Learn-To-Swim Classes To Start At Municipal Pool Monday, June 22

Grain Crop Reported Light Here This Year

Mills County farmers will have a light grain crop this year, according to reports coming in from various sections of the county.

While there were some reports of combining 40 bushel oats it has developed during the past few days that a good many started to combine their oats and after a few rounds in the field they stopped cutting. The yield was not enough to justify combining.

Best reports were before the heavy rains during the past week. Heavy rain damaged the already short stalks to where much of the crop is hard to pick up with the combine.

Many farmers have quit combining and are making plans to turn in their stock for grazing. Several reported that as they started combining they found results light and felt that when they got further into the field it would pick up. When they got to where they felt it would be better it failed to turn out that way.

Many farmers and ranchers state that having the grain fields to graze will be a big help and will give their overall grazing picture a big boost. Grasses will be given extra time for growth and maturity while stock is in the grain fields.

Weather Report

Rainfall here since last report measured 2.07 inches, according to official report from Harry Allen. This brings the total rainfall to date for the month of June to 3.34 inches.

Announcement was made Tuesday that learn-to-swim classes have been scheduled to start Monday morning, June 22, at the Municipal pool in Goldthwaite.

Classes will be conducted Monday through Friday for two weeks. Organization of classes will get underway at 8 a. m. on the first day for the various age groups.

Instructions will be given by accredited Red Cross instructors and Red Cross recognition will be given all those who take part in the classes.

To enroll in the swimming classes one must be six years of age and have a doctor's certificate. Forms for the doctor's certificate are now available at the pool and may be secured from manager David Williams.

Dr. M. A. Childress and Dr. R. Glynn Raley will be on hand on Monday morning when classes are to be organized to take care of those who fail to get their certificate in advance. However, officials point out, it is best for all to get their certificate in advance and turn it in to the pool manager with their registration.

Deadline for registration is Saturday, June 20.

The annual Learn-To-Swim instructions are free. There is no charge for class instructions, only the regular pool admission will be charged.

Range Tour And Barbecue, June 18

Next Thursday, June 18, there will be a range tour and barbecue. The tour will begin from the west side of the courthouse at 9 a. m.

The tour will be sponsored jointly by The Mills County State Bank and the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District. The Bank has arranged with Underwood's catering service of Brownwood for the noon barbecue. The tour will be mapped out by the Soil Conservation District with the help of the Soil Conservation Service. Better grassland management for more ranching profits and more efficient use of rainfall is the objective of both the sponsoring organizations.

Some very encouraging results following recent rains will be observed. Some ranchers with successful operations will be given the opportunity to discuss their operations.

57 Inches Of Rainfall Recorded Here First Five Months Of 1959

57 inches of rainfall recorded in Goldthwaite during the first five months of this year, according to official records kept by Harry Allen. This is far short of rainfall recorded here during the same period the past two years. It is also far short of the long-term average for the same period.

The long term annual average for Goldthwaite, according to official weather bureau records, is 30.14 inches. Long-term normal average for January through May is 13.16 inches. Rainfall during this five month period was very spotted in Mills County. Some sections, small areas, at times received rains measuring from two to three inches while other areas received none.

The first three months rain was so short it materially retarded the grain and grass crops. During April and May heavy and slow rains fell to grass off to a good start. The stock tanks have been vitally affected during the past year with little or no runoff water. The last general heavy rain covering the entire county to fill most all stock tanks to where they were running around was in May, 1958. Stock tanks are extremely low with many of them dry at this time. A few tanks received a little water from rains the past 10 days.

Following is a comparative report of long term average normal and rainfall recorded here for the January-May period of this year.

Month	Nor. Av.	1959
January	1.83
February	1.51	1.32
March	1.57	.13
April	3.80	2.27
May	4.65	2.85
Total	13.16	6.57

Lions Observe Thirtieth Anniversary With Ladies' Night Program Tuesday

Members of the Goldthwaite Lions Club entertained their ladies on observing the 30th anniversary of the club last week Tuesday night at the Legion Hall.

Charter members were honored and those not members now were guests of the club for the dinner meeting.

W. C. Barnett, one of the charter members, gave a brief history of the club and events leading to its organization on May 11, 1929. Barnett has kept up continuous membership in Lions for the 30 years although 11 years were in clubs away from Goldthwaite.

He told about the businessmen's luncheon club being organized here that was later chartered as the Lions Club.

R. L. Steen is the only other charter member active in the club at the present time. Charter members not now in the club who were guests for the event were O. H. Yarborough, Joe Palmer and R. V. Littlepage.

A number of membership awards with Old Monarch certificates and chevrons were announced by President Charles Conradt at the meeting. They included the following with the number of years as members.

Thirty years—W. C. Barnett.
Twenty-five years—R. L. Steen.

Twenty years—Dr. T. C. Graves.

Fifteen years—Vic E. Koleber.

Ten years—Hollis Blackwell,

M. A. Childress, Charles Conradt, Ray Duren, W. P. Duren, John A. Jackson, Jesse Moreland, George Reese, Robert Walton, Harold Yarborough and J. T. Jones.

W. P. Duren was program chairman for the evening and introduced Lee Birdsong who gave an illustrated talk on points of interest on Alaska. He also showed some colored slides that were taken while he and Mrs. Birdsong were living in that state.

Lions Tailtwister Hubert Berry and Truett Auldridge presented Dr. T. C. Graves a baby armadillo in a gift wrapped box as a going away gift. Dr. and Mrs. Graves left by train for California after the meeting.

NEED A LIFT?—Who doesn't early in the morning? As the old saying goes: "What do you expect from the day—when it starts with getting up?"

Seriously though, if you need a lift some early morning you just should have the opportunity to come to town about 7 a.m. and slip into the cafe for a cup of coffee and accidentally, or otherwise, find a stool at the counter next to a threesome that have just finished their second cup of coffee and have by now settled down to the more serious aspects of living, 'FISHING'.

