its higher resale value. But most of all they ask themselves,

"Is this the kind of car my family and I will be proud to own . . . one that will give us the full measure of fun and comfort we want . . . is this the car whose style will stay in style?"

The overwhelming "yes" can be found in the zooming sales success of the '59 Oldsmobile. See your Oldsmobile dealer today . . . Value-Rate the Rocket!

TODAY'S Menu
Different And Delicious
Recipes For Vegetables

By ALICE DENHOFF

DO right by the family by serving your loved ones fine, fresh vegetables. Prepared deliciously, they are healthful epicurean fare.

Asparagus and Cream

Fresh asparagus with a sour cream sauce certainly falls into this desirable classification. To serve 6, wash 2 lbs. fresh asparagus; break off and discard lower part of tough ends. Remove scales.

Cook in 1 in. boiling water in saucepan with 1/2 tsp. salt until just crisp-tender, 18 to 20 min. Meanwhile, melt 1/2 cup butter or margarine in saucepan. Blend in 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. black pepper.

Stir in 1/2 c. chicken or beef broth. Cook until of medium thickness.

Remove from heat. Gradually beat in 1 c. sour cream.

Return to heat. Cook until sauce is hot, but be careful not to let sauce boil.

Place cooked asparagus on serving dish. Top with the sour cream sauce. Garnish with sprinkling of paprika.

Peas with Mushrooms

Fresh peas, good as they are when cooked simply, reach a new high when served with small, fresh mushrooms.

To serve 10-12, shell 4 lbs. fresh green peas. Cook in 1 in. boiling water to which 2 tsp. salt is added. Boil until tender. Drain.

Meanwhile, wash 1 lb. small, fresh mushrooms; slice in halves and sauté in 6 tbsp. butter and 3 tbsp. lemon juice until tender.

Add peas. Season with 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. white pepper. Blend in 1/4 c. heavy cream. This is a good buffet dish!

Cucumber Recipe

To do 6 servings of a superb cucumber recipe, wash and peel 3 cucumbers (6 to 7 in. long). Remove a triangular wedge the length of cucumber, reserving wedge for later use. Scoop out center of cucumber.

Sauté 1/2 c. finely chopped mushrooms in 2 tsp. lemon juice and 1/2 tsp. butter. Add 1 c. soft bread crumbs, 2 tsp. butter, 1/2 tsp. chopped parsley, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. black pepper and 1/2 tsp. ground savory. Mix well.

Fill Cavity

Fill center of cavity of cucumber with this mixture. Replace triangular wedge on each cucumber.

Place in baking dish. Cover. Bake at 350° F., 45 min.

Cut each cucumber in half; serve with Velouté Sauce. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. To prepare sauce, melt 2 tsp. butter in saucepan. Blend in 2 tsp. flour.

Stir in 1/2 c. chicken or veal broth and 1/2 c. milk. Cook until of medium thickness.

Add 1/2 tsp. fresh lemon juice, 1/4 tsp. black pepper, 1/2 tsp. minced mushrooms and 2 tsp. heavy cream. Makes 1 c. sauce.

picture of what generally is happening in the Texas agricultural land market today.

The first and most obvious strengthening factor in the market both in Texas and elsewhere is the increasing population as opposed to the fixed amount of land available. This is a simple supply-demand situation which is intensified in our state because of its above-normal population increase.

NEWS from YOUR COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT
TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

BY GEORGE G. REESE

COTTON MEETING

A cotton meeting was held at the Priddy school on May 19th. Mr. Olin J. Tippit was the speaker. Mr. Tippit is Farm Manager of Texas Experiment Station No. 23 located at McGregor, and also in charge of cotton research at the station.

There are 18,000 acres in this Station with 12,560 acres in cultivation. They planted 1,154 acres of cotton at the station this year.

The 1960 cotton crop will be started at the Station just as soon as the grain is harvested from the land. The first plowing is made this early to conserve moisture and control weeds. Only varieties of cotton are planted that can be harvested mechanically. Some varieties planted are Lankart, Northern Star and Western Storm Proof. The cotton is planted at the rate of 16 to 18 pounds of seed per acre and this seed is never thinned. This leaves the cotton spaced from 4 to 6 stalks per foot in the row.

All cotton seed are chemically treated with Thimet in order to control cotton insects for 4 to 6 weeks after planting.

Mr. Tippit cautioned farmers to plant cotton as early as possible in Mills County. He said that cotton should be planted the first week in April in order to obtain the highest yields. This gives the cotton crop time to mature before the late dry, hot part of the summer.

He also told the cotton farmers at the meeting that they should spray at least 3 times but end the controls by June 10 if possible in order not to kill beneficial insects, when they planted seed that were not treated.

In controlling weeds in cotton Mr. Tippit stressed that the land was prepared early in the winter, cotton was planted on clean ground. The last plowing should be done at least 6 weeks before the cotton is to be planted.

At the station they use only 2 cultivations for cotton unless a late rain brings up a late stand of grass. They use a rotary hoe, broadcast type. This rotary hoe is used once to get the small grass and if late rains bring up grass that cannot be controlled by the above methods of cultivation oiling shoes are used as a last resort and five gallons of oil per acre is used.

