$4,200 Contributed To Mills County Screwworm Control Program Fund

L. B. Burnham, chairman, announced this week that $4,200 has been contributed to date to the Mills County fund for the screwworm control program.

The Mills County drive is part of a project carried on throughout Texas where stockmen on a voluntary basis contribute to the research fund for control of the screwworm pest.

Contributions in Mills County are coming in from all sections of the county as contacts are being made by committee workers. More is expected in the next few days as the drive is nearing a climax. The Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation is sponsoring the move with hopes to raise $3 million to carry on the program.

More than 200 counties have reported successful drives and more are expected to report in the next few days.

Mills County is still short of the goal needed, according to Burnham. The voluntary fees system as approved by the county committee calls for 50¢ per head for cattle and horses and 10¢ per head for sheep, goats, and hogs.

Burnham announced this week that if contributions are received from stockmen in the county on the suggested fee based on stock as rendered on the tax rolls of Mills County Tax Assessor-Collector it would provide $19,257. "And we all know that rendition of livestock is a very conservative figure," Burnham stated.

Report from the Extension Service to County Agent George Reese this week stated that the cold weather is a favorable factor.

The recent extremely cold weather, in the estimation of authorities has reduced the over-wintering area of the screwworm fly to such an extent that they feel this would be an ideal year to initiate the control program. It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that producers' contributions be collected as quickly as possible. The amount of money collected locally will be an indication to various state and federal appropriating bodies of the producer interest in this program. Many authorities feel that it likely will be many years before we will have such an ideal year in which to start the program.

Officials of the Foundation have announced: "That it be the policy of the board of trustees that all funds received from producers shall and will be held in escrow to be expended only in the event funds are available or authorized to initiate the screwworm eradication program and in the event that efforts to secure sufficient funds fail, all monies in such escrow accounts shall be returned to the individual or organization from which they were received."

Only 656 poll tax receipts had been issued by Tuesday morning out of a possible 1,500 or 1,600 in the county.

The last day for one to get a new poll tax receipt and be qualified to vote in this year's elections is next Wednesday, January 31.

Last year 1,567 poll tax receipts were issued. Unless county residents really get busy during the next few days this year will fall far short.

Elections scheduled this year will be the regular city and school trustee elections in April, the primary election and runoff in May and June and then the general election in November.

HIS OWN GOOD TIME—That's the way it goes, you can't plan things for the stork. It seems that when it comes to the functions of the stork, he is on his own good time and schedule, whether it be slow or fast.

For a while it looked like January would come and go without a claim for the prizes offered in the First Baby Contest of 1962. But things usually happen, and they did this time, and the stork did come and bring the first born for the new year in Mills County and the prizes didn't go begging.

Elsewhere in this issue you will see details of the First Baby who won the contest and his proud parents, who will share the prizes offered by Goldthwaite merchants.

EXCEPT BALLE!—"The governments of the Soviet Union and the United States spend millions a year to win friends and influence people abroad," says the Portland Oregonian. "But the bureaucrats and cloak-and-dagger agents of neither can exhibit such results of success as those that can be attributed to American private enterprise."

The peoples of the world, it goes on to observe, want all manner of products of American production or origin, ranging from chewing gum and hamburgers to automatic dishwashers. And it's a well known fact when well-heeled Soviet officials leave this country for home they commonly go laden with American goods that aren't available over there.

At the end the Oregonian makes this significant point: "These are all superficial things. But is it not possible that, like so much on the surface, they are representative of attitudes that lie deeper, that are more profound, more significant in the critical struggle for men's minds? Although the whole world mimics Americans, even our faults, very few anywhere seem to want to do things as the Russians do them, except perhaps ballet."

A report made at a recently held national conference on aging says that there has been a phenomenal growth in pre-paid health insurance for those over 65. Half of the people in this age group now have some form of the insurance. By the end of the decade, it is expected that two out of three will have coverage.

A GOOD WORKER—Have you ever seen anyone take hold of a job and go after it with more zest and push than L. B. Burnham, chairman of the committee for Mills County, working on the screwworm eradication program?

L. B. is doing all one man can do in pushing the program. He is not only serving as chairman of the committee, he is working every spare minute he has contacting farmers and ranchers in the county telling the story, and he does an A-1 job as a reporter getting information to the Eagle to help get it before the public.

Burnham has working with him several dozen interested committee members covering the entire county. The drive is progressing and each day more ranchers are joining the move with their financial support.

