Anti-Hoarding Campaign Mapped Out For Texans

FORT WORTH. — The war against money-hoarding in Texas was on today.

In command was A. P. Barrett, wealthy Fort Worth real estate dealer, with a complete plan of attack mapped out which it is hoped will drive the "rusty" dollars from old stockpiles and safety deposit vaults alike.

The first assault will be an intensive educational drive to familiarize the public with the object of the campaign, its workings and its benefits, and to instruct persons in investments, banking, securities and the economics of credit.

These instructions will be given in classrooms, by radio broadcasts and from church pulpits, Barrett said.

"Let's Go America," is the battle cry.

Each of Texas' 252 counties forms a unit in the vast brigade. Chamber of commerce, civic and business clubs have enlisted hundreds of workers to comprise these units, according to reports received by Barrett.

Barrett, chosen by the national committee to lead the Texas army will use three Texas radio stations of the Southwest Broadcasting company, of which he is president, to carry on part of the drive. Efforts are being made to obtain use of other broadcasting systems.

Copies of the Citizens' Reconstruction organization, as outlined by Colonel Knox, Chicago, chairman of the national committee were on their way today to every county and to all chambers of commerce.

The intensive educational program, Barrett said, will prepare the public for investment of money in federal securities gives the investor something tangible in which to invest, and have the stability of the united states government behind them, Barrett said.

"These securities offer investment opportunities in something in which the investors can feel sure of his money. Backed, as they are by the United States government, they are as sound as the government, the soundest in the world," Barrett said.

Barrett reiterated his statement there would be no "driving" of money into investments.

"We hope to educate the public in the need for investments to bring about economic recovery which I believe already is on its way, and to give the public investment opportunities which are to its own benefit.

"We shall advise, but, of course, we shall not demand."

Patterson Makes Announcement of His Candidacy

B. W. Patterson, candidate for judge of the 88th district court, has made the following formal announcement regarding his candidacy:

To the Citizens of Eastland County:

I wish to be judge of the 88th District Court of this county. In announcing my candidacy I realize not only the honor, but the grave responsibility that comes to a District Judge. The certainty of a speedy and unprejudiced trial according to the laws of our country is necessary to a contented and patriotic citizenship. To accomplish this I believe that the Judge should be well learned in the law and be able to apply it promptly to the facts presented in his court; not a partisan, but have a high sense of fairness to all; he should have executive ability to dispatch business so as to avoid unnecessary delay in trials and needless expense to the county and state; but at the same time have regard for the right of every person to a complete and impartial hearing of his cause. I do not presume to possess all these qualities to a perfect degree but do feel that my age, training and experience have reasonably fitted me for this service.

For political preferences shown me by the people of Eastland County in the past I am profoundly grateful, and will deeply appreciate this further honor. I solicit my friends and other citizens of this county to give me their support and vote for Judge of the 88th District Court with the positive assurance on my part that I will do my very best to be able and righteous Judge and will conduct the Court with all reasonable diligence, dispatch, and economy consistent with the constitution and laws of our State.

Burette W. Patterson.

Mrs. W. A. Teatsorth returned Monday from Brownfield where she visited her sister, Mrs. S. C. White and family who have all been ill.

John T. Sue Is J. P. Candidate

J. T. (Uncle John) Sue will be a candidate for Justice of the Peace for this the Eastland district, which includes Olden and Mangum.

Mr. Sue, who served Eastland county as county treasurer some years ago, is too well and favorably known to need any introduction to Eastland county voters. He will make an active campaign and endeavor to see as many voters as possible between now and election time.

His candidacy of course is subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Call at C. of C. For Copy Motor Vehicle Rules

At the request of Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, the State Highway Department has sent to him for free distribution a pamphlet containing motor vehicle registration rules, tables of motor vehicles, plates assigned to various counties and schedule of license fees. These may be had by asking at the Chamber of Commerce for them.

Neff Elected to Head Baylor U.

WACO, Feb. 25.—Former Governor Pat M. Neff was elected president of Baylor university to succeed his college roommate, the late S. P. Brooks. Dean W. S. Allen has been acting president of the school since the death of Dr. Brooks last year. Neff's election was unanimous.

Trustees who met here today were informed Neff was attending a railroad commission meeting at Austin and had taken the election under advisement.

Dr. Brooks died last May after attracting wide attention by insisting on signing diplomas for the 1931 graduating class on his death bed.

Neff was at the bedside when death came.

Taxpayers Body Demands Lower Taxes And Cost

Resolutions calling for a big reduction in the operating expense of the county, state and national governments, for the merging of a number of county offices, a re-districting of the judicial and senatorial districts of the state, the transfer of a sufficient amount of the state gasoline tax to retire county road bonds, recommending Attorney General Allred for his action in filing suits against a number of big oil companies and numerous other changes in state laws and the state constitution were passed by the Eastland County Taxpayers association at the meeting held last Friday in the 91st district court room.

