AS SUPERINTENDENT—

Willoughby Resigns, No Replacement Yet

W. H. Willoughby, superintendent of Bovina School for the past seven years, formally submitted his resignation to the board of trustees of Bovina Independent School District Monday night.

In a special meeting at Gruver Thursday night of last week, Willoughby was named superintendent of schools there.

Major accomplishments while Willoughby was head of the local school include the completion of a $600,000 combination high school and elementary school building, a new gymnasium, homemaking cottage, football stadium, and a bus garage and storage facilities.

Subjects offered in the high school have been extended to include band, music, speech, chemistry, shorthand, and general mathematics.

Willoughby holds B. S. and M. A. degrees from West Texas State College and has done approximately 30 hours work toward his doctorate degree at Vanderbilt University and George Peabody College of Nashville, Tennessee.

Before coming to Bovina, Willoughby was superintendent of schools at Kelton for seven years.

Applications will be received for the next few days with a replacement to be named in the near future, according to A. C. Teter, a member of the school board. One applicant, Rankin Robertson of Hallettsville, met with the board at its Monday night meeting.

Earl Stevenson, president of the school board, says, "We certainly hate to lose a man of Mr. Willoughby's ability. However, we hope to find a suitable replacement soon. He has taken a great amount of interest in our school and we hate to see him go."

An announcement of the replacement will be made as soon as possible.

MEETING FRIDAY—

Cemetery Association Has Renewed Work

BAD SHAPE—Hubert Ellison, left, and J. E. Sherrill, Jr. are shown looking over the grown-up-in-weeds condition of Bovina Cemetery. Work is being done to improve the appearance of the Cemetery and steps are being taken to establish a permanent caretaking program for the burial ground. Ellison is chairman of a committee that is investigating the possibilities of piping city water to the Cemetery. Sherrill is mayor of Bovina.

Bovina Cemetery Association, after a dormant period, decided at a Friday night meeting in the school auditorium to renew its efforts and to do some work to improve the condition of the local cemetery.

A committee to investigate the possibilities and cost of getting city water piped to the cemetery, which is located in the southeast part of town, was appointed. Hubert Ellison is chairman of the committee. Others are J. T. Jones, Wilbur Charles, Tom Caldwell, and Luther Grissom. Ellison said earlier this week that the cost would be approximately $2000 and that the committee would meet with the cemetery board of trustees and the city commission in the near future to discuss the project.

Ellison presided at the Friday night meeting in the absence of Billie Sudderth, president. Sudderth has been hired to clean the fence rows, as well as the cemetery, of weeds and to improve the appearance of the grounds in general Ellison says. This work is being done.

Before the water committee meets with city dads, it will meet with the Association's board of trustees Friday night at the school auditorium to see if it is advisable for the Association to take on a $2000 project. Should the idea materialize in its present form, the Association will pay for installing the necessary pipe and the city will give the Association that amount ($2000) back in water.

The burial ground is presently equipped with a well, a small storage tank, and windmill. However, Ellison says that these facilities are inadequate and to get the proper service from them, an individual almost has to be on duty all time. Too, he says it would only be a matter of time before the well would become completely useless.

The Association also is making plans to write letters to all interested persons and ask them for a yearly contribution to help maintain the cemetery.

About 20 persons were present at the Friday meeting. "The cemetery is the most neglected thing in the community," Ellison says, "but we feel that if we can get a definite program started and stay with it, we won't have any trouble getting more than enough support to keep it going."

Many non-residents who are interested in the cemetery have indicated a desire to be of help, Ellison says.

Anyone interested in the cemetery is urged to attend the Friday meeting of the board of trustees and the water committee. Time of the meeting will be 8:00 p. m. potential rally.

Indians Davis and Veazy led both teams in the hitting department. Veazy had two doubles and a single and Davis had three singles. Barrett, Oliver, Renner, and Rector had one each. Barnett, Burris, Menchew, and Engleking went hitless.

Bull hitters were led by Read and Martin. They had two each. Richards, D. Malcom, McCormick, and E. Smith had one hit each. B. Malcom, Moten, and C. D. Smith failed to connect for the winners. Barrett went the distance and struck out six Bull batsmen. He walked one and allowed eight hits. In five of the nine innings, he set the Bulls down in order.

Read gave up 10 hits and walked three. He struck out 10 and like Barrett, was effective in the (Continued On Last Page)

Highway Work Fails to Begin

"Surely it will begin soon," Henry Minter, city secretary, said in regard to the curbing and gutting that was scheduled to begin last week on three of Highway 60's blocks.

The most recent delay was caused by the engineering firm's failure to send the city commission the proper number of copies of the contract to sign. The contractor has 10 days to begin work after the contract is signed and the local commission didn't receive the final forms until Friday of last week.

The business manager for Bryan and Hoffman, the construction company that is scheduled to do the work, talked to Minter Monday and said he was ready to go to work as soon as he obtained the "green light" from the engineer. Hasie and Green Engineering Company of Lubbock is serving as engineer for the job.

"It's anybody's guess as to when construction will begin now," Minter says, "but we're still hoping it won't be long."

Little Leaguers Lose Again Friday

Bovina's two Little League teams, still trying to pick up their first win over an out of town opponent, each lost their game in Friday afternoon's play.

The Cumpston Cats fell to the Tornados of Texico-Farwell by a 7-3 count. Monty Turner was the losing pitcher in the game that lasted an hour and 15 minutes at Farwell. Don Cumpston, a leading hitter for the Cats who has been sidelined for the past few games with an injured foot, was back in the lineup and bashed out two safeties in the futile attempt.

Feagan's Foxes lost their Friday game to a Lazbuddie team, 12-8. Mac Glasscock, a lefthander, went the distance on the mound for the losers. His efforts were aided by homeruns by David Lawlis and Joe Jones.

The Malcom Matadors, Bovina's team in the Parmer County Pony League, were forced to forfeit their Thursday game with Lazbuddie because of a lack of play-balls. However, they played with a makeshift lineup of ineligible and Little Leaguers and won the game by a one run margin.

James Lawlis was the winning pitcher.

INJURED TUESDAY

Luther Grissom, who was helping clean Bovina Cemetery Tuesday afternoon, suffered compound fracture and a severe cut on his left leg as he was helping lift a power lawn mower across a fence.

The accident occurred about 6 o'clock and Grissom was taken to Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona.

