The voters of the county will go Bendy, and Jep F. Little. to the polls tomorrow to choose their office holders for the next two years. The voters will be more deliberate and cautious than ever before in makcause never before has the country problems that it has today.

In 1920 the board can proceed on its schedule. the cost of the government was approximately $33,000,000 and in 1930 it had increased to more than $103,-000,000.

During that decade the business and industry of the State was growing by leaps and bounds. In 1929 and 1930 the people of Texas thought that prosperity was a permanent institution. During this era of prosperity the expense of the State government was steadily increasing, but the attitude of the average citizen was, "Well, who cares? In this golden age of prosperity we can afford to have an expensive government."

Last year County Agent Patterson! shipped the carnival equipment which! is used each year at our Eastland County Fair to College Station and set it up as an entertainment feature of the short course. The same thing is being done again this year, and the whole scheme of entertainment at the short course has become known as the Eastland County plan. The equipment serves as an exhibit to all the visitors to the short course of what a Texas county has done to provide free entertainment for a county fair.

Members of the City Commission will be surprised to learn that the city commission of Ponca City, Okla., has recently announced that no city tax will be levied next year. The commissioners right now are not worried so much about the tax levy of next year as they are about how to collect the delinquent taxes that have accumulated during the past few years. Some say to enter suit for the taxes, while others advocate adjustment and equalization. Ponca City will use the profit from its muncipal water and light plants to furnish the sinking fund for their bonded indebtedness. The city has had no general re hue fund levy in several years.

Eastland has a city park which would be a credit to a city much larger. Its natural beauty, its elevation, and its command of the surrounding territory makes it all the more admirable for a tourist camp as well as a community gathering place, where families can go these summer evenings for picnic suppers Trades Day every first Monday. The and recreation hours.

A complaint has come to our attention during this week that the park at the present time is not a suitable place for this type of recreation, because of the inconveniences. On the night to which this person referred the lights of the park were turned off long before 10 o'clock, and rowdyism in the park made it impossible for anyone to enjoy himself. We hope that this can be remedied.

raise the total count for this county to about 6,500. Persons who have become 21 years of age since January 1, 1932, will be entitled to a free vote, and persons more than 60 years of age will be entitled to exemptions from the poll tax.

Holders of five offices for the next two-year term will be decided in the primary Saturday, while all the others will have to be decided in the run-off primary, August 27. Those offices that have only two candidates in the race are congressman from the 17th district, associate justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, 11th district, judge of the 91st District Court, district clerk, and tax collector. Mrs. May Harrison automatically becomes county treasurer succeeding herself since she is unopposed for the office. Ed T. Cox is also unopposed for county Democratic chairman. Absentee Ballots Cast

Two hundred and twenty-two ballots have been cast by absentee voters, R. L. Jones, county clerk, announced late this week. Other absentee votes will be received through the mail today and Saturday. Most of the absentee ballots were mailed to the precinct election judges Wednesday and the others will be mailed Hold Camp Meeting as they reach the county clerk's of-fice. Most of the absentee ballots were marked in the county clerk's office, while the others came through the mails. Ballots from absentee voters came from as far away as grounds of the Warner Memorial Corpus Christi and Denver, Colo.

The poll for precinct No. 1, Eastland, will be located at the justice of the peace's office on the basement floor of the courthouse. The polling

Record Finds Way To Check Readers

There is at least one way for a publisher of a newspaper to find out how well his paper is read as was shown by last week's Record. And that is for the newspaper erything is going along all right, to make an error. As long as eva newspaper hears nothing at all from its readers, but the minute an obvious error is made, then everyone is ready to point it out. Well, here's our story. Last week the Record printed on the editorial page some poetry endorsing certain candidates for office under the head of "The Rambling Rhymer casts a Ballot,". There was nothing wrong in that except that the two little words, "political advertisement," were inadvertently left off.

This week "everyone in the county," as some political candidates term it, is deploring the fact that the Record comes out actively in support of the candidates. Frankly hundreds of people did see the er-ror and wonder about it, and the Record is gratified to know that so many people read the paper clos-ely enough to find a discrepancy of this sort.

