EASTLAND

By JOE THOMAS COOK

Howard Parvin, a local boy, sailed the early part of this week for Persia, where he will be engaged in the construction of a pipeline which will traverse the Holy Land. Howard's father told the Eastlander this week that the line would cross the Tigris and Euphrates rivers and would also cross the River Jordan. He said that there was a possibility that the line would be built through the Garden of Eden, and he told Howard that if it were and the apple trees were in bloom for him to leave them alone.

For three and one-half months the fire siren of Eastland had not sounded and for three and one-half months the fire trucks had not been called to make a run. But when Fire Prevention Week rolled around last week, a time when the whole town was supposed to be careful and circumspect, a fire broke out on the very first day. Several other runs were made that week, one of them being a mock alarm to give the volunteers practice in finding the location of the fire.

While we are on the subject of fire and fire prevention we might mention Principal Palm's fire organization he has perfected in the high school. Two marshals have been appointed by him for each period of the day for each classroom. They are responsible for their respective rooms in case of a fire alarm or fire drill. They must report the condition of their rooms and the fire hazards and make suggestions for safety. In the case of a fire alarm, they are responsible for the rapid clearing of their rooms and for the safety of all cripples. Fire drills will be held twice each month. This organization, which was outlined by the Texas Fire Insurance Department, will entitle Eastland to a 3 per cent reduction on the fire insurance key rate.

Maurice Mullings of this city, who is now in his sophomore year at the University of Texas, was announced the winner of third place in the senior division of the Southwestern Model Airplane Contest, which was held last week in connection with the State Fair at Dallas. Mullings built his miniature model in Eastland last summer in his own workshop and exhibited to his friends for several days before he sent it to Dallas. We have never seen a more faithful reproduction in miniature of anything. The ship was built perfectly to scale with the original, and even bolts on the motor of the large ship were shown on the miniature. He went to Dallas last week-end to receive a loving cup for his third place and he was joined by his mother, Mrs. W. H. Mullings of Eastland.

Nine proposed amendments to the State Constitution will be listed on the ballot at the general election November 8. It is the duty of each citizen to read and study these amendments and decide how he will vote before he goes to the polls. Most of them, no doubt, should be passed, because they have been examined, debated, and passed by both houses of the Legislature. The average citizen is prone to vote against anything he does not understand so that he will be protected. The privilege of suffrage is our birthright. Let us vote intelligently.

Things are looking brighter for the unemployed of Eastland this winter. Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has been working diligently all summer trying to have everything lined up for the protection of those who do not have work to support themselves.

Red Cross flour has been distributed to 400 Eastland families throughout most of the spring and summer months, and it is likely that this can be continued through the Chamber of Commerce. This flour is made possible for the unemployed because of a donation by the government of 40,000,000 bushels of wheat to the Red Cross.

The government also gave the Red Cross 500,000 bales of cotton for the manufacture of cloth. This will be distributed this winter and Eastland will receive about 4500 yards of cotton goods.

New within the last week or two Eastland County has requested $42,000 for the purchase of a new fire engine.

Retail Merchants Plan for Christmas

Plans for a window carnival and Christmas party for the month preceding Christmas were made at a meeting of the Retail Merchants Association in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday morning.

All stores will announce their activities on the same date, Friday, November 25. Special window decorations and amusements, with Santa Claus and all Christmas festivities, are among the plans. Activities of various kinds will last through the month to Christmas eve.

Definite announcements will be made through the Record as plans for the holidays progress.

Plans Being Made For First Monday

Plans are progressing for Eastland's next First Monday Trades Day, H. C. Davis, secretary of the Retail Merchants Association, announced this week.

Several attractions will be added to the rodeo performances, and additional features in other forms of entertainment are being planned. Eastland's Trades Days appear to be gaining in popularity with people of surrounding territory, and hope has been expressed by local merchants to make the next one even more attractive.

Walking Backwards Round World Goal Of Visitor to City

Walking around the world backwards!

That is the goal of Plennie L. Wingo, who came through Eastland Wednesday on his way to Fort Worth, the starting point eighteen months ago of his walking spree.

Starting from Fort Worth April 5, 1931, Wingo traveled east to New York and sailed from Boston to Hamburg, Germany. He walked backwards through Europe, the Balkan States, and arrived in Constantinople to be refused entrance into Asia. He sailed from Constantinople back to France and thence to New York. He traveled by automobile from New York to Los Angeles.

He left Los Angeles August 13 and hopes to reach Fort Worth by Tuesday of next week. He has never accepted rides except, of course, the trans-continental trip from New York to Los Angeles.

He spent Wednesday night in Eastland the guest of Hayden Fry of this city.

