City Commission Chairman Resigns

Frank Castleberry, who was elected Chairman of the City Commission at the first meeting of the new board recently, tendered his resignation, effectively immediately, at the regular meeting Monday afternoon. Alex Clarke was elected by unanimous vote to succeed him.

Mr. Castleberry gave as his reason for resigning that he was giving entirely too much of his time to the work when he was needed at his store. He further stated that "Many believe that the chairman of the Commission can place any one in any position with the city—this is an error. The Commission only approves or disapproves the actions of the city manager, Mr. Marlow. The city charter plainly states that the City manager has this responsibility and the Commission looks to him for results."

The following were appointed at the meeting Monday to serve as Board of Equalization for 1932 taxes: Theodore Ferguson, J. F. Little and Airy Bendy.

The Commissioners have stated that they wish to call the attention of taxpayers to the fact that the last half of 1931 taxes are due and will be delinquent June 1. As it has come to a point where the city must collect taxes in order to continue to operate, it was decided to employ an attorney to start immediately on the collection of delinquent taxes. This drastic step is necessitated by the failure of the taxpayers to respond to take care of their taxes as they become due. Without taxes the city cannot operate, and the attorney will be instructed to use every legal means in order to make collections.

The City Manager was instructed to build a watering trough on the city lots just north of the Robason Poultry Plant for the convenience of farmers who come to town and also for the number of horses, etc., brought here on trades day.

Those present at the meeting were Commissioners Frank Castleberry, N. A. Moore, M. L. Keasler and T. M. Johnson, and acting City Manager and Secretary, W. C. Marlow.

EARLY SETTLER OF EASTLAND IS DEAD

Mrs. J. B. Ammerman, 75, formerly of Eastland, died in Fort Worth Saturday night and was buried in Cisco Tuesday.

Mrs. Ammerman will be remembered by old timers of Eastland. She and her husband, who died three years ago, were early settlers here. He was one of the founders of the city, Ammerman street being named for him. After living in Eastland a number of years, they moved to Cisco, where they made their home until 1907, moving from there to Fort Worth.

Mrs. Ammerman was a veteran W. C. T. U. leader, and as such was known all over the state. She was born in Missouri, May 23, 1856. Services were held for her in Fort Worth, after which the body was taken to Cisco for burial.

One son, three grandchildren, and three sisters survive her.

JUDGE HICKMAN TO SPEAK AT LAMPASAS

Judge J. E. Hickman, of this city, will deliver the commencement address to graduates of Lampasas High School Monday night, and will be honored there with a reunion banquet.

Judge Hickman was principal at Lampasas several years ago, and the reunion is for students who were in school there at that time.

He addressed the Bar Association at San Antonio Tuesday at the regular monthly luncheon of that organization, and spoke to the State Junior Bar Association at a banquet held in Mineral Wells Wednesday night. He and Mrs. Hickman are attending the State Bar meeting there Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Harvey, of Stamford, were business visitors in Eastland Thursday.

Lions Hear Three Speakers Tuesday

J. C. Patterson, county agent, Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Milburn McCarty, chairman of the local highway committee, were speakers at the Lions Club luncheon Tuesday.

Mr. Patterson made a classification talk which appears elsewhere in this issue of the Record.

Dr. Tanner announced the unveiling of a monument on May 30 for Horace M. Gray, Confederate soldier, whose body occupies an unmarked grave in the local cemetery. The occasion will be a part of the Decoration Day ceremonies, and will take place at 10 o'clock in the morning. Other observances will be arranged for the afternoon. Dr. Tanner urged as many as possible to attend.

Lion McCarty brought cheerful news that practically all of the right of way has been secured for the cut-off on the Bankhead highway between Strawn and Weatherford. The work of clearing the track is going on, as the Highway department has already made appropriation for this work.

It will be remembered that some months ago Mr. McCarty was appointed by the Chamber of Commerce as chairman of the highway committee, soon after which this project came up. Mr. McCarty devoted much of his time to the problem, which embodied months of hard work and travel. He fought against great odds, as the newspapers owned through this district including Eastland, Ranger, Breckenridge, Mineral Wells, and Austin, seemed to take up the fight in favor of Mineral Wells and the Baker Hotel interests. Although things looked discouraging at times, a hard fight was put up, and the entire citizenship of Eastland and this section is grateful to Mr. McCarty for his untiring efforts in bringing this long drawn out battle to a successful close.

