Turkey Barbecue "It's Delicious" Says Beanblossom

Few can resist the succulent smell of golden-crisp summer turkey sizzling on the open grill or revolving on the spit. Barbecued turkey meat is excitingly new and tasty and when cooked right it all but melts in your mouth, explains F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist at College Station.

Barbecues featuring turkey meat are easy to prepare whether for a small family picnic or a large community gathering, and any size turkey from 4 to 24 pounds can be barbecued, points out the specialist. He does recommend that the larger birds be deboned or disjointed and marinated several hours before barbecuing.

The secret to barbecuing is a slow cooking job. After the charcoal has turned a grey color, you are ready to put the turkey on the grill or spit, says Beanblossom. Place the meat on the grill bone side down, and after about 15 minutes, turn it for the first time. Baste and allow about 10 minutes of cooking time before giving it the second turn. After the second turn, Beanblossom says to make the turns at 5 minute intervals and each time baste the meat with your favorite barbecue sauce.

He recommends cooking until the desired golden-crisp color is obtained and cautions against puncturing the skin for such allows the tasty juices of the turkey to escape.

Now for that something special, Beanblossom suggests the use of a marinating sauce. He says to immerse the cut-up meat in a sauce consisting of 2 parts sauterne wine or lemon-lime fizz water, 1 part soy sauce, and 1 part peanut oil. Add lemon juice to suit the taste and garlic cloves if desired. There should be enough of the sauce to completely cover the meat. The specialist suggests leaving the meat in the marinade for at least two hours.

This same sauce, he adds, can be used in cooking whole turkeys on a spit. Just brush it frequently on the bird while it is cooking, he says.

Coleman Ranch, Navasota and Truett Davis, Hereford breeder, Buffalo Gap, Jerry Duren, Goldthwaite, president of the Heart of Texas Junior Hereford Association, served as master of ceremonies throughout the day. The contract can be terminated at the end of one year by either party.

that has been foremost on the minds of landowners the past two weeks.

Meetings have been held during the past 10 days in Gatesville, Hamilton, Comanche, Brownwood, Lampasas, and San Saba where the Army officials have explained their plan to landowners.

The first meeting was held in Goldthwaite on June 14, when the Army invited about 150 landowners from the seven county area to hear the proposed maneuver plans.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 4, 1800—Volume 11, No. 88, Saturday, January 4, 1800, is the date recorded on a copy of a newspaper that is in possession of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cockrum.

It is a copy of the Ulster County Gazette, Published at Kingston (Ulster County) By Samuel Greer and Son, way back when. It is marked: Price 25¢.

Mrs. Cockrum was looking through some papers the other day in a desk that was used by the late J. V. Cockrum in the Cockrum home west of Goldthwaite and found this paper.

On the first page of the paper Mr. Cockrum had written the following: "This paper records the death of George Washington."

How long this issue of the Gazette had been in their possession is not known. Its state of condition is far better than copies of the Eagle that are in old files and less than one-third the age.

January, 1800, would take this back 162 years. If this is an original copy it certainly would be a rare possession and could be a priceless museum piece. If it is a reprint from the old and original copy it doesn't state when it was reprinted.

At any rate it is an interesting paper with items about the American Congress, message from the Senate to President John Adams and his reply. Also news from other parts of the world and the story of General Washington being entombed.

There are also some official, or legal notices and sheriff's sale notices and advertisements from merchants.

Advertising placed by merchants in those days was quite different from present day advertising and promotion. There was no display or art work. Just plain type and type was small—but it told the story. Some examples of the ads:

"Samuel Freer has just received an assortment of Goods adapted to the season, which he will dispose of for CASH OR COUNTRY PRODUCE only, upon very moderate terms. Ashes taken in said store."

"Abraham I. Hasbrouck returns his cordial thanks to his friends and the public in general, for the past favors, and respectfully informs them that he continues in the Mercantile and Boating business and has on hand a General Assortment of Dry Goods and Groceries, which he will dispose of upon the most reasonable terms, for CASH OR COUNTRY PRODUCE."

