SHORTAGE EXPECTED

Del Rio, Texas, May 19 1920. The Plains Chamber Commerce has the best obtainable information becomes quite apparent that the 1920 crop will be very short. It is therefore, of great importance that the Panhandle counties themselves with shortage to accommodate the harvest.

A very significant fact that is operating under the disadvantage moved from the Panhandle and Plains territory between January 20th and 1920 some 16, 183 cars of wheat to the facts presented by the Interstate Commerce Commission of the Panhandle Plains of Commerce. To the delay, however, in the 1919 crop a loss was sustained by the this section of the country, which could have been avoided if the farmers had been provided with proper storage facilities. It is urged, therefore, that we provide some escape from the loss of the wheat through which suffered so seriously in the

INCOME TAX MAN

It has been half a century since the first income tax was levied in Roberts County. This week to interview the income tax inspector for 1918. Also a great number of citizens were called, and were informed that near 500 men had been summoned to appear before said inspector. It is thought that so many men should be summoned to the community to another man, looks to us like a judgment. It would be a time and money saving if one man could visit Miami and fifty having to go to

FINE SCHOOL EXERCISES THIS WEEK

The closing exercises of the Miami Public School have this year been very interesting, and well attended. An annually large crowd attended the Baccalaureat sermon at the auditorium Sunday morning which was delivered by Rev. R. A. Stewart. Also special music was had and a very interesting hour was spent.

Tuesday night, Mrs. Baker's pupils of music of the higher grades gave a magnificent demonstration of their wonderful talent, and training and this added much to the interest of the closing exercises of the week.

Wednesday evening the Junior-Senior play was given, titled, Ruth in a Rush which proved to be very rich in comedies and interest. All parts were well rendered and the large crowd present enjoyed every minute of the program.

Tonight the Seventh grade will give a play, and Friday night the commencement program is to be rendered. Mrs. Baker had for some time. A real rain will present Miss Edna Jones in a Piano recital.

BIG RAINS AND BIG CROPS

The Panhandle, Oklahoma and New Mexico last week were visited by one of the greatest blessings it has had for some time. A real rain fell over the territory. While we have had rains before this spring, this is the first general rain to fall over so much territory, and too, to come with the quietness of a lamb. For about thirty six hours a steady rain fell, with scarcely enough wind to be noticeable, and thunder and lightning was so absent that it was noticeable. Between three and four inches of water was measured in the fall of last week.

It is hard to get an accurate estimate on the wheat. One farmer will say that it is damaged, and will do well to make an average yield of 15 bushels, while another will claim it will make 25. Anyhow, wheat is looking extra fine, and if we get an average over the Panhandle of ten bushels, will have more wheat than the Santa Fe will be able to carry off in the next twelve months.

Roe Crops which have been planted, gardens and grass are coming out wonderfully and it seems that the Panhandle is facing its greatest year of prosperity this year. It is predicted that without any more rain, we will have a good wheat harvest.

WHEAT GROWERS ORGANIZE

A local organization of the Wheat Growers Association of the United States of America, was organized by E. M. McCracken, representing the head association. And after a number of enthusiastic talks the organization was effected and the following officers for the ensuing year elected: G. M. Counts, President; Gus Severson, Vice-President; J. E. Kinney Secretary-Treasurer; J. I. Seiber, M. E. Wells and F. W. Preising, Directors. The object of this association as set out in its constitution is "to regulate the production, marketing and price of wheat" and the membership "shall consist of producers and those interested directly in the production of wheat."

A meeting of the local association will be held in Miami, on Saturday May 29, 1920, at three o'clock p. m., at which time all those persons eligible to join this association are invited to meet with the members of the association.

AMERICAN LEGION CLOSES DEAL FOR HOME

The local Post American Legion this week closed a deal, whereby they become owners of the old Masonic Hall, which is situated over the City Meat Market. The boys are planning to make a library, rest room and add such other conveniences and pastimes such as is found in a real nice home for the boys. The local Post is to be congratulated upon this move, and we feel sure that the citizens of the town and county will be glad to assist in helping them furnish the building in a suitable manner. They will need books, book cases, reading tables, chairs, magazines, etc.