Attend Funeral In Oklahoma

Mrs. Eddie Ray Hutto received word last week of the death of her uncle, Mull Busby, of Wilderado. Busby died Tuesday afternoon at his home following a long illness.

Funeral services were held in Holdenville, Okla., Friday afternoon and Mrs. Hutto, her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Fite, attended. While in Oklahoma, the local people visited in the home of another uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Busby.

Democratic Primary Election Saturday

Approximately 400 voters in Parmer County Precinct 3 (Bovina) will have the opportunity to exercise their right to vote in the Democratic Primary Election Saturday, July 28, in the American Legion Hall.

O. W. Rhinehart, Precinct Three committeeman, says that political enthusiasm locally is at the lowest ebb he has ever seen it. He attributes this to the fact that the seekers of precinct and county offices are unopposed.

"Frankly, I'm expecting the smallest turnout in the past several years," Rhinehart says, "but on the other hand I want to appeal to the people to come to the polls and use their right to vote."

Rhinehart will have six people to assist him in holding the precinct election. They are A. B. Wilkinson, R. A. Hartsell, Ovid Lawlis, Mrs. Henry Minter, Mrs. Rose McCain, and Mrs. Vernon Ward.

Voters will have a choice of six candidates in the governor's race. Ralph Yarborough and Price Daniel are possibly the pre-election favorites. Others include J. Evetts Haley, W. Lee O' Daniel, Reuben Senterfitt, and J. J. Holmes.

Four candidates are in the running for the Lieutenant Governor post. They include A. M. Aikin, Jr., C. T. Johnson, Ben Ramsey, and John Lee Smith.

Ross Carlton, Curtis E. Hill, Tom Moore, and Will Wilson are making the run for attorney general to round out the most important state offices.

Walter Rogers of Pampa is unopposed in a bid for representative from 18th Congressional District as is Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe, candidate for state representative from 96th district.

Without opponents on the county level are William H. Sheehan, county attorney from Friona; Chas. Lovelace, sheriff; and Lee Thompson, candidate for the newly-created office of tax assessor and collector.

Rhinehart is unopposed as committeeman of the local precinct.

Voters will also be able to make a selection on three referendums. Number One is FOR or AGAINST specific legislation exempting any child from compulsory attendance at integrated schools attended by white persons and Negroes.

Number Two is FOR or AGAINST specific legislation perfecting State Laws against intermarriage between white persons and Negroes.

Number Three is FOR or AGAINST the use of Interposition to halt illegal Federal encroachment.

Equalization Board To Continue Meeting

The equalization board of Bovina Independent School District will continue its meeting of last Saturday with taxpayers again this Saturday. The continuation will get under way at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Letha Turner, school tax assessor, says that some 30 property owners talked with the equalization board last Saturday.

"Anyone who didn't get a chance to talk to the board last week is invited to come in this week," Mrs. Turner says.

The meeting will be in the school offices in the First National Bank building.

Members of the equalization board are I. W. Quickel, chairman; Carl Rea, and Walt Verner. Alternate is Gene Ezell.

Okay on Summer Polio Vaccinations

Reversing a previous announcement that advised against the use of poliomyelitis summer vaccine in summertime, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis last week cleared the shots for immediate use.

In a dispatch from the Foundation, Dr. Hart Van Riper, medical director, urged Dr. Paul Spring, county health officer, "to obtain just as much vaccine as you need and inject it without delay in as many of your patients as are eligible to receive vaccine."

He added, "The U. S. Public Health Service, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Medical Association, the American Health Association, and other medical organizations concur that it is both safe and desirable to vaccinate with poliomyelitis vaccine now and throughout the summer."

Two more paragraphs of Dr. Van Riper's letter:

At the 105th Annual Meeting of the American Medical Association in Chicago on June 11, Surgeon General Leonard Scheele of the U. S. Public Health Service said: "The immediate order of business in the polio fight is to use every drop of vaccine available in the wisest possible way. . . . Vaccine given in July and August will prevent paralytic cases and even deaths in August and September."

May I suggest that you give reassurance that the present Salk vaccine is safe and effective to patients, parents and others in your community who still needlessly doubt it? The scientific documentation of the vaccine's safety and effectiveness is overwhelming. Over 30 million children in the United States alone have been inoculated without mishap since May 7, 1955. Experience in 1955, now reported from 23 areas (mostly states) shows that the vaccine is at least 75% effective in preventing paralytic poliomyelitis.

Dr. Spring indicated that vaccine is on hand now at the Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona, and that doctors there will proceed with inoculation as is suggested by the Foundation.

They previously had decided not to vaccinate after July 1 of this summer.

Republicans, this week this department has left you out completely.

Following a few short lines by your regular writer, you'll find a letter written to me by Tom Johnson of Amarillo. Johnson and I were roommates at Texas A&M College in 1952-53. He is currently attending the University of Colorado.

During the time we were in school together and in a couple of meetings since then, we've discussed politics a great deal. His political views are definitely Democratic in nature and his expressed ideas offer no music for the ears of Republicans.

I appreciate the opportunity to publish this letter. It comes in response to a Blade editorial of last week that endorsed Ralph W. Yarborough as The Blade's candidate in the current gubernatorial race.

Republicans, I say again, you've been warned.

Here's the letter:
1203 Pennsylvania
Boulder, Colo.

Dear Dolph:
Received your paper this morning, and was glad to hear that you're ok.

Needless to say, your editorial was timely; it identifies you, though with that "lunatic fringe—the radical left." All anyone has to do is read Texas real newspaper, The Dallas News, to find out what kind of a guy that Yarborough is; and his supporters, as well. I received an absentee ballot recently which I shall glide back with an X for Ralph, but alas, I don't think it will be counted as one for the winner. There is just too much money on the other side, Dolph.

I don't care how much democracy we pride ourselves with having, when a state the size of Texas is literally plastered with billboards, full page ads, hours of radio and TV time, etc., not to mention the majority of editorials, then it becomes pretty clear that the best man won't necessarily win.

We can all recall the presidential race in '52; you couldn't drive from Amarillo to Canyon without being reminded several times that a vote for Ike was a vote for Texas.

Mr. Stevenson, in his Dallas speech in October, had said that he sincerely felt that the tidelands should belong to all Americans, not just coastal Americans. Of course, the big oil men, along with the rest of the money, seized upon this as their chance to pin the Commie label on Adlai. So, the money began to pour out, and the blitz was on.

