

Bull Town Bulletins

By Bill Ellis

FOR A NUMBER OF years, we have been bothered by the fact that so many people today (even college graduates) have trouble with spelling and grammar.

One of our readers sent us the following, which underscores the fact that even those in positions that should demand better, have this problem. Unfortunately, the submitter failed to identify the source of this piece:

I have a pessimistic thought that slowly is ripening to a doleful conclusion: The rules of grammar—old-fashioned grammar—increasingly are being disdained. Do the schools still teach the difference between objective and nominative pronouns? Between singular and plural pronouns? If so, many professionals must have missed class that day.

The Orange County (Calif.) Register carried a story about a brother and sister, separated in early childhood, who were reunited in middle age. Their lives had been remarkably parallel: "They each married twice. They each had four children. And they each moved out West: her to Arizona, him to California." Yipes!

Ralph Turlington, writing a guest piece for Florida Today, described efforts to recruit 7,000 new teachers for Florida schools. Prospects were to be invited to a two-day fair in Orlando. "Each arriving teacher candidate will receive a welcome packet of information, complimentary items and a computer printout which matches their credentials and experience with district vacancies." Turlington is Florida's commissioner of education. Mercy!

Elsewhere in Florida, a new high school principal was interviewed about young people today. "Everybody has the same goal to better themselves," he said. Send him to the principal's office!

I have a broody, chauvinist notion that some of these Horrid Examples are a consequence of womens lib, the movement that has contributed to English such abominations as "freshperson" and "waitperson." Writers have become so paralyzed by fear of being called sexist that their fingers cannot type "Everybody wants to better himself."

As I have suggested before, some of these difficulties may be avoided by fleeing to plural constructions. "All children want to better themselves." "All arriving teachers will receive computer printouts that match their credentials..." The writer who is truly desperate to avoid offense will take cover in "her and him" and "his and her."

An unfounded notion persists that prose composition is governed by all kinds of "rules." Never split an infinitive. Never end a sentence with a preposition. Never begin a sentence with "and" or "but." Do not indulge in sentence fragments. These are not rules; they are no more than sensible recommendations of general application. Grammar is something else. Some of the old rules have faded—the rule on "shall" and "will," for example—but subjects and predicates still have to agree in number, and nominative and objective pronouns have to be properly employed.

The rules of spelling are equally binding. The office manager of a printing supply house in Alexandria, Va., recently sent out a form letter asking for price lists: "If you would be so kind as to expedite these I would greatly appreciate it." In Tampa, Fla., a flower shop promoted "Secretarie's Week." A Florida publication called Data Bus interviewed industrialist David Rush. He is chairman of a high-tech council that is attempting to unite government, industry and education. Said the reporter: "The

Four Ladies Report On Canadian Trip

Four ladies have returned home recently from almost 7,000 miles of travel through the northwestern U.S., into Canada.

Charlsie Eubanks, Jerry Ware, Lillian Warren and Irene Crawford left for Pinedale, Wyoming on June 23. They traveled to Denver, Pueblo, Rock Springs to Pinedale.

They spent a day in Jackson Hole, Wyoming and did alot of sightseeing there. The ladies had dinner at the Bar J Ranch there and saw a western movie.

During their travels they toured the mountain roads and saw lovely wild flowers. They enjoyed eating breakfast on the shores of Lake Freemont at Lake Sides Lodge.

They attended a beautiful wedding, which was Jerry Ware's granddaughter's, held on top of a lovely mountain with the Grand Tetons in the background. It is said that the spectacle of such grandeur and magnitude of these mountains etches one's mind with an indelible memory.

They traveled onto Yellowstone National Park and viewed the Grand Geyser at the Yellowstone National Park. This is sometimes called Old Faithful and is a typical fountain-type. It spurts 200 feet with a performance that lasts 15-45 minutes. There were many smaller fountain type geysers spurting out of the ground and people were walking all over the area.

They went on through the panhandle of Idaho and saw the Grand Coulee Dam. This is the largest concrete structure in the world. It began operating in 1942. The dam is one mile wide and it is said the concrete weighs nearly eight million tons. This dam is on the Columbia River.