Lion Lambert suggested a father and son banquet for some time in the near future, and Lions McGlamery, Palm and Lambert were appointed as a committee to work out plans before the next meeting.

Veteran Post Organizes Here

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States post number 2559 was instituted at a meeting in the Knights of Pythias hall here Wednesday night by O. T. Mahanay, National Deputy Chief of Staff, of Kansas City, assisted by Commander Jack Ames and Adjutant Ivan Kelly, both of the Breckenridge post number 2011.

Officers elected were: Commander, Karl K. White; Junior Vice Commander, R. H. Hansford, Ranger; Adjutant, Carroll Michael; Quarter Master, Fred L. Michael; Post Advocate, Grady Owen; Officer of the Day, J. A. Hamilton, Ranger; Trustees, Willie Garrett and A. W. Hennessee; Guard, Carl A. Timmons. The By-Laws Committee is composed of Hansford, Carroll, Michael and Garrett. The Recruiting committee is composed of Hansford, Fred Michael and Hennessee.

A telegram has been received here from Department Commander Stuckey appointing Commander White as Departmental Deputy Chief of Staff.

Seventeen members were signed up Wednesday night. This local post will take in members from over the entire county.

Regular meeting nights will be Wednesday at 8 o'clock in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

MEDICAL SOCIETY MET HERE TUESDAY

The Eastland County Medical Society met at the Connellee Hotel Tuesday night for a banquet and program. Sixteen members were present.

Papers were read by two Dallas doctors, "Some Cardiac Conditions" by Dr. R. M. Barton, and "Treatment of Early Syphilis" by Dr. Schoch.

The next meeting of the association will be held in Cisco in July. The September meeting will be held in Rising Star in joint session with the Brown County society.

W. T. C. C. Meet Is Big Success

Speeches, programs, business sessions, luncheons, banquets, and social functions of every description were features of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention held at Sweetwater Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, according to several who attended from Eastland.

Among the number of distinguished speakers there were Governor Sterling, Representative Beck of Fort Worth, Dr. James, president of the University of South Dakota, and Mr. Harte, a San Angelo newspaperman and president the past year of the W. T. C. C. Mr. Ansley, of Amarillo, spoke on "I Like the Depression".

Dr. James spoke on governmental questions, and Mr. Beck spoke on questions pertaining to county and city government.

Special interest was shown in questions relating to taxation, according to Milburn McCarty, who attended the convention.

Sessions were held at the municipal auditorium. A breakfast for the board of directors was held at the Blue Bonnet Hotel Saturday morning, at which time business of the association was transacted. Hawks of Amarillo was elected president of the W. T. C. C. for the coming year.

Big Spring was selected on the first ballot as the place for the 1933 convention.

"My Town", an oratorical contest, was a special feature of the convention. First place was won for the third consecutive time by Joe Weatherspoon of Wichita Falls. He was permanently awarded the loving cup. Lauderdale of Breckenridge won second place. All seven contestants were presented with prizes.

The large attendance was well taken care of, there being music, dancing, and other forms of entertainment throughout the three days. Especially noticeable, according to Mr. McCarty, was the large number of bands from various towns represented there.

A number of Eastland citizens attended.

LEGION ELECTS NEW GUN CLUB SECRETARY

Roy Allen was elected secretary of the American Legion Gun Club at a meeting of the local Legion post Monday night.

A business meeting was held, at which time a contest sponsored by the Legion was discussed, and a number of routine matters disposed of.

DECORATION DAY TO BE OBSERVED

The unveiling of a monument for Horace M. Gray, Confederate veteran whose body lies in an unmarked grave in Eastland Cemetery, will be a part of the Decoration Day ceremonies to be held here May 30. The service will take place at 10:00 A. M.

A memorial service for veterans who died at sea will be conducted in the afternoon at the bridge across the lake on the old Breckenridge road.

Seniors Honored At Three Affairs

Eastland high school seniors were honored on three occasions during the week end, when the High School P. T. A., the Junior class, and the Eastland Methodists entertained on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Dinner and Theater Party

The High School Parent Teacher Association entertained the class Friday night with a dinner party, followed by a theatre party, at the home of Mrs. C. U. Connellee.

Purple and gold, the class colors, were carried out in the table decorations of flowers and favors. Sixty-one covers were laid on three tables in the sunroom of the Connellee residence. Eversharp pencils attached to corsages of purple and yellow pansies in lace paper frills were favors.