Stockmen with an eye to the future are realizing the damage done by the screwworm pest and are realizing the importance of doing something to control it. More and more ranchers all over the state are supporting the drive for funds which is to be completed by February 1.

HAVE YOU PAID YOUR POLL TAX?—Yes, here is one more reminder to everyone in Mills County to go and pay that poll tax.

Next Wednesday, January 31, is the last day to pay the poll tax or get that exemption, and be qualified to vote in the 1962 elections.

FOLIAGE PLANTS IN THE HOME

Indoor plants can be used to enhance interior decoration in the same way as draperies, rugs and furniture in any room. For this reason, they should be selected for appearance and lasting qualities.

They must be adaptable to the conditions which exist in modern day homes and buildings, such as fluorescent lighting, central heating and air conditioning. They should be a part of the general scheme of interior decoration, and should harmonize in color, shape, size and texture with the setting in which they are placed.

We suggest a variety of foliage plants to choose from. The many varieties of philodendrons, peperomias, dieffenbachias, crotons, aloccias, caladiums, episcias and bromeliads offer a wide range of plants that are easy to grow.

Suggestions for selection and care of foliage plants for the home are available. Ask for a copy of the bulletin on "Foliage Plants for the Home" from your county extension agent's office.

March of Dimes Mothers Hold Key In Fight Against Crippling Disease

Some two million Marching Mothers, wearing the symbolic Golden Key of Hope, will appear on America's doorsteps toward the end of January asking support for the 1962 New March of Dimes fight against crippling birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Why do these women brave winter weather to ask their neighbors for funds? Mrs. Phyllis Sublett of Evansville, Ind., does it because experience with her fourth child, three-year-old Stevie, who was born with a birth defect, has shown her the need to have medical help more readily available in the community when an imperfect child is born.

"Stevie was born with an open spine and water on the brain in 1958, the year The National Foundation expanded its program to include birth defects," says Mrs. Sublett. "I had never heard of either condition. Since then I have learned that these malformations, and hundreds of other birth defects, afflict one out of every 16 babies born in this country each year.

"These children need help, their parents need to know where to find the specialists who can give prompt and effective treatment. I know now that the March of Dimes supports work in clinics to improve treatment, in laboratories to find the causes, and in building a network of diagnostic and treatment centers to make new knowledge available to everyone, not just those fortunate enough to live close to great medical institutions.

"The March of Dimes already supports nearly 50 centers throughout the country, and many more are being planned. That's why I'm in the Mothers' March—to let people know this help and hope exists. I want to ask their support so the 250,000 American babies born each year with birth defects need not go through life hopelessly disabled for lack of proper treatment."

In Denton, Tex., Mrs. Mona Grisham says, "Until our lit-

"IS MY BABY ALL RIGHT?"—More than 250,000 mothers of babies born with birth defects in the U. S. each year seek public support reply to this question: Marching mothers will seek public support late in January for March of Dimes research and patient aid to control crippling birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis, just as polio has been controlled.

tle Sondra developed juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, I'd always thought arthritis was something you got when you reached old age. Now I know that thousands of children are stricken with it each year. It can twist and cripple little bodies with permanent disability if it's not caught and treated in time.

"I've seen the wonders accomplished at Arthritis Clinical Study Center at Parkland Hospital in Dallas supported by the March of Dimes, and I know that doctors in the laboratory there and elsewhere are working hard to find out what causes arthritis and how it can be prevented or cured. I'm a Marching Mother because I know firsthand how important this work is."

Marching Mothers across the nation have similar reasons. Mrs. George Dibbon of Kansas City, who lost a child born with a birth defect, marched actively until the past year. But then her own arthritis forced her to "retire" to a quieter paperwork and record-keeping job for the Mothers' March. In Tustin, Calif., Mrs. Polly Spangler has been confined to a wheelchair since a paralytic polio attack in 1954. Yet she, too, enthusiastically works for the Mothers' March via the telephone, and prepares marchers' kits for distribution. Multiply these shining examples by thousands, and you have the reasons for the scope of success of the traditional Mothers' March for the New March of Dimes. Mothers' March volunteers know there is a need for the cause they support, and they are determined to make every one of the 40,000,000 households they call on aware of the magnitude of the problem.

