

Junior Class to Present "Arrival of Kitty" April 28

In the presentation of the Junior Class play next week, the class is complimenting Better Homes Week. Friends and school are eagerly awaiting "The Arrival of Kitty," the clever entertainment, in which William Winkler, played by Ed Pritchard Jr., mysteriously turns to the actress, Kitty Benders, played by Maxine Jordan. Winkler's old maid sister-in-law, Jane (Marie Shoopman) has an overwhelming desire for a husband and a "Better Home." Two young folk very much in love, Bobby Baxter and Jane, played by Jack Grubbs and Florence Perkins, decide after many misunderstandings, to establish a "Better Home." Surely not Moore's fault that he has not established a "Better Home," for he expends plenty of thought and energy, but the result is left for you to see for yourself. However, the home-loving spirit has been caught by Ting, which he puts into use with his tactful and comical matchmaking.

A final touch is given this play by the clever acting of Conard Reeves, in role of Sam, colored porter, entirely too busy to show his inclination toward a "Better Home" though he is understood to have this year.

Affairs may seem complicated, but wait until after "The Arrival of Kitty" and then things do begin to happen.

Only Few Days Left for Farmers To Make Loans

Only a few days remain in which the farmers of Eastland county may make application for a federal crop production loan according to Owen W. Sherrill, regional director of the Farmers' Seed Loan office in Dallas.

"April 30th is the deadline as provided in the act appropriating the funds," states Mr. Sherrill, "and anyone who expects to secure a loan must make application on or before that date."

"While local committees have served faithfully in the limited time at their disposal, it is believed that there are many farmers in the state who are worthy and eligible for a loan who have not been fully informed on how their need for credit may be taken care of. There are perhaps many others sorely in need of a loan with which to make a crop this year who have not made application because of a misunderstanding of the requirements."

"In order that true facts of the Loan Plan may be carried to all such persons and that every farmer deserving a loan may have the opportunity of making an application, plans are being set in motion in a meeting at the Dallas headquarters office on Saturday whereby an intensive educational campaign will be put underway for next week to bring the information to the doors of every community."

The loan committees in many are arranging a schedule of visits to every community in the county beginning Monday the 18th. The central office force and corp of stenographers is being moved to the various towns for a day in each place. While on the ground, the committee will answer questions, clear up misunderstandings or erroneous impressions and help prepare applications for every eligible farmer in the community who wishes to apply. Advance notice of the schedule of visits throughout the county will be made.

"It is not the intention of the Farmers' Seed Loan office to solicit applications," states Mr. Sherrill, "nor do we wish to encourage anyone not eligible to apply but we do want to feel that we have made a conscientious effort to see that every worthy person has the correct information and has the opportunity of securing a loan, that there may be no regrets after the application period passes."

Judge Davenport Sent to Tyler

Hon. George L. Davenport of the 91st district court left Saturday morning for Tyler where he has been appointed to sit as a special judge for two weeks and assist in disposing of some of the oil litigation cases on the docket there. This is the second time Judge Davenport has been sent to Tyler this spring.

Hon. Elzo Been of the 88th court, who has been in Longview for the past two weeks on a similar appointment, has returned and will resume his own court Monday.

J. R. Stubblefield

Veteran Eastland attorney and county pioneer, who was buried Monday.

Veteran Member of Eastland Bar Died Here Sun.

J. R. Stubblefield, pioneer citizen of Eastland county and until recently an active law practitioner, died Saturday night at the home of his sister, Mrs. T. M. Wilson in Eastland.

Judge Stubblefield had been in failing health for several months and his passing away had been expected for several days. His prominence among lawyers together with his wide acquaintance among citizens of the county made his death a shock to the community.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2:30 from the Methodist Church with Rev. George Shearer officiating.

The following obituary was handed this paper by a close friend of the family: John Rich Stubblefield was born Nov. 25, 1867, in Rockingham county, North Carolina. His father was Tilman Jackson Stubblefield, and his mother was Mary Frances Moore Stubblefield.

