By DOLPH MOTEN

The lid was closed on another year yesterday. Whether 1968 was a good 12-month period depends on who is answering the question, we'd guess.

However, speaking generally, we'd say it was a good one for our area.

The community continued to make significant progress and we can all be proud of that. It wasn't as much as the more ambitious had hoped, but improvements were noted, nonetheless.

For farmers as a whole, we'd say the year was probably average, if not better. There were some drawbacks. The main one being that the things farmers buy continue to increase in cost while the price of his products doesn't enjoy the same upward trend in price.

Another farming disadvantage to 1968 was the greenbug infestation of the milo crop. This was a new handicap and one which was almost allowed to go too long before it was corrected. The milo yield overall suffered because of the insects, but at that the crop was a long way from being a failure. The bugs were controlled in time that farmers got "their share" of the old standby crop to the elevators.

Cotton enjoyed an upswing, it seemed from here, with production up by a good percentage mark. It wasn't just exactly like old times, but was better than the previous two years and that made 1968 encouraging to the ginners and didn't do anything to make the farmers any unhappier about cotton.

Sugar beets continued to be a good cash crop, according to information we can gather, even if they are more difficult and time and water-consuming to farm and harvest. When they're panned down, most farmers will admit that they feel pretty well paid for the drawbacks they incur in producing beets.

Last year can be remembered as another of those when wheat wasn't an outstanding crop. The price leaves much to be desired and this probably indirectly cuts down on the farmers' incentive to produce the yields that they, their land and water, are capable of. This isn't apt to change a great deal until if and when the day comes that the price for wheat is higher.

Old 1968 was good, too, in that it didn't have an area-damaging hail that other years have seen.

Of all the troubles that Parmer County farmers have, hail is the one they are least able to cope with. There is just no way to prepare for a hail, evidently, or it would have been figured out before now. A farmer in this area can get along pretty well, it seems to us, until he starts getting more than his share of hail.

As far as we know, the vegetable business was again adequate, if not as spectacular as it has been some years.

The livestock industry is probably just beginning to come into its own in this area as the feedlot business continues to expand. This, we'd guess, gets more people involved in livestock than ever before and will continue to do this as expansion occurs. We expect the farmers who produce the feed for the livestock to become more involved with using the feed as they attempt to earn additional profit from their product. Last year saw some movement in this direction, but not much, and the annual can be remembered as one when feeding just began to enter into the picture here on a large scale.

Livestock prices remained, however, relatively stable during the 366 days and there were no major peaks nor lows to throw the business more out of balance than it already is.

Primarily because of the feeding industry expansion, 1968 gave our area reason for looking into the future with continued conservative optimism. Certainly the end isn't in sight for the development of this potentially great segment of the country's economy.

So, with an average-plus 1968 behind us, we're now in the position of being able to, or forced to, view the prospects of this new year.

Milestones Mark Successful Year

Projects Improve Economy

With 1968 drawing its last, long breath, it came quietly to an end with the satisfaction of knowing it accomplished many of its purposes in Bovina.

The year was not a wasted one. It began with a bang, and continued to be fruitful as it grew older.

JANUARY

1968 began with the first shovel of dirt turned for the construction of the new Bovina Medical Center, the culmination of much hard work and dreaming of the year before. The gold shovel turned the dirt that lay under a cover of snow.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Barbee, Jr. announced the sale of Barbee Cleaners to Mr. and Mrs. John Gee of Amarillo.

Mail rates increased at U. S. Postoffices over the land, and in Texas announcement was made that photographs would be required on all driver's licenses.

With the new Ridgelea Elementary School nearly completed, school activities continued at regular pace, including basketball games and a fourth grade program.

Who's Who was named in Bovina High School, Galen Hiromas, Mike Grissom, Carol Mast, Zilda Donaldson and Linda Rejino. And new members of National Honor Society were Sheryl Lane, Linda Henke, Gina Clawson and Bill Caldwell.

The basketball queen and King were named in Williford Gymnasium, Linda Rejino and Bill Caldwell.

James Andrews became the new band director, succeeding Earl Hise, who filled it until a director could be found.

A 1.50 inch rain soaked Parmer County, ending a long dry spell.