Mothers' March volunteers will be identified by a distinctive badge bearing the Golden Key of Hope, symbolizing medical progress against crippling diseases. Each will give those who open the doors a valuable health information slip summarizing basic information about birth defects, the most important unmet childhood medical problem today; as well as arthritis and rheumatic disease which afflict 11,000,000 Americans.

build $23,000,000 worth of newly-designated farm-to-market roads a year from now on, using the $15,000,000, plus Federal aid of $10,000,000 a year.

3. Allocation of half the surplus in the road bond assumption fund—which comes from one fourth of the gasoline sales tax—to maintenance of farm-to-market roads in the State system. That will be $17,000,000 the first year . . . gradually increasing as gasoline sales tax revenues rise.

4. Freeing an equal $17,500,000 in the State Highway Fund, now being used for rural road maintenance, for construction and improvement of secondary and primary highways.

5. Application of the balance in the farm-to-market road fund (between $17,500,000 and $20,000,000 in the 1962-63 fiscal year) toward improvement of existing F-M roads, which need some 11,000 miles of repairs.

6. Agreement by the State Highway Commission to raise its goal from 35,000 to 50,000 miles of farm-to-market roads.

This legislation accomplishes the long-time goal of the Highway Commission and Good Roads Association: To give the annual construction boosts—starting at $17,500,000 a year—to the highways in the State system above the F-M classification and below the Interstate classification.

WHERE'S THE MONEY COMING FROM?

Gov. Price Daniel's proposals that the 57th Legislature approve appropriations of $300,000 for tourist advertising, $100,000 expansion in the juvenile parole system and $150,000 for repair to the San Jacinto Monument seemed to be in danger when Rep. James M. Cotten of Weatherford got the House to endorse appropriation of $220,000 for special session expenses.

According to the State Comptroller's estimate, this would leave less than $300,000 for the governor's projects. But Governor Daniel powwowed with Speaker James A. Turman and Senator Charles Herring, as well as State Treasurer Jesse James.

He reported that James' first report on anticipated income from the Escheat Enforcement Act, submitted since the Comptroller made his estimate, lists more than $2,000,000 in reports tabulated to date.

"I have asked the Comptroller to consider this," Daniel said, "and I believe it will be possible for him to raise his estimate enough to take care of the recommendations before the Legislature."

The Senate Finance Committee came up with a compromise bill authorizing $200,000 for tourist advertising, $75,000 for monument repairs, $65,000 for the juvenile parole system, plus $79,600 for a marine laboratory at Seabrook.

DORMITORY SUITS ANSWERED

Two motions to dismiss a dormitory integration case involving the University of Texas were filed in the U. S. District Court at Austin.

First one was filed by Attorney General Will Wilson, whose office requires him to represent the state university in court. Second came from Edward Clark and Franklin W. Denius of Austin and Leon Jaworski of Houston, attorneys employed by UT's board of regents.

Board Chairman Thornton Hardie of El Paso said the regents hired additional attorneys since Wilson is a candidate for governor and may be unable to give the case the attention it deserves. Wilson referred to Hardie's statement as "arrogant," and vowed he'll defend the case as his constitutional duty.

Integration suit was filed in November by three Negro students at the University. They asked that racial segregation in university dormitories be abolished with "all deliberate speed."

LOCAL PROBLEMS PRESSING

Several legislators who voted to adjourn the second day of the special session have decided to stick around awhile since the governor opened the session for local bills.

Bills considered most pressing include water bills—such as one to create an Alice Water Authority, one to authorize construction of a water treatment plant for Lubbock and six other communities which participate in the Canadian Municipal River Water Authority.

Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress presented a bill to allow purchasers of gas for irrigation from utility companies right to seek rate regulation from the Railroad Commission, as cited do. Rogers said companies selling irrigation gas often charge farmers a higher rate than in nearby towns.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson told the Supreme Court that if he sustains riparian irrigation rights for Spanish and Mexican land grants on the lower Rio Grande, "the vast orchards of the Lower Rio Grande River will die from lack of water because the upstream riparian can, in times of shortage, absolutely deprive the downstream owner of the right to water."

TOWERY JOINS LAKE

Secretary of State P. Frank Lane has acquired a new director for the corporation division. He is Robert L. Towery, 29, of Austin.

Towery was one of former District Attorney Les Proctor's assistants. He replaces Pat Cain who resigned to run for the House of Representatives in Travis County.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas — A highway polley matter which has plagued both Houses of the Legislature for 10 years was settled when the House of Representatives passed a Farm-to-Market road bill introduced by Sen. Neville Colson of Navasota and Rep. Grainger McIlhany of Wheeler.