After two years' active participation as a Southern soldier in the war between the states Tilman Jackson Stubblefield returned to his North Carolina home. In a large measure he shared the common fate of many Southern soldiers whose fortunes were practically destroyed by the Civil War. In the spring of 1868 he moved with his family to Callaway county, Kentucky, where they remained until the fall of 1870, when the family moved to Robertson county, Texas, and settled near Bremond. This portion of Texas at that time was, in a large measure, a pioneer country. With the spirit of energy and determination characteristic of the Stubblefield family, renewed efforts were made to again acquire and establish a home, and to maintain and educate the family. On July 4, 1873, Frances Moore Stubblefield passed to the Great Beyond, but Tilman Jackson Stubblefield, faithfully and loyally, kept the family together. In 1886 he, accompanied by John Rich Stubblefield and other members of the family, moved to Eastland county, Texas.

Good country schools and the high school in Bremond, Texas, as well as private instruction, afforded John Rich Stubblefield the opportunity for a common school education. In 1888 he became a student in the literary department of the University of Texas, and in 1893 he entered the law department of the Texas State University, from which department he was graduated June 20, 1894. On June 21, 1894, he was admitted to the practice of law by the supreme court of the State of Texas. He began the practice of law at Eastland (Continued on page 2)

Man Loses Foot In An Accident

W. D. Baker, age 35, whose home is in Paris, Texas, was picked up in the Texas & Pacific railroad yards about 4 o'clock Saturday morning suffering from an injured foot.

He was taken to the Payne hospital in Eastland where it was found necessary to amputate his left foot. His condition is reported as satisfactory.

He told Dr. Carter that he was in this country looking for work and was riding a freight train. He got his foot caught in a car coupling, badly mashing it and amputation was necessary.

Baker has a wife and five children in Paris.

TREE GREW AROUND HORN

MEDFORD, Ore.—Fifty years ago Gede Provolt of Williams Creek placed an ox horn in the fork of a tree. The other day he was chopping up a block of wood and found the oxhorn, completely imbedded.

Nelson Candy Co. Is Located Here

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Nelson, who a short time ago moved from Eastland to Breckenridge, have moved back to Eastland and Mr. Nelson has located his business, which is to be known as the C. T. Nelson Candy Company, in the Beard building on the west side of the square.

Associated with Mr. Nelson in the business will be his brother, C. C. Nelson, who came here from Dallas. Mrs. C. C. Nelson and baby girl will arrive in Eastland within a few days.

Eastland Will Have a Better Homes Program

Eastland will take a great interest in the observance of Better Homes week by a co-operative program between the ladies in charge of the program and merchants and civic clubs.

Nineteen merchants have agreed to devote window space to be used in displays of Better Homes propagation. The windows will be decorated by various women in charge of their respective departments. Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins is county chairman and Mrs. W. K. Jackson is city chairman.

The observance will begin Sunday morning when the church programs will devote a part of their time to the subject of Better Homes. Mrs. J. A. Beard will be in charge of the program at the Christian church and Mrs. J. L. Cottingham will have charge at the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. W. K. Jackson has been invited to address the general assembly at chapel at Warner Memorial university Monday morning.

Monday evening beginning at 8 there will be a band concert at the high school auditorium. On this musical program will appear the Hunter and the Taylor glee clubs. These two musical organizations are from the ward schools of the city.

A program has been arranged for Tuesday evening to be given on the band stand on the public square. The loud speaker system will be installed for it. The cast of "The Arrival of Kitty," high school play, will present an excerpt from the show. Mrs. Jackson has also arranged for some tap dancers, a darky barker and a chorus of negro boys.

Other programs will be given throughout the week to make a complete week of interest in the Better Homes week.

HAIL AND RAIN

Much damage to gardens and some damage to fruit trees was reported throughout a large part of Eastland county on Tuesday as a result of the driving rain and hail Monday afternoon and night.

Some reported that their young vegetables had been entirely ruined by the hail while fruit was reported to have been knocked from trees in some instances, though the damage to fruit was rather slight.

Most field crops were said today to be unharmed by the hail as in most instances the crops had not matured enough to be hurt.