I'm not the type that hates to get up in the morning to get an early start. Never was. In fact for more years than I need to mention here I would go to bed at night, regardless of how late the hour, keenly looking forward to hearing the alarm at six, or before, in the morning so I could get started on a new day.

So, while I might be one who doesn't particularly need a lift for an early morning start I did have just the type of experience in the coffee shop the other mornning.

The threesome was none other than Arthur Jones, Howard Weaver and Fred Stephens. They were in a huddle relating some of their individual fishing experiences as well as planning and plotting on how to outsmart some more of the finny species.

When I say they were in a huddle I do mean it. In fact, it took on all the airs of some real executive type business session and was in all probability more serious than many board directors meetings.

One of the interesting aspects of the confab was the one Weaver told about the big catfish he caught one time that had swallowed a small cottontail rabbit. After all the evidence was there when the fish was cut open so it wasn't a fish story.

Naturally they delved into the matter of how the catfish caught the rabbit and it was surmised that the cottontail got too close to the brink and had to swim for it and failed to make it.

Said Jones with a big chuckle: "You don't suppose that fish got out into the brush to get him a rabbit?"

A REAL SURPRISE—Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Horton had a pleasant surprise one day last week.

One of their mamma ducks came wagging up to the house with 23 little golden colored fuzzy little ducklings.

The reason it was such a surprise was the fact that they didn't even know that mamma duck had the remotest idea of having a family. She just went out and did a grand job of keeping her 'settin' secret to herself.

Ducks might do a lot of quacking, but, that's no sign that they tell everything they know.

RODEO THRILLS—It's a pleasure to observe the thrilling experiences people have in getting ready for a rodeo and the excitement that is shown by the crowds watching one.

This holds true for the big championship rodeos and no less for the invitational or school rodeos as well.

Goldthwaite FFA chapter put on a school rodeo last Friday and Saturday for students of Goldthwaite Schools. Next month members of the chapter plans to sponsor an invitational rodeo in which a number of FFA members from the surrounding area will take part.

These school and invitational rodeos are a good thing for the younger performers. Who knows, some big rodeo star of the future may be getting a start right here at one of these shows.

"HOW SOUND IS A DOLLAR?"—We've heard the old expression, "As sound as a dollar." However, as a leaflet issued by the Manufacturers Trust Company of New York points out, few of us have asked, "How sound is a dollar?" And the answer, obviously enough, is that the dollar is as sound as our national economy.

So the booklet observes: "Our national economy is sound. But there is no assurance that it will remain that way unless we think and act to make it so. A nation, like a person, must 'live within its means,' or it will soon be in trouble."

There is endless discussion about the federal budget—whether it will be balanced, unbalanced, or whatever. No doubt a great many people think this is a matter far removed from their own milieu, and a problem which can be left to the people in high office whose duty it is to deal with great affairs. But the truth is that the federal budget is of the most direct personal interest to everyone in this country. Deficit spending—which follows unbalanced budgets—is the primary cause of inflation. So deficit spending—the failure of the nation to live within its means—reduces the value of every dollar you earn, and erodes your life insurance, your retirement pension, and all other savings.

The government is a reflection of the desires of the people. If the people want and demand economical government—government living within its means—and make their wishes known, they will get it. If they want spendthrift government, and a further degraded money, they will get it. These are the only choice. The political spenders will destroy the dollar unless stopped by the voters.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simpson have announced the marriage of their daughter, Earline, to Maurice Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Knight of Brownwood at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Joseph L. Emery at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, June 1, with Rev. Emery, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Wheeler Sr. celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, May 29, with a family dinner in the home of their daughter, Mrs. M. F. Hines, with all their children and grandchildren present except a grandson, Lewis Norris of Dallas.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dee Land of Route 3 on Saturday, May 21, at 6:10 p.m. at the Smith-Childress Clinic. She has been named Gail Marie and weighed eight and a half pounds. Gail Marie has a little sister, Patricia.

Arthur and Mickey Soules this week took over the management of the Hillside Cafe, across from the Auction Barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Elam Bee Horton of Route 1, Caradan, became parents of a son at 8:37 p.m. on Friday, May 20. The baby was born at the Smith-Childress Clinic and weighed Miss Cassye Knight and Luther Piper were quietly married in the home of Rev. De Hart of Evant last Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

To those who know the citizenship and history of Mills County the statement that a Negro wedding was pulled off here seems so strange as to be unbelievable but it's true just the same. The fact that there are no Negroes in Mills County has no bearing on the case, as the contracting parties live in Brownwood. They came to Goldthwaite last Saturday and procured what was doubtless the first marriage license ever issued to Negroes in Mills County and certainly the first ever issued to Negroes by County Clerk Porter.

Mrs. George R. Ross died at noon yesterday at the home of her son in Brownwood after a long illness, and her remains were brought here today for burial at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Tom and Ed Gerald of Canyon came in last Sunday night for a visit in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Gerald.

Mrs. D. B. Lindsey and her daughter, Miss Flowers, together with Mrs. Flatt Hollis, made the Eagle a pleasant call Tuesday. They were here in the interest of the picnic and program of entertainment at Ridge this week.

Disclosures of Nepotism Make Reporters Unpopular Public Opinion Spelling Now Have Senators Worried

By HENRY CATHCART Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Legislators continue to be plagued by stories of nepotism being dug out of congressional records by enterprising reporters. The scope of these stories has become alarming to political leaders on Capitol Hill, and is especially disturbing the new group of predominantly Democratic congressmen and senators who began their legislative service this year.

Disclosures of widespread abuses of the federal payrolls have caused most legislators to be deeply distrustful of reporters than at any time in recent memory. And, after fullsome disclosures of the presence of wives, sons, daughters and other relatives on congressmen's payrolls, the spotlight is swinging over to the United States Senate.