Senate already had approved the bill by a 26-2 vote.

At first, it looked like the House Agriculture Subcommittee, dominated by rural representatives, would succeed in pushing through a modified version of the bill by Rep. Max Carraker of Roby. His proposal was to space out the switch of funds from farm-to-market road construction to maintenance over 10 years.

House Agriculture Committee approved Carraker's bill unanimously until Gov. Price Daniel attended a final hearing with President J. H. West of the Texas Farm Bureau, Executive Vice President Callan Graham of the Texas Good Roads Association, Highway Chairman Herb Petry Jr. and a dozen members of the County Judges and Commissioners Association.

After their urging, the House Agriculture Committee reversed its original decision and voted 10-9 to table the Carraker version and submit the Colson bill, which reduces the annual appropriation for rural road construction by about $17,500,000.

When the Farm-to-Market road bill becomes effective about May 1, it will make these provisions:

1. Restoration of the $15,000,000 appropriation from general State taxes to the Colson-Briseo farm-to-market road program for the year starting September 1, 1962.

2. A flat instruction for the State Highway Department to

Will The City Hall And Courthouse Be Bypassed?

By CONGRESSMAN
O. C. FISHER

Will the City Hall and the courthouse be bypassed in the fight for federal dollars to help finance local projects? That question has been raised with a drive for legislation to create a new government agency known as "The Department of Urban Affairs and Housing," to be acted upon in Congress early in the session.

If approved, this proposal will create a Secretary as head of the new agency and he will become a member of the President's cabinet.

The primary purpose of the new agency is to enable local cities and communities to come directly to Washington for federal assistance, and avoid dependence on local tax revenues to finance certain functions of a local nature which are normally financed locally. At least, the new agency would facilitate that procedure. And the big cities are pushing hard for this new approach.

Another motive behind the Administration's insistence on the creation of the new agency, according to observers, is to enable the President to appoint Robert Weaver, presently Administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, as Secretary and thereby be able to placate the Negroes who would like to see a member of that race in the President's cabinet.

In any event, if the new department is created it will not be good for American taxpayers because it will open the gate for more and more dependence by local communities upon federal financing, and will undoubtedly cost billions in additional spending in the years ahead.

This, it is said, would be only the first step of the long-range strategy—a strategy apparently designed to bring the solution of the day-to-day problems of community life under the direction of centralized government.

Bills approving this new agency have been reported by committees in both the House and Senate. It remains for the House and Senate to act, and action in both bodies is expected within the next two or three weeks. Unless public opinion manifests itself strongly against this new spending program, it now appears likely that House and Senate approval will surely result.

Dun & Bradstreet Lists 67 Changes For Mills County During Past Year

A. J. Hemphill, district manager of the Fort Worth office of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., announced that statement requests have been mailed to businesses in Mills County. He said figures obtained from a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for January, 1962 totaled 78 manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers in this area.

Mr. Hemphill stated that during January, business concerns in all parts of the United States are asked by Dun & Bradstreet for copies of their financial statements. This year requests are being sent to approximately three million business concerns—to the corner grocery worth a few thousand dollars as well as to businesses worth millions.

The Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book lists those manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit, but it does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers, and real estate brokers. Therefore, the figures for total business in the United States would be higher than the three million quoted above.

During the past year, Hemphill added 67 changes were made in the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book listings of Mills County businesses, including 19 names added, 23 names deleted, and 25 changes in the ratings of contributing businesses. The changes occurring in Mills County are about even with the rest of the country, where a change of business significance is counted about every five seconds.

Back of each listing of a business in the Reference Book is a Dun & Bradstreet credit report. The report includes the following: a history of the business (who owns it, who runs it, and how long it has been operating); a description of what the business does and how it does it; a financial section which usually includes the latest financial statement; and a record of how the business pays its bills.

While credit reports are primarily used by business men who want to evaluate the credit risk of a business before shipping or selling, insurance underwriters use credit reports to review risks, rates, and coverage for fire and other types of insurance.

Although you don't see many cigarette smokers who roll their own anymore, the fad of "do it yourself" is just hitting the shotgun field in a big way. More and more hunters are loading the boom in handloading. For their own shells.

There are many reasons for one it is a fascinating hobby which can be enjoyed at home. For another, shotgunning no longer is just a fall hunting sport. There are many hunters who bang away at clay targets on skeet and trap ranges throughout the year.

