Status of Texas Cotton Crop.

The Dallas News report shows that there is a 10 per cent increase in the acreage planted in cotton this year over last, and that the average condition of the crop is 6.7 per cent better.

The increase in Oklahoma is 15
per cent and in the Indian Territory 19 per cent more than last year, and the condition of the crop
is slightly better.

It is said that picking will begin in Dixal county today.

The following are the reports
from Panhandle counties:

Wheeler county—Ginned in 1905,
1,257 bales. Average 100 per cent increase; good stand; growth about normal; all conditions about 10 per cent better than last year; this being the third year cotton has been raised here accounts for large increase in acreage; labor scarce but weather favorable.

Gray county—Ginned 1905, 291
bales.

You cannot induce a lower animal of eat heartily when not feeling well. A stomach that stresses himself and gets well.
The stomach, once overworked, must have rest the same as your feet or eyes.
You don't have to starve to rest
your stomach. KODOL FOR DYS-PEPSIA takes up the work for your stomach, digests what you eat and gives it a rest. Puts it back in condition again. You can't feel good with a disordered stomach. Try Kodol.

For the Blues.

If you are blue, dejected, and feel like the world has it "in for you," the chances are your liver is taking a few days off. Put it to work by using Simon's Liver Purifier (tin boxes); it's the best purifier of them all.

Alamogordo reports average increase of 100 per cent or more; stand good; growth this not backward; condition is at least 25 per cent better than at same time last year; prospects for all crops are good. McLean reports an increase in acreage of 100 per cent; bad stand; slow growth; 70 per cent normal crop; increase due to much soil land; very little increase in old land.

Hemphill county—Ginned 903
bales in 1905. About 10 per cent increase in acreage; stand fair;
growth somewhat backward on account of cool weather; condition not quite as good as last year at this time; about 5 per cent worse.

Hall county—Acreage increased about 35 per cent; condition 15 per cent worse than last year.

Collingsworth county—Increase in acreage 10 per cent; condition 10 per cent worse than last year.

Dundy county—Increase in acreage 30 per cent; condition fairly good.

Deaf Smith county—20 per cent increase in acreage. Condition about the same as this time last year.

Wonderful, Amazing Texas.

Texas, that mighty empire whose area consists of more than 170,000, 000 acres, is larger than France combined with Switzerland, the Netherlands, Denmark, Belgium, and Wales.

The possibilities of the production of the Lone Star State stagger
the mind.

The annual production of grain is about 200,000,000 bushels. The value of the agricultural products alone is close to $300,000,000, and yet not one fourteenth of the acreage is under the plow.

Texas could well be called the leading cattle state of the Union.
But in addition to these industries
coming under the head of agriculture, Texas has shown a magnitude of granite deposits outranking any other of the commonwealths.

Judging by the developments al-

Unknown Friends.

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with splendid results, but who are unknown because they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are none the less friends of this remedy.

They have done much toward making it a household word by their personal recommendations to friends and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the home and is widely known for its cure of diarrhoea and all forms of bowel trouble. For sale by the Central Drug Store.

How to Break Up a Cold.

It may be a surprise to many to know that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days' time. The first symptoms of a cold are a dry, hard cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose, and a thin, white coating on the tongue.
When Chamberlain's cough remedy is taken every hour on the first appearance of these symptoms, it counteracts
the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. For sale by the Central Drug Store.

ready made and constantly increasing in extent, it is not unlikely that Texas may take the lead in the production of iron ore.

The variety of soil and climate is simply wonderful, crops being grown suitable both to the tropics and the higher altitudes of the temperate zone.

In sections snowstorms are encountered; in others it is perpetual summer where roses bloom throughout the year.

With now 3,000,000 inhabitants and ample room for 50,000,000 the possibilities of the future seem unlimited. What the future has in store only the future can tell, but when developed properly Texas will be the wonder of the world, as she indeed is now.—Ex.

Panhandle Poets.

Truly the Panhandle is a great country and its development along all lines has been remarkable. Just now it appears to be developing poets. The Channing Courier talks of fishing and the then trails off
into seductive verse, thusly:

"Oh, for a line and rod
And the grassy sod,
And the rustling willow tree;
Oh, for a cooling shade,
In a quiet glade,
And a jug of bait—Oh, gee!"

And before one has quite recovered from the enticing suggestiveness
of the Courier's verse, along comes the following, which, according to the Amarillo Herald, was perpetrated by J. M. Hughes, of the Silverton-Enterprise, at the meeting of the State Press Association:

"I come from the Panhandle country
Where the breezes are fresh and cool,
I'm lean and long and look hungry,
I'm "Windy Jim" of the Tale."