Unlike the House, Senate payroll data is kept secret, but the pressure of public opinion may yet force full disclosures here, too.

The other day two young senators, who fortunately have no relatives on their office staff, brought the matter up for discussion at a Senate Republican policy committee meeting.

Their argument was that the public had a right to know, furthermore suspicions were smearing the innocent as well as the guilty. Behind their move was a flow of mail being received by constituents of most senators, demanding to know their relatives were on the government payroll, how much they were being paid, and what work they did for their money.

The Policy committee discussed the matter calmly, but instead of shunting the matter aside, decided to wait for two weeks and then take another look. The hope, of course, is that in two weeks time the matter will have quieted down sufficiently to permit it to be ignored all together.

UNUSUAL RESEARCH—The federal government research program sometimes finds itself in strange pursuits, indeed. The other day, for instance, the National Bureau of Standards reported results of its studies on the maximum curve that a pitcher can be expected to throw a baseball.

The answer? The greatest curve he can expect is 17 inches; the most effective speed is about 100 feet per second which, incidentally, is well within the capacity of a professional pitcher.

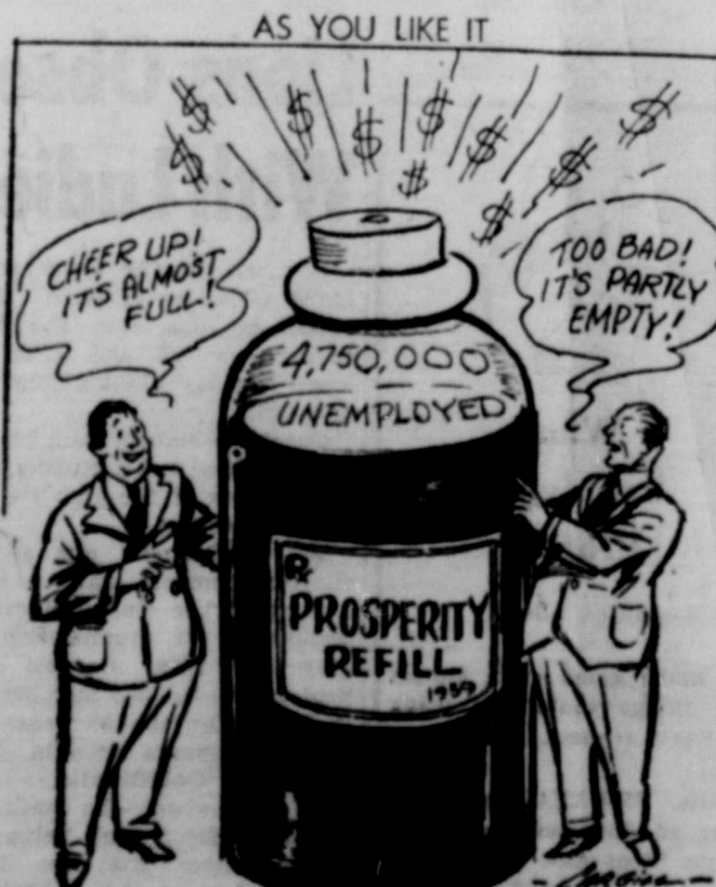

But, the Bureau of Standards reported, speed by itself has little effect. The important thing is the amount of spin. To throw a curve of 17 inches, a spin of 1,800 revolutions per minute must be achieved. A professional pitcher can approach this, but not always achieve it, the Bureau said.

Somewhat apologetically, the Bureau said the research was conducted when equipment was not needed for official work. The study was undertaken partly because of its value in aerodynamics and partly because the fellow who made it is a life-long baseball fan.

VIRUS RESEARCH—In another area of research—dealing with the mysteries of viruses and how to combat them—both the government and private industry are making rapid progress.

A recent study of where this research stands indicates that oral vaccines for polio, and perhaps other diseases will be on the market by next year. These easy-to-take pills will do much to further mass immunization, particularly among the large group of children and adults who shy away from the hypodermic needle.

The battle against the viruses is making rapid strides as better laboratory equipment and methods succeed in isolating some of the thousands of specific viruses which are known to exist. Scientists now look forward with increasing confidence to the day when some kinds of cancer, and even some forms of insanity, can be treated by vaccination.

Judy Long Advances To Freshman Class

Miss Judy Long, who is attending the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing, Lubbock, received her cap recently in a candle lighting service. Held in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church, Lubbock, this ceremony marked her advancement from pre-clinical training to the freshman class.

She was one of 22 students participating in the capping service, symbolic of professional and academic achievement. Following the capping, the class took the Nightingale pledge which is similar to the physician's Hippocratic oath.

LAFF-A-DAY

"How long does it take your make-up to dry?"

This is the time of year for kings! These fighting game fish of the Gulf of Mexico now are running in great numbers. You can fish them with anything you have.

If you want a lot of fun with a fish that will knock your lure 20 feet into the air and follow it, then try for kings.

You can catch them on a lead-head jig, fishing with a bass casting rod. Or you can troll behind a big boat with mullet, shrimp or most any kind of hardware.

Some fishermen use Japanese feathered jigs. Others like the Hooties, which are native to the area around Port Aransas.

Every man should make one good king trip a year. These scrappers forage from one end of the Texas coast to the other. So you can pretty much take your choice as to where you want to fish.

The king is a fighting fish that is pretty good eating, too. They come in varied sizes. Most will average out around five pounds. Believe you me, that's five pounds of dynamite, with a quick fuse. The king is a fast reactor, and it doesn't stop until you hit it across the back of the head with a club the size of a baseball bat.

It's not the fish for a man with a weak heart. Especially so if you use light tackle. In fact, if manufacturers of light monofilament line could pass a law that everyone had to fish with a light line, they'd be running their factories day and night trying to supply the needs of king fishermen who lost line to these critters.