But probably the primary reason for its phenomenal growth is the economy angle. Handload ammo is cheaper than that bought off the shelves of sporting good stores.

A shooter who burns up much ammunition has found that he can pay for a handloading outfit in a couple of seasons or less. And since the equipment is durable and will last indefinitely, it isn't long before he's reaping the full benefit of the savings.

More than 50 per cent savings is effected by the hunter who loads his own ammo. The reloader can put out a box of ammo for something like $1.30 to $1.50, depending of course on what kind of load is preferred. Good handloading tool will cost between $30 and $100. Cheaper tools handle only one size shell, but the more expensive ones take interchangeable dies which permit loading of all types of shells, from 410 to 10-gauge magnum.

With one of the better tools even a person just learning the operation can turn out two boxes of ammunition in an hour's time.

Components necessary for shotgun shell reloading are primers, powder, shot and wadding.

Used commercial hulls can be reloaded from one to three times. Nowadays hulls are hard to come by. Gun club members keep their ranges picked clean. However, the hulls alone can be purchased for about $3 per hundred. These are new, primed cases.

Components come cheaper, naturally, when bought in bulk form. Primers list at $14.95 for a box of 1,000. Shot comes in 25-pound bags at $7.50 per bag. Powder is available in different sized lots. One-half pound sells for $1.80; three-pound kegs cost $9; and 12-pound kegs are $28.

Over-shot wads are priced at about $1.65 to $2.15 per 1,000, while filler wads range from $2.65 to $3.25 for 500. (All these are listed prices and may be slightly higher or lower, depending upon the retail sources.)

It takes almost four 25-pound bags of shot and about three pounds of powder, to reload 1,000 shells.

Shotgun shells are easier to reload than rifle ammo because measurements don't have to be so exact.

In a rifle load excessive pressures can build up when even a fraction of a grain of excess powder is poured into the case. But since the shotgunner uses an altogether different kind of powder, such minute measurement isn't necessary. Nevertheless, anyone handloading shotgun shells should use common judgment.

Kelly News

By MRS. M. C. PARTRIDGE

Probably the best booklet on handloading is the Lyman "Re-loader's Handbook." It costs $2 and is available at most sporting good stores.

This book gives the lowdown on all kinds of handloading — shotgun, rifle and pistol. It outlines the exact procedures for handloading and includes charts covering all kinds of different loads for every gauge of shotgun.

For safety's sake, as well as tidiness, most handloaders carefully pack their equipment away in a box, when not in use, and bring it out on the kitchen table only when they are ready to work.

An experienced handloader not only can turn out dependable ammo, but often his product exceeds in performance that which can be bought across the counter.

Mr. Levi Aldridge of Gatesville visited here Tuesday and Wednesday with his son, Truett and family, and his daughter, Mrs. James McClement and family. He also visited his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pass.

HOW MUCH CHEATING SHOULD YOU TEACH YOUR CHILDREN?

What's the difference between a little white lie . . . and a big vicious one?

If it's all right to fib out of a parking ticket, what's wrong about a fib in school?

And does our national record on income tax day entitle us to look in horror at the epidemic of college cheating?

Most of us learned once what's right. We learned the firm principles held by our families and our Faith. Now it's a question of how well we're teaching our children.

Here is a place where your Church or Synagogue can help strengthen the character you are molding. It's a question of building Faith . . . and you have the answer.

Worship together this week . . . you need not walk alone

First 10 Days Of Special Session

The first ten days of Governor Daniel's 3rd Special Session has been very productive thus far. The senate has passed the Farm-to-Market Road bill, and it is now pending on the floor of the House.

Since Governor Daniel vetoed the appropriations for the second year Farm-to-Market Road construction, the passage of the right type of bill to replace this money is very important to the rural areas of Texas.

Unfortunately, it appears that even a compromise version and got his mother, Mrs. T. A. Hale and took her home with them for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Munday and Doyle and daughter, Darlene and husband of Arlington spent Saturday night with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Hairston.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Hairston and children of Killean spent Sunday with their parents.

Mrs. Will Day was taken ill Wednesday and was rushed to Rollins-Brook Hospital at Lampasas. We hope she soon will be able to come home.

Mr. Ernest O'Neal of Lampasas was in our neighborhood Friday looking after his stock.