There is no section of country
under the sun today progressing so rapidly as the Panhandle. It is filling up with good thrifty farmers, practical mechanics, brainy and en-

AMERICANS ARE PAINT USERS

It has been remarked that the American people consume more paint, both in the aggregate and per capita, than any other people in the world. In a recently published article on the subject it was figured that our yearly consumption is over 100,000,000 gallons of paints of all kinds, of which over one-half is used in the paintings of houses.

The reason for this great consumption is twofold: a large proportion of our buildings, especially in small towns and rural districts, are constructed of wood, and we, as a people, are given to neatness and cleanliness. For, take it all in all, there is nothing so cleanly or so sanitary as paint.

Travel where we will throughout the country, everywhere we find the neat, cheerful painted dwelling, proclaiming at once the prosperity and the self-respect of our population.

Fifty years ago this was not so; painted dwellings, while common in the larger cities and towns, were the exception in the rural districts; because, on the one hand, a large proportion of those buildings were temporary makeshifts, and, on the other hand, because paint was then a luxury, expensive and difficult to obtain in the out-of-the-way places, and requiring special knowledge and much preparation to fit it for use.

The introduction of ready mixed or prepared paints, about 1860, changed the entire aspect of affairs. As the Jack-of-all-trades told the Walking Delegate in one of Octave Thanet's stories, "Anyone can slather paint."

The insurmountable difficulty with our predecessors was to get the paint ready for "slathering." That the country was ready for paint in a convenient, popular form is shown by the immediate success of the industry and its phenomenal growth in 50 years from nothing to 60,000,000 gallons—the estimated output for 1900.

Some pretty severe things have been written about and said against this class of paints, especially by painters and manufacturers of certain kinds of paste paints. Doubtless in many instances these strictures have been justified and some fearfully and wonderfully constructed mixtures have in the past been worked off on the gullest consumer in the shape of prepared paint. But such products have had their short day and quickly disappeared, and the too-clevering manufacturers that produced them have come to grief in the bankruptcy courts or have learned by costly experience that honesty is the best policy and have reformed their ways.

The chief exceptions to this rule are some mail order houses who sell direct to the country trade, at a very low price—frequently below the wholesale price of linseed oil. The buyer of such goods, like the buyer of a "gold brick," has only himself to blame if he finds his purchase worthless. With gold filling at any bank or mint at a fixed price, owners of gold do not sell it at a discount; and with linseed oil quoted everywhere at 50 to 70 cents a gallon, manufacturers do not sell a pure linseed oil paint at 20 or 40 cents a gallon.

The composition of prepared paints differs because paint experts have not yet agreed as to the best pigments and because the daily results of tests on a large scale are constantly improving the formulas of manufacturers; but all have come to the conclusion that the essentials of good paint are pure linseed oil, fine grinding and thorough incorporation, and these particulars all the products of reputable manufacturers correspond; all first-class prepared paints are thoroughly mixed and ground and the liquid base is almost exclusively pure linseed oil, the necessary volatile "thinners" and Japan driers.

SCHOOL'S OUT—THAT'S ALL.

THE JEWS THREW NO BOMB

The Massacre at Bialystok Without Such Provocation.

General Situation in Russia is Growing More Critical and an Upheaval is Expected.

St. Petersburg, Russia. — The pitiable affair at Bialystok apparently has burned itself out. No further bloodshed was reported Sunday and no more are to be expected, even by the radicals, who are satisfied that the authorities are now in control and will do everything possible to prevent a renewal of the excesses.

This confidence is based on the action of the governor of Grodno, who is hated and distrusted by the bureaucrats and who, after investigating the situation at Bialystok, took the unprecedented step in order to prevent a spread of the massacre to neighboring provinces of the authorities of all towns within the Jewish pale denying the alleged official reports that the disorders were due to the wanton throwing of bombs at a Christian procession by Jewish revolutionists. This measure aided by the Catholic clergy who Sunday throughout Russian Poland addressed their congregations, imploring them not to believe reports spread broadcast for the purpose of stirring up bloody excesses was efficacious in calming the agitated spirits among the Christian population. The Catholics of Warsaw canceled a great religious procession which was to have been held here Sunday in order to avoid the chance of a conflict.

The general situation, however, is hourly growing more disquieting and the country seems to be on the verge of another gigantic upheaval. In St. Petersburg and Moscow the populace is greatly excited and nothing is talked of except a general political strike which would bring the government to its knees. The proletariat leaders, who have been preparing for months for a blow, believe the moment has come to strike. The agrarian troubles now are sufficiently extended and disorders in the army are rife. The government has openly refused to accede to the demands of parliament and a rupture is imminent there.

The government appears to be waiting for the blow to fall before raising its hand and it is reported that the design of several ministers to raise the question of a more active policy during the cabinet meeting Saturday was apparently fruitless. Heavy patrols have been placed in the streets and the railroad stations are occupied by troops, but no action has been taken to stop the agitation. The emperor is reported to be spending most of his leisure playing tennis at Peterhof.