Since Ike had said (also at Dallas) that Mr. Shivers was right, that the tidelands' oil should go to Texas, he was their natural choice. Now, whether he was right or not is not the point; the point is that money, purely and simply gave Texas to Ike. Those forces are at work for Price, and will probably get him elected; the situation is deplorable to say the least.

Things are happening at a rapid clip up here in Boulder this weekend, due to the fact that the Colorado State Convention is in progress here. Stevenson, Kefauver, and Harriman all appeared, and the air was pretty well electrified for a while. After Stevenson's (Continued On Last Page)

Save What We Have

Bovina, for a town its size in a prosperous section of the country, has a minimum of paving. However, it does have some paving including a loop that leads from Highway 60 to the main downtown street and then back to 60.

We should be proud of this paved loop. But apparently we're not. This paving is in sad shape due to the lack of maintenance. What department is responsible for maintaining this bit of paving, we aren't sure, but we are sure it has fallen down on the job.

Perhaps we shouldn't be squawking about it until we find out who is responsible and why this strip hasn't been taken care of, but something needs to be done and it needs to be done SOON.

There are chugholes in that street that would make some unsuspecting stranger think that a bridge was out!

Yarborough's The Man

Ralph Yarborough of Travis County is, in our opinion, the best of six candidates for the governorship of Texas.

Yarborough is the man who, for the past four years, has been telling Texans about the corruption in our State government. However, too many voters have considered his accusations to be mere "mud-slinging" and have failed to pay enough attention to this Democratic candidate.

Possibly this is the year that Texas voters have seen and had enough of our present type of state government and will go to the polls to elect Ralph Yarborough as the next governor of Texas.

We hope so.

THE PARING KNIFE

BY JEANIE MOTEN

Looks like my work might be cut out for me next week. Dolph has received a letter from an old college friend, which he printed this week. Needless to say, if you've read the letter, this friend is even more dogmatic than Dolph in his political beliefs. Guess "wall-eyed radical" would best describe him.

Have talked to Tom, the above friend, many an hour. As yet, we're no closer to agreeing with each other's opinion than we were when such discussions began. Our conversations usually end with Tom telling me that if he believed what I did, he'd slash his wrists. As yet, I haven't done such nor changed my views.

These referendum propositions that will appear on your ballot this Saturday curdle my blood. In short, they give you a chance to vote whether you're for or against (1) Mixing White and Negro children in public schools, (2) Inter-marriage between Negroes and Whites, and (3) Interposition. Think it's all a bunch of silliness, myself. And what if a misinformed public should vote the "For" column? What would Texas do then? Secede? Don't see very many more avenues open.

Wish more people would take a more active interest in the election coming up this Saturday. Believe that maybe people fail to realize the importance of the primaries. Some people fail to enter the primaries, thinking that their vote in November will be sufficient. But the primaries are what actually determines who'll be the next governor, lieutenant governor, what have you. Whoever wins in the Democratic primary will have his name on the Democratic ballot in November, and will, of course, be elected, since Texas operates under a one-party system. So be sure and go vote for your choice, whoever it is. Of course, if your choice happens to be Price Daniel, that's even better.

The following article appeared in The Midland Reporter-Telegram:

"Soak 'Em Or Something" "Ralph Yarborough, the oft rejected but still running gubernatorial candidate, got his foot in his mouth in a campaign speech Friday night. Then Saturday he denied making the statement with the old 'I was misquoted' cover-up."

"He is reported to have said that if elected he would propose a 'soak the rich Republicans' tax to help boost old age pensions in Texas.

"Utter falsehood," he screamed the next day.

"But the news reporter at the scene stood by his original report. Yarborough's remarks indicated he meant persons who switched to Eisenhower in 1952 when he referred to "Republicans." "The candidate later claimed, in expanding on his statement, that he was referring to a tax on natural gas.

"At any rate, he undoubtedly has in mind 'soaking' somebody or something should Texas voters put him in office.

"Just something else to consider as voting time nears."

Thought the above article worth at least a little thought.

Have heard several comments on my dig at gossip mongers in last week's column. At first, I hesitated to include that paragraph thinking I might be tromping on too many toes; but then realized that I wouldn't be because no gossip thinks that he or she is guilty of gossiping.

Who knows? I'm probably very guilty myself and just think that I'm above such.

Gene Howe, the late author of "The Tackless Texas," which appeared in the Amarillo evening paper, admitted that writing a daily column was one of the hardest things he ever did.

Really admire a daily column writer. Don't see how they do it. Once a week is more than I can handle.

Read somewhere that to be a good letter writer or a successful writer, a person has to be rather conceited because he has to believe that his own experiences and thoughts are worthy of attention. Think there's something to that.

Guess I will have to admit that I enjoyed the ball game between the mighty Bulls and Friona Sunday.

Read somewhere the other day that the word "interposition" hasn't been used so frequently as it has during the past few months since the Civil War. Isn't that proof of something?

NEW GROUP ORGANIZED TO BACK FOUNDATION

Appointment of Gilbert Kaltwasser, Oklahoma Lane farmer and president of the Parmer County Farm Bureau, to head a drive in the county to support expansion plans for the Texas Research Foundation, was announced this week.

The Foundation is seeking to establish a sub-station on the High Plains, and is asking support from a wide area to enable the privately-backed organization to expand.

Work was begun several weeks ago, and meetings have been held in Plainview and Muleshoe to explore the possibilities. Substantial contributions already have been pledged from several large High Plains industries, and now support is being sought on a local basis.

Kaltwasser is calling a county-wide meeting of workers and the general public, to be in Bovina's high school auditorium Thursday night, August 2.

W. L. "Preach" Edelman, Friona farmer and president of the Parmer County Farmer's Union, is being asked by Kaltwasser to serve as assistant chairman, and the following county men as workers:

FARWELL—G. D. Anderson and Bob Brooks.
BOVINA—Warren Embree and Ovid Lawlis.

FRIONA—Frank Spring, Wright Williams, and W. L. Edelman.
HUB—James Mabry.
BLACK—Pete Buske and Bruce Parr.

LAZBUDDIE—Jimmie Ivy and Juel Treider.

LARIAT—Boone Allison and Dick Gerries.

OKLAHOMA LANE—Henry Haseloff and Lee Jones.
RHEA—Carl Schlenker and Cordie Potts.

view on the east, Lubbock on the south, and Farwell on the west. The soils are mostly Amarillo clay loam, and the agricultural potential is comparable. Possibly a site near Springlake or Earth in Lamb County could best serve the area.