I don't care how much experience you've had, the king will pull something new and different. For instance, last summer some members of the Texas Game Fishing Club were fishing off Port Aransas. It was their annual tournament in which they caught kings, barreled them, and sent them to the Buckner Orphans Home in Dallas.

Tommy Reichman (wife of music man Joe) was fishing with a partner. They were running neck and neck race for points. Suddenly Mrs. Reichman landed a big king. The boatman lifted it over the side of the boat and quickly bashed it across the head with the Pacifier (also known as the Priest).

Then he tossed the king overboard and put the stick in the ice box. She lost the point . . . and the fish.

He was an experienced boatman, but he just got so excited he became thoroughly confused.

While fishing from these boats most of the fishermen use a 36-pound test line and a good Penn reel with a star drag. A steel wire leader is a must. They troll their lures, whether hardware or mullet, some 50 yards off the boat. When they hit a school of kings the boat stops and the fishermen start to work. It is no trick to catch a dozen or more of these big old fighting kings in a short time.

These boatmen who've been on the coast for years get about as excited as the novice.

Other fishermen like to work around some of the off-shore drilling rigs and in the vicinity of the three artificial reefs. They have found these spots exceptionally good for kings. Occasionally, they'll hook a ling, too.

If you plan to eat your king, then it is a good idea either to cut off its head or bleed it as soon as you've taken it. Be sure it is properly iced down.

They are best cleaned by filleting. Use a good sharp knife and slice down each side of the backbone. Then remove the beautiful white flesh. In this manner you can pack more of them in your ice chest.

They can be cooked like any other fish, but those who like kings think they are best cooked over open coals.

So if you want to have a real trip this year, try one for kings on the Texas coast.

The Gulf is getting much more business today. Many people pull their own boat rigs to the coast now. Texas is very fortunate in having a great deal of excellent bay water where a 16-foot boat is very useful in getting into top fishing water.

Several passes have been cut through to permit a circulation of bay and gulf waters. These passes are helpful to fishermen.

Perhaps the most important one right now is the Rollover Pass near the town of Gilchrist on High Island east of Galveston.

Then there is Cedar Bayou not too far from the town of Rockport.

Farther south there is another pass proposed through Padre Island, about 12 miles south of Corpus Christi.

Still farther on down there is a cut, straight out into the Gulf from Port Mansfield. This was originally opened as a boat channel. However, it soon sanded up so that big boats could not go through. But it permits circulation of water, and that has been most helpful.

Artificial reefs along the Texas coast also have been beneficial to coastal fishermen. In three spots these reefs provide excellent fishing.

They are located near Freeport, Port Aransas and Port Isabel. Each has been built by dumping 600 old car bodies into the water at about 60 feet deep. They have been laced together with oil field cable and weighted down to prevent their being rolled away by tide or wave action.

It was first proposed to build these reefs for snapper. However, it has developed that other fish like kings, Spanish mackerel, ling and sheepshead like them, too.

One fisherman said that a snapper never would be caught at one of the artificial reefs. He has changed his mind, however, for your bait seldom has a chance to get to the bottom. Usually something else grabs it before it goes down 30 feet.

So if you really want some fishing, try our Texas coast. And right now is a good time to do it!

HYBRID SORGHUMS

NEW GROUND IN TEXAS

Farmers, leading the fast move to sorghum as a cash crop, are accepting this advance through acceptance of improved sorghum seed recently developed.

Dealers of hybrid strains report Texas sales from 50 to 75 per cent the same period last year, that hybrids have not taken a foothold but that are here to stay.

Hybrids have learned that hybrids can increase grain sorghum production as much as 40 per cent over the scientific seed.

This year, our state once again had a big "Texas first" producing 44.4 per cent of the nation's sorghum grain — 100 bushel total.

Produced 273,066,000 bushels of the United States' certified seed production. A bumper crop in 1957 exceeded the demand for 1958 plantings. But as the popularity of hybrid sorghum continues to increase as it surely will, this trend will likely reverse itself.

Indications today show that a shortage of the popular varieties of hybrid sorghums could develop this year. But so far the supply and demand appear in good balance and another good season for Texas grain sorghums is in sight.

tified seed and can yield a high return to the successful grower.

However, the certified seed program is not an easy proposition. It is, on the contrary, a highly scientific and comparatively expensive proposition which can quickly discourage the inexperienced or inefficient farmer.

The trend over the last two years has been for the smaller farmer to drop out of the certified grower program. From an initial number of about 200 in 1956, the list dropped to 161 growers of certified stock in 1958.

Planted acreage of certified seed also decreased sharply from the 1957 figure of 22,000 acres to only 13,344 acres certified by the TDA last year.

However, carryover stock accounted for the drop in 1958 certified seed production. A bumper crop in 1957 exceeded the demand for 1958 plantings. But as the popularity of hybrid sorghum continues to increase as it surely will, this trend will likely reverse itself.

Indications today show that a shortage of the popular varieties of hybrid sorghums could develop this year. But so far the supply and demand appear in good balance and another good season for Texas grain sorghums is in sight.

accounting office of the Social Security Administration in Baltimore, Maryland.

Question: I will be age 65 in July; however, I intend to work until the end of the year. I earn $25 weekly. Can I be paid any social security benefits this year?

Answer: Yes. Even though you would earn $1300 for the whole year, you would still receive payment for all months of the year, but two, after your 65th birthday. This is because for every $80 or part of $80 you earn over $1200 during the year, you lose a month's check. As you can see, in many cases, a worker can be paid some checks for the year even though his annual earnings exceed $1200.

Jehoiada, the priest, fetched soldiers to the House of the Lord and showed the child to them. He then set the fully armed soldiers as guards to see that no harm came to Joash.— II Kings 11:4-8.