Moody Speaks Here For Gov. Sterling

Dan Moody, former attorney general and governor of Texas, spoke in the 91st district court room at the Eastland County courthouse here Thursday afternoon in behalf of Ross S. Sterling's campaign for re-election as governor.

Stressing tax relief measures and State highway policies, Moody compared the platforms of the two outstanding candidates in the race and pointed out the advantages of Sterling's plan over that of the Fergusons.

The brief introduction was made by Virgil T. Seaberry, local attorney and boyhood friend of Moody. A large crowd of Eastland County voters gathered in the courtroom to hear the former governor speak.

Moody is filling a number of speaking engagements over the State in the interest of Sterling's campaign for re-election.

Clark Speaks on Rotary Principles

W. I. Clark spoke to the club members on Rotary principles at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club held in the Connellee Hotel roof garden Monday noon.

The meeting was presided over by the vice president, Sid Pitzer, with Mr. Clark acting as secretary. James Horton and Curtis Hertig, president and secretary, were attending a district meeting of Rotary presidents and secretaries at Sweetwater.

Former Local Man

William Gifford Clegg, 87, former manager of the local office of the Texas Electric Service Company, died last Friday from gunshot wounds received at the hands of Frank Allen, a former Texas Ranger, at Piedras Negras, which is across the border from Eagle Pass. Clegg was manager of the Texas Electric Service Company's office in Eagle Pass at the time of his death.

Clegg had lived in Eagle Pass for two years, going there from Breckenridge. At the time of his death he was president of the Eagle Pass Rotary Club, a director of the chamber of commerce, and was prominent in business and social life of the town.

The shooting followed an argument between Clegg and Allen in Allen's Picdras Negras cafe. Clegg will be buried at Louisville, Ky., where his mother, Mrs. Helen Clegg, lives.

He had been connected with the 15 years and had also worked in Ranger and Breckenridge before going to Eagle Pass.

> Tomato Catsup. 2 tablespoons salt, 1 tablespoon powdered mustard, 1 level teaspoon each of cloves, allspice, cinnamon and pepper, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 pint good vinegar, 2 red peppers seeded and sliced, 1 gallon tomato pulp.

> Add one cup chopped red pepper (seeded) and 2 medium sized chopped onions to 1 callon of red (ripe) tomatoes. Cook thoroughly, mash through sieve, measure the pulp. Add to it the spices, which should be tied in a bag. Cook for one and one-half hours, add vinegar and cook until thick. Rapid cooking keeps the fine red color in the catsup. To avoid burning stir constanly. Pour the catsup into hot, sterilized containers (jars or bottles). Set the container at once into a vessel of hot water having a false bottom to prevent breaking. Put the cork stoppers in loosely, and process the bottles for 30 minutes at the boiling point, cork and seal tightly. When cool dip mouth of bottle melted parrafin, or cover stopper with sealing wax. #### General Directions For Canning Vegetables.

Selection of good sound vegetables is of paramount importance. Unless the product to be canned is of the highest grade and in prime condition it is useless to hope that special care and skillful packing will result in anything more than disappointment and failure. In securing fine quality, much depends upon having the vegetables absolutely fresh, crisp, clean and kept cool. All steps from beginning to end of any lot of canning should be carried through as rapidly as possible. A good slogan is, "ONE HOUR FROM THE FIELD TO THE CAN." Follow the slogan as closely as you can. with much to can it may be a little more than that time, but the nearer the better.

When using the open top sanitary tin cans, be sure the contents are steaming hot, the can sealed immediately and then processed. Do not seal a number of cans and allow to stand for several minutes and cool. Products canned in tin should be cooled quickly when removed from the cooker. This stops cooking and preserves the color and flavor. When cans are removed from the cooker the contents are still cooking, and if this is allowed, the product will often be over cooked.

Never stack cans together until entirely cold. The cans should be dried before storing to prevent rusting. This may be done by drying them with a cloth or by standing them in the sun after the plunge into cold water. Better to use the cloth. Labeling.