The resolutions, which were drafted by a committee composed of Eugene Langford, Cisco; M. C. Franklin, Eastland; R. W. Holloway, Ranger; W. C. Couch, Bear Springs; W. A. Tate, Carbon; S. W. Bobo, Ranger and Lee Poe, Cisco and M. E. Lawrence, Eastland, were passed by unanimous vote.

As the various resolutions were presented to the convention they were discussed by different speakers and their aims and purposes explained to the convention.

The next meeting of the association will be held in Eastland at 2:00 p. m. March 4.

Following are the resolutions adopted:

To the Taxpayers Association, Eastland County, Texas.

Declaration of Principles, Policies and Purposes of the Eastland County Taxpayers Association.

Whereas, although our state, and nation are blessed with a bountiful supply of food, clothing, and those things and natural resources which make for the comfort and welfare of all the people; yet millions of our people are starving and suffering for the lack of these things, and a majority of our people are deprived of the comforts of life and a fair return for their labors; and

Whereas a self constituted plutocracy have taken over the control of our government, monopolized our natural resources and the necessities of life; and are putting into operation and practice policies which are subversive to the principles proclaimed in our constitution and Declaration of Independence, and destructive to the freedom and welfare of the great majority of the people of our state, and

He, with his wife and two children, will be in Eastland over the week-end and Mr. Darby will occupy the pulpit at both the morning and evening services. He recently filled the pulpit here on invitation of the committee to call a pastor.

He is expected to advise the congregation on his visit here whether or not he will accept the call.

Case Affirmed

AUSTIN, Feb. 25.—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed the life sentence given Hess Tyler in Donley county on conviction of killing Bryan Nall in Hall county in 1930.

A new trial was ordered for John L. Green, who received a death verdict in Medina county as a participant in the killing of Frank Kempf.

The case of Buford Armstrong from Eastland county was also affirmed.

Mrs. Carl Springer and Mrs. James Horton were Fort Worth visitors last week.

Billy Williams of Frederick, Oklahoma, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Williams, South Seaman street, last week.

Four Are Held On Justice Charge

The Eastland city police force caught four men Wednesday with 30 gallons gasoline in their possession said to have been stolen from the Consolidated Gasoline company plant.

Charges were filed against them this morning in Justice of the Peace Newman's court. They gave their names as Henry and Charley Stevenson and William and Clarence Casey.

They were apprehended by Patrolman Meek and one of them was taken but the others made their escape. The other three were caught after a chase east of the city. They made a statement to Assistant County Attorney Grady Owen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woods and little daughter returned to their home in San Antonio Tuesday. They were called to the bedside of Mrs. Woods' father, S. M. Root, who has been seriously ill here, but his condition is reported as greatly improved.

4-H Clubs to Be Organized Soon

County Agent J. C. Patterson and Miss Ruth Ramey, county home demonstration agent, are perfecting plans for the beginning of organization work among the Eastland county club boys and girls in the immediate future. Last year there were 10 boys and girls 4-H clubs in the county, but due to consolidations there possibly will not be more than eight this year.

Organization of the clubs and the election of officers for each organization accomplished the clubs will begin getting ready for the annual trip to the A. & M. College for the agricultural short course, which, heretofore, has been held during the last week in July, but which may be held earlier this year on account of the elections, which will take place in July. I having been pointed out that if the short course is held during the last week of July many attending could not reach their homes in time to vote if they remained at College Station for the entire program.

Mr. Patterson is very anxious that as many of the boys and girls as possible attend the short course this year. He states that $216.00 is the very least two members from each club may attend the short course for.

Eastland People Hear Gen. Butler

Among those attending the address given last Friday night in Abilene by General Smedley D. Butler were: Samuel Butler and children, General Butler's mother; Mrs. Bula Connelley and daughter Miss Jane; Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Seaberry, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Springer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Weaver and daughter, Virginia; A. H. Furse, Dr. H. B. Tanner; K. B. Tanner and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Turner.

General Butler spent the week-end in Eastland with his mother and brother.

Two Are Held On Suspicion After Car Is Wrecked

Four men were brought to Eastland Wednesday by Constable Todd of Gorman and placed in jail for investigation.

The men had had an automobile accident and Todd was called out to the scene. After they had gone on toward Gorman the constable became suspicious of their actions and the contents of their car and telephoned Chief of Police Lee Reid to apprehend them if they came into Eastland.

Todd followed the men and overtook them in Gorman, placed them under arrest and brought them into Eastland where their car was searched. The car contained cans of gasoline, new tires, several new shirts, new shoes, two guns and a half gallon of whisky. Some postage stamps were found on them which had been missed after a filling station had been robbed in Carbon recently.

The men gave their residence as Pioneer, but gave the police different names.

Highway Cutoff Favored By Ely

AUSTIN, Feb. 25.—W. R. Ely, chairman of the state highway commission, here today for a conference with Gov. Sterling, said his mind was made up for the construction of the Highway No. 1 cutoff between Weatherford and Ranger.

A delegation from Mineral Wells and Breckenridge will be here Monday to protest the proposed cutoff.

"I am like the man who said he could give the Kaiser a fair trial and then hang him," said Ely when asked about the protests.