Leonard Haney bought the Mustang Barber Shop from Elmer McKay, and announcement was made of three new businesses, Chuck's Aerial Spraying Service, an accounting service, and Dudley's Auto Parts.

FFA students were entering livestock shows in various cities.

Voter registration for the 1968 elections ended on Jan. 31.

Charles Oil Co. moved to new headquarters on Highway 60, and Lewis McDaniel was a new citizen, coming here as Southwestern Public Service Company representative. Bob Hillpot moved his insurance offices to Main Street.

FEBRUARY

As the second month of the year opened its eyes to the world, first and second grade students moved to a new home in Ridgelea Elementary School.

Frank Ford of Hereford and Bill Clayton were candidates for State Representative, Clayton seeking re-election.

The Bovina Blade announced its purchase of the Otis Spears building on the corner of Third and Main, and made the big move before the month was over.

Principals and coaches received new contracts from the school board, which had also extended the superintendent's contract the previous month.

City election was called for April 6.

The annual Bovina FFA livestock show was held with Joe Don Stevens exhibiting the grand champion barrow.

The Blade

TEN YEARS AGO
Dec. 31, 1958
The first real snow of the winter left some of the most striking scenes ever viewed around Bovina.
Reminiscences by W. O. Cherry, former superintendent of Bovina Public Schools, were among highlights of Bovina ex-student and ex-teacher banquet Saturday evening. The annual reunion was in the cafeteria of the school. About 70 persons were present.
March of Dimes, 1959, will get underway in Parmer County and across the country Friday, Cary Joe Magness, county campaign director, announces.
Sale of the tractor, blade and loader that the City of Bovina advertised two weeks ago, netted the city government $1,324.-50, according to Henry Minter, city clerk.
Duane Rea, local FFA member, has been awarded $100 in a soybean contest of the Paymaster Farms, Plainview.
Bovina merchants are planning a big day for January 2, and are offering free prizes to their first customers of the new year.
Parmer County area rural folks missed a white Christmas, but got to see 1959 come in with a mantle of snow -- the aftermath of a blizzard that stormed the High Plains for two days this week.
Special watch night services will be held at the First Baptist Church tonight, Dec. 31, for the observance of the incoming of 1959.
The annual Christmas program for the Kiddieland Kindergarten was held Friday morning in the home of their instructor, Mrs. Margaret Caldwell. The program, as is the tradition throughout the past, was a show of progress the students had made since September.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Embree was the site of a gathering Wednesday evening of young people's division of Bovina Church of Christ.

No issue printed Six Years Ago.

Being a Democrat, we're a mite apprehensive of what can be expected from the new, incoming Republican administration. But it doesn't have to be bad. And as long as we don't know better, we can still hope that the economy can continue on a reasonable basis.
We're not among those who believe, "You won't be able to tell the difference." But since we still have a Democratic Congress, maybe things won't become so Republican that we can't stand them.

Letters To The Editor
Dear Mr. Moten:
My mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse F. Vestal, have subscribed to the Blade for me for several years for Christmas. I couldn't enjoy anything more.
I still consider Bovina my home town, having lived there 31 years, moving to Aztec, N.M. in 1956.
I have missed Bovina, my parents and all of my friends, in fact, Texas in general.
I am sorry I haven't visited everyone on my short visits home but I am sure they understand the time is so limited.
Remember when I used to write a beauty column for you? Bovina has progressed beyond belief and I am happy to say you have helped greatly. May I say again I enjoy the Blade.

As soon as fields dried, growers went in, planted without much delay. ## More Names On Card Fund

The Christmas Card project for Bovina Medical Center rose to $857 before it ended here, according to Mrs. Earl Whitten, treasurer of Bovina Woman's Study Club, which sponsored the event.

The names of Leona and Amos Steelman, however, were left off the Christmas card printed in last week's issue of Bovina Blade.

Contributors after the deadline Dec. 21 were Joe W. Bell, the Keith Garner family, Billy Whitecotton, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wilson and Girls.

The total counted in the 1967 project was $500.

Funds from the campaign were held again this year for the Medical Center to help defray its indebtedness.