"Second notice, of my wife HANNAH is hereby given, forbidding all persons whatever from harboring or keeping her, and from trusting her on my account, as I am determined to pay no debts of her contracting." Nov. 18, 1799, by Matys Van Steenberg, of Saugerties, Kingston precinct.

John Tremper announced his mercantile line that he was willing to dispose of very cheap for cash or produce only. He also offered CASH for Wheat and Fur.

There were also some lost and found ads. Lost watch, gun stolen from store for which reward of $2 was offered and lost or strayed heifer and a strayed bull.

One interesting ad was noted by this writer the tone of which sounds pretty much like it does today, it stated: "Cash given at the Printing office for Rags."

To top off the list of interesting ads here is one that gets the prize. It was dated Dec. 24, 1799.

"Luther Andres & Company have this day Been opening GOODS both fresh and gay. He has received near every kind. That you in any Store can find.

And as I purchase by the Bale, I am determined to retail For READY PAY a little lower Than ever have had before.

I with my brethren mean to live, But as for credit shall not give, I would not live to rouse your passions, For credit here is out of fashion.

My friends and buyers, one and all, It will pay you well to give a call, You always find me by my sign, A few rods from the house divine.

The following articles will be received in payment: Wheat, Rye, Buckwheat, Oats, Corn, Butter, Flax, Ashes and Raw Hides. These articles will be taken in at the Esposus prices. CASH will not be refused."

Jamee Gaining in Arthritis Fight

Jamee Schmolli, 9 years, of Rochester, N. Y. (left), as she looked about a year ago. Note "moon face" effect. Jamee is home today (right) after treatment at the March of Dimes-supported Arthritis Study Center, University of Rochester Medical School.

Gloom—heartbreak—despair. These were nine-year-old Jamee Schmolli's feelings for so many of the long months of her battle with arthritis. She was at least 60 pounds overweight and could scarcely recognize herself in the mirror. Once a ray and carefree little girl, Jamee's unbearable pains and changed appearance had turned her into a surly and hostile child. But, as the accompanying "before-and-after" photos suggest, Jamee's progress so far makes her future look quite encouraging. Much of the transformation of Jamee took place at the March of Dimes-supported Arthritis Clinical Study Center, University of Rochester Medical School, where the blue-eyed child was first hospitalized in January, 1959. Her pains from rheumatoid arthritis, felt in almost every part of her body, were of such severity that Jamee spent most of her time crying—even screaming with pain.

For nearly two years, the child's doctors were compelled to administer cortisone, one of the steroid hormones, to reduce the intolerable pain Jamee was undergoing. In many cases of rheumatoid arthritis, cortisone serves to reduce inflammation. It often restores at least some mobility in the joints which, in turn means that the indispensable exercises of physical therapy can begin. Unfortunately, cortisone in the large doses Jamee required for relief sometimes has its drawbacks. Side effects in her case included a "moon face" appearance. Specialists at the March of Dimes-supported clinic treated Jamee with intensive physical and hydrotherapy (exercise baths in swirling water), and carefully regulated her diet. Gradually the little girl's cruel pains decreased, permitting a reduction in the cortisone dosage. The swollen "moon face," which had so distressed the child, began to diminish. Her weight came down from an incredible 118 pounds to a normal 54 pounds. Muscle strength and joint motion increased. This meant more weight-bearing ability and, thus, occasional escape from bed and wheelchair. Jamee's hospitalization ended. But continuing home therapy was indispensable. The Monroe County (N. Y.) chapter of The National Foundation-March of Dimes provided for twice-a-day visits by a physical therapist and also supplied a hot-pack machine. Since both of Jamee's parents have been ill, a "homemaker" was recruited to help with the domestic chores. Today, Jamee looks into her mirror without terror, loathing or pain. She no longer sees a frightening reflection. She sees a pretty and winning child, home at last with those she loves.