Opposition to the cutoff has been well organized during the past month, Judge Ely said.

The proposed cutoff is 45 miles long, reducing by 14 miles the route now followed by Highway 1, via Mineral Wells and Breckenridge.

The highway commission has received pleas for the cutoff from many more places than have objected, Ely said.

The highway commission has been notified there will also be a protest here at next week's meeting against the designation of a road from Abilene to Bronte. A Sweetwater delegation will present the protest.

Jury Commission Selects Members Of Grand Jury

Boland, Scranton; Geo. Brogdon, Eastland; G. N. Collins, Eastland; L. B. Norwell, Cisco; W. D. Conway, Ranger; R. L. Cooner, Gorman; Will Koonce, Rising Star; W. J. Speer, Carbon.

Gas Company Is Ordered to Set Removed Meter

Hon. George L. Davenport of the 91st district court issued a mandatory injunction Saturday ordering the Community Natural Gas company to connect a gas meter at the home of George Bryant of Eastland.

Bryant was plaintiff in injunction proceedings in the 88th district court about six weeks ago when the gas company was restrained by court order from collecting a rate of more than 75 cents per thousand for gas to Bryant and three other plaintiffs.

The gas company made bond to the court and moved that the case be transferred to federal court where the Eastland gas rate matter is already in litigation.

When time came for payment of gas bills this month, Bryant refused to pay a rate in excess of 75 cents per thousand and the gas company disconnected his meter.

As a result of the court order issued Saturday a meter was re-set at the Bryant home. In the ordinary course of business the case will be heard at the April term of the 91st district court. The gas company may introduce a motion to hold a hearing sooner if it so desires.

Farm Feed and Seed Committees Are Appointed

Committees to handle Federal Farm Feed and Seed Loans for Eastland county were named this week and will begin functioning as soon as application blanks and instructions have been received. County agent Patterson has been notified that copy for the blanks was in the hands of the printer and the blanks would be available in a short time. Until they have been received nothing can be done about taking applications.

The feed and seed loan is a federal organization and is nationwide. It will operate this year in somewhat the same manner it was operated last year it is stated.

The Eastland county committee is composed of John Thurman, stockman of Ranger; W. E. Tyler, banker of Rising Star; W. S. Michael, Eastland county auditor, Eastland.

Local committees for the various towns of the county are: Ranger—Edwin George, Tom Carter, Clarence May; Eastland—Earl Johnson, Neill Moore, Curtis Kimbrell; Rising Star—Frank Robertson, F. E. Tunwell, Fred Roberts; Carbon—W. W. Sneed, E. R. Yarbrough, W. W. Gilbert; Cisco—J. E. Spitzer, J. J. Collins, F. E. Hurrell; Gorman—(to be named).

SEIZE STILL

A raiding party from the sheriff's office visited a farm south-east of Eastland and returned with a large still. It was made of galvanized iron rather than the usual conner material. A previous raid on the same property netted a still made out of an old gasoline drum.

No arrests were made since there was no person near the still at the time of the capture.

Mr. and Mrs. John Z. Martin, Mrs. Mattie Lee Wadsworth and Miss Ruth Hightower of Breckenridge were guests of Judge and Mrs. J. E. Hickman, Sunday.

Mrs. Ray Streight of McPherson, Kansas, arrived Tuesday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Williams and other relatives here.

Prison System Costs Much Money—Tax Increase 117.9 Pct.

AUSTIN, Feb. 25.—The little price for its big crop of cotton left the Texas prison system $894,502 in the hole in 1931.

That was shown by the annual finance report of George A. Hight, auditor of the prison system, just filed with the official prison audit board of which Treasurer Charley Lockhart is chairman.

The system produced 11,424 bales of cotton, of which it had sold 9,346 at an average price of 6,964 cents per pound, for a total revenue of $337,585. It had on hand 2,077 bales, values on inventory at $77,196.

It sold 9,999,640 pounds of cottonseed for $53,606, and has on hand 2,064,936 pounds more, valued on inventory at $22,896.

Trail balances debits of the prison system showed a cumulative deficit of $1,790,617; a property and inventory account of $5,282,497; and receipts and disbursements of $1,634,512. Its credits included an unused balance of all appropriations of $1,634,512.

All prison farms showed losses. Net gains were reported from the machine shop, shoe shop, wagon factory and print shop, amounting to $26,000. The state collected $1500 rent on the Shaw prison farm in Bowie county. Net gains of the shoe shop were $14,171; print shop, $4,601; wagon factory, $4,926, and the machine shop, $7,470.

Excess in costs over revenues of the system was accounted for under these headings:

Administration . . . $257,267
Huntsville prison . . . 201,635
Stone . . . 11,925
Canning plant . . . 1,029
Blue Ridge farm . . . 45,611
Central farm . . . 65,182
Clemens farm . . . 22,276
Darrington farm . . . 16,863
Eastham farm . . . 32,247
Ferguson farm . . . 37,995
Gore farm . . . 5,513
Harlem farm . . . 53,376
Ramsey farm . . . 102,157
Retrieve farm . . . 16,445
Wynne farm . . . 52,592

Appropriations for guards in the system for the year amounted to $369,000, for groceries, $425,000; for livestock feed, $115,000; for clothing and bedding, $110,000; contingent expenses, transportation and general items, including recapture expenses, $325,000.