Floterial Candidate

Cecil A. Lotief of Cross Plains, who is candidate for Representative of the 107th District, composed of Eastland and Callahan counties.

Cecil A. Lotief Announces For Use Pure Texas Seed For Test

AUSTIN.—Texas certified cotton seed will be used by the Mexican government in its cotton variety standardization experiment projects in the El Paso and Cameron districts, according to R. V. Miller, chief of the seed certification division of the department of agriculture.

Several large shipments of Texas certified seed, sufficient to plant several thousand acres of cotton, have gone from the Grimes county area of Texas to the two Mexican projects. The Mexican government is directing the Cameron project, located just below Nueva Laredo, and will permit only standard varieties of pure seed to be used. As no recognized source of pure seed was available in Mexico, Texas certified seed were sought.

The government is attempting to determine the value of community standardized planting to produce uniform staple and variety cotton. A major portion of the project will be planted with Acala variety seed. The experiment is the first major effort of the Mexican government toward improvement of cotton breeding and production methods in that country.

Several small standardization projects are underway in Texas in Gonzales, Lamar and Runnels counties. The United States department of agriculture is assisting in the promotion of the projects for the purpose of studying the merits of the system. It is believed that farmers of a community produce only a standard, high-quality variety of cotton.

DEPOT ROBBED

Burglars entered the Texas & Pacific railway station in Ranger Monday night during the wind and hail storm and robbed the cash drawer of approximately $35. It was reported to police headquarters.

Following is Mr. Lotief's formal announcement: I am not a candidate of any ring or clique and if elected I will be free to serve all sections alike. I consider the office of representative very important; one that should be filled by a business man.

Voters should select representatives, not on hand shaking and smile qualifications, but upon integrity and ability. I favor a strong banking law that will protect depositors. Thousands of people lost their life's savings the past year and in some cases the depositors are too old to recuperate financially, all because of bank failures. Banks should be bonded by a strong bonding company authorized to do business in Texas, and strong enough to protect every depositor so when it is desired to withdraw their money there will be no difficulty in doing so. It is no more unreasonable that depositors should have security than the people should be compelled to give security when they borrow money. (Continued on Page 2)

J. R. Burnett For County Judge

The Tax Payers League of Cisco is actively urging J. R. Burnett, Cisco city commissioner, re-elected on April 5, as a candidate for county judge of Eastland county.

In answer to inquiries Judge Burnett stated that he was being solicited from various portions of the county to make the race and that he had decided to do so and would have a formal statement to make within a short time.

Mrs. Carter died in a Ranger hospital. She was proprietor of the Carter tourist camp, west of Eastland on the Bankhead highway.

The deceased is survived by her husband and three children, Curtis, Charlotte and Cully.

Clyde L. Garrett For Re-election As County Judge

C. L. (Clyde) Garrett, present county judge, announces his candidacy for re-election and his name may be found in the "political announcement" column to be found elsewhere in this paper.

Mr. Garrett is a native of Eastland county, coming from one of its pioneer families. Prior to being elected county judge he had served as county clerk, city manager of Eastland and as a banking executive.

Mr. Garrett will probably publish formal announcement of his candidacy in this paper later and will make an active campaign seeing as many voters as possible between this and the Democratic primaries.

Local Red Cross Distribution of Flour Reported

The following tabulation of four days' distribution of the American Red Cross free flour in Eastland was made today by Dr. H. B. Tanner.

Number of sacks received and stored in the Piggy Wiggly grocery, which they hand out on requisitions from the Chamber of Commerce. All the service is free contribution.

One hundred and ninety-eight 24 1/2-pound sacks.

Forty 49-pound sacks.

Total number of individuals given orders, 135. These individuals report a total of 664 persons in their families. Ninety-nine of these orders were given to white people, 19 to colored, and 17 to Mexicans. Seventy-five orders were given to persons living in the city limits of Eastland, 52 to those living outside of the city in the country, and 10 to citizens of Olden.