The speakers table, which was centered with a graduate doll wearing a cap and gown and holding a diploma, seated the following: Mrs. Jos. M. Perkins, president of the High School P. T. A.; Supt. and Mrs. P. R. Bittle, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Palm, Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fagg.

Mrs. Perkins, acting as toastmistress, extended the welcoming address, and "Happy" Hightower, president of the senior class, responded. Prof. Bittle, Mr. Tanner and Mr. Palm, were also speakers.

The menu consisted of orange cup, pressed chicken, new potatoes in cream, olives, celery, string beans, Parker House rolls, iced tea, tomato salad, and ice cream and cake.

Mrs. A. J. Campbell was chairman of the committee on arrangements. She was assisted by Mmes. Connellee, Childress, Perkins, McCarty and Hightower.

Members of the party were guests later in the evening of Mrs. Connellee and Mr. and Mrs. Belcher at the Connellee Theatre.

Those present were Truett Bean, Dan L. Childress, Everett Davis, Euel Harper, Elvis Hightower, Robert McGlamery, George McWilliams, James Simmons, George Wilkins, Mamie Armstrong, Tekla Bida, Jane Connellee, Louise Day, Shirley Ferrell, Juanita Harper, Ruth Hearn, Frances Harris, Beth Judkins, Kathryn Lang.

MRS. WILLIAMSON IS HOSTESS TO STUDENTS

Mrs. A. W. Williamson recently entertained the students of W. M. U. at her home, 414 South Lamar Street. Miss Venice Bell, of Merkel, was the guest of honor.

Various games were enjoyed throughout the evening, after which the party went to Eastland Drug Company, where they were served with their favorite refreshments. A good time was had in spite of the rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Graham, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Heath, C. V. Heath, and Caton Graham will leave Saturday for Carlsbad, Texas, where they will spend a two weeks vacation and fishing trip.

County Agent Spoke Tuesday

Mr. J. C. Patterson, county agent of Eastland county, entertained the Lions Club at the regular luncheon Tuesday noon with a classification talk.

His remarks were very timely, as all Eastland recognizes the necessity of aiding farmers, not only in production but by furnishing a market for their products.

Mr. Patterson mentioned the cost to each individual, and offered to refund personally the money to anyone not satisfied with results—if they would make correct change—the cost being .006 out of each $100 county taxes paid, or in other words, 6 cents on each $1000 paid.

One of his greatest problems, Mr. Patterson stated, was to get the farmers to adopt the improved practices which have been proven by demonstration in their own communities. He further stated that methods used by George Washington 150 years ago were still being advocated, many of them not in universal use to this day.

"I may be too enthusiastic. I receive good co-operation, but I feel that my work is not done until I have benefited every farmer in the county," said Mr. Patterson.

Pure bred stock was stressed, and reference was made to the Jersey bull circle, which was organized four years ago, the results being very satisfactory as shown by the increased milk yield of the heifers just now coming into production.

Mr. Patterson ended his talk with actual demonstration of how native pecans are improved by budding and grafting.

Armstrong In Governor's Race

Judge George W. Armstrong's announcement that he is a candidate for the office of governor of the State of Texas and his platform in its entirety follows. You will remember that only part of this platform was carried in last week's issue of the Record and his name was omitted.

The full announcement of the platform upon which he seeks the gubernatorial office follows:

I favor a state currency system upon the plan of a state central bank to act as the depository for the State and its institutions, and as a reserve bank for the state banks, with the power to issue currency receivable for debt and taxes. The details of this plan are fully set out in my book, A State Currency System—To Hell With Wall Street. Such a system will provide the currency and credit that we so desperately need, will restore values and prosperity to the State of Texas and will free us from the domination and control of Wall Street and the Federal Reserve Board. If Congress does not adopt the Patman bill there will be urgent need for me and my currency system.

I favor a moratorium on all bond and mortgage indebtedness until this currency system can be established and the values of property and service restored to such an extent that people can pay their debts. I concede that there is some doubt as to the validity of the moratorium insofar as it applies to bonds and debts payable outside of the State of Texas to citizens of other states. The emergency, however, is so great that we should take the chance. Let us act and let the lawyers discuss it in the courts afterward. It is unjust to require the debtor to pay his debt in dollars that are now far more valuable than the dollars loaned to him.