Then Jehoiada brought forth the seven-year-old boy, put the crown upon him and gave him the testimony, anointing him king. All the people cried, "God save the king."— II Kings 11:12.

Then Jehoiada made a covenant between the Lord and the king and the people, that they should be the Lord's people, and the people rejoiced.— II Kings 11:17-20.

International Friendship Theme Of Day Camp For Local Girl Scouts

Day Camp for the Girl Scouts of Goldthwaite was held June 1 through June 5 at the City Park with International Friendship as the theme for the camp this year. Forty girls and nine adults attended camp this year.

Due to the rainy weather during the week the girls did not get to meet at their campsites on Tuesday or Wednesday, but met in the American Legion Hall. They learned new songs, and games and worked on Crafts. Some of the crafts they made were: claybeads, Indian headbands, papersack masks, pin boxes, Chinese hats, and they also did papier-mache' work.

Thursday afternoon the girls met at the Legion Hall and practiced on their program. At six o'clock the program was opened with an Indian song and dance by Troop 9. Troop 5 followed with a skit, "The Shrewd Daughter-in-Law," a Chinese story. Troop 3 presented a skit, "Just Too Tired To Move." Troop 4 closed the program with a Mexican song. The parents joined the girls in the Retiring of the Colors and a Campfire ceremony afterwards. The Campfire ceremony was closed with the song, "The Call of the Fire."

Friday, all girls went to their campsites and cooked their noon meal. They cleared their site and reached headquarters before rain set in. Mrs. Breeding, Camp Director, complimented the girls on being so cooperative during the bad weather. Each girl stated she was looking forward to next year and hoped it would not rain during Day Camp week.

At the close of the camp on Friday afternoon, Mrs. Breeding presented a gift in appreciation from the Scouts.

Personal Paragraphs

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Berry attended church at Valley Springs Sunday.

Harold Allen of Hamilton is a guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCasland.

Bill Armstrong came in last week from Park View, New Mexico, where he taught in the high school the past term.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby McConal, Seagrave, D. J. McConal, Seminole, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Felps, provided for an entirely new trial when decisions of state agencies were appealed to the courts. Governor Daniel said it would have disrupted oil and gas conservation procedures of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Also turned down was a bill to create a Fort Bend County water district. Governor Daniel said it was in conflict with state-wide water planning. Rep. Jimmy Day of Brookshire, sponsor, made a critical speech on the House floor, contending the governor had signed a bill just like that one two years ago.

Another vetoed bill would have provided for repayment to persons who have paid fines or served sentences for crimes of which they were not guilty. Governor said the intent was good, but with no limitations in the bill, the taxpayers had no protection.

One Solution—Many observers believe that much of the current legislative trouble—the slow start, delays, bickering between members and last-minute do or die legislation—would not happen if the office of Speaker of the House were an elective post.

Certainly this would eliminate the factions that exist in the Lower House.

Evidence of the desirability of such a plan is found in the office of the Lieutenant Governor, who performs identical functions in the Senate. Both officers have apartments in the Capitol Building, but only the Lieutenant Governor is elected by the people.

Selection of the House Speaker is made by the House members themselves. This delays the start of nearly every session. Furthermore it provokes many bitter battles, divides the House, and creates deep wounds that never heal. Also, much time is wasted, during sessions by various groups campaigning for the Speakership for the session that still is two years away.

The real loser in the battle is the public and they have no choice in the matter, as things stand now.

Demands for making the post an elective one would have to come from the people, as there is considerable feeling among public officials against the idea of elective offices.

Of Motes And Beams—A resolution to add to the lobby expense reporting law brought on House debate as to who's holier than who.

Reps. Zeke Zbraneck of Daisetta and Don Kennard of Fort Worth proposed requiring lobbyists to report cost of transporting legislators. It was a jibe at several senators who recently flew to Tennessee in a gas company plane.

Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percella reminded the House that House members had in previous sessions gone in droves on various lobby-arranged flights. He made the suggestion, of Biblical origin, that the House "get the beam out of its eye before we try to get the mote out of a brother's eye."

House voted 71-52 with Rep. R. H. Cory's (Victoria) suggestion of "not meddling in the Senate's affairs."

Student Fees Debated—House members considered a bill to require students in state-supported colleges to pay an activity fee of up to $30 a semester.

Fee would cover such things as health services, parking privileges, tickets to athletic and cultural events, book rentals, subscription to campus publications, etc.

Students now pay about $12 less on a voluntary basis. Rep. W. S. Healy Jr. of Paducah, sponsor, said all the college presidents favored the bill. It would make an estimated $2,000,000 available for higher education.

Opponents declared it moved in the direction of putting educational opportunity on the basis of ability to pay.

Waco, Mr. and Mrs. Garland McConal and family of Eunice, New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. James Stone and boys of Brady were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McConal during the past weekend.

Cecil Bryant Jr. of Abilene spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bryant.

Mrs. Burton Leverett and daughter, Barbara, visited several days last week in the Walker Berry home. They also visited their grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Berry and O. Z. Berry, who is a patient in the Lampasas hospital.

Mrs. Frank Hines and Greta Sue visited Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Hines and Gregory in Lometa Sunday afternoon. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Dee Straley and Mrs. J. H. Lockhart in Adamsville.

Miss Odessa Ward went to Austin Sunday afternoon where she will attend Durham's Business College.

"He had a garden last year, but all he tried to cultivate was that blonde next door!"

SURVIVES FAMILY TRAGEDY—Robert Brownfield, 36, of Elliot, Ind., is given emergency treatment as he lies in a ditch near a railroad track at Crown Point, Ind., in critical condition after his auto was hit by a passenger train. His wife and four young children were killed. A daughter, Faylene, 9, survived. The family of seven was returning from a holiday when accident occurred.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Texas — First called in of the 56th Legislature and automatically June 16. would be hard to find any-around the Capitol who bet on the state's money being wrapped up by date.