Almost a house full of people were present, consisting mostly of farmers and cattlemen. Mr. Lyons received a car load of the tractors Monday and sold and delivered the entire lot by noon Tuesday, and is expecting another car to arrive soon.

JUST KEEP SAWING WOOD

You've often heard about the man who "said nothing sawed wood." He didn't expect to saw a whole cord at once. He didn't expect to make a whole fortune at once. But he began with a little deposit in the bank and piled up a fortune before he knew it. Look at the men today who said "sawed wood" a few years ago.

GOOD ROADS

ESSENTIALS OF GOOD ROADS

Rules Outlined for Construction of Stone Thoroughfares—Drainage Is Important.

The essential requirements of good stone road construction may be condensed into the following rules:

1. Cut the high places down to a grade not exceeding 1 to 20; fill up flats or low places so as to have a minimum grade of 1 to 200.
2. Construct subdrains to carry away all seepage water; also make enough cross-drains to dispose of surface-water. Fig. 1 shows a subdrain of drain-tile covered with stone. Fig. 2 shows a subdrain made of logs, and Fig. 3 shows one made of field stone.
3. Make the subgrade firm and solid and give it the same curvature as the surface of the finished road.
4. Spread the bottom course of stone evenly, then roll and add a little

fine material for a binder, and continue the rolling until the stones cease to sink and creep in front of the roller.

5. Spread the second course and roll it with the addition of binder and water until the whole surface is hard and smooth, carefully filling with stone any depressions that may appear; then finish the whole with a course of three-quarter-inch stone and screenings. This must be soaked with water and rolled until the surface is hard and unyielding. Always be careful to commence the rolling at the sides and gradually work toward the center; by so doing the crown of the road will be preserved. If this work is well and thoroughly done the result will be a road that is smooth, hard and convenient for travel at all seasons of the year. Fig. 4 shows a cross-section of a macadam road, with layers of stone compacted in place.

For a farming community the width of macadam need not be greater than 10 or 12 feet. The width of stone surface should be sufficient to take care of all the travel on the road; but on the other hand it should not be so great as to require unnecessary expense in the construction or maintenance of the road.

When water has to be conveyed from one side of a road to the other it should be taken under the road by means of a culvert. A stone culvert is, of course, the best, but a vitrified tile pipe or a corrugated metal culvert may be used.

Lastly, give the road a good coat of suitable road oil to prevent dust and retard much damage to automobiles.

PROBLEM OF GOOD HIGHWAYS

Becoming One of Increasing Importance Because of Changes in Methods of Travel.

The road problem of the country is becoming one of ever-increasing importance, largely because of the changes in methods of travel which enable the city man to reach farther and farther into the country district. He does this first from a business or economic standpoint, and, second, from a pleasure-seeking standpoint. In an exactly similar manner, the farmer is getting fully aroused to the importance of better and better roads. They enable him to get to the city markets with his produce, whether that produce may be something requiring frequent trips, such as milk to a creamery, garden truck to market, or staple products to be hauled in their proper season. The better the roads, the cheaper he can haul his produce and the quicker he can do so, resulting in a saving of time, and the better choice he has of market conditions.

ESSENTIAL POINTS OF ROADS

Concrete Highways Reduce Pull, Increase the Load and Shorten Time of Delivery.