Nine Proposed Amendments to Texas Constitution Explained by Flewellen

Judge L. H. Flewellen of Ranger explained the nine proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution which will be voted upon by the people of Texas November 8 to the Lions Club at its weekly luncheon Tuesday noon on the Connellee roof.

Taking each amendment in the order that they will be listed on the ballot next month, Judge Flewellen interpreted them, giving both the advantages and disadvantages as he saw them. He urged that each citizen read, study, and decide personally how he will vote on these amendments, pointing out that he did not want to dictate in any way the voting of any person.

The first proposed amendment will

Mock Murder Trial To Be Held Monday

A mock murder trial will be held at the Methodist Church at 7:30 o'clock Monday night, under the direction of Dr. Atticus Webb of Dallas.

A young man, played by Joe Thomas Cook, will be tried for murder, and the whole setting will deal with the killing of a man by his friend, whom it is shown was under the influence of liquor at the time he struck the blow which took the life and left a widow and a family of fatherless children.

The trial is being put on in cooperation with the churches and is a means of pointing out a lesson in prohibition law enforcement. Twenty-five prominent local people of this city will take part in the cast. They are as follows:

Judge—W. B. Collie.
Sheriff—E. E. Wood.
Jack Stiles (Bootlegger)—C. L. Garrett.

Deputy Sheriff—M. E. Lawrence.
Frank Lloyd (Defendant)—Joe Thomas Cook.
Court Reporter—Mrs. Pauline Daniels.

Mrs. French (Star Witness)—Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins.

Mr. Cook (Coroner)—B. E. McGlamery.

Mrs. Lloyd (Defendant's Mother)—Mrs. Ida B. Foster.

Mrs. Wright (Wife of deceased)—Mrs. James Horton.

Counsel for Defense—Dr. Atticus Webb.

Prosecuting Attorney—W. D. R. Owen.

Body of Witness Sent to New York

The body of W. G. Von Gemmingen was shipped by Hammer Undertaking Company from here to New York Tuesday, after he was found dead in his room at the Connellee Hotel about 9:20 o'clock Monday morning. His address was given as 74 Trinity Place, New York City.

Von Gemmingen had come to Eastland as a witness in the case of Ford, Bacon, and Davis vs. Barney Carter, arriving here late Sunday afternoon. He breakfasted in the hotel coffee shop Monday morning, and later returned to his room, where a negro maid discovered his body lying across the bed only a short time after.

The coroner returned a verdict of death from natural causes. He was said to have been between 45 and 50 years of age.

ATTEND MEETING

B. E. McGlamery, county superintendent; P. B. Bittle, superintendent of the Eastland schools; and W. P. Palm, principal of Eastland High School, attended the fall meeting of the Oil Belt Educational Association Monday afternoon and night in Abilene.

FOOTBALL TEAM VISITS

The Eastland High school football team has accepted the invitation of A. E. Herring, president of the Men's 9:49 Bible Class, to attend the meeting of the class Sunday morning. The boys will attend in a body. A special program is being arranged in their honor.

eliminate court proceedings in the sale of property on which delinquent taxes are owed, but the original owner can redeem this property much more easily than under the present law. The amendment proposes that if the owner wishes to redeem his property in the first year he may do so by paying 25 per cent more than the selling price plus a $1 recording fee. If the property is redeemed in the second year, the original owner must pay 50 per cent more plus the $1 fee. Under the present statute the original owner must pay double the amount of the sale.

Amendments Explained.

The second amendment proposes to extinguish all delinquent taxes that have been due for more than ten years.

The elimination of the clause pertaining to the investment of the permanent fund of the University of Texas in obligations and notes of the Board of Regents is proposed in the third amendment. The Board of Re-

Ringling Spillway Is Being Widened

Work on widening of the spillway of Ringling Lake has been under way for several days. City Manager W. C. Marlow announced this week. The city is furnishing half of the men on the work and the Eastland, Wichita Falls & Gulf Railroad, whose road embankment forms the dam of Ringling Lake, is furnishing the other half.

City and railroad officials fear that heavy rains, such as fell in September, might overflow the railroad and weaken the dam. Widening of the spillway will allow a much larger volume of water to flow through the lake without endangering the dam, Mr. Marlow explained.

The railroad company is also furnishing a locomotive which is being used to pull away boulders and to aid in excavating the bed of the spillway.

Fish traps will be set on the spillway to prevent the loss of fish from the lake when heavy rains come and overflow the spillway. The lake is being stocked with fish from time to time to provide a fishing place for the citizens and sportsmen of Eastland, Mr. Marlow said.

Parvin Leaves For Persia This Week

Howard Parvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Parvin, sailed from New York Tuesday at noon for Asia to aid in the construction of a pipeline for the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana. Mr. Parvin left Eastland Wednesday of last week, and expects to remain in the Far East about three years.

