Water Under the Bridge
BY G. F. B.

The little "showers of blessings" received over most of our fine county Monday night has prompted this edition of "water" under the bridge.

It has been about six weeks since we decided to put something down, and it's been about that long since we had any rain to speak of.

Anyway, reports varied from nearly one inch around Mullin and at Big Valley to two and three tenths in the eastern part of the county.

And every little bit helps ...

This column welcomes Goldthwaite's new city manager, Max Pitts, who took over the helm at the city offices on Monday.

The CM spot is one of the key posts in our town and we should all get to know Max personally.

He is a native of Big Spring so he's familiar with the West Texas point of view about most things.

Good luck Max!

"Why don't you try and settle the case out of court?" the judge asked the litigants before him.

"That's just what we were doing," replied one, "when the police came and interfered."

Commissioners Name New Custodian

A special called meeting of the Mills County Commissioners Court was held Monday at the Courthouse.

The Commissioners unanimously accepted the resignation of George Marler as Custodian.

Immediately following that action, the court unanimously voted to hire Mrs. W. W. Ratliff.

Mrs. Ratliff will begin work immediately.

Nathan Carothers Candidate For G'waite Trustee

Nathan Carothers has announced his candidacy as trustee for a three year term on the Goldthwaite School Board.

A native of Mills County and 1959 graduate of Goldthwaite High School, he and his wife Jeanette, have two children attending Goldthwaite School. Nathan is actively engaged in farming and ranching, and also owns and operates a wholesale oil and fuel business in Goldthwaite.

If the voting public see fit to elect Nathan Carothers to serve on the Goldthwaite Public School Board, he will work with the other board members and school administration to do all that is possible to better our school and provide a good education for our children.

Your support will be greatly appreciated, but, whether you choose to vote for this candidate, or another, be sure to support our school and vote on April 3rd.

The Way It Was

Down Memory Lane To The Rural School

The Teachers Speak

By W. H. Wasserman

Submitted by Hartal Langford Blackwell, History Appreciation Chairman

PART III

At various times I have been asked to write a sketch of my early teaching experiences, but feeling that it would end in the wastebasket I was always reluctant to do so. However, since bicentennial celebrations are the order of the day, I would like to contribute this as an effort on my part to help.

In the beginning, let me state that it was requested that what I narrate be authentic and not my imagination. As I still have my daily register, I won't have to draw on my imagination.

Nevertheless, some of the things I relate may seem like fairy tales to the present school people, especially the young class.

My teaching "career" began at Ridge, Texas, in the years of 1917 and 1918. At the time I made my application for the school. I was informed that experienced teachers only were considered and teaching experience I did not have. But later I was granted an interview with the board of trustees. It was very brief. When asked to spell assafetida, I flunked. The other question was, "Would I relinquish the school at the end of a three month period if the board felt I couldn't handle the school?" To this I replied, "I wouldn't want the job if I couldn't handle it." To my relief, the interview was over. I was employed at the magnificent salary of sixty dollars per month for a period of six months.

It had been a life-time ambition with me to be a teacher. I felt no president ever has been any prouder of his job than I was of mine. I couldn't wait until the first day of school.

To understand the conditions of those days, we have to realize that it was a transition period - the dawn of the Model-T and the eve of the pioneer spirit. As far as rural schools were concerned, they were still in the pioneer stage; you did the best you could with whatever you had to do with.

These are some of the things we did not have: free textbooks, report cards, examinations, daily lesson plans or a schedule that could be compiled with, sanitary drinking fountains, busses, cafeterias, compulsory attendance laws, supervised playground activities, Teachers Tenure Act, Teachers Aid, and other teaching equipment.

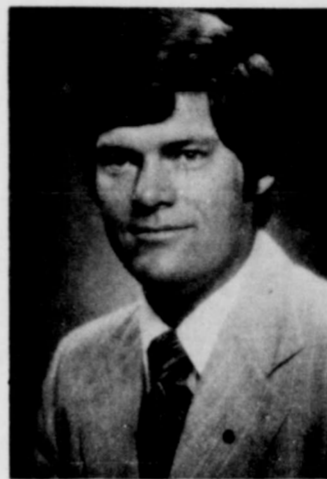

What I did have was a one-room building with a huge stove and fifty-two bright-eyed faces eager to learn. What to do with them was my problem and what a Herculean task it proved to be.

I had taken several courses in Management of Rural Schools, but I soon learned that theory and reality were two horses of a different color. The big problem was to be fair and just with all people. It was a more or less hit or miss affair or a give and take affair might describe it better. I can't recall ever being discouraged or in despair. There never was a dull or idle moment.

Part of this, I feel, was due to the fact that I had the respect, co-operation and encouragement of the patrons as well as that of the students. Of course, problems and misunderstandings arose, but they seemed to solve themselves. The patron of that day was as concerned and interested in the welfare and security of his child as the patron of today.