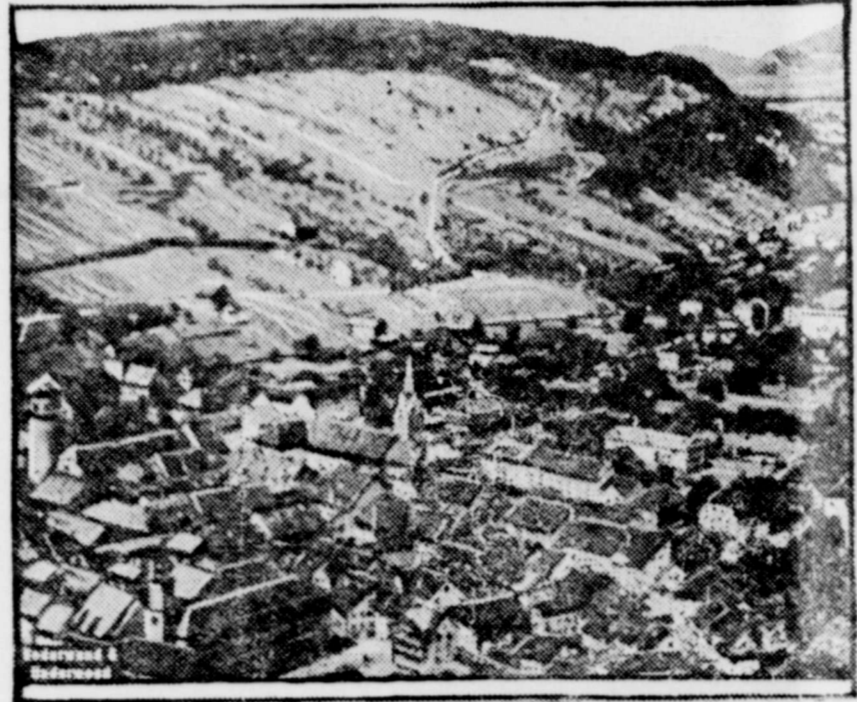

Concrete roads reduce the pull, increase the load and shorten the time—three essential points in modern road construction. With the quality of permanence added, the price paid becomes an investment instead of a loss.

BEST FOR MARKETING CROPS

Farmers Enabled to Haul Produce When Prices Are Highest If Highways Are Improved.

Good roads give a wider choice of time for marketing crops. If roads were kept in condition to permit travel and hauling at all times and in all kinds of weather, farmers would not have to rush their produce to market in seasons of good roads, but could haul it when prices were highest and when their crops did not demand attention

Vorarlberg In the Mountains

View of Feldkirch.

TUCKED in between Bavaria, Switzerland and the Austrian Tyrol, in the midst of the mountains, lies the district Vorarlberg, which after the war tried to escape from the domination of Austria by voting in favor of joining Switzerland. Probably very few persons in the United States had ever before even heard of Vorarlberg, which usually has been mistakenly lumped in with the Tyrol. There is a perfectly well-defined boundary between Vorarlberg and the Austrian Tyrol—namely, the watershed between the Rhine and the Danube, says the New York Times. Travelers over the Arlberg pass may see this boundary duly marked with a monument. The name Vorarlberg means the "land beyond the Arlberg pass"—"beyond," that is, from the point of view of a person looking westward over the pass from the Austrian Tyrol.

The springs of the Rhine in Switzerland are not far from the southern boundary of Vorarlberg, across the mountain known as the Rhatikon. In this part of Switzerland is the far-famed Engadine, with its health resorts such as Davos-Platz, Chur, etc., very much better known to the world at large than the region to the north of it.

In the north Vorarlberg reaches the beautiful lake of Constance; on the shores of that lake is Bregenz, the political capital of the land. Bregenz yields precedence, so far as size is concerned, to Dornbirn, up in the mountains behind the lake, but it is nevertheless the most important place in Vorarlberg. The other leading towns are the railway junction of Feldkirch, where the lines from Tyrol, Germany and Switzerland meet, and Bludenz. Dornbirn, has about 15,000 inhabitants, Bregenz about 10,000, Feldkirch and Bludenz in the vicinity of 5,000 each.

Grabbed by the Hapsburgs. Previous to the break-up of the Austro-Hungarian empire, Vorarlberg was administered by a "statthalter" residing in Innsbruck, capital of the Austrian Tyrol, but it also had a governor of its own and an assembly of 21 members. It used to send four representatives to the reichsrat, or imperial parliament, at Vienna.