As the cotton on the Station is never thinned, the large weeds are cut in the cotton around July 1 by a hand hoe.

The cotton is defoliated with Pena or Arsenic acid at the Station and the cotton is harvested by mechanically stripping.

Mr. Tippit stressed to the group that cotton had to be produced as economically as possible in order for them to stay in the cotton production business. He said that small growers may need to group together to purchase machinery to spray and harvest their cotton.

Mr. Tippit's talk brought out the great changes that have been made in the production of cotton in the last few years.

Elisha and Naaman

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—II Kings 5.

Naaman, captain of the host of Syria, was afflicted with "leprosy," now known as Hansen's disease. A slave girl from Israel said that Elisha could heal him.—II Kings 5:1-3.

Someone told the king what the maid had said and he sent a messenger to the king of Israel, asking him to heal Naaman. That king said he couldn't perform miracles.—II Kings 5:5-7.

When Elisha heard what the king had said, he said to send Naaman to him for healing. Naaman went to Elisha, who told him to wash in the Jordan river seven times.—II Kings 8:10.

Naaman was angry at this advice. He was finally persuaded to do as the prophet said, however, and was healed.—II Kings 5:11-14.

Lone Star Unit Makes Texas Debut

Latest air conditioning advance is this remarkable "Lone Star" unit with extra capacity for dehumidifying as well as cooling. Frigidaire engineers developed the unique dry-cooling system especially for hot, humid areas. It can remove up to three barrels of water from the air each week. Clammy feeling in room is eliminated. The unit also dehumidifies with reduced cooling on humid days when temperatures are mild. Here, young homeowner demonstrates simple dial controls. Because of extra cooling capacity, conditioner is well suited for dry areas, too. Note neat through-the-wall installation and built-in shelf arrangement.

INDIANS—THE WHITE FOLKS RIZ

We have received a Southern Extra of the 27th inst., which contains a dispatch from Wm. Burkett to Captain Bradfute, of the 22nd, from which it appears "that Major Van Dorn" had a fight with Indians at or near Ft. Atkinson, about eight or ten days ago, killed fifty, and took thirty-three prisoners. —Lieut. Lee and Capt. Smith were wounded—Lieut. Lee supposed mortally. Two soldiers killed—several wounded.

TOLERABLY WEALTHY, CONSIDERING DRY TIMES

The accomplished editor of the Gazette, in his soft sociopolitical "appeal to the Germans," says:

"We have one hundred and seventy-five millions of acres of land in Texas, and only two millions of that immense domain are now in cultivation."

We had no idea our contemporary had more than a million of acres in cultivation, that is, in Texas. But there is no telling how remunerative "rule and figure work" is now-a-days. If the Gazette could only manage to secure the public printing another session, he might afford to keep in cultivation three millions of acres of Texas land.

A large majority of Old Colorado will go for Gen. Houston, unless we are much mistaken. The fall of the reigning dynasty is ardently hoped for. The restoration of primitive, UNION Democracy is just at this time a great desideratum in Texas. The fire-eating disunionists and sectional disturbers of the nation must be put down!—Colorado Citizen.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Catching catfish on a trotline is one thing, but taking them on a pole and line, or on a rod and reel, is something else.

We've talked about trotlining and have touched on other ways of catching fish, but here is some additional speculation about these fish that you can add to your store of information.

All this is going on the assumption that the more you know about fishing, the more you're going to catch. So you go out, loaded to the bald spot with piscatorial lore. Then, traditionally, the barefoot boy with cheeks of tan, and a worm can, fills up his stringer while you get skunked.

Or your wife outfishes you. Or some guy who came along for the ride is the one who furnishes meat for the frying pan.

Yep, it happens sometimes. But over the long haul, a guy who knows his fish and fishing is the one who gets the prizes.

Some years back, catfishing was a game strictly for trotliners and for the pole and line fishermen. But now, the sport is gaining favor as game fishing.

If you want to snag a big fish on a rod and reel, in fresh water, the catfish is as good a bet as any.

You can go for carp, but there are many who (wrongly) consider the carp inedible.

You can try for gars, and they come in king sizes, but they really are no good for eating.

There's many an ardent angler who doesn't eat fish. He fishes for the sport. But it's likely that for most fishermen, the pleasure of eating what they catch adds to the enjoyment of the trip. I belong to the latter school myself. I want to take something home for dinner, if possible.

So, all considered, the catfish is the best bet for the fresh water sportsman who wants to bring in a big, edible fish. Best of all, there's no limit as to how many the fisherman can catch and keep.

Construction of power dams in Texas has given catfishing a boost. When power is being generated, the turbines stun or kill thousands of bait fish, amounting to a giant chumming operation. Below the dams, catfish never had it so good.

If you want catfish, the waters below such a dam are good hunting territory. However, if there is no such dam near you, don't despair. There are catfish in nearly every river, creek, pond, and lake in Texas.

You should know about the three main kinds of catfish in Texas. They all look and taste pretty much alike, but there is a little difference in the way you fish for them.