In giving out these orders one sheet requires answers to be given to 36 questions. The other sheet requires answers to nine questions. These sheets are all typewritten and are required in duplicate. These papers are all signed by Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who as a member of the executive committee of the local Red Cross is acting as disbursing officer, and all of the papers are also signed by George Brogdon as the other member of the local executive committee of the Red Cross.

Challenge Witch Doctor's Socery

ACCRA, Gold Coast, Africa.—Witch doctors, who for centuries have held the superstitious negroes of West Africa in terror, have been challenged by the Christian missionaries to prove their claims to socery.

So powerful does witchcraft exert its sway over the natives that the missionaries have found their influence blocked and their teachings almost futile. Even Christian converts are unable to shake off the instinctive dread of witches inherited from their jungle ancestors.

A reward of $50 has been offered by the Anglican bishop of Accra, representing the Christian council, to anyone who will demonstrate before the missionaries any of the following feats:

1. Transform himself into a beast, bird, or creeping thing.

2. Extract an article from a sealed box.

3. "Eat" a pawpaw, or other fruit, at a distance of five yards, or more, without touching it.

The offer, first of its kind ever made by British missionaries, is open until the end of July. The power of many fetish priests in the last hundred years has been broken by their exposure as charlatans, and the bishop of Accra feels that a similar exposure of witch doctors would help deliver the negro natives from the fear which grips them.

A law was passed in 1930, prohibiting the practice of witchcraft, but it has little effect. Even the West African newspaper, "Vox Populi," counsels the missionaries to "leave the devil alone."

The chief claims of the African witch doctors are:

Transforming those they dislike into birds or animals.

Passing invisibly through the air, or as a ball of light.

Eating food at a distance without touching it.

Inflicting disease and death by laying "spells."

During the first great influenza epidemic Maude McGwier Stubblefield died, and since then Judge Stubblefield has largely devoted his time and energies to the education of his son.

The public utility question is a very important one due to the fact that it affects practically every home in Texas. For instance, the telephone, electric lights and natural gas especially. It will take a capitalist to pay his utility bills. We are compelled to pay the same price for gas as we paid during the oil boom. At that time we all had money, plenty of work and a man's labor was really worth something. But now everything has gone down except the utilities. There is no remedy for this unless the state legislature can give us a law to protect our homes. Our justifying legislators ignored the party's demand for regulation of utilities. I stand for their regulation 100 per cent.

I favor tax exemption on homes and farms up to 160 acres. I staunchly believe that this will increase home ownership and lower the burden on small men, making big corporations and those who are able to bear the burden take care of their part of the expenses of our government.

I am of the opinion that the highway commission should be elected by the direct vote of the people and not appointed.

Now as to my honesty, ability and character. I ask you good people to make a careful investigation and if you find me worthy of your support, then do your duty by not only voting for me on the day of the election but existing your friends to go likewise. I feel this is a fight for the right and not for me personally. I do not need the office, but I feel the state needs my service and I am willing to serve for the sole benefit of our people. I am a taxpayer and a property owner of Callahan county. I have lived in Cross Plains for the last seven years, and lived in Cisco six years, previous to coming to Cross Plains. I am married, have a wife and two children, and I stand for the right and honesty in government and for lower taxes.

I think it is about time to produce taxes and cut down salaries at Austin. It will take a man with courage and respect for the people's rights to accomplish this change and I beseech you to give the "Golden Rule" a trial.

Sincerely yours,
CECIL A. LOTIEF,
Cross Plains, Texas.

BAR RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH OF JUDGE STUBBLEFIELD

The Eastland County Bar Association has adopted the following resolution relating to the death of Judge Stubblefield, who died here in Eastland a few days ago:

John Rich Stubblefield died at his home in Eastland, Texas, Sunday morning, April 17th. Anno Domini, 1932.

"We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths; in feelings, not in figures on the dial; We should count time by heart-throbs. He most lives who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

This sentiment has renewed inspiration when we are called to mourn and it comes more forcibly as we are brought to the knowledge of the passing from his life of service by our diligent and faithful associate and colleague.