Mr. Ernest Cox visited his sister, Mr. and Mrs. O. Z. Berry Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hap Arrowood of Goldthwaite brought his brother, Red, home from the hospital Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Carrie Carswell visited Mrs. Dave Phillips in the Starks home Saturday.

Mr. Curtis Trout of Hamilton ate lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee Saturday.

Miss Nan Duncan spent Wednesday and Thursday with Miss Lynda Cook at Star.

Paul Lee and son, Alvis, helped Mr. Hubert Klizer work on his well Sunday afternoon at Star.

Mrs. Maggie Truitt came home Monday, having spent a couple of weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Jim Dufner at Zephyr. She also visited Sunday in Austin with a daughter-in-law.

will be somewhat of a reduction in money spent. You may rest assured that I will do everything possible to help complete this very necessary program.

The House, for the first time, granted approval by a vote of 86 to 55 to Governor Daniel's umpteenth attempt to pass the abandoned property or the so-called "escheat bill". The bill is a compromise one, and while it will need several modifications in the Senate, I am sure that it is a start.

The proposed bill would provide a method for annual advertisements in local newspapers for the accounts unclaimed for a period exceeding seven years. The service charging to death of these dormant accounts is prohibited in the bill.

Dormant accounts under $25.00 would escheat to the State, but are to be redeemable by the proper owner at any time from a conservator fund of $50,000 cash and $200,000 in interest producing bonds. Any amount in excess of this conservator fund will be placed in the permanent school fund for the school children of Texas.

I am pleased to report that to our knowledge no bank in our district has ever abused its depositors' accounts or their trust relationship with their customers.

The issue now being debated in the House is the loan shark bill. This is one of the most vicious rackets existing in the State of Texas today. Investigations have proven that the loan sharks gorge interest rates up to many 100%'s from their customers.

You may rest assured that as your Representative, I shall vote for the most stringent bill possible in order to eliminate the loan sharks in Texas, yet, still protect the legitimate lenders.

Sincerely yours,
TERRY TOWNSEND.

Duren News

We enjoyed two wonderful sermons Sunday morning and night, brought to us by our good pastor, Rev. Jones. Church services were well attended even though there were quite a few absent on account of sickness. We hope each one in our community may soon be feeling good again.

Several from this community attended the fat stock show at Goldthwaite Saturday. Brady Wayne and Nelma Duren won quite a few ribbons on their calves. I can't say just what places they won but anyway we are proud of them.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pyburn have been visiting a friend in Brownwood who has been in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Downey and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Duren visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Daniel in Big Valley Sunday afternoon.

Well, the drilling of the oil well in our community is creating quite a bit of excitement. Might be an oil well some day, who knows?

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hobbs and boys visited Mrs. Lula Hobbs over the weekend.

Mr. Willis Green and children from Goldthwaite visited in the Elmo Green home Sunday. We are happy to report Elmo is feeling much better, hope he will soon be well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Daniel and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jones attended the singing Sunday afternoon at the Congregational Methodist Church at Comanche. They report some real singing.

The singing at Duren was Saturday evening, January 20. Be sure and come. We had nice good piano now, of which we are very proud.

Mrs. Bobby Baird and children visited Mrs. Okie Baird Thursday.

Mrs. Ralph Duren was in Brownwood one day last week.

Now - Ford frees you forever from the expense and bother of frequent car servicing. Twice-a-year maintenance is here - and only the cars from Ford have it!

In a new Ford Galaxie or Fairlane, the odometer rolls off a long 6,000 miles between every service stop. Compare this with other '62 cars and here's what you'll find: many cars still have to check in for service every 1,000 miles; some every 2,000 miles; others every 4,000 miles. Only the cars from Ford need service only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles.

When you own a '62 Galaxie or Fairlane, you don't have to drive with one eye on the odometer to make sure you're not forgetting an oil change or a grease job or other servicing. Ford's twice-a-year maintenance saves you time, saves you money. Just one stop every 6,000 miles takes care of servicing. You'll go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications, 2 years or 30,000 miles without changing engine coolant-antifreeze. Brakes adjust themselves.

Why buy a service headache when Ford is ready with the cure? See your Ford Dealer - and see how close Ford has come to the fill-it-and-forget-it car!

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Here we are at Mid-Term. Time is half gone. If this cold weather we have been having so long ever lets up and we have a touch of spring, time will pass faster than ever. I did get a chance one evening last week to plant my Dutch Iris and hyacinth bulbs. I have two Climbing Tallsman Roses I got a week or so ago. I've been thinking every day I would get to put them out, but it has just been too cold.