GOVERNOR OF OHIO IS DEAD

John M. Pattison Passed Away After a Long Illness.

Weakened by campaign, never fully recovered from his life-long illness, John M. Pattison, governor of Ohio, died at his home in Milford, a suburb of this city, at 4:20 o'clock Monday afternoon. He passed a good night and there was no report of any serious change during the day. During the afternoon the news from his home was considered favorable and the announcement of his death came without warning.

That the death of the governor was entirely unexpected was evident when it is remembered that in a contest over the re-election of Ellsworth Liverpool in the courts in this city Monday, both of the governor's physicians appeared to testify that his condition was such that he was able to transact official business. His private secretary, L. B. Houck, also testified to his good condition, explaining that he had recently come over each business with him.

Although there has been for months an expressed fear that Gov. Pattison would not be able to return to his office at Columbus, the cheerful statements from his sick room tended to create a belief that any fatal outcome of his prolonged sickness would be long deferred.

Not at any time a man of powerful physique, Gov. Pattison entered upon the responsibilities of his office in a somewhat weakened condition, the strain of the political campaign having worn on him that a trip to the south was taken in November and December in the hope of regaining his health. However, when he returned he was still weak and under the advice of his physician his part of the inauguration ceremonies was gone through with the utmost care. A glass covering was provided for the reviewing stand that he might be protected from the stormy January winds and through that he reviewed one of the most elaborate parades that has ever graced the inauguration of any Ohio governor.

John M. Pattison, boy-soldier, lawyer, state legislator, member of congress and governor of Ohio, was born in Clermont county, Ohio, June 12, 1847. He enlisted as a volunteer in the United States army when but 16 years of age, in 1864, and entered college immediately after being discharged, graduating at the Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, O., with the class of 1869, having been a college mate of United States Senator James B. Foraker. He was admitted to the bar in 1872 and elected to the lower house of the Ohio legislature in 1873. From 1874 to 1876 he was the attorney for the committee of safety at Cincinnati. He became a member of the Ohio senate in 1889, and was elected to the Fifty-second congress.

Andrew Listner Harris, lieutenant-governor, who under the constitution becomes governor during the balance of the term for which Pattison was elected, is a republican. He was born in Butler county, Ohio, November 17, 1835. He graduated at Miami university at Oxford, O., with the class of 1859 and the following year entered the union army, being mustered out as a brigadier general in 1865. He was admitted to the bar in 1865. He was elected lieutenant-governor four times that William McKinley was chosen governor.

STATEHOOD PASSES UNANIMOUSLY

Not a Dissenting Vote in the House Against Conference Report.

After Six Years of Struggle, Oklahoma and Indian Territory are Given the Right to Form a State—Arizona and New Mexico to Vote on the Proposition—Important Provisions of the Bill—Speaker Cannon Explains.

Washington, D. C. — Oklahoma was formally invited to come into the Union of states Thursday afternoon. An invitation was also extended to Arizona, but the conditions imposed were such that the offer will be declined.

The 2,000,000 people living in what is now Oklahoma territory and Indian Territory have it altogether within their own power to form the state of Oklahoma. After such a bitter fight the door to statehood was opened with almost ridiculous ease. Not one vote in 286 was cast against the proposition and no roll call was required. It took exactly 20 minutes for the speeches to be made which were printed and the motion to be carried which formed the proposed state of Oklahoma and the proposed state of Arizona.

The steps which will have to be taken in the two states before two new stars can be added to the flag are entirely different. New Mexico and Arizona must first indicate by a vote that they want to be united before even the preliminary of a constitutional convention can be discussed. Oklahoma and Indian Territory will have a constitutional convention and later vote upon state officers, five representatives in the lower house of congress and the adoption of the constitution at a special election which probably will be either in January or February next year.

The territorial election, which would have been this fall, probably will be wiped out by a resolution introduced in the house Thursday by Delegate McGuire of Oklahoma.

Important Provisions of the Bill.
 The call for the election of delegates to the constitutional convention will be the first step in the formation of the state government. There will be 112 delegates, 55 each from Oklahoma and Indian territory and two from the Osage Indian reservation.

The capital will remain at Guthrie until 1913, after which it shall be permanently located by the electors. Two territories, who have lived in the state divided into five congressional districts.

The sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors in Indian territory, the Osage Indian reservation or any other reservation in existence January 1, 1906, is prohibited for 21 years, except that the legislature may authorize, under certain conditions, the sale of liquor in public dispensaries for medicinal and scientific purposes.

The establishment of separate public schools is permitted. The sum of $5,000,000 is appropriated by congress for public schools, in lieu of school lands in Indian territory. School or other lands owned by the state, valuable for minerals, may be leased for mining purposes and must not be sold prior to January 1, 1915. There is no mandatory provision for the sale of the school lands.