At the deadline Saturday noon, Dec. 21, a total of $825 had been deposited at First State Bank of Bovina by residents who said "Merry Christmas" to friends in the area in this way, instead of the usual Christmas cards.

An advertisement carried the names of the contributors in the Christmas edition.

Those donating to the project after the deadline raised the total to the final amount, $857.

Postal Rates Increase Set

Postal rates for newspapers and magazines and other material mailed at the second-class rate were increased today (January), Postmaster Ezell has reminded second-class mailers.

The increase results from the postage rate law enacted in December 1967, which raised most second-class rates in three annual steps. Postmaster Ezell pointed out, The January 1, 1969 hike is the second phase of the increase. The first phase took effect January 7, 1968 and the third step will go into effect January 1, 1970.

The second-class rate increase affects general interest, non-profit and classroom publications.

Rates also will go up January 1 for controlled circulation publications. These are primarily trade, technical and industrial journals which generally do not charge a subscription fee and are not eligible for second-class rates. The 1967 postal rate law called for a three-step raise for controlled circulation publications, to be effective the same dates as the second-class increases.

Except for home-county mailings, postal rates for newspapers and magazines mailed second-class are based on the weight of the publication, the amount of advertising it contains, and the distance it is mailed.

Effective January 1, rates for editorial or non-advertising matter in commercial publications will be increased from 3 to 3.2 cents per pound. Rates for advertising content depend on the distance the publication is mailed. These zone rates now range from 4.6 to 15 cents per pound of advertising content. The new advertising zone rate range will be 4.9 to 16 cents.

There are special lower second-class rates for classroom publications and publications of non-profit organizations. These rates were also increased January 1.

Postmaster Ezell said the second-class or controlled circulation mailers who need more detailed information on the new rates should contact the Post Office where their publications are mailed.

February 1 --

Subscriptions Due Increase

Beginning Feb. 1, yearly subscription rates to The Bovina Blade will be increased $1 each, according to Dolph Moten, publisher.

Reason for the increase is the raise in postal rates for newspapers and the general increase of cost of operation. This is the first increase in subscription rates in more than 10 years. The local rate was raised from $2 to $2.50 in 1958.

With the new rates, The Bovina Blade will be $3.50 per year for subscribers living in Parmer County or adjoining counties. Rates for those living further away will be $5 per year.

However, subscribers have until January 31, to renew their subscriptions under the old rates of $2.50 and $4.

Mrs. Skaggs Rites Held

The Sunday After Christmas

"Whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of Jesus, giving thanks unto God and the Father by Him," Col. 3: 17.

Advent has come and gone, and so has Christmas. Still we shall meditate on the word "Advent". Today we will take up the fifth letter "N" and let it stand for "Nowell" or "Noel" which means "carol."

The Christmas Noels may be dead on the radio and TV but they are not dead in our hearts. For Christmas is not just for a day, not just for an hour, but always and every-day, or it is not Christmas at all.

The young men - we will call them John, Joe and Jim, were driving to work the day after Christmas. It had been snowing and the roads were icy and slick. They came upon a stalled car. The driver was a lady. All three knew that they ought to stop and render aid. But John and Jim drove on. They might be late for work. They might soil their clothes. Only Jim got out to help.

Had it been Christmas Day, they all three would have jumped out into the snow and helped the lady in distress. The CHRISTMAS SPIRIT you know. But this was the day after Christmas.

Only Jim has truly celebrated Christmas. The other two had celebrated just a day. But Jim had celebrated an event. An event that meant something to him --- not just one day of the year, but everyday.

If we have celebrated like Jim, then the Christmas "Noels" will ring in our heart today, tomorrow and every day until the next Christmas rolls around again.

No Wintry Sting

Sports Enthusiasts Enjoy Fashion Fling

Never before has it been so much fun for women to bundle up to stave off icy blasts. Designers have women ready to greet Jack Frost in the chicest fashions in years. Take furs, for a beautiful example. They are going to all lengths to give the girls a wider-than-ever choice.