John and I went to the Shopping Center Wednesday afternoon to use the Commercial clothes dryer. When we got back, there was a notice on the door knob saying that a telegram for Bill had been delivered here and had been taken back to the office. As soon as I got in the house, I called Bill. Later he called Grace and said the telegram was from his sister, Mae, in Detroit. His youngest brother, Arthur—the one next to him—had died Tuesday from a heart attack. Funeral services were to be Friday morning at ten o'clock. Bill left about 3 a. m. Thursday morning by Jet Plane for Detroit to attend the funeral. He is to be back Monday at 6 p. m.

The children had a holiday Friday while the teachers worked on their registers and midterm report cards. They have to be in the office Monday. Grace said she didn't get through with hers Friday, and she's wondering how she will find anymore time to finish them. We're having a wedding at the Church tonight. Grace had to go last night to practice with a group that will sing at the wedding. Tomorrow morning we must be at the Church for Sunday School at 9 o'clock. Johnny's school is having Open House from 2 to 4 tomorrow afternoon. And Johnny is an usher. Evening classes at the Church begin at 5:30. Preaching service at 6:30. So when will we have any spare time?

I must tell you about the Ebony Rose. Last spring before we went home I was baby-sitting with James Arnold, a little boy who lives not far from us. His mother had a "Flowers and Garden" magazine. In it I found a whole page taken up with an advertisement of the Ebony Rose. It is advertised by Peterson and Dering of Oregon. It is now a patented dark red grandiflora rose. Its price is $3.00. I thought, "I just must have this rose." Mrs. Arnold let me tear out the page of the advertisement.

It was too late to order it for last year's planting. So I have kept the add all this time, and now that it is January I have sent in my order. I have received a reply. My rose will be shipped March 1. I wrote a letter explaining to them about Ebony so they could see just why I had to have this Ebony Rose.

In their reply was this little note: "Mrs. Clementine Wilmeth Briley: Mr. Dering enjoyed your letter so much that he has asked us to send you an extra Ebony Rose that you may wish to present as a gift to a friend. Thank you."

I was just going to get three more roses anyhow — Peace, Queen Elizabeth, and Countess Vandal. So I'm ordering them from Mr. Dering. And I'm sending an extra 50 cents to get him to send my present rose to a friend at Ebony so we can have an Ebony Rose at Ebony. Later I will disclose to whom I am sending it.

Civil Defense Is Discussed By Mullin Community Organization

The Mullin Community Organization met in its first meeting of the year Thursday night in the FFA Room at the School. Meeting called to order by Chairman, Mr. E. L. Fisher. Opening Prayer voiced by Argie Whisenhunt. Mr. Fisher then introduced the guests and speakers for the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Schuchart of Priddy and Mrs. Rachel B. Trent, County HD Agent.

Mrs. Trent gave introductory remarks on "Civil Defense," where to obtain booklet on Defense, gave report of meeting she and others attended in San Angelo, report of County Survey to be made soon, who provides shelters, and who shall be responsible for keeping them.

Mr. Millard Schuchart, Soil Conservationist, gave points to consider about fallout and Radiation. He demonstrated some of the devices to be used to detect the amount of Radiation in Soil, Livestock and Human Life. The covering necessary to protect against such radiation. A mask was also shown, to provide persons with protection from poisonous gases. He also gave the codes and signals to be used and how the Weather Bureau determined the rate of speed that radiation of fallout would travel.

In the business meeting that followed a nominating committee composed of the following, Mrs. C. C. Wright, Mrs. Ray Lindsey and Mrs. Glynn Lewis was appointed to provide names and recommend persons for offices in the Organization for the year 1962-1963.

A social hour followed with Mrs. Trent, H. D. Agent, hostess, serving coffee, punch, fruit cake, cookies and assorted candies to about thirty who attended.

There will be a work day at the Community Center Saturday, January 27. Time is growing close to finish this year's work and they need to finish the Community Center. Officials will be looking for you, and you, and you to be there and bring hammer, tools of any kind that you can work with.

The next meeting will be February 15.

Tuesday, Feb. 6, Goldthwaite Night At Brownwood Music Association

On Tuesday, February 6, the Brownwood Civic Music Association will present concert artists, Archer and Gile. Residents of Goldthwaite will be admitted, as guests of the Association, by registering at the door.