I visualize a sub-station of Texas Research Foundation, headed by a resident agronomist who would be available at all times to confer with farmers, ranchers, and community leaders on their problems. To set up the project with a permanent staff would require an initial operating budget of at least $30,000.00 annually; and in addition to this, we would need funds for capital improvements and equipment.

A minimum of 160 acres of cultivated land would be required, and a better job could be done with a half-section. Of this land, at least 20 acres would be utilized for evaluation nurseries where new crops of all kinds would be tested for their adaptation to soil and climate under both irrigated and dryland conditions.

The remainder of the cultivated land would be used for field scale tests and demonstrations of soil and water management practices and new crops under irrigated and dryland conditions. Included in these would be all phases of fertilizer usage so as to test and demonstrate the most efficient use of fertilizer to obtain the greatest economic return.

Tests and demonstrations with grasses and legumes for soil improvement, cropping systems, rotations, and water conservation would also be included. New crops which show promise for the High Plains would also be grown in this remaining area in large blocks to further test their desirability and also for seed production if their performance justifies release to area farmers.

This program should not be undertaken unless it is underwritten in advance for at least five years. Hence pledges should be on a five-year basis as far as feasible. If substantial funds are received in excess of the basic needs aforementioned, then research could be expanded into vegetable production and other fields.

Harold Hinn, president of Harvest Queen Mill and Elevator Company of Plainview, has pledged $30,000 for the five years, 1957-1961. Other substantial subscriptions include $10,000 from Southwestern Public Service Company of Amarillo, and $15,000 from Anderson, Clayton and Company.

I am confident that there are other interests on the High Plains which would also give substantial backing to this free enterprise project, provided there is a broad interest at the farm community level of both farmers and businessmen.

It is hoped that Parmer County will be able to raise from $7,000 to $8,000 yearly as its share of the operating budget. Kaltwasser Tuesday said "We have found a lot more interest in this project than I was afraid we might have," and he indicated that such a goal might be attained.

"Businessmen are ready to go with their part of the load," he said. "Now we have to sell individual farmers on what such a project can mean to them."

A goal of 50 farmers in the county who will contribute $100 per year (each) is the aim of the group so far.

Kaltwasser pointed out the long-range benefits which farmers can expect from such a project. "Just one good cash crop that they might develop for us, to greater diversify ourselves, would many times over pay the cost of maintaining a station," he said.

"This is a chance to help ourselves. There is no government aid of any kind connected with it. It gives us a chance to do our own work and meet our own responsibilities," he emphasized.

A representative from the Foundation will attend the Bovina meeting, which is to begin at 8:15.

BINDWEED IS HURTIN'—This graphic picture of Duane Curtis in a patch of bindweed in his sorghum field illustrates the kill he believes he has gotten on the noxious weed. Karmex W was the sterilant applied.

Curtis Has Success In Bindweed Work

Duane Curtis, farmer living southeast of Farwell, is reporting very satisfactory results from his efforts to control bindweed on his place.

One spot of infestation he was especially interested in curing was in the middle of a cultivated field, and the weed was becoming an increasingly severe problem up until this spring.

The area of infestation was .25 of an acre, and had spread out in a circular pattern. It had grown from a patch of about two or three feet in diameter to about 65 feet across in just six years, reports Curtis, who has watched the progress closely.

"I tried every way in the world to get rid of it," he says, "but this is the first time that I had any success."

He previously had applied salt, then doused the patch with diesel fuel, and then "burned" it down with 2-4D. None of those measures stopped the growth of the weed, which had been likened to cancer in human beings.

Finally, he accepted a recommendation by a Plainview firm to allow them to apply Karmex W, a strong chemical which renders the soil sterile for several years. It was sprayed on in solution, and the job cost Curtis $43. That was on May 22.

Since that time, the bindweed died back to the ground, and from all appearances, is in control. Occasionally, a few leaves will green up and the plant appears ready to "take off" again, but after a few days the leaves yellow and drop off.

Curtis says this process is repeating itself from place to place in the patch. Revivals of life are only short, however, and no blooms have appeared.

Since the application, Curtis has refrained from plowing through or otherwise disturbing the patch, but he goes ahead with his watering just as always.

After irrigating through the area several times, he is convinced that in his case at least, the sterilant did not move down the row with the water to kill off nearby crop-land.

The maize right next to the treated spot through which water has passed appears as healthy as any other in the field. Sandy soil, which takes the water rapidly, may partially explain this.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The Parmer County Soil Conservation District supervisors have purchased three 5-foot fertilizer spreaders to be used for spreading soil sterilants in the control of noxious weeds such as bindweed.

If you would like to use one of these spreaders contact Bruce Parr. The cost on these spreaders will be $2.50 per day.

Have you received your district news letter yet? They are out and if you would like to have more let us know. We would like to know how you liked it and any suggestions you have about it.

Something that needs attention: The nation as a whole has become more and more water conscious the past few years. We have a lot of out-of-state people through the district traveling across country on U. S. highway 60. In some places along the highway great quantities of wasted water are dumped in the barrow ditches. What do these people think of a country that wastes such a precious natural resource?

For the past several weeks we have been talking about grass-land pastures. To obtain the most from these pastures we need to use them properly. One method of doing this is to plant supplemental pasture such as sudan grass in summer to take the load off of the pasture.

When pastures are used very heavily in the hot summer they tend to thin out in stand, lose vigor, and to continue this method of use will eventually kill all the good grasses out.

For dusting fryables, pancake flour gives a fine flavor.

The Texas Research Foundation is located at Renner, near Dallas, and was established by Dallas businessmen years ago. The Foundation is known all over the world for its work in plant research.

One recent development for which the Foundation has been responsible has been sesame, which was brought into commercial production on the High Plains two years ago.

To further explain the intent of the Foundation's efforts to come to the High Plains area, the following paragraphs were addressed to Jess Osborn, the area's state representative, and a Muleshoe banker:

We were very pleased by the response at the meetings in Muleshoe and Plainview. With substantial financial support already pledged, the establishment of a High Plains Field Station of Texas Research Foundation appears feasible. But we need broad grass roots participation by farmers and businessmen to assure success of the project over the long term.

Any development undertaken should be on a regional basis, since the financial support needed would be more than we could expect to receive from any single community. It seems logical that a High Plains Field Station of Texas Research Foundation should be located within the region bounded by Amarillo on the north, Plain-

"Don't poison your cotton in July if you can get by without it," County Agent Joe Jones advised Parmer County cotton growers this week.