He received the degree of Bachelor of Laws from the University of Texas, June 20, 1894; was licensed to practice law in this State, by the Supreme Court of Texas, June 21, 1894 and began the active practice of law at Eastland, Texas in August, 1894. With the exception of a few years during his early career as a lawyer, when he served this County as County Attorney and later as County Judge, he has continuously engaged in the general practice of law, with his office and home in Eastland, Texas. He was a member of the Bar Association of Eastland County; the State Bar Association of Texas and the American Bar Association. He was devoted to his profession and by precept and example endeavored to maintain the high ideals of the ethics and tenets of that profession. His diligence, knowledge of the law, fidelity to his clients, and his honesty and fair dealing with the Courts and his brother lawyers earned for him the reputation of being one of the ablest and most honorable lawyers of our State. His was an active life. He lived in deeds, in thoughts and in feelings such as are calculated to perpetuate the honor and nobility of our legal profession.

We appreciated him greatly and shall ever cherish his memory. Therefore be it resolved: by the Bar Association of Eastland County:

1st. We deeply deplore the untimely death of our loved and honored brother lawyer.

2nd. We extend our sincere sympathy to W. Tilman Stubblefield, the surviving son and other relatives of our colleague, in this hour of their great distress, and assure them that we too; mourn the loss of their Loved One.

3rd. That a copy hereof be spread on the minutes of the District Court of this County and of the Court of Civil Appeals of this district and that a copy be tendered the local newspapers of Eastland for publication. Respectfully submitted, B. W. Patterson, Earl Conner, R. L. Rust, D. K. Scott, L. R. Pearson, Committee.

The Eastland County Federation will meet in the green room of the Gholson hotel on Saturday afternoon, April 23, with Mrs. M. H. Hagaman acting as chairman of program.
All are urged to attend this meeting.

Baptist Church Notes.
The revival services began very auspiciously Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour, with Bro. L. E. Harrell of Childress, Texas, in charge of the music. Rev. O. B. Darby delivered a stirring message on "The Challenge of the Unreached," showing by figures taken from the recent census that there is much work to be done here. Again at the evening hour there was a challenging message by the pastor.

The morning services during this revival will be from 10 to 11 o'clock during the week, the evening services at 7:15 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend and help in these services.

Recently, in discussing the needs of our nation, Calvin Coolidge, in that clear, concise manner so characteristic of him, said: "The greatest need of our nation is more true religion." We are sure that he was right, the greatest need in our own town is more of the religion of Jesus Christ in our hearts. You will hear messages that will mean much to you by attending this meeting, for Rev. Darby is an earnest, eloquent speaker, filled with compassion for those in our midst who need the religion our ex-president spoke of. You will also enjoy the song service, good old-fashioned hymns as well as the new, led by Bro. Harrell. Come and be with us.

On Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock the Sunbeams will hold their regular meeting at the church under the direction of Mrs. Thos. J. Pitts. The R. A.'s and G. A.'s for the older boys and girls will be held at the same hour and at the same place.

Sunday services will be as follows:
Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; J. C. Allison, superintendent.
Preaching, 11 a. m.; Rev. O. B. Darby preaching.
R. T. S., 6:15 p. m.; S. D. Phillips, director.

Preaching, 7:45 p. m., Rev. O. B. Darby in the pulpit.

Better Homes Campaign Opens In Earnest With Better Homes Week April 24 to May 1
Eastland City Better Homes committee has been busily engaged for the past three weeks, organizing a program of civic interest for Better Homes Week April 24 to May 1 that will be representative of both home, school, musical, club and civic interests, and also include the representation of our Eastland merchants. In lieu of trying to secure an empty or vacant house, for home demonstration of model home the committee decided to ask each merchant to demonstrate some room or feature of a demonstration house, by means of business house show windows, carrying a chain of furnished interiors that would be a replica of same if used in a demonstration home. Complete and spontaneous consent was obtained from all merchants, who will be engaged in these window illustrations of home living.

A garden contest now in progress among school children of South Ward school and West Ward school will be terminated with the judging, which will be done on following points: Neatness, originality, content.

Prizes will be given. Both Rotary and Lions clubs will compliment Better Homes week with special programs for luncheons.