The ladies traveled onto Pasco, Washington and visited with Lillian Warren's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Gyer.

The next day they went to Quincy, Washington, and visited with Jerry's nephew and his wife, Dale and Theresa Ware. They toured many more places of interest in that area. They saw Box Canyon and Silica Pit, the largest in the world. It is used in face powder and computer electrical parts.

They traveled to Gimro National Museum where they viewed a lovely flag at Rocky Reach Dam. This was on a hillside and made of beautiful red, white and blue flowers growing on a lovely mat of green grass. Jerry's nephew, Dale, worked on generators at this dam.

On July 4, the ladies went to George, Washington. They said the town was only a wide place in the road but during the Fourth of July, they serve the largest cherry pie in the world. They make alot of money by carrying out this tradition every year. The pie is eight feet square and people were charged by the serving. The recipe consists of: crust—150 pounds of flour, 72 pounds of shortening, salt to taste and water to right consistency. Filling—100 gallons of cherries, 200 pounds of sugar, 75 cups of tapioca, 2 pounds of almond extract and one and one-half cups of red food coloring.

The pie is baked for each Fourth of July celebration, and served to the public by "The Georgettes," a local ladies club.

The ladies saw beautiful fireworks that night.

The ladies said in this small town cherry trees were planted on each side of Main Street for tourists or anyone who had a taste for pie cherries.

The ladies did some shopping and spent the night at Pentiction, Canada where they toured a cherry packing plant.

The next day they went to Kilowanda, Canada and saw an amusement park and enjoyed eating pizza. While eating, they watched the mechanical bear orchestra perform. It seemed beautiful flowers could be seen everywhere.

