

VIC'S . . .

SOLILOQUY

THE MAN WHO CANNOT TOLERATE SMALL ILLS, WILL NEVER ACCOMPLISH GREAT THINGS.—Chinese Proverb.

NOW FOR THE RUN-OFF — The United States Senatorial election, first go around, is over and now within the next few days the big guns will open for the run-off campaign.

This run-off campaign should be a good one, and one that will be watched not only by Texans but by people from throughout the whole nation.

The run-off date will be announced shortly and then the wheels will start turning to drum up votes.

WILSON'S REASONING—Attorney General Will Wilson who ran a poor race in his bid for the U. S. Senate seat has his own reasoning about why he had the poor showing statewide.

He commented that the people of Texas felt that he was doing such a good job here in Texas that they didn't want to see him leave and go to Washington.

That could be.

Then on the other hand it could also be that the voters had something else in mind.

One could hear a number of comments before election day by individuals who stated they would vote for Wilson if it were not for the fact that if he should be elected it would call for another special election to fill his Texas post.

It could be that the voters are beginning to think about the extra expenses that were put on the taxpayers to hold these two Senatorial elections to fill a seat in the U. S. Senate that should have been filled in the last general election to start with.

NEW VERSION OF THE TWENTY-THIRD PSALM

The Government is my shepherd,
Therefore I need not work.
It alloweth me to lie down on a good job,
It leadeth me beside still factories;
It destroyeth my initiative.
It leadeth me in the path of a parasite for politics' sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of laziness and deficit spending,
I will fear no evil, for the Government is with me.
It prepareth an economic Utopia for me, by appropriating the earnings of my grandchildren.
It filleth my head with false security,
My inefficiency runneth over.
Surely the Government should care for me for all the days of my life,
And I shall dwell in a Fool's paradise forever.

FLY KITES SAFELY! — The summer will come soon and with it kite-flying season. So some "flight instructions" issued by a electric company to "kid kite pilots" who will soon be racing across fields towing their "paper aircraft" into "the wild blue yonder" are very much in point now.

- Here they are:
1. Don't fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail!
 2. Don't use tinsel-string wire, or any twine with metal in it!
 3. Don't fly a kite in the rain!
 4. Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite!
 5. Don't fly a kite over TV or radio aeriels!
 6. Don't fly a kite near electric or power lines!
 7. Don't run across streets or highways while flying kites!
 8. Don't touch fallen electric wires!

WHEN THE OLD BIRD WAS YOUNGER

10 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle Files of April 13, 1951)
Meeting last Monday night for the first time since elections of last Saturday, the Board of Trustees of the Goldthwaite Independent School District elected Gerald Head as Chairman to succeed C. C. Collier, whose resignation was accepted with deep regret.

Funeral services were conducted at the Moline Baptist Church on Thursday afternoon of last week for Thomas Hoyden Hunt, 63, who died suddenly at his home on Tuesday of last week following a long illness.

About Monday of next week Leonard Cole expects to open his own business in the premises formerly occupied on Third Street by Carl Letbetter Weldery Shop which is now the Letbetter Machine Shop and which is doing business on the stand of the former Linkenhogor Machine Shop.

Four teams, with which some 40 men worked as members, raised $998.00 in Goldthwaite on Wednesday of last week for the Comanche Trail Council of Boy Scouts of America, it was announced this week by Joe Bailey Karnes, Finance Chairman.

H. B. Gilbert, vice president of the Trent State Bank in Goldthwaite, has been moved from hospital in Brownwood to a hospital in Wichita Falls to be nearer members of his family. Mr. Gilbert has been seriously ill for some time.

Mrs. J. M. Bruce of Colorado City recently visited her father, W. M. Richards, who has been quite ill, but is much improved. Mrs. H. V. Richards of Abilene was also visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richards.

Mrs. Walker Berry returned last week from San Antonio where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Burton Leverett.

25 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle Files of April 17, 1936)

Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. Elmer Horton were hostesses to about fifty of the friends of Mrs. L. W. Faulkner at her home Saturday night, the occasion being a surprise entertainment for Mrs. Faulkner on her eightieth birthday.

Mrs. Goldman, an aged lady who lived in this city a good many years ago, but who had made her home in Atlanta, Georgia, in recent years, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Potter, in this city Tuesday morning, after a short illness.