On Tuesday night, April 26, a clever little skit, will be given by dramatic students of Miss Russell and Miss Verna Johnson, high school, and will be a community entertainment.

Plans are progressing for the spirituals concert, to feature Wednesday night of Better Homes week.
Next Saturday, April 23, the quilt exhibit, staged by the ladies of the Methodist Church circle will be the preliminary feature for the opening of Better Homes week.

Special church music will be given in the various places of worship Sunday, April 24, and the Sunday school of the Christian church, under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Beard, will include a little Better Homes program, in lieu of an attempted program by the ladies' society of the church, which at present is not meeting.

The West Ward school is preparing a charming program of songs, readings and essays, to be given by students of fourth and fifth grades, during the school chapel hour, opening 1 p. m., Friday, April 29, in West Ward assembly room.

The big health pageant, a health day feature, and crowning of the health queen, by South Ward school, will be one of the climaxing events for Better Homes week.
Saturday, May 30, closing day of Better Homes week, will be signalized by the musical spring flower show, in community clubhouse, and which is being given under chairmanship of Mrs. J. M. Perkins.

The flower show will be open Sunday from noon to 7 p. m., and during the afternoon, at 4 o'clock the junior musical tea, will open annual music week, of which Mrs. J. M. Perkins is general chairman for Eastland city. Mrs. A. F. Taylor, chairman, and hostess, for junior musical tea, assisted by the music teachers of Eastland, is preparing a brilliant program for this occasion, to which the public is cordially invited.

Little Theatre

Group Presents Its Third Play A crowd which filled the Eastland High school auditorium to capacity braved the threatening weather Monday to see the members of the Eastland Little Theatre present "Mrs. Temple's Telegram." The crowd, composed of lovers of the dramatic art from Eastland, Ranger, Breckenridge, Cisco and other nearby cities proved by its frequent and enthusiastic applause that the presentation was a success and upheld the Little Theatre's reputation of staging their performances in a professional manner. The plot of the play was constructed around the idea of deceitful husbands, lying friends and the irate wife trying to check up on the tergiversations of her helpmate by sending a telegram to satisfy herself that he was truthfully reporting his experiences on a night spent away from home. The play was directed by Loftin Witcher whose ability as a director had already been demonstrated in the previous production, "Meet the Wife." As it is upon the director that the greatest responsibility for the success or failure of a production rests, Eastland may well consider herself fortunate in having so able a director as Loftin Witcher. He was assisted in this production by E. E. Freyschlag. "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" is an English farce comedy in which husbands and wives are involved in ludicrous tangles. Harry Porter as Mr. Temple, aided and abetted by his friend, Frank Fuller, played by Loftin Witcher attempted all evening to explain or rather keep from explaining to his irate wife, Lillian Ann Furse, why he stayed out all night. Curtis Hertig as the talkative butler made the situation continually worse with his droll comments which brought forth roars of laughter from the audience. Mrs. Gray was excellent as the feminine comedienne and played her part with the naive cogency of a finished actress, alternating abruptly from smiles for the cultured Frank Fuller to tears for her husband the hairdresser, which part was irresistibly played by Fletcher McWilliams. Horace Conley was quite convincing in his part as a captain in His Majesty's service and the lover of Mrs. Temple's sister, Dolores Tanner, who was the charming ingenue. Mary McLaughlin as the companion of Mr. Temple in an all-night escapade was quite lovely and enticing. Her nonchalant manner gave a smooth finish to her entire presentation. Harry Porter made a Mr. Temple and pleasing that the whole audience was anxious to help him out of his dilemma. Loftin Witcher was all that could be desired and played his part with all the grace and finesses of an experienced artist. Lillian Ann Furse, playing the lead, was a wife who was torn by love, jealousy and continued confusion was excellent. Her philosophy varied from a sophisticated, "the present fashion in men's coats makes no provision for wings" to, "I never will again doubt my husband, never... never... never" a veritable rainbow of emotions. Walter Clarke was the indispensable producer. The costumes and stage settings were appropriate and effective. This is the third success of the little theatre. It would be difficult if not impossible to select an outstanding star performer of the cast. The laughs and dramatic lines were so evenly divided as to give every member of the cast an opportunity gain attention. Everyone had memorized their parts letter perfect; there were no forgotten cues; the whole performance passed off with an air of professionalism and with the snap and speed so necessary to make a local talent performance a success. Patrons of the Little Theatre have expressed their approval of its efforts before and are continuing their praise and will turn out again and brave another storm if necessary to see the Eastland Little Theatre present another one of its delightful performances.