The party of 75 men which left New York will arrive in Jerusalem, from where they will proceed to the country of Iraq to start the construction of the pipe line to the Mediterranean Sea. The line crosses Persia, 900 miles of the Arabian desert, and proceeds on to Berdit on the Mediterranean Sea. Three years will be required for the completion of the job. The laying of pipe across the desert will be done mostly with the aid of camels and elephants.

Mr. Parvin is an Eastland boy, having been born and reared here. He has had seven years experience in pipe line construction, three of which were with the Brokaw Dixon Garner & McKee pipeline construction engineers of New York as welding inspector on the Panhandle Eastern, a 22-inch line from Pampa, Texas, to Indianapolis, Ind. The rest of his experience has been with the Standard Company of New Jersey and its subsidiaries.

His wife expects to join him in a few months. At present she is with his mother in Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hertig motored to Fort Worth Saturday night for a visit with friends and relatives. Mr. Hertig returned Sunday night, but Mrs. Hertig remained for a longer visit.

Mavericks Will Not Play Today

The football game between the Mavericks and A. C. C. freshmen, which was tentatively arranged for Saturday of this week, will not be played, Coach Joe Gibson announced late this week.

An intra-squad game was played Thursday afternoon on Maverick Field. Conflict with two major conference games being played Friday and Saturday was indicated as one of the reasons for canceling the game. The Mavericks need a week's respite, too, before they meet the Breckenridge Buckaroos next Saturday at Breckenridge.

Highway Signs Are Completed for City

The erection of two Broadway of America signs at the eastern and western entrances of the city has been completed. The signs are similar to others along the highway between New York City and San Diego, California. A report on the project was given by Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, at the Rotary Club luncheon Monday noon.

The enterprise was sponsored by the Rotary Club, which paid for the painting of the signs, one of which was furnished by Texas Electric Service Company and the other by the Lone Star Gas Company. D. W. High did the work, charging only about half the regular price. The following individuals and companies donated services and materials:

R. E. Sikes, property for erection of sign at west entrance of city; J. E. Lewis and Joseph M. Weaver, 2½ yards of crushed rock and sand; Tom Lovelace, use of trucks and driver; Jim Watzan, use of truck and driver and services in making concrete foundations; Hoffman & Page, two-inch pipe, machining it for standards, and also a union; Henry Pullman, three unions and other iron; Frank V. Williams, ten sacks of cement.

F. O. Hunter, nails and lumber; Texas Electric Service Company, use of truck and four men to place guy wires on both signs, and placing the sign at eastern entrance to city, Ed Johnson superintending the work; fourteen men, services for clearing grounds, digging foundations, and mixing concrete; Jim Horton, storing of signs during process of making and use of tools.

The old "welcome" signs erected ten or twelve years ago were removed.

Live Stock Raisers To Meet Saturday

Everyone interested in better livestock for Eastland County and surrounding counties is invited to meet in the county court room here Saturday, October 22, at 2:30 o'clock. Plans for the Eastland County Better Livestock Association will be made and its officers elected.

Eastland County affords every need for the raising of livestock, and the cost of caring for registered stock is no more than that of caring for common stock. Anyone interested in livestock of any kind should be present and express his views as the possibilities of this association.

Plans will be made for the showing of better livestock at an early date. Eastland County is rapidly becoming one of the foremost counties in the goat industry, many Eastland County goats and hogs being sold in Texas and recognized as some of the finest stock in the state.

ILLNESS IN DABNEY HOME

Several members of the Allen D. Dabney family have been ill of scarlet fever recently. Wanda Lynn and Thomas, young daughter and son of the family, are recuperating, while Mrs. Dabney and Allen D. Jr., have more recently been suffering from the disease. They were reported improved this week.

J. D. Whitehurst of San Angelo has been visiting the past two weeks in the home of his aunt, Mrs. C. U. Connellee.

City Commission Urges Taxpayers To Pay 1932 Levy

The City Commission adopted unanimously a letter addressed to the Eastland taxpayers which was drafted and introduced by Commissioner Neil A. Moore at the semi-monthly meeting Monday of this week. The letter, which explains that the 1932 city taxes are now due and urges that the property owners pay them before they become delinquent, will be mimeographed and mailed to every taxpayer of Eastland.

The letter emphasizes that the property valuations of the city have been reduced 50 per cent from last year and that the operating budget of the city has been scaled down proportionately. It is necessary, the letter points out, that all the property owners remit immediately in order that the city will not have to issue script. Penalty and interest will be collected on all 1932 taxes that become delinquent.

Letter Adopted.