Much has been said about "stink" bait. And especially about the smelly things that a catfish will eat.

It's all true, except that the yellow cat would prefer his food fresh and alive. If it's yellow cat you're after, a small, live bream, not more than two and one-half inches long, or a big minnow, would be your best choice.

It's the blue and the channel catfish that want their food ripe and odorless, with exceptions. They will go for fresh chicken entrails, or a fresh shad that has been mashed in two, and sometimes—fairly often, that is—blues and channels will go for live bait.

So you see, there's no rigid rule in these matters. In fact, the right procedure when you go catfishing is to carry along a variety of bait. If they don't take one, maybe they'll go for another.

Rig up your fishing equipment with a 1/10 long shank hook at the bottom, and a sinker about twelve inches above it. The weight of the sinker depends on the kind of tackle you are using. Above the sinker add a slip bobber. This, so you can regulate the depth where you think the cats are lurking. Put on your first choice of bait, and go to work.

As to depth, try the bottom first. That's where catfish are most of the time. If you don't get any business down deep, move on up into the shallower parts of the water.

Give your bait a long cast. Let it sink to the bottom and rest there for a minute or two. Then start a slow retrieve. When I say slow, I mean S-L-O-W. Turn the crank half a turn and wait awhile. Hum two bars of "Dixie" and give her another half turn. And so on like that.

It will take some time to retrieve, if you're doing it right. Fishing on the bottom like kegard, Niebur, Brunner, and Tillich. He became quite impressed with his ability and knowledge. He continued to quote from Luther, St. Augustine, Apostle Paul, and then other New Testament writers. He told of the doctrines of redemption, atonement, and salvation. Then after a lengthy quotation from the Old Testament, he calmly took his seat. Very soon the service was over and I moved with the crowd out of the sanctuary. What had this man said? He had told me very little I could not have read for myself had I had the books from his library.

As I walked from the sanctuary, my mind switched quickly to a scene which is recorded in the gospel of Matthew (St. Matthew 16:13ff). Jesus is standing with the disciples and asks, "Who do men say that the Son of man is?" After they listed several former prophets. He asked, "But who do YOU say that I am?" The man who often spoke first in the group, answered, "You are the Christ, the son of the living God." I know now that I had gone to church that morning looking for this answer, but somehow the speaker had not gone beyond Jesus' first question.

Yes, it is important for me to know what others think about Jesus. But most important is what I decide about Him myself. The ideas of other people can help me decide what I think about Him, but at last I must find out for myself what He is really like. In the end I have to find out what He really means to me and how far I am willing to go in order to help others find Him for themselves. "You search the scriptures, because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness to me; yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life." Jesus said.—(St. John 5:39).

CHEVY BESTS

Independent experts and official facts and figures prove Chevrolet's ahead of its field in seven big ways.

BEST BRAKES . . . In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NAS-CAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not? Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN . . . Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE . . . Popula Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line. BEST ECONOMY . . . No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM . . . Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.† make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST

ENGINE . . . Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE . . . You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But Motor Trend magazine expresses it this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

PARENT PROBLEMS

Do You Tend To Favor One Child Over Another?

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

IT'S probably not possible, one of the children feel about psychologically, to act wholly our degree of impartiality? The impartially toward each of several children of one's family. Yet, we have been impartial helps it's an objective worth striving to determine how all the children of the family will feel toward one another while in their earlier or later years.

Most of us parents cherish the thought that our children believe we have tried "to treat them all alike." We hope they will say that we did this after we have passed on.

Most parents insist that they are impartial. They may even insist they are when, to a disinterested observer, they clearly are not.

Ask Yourself
From the time the second child arrives till after the last child has grown up, we parents need constantly to ask ourselves these questions: Does each child feel he stands as well with us as do the rest of the children? Does he feel that we love him just as much?

No matter how impartial we think we are, it's what each child feels that is true for him.

In a family of several children, one or more may have complied with our wishes better than the rest. One or more may get on at school better. Only one or so may get through college or even through high school. Will such make a difference in our feelings toward each of the other children of the family?

To What Extent?
When one or more get jobs and leave home and have families of their own, how does each one of the children feel about our degree of impartiality? The degree to which each child feels we have been impartial helps determine how all the children of the family will feel toward one another while in their earlier or later years.

All these matters are worthy of our consideration from the time the second child arrives.

How Others Feel
Now assuming that each grown-up son or daughter cherishes the continued affection and esteem of his or her own brother or sister, here is something each might profitably consider: Does my brother or sister feel I act superior because I have attained more education, financial success or applause?

As a rule, the child who has gained most success, as measured by popular standards, may find it harder to win and maintain the esteem of his brothers and sisters. They tend to suppose he feels superior to them. His way may grow easier if he exercises sufficient humility.

(My bulletin, "Preventing and Reducing Jealousy," may be had by sending a self-addressed, U. S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

ANSWERING PARENTS' QUESTIONS
Q. Our seven-year-old girl likes to take the wraps of arriving guests. Isn't this showing off?
A. Yes; but it's showing off in a socially useful and acceptable way.