They began their work on bills sent them by the with an air of deliberate. They even waited 48 hours beginning hearings to everybody time to ready his station. (This is the "tag" whereby if one senator a bill, it cannot be heard with 48 hours notice.)

An issue was a bill to raise revenue for 1960-61 spending. Gov. Price Daniel appeared personally before the State Affairs Committee

Governor Daniel's reply to those arguments is that business should bear a portion of the tax burden to keep from dumping it all "on the family budget," as in a general sales tax.

Hard Going—Governor Daniel's abandoned property bill, killed during the regular session, made it back to the House floor, but only after a committee had attached crippling amendments.

As introduced, the bill would have allowed the state to take over property or bank accounts unclaimed for seven years. Committee changed the waiting period to 15 years. This cut the estimated first-year take from $20,000,000 to $3,000,000.

This is one of the bills recommended by the governor to pay off the $65,000,000 deficit that accumulated during the 1958-59 binnium.

House Taxation Committee killed outright Rep. Jerry Sadler's proposal to levy a one percent gross receipts tax on manufactured goods.

Thumbs Down On These — Governor Daniel vetoed nine of the some 500 bills passed during the regular session.

Among these was the "de novo" bill which would have in behalf of H. B. 7. This is the House-passed bill to tax natural gas, interstate corporation franchises, utilities, liquor, cigarettes, auto, etc.

Governor Daniel stoutly defended the bill on all counts, but said he would not "feel hurt" if the Senate wanted to make some changes.

Industry spokesmen and chamber of commerce representatives told the committee the bill would drive business away from Texas. "Our customers," said one company man, "will not pay a premium for a 'made in Texas' label."

Others complained that H. B. 7 not only would tax the same groups that have been hit before, but would hit some from several directions at once.

1959 GHS Senior Class Will

(Written by Barbara Burns and read by Addie Jo Conradt at the Junior-Senior Banquet).

Camp Lake Wood, Girl Scout Camp, Opened Sunday

Camp Wood Lake, resident camp owned and operated by the Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council, opened Sunday, June 7, and will run six consecutive weeks, according to announcement by Mrs. Walter Helmecke, council camp committee chairman.

The Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council launched a campaign for the development of the camp in the spring of 1954. Girls and adult volunteers in the council have worked diligently to raise funds for the camp. Ninety-five per cent of the money has been raised by the girls themselves through their annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale.

Much planning and work has gone into getting the camp ready for operation. The camp development committee, under the direction of J. H. Duke, chairman, has added a new dining hall and five new tent frames for this camping season. Much clearing has also been done in beautifying the site.

The camp program is planned by the girls with the guidance of their counselors. Swimming instruction is a regularly scheduled activity. Other activities consist of archery, natural crafts, dramatics, singing, games, hikes, cookouts, boating and overnights.

Girls attending camp from the Goldthwaite area will be: Carolyn Breeding, Helen Jan Head, Sandra Kay Jordan, Karen Alice Summy, Betty Sutherland and Judith Ann Tubbs. They will leave for camp on July 5.

There are still openings in the fifth and sixth sessions for girls wanting to attend camp. Application should be made through the council office, Brownwood. Mrs. A. C. Robbins, Stephenville, is president of the council and Mrs. Ray A. Hoyle, Brownwood, is executive director.

past fall and winter, wild turkey have been observed roosting in a number of old roosts that had not been used since before the drouth.

Following the winter roosting, in late February and March, wild turkeys go through what is known as a spring shuffle, according to Walker. The winter flocks break up and begin to disperse over wide areas in preparation for breeding and nesting. The usual procedure is for each old gobbler to collect a harem of females and move into a nesting area. "This location frequently is as far as 12 to 20 miles from the wintering grounds," said the director.

During the shuffle, it is not unusual for single hens to be lost for a period of time. "However," added Walker, "the calling and gobbling of the wild gobblers, which is always heard at this time of year, attracts the hens and they are usually successful in mating with a mature gobbler."

We, the Senior Class of Goldthwaite High School in the year of 1959, being in reasonably good health and of doubtfully sound mind, realizing the uncertainty of grades and the vacillating dispositions of our faculty members, do hereby make this, our last will and testament:

The entire senior class leaves to Mr. Williams and Mrs. Reese sincere gratitude and appreciation for their patience and wisdom in guiding our class, and the hope of a more co-operative one next year.

Gene Elliott leaves his ability to go with Mullin girls to Charlie Wilkins, if he has the nerve.

Maxine Loudamy leaves whatever she has, if she has anything left after graduation, to whoever needs whatever she has, and can do anything with whatever this thing is.

Shirley Morgan and Linda Ward leave their ability to read the shorthand lessons out of the back of the book, without Mrs.

Carothers catching them, to Jackie McCasland, if she is silly enough to take shorthand.

Aubrey Hillman leaves his "Don Juan" ways to James Leslie Simpson.

Nathan Carothers leaves the incentive to break his record of 7 minutes, 58 seconds on a trip to Lometa to Bill Clements and Ricky Leinweber.

Prentiss Head leaves his ability to be absent from school 50 per cent of the time to go to every stock show in the state, to Glenn Carr and Billy Ray Blackburn.

Gary Leverett leaves his old, torn drum major britches to Don Elder. We hope you don't get too big for them like Gary did.

To Maria Eubank, Elsie Crumley leaves her shyness toward the opposite sex.

Del Barnett leaves the ten ticks for playing hooky he got on April 1, 1958 to be distributed among Jeanette Heath, Loreta Stapp, and Carolyn Allison.

Gary Straley leaves the most coveted item in high school, his class ring, to Sarah Jane Cockrum.

Max Shepherd leaves his curly red hair to Mr. Jones, who needs any kind.

