Approving The WATER Bonds

In The Election Tuesday

Was Your Expression of Confidence In The Future of Your Community

We, the members of the Water Improvement Committee, want to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all the voters of the City and Water District who went to the polls Tuesday and cast their ballots in the water bond election.

The good turnout at the polls by voters shows a keen sense of interest and concern on the part of residents for the welfare of the community and the problems before them.

We thank you for a vote of confidence in the future of our community.

Approval of the water bonds is an expression of confidence in the community and for the future of Goldthwaite.

We again want to express our sincere appreciation to the many people outside the City Council, Water Supervisors and Water Improvement Committee, who have worked during the campaign of public information FOR more water.

Thank You,

Water Improvement Committee

The area around the Post's campsite on Ross island was had patches of snow. into the lake from melting snow. Part of the group scaled one of the mountains on the north wall, to the base of a glacier, a solid wall of ice, 100 to 150 feet high, capped with a blanket of snow

Some of the wildlife observed in the wilderness area included a Big Horn ram, sighted by the group that climbed to the glacier, plus mountain grouse, deer, a small herd of Big Horn ewes and moose which were plentiful. judging from the number of tracks observed.

The Post owed much of the success of their trip to Don Cox, brother of Advisor Jack Cox, for the use of his British Land Rover which was used to carry the Explorers and their equip-