The state is divided into two federal districts, Indian territory being the eastern and Oklahoma the western district. For the time being, the seat of these courts shall be, respectively, at Muskogee and Guthrie.

The state shall never enact any law restricting or abridging the right of suffrage on account of race color or previous condition of servitude.

All men more than 21 years old, who are citizens of the United States, or members of any Indian tribe in the two territories, who have lived within the state boundaries for at least six months prior to this election, shall be permitted to vote for delegates and may serve as delegates. This election must be held within six months after the approval of the statehood act.

The state officers shall be voted for the same day the constitution is ratified or rejected.

For the necessary expenses in organizing the state, congress appropriated $100,000.

Roosevelt to Sign It.
 Nobody doubts that the president will sign the statehood bill, for in his message to the present congress he urged the admission of the four territories as two states, Oklahoma and the Indian territory will be in fact a state only after a proclamation by the president announcing the ratification of the state constitution. It is impossible to tell just how much time will be consumed in making the necessary steps which are required before a new state is born. Those who have given the subject the closest thought believe that the president's proclamation will be coincident with the adjournment of congress, March 5, 1907. It will require the full time allowed under the law for the

CHILD'S AWFUL SKIN HUMOR

Screamed with Pain—Suffering Nearly Croke Parent's Heart—Speedily Cured by Cuticura.

"I wish to inform you that the Cuticura Remedies have put a stop to twelve years of misery I passed with my son. As an infant I noticed on his body a red spot, and treated same with different remedies for about five years, but when the spot began to get larger I put him under the care of doctors. Under their treatment the disease spread to four different parts of his body. The longer the doctors treated him the worse it grew. During the day it would get rough and form like scales. At night it would be cracked, itched and had swollen, with terrible burning and itching. When I think of his suffering it nearly breaks my heart. His screams could be heard down stairs. The suffering of my son made me full of misery. I had no ambition to work, to eat, nor could I sleep. One doctor told me that my son's eczema was incurable, and gave it up for a bad job. One evening I saw an article in the paper about the wonderful Cuticura and decided to give it a trial. I tell you that Cuticura Ointment is worth its weight in gold, and when I had used the first box of Ointment there was a great improvement, and by the time I had used the second set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent, my child was cured. He is now twelve years old, and his skin is as fine and smooth as silk. Michael Steinman, 7 Sumner Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16, 1907."

"HE RAN FOR LAWYER."
 But There Was a Doubt as to Whether He Had Ever Caught the Office.

A man from Pennsylvania went to Vineland on a business errand. The town was strange to him, and he was unacquainted with the man (a lawyer) he had gone to see. The directions he received were so indefinite that he found himself on the edge of the town without having come to the house he sought. Then he met an old negro and asked the way of him and learned that the house lay about a quarter of a mile farther down the road.

"The man I want to see is a lawyer, rather than to see New Mexico and Arizona come together, and God knows, rather than to see them come singly with about 300,000 population and four senators.

"My views are not secret; I have sought to the best of my belief to voice them. You have the result before you. Although every man in the Indian Territory should vote against statehood for the new proposed state of Oklahoma, notwithstanding that protest, the state would be and will be formed under this enabling act."

When Speaker Cannon finished the house was in an uproar. It could not be controlled, nor did the presiding officer make any effort to do so. Members who had sat in silence during the delivery of the speech, democrats and republicans alike, crowded around the speaker to shake him by the hand and tell him how glad they were that the long-drawn out fight for statehood had been happily ended in a compromise and that his speech voiced the sentiment of the members.

The Steps to Statehood.
 The first state election in the new state of Oklahoma probably will be about February 1. At this election will be chosen the state officers from governor down, members of the legislature and five members in the national house of representatives.

The first step towards the formation of the state constitution will be taken by the president, who will designate two judges in the Indian territory, who with the speaker, democrats and five civilized tribes will constitute the election board that will apportion the Indian territory into districts which will send delegates to the convention. Oklahoma will be so apportioned by a board consisting of the governor, the chief justice and the secretary of that territory. These two boards will divide the territories into 112 districts, 55 in Oklahoma, two in the Osage nation and 55 in the Indian territory.

It is estimated that the work of these boards will not be completed before August 1 and that the election will not be before October 1. The convention will then form a constitution under which the state election will be held. Delegate McGuire has estimated that the work of the convention probably will be prolonged and that the election will not take place before February 1. The constitutional convention will be in Guthrie. When the election returns have been compiled they will be sent to Washington with a copy of the constitution for the approval of the president. If the president decides that the constitution is republican in form and that none of its provisions are repugnant to the constitution of the United States and the declaration of independence, he will issue a proclamation declaring Oklahoma and the Indian territory a state.