Benna Reid leaves her loyalty to the Republican party to Norma Duren and Darrell Yeager.

Marion Howerton leaves his collection of used cars to Charles Collier and Alfred Starks. Maybe they can trade them in for a new one.

Danny Galloway leaves all his old TV Guides and absentee slips to Joe McKenzie and Mike Hoover.

Shirley Manuel leaves her quiet disposition and temper in civics to Judy Richard (Buck) Jones.

Odena Ward leaves her full bottle of vitamin pills to Tom Graves, John Brant and Gerry Head.

Barbara Burns leaves her presidency of the Senior to any ten people who they can handle the job will take all ten, especially P. D. Head falls.

Last, but not least, Kelly and Addie Jo Conradt just plain leave!

Turkey Crop Looking Good For This Year

AUSTIN (Spec.)—Wild turkey will be plentiful this year, according to E. A. Walker, director of wildlife restoration, Texas Game and Fish Commission. "Last year was one of the most favorable years since the drouth for increases in the wild turkey populations," said Walker. "and many young birds were raised and added to the bands now roaming the Texas brushlands."

Old roosts, which appeared abandoned and forgotten, are being reactivated. During the

DECIDE AND Pesticide Meeting

This meeting was held on the 10th of June 10 in Goldthwaite. A. L. Snell gave a talk on control of weeds, brush and grasses. He supplemented talk by using slides showing results of the spraying. Mr. Snell stated that grass could be controlled in our pastures if we used a defoliant practice. He also stressed that chemicals should not do the job alone but that good management practices must be carried out to the best results.

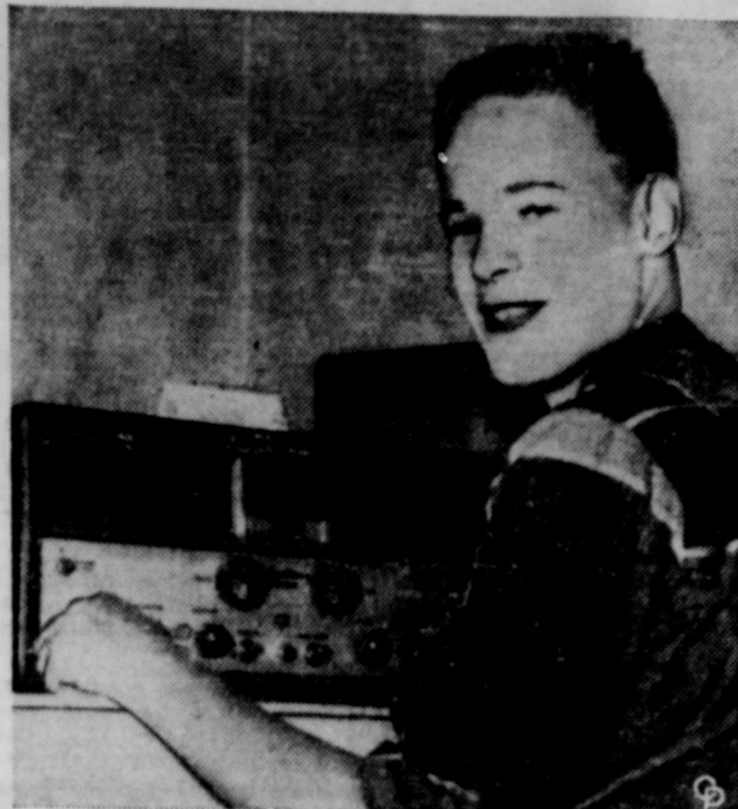

Mr. Snell also said that we do not spray that will eradicate weeds but that it will only kill the plant and that re-spraying will need to be repeated about 12 years. Spraying weeds should be done in the leaf stage (Best kills on weeds and prickly pear can be obtained from July to August). Use of 2, 4, 5-T in diesel mixture when the soil is two most common methods of application are to spray the tree (foliage spray) to treat the lower 18 inches of trunk (Base method). Use at the rate of 8 pounds per 100 gallons of water and oil.

Mills County has some white brush along the western part of the county and the control for white brush is one gallon of MCP - A per 100 gallons of water with a spreader-sticker added such as liquid soap in the amount of one cup to 100 gallons of water. Mr. Snell also told the group to be sure and always add the sticker-spreader to the mixtures when spraying. This will increase the effectiveness of the herbicide. Apply the material to white brush in the spring or fall, when plants are fully leafed. You should stop spraying when conditions get very dry or when brush sheds most of its flower petals.

Most ranchers do not like prickly pear, although some burn and feed it during drought. To control prickly pear, tasajillo and turkey pear you should apply 2, 4, 5-T at the rate of 8 pounds per 100 gallons of diesel oil or kerosene, the pads, stems and trunks should be completely covered to a point of slight runoff. The time to control is in the summer (June to September).

REACHES MOSCOW—High school freshman Douglas Thure sits at his short-wave radio set, in Whittier, Calif., after revealing that he has been in touch with a Russian program called "Moscow Mailbag." He mailed questions to the station and heard replies via the radio. He asked if Russia would be first to moon? They said Soviets are not interested in being first.

Spraying for horehound should be started in January if possible, for the small plants are more readily killed when they are young and tender. Late spraying of horehound will not kill the large clumps. Some seed will be affected in the germination by the late sprayings but the real control jobs are done with the earlier sprayings. The control is 2, 4 D at the rate of 1 pound in 15 to 25 gallons water and 1/2 cup of liquid soap per acre. If cattle sprayer is used add the 1 pound of 2, 4 D to 50 gallons of water plus one cup of liquid soap per acre.

In the control of vegetation in croplands Mr. Snell discussed the use of Dalapon in the control of weeds and grasses in ditches. Dalapon will also control cattails in ponds. Johnson-grass can be controlled by the use of this chemical.