He listed as his reasons the light infestation of insects, and the possible harmful effect on beneficial insects that might result from poisoning now. A buildup of beneficial insects to control the coming bollworm season is recommended.

"Cotton is looking mighty good all over the county," was the encouraging report of the agent this week, following several insect control meetings. "And there are just mighty few fields which have enough bugs to warrant control now," he added.

Attendance at the meetings was light, there being 44 farmers who showed up.

"If you are considering poisoning for the fleahopper, you should take into the account the fruit that is already set on your cotton that is too far advanced for the 'hopper to hurt you," suggested Jones.

"Most of the cotton of the area has from one to two and one-half bales already set that is too large for the fleahopper to damage."

The agent said it was true that there might be exceptions to this situation, but for farmers to weigh this possibility before they attempt to spray.

THE PLACE WHERE MOST PEOPLE TRADE WEDNESDAY, JULY 25, 1956, FRIONA, TEX.

Mr. Lamay, who was principal at the elementary school in Friona, has accepted a job as superintendent at the Hart, Texas school.

PCICN—We've heard that when jack rabbits are plentiful, there's bound to be hard times ahead. Harold Joe Wells says that rattle snakes are plentiful at their place this year. They have killed several. We hope that when rattlesnakes are plentiful, there's bound to be good times ahead.

PCICN—Auto-lite batteries insure better starting and longer life. We give you a liberal allowance for your old battery.

PCICN—General Sheridan, on a visit to Texas, is credited with saying, "If I owned Texas and Hell, I would rent out Texas and live in Hell!"—which even a Texan might figure to be a pretty good deal. At $2 per acre rental per year, his income would be nearly $1 million a day.

PCICN—Daughter—"Tomorrow's Dad's birthday. What shall we get him?" Son—"Let's let him have the car!"

PCICN—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shields visited with their daughter, Deke Kendrick, and her family over the weekend. Joe has been very ill for several months and his Friona friends are glad he's able to be up and about.

PCICN—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Strickland had company at their house last week. The Taylor children, who are their grandchildren, stayed with them while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Taylor, were fishing at Corpus Christi.

PCICN—Want some good low cost transportation? We have a 1954 Bel Air Chevrolet with low mileage that will give just that.

PCICN—If Texan's aren't going places, it isn't their fault. Texas has more miles of railroad tracks—over 15,500, more miles of paved highways—over 31,000, more miles of unpaved roads—anybody's guess, more miles of commercial airways —some 5,000, and more miles of bald prairie than any other state. If anybody wants to take the un-derground route, Texas has more miles of pipe lines, too.

PCICN—Do you need a good used 4-row tractor? Try a Farmall M on butane—good rubber—with or without equipment.

PCICN—Jim Roberts tells this story. A tall, good looking man about 21 years old got out of a car with a California license plate at a local service station the other day. He was wearing two big holsters and two guns. When the police at Canyon finally caught him, he was very earnest and convincing when he told them he thought Texans wore guns all the time.

PCICN—Will Rogers said, "There ain't no civilization where there ain't no satisfaction."

PCICN—For Sale—Extra clean used cars. A 1955 Royal Dodge 4-door with power brakes, power steering, power seat and power windows.

PCICN—You can say this about men who wear T-shirts and women who wear low-cut dresses—they never get hot under the collar.

PCICN—Down at the Bi-Wize Drug, Ralph Roden has a big jar whose contents go to the swimming pool fund. The biggest contributor's name is on the jar and so far the Friona Star leads with $20! Ralph says he's already deposited around $70. The idea, we hear, originated with Jake Lamb.

PCICN—The Friona Wheat Grower's offices at the elevators are getting a face lifting. The entire office building is being re-done in a tan stone. Looks real good.

PCICN—Mrs. J. T. Gee's Methodist Sunday school class went to Clovis last Sunday. They had class in a lovely shaded spot, then picnicked, swam and played. About 44 adults and children attended. The Charles Tylers from Slaton, formerly from Friona, also attended.

PCICN—Sounds like a good idea even though out of season. The Progressive Study Club is selling Christmas Cards. They guarantee delivery before Dec. 25 if you order now. A club member may call on you soon.

PCICN—If the cotton crop of Texas was made into one big mattress, all the people of the world could take a nap on it at the same time.

PCICN—Parmer County Implement Company is headquarters for canvas and plastic irrigation dams and other irrigation supplies.

PCICN—The Hoyt Smiths spent the week at Tres Ritos, New Mexico, and enjoyed several good showers that fell while they were there. Friday afternoon when they started home, it began to rain and it rained for about 230 miles—or until they were twenty miles from their home. Not a drop of rain fell on their farm while they were gone.

PCICN—Mr. and Mrs. Deon Awtry attended a family reunion in Lubbock Sunday.

PCICN—McCaughy Brothers, who live north of Black, are now the proud owners of a 400 LPG tractor with power steering. Why don't you call 2091 for a demonstration of this exceptional tractor?

PCICN—The farm-to-market road north of Friona to the Deaf Smith County line is just about ready for the black top. This road will bring Friona much closer to those folks north of town.

PCICN—Remember this—Auto-lite batteries are made for rugged service. For long life and dependable service, get an Auto-lite battery. Call 2091. Douglas has a battery in the size you need at a price you can afford to pay.

PCICN—Walker Stokes, son of Lt. Col and Mrs. Stokes of New York City, visited friends in Friona last week. Walker plans to enter Texas Tech for the last summer term and again this fall. Dr. Stokes was with the Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona in September before beginning a tour of duty in Europe.

FB Queen Contest To Be August 16

Parmer County Farm Bureau will stage its fourth annual queen contest on the evening of August 16, according to Gilbert Kaltwasser, president. Mrs. Glenda Rickerd, office secretary, is in charge of entries and preliminary plans for the event which will take place at the Friona School auditorium.

The county winner will receive a check for $100 from Farm Bureau which may be used in preparing for her entry in the district contest which will be held in Lubbock sometime in September.

Entries will be judged on three main points: appearance, poise, and personality. The purpose of the contest, said Kaltwasser, is to give proper recognition to our beautiful farm and ranch girls.

Though any eligible girl may enter on her own, it is suggested that a business, club, or individual sponsor her, submitting a $5 entry fee, along with the name of the entry. The fee will be used in paying the expenses of the contest and the awards.

Here are the eligibility rules:
1. Daughter or sister of a Farm Bureau member actively engaged in agricultural production. Membership should be in county of participation.