For New Constitution
I am for a new State Constitution in order to modernize our 56-year-old Constitution. Our judicial system is antiquated, dilatory, technical and expensive. It is not an effective means of attaining justice in either civil or criminal cases—and it is costing us about $30,000 per day. We are not getting value received. The only way it can be radically reformed is by a change of the State Constitution. The Railroad Commission has also proven to be expensive and useless and it should be abolished, at least insofar as it exercises jurisdiction over railroad and truck rates. It is but an adjunct of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which now establishes rates in the interest of the railroads. This also requires a change of the Constitution.

A Dangerous Criminal

By Albert T. Reid

The state ad valorem tax upon real estate should be abolished and graduated income and inheritance taxes substituted. This is the fairest method of taxation, for it imposes the burden of sustaining the government upon those who are able to pay and upon those who acquire property by virtue of law through gifts and inheritances. Eighteen states including the rich States of New York and Illinois already have adopted this modern method of taxation. A schedule of rates of approximately 50 per cent of those of the National Government will normally yield about the same amount of revenue as the present ad valorem tax.

Real Estate is now paying about 78 per cent of all taxes—state, county and city—and the burden is unjust and more than the property owner can bear. The homestead to the extent of $5,000 should be exempt from all taxation. Another of the candidates for Governor also announces that she is now "agin high taxes and high interest"—but she was Governor once and her husband twice, and we then had the same interest rate that we now have, and higher taxes.

I favor the continued appointment of the Highway Commission by the Governor and a continuance of the road building program and the continued use of the three-fourths of the gasoline tax for that purpose. The issuance of county bonds for road purposes should be discontinued. The roads should be paid for wholly by those who use them, through gasoline and license taxes, even if they must be increased.

Would Repeal Truck Laws
I favor the repeal of the truck law and the use of the roads by trucks, upon the basis of the truck owner paying reasonable compensation for such use. This is the best and most effective means of obtaining reasonable railroad rates. It has already substantially reduced the passenger rates, and if the truck law is repealed this will soon bring about a substantial reduction in freight rates, and a greater reduction than it is possible for the Railroad Commission to grant without all kinds of litigation in the federal courts.

I am for rigid economy in government, for abolishing all duplications and sinecures, and for reducing the compensation of officers and employees to a parity with the general price and wage level. With the increase in the value of a dollar they are now receiving approximately 100 per cent more than in 1920, and 50 per cent more than from 1923 to 1929. I hope and believe that through the establishment of my proposed currency system that the price and wage level can be raised and that it may not be necessary to make the radical salary reductions that will otherwise be required.

I am opposed to the liberal use of the pardoning power. When a criminal has been convicted by the unanimous verdict of the jury and the conviction has been approved by the courts, he should serve his sentence and not be turned loose upon society to repeat the crime. Jury trials are more likely to attain the ends of justice than the ex parte hearing of friends before a pardon board. The accused should be required to testify or his refusal taken as an evidence of guilt. The only way to inspire respect for the law is to enforce it and to let it stay enforced.

Challenges Opponents.
Conclusion: As far as I am able to judge from the platforms and expressions of the other candidates for the office of Governor, they are all opposed to this program; at least none of them advocates these measures. These are questions of vital importance to the people of the State. The best method of arriving at the truth and of forming correct conclusions as to the soundness of these proposed measures is the joint debate. I therefore challenge any or all of my opponents, or the authorized representatives of any of them, to a series of joint discussions over the State—the time, place, etc., of such discussions to be arranged by mutual agreement.

The office of Governor is one of very great importance to the people of Texas, and the only consideration should be the candidate's personal integrity and his qualifications for the office. The question for you to determine is which one of the candidates can render you the greatest service in this emergency. I am willing to be judged by that standard.

I was a well-to-do man for 20 years prior to 1920, when the management of the Federal Reserve System destroyed the value of my property and left me with debts that I could not extend or pay, and forced me into bankruptcy. Due to the help of my friend, that great and good man, John H. Kirby, and to my own persistence, I am now in a fair way to restore my fortune. I make this race and some personal sacrifice and in response to what I conceive to be a call to duty. It is my contribution to the public welfare.

"STATIC"

By J. L. Cottingham.

Jim Horton collected the four dollars I have been owing him quite a while and then told me I could now quit avoiding him. He has the wrong idea entirely. During the last of January and the first of February—just after his annual bath—Jim is a fine fellow to visit but after that—well, he will have to read the advertisements—his friends won't tell him.