Past Matrons, Past Patrons Club Enjoys Hobo Picnic

The Past Matrons and Past Patrons Club, OES, enjoyed a Hobo Picnic at the Carey Gaines Ranch near Lometa on Monday night, June 25, with the Lometa members as hosts. A delicious covered dish supper, including barbecued hamburgers cooked outdoors, was enjoyed by 15 members and guests.

Shires to hold the July meeting at their place at Buchanan Dam on the last Saturday night in July. All Past Matrons and Past Patrons of San Saba, Lometa, Goldthwaite and Richland Springs are invited to attend. Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Brown visited J. B. Singleton, a patient in Comanche Hospital, during last week.

Mrs. W. O. Oden called me by telephone and told me of the death of Jim Smith. She had received several letters from Mrs. Smith telling of his illness. Jim Smith was a long time resident of this neighborhood. After his health failed he moved to Goldthwaite and a few months later to Lockhart, to be near his son, Elmo. He passed away June 23. He was a good old stand-by neighbor and a minister of the Baptist faith. We extend our sympathy to his loved ones.

We were sorry to hear of Mrs. J. R. Parker's injury and wish for a speedy recovery.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas — State-owned islands along the coast, and submerged lands in inland waters, now are available for lease for industrial purposes.

Leasing for industry was authorized last year by the Legislature. First step in the program was for Gov. Price Daniel to select the men to serve on a committee to advise the School Land Board on leasing procedures.

Daniel now has named J. Chrys Dougherty of Austin, an attorney, and Dr. Armstrong Price of Corpus Christi as the advisors.

Procedure is this — a person who wants to lease state land must first apply to the city government, if the land lies in a city limit, or to the county commissioners court. They publish notices and have public hearings. If they recommend the lease the three-man School Land Board then can consider it and set the amount of rent to be paid.

First application was from Port Aransas, which wants to lease part of Mustang Island for an airport.

SCHOOL BUS BARGAINS
Prices of school buses are falling. State Board of Control, which buys buses for all school districts on sealed bids, found that the price of 72-passenger buses has fallen about $1,200 this spring.

May purchases averaged $5,430, while the 1961 average was $6,618. Same sort of declines were noted in prices of smaller buses.

LEASES GO UP

But there was a note on higher prices, too.

For many years, the University of Texas lands in West Texas have been leased for oil and gas with only one-eighth royalty reserved for the University of Texas and Texas A&M College, which share in the proceeds.

This year, the royalty was raised to one-sixth, and only 9 of 101 tracts offered for lease were passed over by the oil company bidders who bought them at an auction sale. Cash bonuses averaged $38.64 an acre. This is lower than at some sales in the past. But if they find oil or gas, the University fund will get more of it due to the higher royalty fees.

IMPACT STILL DRY

That long-expected "oasis" in West Texas will stay dry awhile longer.

It is the town of Impact, in the edge of bone-dry Abilene, which incorporated and voted itself wet in 1961.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and the City of Abilene brought suit to declare the incorporation invalid. But District Judge J. R. Black held that the incorporation had been validated by the Legislature. It was done in a validating act passed mainly for the City of Plano, which just happened to apply to Impact, too.

However, State Liquor Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. announced that he will not grant a package store permit which has been pending for months. He'll wait to see what the higher courts say about Judge Black's ruling, since the case will be carried to the Texas Supreme Court.

So there won't be any legal liquor in Taylor County for many more months.

TEXTBOOK STORM

The special House of Representatives committee which had some stormy hearings wound up its business with an internal storm.

Rep. W. T. Dungan of McKinney held the final hearing all by himself in Dallas. Other four members boycotted the meeting, then voted to expunge it from the record.

Each member will write his own report to the House on the procedures by which textbooks are selected.

During its stormy life, committee heard one member called a "card carrying communist" by a lady in Amarillo. He filed suit against her, and apparently the folks back home didn't believe her, because he won the re-nomination.

PARKS FOLDER

An attractive new folder describing for tourists the facilities and location of state parks is being made available by the State Parks Board.

A fishing scene at Lake Brownwood State Park is the colorful cover for the booklet.