The Hapsburgs began by adding Vorarlberg to their motley collection of territories back in the fourteenth century. Feldkirch was incorporated in their dominions in 1375, Bludenz and the picturesque Montavon valley in 1394, the Bregenz region in 1451 and 1523, Sonnenberg in 1455 and Hohenems in 1765. It was after the annexation of the latter to Austria that Empress Maria Theresa united all the districts of the region under the name Vorarlberg and placed a governor over them with his residence at Bregenz. In 1782 the region was made a part of the Tyrol, and in 1804, during the Napoleonic wars, it was annexed to Bavaria. It was not until 1814 that Vorarlberg was separated from Bavaria and restored, with the exception of the district of Hoheneck, to the Austrian crown. In the following year the region received its present status.

The area of Vorarlberg is 1,000 square miles, and it has something like 150,000 inhabitants, practically all of whom speak German, the exception being those who still cling to that strange dialect known as "Romansch" or "Romanic," which the Roman settlers imprinted upon the inhabitants of this region when it was known as Rhaetia.

How Its People Live.

In the more mountainous sections of the little land the inhabitants are pastoral; in the towns the spinning and weaving of cotton had risen before the war to a flourishing condition, as had various other lines of industry. Trade with the surrounding countries also grew rapidly in the years before the war; schools were improved, factories sprang up in the towns, roads and bridges were built, and railway connection established northward, westward, and eastward. From the leading Vorarlberg centers—Bregenz, Feldkirch, Bludenz—one may travel in a few hours to Lindau, the Bavarian port on the Lake of Constance, and thence to Munich, eastward to Innsbruck and Vienna, westward into Switzerland and France. The Austro-Hungarian government also carried out extensive harbor improvements at Bregenz, thus enhancing the importance of the lake trade centering at that port.

The Vorarlbergers are distinct from the inhabitants of Bavaria, the nearest part of Germany. They claim descent from the Alemanni, who, after their defeat by Clovis, king of the Franks, in the seventh century, flowed back eastward and settled in the valleys of the ancient Rhaetia.

Thanks to the mountains that ring them round and cut them off to a great extent from the rest of the world, the Vorarlbergers have presented a certain independence of attitude through the centuries, and have refused to be overawed by the noble lords who have sought to browbeat them. They are of an essentially practical nature, numbering in their midst more mechanics and builders than sculptors, poets and musicians. They are industrious, frugal, even if given a bit to comfortable living, and talkative to a degree. They garnish their speech with many a witty remark, but are inclined, it is said, to become cantankerous and disputatious upon slight provocation. They are very patriotic and religious.

Many of the people live in fine wooden houses of a pleasing style of architecture. The contrast between these dwellings and the poorer houses of the inhabitants of the Swiss sections immediately west of Vorarlberg at once strikes the traveler's eye. The natives still wear picturesque costumes in some parts of the region, though by no means to the extent that was common as recently as 25 or 30 years ago.

BRITAIN HAS 80,000 CADDIES

Future of These Indispensable Golf Advisors Is Worrying Club Officials of the Country.

Almost 80,000 caddies trudge the golf courses in the United Kingdom, mostly youths between fourteen and eighteen. The question of their future is seriously exercising the minds of the golf club secretaries, who have the welfare of the race at heart. Carrying golf clubs leads to nowhere as regards a man's career.

St. George's Hill Golf club at Weybridge, the most fashionable club in England, has tackled the problem manfully, and its example is to be followed by other clubs throughout Great Britain. During their idle hours when not carrying clubs the boys and disabled soldiers, of whom a number are employed, are to be trained to trades that will ultimately enable them to obtain employment of a regular and progressive nature. After three years' service with the club the caddie will receive a bonus of $50, provided he wishes to leave in order to follow a trade he has learned.

A first-class bootmaker has been engaged to instruct caddies in boot making; in order to make the plan profitable members of the club send their repairs to the school. Under the head green keeper the caddies are learning the art of market gardening in the club vegetable gardens. They are being initiated into the intricacies of green keeping also.

Cotton's Varied Uses.