Keeping Up With The Boy Scouts Scoutmasters Round Table The scoutmasters of the Brownwood district held their first round table at the scout office Monday night. A good attendance and much interest was shown. New games, stunts and demonstrations were presented by various scoutmasters. The Round Table meets the third Monday in each month. The summer camp dates were discussed and it seemed to be the opinion of all that the last part of July would be preferable. For the fourth successive year, the American Red Cross has conducted this institution at Kerrville Camp Wabun Annuig is located in the heart of the Guadalupe mountains, ten miles above Kerrville, Texas, on a tributary of the Crystal-Clear river, who's spring fed water flows to the camp property. Any one desiring information and application for this course, please get in touch with the scout office. Courses of instruction, include: First aid, life saving, swimming, diving, boating, canoeing, camp water front leadership, swimming pool leadership, pageantry, and recreational swimming. W. B. Jones, superintendent of Blakely school is the new scoutmaster of Troop number 35 and L. L. Lanford is chairman of the Troop committee, assisted by T. M. McCulley, M. A. Richmond, and T. E. Leivsay. The troop is re-organizing with 13 boys and Mr. Jones reports several additional ones will be sent in soon. We have an inquiry from Rev. Wallace N. Dunson of Thurber, regarding the re-organization of a Boy Scout troop there. The necessary information has gone forth, and we anticipate a good troop in Thurber soon. A court of honor was held at Stephenville April 18th, with a good attendance. Badges of various kinds were awarded to different scouts. Courts of honor will be held at Breckenridge Friday night April 22, and at Lampasas Saturday night, April 23. A good attendance is expected. Although the exact date for the summer camp has not yet been set, we hope to be able to announce this next week. We are now getting replies from the various scoutmasters expressing their desires on the camp dates.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

ABRAHAM'S GENEROSITY

Text: Gen. 13, 5-15.
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for April 24.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of the Congregationalist. No lesson could be more appropriate for study at the present hour than the story of Abraham's ideal and practice of peace in a distant age. In one section of the globe armies are in conflict, while in another section the representatives of nations, that are armed in militaristic rivalry as never before in history, are met to consider the possibility of promoting peace through disarmament.

One cannot consider this lesson, and then view the world, without realizing how the modern world with its pretense of progress, and its tendency to despise the past, still lags far behind Abraham and other great seers and prophets of the past who had the vision of peace and the daring to practice it.

The story of our lesson presents with much vividness exactly the sort of situation that through the course of history has made for strife between individuals, between families, between communities and between nations. The occasion was a question not only of material interests but of alleged rights.

In a pastoral world the good pastures and the accessible water-places constituted the highest boon. For these, men were ready to fight with their fellows, and despite the family relationship between Lot and Abraham, the herdsmen of the two men were quarreling over the best feeding grounds.

It was in this situation that Abraham rose to the height of that sublime devotion to peace which constitutes him a pioneer and leader, to whom we may look for guidance in our own time. "Let there be no strife," he said, "between your herdsmen and mine." And the ground of his appeal was equally striking. "For," he said, "we are brethren."

To have expressed all that in sentiment would have been very pleasant; but what would it have been worth if it had been a mere pretense under which Abraham was determined to grab the best for himself?

The real power and worth of Abraham's course lay in the fact that he dared to act in accordance with his inner vision and ideal. He said to Lot, "You make your choice. You go to the right and I will go to the left, or you take the left and I will go to the right." Nothing could have been more magnanimous or more complete in its conciliation.

Lot responded, as many men would, by an utter failure to appreciate that magnanimity. He chose what he considered the best country, leaving Abraham to take the best of what was left.