RETIRING JUDGES

The judicial retirement system was designed so judges could leave the bench for a few years of rest before their deaths.

Statistics just worked up on the operation of the system by State Auditor C. H. Cavness reveals that there are 219 district and appellate judges paying into the retirement fund, and 31 who are on retirement.

During the last state fiscal year, five retired judges died and 11 retired. Of 62 judges who have retired, 31 have died as of the date of the audit.

But the retirement system may not have succeeded in keeping judges on the bench. During the year, 10 left the bench without retiring, to go into private law practice.

LEGAL RULINGS

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson answered a variety of questions this week.

He told Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar that it is not legal for a school district to buy gasoline and oil from a consignee who is a member of the school board, even if he got the contract as low bidder on sealed bids.

He told County Atty. John Lawhon of Denton that Jim George, who won the Democratic nomination for two justices of the peace seats, can't hold them both, and that he vacated the office he held when he became a candidate for the other place. George's name cannot appear on the general election ballot for both jobs.

He told County Atty. Bill F. Griffin Jr., of Center that trucks owned by a farm corporation and used exclusively for hauling poultry and farm products are entitled to the half-price farm license fee.

He told County Atty. Mack Wallace of Athens that members of the national guard are not exempt from ad valorem taxes levied against their property for road purposes. The exemption for militia members is from the "road tax" of $3 per man which used to be levied against those who did not put in a day's work a year on the county roads.

MORE OIL SUITS

More and more lawsuits are being filed out of the East Texas Field crooked hole investigation.

Latest was a $13,000,000 suit filed by the attorney general against operators of a lease which he contends had been produced through a crooked hole since 1949.

There had been indications that the "deviation" practices whereby wells wound up under somebody else's property had been going on quite awhile. But this is the first indication that it was happening that far back.

EFFICIENCY STUDIED

Request for an efficiency study of the Texas Railroad Commission won approval from the executive committee of the Texas Research League. So that big agency will be looked into thoroughly.

Oilmen had complained in the past that there was too much red tape about Railroad Commission operations.

Chairman William J. Murray Jr. had defended his agency on that point, saying that many requirements have had to be added to make sure oil was produced legally and properly.

Anyway, the organizational experts of the Research League will look the Commission over, and advise next spring what legislative changes might be made to make it work better.

SALES BETTER

Total retail sales in Texas in May rose to 3 per cent above the April level, after the UT Bureau of Business Research made its seasonal adjustments.

Durable goods sales were up 7 per cent and auto sales were up 16 per cent above April and 24 per cent above May of 1961.

Furniture and household appliances apparently reflected a bumper crop of weddings. They usually rise about 14 per cent in May over April. This year they rose 22 per cent.

Farm implements, hardware and building materials all contributed to the May boom in business.

Nationally, there was a 1 per cent decline in retail sales compared to the Texas rise of 3 per cent.

Issuance of building permits in urban areas showed a 2 per cent increase over May, 1961, and 14 per cent over April.

LONG SUIT

A West Texas judge may spend the winter—and part of the spring—in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert named District Judge J. H. Starley of Pecos to preside over the big water rights lawsuit in Hidalgo County, where the tangled skein of water rights will be unraveled.

Trial is scheduled to start in September on the main lawsuit. The big question, whether landowners have a right to use irrigation water from the Rio Grande without a state permit, already has been settled.

Texas Supreme Court said lands deriving from Spanish Mexican grants do not have a riparian right to use water for irrigation.

With that big question answered, Judge Starley will go into a hundred other questions in the suit involving all users of the Rio Grande from Maverick County to the Gulf.

Visiting judge had to be sent in since District Judge Magus Smith was disqualified because he had been an attorney for some of the interested parties before he was elected judge.

ROAD MEN

Texans who work for better highways came to Austin for their annual convention.

They named Leslie Neal Sr. of San Antonio as president of the Texas Good Roads Association for the coming year.

They voted to increase speed limits to 70 miles an hour, and to let the State Highway Commission zone highways for speeds up to that limit.