David Mitchell, 24-year-old cowboy, whose home has been in New York a good many years, left there November 26, on horse back, to join his parents, who have traded for a ranch near Winters, Texas. He passed through Mills County Easter Sunday about noon and stopped at the home of Fritz Hazeltine, in Priddy community, for a drink of water and was invited to stay for dinner which he accepted.

A Moment With The Bible

"Take heed to yourself: If thy brother sin, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him. And if he sin against thee seven times in the day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him" (Luke 17:3, 4).

If a man truly loves his brother, he will rebuke him when he sins, and if that man repents, he will forgive him. To forgive is to forget! If that man sins seven times in one day against his brother but repents, the other shall forgive him and remember those sins no more.

Listen to Jesus again, "But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses" (Matt. 6:15).

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX.—Texas Senate now has a tax bill—one designed to wipe out about half the deficit that is expected to be about $63,000,000 when the new fiscal year starts September 1.

Revenue-raising measures must be passed by the House before they can be considered by the Senate, and the upper chamber has waited with polite impatience for the House to send it something to work on.

Passed 85-to-60 by the House was the so-called "loophole bill" by Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger.

It is a sort of catchall bill that (1) plugs up some leaks in the revenue bill passed last session, taxing central air conditioners, juke boxes, etc., (2) provides for a transfer of 1 per cent of the permanent school fund to the available school fund, (3) sets up a two-factor formula for corporate franchise taxes and (4) levies a state gift tax of one-half the federal gift tax.

Captain of the Ballman bill is broad enough that a variety of other money raising plans could be added to it should legislators be able to agree to them.

Meanwhile, the House Revenue and Taxation Committee still has a lot of other tax bills in the mill. Three sales tax bills were sent to subcommittee, as well as a hotly debated proposal to levy a 10 per cent tax on trading stamps.

A trading company spokesman said there is only a three per cent profit on the operation and that a 10 per cent tax would put them out of business.

On the other hand, stamps were attacked as "counterfeit money" and an unnecessary burden on both merchant and consumer.

Strike Three—Texas Supreme Court made short work of a 1959-passed tax law that many vote that Harper be elected secretary. The dissent here came from Harper.

The architect and engineer present discussed the findings of their inspection of existing conditions relative to buildings and voiced an opinion that the old high school building was of sound construction and could be converted economically into agriculture shop, class rooms and band hall—that improvements in the gym would have to be of new structure as to additions but the beams could be changed in such a way as to have a double playing court. This possibility is being studied further.

lawmakers had hoped would be a potent future revenue raiser.

Without issuing an opinion, the high court agreed with the trial court and civil appeals court that the severance beneficiary tax on gas is unconstitutional.

Although three state courts have turned thumbs down on the gas tax, the last chapter remains to be written by the U. S. Supreme Court. As passed in 1959, the gas tax was low (1½ per cent of market value), but supporters had indicated that if the law survived its court battles, the rate would be raised to bring in more money.

Ladies Score In House—House has passed and sent to the Senate a proposed constitutional amendment that would automatically erase all statutes that treat women differently from men.

Rep. Ben Atwell's very brief amendment states that "equality under the law shall not be denied or abridged because of sex." It passed the House 135-to-10.

Senators have misgivings about causing such sweeping changes in the law. Some 44 statutes would be affected.

Loan Fight Shapes Up—House members are coming to grips with one of the session's touchiest issues—regulation of small loan companies.

House Committee on Banks and Banking reported to the floor a bill authored by Rep. Criss Cole of Houston. It is being subjected to widespread criticism, but Cole, long-time veteran of the loan regulation effort, declared that no bill was going to satisfy all the interested factions.

Cole's bill sets up a sliding scale that would allow interest rates of just under 40 per cent on loans of $100 and dropping gradually to about 11 per cent on a $3,000 loan. It also allows for "reasonable insurance charges," at rates set by the State Board of Insurance.

Abner McCall of Waco, spokesman of a statewide committee for sound loan laws, said the interest rates were too high and that the limit on credit insurance charges should be clearly defined.

Breweries (Pro & Con)—Legal restrictions on breweries and the desirability of having breweries at all came up for spirited discussion before the Senate State Affairs Committee.

Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth is author of the House-passed bill that would give brewers of ale the privilege, as beer makers, to continue their operations in a territory after it is voted dry. It would also increase from one year to three years the time allowed a brewery to begin production after it got its license.

A large out-of-state manufacturer of ale is planning to build a $20,000,000 plant in Tarrant County. Any change would, of course, affect the whole state. Supporters of the bill emphasized the new jobs and payroll it would create. Opponents, mostly ministers and church leaders, declared it would contribute to the problems of alcoholism.