2. Single.
3. Age 16-22 (16 by September 1, 1956, and not over 22 September 1, 1956).

4. Exceptions—daughters of state or county directors, officers or employees, are not eligible to enter this contest.

Each district winner will be allowed an expense-paid trip for herself and an attendant to the state convention in Houston in November. The state winner and her escort will be allowed $500 expenses to attend the national convention in Miami, early in December.

Previous winners in Parmer County's contest have been Deniese Magness, Phyllis Fairchild, and Clara Jean Jesko.

Deadline Extended For Applications In Acreage Reserve

The deadline for placing cotton and wheat into the government acreage reserve program, known as the "soil bank," has been extended through Friday, July 27, Jim Whitfield, ASC office manager, announced this week.

"We're about over, though," he said, "and we don't expect to get many more in by the new deadline."

Through Tuesday, 118 applications had been approved for wheat land, involving 8,682 acres and payments of $51,736. In the case of cotton, 20 approvals had been made for 222 acres, and payments will run $6,776.29.

Pending are one application on cotton, 11 acres at $495—and 42 on wheat, tying up another 2,503 acres with payments to run $15,172 if approved. Landlord agreements are holding up these applications, Whitfield says.

Summing up the program he added, "We have had more applications than we anticipated."

Marketing Quotas Carry in Parmer

Marketing quotas were accepted again by Parmer County producers last week, in a nation-wide referendum.

In the county, the vote went 272 for, and only 10 against for an overwhelming majority. Compared with the 2546 farmers eligible to cast votes, the turnout was termed "very poor" by ASC Office Manager Jim Whitfield this week.

County-Wide 4-H Rally, Dress Revue In Friona Tuesday

Members of every 4-H club in Parmer County were present at the county-wide rally day and dress revue in Friona Tuesday of last week. The program got under way at the city park at 9:30 a.m.

The morning was spent in the park. Games and crafts were directed by recreation leaders and delegates to District I 4-H camp. After a picnic lunch in the park, games were played, then the girls were given time off to get dressed for the revue.

At 2:30 p. m. the group assembled in the homemaking department of the Friona High School. The Friona Senior 4-H Club had charge of the decorations for the dress revue.

A wishing well, which was constructed of bricks and decorated with spring flowers, formed the background for the revue. It was surrounded by green grass and a Cape Cod fence. Terri Sue Mabry, dressed in a 4-H uniform, sat at the well.

About 50 persons were present for the revue. Judges were Mrs. Argen Draper, Deaf Smith County HD agent; Mrs. Glenn Maples of Hart, and Mrs. Behrends of Castro County. Pat Cranfill was commentator.

Each girl was judged on the following points:

1. THE GIRL—posture, grooming, poise and attitude.
2. THE OUTFIT ON THE GIRL—becomingness to girl, choice of texture, color and style, fit, accessories, right for girl, her use of costume, value for money spent.
3. CONSTRUCTION—accurate cutting, quality of work as it contributes to the "professional look."
4. RECORD—4-H projects and activities, 4-H leadership, personal development.

Girls participating in the revue were Pat Chitwood, Carole Dean Hastings, Billie Mae Stevens, Jane Hubbel, Virginia Rea, Eva Jean Ivy, Paula Winegart, Donna Sudderth, Margaret Taylor, Janice Darling, Zell Billingsley, Karen Bales, Sherrie Lyn Lange, Marilyn Sue Brahdon, Jean Reed, Beverly Smith, Mary Ruth Riley, and Judy Billingsley.

Also Delores Elmore, Gladys Dean, Janet Snead, Stella Cole, Kathryn Smith, Jacquelyn Magness, Janie Parker, Sally Hough, Lindo Dean, Sharon Thorn, Lexie Stevenson, Margaret Mabry, and Barbara Rea.

Virginia Rea gave a demonstration on a sewing box and Mary Ruth Riley and Karen Bales presented a skit on "Beauty Starts at the Top." These were followed by round-up reports by Beverly Smith and Margaret Mabry, district camp reports by Judy Billingsley, Sharon Thorn and Barbara Rea, and district council report by Kathryn Smith.

The meeting adjourned about 4:30 p. m.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

Have you tried any of the new desserts which are being made with angel food cake? Some of them look and sound delicious, but we haven't tried any of them yet. The only one we have sampled is one which necessitated tearing up the cake. Seems such a shame to shred up a pretty angel food cake, but if you baked one that didn't turn out right, it might be a good cover-up idea.

Mix 6 egg yolks, ¾ cup sugar, ¼ cup lemon juice, grated rind of 2 lemons, and ¼ teaspoon salt in double boiler and cook until slightly thick. Remove from heat and add 1 envelope unflavored gelatin which has been softened in ¼ cup cold water. Set in refrigerator to cool. Beat 6 egg whites until stiff, gradually adding ¾ cup sugar. Fold into cooled custard.

Shred an angel food cake into flakes with a fork and mix with custard mixture. Pour into lightly greased angel food cake mold and chill 8 hours.

Make icing by whipping 2 cups cream to which 2 tablespoons powdered sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla have been added. Unmold the cake mixture and cover with whipped cream icing.

A lot of homemakers are busy canning and freezing fruits and vegetables for home freezers and lockers. Several persons have called to suggest that we contact Bertie Stowers for her method of preparing green beans and peas. This we did one afternoon last week.

Mrs. Stowers states that she prepares them exactly as she would for cooking, packs them in containers, then covers them with water and freezes them. Sounds simple, doesn't it? We plan to try her method very soon.

Many of the farm magazines are suggesting long lists of things to do when planning a vacation. Most of them seem too long and detailed for anyone to ever carry out. Our advice to farm homemakers would be, "If your husband suggests a vacation, whether long or short, quickly pack the things you feel that you couldn't do without and get started."

If you start following a suggested plan, he might have time to drive around the field one more time and change his mind about going.

We had never heard of using cellophane tape for mending until recently. According to the information we received, it will do wonders for temporary mending of falling hems, pulled off straps, or torn places in children's clothes when needles and thread are not available.

Now, if the manufacturers of the new material which is made from paper and looks like cloth, will just come up with some speedy way to get the garments made, it will be wonderful. Maybe some kind of tape can be used to make seams that will hold as long as the material lasts. If the material is the success it is predicted to be, what will the manufacturers of washers and dryers do?