The 139-page statistical report was typewritten at the prison system's office and was bound in the prison print shop.

The operating and maintenance cost included $29,778,460 appropriations for education in the cities, counties and districts.

MEN IN HER LIFE

with LOIS MORAN CHARLES BICKFORD Directed by William Beaudine

Novelization by arrangement with COLUMBIA PICTURES

WHAT HAS HAPPENED.

Julia Cavanaugh, pretty and aristocratic but penniless society girl, after being disappointed in a promise of marriage to the Count Ivan Karloff, accepts a post of teaching Flash Madden, retired New York racketeer, the rector of a gentlemen's club. In Paris she meets and becomes engaged to Dick Webster.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

No sooner had Dick left, elated that Julia had accepted him, than Flash called.

"Julia, do you mind if I ask you something?" he asked.

"Not at all."

"It's been on my mind a long time and I want you to give me some advice. It—it's about a girl."

"A girl?" Julia was genuinely surprised.

Flash gulped. "Yeah—I'm in love."

"Why, that's marvelous! Who is she? What's she like?" She arose from the couch and started toward him.

"The man stood by the table. He

"Of course not."

He swallowed hard. "Thanks. Then I'm gonna say to her, 'Honey, I've been crazy about you for years. And lately, it's got so bad I can't sleep nights. There's nothing in the world I wouldn't do to make you happy. I know I gotta lot of nerve to ask you, but do you think you could even care for me a little bit? Do you think you could care enough to—to marry me?' Well, there it is. Whaddaya think of it?"

"I think it's beautiful."

"You do? Do you think I'll make the grade?"

"If she loves you, Yes, I know, for five minutes ago a man proposed to me, and it wasn't half as nice a spiel as yours, but I accepted him at once, because I've always loved him."

There was tragedy in Flash's voice. "You—you accepted him?"

"Yes. It's Dick Webster. Aren't you going to wish me luck?"

The lad was still a bit dazed.

"First I'm going to take hold of her hands, like this," said Flash. (Posed by Lois Moran and Charles Bickford.)

looked straight at her, his voice hoarse. "She's wonderful!"

"Well—that is a surprise!"

Flash looked away. "I'm kinda stumped, though. I wanta ask her to marry me and I don't know how to handle it. Thought you could help me. I got my spiel all set. I figured it out last night. But it may be all screwy for all I know. I want you to tell me if I'm on the right track, so's I won't gum up the works."

Julia smiled. "But girls are different. She might not like your—ah—spiel as much as I do."

He turned quickly. "If you like it—it's a cinch she will. Would you like to hear what I was gonna say to her?"

"Of course I would."

Flash piloted Julia over to the divan and seated her. Then he drew up a chair close to her and sat facing her. She looked back at him wondering how to get out of the miserable situation without hurting him. He squirmed uncomfortably, trying to get up courage to go ahead.

"First I'm going to take hold of her hands, like this. You don't mind, do you?"

"Yeah—sure." Then gaining control of himself. "You bet I do! Say, that's great! When's it coming off?"

"We haven't decided yet. We're sailing tomorrow on the Bremen."

Thus the lessons in being a gentleman ended abruptly and Flash saw no more of Julia until he was back in America and she sent for him. He had resolved not to go to the wedding, but Julia insisted that he must. While they were discussing it, Count Ivan Karloff arrived and insisted upon seeing Julia in private. She received him in the library adjoining the room in which she was entertaining Flash.

The look upon Julia's face when she left convinced Flash that something was wrong. He therefore listened at the door to the conversation between Julia and Ivan.

"What do you want?" she asked.

"May I congratulate you on your—"

"Thanks," she said bitingly.

"You should be very happy—to be marrying the son of a famous senator—"

Julia was cold. "I'm not interested in your opinion. What do you want?"

Oscar Privett Trial Delayed

Due to the absence and sickness of material witnesses, the prosecution asked for a continuance of the trial when the case of the state against Oscar Privett was called for trial in the 91st district court Monday morning.

Attorneys for the defense insisted on going to trial since they had called in witnesses from long distances. Judge Davenport ruled that the state was entitled to a continuance and set the date for trial on March 21.

A special venire of 100 men was on hand from which to select a jury. Judge Davenport excused them and told them to return March 21 for trial.

Privett was tried once here and found guilty and sentenced to 20 years. The criminal court of appeals reversed the case and remanded it for new trial. He is charged with the murder of Melvin Dunson at Ranger.

BURGLARS ACTIVE
Evidently surprised in their attempt and being scared away, burglars entered the yard of the Pickering Lumber company in Eastland Saturday night about 9 o'clock and tried to open the safe. They knocked the knob off but failed to get the safe opened before they became alarmed and ran away. Two men had been seen about the place earlier in the evening and were chased away. They ran close enough to a neighbor that a good description was obtained but they were not identified.
B. B. King and wife of Fort Worth were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Owen Monday. Mrs. Owen is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. King.