Are my eyes going to the bad or is Miss Valera Hargus blonder than she used to be? Miss Frances Cotton has gotten much more dignified since she graduated from driving a Ford and into the Buick Class. Getting a Buick was too much for Stire—he has actually ceased uttering obscenities. The ladies should have a cool summer—judging from the looks of the lingerie in the show windows.

I tried to crash the Intercity Bridge Championship the other day—claiming press privileges—but was advised that Sam Butler could not think when anyone was watching him. I hope Sam gets a patent on his thinking processes before the next match so I can see the play—I would not infringe on Sam's method of thinking anyhow.

I tell everyone that asks that Frank Weaver worked himself into a nervous breakdown over in East Texas and had to come back home and rest a week to regain his health. I fail to understand why everyone greets this statement with a horse laugh. Surely there can be nothing funny about a man's health breaking down.

Monte Hayes is still putting the little potatoes in the bottom of the sack. Mrs. Hayes comes down and watches him on Saturdays. She is a thrifty soul and when an unusually large potato shows up she puts it aside for her own use. Hoyt Davis never appears on the streets now-a-days. I really think the city council ought to widen one street and give Hoyt a place to promenade.

Run in to Curtis Kimbrell talking very seriously to a girl in a green dress. I was afraid that if he got away from her, Mrs. Kimbrell might have a hard time getting another husband. So I butted in without an invitation and stayed until they parted in disgust. Thank you, Mrs. Kim-brell, I will take a coke.

John Mouser walks to work in the morning—perhaps he is trying for a better figure. Fred Blatt is general manager for the golf club. A. H. Johnson still occupies the same chair and it is still big enough for him. What does John Seale work at or does he? Sid Pitzer is losing his smile. Beaty never had one.

Joe Laurent has given Albert Le Clair the air. Joe claims that Albert loafed in his shine chair and then recommended other barbers to his customers right in the shop. Albert denies this. He claims that a good look at one of Joe's finished jobs immediately suggests another barber. Joe was a good baseball player though—no one can deny that.

Mrs. Atchley numbers among her customers such distinguished people as Roy Lawson, Judge Bean, Mrs. May Harrison, Marion Seaborn and Shorty Hampton. I have been waiting for some time to see Mrs. Harrison perched on one of those stools but found that she dares not risk it—she sits at a table.

John Ernest looked at my last week's column and saw at the end of it, my get-away alibi. "When you get through quit." He took a pencil and drew a line from that to the top of the column, signifying that I was through at the start. John would make a better columnist than I do but I think he ought not to be so nasty about it.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR
By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

A FRIENDLY CHAT

In spite of our educational progress, quackery on a colossal scale seems to thrive. I suppose the crop of suckers will continue to be inexhaustible.

The quack is by no means a fool; he is the most adroit money-getter in the land today, and he gets it in advance—he takes no chance with the financial end of the game. Your family doctor does his best for you because way down in his heart he is sorry for you—and he loves you. The quack is neither sorry for you, nor does he love you, no, not in the least; you are simply fish that he lures into his net. If you think he trusts you, try to get something from him on a credit; if you think he loves you, ask him to treat you for nothing.

Many people—that includes a few editors—wonder why the family doctor does not advertise. They even hint that he is stingy and selfish—that he wants his advertising free. I want to denounce with all the force at my command, this slur on your family doctor. The reason he does not advertise his cures is that he could not do it and tell the truth. Being high-minded, he will not sink himself to the level of the humbug charlatan.

The quack is an unscrupulous liar to begin with; he would make you believe he cures everybody he treats—that he can perform miracles—that he knows something that nobody else knows—the biggest lie of all! He employs secret processes, really because they dare not be exposed to the light of truth.

Just why people feed and foster quacks I do not know, except it be from colossal stupidity and ignorance. Great medical institutes are spending thousands in research to prevent disease. There are no quacks in any of them.

YELLOW MOUND BRIDE HONORED WITH SHOWER

The Women's Sewing Circle of Yellow Mound met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. P. Sneed for a quilting party and shower honoring Mrs. Sneed's daughter, Mrs. Ralph Baggett, who until her recent marriage was Miss Margie Sneed.

The ladies quilted two quilts for the honoree, and presented her with a host of other beautiful and useful gifts.

Guests were Meses. Tom Briggs, Charlie Jones, Tobe Hamilton, Hulin, Jessie Carter, Clarence Henderson, Dunlap, Til Harbin, Judd Harbin, and Mrs. Earnest Sneed of Cisco.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Davis and family left Thursday of last week for Tahoka to visit Mrs. Davis' mother. Mr. Davis returned Wednesday morning, but Mrs. Davis and their two young sons remained for an extended visit.