The United States is certainly the "land of cotton." Nowhere else in the world is cotton grown to such abundance and put to such a variety of uses, says the San Francisco Chronicle. The fiber, of course, is made into cloth; the oil from the seeds is used as a good substitute for olive oil and as a basis for lard, and now the seeds themselves are being ground into flour and used for food purposes. To make the cottonseed sausage three pounds of sausage meat is mixed with one pound of cottonseed flour. This flour is said to contain as much nutrition as pork sausage.

Bureau of Crop Estimates Notes Drop in Amount Paid for Pork, Beef, and Mutton.

The advance in the monthly average price of hogs per 100 pounds received by producers, which began with February, 1916, comparison being made with the same month in the preceding year, continued without a break to August, 1919, and the advance was from $7.07 to $19.30. Since August, 1919, the fall from month to month was continuous to $12.06 in December, followed by a rise to $13.36 in January, 1920, or $2.33 below the January price in 1919, according to the reports of the bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture.

The average price of sheep per 100 pounds received by producers throughout the whole year had an upward movement from 1913 to 1918, from $4.54 to $10.94, the principal increase being in 1917. The average for 1919, $9.58, is a drop of $1.36 from that for 1918, or 12 per cent.

From 1915 to 1918, the average price of beef cattle per pound to producers invariably advanced from year to year in each month and the advance continued from 1918 to 1919 until May, after which month the average price in 1919 fell below that of 1918 in each month, and the average price for January, 1920, was $8.99, or 66 below that for January, 1919. In the upward movement, the highest monthly average price reached was $10.84 in May, 1919.

FEED VALUE OF BUTTERMILK

Slightly Lower in Protein and Carbohydrates Than Skim Milk—Excellent for Pigs.

For all practical purpose buttermilk has about the same feeding value for hogs as skim milk, although it is slightly lower in protein, carbohydrates and fat than skim milk. Being high in digestible protein and rich in mineral matter, especially calcium and phosphorus, buttermilk is admirably suited for growing pigs, brood sows and breeding boars. It is an excellent supplement to corn because it furnishes those feed constituents that corn is deficient in.

ACCURATE RECORDS OF EWES

As Lambing Time Approaches Animals Should Be Separated and Given Extra Attention.

Some fairly accurate record should be kept when the ewes are bred in order that when lambing time approaches the ewes may be separated from the main flock and given extra feed and care. If ticks, lice or scab appear in the flock, the sheep should be dipped even though the weather is a little severe. This is extra work, but the flock will be more healthy and thrifty. A warm place should be provided for the sheep until they dry off.

FIND MILLET HAY INJURIOUS

Fed Liberally to Horses It Causes Increased Action of Kidneys and Other Ailments.

The North Dakota Experiment Station several years ago found that millet hay fed liberally to horses for a long period of time was injurious to the extent that it caused increased action of the kidneys, a swelling of the joints, and a certain amount of lameness. Millet hay seems to be all right for cattle and can perhaps be used safely as a small part of the roughage for horses. It would not be advisable, however, to feed it liberally to horses for a considerable period of time.

out the right dope to the Panhandle voters when he was here last week.
If he will stay with and work for the principals he advocated at Amarillo in his speech there Monday, he is the man the Panhandle wants for Governor.

We can hardly see any wise phy-losophy in a large soldiers' bonus, (such as some are advocating in Congress. Give the boys a quarter or half section of land, or something tangible instead of a cash bonus, and then tax them for the next forty years to pay their selves back.

For continued good health the year around, the Panhandle country is the best on earth. There possibly is sections of the United States where parts of the year are more pleasant than it is here in March, but try them at another season of the year and it would be worse. The great Panhandle is greater for happiness,
health and prosperity than any section of California.

It is generally conceded that there is a big oil pool in the Panhandle, somewhere close, adjoining the big Amarillo gas field. Every county in the Panhandle is claiming to be the geographically certain location for the big pool, and about all of them have wells going down. They are all wrong. Roberts county caps the big pool, and it will be tapped when the time comes. We haven't been in any hurry about digging, but it is here just the same.