Saturday night after Belle Lettres meeting the O. C. U. club of W. M. U. were entertained by Miss Irene Smith, in Miss Ward's room. The five members wore the club uniform. No visitors were admitted. All members of the club roared marshmallows and told ghost stories. We might also add that all members of the club looked under the bed and in the closets before retiring. In the wee, small hours queer noises were heard in the room by Miss Smith and Miss Ward. As yet the noises have not been identified.

Sports. On Tuesday night, Feb. 16, the Stags journeyed to Abilene to meet their freshman five in a fast game of basketball. The A. C. C. court is very large and our boys were caught lagging as the A. C. C. boys poured in goal after goal. The Stags were not completely routed, however, for they managed to make 10 points. J. W. Greathouse and Mit Kardatzke tied for high point honors with four points each to their credit and Edd White and Arlin Kardatzke each managed to drop one free throw through the hoop. The final whistle blew with A. C. C. having 35 and Warner having but 10.

Girls' Gym. I should say we're not having basketball practice anymore! It did not look much like basketball last Friday when Miss Ward called us into her room and make all of us lay down flat upon the floor. We finally found out after much confusion that she only wanted us to take some exercise and play a few games. Whew!

Campus. Miss Ruth Hamon, Mr. Lester Crose, Mr. Aubrey Forrest, Mr. Russell Barber, and Mr. Edd White were entertained by Miss Frances June Seth Sunday evening after church.

Miss Frances June Seth spent the week-end with Miss Ruth Bruner. Miss Ella Mae Hagan, a niece of Miss Purnie Hagan, was a visitor at the school over the week-end. Miss Lydia Courvisier has packed her grip and come to stay a whole week in the dormitory.

Sybil is happy but their next door neighbors may lose sleep. Miss Frances Ward, Miss Irene Smith, and Professor Carl Kardatzke, teachers of Warner Memorial university, were judges of the debate which was held at the Eastland high school auditorium Friday. The debate was between Gorman and Eastland. The judges made their decision in favor of the Gorman team.

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Baddorf entertained with an informal party Saturday evening in their home. The guests included Misses Frances June Seth, and Ruth Bruner, Messrs. Aubrey Forrest and Elmer Kardatzke. The evening was spent in playing flinch and rook. Mr. Kardatzke and Miss Bruner seemed have the most victories, although they did permit Miss Seth and Mr. Forrest to win one or two games to keep them in a good humor. Mrs. Baddorf served her guests with delicious home-made cookies.

Plan Debate. The freshman English class is planning a debate for young people's meeting, this coming Sunday night. The question is, "Resolved, That Young People's Associations in the Church Should Do Social Service Work."

The speakers on the affirmative side will be Ellen Abernathy and Nora Ferguson. The speakers on the negative side are Nina Mae Williams and Elmer Kardatzke. We are looking forward to having a large crowd. Everyone that is interested in social service work, will enjoy the debate.

Discussed in Meeting. Sunday, Jan. 21, a very interesting discussion was held by the young people on "A Christian Conscience." The discussion was general. Many good points were touched upon and, it is hoped, improved our knowledge of what our conscience should be. The discussion was led by Prof. Carl Kardatzke.

Personal Description. Who: Mabel Abernathy. From: Oklahoma City, Okla. Standing: Putnam City high school graduate of 1930. She is a student in W. M. U. now. Description: She is of a fair complexion, has blonde hair, and makes a first class waitress in the dining hall. She is gentle and modest and has a bit of timidity. She carries her head high and drags her feet low. She is six feet tall less six inches and weighs 140 pounds "avoidpoups." She hates English and despises trig. She has a very good creative mind for she helped to name the freshman mascot, Fek. She is susceptible to learning as she already knows how to make "Mit" obey her in the kitchen.

Chapel Notes. Wednesday: Mrs. Mabel Hale talked in chapel Wednesday. The theme of her talk was "Who Is the Center of My World?" She made a very interesting talk on this. If everyone would put Christ the center as she suggested, the world would not be a selfish world, but one of kindness.

Friday—The freshman class had charge of the chapel exercises Friday morning. The class favored the listeners with two hymns and Miss Nora Ferguson played a guitar solo. Elmer Kardatzke sang a solo to the surprise of the class who did not know it was to be sung. Monday—Dr. Wilson talked of the greatness of the Father of Our Country, George Washington. He pointed out many interesting things about Washington. One of these was that he was a Christian. He also said that as Washington arose to lead our country in his day, someone would be found to lead the world through the trouble which now exists.