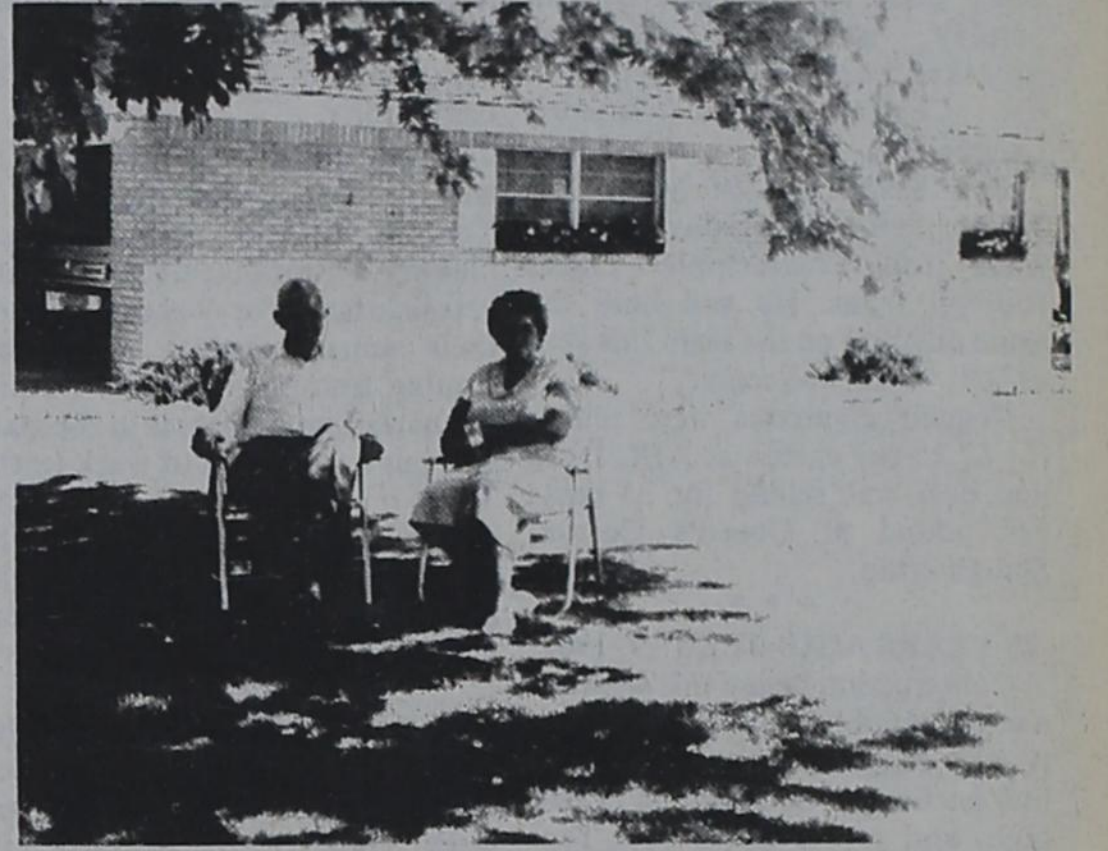

The next day they were on their way back and spent a day in Leavenworth, Washington at a Bavarian village shop and saw many works of art created by hand and also an art show. In this area they viewed many beautiful mountains.

They began their journey home on the seventh of July. They came through Pendleton, Oregon, Boise, Idaho, Salt Lake City, Utah and viewed the great Salt Lake and said it was almost up to the highway through Provo and Moab, Utah. They saw many pretty rock formations through the canyons of the National Park.

They visited the "Hole in the Wall" which was a 14-room home chiseled out of the mountain of rock and had been lived in at one time. The place is now a museum for travelers and managed by relatives of the man and his wife who built the home.

They arrived home on July 9. The ladies had a great time and alot of fun but were happy to be home.

BEATING THE HEAT....Gene and Genevieve Ezell, typical of Bovina residents, who tried to find ways of cooling off this week as temperatures hit 102 degrees.

Meltons Return From Vacation To Canada

Jim and Joy Melton returned home July 17 from a trip to Canada, where Joy grew up. They visited in Toronto, Ontario with her brother, Joe Hussey.

They spent a week at Charleston Lake near Ottawa, which is the capital of the Province, Ontario. This is the St. Lawrence Sea-way system and there are a thousand islands in the Charleston Lake. They spent time fishing, swimming and relaxing there. Joy said she caught a nineteen inch Trout and the Bass and Trout were very plentiful. Her brother was with them and they spent time fishing in his boat.

While there, they stayed in a cabin and there was alot of wildlife in that area. One day they observed five little otters who were playing tag with one another and paid no mind to the people who were watching. The temperature was 75 degrees that week and was very pleasant.

Joy was born in Kingsville and attended school there. This is where much tobacco is raised and as a child, she worked in the tobacco fields with the other children.

They visited in Leamington, Ontario, which is the tomato capital of the world. The Chamber of Commerce building there is shaped like a huge red tomato with a big open window on the side.

They went to Kingsville and visited the bird sanctuary. This is where large bunches of wild geese migrate every year and before leaving, the birds are banded. That is, there is a band put on their foot with a Bible verse and a date of their being there. The man who is in charge of this now is John Miner. His father, Jack Miner, banded his first wild goose in 1909 and thousands have been banded since. This contributes to the research of the migratory birds of North America. The work of the late Jack Miner is now carried on by his son and grandsons. John Miner and Joy Melton attended school together and even took piano lessons together, according to Joy.

The family took a boat ride on Lake Erie with a cousin of Joy's, but she said it was such a rough ride and the lake so large, they didn't stay out too long. They had alot of fun with her cousins and one day, Joy's nephew, Mike, went with her on a walk through the heart of Toronto, where she went to college. She saw many places that made her feel like she was going home. This was a city of five million people. Joy said one could see the most modern of high fashions in clothes and makeup.

Group To Perform At FBC

The Anchor Brothers will be performing at the First Baptist Church August 3 at 7 p.m. Everyone is invited to come.

The Anchor Brothers have been singing together for about six years, with their home base in the Sudan area. The five-piece band includes: Kenneth Richards, vocal and bass guitar; Reydon Stanford, vocal and keyboard; Den Richards, vocal and percussion; Jerry Howard, lead guitar; and W.T. Watson, steel guitar.

The band plays for only two reasons—first, to proclaim that God is not dead; second, to be an uplift to the believer through Gospel music.