Phone Rates Studied — House State Affairs Committee is studying a bill by Rep. Dan Struve of Campbellton that would place regulation of telephone service, within the state's borders, in the hands of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Representative Struve says Texas is one of two states that do not have this sort of regulation and that other states have lower rates.

Other witnesses testified that a long distance call within Texas borders costs more than one of the same distance that cross the state line.

Pre-Paid Funerals Debated—Funeral directors and cemetery operators clashed before both House and Senate committee over a bill to restrict pre-paid funeral arrangements.

Funeral directors declared that their only desire was to protect the public by requiring that money paid in advance for funeral expenses be put in a trust fund.

Cemetery and mortuary operators retorted that the funeral directors wanted to discourage pre-paying of funeral expenses. They contended that families who make funeral arrangements at the time of bereavement spend more money than if arrangements are made in advance.

Short Snorts—A test vote in the Senate indicated that Sen. Dorey Hardeman's proposal to abolish the Court of Criminal Appeals and transfer its duties to the State Supreme Court, is short of enough support for passage... Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston says he will introduce a bill to allow nurses registered in other states to practice in Texas, thus to help alleviate the shortage of registered nurses.

Senator Louis Crump Expects Early Action On Quarantine Bill

Austin (Special) — Senator Louis Crump of San Saba, said today he expects early favorable action by the Legislature on his bill to outlaw shipments into Texas of cattle or products from areas quarantined on account of screw-worm or fever tick infestation.

Crump said the legislation is necessary to fully protect herds and products in Texas and will implement federal quarantine laws. The bill by Crump, Senate Bill No. 196, has been approved by the Senate by a vote of 29 to 0 and now is pending in the House after receiving favorable action last week by the House Agriculture Committee.

The legislation would provide state penalties up to $200 upon conviction of transporting each animal or shipment of products from quarantined areas into the State. Each shipment constitutes a separate offense under the bill. Inspectors of the Texas Animal Health Commission are authorized to require treatment and certification before any shipment from a quarantined area can be made.

Animal shipments affected by the bill include those of any cattle, horses, mules, jacks, jennets, goats, sheep, hogs, exotic or circus animals unless such livestock have been dipped free of infestation and certified free of fever tick and screw-worm. Products included in the ban include any hay, straw, grasses, packing, pine straw, corn shucks, weeds, plants, litter, manure, dirt, posts, sand, gravel, timber in its natural state, caliche or animal by-products.

Final passage of the bill, Crump said, will give state authorities needed legislation to keep our State clear of screw-worm and tick fever and enable them to work in conjunction with federal authorities in enforcement.

Members of the Goldthwaite Lions Club will have charge of the concession stand at the FFA Rodeo this week Friday and Saturday nights, the club voted at the last meeting.

Dr. O. W. Lowrey Speaks On Cancer At P-TA Meeting Monday Night

Dr. O. W. Lowrey spoke to the P-TA Monday night, April 10, at the regular meeting. About seventy-five parents and teachers attended to hear him talk about the diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

The history is very important. If a person is a heavy smoker the physician will be on the lookout for lung cancer. A woman who has had several children will be more prone to have cancer of the uterus, but on the other hand will be less apt to have breast cancer.

The most important tools the physician has are his eyes, his ears and his fingers. Through a routine physical examination these three instruments are used. Most of the diagnoses are made on this basis. Laboratory work will further confirm the diagnosis. For example, an X-ray of the chest should be done every year on individuals smoking as much as one package of cigarettes per day. People who smoke more than one package per day should be X-rayed every six months. Other means of diagnosis includes biopsies which is the most exact method and surgery such as scraping of tissue from the uterus for examination.

It is commonly thought that certain physicians are cancer specialists. He explained to the group that this was erroneous. A physician may be a specialist such as a radiologist who will use X-ray for diagnosis and treatment, but there are no cancer specialists.

The cure of cancer consists of surgery and radiation. Chemical agents such as nitrogen mustard are used to slow down the growth. He also emphasized the importance of hormones such as male and female hormones in treatment of cancer of the breast or prostate gland. These are used primarily to slow the growth of the malignancy.

Dr. Lowrey is with the Lowrey Clinic at Gatesville. He is at the present time Medical Director of District 12 for the American Cancer Society. The program committee consisted of Mrs. Delton Barnett and J. D. Harper. Dr. Lowrey was introduced by Dr. M. A. Childress.