Whereas under said policies the burden of taxation to support our local governments has been saddled upon the farms, homes, and non-productive property in the hands of the average citizen, while the intangible property of the corporations and monopolies, the notes, stocks, bonds, and tax-free securities of all kinds held by the wealthy class escape taxation; and

Whereas under said policies the condition of the people has become intolerable, the wealth of the nation is being gathered into the hands of a few billionaires and monopolies, and the people are being reduced to a state of peonage, are losing their farms and homes by tax sales and foreclosures, their schools being closed, their businesses ruined, and independence gone; and

Whereas a majority of our representatives in Congress and the State Legislature drawing good salaries themselves, seem to be unaware of the facts, or indifferent to conditions of the people, have failed and refused to adopt such constructive changes in our economic laws and policies as will remove the cause of present condition, and are even slow in providing temporary relief of charity and "doles" which are obnoxious to red-blooded Americans who are entitled to justice and a fair division of the increasing wealth and profits of a whole.

Therefore, we the people of Eastland County, Texas, have organized the Eastland County Taxpayers' association, and hereby declare our principles, policies and purposes, toward the accomplishment of which, we pledge our united efforts.

We demand that any candidate who seeks our support for the office of state legislator or state senator, shall publicly and specifically declare that he will do all in his power, if elected, to bring about the following reforms, to-wit:

1. The abolition of the fee system for all public offices in the state, and substitute therefor reasonable salaries.

2. A bill to re-district and reduce the number of Judicial Districts of the State.

3. To do whatever might be necessary to consolidate the following county offices: a. The offices of County Auditor and County Treasurer. b. The offices of Tax Assessor and Tax Collector.

4. The transfer of a sufficient amount of gasoline taxes to the respective counties of the state to be used in liquidating the bonded debts for roads in such counties.

5. Provide for one assessment for taxes in each county for all purposes and the same process and machinery for collection of all delinquent taxes in the county, state and schools.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

JESUS RAISES LAZARUS

Text: John 11:32-44. The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 28. By WM. E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of The Congregationalist. What I have said formerly in this column concerning miracles applies with even greater force to this miracle of the raising of Lazarus from the dead. If we could explain it, it would not be a miracle.

And Jesus said, Lazarus, come forth.

In the presence of the miracle there will always be those who find it easy to believe, and those for whom belief is difficult. Discussion of belief and unbelief in relation to such matters can help very little.

Fortunately the miracles recorded in the New Testament take us very quickly beyond the miracle to the spiritual truth and the wonderful working power of the new life in Jesus.

If these miracles were simply and only stories of magic, we should have little reason to dwell upon them for the enrichment of our religious lives. It is the fact that they are associated with the life and teaching of Jesus that gives them significance.

The power of Jesus to give new life to dead bodies would be little if we had no faith in his power to bring life to dead souls.

Our own age reveals strange and intense contrasts in the reaction of various minds to the miracles. Apart from the two extremes of those who take the literal and traditional view and the so-called "modernists" who believe that the realities of Christian faith and teaching do not depend upon the literal acceptance of the stories of miracles, we find two attitudes or temperaments.

There are those whose attitude might be called that of material science, who see everything in the world operating within the realm of law, and of laws, the effects of

7. Amend Art. 1121 of 1925 R. S. so as to include Telegraph and Telephone companies; and provide that all properties of corporations engaged in the public utility business of any kind be assessed for taxation at the same valuation which they place upon said property as a basis for computing the rate charged for such utility services.

8. which can be measured and stated in material terms.

But we see, also, intelligent men and women who believe that the laws of the universe are not confined to material effects that can be measured. They believe that we are in a world of spirit, and that phenomena quite as remarkable as the miracles described in the New Testament are happening in the world today.

The conflict between these two attitudes and tempers is exceedingly keen, but it cannot be said that the eminent and the intelligent are wholly upon one side.

Such men as the late Conan Doyle, and Sir Oliver Lodge, have had implicit faith in spiritual powers and forces that operate in quite as remarkable ways as the raising of Lazarus from the dead.

Moderate men who take into account both sides of such issues may feel that these questions are by no means settled. It may be that we are on the eve of revolutions and discoveries in relation to the spiritual universe which will change our ideas as much as they have been changed in recent years by discoveries in the physical world, such as radio activity.

It is a truism to say that the physical things that are happening today, and that are commonplace in our lives, would have been as miraculous in the time of Christ as the miracles described in the New Testament.

In the midst of all such thoughts we are driven back upon the spiritual interpretation of the Scriptures and the profound significance of Jesus as the giver of spiritual life.

If we do not believe in the life-giving power of Jesus Christ and find the life that he gives, our belief or unbelief about anything else has little importance.

19. That the general expenditure of Eastland county be reduced from every available source.

20. That the County Commissioners notify the holders of the bonds of Eastland County that we are not able to meet the interest and sinking fund on the present indebtedness, and that they secure an agreement whereby re-funding bonds, bearing a lesser rate of interest, will retire the present indebtedness on the basis of twenty-five cents on the dollar.

21. That the Commissioners' Court refrain from making any contract or contracts for the collection of delinquent taxes and to use such means necessary to cancel contracts now in existence.

Respectfully submitted, Committee.