Mr. Ken Priddy discussed the new developments in livestock sprays and chemicals to control cattle grubs. He also showed slides of cattle and sheep that had been treated with these newer chemicals to control cattle grubs, horn flies, screw worms and sheep scab. His talk and slides showed the effectiveness of these newer controls.

He was asked, by ranchers at the meeting, how to control horse flies on beef cattle around three weeks.

The information that was presented at the meeting was some of the latest that has been released and with the annual loss due to the cattle grub to the livestock industry of around 100 million dollars in the U. S. each year it is information that can be used to advantage by the livestock producers of Mills County.

AN UNDERTAKER
A friend in the country having been asked by one of his neighbors why the editor of the State Gazette embellished his paper with a picture of a coffin, replied that there was no telling, unless it was because he felt a melancholy presentiment that the anti-Buchanan clique were going to be beat, and their organ sold out, and hence was getting ready to set up the honest calling of undertaker.—Austin Southern Intelligencer.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES
The crests of dictatorial editors are lowered, office-holders are moderating their tone so as to prepare a soft place to fall back on, street politicians of the caucus school are quietly expressing their conviction, when privately asked, that the ticket of the Buchanan, anti-secession, anti-slave trade Democracy stands a pretty good chance. Fifteen thousand majority for Gen. Sam Houston is anticipated as matters now stand.

"The Rusk Enquirer says that "It seems strange to see the Intelligencer soft-soaping Gen. Houston, and it cannot help asking the reason for it." The reasons are very evident, and they are that the Intelligencer is so bitterly opposed to the Democratic party in Texas that it is willing to shut its eyes to all matters in Gen. Houston's career of which it has been so loud in its denunciation, and stultify itself by supporting him because it hopes thereby to defeat the party with which it formerly acted." — HOUSTON TELEGRAPH.

It is a source of gratification to the Intelligencer, not to be in the luckless category of the Houston Telegraph, a paper that "goes it blind" and stultifies itself whether willing or not.—AUSTIN SOUTHERN INTELLIGENCER.

More car than this Impala Sport Coupe is hard to find at any price.

clings to curves like a cat on a carpet!

the travel-lovin' Chevrolet

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with such solid assurance!

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wider stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it.

The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word compete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by. There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. Take a Chevy down a snaky back road and you'll feel the difference in the sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple.

This one's really made to travel and loves every minute of it.

Producers Will Vote July 23 On 1960 Wheat Marketing Quotas

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson June 1, 1959, took the following actions on 1960-crop wheat:

1. Proclaimed marketing quotas on the 1960 crop. This seventh successive proclamation of wheat marketing quotas is required by a wheat supply that is 99.6 per cent above the normal supply level.
2. Proclaimed a national wheat acreage allotment of 55 million acres, the minimum permitted by law.
3. Announced State shares of the national allotment.
4. Set July 23, 1959, as the date for a referendum to determine producer approval or disapproval of quotas.
5. Announced a 39-State commercial and a 10-State non-commercial wheat producing area for 1959.

The program is being announced under the presently controlling legislation which requires the Secretary of Agriculture to proclaim wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments on June 1 this year. By recent joint resolution, Congress set this date instead of the usual May 15 deadline for the proclamations.

If producers approve marketing quotas, under the proclamation announced June 1, the national average support price available to eligible growers in the commercial area will be not less than the minimum support to be announced before the referendum.

On the basis of the present supply of wheat and present legislation, the legal minimum wheat support price for the 1960 crop will be at 75 per cent of parity. Individual farm marketing quotas will be the normal production or the actual production from the farm acreage allotment, whichever is larger.

If marketing quotas are disapproved, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketings. Acreage allotments will remain in effect as a condition of eligibility for price support at the 50 per cent of parity (as of July 1, 1960) rate required by law if quotas are disapproved.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Holden visited their children, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Bloomer, Rebecca and Terri, also Mr. and Mrs. Harrel Holden and Mike, at Austin last Sunday.

Sheep And Goat Raisers To Meet Saturday, June 13

San Angelo, (Spec.) — The summer meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association will be held in Bracketville, Saturday, June 13, Lance Sears, TS&GRA President, has announced.

The meetings will be held on the grounds of old Fort Clark, now Fort Clark Guest Ranch, he added. Committee meetings will be held in Las Moras Hall starting at 8:30 a. m. and the general meeting will be in the Theatre at 10:30 a. m. Both buildings are on the South side of the old post parade ground.

"We expect considerable discussion on a proposed plan to rid the state of screw worm flies," President Sears said. "Methods of financing this work which will affect all ranchmen will be a big problem. State and National legislation will also receive attention."

All ranchmen in Kinney and adjoining counties are invited and urged to attend the meeting, he stated.

Miss Zora Lee Roberts of Goldthwaite is among the students enrolled in the Scott and White Nursing School at Temple.

With the recent rains, now is a good time to give ranges a rest. Grasses respond much quicker to deferment when moisture is present. Many farmers and ranchers in the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District have already started summer deferment.

Grass is not usually considered a crop by most farmers and ranchers. To get the highest production from rangeland, grass should be handled as a crop.

On cropland we have to stop grazing to allow the plant to make seed. Grass should be managed the same way. A farmer or rancher needs to defer a part of his rangeland each year to allow the grass to seed and add litter. A good cover reduces runoff and keeps the ground temperature cooler. A range with a cover of 1,000 pounds of litter per acre will absorb only one inch of rain per hour, the rest will run off causing erosion, loss of top soil, and soil fertility. A range having a cover of 2,000 pounds will absorb 7-8 inches of rain per hour. It is the rain you keep that counts, not the amount in the rain gauge.

Some Cooperators of the District have seeded part of their crop land to temporary pasture for summer grazing in order to defer part of their range land.

Next year's crop of grass may depend on how you manage your rangeland this year. It takes grass to make grass.