The letter which was unanimously adopted by the commission follows: To Eastland Property Owners:

"One-half of the 1932 city taxes are now due and will become delinquent if not paid before December 1st. If the first half is allowed to become delinquent then the whole 1932 tax automatically becomes delinquent and a penalty of 10 per cent plus 1 per cent per month is assessed against the entire 1932 tax.

"The City Commission has been very lenient with the delinquent tax

Cisco Applies For Mandatory Order

Hearings have been conducted in the Court of Civil Appeals during the last few days on an amended application of the Cisco Independent School District for a mandatory injunction to require the district committee of the Interscholastic League to arrange a football schedule with the Cisco Locals for this present season.

The Cisco Independent School District is asking a mandatory injunction and charging that the supersedeas bond filed by the district committee attorneys a week or two ago was illegal. This supersedeas bond in effect would exempt the district committee from complying with the orders of the 91st district court, which held that the district committee should arrange a schedule with Cisco, until a ruling could be had from a higher court.

The Court of Civil Appeals gave the attorneys for Cisco until Friday noon for filing their briefs and the attorneys for the district committee until Monday morning for filing of briefs. The court intends to go into the case thoroughly and it may be a week before a decision is rendered.

Cotton Pickers Wanted at Abilene

A call for 500 cotton pickers in the Abilene vicinity has been received at the Chamber of Commerce here from Roy A. Savage, manager of the United States Employment Service at Abilene.

He requests information as to how many families of white people would be interested in picking cotton at 50c a hundred, with few exceptions, and pulling at 35c a hundred. He stated that most of the farmers preferred families that can pick a bale a day, and a number would like those who have camping equipment, as some of them are not in a position to furnish houses.

"STATIC"

By J. L. COTTINGHAM

Got a letter saying that Scott Key and Ted Ferguson staged a footrace and a wrestling match to see who was going to be the first shaved by the lady barber. I do not believe that. Ted is never worried by hirsute growth and nothing in this world would make Scott Key move faster than a shuffle.

Little Miss Elizabeth Ann Harrell was out collecting old clothes for the Associated Charities and when she delivered them to Dr. Tanner, she put her own school tam in with them.

To be Earnest is popping off about being a detective—I believe he said "detective"; he surely would not have claimed to be "defective." I do not know what it is all about—you ask him.

Ye editor has gone air-minded and is learning to guide a biplane under the tutelage of Luther Thomas. We are going to use Mrs. Doyle's plane until we finish breaking the landing gear off. Talking about Mrs. Doyle—a woman must put a feminine touch to everything. I felt a pin sticking me—up about two thousand feet in the air. Investigation showed that I was sitting on a ruffled boudoir cushion on the seat of the cockpit (Mrs. Doyle's feminine touch). I was tempted to bail the thing out but got scared.

F. O. Hunter and I were giving the younger generation a full picture of the amusements of our day. Moving pictures where the bandit's revolvers would shoot oftener and steadier than machine guns and still not have to be loaded again. Also the shows we thought were really naughty—in those days we paid a dollar to see girls in knee-length skirts. Then we had to lie to our sweethearts—if they had known we had looked at girls in knee-length skirts, they would never have spoken to us again. Our audience decided we were champion liars.

The great Olympic Bridge Tournament was due to come off Wednesday night. Mrs. James Cheatham was the local boss of the rodeo. She is generally boss when she wants to be.

Mrs. Otis Knox is very proud of the fact that Gene La Rene, premier woman flier of all time, invited her to go for a hop.

One very pretty young lady has advised me that she will cut my acquaintance if I mention her dresses in the column again. I agreed to her terms—I could not live through a blow like that.

Mrs. Postmaster Johnson was up around the house a while the other night. She watched her husband play bridge a while and went back to bed in disgust. Postmaster ought to wait until she is stronger before letting her watch such an awful exhibition.

Fred Blatt takes ten minutes to walk across the street and there is nothing you can do but stop and wait for him to get over. It would never do to run into him—much safer to hit a horse.

Further deponent sayeth not. I thank you.

Every member of the choir is urged to be present at each practice held Thursday evening promptly at 7 o'clock. There will be a special number Sunday morning, a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Grady Owen.

Women's Missionary Society

Twenty-five women gathered at the church Monday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock for an intensely interesting mission program under the direction of Mrs. Marvin Hood, Mission Study Chairman. The devotional was led by Mrs. W. D. R. Owen, substituting for Mrs. O. B. Darby, who was ill. The subject, "Enemies of the Cross," developed two main currents of thought, the depredations of war and the evil of liquor. Those participating in this program were Mmes. A. J. Campbell, Wilbert Irons, W. H. Muston, Carl Springer, after which an interesting round-table discussion was held.