Martha Clements, one of our neighbors, is making beet pickles. We suggested to her that she try some dill in some of them, but she thinks she wouldn't like the taste of dill in beet pickles. The idea was recommended by one of the new farm magazines.

THE H. D. AGENT'S CORNER

Jimmie Lou Wainscott

Two months—that's the length of time I have been in Parmer County, as Home Demonstration Agent, and have enjoyed every minute. It's quite an experience to find your way around a strange county. With the help of a county map I haven't been lost too many times. Have appreciated the many friendly West Texas hello's.

This week I am meeting with 4-H clubs. My schedule for the week is: July 23, Lazbuddie Jr. and Sr. Clubs; July 24, Friona Jr. and Sr. Clubs; July 25, Farwell beginners, and Jr. and Sr. Clubs; July 26, Bovina Jr. and Sr. clubs.

The demonstration for the meetings has been freezing vegetables. By the way, if you need some frozen food information just write or call me and I'll send you the Frozen Food Bulletin No. B-175. This bulletin contains information on freezing fruits, vegetables, dairy products, eggs, fish, prepared foods, and several other foods.

Remember that freezing foods properly keeps the natural color, fresh flavor, and food values of most fruits and vegetables better than other methods of food preservation.

The Parmer County HD Council met Monday, July 23, at Friona American Legion Hall. As people always do, a group remained after the meeting and started talking. They decided that it would be nice for the 12 HD Clubs of Parmer County to have a picnic at the Bovina Park at 7:30 on August 31.

These women represented seven of the clubs so they made plans. Each club will be responsible for bringing enough food, tea, and plates for their club. You can never tell what a group of women will plan once they get together. It all sounds like fun and is a nice way for HD club members to get acquainted and meet old friends.

$57,000,000 TO TEXAS SCHOOLS!

Price Daniel's greatest fight for Texas lasted six years as Attorney General and was finally won during his first year as Senator—when Congress restored to Texas our 3 million acres of tidelands. As a result Texas already has received from these lands over $57 million for our Permanent School Fund.

Throughout his public career, Daniel has fought against Federal encroachments on the rights of the States and the people as retained in the U. S. Constitution.

$1,600,000 TO PARMER COUNTY MILO GROWERS!

Price Daniel fought every inch of the way against discrimination in grain support prices which cost Parmer County farmers $4,000,000 in 1955. Through his untiring efforts, the support price has been increased this year to the extent that our farmers stand to gain back $1,600,000. This legislation very probably would never have come to pass without the backing of the Texas junior senator.

The record will show that Price Daniel has ALWAYS pushed for more equitable legislation for grain sorghum growers. This is not simply a move for political expediency!

PRICE DANIEL —BEST FOR TEXAS!

Paid for by Parmer County friends of Price Daniel who appreciate what he has done for the school children and grain sorghums.

11-YEAR CYCLES?—This reproduction of a large chart prepared by Hardy Benson of Hereford was the basis of a program at the Friona Lions Club recently. The Deaf Smith County farmer uses this as evidence to support his contention that rainfall on the High Plains comes in 11-year cycles. Most of the writing is too dim to make out in this reduction, but the rise and fall of rainfall totals from year to year is plainly evident. The three wettest years shown were in 1905 with 32.31 inches; 1923, 39.35 inches; and 1941, 37.21 inches. The lines under the graph show 11-year periods of alternating dry and wet cycles. According to his theory, we are right in the middle of an 11-year dry cycle.

THE PARMER FARMER

It doesn't make any difference where in the county you may drive, there still is a world of difference in the rate of maturity among different fields of maize.

Some have extremely early feed. Some are little more than just getting a stand. It's truly a varied picture. We have talked with some farmers about this, and find several explanations.

The most common one is that staggered planting dates make it easier to water the crop when it most needs the moisture, because at that moment the well may be available, whereas it might not at another point.

However, some other theories are turning up. There seems to be a distinct school of thought that feed can be too early, and that the farmer is gambling on his chances of making higher yields by getting his crop up and started in the spring.

The theory is that the maize will be trying to make grain during the hot (and usually dry) days of August, and that because of these extreme conditions, the grain stands a chance of not filling out and putting on the weight that it would later.

Waiting until just about a few days before normal frost for the grain to be completely matured in a normal growing season is the target that farmers should shoot at, we have heard several growers say the past week whose feed seems to be so far behind.

However, that view is not held universally, we might add. There seems to be a difference of opinion.

To some it may stink, but the pungent smell of chemicals drifting across irrigated fields as one drives through late in the evening is a real experience for us.

It's the perfume of production and prosperity.

Just a few days of cloudy and cooler weather certainly helps out the irrigation picture, even though it may not rain.

The broad leaves of our irrigated crops exposed to the wind and sun of the dry, hot High Plains in the summertime really draws on the water supply.

Evaporation is materially reduced, too.

It seems as if everybody has their pet way of figuring weather cycles. That is, how often a dry, and how often a wet, year comes around. Notice the one from Hardy Benson of Hereford that we are running this week.

We think that others would be interested in knowing what your long-range views on the weather are, and would be glad to give them an airing on the farm pages of this newspaper.

Don't be bashful if your ideas seem freakish or homemade, and lack the scientific approach. Not all good ideas come from the slide rules, you know.

Just address "Farm Editor" in care of this paper and let us know your method.

Agriculture is one of the world's most backward industries in planning for the future. This is being shown time and again as farm commodities are replaced by synthetics, and markets are disrupted.

Perhaps the work that can be done by the Texas Research Foundation will be a reversal of this unhealthy condition. We hope that the Foundation is successful in staking out a substation on the High Plains.

Recently we were sent a copy of an expensive brochure published by the DuPont Company. It is positively fantastic how much money corporations like DuPont are willing to spend on cold, slow research in order to develop a single new product.

Millions are laid on the line before one single sale is made. Farmers must ultimately learn the lesson of research from these examples—or else.

We feel better about the potato business! Buck Gregory just gave us a couple hundred pounds of reds. We certainly appreciate his generosity at a time when spuds mean real money to the grower's pocket.

If any felt hat, except white, needs cleaning you can clean it by rubbing it with a piece of stale rye bread.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU
By RAYMOND EULER

The Renner Experiment Farm Project is gaining momentum in the West Texas and Eastern New Mexico area, according to Gilbert Kaltwasser. Gilbert was appointed chairman to form a committee of businessmen and farmers of the county to promote establishment of the station which is intended for experimental farming developments adaptable to this area. Some have said that it would probably be located in the Lazbuddie Community somewhere, but we're not sure the location has been definitely established. This is not a Farm Bureau project, but that organization is lending its assistance in every way possible to obtain the farm.