The band averages about 70 concerts a year, singing at churches, banquets, civic meetings, South Plains Fair and Gospel singings.

They have recorded seven L.P. albums with some of the all time favorites, plus several new arrangements written by members of the band.

A very special Christmas album, "A Christmas Card in Song," full of new songs, has just been released and is full of excitement.

For the last two years the band has been nominated as "Group of the Year" in the state of Texas of the S.G.M.A. (Southern Gospel Music Association).

Ken and Reydon both received honorable mention in Nashville when they entered their song, "He Knows My Name" in a song writers contest.

BANDING THE BIRDS...Pictured are wild geese who stop to feed at the world famous "Jack Miner Bird Sanctuary" during the annual migration to Kingsville, Ontario. Jim and Joy Melton have recently returned from a vacation in that area. The birds are banded with a tag around a foot with a Bible verse on it and the date they were in Ontario. The man in charge is a long-time acquaintance of Joy Melton, who grew up in Canada.

LADIES RETURN HOME....Four Bovina ladies are back from almost 7,000 miles of travel by car through the northwestern states and into Canada. Making the trip were Charlsie Eubanks, Jerry Ware, Lillian Warren and Irene Crawford.

Woman Is Attacked By Dog

Genevieve and Gene Ezell were taking their morning walk on Monday about 8 a.m. when Genny was attacked and bitten by a dog belonging to Jesse Stone, 405 4th Street.

Genny was taken to the hospital and had to have 17 stitches taken in her ankle.

The animal had been tied in the daytime and kept in the fenced-in back yard at night, according to its owners, and somehow escaped.

The dog has been impounded.

Again, Bovina residents are urged to keep animals penned, leashed, or destroyed, if you no longer want them, but do not let them roam the streets, say City officials.

Protect Yourself From Lightning

Lightning is deadly and annually kills more Americans than tornadoes and more than hurricanes and floods combined. However, since lightning usually kills only one person at a time, lightning deaths do not attract as much attention as other weather-related fatalities.

"Lightning is particularly common with spring and summer thunderstorms in Texas, so individuals should take certain precautions during stormy weather," advises Dr. Gary Nelson, a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Quick thinking combined with common sense can go a long way in preventing lightning fatalities when thunderstorms are on the prowl," Nelson emphasizes. He lists some "dos" and "don'ts" regarding lightning safety:

Outdoors:

- Do seek protection immediately. Safe places include a building that's protected from lightning; a large, steel-framed building; an enclosed automobile; and a large, unprotected building.
- Don't touch any metal fences, wires, clotheslines or pipes. In a car, keep your hands off any metal or the radio.
- Do get off your bicycle, golf cart, horse, tractor or motorcycle.
- Don't take cover under lone trees, taller trees in groves or in unprotected shelters such as those on a golf course or camp ground.
- Do head for a cave or under a cliff if you're hiking in mountains or other hilly areas.
- Don't huddle in groups; spread out a few feet from one another.
- Do head for a low spot--lower than ground level--such as a ravine, gully or ditch, but not one that's filling with water.
- Don't remain near railroad tracks.
- Do get off beaches, piers or docks and get away from pools, oceans and lakes.
- Don't swim, wade or go boating; head for land at the first signs of a thunderstorm.
- Do seek shelter in a clump of head-high trees or a thicket of small ones if you're stuck in a forested area.
- Don't stand in open spaces, since most lightning fatalities are people who are taller than their surroundings--a golfer in the middle of a fairway, a farmer in a field, a rider in open country.
- Do immediately set down golf clubs, tennis rackets, fishing poles and other metal objects that can act as lightning rods.

Manage Your Lawn To Cut Water Bill

When the weather turns dry, don't just turn on your lawn sprinkler and then gripe about your high water bill.

By watering, fertilizing and mowing your lawn properly, you can reduce your water bill as much as 40 per cent, says a turfgrass specialist.

"Conservation by the homeowner provides the only solution to high water bills and excessive water demands during our hot and usually dry Texas summers," says Dr. Richard Duble with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

In small cities where industrial demand for water is low, lawn watering may account for as much as half of all the water used during summer months. Even in larger cities, lawns get 30 to 40 per cent of all the water supplied by municipalities.