Those present were Mmes. Marvin Hood, S. C. Walker, H. A. McCanlies, W. J. Herrington, A. J. Campbell, Eugene Tucker, W. P. Fuller, W. D. R. Owen, L. G. Summers, Lee Bishop, Ruth Bishop Webb, Carl Springer, J. B. Overton, Joe Neal, B. W. White, W. H. Muston, Jones, J. E. Lewellen, Earl Dick, John Mays, Wilbert Irons, J. F. Every Member Canvass

An important conference of all pastors and leaders throughout the county was held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the main auditorium of the church concerning the Every Member Canvass Campaign to be instituted throughout the state during the months of November and December. Rev. J. L. Smart, pastor of East Cisco Baptist Church, presided, the chief address being given by Rev. E. S. James, who spoke in a convincing manner on "Tithing," after which other pastors told of their plans for this campaign, an optimistic note permeating the remarks of each. Plans were formulated whereby the smaller churches in the county were to be assisted by the larger ones in the matter of speakers to present the cause.

GOES TO DALLAS

J. C. Paterson, county agent, will leave today for Dallas where he will revise the county exhibit score card for the State Fair of Texas. He is one of a committee of five appointed to make the revision.

City Commission--

payers in the past, and to some extent the privilege has been abused and therefore made it difficult for the city to meet operating expenses.

"The city must depend wholly upon tax payments to pay the running expenses because it can not borrow any money and the Commission does not want to issue script because it is unfair to the merchants and citizens generally.

"The 1932 valuations were reduced and practically unanimously approved by the individual property owners, and totaled $2,143,000, or about 50 per cent less than 1931, with the belief that the taxpayers would be willing to pay their taxes promptly. Naturally, the reduction of the valuation reduces the revenue of the city in like proportion. This will make it necessary for the city to insist on 1932 taxes being paid when due.

"It has not been or will not be the policy of the Commission to take unfair advantage of any taxpayer, but due to the foregoing facts, it is imperative that the citizens cooperate by paying their taxes promptly, because the city will need the money, and in order to be fair to the ones that do pay, the Commission intends to collect the penalty on 1932 delinquent payments.

"Signed by every member of the City Commission."

Tanner Appears.

Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the Commission and requested that it assume general supervision of the relief fund which the City has requested for the months of October, November and December. The commission voted to assume supervision of the fund and appointed City Manager Marlow and Dr. Tanner special agents to distribute the fund under their direction.

Dr. Tanner explained that the fund could be expended only for labor on worthwhile civic improvements, and suggested work on the north fork of the Leon river, on the high school grounds, and on other improvements in the city.

The commission passed an ordinance offering $100 to anyone giving information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of arson within the corporate limits of the city. Several years ago the commission passed an order providing for this, and the city has been granted a 2 per cent reduction on the insurance key rate. This year, however, an insurance inspector asked to see the ordinance. City Manager Marlow was unable to show it to him since the commission had passed only an order. The ordinance passed Monday will be written into the records of the city.

The five newly-elected directors of the Chamber of Commerce for next year were approved by the commission. They are C. J. Rhodes, who was also re-elected president, Kenneth B. Tanner, O. E. Harvey, Frank Castleberry, and Earl Woody.

Every member of the commission was present Monday. They are Alex Clark, chairman, Neil A. Moore, Frank Castleberry, Morris Keasler, and T.

M. Johnson. City Manager Marlow was also in attendance.

Heavy Yellow Jacket Team Defeats Fighting Mavericks by 13-0 Score

By JOE THOMAS COOK

The Cleburne Yellow Jackets led by powerful fullback, Stephens, finally defeated a fighting Maverick team 13 to 0 last Friday afternoon at Maverick Field. Merchants of Eastland closed their stores and several thousand people attended the Yellow Jacket-Maverick conflict.

The teams battled on even terms throughout the first half, with the Mavericks having perhaps a slight edge over the Cleburne team. The Yellow Jackets outweighed the Eastland team so much, however, that they were able to wear down the opposition and finally push over a touchdown toward the end of the third quarter after the Mavericks had held the proverbial stonewall on two previous occasions when the Cleburne team had pushed the ball within the 5-yard line.

Stephens Outstanding.

After Stephens went into the game at the beginning of the second half the tide began gradually turning to the Yellow Jackets' favor. On about the third play after the kickoff at the beginning of the second half the 6-foot fullback ran and stumbled his way through the Mavericks for a 55-yard gain. The Yellow Jackets lost possession of the ball on the goal line after a fumble which caused several minutes of delay while the officials were deciding what to do. The Mavericks were finally given the ball on their own 20-yard line to stop the Jackets' bid for a touchdown.