Gans should never be labelled until perfectly cold. It is better to wait five or ten days as to be sure that they are all sound. Labelling makes the pantry more attractive and protects the outside of the can from dampness. Canning Corn.

Kind of cans to use: The enamel C cans should be used for corn. This is a special enamel can for corn. The enamel is lighter color than the regular enamel that has been on the market for years. The big difference the appearance of the two enam-

EASTLAND, TEXAS

JNO. W. THURMAN For Commissioner, Precinct No. 1

TO THE VOTERS OF EASTLAND COUNTY:

To those whom I have not contacted and solicited your vote in person, I wish to apologize. Unfortunately. I have not been able to travel a great deal during the past sixty days on account of my health, but I have tried to give my campaign sufficient publicity to let the people know what I stand for and I will appreciate it if you will accept this advertisement as my personal solicitation.

Most every citizen of Eastland County is familiar with the finances of our county. It is apparent that we are bonded beyond our ability to pay and unless some provision is made by the Legislature to bring relief, the indebtedness of our county will necessarily have to be adjusted. I do not favor repudiating debts but I am opposed to the present policy of the commissioner's court asking for the renditions to remain as they are to take care of the bonded indebtedness which means confiscation of the peoples property.

I stand for reduction of the present renditions to where they represent a reasonable cash value of the property. The statute provides that renditions shall be accepted for their reasonable cash value as of January first. I stand for adjusting the indebtedness of Eastland County to where it does not mean confiscation of the peoples property to pay it. It has been suggested by one of my opponents that statements have been made by others in the race that can't be carried out. I assume that this applies to the statement made by me that I will work for $150.00 a month and reduce the commissioner's salary from $200.00 to $150.00 a month. It is true the statute provides the compensation for the commissioner, and I refer you to Volume 8, page 14, Article 2350, revised civil statutes of 1925. If I am elected I am going to work for $150.00 a month and I am not afraid of having charges filed against me for saving the tax payers $50.00 a month. If a man can't work out a small deal reducing his salary I doubt his ability to carry his end of the pole in helping to work out and adjust the indebtedness of the county which is approximately four million dollars.

I have denounced the system of collecting delinquent taxes as extravagance and waste. If any citizen will take the time to check up the records they will find that it has cost the tax-payers of Eastland County around FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS during the past five or six years for delinquent tax collections. If I am elected this work will be done by duly elected county officials as far as possible. The county attorney can file the suits and the tax collector can collect the taxes. I have never heard of the tax collector refusing to collect the taxes and, in fact, his office does a great deal of the work under the present system. Where the taxes are paid into the tax collector's office covered by this delinquent tax contract, whether the tax-payer has ever heard or seen the delinquent tax man, it cost the tax-payers of Eastland County ten per cent. Do you consider this good business and a system that should be continued? If you do vote for Mr. Cooper; he says he thinks it is a good system and I will not approve of it if I am elected. I consider the contract with Ed S. Pritchard & Company ridiculous. I refer you to volume 10, page 433 of the records in the county clerk's office where you will find a contract entered into between Ed. S. Pritchard & Company for their scientific and technical knowledge of appraisals and that the price would be agreed upon by Eastland County and Ed. S. Pritchard & Company after the work was performed. This contract was dated April 8, 1929. "This order is to be recorded as nunc pro tunc of the April term of Court A. D. 1929." This nunc pro tunc means that this contract will be filed at a later date and you will find that it was fined the following November. If I am elected this nunc pro tunc stuff will be cut out and the people will be informed of the work in the commissioner's court as I want their cooperation and full support in the work I am going to do. I refer you to court order No. 15, Vol. 10, page 578, recites that "as a result of the services performed by said Ed. S. Pritchard and Company, the total value of the properites of oil companies and public untilities in Eastland County has been increased six million one hundred twenty one thousand four hundred and thirty-nine dollars.