"Most Texas lawns use about two inches of water per week during the summer, and most of this usually comes from irrigation," Duble says. "However, as little as one inch of water per week can keep lawns alive and green."

Exactly what can a homeowner do to reduce his summer water bill?

"First, water your lawn only when grass starts to show signs of drought stress," explains Duble. "Look for discoloration and wilting. If leaves roll up in the late afternoon and footprints remain after walking across the lawn, then water within 24 hours."

"Once you've decided that your lawn needs watering, do it right," he emphasizes. "Most homeowners don't water their lawns properly. They either water too often, causing grass to develop shallow roots and making it a prime target for insects, diseases and temperature extremes, or they water too infrequently and apply too much water at one time, resulting in a lot of runoff."

"When watering, soak the soil to a depth of 4 to 6 inches," recommends the specialist. In heavy clay soils, watering for 15-20 minute periods may be necessary to prevent excessive runoff.

"Cutting back on lawn fertilization can also reduce watering," says Duble. Applying fertilizer in the spring and fall will generally keep your lawn healthy. Fertilizing during the summer, especially with nitrogen fertilizer, will green up your lawn, but it will also increase grass growth and water use.

Texas Bonds Sales Are Up

During the first quarter of calendar year 1986, Texas sales of U.S. Savings Bonds amounted to $94,802,245, an increase of over $13 million over 1985 for 16.4 per cent, T.J. Morrow, District Director for U.S. Savings Bonds Division in Dallas, announced recently. These sales represent 25.6 per cent of the state's 1986 assigned dollar goal of $370 million. March 1986 sales of Series EE Bonds were $33,634,254, an increase of 15.1 per cent over March 1985.

Sales of Series EE Bonds amounted to $32,672 during March 1986 in Parmer County, Charles Allen, Volunteer County Chairman, said. Total sales in the county during the period January-March, 1986 were $40,766, which represents 36.7 per cent of the county's 1986 assigned dollar goal.

Nationally, March sales of U.S. Savings Bonds totaled $600 million, 40 per cent above March a year ago and the highest sales for any March since 1979. Sales of U.S. Savings Bonds for the first half of fiscal 1986 increased 40 per cent over the same period a year ago. Savings Bonds held by the American public reached an all-time high--over $81 billion for the first time ever--to $81.42 billion.

Much of the sales growth can be attributed to the new market-based rate which was effective November 1, 1982. The current rate in effect during the time of these sales (November 1985 through April 1986) for bonds held five years or longer is 8.36 per cent. The average rate since November 1, 1982 is 9.69 per cent. Bonds held at least five years earn 85 per cent of the average rate on five-year Treasury marketable securities during the holding period or 7.5 per cent, whichever is more. Bonds held less than five years earn interest on a fixed, graduated scale.

Information on rates, including the new semi-annual rate as soon as it is available, can be obtained by calling toll-free--1-800-US BONDS.

Officers Elected For Houston Show

Officer elections and the announcement of $33 million worth of building and educational endeavors since 1966 highlighted the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo's board of directors meeting.

Joseph T. Ainsworth, M.D., was re-elected as president and E. Norwin Gerhart was re-elected as chairman of the board.

Elected to their first term as Show Executive Committee members were P. Michael Wells and Clayton H. Underwood. Re-elected as Show Executive Committee members were Gordon Edge, Don D. Jordan and Hal Hillman.

In recognition of the Astrohall's 20th anniversary, the $33 million building and educational commitment was announced by Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo president Joseph T. Ainsworth, M.D.

Since 1966, the Show has contributed $17,962,598.00 in Astrohall complex building projects, with the total 25 acres under roof donated to Houston and Harris County citizens.

Also in the past 20 years, the Show has sponsored $15,348,220.00 worth of educational endeavors. These educational endeavors include graduate assistantships, four-year FFA and 4-H scholarships, one-year Go Texan scholarships, school art scholarships and endowment funds to thirteen Texas colleges and universities.

Research and development projects conducted at more than 30 Texas colleges and universities as well as leadership training schools are also included in these educational programs.