On a series of plays late in the second quarter the Mavericks made their only threat to cross the Yellow Jacket goal line. Daniels plunged 9 yards and then took the ball for another 10 yard gain. Delmer Brown was able to work the double reverse play with which he made two touchdowns against the Daniel Baker Freshmen and gained 20 yards on the next play. On the next two plays Eastland failed to gain. Cleburne was penalized 10 yards, and on the next play Daniels plunged 10 yards and then picked up 1 yard. Garrison plunged 2 yards and Burgamy made it a first down. A couple of passes were incomplete and Burgamy lost 10 yards to give the ball to Cleburne, after the Mavericks had advanced the ball to the Cleburne 5-yard line.

Allison Is Bulwark.

Allison, center, was by far the outstanding player on the Maverick team during the afternoon with Jack Heath, guard, ranking second. If it had not been for the consistently good tackling of the two Maverick bulwarks the Yellow Jackets would have run up a much larger score. Willie Taylor, who was handicapped during the first part of the practice this season by injuries, played his end position like a master, time after time smearing plays coming around his end.

John Garrison proved himself a worthy successor to Roy Brown, who is ineligible because of his age, at the safety position. Besides showing up creditably in returning punts, Garrison did the majority of the punting for Eastland and did it well. He got off consistently long spirals and only once was a punt blocked and the Mavericks were able to hold the Jackets for downs and regain possession so that Garrison could kick out of danger.

Delmer Brown, Barrington, and Vaughn all played jam-up games at the end. Delmer made a sensational shoe-string tackle about the middle of the third quarter when he broke through the offensive line and threw one of the Cleburne backs for a 3 yard loss. Vaughn snared several short passes and did his share of the defense. Barrington was a power in breaking up the Cleburne interference.

Daniels was consistent in his plunging and did some of the punting for the Mavericks. Elmer Brown made some of the longest gains for the Mavericks and was good in smearing some of the Jacket passes which threatened the Eastland goal line. Burgamy was a little off form Friday and got some bad breaks. Several times he was thrown for losses while he was trying to pass and the Maverick line failed to protect him. Despite a painful stone-bruise on one of his heels he played all except a few minutes of the game.

Fulcher, Bagley, and Gary alternated at the tackle positions with Pipkin going into the game a couple of times.

Besides Stephens, Hagler, Davis and Russell were the battering rams for the Yellow Jackets, and Davis, end, Rayburn, tackle, and White, center, were outstanding in the line.

VOTE FOR THE CENTENNIAL

One of the nine proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution which will be voted on November 8 is that providing for a Texas Centennial celebration to be held in 1936, commemorating 100 years of Texas independence and progress. It will honor the founders of the State, retell the battles of the Texas Revolution, and at the same time display Texas' wealth and potentialities in resources and industries and advertise Texas to all the civilized world.

Every Texan favors a Centennial celebration. There are some who may vote against the amendment unless they understand its terms. These are plain. To quote from the amendment itself, it would "authorize a Texas Centennial, commemorating the heroic period of early Texas history, and celebrating a century of our independence and progress, to be held at such times, places, and in such manner as may be designated by the Legislature of Texas."

It is merely a referendum or enabling act to decide first, whether Texans want Texas to celebrate its Centennial anniversary, and then whether the Legislature, in the exercise of its judgment, may provide for it. It does not provide for any bond issue or new tax.

If conditions do not seem to justify the Centennial in 1936, the Legislature may construe "the heroic period of early Texas history" to mean any time from the first settlement to the admission of Texas into the Union, and may postpone it to a later date or drop it altogether. Most Texans believe now, however, that long before 1936 Texas will be in better financial condition than at any time in its history, and others assert that a more creditable Centennial celebration would do more than anything else to bring about economic and business rehabilitation.

The Legislature is left to decide the extent to which the State shall take part in it if at all. It is expressly provided that "this authorization shall not be construed to make appropriations for any future exposition of any kind or character" than this one-hundredth anniversary observance.

The suggestion occasionally heard that private capital should finance the Centennial is impractical. First, it cannot be secured, and then, if it could be, the Centennial would be a private exploitation of the public rather than a proudfest official State celebration.

The Chicago "Century of Progress" is already an assured success in advance of its opening. The California legislature appropriated $1,000,000 for the recent Olympic games, and this was paid back with $1,000,000 more profits to the state treasury. Certainly Texas can do as well whatever it undertakes. Vote for the amendment and make the Centennial possible. It is the opportunity of a century.

Mrs. Perkins Speaks At Rotary Luncheon

Leslie Gray was program chairman for Monday's meeting of the Rotary Club in the roof garden of the Connelley Hotel. He was assisted in arranging the program by F. O. Hunter.

Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins spoke to the Club on the flower show to be held here soon, and Mr. Gray gave a classification talk. Dr. H. B. Tanner reported on the Broadway of America signs had been erected at both entrances of the city.

Miss Clara June Kimble has been chosen club pianist and was in her place at the meeting.