Sportswomen, and especially skiers, are most interested in pairing up fur jackets and flannel or stretch pants for the grooviest look going. Furry, hooded heads are popping up all over the slopes. There's a covetup chinchilla jacket to make even the most timid head for the hills. From brave beginner to agile expert, women haven't had so much sport-fashion encouragement in years. The hottest fashions to be found are on the winter scene. Rosy cheeks, peeking out from under parkas, have never looked better.

For a word of caution: If, underneath those glowing cheeks is the sting of sun or windburn, don't let it spoil your fun. It's wise to be prepared with a soothing lotion, such as Sea Breeze. It's pure magic for soothing this uncomfortable sensation. Smooth this lotion on anywhere you want to cool your skin and help curb the irritation and itch you may feel.

Remember, too, all the warm woollens and furs in the world won't help, if the physical condition isn't up to par. The smart sportswoman, novice or pro, should start muscle-toning exercises early, before the vigorous season starts. Once on the slopes, or on the ice, particularly the first few times — quit before muscles are exhausted.

Another tip: while you're soothing those glowing cheeks, protect your lips, as well. You can do it with a clear gloss, which will enhance your favorite lipstick shade at the same time. And don't forget to take along a couple of bandages, and some of that special lotion for minor cuts and scratches, just in case.

Speaking of case, you'll really need some sort of carry-all to help you manage your paraphernalia. Today's tote bags are roomy, practical, and a far-cry from the plebian shopping bag of yesterday. Choose yours in easy-clean vinyl (great with splashy op art designs), canvas, or, yes, fur. Inside goes a multitude of essentials: makeup, comb, curlers, mad money, bandages, Sea Breeze, sunglasses, scarf, extra tights, socks, cap. You'll be surprised how much goes in, and how much fun you'll get out of your tote — and out of your happy, healthful winter season. Here's to it.

BAGS WINNER -- Charles Flynn of Bovina proudly displays the longest pheasant tail feather entered in the contest held here this year. Bruce Caldwell won second place and Jack Patterson, third place. All three will receive prizes.

Charles Flynn --

Tail Feather Winner Named

Charles Flynn was the winner of the Bovina tail feather contest which was a highlight of the 1968 pheasant season in Parmer County.

His winning entry measured 24 and one-half inches long and earned him a 100 pound bag of Hartzog milo seed.

Second place winner was Bruce Caldwell with a tail feather measuring 24 and seven-sixteenths. He received $10 in trade at Bovina Dry Goods.

Jack Patterson's 24 and one-half inch tail feather won third place and $5 in trade at Bovina Restaurant.

The contest here was supervised by A. E. (Bud) Crump at Corn's Farm Store.

Contests were also held at Farwell and Friona.

A trophy will be awarded the winner of the county contest, supervised by Agricultural Agent Ronnie McNutt in Farwell.

The announcement of the Bovina winner was made following the end of a nine-day pheasant season in Parmer County, two days longer than previous seasons. It ended Sunday, Dec. 22.

Over 15 tail feathers were entered in the Bovina contest, held annually here.

Flynn is the first adult to win the contest in several years. In fact, the only other adult to win top prize was Art Mast the first year it was held in 1964. Since that time, boys have been the winners, including Roy Hartzog, Rodney Murphy and David Vargas.

HOG CHOLERA STATUS FOR LOCAL AREA

In June of 1961, a state law went into effect which required all hogs passing through sales barns to be immunized against hog cholera. This action reduced the incidence of hog cholera in Texas to a great degree. The last known hog cholera occurred in 1963 until the recent outbreaks in Castro County.

Hog cholera doesn't necessarily present the symptoms now as it has in the past. A federal veterinarian has stated that he is unable to recognize the cholera of today by the routine examination and autopsy. At one time the symptoms and lesions of hog cholera were fairly consistent; unfortunately that is not true today. The most reliable diagnosis is made by use of the so-called tissue test or a complete histological study of the tissues from an infected hog.

It should be pointed out that if a person vaccinates his hogs with modified live virus, hog cholera serum should be used in recommended dose with the vaccine. A new federal law goes into effect January 1, 1969 which will prohibit the transportation of modified live virus vaccine across state lines.

Since no vaccine is produced in Texas, the veterinarians of this area will not be able to obtain vaccine. From this point the future is only a guess as to what will happen concerning hog cholera.