The "Open Shop" movement is gaining headway over various portions of the United States, and a number of business men of Amarillo are endorsing the movement. What is termed open shop is working Union laboring and non union labor or non union labor all together, and is possibly not a direct shot at Union Labor, but almost its equivalent,
but union labor fundamentally,
is right, and should be upheld, but what the American public is kicking against today is the outbreaks of uncalled for strikes and unreasonable demands made by some of the Unions. Union Labor can no more help flitting a certain amount of volsh-evism get started in their Unions than can the government letting a certain amount start in the U. S.
They can and must fight it to the last inch.

GOOD INFORMATION FOR EX-SOLDIERS

Austin, Texas, Wichita St., 5-16-20
 Ed. Chief: Please inform the Club going there personally, except a post-that Old Friend Jupiter Pluvius, After performing such favorable stunts
 in the Panhandle, appeared in Austin on the night of May 13th with Electrical illuminations in the sky, and left about 2 inches of rainfall to cheer the hearts of "Rheuben" of the corn and cotton belt.
 Say: Also, that Old Man Heare attributes the favorable season for a wheat crop around Miami, to the faithful members of the Club, who all believe that rain will fall after a long dry spell. Especial praise is due Uncle Bob Tally and Dave Lard, Judge Woods Coffee and Jack Mead whose untiring efforts in trying to prognosticate the future and to faithfully relate facts in regard to past events, precludes the possibility of historical data being clouded with uncertainty.
 My own observations for 20 years bears out the assertion that we get all the rain and all other good things in the Panhandle that we really need.
 To pile on any greater blessings would doubtless spoil our splendid manhood and womanhood, which now stands high above the mediocre. And keeps us abreast of all that is good and great in advancing civilization.
 My Baby Boy, W. C. Heare got a weeks leave of absence, and ran down to Sentinel Arizona and filed on 320 acres of land in the Gila River Valley within half mile of the Southern Pacific Railroad.
 This valley is now open for ex-soldiers for filing on Desert claims for 60 days ending July 2nd 1920.
 Then it will be open for the general public. A big Dam has been recommended by the U. S. Engineers in this valley and the Dam site has been located, to conserve the waters of the Gila River for irrigation.
 About 270,000 acres will be under irrigation when all the canals and laterals are put in.
 The American Legion have a Locator at Sentinel. Mr. Frank Gordon, who will show the land to ex-service men.
 Tell all the boys at Miami of this opportunity. Sentinel is on the Southern Pacific R. R. 100 miles south of Phoenix.
 Long staple cotton is now being extensively raised around Phoenix.
 And farmers are plowing up their alfalfa crops to plant this profitable crop.
 The Goodyear, International and other Rubber Tire Companies are putting in manufacturing plants and using the Long Staple cotton for filler. And are contracting and paying $1.38 and $1.40 per pound for the lint. Land around Phoenix has jumped to $600. per acre and rents
 at $70. to $90 per acre cash rental.
 An ex-soldier don't have to live on his claim. But pays 25 cent per acre cash, when he files, and is require to put on $1.00 per acre per year in improvements for 4 years, when Patent will issue. He can file on 320 acres.
 And when Uncle Sam makes the Dam each land owner under the ditch,

will have to pay annual water tax
 until Uncle has been reimbursed, etc.
 Of course, Old Man Heare is not visible visit in the winter time. It is hot, Billin Hot in the summer, and no member of our N. S. Club should rush in where perspiration pours off from the body in bucketfull. We might erect an elevated wigwam with Electric fans and other cooling devices and give free advice to the "Harry Handed Sons of Toil." But
 dear Brethren let us not go to a very hot climate until we have to.
 On the 14th Jupiter poured, and on the 15th he again unlocked the rain clouds, and all told about 5 inches of bright, sparkling water deluged this part of Texas. The Colorado River is sending a torrent of water toward the Gulf. When the training spell is over I will let you know.
 Four days from tomorrow Gov.
 and I will convene the Texas Legislature in special Pink Boll Worm session. Worse things than that will happen soon. We have decided to run Joe Bailey for Governor and resurrect his "Fundamentals."
 Write Soon,
 Old Man Heare.

SIX MONTHS I COULD NOT WORK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Me Strong and Able to Work—I Recommend It To All My Friends.