The following visitors were present: H. B. Johnson, C. B. Pruett, W. S. Waid, all of Ranger; Tom Taylor, of Brownwood; and Dr. H. B. Tanner and Dr. J. H. Caton of Eastland.

School Costs and the Public

Prepared by the State Educational Committee

How inexpensive good schools are! It is one of the tricks of the retrenchment propagandists to set forth increases in school costs without taking into account the large expansion in other phases of our life. School costs have increased remarkably, but not so rapidly as have the demands which the public has made upon the schools. The standard of living has gone up and education is an essential element of that standard. How inexpensive schools are! According to the Bureau of Education figures the total expenditure per capita of population for education was only $16.25 in 1924; $17.15 in 1925; and $17.50 in 1926. Divide $17.50 by 365 and the quotient is less than five cents a day per capita for the cost of educating the nation's children—the most important single activity of organized society.

The United States is saving about fifteen per cent of its income. Certainly a nation which can show such a record need have no fears over the expenditure of 2.68 per cent of its income for education. The health, skill, and purpose of the people constitute the wealth of the nation. To deny youth the adjustment which youth can give is virtually to deny life itself and to destroy the security of this basic human wealth.

Efficiency counts. We need not delude ourselves into thinking that the nation can afford to do less than its best by all its youth. People move about easily and depend much upon each other. We are one in the end and our children will be more intimately dependent upon the intelligence and good spirit of their fellows than we are today. The slow and sure process of education is the only way out. Our people have started upon that way and they dare not turn back, for it is the way of freedom and achievement. All that we put into the schools comes back manifold. We put a dollar into education and gather two from our commerce; we build technical schools and found new industries; we draw four million of our young people into high schools and lay the foundation for a new civilization. We cannot afford to starve education—fundamental alike to individual success and national security. Let us rather insist that money wisely spent for good schools is an intelligent investment which every community should make according to its resources, its needs, and its ambitions for its children.

SHOPPING WITH MAIFRED

Shopping is becoming a science. Eastland shoppers are learning to apply themselves to selection of their needs with the same energy and discrimination that they used to attack a geometry problem or a physics experiment in the days before they entered the school of experience. And they find that they are more than paid in quality and economy. First among the numerous aids to intelligent buying stands the Eastland merchant with his knowledge of values and eagerness to co-operate with his customers in giving them quality and service.

Each of our shopping tours seems to reveal more interesting fashions in women's wear. Noticeable at several stores in the last few days are bright new sweaters of various styles, some severely chic in their plain sports lines, with turtle necks and deep cuffs, and others assuming a more flippant air with the aid of unusual weaves and dressy trimmings. Silk and light wool are the materials used. Perky little berets to hang on the side of one's head or tip over an eye seem the logical companion piece for these sweaters.

Ostrich cloth, a soft wool material with a light feather-like substance protruding from the weave, has made its appearance this season and is enjoying immense popularity. It seems most adapted to suits and sport dresses, and is shown in all fall colors, with browns, blues, and greens predominating. Scarcely less in demand are the gay new plaids in both silk and wool. Several Eastland shops are displaying them this week.

Men's clothing, too, has apparently taken a turn to enliven the depression. For surely their fashions must create new interest in life. One Eastland authority on men's styles pointed out to us this week that the style setters in men's suits are shown with rope shoulders, peaked lapels, and close English cut models for the young man. For the more conservative dresser, notched lapels and close trace body lines are very much in vogue. Colors of the season are Oxford grey worsted, Oxford grey basket weave, and blue basket weave. Dark brown is worn to some extent, as is also plain grey worsted.

We have been wondering if drug stores hold the same fascination for everybody that they do for us. These stores offer Eastland shoppers varied lines in remedies and gifts. One especially attractive offer was found this week in a popular make of fountain pen and pencil sets. In conversation with Mr. Kenny at the Corner, we gained a number of interesting suggestions. And don't forget, girls, it's candy time. The tasty-looking displays of chocolates tempt us at least to make him walk by.

Shoppers will have a double incentive to read the grocery ads this week. Perhaps you have already noticed the special plan concerning the theater tickets and started looking for your telephone or car number. These offers are typical of the bargains Eastland grocery merchants are bringing Record readers each week.

Come on down and go shopping with us. We are having a great time!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The lesson-sermon subject was "Doctrine of Atonement" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, October 16.

The golden text was from John 10:30, "I and my Father are one."

As a part of the service the following from Joel 2:32 was read: "And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as the Lord hath said, and in the remnant whom the Lord shall call."

The following citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baber Eddy, were also read:

"Waking to Christ's demand, mortals experience suffering. This causes them, even as drowning men, to make vigorous efforts to save themselves; and through Christ's precious love these efforts are crowned with success. . . . One sacrifice, however great, is insufficient to pay this debt of sin. The atonement requires constant self-immolation on the sinner's part."