John Connally, Democratic nominee for governor, told delegates that Texas should not divert its highway tax money to other purposes. But he warned that the cities need help on their street construction problems, too.

News Of The Ebony Community

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cawyer and their daughter, Mrs. Harold Everett, and her three little girls, Shelly, Sherry and Elizabeth, came up from Victoria Saturday night to begin their two weeks vacation at the Dwyer home. Mrs. Dwyer joined them there Sunday morning. Austin said it rained every day last week at Victoria.

It has been a week of coludry, rainy days here though we have not had much rain. Jim Wilmeth says they have had good rain in places in Brownwood, but he says the rains have just practically missed his part, the south part. But anyway the country still just looks beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. John Briley attended church at Oakland Sunday morning. Then went home with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hanna for dinner. After dinner all four went to the homecoming at Indian Creek. Singing was the order of the homecoming for the afternoon. Fred Perry was Master of Ceremonies. Among the singers and piano players were Mr. and Mrs. Huggins, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hamm Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Posey, Alvin Hanna, Bert Middleton and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Egger. They gave us some wonderful singing. One of the groups most enjoyed was Mack Hamm Jr. singing with his three little boys—ages 11, 9 and six—with their mother at the piano. The boys sang beautifully and skillfully. Their performance was really remarkable.

Fred Perry stopped the singing long enough to find out the oldest person present, the one who had lived at Indian Creek the longest, and the one who had come the farthest. Mr. Dehay was the oldest, 89; Mrs. Annie Knappe had lived at Indian Creek 73 years; Brownie Reeves White had come the farthest, having come from Los Angeles. All received beautiful flowers.

One of the delightful things

Duren News

Rev. J. L. Jones preached here Sunday and there was a good attendance at each service.

Mr. and Mrs. Newson and children from Clute spent the weekend with her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Duren.

Deanna Cox spent part of last week at Marble Falls visiting Rev. and Mrs. Geo. McCrary. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Daniel visited in Marble Falls and Austin Saturday and Deanna returned home with them.

Mrs. Lula Hobbs spent the weekend here at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Daniel visited Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Daniel. Mr. Daniel has been sick but is feeling a little better.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lindsey and children moved to this community last week. They have bought the Medford place. We want to welcome them to our community.

sell tourists on "stopping over." Have the City Dads investigated the possibilities of the historic features of your town? Have you?

Galveston didn't become a tourist mecca overnight. Neither did Palo Duro Canyon in the Panhandle. Or Dam B in East Texas. Or Lake Mathis near Corpus. Or the beautiful impoundment at Texarkana.

In fact none of the outdoor attractions of Texas developed without encouragement and hard work.

Stop for a moment and try to think of a natural lake in Texas. There is none. All are artificial—man-made impoundments.

Most people are amazed when they see the beautiful hills of the Highland Lakes Area of Central Texas. Small mountains, really. They have been there for thousands of years—but only in relatively recent years have they zoomed in popularity.

It all began with dams—followed by lakes.

Now seven (7 mind you) large and beautiful lakes greet the visitors who come to see and enjoy the view. Many stay for weeks to fish and hunt, to live in attractive cabins, or to camp out along the shores in this scenic wonderland. Each year hundreds of these visitors return—to stay.

It doesn't take a great deal of selling to attract the outdoorsmen. Just let it be known and the recreation hungry people sell themselves.

Again we say don't overlook any possibility your town may have to offer the outdoorsman. Be he a wallet-filled tourist or a boat-towing member of the Isaac Walton League.

She existed on a very meager pension. Not long before Christmas handed Roscoe $2.50 to get her some groceries. Next day Roscoe set on her door step $12.50 worth of groceries. "Where did all this stuff come from?" she asked. "It's what you ordered," Roscoe replied. "Roscoe, you're a liar," she said, "the most adorable liar that ever lived I reckon. May the Good Lord forever bless you!"

Roscoe was born at Brownwood and lived here at Ebony till the family moved to Gorman in 1900. So we have quite an interest in him.