The one regret I have is that I wasn't better qualified and more capable of being a better teacher than I was, but that was the way of life. The modern teacher still has many problems and there will always be problems. Let us just be thankful that our schools are still improving.

G'waite Senior Citizen Group Honored

The Goldthwaite Senior Citizens met recently at the Youth Center to honor those members who started the center. There were approximately twenty-five people who came regularly those first few months and some are still going strong, especially the "84" table with most of the original members.

Brian Smith was our before-funch speaker and he brought a most interesting and humorous reminder of how it was back then - and a little of the history of the Senior Citizens Organization. Following are some of the things Brian told us.

The Senior Citizens Program in Mills County began in November, 1967. Louise Long had made a survey of the county and this was one of the needs expressed - "something for senior citizens."

The Livestock Association gave the use of the Show Barn for a recreation program. Money for putting some furnishings in the building, painting, and floor covering was furnished by Hill Country Community Action. Then invitations went out to senior citizens to meet and decide what they would like to do. About twenty-five people came, and each week a few new ones were added, until the present organization now has well over one hundred members, but it is those very first members that we honor on this occasion.

At first the ladies started quilting, and the names of Blanche Featherstone, Mrs. Monroe Geeslin and Maude Chamberlain are thought of - as well as many more. Then they took up crafts of many different kinds and you would never guess how many things could be made from an egg carton. We think of Mrs. Alma Hanna, Charlie Hunter, Vivian Stephan, Brock McCasland and Ethel Holland as some of the crafts ladies.

Edgar Simpson always brought watermelons for the group in season. He said he was born in "No Man's Land" before there was a Mills County.

Some of our original members have heard wedding bells - Hettie Sloan and Mel Booker married, as did Mrs. Brown and Harve Wilson. Lucille Karnes recently married and moved back to her home.

A few of the memories of those first few years that Brian shared with us are:

Do you remember Tillie Ligon's sweet smile and helping hand anywhere she was needed? Also, she was our first Mills County Senior Citizen.

Did you ever see anyone who saw something GOOD in everything like Mathilda Heath?

How about those good cakes, pies, cinnamon loaf, and butter rolls that Carl Wharton baked? Do you remember when Mr. Brock McCasland framed a number of pictures for the walls of the center?

What about the time the Social Security man came and showed a film and asked if anyone had any questions. Bill Bynum asked if he knew what was wrong with his fruit trees. We had a lot of humor mixed with the good times.

Everyone remembers the good films Bryon Oglesby has shown us.

What about those five Simpson brothers - Walter, Ed, Rob, Oscar and Mohler. All five have belonged to our organization.

What about all those delicious meals we have consumed since 1967, cooked by some of the best cooks ever, and all the turkey and dressing baked by Abbie Boatwright, Ruth Patterson, Pearl Hudson, Lela Burnet, Nancy Bohannon, Evelyn Weaver, Mrs. Neal Rose and Mrs. Hogue.

Brian asked for a moment of silent prayer in memory of those faithful members who have passed away. These were: Ira Hutchings, Brock McCasland, Ethel Holland, Bill Bynum, Walter Simpson, Rob Simpson, Ed Simpson, Bro. Tom Mitchell, Tom Booker, Maude Chamberlain, Ruby Cave, Fannie House and Pearl Holland, perhaps others. There has never been anyone who enjoyed the Senior Center more than Bro. Tom Mitchell.

Workers with the program since its beginning have been: Louise Long, who of course started the program - the first for Senior Citizens anywhere; Robbie Kerby, Ellen Galloway, Gladys Cockrum, Cornelia Boykin, Ruth Dumas and Elva McNeil. Volunteers have been many through the years, but special mention goes to Mary Lou and Ellen Galloway.

After a sumptuous meal of all good things to eat the Klitter Klatter Kombo entertained us with some "Hi Steppin" music which we all enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Schuster were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Mohler Simpson and Loraine Letbetter and Mrs. Rhoda Humphries in a beautiful waltz. You should see Inez Petty do the Charleston!

The Youth Center was crowded with near one hundred people to honor those who started the Senior Center - something that has given all of us so much pleasure.

There are many other names that we could mention as the FIRST participants at the center, but rather than risk leaving out someone we will not make a list of names. Each person who comes is most important in keeping the center active.

At first the ladies started quilting, and the names of Blanche Featherstone, Mrs. Monroe Geeslin and Maude Chamberlain are thought of - as well as many more. Then they took up crafts of many different kinds and you would never guess how many things could be made from an egg carton. We think of Mrs. Alma Hanna, Charlie Hunter, Vivian Stephan, Brock McCasland and Ethel Holland as some of the crafts ladies.

Bus Driver Training Clinic Staged Here

Bus Drivers from Goldthwaite, Star, Mullin, and Lometa recently participated in the "Bus Drivers Safety Training Course" conducted at the local high school. The school consisted of 20 hours of class and laboratory work.

Such programs as this will become mandatory in Texas sometime in 1977 or shortly thereafter.