Frances Archer and Beverly Gile hold a unique place in the music world of today. By bringing to the concert stage a program based on authentic melodies from many lands, sung in the original languages, and given extra warmth and interest, by their own special arrangements, they transport their audiences to far global corners and to times past and present. Their soprano and contralto voices complement each other to perfection, and their delightful artistry combine musicianship, personality and stylish presentation that means success wherever they appear.

Among the most in demand of concert artists, Misses Archer and Gile have been acclaimed by audiences of New York's Town Hall, Mexico City's Palacio de Bellas Artes, the Concertgebouw of Amsterdam, and the Royal Festival Hall of London.

Regulatory Authority Of Game And Fish Requested By Mills County

Mills County has filed a request for legislation to provide Regulatory Authority of game and fish in Mills County by the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

A request for legislation has been forwarded to State Representative Terry Townsend, in Austin, by County Judge Cecil Egger. The request was signed by all County commissioners. Petitions signed by a number of residents of the county were also forwarded to Austin supporting the request. Petitions were forwarded to Representative Townsend and State Senator Louis Crump in Austin. If approved Mills County would be taken from under the general laws governing game and fish and would become one of more than 140 counties in the state under the Regulatory Authority of the Game and Fish Commission.

On recommendations of the Game and Fish Commission the county could have game and fish regulations tailored to local needs and conditions.

Before this could be effected the Game and Fish Commission would make study and survey of local conditions and hold public hearings where all citizens would have an opportunity to express their views on the subjects considered.

Linda Discards Braces, Crutches; Mother Praises March of Dimes

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dorothy E. Breese, young Columbus, Ohio, mother, tells of the remarkable progress made by her daughter in overcoming the disability caused by a severe birth defect.)

By DOROTHY E. BREESE

My little Linda has done far more things in her five years than most people even dream of being able to do in an entire lifetime.

As the March of Dimes 1961 National Poster Child, she met President Kennedy in person and rode on a float in his inauguration parade. She starred in an hour-long television program with some of the country's most popular television and movie stars.

Linda has traveled from coast to coast and seen her picture in nearly every newspaper printed. She has autograph books filled with the signatures of celebrities and famous people she has visited.

These are just some of the things Linda has done that are beyond the reach of most of us. But the one thing we wanted most for her was something the average person takes for granted—the ability to walk alone and unaided.

There were many times during the years that my husband, Dean, and I thought that Linda would never be able to throw away her braces and crutches. And to be truthful, there were terrifying moments when we feared we might even lose her.

Linda was born with an opening in her spinal column, a condition known medically as spina bifida. As a result, her body was seriously affected from the waist down.

When she was only a few hours old, Linda underwent a delicate operation that partially corrected this condition. The surgery was performed at Children's Hospital in Columbus where subsequently The National Foundation with March of Dimes funds established the first of its Birth Defects Clinical Study Centers in 1959.

When she was nine months old, it was found that Linda had water on the brain, which has the medical name of hydrocephalus. This condition was treated by the insertion of a "shunt" tube which drains the excess fluid from the head into the blood stream.

Linda at 23 months after two operations for birth defects. And . . .

. . . Linda today, now able to walk without her crutches or leg braces.

You can imagine how much we worried about our little girl in those early days, because we knew she was never far from death. It could have come at any time. After all, 250,000 infants are born in this country each year with a significant birth defect and 21,000 of them die.

But Linda continued to improve. She received specialized treatment at the March of Dimes-supported center. She got her leg braces and crutches. Linda hated them, but she learned to use them.

When, though—if ever—would she be able to run and play with her sister and two older brothers and the other neighborhood children?

The answer to that question depended on Linda, her doctors, the rehabilitation therapists, and us. We all worked together. We worked long, and we worked hard, but it was worth it.

Only the other day, Linda took her first halting steps across our living room without her crutches or leg braces. It was an unforgettable experience. In my excitement, I telephoned the good news to everyone I knew—and probably quite a few I didn't know. It was a real shout-from-the-household event.

Linda has won through. She improves every day. Now her trips to the birth defects center have been cut to just one every three months. Best of all—we have been able to enroll her in kindergarten.

Dean and I and the children remember the gloomy days. We know that many other parents of afflicted children are going through similar days of anxiety and heartbreak right now. But we also know that The National Foundation-March of Dimes is looking for the cause and cure of birth defects.

March of Dimes contributions led to the triumph over polio, and I'm a firm believer in the slogan that "Your Dimes Will Do It Again."