These 20 year contributions represent a sizeable investment in both the Astrohall complex and in Texas students.

Emphasis was given at the meeting to a generous and supportive public, without whom these programs would not have been made possible.

ObeY Traffic Laws While On Vacation

Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said, "Texans are lucky, because they have better highways on which to travel to more enjoyable places. The Department would like to emphasize that vacation driving during the summer months is far more enjoyable when traffic laws are obeyed." Major Cawthon added, "It is much easier and less expensive to drive within the law."

When it is hot and the highways are crowded, fatigue and lack of alertness is a serious problem on long vacation trips. The motorist should stop every two hours to rest and never drive more than ten hours a day.

During the hot summer months alcohol consumption will be on the increase. Traffic increases with alcohol and our highways can become more dangerous.

This year could be the greatest tourist season Texas has ever had; for the state visitor industry, you could call it a billion-dollar summer!

The Major reminds the Texas motorist to be alert, buckle up, and drive within the 55 mph speed limit. Plan your trip so that you have plenty of time to reach your destination and return in comfort and safety.

Prairie Acres Party Line

By DONNA ECHOLS

One of the hazards of doing things is that one makes mistakes. I printed the wrong information concerning nail and hair care for last week so we had an interesting Tuesday morning. I apologize for causing confusion and here is the correct schedule for this week. The United Methodist Women did care this past Tuesday and the Bovina Church of Christ Women will be here this Tuesday. Thanks.

The First Baptist Church held our services Sunday and the Tenth Street Church of Christ will share with us this Sunday at 4 p.m. Please join us.

We have another new resident. Her name is Ealen Gage. She is from Chico, California and moved into our home Monday. She was born in Hageman, New Mexico and moved to California to attend college. She became a school teacher and taught mostly second grade. She has a brother, Edgar Walters in Bovina and a nephew, Joe Walters in Hub. She plans to make Prairie Acres her home and we welcome her.

We have received memorials for Steve Struve from Lunell and Hollis Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hurst, Juanita Reed, Nellie Ray, D.C. and Margie Herring, Mr. and Mrs. J.G. McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. Arna Struve, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Murphree and Eddie and Anita Hall. Memorials received for L.G. Taylor are from Lunell and Hollis Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hurst, Juanita Reed, Mr. and Mrs. J.G. McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Murphree.

We also received memorials for Claude Osborn from Eufaula Ethridge, Clarence and Peggy Monroe, The Lawrence Martins, Calvin and Patsy Talley, Gladys Moseley, Lunell and Hollis Horton, John and Jill McFarland, The Clarence Martins, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hurst, D.C. and Margie Herring, Earl and Marlene Drake, Mrs. Jewell Robason, The Bill Wilshire Family, Mr. and Mrs. H.K. Kendrick, Jarrell and Karen Wright and Family.

A memorial was received for Nick Treinen from Lunell and Hollis Horton and Juanita Reed. Della Stagner from Hereford donated money to the Love Fund. We appreciate all persons who remember our home throughout the year.

Odell Holley has been to visit us several times this week. He has shared his work, fresh flowers and wax beans with the residents and we thank him. Maria DeVilla and her children donated two gold fish for our aquarium and Leroy Cox from Home Town Hardware donated free labor by creating a spot to anchor our oxygen bottles. Thanks!

The Salvation Army representatives came to see us this week. With them were several children and Mrs. Santa Claus. They brought "Christmas In July" by sharing small baskets of flowers with each resident. The Calvary Baptist Church members came and sang for our residents Wednesday and led a "sing-a-long" with us and we had fun.

We appreciate Gertie Murphree for doing a Bible study with us and Daymun White for his visit this week. We also thank Fay Reeve for her visits and help.