But how blind Lot was in his eager self-interest, and what dire consequences came from his choice! He chose the way that seemed to make for his own aggrandizement, but it was a way that led him to trouble and disaster. His choice brought upon his family and the ruin of his career.

On the other hand, Abraham with his temporary sacrifice went onward in the path of unrighteousness, building more nobly and truly not only an earthly heritage, but also a place in the progress and welfare of mankind, and in the permanent fame that the world accords ultimately to its great souls.

Pardon me for so much griping but these things needed attention.

Observations

The conduct of some of our students is surprising to say the least. Last Tuesday in chapel when a play was being put on, some of them behaved like we don't know what. The members of the cast were trying hard to put the play over and it was very disconcerting when they had done nothing funny. The play was serious in character and so it was presented, but we seem to have some students who can appreciate nothing but comedy. Here's hoping that we have no more of such conduct.

Those students who missed the Russian Chorus missed one of the best things that we have had this year. It pays to go to such entertainments as that was. The general rank and file of the students seemed to have forgotten that it was in town. The next time we are privileged to have such a treat let's see more of the student body there.

Pardon me for so much griping but these things needed attention.

South Ward News

Mrs. Joseph Perkins entertained the teachers of South Ward Wednesday evening, April 13, with a garden party. A delicious picnic supper consisting of sandwiches, olives, salad, cheese, potato chips, ice tea and ice cream was served. Folk games and songs, led by Miss Ruth Ramey and Mrs. Perkins were enjoyed the latter part of the evening.

An interesting event to be anticipated is the San Jacinto Banquet to be given by the South Ward P. T. A. April 22. The purpose of the banquet is to raise money for the South Ward school fund as well as to insure a pleasant evening for those attending. A varied program has been arranged. The price of each plate will be thirty-five cents. In connection with the Better Homes week the pupils of South Ward will present a Health Play exhibition on the school ground Friday, April 29, at 4 p. m. Primarily the program will give the patrons of South Ward an opportunity to view the supervised playground activities as they are practiced each day.

MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN and JOHNNY WEISSMULLER in "TARZAN THE APE MAN"

"Tarzan, the Ape Man" at Lyric

The strange story of a white man who was brought up in the jungle and lived in the tree-tops like the apes is told in "Tarzan, the Ape Man," which will be seen Sunday at the Lyric Theatre for two days. This is a screen version of the famous adventure novel by Edgar Rice Burroughs, and the fact that it was directed by W. S. Van Dyne of "Trader Horn" reputation guarantees it to contain the full flavor of the African jungle in which dangerous and always exciting locality the plot is unfolded.

Fights with lions, apes, blood-thirsty pygmies and other wild animals; a spectacular charge of a herd of elephants through a native village; the imprisonment of an English safari and their escape from a man-eating gorilla pit play a prominent part in this story of jungle adventures. Principal interest, however, is centered on the fascinating romance of Tarzan with an English girl. Their life in the tree-tops and exploits in warding off the perils of the beasts and savages by which they are surrounded is said to make this one of the most thrilling pictures yet to come to the talking screen.

speaking class. This play was under the direction of Truett Been and George McWilliams. A short introduction was given by Truett. The cast was as follows: Carl Garrett, D. L. They were Estes Burgamy, Desmond Daniels, Truett Pulcher, Lee Taylor, Willie Taylor, Zack Meek and Robert Barrington. He also announced the track men. The announcements were made by Mr. Palm.

This last half will become delinquent on the first day of June and Mr. Harris urges all taxpayers to come at once and take care of their 1931 taxes in order to avoid the penalty attached after this date. He also calls their attention to their renditions for 1932. If he has not been able to see all taxpayers in person they should make it a point to render their property at an onerous cost if getting on the unrendered roll.

Connie Smith of Abilene was here Monday to attend the funeral of J. R. Stubblefield.

The homes of Henry Liles and Ghent Sanderford were burned last Friday night.

You should be particular about your face powder. A heavy coating, a "powdery" appearance is objectionable.