Bayonne, N. J.—"I had pains in back and legs so that I could not stand caused by female trouble. I felt so tired all the time, had bad headaches, and for six months I could not work. I was treated by a physician and took other remedies but got no relief. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped me very much. I am well and strong and now able to do my work. I cannot thank you enough and I recommend your medicine to my friends who are sick."—Mrs. SUSIE SACATANSKY, 25 East 17th St., Bayonne, N. J.

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for over forty years, and today hold a record for such wonderful success as does Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

Prayed for Cure
Finds it After 10 Years
Food Would Sour and Boil
—Teeth Like Chalk

Mr. Herbert M. Gessner writes from his home in Berlin, N. H.:
I had stomach trouble over ten years; kept getting worse. I tried everything for relief but it came back worse than ever. Last fall I got awfully bad; could only eat light loaf bread and tea. In January I got so bad that what I would eat would sour and boil; my teeth would be like chalk. I suffered terribly. I prayed every day for something to cure me. One day I read about EATONIC and told my wife to get me a box at the drug store as I was going to work at 4 p. m. I took one-third of it and began to feel relief; when it was three-fourths gone, I felt fine and when it was used up I had no pains. Wife got me another box but I have felt the pain but twice. I used five tablets out of the new box and I have no more stomach trouble. Now I write to tell you how thankful I am that I heard of EATONIC. I feel like a new man; I eat what I like, drink plenty of water, and it never hurts me at all.

GOOD STYLE IN SUMMER WRAPS

COATS and sweaters, for spring and summer wear, reveal a great variety in designs with very few freakish or ungraceful models among them. The standard of "style" is high; that is, in color and form the new outer garments are artistic and pleasing and there are models for all personalities. The sweaters and sweater coats preserve the characteristics of sports garments, but have taken on additional dignity by using elegant materials and adopting the required lines. This fits them to play more than one role, for street dress with a sports dress flavor is among the things that have arrived to spend the summer with us.

A great many cape-like wraps, and modifications of the cape, are displayed for summer wear. These are long and have big collars, as a rule, some of them to be correctly described as huge. A few have moderate collars of summer furs; squirrel being a favorite. The liking for long capacious wraps has survived the winter. Even coats often emphasize the dominance of the cape by introducing the

Ginghams Return With Summer

MORNING dresses or utility dresses or porch dresses, as they are variously called, made of ginghams, chambrays, percales and other cottons, have soared in price until they bring as much as wool or silk frocks did in pre-war days. The high cost of labor, more than anything else, has brought them up to the point where there is a very great saving in making them at home, and in addition to the saving there are other good reasons why mothers and daughters should do this work for themselves. Ordinary needlework ought to be a part of every girl's training and cotton house dresses or school dresses offer chances for learning what it is certain most women will some day need to know.

For the aspiring flapper there are such pretty frocks of ginghams as those shown here, to lure her into learning how to use a needle. They could hardly be more simple, but they are neat and crisp looking and suggest all sorts of good times in summer weather. Such dresses are often made with gingham hats to match or hats of white organdy are provided for wear with them. And just lately adorable and frivolous sunbonnets have returned from a long exile, to take the place of summer sunshades. The colorings in the plaid and

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

Men with soft snags don't realize what a hard world this is.

DEWS OF EVE

No More Gentle Than "Cascarets" for the Liver, Bowels

It is just as needless as it is dangerous to take violent or nasty cathartics. Nature provides no shock absorbers for your liver and bowels against calomel, harsh pills, sickening oil and salts. Cascarets give quick relief without injury from Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Gases and Sick Headache. Cascarets work while you sleep, removing the toxins, poisons and sour, indigestible waste without gripping or inconvenience. Cascarets regulate by strengthening the bowel muscles. They cost so little too.—Adv.

Things Not What They Seem.
It happened in Muncie. One of the city's socially prominent and beautiful young women was tripping along an uptown street when she met the wife of the pastor of her church. "Oh, my dear, what a perfectly beautiful vanity case you are carrying!" exclaimed the minister's wife. At the same time the latter grasped the supposed vanity case, pressed the spring in order to see the interior, and out popped a dozen cigarettes.—Indianapolis News.