Texas Department of Public Safety and State Board of Education have developed the Texas School Bus Driver Training Course in preparation for the mandatory date. Since the program's creation, the education board has contracted with education service centers throughout the state to train public school bus drivers.

After drivers complete the course, they will be required to take an eight hour refresher course every three years.

Those participating in the local program are shown in the above photograph.

Bicentennial Meeting Monday

The monthly Bicentennial meeting will be held Monday, February 23, at four o'clock in the courthouse.

At this time, the group will finalize plans for the upcoming Bicentennial celebration to be held this spring.

The public is invited to attend.

Wilkins, McCoy Attend Design Forum

Attending a recent Advanced Landscape Design Forum held at Texas A&M recently were Mrs. Roy Wilkins and Mrs. Robert McCoy. This symposium was the first of its kind ever held.

The forum was attended by garden club women from all city states. Attendance of Texas women was limited to those landscape design critics in good standing.

Over two hundred women gathered to hear outstanding speakers in the field of landscape architecture and environmental factors. Among those presenting papers were: Dr. Julius D. Auldman, vice president, Shell Oil Co., who spoke on solar energy for tomorrow's environment; and Dr. Hubert Owen, president of the International Federation of Landscape Architects and the founder of the study course in Landscape Design offered by the National Council of State Garden Clubs, who spoke on the history of Landscape Architecture.

Well known to Landscape Design students here in Texas were two speakers associated with the Texas Extension service: Dr. William Welch, Mr. Everett Janne and Mr. Robert Rucker of Texas A&M.

Heritage Nursing Home "HAPPENINGS"

Her name is Mrs. Roxie Knight.

And partly because her birthday falls on St. Valentines Day and mostly because she is such a lovely person, no one disputes her right to the place of honor of being our Valentine sweetheart.

Born on Feb. 14, 1881, Mrs. Knight celebrated her 95th birthday in conjunction with our Valentine party. Daughters, Ruby Walls, Lillian Welch and Cassie Piper were on hand to make this a happy occasion for their mother.

To make this Valentine's Day special for all of us, we were entertained royally by Hazel Mosely at the piano. Also, these lovely ladies from the Priddy F.H.A sang beautiful songs of love: Rita Williams, Vivki and Donna Baird, Beverly Kunkel, Danise Cleveland, Karen Marwitz and their teacher, Benita House.

Refreshments of Valentine cake and punch were served to residents and several guests. THIS N' THAT—How we have been enjoying Clara Kimbell at the piano and the Gospel choir, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Yeager, Inez Petty, Willie Casbeer and Earnest Jarrett on Saturday afternoons. — Mr. A. G. Witzsche surprised us last Saturday by coming with Mrs. Kimbell. How he can play the accordion! — Mr. Ray Johnson showed some very interesting films on Alaska recently. We hope he will come back again. — Appreciated Bro. Connally and R. T. Ratliff for teaching our Sunday School in the absence of Mrs. Dutch Smith, who has been ill. — Also want to show our appreciation to Tommy Ray Collier for his devotion as pianist for Sunday School and to Glynn Collier and Glenda for supplying the song service. — The weekly bus trips are a special treat to many of the residents. Their trip to the Boy's Ranch last week was made even more enjoyable when Diana Gibbard, granddaughter-in-law of one of our residents, Rosie Gibbard, boarded the van and gave a moving description of the ranch and its' operation.

HELP CHILDREN AVOID TROUBLE
To them, a package of pills or tablets, or a colorful bottle of medicine is a fascinating toy.
MEDICINES CAN BE DANGEROUS
If a large enough amount is absorbed, any medicine can become poisonous. Too often prescriptions, which are perfectly safe to take in their proper dosage are carelessly left where little children can get at them.

PLEASE DANGER-CHECK YOUR HOME NOW
1. Collect all medicines and put them in a place impossible for children to reach.
2. While doing this throw away everything that is old, or with contents you do not know.
3. Then, when you finish taking a dose of any medicine, don't carelessly leave it exposed to tempt children, but immediately place it away from their reach.

ALWAYS READ THE LABEL OF ANY MEDICINE.
Never give or take any medicine without reading the label and directions to make certain it is the exact one you want.

PHARMACISTS ALWAYS CHECK LABELS
While compounding prescriptions, we read the label of each ingredient when we take it off the shelf. We carefully read the label again before we compound the medicine. We next, for the third time, check the label and contents before we dispense the prescription. If you will be as careful, you will prevent trouble.

Our apologies to the players and coaches who really did an outstanding job.

Put your FAITH to work every day

There really never was a time when "once-a-week" religion was enough. But today, in our swiftly moving world, the need is greater than ever to put your Faith to work—all the time. Think of today's dismaying headlines. Then think of the many ways the world can be made better. "But I'm only one person," you say. Yes, But your church or synagogue can become, with your help, a rallying point for change. By joining others who live their Faith, you are no longer alone in your beliefs. Worship this week—and put your Faith to work all week long.