FIRST STEP IN THE HIGHLAND LAKES' GIANT STAIRWAY OF FUN: Lake Buchanan, photographed at massive Buchanan Dam. Backing up a lake-full of fun, the dam and its Lower Colorado River Authority power station help provide electric power for the Central Texas area. Below Buchanan, five more LCRA dams form the rest of the Highland Lakes: Inks, Granite Shoals, Marble Falls, Travis and Austin. The lakes are surrounded by numerous parks and attractions, including popular Texas Longhorn Cavern State Park and its famous underground cavern, third largest in the world. The cavern is located on Park Road 4, just a few miles from Lake Buchanan, and is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

brand new industry in... let us remind you that... let's dream awhile!... that a new lake offers... for pleasure seekers are... by the thousands... becoming more com... of the need to relax, to... or just plain have... the day's work ends... the weekend. More and more people... fewer hours recreation... time to be a problem... that solve that problem... ing recreational facili... by will grow in size... opportunity the small... as well as its population, very well could be the construction of a new lake or some other type of crowd-pulling outdoor recreational facility.

So, if your town needs to build back lost population... to take it away from the big cities, or swipe some from the nearby villages—consider new recreational facilities as the lure.

Include a "come on" that appeals to boaters, skiers, fishermen, swimmers, skindivers, hunters, trap shooters, the bow and arrow boys and girls—all phases of appeal to the outdoor lover... and you'll have it made.

Few cities can build a setup like "Six Flags." Not many can develop a center of recreation such as San Marcos' now famous Aquarena, or its Wonder Cave... or the Caverns of Sonora in West Texas.

But it must be remembered that these things didn't just happen. They were brought about by alert citizens with vision. Men and women did it who saw the possibilities that these natural "resources" offered to the community as well as to the individual owners. Townspeople helped create interest in these projects.

Very few businessmen can go it alone. They need help. Maybe not financial so much as inspirational.

If your town needs a boost, start dreaming a little. Then dream a lot! Dreams do sometimes come true—especially if you help them along a bit.

Maybe you don't have an Alamo to draw tourists. But maybe you do. Look around. Dream a bit.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

By ELGIN SMITH

Grass plantings made in the district vary from very successful to complete failure in isolated cases. The native grass plantings have all come up good but competition from weeds has held back the rapid growth hoped for.

If you would like to observe either the bermudagrass or native grass plantings you may go by the SCS office in Goldthwaite. They can make arrangements to show you some of the plantings.

iquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, the he will not hear."

sons will be made on the effec-

Bracero Numbers Decrease While Program Costs Increase

Revealing figures brought out recently by the National Cotton Council point up increased costs of administering the decreasing Mexican labor program. Texas ranchmen and farmers should be interested in reviewing these figures both from the standpoint of the taxpayer and a labor user. It isn't news to most people that when an agency of the Federal Government wants to increase one program or another, they feel the immediate need for more employees and desks, but mainly more money. Rarely, if ever, in the maelstrom of bureaucracy will you find a move to decrease costs for administration of a program or to increase efficiency with existing facilities and personnel.

The Department of Labor presents no exception to this story. In 1959, USDL was given $517,000 by Congress to administer the Mexican labor programs (Public Law 78). Considering that 438,000 Mexican workers were coming into the country at that time, the figure seemed reasonable enough, about $1.20 per worker. However, in 1960 USDL received $867,000 to administer 316,000 workers; that's $2.55 per worker representing a 120% increase over the previous year, and yet the number of workers dropped off. And, in 1961, USDL got $1,140,000 for 291,000 workers—$3.90 per worker, with the program down and costs soaring.

A look at 1962 reveals that the USDL is requesting from the Congress $1,631,000 to administer a program for an estimated 265,000 workers who will be coming into this country, $6.20 per worker! An increase over 1959 of $5.00 per worker or 415%. We could carry on this thing and assume that if no Mexican workers are allowed to come into the United States in 1963 the USDL might request $3.5 million.