There is nothing more satisfactory after a day of hard work than a line full of snowy white clothes. For such results use Red Cross Ball Blue.

Practical Persons.
"You never hear of anybody addressing a poem to his caddy."
"No."
"Still there must be bonds of sympathy and gratitude between many golf players and their faithful caddies."

"No doubt; but the average golf player has neither the time nor the ability to write poetry, and the average caddy would rather be presented with a dollar than a bound volume of eulogies."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Randall Parrish

This eminent novelist is conspicuous for his virile characters, absorbing plots and thrilling situations. His scenes are laid in all parts of the country, but he is especially happy when dealing with the West, a section which he knows from long residence in early and later days. One of the most prolific of American writers, he is also one of the most successful. Unexcelled in dealing with mystery, romance and adventure, "The Strange Case of Cavendish" is typical of Parrish at his best. You will have the pleasure of reading it in serial form in this paper.

Suggestions for a Camping trip. Buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy before leaving home. As a rule it cannot be obtained when one on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamships at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you.

The Strange Case of Cavendish

Under the above title our new serial introduces and combines in a most interesting manner the dangerous elements of the East—gunmen and crooks—and the equally bad denizens of the West—bandits and outlaws.

Randall Parrish,

author of so many dashing stories of American life, has utilized the two types in a most entrancing narrative. But bad men do not dominate the story. Essential to the plot and furnishing ingredients aplenty for a stirring tale, they are merely incidental to the logical unfolding of it. The unsullied gem serene in a sordid setting is a woman newspaper reporter; rather an unusual heroine, but not the less interesting on that account. It is her intuition which finds the key to a strange mystery; her ability and resourcefulness which defeat criminal designs.

THE HOME PROGRESS CLUB

Mrs. Jno. Neman was a delightful hostess Thursday to the Home Progress Club.

The subject of the program was "Child Training."

(a) Home influence on Character.
(b) Adolescent period.
(c) The value of training between the ages of 2 and 8.

Mrs. Talley was leader of the program and some valuable thoughts were given in each topic.

A business session followed: The Civic Committee reported work done in arranging for prizes to be given for the best (prettiest) front and back yard also for the cleanest yard and etc. Notice their announcement in another place.

Mrs. Gething in addition to the Civic Committee, acting, offered $5. for the best basket of vegetables grown in back yard. Lets be thrifty and be inspired to produce something by our own hands.

Reports from the contest between the "Victory" division and the "Conqueror" division was a surprise and a pleasure as the result exceeded our highest expectations. The Victory $186.00. Conqueror $500.00. All together the club has on deposit about $800.00. The entire amount will be used for the school—to install vocational agriculture.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Kinney and the subject, "Wild Flowers." Roll Call—Wild flowers of the Panhandle." The time is 2:30. This is the time for election of officers and every member is urged to be present.

Cake and coffee was served by the hostess. P. R.

LAKETON ITEMS

Our drought still continues to break with large rains. Everything is beginning to look green, even one of our citizens.

Since the dew has began to fall, Farmer Corn Tassel and Pitcherfork has began to brighten up, believe they will buy them a new straw hat. It will not be long until the farmers will know his sad fate in the wheat line.

Ode Gatlin and Floyd Gatlin were up Sunday visiting their sister Mrs. Carrie Gatlin.

LOST, strayed or stolen, presumably stolen a 22 cal. Winchester. The party that got same will please take good care of same and keep it well concealed. Melvin Roberts.

I wish the party that was so kind as to borrow my saddle blanket and pinchers would be so kind as to return same in the next four or five years. It has been so wet here of late that news has been rather scarce.

We are glad that the Bachelor Club has remained faithful to a man, not a one has deserted so far. Their Motto is Liberty, so the reason they are remaining faithful to the colors. Their Motto is give me Liberty or there death. Their lodge pin has a head of a large hog engraved on same. There will be court at Laketon next Saturday, Justice of Peace Count will preside.