American Farm Bureau is supporting a proposed 50% increase in third class postal rates. This class of mail is presently being subsidized by the American taxpayer by about that percentage. The bulk of this class mail is advertising circulars and such stuff, which is mailed out on a phone directory list basis. We haven't met anyone who did not agree that they had rather receive only that mail which they had an interest in. Post office floors on days of boxholders are a witness to the waist being subsidized by you and me. Farm Bureau's proposal includes exemption of country newspapers of less than five thousand subscribers from any increase because of the value of rural news to subscribers.

tion, had vigorously supported private enterprise development, and considers this an important story.

We heard a preacher, referring to those who wonder why God doesn't assert himself to avoid certain things happening in the world, say this "God doesn't interrupt the program of life every few minutes to remind us of a divine sponsor."

LETTERS To The Editor

THE BOVINA BLADE Dear Jeanie and Dolph,

That sure was a clever idea—sending out those stamped envelopes as a reminder our subs to the Blade had run out. Those were the cutest I've seen.

Yes, we want ours renewed. We couldn't do without the paper now. We're sure thankful you folks came our way and decided to stay in Bovina. We enjoy the paper a lot. Sure hope our sand storms don't blow you away. You've heard it said "those awful sand storms sift out the weaklings;" so don't give up—stick it out with us. It could be worse somewhere else—and these cool summer nights make up for part of it anyway.

Come out and see us sometime. Mable and Buck Ellison.

No. 7-22nd Ave. North Texas City, Texas

Mr. Dolph Moten Bovina Bovina, Texas Dear Dolph:

Just a news item that might be of interest to our friends there—particularly the Art Masts and Flossie Rhinehart.

Sherri, our oldest child, who will be three in November, was run over by a mail truck July 2. She had crossed the street on her tricycle to play and was in the neighbor's driveway. The mailman was parked in the driveway delivering a package and he backed over her. Sherri has a broken left leg, scratches and bruises. It was first thought that she'd suffered a broken or crushed pelvis but it's not broken although it is damaged some. The truck rolled up on her and then when the motor was started to move off her body, it threw her four or five feet and at that time broke her leg.

She will be in traction four to six weeks and a cast 10 weeks. We plan to come home August 3, if she's out of traction. They will put a cast from her hip down and at that time decide if she needs the pelvis in a cast also. If it's a hip cast, she will be able to sit. Otherwise, no—and will not be able to walk anyway until September late or October at earliest, they think. Once again depends on findings at the time traction is removed.

We have Sherri at home now. She was in hospital four days but doctors feel she's better off at home.

Sincerely, Norma and G. W. Mayben

Mr. Dolph Moten, Publisher Bovina Blade Bovina, Texas Dear Mr. Moten:

Have Swimming Party

A group of local women went to Clovis Tuesday of last week for an evening of swimming. They took individual sack lunches and had a picnic in the park following the swimming.

Those attending were Mrs. Mary Looney, Mrs. Betty Hawkins, Mrs. Lilly Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Dorothy Sorley, Mrs. Kay Kelly, Mrs. Erra Jamerson, June Gay Hanna, Mrs. Larue Horton, Mrs. Mary Ruth Lane, Mrs. Latrice Garth, Mrs. Jeanie Kerby, Mrs. Norma Embrey, Mrs. Clarise Smith, Mrs. Joa Dawn Horton, Mrs. Dorothy Looney and Mrs. Rose McCain.

Special guests for the evening were Joan Newsom of Claude; Linda Cherry of Lorenzo; and Bertha Kelley and Jean Hartwell of Bovina.

Shower Planned

Mrs. Gene Brito will be feted at a pink and blue shower Friday afternoon July 27, in the home of Mrs. Sallie Potts. The shower, a "come and go" affair, will be held between the hours of 4:00 p. m. and 6:00 p. m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

speech, which was the keynote, he was mobbed by hundreds of people backstage.

As I stood by after shaking his mitt, I observed the faces of many who did likewise. Most people, many of whom were no doubt farmers, had a look of hope on their faces, as if to be saying: "Adlai, things are not all peace and prosperity in the great U. S.; can't you do something to help us?"

But much the same as in Texas, there is the problem of money. Of course, the big money men like having a cabinet composed of fellow magnates, so I shall have an unlimited sum with which to get his program to "the people."

This mild protest could go on and on and on, so I'll cut it off. At any rate, things were more interesting than usual.

Well, school is fine, and I'm succeeding in being able to allow a few of the ideas, at least, to seep into my medulla. This session terminates August 24, so I'll be home by the 26th. Perhaps we can get together, either in little "B" or big "A"; there are many problems we could try to solve, anyway. Say "hello" to "The Paring Knife" and sail one my way soon.

Friend,
Tom

agree. Ordinarily, Letters to the Editor are run elsewhere in the paper, but I felt this letter, because of its timeliness, deserved to be in this column.

Looks as tho I can't let a week pass without coming up with a baseball comment, but those of you who missed this week's ball game between the Bulls and Friona missed a lot of excitement as well as a well-played ball game. It was of the type that I like for local non-enthusiastic sports fans to see.

clutches.

The game, from a spectator's viewpoint, was possibly the best either of the teams has played this year.

In all probability, the teams will meet again in the league playoffs next month.

Attend District Camp

Members of the Intermediate class of the Baptist Girl's Auxiliary spent several days of last week at the Floydada District G. A. Camp. The girls left Bovina Wednesday morning and spent the three days participating in sports, handicrafts and outdoor activities. They also heard talks given by missionaries from foreign lands.

Those attending the camp were Nancy Cumpston, Barbara Taylor, Nickie Woelfel, Charlotte Hromas and Jackie Davies.

Adult leaders who accompanied them were Mrs. Ovid Lawlis and Mrs. P. A. Adams.

Don't let "Shrinking Horsepower" cripple your pick-up in traffic

Be money ahead with clean-burning NO-NOX

Clean-burning Gulf NO-NOX keeps engines clean... protects against the deposits that cause "Shrinking Horsepower" in today's sensitive, high-compression engines. The result: NO-NOX helps you keep full, safe engine power... for thousands of extra miles.

Get the gasoline that burns clean*

* PROOF: See how the left-hand plate is blackened by the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline... while NO-NOX leaves the plate on the right clean. That's because Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline, in making New NO-NOX.