West Ward News

One of the most successful and entertaining programs of the year was given Tuesday night at the West

Ward building when the Parent Teachers Association sponsored an old-fashioned box supper. More than one hundred fifty people, both young and old, gathered in the school auditorium and lunch rooms which were beautifully and appropriately decorated in masses of purple and gold flowers, carrying out the colors of the school. Adult boxes were auctioned and sold for approximately 25c each, and children's boxes brought 15c. Judge Clyde Garrett acted as auctioneer. The program, consisting of two numbers by the West Ward Rythm Band, two numbers by the Glee Club and readings by Jackie Belew, Bobbie Leslie, Rae June Stubblefield, was appreciated, but the high spot of the entertainment for the evening was the program given by the Men's quartet. Their songs were greatly enjoyed, and enthusiastically received.

The P. T. A. wishes to express appreciation to the many firms, individuals and committees who assisted so ably in making this affair the success that it was.

West Ward P. T. A. will conduct a health clinic at the school building Friday, May 23, from 2:30 until 4:00 p. m. All children who are now six years old or will become six on or before next September 1, are eligible for free examination. Mrs. O. O. Mickle, chairman of the clinic, has charge of arrangements. An able physician of the town will make the examinations.

In keeping with the custom of the past number of years, a medal will be offered this year to the best all-round student in West Ward School. This medal is being offered by the Parent Teachers Association this year, and is only one of the many things that organization has done for the school during the past two years.

Both the student body and the faculty of West Ward would like to take this method of expressing appreciation to the newspapers of the city for the loyal support and publicity given the school and its activities throughout the past year.

The final program for chapel exercises for the year was given by the pupils of 5A and 5B grades on Monday afternoon. It was called a May-time Review and consisted of the following numbers:

Review of school work of the year, introduced by Jackie Belew and Mar-

- vin Lee Jordan.

PLAY PRESENTED BY WMU STUDENTS

The Thelma Riddle Dramatic Club of Warner Memorial University presented the play "Anne of Old Salem" Thursday night in the auditorium of the University.

The three-act colonial play, full of interest and entertainment from beginning to end, was the story of Anne, a charming girl who was accused by all the Salem maidens of bewitching the lads of the community. She laughingly gave them her charm and through this jest was brought before the church for witchcraft. In order to prove that Anne had not bewitched him, Roger, her sweetheart, turned against her and pretended to love another girl, thus bringing about her pardon and their happiness.

Cornet, clarinet and piano music furnished entertainment before the play, and a number of excellent musical specialties were given between acts. Costumes and properties were colorful and of old colonial type.

Mr. J. W. Minnick and son, Thomas of Gordon, were visitors Saturday and Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Boggus.

Be Particular About Your FACE POWDER

You should be particular about your face powder. A heavy coating, a "powdery" appearance is objectionable. Your powder should be of sufficient fineness to impart a velvety film that the skin will retain and just light enough to dust on evenly and smoothly. Agnes Sorel Face Powder has these qualities, in addition to an odor which blends with any perfume you use.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" was the lesson-sermon subject in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 15.

Romans 8:16 furnished the golden text: "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God."

The lesson-sermon embraced the following verses from the Bible (Romans 8:8,9): "So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you."

Included in the service were the following citations from pages 250 and 265 of the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

"Mortal body and mind are one, and that one is called man; but a mortal is not man, for man is immortal. . . . The senses represent birth as untimely and death as irrestible, as if man were a weed growing apace or a flower withered by the sun and nipped by untimely frosts; but this is true only of a mortal, not of a man in God's image and likeness."

Putting off her dumb dismay of snow,

Laughed the life in every wandering root,
Laughed the tingling cells of bud and shoot.

Heard the adoration-song of Earth.

FROM GOVERNMENT AGRICULTURE DEPT.

Land Use Planning Committee Recommends Study of Tax Systems

Passage of the Davenport resolution now before the House Ways and Means Committee is the first step towards making State and Federal Tax systems coordinate rather than competitive, the National Advisory and Legislative Committee on Land Use agreed today as it closed a two-day program. The legislative committee met jointly with the National Land Use Planning Committee at the Department of Agriculture.