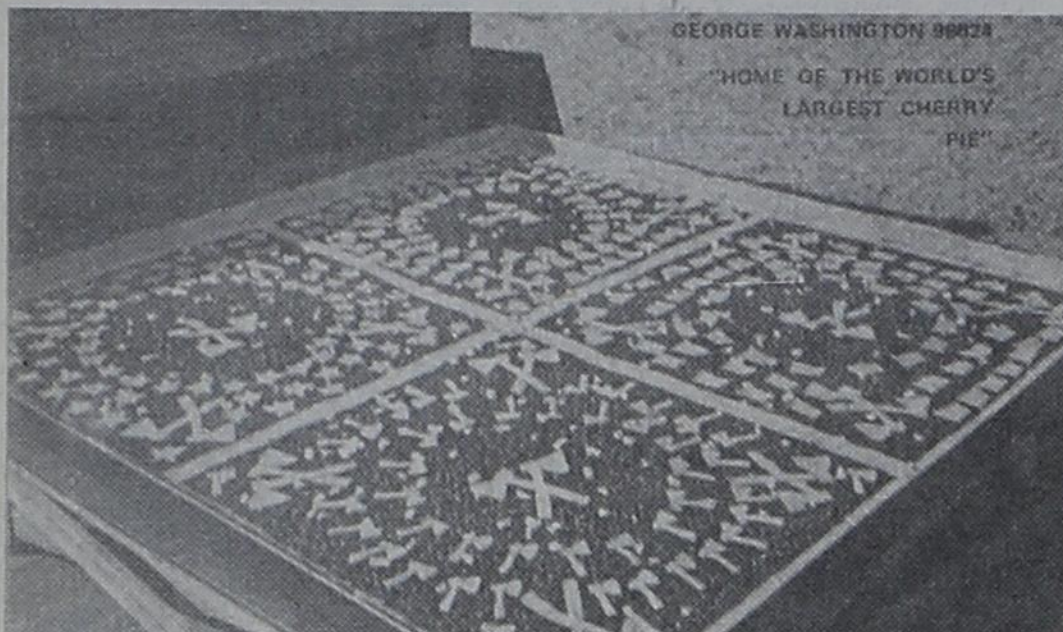

Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Hartman will be celebrating their 43rd anniversary on July 31. Congratulations to them!

A PIECE OF PIE...Shown is a cherry pie at George, Washington, home of the world's largest cherry pie, which is eight foot square. This was among the many sights Charles Eubanks, Jerry Ware, Lillian Warren and Irene Crawford saw while vacationing. The pie is baked each year on July 4th for their annual celebration in George, Washington, and served to tourists and local people.

Judith Schilling, Jeff Alford Are United In Church Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Alford

Jeff Don Alford and Judith Catherine Schilling exchanged wedding vows June 21 at the St. Thomas the Apostle Catholic Church in Amarillo.

Judith is the daughter of Joe and Eunice Schilling of Farwell and Jeff is the son of Lawson and Pat Alford of Amarillo.

Fr. Joseph Tash was the officiating clergyman.

Judith was given in marriage by her father.

Serving as best man was Stephen Schilling of Farwell, brother of the bride.

Melanie Kenney of Canyon was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Lisa Schilling of Bovina, cousin of the bride, Sharmy McDonald of Lewisville and Alicia Irlbeck of Canyon.

Candle lighters were Trent Schilling of Farwell, brother of the bride, and Darrius Linder of Slaton, cousin of the bride.

Serving as ushers were Jason Schilling of Farwell, brother of the bride, Danny Byrd, Jerry Soliz and Kevin Collins, all of Canyon.

Decorations at the church included two spiral candleabras, and the altar was framed with greenery and blue bows. Two floral arrangements were set in front of each pulpit. The unity candle was decorated with greenery and bow to match wedding colors.

Blue bows were positioned on the ends of the pews along the aisles.

Providing the music for the wedding were Jim Gardner at the organ, Shirley Greener and Danny Pelton were soloists. Selections included "The Wedding Song," "Promises," and "There Is Joy."

The bride wore a formal length gown of white organza trimmed in silk venise lace. The gown featured a sweetheart neckline edged with pearls and scattered lace appliques embellished the fitted bodice. Stand-up ruffles of organza formed butterfly sleeves and rows of ruffles encircled the cathedral length train.

She carried a large cascade arrangement of fresh white and blue roses and long streamers.