Labor users familiar with a once workable and beneficial program to both Mexico and our country are not dismayed as to reasons why the USDL has steadily requested increased appropriations. Of course this

Lions Elect International President

Curtis D. Lovill of Gardiner, Maine, was elected International President of Lions International at the Association's 45th Annual Convention in Nice, France. Lions International, with 640,000 members in 116 countries, is the world's largest service club organization.

Lions International is best known for its many youth programs, community service projects, sight conservation activities and aid to the blind. Last year Lions Clubs around the globe completed more than 200,000 individual community service projects.

only means an increased force of compliance men, government inspectors to check into complaints of violations of contracts and men to keep tabs on transportation, housing, food service, and other facilities furnished workers. Costs to users are increasing, too, $12.50 per man for processing, transportation costs both ways, insurance, etc.

In 1961 there were alleged to be 4,465 complaints and 12,618 inspections of housing and facilities (USDL's figures). The Department estimates in 1962 there will be 4,700 and 13,000 and in 1963, 5,150 and 15,500. Although it is hard to understand, the Labor Department people apparently expect that as the number of braceros decreases complaints and inspections will increase. It looks like the roads in the areas where braceros are still used may be filled with labor men keeping tabs on the program. They might have to drive long and hard to find very many bracero labor users among West Texas ranchmen who have been virtually forced out of the program by excessive regulations and restrictions. What can you do?

Farmers and ranchers are urged by Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association to write Senators immediately requesting opposition to the increased appropriation to administer the Mexican Farm Labor Program. When writing refer to Page 578, President's budget for fiscal year 1963—Compliance activities, Mexican Farm Labor Program.

Polio Pioneers Blazing New Trails

In April, 1954, six-year-old Randy Kerr received the first shot launching the giant nationwide trials of the Salk polio vaccine. Eight years later Randy presents a Salk Institute lapel button at the 32nd National 4-H Conference in Washington, D. C.

Young Randall Kerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor H. Kerr, Oakton, Va., is growing up to the title he has held for eight years—the nation's No. 1 Polio Pioneer.

In April, 1954, he was the first of millions of young school children who participated in the giant March of Dimes-financed field trials which helped prove the safety and effectiveness of the Salk vaccine.

Now going on-15, Randy is the official leader of today's teen-age Polio Pioneers who are out to build a laboratory wing of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies in San Diego, Calif. To be constructed with funds raised by teenagers representing many schools and youth organizations across the country, the laboratory wing will be an enduring tribute to the youth of America and the historic success of their partnership with science against polio.

"We were just kids when we first got our Polio Pioneer pins," says the mature Randy Kerr. "But now we're old enough to realize how much the protection they represented has meant to us and to children everywhere."

A top-notch student majoring in chemistry and math, Randy is completing his sophomore year at the Flint Hill School in Oakton. Like most teenagers, he is far more aware of the giant strides of modern science than many adults.

"Dr. Salk's idea of a center where great scientists can work together for better understanding of the processes of life makes sense," Randy says with youthful positiveness. "Things like heredity and all sorts of disease are complicated. They have to be studied from a lot of different viewpoints if we're going to get the scientific knowledge we need."

The Salk Institute for Biological Studies, scheduled to open in 1963, will be directed by Dr. Jonas Salk. He will be joined by many world-eminent scientists in biology, chemistry, virology, immunology and genetics, as well as others in such fields as physics and mathematics, to concentrate on finding answers to basic biological questions affecting health and disease.

As the No. 1 Polio Pioneer, Randy Kerr will help plan the fund-raising events to support the $15 million Salk Institute Building Fund. The fund is sponsored nationally by the National Foundation-March of Dimes, through which the American people totally supported Dr. Salk's polio research.

The starting date for the Salk Institute Building Fund campaign—June 1—coincides with Randy's fifteenth birthday.

"I can't think of a better way to celebrate," he says, "than joining all the rest of the country's Polio Pioneers to thank Dr. Salk in this concrete way for the protection we've enjoyed. As tomorrow's scientists we can look forward to big dividends from our shares in the Salk Institute."