The Davenport resolution, introduced in Congress February 8 by Representative Frederick M. Davenport of New York, asks for the appointment by the President of a widely representative commission which will study and outline sound tax systems for the guidance of Congress and the State legislatures. Congressman Davenport appeared before the land use committees this morning to explain his resolution, and to support it in every way possible.

Proper coordination of State and Federal tax systems is necessary, the land use committee have found, in order that taxes on land may be adjusted to promote the desired utilization of various classes of land. An equitable tax system is basic, the committee reported, to the progress of sound land utilization in the farm and forest areas of the United States.

A national tax commission, representative of all important economic interests and of both State and Federal administrative interests, would have opportunity and authority to gather all the pertinent facts, have the services of tax experts at its disposal, and point the way through what is now an uncharted sea, Mr. Davenport told the land use committees today. He described the competition for revenues now going on between State and Federal governments. The Federal government has placed great reliance upon the personal income taxes, but so now do 22 States. Luxury taxes, and other species of sales taxes, having proved productive in certain States, now may be made a source of revenue for the Federal Government.

With each new overlap of Federal upon State tax systems, or vice versa, Congressman Davenport asserted, the taxpayer releases new groans, and the relationship of Federal and State tax systems becomes hopelessly complicated and inequitable. The aim of a national tax commission, Mr. Davenport suggested, must be to suggest ways of reducing all taxes, of removing existing inequalities, and of laying the groundwork for a Federal-state tax relationship that will be sound, economically and feasible for administration.

Admitting that to put any such suggested program into effect in both Federal and State Governments will require years of effort, Mr. Davenport insisted that now is the time to begin the effort. When even in good years one third of the average farmer's income goes for taxation, and when the Nation as a whole in 1930 paid out one-seventh of its income in taxes, Mr. Davenport declared that the need from prompt and intelligent action was beyond debate.

Fictitious Livestock Diseases

In spite of the increased knowledge concerning livestock diseases, there are still evident many ghosts of the fictitious and imaginary ailments such as "hollow horn," "wolf in the tail," "loss of cud," and many others.

Inquiries concerning such so-called ailments are received frequently by veterinarians of the United States Department of Agriculture who in all cases attempt to dispel the obvious misinformation and discourage the ineffective and cruel treatments commonly used. Barbarous methods have included the pouring of turpentine into holes drilled in a cow's horns, splitting the tail, and the application of severe irritants to various parts of the body.

Methods of preventing many livestock diseases are described in department publications, but in any case where surgery of the use of drugs is involved, a competent veterinarian should be consulted. The Bureau of Animal Industry commends all efforts to dispel superstitious beliefs and is ready to furnish accurate information on actual diseases affecting domestic animals.

The name "Bellbird" is applied to several species of birds whose clear song notes sound like the toll of a bell. One species in South America has a melodious song which sounds like the sound of a hammer on an anvil. In New Zealand there is one whose notes sound like the tinkling of a small bell.

SECOND MARRIAGES

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Emeritus Dean of Men,
University of Illinois.

Far be it from me to say anything derogatory to the second marriage. I have known scores of most successful ones. Often a man seems by his first experience to have learned wisdom and so makes a much better selection the second time than the first. An acquaintance of mine, who seems to have formed the habit of marriage, did better and better as time went on, and when he led his fourth partner to the altar, showed a really discriminating judgment, and seems in this last relation even happier than in any of the others.

It is not the marriage itself which concerns me, for that is a matter which every widow or widower must personally decide; it is the conditions and sometimes the embarrassments which arise among those who are chronically getting married which give me subject for thought. What attitude should one take to those who have departed this life, and who have gone to other worlds?

Nancy was visiting the Coltons not long ago, and was admiring a piece of bric-a-brac which stood on the mantel. She had forgotten that Mrs. Colton was not a first edition, and thoughtlessly exclaimed:

"Where did you get this beautiful little statue?"

"I don't just know," the latest Mrs. Colton replied. "It belonged to one of Mr. Colton's wives."

Now what can one say in such a situation excepting to reaffirm the fact that the article in question certainly is a knock-out.

"What are you going to write to Carrie and Frank?" Peters asked me a few nights ago. He had evidently just received, as I had, the announcement of the marriage of two of our rather intimate acquaintances, each of whom had previously been married and whose partners we had known well. That was exactly what I had been considering in my mind, and not being able to think of anything sufficiently felicitous, I had written nothing.

Well, what should one say in such a situation? Should he let the past take care of itself and make no reference to it, or what? I am still uncertain, and that is why second marriages are sometimes an embarrassment to me.