The tax assessor had on the rolls $11,411,671.00 and E. S. Pritchard and Company increased this amount $6,121,439.00 making a total rendition of $17,533,110.00. Do you feel like the tax payers should have paid for the rendition on the rolls that had been rendered to the tax assessor or the amount the rendition was increased according to the statement by the commissioners court. Take your pencil and multiply $17,533,110.00 by five cents and see if it does not produce the $8,766.55 that was paid to E. S. Pritchard and Company. If they had paid on the increase of $6,121,439.00 at five cents per one hundred they would have paid $3,060.72. My construction of this court order is that the commissioners court paid to Ed. S. Pritchard and Company $5,705.04 for work that he did not do.

I am soliciting your support on my business training and ability to fill the office and not on any personal favor I have done for you.

Signed.

JOHN W. THURMAN.

The other alternative is that of equalization and adjustment of the taxes to the satisfaction of the individual property owner and the City. This the only logical move that can be attempted at the present time. The Commission has said that the present property valuation of the city will be reduced from approximately $4,000,000 to half that amount. Property values have declined enormously during the past few years, but whether they have declined 50% or not is hard to estimate. The City property tax has been too high, and the Commission's attitude of drastically go a long way toward the satisfactory settlement of the present city tax dilemma.

There are other Eastland County boys, if given a chance, will likewise reflect credit and honor to our citizenship. Joe Jones, a candidate for Congress, is young, vigorous, ambitious and honest. He is bright and a beautiful speaker.

Why should our citizenship fail to get behind this young man, a home county boy, and by united efforts give him a chance. Suspicions or false accusations should not divide us in our loyal support of this young and deserving Eastland County boy. H. S. SCHMICK.

385 Cans Put Up at C. of C. Cannery During Two Weeks

The past two weeks have been busy ones at the community cannery at the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, 385 cans of fruits and vegetables to be stored and distributed next winter having been completed at noon Wednesday. The cannery has been in operation three weeks. Canning is being done on a cash basis and on the share plans, making these 385 cans possible at practically no cost.

A number of donations of products have been received during the past three weeks. Services are also being donated, the assistance of several expert canners having been secured. Mrs. W. V. Ellzey, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meredith, Mrs. W. E. Stallter, and Miss Opal Myers have each contributed their time and experience to the work. Mr. and Mrs. Meredith have worked continuously the past two weeks.

A number of volunteer workers have been kept busy shelling peas, cutting corn, and preparing other products for canning. Dr. Tanner ex plained that every effort is being made to keep these workers comfort able. Electric fans are kept in op eration and ice water is provided Dr. Tanner said he even considers making an appeal for the installation of a radio so that musical ac companiment may be had in connec tion with the pea shelling.

300 CANS DONATED

Three hundred more cans were do-Club luncheon Monday, J. E. Lewis, Sam Gamble, and F. O. Hunter providing 100 each. The club also promised 300 more if they are needed.

WATCH YOUR STEP

The Free Credit Slip

Old folk, young folk, everyone alike, watch your step. Look over the list below and see if you are among those receiving a free credit slip this week.

The free credit slips which are to be given are worth 50c each, to apply on office supplies, want ads, job printing, or display advertising, but will not be redeemed for cash.

Here's a free chance for the housewife to rent that vacant room, sell that extra piece of furniture or have calling cards printed.

RECORD WANT ADS BRING BETTER RESULTS

If the professional man who plans to take advantage of his friends' credit slips in order to receive some free advertising will call he will be given one of his own.

If the lady living in the northwest part of town whose callers came while she was in the midst of preparations for them will call she will receive a free want ad.

If the young lady who has invited her new friend to see her so many times it is getting to be a joke will call she will receive a free credit slip.

If the gentleman who mistook the printing office for a tailor shop will call he will receive a free want ad.

ization, Mr. Marlow stated. Heretofore only the taxpayers who have requested permission to appear before the board to present their cases have been granted hearings, but the City Commission this year thought it fair and equitable that every taxpayer in the city be given an opportunity to appear before the board personally and agree with the board upon a fair valuation of his property.

"A personal appearance before the board has been provided this year so that a perfect agreement can be reached between the individual property owner and the city," Alex Clark, city commissioner, explained. "All of the taxpayers will be placed on an equal basis before the board, and everyone is urged to appear personally before the board."

The 1932 city taxes will be assessed this year in two portions as Judge Funderburk was born, reared has been the custom.