LETTER BOX

TO THE EASTLAND PRESS

May I say a word to democrats of the County through your columns regarding the general election to be held November 8th.

Prospects were never brighter for victory for our party from constable to president. Polls being taken by great newspapers, including the Literary Digest, show that Mr. Roosevelt and our own John Garner will carry forty of the 48 states in the union.

The same bunch of "Hoovercrats" who deceived Texas people in 1928 into voting the Republican ticket are once more striving to elect one Orville Bullington, a Republican as governor of Texas. If every true democrat will come to the polls, we will defeat this Republican by several hundred thousands votes, and I invite all Democrats and especially all Ferguson voters to be sure and vote.

I believe that at least three-fourths of the Texas Democrats who voted for Governor Sterling, are honest, honorable men and women who will not violate their pledge to their party by voting against the Democratic nominee for Governor and when these votes are added to the 475,000 Ferguson voters, Mr. Bullington can return to his law office and quit worrying himself about Texas politics.

FRANK JUDKINS.

Dr. Tanner Attends Secretaries Meeting

Dr. H. B. Tanner will leave Saturday for Dallas to attend a meeting of secretaries of chambers of commerce. The Dallas Chamber of Commerce will entertain with a luncheon at noon Saturday.

Dr. Tanner will spend the day in Dallas attending to business pertaining to Eastland and the local Chamber of Commerce. He stated that he believes in personal contact in his line of business, and for that reason is attending in person.

McMillen Buys Sunshine Grocery

W. M. (Bill) McMillen, who was one of the owners when the Sunshine Grocery was originally opened about a year ago, announces that he has bought out his associates and is now sole owner of the store.

Mr. McMillen has had many years in the grocery business here in Eastland and has made many friends who wish him success in his new undertaking. He states that the store will continue the policies of the past and invites his friends to visit him at the same location on East Main street.

ASKED TO REGISTER

All unemployed men and women of Eastland are requested by Dr. H. B. Tanner, to come to the Chamber of Commerce offices and register. Dr. Tanner and W. C. Marlow, City Manager, are making an effort to secure for Eastland a part of the United States work relief fund. The amount is not known yet, but they are making this request so no time will be lost.

Nine Proposed--

gents themselves have requested that this clause be struck out, and Judge Flewellen voiced his approval of the amendment.

The fourth amendment proposes that persons eligible to vote on bond issues must have first rendered their property for taxation. "Heretofore any person with no more property than an Ingersoll watch could vote on county and municipal bonds," the Judge said.

Exemption of taxes on homesteads up to $3,000 valuation is proposed in the fifth amendment to the constitution. The amendment reads that only the taxation for state purposes will be eliminated, but some interpret it that taxation will also be eliminated in all subdivisions of the state as well. Judge Flewellen said he favored this amendment because it was tending away from the old theory of property ad valorem taxation, which is gradually being replaced in many states by taxation on incomes and on rents.

Offices Would Be Combined

The sixth amendment pertains to the offices of county tax collector and county tax assessor. This consolidation, if approved, will save the state $500,000, Mr. Flewellen said.

The seventh amendment will give the Texas Legislature power and authority to appropriate money for the financing of the Texas Centennial in 1936. This amendment is not mandatory in nature, but merely gives the Legislature permission to appropriate the money if it deems it advisable. The gasoline tax from the Centennial visitors alone is expected to pay for the Centennial celebration, the Judge said.

Only two-thirds of the taxpayers voting on bond issues in Texas sea-coast towns for seawalls and similar construction work will be required to pass them if the eighth amendment is adopted. At the present time two-thirds of all the eligible taxpayers are required to vote for the bond issue.

Members of the national guard and reserve officers will be allowed to hold office and vote in Texas under the ninth proposed amendment.

Lion B. E. McGlamery, county superintendent, was named by President Harper to head a committee to arrange a program for American Education Week, which will include the week of November 7 through November 12. The committee was instructed to arrange a joint program with the Rotary Club for Monday, November 7, at which time Tom Taylor, president of Howard Payne College, will speak on Public Education.

Lion Horace Conley was program chairman for the Tuesday meeting this week, and Lions H. B. Randolph and F. M. Kenny were named by the president to arrange the program for next week.

Eastland--

000 of the federal relief fund and it is likely that Eastland will receive at least three or four thousand dollars of that for October, November, and December.

Dr. Tanner points out that with free flour, free cotton goods, with a possibility of several thousand dollars of the unemployment relief fund, and with some 1200 cans of fruits and vegetables that the Chamber of Commerce canned last summer, the unemployed of Eastland should be taken care of without any great burden to the other citizens who themselves are hard pressed at the present time.