For something old, the bride chose pearl earrings belonging to her mother. Something new was her wedding apparel and something borrowed was her hat. Something blue was a wedding garter.

The attendants' dresses were light blue taffeta tea-length dresses with ruffles off the shoulders, held in the back with a rose knot. Ruffles traced the bottom of the skirt. They carried a fresh arrangement of roses and carnations in shades of blue with ribbons to accent.

The bride's mother, Eunice Schilling, wore a light blue tea-length organza dress and a corsage of white roses.

The groom's mother, Pat Alford, wore a pink silk tea length dress and a corsage of white roses.

The bride's table at the reception was covered with a lace cloth over blue. The three-tiered cake featured a fountain on the first layer.

The groom's table was covered with a lace cloth over blue. The groom's chocolate cake was topped with blue roses to match the wedding flowers on the bride's cake.

Denise Anderson, Cheryl Linder, Becky Schucher and Cathie Schacher served at the reception.

A brass champagne fountain and palm trees decorated the hall where the reception, dinner and dance were held. Each table held an arrangement of flowers and candles centering the tables.

The bride graduated from Farwell High School in 1981 and graduated from West Texas State University in 1985. She is employed by Glasrock Home Health Care in Amarillo.

The bridegroom graduated from Canyon High School and attended West Texas State University and is employed by Alford Cattle Company.

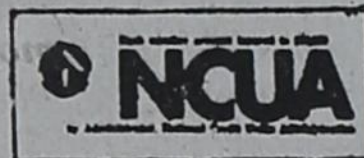

Following a honeymoon to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple will make their home south of Amarillo.

They saw hair cuts with the shaved heads on the sides and spiked in the middle.

While in the cities they rode on the subways and one was entitled, "Kiss 'N Go." This was a terminal going out of Toronto.

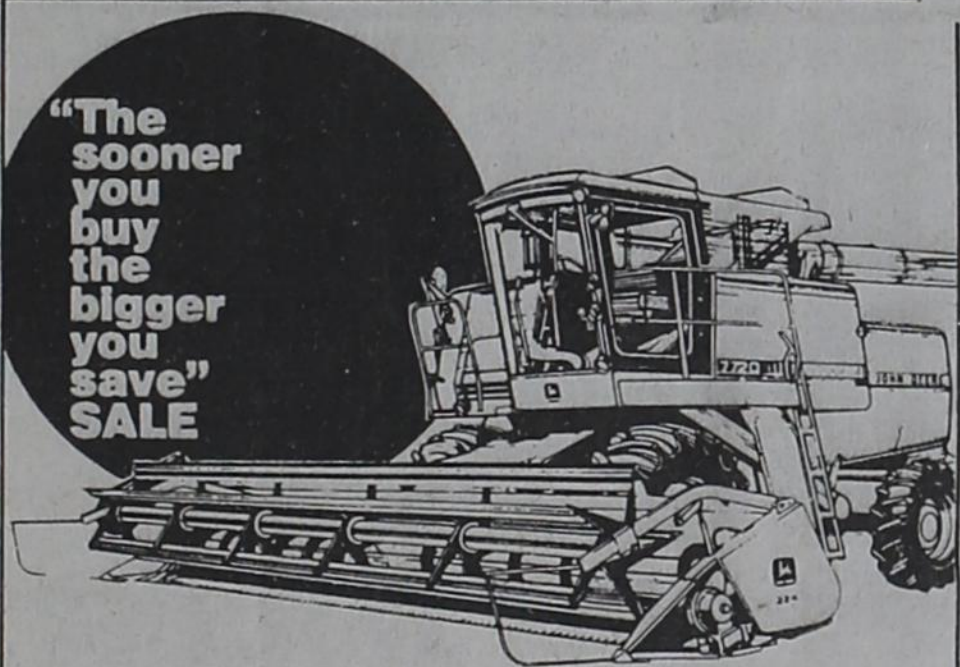

During their travels they spent time eating at many unique places. The weather was beautiful while they were there and it only rained the day they returned home. When they reached Lubbock, it was 93 degrees that day. She said they had a lovely trip and Jim was impressed with his first trip to Canada.