Agricultural Extension News Of Interest to the Farmers

Compiled in the Offices of the County Agent and County Home Demonstration Agent

Preparing the Seed Bed

Luck plays an important function in farming operations. But the planter who depends entirely on luck is finding it more difficult from year to year to make both ends meet. To plant a crop on an improperly prepared seed bed and then expect that crop to be a profitable one is leaving too much to Lady Luck, who the past several years has failed to make good.

When Eastland county takes its proper place as one of the leading agricultural counties of the state the practice of merely scratching the surface of the ground instead of proper seed bed preparation will have passed into the discard. In any discussion of correct farming methods every one will admit that we need some deep plowing; that the soil should be stirred down deep. Yet two to three inches is the average depth that the soil is scratched. This is not seed bed preparation, it is merely trusting to luck to make a crop.

Ever since pipe lines were first laid across Eastland county farm attention has frequently been called to the extra height and unusually high yields of crops planted over the pipe lines. Also it may be noted that a row planted on terraces will outyield by far any other row in the field. Storage of moisture accounts for part of this but not all of the additional yield. There must be a reason.

Here is a beautiful theory that begins to look like a fact. For ages past our plant food has been leaching out of the top soil and accumulating below the surface of the ground in the clay base of the hard-pan. That plant food is there yet for our use if we will go down after it.

In digging for the pipe line or in building a terrace this layer of rich soil below is dug out and mixed with the top soil and weathered and made available to the growing crop. And this accounts for a part of the extra growth of growing crops over pipelines and on new terrace ridges.

Also with the subsoil or hard-pan having been broken up the moisture is allowed deeper penetration into the ground, we do not lose so much of it, the moisture lasts longer after a rain and does not dry out so quickly in an extended dry spell. Plants stay green longer and keep growing, in fact long enough so that sometimes a crop is made that otherwise would be blasted and killed by drought.

Now why not put a pipe line under every row and increase crop yields over the entire field? Couldn't we dig the ditch but leave the pipe out and get the same results? Richer soil—more moisture—a longer growing season—better crops—sure crops and more farm income. And that is what it is all about.

But for 13 years we have watched the pipe line improve a narrow strip of crops and have made no use of the observation. One recommendation for 1932 farming is to make use of the practical demonstrations all around and quit trusting to luck in farming.

In lieu of real subsoiling machinery a bull tongue or other narrow long pointed plow might be used if the land is bedded first then the sub soil plow run in the furrow ten to fourteen inches deep, bedding back on this then opening up this ridge for planting thus placing the seed just above where the deep plowing has been done. A small demonstration on from one to five acres with a check plot planted at the same time to the same crop show exact amount of increased yield is sufficient to prove whether or not this is a theory or a fact.

Yard Demonstrators — Goals for 1932

Fourteen women and six girls have signed as yard demonstrators in home demonstration and 4H Clubs for 1932. All other club members in home demonstration and 4H Clubs are cooperators. These demonstrators are making plans of the yards, as they are by scale, on paper and then making a second plan showing the improvements to be made. By making the plans they have the complete picture before them and do not find in a year's time that all the planting has been in vain and it is all to do over again. We are getting away from the "cutting yards", that is the yard where all the cuttings given by neighbors are put out the first place on finds open when returning home. The demonstrators are shown by the demonstration agent just how to make the plan and the demonstrator in turn shows the cooperators. At the club meetings the cooperators are given a sheet of the blocked paper and they draw a plan of their yard by scale and it is improved with the help of the demonstrator and the agent.

The expense of improving the yard is considered along with the plans and the plants are selected and arranged with the least cost to the individual. Eastland county is well stocked with native material that is available to all and is being used by the club members. The women in town are cooperating in every way, furnishing rooted shrubs and roses and all the cuttings the women can take care of. The native material available: red bud, buck bush, wild honeysuckle, dog wood, plum, bear grass or Spanish dagger, sumac pin or live oak, agrita berry and cedar. Other shrubs and plants used are crape Myrtle, lilac, spirea, Japanese quince or Japonica, Althea, yellow jasmine, Boston ivy, honeysuckle, moon vine, jack beans, Ligustrum, Eucalyptus, mock orange, Amour River privet, pomegranate and a few others.

The goals for the 1932 program are:

1. Each member draw a definite planting plan for beautifying yards and plant the plan as near as possible, or at least make a planting of five foundation shrubs and five screen plants.
2. Grade yards and start grass lawn.
3. Building necessary walks, using native rock.
4. Keep records of own work and that of cooperators.

The following women and girls are yard demonstrators: Mrs. Henry Wilson, Flatwood; Mrs. Scott Nobles, Carbon; Miss Fula Hill, Okra; Mrs. Claude Hill, Okra; Mrs. J. T. Coursey, North Star; Miss Alma Townsend, Cook; Mrs. J. E. Stansell, Nimrod; Mrs. Ed McCannies, Friendship; Mrs. H. O. Hearn, Reagan; Mrs. L. C. Owens, Grapevine; Mrs. R. H. Walker, Grapevine; Mrs. O. C. Bowen, Colony; Mrs. E. C. Shipp, Ranger; Mrs. Earney Todd, Bass Lake; Mrs. J. E. Wright, Elm; Mrs. W. E. Clements, Kokomo.