POWELL SCANS ACHIEVEMENTS OF MRS. EDDY

Humility and tolerance were outstanding virtues contributing to the achievements of Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, the Rev. Dr. Lyman P. Powell, rector of St. Margaret's Episcopal Church, New York City, declared Tuesday in a public lecture at Symphony Hall, Boston on "Mary Baker Eddy, Educator."

Dr. Powell was introduced by Dr. William L. Stidger, Sunday morning preacher of the Copley Methodist Church of Boston, who stressed particularly the need for religious tolerance. His own attitude in this matter, he said, he had taken from Dr. Powell, whom he described as exemplifying such tolerance inside and outside the church.

"In my humble fashion," he said, "I stand for a spirit of tolerance among Christian people and in the churches."

Dr. Stidger further discussed his relations with and admiration for Dr. Powell and his own interest in Mrs. Eddy and in Christian Science. He concluded by expressing appreciation of the opportunity to introduce the lecturer, with the approval of the Christian Science Church.

Mrs. Eddy met the first test of the real educator, said Dr. Powell, who also was formerly president of Hobart College.

"She had something to say," he continued. "Humility marked her thoughts and deeds. She set an example in her daily study and she required it of her students." To one student, he explained, she said, "Don't try; do it." And it was done, he added.

The lecturer continued by saying that tolerance softened her viewpoints "and in the spirit of Christian cooperation she wrote in 1906 to Dr. Hamilton Holt: 'I love the prosperity of Zion, be it presented by Catholic, Protestant, or by Christian Science.'" Dr. Powell in his biography, "Mary Baker Eddy: A life size portrait," as well as in the lecture, emphasized the practicality of Mrs. Eddy's work and teachings.

Practically Guided Ideals
"Her feet were always on the ground, her head high among the stars," he said. He referred to her definition of prayer and told her how apparent it was that she judged greatness by goodness.

As an example of her tolerance, the lecturer drew "from a quiver full of well-turned arrows" revealed in Mrs. Eddy's writings: "People like you better when you tell their virtues than when you tell them their vices." Vices were examples of error about which another arrow had something pointed to say.

The arrows were flung with compassion and sincerity. "Home is the dearest spot on earth," she had written, "and it should not be the center, though not the boundary, of the affections." No manifestation of loving service and devotion was too small to be recognized by the leader who said: "I like small beginnings, 'just a duty performed each hour and each day, and at length symmetrical unity.'"

She aimed another arrow which pointed out the keystone of her doctrine—obedience which to her meant being faithful over a few things. With obedience and service went faith, and eventually came understanding of the conviction expressed by Mrs. Eddy in her book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "No loss can occur from trusting God with our desires," and that "Divine Love always will meet every human need."

Possessed Rare Technique
Dr. Powell said regarding her technique as a teacher, "like all great teachers, she develops for herself in her voluminous writings a vocabulary of some 18,000 words which places her ahead of Milton and not far from Shakespeare in word range. She placed inspiration above her mere information, permitting in her classes not even the distraction of note-taking. No trouble was too great to take to meet the needs of the inquiring individual.

"Emphasizing the healing of the sick," he continued, "Mrs. Eddy nevertheless gives the word its largest meaning: 'Healing physical sickness is the smallest part of Christian Science. It is only the bugle-call to thought and action, in the higher range of infinite goodness. The emphatic goodness of Christian Science is the healing of sin; and this task, sometimes, may be harder than the cure of disease; because, while mortals love to sin, they do not love to be sick.'"

Years of Patient Effort
"By patient effort covering long years, Mary Baker Eddy distilled her thinking into phrases recalled by more today than any phrases except those found in the Bible, to which she pledged her followers in the words: 'As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal life.'"

"Mary Baker Eddy moved out of the obscurity of a New England hill town to follow Christ Jesus, to counsel her students to follow her 'only as far as she follows Christ,' and to teach the incorporeality of God."

Dr. Powell said that the religion which Mrs. Eddy founded, today is enrolling daily Bible readers well on toward a million. "The final proof of the educational effectiveness of her teachings is found in the results," the New York rector asserted, "and today the Fruits of Mary Baker Eddy's teachings are those Christian Scientists who live up to their Leader's teachings. Their name is almost legion. The world over they are bringing an end to family discord by setting up a spiritual standard to which all can repair. They are eliminating worry and fear, and increasing efficiency in daily duty and in business."