Mrs. W. D. R. Owen

By Hazel Tilley
Bessie Mae Owen was born in Caluert, Texas, where she started to school, graduated and was married. Mrs. Owen was barely fifteen years old when she graduated from high school, therefore she was the youngest member of her class.

Mrs. Owen attended college at S. M. U., Dallas, and North Texas State Teacher's College, Denton. She taught for four years at Orange, Texas, where she was principal of a ward school.

Mrs. Owen was so very fond of her name that she has always kept it. She married Mr. W. D. R. Owen, football coach, in 1913. Together they taught for two years at Whitesburg. When Mr. Owen decided to practice law he brought his wife to Eastland, in 1919. Here Mrs. Owen accepted a position in the Eastland school system and has taught ever since. Mrs. Owen teaches history in Junior high, she is also coaching Senior spelling and essay.

Mrs. Owen has never grown up (in stature), but she is nevertheless forceful. In her quiet and dignified manner she has won many admirers.

Observations

The following item goes to prove the contention of some that girls are smarter than boys. The first places in the Lions club essay were won by four girls. 1. Jane Connelley; 2. Martha Agnes Weaver; 3. Hazel Tilley; 4. Melrose Henderson. No boy got a place.

Our Debate team is improving. Last Tuesday night they won a debate from Cross Plains by a three to nothing decision. The girls debate Alameda today.

Chapel Notes

By Florence Perkins
At the Thursday afternoon assembly hour Mr. Palm read the "lost and found" list. The high school students are very prompt about turning in found articles.

Coach Gibson announced that the Eastland team had won the county championship in basketball. The team had won the game with Morton Valley that was played Wednesday night. Coach introduced the following boys as our team: Delmer Brown, Elmer Brown, Lee Taylor, Truett Fulcher, Robert Barrington, Desmond Daniels, Estes Burgamy, Eldress Gattis, Donald Kitley, Zack Meek, Willie Taylor, Jim Tindall and Elmer Liles. These boys left Friday afternoon to play in Mineral Wells. Announcements concerning the debating team were made. Bob McGlamery made a short speech, in which he defined lobbying, the debate subject, and gave the introduction of the affirmative debate. Fletcher McWilliams made a short talk, and impressed the importance of debate work for the high school.

The students, led by S. J. Arthur recited the American creed in unison and were dismissed.

The Camp Fire Girls had very clever manner. This entourage of the program Monday. This program was presented in a tainment speaks very favorably of the guardianship of Mrs. Harrell, who is at the head of the Camp Fire Girls.

The student body recited the American creed in unison.

West Ward School News

In observance of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington, the pupils of the fifth grade, directed by Mrs. Earle Johnson, presented a patriotic program on Monday afternoon, Feb. 22. The assembly room was decorated with flags which formed a background for the stage.

The first number on the program was a piano selection, "Bi-centennial March," by Mrs. F. O. Hunter. Rae Mildred Hearne read "Washington, the Boy." A playlet, presented by the children of the fifth grade, portrayed the life of Washington as told by his grandchildren. A special addition to the play was a reading and encore given by Mary Frances Hunter, accompanied by her mother at the piano. Each character in the play was appropriately dressed in Colonial costume, giving a most effective air to the entire program. The playlet ended with a minuet danced by James Daniels and Edna Clark. Children taking part in the play were: Oual Barseley, Edna Clark, James Daniels, Junior Martin, Mary Shepherd, Marv Nell Crowell, Wynema Bond, Frances Robinson, Marie Hilburn, Georgia Mae Bishop, Marvin Lee Jordan, Anna Joe Tableman, Angelina Meredith, Lottie Bell Honea and guest, Mary Frances Hunter.

The West Ward P. T. A. is taking active steps to level and fill in the playground of West Ward. Sand and crushed rock are being hauled and everything possible is being done to protect the children from unnecessary chances during this extreme hot weather.

Notwithstanding the weather was rainy and cold more than 100 members of the club were present at the theatre last Saturday. They were rewarded for having braved the rain and cold weather by seeing a good picture and having a good club program.

Next Saturday is the day to reach the 500 membership goal. Let every member bring a new member possible to that day. Remember that on next Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Beiche of the theatre will give a Mickey Mouse shirt and tie to the girl who brings in the largest number of new members during the past week and this week.

We don't know just what will be on the program this week. We do know, however, that there will be the usual good Mickey Mouse comedy. Yes, and this is the date for the beginning of a new series picture, "Buffalo Bill." Every Mickey Mouse should be there to see the first chapter of the splendid picture. If you see the first installment you will want to see them all.

It will not be long now until time for the club to elect new officers. Better begin now to think about who you are going to vote for the various positions. Remember that you will cast your ballots through this column. The new officers. Watch for further announcements concerning the coming election.

Miss Williamson, who is in charge of the Mickey Mouse members while they are in the shop and at the club, complimented members very highly on the 500 Mickey Mouse song and learn to sing it so well. It sure is great to hear the hundreds of children voices singing this together.
